

MIGRATORY PERIL TOLD TO ROTARY

Two major perils to the west—both now in process of correction—had been outlined today for Rotarians of the south central area by executives of two federal organizations.

The problems are those of farm workers "on the move" and of proper watershed conservation.

Meeting at the new federal farm camp south of Twin Falls, 200 Rotarians and their guests last night heard the farm work hazard charted by Herbert M. Peet, assistant regional director at Portland for the USDA farm security administration.

Major Problem Mr. Peet's survey of the problem created in Idaho and other western states by the migratory farm workers found that situation a matter of major concern.

"Thousands of families in Idaho today," he asserted, "are being uprooted even in the barest necessities in the way of medical care, housing, sanitary facilities or the chance to improve their conditions. The federal program is designed to relieve this situation."

The relief, he said, comes through the FSA program of loans to impoverished farm families already established in Idaho and through the farm labor camp for those not yet established.

Explaining the set-up of the labor camp which the Rotarians themselves respected, Mr. Peet said: (1) Strictly migratory workers will occupy the one-room shelters, built in use of six to seven migratory families will pay 10 cents per day into the camp fund and will do work at the camp as additional fee.

Population of the camp, he estimated, will be 1,000. Self-government by a committee will be encouraged.

As Rotarians Scanned Farm Labor Camp

Some 200 Rotary members and guests from cities in this general area inspected the new federal farm labor camp south of Twin Falls last night, and heard full explanation of the theory behind the camp.

Touching on a problem which has worried Twin Falls school district trustees, the PTA officials offered an assertion which suggests the contents of the trustees. He claimed that "no serious tax problem" will result for the district as a result of the new school quarters.

IDAHO POTATOES TRACED TO 1884

BOISE, U.P.—It's just potatoes and gray on a million dinner tables and the world around, but the story of the Idaho russet's discovery and development is as romantic as that of a scientific invention.

It was back in 1884 when the first settlers entered the Pan handle of eastern Idaho that far-sighted farmers sought a product for the volcanic soil. The pioneer woman related here. The woman, who prefers to be known only by Mrs. "E. M. W." was the daughter of one of the first settlers.

Mrs. W. told of entering the Upper Snake river country while Indians still roamed the hills. "At that time," she said, "we were raising the Early Rose, Early Ohio and a few Goodrich potatoes which, although they produced well, would not keep."

Determined Search Made
Faced with an unmarketable product, he had no choice but to go to find something to make a good crop—one that would stay in a bin for a long time. In the course of a new family came to the community. They were Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Barnes and children.

Barnes brought a new potato which he called the English Russet. The brother heard about the new potato and went to see if he could buy a few for seed. Barnes shrugged his shoulders and said he didn't know if there was a peck in the whole pit that would grow.

Adequate Seed Found
Sooted through the whole pit, the family tried the new potato and a half. Barnes gave them the entire lot for their efforts. The next day they planted most of them in a 10-acre plot, after eating a few.

The potatoes seemed particularly suited to the volcanic ash soil and the eastern Idaho climate. Within two years, the family which had grubbed the seeds from an apparently worthless heap had enough to plant all their land and sell to neighbors.

It was from this meager beginning, Mrs. "E. M. W." said, that Idaho's Russet potato industry sprung.

Solons May Probe Organized Labor's Racketeering Aspects

WASHINGTON, March 21 (NPA)—There is quite likely to be a broad congressional investigation of racketeering in organized labor this spring.

No vote by either house of congress is necessary to bring such an investigation about. A committee exists with the power, the money and the time to do the job; and there is reason to believe it will presently be giving the matter serious thought.

This is the so-called Smith committee—the group of five congressmen headed by Howard Smith of Virginia, which has been investigating the record of the national labor relations board during the past few months.

Can Probe Anything
When the house of representatives set this committee up last July, it gave it extremely broad authority.

If directed it to investigate the labor board and the Wagner act and to recommend such changes in law or personnel as it deemed advisable, then in a separate paragraph, it instructed the committee to determine "whether or not further legislation is desirable in the subject of the relationship between employer and employee."

Under that authority, the committee can investigate practically anything (that centers about the activities of organized labor).

Can't Remedy It
The committee has brought in a set of amendments to the Wagner act and is in recess until these amendments have been considered. Chairman Smith says it will offer no further Wagner act legislation at this session.

But the committee itself does not go out of existence until the end of the year. Furthermore, toward the end of February it asked, and got, another $50,000 to continue its investigation. There are still some things Congressman Smith wants to learn about the Wagner act and the labor board—but there aren't $50,000 worth, by any means.

DAIRY PRODUCTS AT NEW RECORD

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Americans last year set an all-time record for consumption of dairy products.

Total consumption of all dairy products was the largest for any of the 40 years for which records have been kept, the agriculture department bureau of agricultural economics reports.

The consumption per person of butter, cheese, concentrated milk and ice cream—but not fluid milk and cream—was the highest for the 16 years for which the department has been keeping per-capita records.

Americans last year consumed 110,000,000 pounds of fluid milk or the equivalent in manufactured products using milk, such as butter, cheese and ice cream. That was 5 per cent higher than in 1939 and 17 per cent larger than the 1924-1929 average.

The per capita consumption in 1939 was 842 pounds. The average has continued to increase during the past 30 years.

The increase has been most rapid in manufactured dairy products—butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, ice cream, milk and dried milk. Last year it was 19 per cent above the 1924-1929 average.

On a milk-equivalent basis consumption of these manufactured products amounted to 497 pounds per capita, or more than half the total milk consumption. The 1924-1929 average consumption of manufactured milk products was 432 pounds.

Lost: $63,000— But Don't Worry, It Was in 1863

BOISE, March 21 (U.P.)—Don't look now—but $63,000 in $5, $10 and $20 bank notes is lost between Boise and Idaho City, 40 miles northeast of here.

It is extremely doubtful, however, that anyone will take time out to look for the small fortune—it was believed to have been lost March 22, 1863. State historians found mention of the notes in old copies of the Boise News; $10,000 was offered as a reward to the finder, the advertisement said.

The paper carried no account of the circumstances under which the money disappeared, but it was believed it dropped from a stage coach on the way to Idaho City.

After their business the Rebekahs joined the following program was presented: Different groups singing a version of "Hail, Hail, The Gang's All Here"; reading, Iris Schofield, Hazelton; song by a trio from Jerome, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Maude Noble and Mrs. Charles Callen; reading, Mrs. Oscar Porter; piano solo, Mrs. Bertha Belmont; Hazelton.

Numbers were matched for partners and Jerome and Hazelton group served refreshments.

CHICKEN IN POT ENDS HOME ROW

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—Camille Kelly, one of the nation's few women juvenile court judges, believes a chicken-in-the-pot once in awhile helps domestic tranquility.

When a Negro woman who had been married for 30 years appeared before her to make a claim of non-support against her husband, Judge Kelly went to the heart of the trouble and found it was a case of domestic adjustment, not non-support.

The woman admitted that her husband provided well for her. She described him as a hard-working man who owned their home, kept plenty of good food in the house and provided plenty of money and clothes.

But, the plaintiff declared, he refused to buy food for her 20 chickens.

The husband presented his case: "I wouldn't mind buying food if she'd just let me eat one of those chickens in the pot once in awhile," he said. "But as it is, they're just idle boarders."

The wife countered: "But judge, I don't want to eat."

...I know him too well. I like the old man. But I love those chickens. She went on to explain that her chickens were "good company."

Being a Southerner, Judge Kelly could understand how the husband would like a golden brown drumstick occasionally and how he resented paying $3 or $4 a month for chickens whose heads he could not bring. She also could understand how the wife would not want to see her pets slain and fried.

She compromised. "Why not," she asked, "let your husband have a chicken in the pot now and then until you have 20 chickens left? Then, keeping your best number at 20, raise some more to be eaten, or sell eggs to help your husband pay for the feed."

Husband and wife departed happily.

TWO OF GIANT BRITISH LINERS LEAVE AMERICAN PORT

QUEEN MARY AND MAURETANIA SET FOR NEW CAREER

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—The $100,000 British liner Queen Mary, second largest ship in the world, sailed from New York harbor today in the wake of her smaller sister ship, the $50,000-ton Mauretania, presumably embarked on a new career as an allied troop transport.

The armed Mauretania, which the Germans have promised to sink on sight as an auxiliary naval vessel, was the first to slip away. She was eased into the Hudson river and headed south toward the narrows and the danger-fraught Atlantic during a thunderstorm last night.

It was reported both ships, their last-minute sailing preparations and instructions shrouded in secrecy, had been assigned to transport troops between Australia and the near east, where Great Britain and France are massing a great army already estimated at 1,000,000 men.

The Queen Mary cast loose the line which had tied her to the Cunard White Star line's pier since Sept. 4 this morning. For 12 hours before she sailed, the pier had been a scene of intense activity. Shortly before midnight Commodore R. B. Irving, commander of the Queen Mary, followed his officers aboard. A man who accompanied him to the gang plank shook his hand, kissed the commodore on the cheeks and shouted "Good luck!"

The huge liner, it was believed, was unarmed when she left the harbor. British circles said American laws prohibited placement of guns while she was in port. There was speculation, however, that she might have anti-aircraft and anti-submarine guns somewhere at sea from another vessel.

Famous Pilot Drops in for Resort Jaunt

Awaiting return of his pilot—national famed Frank Fuller, speed aviator—a big dual-motored amphibian plane was housed at the Twin Falls airport today.

Fuller set the impressive ship down at the airport late yesterday afternoon, climbed out with Mrs. Fuller and a party of friends, and went to Sun Valley by bus. The air speedster and his group will leave Monday morning for San Francisco, from which city they flew yesterday.

The big amphibian has a wing spread of 40 feet, according to Toby Craig, Twin Falls airport mechanic and caretaker.

Fuller did his own flying although he brought a mechanic with him.

The stunt plane once owned by Bud McCaffery, pilot who performed with the Tex Rabin troupe at the Burley air show and who was killed a few days later in performing a stunt at a racetrack, was left at the Twin Falls airport this morning for Portland. It was flown by Dick Hankin, brother of Tex and the new owner of the ship.

FOUR KILLED BY NAZI PLANE RAID

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—German airplanes raided British coastal shipping today and were reported to have killed four persons in an attack on a British steamer.

Six others were injured in the aerial attack, according to dispatches from coastal points, which indicated the Nazi planes were active in the English channel.

Persons on the channel coast reported explosions off shore in connection with the raids, which followed intensification of aerial attacks by both Britain and Germany in the last few days. Three neutral ships had been sunk and two damaged yesterday in the North sea.

One ship was attacked and was damaged in a plane attack on a British convoy off the Scottish coast, in a possible reprisal for the British royal air force attack on Blyt. Two others were sunk either by mines or torpedoes.

It was announced today that seven survivors of the Danish steamship Bothal, 2,100 tons, and Viking, 1,153 tons, had been landed at a northern British port, and it was reported 30 members of the crews had perished. The ships were sunk off the Scottish east coast.

The Norwegian steamship Sletta, 1,267 tons, was sunk in the convoy attack and the Swedish steamship Ouluppan, 1,550 tons, and the Norwegian steamship Torso Eske, 71 tons, were damaged.

Other members of the class are Norval Goehke, Calvin Hahn, Deloris Hahn, Junitta Jagers, Hugo Meyer, Paula Meyer, Frances Oppiger, Betty Persigeli, Vivian Reinke and Phyllis Ulrich.

Last Sunday was the 25th of the regular classes of children to be confirmed at Trinity Lutheran church at Clover.

SUGAR GROWERS BACK REJECTION

SALT LAKE CITY, March 21 (AP)—Enforcement by two groups of the stand taken by the Utah Beet Growers' association in rejecting contracts for the 1940 season offered by processors was reported today by J. R. Rawlin, president of the Growers' Cooperative association.

The endorsements came from directors of the Utah Central Sugar Beet Growers' association, meeting last night in Pleasant Grove, and the South Box Elder Beet Growers' association.

The growers insist that next steps in the deadlock are up to the processors. Neither side has moved to reopen negotiations since meetings here last week adjourned without agreement.

WARNING
 ALDERSHOT, March 21 (AP)—Canadian troops, many of them anticipating Easter leave, were warned today to watch out for "affectionate" women in London.

"Don't fall for the affectionate sort of women—otherwise you may lose more than your pocket book," cautioned the "Guide to London" distributed among the troops today by the Canadian Y. M. C. A.

An Englishwoman, Mrs. Sage, was the first woman to ascend in an air craft. She accompanied Vincent Lunardi in a balloon on June 29, 1785.

HULL-FARLEY DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE TICKET SEEN

TWO OF CABINET MEMBERS DOOM AS STRONG PAIR

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, March 21 (UP)—James A. Farley's Massachusetts candidacy appeared today to be a move toward a Hull-Farley Democratic ticket for 1940 if the vice-presidency is to go to the postmaster general.

Farley is a presidential candidate in his own right but with a better chance for second place than for first. Political events are so shaping here that Secretary of State Cordell Hull generally is rated No. 1 candidate for the top place on the ticket—assuming President Roosevelt does not run again and that he is unable to name a 100 per cent New Dealer as his successor.

Denies Anti-Third Term Plans
"My name will be presented to the caucus at Chicago and that's that," Farley told newspapermen. He denied he was acting in concert with the Garner anti-third term movement or any other political group in the matter.

Farley is known to be against a third term under any conditions which now seem likely to him. But the axis of his political activity for the last eight months or so has been a somewhat steadily diminishing confidence that Mr. Roosevelt would not be a third term candidate. He and many other practical politicians feel the President's reelection for 1940 ticket is essential and, therefore, they do not want to offend him in the pre-convention period.

Fixing a third term movement in the open unless they are reasonably certain they can run again.

Farley's hat is in the ring now without an open break between the party chairman and the President.

It is the President's silence and Farley's understanding he will not run that has prevented a break between them before.

Garner and a few—a very few—Democrats in public life have committed themselves against a third term. Some highly placed Republicans publicly assert their eagerness to oppose Mr. Roosevelt had the opportunity meet this year. But there is considerable weight in the dark courage in that. And the private expressed opinion of some other Republicans here is that Mr. Roosevelt would be the hardest Democrat to beat.

CAREY

Mrs. Thomas Stranger, Blackfoot, who was formerly Mrs. Mary Eddle, and Mr. and Mrs. Brigham Farnsworth, who of Blackfoot, were visitors here Sunday.

William Briggs broke two ribs last week when he slipped and fell while working on the William Laidlaw ranch.

Mrs. John Wright, Hamilton, Mont., spent last week in Carey visiting her husband and relatives.

Mrs. Elmer Bennett, who had been in the L. D. S. hospital in Salt Lake City for the two months, arrived home Sunday. After 40 days she will return to the hospital for treatment.

Orvis Dilworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dilworth, left Saturday for Salt Lake City. In a few weeks he will go on to Denver, Colo., where he will have his headquarters in the western states mission field for the L. D. S. church.

Friday evening a large party was given for Orvis Dilworth at the church house, and Thursday his father, Leora, gave a farewell shower for him at their home in Carey.

Mrs. Ariel Farnsworth received many gifts at the shower given for her at the L. J. Howard home, with Mrs. Howard as hostess. Mrs. Ella Patterson and Mrs. J. Alken won prizes at Chinese checkers.

Miss Helen Baird, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird, entertained 21 of her friends and classmates at a party on her 11th birthday Monday.

Mrs. Carl Mauer and son, Norman, spent the week-end in Emmet with Mr. Mauer, who is employed there. Mrs. Edna Olson went with them as far as Boise, where she stopped off and visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Condie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harris moved from the Patterson apartments to the Little Wood river dam project Friday. Mr. Harris is the first aid man on the project.

A lamb on the LaVour Coates ranch near Carey was born with legs. A ewe on the James Turbill ranch has quadruplets and two other ewes each has three lambs.

Dinner guests at the Parrot McCloughlin home near Ticeira last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cameron and two daughters, Clara and Patricia, Italy, and the son-in-law and two daughters of the McCloughlins, Mr. and Mrs. John Harland and Miss Vera McCloughlin, all of Idaho Falls.

The Bookery, erected in Chicago in 1887, was the first large steel-framed building to be constructed in the United States.

Plans Studied for Idaho Government's Re-Shaping

By LLOYD TUPLING
BOISE, March 21 (UP)—Assistants in the office of the attorney general are combing Idaho laws to determine how state government will be re-shaped as a result of the supreme court's far-reaching decision, outlasting the 1939 compiler act. The decision has brought up the question of what departments and bureaus created by the legislature are now infringing on the rights and duties of constitutional officers.

The court contended the legislature can not revise or transfer those rights and duties.

Since Idaho's constitution was adopted in 1890, legislatures have allocated certain duties of constitutional officers to newly-created departments. Quite a job remains to be done in returning state government to a "constitutional" form. Through study of common law, laws of the territorial government in 1887, of the constitution, and of characteristic duties of elective office workers in the attorney general's office expect to determine precisely what changes will have to be made.

The procedure of establishing the "constitutional" form will involve considerable research, litigation in the supreme court, legislative action and possibly a constitutional convention. It is expected to be a slow process.

However, the first steps will have

STAMP

BOISE, Idaho, March 21 (UP)—Philatelists today were studying a foreign stamp from the French colony of Senegal which was found in the first desk owned by the late Sen. William E. Borah, when he started law practice here in 1890.

The stamp was found in a crack of one of the drawers when the desk was being moved to an honored spot in the state-house museum. Collectors studied the stamp to determine its value.

STAMP

BOISE, Idaho, March 21 (UP)—The state board of examiners today postponed action on a $3,580 claim from Lath county commissioners pending "thorough investigation."

The claim, listed as part of the state's share of a WPA road surfacing job, was held up on recommendation of Gov. C. A. Bottelstein.

Lawyers found after a cursory examination that all fiscal affairs of the state, including tax collection, will probably be placed under the state auditor. The constitution vests in the secretary of state certain police powers. This, they point out, may change the department of law enforcement as now set up.

The extent of the revision is not known, but almost every department under the direction of a legislative-created commissioner will be scrutinized.

SPORTS INCOME HEAVY IN IDAHO

BOISE, March 21 (UP)—Hunting and fishing is rapidly becoming a major source of income in Idaho. Owen W. Morris, director of the fish and game department, said today. In commencing on the Idaho Wildlife week, March 17 to 23, Morris pointed out that the bird, animal and fish resources of Idaho have brought immeasurable returns to her citizens.

"During 1939," Morris stated, "$22,000 was realized from the sale of resident hunting and fishing licenses while approximately $2,300,000 was spent by residents in the pursuit of hunting and fishing within the state. Tourists, casual visitors and out of state sportsmen spent more than $20,000,000 for travel, food, equipment, guides and lodgings."

"During the past year the fish and game commission has become established and has taken the first and most difficult steps toward an intelligent conservation program.

"For the forthcoming year the commission plans to conduct a salmon stream survey, a bighorn sheep survey, a general wildlife survey, create a number of preserves and sanctuaries, stock more game, birds and fish and to improve law enforcement," he stated.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

MIAMI, Fla.—With no intention of depriving Seabiscuit of any of the credit due him, Buddy Egan is telling intimates he easily could have beaten the crippled colt with his sublimely Kayak II, in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap.

Haas flew from Miami to ride Kayak II, and from that the jockey says, "I think I beat the best insurance in the event Seabiscuit's knees had not held up. As it turned out, the biscuit, with the aid of a length in equalling the track record for the mile and a quarter—2:01 1-3.

Haas was as pleased as everybody else to see the immortal Seabiscuit break Sun Beater's record.

All the money-winning mark—boost it to $475,000.

We simply pass what he says along for you to remember in figuring Kayak II in future handicaps.

Attempt 71-Mile Swim

Marathon swimmer expected to be among the mucky post, but here comes Paul Chouteau vowing he's going to paddle from Bimini to Palm Beach, sharks and all, in a couple of weeks.

The distance is 71 miles as the homing pigeon flies, but birds do not have to allow for tides and currents.

Chouteau, 230-pound Frenchman, swam 60 miles in 44 hours off Cuba, Barbara, and 44 miles from Catalina island to Santa Monica in 23 hours and 54 minutes. The war in Europe is a record.

The Pilots will return from training camp in Pendleton, Ore., April 24 after a month of practice.

STRIKES to SPARE

With Fred Stone

For seven nights in a row the winning team has been the points in a row from the opposition in the City Bowling Tour.

Mon., March 11—Iron Firemen won four from Orange Transportation.

Tues., March 12—Twin Falls beat Iron Firemen in a row from Twin Falls Flour Mill.

Wed., March 13—Perrine hotel took four from Firestone.

Thurs., March 14—The Elms Conoco nipped Wilson's four four.

Mon., March 15—Wilson's took four in a row from Twin Falls Flour Mill.

Tues., March 16—Hall's Conoco downed Twin Falls Lumber for four points.

Wed., March 17—Iron Firemen tripped Iron Firemen four in a row.

That last game last night was won by the handicap and it was only two-thirds of one pin—as that was the amount of handicap.

Art Flammox was high, max with 546. Art easily topped both teams, but top single for Firestone went to Ray Kings with 194.

Ray Kings was the best Iron Fireman with a 520 count—the only 500 total for the Firemen. His best ball was 172.

George DeWetter's steam-shoulder tactics may be o. k. for eating pin, but they're the nuts for bowling.

Moderate Weather Reduces Snow in Ketchum Area

KETCHUM, March 21 (Special)—Moderate weather of the last few days, with a warm sun during most of each day, has materially reduced the snow area, and will aid either the recovery of the earlier part of the month or a rapidly disappearing.

Nights as a rule have continued fairly cold, and the mercury has lately crowded over during the past week. Ski weather has not been in evidence, though the outdoor people still derive a great deal of fun in playing around the neighboring ridges. The big hotels at Sun Valley are well filled and a goodly number of celebrities is noted.

Many of them seemingly circulating with the natives every evening and are visiting the institutions and fraternities with the crowd at large, taking part in many local and generally making over the section of the out west. Old Bob having turned on the heat at intervals, will soon have the highways to the hills and an early influx of visitors and steady summer home residents is anticipated. This season.

Stream Stocking Meets Approval in Blaine County

KETCHUM, March 21 (Special)—It has been stated that a considerable quantity of young trout from the Hay Spur fish hatchery will be distributed in the various streams of this district during the early part of the season, and sportsmen generally are glad to hear it. Few fish have been planted in Blaine County during the past three or four years and the streams are badly in need of restocking. In the summer months the drain on the favorite rivers and creeks has been heavy, and while good streams may be taken in the open season they have become more the exception than the rule.

When the creek, out of the favorite small streams, has not been stocked to any extent for a long period and there is need for it at this time, it is a stream favored with ideal conditions for the growing of native varieties.

It is expected that May 1 for the open season has created little interest in Blaine County, as it is not figured that the fishing will prove exceptional, and it is anticipated that the season will be a good one.

UNITY

The Astorian priesthood members have recently visited the institutions and fraternities with the crowd at large, taking part in many local and generally making over the section of the out west. Old Bob having turned on the heat at intervals, will soon have the highways to the hills and an early influx of visitors and steady summer home residents is anticipated. This season.

Athletic Plant at Kimberly Gets New WPA Project

KIMBERLY, March 21 (Special)—Completion of work on the local WPA project that includes the tennis court, the athletic field at the high school, is expected to get under way in the near future.

On the new project, contract will call for the erection of a sidewalk in front of the tennis court from the high school, and fitting the athletic field by completing the construction of the track with curbing, gravel and cinders and the construction of a wood grandstand.

Before work can start official WPA acceptance must be made of the plans drafted by Andrew McQuaker, architect.
