YOUNG MINNESOTA POLITICIAN LOOMS AS GOP KEYNOTER

NATIONAL GROUP MEETS TUESDAY TO MAKE CHOICE

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—The Republican national committee on convention arrangements tomorrow will select a keynote speaker who is expected to be Gov. Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, a heavily backed young man in the G.O.P. presidential future.

Stassen is 33 years old, too young to meet the traditional specifications of a presidential candidate this year. But many party leaders believe he will be a big factor in the 1944 Republican politics.

Three men have been discussed as possible Republican keynoters. Dr. Glenn Frank, who headed the party program committee which has submitted its suggestions for the 1940 platform, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Mass., another young man who is coming up fast in Republican leadership, and Stassen. Congressional Republicans insist the Minnesota governor is practically the best of drawing the keynote assignment.

Frank is 52 years old, outside the Republican club. But it is significant that two of the three men most prominently mentioned as convention keynoters are under 40 years of age and comparative newcomers to the national political arena.

First Term
Lodge is serving his first term in the senate, having been elected in 1936 to the post his grandfather distinguished during the first quarter of the century. Lodge is a former member in Minnesota where Republicans believe they can keep him in the office or another and sufficiently prominent politically during the next four years to assure his consideration for a place on the national ticket in 1944.

Stassen Acceptable
The dinner was an occasion for a series of informal political discussions which found Stassen and District Attorney Thomas H. Dewey, of New York, frequently conversing. Stassen is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, taking to active part in selection of the keynote, but is not extremely important to all of them. If Stassen gets the nod it might mean for Dewey—who has not returned forty—that this is a young Republican year.

Stassen is understood to be wholly satisfactory to Dewey and to Alton B. Landon, who exercises considerable influence in the party.

Germans Report Capture of Norwegian War Materials

CLAIM 2 ALLIED SUBS DESTROYED IN SEA WARFARE

By JOSEPH W. BRIGG, Jr.
BERLIN, April 15 (Special)—The high command announced today that Norway's attempt to mobilize troops in the Oslo region had been frustrated by the capture of large quantities of war materials, and that two more allied submarines had been sunk in the Skagerrak, "making a total of seven enemy U-boats sunk by our sea and air forces."
It announced two British pursuit planes sank a German merchant ship at Bergen but that both planes were shot down by German pursuit planes soon afterward.
"Yesterday was quiet at Narvik," a communique said. "Strong British naval forces blocked the harbor entrance."
The official news agency DNB announced German troops had occupied the town of Halden in the Oslo region.
The propaganda ministry declined to comment on British claims that British forces had landed in Norway.

Torpedo Boat Captured

It was announced the Norwegian torpedo boat Hval had been captured, manned by a German crew and put into the German service. The capture of the town of Hoenefoss, in the Oslo region, was announced.

The communique said additional German troops and war materials were landed in south Norway, "where positions were consolidated."
The newspaper Lokaltidningen published today the first death notice since the Norwegian campaign. The victim was Capt. Peter Nord Spiller of the air force, killed at Oslo April 10.

Other newspapers said the war in Norway would be no "child play," but that German forces were still holding and improving their positions in both Norway and Denmark.

British Replied
Headlines announced the British had been "multiplying" supplies in a naval raid on Narvik Saturday, but there was no denial of British reports that seven German destroyers had been sunk in the Skagerrak. The high command said the British had attacked Narvik with two battleships, several carriers, a cruiser and many destroyers. The communique did not mention the outcome of the battle but the newspapers Der Monater and Monater post said it was a big German victory.

Afternoon newspapers protested British sailors had fired with anti-aircraft guns on unarmed German seamen struggling in the water in Narvik harbor. The newspapers reported that the Germans got in the water and no German ship losses were reported, but the Zentralblatt said, "The Germans will not forget this case. Some day there will come a reckoning. We will demand explanation—a hard, bitter explanation."

Czechs Have Money, No Food, Letter Received Here Claims

A land where money is worthless to buy bread because food is vanishing under the iron heel of Nazi legions—that is the picture of Czechoslovakia revealed in Twin Falls today.

The picture leaked out because, for the second time within a week, Hitler's censorship failed to smother significant messages to Twin Falls today.

Charles Hrnac, Hansen rancher, told the Evening Times he has received a 1,000-word note from his former homeland.
The bill, at one time worth about $25 in American money, was smuggled across the border into France in a letter which told the south Idaho people that, while the senders had lots of money, it wasn't good for anything, because there wasn't even a loaf of bread to be purchased. The letter writer revealed that his family had lots of bills "but what good are they when you can't buy anything with them?"
Mr. Hrnac received the useless currency through friends in this area—whose names, he said, must be kept secret. He warned that if names of the sender and the receiver are not kept out of the news, Nazi agents in the U. S. would get hold of the story and the result would be possible persecution and concentration camps for the family in Czechoslovakia.
Hrnac is a native Czechoslovakian, but came to the U. S. more than 40 years ago and now has only a single family life in the conquered country.
"And the reason I'm bringing this note in," he stated, "is to show south Idaho people just how lucky we are to be living in this country."

P T A Delegates Tell Of State Convention

Delegates to the 35th annual convention of Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers returned to Twin Falls association last week-end with messages on "Home Responsibility for Citizenship," theme of the three-day state meeting in Lewiston last week.

Among the many prominent educators and workers who spoke to the conference were Mrs. Warren L. Mabrey, Cape Girardeau, Mo., secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and national representative to the Idaho meet, and Dr. C. W. Olenowich, professor of philosophy at the University of Idaho.

"The children who share home responsibility for citizenship with their parents and teachers will be some mighty ones" formed a keynote sentence for the meet, and the oak tree, emblem on the national association seal, was added to the theme of the meeting.

Home Responsibility
In discussing the topic, Mrs. Mabrey emphasized that the trends of the times necessitate developing home responsibility, and that too much of the responsibility for that falls on teachers, in developing such traits as courtesy, cooperation, and respect for authority.

"Attitude of the parents is never forgotten by the children," she told delegates. "Good citizenship must be lived, not preached."
Dr. Olenowich chose as his subject "The Kind of Citizenship We Need Today." He described to the delegates the high regard for living which is enjoyed in America today, and called to attention the practical means which are attached to that standard, of comfort and luxuries for the body.

"We will struggle to the limit of our endurance for these conditions while we see not at all concerned with a high standard of living for our souls," he stated.

Revised Living Needs
"If we do not revise our ways of living and thinking, some day this will be a nation of barren wastes and gross servitude, as dictatorships are," he said.

In his closing thought, he advised parents not to expect great appreciation from their children for the things which the children received. "You are worth the world and gold," he told them, "but forget it!"
A tragedy, at the banquet at which Dr. Olenowich spoke, showing a young woman, Abigail Steele, in four centuries, from 1640 to 1940, emphasized the development of industrial and scientific knowledge, and the failure of spiritual values to keep pace.

Wednesday morning saw the formal opening of the convention and Mrs. Mabrey's keynote address. That noon was a complimentary luncheon given by Lewiston women. Headquarters of the meetings were at the Lewis and Clark hotel.

A school of instruction for delegates incorporating reports from state committee chairmen, formed the afternoon program. A magazine dinner was given that evening with one issue of the national magazine, "National Parent Teacher," dramatized as the program.

Lewiston high school band played in concert Wednesday evening, and Orchards P-T-A gave a series of tableaux, "The Old Family Album."

Mrs. Evans Elected
Election of officers highlighted Thursday's program. Mrs. Roy J. Evans, Twin Falls, was named second vice-president, and was also appointed by the president as adviser to the president's club, composed of all delegates who were also presidents of their local clubs. Mrs. H. H. Burkhardt was a member of the nominating committee for the president's club.

A tea at Lewis hall at the normal school and a scenic drive were enjoyed late Thursday afternoon, and annual banquet was that evening.

Favors for all social events carried out the theme of the oak tree, or the acorn. Banquet program was printed on a plate of wood. They spotted Norway spruce trees were presented to each delegate by the school of forestry of the University of Idaho, to be taken home and planted.

Appreciation was felt by all delegates for the largest banquet of flowers presented to the convention by C. E. Bowles, state treasurer and Twin Falls association member, who was unable to be present.

Twin Falls delegates were Mrs. H. H. Burkhardt, council president; Mrs. D. P. Gross, president, and Mrs. J. E. Tomlin, vice-president of Washington P-T-A; Mrs. Ray Roache, president, St. Edwards; Mrs. Albert Inama, Hinkel; Mrs. Scott Ellsworth, Junior-Senior; Mrs. Walter Dix, Lincoln; and Mrs. Evans, state officer.

During the trip, three of the delegates, Mrs. Dix, Mrs. Tomlin and Mrs. Groves, visited Bill Coulberry, Twin Falls resident and brother of Mrs. Dix, at the Veterans' hospital in Walla Walla, Wash.

Speaker Sees Discrimination As Step Toward Dictatorship

Taking issue with those endorsing legislation against married women working, Miss Alice L. Manning, Salt Lake City, Sunday told 85 members at a south central Idaho district meeting of Business and Professional Women's clubs that "this is a mental germ which has been rapidly spreading from across the sea, and is the first step toward dictatorship."

Miss Manning, national B. P. W. chairman of the committee on legislation; charter member of the Salt Lake City B. P. W. club, and member of the legal department of the Union Pacific system, addressed the women at the Buhl American Legion hall at a luncheon meeting.

Idaho and Utah were two of the states in which bills were presented at the state legislative sessions last year, seeking to bar married women from certain types of jobs.

Called Undemocratic
"Discrimination against one group spread to other groups," she said, "now is against married women, and the inevitable next step will be against all women, with husbands or without, working," she declared.

"When one group in the nation is discriminated against, that discrimination affects one of the bulwarks of democracy, and equality of opportunity. It is a canker which eats at the heart of a free government of free men and free women. We must meet this challenge to our rights, and he is thrice armed, whose cause is just," she concluded.

Miss Frances Habert, Jerome, was elected district president, succeeding Mrs. Grace King, Rupert, and Mrs. Cheryl Van Ausdell, Twin Falls, was elected vice-president. Miss Habert will appoint the district secretary.

Twin Falls was chosen as the site for the fall meeting of the district. Rupert Wins Center.

Rupert club, featuring the slogan, "Sunlight, Fresh Air and Furland," won the "boosting Idaho" skit contest, and Gooding club was "runner-up." The skit was given in competition at the state convention May 10-21, at Boise, and the winning skit in the state, will be presented at the regional conference at Glacier national park in June.

Representatives from Gooding, Burley, Jerome, Rupert, Twin Falls and Buhl were present. Shoshone was not represented.

A delegation from Boise, headed by Mrs. Frances Goodwin, president of the B. P. W. club there, attended the meeting.

YOUNGSTERS TAKE CENTER OF STAGE AT CLEVER PARTY
The D. L. Coe family and the James Elmo Lee family have quite a lot in common, but most important is the fact that each has a year-old son whose birthday anniversary is being celebrated today.

Both youngsters, Darrell Dean Coe, and James Elmo Lee, Jr., were born in Twin Falls a year ago, and their mothers have been chums for a number of years.

Honoring the young men, Mrs. Coe and Mrs. Lee entertained at a birthday party this afternoon at the Lee home, 228 Blue Lakes boulevard, inviting their playmates, ranging in age from one to two years.

To the party came Myrna Joy Carl, Patricia Jean Schofield, Fern and Joan Bolvard, Kent Kirkman, Ronny Kemper, Sharon Danella, Frances Walker, Jackie and Jeanette Bolvard, Claudia Rae Black, Alva Rae Deany, and of course, the honor guests.

CLOSE RACES LOOM ON EVE OF FLAG CHASES

Tough Competition Looms for Yanks, Cincinnati Champs

NEW YORK, April 15 (UP)—One more undown and the 16 major league clubs will be off in their twin derbies which wind up late next September. Both races are fraught with possibilities. The Yanks are not the cinches the old guard is trying to make them out. The National league race is definitely an omelet in which many chefs will have a finger.

Many unexpected returns may come in early because the ball clubs are far from being in shape to open the season. Some of the athletes, especially pitchers, won't be ready for a couple of weeks. The inclement weather has upset the plans of many pilots.

High spots of the opening day program will be at Washington where the Sox battle the Senators with President Roosevelt in attendance; at Philadelphia where the four-time champion Yankees will begin the quest of their fifth in a row against the Athletics; and at Cincinnati where the Reds begin the defense of their National league title against the Cubs.

As the 16 clubs get ready to go to the post, here's the final call on AMERICAN LEAGUE: Yankees—5-1. Champ will best. Game club with more pressure on veterans Dickey, Ruffing, Gonsky and Cronin.

Reds—5-2. Danger. Pitching and defense improved. Best punch. Indians—3-1. No weakness. infield slicked up at second. Tigers—10-1. No chance. Superior power. Weak in infield.

White Sox—15-1. Outclassed. Pilot Dykes has hands. Senators—30-1. Could surprise. Good speed, need more pitching. Athletics—50-1. Must show more. Pitching weak. Fair punch. Browns—100-1. Doomed. Better defense but woefully weak in box.

NATIONAL LEAGUE: Braves—11-5. Given preference. Pitching strongest. Best pilot. Good balance. Cardinals—11-6. One to fear. Long cover. Superior pitching. Cubs—5-1. Shaky. Split and team work lacking but Bryant and Dean could make them dangerous.

Dodgers—5-1. Champ to figure. Pitching and defense good. Attack needs bolstering. Giants—7-1. Darkhorses. Loaded with top middle infielders inspired by Hibbell's comeback. Pirates—10-1. Possible surprise. Hitful and punchy may offset weak pitching and catching.

Bees—50-1. Pass this. Weak in outfield and second. Pitching only fair. Phillies—100-1. Hopeless. Need plenty of everything.

The fact that it will scarcely have reached print and you will scarcely have had time to read it before the maddest army since General Coxe said "forward march" moves toward an innocent and completely neutral ground called Jamaica.

Jamaica is a race track, comprising little more than a few white-washed buildings, all of which wouldn't quite fill the turf club at Saratoga or the paddock at Arlington park.

Twin Falls Nine Win Over Prison, Loses To Salem Club, 6-2

SALEM, Ore., April 15 (UP)—The Twin Falls Cowboys, champions of the Pioneer league, split a practice double-header over the week-end.

The Cowboys lost a six-inning game here Sunday, 6 to 2, to Salem of the Western Inter-Regional. Hunk Anderson, who pitched for the visitors, was nicked for four runs in the first and two runs in the sixth.

Manager Frank Tobin again used most of the 25 members of his Cowboy squad and the scoring for the Pioneer loop team came in the fourth inning when they pushed across two runs off the offerings of Southpaw Roy Helsor of Salem.

The field was in poor condition for the exhibition contest with the result that the infield didn't perform up to the standard.

Verne Reynolds and Dick Hiller were the hitting stars for the Cowboys, while Dick Waks was also a power in the Twin Falls lineup.

Two Idaho boys on the club, Tommy Bellis, utility man, and Hugo Stauden, catcher, both continued to show high talent and will probably continue to get additional try-outs.

The Twin Falls aggregation swamped the Washington state penitentiary nine at Walla Walla Saturday, 14 to 1.

In the Saturday game against an unusually strong prison team, the Cowboys pounded out 14 hits while holding the inmates to eight. Kendall and Max, Cowboy hurlers, struck out 14 batsmen.

Shoshone City Board Delays Light Action

SHOSHONE, April 15 (Special)—It appeared doubtful today that the city of Shoshone would furnish a lighting system for night softball play for the 1946 season at conclusion of a city board meeting last week.

The board adjourned after deciding that proposal for a city installation of a lighting system at the fairgrounds would not be acted upon until preparation of the annual budget early in the summer.

At the meeting costs of the proposed project were set at a minimum of $200 and the board decided that that amount of money could not be expended without a special appropriation.

CLOWN

Wes Schumacher, the shuffling outliner who dragged men to parks in the Pioneer and Western International league last year, today made plans for a nationwide tour with the House of David semi-pro team, it was announced here.

Schumacher played for the Twin Falls Cowboys a part of last season, spending about six weeks as manager.

A natural clown, he spent most of his energy entertaining fans around the circuit, while performing a good brand of baseball.

BOISE, April 15 (UP)—The state fish and game commission today had approved a study of use of "electric screens" to prevent loss of fish in Idaho streams and reservoirs.

Commissioner M. J. Bottinell of Wallace was asked to make the survey and report on possibility of their use throughout the state.

The commissioners said the screens, which set up high frequency currents in the water to prevent the fish from going where they might be damaged, would solve the problem of losing fish in power dam reservoirs and irrigation canals.

The Pleasant View reservoir in Oneida county will be opened to fishing effective May 1, the commission decided. Action on extension of the fishing season at Hayden lake was expected late today.

HAYDEN LAKE FISHING
BOISE, April 15 (UP)—The Idaho fish and game commission today had voted to extend the fishing season at Hayden lake by moving the opening date to May 13 instead of June 1. The next meeting of the commission will be held in Coeur d'Alene.

It's powered by a big, 95 H.P. Econo-Master engine, and it's the lowest priced car with modern coil springs all around for extra riding comfort. Hoople Makes His Annual Choices for Pennant Winners in '40 Campaign

EDITOR'S NOTE: Hoople was asked to write a special story predicting the winners of the major league campaigns. This was his...

WHAT WILL WE SEE in Idaho, April 15-16-17, this is a delightful little deal for the piece-meal-rump-... concentrate on my system, and remember that I have selected the winners in the big league races!

Some of the changes have been for the better, to be sure. But, Hoopie...

It seems to me the sport lost a medium of color when aluminum and the handkerchief mustache went into the discard. My word, but some of those old teams, with their players literally staggering under hats of facial foliage, played great ball.

The Mask and Wig Club

Think how successful baseball might have become in Russia had this custom been kept!

It seems to me the effeminate note began to creep into the game in 1875, when a player named James Tyng first donned the mask, invented by one of us Hoopies, I believe (or perhaps Fred Thayer). Tyng caught for Harvard. Out of this device grew the Mask and Wig club, which flourished for some years, though the wig never became a great factor in baseball.

The game was hampered by my own suspicious entrance into it in 1889, when Al Spalding invited a crowd of us to tour Hawaii, Australia, Egypt and Europe.

It was in Egypt, I believe, that we coined the term "scratch hit." Sand flies and mosquitoes were rather bad there. Often a player would have to swing his budgeon with one hand while scratching a bite with the other.

Now, as to the major league battles of 1940. There will be a contest virtually every day until October, when I hope to see some of my readers at the "World Series."

Upon that occasion I shall reveal the real reasons WHY I PICKED THE TEAMS I HAVE CHOSEN TO WIN THIS YEAR'S BLUE RIBBON CAMPION!

Then, too, I may let you in on the Hoopie system. Until then, toodle-oo!
