City Agrees to Furnish Material for WPA Reservoir

Cost Will Mount to Nearly $4,000 for Additional Cement

Members of the city council, in emergency session called just before noon today by Mayor Joe Koehler, agreed to furnish all materials necessary to assure completion of the 5,000,000-gallon reservoir now being constructed south of the city by the WPA.

The action came after the WPA two days ago had informed the officials that no more government funds would be available to purchase materials and that labor only would be provided.

Attempting to work through Sen. D. Worth Clark, Mayor Koehler and the four councilmen had sought to have the order changed but this morning Finance Commissioner Paul R. Taber, in a telephone conversation during the session with Dean Miller, WPA administrator for Idaho at Boise, learned that the project would be shut down tonight unless the city agreed to provide for all material which will be needed on the job.

She Says "No"

Through a misunderstanding at a session two days ago, which was attended by WPA officials, it was believed that $2,500 worth of cement would see the work completed. However, this morning it was disclosed that the amount would be approximately $4,000 because the WPA officials in Washington have ordered the 895 bags of cement now on the project, plus 1,000 which have been ordered for delivery, to be "withdrawn immediately."

IDAHO GOP DELEGATION MAY BE PLEDGED FOR DEWEY VOTE

GOVERNOR COMES OUT IN SUPPORT OF NEW YORKER

By ELOY TELING

BOISE, May 2 (UP)—Statements by party leaders indicated today that Idaho's Republican delegation to the national convention might be pledged to support racket-busting Thomas E. Dewey for the presidential nomination.

The question will be decided finally when 209 delegates from 44 Idaho counties meet in Lewiston Monday, May 6, to name the persons who will cast the state's eight votes at the Philadelphia gathering.

A national committee and national committeewoman will also be elected.

Tom Heath, Republican state chairman, said a tour of western states convinced him Dewey would draw more votes at the national convention than any other prospective candidate. He said he did not know how the state's delegates would be instructed to vote, but that sentiment had been expressed favoring Dewey.

Supports Dewey

Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen, however, was more direct.

"The Idaho delegation would make no mistake in supporting Dewey," Bottolfsen said in a statement written for the pre-campaign speeches at the New York district attorney.

Many county chairmen have expressed the opinion Dewey would be favored and Kootenai county's chairman, W. B. McFarland, made an outright prediction the state delegation would be instructed in favor of the New Yorker.

The fact that no other Republican presidential aspirant was being boosted in the state as strongly as Dewey lends additional support to the possibility he would have the state's votes. His name will go before the convention with almost no opposition, it was believed.

No Legal Binding

However, the convention could decide to send an unpledged delegation or even split the votes between several candidates. Even an instructed delegation would not be legally bound to vote for him. The state has no statute controlling the action of political convention delegates and only a moral obligation to the state party convention would hold them.

On his visit here, Heath said much of the convention proceedings would be broadcast. Former Judge Everett E. Hunt of Sandpoint will deliver the keynote speech and act as temporary chairman.

Gov. Bottolfsen said he would not be able to attend the convention because of meetings elsewhere, but it was reliably reported he would announce his candidacy for reelection shortly after the state gathering.

Mrs. Emma Clouch of Twin Falls will seek reelection at the convention as national committeewoman and committeewoman.

CITY AGREES TO PAY FOR CEMENT

had succeeded in the mayor passed when his vote was called for. Carl Ritchey and Lionel Dean, the other council members, voted in favor.

Koehler also refused to sign the letter which was handed to WPA officials this afternoon and which told of the decision the city had reached.

"I want to keep myself in the clear," the mayor said. "I'm not whipped yet."

The other four councilmen, however, said that any delay now would result in a dangerous water shortage here this summer and that such a condition could not be risked unless it was impossible to do otherwise.

Koehler and other members of the council, however, agreed to continue working through Senator Clark in an effort for the city to receive credit for the bags of cement which were on the project and which had been ordered.

HIDES TWIN FALLS FOR OMITTING TUG-OF-WAR

Dear Mr. Editor:

Most of the Jerome people enjoyed your bridge celebration very much but the failure to hold the tug-of-war left a sour taste in their mouths and some were heard to say that Twin Falls was afraid of being beat, so left the rope at home. Another said something about the man who was to bring the rope skipped town, some said he got pickled and forgot about it and all in all, it was a sour ending to what started out to be an outstanding celebration.

The boys from the north side who were ready to pull in the tug of war, and there were about 25 to 30 of them, were itching to get their hands on the rope and pull those Twin Falls dudes into submission in a mighty short order. It might also be mentioned that three or four of us driving over the country lining up enough men to make the event a success... with what result? Twin Falls forgot to bring the rope! What a sorry excuse for someone to make.

Now if the Twin Falls boys were afraid of losing their money they should have spoke up, because the north side boys would have pulled for fun. As it is, they feel like they got let down pretty badly when someone skipped town with the rope. The boys felt they won the tug-of-war, by default if you want to call it that, and have about 50 bucks coming from someone. It'll be quite a while before they forget how Twin Falls let them down on this tug-of-war deal. We're disgusted!

Yours for another tug-of-war,
JOHN STRICKEL

AILSHIE, CURTIS SEEK REELECTION

BOISE, May 2 (UP)—Two leading state officers—Chief Justice James F. Ailshie of the Idaho supreme court and Secretary of State George H. Curtis—today announced they would seek reelection in the August primaries.

Chief Justice Ailshie, seeking his fourth term on the Idaho bench, made known his intentions in a brief announcement which merely stated he would "seek reelection."

In announcing candidacy for the Democratic nomination, Curtis stated:

"Two years ago I told the people that I would discharge the duties of this office without fear or favor and with courtesy and good will. I think my record supports my promise. In addition I have now had valuable experience in the business of state government.

Curtis Aims

"It is my sole purpose to give the most efficient and economical service within my power in return for the trust and confidence bestowed upon me by the people of the state of Idaho."

Ailshie, who at one time was the youngest chief justice in the nation, will run on the non-partisan judiciary ballot. The chief justice has served the state in a number of offices. After being graduated from Willamette university in Salem, Ore., he was admitted to practice in Idaho and Oregon in 1891. Eleven years later he became a member of the supreme court for the first time. He sought the office again in 1908 and in 1924, being elected each time.

Headed Bar Groups

Ailshie was president of the Idaho State Bar association in 1922 and again in 1934. An active leader in the American Bar association, he was named to the board of directors in 1926 and elected vice-president in 1934. In the general election of 1934, the first election held under the non-partisan judiciary law, he carried the state by a majority of 23,000.

Curtis was graduated from the University of Idaho and attended Oxford university in England as a Rhodes scholar. Before election as secretary of state, Curtis operated a farm near Boise and served four terms in the state legislature as representative from Ada county.

DETAILS CHARTED FOR M'NUTT VISIT

Place and time for the May 15 address in Twin Falls by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator and Democratic presidential candidate, were announced today by associated Bourbon groups acting as sponsors.

McNutt will speak at 7:45 p. m. May 15 in the Twin-Falls high school auditorium.

Twin Falls county Young Democratic club and the Democratic Women's club of the county will be sponsors. Their bids, together with the invitation from Mayor Joe Koehler, brought appearance of the distinguished Democrat.

Since the state Democratic delegate convention will be held the day after McNutt talks in Twin Falls, Bourbons from all parts of Idaho will throng the auditorium for his address.

Mr. McNutt will stop at the Rogerson hotel. He will be driven here by auto caravan from Boise, where he speaks during the afternoon. He is expected to reach Twin Falls about 8 p. m., stay overnight, and then leave for the coast. He is making the bulk of his transcontinental tour by airplane.

His election came after the presentation of his report on the past year's work, showing progress in all departments, and the forming of two new churches, the Church of the Nazarene at Rupert, and the Emmanuel Nazarene church at Boise.

Members of the advisory board, also elected during the morning session, are Dr. Thomas E. Mangum, Nampa; Rev. Melza Brown, who has been transferred from Springfield, O., and will soon become part of the Nampa Nazarene church; Charles Colney, and Roy Stanton, both of Nampa.

'AD' BODY SEES SPUD ADVANCES

BOISE, May 2 (Special)—The Idaho advertising commission looked back this week with satisfaction over three years of effort to improve the lot of 20,000 potato producers.

Members of the present commission, appointed by Gov. O. A. Bottolfsen a year ago, surveyed the results of a nationwide campaign and pointed with pride to facts and figures that showed consumption had been increased and that prices had risen to the highest point in two years.

And they looked back nearly three score years to 1862, when 2,000 acres of land in Idaho was planted in potatoes and produced an average of 125 bushels to the acre—a crop of 250,000 bushels, virtually for home consumption.

And they looked back to 1939 when 129,000 acres of Idaho land produced an average of 230 bushels an acre—a crop of 29,570,000 bushels that was valued by federal experts at $125,000.

During the past year, with only $60,000, the commission carried to the far corners of the nation through the press, radio, placards, and by public contact—the story of the Idaho potato; the soil that makes it particularly outstanding as a food; educated the public in the best ways to prepare Idaho potatoes, and brought to additional thousands a realization of its qualities.

And, incidentally, it gave the public a glimpse of the grower as a contributor to a variety of fields; gave him a taste of his merited glory.

Dietitians of a middle western university hailed the Idaho produced potato as an essential on their football training menu.

Chemists told of the value of the potato in furnishing necessary vitamins and other chemicals in the diet of children and adults.

The late Sen. William E. Borah glorified the growers as greater contributors to human welfare than most of the lawmakers.

In thousands of homes, economics classes, cooking schools, mites, testimony was paid through the press to the ingenuity of the Idaho potato grower.

Consumption Gains
And, as the story of the Idaho potato spread, its consumption increased and returns to the farmer grew toward a point where his toll began to bring him a little profit.

But the task is a never ending one, and the commission late in May will meet again to plot the future course in the hope of further improving the lot of the grower.

STARLINGS GIVE COUNTRY THE BIRD

(By NEA Service)

WASHINGTON — Noisy as a war argument, persistent as a spring cold and just as welcome; unpleasant, disagreeable, messy and cantankerous, the starling is nevertheless here to stay.

Gradually spreading from the Atlantic to the Rockies, in cities whose buildings it has turned into teeming bird roosts, the starling has in 50 years succeeded in becoming a major nuisance. But nobody knows what to do about it.

Some peanut-brained attendant, turned the first ones loose from New York's Central park's zoo on that unlucky day in the 90s, experts of the U. S. biological survey believe.

Until 1928 the birds stayed pretty close to the eastern seaboard, and the rest of the country mickered at arch stories telling of vain and ludicrous attempts in New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore to shoot the pesky starlings away from their nightly conclaves around the corners of all the more elaborate public buildings. The nightly din, the defacement of marble colonnades, was subject for many a poet. But it isn't so funny now, for the starlings are moving west, and have appeared as far away as Utah. West coasters fear it is only a question of time until some bold pair makes a non-stop flight over the Rockies.

New birds arriving in this country are usually killed off by the old timers. Not so the starlings. They don't bother sparrows or robins because they don't nest in the open, but in the dark, damp, downy buildings. They don't bother pigeons, because they eat insects and fruits and shun the peanut-and-grain diet of city pigeons.

Every effort to get rid of the starling has flopped. And since London has tried vainly for 100 years to scare them off with Roman candles or balloons, to annoy them by beating dishes, to drown them out with fire hose, it appears that a better trick must be found here. Only one bird scares them, the owl—even a stuffed one will do it. But it's tough to get enough owls together to do the trick—and anyway substituting owls for starlings is merely leaping from a frying-pan to a fire.

Poisoning them won't do, for the starlings dine out. They leave their downtown nests at crack of dawn, and scour the countryside as far as 15 miles away for insects. Then they return, like a crack bombing squadron, at night, to jabber

'They spend themselves into days in country, sleep atop the city buildings. Farmers and fruit growers generally don't mind them. The birds eat the insects that eat the grain and fruit. A few cattlemen, however, have complained lately that in eating insects off cattle the starlings are taking chunks out of the cattle, causing them to run thin.

In the cities, where they nest in droves, the starlings are about as popular as hay fever, and just as hard to get rid of.

Stuffed owls scare them.

They enjoy Roman candles.

They spend themselves into days in country.

New 6-Point Fitting Plan for BUSTER BROWN SHOES

Scientific fitting service insures correct fit at all vital points.

MOTHERS, do you realize that almost 90 per cent of grown-ups suffer from foot trouble caused by incorrectly fitted shoes in childhood?

The bones of children's feet are soft and pliable so that little feet quickly take the shape of the shoes they are wearing. If these shoes are wrong, the soft little foot bones easily become distorted, and foot troubles begin.

Realizing the great importance of correctly fitted shoes, Buster Brown has developed a new scientific fitting service that tends to eliminate guesswork and assures correct fit at all the vital points of the child's foot.

We are proud to be headquarters for the 6-Point Fitting Plan. It means that we are able to do a perfect fitting job for your child every time you bring him in for Buster Browns.

WAR RUMORS PLUNGE RUMANIAN PEOPLE INTO GLOOM

SHOW-DOWN SEEN ON ITALY PLANS TO AID GERMANY

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, Jr.
BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 2 (Special)—A new rush of war rumors plunged King Carol's capital into gloom today.

The most persistent of them indicated show-down was at hand in the Mediterranean that was bound to have violent repercussions in the Balkans, and Rumania had been warned German action against her was impending.

Rumanians returning to the capital after the five-day (orthodox) Easter holiday, found rumors circulating Great Britain's order to her merchant ships to stay out of the Mediterranean was a prelude to closing that sea to all ships; that Turkish troops were moving along the mainland opposite the Italian-owned Dodecanese islands, whose naval and air bases dominate the Aegean sea.

Warned of Action
 They heard reports King Carol had gone secretly to the Yugoslav border during the week-end for an important conference with Prince Paul, regent of Yugoslavia, and that while the king was gone, the government was warned of impending German action. It was not explained whether this warning referred to invasion of some sort or "fifth column" disturbance or both, but it was known the government had hurriedly sent troops to such strategic places as airdromes, communications headquarters, oil fields, radio stations and public buildings, and that 8,000 picked gendarmes had been rushed into Transylvania to assist local police. Rumania got Transylvania from Hungary as a result of the World war.

The direct plot against Rumania, if one existed, apparently had been dealt with satisfactorily and the Mediterranean situation temporarily was the center of attention. Many Rumanians believed the overtures to Italy last week by France's Premier Paul Reynaud were the allies' last peaceful gesture toward Benito Mussolini, and since he apparently had rejected them, Britain and France now were determined to force him to "put up or shut up."

It was believed here that influential circles in both France and Britain hoped Mussolini would decide to "put up." His joining Germany in the war would immediately bring Turkey in on the side of the allies. The allies have a treaty with Turkey providing she will assist them in any war in the Mediterranean. Turkey's entrance in the war would bring the storm to all southeastern Europe.

"Mystery Airplane"
 Among other rumors was that a "mystery airplane" arriving here Sunday with copies of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's statement that Great Britain had planned to invade Norway before the Germans did so, had carried two mysterious passengers, who may have stayed here. Although the rumor seemed untrue, it was said the passengers were believed to be German Air Marshal Hermann Goering and his brother, a heavy industry official, or Ribbentrop himself.

The "fifth column" or "Trojan horse" rumors gained some credence when police submitted to the ministry of interior yesterday the names of 300 persons recommended for expulsion from the country. A large majority of these were said to be German agents, some in disguise.

CLOVER
 Gathering at the John A. Jagels home Sunday to celebrate the ninth birthday of Verneta Jagels and Rose Reinke were Gladys Persigeli, Garnet Jean Gihring, Lula Mae Dierker, Conchita Westerkamp and Connie Hamby.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thiele and family moved Friday to the Twin Falls area. The past four years they have occupied the tenant house on the H. F. Knap farm.

Mrs. Reuben Lierman entertained at a lilac tea last week.
 Herman, Irvin and Mrs. Bernice Braun were here from Gooding Sunday to visit with the Arnold Schroeders.

Among those from here who motored to the tornado area at Gooding and Wendell Sunday were the John Meyers, Ernest Meyers and Otto Hahns.

Trinity Lutheran church Ladies Aid society met Thursday for their regular meeting at the school house. Mrs. Robert Adolf was hostess.

Milton Lierman recently traded his mercantile stock and store building at Clover for an 80 acre farm located between Wendell and Hagerman. The Liermans have moved into the house vacated by the Thiemes on the Knap farm.

It Must Be Love

The maternal instinct in animals certainly produces some weird friendships. Who would ever think that this six-year-old Splitz dog would ever take up with a couple of baby mice? But she did. Found them in a closet in the Atlanta, Ga., home of her owner, Mrs. P. L. Parker. Dog is also foster-mother of a cat, but for obvious reasons, kitty was kept out of the picture.

Shirley's Parents Quarrel With Studio on Retirement

By PAUL HARRISON
 (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—Real story behind the discussion of Shirley Temple's retirement from the screen is that the parents of the Wonder Tot have been quarreling with her boss, Darryl Zanuck.

Mr. Zanuck became a little apprehensive about Shirley's popularity after he watched some of her recent expensive pictures take a beating at the boxoffice.

"The Blue Bird," most costly of all Temple productions, has done such poor business that Shirley herself heard about it and made a quip about the Blue Bird laying an egg.

So the executive head of 20th Century-Fox decreed that future pictures starring the Marvel Moppet would be made on greatly reduced budgets. They would rank along with the Jane Withers films, which are tremendous money-makers because of their low original cost.

George and Gertrude Temple don't like the idea at all. Their feeling, shared by a great many other people in Hollywood, is that Shirley has not been very wisely handled lately, and that she should have been kept in the type of vehicles which originally made her famous. More singing and dancing, and not so much heavy drama.

Normal Childhood
 The parents have planned a partial retirement for Shirley when her current contract expires in June, 1941. They want her to enjoy a more normal childhood and would allow her to do as she pleases about returning to full-time studio work when she's 16 or 17. Meanwhile, they hoped that her star status could be maintained, and her future career assured if she wanted one, by making about one picture a year.

Only a Garbo or a Chaplin can remain a screen celebrity while making such rare appearances. Obviously, if their plan for Shirley were carried out, her annual film would have to be something pretty pretentious. She certainly couldn't hold her place with the big-timers by appearing once a year in a B-budget flicker produced by Sol Wurtzel.

May Soothe All
 If the disagreement continues between the Temples and Zanuck, it may end with immediate and amicable cancellation of her contract. Thereafter she might continue at Fox under some new arrangement, or she might freelance very profitably among all the studios.

Changes are, though, that the difficulty will be solved with the release of her current picture, "The Young People." It's exactly the sort of story in which Shirley should be cast. If it turns out to be a hit, Zanuck may concede the argument.

One of Shirley's staunchest fans at the studio, fortunately, is the director of "The Young People," Alan Dwan says flatly that anybody who thinks the kid is washed up is crazy.

"Whenever you find a boy or girl or a youngster who looks like people would like their sons, daughters or sweethearts to look, you've got a boxoffice favorite," he theorized. "Any mother would like to have a daughter of 11 like Shirley; just notice how many of 'em try to make their daughters look like her."

HOUSING PROJECT TO BE OUTLINED

A Record!

JEROME, May 2 (Special)—In addition to having nearly everything of what it takes to make a good county, Jerome was very proud this week to boast of having not a single traffic fatality in the last 16 months.

This is a real record and Jerome has been noted as the only county in this section to have such a record.

In connection with the celebration of removal of the toll from the bridge span Tuesday, Jerome Jaycees placed a huge banner on this side of the bridge advertising this admirable record. The banner read:

"In the last 16 months no traffic fatalities.—Help keep this record."

FARLEY ACCUSES G. O. P. OF "TROJAN HORSE" TACTICS

DEMO CANDIDATE LAUDS EXECUTIVE FOREIGN POLICY

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley charged today that the Republican party has adopted "Trojan horse" tactics by donning an ill-fitting cloak of liberalism in an effort to slip into power.

Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee and himself a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, vigorously defended President Roosevelt's domestic and foreign policies in an address before more than 4,000 women attending a "national institute of government," sponsored by the Democratic women's division.

President Roosevelt's "Democratic victory" in November, Farley said:

"The course of events has done more than demonstrate that the domestic and foreign policies of the administration are sound and essentially right; it has demonstrated that any other program of policies would have menaced the national well-being. To the wise foresight of this administration we owe the fact that not a single American life has been lost in belligerent waters. To the wise foresight of this administration, we owe the fact that the United States has emerged from the deepest industrial depression in history with its human resources and natural resources in better shape than when the depression set in. This is the record on which we propose to wage the presidential campaign."

He said that Republicans were unable to work out a program of their own so "they propose to appropriate what they like to call the 'best features' of the Democratic program."

"We propose to keep that program for ourselves," he declared. "To borrow a phrase from the current war dispatches, we are deeply suspicious of Trojan horses and, I may add, the American public is likewise suspicious."

"The Republican effort to slip into power by donning the cloak of liberalism, a garment which has always been ill-fitting for the G. O. P. is too apparent to fool anyone."

Rochelle Hudson, 25-Year-Old Actress, Becomes Glamor Girl

BY PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—In case you haven't noticed the change in Rochelle Hudson, who for 11 years and 75 pictures was a sort of prodigal princess of the gilded temples of the drama, I should like to point out her emergence as a glamor girl.

I don't mean "omph girl," because away back in 1922, when she appeared in a fur sarong in "The Savage Girl," Miss Hudson displayed plenty of that quality. Today she is seen in almost equally interesting evening things—skin tight—but in the loosely termed category of sophisticate. Instead of sobbing in her chimney corner, she thumbs a ride in a pumpkin taxi, cratches the ball and leaves it (alone) with a pair of glass slippers AND a mink coat.

Her Marriage Changed Things.

"The usual routine is to begin as a glamor girl and then go into dramatic roles," she said. "I just reversed the formula."

"The reason, so far as I can see, is that I'm married. Producers don't like to admit the passage of time. They got into the habit of thinking of me as a 14-year-old kid who could emote at the drop of a remark. Then, about a year ago, I got married, and all of a sudden they realized that I'd grown up. So I get glamorous parts."

"My age has been the subject of so many of my fan letters that I've taken to broadcasting it. I'm 24 (on March 6) going on 25, and some day I'll be 70. But I'm always opening some such letter as this:

Rochelle Hudson... She's grown up now.

"Dear Miss Hudson: We got to arguing about your age today, and grandma says she saw you in a picture at least 15 years ago, and that you must be about 35. I don't think you are more than 30. Please advise..."

"So you see why I like to tell my age. It's in self defense."

She likes her roles well enough—"because now I can wear nice clothes and look my best. But I'm not a career girl. I want to settle down and do some of the things I've wanted to do for years. I want to paint, and compose a little on the piano, and study some voice and dancing."

Ready for Long Vacation

I wondered aloud about that career-girl statement, considering her 11 years as an actress. Miss Hudson said: "That's just it—I've already had my career. I don't have to work now, but I still like it. Acting is so much of a habit that it isn't a strain any more, but I do believe in long vacations. I've made my living with my face, and it has taken quite a beating and needs time to recuperate. As soon as this 'Babies for Sale' picture is finished, my husband and I are going clear out of the country for three months."

She wants to go to South America, and especially Brazil because a lot of her fan mail comes from there. Any place she wants to go is okay with her husband, Hal Thompson, because his business is exploiting a group of American inventions all over the world.

SAWTOOTH ROAD WORK EXPECTED

KETCHUM, May 2 (Special)—With the opening of the fishing season May 1, work in this section of the state will be pushed on opening of the roads in good shape, various state, federal and county agencies being interested. In some places, particularly above the big slide at Frenchman's bend, Warm Springs creek, private citizens have forestalled the state and other agencies and have already cleared up a considerable section, and it is figured that the slide will be cut through within the next few days, authorities having at least made that promise.

The road from Ketchum to the QCC camp has been filled in and despite the bad spots left by the rains of the past few days, the road is now in good shape up to the Warm Springs slide, where thousands of tons of snow are still piled up, though rapidly disappearing under the sun and wind. Work will be started on the Trail creek road, on highway 93 to the Galena and Stanley sections, and to other sections adjacent to Ketchum.

Demand Road Opening

There is much demand on the part of miners, as well as vacationists, that the road be put in shape to convey equipment in to the properties, and ore brought to the outside, and considerable progress will be recorded in mining activities during the coming summer. Miners are gathering here to go to camp as soon as possible, either for prospecting or representing the more extended operations of mining companies that have been quiet for several years.

In addition it is estimated by an authority of a travel bureau that 150,000 tourists will romp across the borders of Idaho during the season, the figures being based on the experience and records of previous years. Incidentally it is claimed that these roadsters will spend fully $28,000,000 in the state.

Trend to Ketchum

Most of these estimates are made up from the reports of 570 corporations, such as Chambers of Commerce, state highway departments and national park service. The trend of tourists toward Ketchum and the Sawtooth mountains, with the vast panorama of scenery, the trout streams in the northwest, the sports appeal of the Sun Valley resort and its wide variety of activities, mining and other things, readily present a magnetic influence to the frequenters of the summer highway.

Every section of the state will benefit by the great influx of visitors, and the early completion of road work and open roads to the hills is vitally important.

The monetary unit of Panama is the Balboa, equivalent in value to the United States silver dollar.

Still Fights

Fighting for Great Britain in his third war, Col. Adrian Carton de Wiart (above) is reported in command of one of the allied forces landed in Norway. Reported thirty times wounded in his career, the 60-year-old, Belgian-born officer fought in the Boer war, lost an eye and a hand in France during the World war.

Charging that her prominent west end husband was cruel to her, Mrs. Mabel DeNeal had filed divorce suit in district court today against H. A. DeNeal, Buhl realtor, one-time mayor and former state senator.

The couple married Feb. 15, 1928, at Pocatello.

Mrs. DeNeal asked the court to divide community property valued at $10,000. She said DeNeal left their home last March 9 and has lived apart from her since then. They have no children.

Another divorce suit on file in district court today was presented by Mrs. Lorinda Emery against A. C. Emery, to whom she was married Jan. 15, 1927 at Burley. Mrs. Emery, mother of three daughters, ranging in age from three to seven years, charged her husband with cruelty. She asks custody of the daughter.

Rayburn and Rayburn are counsel for the wives in both suits.

Camas Seeks Aid In Taking Census

FAIRFIELD, May 2 (Special)—Census taking in rural Camas county proved to be a large task, according to Leland Lamson, enumerator. A helper is being sought of the Boise office.

TWIN FALLS AMAZED AT LOCAL RESIDENT'S STARTLING STATEMENT

Indigestion, Gas, Bloating, and Pains, Bad Breath, Backache and Nervousness All Disappear After a Short Treatment of Hoyt's Compound, Says Mr. D. W. Holt.

"I heard of Hoyt's Compound so decided to give it a good trial. Since that time I am feeling like another person. I am now able to enjoy my meals, and am eating whatever I like, and there is no more trouble with that awful gas and bloating. Neither do I have any more vomiting spells and that acid-like feeling in my mouth has left me. My bowels are more natural in movement and regularity. All of my nervousness is gone and when I go to bed, I can get a good, sound, restful sleep. When I get up in the morning I am feeling fine and ready for a good day's work."

Benefiters: Why not take the advice of Mr. Holt? Call at the Mastello Pharmacy and talk personally with the Hoyt Man who is explaining the action of the new and modern Hoyt's Compound. This special laboratory representative will tell you about the relief so many Twin Falls people say it has brought them. One of the latest local residents to publicly praise Hoyt's Compound is Mr. D. W. Holt, who resides at 140 Adams street. He says: "For ten years, I have been suffering from indigestion after eating. It felt as though all the foods I ate would lay in my stomach like a solid ball, heavy-like, causing an acid taste in my mouth, and I was filled with gas, causing a terrible bloating—very often I could not retain my food at all. I have been a constant sufferer of constipation, and always had to be using cathartics to get any relief. I have had sick headaches due to my stomach and bowels, due to my indigestion, and it was next to impossible for me to get a sound night's sleep as my nerves were in such a bad shape."

POTASH-FED POTATOES

Bring Profits

DO YOU want to increase your yield per acre, get more No. 1's, and make more profit on your potatoes? Then make sure that your crop gets enough potash. Potatoes are heavy feeders on potash and to get the highest yields of the most marketable grade, this hunger must be satisfied.

For an average crop of 300 bushels per acre, there must be 170 pounds of actual potash available to the plants. By the liberal use of mixed fertilizers containing 10% to 20% potash, yields of 500 bushels per acre grading 82% No. 1's have been produced.

Potash also makes potato plants healthier and more resistant to diseases, pests, drought, and light frosts. It improves the shape of potatoes and increases the starch content. See your dealer about including enough potash in your fertilizer this year. You will be surprised how little extra it costs.

For further information and free literature on fertilizing your crops, write American Potash Institute, Inc., Beans Bldg., San Jose, Calif.

Green, Gold Theme
A yellow glass container, holding white narcissi and yellow tulips, flanked by ivory tapers in matching holders, formed the centerpiece for the beautifully appointed tea table, which was covered with a cream lace cloth.

White lilies in a large yellow jar dominated the dining room decorations, and elsewhere throughout the home were arrangements of spring flowers in a variety of colors.

How About a Prom Date?

Completely modern, without being too sophisticated for the young girl, is Deanna Durbin's evening gown of white silk crepe with hand-embroidered gold leaves spiraling from the white silk crepe bodice down over the tulle skirt. The artful application of the embroidery makes the dress appear to be a one-piece princess type instead of a low-waisted, two-piece model.

Book Review Features Presbyterians' Party

More than 125 guests attended the annual May luncheon for women of the Presbyterian church this afternoon in the church parlors, arrangements for the delightful occasion being in charge of Mrs. L. V. Morgan and Mrs. J. F. Johnston's divisions of the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

Featured on the program, arranged by Mrs. J. N. Davis and Mrs. G. H. Shearer, was a comprehensive review of the book, "The Making of a Minister's Wife," Anna French Johnson, given by Mrs. Willis G. Sampson, Hansen.

Lilies and tulips predominated in the spring garden theme of decoration, and the several long tables were graced with May blooms.

Members of the Home Economics club of the Twin Falls high school, under the direction of Miss Juanita Sutcliffe, department head, served the luncheon.

Mrs. A. A. Arnold, Kimberly, presented vocal selections, and Mrs. Margaret Peck played piano numbers during the program period.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Shearer, with Mrs. Peck at the piano. Author of the book reviewed by Mrs. Sampson, is the wife of a minister, and well-known for her lectures on Uleum platforms and under other auspices.

She is a resident of Wisconsin, and has written delightfully of her life, from infancy, relating experiences that in many instances are common to all ministers' wives.

COLOR SCHEME
For a charming living room in the regency manner, you might select a basic color scheme of light blue and cherry, as was recently shown in a Fifth avenue decorating shop. The walls are light blue, the carpet cherry red, the draperies and furniture covers of light blue chintz figured with splashy pink roses, and have cherry red bindings. For a dramatic touch, two open arm chairs are done in plink cherry red, French prints are appropriately hung and dainty figurines are the right accessories. The furniture is mahogany.

REJUVENATE KITCHEN

Spring is as good a time as any for brightening that cheerless kitchen you have promised yourself you would do something about all winter. Even if the budget won't stand for complete modernization, probably it can be stretched to cover fresh, light-colored paint for walls, woodwork and furniture, new linoleum for the floor, harmonizing oil cloth for shelves and crisp, washable window curtains. If kitchen canisters and accessories have become somewhat battered, paint these, too, and add some amusing decalcomans.

Perhaps a more convenient arrangement of furniture could be worked out also. It's amazing how much smoother usually tiresome tasks are accomplished in a cheerful room.

MEN IN WHITE
So long I've waited here upon this hill,
Beneath the gorgeous glow of midnight's thrill,
So bright around me lies the glimmering snow,
The stars in their blue basket all aglow,
But I shall wait here still and waiting find
Much solace in the picture strong in mind,
Of men in white on skis set out to quell,
With meek defense, a ruthless reign of hell—
A new Gollath; cruel, unloving;
Foe to freedom, iron in contrast.
No fear! With angels on your side you win
As David did. Your strength will be their sin.
The beauty of fresh-fallen snow shall hide
The bloody price, and surer peace abide.

COSTUME LIPSTICK

Every woman needs at least one lipstick and harmonizing nail lacquer. But natural looking, and which can be worn with everything, of course. In other words, a shade which is similar to the shade her lips would be if they were naturally high-colored. In addition, however, she will want at least one extra lipstick, with harmonizing polish, which points up a specific costume. This shade may not be natural at all. She will think of it in terms of an accessory color. Even the most conservative experts agree that while rouge and powder should match natural skin tones, lipstick and nail polish may be chosen with costume colors rather than complexion tones in mind.

SANDSTROM HURLS COWBOYS TO FIRST WIN

Righthander Lets Pilots Down With Five Hits

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

Rube Sandstrom, a strapping right-hander from Seattle, today was the "man of the hour" in Twin Falls after pitching the Twin Falls Cowboys to their first victory of the 1940 Pioneer league season here last night over the Boise Pilots.

The victory, a five-hit, 7-2 affair, knocked the Boise club out of first place and lifted Twin Falls from sixth to fifth. And the performance was the first one turned in this year whereby a Cowboy hurler went the distance.

Before a small crowd, Sandstrom kept the Pilot sluggers well in check all through the game and only momentarily in the third inning when Rube grooved one to Joe Egnatic and the Boise center fielder lifted it over the fence for a home run, was the star hurler in danger of defeat.

Double Play Helps—After the home run to Egnatic, Sandstrom didn't allow another hit until the seventh inning when Bauer singled, only to be wiped off the base in a lightning double play. In the ninth an error and then a single sent an unearned run across the plate.

Meanwhile, as Manager Andy Harrington scamped about the field in disgust and railed at the two umpires, the Cowboys of Frank Tobin really started to click. The pay-off runs came in the last of the third frame when Johnny Vukas got a double after Sandstrom was out.

Dick Hiller got a walk to put men on first and second and then Dick Wake pounded out a line drive that left fielder Ken Keating of Boise took without moving. Bob Stagg walked, but Ernie Dressess came to the plate and smacked a screaming single over second base that Joe

INJURED—

First Cowboy to go on the injury list for this year's team was Tommy Beltia, who was scheduled to start in the outfield last night.

The Shoshone youngster showed up at Jaycee park with a hand swollen twice normal size and will be out of the game for from four days to a week, it was feared.

Swelling was caused from a bat bruise.

Egnatic let go through his legs and three runs crossed the plate as Egnatic pulled up at third. Al March grounded out to end the inning.

The next frame saw Verne Reynolds get an infield hit, go to second on Manager Harrington's poor throw, make third on Sandstrom's outfield fly and then come in on a wild pitch.

Thornton Homers—In the sixth stanza Reynolds made first again when Pitcher Darrell Fields threw wild to Walt Lowe and then he trotted home as big Loren Thornton finally connected with all that potential power he appears to have stored up, for a home run over the left field fence.

The last Cowboy counter came when Sandstrom drew a walk after Thornton had fanned in the eighth. Vukas was safe at first on Catcher Auple Navarro's poor throw and Sandstrom scored when Dick Hiller got his second single of the game. That ended the scoring for the evening—which was plenty to tuck the game away.

The Cowboys collected a total of eight safeties for 12 bases off Fields and Bob Snyder, relief hurler. Boise aided the Twin Falls hurler by committing six errors.

Errors Hurt—Sandstrom's remarkable performance was made all the more tough by Twin Falls miscues. In the fourth inning two men were placed on bases by errors on the left side of the infield, but the Boiseans couldn't hit the ball squarely.

For tonight's hit will start Vincent Mank, the big southpaw who made such a hit with fans here on the opening night when he hurled two scoreless and hitless innings—Boise never knocking the ball past the infield. Harrington stated he would start either the veteran Con Rasmussen, or rookie Ray Cook.

Lombardi's Clout Ends Winning Streak of Brooklyn

Pocatello Club Moves Into First Place

(By United Press)

The Pocatello Cards took over first place in the Pioneer League last night when Andy Harrington's Boise Pilots tasted defeat for the first time this year.

The St. Louis farmhands scored a 6 to 4 victory over Idaho Falls, while the Harrington men were turned back by Twin Falls 7 to 2. It was the first win of the year for last year's champs.

The Cards took the one-half game leadership by staging a four-run ninth-inning rally to overcome a 3 to 2 lead held by Idaho Falls. Hurrie, who had pitched a brilliant game for the Yankee farm hands, was pounded out of the box in the final stanza, and Shutt, who followed him, didn't fare any better.

At Twin Falls, Sandstrom's five-hit pitching was the main factor in the Cowboys' victory. The Cowboys pounded Fields and Snyder for eight hits, including a homer by Third-Baseman Thornton.

Salt Lake Bees held sole possession of third place by defeating Ogden Reds, 7 to 3. Nig Tate held the Reds to six scattered hits, while his teammates garnered 11 off Lambert.

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

(By United Press)

If the skies are fair and the track at Louisville is fast Saturday, the only way Bimelech can lose the Kentucky derby is to have a smarter—and a sharper—jockey steal it from him. That was generally agreed as the vanguard of 100,000 persons expected to witness the classic, arrived at Churchill Downs.

Fred Smith, who will be up on Col. Bradley's Bimelech, will have the cream of jockeys oppose him.

Johnny Larrieu, who played second and third base for Salt Lake Bees of the Pioneer league last year, has been let out by Oklahoma City of the Texas circuit to Pine Bluff of the Cotton States loop. Larrieu, who tried for the first base post at Oklahoma, is playing third for Pine Bluff.

At Berkeley, Calif., four junior high school youths played baseball with a stick of dynamite as a bat until police stopped them. They said they found it on a construction job.

Cowboys May Get Bishop For Infield

Looking for more strength to aid a leaky infield, the Twin Falls Cowboy management today had sent a hurry-up call to Spokane for at least one more infielder—preferably Ernie Bishop, the Pioneer league's all-star second baseman of the 1939 season.

However, the way Bishop is going with the Indians in Spokane it appeared doubtful that the parent club would let him go—although at one time Manager Eddie Lehman had offered the smooth fielding second baseman back to the local club.

Found Ball Hard—Lately Bishop has been pounding the ball at a terrific clip and has become a favorite with Spokane fans. What chance there was of getting him appeared to become dim yesterday when the Spokane club went on the road without Ned Stickle, hard-hitting shortstop, who was injured in an auto accident—after hours—and drew a $25 fine from Manager Lehman.

Spokane today announced it was looking for a home for a trio of good pitchers—but Twin Falls appeared well stocked and Owner Bill Ulrich even offered to release one of the men to the Boise Pilots if they could use him.

Paul McGinnis, speedy Seattle infielder, was scheduled to join the Spokane club this week—to play second. If he ousts Bishop, then Ernie will probably join the local staff.

Ex-Cowboy Star—Meanwhile, other former Twin Falls baseball players were going great guns with the Indians. Falcon, Farrell, McNamee and Bishop are the four leading hitters on the second-place Indian club, while Big Mike Budnick has become the ace hurler on the staff.

His finest performance was turned in last night when he limited the league-leading Tacoma Tigers to four hits and chalked up a 3-2 victory. In a game last week he scored a 11-1 victory over Vancouver and struck out 12 batters.

Budnick Subdues Tacoma, 3-2

TACOMA, May 2 (U.P.)—"Black Mike" Budnick breezing his fast one across to allow just four hits, Eddie Lehman's Spokane Indians nipped Tacoma 3-2 here last night in a Western International league clash.

Budnick, giant former hurler for the Twin Falls Cowboys, mixed effective curves with a speed ball that clipped the corners.

Burley will score in the javelin with Earl Toolson tossing the javelin past the 140-foot mark.

Best marks chalked up to Ted in the hurdle events are by Date Lake of Twin Falls in both the high and low.

Schools competing in the sub-district events and the places at which they will be held follow:

Jerome (north)—Hammett, Glenns Ferry, King Hill, Bliss, Hagerman, Wendell, Gooding, Fairfield, Shoshone, Dietrich, Richfield, Bellevue, Halley and Carey.

Bucky Walters Cops Third Victory of Year; Yankees Win

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, May 2 (U.P.)—The sleeping giant rose in all his might and smashed Brooklyn's dream of a perfect season.

Not far from the spot where he sprawled last October while Yankee runners raced across the plate in the fatal fourth world series game, Ernie Lombardi came out of his coma yesterday and dealt a crushing blow to the Dodger juggernaut. The Big Cincinnati catcher slugged out a home run with the bases loaded, a stroke which popped Brooklyn's bubble of invincibility.

Lombardi's four master sparked an eight-run inning in which the Reds routed Hugh Casey and ended the Dodger's winning streak at nine straight. Bucky Walters, last season's "player of the year," inflicted the first defeat on the high flying Dodgers, holding them to six scattered hits to win his third straight game.

Blow Up Completely—When the Dodger's blew up, they did it completely and thoroughly. They had held the Reds hitless and runless for 12 straight innings—Tex Carleton's nine perfect rounds Tuesday and Hugh Casey's three scoreless innings yesterday—when Bill Werber touched off the dynamite. He opened the fourth with a double. Then the Reds filled the bases and Lombardi delivered his blow.

Later Werber, up for the second time, hit a homer. Pete Coscarart hit his third homer in three games, one of the two runs made off Walters.

Red Sox Regain First

The Boston Red Sox power elevated them back into a first place tie with the Cleveland Indians when Joe Cronin's club slugged out a 12-4 victory over the White Sox. Cronin drove in four runs himself. Jimmy Foyx hit homer No. 5, a drive of more than 450 feet, one of the longest of his career. Lefty Grove weakened in the fifth and rookie Herb Hash relieved him.

Nelson Potter pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-1 triumph over the Indians.

Monte Pearson got the Yanks back on the winning track with a five-hit, 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Detroit staged a three-run rally in the eighth to beat Washington, 10-7.

Col. Bradley Says "Sure Things" Usually Fail in Kentucky Race

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—I am no bloodhound of a reporter, and there are tens of thousands with better noses for news, but even to me it was obvious the best source of information on the Kentucky derby was Colonel Matt Winn.

So I went to see the colonel, sunk deep in an old leather chair in his office in a wing of Churchill Downs that commands a view of the turn into the stretch. Not for him a box on the finish line, where the race is over, but a vantage point where the jockeys really go to work and the class of a thoroughbred begins to tell.

Over a glass of bourbon that must have dated back to the day the colonel saw his first derby in 1875—and that was the first derby—he warned me never to believe any horse was a sure thing in the derby.

"Everybody says Bimelech is unbeatable now," Winn said, "but I won't believe it till his number and his price go up on the board under the official sign. As long ago as 1888—or 51 full years—I learned nothing is sure on a race track. Because it was in 1889 Proctor Knott was thought to be so invincible that the mention of any other horse brought jeers and hoots and all the other standard forms of derision. He was even, more of a standstill than Bimelech is today.

"You must know what happened. A thing called Spokane—on which I bet $100, which is the most I ever have bet on any race—won it easy. Back of the barns, Spokane's trainer had brought him along. No shouting, no great times in workouts, no dazzling past performances, in fact, no advance notice of any sort. Spokane was just another horse."

As a Bimelech supporter of the water-before-the-first-water—this gave me pause. Did Colonel Winn, I reasoned to myself, have a mystery horse up his sleeve, so to speak?

Being a forthright soul, I asked him if he did. As a matter of fact, I looked up his blue serge sleeve myself. There was nothing there except normal sleeve equipment. So, when I left him, I turned to the record books to see if Proctor Knott were the only "good thing" who had missed on derby day at the Downs.

It was amazing to find how many great horses had failed in the run for the horseshow of derby races. There were such great runners as Granville, Brevity, Head Play, Blue Larkspur, Osmand, Pompey, Quatrain, Enchantment, Tryster, Damask and Eternal—all of them favored in these last 20 years and all of them beaten badly.

There is only one way to win a horse race and there are 10,000 ways to lose one.

The way to win it is to be there first. The way to lose it, take your choice: Bad jockey, bad start, bad pockets, bad track, bad judgment of trainers or owners, and all the other bads you can conjure up.

THE PAYOFF

by HARRY GRAYSON (NEA Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — Jimmy Dykes is combination which has built Cleveland to criticize Lou Boudreau and Bay Mack, the young second basing.

When the 200-pound Mack tightened up upon being recalled from Buffalo last fall, more than one trained eye predicted he wouldn't hit much more than his weight, but Dykes is first to find flaws in the preprens in the field.

The manager of the White Sox not only asserts both can be pitched to too easily, but contends Shortstop Boudreau can't go as far in either direction, especially to the left, as some of the critics say.

Mack, declares Dykes, is weakest where he understood the big Case football player was strongest—pivoting on a double play.

"Mack stays on the base-line," Boudreau points out Shamus Dykes, "making it simple for the man going into the bag to spill him. He has not yet learned to take a double-play throw on the inside of the bag and cross over and throw to first."

"The middle man on a double play being made in a hurry only has to be touched to break it up."

Boudreau is still retarded somewhat by the ankle injury he suffered in training.

But, says Dykes, stresses, the Cleveland management must expect Boudreau and Mack to make mistakes for a couple of years, and the Pale Hose pilot doubts that Boudreau will ever hit any better than Frank Crosetti of the Yankees, who compiled a roaring .238 average in 1939.

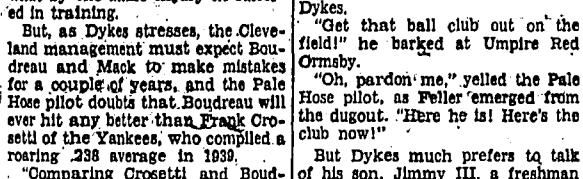

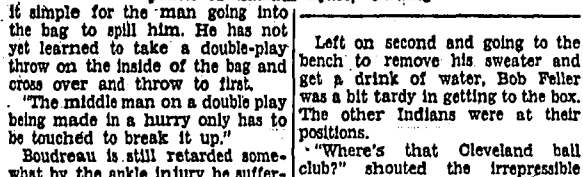

"Comparing Crosetti and Boudreau at this time is ridiculous... and unfair to Boudreau, explains Dykes, for 10 years an American league infielder.

"Boudreau is starting his first season in the majors... his third in professional baseball.

"Crosetti is starting his ninth season with the Yankees, and he was a war hero of the San Francisco AA club four years before he came east.

"Crosetti is one of the great fielding shortstops... knows every hitter in the league."

Talking to Dykes, you gather that what he shouted in Cleveland the other afternoon was much more than a wise crack.

Left on second and going to the bench to remove his sweater and get a drink of water, Bob Feller was a bit tardy in getting to the box. The other Indians were at their positions.

"Where's that Cleveland ball club?" shouted the irrepresible Dykes.

"Get that ball club out of the field!" he barked at Umpire Red Ormsby.

"Oh, pardon me," yelled the Pale Hose pilot, as Feller emerged from the dugout. "Here he is! Here's the club now!"

But Dykes much prefers to talk of his son, Jimmy III, a freshman at Villanova college.

"Jimmy III has my big legs, and towers above me at six feet one and already weighs 175 pounds," beams Father Dykes.

"The coach tried to make a pitcher out of him, but Jimmy III insisted on following in the footsteps of his old man. He's playing third base and he really smacks that ball."

Father Dykes is looking forward to taking his big son, who has just turned 18, on a road trip with the White Sox this summer.

American League umpires already see plenty of cause for apprehension. There is another Dykes.

Acorns Regain Leadership in Coast Race

(By United Press)
Oakland resumed its Pacific Coast league leadership with a 4 to 2 win over the San Francisco Seals last night behind the six-hit pitching of Milo Candini.

Although Candini was Scotch with hits, he was the soul of generosity with walks—seven. Al Epperly, who opposed him, was lifted in the seventh for Frank Dasso, who held the Oakland scoreless thereafter.

Babe Herman scored the run for Hollywood that overcame a Los Angeles lead when Rupert Thompson homered in the sixth inning. The Stars won, 3 to 2, in a pitching duel between Fred Gray of the Twinkies and Jack Fallon of Los Angeles.

Sacramento assisted San Diego down to second place with a 9 to 2 whipping of the Padres, led by young George Mungler's six-hit pitching. Al Olson, Jim Morris and Dumber worked ably for the Padres, and gave up 18 hits. Umpire Cicero Starn won, 3 to 2, in a pitching duel between Fred Gray of the Twinkies and Jack Fallon of Los Angeles.

Seattle clouted Portland 5 to 3, mainly because of Joe Orrell's early inning wild pitching. Bill Walker and Paul Gregory kept their six hits well scattered.

Sportsmen at Shoshone Hear Sweeley

SHOSHONE, May 2 (Special)—Ninety-four members and guests of the Shoshone Rod and Gun club were present Monday night at a "Bring a Boy" banquet held at the Boston cafe. Given primarily for the benefit of the future sportsmen, each member of the club brought his son or a student of the Shoshone high school.

Everett Sweeley, county attorney of Twin Falls and an expert on guns and their care, was the main speaker of the evening. His talk was especially directed to the young people present and contained many helpful pointers on the care of a gun when not in use and precautionary measures to be taken while using a gun.

Speaking of his own experience, Mr. Sweeley stated that he never kept a gun and shells in the same room but rather always separated.

Frank Dice was called on and gave an informal talk on "Why We Have No Game" or why game in this part of the country is rapidly becoming extinct. He gave his ideas on the aim of the Rod and Gun club and what it meant to the younger generation; why they should take an interest in it and their coming job in the preservation of game. Mr. Dice reviewed some instances of his personal experience in hunting and fishing. The business session of the meeting was taken up with various committee reports, namely the report of the fish planting committee to the effect that the new fish tank would be ready this week and would be used for the first time Sunday with the planting of fish in Little Wood river.

It was also stated that any organization could use the tank provided the fish were to be planted on the Wood river watershed.

Fred Bairdridge reported for the natural foods committee on probable signs to be had in the vicinity for tree planting for game food. D. Sid Smith reported for the trapshooting committee and stated that two shoots had been held and everything was in readiness for a successful summer.

Tom Mieser or Halley informed the club that the fish screen over the

For Better Traction

Tires with the most tread should be placed on the front wheels of an automobile, since in wet weather their aqueous action helps to dry off the road surface and affords better traction for the rear tires.

WOOL
BOSTON—Buyers that had recently been unable to moderate quantities of greasy shorn domestic wools in the Boston market were showing some reluctance to bid further commitments.
Cattle was stimulated by the recent weakness of wool top futures prices and by a moderate increase in the number of consignees of new wools. In some parts country accumulators of bright fleece wools accepted bids that they previously had refused.
