BUILDING STEPS FORM MEMORIAL

MOSCOW, June 11 (Special) — Steps hewed out of native granite nearly 50 years ago for the University of Idaho's original building have been reassembled in a unique memorial around which an alumni commencement reunion and ceremony will be held June 15.

The stones were cut in 1894 for the first unit of the old administration building. The university had been created by territorial legislative enactment three years previously, six months before Idaho became a state. The completed building burned to the ground in 1908. The entrance steps of the old building were scattered around the campus and Moscow and forgotten until 1931. That year the class of 1901, holding its thirtieth reunion, proposed rebuilding of the steps as a memorial.

The old stones were gathered and reassembled in the spring of 1934, and dedicated at commencement that year to the pioneer spirit of Idaho.

Six hundred thirty-three degrees, a new record, will be granted at the university's forty-fifth commencement exercises, June 17. Four degrees were granted at the first commencement in 1898. The late Senator Borah was the first commencement speaker.

Wendell Funeral For C. A. Dunham

WENDELL, June 12 (Special) — Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church Monday afternoon for Charles Albert Dunham, who died Sunday at St. Valentine's hospital after a week's illness.

Sermon was delivered by Rev. Dallas McNeil and two selections, "It Is Well With My Soul," and "Asleep in Jesus," were sung by a quartet. Mrs. Faeth Eaton and Mrs. Hugh Caldwell and R. D. Flegenbaum and Henry Barton. Mrs. Dale Rice, Fairfield, sang "Rock of Ages."

Interment was in Wendell cemetery with Rev. McNeil dedicating the grave.

Charles Albert Dunham was born at Brashear, Mo., April 19, 1870. In 1897 he married Miss Nettie Rice. To this union was born one son, Ivan Leo Rice.

With his wife and son, he came to Idaho in 1912 and has since made his home here.

He has been a member of the Methodist church since joining that church in early youth.

Survivors include his widow, his son, one grandchild, James Dunham; a sister, Mrs. Tracy Mitten, Edna, Mo.; and a brother, Parker Dunham, Brashear, Mo.

URGES LOWER PENSION

Editor, Times:—

What is wrong with the Townsend plan? Late last fall I read an article in our weekly of the intentions of getting the bill on the floor the first part of January, and now it is May already.

Now, Townsendites, a good many of you know that I have done more than anybody around here for the movement. Last year I sent out over 170 letters to all parts of the union—and now I am at it again. In the early part of the spring, I wrote to a dozen senators to find out what caused our heavy defeat last year. The senators all answered, and their answer was nearly all the same. They said $200 per month is more than the old folks need, and more than they are able to spend.

That proves that the Townsend plan is not right in its present form. One senator wrote that if the doctor gets 100 years old, he will never see his plan in law at $200 per month. All senators seem to favor a moderate pension.

Now if the doctor is wise, he will cut the pension in half and set the age down to 50 or 55, that also means full recovery from the depression, and can be accepted by congress. That will make the old folks happy—the aim of the good old doctor.

Idaho After New Airplane Factory

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., June 12 (Special) — The Chamber of Commerce today sought official approval of Rathdrum, Ida., 10 miles north of here, as a site for construction of an inland airplane factory.

Dennis P. Woods, a representative of the federal land bank of Spokane, told the chamber military authorities "looked with favor" on the town as a strategic site for a plane factory. He said the Rathdrum prairie might be considered the best location in Idaho, Washington or Montana for such a factory.

Roosevelt Asks 50 Millions for Red Cross Work

WASHINGTON, June 12 (U.P.) — President Roosevelt today had drafted a request for a $50,000,000 congressional appropriation to help finance Red Cross refugee work in Europe.

He sent the request to congress in the form of identical letters to Vice-President John N. Garner and Speaker William C. Bankhead. He proposed the money be appropriated directly to him as President and honorary head of the Red Cross to be turned over to the Red Cross and administered directly by the relief organization.

The President's request was announced by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early, who said the money will be used for purchases of food, clothing, medical supplies and for other relief purposes which the Red Cross deems necessary in a most acute situation. The Red Cross now is raising $20,000,000 from American citizens.

Thomas New Head Of Housing Group

Following a reorganization of the Twin Falls housing authority, Capt. G. E. Thomas, of the Salvation Army, today had been named chairman of that group.

PARIS DEFENSE MAY RAZE CITY

LONDON, June 12 (U.P.) — Paris may be destroyed entirely because of French determination never to yield the city intact to Adolf Hitler, an official French spokesman had said today.

The spokesman said there can be no question of declaring Paris an open city in an effort to spare its art treasures and famous buildings.

"We are confident Hitler's hordes never will get to Paris but if they do we shall defend every stone, every clod of earth, every lamppost and every building," the spokesman said.

"We would rather have Paris razed to the ground than fall into hands of Germans."

Agood chose the waters of the Snake river rather than be captured by a posse on the day of his escape. He entered the stream four miles north of Blackfoot and early attempts to raise the body failed.

Nation's Top-Flight Pros Ready For Golf's Most Unusual Show

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
TOLEDO, June 12—Golf's most unusual show comes again to Inverness, June 13-16.

It's the sixth annual Inverness Invitation four-ball... 16 of the nation's top-flight professionals in a round-robin, best-ball, 126-hole, four-day scoring spree.

Fans scoring are good enough. Birdies are a dime a dozen. With a partner to depend upon, each money man shoots the works. That's the only way victory can be achieved.

The idea originating among Inverness members, the Invitational came into being in 1935. The program then, as it is today, was to pair the masters in two-man teams, each to meet the other seven.

The most novel feature of all concerns the scoring. It is conducted on a plus and minus basis... One point plus for a hole won, one point minus for a hole lost.

With the prize money divided through the entire field, every player has an incentive to deliver his best right down to the last putt.

In 1935 Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta, a renowned team, won with every one of the seven other combinations having a chance when the final 18 holes began.

Play was even more spectacular in 1936 as the one and only Walter Hagen crashed through with Ky Lafon, Harry Cooper and Horton Smith, the steadiest duo in the Invitational for two straight years, found their consistency paying dividends and captured the third crown. Slammin' Sam Snead and Vic Ghezzi shot their way to the laurels in 1938 after the bitterest fight of the four years which ended in a torrential downpour.

Then came the most thrilling struggle of all last season with three teams—Byron Nelson and Jug McSpaden, Snead and Ghezzi, and Picard and Revolta—winding up in a three-way tie.

A sudden death playoff followed with a birdie three on the long and tough No. 1 hole giving the title to Picard and Revolta for the second time.

The brightest stars of the 1940 horizon will descend upon Inverness this trip. Only Ben Hogan will be absent from an all-star cast that otherwise might never be surpassed in a single invitational meet. Picard and Revolta defend their championship... remain the only unbroken team since the inception of the Invitational.

The great Hagen is paired with Toledo's Byron Nelson, the host professional. Jimmy Thomson is paired with Horton Smith. Snead rejoins Ralph Guldahl for the first time in this tournament since 1937. McSpaden is paired with Lawson Little. Gene Sarazen plays with Clayton Heafner, the only newcomer in the field. Ed Dudley and Billy Burke, who bagged the Hagen Memorial title in Chicago last year, will be there, and closing out the field are Dick Metz and Jimmy DeMatok.

Topping off the show will be the annual clinic conducted by the 16 professionals before the opening round.

Golf's most unusual show is coming to Inverness.

Mac Praises Spirit Of English Derby

By HENRY McEMORE
NEW YORK, June 12 (U.P.)—Almost lost among the European dispatches that came to the cable desk of the United Press yesterday was a small item which read: "Eighteen three-year-olds were named today for the 161st running of the English derby to be renewed at Newmarket tomorrow."

To me this was the most heartening word that has come from Great Britain in quite a while. Though it did not come from any government or military headquarters, it told eloquently of a people's spirit; of a spirit which, in the darkest hour, refused to yield even to the extent of calling off a horse race.

The one and only compromise the British made in holding their beloved derby was to move it from London's Epsom Downs to Newmarket, some 75 miles away, where interruption by air raid would not be so likely.

To me, the colts who went to the post in the derby today represent more than just race horses. It doesn't take a maulin man to read into their high held heads and their proud steps the symbol of a proud nation.

This was thoroughbred racing at its best. Thoroughbreds sent out by thoroughbreds.

No thinking person could believe that the British people really were interested in the result of today's derby. As much as the British people love sport, and no people on earth can match them in their love for games, their hearts and minds must have been with the soldiers in France. And this is what makes today's running of the derby so magnificent. To rise above a natural inclination to discard things that really do not matter, to insist on protecting a thread—even a thread built of so flimsy a material as that of racing tradition—is the act of a valiant breed.

The derby winds back to 1780, when these United States were exactly three years old, and I like to feel that in maintaining it, Britain refused to admit that the evil times of today would prevail, and that the Britain of the future would have all of its old ties running back, unbroken, to the glorious Britain of the past.

In thinking of the derby in connection with the tragic events of the present, I could not but recall the just derby I saw at Epsom Downs. That was in 1934 when Adolf Hitler still had the white-wash of his house-painting days on his hands. George V was king and more than 1,000,000 persons flocked on the Downs. The vast infield was filled with merry-go-rounds and ferris wheels instead of anti-aircraft batteries and under-ground shelters. The planes that droned overhead spelled out the names of popular cigarettes and beer—not of death.

How different from today!
