ICKES LEAVES TEXAS WITHOUT BACKING FDR THIRD TERM

MAVERICK ASKS THAT DELEGATES BE UNINSTRUCTED

DALLAS, Tex., March 28 (AP)—Texas third term advocates were suddenly vitalized today following Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes' short, non-political visit to the state whose delegation to the Democratic national convention Vice-President John N. Garner had considered unacceptably his. Ickes had had no word for the third term supporters and the ignored politics but said in speech at Kilgore in celebration of the 10th anniversary of the east Texas oil field shortly after the address he left for Chicago. Although none has seen Ickes, third term advocates were swinging into action. Mayor Henry Maverick of San Antonio, former New Deal congressman, told the University of Texas Youth Democrats club that Ickes' visit was a "big thing" because the Democratic presidential nominee unless Mr. Roosevelt wished it, he repeats that Ickes' visit was free after casting a unreserved vote for Garner, to vote for anyone else. FORECASTS VARY ON CAMP FUTURE

Conflicting views from two Idaho legislators at Washington, concerning chances of retaining Rock creek CCC camp near Hansen, brought about completion today to a concerted effort against abandonment. Sen. John Thomas advised the Chamber of Commerce that there is no hope. Cong. Henry C. Dawsnak, however, told the chamber that the discontinuance is apparently temporary, with reopening probably scheduled in October. Seek Added Year The senior chamber, with support of lawyers, other Twin Falls civic groups and the Filer Kiwanis club, entered strong protest against the proposed discontinuance. The protest urged retention of the camp for one year at least to permit completion of road work into the proposed recreation area. Senator Thomas' letter today said he had discussed the matter with department officials but they can hold out no hope for it is a part of a general plan made necessary by the drastic cuts in the budget for this purpose. House Boosts Funds That gloomy view, however, was lightened by Gov. Dworshak's communication and by the fact that the house yesterday approved added funds for CCC. Dworshak wrote: "The camp may be discontinued June 30, it will be simply a temporary discontinuance and the camp will in all probability be reopened some time in October." Dworshak said he had gotten his information from departmental officials involved.

NOTED BARITONE WILL SING HERE

With Raymond Koch, nationally-famed baritone, as the central attraction, the Twin Falls Town Hall chorus will provide a unique musical feature for its closing program April 4 at the Twin Falls high school auditorium, President J. A. Ceder, quiet said today.

Mr. Koch will appear with Helen Bickerton, soprano, in a varied vocal program including solos by both singers and duet numbers. Violet Martens, traveling accompanist for the noted pair, will form the third member of the troupe.

The program will open at 8 p.m. next Thursday, April 4, at the high school auditorium.

As the most famous of the visitors, Raymond Koch will be the focal point for Twin Falls music lovers. Koch, who has successes in opera, oratorio and on the concert platform have been highly notable. He is American born and American trained, the latter at the hands of the most eminent vocal pedagogues.

Several Twin Falls residents who have heard him in other cities say that his rich, powerful, resonant voice is an attraction such as south central Idaho has seldom heard.

With Big Symphonies

In addition to innumerable recitals in the large musical centers and principal smaller cities of the country, Raymond Koch scored triumphs as soloist with the major symphony orchestras of the New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, St. Louis, etc. It was while soloist on tour with the St. Louis symphony that Raymond Koch, the famous pianist, said of Mr. Koch: "He has one of the most beautiful of voices" and predicted great things for him. All of which has been borne out by the baritone's brilliant achievements.

He is a recital singer of par excellence, for his exceptional range and flexibility make it possible for him to achieve crashing fortissimo effects, beautiful legato mezzo forte passages, and to maintain a tone of warmth and precision in pianissimo phrases.

He Explains

His recital programs are planned for the enjoyment of his audiences, and his explanatory remarks before each of his songs prove most enlightening.

He is a master of oratorio, that most difficult style of singing, which requires dramatic interpretation without the assistance of costume or scenery, but solely by color and facial expression. Mr. Koch has sung over 100 performances of the "Messiah" and "Elijah," and is famous as an interpreter of the latter.

Miss Bickerton, the soprano whose voice provides the real quality which the richness of Mr. Koch's baritone is fully exemplified, is the daughter of Rudolph Ganz, the famous singer. Her experience has been wide and her own successes have also been notable.

Singer Comes Here

Raymond Koch, noted American baritone, who has scored as soloist in opera and with America's largest symphony orchestras, will bring the Twin Falls Town Hall chorus Thursday, April 4. With him will be Helen Bickerton, soprano.

FOUR SIGN UP IN MUSIC AUDITIONS

Four youths from the Twin Falls section will go to Boise on Wednesday, April 10, to receive auditions for possible places in the Leopold Stokowski All-American Youth orchestra which is being selected over the nation. It was announced here this afternoon by W. Polson, field representative for the N.Y.A.

Idaho youths trying out for places in the orchestra, it was stated, need not be N.Y.A. youth but can come from any group.

Those registering through the Twin Falls office to take the Boise audition are Jim R. Shaddock, Earl; Dorothy Kay Brown, Bill; Bill Fennert, Twin Falls, and Besse Goodman, Murtaugh.

Polson said that others will attend from outside of Twin Falls county but their names are not all known at the present time.

Auditions in Boise will be in charge of Kenneth Hartzler, director of the vocal music department at the Boise high school. He will be assisted by Franklin Holingsworth, instrumental director at the Boise high school and Katherine Eckhardt Mitchell, music instructor at the Boise Junior college.

Youths from the counties of Twin Falls, Jerome, Gem, Canyon, Elmore, Camas, Ada and Washington will take part in Boise.

Must Be Unusual Now Polson said this afternoon that all persons having applications on file have been notified as to the date of the audition. It will not be possible to accept further applications at this time unless the applicant's qualifications indicate unusual ability. It is necessary for all applicants to furnish their own instruments.

Applications for all numbers except the eight reading material which will be furnished at the audition.

Those chosen to join the all-young orchestra will, among other things, make a South American tour this summer.

Most of the main update highways were cleared but rural districts still were snowed under.

'WAR' MINERALS IN IDAHO FIELDS

BOISE, March 28 (UP)—Mineral fields in the state of Idaho contain marketable quantities—largely undeveloped—of all but one of the essential war metals and minerals which, according to the United States bureau of mines, are deficient in most parts of this country.

The bureau said a recent mineral survey conducted by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers found a shortage of tin, nickel, manganese, chromium, tungsten, mercury, antimony and such minerals as mica and quartz. Chromium is the only mineral not yet discovered in Idaho fields.

Because of the American shortage of some strategic minerals, the nation must turn to the far east for its tin, to Canada for nickel; to Russia, Cuba and Brazil for manganese; to China for cobalt; to its manganese, to Spain and Italy for mercury, to Brazil for quartz.

The bureau disclosed.

National Honors and Ranks Awarded Girls

About 90 national honor awards were made and approximately 50 Camp Fire girls received ranks at the grand council fire held last evening in the Presbyterian church basement, attended by 250 girls from Twin Falls and neighboring towns. Birthday theme of skillful living was emphasized in the program, highlighted by a candle-lighting ceremony and talks by four outside speakers.

Stage setting consisted of an artificial camp fire, about which were arranged a crescent moon. On the stage were placed whole candles and those lighted for skillful living in front of a drop decorated with flowers and streamers. The corners of the stage were the American flag and Camp Fire banners.

Views in Verse

POETS ARE VERY UNCOMMON CREATURES. Though editors search for stories and features it is futile to argue, to plead, or to coax. They are bound to write verse.

And poets will do most impractical things: They will pluck from the air an idea that sings— Though it promises never a coin in the purse. And their state of finances could not be much worse. They'll put that in a verse.

They haven't an atom of provident pride— Rather starve in a garret, with shutters flung wide. Composing a sonnet to sunshine or stars. Than to feast in a cellar, where windows have bars; It is blessing, or curse.

This urge to write verse? —GERTRUDE PERRY STANTON (Boise, IDA.)

(In lighter vein is today's contribution to "Views in Verse," written by Mrs. Gertrude Perry Stanton, 1804 Franklin street, Boise. Although Mrs. Stanton writes stories and articles, she admits that her favorite form of writing is verse. Mrs. Stanton is a member of the Boise chapter, Idaho Writers' League.)

Youth Not Reckless, Local Survey Shows

Refuting the opinion that modern youth is wild, reckless and careless, Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls of the Twin Falls high school, presented a picture of the modern high school girl, based on a recent survey, to indicate that she is serious-minded, high-minded, and has definite objectives in life, at a meeting of the M. S. and S. club yesterday afternoon.

Similar conclusions can be drawn of the average high school boy, she said. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Berkeley Griggs, with Mrs. H. A. Pierce presiding. Mrs. Dillard Regan, program chairman, presented Mrs. North.

School "Nationalized" Modern boy and girl are not exactly like the boys and girls of 25 years ago, because of social and home changes, Mrs. North admitted. "I recall when 99 per cent of the student body of the local schools 25 years ago was born in Twin Falls."

"This survey showed that 206 of the 400 girls students were born some place in Idaho; the other 50 per cent coming from all over the United States. Practically every state in the union is represented. The Twin Falls high school is no longer a local institution; it now presents a more national picture."

Local high school girls evidenced an especially "wholesome attitude toward leisure time, 138 out of the 400 members of the girls' league stating that outdoor sports were their preferred leisure interest. In contrast, only 10 girls named dancing at their favorite leisure diversion.

Wholesome interests Next in preference was reading, followed by music in some form. Mrs. North displayed charts to show the special interests of the girls, and also their vocational aims in life. Too many girls are aiming at secular careers, a field that is already over-crowded, she pointed out. Other professions and vocations finding favor among the local students are teaching, nursing and beauty operator work.

Only 50 per cent of the local high school girls have home duties, and this, she said, she observed "adding that outdoor or home obligations and responsibilities, in line with the girl's ability and time to devote to them, are advisable."

Miss Irene Jacklin played accordion selections. Mrs. List was a guest of the club. The hostesses, Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. Harry Brandon and Mrs. M. Anlauf, served refreshments, tray style.

FORMER MEMBERS SEND LETTERS TO CLUB

Mrs. E. F. Hatch, Rock Springs, Wyo., and Mrs. Albert Metford, Brice, former members of the Sunshine Circle club, sent letters to the group, which met at yesterday afternoon's meeting at the home of Mrs. E. P. Laubenthal.

Roll call responses were Irish jokes. Mrs. Frank Krueger announced that the auxiliary club ordered for the Twin Falls public library grounds, had arrived. Mrs. William Armon furnished the white elegant, which was won by Mrs. Leona Osborne.

Members contributed readings and songs to the club program. Mrs. W. W. Schwabhardt, Mrs. Armon and Mrs. Verma Haguen won the tongue twister contest. Refreshments were served.

ALLIED BID PREDICTED TO GET ITALIAN FRIENDSHIP

FRENCH PREMIER SEES NECESSITY OF wooing ITALY

By FREDERICK AUB
LONDON, March 28 (AP)—French embassies here believed today that when the supreme allied war council meets soon French Premier Paul Reynaud will advise a new strong allied bid for Italian friendship.

Allied relations with Russia, prelates to adopt a more "realistic" policy regarding the neutral Scandinavian waters by German ships and the possibility of intensifying the European war also were expected to figure prominently on the council's agenda.

French and British officials maintained their customary silence regarding the war council's agenda, but foreign diplomats believed that future relations with Italy, the Balkans and Russia would be important.

Reynaud's action in receiving Raffaello Guariglia, Italian ambassador to Paris, immediately after assuming the premiership and in summoning Andre Francosis, French ambassador to Rome, to Paris, were regarded as indications of Reynaud's desire to win Italian friendship.

It was believed Reynaud desired to resume negotiations of last October which were reported to have gone far to meet Italian demands for territorial and economic rights in Djibouti, Suva, Tunis and the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad. Since October, it was understood, Premier Benito Mussolini, who was not satisfied with French offers of increased Italian influence in Tunis, has increased his demands.

Also of Interest
The impression prevailed here that Britain was inclined to maintain a cautious aloof attitude toward Italy while awaiting a more propitious moment for attempting to draw Italy from Germany.

It was understood the war council also would be interested in the strategic, economic and political implications of the new Italian attitude and the possible future of events in Scandinavia.

Easter Cantata Given at Rupert

RUPERT, March 28 (Special)—A full vocal and instrumental service to a fitting close Sunday evening with a sacred cantata, "Our Risen Lord and King," by Dr. James Harris presented at the local Methodist church by the combined choirs of the Trinity Episcopal, the Methodist and Christian churches under the direction of Mrs. Floyd Britt with Mrs. W. D. Boydston at the organ.

A special reading, "Judas Iscariot," with organ accompaniment, was given by Mrs. Wesley O. Shurtliff.

Sunrise Services
Another outstanding feature of the service was the sunrise service held at the Wilton theater at 6:30 a. m., which was attended by over 200 worshippers.

The program, arranged by the young people's organizations of the various churches, was as follows:
Orchestra prelude by the Bible school orchestra of the Christian church, directed by Mrs. Floyd Britt; group singing, with Mrs. Britt at the piano; prayer, C. Johnson; vocal selection, mixed quartet from the Pentecostal church; responsive Scripture reading by Rev. E. Leslie Rolfs of Episcopal church; vocal selections, Baptist church and Union youth choir; vocal solo, Mrs. L. W. Dupain, accompanied by Mrs. Britt; sermon, "The Awakening," Rev. Albert H. Farrell, pastor of the Methodist church; a living picture, "Angel and Women at the Tomb," Paul Kohler, Helen Peterman and Mary Mears, with Scripture reading by Rev. Eugene Blump, pastor of the Christian church; congregational singing; and benediction, Rev. J. A. Johnson, pastor of the Pentecostal church.

Following this union service those of the Christian church attending were guests of the Young Matrons' Missionary society of the Christian church at breakfast in the annex with 50 persons were served by Mrs. Pat Pickett, Mrs. Wayne Taylor, Mrs. Gordon Golf, Mrs. Glenn Nutting and Mrs. Clyde Lovine.

Idaho, Utah Professors Work On Emotional Stability Tests

By FRANK SPENCER
United Press Correspondent
POCAHELLO, March 28 (AP)—How's your emotional stability today?

If you want to find out, the test being designed by two prominent intermountain psychologists can probably be given now in the throes of experimentation among colleges and universities throughout the United States. The test is expected to be placed in use within a year.

Collaborators on the work are Dr. V. E. Fisher of Ball Lake City, practical psychologist and author of several textbooks, and Dr. Robert I. Watson of Pocatello, assistant professor of psychology of Idaho Southern university, who has also published several papers.

The test, which was first reported in the journal of the American Psychological association, held at Leland Stanford university, is based on original opinions of the collaborating authors.

"The exam we have developed, which is a measurement of mental equilibrium that we call E. S. Q. (emotional stability quotient)," said Dr. Watson, "compares to the I. Q. or intelligent quotient, meaning that another psychological test along similar lines."

"In other words, the E. S. Q. measures in the field of emotion the intelligence." They have spent a full year working out the various details to the work, aided masterfully by an N. Y. A. grant.

"The purpose of the test," Dr. Watson asserted, "is to differentiate the normal person from neurotic—that is, to find the person suffering from minor mental disorders that are not severe enough to confine him to an institution. Such disorders often make for a feeling of inferiority, abnormal fears and frequent day-dreaming."

"This test would permit the discovery of such persons of which there is only a small minority, and the consequent curing of them before the disorders became too advanced," he concluded.

SOLON FEARS FOR SUGAR INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., charged in the senate today that a supplemental trade agreement between the U. S. and Cuba threatening to destroy the American sugar industry.

O'Mahoney also asserted the Cuban pact violated a section of the law prohibiting the president to change statutory tariffs by more than 50 per cent.

BURLEY PREPARES FOR OLDER BOYS

BURLEY, March 28 (Special)—Students of the Burley high school are preparing to host this next week-end to 100 boys who will be here to attend the annual Older Boys' conference.

The theme for this year will be "I Am an American," with Homer Hasting, St. Louis, Mo., as the principal speaker. The conference will begin Friday night with Judge Hugh A. Baker, Rupert, speaking on "What I Should Do as an American Citizen."

At the Saturday morning session, A. L. Merrill, Pocatello, will speak on "What I Should Do as an American Father," and Dr. Hugh E. Dean, Burley, will speak on "What I Should Do to Be a Healthy American."

Rev. Lewis Harro, pastor of the Burley Presbyterian church, will lead the devotions. Banquets will be held both Friday and Saturday evenings. M. W. McLaughlin, Burley high school principal, has charge of housing the boys and is asking the townspeople to open their homes for bed and breakfasts for the boys.

Air Students At WSC, Idaho On Same Field

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP)—The Moscow-Pullman civil aeronautics authority airport, being used for student pilot training, is the only airport of its kind in the nation from which students of two state universities receive instruction at the same time.

The field serves both the University of Idaho and Washington state college. Another unique feature of the port is that it is devoted almost entirely to student traffic. Few commercial planes use it, making it accessible to student flying at all times.

Only a 15 or 20 minute drive from either Moscow, Ida., or Pullman, Wash., is necessary to reach the field. Of the 70 students taking flight instruction at the field, 50 are from the University of Idaho and 40 from W. S. C.

Because of its unusual location, almost exactly halfway between both schools, the field is expected to be chosen for advanced flying classes next year.

IDAHO AIDS FINNS

Farm Electric Rates are Low Because We Serve the Whole Market

The prosperity and progress of Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon are dependent almost entirely upon the welfare of the farming communities. Anything which helps the farmer helps the entire territory. Because our interconnected system serves the WHOLE market, the farmers of this territory are able to have the same benefits of electric service—and at the same low rates—as the people who live in town. GOOD electric service must do a COMPLETE job, must provide the same high standard of service, the same low rates, for the entire territory.

LOUIS TO FAVORITE TO LICK PAYCHEK

Sell-Out Looms As Fans Take To Title Battle

NEW YORK, March 28 (UP)—Now that Joe Louis and Challenger Johnny Paychek have completed training without injuries, the "official" betting odds were established today at 10 to 1 Louis would defend his title successfully tomorrow night.

Eddie Borden, the price-maker, announced it was an even-money bet Paychek would not last three rounds. It was a 6-to-1 wager he wouldn't go the distance. Also 2 to 1 he wouldn't go five and 4 to 1 he wouldn't go 10 bouts.

Borden said, "There's hardly any money to be made on this fight." Although the odds are 10 to 1, and betting is scarce, the perplexed public is flocking to the box office in such numbers that Promoter Mike Jacobs claims his store is selling out.

SEATTLE, March 28 (UP)—Manager Frank Tobin of the Twin Falls Cowboys today looked over a field of 40 aspiring and perpetuating youngsters and was satisfied that he would find some material to aid the perennial chase of the Idaho club in the Pioneer league during the 1940 season.

However, there are lots of other youngsters who have been batting and fielding eyes and some likely material from this camp. Outstanding among the prospects are Lewis Tedesco of Everett high school, Fred Smith of Sutherland, Fred Formed brilliantly from this camp last year—but who is now on a holdout from the parent Seattle ball team. Joe was all set to get in a little practice, but when General Manager Roscoe (Torchy) Torrence showed up on the scene, Joe announced he still wasn't satisfied with the terms offered him and he turned in his uniform and left the field.

SPORT SQUIBS! by Hal Wood

HERE'S THE TRUE STORY OF DEER KILLING BY COYOTES IN KETCHUM AREA—TOLD BY OBSERVERS TO ANIMAL CRIME.

The maples were in at the finish. This was noted by Bob Cummins and Charles Mallory, who have spent the winter in the hills at Crony Cove. They were on skis to capture pictures of a snowslide when the raucous protest of the magistrates attracted their attention...

"Now, sportsmen assert, there are about 100 coyotes who make a specialty for the coyote. A magazine carried such a article last month. The sneaking coyote was pictured as a benefactor, in that it took its toll from the diseased and unwanted members of the game family...

"Not all of the spoor of the silent wild is due to the gentle animal. Here and there is the unmistakable footprint of that cowardly and sullen criminal of the lower hills, the coyote. Generally it is figured that these dastardly predators seek new location after the livestock has departed for lower wintering. It is a false assumption...

"One such instance was observed early this month. Down a West Fork hillside appeared three trails. The center one was punctuated by pauses after long and frantic leaps and bounds. On each side was another trail, the three being a short distance apart. The trails converged at the bottom of the hill, and there came the first of the young deer that had feverishly and frantically endeavored to escape the persistence of the vicious and menacing coyotes...

"Hounded to his last gasp the tottering deer was pulled to the ground and the grey started hardy before it ceased breathing. It was evident. Scattered about the mangled and gnashed form of the young deer were signs of its internal organs. The right side had been consumed to almost entirety, the ground tramped to hardness about the remains of the glorious creature of the day before...

"The tragedy was ended. The carcass of the brush, sated, had returned to their hideouts. No witnesses save a few nightbirds, could complain. Two lone black and white hounds of the air had gathered to feast and grace the bad banquet after the departure of its sponsors...
