SATE TAKES TITLE TO BRIDGE APRIL 30

U. S. Officially Denies German Reports of American Allied Aid

HULL OFFERS NO RECOGNITION FOR CHINESE 'LEADER'

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull again condemning "acts of aggression" which he said "people of their political independence, made it plain today that this nation will not recognize the new German-sponsored Chinese government established at Nanking. (See story Page 1, Col. 7.)

Gov. Bottolfsen Expresses Gratification At Bridge Deal; Cites State Advantages

BOISE, March 30 (Special)—Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen today expressed gratification over the terms under which the state of Idaho has agreed to purchase the Twin Falls-Jerome intercounty toll bridge.

Idaho cannot afford to have a toll bridge barrier on one of its principal highways, and the people of south central Idaho should be expected to continue paying tolls which amount to approximately $200,000 annually. The price represents a considerable saving over figures that have been proposed on various occasions in the past. Moreover, the state appraisal which the value was established, is regarded as entirely satisfactory to the state government. I am informed.

STREAMS BURST BANKS AS RAINS FALL ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP)—Flooded by heavy rains, northern California rivers burst their banks and spilled over lowland areas today for the second time this month.

U. S. Government Will Pay Half of Purchasing Price

BOISE, March 30 (AP)—The state of Idaho will take ownership of the Twin Falls-Jerome intercounty bridge on April 30.

By HOBART C. MONTEE
WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Official denials and congressional resentment of German charges that the United States helped bring about the European war appeared today to have dimmed possibility of an early signing of a new German-American relations.

Not only will the state do away with its only toll bridge on one of its most important highways, the governor said, "but the price for state acquisition for this project is advantageous in several respects."

1901 Paper, Telling of McKinley's Assassination, Will Go to Library

By JEAN DINKELACKER

"Death was unavoidable by any surgical or medical treatment and was the result of a bullet wound." Fifteen doctors signed the autopsy statement which concluded with the above sentence, and which told a waiting world that William McKinley, President of the United States, was dead, the victim of an assassin's bullet. He died Sept. 14, 1901, at the Buffalo House, Buffalo, N. Y., after being shot Sept. 6, 1901, at the Temple of Music at the Pan-American exposition.

The full account of the events leading up to the death of McKinley, which resulted in Theodore Roosevelt's becoming his successor as "the youngest president of the United States," aged 43, is given in a copy of the San Francisco Weekly Examiner of Thursday morning, Sept. 19, 1901.

The journalistic document will be presented to the Twin Falls public library for its permanent collection by C. N. Felix, mining engineer of the Twin Falls and Bruneau tract since 1907, who bought the paper in San Francisco on September morning. He was en route from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Canton, O., to get married.

Were Bullets Poisoned? Dr. Eugene Weedin, Buffalo physician, contended that the bullet that went into the abdomen and penetrated the stomach, as well as the one that inflicted the breast bone wound, "was followed by extensive necrosis of tissue, wherever it passed."

Tests were made for gangrenous material when the stitches in the wound were relieved and the wound pressed. They have not shown as yet the presence of gangrene-producing organisms, leading, definitely, to the opinion that the bullet was coated with some poisonous substance.

Beneath the picture of McKinley was a proclamation by Theodore Roosevelt appointing Thursday, Sept. 19, "as the day on which the body of the dead President will be laid in its last earthly resting place, as a day of mourning and prayer throughout the United States."

Artist's Version Quite in contrast to the telephoto pictures of today's newspapers was an artist's drawing "Scene in the Sickroom at Millburn House," on page two, showing the President lying on a striped plain iron bed, three nurses, apparently physicians, and two nurses in striped uniforms and little round caps with gathered ruffles, reminiscent of old-time "nurse caps," attending him.

On page three appeared a drawing of President Theodore Roosevelt looking through a microscope. Beneath the picture the caption "From a telegraphed description of the scene." That was the special feature of news illustration in 1901.

Following pages showed pictures of McKinley from 1859, when he was a student, until his official presidential photograph; a picture of Mrs. William McKinley, fan in hand, seated in a high backed chair, the photograph surrounded by an ornate frame, an artist's drawing.

There, too, was a picture of Leon Czolgosz, alias Fred Niernmeyer, the assassin of President McKinley.

A flaming torch of revolution, the design repeated many times, formed the artist's frame for the oval picture of the man who "refused to plead in the Erie county court, in the indictment of the grand jury for murder in the first degree."

"There was a tribute in verse by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, entitled 'Dad! Has Crowned Him a Martyr,' and dedicated to McKinley."

And those who read beyond the pages devoted to the McKinley tragedy, came eventually to the fiction sections of the paper, probably scanning the story "The Man at the Merry-Go-Round and the Velled Lady" by Winifred Black, who was to become the dean of the "sob sisters" and the top-notchers of "advice to the lovelorn" columnists.

"Under Two Flags" by "Gaida," was running in serial form.

Most of the local and sports news was concentrated on the back page of that edition of the Examiner.

Typical of the items in this one, "Jim Jeffries went to Los Angeles Monday afternoon where he will meet Griffin tonight in a four-round bout, but before he left he sent a friend to stakeholder Harry Corbett with a certificate of deposit for $2,500. The money is in a Oakland bank. The certificate, however, is made payable to Jeffries himself, and is not endorsed. This merely ties up the money so that Jeffries can make no use of it unless Corbett should surrender the certificate."

"Floradora" Era Illustrated with a photograph of a woman, Mrs. William Achard, her elaborately coiffured hair decorated with strands of pearls, her décolleté gown edged with a deep collar of lace, was a story, "She Goes to Sleep With Floradora."

The story continued that she had signed a contract to sing with the "Floradora" Opera company of New York, with which Miss Edna Wallace Hopper is singing.

And Miss Hopper is still singing—in these times of the merits of her beauty face cream.

Mrs. Johnson Is Zenobia Leader

Zenobia club, Daughters of the Nile, meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Grant Padgett, re-elected Mrs. John A. Johnson as president; Mrs. Joe Koehler as secretary and Mrs. Charles Brown, Kimberly, as chaplain. Elected new vice-president was Mrs. Claude Gordon, Kimberly.

Members were present from Twin Falls, Kimberly and Burley. Spring flowers decorated the home, and tea was served following an afternoon of Kensington.

Washington Parent-Teacher association will sponsor a program at 4 p. m. Monday over the local broadcasting station. Mrs. Howard Larsen and son, Howard Larsen, Jr., to present musical numbers, and Mrs. Lionel Dean to speak on "Americanism."

Section Flipped And those who read beyond the pages devoted to the McKinley tragedy, came eventually to the fiction sections of the paper, probably scanning the story "The Man at the Merry-Go-Round and the Velled Lady" by Winifred Black, who was to become the dean of the "sob sisters" and the top-notchers of "advice to the lovelorn" columnists.

Mayor Koehler Sets Month of Cancer Control

In reply to a request from the Women's Field Army of the American Society of the Control of Cancer, Mayor Koehler of Twin Falls, has issued a proclamation urging "all men and women to unite in supporting the Women's Field Army of the American Society of the Control of Cancer, and proclaim April as Cancer Control month."

The proclamation follows: "Whereas throughout the nation a campaign of education against cancer is being conducted by the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer;

Whereas a unit of the Army has been organized in this community by leading women and outstanding physicians to reach all our citizens with information essential to their own protection;

Whereas this peace-time Army is a democratic one, composed of men and women of all races, creeds and classes, united to fight a foe that threatens each and everyone of us;

Whereas our community can ill afford to lose the heads of families, the leaders of business, of professions, of education, of government, of men and women who are particularly prone to develop cancer;

Therefore, I, Joe K. Koehler, as mayor of Twin Falls, Idaho, urge all men and women to unite in supporting the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, and to formally declare April as Cancer Control month."

"I am proud thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal on this 30th day of March, 1940."

Robello, Bee Manager, Once Caught Big Leaguer's Eye

SALT LAKE CITY, March 30 (Special)—Tommy Robello, the club's first baseman who takes over the management of the Salt Lake City Bees in the Pioneer league this year, has been around—despite his youth, as early as 1923, the veteran Donnie Bush, then manager of the Cincinnati Reds, picking out Robello as the best looking prospect in the minors. Donnie thought so much of Tommy that when the Reds played a exhibition game in Rock Island, Ill., where Robello was with the local club, the Little Red pilot wanted to take him back to Cincinnati.

Tommy was playing the base that year, and the Rock Island management would not part with him. Even when the Red infield was swamped with injuries and Donnie Bush made another plea for him, the Islanders would not part with Tommy.

Named All Star
He hit .335 for the season and was named third sacker on the league's all-star team. The Reds finally got him after the season was over and sent him to Wilmington of the Wilmington league for 1934. He was converted into an outfielder and was among the circuit's best hitters with a .344. He repped out 17 homers.

Promoted to Fort Worth of the Texas league the next season, his batting slumped to .222. He was sent to the El Paso Stars league at Blue Bluff in 1936. He came back to his own with a lousy .264 average, the same figure compiled by Curt Blethner, who won the crown because he had been in 130 games to Robello, Tommy drove in 20 runs and was second in homers with 16.

The St. Louis Cardinals sent him to their Jacksonville, Fla. farm in 1937 and gave him his first managerial experience in the East Texas league.

Played Second
Tommy played second base, batted .261, pulled his team up in second place and then won the Shoshone play-off for the pennant. Pretty neat record for his first whirl as a manager. He topped the league in home runs with 35.

Next season, Tommy took over first base for his club, batted .234 and again paced the league in home runs, hitting 38. He had no ball club and it wound up in the cellar. But Tommy was rewarded for his work by being picked as first baseman on the annual all-star team by a vote of the league writers.

Had Great Year
Last year, after managing the St. Louis Cardinals farm at Pocatello, Tony led his team into second place and had his greatest year as a fence buster and all-around hitter. He compiled an average of .404 to finish second to Pete Hughes of Ogden in batting and easily topped the circuit in home runs by knocking out 58 circuit clouts.

This year Robello takes over the management of the Bees. He is feared as the greatest slugger in the loop even before the season gets under way.

He is 28 years old, one of the few Portuguese players in the game, and was born in Pahala, Hawaii.

Tom Seats Looms As Possible Cure for Detroit Mound Worry

Seats, a skillful southpaw pitcher, is down south now at the Detroit Tigers' training base in Lakeland, Fla., serving up his slants under the watchful eyes of Manager Del Baker, who believes that last year's 22-game winner may be a possible solution to Detroit's mound worries.

Just one year ago Seats had a job with a Sacramento woolen company and was convinced his baseball days were over. He refused to return to organized baseball until after Sacramento consented to give him a conditional contract, did he come back. If he failed to make the grade, the contract released him outright. If he lasted after May 15, he was to be paid a satisfactory salary.

Won 22, Lost 12
With his career at stake, Seats began pitching with his heart as well as with his hand. He won his first start but connected on the next to snap a 10-game Sacramento losing streak. Seats began stepping after that and wound up the season as the club's leading winner with 22 victories against 12 defeats, five by one-run margins. In both he won two and dropped a 2-1, 10-inning decision. The Tigers drafted him on Oct. 3.

His jump into professional baseball in 1934 was as brilliant as his near-finish in 1938 was dismal. He led the southpaw ace for Lincoln in the Nebraska state league with 18 victories after winning a job in a trial camp. He set a league strikeout record with 212.

In the Cardinal chain next year he won 28 games and lost nine for Springfield of the Western association, setting an all-time strike-out mark of 281. He shuttled from Columbus in the American association in 1938 to Asheville and to Houston, then he was bought by Sacramento.

Bounced Back and Down
Here his last luck began. Seats set up 11 wins against 10 defeats at Sacramento, a first-place club in 1937. With the same club next year he lost his first five and then, when he won his initial victory, was sent back to Houston. There he lost five more and bounced back, unbeaten, to Sacramento. Sent to the Three-r league, he quit.

However, he was persuaded to join Deatur and finished the season with a record of six and six. At training camp time in 1939, Seats was working with the woolen company, an apparent death sentence but satisfied. Fortunately for him, he changed his mind.

Today, her tossing the ball up to the Tigers, confident, successful and certain he's just what the doctor ordered for the "pitcher-walk" Detroiters. Baker hopes so.

Metz, Guldahl and Mangum Lead in Asheville Tourney

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 30 (AP)—Svend Flindt, Ole Dick, Ralph Guldahl and Lloyd Mangum shared a three-way tie for the lead with six-under-par 64 in the 35,000 leaf-off-the-day open golf tournament today.

A bonny on the par-three seventh hole, Henry Peck of Haverhill, Penn., out of first place and he turned in a 66 for the first 18-hole round yesterday to tie with Frank Webb of Rutherford, N. C.

The two favorites—Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex.—followed.

Tom Seats Looms As Possible Cure for Detroit Mound Worry

Seats, a skillful southpaw pitcher, is down south now at the Detroit Tigers' training base in Lakeland, Fla., serving up his slants under the watchful eyes of Manager Del Baker, who believes that last year's 22-game winner may be a possible solution to Detroit's mound worries.

Just one year ago Seats had a job with a Sacramento woolen company and was convinced his baseball days were over. He refused to return to organized baseball until after Sacramento consented to give him a conditional contract, did he come back. If he failed to make the grade, the contract released him outright. If he lasted after May 15, he was to be paid a satisfactory salary.

Won 22, Lost 12
With his career at stake, Seats began pitching with his heart as well as with his hand. He won his first start but connected on the next to snap a 10-game Sacramento losing streak. Seats began stepping after that and wound up the season as the club's leading winner with 22 victories against 12 defeats, five by one-run margins. In both he won two and dropped a 2-1, 10-inning decision. The Tigers drafted him on Oct. 3.

His jump into professional baseball in 1934 was as brilliant as his near-finish in 1938 was dismal. He led the southpaw ace for Lincoln in the Nebraska state league with 18 victories after winning a job in a trial camp. He set a league strikeout record with 212.

"Hot dog!"

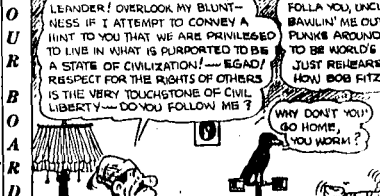

"See a hope, Captain Pogo in not getting any more!"

"Alley, I want to compliment you on your restraint!"

"The other girls were in this morning, June!"

"Four bridesmaids, a flower girl and the bride!"

"Hello June—hello Mrs. Bascam!"

"You're sort of a big shot politically, before, so like an invitation to the big banquet!"

"On no duke, it's out of the question!"

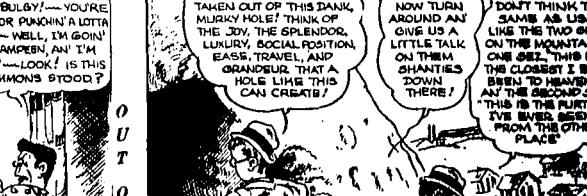

"Well, you know—the night!"

"Like this?"

"Well, that's perfect!"

"Gosh, now you're all out of a twist!"

"Think of the millions taken out of this bank, murky hole!"

"That's fine—now turn around and give us a little talk on them shanties down there!"

"He can't—he don't think the same as us!"

REPUBLICANS LINE UP FOR NEW FIGHT ON TRADE TREATIES

LOSE BY CLOSE 44 TO 41 VOTE ON AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Republicans lined up for a new fight, defeated by three votes in an attempt to require Senate ratification of trade agreements, after the House voted today on a bill to amend the act to bring up support for a proposal to subject the pact to approval by both houses of Congress.

"We are not licked yet," said Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, D. Colo., after the vote. "I am sure that the ratification of the act will be passed either Tuesday or Wednesday without amendment."

Claims Strong Support
The Pittman bill claimed strong support for an amendment by Sen. Joseph P. O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., who introduced a bill to amend the act to require Senate ratification of trade agreements by majority vote. Under the ratification procedure the agreement must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

"I have no fear of the O'Mahoney amendment," Harrison said. "Our real fight was on the Pittman amendment and we had it over."

Key Figures
Two Democrats—Sen. W. Donahoe, O., and Harry H. Schwartz, Wyo.—were the key figures in yesterday's narrow decision. The position of both was in doubt until the final vote, but they finally aligned themselves with the amendment. Had both voted for the amendment, it would have been adopted by a 42-40 vote.

Here are how the Utah, Idaho and Montana senators voted:
Utah: For amendment: Clark, Idaho; Wyo.: For amendment: Clark, Idaho; Idaho: Against the amendment: Thomas, Idaho. Absent: Wheeler, Montana. Absent from the city, paired his vote for the amendment.

BRITISHER TALKS ON ROTARY LIST

Final lecture of the Twin Falls Rotary club's Institute of International Understanding series will be given at the high school auditorium next Tuesday night at 8 p. m. at which time Eric G. Grainger, secretary of the British Chamber of Commerce in London, will discuss "Britain's Stake in the European Crisis."

Guest night will be observed at the final lecture, those in charge are: The speaker is prominent throughout the east, and also in England, as a lecturer. He was educated at Harrow, England, Munich university, Germany, and the University of Chicago where he is at present completing his research work for a doctor's degree in modern history.

As a journalist, covering the Spanish civil war during 1937, he came to realize the prevalent political conditions of the European scene.

During four months of the spring and summer of 1939 he traveled Europe from London, Ankara in Asia Minor, studying contemporary political trends and writing his observations on a number of American newspapers.

Don't discard those old copies of Twin Falls high school annuals. In your zealous spring house-cleaning.

The Twin Falls public library has need for them if you don't want them.

There is no charge for the books at this time and those that are included in the County Library are included in the County Library and from month to month, so duplicates will be welcome.

Just take them to the library and Miss Jessie Frantz in some of the library staff will make a place for them.

Hailey Boy Held On Driving Count

E. R. Haggler, 19, who gives his home as Hailey, was in the city jail today awaiting a hearing on charges of reckless driving.

This youth, records show, is alleged to have been involved in an automobile accident. The arrest was made yesterday and the hearing will probably be held this afternoon.

School Cast Scores With Satiric Comic Opera Hit

By MARGARET ELLSWORTH
Amusing the audience greatly with its pointed satire on English "justice" and law, "Trial by Jury," comic opera by Gilbert and Sullivan was presented last night by a group of excellent singers and actors from Twin Falls high school music department, under direction of Miss Margaret Albertson, and a musical score and lyrics by the author.

The production was given by girls and boys members.

All principals in the opera sang clearly and with ease. In addition to playing the roles they were portraying cleverly and effectively. Credits were shared by the company which comes from good training.

The Judge
Presiding over the court as judge, and a good judge, too, "Milo" Hamilton, who took that part, finally married the defendant in a breach of promise bill to settle the case. The judge was played by Clarence Dudley, The impotent defendant, Edwin, was taken by Jack Tiffany.

In a performance yesterday afternoon for high school students, an equally good staff sang these leading parts: Judge was Homer Hays; plaintiff, Edna Foster; usher, Dick Townbridge; defendant, Kenneth Rodolph.

Penalty Score
In both performances Bill Pomroy did some of the best acting as counsel for the plaintiff, who pleaded her pathetic case, and Preston Rouman headed the sentimental jury as foreman.

One of the bridesmaids, Mickey Humphrey was the one who caught the young eye of the judge during the evening performance, and Pat Graves was singled out during the afternoon. Other bridesmaids, given in beautiful pastel dresses and with flower garlands, were Jack Tyler, Verla Peterson, Bertie June Wells, Hilma Sweet, Norma Dickey, Mildred Patterson, Wanda Marie Wilde, Helen Gee, Florence Goert-

OFFICIALS NAMED BY LOAN GROUPS

Reorganization of the boards of directors of two farm loan associations in Twin Falls county had been completed today following separate elections at the annual meeting Friday.

Officers as chosen in the board reorganizations:

Kimberly National Farm Loan Association—C. Bruce Regan, a student, N. A. McLaughlin, vice-president, E. Kuntze gave a very interesting talk on the "Reciprocal Trade Agreements" and held an open discussion which was quite instructive.

Mrs. Effie Irvin conducted a quiz on Grange ritual, in the form of a game.

HOLLISTER
Hollister Grange held the regular meeting March 13, with a good attendance. My correspondent is a little late with the news, but we are glad to have it, though a little late. After a business meeting, the lecturer offered the following program: E. Kuntze gave a very interesting talk on the "Reciprocal Trade Agreements" and held an open discussion which was quite instructive.

WINS ENCORE
An encore call showed the audience's appreciation of Mildred Jennings' singing of "St. Louis Blues." A tapping number by a quartet, dressed in snappy white and shiny black uniforms, was given to music of a modern popular song. Dancers were Ardele Valentine, Pauline Stockman, Lucy Mulvihill and Loraine Tiffany.

Outstanding during the evening was a two-act arrangement of George Grey's "Rhapsody in Blue," played by Miss Lucille Albertson and Miss Marjorie Albertson, who also played "Sophisticated."

Closing the program was an impressive dance interpretation by Alice Mae Murray while the girls sang "Rain." Stepping out before the curtains the club sang its theme song, "Memories," to complete its share of the music.

Director for dances, for Madeline Garvin. Makeup work was done by Miss Florence Rees and costumes were in charge of Florence Goertzen, Da Marie Seewy, Mildred Patterson and Hope Newbery.

Start
Business manager was Ted Lake. Programs were made by Miss Velva Walt, and tickets handled by Frank Prunty, Ruth Young, Norma Dickey, Barbara Wauman, Wanda Wilde, Pat Graves. Advertising committee:

Grange Gleanings

PILER
Saw William Price of Piler at Twin Falls the other day and he reports that they are organizing a Grange team for the first and second degrees, largely of the young married members of the Grange, with Mr. Price as the leader. Says they had a fine time and a big crowd at meeting when they entertained the West Point Juvenile Grange, and that they are having Pomona Grange officers and friends at their next meeting, April 5.

DEEP CREEK
Went over to Deep Creek Grange last week. They had Pomona officers as their guests, with visitors from eight different Granges. After a short business meeting, the Pomona officers put on a program of songs and recitations at the close of 1939, and the Twin Falls association with 1,588.89. The former group had 171 members, the Twin Falls group, 292.

Entertainment at the meeting included readings by Mrs. N. E. Wonscott, Ladies of the Church of the Brethren served the luncheon to approximately 200 persons.

was Helen Gee, Lucille Thomas and art classes.

Properties were taken care of by Mrs. Malberg, Donald Nelson, Glen Gott and Sherman Roszell. Staging lighting effects were Frank Hampton and Lloyd Leclair.

Spectators during the trial, in the opera case, who sang chorus parts, were Jo Anne Ankersy, Lucille Birch, Cecelia Barlett, Vivian Brewer, Marie Brooks, Betty Busby, Bonnie Busby, Dorothy Butler, Pricilla Deane, Eva Dunham, Lois Dewey, Billie Healey, Astora Howard, LaVauv Hyde, Corola Jarman, Betty Jaynes, Edith Jinks, Marti Kamard, Elizabeth McKisick, June McNeely, Thelma Phelps, Marjorie Richardson, Violet Rodman, June Roszell, Clara Smith, Donna Spencer, Shirley Hutchison, Helen Stephens, Lucille Thomas, Nyle Tyler, Raymond Evans, Glen Gott, Jule Lundy, Donald Nelson, Frank Prunty, Sherman Roszell, Virgil Perinette, Dorothy Huff, Lillian Wahl and Derrill Warren.

KIMBERLY

Orangers are still trying to get rid of the surplus by eating it, so Kimberly Orangers started a meeting last night, and the next night. They met in regular session March 23. As to a business meeting, Oranger said not, so the question didn't have any. A special committee had charge of the program and put on an original skit, which was a success. Those luck drew were Mr. Ralph Teague, Mr. Tom Wall, Mrs. Carrie Jones, Mrs. Lyle Jones, Mrs. Henry Dahlquist, Walter Best, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor, John Green and Roy Haverland. A male quartet will be a feature of the next meeting, April 8, and a program on cancer will be offered.

BUHL
Was down town the other night and smelled chicken and followed my nose and wound up at the Bull Grange Hall. At the business session, Tuesday night, the Grange voted to renew membership in the chemical council and transacted other routine business. The third and fourth degrees were given to Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Vickers, Mrs. Frieda Owen and Mrs. Myrtle Gibbs.

CEDAR DRAW
Cedar Draw also met last week, with several members absent. The many friends of Brother and Sister Holmes will be glad to know that they are improving. During the business meeting, Mrs. Biers gave report on the recent Pomona meeting and Master Harold McKnight presented the retiring master, Billy Zink, with a post master's pin. The Piler fair was discussed and I. T. Creed was appointed chairman of the fair committee.

During the lecturer's hour, the lecturer gave a talk on the origin of having and coloring eggs at Easter. And since the Grange stands for cooperation and to prove the necessity for cooperation to secure the successful completion of a task, a pig-raising contest was held. The winners were entered across the table from each other, had their forks at the same time, so cooperation was the answer. Those speed demons Creed and Knight won in record time and received as a reward, a colored egg with a face on it. E. D. Medaris and Sam Bieder competed as a team but were disqualified.

WE'RE ON THE MOVE
to larger quarters... to better serve you!

We're forced to move — which is all right! We had outgrown our present quarters, anyway. And now our newer and larger store... our increased stock and added lines... will identify us as one of Idaho's largest exclusive shoe stores. Every member of our force, pictured above, will be ready to serve you in our new location Tuesday morning. That's Jud Clark pointing the way;

Jim Bowden on the poop deck; Voy Hudson at the wheel; Mrs. Krauel in charge of the cash register supported by Bob Sahberg; Charles Capshaw riding in the trailer and Ralph E. Turner, in charge of repair department, hanging on. Remember, 'til Saturday night in the old location and then Tuesday morning in our new store — right next to Diamond Hardware.

This is to remind you that we sell shoes for our livings!

Hudson-Clark
TWIN FALLS ONLY SHOE STORE

Look for us in our New Location TUESDAY

We'll be ready for business Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock—despite the fact we'll close the "homefront" for keeps Saturday night. Watch for announcement of our formal opening soon!

OUR NEW LOCATION: The brand new store room, newly finished and completely remodeled — between Diamond Hardware and "Treadler's" Drug — two fine neighbors for us and real landmarks by which you can locate a new and modern shoe repair shop in connection!
