Several interesting facts concerning the "big wind" were uncovered in an Evening Times survey made of various communities today. Trailer Houses Picked Up At Buhl, a fire department official reported that a trailer house, resting on a concrete foundation, was "picked up and thrown" across the highway. No one was in the house at the time. Lightpoles were blown down outside the city limits and trees were uprooted in several instances.

North of Hagerman, on the Old Oregon Trail, several tall poplar trees which are found among those lining the highway, were blown over, blocking the highway to all traffic for a period of some two hours. Rain accompanied the wind and telephone and power lines were damaged.

One official at Jerome, contacted by telephone, took advantage of the situation to jokingly report that "Jerome is solidly built" and no damage resulted there. Likewise, officials at the Burley police station reported that no wind damage had been brought to their attention.

Shoshone reported no wind of any consequence arising there Saturday, although a consistent rain fell much of the day.

Overflow Crowd Throgs to Public Concert by Symphony

So large was the audience that assembled yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church to hear the annual concert of the Twin Falls Community Symphony orchestra that it was necessary to open the doors to the chapel, and then the seating capacity was overtaxed.

The concert was originally scheduled to be presented in the Twin Falls high school gymnasium, but was changed to the church because of the damage to the school building, result of Saturday's windstorm.

Sixty-six musicians from six southern Idaho towns appeared in the finely executed musical offering. The group practices and prepares the annual concert without compensation and makes no admission charge for the program. A silver offering was taken to purchase music for the orchestra.

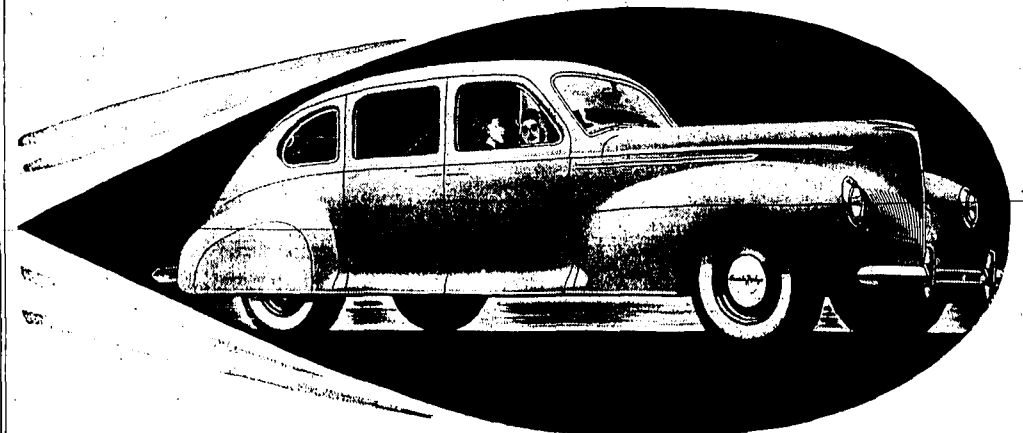

High point of interest in the program was the playing of Bruch's violin concerto in G minor, including an "Adagio" and "Finale" with John Alan O'Connor as violin soloist.

Yesterday's concert was directed by Bert Christensen, with Richard Smith, Twin Falls, as associate conductor. Interpreting the musical selections of the orchestra, Rev. H. O. McCallister, Twin Falls Methodist minister, gave a dedication address.

FARLEY PAYS HONORS TO LINCOLN ON ANNIVERSARY

U. S. POSTMASTER GENERAL AWARDS SPECIAL TRIBUTES

NEW SALEM, Ill., Feb. 12 (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley today paid tribute to Postmaster Abraham Lincoln.

He spoke at the dedication of the postoffice in the restored general store where the postmaster had held his first public office from 1833 to 1836.

Farley said it was during Lincoln's term as postmaster he established the "firm foundation of good will" for his career as a lawyer, legislator and President. He said his rise was possible only because of the democratic system of government in the United States.

Impossible Elsewhere

"In this age of dictatorship and government by cruel violence, it is heartening to recall that Abraham Lincoln was a product of democratic government," Farley said. "His rise to eminence and immortality in the annals of history would have been impossible under any other system."

"The only power Lincoln had came from within from the sublime qualities of a lofty spiritual nature. Through his life, he was a man of the prairies with a heart that beat in the arms of man's eternal struggle against the elements for the simple comforts of decent food and adequate shelter."

Job Abolished

The New Salem postoffice was abolished in 1838 and Lincoln was left without a job. The town's population had dwindled because the early settlers had begun moving westward. The village has been re-created as a Lincoln shrine.

Mail was brought to the postoffice today in a dramatic demonstration consisting of the old and new methods of transportation. One batch was delivered by stagecoach as it was in Lincoln's day. The coach required eight hours to make the 20-mile run from Springfield. Later, another batch of mail was dropped from an airplane which covered the distance from Springfield in 10 minutes.

Father of Buhl Pioneer Often Sang for Lincoln

By MRS. OLIN SMITH
Buhl, Feb. 12—(Special)—One-time owner of Buhl's first residence and one of the earliest pioneers of the west, Mrs. Clara R. Graves, remembers well and recounts with enthusiasm the stories her father, Constant Reynolds, told of his close friendship with Abraham Lincoln, both before and after he was elected President of the United States.

Her father often sang for Lincoln, both before and after he was elected President of the United States. Her father often sang for Lincoln, both before and after he was elected President of the United States.

His Birthday Tomorrow
Mrs. Graves will celebrate her 84th birthday anniversary Feb. 13 at the Twin Falls county home where she has lived since her husband's death.

She said, "My father was such a pleasure and I believe was much more than a passing acquaintance, at which time he was an expert." After six years they sold the farm and purchased the first Buhl residence, a small home located near the city park on 14th street, which he operated for several years.

Mrs. Graves was born Feb. 13, 1856, at Hemi Grove, Ill. "I first came to Idaho as a homemaker as being 'Hired.' It was situated on the edge of Kyle creek where they went hunting and fishing in summer and skating and sledding in winter. There were hickory trees, hazel bushes and wild strawberries. At the age of nine she moved with her parents into Lane station.

After the railroad was built the town was named Rochelle. In 1877 she was married to Walter Graves and they moved to Little Rock River, built a small home where she was postmistress for several years before moving to Pipestone, Minn. The railroad was built and the town of Little Rock was started. Her house previously mentioned was the first residence and post office of the town.

Mrs. Graves spoke of enjoying the years she lived in the Twin Falls home. She was busy there planting flowers and shrubs about the buildings and caring for them. She was also busy in her room making and mending hooked rugs to sell and give to her friends in Buhl. Many of her rugs received first prizes when entered at the Twin Falls county fairs.

"Grandma's" Happy
"Grandma's" Graves as she is known to her many friends, names Mrs. Louise McCrary and Mary Hinkley, Buhl, as her closest friends. They save their Sunday school papers and many magazines for her reading matter.

Dominating the center of the dance floor will be a mammoth brain, Valentine, surrounded by flowers and cupid, through which the guests may dance. Cupids will mark the entrance to the pavilion, and red hearts, cupid and streamers will form a setting for the punch table.

In the receiving line will be Orpha and Eva Stokes, past presidents; Madge Hayward, president, and Mary Ruth King, secretary-treasurer, and they moved to Little Rock River, built a small home where she was postmistress for several years before moving to Pipestone, Minn. The railroad was built and the town of Little Rock was started.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. Roy King will be patrons of the evening.

Mrs. Graves came to Buhl with her husband in the year 1905 when the country was rough and jagged. They were visiting relatives in Pullman, Wash., when they took of the opening of the Twin Falls tract. Mrs. Graves came here and took a claim on a 40-acre farm east of the present town of Buhl near the well-known Mitchell farm.

There was no water for irrigation in this section of the country, so they went to Grangeville, Id., and operated a sawmill for two years while the canal was being built. They returned in 1907, cleared their farm of the scrub brush and built a small dwelling. Thon six years on the farm were Mrs. Graves reared, and operated a sawmill for a time.

She said, "My garden was such a pleasure and I believe was much more than a passing acquaintance, at which time he was an expert." After six years they sold the farm and purchased the first Buhl residence, a small home located near the city park on 14th street, which he operated for several years.

Mrs. Graves was born Feb. 13, 1856, at Hemi Grove, Ill. "I first came to Idaho as a homemaker as being 'Hired.' It was situated on the edge of Kyle creek where they went hunting and fishing in summer and skating and sledding in winter. There were hickory trees, hazel bushes and wild strawberries. At the age of nine she moved with her parents into Lane station.

After the railroad was built the town was named Rochelle. In 1877 she was married to Walter Graves and they moved to Little Rock River, built a small home where she was postmistress for several years before moving to Pipestone, Minn. The railroad was built and the town of Little Rock was started.

Mrs. Graves spoke of enjoying the years she lived in the Twin Falls home. She was busy there planting flowers and shrubs about the buildings and caring for them. She was also busy in her room making and mending hooked rugs to sell and give to her friends in Buhl. Many of her rugs received first prizes when entered at the Twin Falls county fairs.

"Grandma's" Happy
"Grandma's" Graves as she is known to her many friends, names Mrs. Louise McCrary and Mary Hinkley, Buhl, as her closest friends. They save their Sunday school papers and many magazines for her reading matter.

OUTLAW TEAMS POINT TO GOODING TOURNEY

Outstanding Clubs From Throughout State Will Compete

GOODING, Feb. 12 (Special)—At least one from Nevada—the southern half of Idaho—and at basket on Nevada—will compete in the annual Gooding Outlaw tournament, oldest outlaw meet in the state.

The tourney will get under way on Thursday, with the champion to be crowned on Saturday night. Another record-breaking attendance is indicated by early enthusiasm.

While the entry list has not yet been compiled, it is probable that at least 10 teams will compete for the $200 in prizes and trophies.

Outstanding among these teams will be the Hurley Elks, defending champions and runners-up in the Burley tourney which was completed Saturday night in the Cassia city. Most of the teams from that meet will compete in this tournament—plus a few of the other stronger quintets from Pocatello and Boise.

$100 First Prize
First prize of $100 goes to the championship team, while $60 goes to the second and $40 to the third. All-star awards will be gold basketballs. There will be no cup presented to the winning team, as has been the past custom.

The meet is under the management of Late Lyon, who will be assisted by Eddie Baer, Art Berg, Joe McFadden, Rex Feinster and M. W. Tate. The Gooding "G" club boys are aiding in handling the building. The meet will be staged in the Gooding junior high school gymnasium.

Competing Teams
Aside from the Hurley Elks, teams which compete include the Nevada Miners, American Falls Moose, Sugar City Independents, Jerome Jaycees, Rupert Lions, Orona Flyers, Independence, Gooding Jaycees, Bliss Faculty, Caldwell Elks, Pocatello Troy-Parishan, Boise Business College, Blackfoot, Fairfield, Hazelton, Stone-Lumber of Nampa, Emmett, McCall Loggers, Ketchum All-stars and the Fletcher Off-All-Stars of Boise.

Other entries may be received later to boost the teams competing in the annual event.
If all the above teams participate, all the four top clubs in the Burley affair will be competing—plus several of the other stronger quintets of the state.

Salmon Bait Ruling Is Clarified

BOISE, Feb. 12 (UP)—The Idaho fish and game commission today clarified its ruling on use of salmon eggs for bait, at the request of north Idaho sportmen.

Use of salmon eggs as bait was prohibited, except in specified waters on specified dates.

Salmon fishing on the Snake fork of the Salmon river was restricted to from Jan. 1 to July 1, inclusive, only two salmon may be taken in one day and a fisherman may possess only three.

Salmon and steelhead trout may be taken with special permits in the waters of the Clearwater and Salmon rivers.

Trout may be taken with salmon eggs in the Snake river from the Wendell bridge on the North fork and the Wyoming line on the South fork to American Falls dam.

Fight Managers Scream for Title Bouts With Louis

All-Stars From Burley Outlaw Tourney

There were 10 players chosen on the all-tournament squad at the Burley Outlaw tournament close on Saturday night—but only five men showed up to receive their individual awards from Harry Harpster—the rest being either under the showers or already gone home when the time came around for the presentation. However, the five men above could probably just about handle any other outlaw team in the state of Idaho. Left to right they are Earl Williams, Jerome Jaycees; Dan Johnson, Gooding Jaycees; Merle Fox, Troy-Parishan; Harry Harpster, Gooding Jaycees; and Stone, Troy-Parishan. Handing the awards is Mr. Harpster. (Times Photo and Engraving)

OSC Near Title In Northern Division Play

SEAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12 (UP)—Oregon State college and University of Southern California apparently can't be stopped in their pursuit of Pacific Coast divisional titles unless the first team players all break their legs.

This was aptly illustrated over the week-end when the OSC Beavers maintained a firm grip on the northern division top spot by winning a brace of games with Washington State while Southern California was losing both.

The Beavers lost Friday night en route to 4-0, but came back Saturday night to stave off a Auburn rally and win out 4-1 to 4-0.

Twin Falls Bruins today took things easy and looked forward to their longest rest of the basketball season prior to returning to the court for the final drive before the annual district tournament rolls around here.

Still showing flashes of fine basketball—and some that wasn't quite so hot, the Bruins lost a heart-breaker in an over-time period on Saturday night to the invading Idaho Falls Tigers.

Godoy and Galento Handlers Demand Return Summer Meets

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (UP)—Although Promoter Mike Jacobs never takes any punches in the ring, he may develop cauliflower ears before June with the verbal hammerings of Managers Al Weill, Joe Jacobs and possibly Pinky George and George Steinman.

Each of this quartet has the same burning yen: To see the heavyweight he manages tossed into the ring with Champion Joe Louis for a big money gate at Yankee stadium in June.

Right now, Weill is doing the loudest yelling, but Mike Jacobs promised Tony Galento a title fight with Louis in June. If Tony beats Lou Nova last September, Tony not only ends Nova's winning streak; he moldered him. Tony almost knocked out Louis a couple months before that. He's the National Boxing association's No. 1 challenger. He's the only man who'll draw any money with Louis.

Pinky George of Des Moines started to scream last week but was quieted Saturday by Promoter Jacobs. "Uncle" Mike gave Pinky an "if" contract guaranteeing his fighter, Lee Savold, a June title bout with Louis if he wins the Garden on April 3. Steinman says, "I can't understand all this screaming. Pinky will knock Louis out in April and then defend the title against Louis at the stadium in June."

George Steinman, who rose to fame as the trainer of madcap Kingfish Levinsky, is now piloting Johnny Paycheck, who gets a shot at Louis' title in the Garden on April 3. Steinman says, "I can't understand all this screaming. Pinky will knock Louis out in April and then defend the title against Louis at the stadium in June."

Boxers From Shoshone Win
SHOSHONE, Feb. 12 (Special)—Shoshone boxers and Hazelton high school fight teams put on a show here Saturday night with the home club capturing up a 5-2 decision in seven special matches.

C. Young, 108, Shoshone, defeated R. Young, 110, Hazelton.
Cherry, 140, Shoshone, defeated Robertson, 142, Hazelton.
Kibbler, 131, Hazelton, defeated Conklin, 130, Shoshone.
Conner, 139, Shoshone, defeated Bushnell, 140, Hazelton.
Koto, 119, Shoshone, scored a first round technical knockout over Swanner, Hazelton.
Peck, 131, Shoshone, defeated Williamson, 132, Hazelton.
Hors, 120, Hazelton, defeated McNeil, 118, Shoshone.

In a special bout Werry, 180, Hazelton, took the decision over Ellis, 172, Dietrich.
Two exhibitions were held, both ending in a draw. In the first Baruchian swapped punches with McGee, of the second Lowry met Nocker. All the battles were from Shoshone.

Dykes Sees Fall of Yanks When (And if) Nine Key Men Are Hurt

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—In talking to any American league manager other than Joe McCarty, you probably try to keep from mentioning the New York Yankees. It is the same sort of talk that prevents one from talking about Thanksgiving or a turkey or the 1936 electoral vote to Landon.

So the other day when I ran across Jimmy Dykes manager of the Chicago White Sox, I steered the conversation away from the Yankees as long as I could. We discussed salmon fishing in the upper Rogue river, Barrymore's claims of a permanent reconciliation with Elaine, the present whereabouts of Grover Whalen, whether anyone would ever become fashionable again, and whether or not Mann cats really minded not having tails.

"I can't stand this any longer," Dykes finally said. "I know what you really want to know, so let's talk about the Yankees and get it over with."

"Okay," I said. "And they can't be such a tough team. You beat them four times out of the 22 you played them last year. You must have had a lot of tough luck in those 18 games you lost them."

"No, you're wrong," Dykes said. "I said with a defiance, born perhaps of the knowledge that the baseball season is a full two months away. 'It isn't the Yankees as a team that bothers us and all the other clubs in the league, but their key men. Let them lose their key man and the result would be a mad scramble for the pennant.'"

Dykes' line of reasoning intrigued me, so I moved closer and asked him the name of this all important Yankee key man.

"Well, Bill Dickey," Dykes said. "Or if not Dickey, Joe Di Maggio. Or just let something happen to Pearson or Donald or that slugger outfielder, Charley Keller, and when they're all gone..."

When Dykes had finished naming his key men, I discovered that he had listed no fewer than nine, and it was easy to see that if something happened to those nine men simultaneously it would make it pretty tough for the Yankees. Perhaps it was this sort of thing that Jimmy Fox had in mind when, from Florida recently, he said the other American league teams should be ashamed of being afraid of the Yankees and conceding the pennant to them even before the season opened.

4-Day Tourney Set for Class A Clubs March 6-9

It will be a four-day tournament when the Class A schools of this district meet in Twin Falls on March 6, 7, 8 and 9 at the high school gymnasium.

At a meeting here on Saturday afternoon, representatives of the eight competing schools—Boali, Ft. Hooding, Burley, Rupert, Jerome, Oakley and Twin Falls—decided that the tourney would be played over a four-day period, with the first game being staged each afternoon and two each evening during the four-day period—a procedure that proved highly successful last year.

Under the present plan, if a team comes through undefeated under the double elimination system, it will win on Saturday night, that club will hold the championship. However, if at the end of play on Saturday the two teams that have completed in the final game have one defeat each, they will then meet on Monday night to decide the entrant from this district to the state tournament at Moscow.

Regal Named Manager
Ed Roehl, Twin Falls high school principal, was named manager of the tourney and will be in charge of the double elimination system. He held under his supervision a few days before the tourney gets under way. Officials of the tourney will be the Class A board of control.

At another meeting here on Saturday, coaches of the southern district were held in a meeting at the playing places in the sub-district tourney at Blanton. This meet will be held Feb. 21 with the winner and runner-up scheduled to advance to the district Class A meet at Wendell Feb. 23, March 1 and 2.

Drawings Made
Drawings, as announced by Supt. W. W. Skidmore, manager of the meet, were as follows for the first day (Wednesday):

T. P. Haven vs. Eden.
8—Haverton vs. Hollister.
9—Kimberly vs. Castleton.
10—Maurhugh drew a bye. The girls section of the tourney will get under way Thursday with Castleton meeting Hollister at 8 p. m. On Friday the Blanton High girls will play the girls at 7 and the winner of the Hollister-Castleton game meets the Eden girls at 8 p. m. Six high school bands will turn music during the tourney.

Other sub-district Class B tourneys have already been set at Clifton Feb. 17-20, 21, Shoshone Feb. 21, 22 and Halley Feb. 22-24.

ANGER RAISED TO FURY AS IRISH HOPE FOR NAZI WIN

OFFICIALS RAID BELFAST HOMES FOR HUNTING RIFLES

BELFAST, North Ireland, Feb. 12.—Police raided houses after hours of the night hunting 30 rifles from the British military camp at Belfast during a week-end of Irish Republican army turmoil.

Aroused to a new fury both here and in Eire by the hanging of two of its members, Peter Barnes and James Richards, at Birmingham, England, last week, the I. R. A. was blamed for the arsenal raid and for a street riot here in which 2,000 demonstrators fought several hundred police for 20 minutes.

Tense Silence

In the aftermath of the rioting, a tense silence settled over the city. Shades were drawn in houses and few people were on the streets. Police had barricaded roads within a 20-mile radius of Belfast and private automobiles, especially those headed for Belfast, were stopped and searched.

British authorities feared that the disturbances would grow worse as the I. R. A., backed by Nationalistic Irishmen in both Eire and North Ireland, took advantage of Britain's war to resume their struggle for a united nation, free of British influences.

Seek Nazi Victory

Climaxing week-end demonstrations in Eire, Simon Donnelly, president of the old I. R. A., now active politically, announced to the press at the postoffice at Dublin that Irishmen hoped that Britain would be "ruthlessly crushed" by Germany.

He said Irishmen had no use for either Nazism or British imperialism but that the vast majority of them were not neutral in the war.

"We are perfectly clear as to what we want to be the outcome of this war. We want to see an enemy which has saddled our people for 700 years, and added to that slaughter last week and which continues to heap insults on us, ruthlessly crushed in this war."

SCHOOLMASTERS WILL TALK TAXES

Discussion of the sales tax proposed by the Idaho Education association—and already approved by many educators—will form one feature of the meeting of Southern Idaho Schoolmasters club here Wednesday evening.

From 75 to 100 teachers and administrators from Jerome, Cassia, Gooding, Lincoln, Minidoka, Blaine and Elmore counties are expected to be on hand. Supt. L. A. Thomas, Kimberly, and Supt. Homer M. Davis, Twin Falls, will lead discussion on the tax proposal, according to Supt. Lawrence Turner, Murtaugh.

Because some educators, including many in this area, do not believe the state association should "meddle" in a political or statewide tax matter, the discussion is expected to be of high interest. Others reportedly favor the sales levy proposal.

Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. Wednesday in Murtaugh high school. Murtaugh community council will provide the meal. Musical program by members of the organization. Supt. Ben F. Mahoney, Davis, president of the Schoolmasters club, will preside.

L. D. S. TO OPEN WELFARE DRIVE

HALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 12 (AP).—Leaders of 16 Latter Day Saints church stakes today launched an extensive 1940 welfare program.

The new program, including real estate projects for self-support, was outlined at a meeting in the Salt Lake City tabernacle by Ezra C. Knowlton, chairman of the Salt Lake regional council of the church welfare board.

The welfare group will appoint an extensive housing survey within the church membership to determine a policy for financing and constructing homes for members who otherwise would be unable to obtain homes of their own. Knowlton said.

An L. D. S. organization committee reported on medical aid work for all church members in the region. The committee report will be submitted to the regional council and if approved will be sent to the general authorities of the church for final action.

Knowlton also requested agricultural committee members of the various stakes in work which will produce thousands of dollars worth of farm produce for needy church members. The projects are designed to stimulate individual enterprise and self-sufficiency.

Groundhog Likes Soap, Petunias

About all that most people know concerning groundhogs is that they either do or do not see their shadows on a special day in February.

But Mrs. Ella Loug, 1129 Fifth avenue east, will tell you that groundhogs have peculiar dietary habits, or at least so has Oscar.

Former neighbors of Mrs. Loug recently sent her copies of the Quincy Herald-Whig newspaper, telling of a groundhog belonging to Virginia Lou Raymond, Quincy, Ill.

Oscar regards strongly scented soaps as a real desert, and is very fond of candy. He sometimes eats eight oatmeal cookies at a sitting, and also will eat salmon and bread.

Oscar, like Ferdinand the Bull, is very fond of flowers. But only certain flowers appeal to his appetite. Marigolds are his favorite. He devours them, stems, odoriferous flowers and all. Next best he likes petunias.

Oscar apparently overrept or else he just isn't an orthodox groundhog, because, according to stories he slept soundly all through groundhog day. Then the following Monday morning when Buddy Raymond left home to go to school, he heard noises under the front porch indicating that Oscar was digging his way out of the solidly frozen ground. At about 11 o'clock, Oscar made his appearance. He shook the dirt off his long, brindle hair, chattered a bit by way of fusing about the weather, and then made his way to the side door of the Raymond home.

The greeter Mrs. Raymond with a bright and a puppy-like smile and they begged for a drink of water.

Oscar was indifferent to all offers of food, but he did eat a very small piece of red, disinfectant soap, and drank quantities of water.

Eventually he was placed outside; made a retreat and darted into his burrow.

Oscar emerged from his winter's sleep 10 pounds slimmer than when he last saw his burrow last November. Young ladies, take notice!
