Secret Document Laid Bare

Certain gent in these parts had better beware come kangaroo court time of a Saturday night.

Operative ZYZ-147 stole into our sanctum under cover of nightfall and brought with him a document on which was purloined from the whistler vigilante, who started out as the dirty dozen, then became the thirteenth, got promoted to the fourteenth and now are up to only all kinds know what.

Operative ZYZ-147 vowed that the red ink which the stolen document is written is nothing short of blood. To the skeptical Pot Shots crew, it seems a bit doubtful that a document could be typewritten in blood. But who are we to be a kill-joy?

Anyway, after scanning the list, we suspect that the vigilantes have something in mind for characters who fit the following:

A bulky gent who hangs out at the Brunswick and has threatened to manhandle the first vigilante who lays a finger on him.

An even bulkier gent, who deals in installment financing.

A pretty husky fellow who's an expert on auto tops and bodies, and who avoided the downtown district during the first kangaroo court.

They are others on the document brought us by Operative ZYZ-147, but the blood (or red ribbon) got pretty faint and we couldn't decipher any further.

APRONS FOR LADIES

May I butt in with my suggestion for the ladies at jubilee time?

They should all wearingham aprons for the old-time atmosphere.

For such ladies as are short skirts because they have knees worth displaying, the aprons could be shortened with the use of the new West I nearly think that was permitted.

• SERIAL STORY

K. O. CAVALIER BY JERRY BRONFIELD

WEDNESDAY, Eddie goes into the kitchen and finds Corby kneeling by the fire with Val. Eddie's eyes were fixed on Corby's extra wadded vest. The vest was made by the responsible. Val knows that the responsible.

CHAPTER XXIV

VAL'S heart raced. All Corby Briggs had to do now was work on that cut above Eddie Cavalier's eye. She knew how eye cuts were. When they bled they made a man look like a stuck pig, blinded him and made him helpless.

Secret Document Laid Bare

And it was all her fault. All night long Eddie Cavalier lost this fight on a technical knockout. Sure, he'd climb back up in a year, maybe, but she'd never let him give herself. Worse, he might never forgive her.

KEEP YOUR FACE COVERED

Keep covered. . . . Keep away from him. . . . Slick your left in his face. The instructions were simple in Eddie's brain as he went out for the sixth round. If only that cut would stop bleeding. He wasn't really hurt, but two more rounds and Corby's pounding would begin to tell.

PARISIAN UPHELD IN DAMAGE SUIT

An insurance company's appeal from an adverse decision in probate court had met the same fate today in district court.

Six jurors rejected late yesterday the Acta Insurance company's request for a new trial against Troy-Parisian Launderers and Cleaners as result of a three-way highway crash on U. S. 30 half a mile from Hansen. The crash occurred Christmas eve of 1938.

The verdict gave Troy-Parisian a 50-50 percentage in civil action tried this week in connection with the same accident. Earlier the firm lost a $50 verdict to W. L. The War After the War

No matter who wins the war now ravaging Europe, no matter what kind of a settlement emerges, one thing is certain. It will be followed by a war for trade scarcely less bitter than the military war itself.

Every nation in Europe is frantically expanding its productive facilities. The product of that frenzied activity is being shot away in war, to no one's benefit. But when the war ends and the survivors flock back home, jobs will be a necessity. The expanded factories will await them. The factories must run, for the men must work. They will produce goods for sale. They must be sold.

Sold they will be, by hook or crook, by subsidy or barter or political pressure. Every market in the world will be crowded with them. Into this competitive field, the United States will also be plunged.

How well we shall fare in that maelstrom depends much on what we do now. For instance, Britain is making heroic efforts to continue to export goods in the face of the war effort, in order to hold markets and to provide exchange to buy imports. Yet the United States has already replaced Britain as chief source of Argentina's import trade. Despite the blockade and the sea war, Germany up to February had been contriving to ship to Argentina about one-fourth of her usual export shipments. The war for trade in South America has not even been suspended during the military war.

The United States, inevitably, has been showing great gains, largely at the expense of Germany, but also at that of Britain. Our exports to South America doubled in January as compared with 1939. The Import-Export bank financed sale of nearly $6,000,000 worth of railroad equipment to Brazil. The New York corporation which built the piers of Lima, Peru, has now contracted to build others at Coronel, Chile. Firestone is building a new rubber factory in Brazil. There are other signs of progress.

But all this has distinct limits unless ways can be contrived to import more from South America. International trade must be roughly an exchange if it is to be built on a permanent foundation. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce is already hot on the track to discover non-competitive products which can be more liberally bought by the United States in the south, and to encourage such trade.

All this has an importance beyond the purely commercial. Rivals for this trade do not hesitate to use methods of "economic compulsions shrewdly devised to force great areas into political spheres of influence." Every dollar's worth of trade the United States can secure thus has a benefit beyond the purely commercial. We do not want any such "political spheres of influence." But unless we hold our share of the trade, others have just that much greater opportunity to establish them.

Cruelty, Relative and Absolute

A group of humane people protested when it was decided to try out the effect of the new Barlow explosive on "live tissue" by tethering goats on the proving ground.

Well they might. It is inhuman and cruel. But is it humane to blow the entrails out of a cavalry horse on the battlefield? For that matter, is it humane to stick a pig?

Is it humane to do to the pick of the world's young men exactly what the experimenters plan to do to the goats?

Well, it is being done every day. But we are used to that. The goat business is a novelty.

We are afraid that a world, keyed to a dreary acceptance of daily headlines of "Transport Sunk; 500 Drown," "Russian Division Wiped Out," and "Bomb Raid Kills 40 Civilians" will react but sluggishly to the sacrifice of these modern scapegoats. Yet even so, can't some less cold-blooded but equally effective test be found?

80,000 New Readers

One of the finest of many fine things accomplished by the civilian conservation corps has been to teach 80,000 young men to read.

About three boys of every 100 registering for the camps has proved unable to do so. Using special books designed for young men rather than children, the camp instructors have been able to teach such boys to read a newspaper and to write ordinary letters within three months. Some were able to write letters home within two months.

It is embarrassing to think that somehow these 80,000 young men slipped around the public school system without getting the most elementary preparation for life—the ability to read and write. But better late than never, and the CCC thus sets another feather firmly in its cap.

EXPERTS WEIGH CHANCES FOR SWEDEN TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

ALLIED VICTORY TERMED DANGER TO TINY NATION

By NORMAN B. DEUEL

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Diplomats and military experts piled pins over a map of Sweden today and weighed her chances of keeping out of the war.

Most believed Sweden's chances of remaining out of the war would be considerably improved by a German success in Norway. They felt allied success would tempt Germany to strengthen its forces there through Sweden.

Sweden's chances of remaining out of the war throughout its entirety were not considered good. News reports of Swedish military preparations and the shipment of Swedish gold to the United States, aggregating nearly $100,000,000 since the first of this year, indicated Sweden fears the worst.

Observers believed, however, that a good success in Norway would be German fear of losing access to Swedish iron ore. As long as Sweden is neutral, the allies can make no effort to seize the iron mines.

Officials Arrest Man Who Planned Alaska "Ark" Trip

By WILLIS S. DUNIWAY

SEATTLE, Wash., April 26 (AP)—The "promised land" of Alaska seemed far away to Paul Satko today because he had to win two legal battles before he could resume his voyage in a home-made ark that seamen said would founder in a strong breeze.

Five of his seven children were in juvenile detention home to protect them from their father's "folly." Satko was charged with disorderly conduct for resisting officers who took them from the "Ark of Justice."

Resident of Tacoma, Wash., where he lived for six months while preparing the boat for the long voyage, were coming to his aid. Frank Gillman, president of the Tacoma Junior Chamber of Commerce, posted his $25 bond at night to get him out of jail and a hastily organized Tacoma defense committee telegraphed him to "keep a stiff up."

More than 10,000 Tacoma residents saw the ark sail Sunday.

KLANSMAN GETS STIFF SENTENCE

ATLANTA, Ga., April 26 (AP)—Henry Cauton, Ku Klux Klansman who took part in a terroristic campaign against Negroes and whites in an Atlanta suburb, faced the maximum penalty for a misdemeanor today—one year on the chain gang plus six months in jail. He also must pay a $1,000 fine.

Cauton was the first of 12 Klansmen indicted for the terror to be tried. He was found guilty by a jury of one count of assault and battery—representing one flogging. Sixteen counts were dismissed. He was convicted of flogging P. S. Toney, an organizer for the Congress of Industrial Organization's textile workers union.

Cauton was sentenced immediately when the jury returned its verdict. His attorney gave notice of appeal and he was released in $5,000 bond.

Better Equipped

Military experts were more interested in Sweden's chances of resisting an invasion, should it come. They agreed, generally, that because of the superiority in their equipment and organization of her armed forces she could resist more strongly than Norway did.

There was little doubt, according to most of them, that the powerful German land, sea and air forces would dominate Swedish territory if they were concentrated on the job.

The question probably would depend these experts thought, upon what aid the allies would be able to give the Swedes. They could step up the tempo of the Norwegian campaign, intensify their naval activity in the Skagerrak and Kattegat—extremely hazardous because of the proximity of German bases and air bases—and send expeditionary forces and supplies direct to Sweden.

$25,000 Trained Reserves

Sweden, which has a population of 6,280,000, more than double that of Norway, maintains a peace army of 100,000 regulars and 250,000 trained reserves.

Sweden has an air force of about 300 planes and 150 bombers, ordered in recent months 325 American pursuit planes, but only about 30 have been delivered. The navy consists of three old dreadnought battleships, which have been modernized, five coast defense ships, one cruiser, several destroyers, 16 submarines. Her coast defense guns are numerous and efficient.

Plans Fight

Satko, a 40-year-old unemployed welder from Richmond, Va., said "We'll fight this thing through. They can't prevent a man from seeking an honest living for himself and his family."

As he was preparing to cast off from the Lake Union waterfront yesterday, two police officers, accompanied by Capt. John M. Fox, secretary of the Masters, Mates and Pilots union came aboard.

Captain Fox had served to a complaint the ark was unfit for the 1,200-mile voyage and he said it was particularly the duty of officers to save the children from doom in the "crackerbox."

The six-foot Satko flexed his muscles and said he was "right." He was then arrested for disorderly conduct and all of his children, except Hazel, 10, and Betty, 4, were taken away to the juvenile home.

He said "federal men" had inspected his 40-foot, 10-ton craft and found "seaworthy." Captain Fox asserted the bureau of marine inspection and the U. S. coast guard could not stop the voyage because the ark carried neither cargo or passengers for hire.

"This trip was funny in the beginning, but it's no joke now," Capt. Fox said. "For their own safety, we want those children taken off the boat and placed in the hands of the court, if necessary. I was aboard the yacht in Tacoma. It hasn't enough power for the Alaskan trip. This was demonstrated when it couldn't make headway in a fresh breeze."

Holds Hearing

Superior Judge William G. Long said he would hold a hearing tomorrow to determine what would be done with the children.

RESORT SECURES NEW BASE CAMP

SUN VALLEY, Ida., April 26 (Special)—A 250-acre base camp for fishing and hunting parties who wish to explore the heart of Idaho's rugged primitive area has been organized by the Sun Valley management. R. J. Miles, sports director, announced today.

Miles said that a long term lease had been signed with I. R. Wilson, owner of the old Mormon ranch, which is located on the scenic fork of the Salmon river, some 20 miles west of Meyer's cave, at an elevation of 3,500 feet.

Meat Spot

"The area is an ideal place for a camp site," Miles declared, "and is in the very heart of the primitive area." He said that but a few miles away was Big creek, a stream which he added, was "the best fishing spot in Idaho," long noted for the large rainbow trout which frequent its waters.

"The ranch is located in a canyon with timber on all sides. It is an excellent spot for early fishing and late hunting and is so scenic of snow in that particular area."

At present, there is one main cabin and three tent house areas. A natural hot springs is located nearby.

"In the fall," he said, "we'll be able to provide fresh apples and pears for the guests, since large orchards of both varieties of fruit are right outside the door."

The ranch, Miles pointed out, is in the center of the mountain goat and sheep country and deer literally abound in the region.

"Late in the fall," he added, "after the deer season is over, cougar and bobcat follow in that order, so that hunters operating from the ranch don't have to take any arduous treks into the wilderness. We'll have facilities so that we can have game shipped out as soon as it is killed while the hunter is on the spot until their trip is completed."

Access Fairly Easy

From Sun Valley, the ranch is reached by motor either over Gilena or Trail creek summit past Chialis to Meyer's cave. There a 20-mile horseback ride completes the journey.

BIGAMIST GETS SENTENCE TODAY

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 26 (AP)—Boyd Burke, the "marring milkman," appears today before Superior Judge William F. James to be sentenced for bigamy. After a year in the Agnew state hospital he was reported sane yesterday by Dr. James Cutting and returned for sentencing. Burke, 24 and handsome, was arrested in December, 1938, when he was found living with two brides although he had another wife in Idaho.

Wife No 1 was Dorothy Mason-Burke, said to be living with her parents in Idaho. She left Burke in 1936. Wife No. 2 was Evelyn Hopping of San Jose. Wife No. 3 was Lillian Olivera, 17, of Modesto.

Miss Hopping and Miss Olivera were the best of friends, living and sleeping together and going out together in the evening with their one husband when authorities stepped in. Yes, they knew Burke's first wife had left him. They said they were trying to work out their problem in their own way.

Miss Olivera said she married Burke in October, 1938, and followed him to San Jose, where she found him living with Mrs. Hopping. She had married the previous July.

"Well, we talked it all over," said Miss Olivera, "and we decided there was no use in making a fuss about it. We decided we could all live happily ever after."

But the law said "no." Burke was convicted of bigamy, but when officials said he had the mentality of an eight-year-old child, he was ordered confined in the state hospital.

Under the law, Burke faces a sentence of from one to 10 years.

FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION TROOPS FIGHT IN NORWAY

BRITISH FIGHTER PLANES OPERATE ON NORTH FRONT

By WEBB MILLER
LONDON, April 25 (Special)—British fighter planes are now operating in Norway and French troops, reported to be men of the famous Foreign Legion, are going into action on the Stenlinek front, it was disclosed today.

Five of our aircraft have been shot down by our anti-air guns and fighters in Norway, and eight others have been damaged, an air ministry communique said. "Some of our fighter craft engaged in operations have been damaged by bombing attacks."

Resuming their offensive against German air bases, royal air force bombers destroyed an enemy flying boat and enemy bomber over the North sea, seriously damaged another flying boat and a third.

Both British and French troops had established contact with Norwegian troops in the Trondheim area, it was said, and were supporting them to the full. But, it was added, German troops were pressing inland from the coast, supported by airplanes and using armored fighting vehicles.

Admitting frankly British forces were having a difficult time in Norway, a military spokesman said Britain was determined to go on with the job and see it through. The spokesman said it would be a German attack on Norway in disregard for international law that gave Germany the initial advantage. British being unwilling to use methods of treachery, the spokesman said, "lost the first trick" and had to resort to force at once. Those troops who were available.

British forces were compelled to use poor port facilities to improve landings, the spokesman said, and in their first landings, were able to take only what weapons they could carry. The official and other news from Norway indicated allies and Germans were now in position for a fresh fight on two fronts with the control of mid-Norway at stake.

Norwegian troops in the Osterdalen valley, over by the Swedish border, were reported to have dynamited and blocked the valley highway in order to halt the German advance in the region. But, it was believed to have halted activities at Narvik, in the north.

Knoll
Knoll Grange members were entertained by the Park Lane orchestra under the direction of T. J. Brown. Cella Boyd played the violin and accompanied. The violins were played by Edith Lafontaine, Mary Wohlhab and Lawrence Paxton; the guitar by Mrs. Bobbie Williams and Loren Dize. Zenda and Nova Dean Grey took the parts of clown dancers. Tommy Huston played clarinet, Raymond O'Connell the accordion; George Paxton the mandolin, while Tommy Boyd as the violinist composed his own accompaniment on the guitar. Much praise is due Mr. Brown as instructor of the students. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cleve served refreshments to members and guests.

FARM ACTIVITIES MAKE ADVANCES

Farming activities in Idaho made good advances during the week ending April 23, a summary received by the Twin Falls Canal company from the U. S. department of agriculture weather bureau shows today.

Some fields, the summary states, in the late sections of the state were too wet to work but in the west closed these were drying rapidly.

Early Crops Good
Early seeded crops and gardens are up to good stands but warmth and sunshine are needed for rapid growth.

Meadows are mostly in good condition except a few fields in the north which suffered some winter-killing. Pastures and ranges have made a very good start in the late sections and in the early sections are furnishing considerable feed.

Winter wheat is generally quite promising. Fruit are in blossom or have passed the bloom stage. Alfalfa, parsnip, rhubarb and spinach are on the market in some early sections.

Precipitation for the week exceeded one inch in northern Twin Falls county and in northern Power and southwestern Bingham counties. Over the remainder of the state, falls were generally light and in portions of the Snake river valley in excellent stands. Meadows, pastures and ranges good; apricots and peaches blooming.

Casea Crops Past
Included in the notes from correspondents were the following reports:
Casea county—Burley: Heavy rain during early part of week; all crops growing fast; ground being prepared for planting.

Lincoln county, Richfield: Spring rains being needed; meadows fair; over the remainder of the state, falls were generally light and in portions of the Snake river valley in excellent stands. Meadows, pastures and ranges good; apricots and peaches blooming.

Twin Falls county, Buhl: Plenty of moisture in soil; small grains up to excellent stands; meadows, pastures and ranges good; apricots and peaches blooming.

Rain Predicted, But All Games Will Be Started

SALT LAKE CITY, April 26 (U.P.)—Play ball will ring in three cities in Utah and Idaho this afternoon after fitting ceremonies, and the 1940 season of the Pioneer league will be under way.

In Boise, Salt Lake City and Pocatello, state leaders and colorful figures will toss out the baseballs which will start the intermountain country's only professional baseball circuit into action.

The Salt Lake City ceremony will be under the direction of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and will feature Gov. Henry H. Blood as the man to throw out the first ball of the game between the Bees and the Ogden Reds.

A parade through the streets of Boise will precede opening of the Boise-Twin Falls team. Own rivalry In Pocatello, Mayor Robert M. Terrell of Pocatello and Chas. Clark of Idaho Falls will precede the diamond battle with a little friendly rivalry of their own. Fireworks are scheduled for the city streets of Boise on the night of the opening.

Both Improved The Boise Ball Bees and the Ogden Reds appear greatly improved over last year's seasons. The Bees will show their greatest improvement in Manager Tony Rebbello, who was obtained from the Pocatello Cardinals. Under direction of Manager Bill McCarty, the Bees have changed their team around last year's reliable veterans. The Cincinnati chain has imported center fielder Alton Jones, who should make the Ogden club a little contender.

The new Idaho Falls Basees, who will boast several former Lewiston stars, will meet the unknown Pocatello entry, which has a galaxy of former sport players who should make the Ogden club a little contender.

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By United Press
Contrary to reports of his intended retirement, the heavyweight Champion Joe Louis said today he planned to defend his title at least twice this summer.

As Cowboys Dined With Twin Falls Fans

The Times cameraman called on a banquet honoring the Twin Falls Cowboys at the Park hotel last evening and here are three shots of fans and players. The dinner was planned as a get-together between those who do the forming and those who sit in the stands. Top picture, reading left to right—back and away around the table: Francis Bellows, Jim Reynolds, Ken Wyatt, Spee Haslam, Bob Burslein, E. A. Bringer, W. W. Lowery and Bo Brown. Center: Albert Huff, Al Westergren, Tommy Betts, Hal Wood, Ken Gables, Hank Anderson, George Driveller and Paul Johnson. Below: Paul Calk, Jimmy Sinclair, John Yagle, Tommy Canavan, Hugh Faulkner, Skip Towan (back to camera), Dick Hiller.

Twin Falls Cowboys were in Boise this afternoon for the scheduled opening of the Pioneer league season—but they spent a full day in their home city—being dined and "met" by local baseball fans.

San Diego Win Closes Gap In Coast Race

(By United Press)
San Diego, with Dick Newsome on the mound, turned back Oakland, 5 to 0, last night. The victory enabled the Padres to climb within a half game of the Cubs, Pacific Coast league leaders. Newsome, in turning in his fifth victory, held the hits to one hit.

The Los Angeles club went on a hitting rampage, beating the Portland Beavers in a doubleheader, 16 to 2 and 10 to 0.

Rugger Avila was effective in turning back Sacramento with six hits, and Hollywood broke a four-game losing streak by a 4 to 2 score.

The Seattle-San Francisco game at Seattle was called off because of rain.

Vandal Track Team Meets Stars of OSC

MOSCOW, April 26 (U.P.)—An underdog University of Idaho track team met the stars of Oregon State college Saturday in the Vandal's third dual track meet.

Regarded as strong in the distance runs and field events, the Gem state team lacks material for hurdle race, and middle distance races.

Coach Mike Ryan said. Only surprising performances by second and third place men in the Vandal's specialty are the probable Idaho squeak through with a victory over the Beavers, Ryan believes.

Interest will be centered on the one-mile run where Phil Lebowitz is expected to come close to establishing a new Idaho mark.

The Vandal dual track meet last year galloped off a 4:17 time in the four-lap event. Ryan believes from five intermountain regions states will take part in the Brigham Young university invitational track and field meet and relay carnival today and tomorrow.

Added to the spectacle presented by the high school students, will be the appearance of Greg Rice, Notre Dame distance runner. Rice, who recently broke the world's indoor record for the three mile, will meet several local performers in a special race Saturday at 3 p. m.

Idaho Mentor Ends Spring Cage Practice

MOSCOW, April 26 (U.P.)—Twenty-three men, the largest number ever to participate in varsity basketball at the University of Idaho, wind up the first part of the 1940 spring basketball practice this afternoon.

With only two members of the 1939-40 hoop squad lost by graduation, Coach Forrest Twoogood welcomed back eight interloper from last season's court campaign which he began spring drills two weeks ago.

Supplementing the powerhouse group of experienced men is the largest aggregation of freshmen in history since Twoogood said yesterday. The Vandal yearlings scored one of the most impressive seasons yet, winning more than 49 games and one over its rival last season.

Hugh Casey Defeats Phils, 3-1; Dean Wins for Chicago Cubs

(By GEORGE KIRKSEY)
NEW YORK, April 26 (U.P.)—Change the name of Arkansas, vote for Winterbottom for president, sing the Whiffenpoof song—do anything you care to but don't make the colossal mistake of even intimating the Brooklyn Dodgers aren't world series bound. If you do, stay far away from the land of Flatbush.

You can easily be mobbed for suggesting the Dodgers are likely to lose a ball game some time soon.

The Dodgers are the only unbeaten team in the majors with only straight victories. Somehow the Dodger fan ignores the fact the Dodgers' victories have been scored at expense of the pitiful Boston Bees, who haven't won a game, the pathetic Phillies, who've won only one, and the Glants, who are in the formative stage.

Burley School Golfers Win

BURLEY, April 26 (Special)—In a four-corrected meet staged here yesterday, golfer of Burley won by scoring four and one-half points. Jerome came in second with three corrects, followed by Gooding and Buhl.

Next high school meet for the local club will be on Wednesday at the Clear Lakes course near Buhl.

Dodger Bandwagon

There's no answer to the Brooklyn chant. Until the day of reckoning all must ride the Dodger bandwagon or keep quiet. Hugh Casey did his stuff against Pittsburgh, leading the Phils 4-1, for victory No. 2. Don Phillips' homer was the winning clutch.

Dizzy Dean came back from the graveyard to yank the Cincinnati Reds out of the unbeaten club. He pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 victory, outdueling Paul Derringer. He gave up only five hits.

The Cardinals' power exploded 22 hits as St. Louis beat out the Pirates, 10-9. Pepper Martin, with three hits, drove in four runs.

Bill Lohman, allowing six hits, pitched the New York Glants to their third straight win, a 9-1 triumph over the Bees. Burgess Whitehead hit a home run through the infield.

Germans Land Added Troops at Norwegian Seaports

INVADERS ADMIT BRITISH PLANES DO RAID DAMAGE

BERLIN, April 26 (UP)—The high command said today more troops and supplies had reached Trondheim, from where a German force is driving southward attempting to join a German motorized force moving north from Oslo, to cut Norway in two at its middle.

The high command's communique admitted British planes had attacked the Trondheim airport and damaged several planes there.

It said British planes had bombed Oslo again last night, but failed to effect any military damage, while the civilian effect in the city was not yet established.

German newspapers have been bitterly protesting against alleged British bombings of civilians lately, leading to belief in some quarters retaliation is planned. It has been charged that since April 12 the British have bombed Oslo and Trondheim at Hellignesen, in Schleswig-Holstein, Oslo twice, and "the bathing beach" at Menningstad on the island of Sju where Germany has a seaplane base.

The high command said German bombers had destroyed six British planes parked on an improvised airport between Dombas and Andalsnes, in central Norway.

Also, as a result of bomb attacks, it said, "one British mine sweeper and one transport ship were grounded, one torpedo boat was forced to halt, one tanker listed heavily and was deserted by its crew and one supply ship's boiler exploded."

It said British naval forces "continue to bombard Narvik."

FRANCE'S ENVOY CALLS ON CIANO

ROME, April 26 (UP)—Diplomatic quarters understood today the French ambassador, Andre Francois-Poncet, had called on Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano in possibly a final attempt to smooth out Italian-French differences and Ciano had said his "the moment is not opportune" for such discussions.

Francois-Poncet visited Ciano at Chigi palace the day after his return from Paris, where he had conferred with French Premier Paul Reynaud and other officials. Usually reliable informants said he had told Ciano France was willing to sincerely consider outstanding problems between the two countries providing the resumption of discussions did not involve any prior commitments by France.

Reynaud said in a speech a few days ago the possibility of an Italian-French understanding on Mediterranean affairs was possible. It was believed Franco-Poncet had followed up this overture with the visit to Ciano. The Italian-French differences are understood to involve Italy's "racial aspirations"—Corsica, Tunisia and a share in the Suez canal.

It was learned from both French and Italian sources here Ciano had made a negative reply. Another source, usually reliable, said Francois-Poncet had intimated this might be the last time France would be in a position to make overtures.

RUSSIANS OFFER METAL FOR SALE

NEW YORK, April 26 (UP)—Russian tinmen are offering between 12,000 and 15,000 tons of copper for resale in the market here, trade quarters said today.

Part of the metal being offered, it is said, represents copper purchased by Russian interests in this market recently for shipment to Vladivostok. According to these reports several shipments of copper designated for the Russian for eastern port were transhipped from American steamers to Russian boats off a Mexican port. It is believed that some of this metal, and perhaps some of foreign origin, may have been returned to this country for resale.

Trade quarters said the Russian offerings were not being pressed for sale but is available for both domestic and export shipment.

Copper continued to move in fairly heavy volume in the domestic market at the 11 1/2 cent price quoted recently for prompt and cash shipment, with June and July delivery quoted at 11.20 to 11.25 c. a. a.
