DICTATORS SET PEACE TERMS

ADMIRAL ASKS 70 PER CENT NAVY INCREASE

Four Billions Would Be Cost Of Fleet Plan

WASHINGTON, June 18 (U.P.)—Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, today recommended a 70 per cent increase in the strength of the U. S. fleet.

Stark proposed the increase in testimony before the house naval affairs committee which is considering an administration bill to authorize a 23 per cent increase in the navy's present authorized tonnage.

Naval officers estimated this huge program, adding approximately 1,250,000 tons of fighting craft to the U. S. navy, would cost approximately $4,000,000,000.

Stark said his proposal for a 70 per cent increase had not been taken through the budget bureau, which ordinarily acts as a clearing house for all appropriations requests of the administration and the various executive agencies.

200 Fighters

Specifically Stark recommended an increase of about 200 fighting ships, and 100,000 tons of auxiliaries.

Total authorized strength of the navy now built and building is 1,724,780 tons.

When the program is completed, Stark estimated, it would give the navy 3,670,000 tons of undersea and overage fighting craft, far in excess of any other navy in the world.

Virtually Double Navy

The proposed increase would virtually double the battle fleet, Stark recommended; the increase is divided into 380,000 tons of capital ships; 125,000 tons of airplanes, carriers; 420,000 tons of cruisers; 250,000 tons of destroyers and 70,000 tons of submarines.

He also recommended the navy be given authority to expand its facilities and create new factories for the manufacture of armor plate and cannon.

"Make it broad and leave it up to the secretary of navy," Stark said.

ISLES PREPARED FOR NAZI RAIDS, SAYS CHURCHILL

By WALLACE CARROLL
LONDON, June 18 (U.P.)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the British House today that "attacks will very soon be made" by enemy bombing planes but that Britain is strongly prepared to fight an invasion and "there are good and reasonable hopes of final victory."

Churchill declared "the battle of France is over and the battle of Britain is about to begin."

"If we lose that," he declared, "the whole world including the United States will sink into the abyss of a new dark age."

"It is not yet certain that military resistance of France will come to an end," Churchill said in the house of commons, and in any event there are 1,750,000 men, including 1,250,000 troops, and the dominions armies in the British Isles to wage "continuous battle" against an invader.

Navy Prepared

The mighty British navy is prepared to fight off any invader, the prime minister continued, and "we have incorporated into our defense forces every man for whom we have a weapon."

"There is reason for great vigilance and exertion but none whatever for panic," he said.

He said that 350,000 out of 400,000 troops originally sent to France had been safely returned to Britain, although some of the B. E. F. units still are fighting with success in France.

Reviews Battles

With Britain preparing every resource for defense against the expected Nazi invasion, the prime minister briefly reviewed the military developments leading up to the collapse of French resistance and said the 45 Allied divisions lost in the German trap in France might have turned the tide of the war.

But he added, "I have made it clear that whatever happened in France would make no difference to the resolve of Britain and the British empire to fight on."

Fight Invasion

Churchill again voiced readiness of Britain to fight any attempt at invasion—which German and Italian sources have reported as likely to come before end of June.

"In view of the troops now in this country," he said, "invasion of Britain would require hostile armies on a large scale—and we have a navy."

He said 350,000 of 400,000 British troops originally sent to France were safely back in Britain and "others are still fighting in France with considerable success."

Home Guard

With the British Isles in daily peril of large scale invasion, Great Britain took note of the home front's increased importance by appointing Sir Robert Gordon-Finlayson, above, general officer commanding in chief of British Isles' western command. He was one-time head of British troops in Egypt.

FDR PLANS HUGE ECONOMIC UNION TO STOP HITLER

By T. F. REYNOLDS
WASHINGTON, June 18 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt sought today to forge a weapon—control of food and raw materials—for the economy of the new world to check the triumphant march of totalitarian nations.

Apparently accepting the fall of France as an accomplished fact, Mr. Roosevelt projected a "cartel" of the 22 nations of the western hemisphere, including Canada, as a means "short of war" of assisting the allies.

Details Vague

The President and his aides were deliberately vague about the details of the plan for a Pan-American economic union announced at the White House yesterday. But departmental aides hinted it was predicated on the fact that human beings under a dictatorship experienced hunger and that industries geared to a military machine such as Germany's must get raw materials.

The United States, the 20 Latin American republics and Canada are the world's chief sources of supply of foodstuffs and raw materials needed for armaments.

Purchase Supplies

Federal trade experts, after two months of study, have submitted to the state department a plan for western hemisphere resources control which may influence outline of the new program. That plan envisages a federal corporation to finance purchase of a about $1,000,000,000 of surplus food and raw materials of Latin American nations. It assumes that about $500,000,000 of the products could be re-sold to European and Asiatic purchasers, and that the balance would be stored until a demand arose.

The plan, it was learned, was one of several considered yesterday when Mr. Roosevelt ordered his cabinet members into urgent sessions to develop a program to combat the threat of a world dominated by the totalitarian methods of international trade-barrier.

Would Close Trade

The ultimate program evolved may vary widely from the above plan, but it appeared certain that whatever its details it would have one objective: Unification of the western hemisphere nations to insure that when Germany and Italy seek to establish extensive trade relations in the new world they will face a closed economic trading corporation comprised of all 22 nations rather than be able to exert their forces on a single American country.

Demands Secret; French Believe Hitler, Il Duce Want France, Territories

Nazis Report Over 100,000 French Taken

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor.

Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini agreed on terms for cessation of fighting in France today and Great Britain mustered every resource to withstand an expected invasion of the British Isles by sea and air.

The two axis dictators, meeting at Munich, framed a common attitude toward the French proposal for peace at almost the hour British Prime Minister Winston Churchill was calling upon France to carry out her treaties and continue the war in order to keep alive hope of future freedom.

That the terms of the axis powers were harsh was taken for granted despite French declarations that a "shameful" peace would be refused. The French army was battered to pieces and the swift advance of the Germans through the provinces seemed to rule out any hope of future resistance except overseas.

Dispatches from Bordeaux said French sources believed Hitler would demand almost all territory already occupied in addition to some colonial possessions of France, which he once characterized as the "mortal foe" of the rich Italy.

This dispatch said, would be expected to demand Nice, Savoy, Tunisia, Corsica, Djibouti and probably control of the Suez canal.

It was considered certain at Bordeaux that Germany would take the rich industrial area of the north and the Maginot line sector from France in any peace agreement. French government comment on such speculation, however, was not available.

Churchill, in his speech to the house of commons, said that French resistance was not yet ended, although it seemed obvious that it would soon be over in France. Churchill said Britain, in any event, was ready to fight on.

"There are good and reasonable hopes of final victory," he proclaimed. "But if we lose the battle of Britain, the whole world will sink into the abyss of a new dark age."

Two Points

Outlining the extensive land, sea and air preparations including probably 2,000,000 men armed to defend the British Isles, Churchill made two important points regarding world relations:

1. He bluntly warned the French government to "avoid 'throwing away' an opportunity for future freedom by ceasing resistance, adding Britain could not release France from her treaty obligations as an ally. He said there still was a chance the French would fight on."

2. He declared the battle of Britain was of vital importance to the whole world because "if we lose, the whole world including the United States, and all we have known and cared for will sink into the abyss of a new dark age made more sinister, perhaps, and more prolonged by the lights of a perverted science."

U. S. Aid Assured

The United States, he said, has assured the British of an immense and continuous and increasing flow of materials and the dominions have approved the decision to fight on.

Churchill, who was preparing to invite the fiery World war premier, David Lloyd George, to join the cabinet, made a dramatic appeal to Britons to fight as never before.

German armies continued to drive deeply into French territory, having smothered the Maginot line, broken up the retreating armies in many sectors and advanced toward a point intended to force the French to accept any terms offered. The French cabinet still was in session at Bordeaux.

ORDER REMOVES CLUB PADLOCK

Keys to the padlocked Courtesy club in Twin Falls were handed back to E. L. Rogers, operator of the social establishment, at 12:15 p. m. today, 10 minutes after District Judge J. W. Porter signed an order vacating the judgment under which the club had been ordered shut down for one year.

The order vacated, the default which had been entered against Rogers and Mrs. Catherine M. Braun, owner of the Main avenue building. It also rescinded the previous instruction to Sheriff L. W. Hawkins to sell the fixtures and equipment of the club.

The sale had been set by Hawkins for 10 a. m. next Thursday, June 20. Removal of the default today reopened the civil action in which Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley seeks closing of the Courtesy club on liquor nuisance charges. Today's order followed a hearing yesterday, after which Sweeley and W. L. Dunn, attorney for Mrs. Braun and for Rogers, were instructed to prepare orders vacating the default and judgment.

Dunn had taken blame for failure to file the necessary answers in the nuisance abatement suit. Answers for Mrs. Braun and Rogers were on file today, and next legal step is setting of the matter for civil trial.

MOSCOW, Ida., June 18 (U.P.)—Two honorary degrees were granted yesterday at the 45th annual commencement exercises of the University of Idaho.

Dr. Alfred Upham, president of Miami University, told the graduates "it is up to the youth of America 'to keep the lights of truth, honor and freedom burning in this country, although the lights of Europe might go out.'"

CROWDS ROAR AS DICTATORS MEET

MUNICH, June 18 (U.P.)—Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, wearing field gray uniforms, met to decide the fate of defeated France today amidst a rising clamor in the German press for a "settlement without sentimentalism."

The two men, meeting to decide on the price they would exact for stopping the destruction of France, conferred immediately after the arrival of Il Duce at the fustcher house from Rome.

Still Fighting

German circles in both Rome and Berlin had made it clear that German and Italian forces would fight against France and her territories until issuance of a "cease fire" order to make sure that whatever terms they decide upon must be accepted by a prostrate France.

Hitler and Mussolini were attended by their foreign ministers, Joachim von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, respectively, high military advisers and high Nazi and Fascist party officials.

Guard Inspected

Honor guards of Hitler and Fascist youth were inspected by the two dictators before they rode in an open car through streets thronged by cheering thousands wearing crosses, Italian and German flags. Streets were decked with flags and the press of the throngs was so great that many faintered under a hot sun. The more stalwart sang war songs. They had greeted Hitler on his arrival this morning and then had waited patiently at the station and along the streets for Mussolini to arrive at 3:05 p. m.

Hitler's journey to Munich marked the first time that he had been back from the front since the start of his offensive against France which culminated in a French request for the terms of a "peace with honor."

Vengeance Unwanted

Official news sources said that Hitler and Mussolini did not want vengeance but the German press was (Continued on Page 4, Column 2)

Pioneer Nurse Saves Life of Man on 100-Mile Drive But Sees No Heroism

She saved the life of a critically injured mine carpenter by a grueling 100-mile feat—but Mrs. Lena Dougherty, pioneer Twin Falls nurse, didn't think it worthy of mention.

For 100 miles—in a jolting, speeding motor car rushing from the Graylock Mining company near Jarbidge to the county hospital in Twin Falls—Mrs. Dougherty held a tourniquet on the leg of Robert McVickers, the injured carpenter.

So well did she do her task that McVickers, suffering from a severed artery, was reported in "good condition" this afternoon by attaches at the hospital.

Transfusions remedied loss of blood.

Story of Mrs. Dougherty's feat, as related by friends today, revealed that the mine carpenter was hit late Friday by a splinter from a large wood saw. The splinter drove into the leg and severed the artery.

The mine superintendent held the ends of the artery closed while a hurry call went to Mrs. Dougherty, now justice of the peace and general volunteer nurse at Jarbidge. She rushed to the scene, applied a compress with a rock to provide pressure, and then placed a tourniquet on the injured leg.

Then, from the mine to the Rogerson CCC camp, where brief aid was administered, and to the Twin Falls hospital, the pioneer local nurse held the tourniquet in place.

It was indicated that McVickers would have bled to death without the tourniquet.

Nazi Terms Valid Only When Britain Loses, Says Expert

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Hitler's and Mussolini's plans for defeating the British Commonwealth of nations are far more important to them than their work today at Munich dividing the French empire. The peace terms to be forced on France will have future validity only if the British people can be compelled to agree to them at the war's end, Britain will have the final say.

France to the French people of acquiescing in the Holo-German division of the spoils, depending on the result of Hitler's coming blitzkrieg against the British Isles.

Hitler is risking all in his next offensive, so that it should be aimed at Britain's weakest spot—the necessity for importing food supplies. To try to starve the British into capitulation through air attacks on food-carrying merchant ships offers possibilities which Hitler must consider more seriously than any plan for a terrorizing series of air bombings against civilians or a large scale invasion.

It has been part of Hitler's successful tactics thus far in the war to deliver surprise blows against the enemy, catching them off their guard. Great Britain has prepared an elaborate system of defense against air attacks, parachute troops, and the landing of enemy forces from the sea. Hitler may try none of these offensive movements or, if so, then only on small scales to test the power of the British safeguards.

Especially is Hitler in no position to risk additionally heavy casualties by attacking Britain. The German losses in dead, wounded, and prisoners to the present have been very severe. An extreme estimate of one million has been made by the British and French. The number may not reach that figure, but there can be no doubt of the widespread mourning among German families throughout the whole of Hitler's reich. A breaking point of the home front always begins when casualties mount higher than the people judge to be proper.

An attempt to repeat William the Conqueror's landing in England would be enormously costly to Germany. If pressed with the determination of the blitzkrieg in France, the casualties might even exceed Germany's continental losses, as transports were repelled by British shore batteries, warships, and airplanes. The improbability of success in the face of heavy losses might well deter Hitler from risking so desperate a plan. Too, an air blitzkrieg against civilians would bring retaliation which could seriously weaken morale inside Germany.

There have been no reports of extensive evacuations of children from the great German cities within reach of British bombers, which may mean Hitler does not intend to invite retaliatory attacks on civilians.

U. S. AGRICULTURE READY FOR EMERGENCY, SAYS WALLACE

AMERICAN FOOD SUPPLIES AMPLE FOR ANY DEMAND

By FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 18 (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace has assured the nation that American agriculture is geared to meet any war-time emergency as the defense program moves swiftly ahead.

Supplies of food, feed and other raw materials are ample to meet any "possible demand," he said. Reserve supplies of cotton, wheat, tobacco, feed, grains and meats are among the largest in the nation's history.

Agriculture department economists agreed that it would be "extremely difficult, if not impossible," to starve the United States into submission by a blockade, even if it were made 100 per cent effective.

Vast Surplus Held
Large supplies of these vital materials already are in government hands. The commodity credit corporation and the federal surplus commodities corporation either outright or have loans on more than $500,000,000 worth of cotton, corn, wheat and tobacco.

"We have ample reserve supplies for any situation," Wallace said in commenting on the "preparedness of agriculture." There is, he said, no shortage of any essential agricultural commodity.

These reserves include 12,000,000 bales of cotton, 675,000,000 bushels of corn, 350,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000,000 pounds of meats, and smaller quantities of other farm products.

Farms Ample
Farms now in cultivation were said to be ample to meet any possible domestic need. If expansion were needed to aid in the feeding of other nations, the United States has upward of 50,000,000 acres of marginal land now held out of cultivation by government control programs.

The United States could easily increase cotton acreage from 25,000,000 to 40,000,000 acres; wheat from 65,000,000 to 85,000,000 acres, corn from 80,000,000 to 110,000,000 and the acreage of other crops in proportion.

Manpower Not Question
This increase could be accomplished, agricultural experts said, without much if any increase in the number of farm laborers. Mechanized farming has greatly increased the number of acres which one worker can cultivate and harvest.

HUSBAND JAILED IN ASSAULT SUIT

Accused of assaulting his wife and 16-year-old son with a deadly weapon, Jay W. Green, Hollister bee-keeper, was in county jail today awaiting preliminary hearing at 10 a. m. Friday.

The assault charge was filed in probate court by his wife, Mrs. Patricia Green. Simultaneously Mrs. Green presented a divorce suit in district court accusing her husband of extreme cruelty.

Lacks $1,000 Bond
Green, who had been held in jail for several days after being arrested late last week on a tentative claim of intoxication, was unable to provide the $1,000 bond set today by Judge C. A. Bailey after arraignment on the assault complaint. In that charge the Hollister man's wife alleged that he seized a wooden club—four feet long and two and a half inches thick—and attacked her and the son.

Amplifying the claim, Mrs. Green's divorce petition states that the husband threatened to kill her and the son last Friday, striking the son on the hand with the club. She asserted also that Green had threatened death at numerous other times.

Retains Counsel
E. V. Larson appeared as counsel for Green at the arraignment. In the divorce action, the wife states that she married Green Dec. 9, 1922 in Twin Falls. She asks a restraining order to prevent sale of the couple's bee-keeping equipment and other property. She also asks custody of the son. Harry Povey with Rayborn and Rayborn are counsel for Mrs. Green.

Records at the pool show this afternoon that 120 turned out in the beginners class; 35 in the intermediate class and 70 in the swimmers and life saving classes. Carpenter expressed the opinion that the number would be greatly increased during the second and third days of the course. Registration is free and may be made at the pool at any hour of the day.

Leaders Abandon Fight for Congressional Adjournment

LAWMAKERS MAY RECESS FOR TWO PARTY MEETINGS

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—The congressional adjournment fight was a thing of the past today, with all thoughts of adjournment before the Republican national convention convenes next Monday dissolved.

Only controversy still existing was whether congress should recess until both Republican and Democratic conventions are finished, or whether it should take one-week recesses while the conventions are in progress.

Propose Recess

Administration leaders in congress proposed a recess from Saturday until some fixed date such as Aug. 1 or Aug. 15. This met prompt opposition from Senate Republican Leader Charles L. McNary, R., Ore., and House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr.

"I'm going to insist on congress remaining in continuous session," McNary said. "These are critical times and I'm opposed to recessing to a definite date."

Recess Too Long

Martin added that with world affairs in their present state, and nations undergoing unpredictable changes from day to day, six weeks or more was far too long a recess.

"It is too critical a period," he said.

Administration leaders believed they could find the votes for such a recess. Martin, however, said he thought enough house Democrats would vote for continuous session to block it.

Holidays Urged

McNary and Martin both urged congress take a one-week recess for the Republican national convention and a similar one-week holiday during the Democratic convention, which convenes in Chicago July 15.

But Speaker William B. Bankhead said any recess at all hinged on disposal of this week of all pending appropriation bills. He pointed out that July 1 is the start of a new fiscal year and unless all pending supply bills are approved many government departments will not have funds on which to operate.

Ever See Wooden Nickel? Here's One!

The old saying is no longer "Don't take any wooden nickels"—not in Twin Falls, at any rate. For here's the wooden nickel, printed on thin plywood, which will circulate in all commercial transactions here until the Magic City Jubilee as a booster move for the gala celebration. The currency shown above is the one-nickel denomination. Others are two-nickel and five-nickel. Distribution of the wooden nickels to merchants began today under Junior Chamber of Commerce auspices. Store men will hand out the currency in regular change, and customers may use it exactly like ordinary nickels, dimes and quarters. It's redeemable on demand at the Fidelity National bank. Incidentally, it makes a novel souvenir to send your friends elsewhere. (Times Engraving)

FIREWORKS LAW READY FOR 1941

Adults and children alike can shoot fireworks this July season from the 2nd to the 5th, both dates inclusive, and merchants can sell them—but when the July 4th season of 1941 rolls around both activities will be unlawful within the city limits of Twin Falls.

This decision was reached at a council session here last night in which "fireworks" entered the discussion as Mayor Joe Koehler attempted to push through the law immediately so the ban would be effective for the holidays this year.

Verbal Maneuvers

After much discussion pro and con, however, and after much "throwing of words" about the council chamber, the mayor decided to let the law go through the regular course—which will cause it to be effective about July 17—or after the present celebration season is ended.

Councilmen last night received a petition signed by 17 local dealers who claimed that if the law became effective for the coming holiday period it would mean a loss to them of from $3,000 to $5,000 in that they could not dispose of fireworks they have on hand at the present time or have ordered.

Before he decided to withdraw the suspension of rules clause, which would have permitted passage of the law last night, Mayor Koehler said that "more than a few merchants should be considered when the safety of the citizens is at stake."

He added that if the money spent for fireworks, by people who claim they are unable to donate to the Red Cross, was instead given to the Red Cross, "they would be doing a fine damn thing."

Action Too Late

C. B. Henderson, local store owner who was loud in his denunciation of the sudden action to ban fireworks, said that the time to have passed the law was right after the July 4 season last year.

"If you had done that then we wouldn't have had all these fireworks ordered and on hand," Henderson said.

The same opinion was given during the heated discussion by R. F. Mallon and J. M. Cole, other dealers.

As a result of the session, it will be lawful to sell and fire fireworks this July 4 season, starting July 2 and continuing through July 5. Next year it will be unlawful to sell fireworks, shoot fireworks or have the same in possession, with the exception of "toy" gun cap pistols and ammunition for these.

A portion of the law which will become effective by July 17 of this year, and which will be strictly enforced next year, follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or partnership to have in his, her or their possession, or to sell, give away, display, fire or discharge any fireworks, flash crackers, torpedoes, bombs or any fireworks of any description within the city limits."

Supervised Display

The law further provides that upon consent of the council, supervised fireworks displays such as those seen at various celebrations, can be given. Violation of the law calls for a fine not to exceed $100.

Councilmen, after disposing of the fireworks matter, approved the proposal of F. C. Graves and Son for the city fleet insurance, the amount of premium being placed at $654.04.

An identical bid, which was also with the same company (United Pacific Casualty Co.), was submitted by W. O. Smith.

Accepted at last night's session was a land plat of Lang's subdivision in the South Park area. The new subdivision is bounded by Gardner avenue, Illinois street, Diamond street and Lang street.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (AP)—Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican party's program committee, today accused President Roosevelt of making an unauthorized "informal declaration of war" in his recent Charlottesville, Va., speech pledging material resources to the allies.

Frank told Republican platform drafters that the Roosevelt administration has fashioned its foreign policy at least in part to further its political ends at home.

"Millions of both parties in this country are distrustful of this administration that proceeds on its own hook to assume responsibilities in Europe that congress has not authorized," he said.

Members of the Republican resolutions committee, getting down to work on the platform to be submitted to the national convention next week, applauded Frank's statements.

THE SPIRIT OF 76

by JOHN CLINTON

My neighbor's wife, whom I admire in a polite way, has what is, to put it mildly, a unique ideal.

She suggests that Union 76 gasoline give off a cloud of green smoke and the scent of peppermint lifesavers.

She reasons that if people see thousands upon thousands of cars giving off green smoke and smelling up the place with peppermint, they'll realize how popular 76 is.

Quite aside from the fact that we'd no doubt be run out of the west by people allergic to peppermint and green smoke, I somehow don't think Union's engineers would go for the idea.

76 Gasoline is especially blended to reduce Traffic Nerves, and somehow a lot of green smoke doesn't sound to me like a way to reduce any kind of nervousness!

I think a better, if slightly less spectacular, way is to let nature take its course. About the time you get a tank full of this new 76 and you feel the old buggy come to life all of a sudden, driving just naturally becomes more fun.

Most folks are willing to do anything to reduce Traffic Nerves, and when they find out what new 76 does, I think old fashioned word-of-mouth will do the trick.

Get my neighbor's wife is all right. She returns the butter she borrows, and if she's a Union Oil fan, it's obviously O.K. by me!

ZOUNDS AND EGAD! WE'VE BEEN SPIED ON!

Dear Pot Shots:
 I snapped this exclusive photo of your Secret Agent 13 as he left the office the other day after that mysterious conference with you. My operatives informed me that you had given him orders to the annihilation of Herr Hitler.

My operator, Z-1603, is shown trailing your secret agent in this picture. I just wanted to be sure that your boys got the rat.

WHOPPER WINNERS

What temperatures steaming around 100, and a hot dispute as to winner of the second week's series in the Pot Shots lars' contest, our board of advisers is practically willed today.

The board insists that we award not only the $1 first prize but also a 50-cent runner-up award because it had such a hard time deciding.

Hence, the dollar goes to I. Catech, who resides at Paul, The 50 cents goes to Kactus Pete, Twin Falls. We'll have the Pot Shots exchequer department mail out the cash this evening.

Just to refresh your memory, I. Catech told of mugging trout by feeding 'em tacks and then using a magnet instead of an orthodox fishing line. Kactus Pete recounted the wind-so terrific it blew his headlight beams off the road into a field nearby.

Final series in the annual whopper competition, is now underway, and we trust you gents and ladies with mighty tales up your sleeve will shoot 'em in to us. Remember the cash—and also the fact that we'll ship the best yarns to Burlington, Wis., in the national contest. So go to it, you amateur Paul Bunyans.

 I may be behind the times but has our county prosecutor been taking a ministerial course by mail?

SHUSH! OUR BILL WENT DOWN THIS MONTH!

Dear Pot Shots:
 Your friendly rival, Seen Today, mentioned Monday that artificial respiration instructions are being enclosed in the current Idaho Power statements.

May I ask, bashfully and in all humility, if these instructions are intended for use on the recipient of the bill after he notes the amount?

Cynical

TALE OF THE MAGIC FLUTE!

Dear Potshots:
 About that contest, I've got a good one for you.

Once when I was broke and wanting some money, I saw a poster advertising an air circus in town. To a man standing by I said, "I'll bet you two reserved tickets to the circus against $200 that I win the prize."

The sucker agreed and I walked off. Came the day of the circus, and time for me to perform. The contest was for the best stunt. So I tied a rope between two airplanes. My stunt was a tight roping trick. As I was about to perform the rope snapped but I leaped to the wing of the plane.

Calmly pulling a flute out of my pocket, (I always carry one) I played such lovely music that the ropes twined around each other. With a shrill note, I caused the ropes to pull back and there I had a good knot in the rope. Since it was repaired I finished my stunt, collected my two hundred and, boy, did I celebrate.

Toodooce, Potshots.

AN EYE FOR A GAL BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

CHAPTER XII

ROSSY MCAFEE just sat there gasping and gulping and staring at Dr. Tollivar. Tollivar looked at him now, met Rossy's eyes.

"I said that it was not the bean ball I threw that killed your father, although it knocked him unconscious. It was a blow on his head with a bar of iron, just back of this grandstand, that cracked his skull and was the actual cause of death. That was what I said."

"I heard you," Rossy said, hoarsely. "But how you know that you hulled out? Didn't you turn fall and run after you seen what you had done?"

"Yes, I did. To my everlasting grief I ran, I plead in defense the fact that it was all I knew to do."

"So I left the mountains forever. I went to school, to college. I made a name for myself. Always I had in the back of my head a hunger to come back and do something big for my people. Educate them, lift them out of the ruck of feeding."

"I never admitted I was a Tollivar. What would have been the value of that? I kept my mouth shut, and labored to make available education for worthwhile people like you—like Hannah Shrider—or a thousand others. That was the way I saved my soul after killing your father."

"But, Rossy, I did not 'beat' your father on purpose. It was just another of those times where one does a thing because he is so terribly afraid he will—and he then can't help it. You were close to it yesterday when we played Southern."

"I know."

"Now we have a couple of things to attend to, and afterwards I hope we'll have a big square dance. I haven't enjoyed a big dance for years and years. Let's go back down to Leverage's."

Steve Hogg came with his mother. Constable Sneed brought them. There was no appearance of handcuffs, or the heavy hand of the law.

Soon the small room was packed and Judge Jesse was clearing his throat getting ready for one of his typical courts that were not officially courts, but mountain justice. The last to appear was Scout Ike Hill, with Coach Hurd. Leverage pounded the table for order in court, and said:

"Folks, we are gathered together to settle something what's been hanging fire for nigh a generation, namely, to-wit, who killed Rossy McAfee's paw, and how come. Now, I allus have said to let sleeping dogs lie. But this pup wants wakening. Dr. Tollivar, will you stand?"

"Yes, sir, Judge," Dr. Tollivar said, and got up.

"Was you the Tollivar boy what pitched that Fourth of July game when McAfee was beamed?"

"Yes, sir, Judge, I was. But it was an accident. Not for the world would I have done it. I've tried atone for it to Rossy McAfee. But I was the one." He sat down.

"Stand up, Ike Hill."

my affair, I figured. Not till lately have I ever told what I really saw. Now I am here to say it under oath, if necessary."

"Would you know that feller if you seen him?"

"I think so."

"Look around. Is he here?"

Hill looked all around, and then back at Leverage. "He is here."

"Sit down," Judge Jesse said. "Steve Hogg. You here? Will you stand up?"

THE scout stood at the court's order. "Yes, sir, Judge."

"Was you, as this letter of yours I have before me, present at that same game, scouting?"

"Yes, sir, Judge, I was. I'd heard of this Tollivar boy and wanted to see him in action. If he was as good as they said, he must be a house fire."

"Then you seen the actual beaming—that right?"

"Yes, along with a lot of people here, I saw what appeared to be a strange accident."

"You think it was an accident?"

"Yes, I do. I've seen nervous pitchers throw games away in strange ways, but never like that. But I feel sure it was an accident, and I am equally sure that, but for something else, McAfee would have been over it in 30 minutes. I've seen a good many men knocked out, and it's rare indeed that one is really killed."

"Will you finish up the rest of your tale?"

"I dropped through a hole in the grandstand just as they brought McAfee around and laid him in the shade. One man went for water and the other for something else. Then I saw a big overgrown fellow drop with an iron bar in his hand and hit the unconscious man with the iron. It all happened in the wink of an eye."

"I never came back to mess up with the matter. It was none of

HIS face drawn and hard, Steve Hogg got up, holding to the chair ahead of him to steady himself.

"Steve, how'd you feel about giving back that land and timber to Rossy McAfee and his maw?"

"I think it could be arranged," Steve said thickly.

"I'm all for letting feuds and such like sleep in their graves," Leverage went on thoughtfully. "TVA and cyars should make that sleep peaceful. Just the same, murder is murder, and I reckon, Constable, you mout as wellist take your prisoner along. He'll feel better in other company."

When Steve Hogg went out with the officer, joining the sheriff waiting outside, there was a moment of odd depression.

JUDGE JESSE cleared the atmosphere.

"Now would thar be a gal and boy here who mout want to git married or something?" He beamed all around. "I feel it coming on me—the marriage ceremony. I could hitch anybody up in good law, recollect, and hit would make a powerful fine occasion to celebrate, so's we could have a square dance tonight, after a big barbecue supper. Of course, we aim to have the supper anyhow, but the dance—well, now, we ain't got no rightful excuse for the dance—"

He continued to beam, and the beam seemed to focus on Rossy McAfee, sitting between Hannah and Judy.

"You needn't look at me, Rossy!" Hannah said. "I'm not even thinking about marrying, not you nor anybody else! Life's beginning with me at 20, and I aim to get a college education and enjoy it before I get hitched up!"

"Who was looking at you?" Rossy growled. "I'm looking at Judy. How about it, Judy?"

Judy blushed furiously, and then dimpled. "Well, my mother took a chance on another wild Hell'n-Damnation baseball pitcher, and won her game; I see no reason why I shouldn't do as well. If you want, Rossy, I'll take my chances with you!"

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON
 Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 16—Until recently, Americans generally understood that they had probably the best military planes in the world. Lately the pendulum has swung over to the other end of the arc, so that folks are getting the idea that Uncle Sam's fighting planes are hopelessly out of date, so outclassed that they might as well be thrown away.

The truth lies between the two extremes.

Most planes in the U. S. military service today have been outmoded—but they're still good airplanes and could be extremely useful in war. If that weren't true, the allies wouldn't be so anxious to get them.

STILL GOOD FOR SOMETHING

In general, a bombing plane needs two characteristics—speed, and defensive power in guns and armor. Above a certain level, it must skip on one to save on the other. It may be badly obsolescent in one respect and not obsolescent at all in the other—and hence, though outdated, still have a job of value. Also, bombers are generally accompanied and protected by pursuit planes; a given flight of bombers could be nearly worthless if its protecting fighters were outclassed, but 100 per cent efficient if its fighters were superior to the enemy's.

OLD PURSUIT SHIPS STILL USEFUL

A good illustration is the pursuit plane—the plane which exists to fight enemy airplanes. It has to have high speed, so that it can make the enemy fight when he doesn't want to fight; it has to have maneuverability, so it can handle itself when the fight starts, and it has to be able to climb fast.

A couple of years ago the Curtiss P-36 was the army's pet pursuit plane. For export, Curtiss sold the 75, which was much the same ship. The Spanish republicans bought and used a lot of these and found they were tops. The French asked up with quite a number and in the early part of the present war they beat the German Messerschmidts regularly.

Then the Germans brought out a new Messerschmidt with a 40-mile speed advantage—and the 75's had to be taken out of frontline service, because they no longer could force a fight on the Germans when the Germans didn't want one.

But the 75 still isn't useless. If the situation is such that your enemy must attack and defeat your fighting planes in order to carry out his mission, a disadvantage in speed doesn't hurt you. The 75 can still maneuver as well as the Messerschmidt, and outclimb it to boot; hence for strictly defensive purposes it's a perfectly good ship. It's obsolescent—but not obsolete.

FAMOUS "STUKAS" ARE "ERSATZ"

The famed German stukas, or dive-bombers, are another case in point.

Many of these, experts here suspect, are simply out-of-date attack planes. For ordinary purposes, they're nearly useless; for the new German tactics, they're good as they need to be. A lot of them will inevitably be lost in any "powerhouse" attack—but if they accom-

JOB for JUNE Graduates

By WALTER HOVING
 President, Lord & Taylor, New York; Author of "Your Career in Business" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce, $2)

First solemn truth for the young, newly employed person to keep in mind is that each added responsibility in any career requires a bigger person to carry the load.

Hard work, and long, consistent service are points which your employer takes into consideration when he thinks of you in terms of promotion. For the good of his business, the determining factor must be whether you have grown as a person since you started work, or since your last promotion, and are now big enough for added responsibility.

Only the person who enriches himself will grow to meet responsibility and should deserve promotion.

This is not simply a question of training, of education, nor of acquiring more and more information about your job. It is a question of reaching beyond the boundaries of your job, of widening your personal horizon, of becoming broader, richer, more significant as a human being.

The young woman who selects the advertising or merchandising leaders to access in a department store must be able to sell—easily and well. Without that ability she has little chance of success.

If she hopes that her flare for selling will lead her into advertising rather than merchandising, she must be able to write and to get across in newspaper advertisements the dramatic possibilities of the merchandise.

Advertising is salesmanship in print. Successful selling is valuable experience that can lead to it.

If she is to go on from selling into merchandising—to become a junior executive (perhaps head of stock or assistant buyer)—she must also have the ability to manage both merchandise and people. If she is to go on to become a buyer, she must have creative imagination—the ability to see possibilities of developing, improving, and promoting attractively the merchandise on her shelves.

You will notice that, so far, this has been addressed to woman in particular. It is done intentionally. I believe that women's inherent qualifications make them especially suited for department store work in these two fields—merchandising and advertising. They instinctively know what it takes men long years to learn, regarding color, understanding the feminine customer, and so on.

Regardless of your sex, don't wait

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

VACATION GUIDES—FROM FOOD TO FISH, FROM EAST TO WEST

Before you plan that vacation, or even as late as the night you are packing, you might very well consider one or all of these timely guides which will do much to make your trip richer and maybe a little cheaper than it might have been this year.

The books are "American Vacations" by Larry Nixon (Little, Brown and Co.; $2.25); "The Vacation Guide" by Robert Spiers Benjamin (Whittlessey House; $2.50) and "101 American Vacations" by Horace Coon (Doubleday, Doran; $1.99).

Each takes a different approach to the vacation question, so that before you have finished reading them you will wonder if this annual trip isn't pretty much of a science after all—that is, it should be if you get anywhere for your money.

Mr. Nixon thinks it, proceeds to outline "vacation resources" of the country, tells you where you can have restful farmhouse vacations, where you'll find dude ranches without tennis courts, the new youth hostels and the old but ever beautiful national parks. Here is information on how to plan, from clothes to costs.

One of the most useful sections of the books is a chapter detailing the vacation highlights of each state, and it seems to miss almost no worth noting.

Mr. Benjamin's "Vacation Guide" follows somewhat the same plan but goes a step further to classify vacations by type, and by season, to tell you which are best for families, best for single men or women, etc. It outlines, for instance, ten fully routed automobile trips, descriptions of 60 outstanding dude ranches, guides to 16 national parks. And this is merely the beginning.

The tour idea is the principal feature of "101 American Vacations" by Mr. Coon. This is a little book but packed solidly with information. It is divided into a series of vacation trips, long and short, cheap and costly, tells you where to start and when, what you'll see, and what you'll have to pay each day, and, finally, what you SHOULD have left of the old budget when you get back home.

It is perhaps the handiest book of the three since it will fit into your coat pocket.

Lois Anderson Plays For Chicago Symphony

The family of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson made a definite contribution to the musical life of Twin Falls while residing here. When they left this city about four years ago for Chicago, the talented daughters carried with them the "success wishes" of their many friends.

Miss Lois Anderson even then was regarded as an artist on the violin, winning state honors in the high school music contest in that division the last year she was in Twin Falls.

Rev. Anderson was at one time pastor of the First Christian church here.

Makes Good Promise
"When I play in Orchestra hall in Chicago, I'll send you tickets for the concert," she told Mrs. O. P. Duvall, an intimate friend of the Anderson family.

This week Mrs. Duvall received those promised tickets. Miss Anderson, winner of the Hammond violin contest at the Chicago Musical college, will be the violin soloist with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, playing a concert engagement tomorrow evening, June 19, at Orchestra hall.

Miss Anderson will play Mozart's "Concerto in D-Major". She is the pupil of Leon Samantine, who is conducting the orchestra.

Incidentally, it was Samantine whom Mrs. Duvall recommended to Lois before she went east.

Another Studies Opera
Miss Anderson received her basic musical training from her mother, who was also an accomplished musician.

Another daughter, Miss Marjorie Anderson, who is studying for grand opera with Madam Gardini, will make her debut in Chicago next year.

She is an operatic soprano.

CROQUET PLAYED DURING CLASS PICNIC

Croquet was a feature of the picnic attended by 20 members of the Artist class of the Church of the Brethren Sunday following church services.

The event took place on the lawn at the home of Miss Ruth Miller, 1335 Addison avenue east. A brief business session was conducted by Clinton Smallwood, president, following the picnic dinner.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

A well-kept, hike and business meeting were held by Osheskahamay group of Camp Fire Girls Friday at the home of Joan Hicks, with Mrs. H. H. Burkhardt, guardian, present. A letter was written to Dorothy Allen, who is in the Twin Falls county general hospital.

FLAG DRILL

A drill telling how the flag was made was presented last week by a group of Camp Fire Girls directed by Gwendolyn Helfrecht and Emma Lea Skinner for Twin Falls chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, on Tuesday, and for United Patriotic Women's organization at the Flag day tea Friday. Accompanying the drill at the piano was Joan LeClair.

Girls representing three groups of Camp Fire took part. They were Shirley Hayes, Ruthann Hayes, Gladys Hyde, Beverly Olson, Gloria Wilson, Barbara Beymer, Patty Campbell, Norma Jean Dinkel, Jeanne Parker, Grace Wegener, Peggy Hendricks and Flora Campbell.

As part of observing Flag week, each group has studied the flag, its history and the flag code, and has held a special meeting.

Twin Falls Children Pay Tribute to 'Old Glory'

With each participant carrying an American flag, more than 500 Twin Falls children paraded in the downtown section of the city on Flag day, many of them marching in costumes. A Red Cross nurse and a miniature Aunt Jemima were among the marchers, as this picture shows. E. F. Roberge, chief boatwain's mate, United States navy, with the local recruiting office, addressed the youngsters. (Times Photo and Engraving)

YWCA Speaker Draws Parallel Between Germany, 'White South'

Among the groups present were Girl Reserves, junior group, Beta Gamma and Magici-Y clubs, business girls, and the adult council.

Speaker Talks on Equalization Law For G. O. P. Club

Idaho's equalization law is regarded as a model by other states, Mrs. John E. Hayes told members of the Twin Falls county Republican Women's club, following a picnic luncheon at the attractive country home of Mrs. F. W. Neale yesterday afternoon.

"The difficulty presented to Idaho is the need of assuring a stable fund for the equalization plan, which is taken care of at present by legislative appropriation," Mrs. Hayes said. She illustrated her talk with charts.

A symposium on potential candidates for the Republican nomination for presidency followed her address with Mrs. H. E. Hammerquist, Flier, discussing Frank E. Gannett; Mrs. J. H. Seaver, Wendell Wilkie; Mrs. E. M. Sweezy, Thomas E. Dewey; Mrs. Marian Tucker, Robert A. Taft, and Mrs. H. W. Leveque, Arthur Vandenberg.

Miss M. Izzetta McCoy, president, was in charge of the business session.

Luncheon was served buffet style, the table being centered with rosebuds. Guests were seated at quarter-tables placed under shade trees on the terraced lawn. A huge basket of delphinium and madonna lilies was a featured decoration.

and Miss Church.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. William Baker before the dinner, followed by group singing of "God Bless America." The speaker was introduced by Miss Irene Lopez, and following her talk answered questions informally.

"You and I helped make Japan what she is," she said, when she told that Japan feels that the white nations have treated her as an inferior, and she is determined not to be like Hitler and the white south. She turned to China, where she might also find greater resources.

In conclusion, she answered her question of what membership in the Y. W. C. A. means by saying that its greatest value is that "it gives us some way to operate on the big questions of our day." If groups will find what they want to act on, and will then act, speaking especially to Girl Reserves, she gave the second great value as "growing into a person who not only has personality and ability to deal with big topics, but a person who has real spiritual grace."

Snaydragons in a large bowl, flanked by smaller bouquets of garden flowers, centered the speaker's table. Smaller bouquets decorated the long tables at which members of the four groups were seated, and corsages were placed at each plate.

In charge was Miss Royce Church, assisted by Miss Betty Sommer, Miss Dorothy Sommer and Miss Jean Clark.

Refreshment committee was Mrs. Dave Lopez, Miss Betty Hansen, Mrs. R. L. Reed, Mrs. Ethel Martin.

TWIN FALLS MAN RELIEVED OF GAS BLOATING AND PAIN

Mr. Ben Dalbow Says Hoyt's Compound Ended His Suffering From Indigestion, Gas, Bloating, Dizzy Spells and Pain in the Shoulder and Hip.

One of the latest Twin Falls residents to publicly praise Hoyt's Compound is Mr. Ben Dalbow, 570 Sixth Ave. W., who states: "All last winter I suffered from pain in my right shoulder and hip, and this pain was continuous. I used several kinds of liniments trying to get relief from this pain. I also had a severe case of indigestion and the gas and bloating at times would cause my heart to palpitate. At night, the gas and bloating would cause a pressure against my heart until I could not sleep. I was forced to take soda to get any relief. I was subject to dizzy spells and spots would dance before my eyes. I also had bad headaches."

"Now since taking Hoyt's Compound, I can honestly say that Hoyt's Compound has changed my condition completely. I do not have

COWBOYS SEE TURNING-POINT AFTER WIN

SPORTS

Fast Moving Cardinals Dump Brooklyn From National League Lead

Nip Bees 4-3 in 12 Innings; Both Managers Chased

If flawless fielding and a strong indication of a "clutch" hitting attack are sound omens, Manager Frank Tobin and his Twin Falls, Cowboys believed today they may have hit the turning point in a hitherto luckless season.

The Cowboys flashed the clean-cut defense and the timely wallops last night in accomplishing two major achievements: (1) Defeating the league-leading Salt Lake Bees 4-3 in a 12-inning thriller, and (2) finally breaking the Mel Marlowe jinx over Twin Falls by plastering the defeat on the eccentric lefthander, who relieved giant Jack Bowen.

Bees' Margin Shrinks to Three Games

The cellar dwelling Twin Falls Cowboys dumped the league leading Salt Lake Bees last night, 4 to 3, in 12 innings.

Simultaneously, the Boise Pilots beat Pocatello Cards, 11 to 1, and climbed to within three games of the Bees.

Damon Hayes pitched the entire game for Twin Falls, and held the Bees to eight hits, one of them a homer by Ray Perry. Mel Marlowe, southpaw slammer, was charged with the defeat. He had relieved the erratic Jack Bowen in the eighth with the score three to two against the Bees, who tied it up in the ninth. The winning marker came in the 12th on a single by Ernie Bishop.

At Boise, the Pilots had little trouble with the Cards. The only dangerous Card hitter proved to be Catcher Frank Kerr, who connected for two homers off Pitcher Cook. A big four run rally in the seventh sewed up the game for the Pilots. A 3 to 2 victory over the Ogden Reds pushed the Idaho Falls Russets into a tie with Pocatello for fourth place. Al Emmertson kept the Reds' nine hits scattered.

Louis Odds Shorten as Fight Nears

NEW YORK, June 18 (U.P.)—Champion Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy completed training today for their return title brawl Thursday night, with the odds shortening to 4-1 and Godoy threatening to belt out Arthur Donovan if he refuses.

Three rounds of boxing at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., comprised the champion's final workout, while Challenger Godoy contented himself with a few rounds of limbering exercises at Carmel, N. Y.

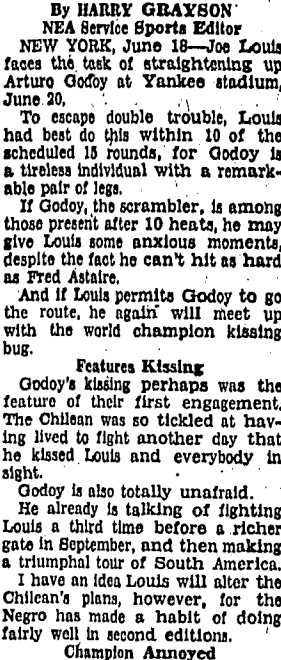

Price-Maker Eddie Borden announced that fresh bundles of Godoy money has caused another drop in the odds favoring Louis. Today they sank from 5-1 to 4-1. Borden predicted the challenger's surprisingly heavy backing would send them to 3-1 or lower by ring time. Likewise the Louis kayo price was hammered to 2-1.

Godoy, at sharp battle edge last night, fumed about his Carmel camp and expressed fears that he would be unable to control himself if Donovan climbed into the Yankee stadium ring to referee again.

The boxing commission, at Thursday's meeting after the noon weigh-in, will consider protests against Donovan from Godoy, his manager, Al Weil, and the Chilean consultant, Anibal Jara. Donovan left himself open to these protests by writing a recent magazine article in which he favored Louis strongly.

Stanford Favored Over USC in NCAA Meet

EVANSTON, Ill., June 18 (U.P.)—Stanford, an underdog to Southern California for a dozen years, emerged today as the new favorite for the national collegiate track and field championship after leading Pacific coast forces to an overwhelming dual meet victory over Stanford today.

It was Stanford power, not Southern California's, that led to the 90-40 rout and now the Indians race as the team to beat when the pick of the nation assemble for the N. C. A. A. games at Minneapolis this week-end. U. S. C. has won the national title nine times in the last 13 years.

Led by its "fastest human," Clyde Jeffrey, Stanford accounted for four of the west coast's 11 first place victories in the dual meet. Jeffrey won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes with ease. Stanford athletes also won the mile (Paul Moore) and picked up first and second places in the shot put with Bill Trout and Stanley Anderson.

The big team was outclassed completely, winning only the 120 yard high hurdles, half-mile, two mile and discus.

Washington Favored in Poughkeepsie

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18 (U.P.)—A husky, unbeaten Cornell crew carried the hopes of the east into the 43rd Poughkeepsie rowing regatta today as a crowd of 75,000 stormed into the river town expecting to see the greatest varsity race in 15 years.

Although Washington was the betting favorite at odds of 7-5, there was no "big crew"—none of those red-hot favorites that can't lose—in the field of eight that paddles to the stake boat at 3 p. m. CST for the four-mile grind down the Hudson river.

The top four boats were California, Washington, Cornell and Columbia. Navy and Syracuse were the "dark horses" and the only crews in the race for whom victory would be a surprise were Princeton, rowing here for the first time, and Wisconsin.

Buhl Softball Team Scores Triple Play

BUILT, June 18 (Special)—Despite a triple play engineered by the Knights of Columbus team in Sunday's C.Y.O. softball league game, the Knights lost as the Indians scored a 7 to 3 victory.

Diner, Knight of Columbus hurler, caught a line drive, threw to the first baseman who relayed it to second, catching both men off base. Batteries were Indians, D. Hamer, Merion, 6-0, 4-0.

Relief Pitcher Turns Dodgers Back 3 to 1; Reds Down Phillies

NEW YORK, June 18 (U.P.)—Beware of the St. Louis Cardinals—that was the hottest tip along the National league front today despite the fact the Cincinnati Reds had moved back into the league leadership.

Billy Southworth has given the Cards a shot in the arm and it's taken hold overnight. Since Southworth became pilot of the Cards they haven't lost a ball game and have won five straight. They look like the club everyone thought last spring they'd have. They are hustling and scrapping and battling every inch of the way and talking pennant even though they are in fifth place.

Southworth plucked Clyde Shoun, the southpaw hurler, who hasn't pitched a complete game since 1938, right out of the bullpen yesterday and beat the Dodgers with him, 3-1. After relieving in 24 games Shoun was promoted to a starting role by Southworth and the left-hander responded by holding the Dodgers to four singles.

Brooklyn's loss to the Cards and the Reds' 6-2 victory over the Phillies enabled Cincinnati to regain the lead. Whitley Moore, who relieved Johnny Vander Meer in the second, held the Phils to two hits in eight innings. Eddie Joost's homer with two mates on was the big punch. The defeat dumped the Phils into the cellar.

Paul Dean duplicated his last week's victory over the Cubs as he pitched the Giants to a 2-1 victory over Gabby Hartnett's club. Dean allowed only six hits, one of them Stan Hack's homer.

The Bees beat the Pirates twice, 5-3 and 5-1, to jump from the cellar to sixth place. Bill Foswell coasted to an easy victory in the opener. Al Flecheta won the nightcap, but he was in trouble most of the time.

Seattle Has Slim Lead Of One Game

Boasting a slim one-game margin over the second place Oakland club, Seattle this week entertains the third-place Sacramento Solons at Sick stadium.

Oakland meanwhile invades Los Angeles to take on the Seraphs, whose wings have been so badly clipped they have dropped to seventh place.

San Francisco, a club that has won only one series this year, is host to the fifth place Hollywood club that saw an eight-game winning streak halted last week by Sacramento.

Portland, in the throes of a shakeup that saw Outfielder Ed Coleman released, entertains the fourth-place San Diego club.

Flyweights Go To Decision In Ten Rounds

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 (U.P.)—Little Dado, the world's flyweight champion, still holds his title although Little Pancho, a fellow countryman, held him to a 10 round draw in a bout here last night.

Dado had an advantage in rounds but Pancho staged the better finish and thereby caused Referee Jack Downey to call it all square.

Parker, Riggs Favored to Retain Title

RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 18 (U.P.)—Defending Champion Frank E. Parker and Bobby Riggs, the nation's No. 1 tennis player, were heavy favorites over unheralded opponents today in the second round of the national clay courts tennis tournament.

Parker, seeded second, meets Charles T. Matman, Los Angeles, after eliminating Arthur Marx, son of comedian Groucho Marx, in his first match. Riggs plays William Reddy, Los Angeles.

Alice Marble led the women's field into the round of eight with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Mrs. Edna Shalala, Cleveland.

Twelve men are rushing the project to completion.

East Side Beats Medford's 18-13

East Side defeated Medford's 18 to 13 in a Pee Wee league game Monday.

Emerick and Anderson starred at the plate for the winners, while Russell and Hyde were good for the losers.

Batteries were: East Side—Anderson and Chris Emerick; Kinder; Medford's—Russell and Hyde.

Magel's downed Electric Bakery, 22 to 19 Saturday. Johnson, Jacobs, Floyd and Roberts were top batsmen for the winners. Keith Malone led the Bakery with teammate McDonald who hit a homer.

Batteries were: Magel's—Jacobs and Johnson; Electric Bakery—Bates, Sheaffer, K. Malone and W. Malone.

Bee Fielder on Suspended List

SALT LAKE CITY, June 18 (U.P.)—Whitney Burleson, Salt Lake Bees centerfielder, was left behind yesterday when the team left for a road trip. Burleson, who has been suffering from sinus trouble, has been placed on the suspended list long enough to have some dental work done. The Bees bosses think work on Burleson's teeth might clear up the sinus trouble.

Buhl Net Courts To Open July 1

BUHL, June 18 (Special)—Construction of new tennis courts back of the high school building is expected to be finished by July 1 at which time the courts will be opened, says H. W. Kite, superintendent of the WPA project.

The concrete courts are standard size. A wide walk is being constructed between the courts and another walk will be built around the outside.

Twelve men are rushing the project to completion.

Mac Rocks Jacob's Office With Query Regarding Fight Outcome

By HENRY McLEMORE
 NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—In my set, where the Mucky Jacks speak only to the Evil-Eye Finkies, and the Evil-Eye Finkies speak only to the Dumb Dan Morgans, and the Dumb Dan Morgans speak only out of the corners of their mouths, it is considered not only "de trop" but even lousy for a fight promoter to take a guess at the probable winner of a bout he is handling.

So, there was many a raised scared eyebrow when I walked into Mike Jacobs' "strictly private" office yesterday and, shrieking above the strictly private mob that was in the room, asked the promoter how he thought the Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy fight would come out.

It was a faux pas, and the "set" wasted little time letting me know it was. Three or four of them let their feet fall from Mike's desk. Others got up and put on their coats for the first time in years. Still others tossed their cigarettes out of the window instead of onto the floor.

Hymie Caplin even went so far as to use the past tense in condemning by query.

Only Promoter Jacobs kept his poise. With the old world courtesy he beckoned me out of the room, bummed a smoke off me, and asked:

"Now what is it you wanta know?"

I said I wanted to know what he thought of Thursday's scrap between Louis and Godoy, and if he knew anything about Louis wanting to retire, and if it were true the heavyweight champion of the world had become more interested in 12-cylinder cars, emerald green suits, 15-course dinners, and diamond rings than he was in the business of prize fighting.

"Nuttin'," said Mike.

"I can't say Joe is going to win on Thursday, because I don't know," the promoter continued.

"But I do know this. He hates Godoy. I also know that anything

Joe hates is in danger of getting its head knocked off. I also know he wants to fight Godoy again. I know this because Louis is the one who made the match. A week or two after the first fight with Godoy, Joe came to me and said, 'Get that there Godoy in there with me again. That's the fellow I wanta fight.'

As for Joe wanting to quit the ring and settle down to a life of ease and smothered pork chops, Jacobs says there is no truth in the report.

"He'll be fighting four or five years from now. Most of his cash is tied up in investments, and he can use all the ready scratch he can make."

I asked Mike what he thought the fight on Thursday would draw.

"It's hard to tell, but my guess is that it will do around $200,000. That won't be quite enough to show a profit, but I'll be damned if a guy named Hitler is going to make me call off a show."

FILER

Filer Grange celebrated its 15th anniversary with a good attendance, 80 members and guests being present. After a short business session with all of the officers being present except two, the meeting was turned over to the three graces, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Walker, who had charge of the anniversary program.

The program: "Happy Birthday," sung to the Grange by 10 boys and girls, and "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Englebright by the same girls and boys; (Didn't say how old Sister Englebright was). Grange history was given by Mrs. Bert Chastain; tuba solo, Keith Eberole, accompanied by Phillip Corey. George E. Rasmussen, now deceased, was the first master of Filer Grange, so Mrs. Johnson spoke briefly of the old times. Mr. Gardner, now of Jerome, was the second master and he spoke of the time he was in office. Clifford Thomas then spoke of what took place while he was master.

The next master, Mr. Bennett, now of Nampa, was not present. William Price, fifth in line, was present and spoke briefly. William Bueasing, who followed Mr. Price, is now living in Oregon and was unable to attend the meeting.

Next was Mr. Earl Johnson, who spoke of the past and looked forward to the future. Raymond Thomas followed Mr. Johnson and also spoke. He was followed by Carl Leonard, during whose term the present Grange hall was purchased and brought to its present state of efficiency. Don Spencer is the present master and he also spoke briefly.

It may be seen by the above array of masters that Filer Grange believes the Grange develops leadership and they have drawn on their talent to a remarkable degree in choosing their officers.

The next number was a piano solo by Eleanor Johnson; reading, "When Ma's Away"; Ruth Esslinger; reading, Albert Stroud; instrumental trio, Mary Alice Peck; Beatrice Thomas and Lois Walker, two numbers; reading, "Good Little Boy"; Lewis Esslinger; guitar trio, Norman Drexler, Marjorie Spencer and Shirley Spencer.

Program closed with all singing "God Bless America," and how we can sing that. Cake and ice cream covered with strawberries (hush up) was served. All charter members and past masters and their wives who were present were seated at one table, with an angel food cake topped with 15 candles as a centerpiece. A real good meeting, I call it. Too bad Filer meets on the same night as my own Grange.

Northview Grange had no program so the evening was spent in discussing the fair and working over the school ground and leveling it up, a worthwhile project.

DEWEY FORCES INITIATE "STOP WILLKIE" MOVEMENT

LATE DRIVE FOR GOP NOMINATION ALARMS LEADERS

By LYLE C. WILSON
 PHILADELPHIA, June 18 (U.P.)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination is off to a good start today in a wide open race notable at the moment for indications of a stop-Willkie movement.

The spectacular last minute campaign of Wendell L. Willkie, Commonwealth and Southern utilities executive, has alarmed some of the party's veteran leaders and there is a tendency among them toward some kind of agreement to permit an early ballot nomination in the party's national convention convening Monday.

Dark Horse
 Nomination of a dark horse candidate such as Willkie, Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, or former President Herbert C. Hoover, appears now to be possible only if the convention encounters a series of deadlock ballots.

Dewey, Sen. Robert A. Taft, and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, were out in front in early pre-convention campaigning. Taft and Dewey have come into the stretch still contesting for the delegate lead with Willkie making a final fortnight spurt that placed him second in popular appeal as measured by the Gallup poll.

Elected Chairman
 Dewey took the first pre-convention week trick yesterday when Herbert K. Hyde, resolutions committee member from Oklahoma and a strong Dewey partisan, was elected temporary platform committee chairman by acclamation. Hyde was boosted into the chairmanship by former Gov. Alf M. Landon, Kan., the candidate in 1936.

Landon's support of Hyde does not commit him nor the Kansas delegation to support Dewey, but it was counted a good break for the district attorney and an indication of Landon's half-formed sympathies. The prime purpose in selecting Hyde was to avoid the appearance of old guard, eastern domination of the party which might have followed the election of George Wharton Pepper, Pennsylvania leader, who had been widely touted for the job.

No Definite Swing
 There is no evidence here of a definite swing toward any of the candidates and neither Taft nor Dewey is far enough ahead to prevent widespread speculation regarding dark horse chances. But the beginning of an effort to obtain an early ballot nomination—by taking one of the men now rated as leading in delegate strength—is obvious in conversations with various party leaders.

The idea of a plankless platform short enough to be printed on a postcard won the support of top-ranking leaders.

GOP Views States
 A concise and general statement of Republican views was suggested while Dr. Glenn Frank and his aides reported to the resolutions committee on their 35,000 words, "a program for a dynamic America—a statement of Republican principles."

The Frank report, which in general agreed with New Deal objectives but vigorously criticized methods and results, was compiled at the direction of the national committee and was issued in February. It will serve as the general basis for the platform, but there were many who hoped drastically to compress its wordage.

Third cover spray should be applied not later than June 22, G. C. Magers, state horticultural inspector, said this afternoon in an announcement directed to all apple growers of this district.

Writers Escape German Bullets

LONDON, June 18 (U.P.)—Two carloads of newspapermen accompanying the BEF in France over the week-end, narrowly escaped death when they ran into a German bicycle patrol, it had been revealed today.

Edward W. Beattie, jr., United Press correspondent, said he and the other newspapermen escaped by racing away at 80 miles an hour with rifle bullets "pinging around our ears." He attributed the escape to the quick about-face and the fact that the Germans had no machine guns handy.

Surprise

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (U.P.)—Naomi Anderson had Hollywood gasping today.

The Chicago model whose trim legs have decorated many hosiery advertisements, came here for a film test and passed it with flying colors.

But Naomi, after seeing the test, decided she wasn't "ready for a film career yet."

British Take up French Contracts

WASHINGTON, June 18 (U.P.)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., had been informed today that the British would take over all French war equipment contracts in the United States.

Morgenthau said at his press conference that Arthur B. Purvis, chief of the Anglo-French purchasing board, had telephoned him that the British would undertake to do that if the manufacturers holding French contracts here approved. There is an estimated $500,000,000 in French contracts, chiefly for airplanes, existing in this country.

Idaho Air Cadets Rate Kelly Field

Having completed their basic training, four southern Idaho young men this week will be transferred to Kelly field (Texas) for advanced training in the army air corps, it was learned here today.

The four are Harold Senten, Castleford; Charles W. Sawyer, Emmett; Robert W. Miller, Fairfield, and Robert F. Swisher, Pocatello.

The advanced training will last for 10 weeks, after which they will be assigned to a regular army squadron.

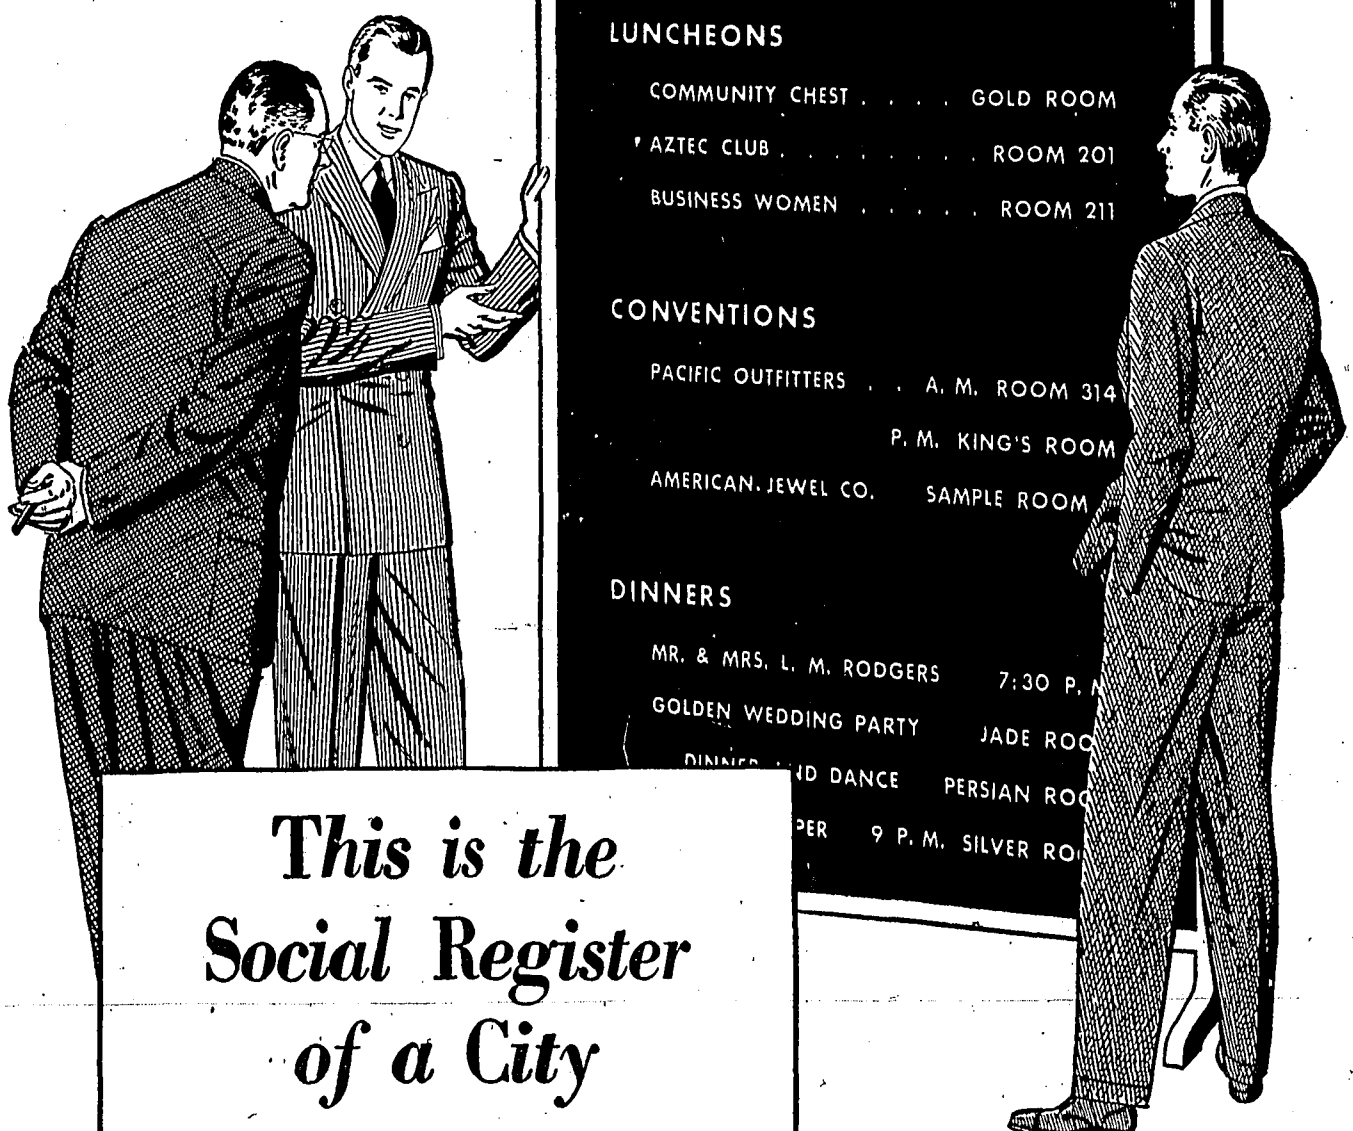

The Better Way to Correct Constipation

One way to treat constipation is to ensure it first and "cure" it afterward. The other way is to avoid having it by getting at its cause. So why not save yourself those dull headachy days, plus the inevitable trips to the medicine chest, if you can do it by a simple common-sense "ounce of prevention"?

If you trouble, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, "the better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it regularly—and drink plenty of water—you can not only get regular but keep regular, day after day and month after month! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

More and more your hotel is becoming the "right" place to start your social evenings. Good music, excellent food, an interesting cosmopolitan atmosphere and the fact that you're almost certain to meet friends who'll join your fun, help make this so.
