CHIMNEY CRASHES THROUGH ROOF AT H. S.

Southern Idaho Debaters Escape Death or Injury

Possible death or serious injury for dozens of high school debaters from five south Idaho communities were narrowly averted here shortly after 2 p. m. today when a 25-foot brick chimney at the high school, blown over by a sudden terrific gale, crashed through the roof and thundered downward to the bottom of one of two main stairways.

The debaters were in the high school auditorium and on the auditorium stage as the chimney broke through the dome roof and roared downward, carrying away two stairways landing before smashing onto the landing of the main floor.

Game Will Hinge On Safety Probe

Decision as to whether or not the Idaho Falls vs. Twin Falls basketball game can be played here tonight was to be made this afternoon when school officials and Architect Andrew McQuarrie inspect the school structure.

The gymnasium was not damaged when a brick chimney crashed through the main building, but the inspection will decide if any possible weakening had occurred.

Basketball fans may telephone the Evening Times at 38 or 32 for information as to holding of the game or postponement.

YOUTH CONGRESS HEARS FDR SLAP SOVIET TACTICS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt declared today that Soviet tactics in the "dictatorship as absolute" are "other dictatorial in the world" and asserted that U. S. sympathy is 98 per cent with Finland in her resistance against Russia.

Mr. Roosevelt made his statement in an address to the American Youth Congress, held at the Waldorf Astor hotel here, in a speech that was highly controversial concerning its refusal to denounce the Russian invasion of Finland and charges of alleged Communist influence in its country.

The President said the United States desired to aid Finland, but he said the United States might declare war on this country as a result of such aid.

The President described to the youth gathered in the dining hall outside the south portion of the White House, his early interest in the Russian experiment and his hopes that it would lead to betterment of the Russian nation.

"That hope," he declared, "is today shattered or not away in storage against a better day."

"The Soviet union, as a matter of practical fact, known to you and known to all the world, is a dictatorship, a dictatorship of any other dictatorship in the world. It has added itself with another dictatorship and it has invaded a neighbor as infatigably as that that it could do no injury to the Soviet union, and seeks only to live as peace as a democracy, and as a liberal, forward-looking democracy at that."

88 Per Cent For Finns He declared "American sympathy is 98 per cent with the Finns in their effort to stave off invasion of their own country."

"That America wants to help them by lending or giving money to them to save their own lives is axiomatic by now," he said.

Grounds for Opposition Mr. Roosevelt particularly attacked the grounds on which the youth had based their opposition to American loans to Finland.

The youth, he noted, was handicapped by the whole idea on (Continued on Page 3, Column 2)

Arrival of these two Soviet freighters at San Francisco and Los Angeles was cause of much speculation, with their cargo and destination being kept a deep secret by Soviet consular authorities. Then it was revealed that the Kim, at San Francisco, brought six million dollars in Russian gold, presently to form Soviet credits, which was money, wheat and other supplies that can be purchased and shipped across the Pacific. The Vladimir Mayakovsky reportedly was in a load of molybdenite, used in hardening steel.

The B. Markovskiy, at Los Angeles, was reported to have brought a load of molybdenite, used in hardening steel.

DEATH SUMMONS WILLIAM E. DODD

ROUND HILL, Va., Feb. 10 (U.P.)—William E. Dodd, former ambassador to Germany, died at his country home yesterday.

He had been ill for more than a year, but his condition was not regarded as critical until two days ago when he was stricken with pneumonia.

Dodd's service as ambassador to Germany, covering the period of the Nazi rise to power from 1933 to 1938, was marked by frequent bitter criticism of the Nazis. He created a sensation shortly before his resignation by writing several congressmen that he had been informed that an American multimillionaire was planning a coup to place a dictator in charge of the United States government.

Shortly after his return to this country, he was involved in a hit-and-run automobile accident. He pleaded guilty to the crime and was fined $100,000. He was given a light sentence.

Dodd was born at Clayton, N. C., in 1890. He attended the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Lehigh University, Emory University and the University of Alabama, and then embarked on a career as a history professor. He also wrote several historical books and was joint author with Roy Stansford Baker of the notable papers of Woodrow Wilson.

President Roosevelt appointed Dodd ambassador to Germany in 1933.

Time to Balance Budget, Says Dewey in Montana

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 10 (U.P.)—The time has come to tighten our belts and get back to a "decently balanced budget," Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential aspirant, said today during a letter appearance here en route to Helena, Mont., for an informal Lincoln birthday address to the city.

More than 300 persons heard the speech in the auditorium of the city hall. Dewey said he was glad to hear that the time has come to tighten our belts and get back to a "decently balanced budget."

Southern Idaho Shipments Gain

With potatoes, beans, livestock and hay showing substantial increases, carload shipping forwarded from Magic Valley during January was 377 cars greater than during the same month in 1939.

The carload shipments were valued at $10,000,000.

Total for January of this year, as filed for the major stations in southern Idaho, was 3,658 carloads. Aggregate for January of 1939 was 2,981.

Heavy shipping of apud placed that farm commodity at a shipping level nearly 10 times as great as the next highest classification, sheep.

There were 1,529 cars of apud sent out of Magic Valley in January. Sheep totaled 180, cattle 180 and beans 184.

Burley led its top position of recent months by shipping 563 cars during January, with Twin Falls ranking second at 400 cars. Major portion of the Casala figure was 201 cars of apud, putting Burley also in top place in shipping the crop.

Burley's 213 cars of apud ranked the north side city second in potatoes.

The cartload-forwarded report for the 15 major stations was:

Burley, 563; Twin Falls, 400; Jerome, 377; Hagerman, 270; Blaine, 270; Kelso, 245; Hansen, 217; The Dalles, 130; Murtaugh, 128; Coalinga, 67; Eden, 65; Wendell, 72; Hardscrabble, 67; Malheur, 44; Bliss, 14.

SUGAR GROWERS MAKE NEW PLEA

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—Utah and Idaho growers today pleaded to re-submit a contract for the purchase of sugar beets for 1940.

IDAHO LAND HEAD RAPS STATE LAW

BOISE, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—Resolutions placed on land department officials have resulted in poor management practices and run-down conditions on state-owned farms, Land Commissioner C. Van Clark said today.

"Farmers may be treated for only five years and the lease is auctioned to the highest bidder," Clark said.

"As a result, the tenant tries to take all the profit from the property without paying anything back."

Clark also said that the state should be encouraged to own the land and to sell it to farmers. He said the state owns 225,000 acres of farm land, much of it irrigated.

10th Day's Drive Brings Two New Defeats to Reds

HELSINKI, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—New major defeats inflicted on Red army forces by Finnish troops were reported in an official Finnish communique today as Russian units, attacking the Mannerheim line for the 10th successive day, banded their offensive.

Northeast of Lake Ladoga, the Finns yesterday inflicted considerable losses on the Russians, the communique said. About 800 Russians were reported killed and a column of 60 motor trucks and two tanks was destroyed in some of the hardest fighting of the war.

Russian pressure continued to be heavy in the Summa sector of the Mannerheim line where they were attacking in a stubborn attempt to break through the Finnish defenses.

All Red army attacks in the Summa sector were repulsed and 20 Soviet tanks were destroyed, the communique said.

The communique said the Russians had broadened their offensive, hitting the Finns at four main points, despite heavy losses suffered in being repulsed for 10 straight days.

Finnish officers said there was no basis for reports abroad that the Finns had resorted to the use of hand grenades and knives in hand-to-hand fighting because their ammunition supplies were running low.

Since the start of the war, they said, the Finns had been using hand grenades and knives in patrol clashes. And, the Finns said, they have at times been embarrassed by shortages of airplanes and ammunition for anti-aircraft guns. But, the Finns said, the Finnish successes reported in the communique belie any lack of ammunition in other phases of the fighting.

SILVER LEGION'S 'FUEHRER' WOULD IMPRISON SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirts leader today told the Dies committee that John C. Brinkley, Del. Rio, Tex., gland doctor, led him $5,000 to finance Silver Shirts political work.

He gave Brinkley a note and "still owes him the money," Pelley related. The Pelley publishing house "did the printing job" for Brinkley, he said, "as a straight commercial proposition."

Pelley also testified that if he ran the government, he would put Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Jr., P., Wis., Rep. Samuel Dickstein, D, N. Y., and John L. Lewis, "in prison for life." He charged that they had "engaged in Communist activities that have brought the crisis we are in."

Pelley had first stated that view in a magazine article which was reprinted in the New York Times. He told the committee he still advocated what he had written.

Would you follow up your advocacy of Jewish segregation, Sen. Joseph E. Casey, D, Mass., asked.

"Yes," Pelley said, adding that he would follow up his advocacy for the Jews. "It would be a humane thing to segregate the Jews in certain cities," he asserted.

He also said he would not walk around them? Casey asked, and Pelley said, "certainly not."

Because the court decided that K. A. Linnell is a farm worker and not a farmer under the meaning and intent of the Idaho exemption law, the man who rendered in probate court today in favor of Oliver Marsden, west coast constable.

Marsden was defendant in a suit brought by Linnell for $220 and costs, on claim that the constable attached Linnell's auto and sold it despite his claim of exemption.

Judge C. A. Hatley advised after the hearing that Linnell's suit was not a farm-hand suit, but a farmer suit, and that Linnell is not a farmer, only a small portion of his total income coming from average 150 acre farm.

The auto was purchased by Constable Marsden under a contract with the constable's firm, and the suit was paid against Marsden for non-payment of taxes.

100 Scouts Seemly to Posts In Practice "Mobilization"

With nearly 100 Scouts reporting in an emergency mobilization, this morning was tested satisfactorily by scouting officials in charge.

Planned, until plans from the state and local boards, was the annual which will be the first of the year to be held in this area.

A part of the annual anniversary week, the event was designed to show the boys of the area that they could be called to arms in the event of an emergency, such as an earthquake.

The results show that they would be called by the whistle blast on one of the seven days of Scout week, but they did not know the hour the day.

Planned plans from the state were sounded at 10 a. m. and 15 minutes later every Scout had left the park.

After receiving instructions, and was on its way to its post.

With Gordon Gray, executive in charge, Scouts trained to the station, the health unit, the fire department, and both the Western Union and the telephone offices.

Members of troops 65 and 69 went to the police station; members of troops 64, 71 and 69 to the fire station; troops 67 and 69 to the Western Union office; troops 67 and a part of 69 to the Postal Telegraph office; parts of troops 64, 64 and 65 to the health unit.

The feature of the mobilization came when the first Scout reported less than 15 seconds after the initial whistle blast sounded. He was riding his city park on his bicycle at the time. (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

TWIN FALLS AUTHORIZES FORMAL BID FOR GOP CONVENTION

C. OF O. LETTER ASKS LAWYER TO GIVE INVITATION

Formal bid for the Republican state convention of 1940 was made today by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The bid followed a mandate approved by the board of directors at a meeting held last Monday.

President Carl N. Anderson to offer an official invitation to Idaho's GOP members in a letter sent this morning to E. L. Rayburn, Twin Falls editor and prominent Republican extended official authority for the convention invitation.

Mr. Rayburn, who suggested the bid to the chamber, stated that he will present it at the meeting of the GOP state committee at Boise Monday.

President Anderson's letter to Rayburn said:

"It is our understanding that you will represent Twin Falls county at the meeting of the Republican state central committee on Feb. 12 at Boise, Idaho.

"It is quite probable that the selection of a town in which to hold the Republican state convention will be considered at this meeting. The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, at the meeting of their board of directors, unanimously decided to extend an invitation to the state committee to hold their state convention at Twin Falls.

"We would appreciate your extending an invitation to the state central committee and urge them to select Twin Falls as their meeting place for their state convention. We will do the personal effort in an attempt to bring this meeting to Twin Falls, which will be greatly appreciated by this chamber and citizens of Twin Falls.

"Anderson advised Mr. Rayburn that the chamber had authorized an appropriation to help defray the expenses of the GOP's convener.

100 SCOUTS RUN TO MOBILIZATION

Records show 100 Scouts came from all parts of the city, including South Park and the eastern section, as well as the Harmon park area. They came on bicycles and skis, but a majority of them just dropped what they were doing "and ran."

"Scout officials are pleased with results of this first test," Day said. "It shows that Scouts can be counted on to help in the event of an emergency, and can report within a few minutes time.

"We really didn't expect that they would bring the whistles and arrive at the city park in less than 10 minutes. Those who participated, and also the boys who had whistles with them in some cases, are to be congratulated. Scouts were not informed of the day the mobilization would be held, and only a few officials knew the exact hour.

"The same procedure would actually be followed should a real disaster strike this community."

ROOSEVELT RAPS RED DICTATORSHIP

"I am not on the grounds that we want to stand the money here among our own needy unemployed, but on the ground that such action was an attempt to force America into the imperialistic system of the United States of America," with official and flowing and ribbon and a banner signifying the U. S. A. Roosevelt said today at a meeting of the American Legion on the grounds that we want to stand the money here among our own needy unemployed, but on the ground that such action was an attempt to force America into the imperialistic system of the United States of America.

That reasoning was unadmittedly based perhaps on anti-Americanism, at the same time, on 90 per cent ignorance of what they were talking about.

"I can say this to you with a small degree of accuracy, that the inherent wisdom of truth of what I am saying, here in a small republic in northern Europe which, without any question whatsoever, wishes solely to maintain its own territorial and governmental integrity. Nobody with any pretense of common sense believes that Finland had any ulterior designs on the integrity of the Soviet Union."

Emphasizes Distinction
Mr. Roosevelt emphasized the distinction between working for the rights of the common man and revolutionary government and subversive of revolutionary proposals.

"That is not the case," he declared, "that is an unpopular term these days. As Americans, you have a right to demand the money here among our own needy unemployed, but on the ground that such action was an attempt to force America into the imperialistic system of the United States of America."

He said that statements of the President were misstated and that he was deeply disappointed by some politicians who were not Americans and who were not of our kind, to subvert the government and the constitution of this nation.

He made reference to Dewey by name, but said that statements of the President were misstated and that he was deeply disappointed by some politicians who were not Americans and who were not of our kind, to subvert the government and the constitution of this nation.

Dewey had charged the President was "the biggest deluge" in his country's history and that total government and private debt.

LEGION ENDORSES RECREATION

The Twin Falls post of the American Legion today was on record in favor of creation of the recreation unit in this city.

At last regular meeting a committee headed by Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Legion recreation association, was named to wait on the city council and urge that provisions be made by city budget to pay rent on the recreation building in order that the WPA will continue the program.

Unless the city is able to provide funds for rent, light and heat, the WPA will stop the project March 1.

If the city makes provisions to provide rent payments by May 1, the recreation building will be handed into two sections, one being held here at Jerome and the other at Hazelton.

Chief purpose of the meeting will be the adoption of definite organization by-law and the discussion of working and membership for the association.

The association will show, through the cooperation of the extension agent, how a series of slides pictures on various potato diseases. Pictures are made available through the plant pathology department of the University of Idaho.

Meeting dates will be announced later.

Toews to Speak At Potato Meet

JEROME, Feb. 10 (Special)—John L. Toews, superintendent of the Aberdeen Experiment Station, Aberdeen has been invited to address the annual meeting of the Jerome county potato growers' association, to be held at the Jerome Hotel, Jerome, on Feb. 15.

He made reference to Dewey by name, but said that statements of the President were misstated and that he was deeply disappointed by some politicians who were not Americans and who were not of our kind, to subvert the government and the constitution of this nation.

Dewey had charged the President was "the biggest deluge" in his country's history and that total government and private debt.

Stolen Tractor Provides Unique Case for Police

At least the theft was different. Burley police today asked Twin Falls officers to be on the look-out for a new Case tractor, with a gear plane attached, which was stolen from the Cassin community last night.

Burley officers traced "trucks" to a point near highway 10 east of Burley where the heavy machine was evidently loaded on a truck.

The police here were notified of the theft at 6 a. m. and the resulting investigation disclosed that a service station operator here had noticed a truck, with a new tractor on the body, go through Twin Falls about 1 a. m.

At present time no further "night" of the truck or tractor had been noted.

The Gentleman in the Third Row

Right Number, Wrong Girl

The Pot Shots sleuths—M-3 Operative Z-17 and Operative M-3 reporting simultaneously—advise us that E. (Just Call Me) Bill McRoberts is now firmly of the opinion that a fast "line" of palaver over the telephone is apt to prove a boomerang.

Especially if the blond girl on the other end is not the girl you thought you were talking to.

And if you started right in breezily spreading the blarney, unawares of this fact.

Operative Z-17 and M-3 advise us it was like this:

Bill picked up the telephone the other night and called a certain house on Seventh avenue north.

A young lady answered at the other end.

"Hi there," said Mr. McRoberts in the Mr. McRoberts fashion, "here's that man again!"

"Oh?" said the young lady.

"Yep," said Bill, "it's that man. How's for taking in a show?"

From there on it got more complicated, with both parties more and more puzzled.

Bill finally asked if this wasn't the girl he whom he'd given a ride home. But the girl who'd been other end never did let him hear the other young lady's last name.

And the other girl was out at the time.

"She's a head," said M-3, "she'll take it. You've got to be sure that the young lady he's asked for was the name of the young lady he got on the phone."

He eventually found out the front name of the girl to whom he'd given a ride. But the girl who'd been other end never did let him hear the other young lady's last name.

And the other girl was out at the time.

Cutting Bigger Tax Slices

It has been no secret that real estate valuations during the past 10 years have fallen off consistently, year by year. To make up the deficiencies in the tax yield, municipalities have generally been forced to choose between two courses: Increasing the basic tax rate or trimming down expenditures.

For a long time, cities have felt that they are entitled to a bigger share of state-collected taxes than they are getting. Particularly would they like a more handsome slice of gasoline taxes, which nowadays represent a pretty good portion of total taxes taken from citizens.

According to a report of the American Municipal Association, cities in at least 25 states are pledged to do their darnedest to get more of these revenues during 1940. In addition, most cities have pledged themselves to strive for more home rule, less supervision by the state government.

Apportioning state tax money to communities is always a ticklish job. If the money is handed back in proportion to the amount of taxes paid by residents of a thriving community, other cities will complain. If the taxes are returned on the basis of need in certain districts, the sections which paid heavily in taxes will feel cheated.

Under any circumstances, the state government is not likely to feel amenable to relaxing supervision over management of funds re-allocated to the city by the state. The attitude instead is that if the city wants to benefit from state taxes, there should be no objection to having state representatives around to make sure that the money will not be squandered on something silly.

As a matter of fact, state supervision of accounting methods increased rather than declined last year. In five states—Connecticut, Kentucky, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Wyoming—more state auditors were sent in to look over the shoulders of local officials.

City officials argue that the re-allocation of state taxes is not a gift to the city but rather money that should rightfully be re-distributed to the cities whose citizens paid the taxes.

Meanwhile, highway officials and groups of organized motorists are pressing their fight to keep gasoline revenue exclusively for highway improvement. The motorists, they argue, pay these taxes so roads may be maintained in good condition and so that new ones can be built. These taxes, therefore, they say, should neither be re-allocated to cities nor used promiscuously by the state.

The tax picture, year by year, becomes more complex, with levies overlapping and pyramiding. New forms of taxation are added constantly, further confusing the picture. Eventually, someone is going to have to tackle this matter and straighten it out. The sooner governmental authorities embark on an earnest plan to disentangle the maze, the easier it's going to be all around.

At Union college, in Barbourville, Ky., they're trying a new system of athletics. They're learning to play for fun.

As far as possible, financial aspects have been removed from Union college sports. Admission to all football and basketball games played at home is free. Athletic scholarships are no longer awarded. President Conway Boatman is looking ahead to the day when the school will build a stadium with no fence around it.

The result, Dr. Boatman reported, is a new spirit of sport, better scholarship among participants. And the football team last year didn't do so badly: It won three, lost three and tied one.

Many larger institutions might profitably study this new plan. With commercialism rearing its head throughout the realm of college athletics, football and basketball cease to be games and become deadly business instead.

Rats Take Over

If rats could vote, the human race in this country would be in for some pretty shabby treatment.

Rats outnumber the human population in the United States two to one. The estimate comes not as an adjunct to the diennial census, but, instead, from the American Chemical Society, which has spent considerable time plotting effective means of mass homicide against the rodent horde. Each rat, it is said, manages to get in about $2 worth of damage each year to bring the total annual vandalism to $600,000,000.

It appears that the time is ripe for that man, whoever he is, to build that better trap so that the world can start trekking to its door. Rats might not take over the country at any early date, but at least something ought to be done to save the woodwork.

THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER

BY HELEN WORDEN

"No, I'm not here!"

"You ain't no huncry."

"What's the matter? Fraid of that newspaper yep? Don't be a munny, these folks don't know you from Adam, even if they're right about you, and whether they did? You ain't done anything."

He led her to a table. "Now you sit down here and I'll order a big steak and a mug of beer, then you'll feel better."

"But I can't call the barge terminal and have them tell Pop and Mom I'll be home later," Marie protested.

"That's enough for that afternoon."

CONCENTRATING on the bus-stop at noon, Tommy talked little. Sitting there watching Marie picture what life would be when they married. He would be a captain on the barge, and he would undoubtedly own not one but many trucks. He was ruthless and determined enough, in an industrial town like this, to make his mark. He thought of an overgrown boy struggling blindly.

"Marie, she jumped. A stoutish woman with dark, wavy hair (or was making her way toward the door).

"Why, Mrs. Atwood?" Marie exclaimed. "I might of known I'd find you here. Papa told me you and the Flanagan's liked this place. It was relieved to see the homey, friendly neighbor."

"Marie," Mrs. Atwood's expression became grave. "Your dad's worried about you. He says you've been killed or worse. You'd better go home."

Marie jumped up excitedly. "What's he saying? He's kidding. I told you I should have sent them word."

He glowered. "Can't get away from your broken strings, can you?"

Mrs. Atwood broke in. "I don't like to interfere. Tommy Ryan, but what about taking Marie home?"

"That's her affair." His mouth twitched. "Marie, her temper during the breaking point, was seized with a sudden, inconsistent fury."

"Why ain't you trying to boss me?" She stamped her foot. "I won't have it."

Mrs. Atwood, unwilling to be involved, turned back to her table. Tommy called for the check, but before he got it Marie was gone. He darted after her, but she had disappeared.

"Let's go," she begged Tommy. "Beebles, Dad and Mom will be getting about me."

"Why in the world were you getting a kick out of this place. Don't

By H. L. CRAIG

Idaho once had diamond rush. While Caleb Lyon was in New York City in 1866 awaiting his reappointment as governor he was shown some diamonds claimed to have been found in Owyhee county. Returning to Idaho, the governor created a diamond bounty that attracted many prospectors and disappointed the gold camps. After much searching Caleb found the diamonds and gathered several barrels full to his great disappointment they proved to be quartz crystals.

Mac Makes Error in Picking Fight Outcome

By Hal Wood

BURLEY, Feb. 10—While it would appear that some of the better teams in the annual Elks outlaw tournament here are of higher caliber than most of those in past seasons, the general opinion is that as a whole the class of the tournament is a drop this year.

Outside the defending championship club, the Burley Elks; Caldwell Elks; Troy-Parish of Caldwell; and Jerome Jaycees, most of the teams are of mediocre ability and play has been rather spotty. However, some of the smaller teams do lack outstanding stars, such as the Mindoka CCC, have put on hard-driving battles that the fans have especially enjoyed.

There has been no "color" team, such as the Murtough Savages of last year—and no team of hotshots (such as the Elks) like the Silas Stone Redskins.

Closest approach to the Redskins in this year's meet is the Mindoka CCC, which has not an outstanding star, but has kept in the running by working every minute of the match. The surprise has been the surprise of the tourney.

One of the big laughs of the meet, incidentally, was at the expense of New, CCC high scoring star. During the game yesterday between the CCC team and the Pler-Twin Falls Oranges, which the Mindoka boys won without trouble, Ray McFarland, Times photographer, was sitting along the sidelines and as New raced down the floor, Ray let go with his flash bulb.

Apparently New was not in the habit of being photographed by flash as he whirled, apparently blinded, and was all ready to square with some unseen opponent. He got a sickly grin when he noticed the photographer there and the fans started to howl.

Another outstanding performance one that left the fans marveling—was presented by the Burley Elks. Gooding Jaycees game by Don Johnson, former University of Idaho all-around star, who now coaches at Hatley.

Johnson scored 17 points for the looser, as he did for the Vandals in his hey-day, and the Elks had a tough time putting the floor on him. He was all over the floor and was just about the whole show. He played like a champion, as they called it, and he performed as shanty Hogan, who outscored him by one point.

If it were at all possible, we'd like to pick a team of "old-timers" to put against the team that the Elks committee will present in the all-star squad at the tourney conclusion tonight.

To a niche, we'd take Fred Judovine of Burley Elks, Bill Powers of Pler-Twin Falls Oranges and Rudy Rigg of the American Falls Moose. You could add just about any two of old-timers in the tourney to that set-up and it would give you the team of the great good-bye battle. In fact probably hand them a beating.

We can't get over it—and neither can the fans who witness the tourney—so we'll have to mention it again.

Referring to the physical build of John Nohy of Jerome and Jimmie Johnson of Caldwell, it's hardly to watch them in action and for big men they really get in there and play. Both are two of the highest jumpers in the meet—while well over 200 pounds of weight.

And both are ex-football players of All-American mention—Johnson while at University of Washington and Nohy at University of Idaho. Jimmie made several All-American teams at the University of Washington while starting in the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco. He later played professional football in the National League before taking up his coaching duties at Jerome. We are told that Johnson also played pro ball last year.

Speaking of coaches reminds us that there were several "fatherless" high school teams practicing around the country last night.

This is the only time of the year that the former stars of the circuit get in a class for a little relaxation—and despite some objections, they usually are able to make the grade to get away from their high school team for at least one game during the season—which is as it should be.

Bobcats Edge Jerome Tigers

JEROME, Feb. 10 (Special)—Hanging on to a thin lead as the game came to a close, Bobcats' quiet manager to nose out the Jerome team 27 to 25 in a well played game here last night.

With 20 minutes to go, Jerome came within a point of tying the contest, but Burley held and energized victory. Burley was leading 13 to 9 at halftime.

High point man for the winners was AcArthur with 6 points while Belle Jerome made 12 counters.

Best action for Jerome during the game were Jurgenson, Blamira, Meuser, Hoidal, Hiale, Peters, Arnold and Coupe. Burley led Tronson, AcArthur, Miland, Church, Bradley, Laters, Freds, Brannon, Hllox, Himmus and Klight.

The Labrador duck first was made known to science in 1780, and little is known of its nesting habits. Not one egg was saved and only few specimens of the bird are in existence today. It is supposed to have been bred in Labrador. Feather hunters are blamed for its extinction.

By Henry McEmore

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10—Due to the fact I quit school after the fifth grade my command of languages is limited to English, French, German, Italian, Pig Latin and whatever it was Leslie Howard spoke in "Gone with the Wind."

So, I am not able to tell you what Arturo Godoy said in Spanish over the radio last night at the final of his fight with Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight boxing championship. But my guess is that Arturo, after staying 16 rounds with the supposedly murderous champion, had this to say:

"Hello mom! Hello pop! Sports-writers up here don't have any more news than they do here in South America. In fact, Les, the sportswriters said I wouldn't last long enough to get into the Let me tell you, manilla, and pop, I made one helva fight. Kiss grandpita for me, Adios."

Long-Distance Seat

My seat for last night's fight was not very good and it usually is for boys in Madison Square Garden. It was 3,000 miles away from Eighth avenue and Fifth street, and for the second time when Louis defended his title I had to depend upon Marcon's gadget and the collector's larvae of San Tux and my Steno.

I saw Seabiscuit start his comeback at Santa Anita yesterday afternoon and I came home as quickly as I could in order not to miss the first round. Because my predictions of the fight, made the day after Godoy was signed for it, was that the Chilean would be chilled when one arm was still in his bathrobe. That it was wrong came as a nasty shock to me.

If what I heard over the radio was really true, and not a transcription of the Jack Benny hour, then even a man who hates to arrive at conclusions would have to arrive at this one: Either Joe Louis has lost some of the punch that lifted him to the top, or in Godoy we have a rock much more substantial than Stone mountain, and one on which Gutzon Borglum should start carving historic memories as soon as he can lay his hands on a chisel.

Pretty Picture

It might make a pretty picture to see the heads of Les, Jackson, Lincoln and Jefferson marching blandly across the face of Arturo Godoy. And it might confuse even Louis, the next time he fought Godoy, to pick out which national idol he would like to hit first.

And there will be a next time, don't worry about it. Even as I write this Monopoly Mike Jacobs is sitting in his Red Bank, N. J., home figuring out how soon he can get away from Lincoln and Washington. The next one will be out-of-doors, in the Yankee stadium, and the bite won't be cheap. Les is not the sort of man to give you a good thing twice in a row without making you pay for it. Mike knows just what he is worth seeing is worth seeing.

Experts See Comeback For 'Biscuit'

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 10—pick up that book of familiar quotations and strike out the one which says they never come back. For while he hasn't quite crossed the Arcscheid yet, Seabiscuit at the door and he is knocking loudly.

"Those knocks near Santa Anita park and the Biscuit's first race in a year is the measuring stick the boys believe it is, the knocks will keep ringing until the bugler calls the field for $100,000. Seabiscuit here on March 2. Seabiscuit is definitely a sound horse."

He didn't win his comeback race, the $2,000 La Jolla handicap. He ran third behind Circle K rancher's Healy and A. C. C. stable's Sun Egret. But he was just three lengths back of a winner who sprinted seven furlongs in 2:24.5, 1:10 3/8 and 1:23 flat. This time was only three-fifths of his year-old record and was the best marked up in the west this winter.

Alvin went against the 1937 handicap champion. He carried 128 pounds, 10 more than Healy, and he was hemmed so tight that Jackie Jones' brother Red Pollard took him back at the first turn. Yet he was a running horse at the finish and he apparently was unbothered by the sprained suspensory ligament which knocked him out of training last Feb. 14. His showing was eminently satisfactory to the public, the experts, owner Charles B. Howard and Trainer Tom Smith.

Webster Trims Albion Normal

ALBION, Feb. 10 (Special)—With the score tied five times during the length of the contest, Webster college edged ahead in the last minute of play here last night to down Albion Normal 45 to 42 in a conference tangle.

Hansen Downs Castleford

HANSEN, Feb. 10 (Special)—With an overtime period necessary as the score ended 44-41 at the end of the regular playing season, the Hansen high school boys went ahead to defeat the invading Castleford quintet 44 to 41 here last night.

During the overtime, Webb of Castleford opened a free shot to place his team ahead but Hull of Hansen shot and hit, and Hansen won. High point man was Bryant, Hansen with 20 points.

A preliminary game between four mitts was won by Hansen, 14 to 18.

Glenns Ferry Wins 2 Games

GLENNS FERRY, Feb. 10 (Special)—Glenns Ferry's school quintet emerged victorious 27 to 19 in a game played here last night with the Husbands Indians.

The contest was a preliminary game, drawing the invaders 19 to 11.

At 14-11 half, in the boys' game, Glenns Ferry was ahead 18 to 2. Glenns Ferry's high scorer for the locals was Perry with 10, while McCain led Husbands with 14.

Glenns Ferry media Hagerman here next Tuesday.

The English call the primate a monkey-nut.

Held for Court

Ann Hobbins must have checked out of a checkered burglary, because Judge G. A. Bailey decreed today, the magistrate ordered Hobbins held for the higher criminal court under $500 bond after arraignment in probate court yesterday afternoon. Hobbins, accused of taking $500 in cash, Thursday from 250 Fourth avenue west, waived his preliminary hearing. He was unable to provide the $500 bail.

FDR AND GARNER
IN ILLINOIS RACE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 10 (UP)—
Illinois began its primary campaign ground for presidential candidates today with President Roosevelt and Vice-President John N. Garner pitting their names against the Democratic primary campaign and Thomas E. Dewey, Mayor of Florola. La Guardia of New York and Hamilton Fish entered in the Republican contest.

The April 9 primary was expected to be the decisive tournament. The third term advocates who placed
Mr. Roosevelt's name on the ballot without his formal declaration of candidatecy, the state primary law compelled the petition which placed him on the ballot. The state determination board had not yet determined whether the primary law required that declarations must accompany the petitions.

Harold Packer, who has entered late yesterday to accompany the Roosevelt petition filed a week ago. The petition for La Guardia was filed last night to accompany the State of Fish and Dewey which had been filed earlier.

La Guardia's petition also was filed without his declaration and in New York the mayor said that he knew nothing about it and did not know who had entered the petition.

U. S. Peace Efforts May Result in "League of Neutral Nations"

CONGRESS GIVES GENERAL BACKING TO WELLES' TRIP

By HOBART C. MONTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt's peace moves were given general congressional approval today with some congressmen seeing in them the seeds of a "league of neutral nations."

Announcement of preliminary conversations initiated by the state department with certain unnamed neutral nations to study "common problems of future peace," brought various interpretations and reactions. Some congressmen frankly opposed any move to set up a bloc of neutral nations.

State department officials would not admit that they were working on such an ambitious plan. But the apparent objectives of a bloc of neutrals would correspond with Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reported declarations that plans must be laid now to assist in "the eventual restoration of world peace on a sound and lasting basis."

No Peace Proposal

Meanwhile, administration spokesmen discourage the hopes that appear to have been aroused in some European capitals that the forthcoming tour of Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and announcement of the preliminary diplomatic conversations would lead to specific peace proposals by the United States.

Welles leaves for a visit to Rome, Paris, Berlin and London a week from today. Before then, it was believed, he and the President would confer with Joseph P. Kennedy and William C. Bullitt, Mr. Roosevelt's leading ambassadors in Europe.

Bullitt arrived here yesterday by Clipper plane from his post in Paris for the announced purpose of giving a routine report to the state department. Kennedy has been in this country since before Christmas, but is expected to return to his London post before Welles arrives there.

Sail on Same Boat

Myron C. Taylor, the President's special envoy to the Vatican, also may confer with the ambassadors before he leaves. He and Welles will sail on the same boat for Rome.

President Roosevelt, in announcing Welles' mission, declared that Welles would make up proposals for commitments on behalf of the American government, Hull in his statement revealing the start of peace talks with the neutrals said these conversations dealt only with the desired conditions of peace after the present war is over, and did not consider any of the questions connected with the present conflict.

Champion Boy Scout "Undresser" Does His Stuff!

(Evening Times Photos and Engravings)

1—All Set

2—Nonchalant

3—Speed at Last

4—What? No Pants?

Here's Delbert Nelson, troop 21, getting ready to dash places in the undressing race at the Boy Scout court of honor and rally here last night. He can hardly wait for that starting whistle.

This doesn't look like the speed of a winner, but a champion undresser knows that haste with shirt buttons is disastrous. So Delbert waits for that starting whistle.

Now we're getting places! Off come Delbert's socks, following his shoes and shirt. The 14 other Scouts in the race are still behind Delbert. They can't seem to keep up with our hero.

Turn your heads, ladies—Delbert is shedding his pants. Notice the perfect one-foot balancing act. Next Delbert has to put his pants back on. He did—and won in a romp.

THROUGH WITNESSES RALLY AS BOY SCOUTS RECEIVE AWARDS

As parents and friends looked on, scores of Scouts from over the Twin Falls district last night participated in a court of honor and rally held at the high school gym, the event being one of the highlights of Boy Scout anniversary week now being observed.

FDR ORDERS ALL CENSUS ANSWERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today proclaimed it the duty of every person over 10 to answer all questions in the decennial census beginning April 1, and gave assurance census information would be held in confidence.

The proclamation was, in effect, a reply to charges by Sen. Charles T. Tamm, R., N. H., that certain questions in the census constituted an invasion of privacy.

The President said the sole purpose of the census is to secure general statistical information regarding the population, business activities, and resources of the country "to measure the effects of the difficult decade now closing and to guide us intelligently in the future."

"No person can be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required," the proclamation said. "The census has nothing to do with taxation, with military or jury service, with the compulsion of school attendance, with the regulation of immigration, or with the enforcement of any national, state or local law or ordinance. There need be no fear that any disclosure will be made regarding any individual person or his affairs."

ENGLISH PLANES BOMB SEA BASE

TOENDER, Denmark, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—A British airplane today bombed the German North sea air base on the island of Sylt, off the coast of the German-Danish border. German planes attacked the raider and heavy anti-aircraft fire was heard.

Two bombs were dropped by the British plane at Hertrumb and two more were dropped at random. Six German planes took off from the Sylt base as the British plane, after dropping its bombs, flew off in a westerly direction.

Persons on the Danish-German border saw smoke at Hertrumb where fires resulting from the bombs still were burning an hour and a half after the attack.

LONDON, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—The air ministry denied officially today that a British plane had been over the German island of Sylt today.
