

REPORTS CLAIM FARLEY BACKS ANTI-THIRD TERM BATTLE

BREACH BETWEEN FDR, DEMO HEAD NOT YET OPENED

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Reports that Postmaster General James A. Farley was cooperating in a campaign by Roosevelt to limit the third term of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, are being treated with considerable skepticism by many Democrats.

Then reports were somewhat of a considerable doubt strategy whereby Farley was to have entered an anti-third term slate of delegates in the March 13 Ohio presidential primary.

Reports Farley would enter a slate in opposition to the state organization which is fronting for the third term in Ohio were published here throughout the week.

Farley's deadline for filing in Ohio passed over the week-end and Mr. Roosevelt is assured of 52 delegates there if he wants them. There was, in fact, no confirmation from Farley that he intended to go into Ohio at all.

Not Yet in Open
The political relationship between the postmaster general and President Roosevelt still has not come to the open break which many observers predicted as developments continued to challenge Farley's belief that there will be no third term effort.

The political breaks of the past few days have been centered on the favor of the New Deal organization of draft-Roosevelt strategists although it is not known here, even yet, whether Mr. Roosevelt intends to run again or merely wants to accumulate a big bloc of delegates so he may try to name his successor.

First Primary
The first major preferential primary will take place two weeks from tomorrow in Wisconsin where both Democratic and Republican stakes are high. Without suggesting there is a coalition of anything of the kind between Arthur E. Vandenberg, R. Mich., and Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., it is fairly obvious that both have the Wisconsin primary in mind to begin to submerge District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's 1940 hopes.

Is staying out of Wisconsin as Vandenberg has a clear field against Dewey. Dewey strategists are aware of the situation and believe their main line of attack is the mid-west again for some pre-primary campaigning.

Great significance is attached here to last week's New Hampshire primary endorsement of a third term. Comparisons were impressed by the comparatively weak Democrat to compare to that cast in the Republican primary.

TASTE

The different "taste" of Twin Falls domestic water Saturday and Sunday came as a result of workers washing the settling tanks, officials said this afternoon.

At the end of stated periods, the tanks, through which all water consumed in the city must pass, are cleaned and the job usually requires two days, records show.

"Now the job is done and there shouldn't be anything wrong with the taste of the water," L. O. Salter, superintendent of the filter plant, said.

She taught English in the high school in Raton, N. M., and conducted summer normals at Santa Fe and Albuquerque. She returned to Oklahoma and was superintendent of the city schools of Muskogee, Okla., for two years.

She had visited Idaho and had enjoyed the climate so much that she decided to make this state her home. She became professor of English at Gooding college where she remained three years. She entered the race for superintendent of public instruction here in 1920.

Went East Finding opportunities for women in her profession better in the east, she spent one year teaching in Chicago followed by a year's teaching in Rochester, N. Y., where she taught English in the Rochester Athenaeum Institute. From Rochester she went to Columbus, where for 16 years she was principal of Stewart avenue school.

Each summer for 12 years Mrs. Logan visited Idaho spending the most of her time at Murtaugh but visiting many of the surrounding towns.

Trip Too Strenuous She and a sister, Mrs. Finley, formerly of Hansen, visited the New York World's fair last summer but the trip proved too strenuous for her failing health.

Mrs. Simpson returned to her home last week-end. Mrs. Logan was also the sister of Thomas W. Whitworth, Mrs. Nellie Hall and Mrs. Lullabelle Mitchell, all of Murtaugh.

BRITONS DOUBT OWN DEFENSES AFTER NAZI AIR RAIDS

WARSHIP HIT BY GERMAN BOMBS AT SCAPA FLOW

LONDON, March 18 (Special)—Britain today whether the first raid on civilians had touched off a new and merciless phase of the war, while the press criticized the aerial defense which permitted German bombers to hit a civilian, bomb Scapa Flow, the important naval base, three Orkney island towns and escape with only two casualties.

The Daily Telegraph said "what will cause disappointment in the public mind is the knowledge not much that a raid on Scapa Flow could be achieved but that the raiders were able to return to their base with such a small loss."

Assuming that 12 out of 14 German bombers returned safely, the newspaper suggested "some deficiency in defensive strength at a fleet anchorage as important as Scapa Flow."

The warship hit was the British battleship Barham, which was damaged by a direct hit on the mainmast. The ship was damaged by a direct hit on the mainmast. The ship was damaged by a direct hit on the mainmast.

Retaliatory raids might have been in retaliation for successful reconnaissance flights over the German naval base in Heligoland, which was bombed by British planes Sunday evening. German naval vessels. Several individuals were killed. The ship was damaged by a direct hit on the mainmast.

Entry fee for schools was cut from $3.50 down to a flat $3, according to J. A. Miller, Washington school, Filer. He is board chairman. Entry fee must be turned in to the county superintendent by March 20.

W. B. Cox, Rogers school, and Robert Day, Northview, are the other two members of the athletic board named by the Twin Falls County Teachers association.

State Blue Bird Feature of Decor For BPOE Dance

The blue bird, harbinger of spring and Idaho's state bird, figured effectively in the springtime motif featured at the annual St. Patrick's day dance Saturday evening at the Elks ballroom, largely attended by members of the Elks lodge, their wives and women guests.

Brackened from the balcony in the east end of the ballroom, and on either side of the orchestra platform on the opposite wall were diamond-shaped focus, entwined with pastel flowers, from which were suspended wooden bird houses. Wooden blue birds perched on the house railings and fluttered among the flowers.

Irish Lyrics

A gilded wrought iron lyre, banked with woodwinds and Oregon grape, studded with orange lights to represent sunbursts, was placed before the orchestra platform, and arranged at a higher level in the background, was a huge sweep of woodwinds studded with myriads of daffodils, symbolizing the sunset. At the far corners of the west end of the hall were tall gold candlesticks standing replicas of those found in a Georgian mansion at Bardonia, Ky., on which were placed gold candlesticks with emerald green tapers.

Smaller gold standards fronted with large green lyres, and illuminated by emerald tapers, were arranged on either side of the wrought iron lyre; floor baskets of greenery and white carnations and floor acres decorated in the St. Patrick's motif, one flanked by potted palms and the other by potted primroses, completed the decorations. The walls of the hall were covered with the walls were decorated with colored burl, shedding a suffused glow about the ballroom.

Wilton Peck was in charge of the decorations. Joe LeClair and Harry Hamilton assisted, and Ed Ehlers made the third house.

"Electric Cooking has meant a lot to me, too."

Many a grandmother can testify to the advantages of electric cookery — for, largely because of low electric rates, it was accepted in the Snake River Valley before it was popular elsewhere in the United States.

But — each year it's been made better, and more economical. Along with reductions in rates, have come improvements in operation. If you don't have one of the modern electric ranges, you can't realize the true meaning of MODERN electric cookery.

So — have a look the next time you're shopping. Study modern

FINNS TACKLE ENORMOUS REHABILITATION PROBLEM

LEADERS DEPART FOR MOSCOW ON TREATY BUSINESS

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
HELSINKI, March 18 (U.P.)—Finland tackled an enormous rehabilitation problem today as Juhani Paasikivi and E. Volonnam, members of the mission which last week negotiated the end of the war with Russia, left by plane for Moscow to ratify the peace terms.

Paasikivi and Volonnam will exchange ratifications with the Russian government at the Kremlin and negotiate concerning Finnish private property in territory ceded to Russia.

At home, the Finns worked to complete evacuation of ceded territory, and to organize a new national defense and social economic rehabilitation with which to cope with the aftermath of war.

Fear Epidemics
Authorities feared the vital problem of avoiding epidemics arising from the presence of thousands of dead and injured killed in battle in Finnish territory.

Real dangers from disease were expected to come during the spring thaw, which occurs usually in mid-April. The severity of the peace which allotted to Russia large areas in Karelia and northeast of Lake Ladoga also gave Russia the heaviest burden of meeting the danger of epidemics since most of the dead were killed on territory now Russian.

Ample Medical Supplies
But the Finns had no chances and they were determined to have ample medical supplies on hand should typhus or plague appear.

During the war months the Finnish army devoted much time to burying the dead. Russian bodies were buried in huge, common graves, and wherever possible Finnish trenches were sent "back home." The task of caring for the living was tremendous.

Hospitals were filled with Finnish wounded and new ones and work had to be found for tens of thousands of people.

BRIDGE

SUN VALLEY, March 18 (Special)—The man who finally undid and bought the Brooklyn bridge is none other than Darby Zanuck, chief executive of 20th-Century Fox films.

What's more, Zanuck paid Arthur Casper $100,000 for it. Today at Sun Valley's rounhouse, while waiting to ski down the mountain with instructor Otto Lang, Zanuck hastened to explain that he was not a sucker, that this Brooklyn bridge was a story and not the famed New York landmark.

So far as could be learned, the original is still the property of the city of New York, and is still carrying traffic from Park Row to the home of the daffy Dodgers.

LEAGUERS TAKE ALL-STAR GAME

McKechnie Outfit Scores 2-1 Win In Benefit Contest

By HARRY FERGUSON

TAMPA, Fla., March 18 (U.P.)—Ball games that are won and lost in March may not mean much, but the National league feels pretty cocky today over having plastered a defeat on an American league all-star team made up chiefly of New York Yankees.

That 2 to 1 victory, won under a cloudy sky at Plant field, sent National league fans into the streets boasting that the tide had turned, after all these years, against the superiority of the American league. The game was played for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund.

It was turned into a Sunday night close contest for a bunch of ball players who are only half way through spring training.

The pitching was tight, the fielding brilliant in spots and it wasn't until the last of the ninth inning that the National league won on a single by Pete Cossart. Brooklyn second baseman, who had led Boston across, across with the winning run.

Credit to Pitchers

Most people had expected a balloon sized score with pitchers being belted out of the box in squads.

Much of the credit for the National league victory goes to the pitchers—Paul Derringer, Kirby Hulse of the Phillies, Luke Hamlin of the Dodgers, Bucky Walters of the Reds and Harry Gumbert of the Giants who held the American leaguers to five slinky hits. Such slingers as Joe DiMaggio, Charlie Keller and Ted Williams spent all afternoon valiantly trying to get a piece of the ball.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the American league club sent seven of his own New York Yankees into the starting line-up.

The Boston Red Sox contributed Jimmy Foss at first base and Ted Williams in right field. Eventually almost everybody on both sides got into the game. Manager Bill McKechnie had only two of his Cincinnati Reds in the starting line-up—Derringer, the pitcher, and Frank McCormick at first base.

«Crosset Stars»

Best ball player on the field was Frankie Crosetti, Yankees shortstop who got two hits and picked up a ball that Charlie Ruffing knocked down to start a double play on what looked like a hit.

Goal of the game was Hal Trosky, Cleveland first baseman, who dropped a perfect throw byatcher Rolfe Hemery to put the winning National league run on third base. Ted Williams got the loudest laugh of the day when he picked up a ball that had fallen foul. «Throw it here, Ted.» a fan in the bleachers shouted. So Williams did while the umpires gaped.

GLENN'S FERRY GIRL STARS IN FEMININE TOURNAY WHILE HOLDING DOWN GUARD POST

OTHER MEET HIGHLIGHTS

One more tournament—the girls' at Buhl—ended Saturday night to complete basketball of every sort for south central Idaho for the year of 1940 with the exception of Buhl's trip to the Class A tournament at Moscow this week-end. We wish to point out that some of the finest shots of the season—including boys and girls' play—were in the feminine meet.

Probably the best shot of the meet from any distance was Maxine Westover of Glenn's Ferry. She could sink the sphere through the 1000-mile jump.

Jack, who could drop a line into any one of his ponds and pull out just about the size and type fish he wanted, today was at Boulder dam, near Las Vegas, Nev., to do a little fishing, after packing and leaving Saturday on the 1000-mile jump.

He was accompanied by Jess Eastman, another Buhl sportsman who would much rather fish than eat.

They took a boat along to ride the waves of the big new artificial lake back of the dam.

Player with the most bandages—Mary Rutherford of Wendell.

Schedules Set For Play in Big Six Loop

Schedules for the Big Six conference (football) for the 1940 season had been drawn up today, following a meeting of the coaches from the area here on Saturday.

Twin Falls Bruins, defending champions, coached by Hank Powers, will play a nine game schedule this year, five of which will be in the conference. All the other schools will also play five conference games.

Outlets of Boise, all teams announced that they would be willing to play night games. However, Pocatello does not have night facilities and will play its home contests during the daylight.

At attendance at the meet here, besides Powers of Twin Falls, were Coaches Harold White, Nampa; Jimmy O'Brien, Pocatello; Darwin Burgher, Boise; Glen Owens, Caldwell; and Joe Call, Idaho Falls.

Twin Falls schedule follows: Sept. 20—Oakley at Twin Falls (night). Sept. 27—Twin Falls at Gooding (night). Oct. 4—Filer at Twin Falls (night). Oct. 11—Pocatello at Twin Falls (night). Oct. 18—Twin Falls at Nampa (night). Oct. 25—Caldwell at Twin Falls (night). Nov. 1—Twin Falls at Idaho Falls. Nov. 11—Twin Falls at Boise. Nov. 21—Burley-Twin Falls game contracted for, but site not decided.

Buhl Bowlers Win Over Conoco Club

An all-star Buhl bowling aggregation took four points today from Haight's Conoco team, on the Buhl alleys in a match on Sunday afternoon.

Oakley M-Men Capture Burley Meet

BURLEY, March 18 (Special)—Oakley M-Men will represent south Idaho in play-offs for the annual L. D. S. International tournament at Salt Lake City for the second consecutive year after defeating Haysburn in the finals of the tournament here Saturday night by a score of 34-27.

The count was tied at 10-all at the end of the quarter and 18-all at the half. But in the third frame the Oakley club took a 24-20 lead and they held it through the rest of the game.

As a result of the championship here, the Oakley team plays the winner of the La Grande, Ore., meet at Boise tonight.

In a consolation round, Jerome won honors with a 21-20 victory over Rupert.

Reid Olson and Janet Quinney Win Ski Titles

Glenns Ferry's Girl Cagers Annex Crown

BUHL, March 18 (Special)—The Glenns Ferry girls today had returned to their homes in Elmore county with their first south Idaho basketball crown in history safely tucked away for the year.

The Ferry maidens came through with a top-sided win, as they did in all their tournament games, against National Amateur Champion "Bud" Ward and Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ill., headed for the $4000 north-south open at Elmore, N. C., today, carrying the national amateur-professional title by virtue of a four and two win yesterday over Harold Mandy, Westerfield, Conn., and Henry Poe, Reading, Penn.

Willie Hoppe, the New York veteran, took undisputed lead in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament at Chicago with five victories and no losses.

Promoter Mike Jacobs is conferring with managers of lightweight Champion Lou Ambers and Challenger Lew Jenkins regarding a possible title match at Madison Square Garden, May 10 or 17.

The nation's three fastest middle-distance runners—Roy Cochran, Jimmy Herbert and Charles Belcher—will meet March 21 in a special 500-yard whirl for the Finnish relief fund at Madison Square Garden.

Eugene Wilson of the Auburn Ski club retained his title as California Class A ski champion with the jumps of 189 and 185 feet for a point total of 2101 at the Clisco course.

Abbie moved fast in the stretch to win the St. Patrick's day handicap of six furlongs at Agua Caliente track by three-fourths a length over Tartarus. The favorite, Congressman, ran third.

The Mormon church M-Men basketball tournament opens Wednesday night at Salt Lake City. Johnson, a Buhl freshman, stood out for Buhl with the same scoring. Peggy Sims, an Glenns Ferry guard, put on a outstanding performance in holding Irene Glodowski, high-scoring Buhl star, scoreless.

After the championship game, the trophies were presented to the new title holders and the runner-up by Supt. George M. Likens, tournament manager. Miss Sims, Perry captain, accepted for the winners, and Captain Alice Taylor took the runner-up trophy for Buhl.

LAKE KEECHIEUS, Wash., March 18 (AP)—The leading Buhl brothers topped the list of 15 of the country's top skiers at the close of the American four-way skiing tournament.

Al Engen of Sun Valley, Ida., won the national crown while his brother, Steve, of the Utah Ski club, took second place. Alf clinched the crown with his jumps yesterday after earlier winning the slalom, taking third place in the downhill and fourth in the cross country events.

All Engen's leap of 236 feet was sufficient to bring him the national crown, though in a special match later he jumped 233 feet only to see Turner Tule of New York soar out 238 feet. Engen was given the special jump award because his form was better than the easterner's.

In the four-day competition, Alf Engen was given 351.18 points. Steve had 378.18 points.

Congressmen Offer Fish to Constituents

WASHINGTON, March 18 (UP)—Congressmen seeking reelection were able today to offer their constituents fish—the real thing.

Shrewd mathematicians among them (the congressmen) figured there are 10,000,000 voters who are fish eating between now and next May. They have adopted the slogan "A fish in the frying pan is a vote in the ballot box."

The interior department's bureau of fisheries has hatched up a batch of 6,000,000 fish, about 12 per cent of which congressmen are going to give away. The bureau has been doing this for 35 years, and the demand is steadily increasing. The balance goes into the bureau's regular stocking and conservation programs.

The water from melted icebergs always is pure and fresh.

SERVICE THEME FOR LEGION UNIT

GOODING, March 18 (Special) — Perry Byam unit of the American Legion auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Edith Schreiber Tuesday with community service as the theme for the meeting, and several state and district officers as special guests.

Guests were Mrs. Georgia Forman, Pocahontas department president; Mrs. Orin Montgomery, Glens Ferry, department vice-president; Mrs. Ardeth Shilmin, Jerome, fourth district president; Mrs. Jessie Baker, Jerome, district secretary; Mrs. Edie Swanson, Pocahontas unit president, and Mrs. Mable Ganson of the Glens Ferry unit.

Program was arranged by Edna Fields, community service chairman. Sam Sullivan of the Idaho Power company gave a talk on safety in the home, listing the common causes and precautions to take to avoid accidents in the home. Mr. Sullivan made use of posters and charts in giving his talk.

A flag demonstration was given with Maxine St. John, reader, and Betty Ikard, Donna Louise Craig, Frank Nimmo and Byron Nelson, Jr., demonstrating the proper ways to display the flag, and how and when to salute when in uniform and in civilian clothes. Patsy Plack and Dorothy Hill played a clarinet duet.

Following the program business was transacted with Erma Plack presiding.

A report of the community service activities for the present year was read, which included the item that 1937 magazines and 47 books had been distributed by the committee with Bertha Johnson in charge of that phase of the work.

Auxiliary voted to sponsor a 4-H club group. It will be a beginning class in sewing and the auxiliary committee appointed as Edna Fields and Florence Craig and additional members to be appointed later.

Rehabilitation Chairman Elvyl Heller reported that one bed jacket had been made and sent to the Veterans' hospital in Boise. Mrs. Forman addressed the group commending the members on the activities carried out for this year. She told of the ceremonies that she had attended and of visits to the Veterans' hospital. Mrs. Forman stressed the fact that each year the auxiliary program is the same except that the national chairman may interpret the program in her own way.

Mrs. Montgomery reported on membership, saying that Idaho is ever its national quota, as is the fourth district and the meeting unit. There are 3,146 members in Idaho. Mrs. Shilmin spoke briefly on the importance of the program for the next few months.

A musical stunt was carried out under the direction of the music chairman, Bertha Robinson, and refreshments in keeping with St. Patrick's day were served by the hostess, assisted by Doris McConnell, Melvina Porter and Mabel Adamson.

Legion at Burley Honors Founding

BURLEY, March 18 (Special) — Post of the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary celebrated the 21st anniversary of the founding of that organization at a banquet Wednesday at the I. O. O. F. hall, with the post commanders in charge of arrangements.

During the dinner hour, the program was in charge of L. H. Harris and included two solos by Alvin Whiteley, solos by Helen Sprague, and numbers by a novelty orchestra. Serving tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers, and a decorated birthday cake, presented by the auxiliary, was the centerpiece.

At a business session following the dinner, the Legion made plans for carrying on the sports program at the county fair next fall.

Auxiliary also met for a business session, and Mrs. Jeanette Clumbert reported on the visit of the group to Haxton recently at which time Sam Vance, department chairman of American Legion, spoke on the work of the Legion for the past 21 years. Traveling flags were presented to the Burley auxiliary by the Haxton group. Mrs. Joe Swell, president, and Margaret Quinney attended with Mrs. Clumbert.

Remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge and pinocle, with prizes for bridge going to Dale Huxley and Mrs. Frank Weeks, and for pinocle to George Mitchell and Mrs. Kenneth Eggs.
