FRENCH STATESMEN NAMED TO TAKE NAZI TERMS FOR ARMISTICE; BATTLE STILL RAGES

ARMY GARRISONS ON WAR FOOTING FOR LAST MONTH

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, June 19 (U.P.)—The government committee investigating Nazi activities reported today that it had proven the existence of a plan for the military occupation of the republic by Nazi troops. The committee said the plan called for the distribution throughout the country of German functionaries to partition the seized land and to convert "our nation into a country of peasants."

Nazi Campaign
The committee, which had been reporting to secret sessions of the chamber of deputies for two days, concluded that the German legation had sponsored a press campaign favoring Nazi methods and ideals.

The committee charged the Nazi coup was to take place through military organizations of Germans distributed throughout the country and that the existence of corps of 150 Nazi motorcyclists had been proved. The committee charged the contraband activities of the German legation included the importation into Uruguay of printed propaganda injurious to nations friendly to Uruguay and the importation also of motion pictures and radio apparatus in excess of what would be needed for "personal use."

On War Footing
The announcement came a few hours after the ministry of defense had appealed for volunteers for the army and had revealed that army garrisons had been on a war footing since May 20.

(Last night, the United States navy announced that the 10,000-ton cruiser Quincy was calling at Montevideo on its "good will" tour of South America. The cruiser Wichita of similar tonnage is also on a "good will" tour of south American waters.)

German minister Otto Langemann said press reports of subversive Nazi activities were exaggerations and sensationalism.

Groups Disbanded
Langemann ordered all Nazi groups in Uruguay disbanded several days ago in what some quarters said was an attempt to forestall the investigation.

It was revealed 50 raids had been carried out and that between 12 and 15 Germans had been arrested, included Rudolf Meissner, alleged head of the gestapo in Uruguay, Rudolf Paez, so-called head of the Nazi "passport" division, and one Oltzer, alleged chief of the storm troops.

Eleven Fliers, Students, Killed as Planes Crash Over New York Suburbs

Beside the wreckage of one U. S. Army bomber, firemen battle flames of a burning house into which another crashed after two planes landed wings and plummeted to earth during training maneuvers. Eleven occupants of the two ships, fliers and students, were killed, the bombers falling in the heavily populated suburban area of Queens, New York. A woman died later as the result of injuries and burns sustained when her home, shown above, burst into flames after being struck by one of the bombers.

French Military Units May Refuse to Surrender to Hitler, Expert Forecasts

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert
The possibility is beginning to show itself that part of the French army, air force, and the navy may refuse to agree to peace terms even though they are accepted by the Petain ministry. Repudiation of governmental surrender by resolute sections of fighting forces has been frequent among nations in the past.

General de Gaulle's broadcast from London last night, saying France could unite with Great Britain and continue the struggle implies he may be organizing a movement of new resistance, if the Bordeaux leaders of France capitulate. General de Gaulle long before the war advocated mechanized equipment of the French army, and when the Germans broke through near Sedan last month he earned promotion from colonel to general by his skillful resistance. He has a powerful, belligerent personality. Should there be a revolt against surrender, the French character would show duplication of its determined spirit, exhibited during the Franco-Prussian war.

After the 1870 disasters of Metz and Sedan along what is now the Magnot line, when the organized French army were more broken than now, Gambetta escaped from Paris by a balloon and formed 98 new French divisions of 600,000 men with artillery. This force became known as "frogs" because of their quick unexpected thrusts and re-

No Action on Truce Plan Expected For Two Days; Germans Continue Drive

14 Killed in Air Raids on British Coast

By WALLACE CARROLL
LONDON, June 19 (U.P.)—Fourteen civilians were estimated killed and at least 16 seriously wounded today when German planes swept over England in their first great raid of the war, to lose seven of their number to anti-aircraft guns and British fighter planes.

Nine persons were killed when bombs wrecked a row of working people's homes in the east coast town.

It was believed 100 or more planes took part in the raid, seeking particularly to bomb east coast air-dromes.

The air ministry, in a later communique, said it was believed more than the seven German planes definitely shot down had been destroyed.

The communique said the German planes had spread "fan wise" for their most ambitious raid so far. Many enemy bombers crossed the east coast, it added, from Yorkshire to Kent.

Air force officials emphasized unusual weather conditions accounted in part for the success of British air fighters against the German bomber units. They warned the public that the RAF cannot be expected to achieve an equivalent success upon all future occasions, pointing out the bright midsummer moonlight last night permitted almost perfect combat conditions.

As the bombers were spotlighted, attacked and shot down by fighter planes, some of the German crews took to parachutes and were immediately captured upon landing by anti-parachute corps in Norfolk, Suffolk, Essex and Kent.

BORDEAUX, France, June 19 (U.P.)—French plenipotentiaries are scheduled to contact German representatives and receive Adolf Hitler's terms for an armistice probably tomorrow morning, it was stated tonight.

The plenipotentiaries (said by the German wireless to include Henri Berenger, former ambassador to Washington) have already started but it had not been disclosed where they will "cross the German lines" in order to carry out their mission, it was said officially.

The reference to the German lines indicated the meeting would be in German-occupied territory, possibly in northern France or in Paris.

France named plenipotentiaries today to receive Adolf Hitler's terms for an armistice but the war went on in the French provinces, in north Africa, in Germany and in the British Isles.

Two days and perhaps more will elapse before the armistice terms—expected to call for complete capitulation and surrender of the French navy—can be acted upon by the French government, it was predicted at Bordeaux.

An official French communique said the German government, following the meeting of Adolf Hitler and Italian Premier Benito Mussolini at Munich yesterday, had communicated to France its willingness to discuss an armistice as soon as the French had named plenipotentiaries.

The German government, it said, would name the time and place where the plenipotentiaries would be received.

The swift advance of the German armies through France, however, made it unlikely that the cabinet of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain could do other than accept the conditions agreed upon by Hitler and Benito Mussolini at Munich.

Great Britain, bombing German industrial areas more extensively than ever and fighting off Nazi planes that scattered explosives on the British Isles in the biggest raid of the war, insisted that the struggle would go on to victory.

In support of the British determination to carry on, dispatches from London quoted an authoritative source as claiming that the German conquests would be seriously menaced next winter by food shortages.

Harvest prospects are poor in southeastern Europe, it was asserted, and the strain of carrying on the war—plus continuation of the British blockade—will create a "desperate" situation.

Fighting Goes on
Fighting went on in France and on the widespread battlefields of Africa. The Berlin high command said "subjugation" of French provinces was almost complete with the capture of Cherbourg, Nancy and many other towns as well as an advance toward the big industrial center of Lyons. French forces continued to resist in the Magnot line area, but were encircled.

The German air raids on the British Isles, in which 14 persons were killed and 16 wounded and seven German planes shot down, was the biggest of the war but it was still primarily reconnaissance in nature that it had received a message "that managed to slip through the censorship" which said the French navy will not fall into German hands.

"The French navy is safely out of German clutches and has not left anything important behind," the dispatch published in the News said.

CHICAGO, June 19 (U.P.)—The Chicago Daily News said today that it had received a message "that managed to slip through the censorship" which said the French navy will not fall into German hands.

U. S. Officially Warns Germany, Italy Of Plans to Uphold Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, June 19 (U.P.)—The United States has officially warned the governments of Germany and Italy that it will support the Monroe doctrine in connection with the belligerent island possessions in this hemisphere, the state department said today.

The American diplomatic representatives in both Rome and Berlin were instructed to inform those governments of the United States' attitude last Monday.

The action was motivated by the collapse of the French defenses and overtures for peace instituted by the Bordeaux government.

Since then reports of the possible annexation by other European powers of French possessions in the western hemisphere has made the situation more acute, in the minds of United States officials.

Statement Issued
The state department issued this statement on the action: "On June 17 Secretary of State Hull instructed the American charge d'affaires at Berlin and the American ambassador at Rome to communicate in writing to the ministers of foreign affairs of Germany and Italy the following communication from the government of the United States:

"The government of the United States is informed that the government of France has requested of the German government the terms of an armistice.

No Transfers
"The government of the United States feels it desirable, in order to avoid any possible misunderstanding, to inform your excellency that in accordance with its traditional policy relating to the western hemisphere the United States would not recognize any transfer and would not acquiesce in any attempt to transfer any geographic region of the western hemisphere from one non-American power to another non-American power."

While Britain, France and the Netherlands all have numerous possessions in the western hemisphere the fact that France alone is engaged in preliminary peace negotiations was regarded as indicating that this nation's immediate con-

JAPANESE WATCH INDO-CHINA AREA

TOKYO, June 19 (U.P.)—Newspapers reported today that Japan had threatened to take military action against French Indo-China unless its alleged aid to China ceased and that at the same time friendly representations had been made to Germany and Italy against any change in the status of Indo-China which might be harmful to Japan.

Yomiuri reported that in "final warnings" regarding Indo-China Vice Foreign Secretary Masayuki Tani had informed the French ambassador Japan would be forced to take military action unless the alleged aid to China by France's great colony was stopped.

It was asserted that an extraordinary inner cabinet council Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita had informed Admiral Mitsuuma Yonal, premier; Gen. Shunroku Hata, war minister; and Admiral Zengo Yoshida, navy minister that he had dispatched instructions yesterday to Saburo Kurusu and Eiji Amai, the Japanese ambassadors at Berlin and Rome, to open negotiations.

The ambassadors were instructed, the newspaper Asahi said, to negotiate regarding Japan's concern over Indo-China and to ask that no action counter to Japan's interests be taken.

Indo-China, with 286,000 square miles of territory and 23,350,000 people, rich in resources, is less than 600 miles, at its nearest point, to the Philippines. Saigon, Indo-China, is about 1,000 miles from Manila.

ANGLO-TURK PACT REPORTED AT END

By HUGO SPECK

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 19 (U.P.)—Turkey regards her eight-month-old mutual assistance treaty with Great Britain and France as dead and will henceforth look to Russia for guidance, it was learned from a reliable source today.

Her decision seemed to alter the military and political situation in the middle east where a huge allied army is assembled for what the developing war in the Mediterranean may bring. The decision seemed to deprive Great Britain, now facing the axis powers alone, of an ally.

Informed Turkish circles said that although President Ismet Inonu had refused a French request to enter the war against Italy, Turkey had every desire to live up to its treaty until the French sued for peace.

Turkey now will move only if attacked by Italy, it was said (Benito Mussolini promised not to attack Turkey) in his speech announcing Italy's entrance into the war, or if Italy attempts to occupy French Syria.

It was reported Turkey considered occupying Syria, if Russia approves, to warn Germany and Italy they must not disturb the eastern Mediterranean in cutting up the French empire.

FAMINE MAY HIT IN FOUR MONTHS

LONDON, June 19 (U.P.)—An authoritative British statement predicted today Europe would be in throes of famine four months hence and that by winter Germany would be addressing "food peace appeals" to the nation, the United States and the non-European world generally to break the British blockade.

Germany's food position approximately that of March 1918, when the threat of starvation was pushing her toward collapse, the statement said.

"Harvest prospects in Europe, especially in the southeast, are bad or at least moderate, it which must be added the failure of Russia to supply the quantities expected by Germany," the statement added. "Belgium's situation is desperate, facing real famine in two months."

Late FLASHES

BERLIN, June 19 (U.P.)—A special high command communique today announced the German flag was flying over the Strasbourg cathedral, an event of great significance to the Germans because Strasbourg formerly was the capital of Alsace-Lorraine.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Wednesday, June 19 (U.P.)—The Australian liner Niagara, 15,415 tons, sank hours after leaving Auckland today, reportedly as the result of an explosion.

All passengers and crew members were saved.

LONDON, June 19 (U.P.)—The air ministry said today that heavy British bombers attacked oil and supply centers, railway marshaling yards, power stations and rail communications in northwest Germany and the Rhineland last night.

CHICAGO, June 19 (U.P.)—The Chicago Daily News said today that it had received a message "that managed to slip through the censorship" which said the French navy will not fall into German hands.

LOSS $7,000 IN LAMB SHED FIRE

Damage estimated at $7,000 by company officials was caused yesterday afternoon when fire, starting in a nearby dump grounds, destroyed lambing sheds of the Utah Construction company, four miles south and one-half east of Kimberly.

A sagebrush portion of the blaze was still smoldering today and smoke from it was visible over Twin Falls, being carried by a south wind.

The Kimberly mutual fire department answered the call from the construction company sheds at about 3 p. m. The dump fire had started shortly before noon and, carried by a brisk wind, had swept out of control toward the lambing sheds. Prompt action by fire department company members held the blaze to the area damaged.

HEAT RECORD AT BOISE
BOISE, Ida., June 19 (U.P.)—Boisemans today experienced the hottest June day since June 11, 1878, when mercury soared to 106 degrees at 12:45 p. m. The U. S. weather bureau predicted a new record would be established before the day was over. The former June maximum was 107 degrees.

Air Crash Hurts Mayor of Nampa

NAMPA, June 19 (U.P.)—Mayor Ben Walgaard of Nampa was injured and Harry Clark, flying instructor, suffered a broken back in an airplane crash here today.

Walgaard's injuries consisted of body bruises and a cut mouth. The crash occurred when the two men were taking off from the Nampa airport in a light training plane. The motor stalled when the ship was about 50 feet off the ground and the ship was badly damaged. The mayor has a private pilot's license but Clark was at the controls when the ship crashed. It was Clark's first accident in 20 years of flying.

HIGH POINT NEAR IN TORRID WAVE

Following are the official temperatures for today, as released by the bureau of entomology:

7 a. m. 79
10 a. m. 89
11 a. m. 97
Noon 100
1 p. m. 100
2 p. m. 103

A slight breeze, which sprung up during the noon hour, tended to keep Twin Falls' official temperature within reason early this afternoon after the mercury had skyrocketed from 79 degrees at 8 a. m. to an even 100 above recorded both at noon and 1 p. m.

Although the breeze maintained the mercury at the even 100 degree mark through the noon hour, observers predicted the 102 which was recorded yesterday and which is the highest this year to date might be beaten by evening. Highest temperatures are usually recorded here between 4 and 8 p. m., barring a sudden rain storm, which seemed improbable at 1 p. m. today.

Water Demand Heavy
With the heat wave continuing, L. G. Satterlee, superintendent of the city filter plant south of the city, said this afternoon the plant is running far above normal to supply the demand for filtered water.

Satterlee said that records showed 6,200,000 gallons of water were used by local residents yesterday, while the normal day calls for 4,000,000 gallons. He said because of the heat and the demand for water, it was necessary to run the plant "full blast" from 9:30 a. m. to 10 p. m. yesterday.

Urges Rotation
He again urged residents to observe the sprinkling rules which call for persons living in houses with odd numbers to sprinkle lawns and gardens on odd days, while those residing in even numbered homes should sprinkle on even days. By July 15 this rotation method no longer will be necessary because the new 6,000,000 gallon storage reservoir then will be in use.

TAFT FORCES ATTEMPT TO DISQUALIFY OTHER CANDIDATES

INGALLS INSISTS NOMINEE WILL BE NEXT PRESIDENT

By LYLE C. WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, June 19 (AP)—Taft for President headquarters here today opened a last minute drive to head off the presidential nomination candidacies of Wendell L. Willkie and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey in a statement apparently designed to show neither is qualified to lead the Republican party.

"It becomes increasingly apparent," said David S. Ingalls, campaign manager for Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., "that the nominee of this convention will be the next President of the United States."

Ingalls said the nominees of all should be a Republican and must have been "deeply experienced in the science of government."

Willkie Opposed
The arguments being used here against the candidacy of Willkie, Commonwealth and Southern utilities executive, is that he switched allegiance from the Democratic party since 1932 when he contributed to Franklin D. Roosevelt's first New Deal campaign.

Dewey is opposed by some persons on grounds of inexperience. As district attorney of New York county, Dewey is holding his first elective office although he campaigned in 1930 for governor of New York.

The Willkie boom, inexplicable at a source of uneasiness to many veteran Republicans here and in congress, continued as a major topic of political talk and speculation. Reports that Willkie was making substantial gains among Pennsylvania's 72-vote convention delegation were circulating in the lobbies and corridors as pre-convention committees met today.

Dewey Still Leads
But Dewey still was judged to be the probable first ballot leader with Taft second—although both claimed they will be ahead of the first tally.

Critics leaders meantime were critical of President Roosevelt's latest national defense move for compulsory training of young American men. They were confident the President had made a political blunder.

They also took hope in the speech of John L. Lewis, who last night absolved former President Herbert Hoover of blame for the depression.

Lewis, president of the committee of industrial organizations quit the Republican party for Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal. His speech suggested to some observers that he was ready to return, possibly as a bumper of Mr. Hoover's "dark horse" candidacy for the Republican nomination.

WOMAN BATTLES JAIL WITH WRIT

Writ of habeas corpus, to force a hearing for a Rogerson Negro woman now in county jail because of non-payment of court costs, was ordered today by District Judge J. W. Porter.

The writ was promptly issued by Clerk Walter C. Muegrave on behalf of Mrs. Cornelia White, 52, Dr. A. A. Newberry, coroner, served the writ on Sheriff L. W. Hawkins, who must produce Mrs. White for hearing at 10 a. m. June 22.

Mrs. White's application to the court charged that she is being held illegally, and claims probate court lacks jurisdiction to jail her for not paying the $102.77 costs ordered as result of misdemeanor trial May 29. At that time a six-man jury convicted Mrs. White on charge of failure to keep goods securely penned. Andrew Harrel, a neighbor, was chief complaining witness.

Judge C. A. Bailey fined the woman $1. Her petition asking a writ from the district bench today said this $1 fine has been paid. Commitment ordering jail because the $102.77 in costs are still unpaid was issued June 3 but deputies were unable to locate Mrs. White until last night.

Witham and Kinney are attorneys for the Rogerson woman, who has been a storm center in that area for several years because her livestock frequently roamed at will.

Seen Today

Woman wearing parka over her head (somebody should tell her about 100-degree temperatures)... Fuzzy white dog, imprisoned in locked Boise car parked on Main avenue, getting very indignant because couple of small girls make faces at him through the window glass... Letter from mining lawyer at Wallace saying he's attending Republican national convention "in interests of Wendell Willkie," and does the editor please want anything from bank there... Two deputy sheriffs promptly taking off neckties when Commissioner Charles Ben Potter wanders in minus that adornment... And fastidiously dressed lady holding her nose as garbage truck goes past her.

6 SECT MEMBERS HELD IN WYOMING

RAWLINS, Wyo., June 19 (AP)—Six members of a religious sect were held in protective custody today after a series of uprisings in which three of them were forced to demonstrate allegiance to the flag and two of their automobiles burned.

A delegation of women last night broke into the home of Mrs. James Todd and brought her and Mrs. Everett Ruble before a crowd of 3,000—more than half Rawlins' population.

The women cuffed them and forced them to "show their loyalty" by parading with big flags. As they were marching down Rawlins' main street, each with a flag over her shoulder, police rescued them and dispersed the crowd. The women were taken to jail.

Previously, O. L. Clare, proprietor of a confectionary, had been dragged from his home, made to pledge his allegiance with it over his shoulder through downtown streets.

Accident Fatal to Murtaugh Man

MURTAUGH, June 19 (Special)—A heavy piece of iron falling on him, caused injuries resulting in the death of Harry L. Coe, Murtaugh, at Egeland, N. D., where he had gone for a brief visit. Services were held last week at the Egeland Presbyterian church, and interment was in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Cando, according to word received here.

He was born at Boons, Ia., Jan. 27, 1881, and moved to Crocus, N. D., in 1907. He moved later to Egeland, and after coming to Idaho was employed at the Art Messer home in Murtaugh.

Mr. Coe is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ella Fike Coe, whom he married at Rock Lake, N. D.; two children, Donald Coe, Murtaugh, and Mrs. Ray Setty, Egeland; a brother, Henry Coe, Bear Lake, Mich., and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Fuechler, Boone, and two grandchildren, Darrel Dean Coe and Karen Kay Setty.

JAILED FOR DRINKING
Guy Culbertson, Twin Falls, was in county jail today after arrest by city police on charge of intoxication.

JARBIDGE MOTOR TRIP POSTPONED

Because the heavy schedule of preparations for the Magic City Jubilee would limit the size of the Jarbidge good will caravan, the trip was postponed today until late in July.

Mayor Joe Koehler, chairman in charge of the good will jaunt to the rejuvenated mining community in Nevada, said that postponement until after the jubilee and the July 4 holidays will permit a "considerably larger" group to make the auto trip.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Jarbidge expedition was originally scheduled for next Sunday, June 23.

Lawn Party Fetes Recently Wed Pair

C. OF C. REQUEST HANDLED TO DIES

Twin Falls request that federal action be taken against subversive political groups had been laid today before Cong. Martin Dies and his committee investigating un-American activities.

The resolution, voted by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, was turned over to Dies by the Idaho congressional delegation. Both Cong. Henry C. Dworshak and Cong. Compton I. White advised the C. of C. today of their vigorous support in the blast at subversive political groups.

Dworshak wrote: "I am heartily in accord with you . . . and Congressman Dies has introduced legislation based upon the investigation which his committee has been conducting relative to these subversive un-American activities. I sincerely hope that, with the passage of such legislation, our department of justice will not only take immediate steps to enforce this new legislation, but also our existing statutes which will adequately curb these fifth column operations within our borders."

White advised the chamber that "you may be assured of my cooperation and support." He turned the Twin Falls resolution over to Dies.

ITALIANS CLAIM BATTLE VICTORY

ROME, June 19 (AP)—Italy's eighth war communique today asserted Italian forces in East Africa had counter-attacked and dispersed a British armored car column which had entered Italian territory under the Italian flag.

The communique said also Italian planes had sunk an enemy submarine in the Mediterranean and that Italian planes, attacking enemy air bases in East Africa, had burned three planes.

Describing allied raids on Liguria, the Italian Riviera, and the Piedmont region of northern Italy, the war communique said several bombs had been dropped but that no deaths resulted. Damage was described as small.

FIRE THREATENS BOISE WATERSHED

BOISE, June 19 (AP)—The entire Dutch creek watershed in the Boise national forest above Arrowrock dam today was threatened by a grass fire. A crew of 110 COO enrollees fought the blaze.

A strong wind during the night carried the flames over several hundred acres of dry grass, bringing it close to a large stand of timber. Fire Chief Walter Berry of the Boise national forest said. The fire, largest to burn in the national forest this season, was man-caused, Berry declared.

Two smaller fires, one caused by lightning, were brought under control, Berry reported.

MOTHERS OF NAVY SLATE ELECTION

SALT LAKE CITY, June 19 (AP)—The navy mothers clubs of America, meeting in their annual convention here, today scheduled national elections for Thursday. The 1941 convention site also will be chosen at that time.

Thirty-six clubs throughout the United States were represented at the convention opened. Mrs. Midge Constance, Seattle, national commander, presided.

Delegates indicated the convention probably would go on record as approving increased funds for national defense.

POISONOUS SPRAY FATAL TO CHILD

Hot Weather Note

Operative IZ-U slipped into our sanatorium last night to advise us of the current mode in this 100-degree heat.

What with the thermometers blowing off steam in reckless manner, says Operative IZ-U, not a few residences in our fair community get pretty damned hot. By nightfall they're still warm.

Wherefore Operative IZ-U swears he has discovered that a certain man and wife hereabouts cart their blankets out to the back yard. They sleep peacefully under the stars, which is a commendable procedure as far as Pot Shots is concerned. We'd almost agree to grant clemency immunity to such of you constituents as may wish to do this—providing you do it on the strictly up-and-up.

But the man and wife in question, says Operative IZ-U, set the alarm for 4 a. m. so they can sneak inside early... before the neighbors can have a look-see at how they appear while snoozing.

THEY BETTER STUDY BUTTON SEWING!

Dear Mister:
I see by the paper that the girls of the Jolly Gitters club are now studying buttonholes. Preparation, I presume, for the later task of buttonholing prospective husbands.

OH, VEKY CLEAR!

Dear Gent:
Regarding the query of whether you pay a down payment on an airplane, I might suggest that the first payment on a plane would be the down payment, but if you don't want to come down, you have to keep the payments up, or the finance company will track you down.

Or do I make myself clear?

A FINE WAY TO TREAT A FRIEND!

Dear Third Rowdy:
By way of preface I admit here and now that Pot Shots is not responsible for the social pages in the local news sheets. After which, having cleared you of blame, I rise to ask you a question of an outing was the following chronicled in the columns of the Twines:
Two couples from Caldwell were honored at a friend chicken picnic arranged Sunday at a Blue lakes resort. The couples were week-end guests in Twin Falls.

CONCERNING MR. TOBIN'S FACIAL ABRASION

And now to explain that wicked-looking cut under the eye of Frank Tobin, chief corral man of the Twin Falls cowboys.

Pot Shots has definite information proving the facial abrasion did not come because Frank battled with an umple. In this connection, we might add that we would forgive such battling with some umples we know but we could never forgive any manager of ours permitting an umple to inflict visible damages on him.

In the case at issue, however, Tobo got his facial cut chasing a pop foul over at Idaho Falls. The ball hit the pipe on top of the screen—and bounced downward with a resounding smack. Our steers swear this is the truth.

WE CAN HARDLY GUESS THE GUY IN QUESTION!

Dear Potto:
When a certain 340-pound business manager bought a ticket to Chicago, the station agent asked him:
"Do you want a 30-foot or 40-foot box car?"

OF BOOKKEEPERS AND OTHER MATTERS

Pot Shots is not a movie cynic and does not regard more than 50 per cent of movies as a lot of trash. But we do admit we've often wondered sarcastically to ourselves whether those fights you see in the movies aren't stretching it a bit thick. The male star is always such a doughty battler and whamming a knockout blow to the kisser of a girl twice as big as he seems such an easy job.

And now we find strange things coming out of Hollywood. No less, 16 will than a bookkeeper up and knocking the daylight out of little Richard Arlen, one of the foremost heroes of the movies.

A bookkeeper, mind you. This restores our faith in the Little Men.

So much so, in fact, that we catch ourselves gazing with a speculative gleam at our fist and then in the directors of that obnoxious lousy three doors down our street.

That bookkeeper may have fisted the fist heard round the etc. etc.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

The Shadow Deepens

The City of Light has become the City of Darkness. Paris in the hands of the invading Nazis is largely intact in its physical aspect. Ponderous Notre Dame squats unmoved by the Seine. The lacy marble redds of St. Etienne de Mont, unbroken and unspoiled, still guards the bones of St. Genevieve, patron of Paris. On the Hill of Martyrs the soaring splendor of Sacre Coeur church stands serenely in the sunlight.

Perhaps even the lights which caused Paris to be called affectionately "La Ville Lumiere," the City of Light, may be switched on again after all the blackouts, for the French and British will scarcely bomb Paris, even though it be occupied by the invader.

But the light which really made Paris worthy of its name has been blanketed for the time being by darkness. That was a light of the spirit—a light that illumined the freest city in the world.

The Nazis may restore the physical street-lighting system and make Paris bright again in the midnight hours. But that other light they cannot restore.

From darkness, light can never come. And darkness began to fall over Germany in 1933 when a philosophy became dominant there which said that man was a servant, not a master, that he existed not for the full and free development of himself and the enjoyment of his own life, but as a human ant with no other thought or object than to build ever higher and broader the ant-hill which the King Ant had decreed to be the be-all and the end-all of life.

Such a conception of man and life is in itself a darkness. And this darkness spread, forcibly projected across one country after another in Europe. It is still spreading, like an ugly blot. The shadow is deepening, and creeping across all Europe.

When the night comes, man trims the wicks and lights the lamps. In modern life, he pushes a button and floods his rooms with instant light. If the night is darker than usual, he often reassures himself by lighting an extra light or two.

This is our task. Until the morning comes, and light returns again to the earth as it has always done, we must light extra lamps in our own house, and trim the wicks, inspect the wiring, that they may burn steadily until day comes.

The City of Light is darkened. But it will not always be so. We are justified in our firm faith that after even the darkest night comes day again. Until then, let us keep resolutely burning every light that we have power to kindle.

Yes, We Can Move Fast

Within one hour after the navy department was notified that the new naval appropriation bill was signed, contracts were awarded and allocations made for 22 ships.

The dictators may claim to do things faster, but that's fast enough for all practical purposes.

This republic can move, and move fast when necessity drives, and the progress of the defense program shows it. The insidious propaganda being deliberately spread by foreign sympathizers is that republics can't move fast enough in this blitzworld. We are now in process of proving otherwise, and the clang of hammers in 50,000 forges is going to underline the proof.

Once roused, a democratic people under a republican government is the most effective force in the world, for peaceful progress by preference, but for fighting if they must.

50,000 Dead

Good luck has spared the United States from the fearful casualties which are sweeping the principal countries of Europe. But we have our losses, just the same, and there is now redoubled reason to try to cut them down.

Automobiles kill between 35,000 and 40,000 people each year in the United States. Industrial accidents killed 16,000 last year while almost a million and a half people sustained injuries in industry which disabled them temporarily.

One way to increase national production in the preparedness campaign: Cut down this frightful toll. The work of 50,000 men is worth preserving, to say nothing of the lives themselves.

To be safe is to be patriotic.

The professor who'll run for governor in Arkansas will give parachute jumping exhibitions during his campaign, making him the modern Arkansas Traveler.

Folks still aren't convinced it was an error when the bandmaster at a midwest college graduation announced the next number would be the school's Alma Mater song, and then the band broke out with "Scat-terbrain."

SERIAL STORY
Ticket to Hollywood BY W. H. PEARSON

CHAPTER I

GUSTY GARR skidded his roadster to a stop in the hindered driveway outside of Maw's Airport Rendezvous. Music boomed through the open door, the kind of solid, hot music that put a shine in Gusty's eyes.

Seizing Francie Weston's hand, he dragged her and his trumpet out of the car. "Come on, Sugar! That's the new record the fellows were raving about in the study hall today."

Gathered around the nickelodeon, a dozen youngsters cocked worshipful ears to the latest Bunny Berigan release. A few "jittered"; others sat in booths sipping cokes, stomping out the beat. It was Friday night and under Maw's scrupulous but benevolent eye the Elspeth City Jam Club was in roaring session.

Everyone turned to greet Gusty and Francie, the high priest and priestess of their rhythmic cult.

"Hi-yah, Gusty! D'ja bring your old horn?"

"Hey, Francie, gonna swing out on a hot vocal?"

Gusty clamped his hands together, shook them over his head. Francie's response to her public was more refined. She smiled graciously and nodded.

Were they not professionals? Wasn't Gusty the only boy in High who was paid $3 for sitting in with Duke Meyer's Kampus Wildcats? And, when the dance passed her father's rigid inspection, didn't Duke often beg her to sing a chorus? Of course, he never really paid her, but he bought Francie loads of cokes and that was almost the same, wasn't it?

Illustrated by G. P. Whitford

SOMEONE yelled, "Hey, Gusty, make like Harry James."

With a grin, Gusty opened his battered trumpet case and swaggered over to the piano.

"Fat," he called imperiously to a stubby-fingered youth in green slacks, "give me some compans on Cherl-Berl!"

At the first note a change came over Gusty. He hunched his big shoulders forward. A dreamy expression softened his dark eyes. His rugged face lost its brashness and became sensitive. Gusty's soul, as he played, belonged to the trumpet.

He had done the solo many times, but when he finished everyone whistled and shouted for more. Gusty shook his head.

"I ain't in the mood now," he said. "I'll drink a coke while Francie gives out."

Francie moved to the piano. She closed her eyes and suddenly she had on a clinging black gown starred with shining sequins. She looked across footlights. Not at boys in loud slacks and polo shirts. Not at high school girls in short skirts and anklets. She looked out over a dazzling audience in evening dress, and there was a moment of dramatic silence as a big white spotlight picked her up.

With these dreams in her eyes, Francie sang. She tilted her head sideways, the glossy sweep of her amber hair falling over one slim shoulder. Her young voice stabbed the place with an anguished sweetness and made it gill.

"Give the last one hot," Fat begged.

Francie's voice caught fire; her shoulder dipped in rhythm. Eyes shining, she gave her listeners all she had. The beat was taken up on spoons, glasses and table tops. As she finished, the members of the Elspeth City Jam Club sat back and roared their approval.

"Pretty fat," Gusty said. "I'll buy you a coke."

Someone slid up behind them and took their arms. "Have this one on me, kids."

FRANCIE and Gusty whirled. Behind them stood a wiry, little man in a wrinkled linen suit. He wore a straw hat with a loud band. His tiny eyes danced excitedly above a long, sharp nose.

"Over here, kids," he said, gesturing toward an empty booth.

Gusty scowled. "Say, who does he think he is, anyway?"

"Please don't be horrid, Gusty," Francie begged. "Let's see what he wants." She dragged him to the booth. "Did—did you mean us?"

"Belcher like, honey," the man said in rapid, staccato tones. "You kids are good, terrific. Lots of the old oomp, too. Ever broadcast? No, of course not. Wanta couple of cokes? Nothing stronger, I suppose."

Gusty said, "Say, who you trying to kid, mister?"

"Kid? Me?" He stared at Francie. "You got me right here, honey, right in the old heart. Used to have a vaudeville partner like you. Swell kid. Aggie; lotsa talent." He sighed. "Splitting image, you are."

"This guy's nuts," Gusty observed with characteristic finesse. "Come on, Francie."

"No, no, don't go," the little man pleaded. "Look, I'm Natlie Koon, special representative for I. B. C. and Pegasus Pictures. Been dishing all over the old U. S. A. picking up talent, and you kids are tops."

Gusty's laugh drowned out Koon. "Think we're dumb enough to swallow that gag?"

"Here, looka this," Koon slipped a business card on the table. "Flying back to the old glamour city right now. Plane got hung up half an hour. Heard the music and came over."

Francie said weakly, "I—I don't understand."

"Look, kids," Koon said, "I ain't got much time. Gotta catch that plane. Pegasus is making a super-colossal called 'Parade of American Youth.' They've tied up with I. B. C. on this promotion stunt. I grab up one talented kid from every state in the union. Three weeks from tomorrow night these kids do their stuff on a big two-hour broadcast, coast to coast. Pegasus signs the best ones to play with Jerry Finney in the picture. Get it?"

Jerry Finney! Francie had a photograph of him on her dressing table right next to a snapshot of Gusty. Gladly she compared them and tried to make herself believe that Gusty was like Jerry Finney. It was awfully hard.

Two deep furrows ridged Francie's brow. "You—you mean that we..."

"Just one of you," Koon interrupted. "You're both good; I don't care which. See, I'm in a kinda spot. I got to be in Hollywood by morning and I ain't found anyone from this state." He fumbled in his pocket, brought out a square of pastebord. "The last one—and am I glad! Take a look."

FRANCIE read it aloud in hushed tones: "This ticket entitles the bearer, if between the ages of 16 and 19, and having the full written consent of parents, to participate in the 'Parade of American Youth' broadcast, Saturday, June 22 at 8 p. m. in Studio A of I. B. C. Pegasus Pictures and I. B. C. obligate themselves only to reimburse participant, at the conclusion of said broadcast, for transportation from his home to Hollywood and return."

"My own grandmother couldn't get on the show without that," Koon declared. "You kids want it?"

By now even Gusty was convinced. "Say, maybe you're on the level, mister. Sure, I—"

"Okay, okay!" Koon scabbled his initials on the ticket, filled in the name of the state. He looked at the clock and leaped to his feet. "Gotta catch the plane. Be seeing one of you in Hollywood..."

He was gone as quickly as he had come. The ticket lay on the table. Francie stared at it. Gusty stared at it. It might have been something that had fallen out of the heavens, filling their eyes with stardust.

Francie said, "Oh, Gusty..."

Gusty said, "Gosh!"

JOBS for JUNE Graduates

By BYRON MITCHELL
Chief of Employment Service, Social Security Board

Jobs for 44,576 persons under 21 were found by the local offices of state employment services during the last six months of 1939.

Vocational guidance, provided by 306 cities in 47 states and the District of Columbia is largely responsible in helping many high school and college graduates find their first jobs and tackle them intelligently. Counsel is given to a portion of the 1,700,000 persons who leave school each year and enter the labor market each year.

lators with their local public employment office before they go job hunting may be given aptitude tests, if necessary, to determine what their most congenial occupation is.

The counselors examine their school records, instruct them in the best methods developed for getting jobs and keeping them. They are also contact men for employers and graduates, trying to interest employers in hiring promising but inexperienced youngsters.

If a young man wants to be an aviator, for example, but cannot pass the tests for flying cadets, he may want to do ground work, or aviation mechanics. If he does, the counselor will advise him in which kind of machine shop he can most profitably serve his apprenticeship.

Another of the counselor's jobs is to co-ordinate the work of schools with opportunities in the labor market by pointing out the kinds of vocational training which will be most helpful to the young job-seeker. Perhaps most helpful are the counselor's tips to the graduate on improving first impressions.

Among the prescribed do's and don'ts:

Say "May I apply for a position, as a stenographer, salesperson, comptometer operator, etc.?"

Be natural.

Tell specifically what skills and experience you have. Suggest that the employer give you a practical test.

Don't wear bright fingernail polish.

Don't say "Are there any jobs open here?"

Don't mumble your name.

Don't think that because you do not obtain a job after several trials that you are a failure.

CLEAN COFFEE MAKERS

Delicious, fragrant coffee was never made in a coffee pot that was not absolutely clean. The least bit of sediment from previous coffee making will spoil the flavor of the fresh brew. Wash the coffee maker after each using in hot soap suds, using a small brush to scrub out the spots. Rinse and scald with boiling water. Once a week fill it with cold water to which a tablespoon of soda has been added and bring to a boil. Then wash as usual with soap and water, rinse thoroughly and dry. Electric coffee makers should, of course, never be immersed in water.

It has been estimated that rabbits do an annual damage of $300,000,000 in England.

Announcement has been made that the contract for the construction of the roundhouse at Twin Falls for the Rogerson-Wells Railroad has been awarded to C. J. and A. Anderson, that work will begin shortly and that the structure must be finished within four months from the date on which the contract is let.

"A champagne appetite with a beer income" is no more annoying than a Bulok out of control with a Ford machine. This was proved today, as it has been here previously, when the Ford coupe driven by E. G. Houston walked into the big plate glass of the Vincent Furniture company on Shoshone street south, taking in the front window and the side window next to the door. Mr. Houston ordinarily drives a Bulok, and he borrowed his daughter's new Ford coupe to drive to town. He started back home when he saw another man driving up on the same side of the street. He thought he would let the other fellow pass and gave the Bulok high sign to the Ford to go forward. The Ford was so swelled up it was mistaken for a Bulok that it walked right up on the sidewalk and into the glass.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON
Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 19 — The Dies committee may soon be organized on a permanent nation-wide basis, expanded and equipped to play a large role in the government's campaign against fifth column activity.

That is a plan now being worked out by the committee's chairman, Representative Martin Dies of Texas. It has an excellent chance for adoption, for the new deal has made its peace with Dies. The administration is now cooperating with him, and he with the administration.

Under the plan now being considered, the Dies committee would have a central office, co-ordinating work done in regional offices in a half dozen places. As a result of the new understanding between Dies and other hitherto hostile or indifferent to his work, the drive on Communists and other "ismites" is due to get rolling shortly on a scale hitherto unknown.

WILL HAVE 100,000 ON INDEXED LIST

The Dies committee is hard at work on a vast mass of material collected on Communist and Communist-front activities. By fall, Dies believes he will have ready a card-index containing over 100,000 names, with material at hand to show exactly what part each played, directly and indirectly, in the general Communist program. A large number of government employes will be on the list, he says.

The "library" already amassed by the Dies investigators includes not only documents submitted in evidence, but copies of every significant publication, pamphlet, broadside, and handout issued by every Communist and "Communist-front" outfit in the United States during the past two years.

PLANS TO WORK BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Chances are, most of the committee's work henceforth will be done behind closed doors. Mr. Dies believes public sentiment is so stirred up over fifth column activities that open hearings might be unwise. He expects several witnesses testified on Communist activity in TVA. On their turn home they found themselves in some danger of mob violence, the home folks having concluded that if they knew so much about it, they must be fifth columnists themselves.

"We've pretty well educated the public about the way these subversive groups work," says Mr. Dies. "Now we want to try to prevent spying and sabotage. We can call witnesses, hear them in private, and then turn a transcript of the testimony over to the appropriate government agency."

fast at her home Monday at noon. Six little tables, beautifully arranged, were placed on the lawn under the trees. The guests found their places by means of dainty, hand-decorated maple leaves bearing their names elegantly arranged. The table covers and napkins were daintily decorated in daisies and ferns, and pretty little napkin rings were made of leaves and stems. The whole scheme was beautifully suggestive of the out-of-door. The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious repast by Mrs. A. R. Ostrander, Mrs. Wiker and Mrs. Miller.

MAKE FLOWERS LAST

It's possible to make out roses last a full week if they are protected from heat and drafts. So, if you send some roses for a friend's birthday, and she has several attractive flower vases and begonia, she may have a different flower arrangement each day of the following week. The first day she might use a tall glazed pottery vase. Cutting, with slanting stroke a little off the stems each day so that they will be able to absorb more water, taking off the water-logged leaves and keeping the flowers in a cool room over night, helps to make the blooms last longer.

WEIGHT GAINED AT HEALTH CAMP

BUHL, June 19 (Special)—Four girls were enrolled during the first week at the McClusky memorial health camp for older girls, bringing the total enrollment to 44 for the three weeks short course.

The girls were weighed and measured Monday morning by the resident nurse, and were weighed the second time Friday morning. The highest weight gain for the first week was three and one-half pounds. One girl gained three pounds; four gained two and one-half each and four gained two each.

According to the chart of the first weight, one girl 15 years of age was 21 pounds underweight. Four girls were 17 pounds underweight and two were 16 pounds under normal. The ages of these girls ranged from 12 to 15 years. The average underweight is 12 pounds.

Snap shots were taken Friday morning of each girl enrolled. The snaps will be pasted on the health charts and at the close of the three weeks pictures will again be taken to show improvement.

The girls have organized themselves into three groups and named the groups in the different wings of the building the Nite Hawks, Woodpeckers and the Parrots. Each Friday evening one group will give a program for the entertainment of the others.

The first Friday evening the Woodpeckers entertained with songs, readings, stunts and games. The best part of each program will be selected and given at the concluding program which will close the camp activities.

The camp is in need of fresh vegetables and fruits. Any donations will be greatly appreciated, according to Mrs. C. O. Smithson.

Pioneers Enjoy Quaint Pictures

JEROME, June 19 (Special)—Reviewing early day experiences and enjoying old-time photographs taken in pioneer days furnished diversion for the members of the Pioneer club and their husbands at a pot-luck dinner Saturday evening at the Jerome Civic club rooms.

Guests and members were seated at three tables decorated in spring roses combined with miniature flags in observance of national flag day.

Mrs. William N. Hardwick acted as master of ceremonies and the group enjoyed singing of anthems, hymns and "Idaho." Jay Davis, Jerome, displayed reels of colored pictures of local points of interest.

Mrs. R. E. Updegraff was named president; Mrs. D. A. L'Harrison, vice-president; Mrs. Minnie Lawrence, secretary and Mrs. A. E. Gould, treasurer.

Inventor Offers Army Sensational Machine For War in Flying Tank-Plane Combination

Composite photo shows what the new Christie tank would look like in flight.

By BRUCE GATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 18—A sensational new type of flying tank "worse than anything the Germans ever dreamed of" has been perfected by Walter Christie, dean of the tank-inventor fraternity, and is currently being offered to the United States government.

Within a few days Christie is to meet with President Roosevelt and high defense and congressional officials to show what this new implementation of super-mechanized warfare can do.

According to the inventor, the device is a tank of the familiar caterpillar-tread type, so designed that it can be locked beneath an airplane and flown to the point where it is to go into action.

A new group-speed-accelerator embodying some of the principles of the launching catapults used by the navy will get plane and tank into the air after a run of only 200 yards.

A smooth-surfaced airfoil is not needed for landing; Christie says that practically any field "so long as it isn't studded with rock more than 12 inches in diameter."

90-Mile-an-Hour Speed
Minus its airplane, the tank itself will outclass anything yet put into service anywhere, according to Christie.

It carries seven-eighths-inch armor plate and has motor developing 3,000 horsepower. Its top speed, says Christie, will be 90 miles per hour. It will mount either a 75 millimeter or a 90 millimeter cannon.

Christie says perfection of this tank is the fruit of 20 years' experimentation. All in all, he says, he has put close to $2,000,000 into the job.

Help End War
"This is the only possible thing that could help end the war," said Christie. "A machine of this kind would do away with the bombing of open cities and innocent people. With this you could attack the army direct and make it come out and fight."

Christie's past experiences with the U. S. army have made him wary. He says:

"All I want the army authorities to do is say: Give him the money and let's see what sort of machine he can turn out. I won't let them change a thing on it. If they try to I'll walk out. I won't let them tinker with it."

Doesn't Want Money
"I don't want money for this. All I want my expenses in turning it out. If they make the money available I can build one in four months and I can turn them out at the rate of 10 a day if necessary."

A special plane to carry the tank is not needed. One of their regular heavy duty Boeings would do the trick. The tank with its guns, ammunition and equipment weighs six tons. Any plane that will lift that weight will do."

Army Spurned Tank
One reason Christie distrusts the army is his experience with an amphibian tank 16 years ago.

He built one to army specifications and held a public test of it, in which the tank traveled some miles along one bank of the Hudson river, climbed a steep bank, swam the river, came out on the far side, turned around, swam back again and trundled off to its starting point. The army men then lost interest. Christie finally sold it to the Japanese.

He recalls that the German papers displayed great interest in the invention at the time, and he suspects that it was that that started them on the research which produced the amphibian tanks that have figured in the present war.

"Squirrel" Group Helps To Prevent Idaho Fires

BOISE, June 19 (U.P.)—A new organization—The Ancient and Honorable Order of Squirrels—is being organized this year in national forests of the intermountain area.

Membership in the "Squirrels" is easy and there are no dues, John N. Kinney, forest service fire control chief, announced here.

Membership Easy
All that is required is for a visitor to a national forest to climb a mountain lookout house or scale the ladder of a lookout tower. This action automatically brings membership into the "Squirrel" society, Kinney declared.

"The new fraternity seeks to enroll a big army of cooperators who will act as volunteers aiding in forest fire prevention," Kinney said.

Must Sign Code
Squirrel club members, who receive their membership cards from the fire lookout, must prescribe to a code however. The code reads: "The hardest nut the U. S. forest service and the state conservation departments have to crack is the problem of man-caused forest fires. As a member of the Squirrel club I volunteer to help crack this nut by using the utmost care with fire in the woods, as I walk, as I work, as I ride, as I camp."

The membership requirements call for some effort since some of the lookout towers in Idaho are 80 feet high. Others are perched on mountain tops which require hours of climbing to reach.

GERMANY CLAIMS CAPTURE OF TWO FRENCH CITIES

NAZIS CONTINUE RUTHLESS DRIVE AGAINST ALLIES

BERLIN, June 19 (U.P.)—German forces have taken Cherbourg and Nancy and are rapidly approaching the great city of Lyon. It was announced officially here today.

An official announcement said German planes yesterday bombed British airfields and that oil tanks on the Thames estuary had been set afire.

Third Largest City
Lyon is France's third city in population and second in industrial importance. It is 250 miles south-east of Paris and 150 miles north of the Mediterranean at the confluence of the Rhone and Saone rivers.

Nancy is 35 miles south of Metz on the river Meurthe. One of the finest cities in France, it is the seat of great manufacturing plants.

Cherbourg, a great French naval station and port, is on the English channel, 82 miles west of Le Havre.

Pending actual negotiation of an armistice under which a "cease fire" order could be issued, the German attack on the battered, retreating French army continued relentlessly.

The high command said that between Orleans and Nancy the Germans crossed the Loire river at several points.

The French, however, still were resisting in the Maginot line on both sides of Diedenhofen, the high command said.

Air Raids Reported
The German air force continued its attacks on Lorraine and, according to the high command, it sank a 10,000-ton merchant vessel off Cherbourg.

German troops have passed Le Mans, 130 miles south of Paris, the high command said.

The communists claimed German motorized divisions were advancing from Belfort, 35 miles west of Basle, and expected shortly to establish contact with troops which crossed the Rhine and already have pushed deep into the Voges mountains near Muenster.

COURT APPROVES 2 COMPROMISES

Compromise settlements in two accidents occurring in this area during the past 11 days were granted approval in probate court today.

Judge C. A. Bailey signed an order placing court approbation on the request of Earl E. Wright, Murtaugh, for acceptance of a $10 settlement in payment for injuries to a daughter, 10, and $10 in settlement of minor hurts sustained by another daughter, 17.

S. P. Lochrie, Iwaco, Wash., banker, proffered the settlements as result of a crash June 8 on the U. S. 30 curve east of Kimberly. The Lochrie and Wright autos were both seriously damaged.

Another compromise offer totaling $35 for medical costs was approved for Thomas Joseph O'Halloran, 6, on request of his father, Harry O'Halloran. The settlement was made by O. Sherman Anderson, driver whose car caused the six-year-old youngster's injury but minor injuries in a mishap June 10 at Locust street near Sixth avenue east.

Writer Says Chances Remote for Fifth Column Revolt in Mexico

By ROBERT P. DORMAN
(Written for NEA Service)
EL PASO, Tex. — A well-voiced and almost indelible fifth column exists in Mexico. But the chances of this fifth column bringing on a revolution in the republic on our southwest border, following the presidential election next month, appear to be remote.

I just have completed a 3,000-mile trip through Mexico, seeking to run down rumors of an active fifth column and a forthcoming revolution — rumors that have been circulating in the United States for some time.

It would appear that fifth column objectives are not immediate, but that both Communist and Nazi influences may have to be reckoned with in the future.

Red Movement
There is a definite Mexican Communist movement under the virtual, though not the nominal leadership of Vicente Lombardo Toledano, head of the C. T. M. (Mexican Confederation of Workers). Presumably the Mexican Communists are now working with the Nazis as they are elsewhere.

The C. T. M. publishes a labor daily newspaper, El Popular, similar to the Daily Worker published in New York by the Communist party. Aides of the presidential candidate, Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, charge El Popular is backed by Russian money.

The same sources claim the Mexico City magazine, El Timon, whose editor is Jose Vasconcelos, is backed by German money.

Army Propagandized
Other German activities are directed toward propaganda in the Mexican army. Just recently a new magazine, El Ejercito (The Army), was published, 75,000 copies being distributed free to the officers and men of the Mexican army.

One of its pages bore a full-page ad of the German legation which extolled and was dedicated to the heroes of the Mexican army.

Money for this publication came, according to reliable sources, from the German propaganda agent in the German consulate in Mexico City.

Tourists' Arrive
Records of the transportation lines show there has been a considerable influx of German and Russian elements into Mexico this year. While some of these travelers carry passports of their native countries, many of them travel with passports of various Central American republics.

The recent attempt on the life of the exiled former head of the Red army, Leon Trotsky, was, according to him, engineered by newly arrived members of the Soviet G. P. U. (secret police), with the aid of Toledano's followers. Trotsky definitely charged that Toledano took his orders from the Kremlin.

Included in the Soviet influx are many Soviet agents who were in Spain on the Loyalist side during the recent civil war, and who have been recognized in Mexico by men who were in Spain at that time.

Cause Concern
Also causing concern to the Mexican authorities are the large German centers of population, especially in the states of Chiapas and Vera Cruz on the plantations; and in the commercial life of Mexico City and Monterrey, the two most important business centers of Mexico.

These Germans are mostly ardent pro-Nazis and rumors regarding their activities run from the maintenance of powerful short wave radio stations daily furnishing Berlin with reports and information, to the laying out and leveling off of huge airfields planted to scrubby and worthless cotton as camouflage.

Hard to Detect
These activities are almost impossible of detection and when found, it is almost impossible to prove motives are ulterior.

For example, at Chihuahua City, one of the finest Mexican airports, only 225 miles from the American border at El Paso, Tex., the largest and best hangar belongs to a German mining company whose mine is located in the Sierra Madre on the border of the states of Chihuahua and Sonora.

To transport supplies in and bring gold out requires 10 days each way by muleback, but only a few hours by plane. Hence this hangar is a perfectly legitimate affair, yet the well-equipped hangar in the Chihuahua airport and the landing field in the mountains would afford perfect bases for a hostile airforce directed against the United States.

Vicente Lombardo Toledano . . . enemies charge he salutes the Communism of Russia while heading the powerful Mexican Confederation of Workers.

Both Reds and Nazis are undoubtedly working to stir up trouble among the Mexicans with a view of causing enough disturbance to distract the United States from any moves in the direction of Europe.

To date their efforts would seem to have had little effect. The presidential campaigns of Camacho and Almazan have proceeded with what, for Mexico, has been a minimum of violence.

Reception Honors Pastor, Educator

VACUUM BOTTLES
To keep vacuum bottles sweet, they must be kept absolutely clean and aired. After containing milk or beverages made with milk, fill with warm water to which a pinch of baking soda has been added. If there is the slightest odor, a few drops of ammonia in the water should remove it. Use new corks frequently. When not in use, do not cork tightly—simply cover loosely with the metal cap to keep it clean but aired.

English Actors Return to Isles; Chaplin Movie Has Three Endings

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Behind the scenes friends were surprised when Wilfred Lawson packed up to return to England as soon as he had finished his stint in "Long Voyage Home." "There's too much war talk here," he explained. "I can't stand it."

Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh have written friends here that they'll go back to England, no matter what's happening there. And Beatrice Lillie, who was to have come here for a picture, has cancelled her plans and will remain to entertain soldiers.

Three Endings I hear Charlie Chaplin now has three endings for his picture, so that one can fit any European situation at release time.

Each of the co-stars of a current production is trying to boss the shooting of every scene. The director says he's thinking of trying to get a small setting part in it for himself.

Three studios are rushing preparations for pictures dealing with fifth column activities. Republic is away ahead of 'em, though; it's buying a story titled "Sixth Column."

Lottery Scheme A lottery scheme is being sponsored here with the Red Cross as beneficiary. Each evening a couple of top-ranking stars would make the rounds of the night clubs peddling tickets at $5 each.

Good news department: "Susan and God" is the best thing that ever happened to Joan Crawford. The picture itself is brittle drawing-room stuff and maybe not a wow of 1940 pattern. But they'd better be shining up an academy Oscar for the star.

They're ribbing Dorothy Lamour as a movie producer, and in one scene the now-forgotten screen idol tells a girl: "Don't worry, fame stays with you in Hollywood."

Cast of Rosalind Russell Picture Has Fun at Only $2,000 per Hour

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — When a movie cast relaxes on the set for a little horse-play or high-powered ribbing—with the overhead rolling up—may be at $2,000 an hour, studio supervisors and other money-minded rogues begin grousing right away about frivolity and extravagance.

Nine times out of 10 they're dead wrong. Picture production is a daffy business in which grim efficiency is ruinous and where an off-stage laugh may echo pleasantly in the cash registers. I've just watched a demonstration of thoroughly practical joking on the set of a picture significantly titled "No Time for Comedy."

No Work, All Play Rosalind Russell had a birthday. While Miss Russell was sitting down and trying to erase the spots before her eyes after a particularly long scene, a man struggled in with a seven-foot wreath. A wide ribbon bore the words, "Happy Birthday, Darling," and the perimeter sprouted a great variety of pink roses, lush scallions, crisp carrots, pristine turnips and some effectively arranged cabbage leaves. There also was a card from Miss Russell's good friend and deflator, Bette Davis.

The ailing actress whooped, posed for a couple of pictures, and was visibly brighter when she faced Director Bill Keighly and the lights a few minutes later.

After a couple of takes, there was a commotion off the set and there came Jimmy Stewart wheeling a large baby buggy. It was occupied by Sallor Vincent, a plump stout man, in bonnet, ribbons and not much else. He was tooting the Happy Birthday tune on a tin horn.

More Whooping Miss Russell howled and posed for some more pictures. Vincent, no fool in spite of his costume, petulant asked about a kiss. He got several and is probably at home in bed by now, basking in his memories and a temperature of 104 degrees.

Back in the scene, Miss Russell went through three complete takes without wavering. Then there was a long wait for a new setup of camera and lights. Just as they called her again, Sallor Vincent reappeared. He had been put into a chef's costume this time, complete with moustache, and he was carrying an enormous birthday cake and was singing.

Falls With Cake Miss Russell, genuinely thrilled this time, started toward Vincent. The stunt man, still walking, tripped on a cable and sprawled as the actress screamed. (This is called "taking it big.") Mack Sennett fashion, Vincent landed with his face in the cake, which was a prop concoction, especially made for diving. There was a genuine sparkle instead of a glaze in the booful brown eyes of the actress when she resumed her chores with Mr. Keighly.

Directors, elected for two years terms, are Rev. Albert E. Martin and George Pedersen; one year term directors, Charles De Atley and George B. Bennett.

The club will meet each Monday noon in Jerome.

U. S. Moves to Block Possible Invasion of Americas From Africa

DARK CONTINENT WITHIN REACH OF DICTATOR PLANES

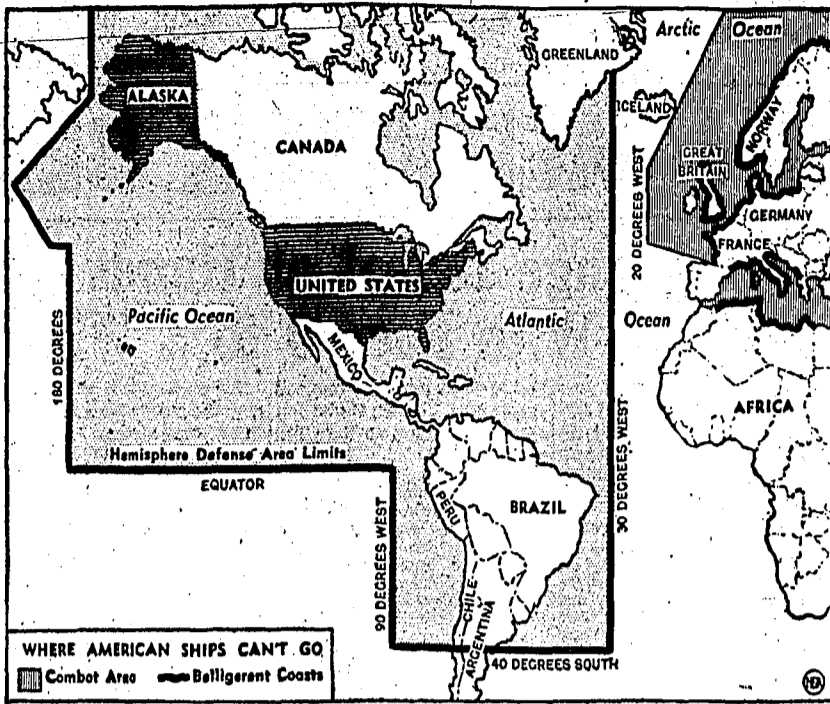

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

The speech in which President Vargas and Brazil attacks democracy and predicts a new totalitarian world order spotlights what was in the back of President Roosevelt's mind when he said Italy's empire had extended the way to Africa. For Africa is now next door to the western hemisphere, a short air hop from Brazil.

Brazil is the Achilles' heel of South America. It is far enough from our mainland to make its defense difficult, yet near enough to the Panama canal to make an enemy who had gained a foothold in Brazil dangerous.

VARGAS

Map shows current American geographical position in relation to the European war. Only a small strip of ocean remains between the limits of the American hemisphere defense area and the combat zone around the war, into which American ships cannot go.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Determined To Produce Own Movies, Like Father

By PAUL HARRISON
(NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—Even in these times, when movie makers are holding their heads and uttering pitiful little cries, there still are lots of people who would like to become producers. One of these is Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., a young man who already has plenty of financial security and who could go right on being unworried and famous as a screen actor.

Maybe he likes the taste of aspirin—I forgot to ask him that. Otherwise, all I could learn about his motive is that he thinks it would be fun to boss picture production. Also, he won't have to worry much about his male star, who will be Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

He recently formed an alliance with Ben Hecht, and they'll do at least one film for Columbia. He also is committed to co-produce and star in a movie about the life of O. Henry. Nothing is certain after that except that if the world hasn't come to an end he intends to keep on making pictures somewhere.

Fairbanks' Ambitions

In England a few years ago Fairbanks was very nearly cured of any executive ambition. "I was instrumental in forming a company over there," he said. "But by the time it was ready to operate I found myself holding the short end. I was so deeply involved then that I went ahead and made three pictures, but it was more than I could stand—especially with the publicity constantly calling it my company."

"So I told 'em that, contract or no contract, I wasn't going to take the rap for such bad product. I walked out, and that's the last I've heard of it."

Remembering the previous flicker flops of Hecht and Charles MacArthur (their first effort, "Once in a Blue Moon," did fair business in a few spots when billed as "The Worst Picture Ever Made") I wondered aloud about Fairbanks' confidence in his new associate. He said that, although he had been a closer friend of MacArthur, he believed that Hecht is the more conscientious workman; also that Hecht doesn't want to go especially arty with the new picture.

"He wrote the story and will be co-producer and director," Fairbanks said. "Actually, I know a lot less about it than I should. We get together once in a while, begin a conference, drift out the war, and agree that it's silly for us to try to think about fiction. . . . Generally, though, the things about the Manhattan Bagdad—a little sordid, full of twisted people, and with me as a smiling, tough, East Side Rupert of Henshau."

Wants Adventurous Roles

I asked about biographies as box office material, and Fairbanks said he believes they're no good as title attractions. His second picture, instead of being tagged "The Life of O. Henry," will be called "American Vagabond."

These roles are illustrative of what Fairbanks thinks he ought to play—romantic, adventurous stuff, but not the swashbuckling, chandler-swinging business that his father did. Lots of the studios want him to remake some of the elder Doug's epics. "But I can't," he said. "I'd be so self-conscious I'd just look silly."

Former Toll Bridge Gets Heavy Usage

BOISE, June 19 (AP)—Since purchase by the state of the Twin Falls-Jerome intercounty toll bridge, travel on the span across Snake river has increased more than 302 per cent, the governor's office reported.

Before tolls were removed from the span on April 30, daily total average was only 411 vehicles of all types. The present daily average with tolls removed is 1,245 vehicles, or an increase of 302 per cent.

During a 16-hour count by the state highway department on June 8, a total of 1,825 vehicles crossed the bridge of these 1,292 crossed between 2 p. m. and 10 p. m.

"Numerous pedestrian sight sees, including many children, on the bridge in the midst of 1,292 cars in eight hours is developing a decided traffic hazard," the governor's office disclosed. "It is estimated that there were 300 pedestrians on the bridge during the same period."

KETCHUM

Those operating Blue Kitten claims near the hot springs on Warm Springs creek, have completed the building of a long ore chute running from the open cut to the loading bins and are getting ready for an initial shipment of about 50 tons, according to Albert Jones, one of the lessees. A road of about 2,250 feet completed to the loading bins, clear hauling will follow to Glimet, a short distance below Ketchum, whence the ore will be shipped to the Salt Lake smelter. Three shifts are being worked and operators assert that the output will return better than $20 per ton, with an $8 hauling charge.

Herbert Gardin, Twin Falls, left Tuesday for California, his wife having preceded him by a week.

Lawrence Van Ripen and family, Butte, returned to Ketchum during the week and went to the summer home on Warm Springs creek where they will stay for the summer.

For several days trucks have been hauling mammoth steel air-light pontoons dredging in the Salmon section, more than 20 being included in the shipment.

A telephone construction gang, with the assistance of CCC crew, has been readjusting and lining wire from Ketchum up to Warm Springs canyon. About the only public service available along the entire route will be near the Shepherd camp, where an outside booth will be located.

Friends assembled at Crony Cove Friday and witnessed the erection of a 50-foot flagpole, and the raising of a large flag, an annual custom of the camp.

Veterans of at least three wars were present saluting. As a slight breeze unfurled Old Glory and it went with the wind, two great American eagles, one immediately to the north of the flag, and one to the south, took the air, and circled the chosen positions in unison for several minutes.

Anything Can Happen, These Days

We didn't think you'd believe it unless you saw it, so here it is—a Republican club backing President Roosevelt. What's more, Club President, Miller, seen leaning out of his Washington office window, left, was once a law associate of Republican Vice-President Charles Curtis.

Idaho Campaigns Hit by Continuance of Congress

By LLOYD TUPPING
United Press Staff Correspondent

BOISE, June 19 (AP)—Continued session of congress aroused speculation here as to when and how Idaho congressional representatives would make known their intentions for the August primaries.

In ordinary times, announcements have been made long before the period for filing declarations, but this year none of the incumbents has indicated officially he would see reelection and renomination.

Thomas After Post

Sen. John Thomas of Gooding was expected to enter the race for the two years remaining of the late Sen. William E. Borah's post. Reps. Compton I. White and Henry Dvorshak were believed "sure" bets to again seek reelection for the first and second district congressional posts, respectively.

Pressure of national defense legislation may keep the trio in Washington throughout the summer. Republican leaders in Washington have asked that congress be kept in continuous session to meet whatever emergencies arise.

"Remote Control"

The exigencies of this national crisis may well keep the Idahoans in the nation's capitol, forcing them to conduct their primary campaigns by "remote control," or at best during brief visits, observers believed.

To obtain a place on the Republican and Democratic primary ballots, Dvorshak, White and Thomas must file their petitions of candidacy by July 13 with the names of between 200 and 300 voters.

THREE GIRLS TO TAKE AIR COURSE

POCATELLO, June 19 (AP)—Three co-eds of Idaho southern university will take training in the school's civilian aeronautics authority summer training program.

Charles P. Richardson, director of vocational education at the university, said the three girls would be among the 30 students who will learn to fly this summer.

They are Mary Margaret Hunt, Pocatello, University of Oregon graduate; Bernice Rockwood, Idaho Falls, and Jennie Swendsen, Pocatello, a former student at Brigham Young university.

Miss Swendsen, one of the trainees, said she "wouldn't hesitate if it should come that my flying abilities would be of use to the nation."

FAIRFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reedy are parents of a son born June 15.

Approximately 7,000 native trout from three to five inches long were released at the mouth of Lime creek in the South Boise last week. They were brought from the Clear lakes hatchery.

For the first time in years Magic reservoir is full with water, having reached a 191,500 foot level on May 27.

All indications point to an early harvest that will begin not later than the middle of July. Warmer weather has hastened the maturing of crops.

MURDER TRY CHARGED IN MEDWICK BEANING

Costly Dodger Hurt; Macphail Swings at Hurler

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, June 19 (U.P.)—Joe Medwick's "beating" by Pitcher Bob Bowman in yesterday's Dodger-Cardinals game threatened violent repercussions today. Larry MacPhail, president of the Brooklyn club, charged the young Cardinal pitcher had deliberately hit him $200,000 outfielder in the head and threatened to have him "barred from baseball."

"It's the worst thing I've ever seen in all my baseball experience," stormed MacPhail. "This fellow came to the ball park with a premeditated notion of committing murder and I can call six witnesses to prove it."

Medwick, obtained by the Dodgers from the Cardinals a week ago rested comfortably in the Caledonia hospital with nothing worse than a brain concussion. Dr. John Ateer, attending physician, said he would have to remain in hospital for five or six days, and might not be able to play for 10 days.

MacPhail was so incensed by Bowman's "duster" which struck Medwick above the ear on the left side of the head, that he took a punch at the 25-year-old Cardinal pitcher as he was being taken to the St. Louis clubhouse by private detectives. The wild right knocked off Bowman's cap.

The detectives had been called to the park by Manager Billy Southworth of the Cardinals to provide protection in the event of trouble. When MacPhail learned they were sitting on the Cardinal bench he protested to Umpire Bill Klem who ordered them to leave. When they did, escorting Bowman to the clubhouse, MacPhail went under the stands to take his punch at the pitcher. MacPhail had stood in front of the Cardinal dugout challenging in profane terms any player to meet him under the stands.

Trouble Started
The trouble between Bowman and Medwick started in an elevator of a hotel yesterday. The Cardinals stop at the same hotel where Manager Leo Durocher and his pal Medwick live. They happened to get on the same elevator, and an old feud between Bowman and Durocher was revived. They almost came to blows last year when Bowman attempted to "dust off" Durocher in a game at St. Louis.

Bowman yesterday overheard Durocher say he didn't plan to play in yesterday's game because of bruises he received when Ernie Koy, ex-Dodger who figured in the Medwick deal, dumped him at second base in Monday's game.

"Course you ain't going to play," Bowman is said to have remarked. "You know I'm going to pitch."

Threat Charged
One word led to another and Bowman is said to have told Durocher and Medwick, "I'll hit both of you right in the head." MacPhail claims to have witnesses to prove Bowman made the remark.

The Cardinals won the game, 7-5, in 11 innings. It was the Cards' sixth straight victory under Billy Southworth and the Dodgers' fourth straight defeat.

The Red Sox' six-game winning streak was snapped by the Browns who beat the league-leaders, 11-7, in 10 innings.

White Sox 5, Yanks 3
Edgar Smith pitched a six-hit game to give the White Sox a 5-3 victory over the Yanks. The Philadelphia Phillies handed Buck Walters his fourth straight loss as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1.

Jake Mooty of the Chicago Cubs turned back the New York Giants with six hits for a 6-1 triumph before a Polo grounds night crowd of 35,225.

Rollie Hemsley's ninth-inning single sent across the winning run as the Cleveland Indians nudged the Washington Senators, 2-1.

Modern 'Bowladrome' Opens For Use in Twin Falls

Bowling alleys which will receive widespread publicity throughout the entire west opened for public use in Twin Falls today.

The alleys are "The Bowladrome," modernistic and air-conditioned establishment under management of Harold Hoover. The eight bowling lanes are the Brunswick Centennial alleys—third installation of these new-type alleys in the entire United States and the first west of the Mississippi river.

Because of that fact, Mr. Hoover said today, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company plans an intensive promotional campaign in the west, using the Twin Falls Bowladrome as the model.

Formal Program Friday
The establishment opened for public use at 10 a. m. today after a "trout party" last night at which representatives of newspapers and radio were guests of the management. Formal opening program, however, will come at 7:45 p. m. Friday, when a Burley women's team will oppose Twin Falls female bowlers in a special match and the cream of Bull's men bowlers will tackle a Twin Falls men's quintet.

Walker Bertsch is arranging the Twin Falls team lineups; Rolly Houlting is managing the Bull club and either Jim Edward or his assistant at the Burley alleys will secure the Burley women competitors.

Good in Summer, Too
Assisting Mr. Hoover as manager of the Bowladrome is Bill Grove. Mr. Bertsch holds the concession contract.

Medwick Beated

Joe Medwick, with the Brooklyn Dodgers for only one week, was beated yesterday in the Brooklyn-St. Louis game. Dodger Manager Larry MacPhail charges Pitcher Bob Bowman started the game with a "premeditated notion of murder." MacPhail said he would ask that Bowman be barred from baseball.

Louis, Godoy Tense Before Big Battle

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK, June 19 (U.P.)—Champion Joe Louis, pugilism's most dangerous puncher, and Arturo Godoy of Chile, rugged master of the baffling bullfrog defense, idled at their camps today, grimly awaiting tomorrow night's "do-or-die" title battle in Yankee stadium.

Ground to the finest edge of their careers, both were taut—beneath indifferent exteriors—as the marching hours brought them closer to this return international brawl in which both must "shoot the works" to make up for failures in their first February encounter.

Louis Odds 4-1
While the vanguard of outside fans arrived in the city and hammering workmen prepared ring and seats in the park that Ruth built, Louis continued to rule the 4-1 favorite in heavy betting.

The price was 2-1 that Bomber Joe would knock out the low-crawling Chilean, a feat he was unable to accomplish in February when Godoy lasted the full 15 rounds and held Louis to a split decision.

This knockout possibility seemed brighter after the champion's thundering finale at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., yesterday when he cut loose in his final workout with the most explosive punching barrage of his training grind. He finally knocked out Joe O'Gatty, bob-and-weaver who had given him so much trouble in previous sessions. He straightened O'Gatty up with a right uppercut and then smashed him to the canvas with a left hook. Another sparring partner, George Nicholson, also received a severe battering.

Each Weighs 201
Godoy wound up training with eight rounds of gymnastic exercises. He did no boxing. Godoy will break camp at Carmel, N. Y., at dusk today and motor into New York. Louis will come in from Greenwood Lake tomorrow in time for the noon weigh-in-at-commission headquarters. Champion and challenger scaled 201 each yesterday.

Despite threatening weather today, promoter Mike Jacobs reported that the ticket sale was increasing robustly and that he was confident the gross will top $200,000.

More plate glass is used by automobiles than by the building industry.

Boise Dumps Cards With 14-5 Victory

By United Press
Salt Lake's 9 to 4 victory over Twin Falls last night kept the Bees' three-game lead on the Pioneer league.

Three Cowboy pitchers saw action as the Twin Falls aggregation was out-hit ten safeties to seven. Ristau scattered the Cowboys' hits, except in the ninth.

The second-place Boise Pilots made two of their 12 hits good for homers to dump Pocatello, 14 to 5. Sheehan connected for a circuit clout in the sixth with one on, and Lorenzen scored a homer in the seventh. Rasmussen allowed the Cards six hits, Dobson, Salas and Pavlicke hurled for the Cardinals.

Ted Kerr, a rookie playing his first game for the Ogden Reds, scored a homer in the second as the Reds lost to the Idaho Falls Russets, 7 to 8. Zar gave the Reds 12 hits but managed to win over eight-inning pitching by Polivka and Lambert.

SALT LAKE BEES
Vs. Twin Falls COWBOYS
Jayco Park

Bees Avenge Defeat at Hands of Cowboys With Easy 9 to 4 Win

Salt Lake's league-leading Bees came back with a vengeance at Jaycoe park last night to sting the Cowboys 9 to 4 and avenge Monday night's 4 to 3 defeat at the hands of Twin Falls in that 12-inning thriller.

With the series tied, the Cowboys go out against the Bees again tonight at 8:30. Dick O'Boyle is scheduled to take over the mound assignment for the Cowboys, and either Mel Marlowe or Nig Tate will hurl for the Bees, Manager Tony Robello indicated today.

The Cowboys last night didn't look like the same team that defeated the Bees and Marlowe Monday night. Three hurlers were used, with the Bees taking a flock of free passes to first and base hits off the first two chockers.

Stu Holdhusen started the game, but after issuing six walks in less than three innings, he was relieved by Chief Chagnon, who lasted into the fourth inning and then yielded the hill to Wayne Lundberg, newest of Cowboy hurlers. Lundberg, in his first appearance, showed possibilities and managed to hold the Bees in check, but the damage was already done. Lundberg yielded just one walk and gave up three hits in five frames.

Chagnon was handed his unconditional release following the game. The Cowboys acquired him from Ogden. Last night's game was the second in which the hurler appeared. He planned today to leave for his home in California.

The Bees drew the first blood in the second inning last night after Owens had singled and Holdhusen walked three to give Owens a free ticket home. Guintini scored on an error by Marchi. The Bees scored again in the third, and then silted the game away in the fourth with a singles-run double and a home run by Owens with the bags loaded, resulting in five runs. The Bees went scoreless until the seventh when they pushed a run across on an error and a single.

Twin Falls scored in the fourth frame on two singles and a walk. Bill Randall singled, Tom Canavan walked, and Marchi hit a hot single to drive Randall home.

The Cowboys then went scoreless until the ninth when a rally netted three tallies. Manager Frank Tobin reached first on an error, John Arnerich singled and Ernie Bishop scored Tobin with a single to right field. It was Bishop's only hit of the evening. Dick Wake doubled and scored Arnerich and Bishop. Randall popped out to the shortstop to end the game.

If You've Got a Burglar, Don't Send for an Oarsman, Says Mac

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—To the friends and to the relatives of the Washington crew, I send flowers and sympathy.

The Washington crew won at Poughkeepsie yesterday, thereby proving itself the strongest-backed, weakest-minded coterie of young men in the nation.

It is not often that I wait until an event is finished to criticize the victor. But in rowing, one must wait until he knows which boatload of flesh is tops in marine fiendship. In this particular event, it was necessary for one to wait almost until noon today to determine this fact. For the Poughkeepsie crews took off in darkness, rowed almost all night, and finished only slightly before dawn.

A Poughkeepsie oarsman is the most non-understandable of all athletes. A good college baseball player gets a chance with the New York Yankees. A good football player gets a chance with the New York Giants or the Green Bay Packers or some other team in one of the professional leagues. A good tennis player has every right to expect to elude a living after—as well as during—his college years.

But an oarsman has no hope of doing anything except earning a sweater that he can't wear to work anyway.

As a matter of fact, families are a bit ashamed to admit the presence of an oarsman. When they say they have a stroke, or a No. 2 or a coxswain in their family, it is the same as admitting that the big skeleton in their closet jumped out and attempted to learn the routine of the double-scull in full view of the assembled neighborhood.

For it takes much more than a strong back to become a true oarsman. It requires the sort of mind and the sort of muscle that isn't good enough to stand by itself. Individualism has no part in rowing. There is no such thing as a stand-out oarsman. Every man must blend himself into part of an eight-man machine, and a machine is no stronger than its weakest link.

Now let's get brutal for a moment. Ten years of writing sports has taught me that the average athlete is something that you wouldn't welcome in case of invasion of burglars. That is, they are strong of arm but weak of cerebrum, as I've been trying to indicate for the last 8 paragraphs. Of all the athletes I've met, crew men are the worst.

You have to be a man with absolutely no imagination to work that hard for nothing. Even steel mill laborers don't do it, at least without benefit of the Wagner national labor relations act.

If by this time my moral is not clear, all I ask you to do is casually scrutinize one of these oarsmen. They are tall, yes. They are broad, yes. They are beautiful cogs in a single wheel, yes again. But they have ears for nothing except the bark of their keeper, who in this instance is the coxswain. Individual thinking is quite beyond their capacity, because for four years the capacity for individual thinking is slowly and steadily driven out of them.

All I've tried to say in these 800 words I can say in two sentences: The world can't count on oarsmen to solve its problems. Oarsmen are big, have crew hair cuts and as far as I know need a coxswain to tell them when it's time to take a stroke.

Idaho Football Team to Meet Californians Starting in 1942

MOSCOW, June 10 (AP)—Recent action of Pacific Coast conference coaches in returning the universities of Idaho and Montana to the league will start to pay dividends to the University of Idaho in the fall of 1942.

A tentative four-year plan adopted at a recent meeting of conference coaches at Sun Valley calls for the Vandals to meet California teams on their home fields, and northern division teams on their fields and at Moscow on alternate years.

Idaho, together with Montana, known as the conference orphans for several years, also will have an opportunity to compete for the coast title and will be eligible for selection as the west's representative in the Rose bowl.

In the past few years Idaho has been limited to games with members of the northern division of the conference. Under the "four-year plan" Idaho will have two games each season against teams in California.

Here is the Idaho schedule for the years from 1942 through 1945:

DIAMOND DUST FROM THE COWBOY CORRAL

Jim Hedgcock, young pitcher released by the Cowboys Monday, was out loosed (with his own advance knowledge of the move) because an injured elbow was handicapping him.

Jim knew his bad elbow was making his fast ball too "fat" for safety, and was reducing effectiveness of his curve by at least 75 per cent. He was ready to return to his Utah home to rest up for another try next season, and he vows it's going to be a different story in 1941.

A lot of cowboy fans will agree that once that elbow is in shape, Jim may prove to be a mainstay next year.

utility catcher for the Spokane baseball team.

"With Lyle Lake's right arm still giving plenty of trouble and leaving the Indians without a utility catcher, telegrams have been sent to all clubs in the coast league and other parts of the country in an effort to secure catching protection.

"Should anything happen to Joe McNamee, Spokane's present backstop, it would leave the club in quite a hole. Frank Falconi, first baseman, can work behind the plate if necessary."

Another likely performer who will have a second crack at landing regular berth next season is Frank Mullens, the sweet-fielding out-garden performer who was released along with Hedgcock.

Frank, acquired from Fossilville some time ago, will return to the Cowboy fold next spring for try-out. Manager Frank Tobin said today that Mullens "is a good boy and might come around. He's a crackerjack fielder and his only trouble is his hitting."

Which, of course, was no news to Frank, who expects to do some research work into this matter of how to slug a baseball.

Speaking of Umpire McQuillan (as a number of persons will be glad to do with great vigor at the drop of the hat), Mac pulled a new one out of his sleeve in that 12-inning game Monday.

He was actually singing and humming behind the plate, no fooling.

Which appears to this corner to be a brand-new type of hazard for batsmen.

Concerning this big fellow, Wayne Lundberg, signed from the Farmers' league in eastern Idaho, Manager Tobin and Business Mogul Hugh Pace both believe that Wayne may possibly develop into quite some shakes as a pitcher.

He was sent into the game last night against the rampant Bees, but only necessity brought that move. The Cowboy herders expect to let Lundberg loosen up his muscles gradually for the next week, since he's been digging irrigation ditches lately and that's not conducive to limber muscles. Once he's loosened up, however, it's said around the Cowboy corral that Lundberg has a blinding speed ball and a darned effective knuckler.

At that, without much advance preparation, he held the Bees to three hits and one walk in five frames last night.

Tony Lombardi, the new catching recruit, just completed his college career last month at the University of California. A protégé of Clint Evans, Tony worked under a hand-cup in his first appearance here Monday night.

He arrived at Shoshone by train that afternoon—and because of the slightly screwy method by which the Seattle Rainiers route the ball players they farm out, Tony was on the train for just about two days. He got one hour of sleep in a bed that wasn't away-in on rails... and then went in to catch that night.

But his inaugural performance behind the bat convinced many fans that Tony will "catch on" to this Pioneer league fast and will prove a big help in that mask.

And now, swinging up to Spokane and the other team owned by Bill Ulrich, it seems that Joe (Junior) McNamee of 1939 Cowboy fame is the only fellow standing between Eddie Leishman's team and disaster behind the plate.

Joe is first-string receiver, and Spokane has no utility catcher at the moment. That gives Leishman the shivers every time he thinks of what a hole he'll be in if McNamee is injured. So Eddie is burning the wires in search of an understudy for Junior. Here's a quote from the Spokane Chronicle: "With hopes for the best, Manager Eddie Leishman said today that all wires are being pulled to secure a

ADA DEMOS MAY BLAST AT CLARK

BOISE, June 19 (UP)—A committee of the Ada county Democratic organization today studied a proposed resolution designed by its sponsors to "repudiate the actions, and attitude of Sen. D. Worth Clark."

The proposed resolution expressed "deep disappointment of the Democrats of Idaho" in Clark's opposition to a number of the principal policies of the national administration.

Resent FDR Opposition

The resolution was submitted to the central committee by members who termed Clark's opposition to the administration as "contrary to good government, to the best interests of this nation, and the sentiment of the people."

The central committee appointed a sub-committee to study the resolution and report it back for action on June 29.

The proposed resolution, which has not yet been approved by the central organization, declared that since speaking at the Democratic state convention in Twin Falls, "Sen. Clark was made fully aware of this feeling on the part not only of the Democrats of his state, but the greater portion of the citizens."

Cites War Stand

It was added that Clark "has continued his opposition to the President of the United States in his efforts to provide fully for the defense of this nation and to give all material assistance which could be given by a neutral nation in attempting to strengthen the cause of the democratic nations involved in war with the autocratic powers of the world."

"Senator Clark has seen fit to oppose these measures to prevent democratic ideas and maintain the American plan of government as a vital force in the world in recent addresses, and his actions in this regard have become offensive to the people of Idaho, and especially the Democratic party."

TEXAS STUDENTS MAKE STOP HERE

Having a grand time on one of the most unusual tours to stop at Twin Falls in years, 25 high school seniors and juniors from Odessa, Tex., halted here in the two hours Tuesday morning for a midnight snack at a local restaurant.

The Texas students said they were on a bus trip throughout the United States. All were honor students at Odessa, and the unusual tour was their reward for academic achievements.

Traveling in an impressive bus chartered for the occasion, the Texans and their chaperons had already completed two weeks of wandering at the time they halted here briefly. They were en route to Salt Lake City at the time.

WASHINGTON, June 19 (Special)—The place was the house of representatives. The discussion on the floor centered briefly on matters of immediate concern to the people. Every section of the reserved gallery was filled when Congressman Bruce Barton of New York asked and received permission to read a brief letter from one of his constituents—an old colored woman.

Briefly, he read:

"Dear sir: Every time we has Democrats we has war. Let us not have no more Democrat Presidents."

The jibe was greeted by laughter from the Democratic side of the aisle and applause from the Republicans. A few seconds later came a brief speech on objection to adjournment within two weeks. The speaker did a nice words as he voiced an opinion: "All the men in the White House wants to get rid of congress so he can run the foreign situation to suit himself."

Information Unofficial

Mention was then made of the fact the president had sources of information on international relations not available to congress. It was deplored, by the man on the floor, that both lawmaking bodies had to depend on newspapers and radio for ideas as to what was going on everywhere.

Attention of the house was called to the fact that there was too much American meddling in foreign affairs—that one single hard-headed thought was important and that was keeping America out of war.

From the Democratic side came an attempt to defend the administration: "You must remember, gentlemen, that our president stated publicly that the frontiers of America were on the Rhine."

Instantly, from the crowded visitor's gallery, came a great chorus of "boos"—and the speaker sat down in confusion.

Senator Pepper in Limestone. Thereafter most of the discussion concerned the national labor relations board. It was too involved for the gallery visitors, so whipsaw comment turned to Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida, and his three hour speech in the senate.

"He's talked every afternoon for three days, and even introduced other measures in order to hold the floor," one eastern lady marveled. "He's certainly a fly little man—like his name even."

"The senate adjourned from Thursday to Monday to shut him off," opined a young man from Michigan. "He was proposing the senate give authorization to the president to turn over the major resources of America to the allies," murmured the lady from Maryland.

Her husband added grimly: "That would be a virtual declaration of war. . . . to do any such fool thing. He even had that hook of Hitler's

Character of the City is Impressive. A rushing crowd of "somebodies" going to work. . . "nobodies" looking on. . . and a third class, the tourists, rushing to stand and stare.

The shrine of American patriotism on the second floor of the library of congress attracts from 4,000 to 16,000 and more a day. The declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States, according to equality to one and all, are the most valuable possessions of the country.

Lincoln Memory

Few, however, see the unusual sights worth treasuring in memory scrapbooks. In the late afternoon of one day, an old lady stood in the Ford theater building, now a museum, and wiped her eyes as she gazed at the show which Lincoln once wore about his shoulders. Smiling then at her own weakness, she murmured as she passed ahead: "Why aren't there more men like him?"

Next morning, so early there wasn't a guard about, two small boys, one white and one Negro, peered off their clothing for a joyous swim in the Reflection pool in front of the great Lincoln memorial. Watching them from a distant vantage point off the steps leading upward, I seemed to hear a chuckle, though perhaps it was only the whispering of the leaves all about.

"How Lincoln would have appreciated some of the things he looks down upon from up there between the tall columns," I thought as I, in turn, passed that way and moved on.

Little Men Don't Count

"The government of the United States will go on and on. . . but I'm just a sort of temporary fixture," he decided wisely. "The opinions of little men don't really matter much, when all's said and done."

In the coffee shop, a lady from New York stated that the Republicans were passing up a good bet in Bruce Barton, and was inclined to believe Dewey too young and inexperienced.

It remained for a German-born but naturalized American of some 20 years standing to cap the climax of all puzzling opinions, however—by insisting bitterly: "I've worked for the party for years; now I'm going to have my rights."

What those "rights" are, however, remained a secret in spite of judicious questioning.

They Like Washington

Later. . . a bride and groom of one day, holding hands as they gazed at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, said they thought Washington was wonderful.

"It's a talking picture," stated the young man only. "It's like a big story, if you look and listen."

Taking the cue, I saw and heard even more than before. A tired looking stenographer in the war department, commenting on overtime work because of increased activity. . . . A colored window cleaner, volubly discussing "Mist" Hitler with a co-worker. . . . Newboys calling "They're smashin' 'em over there. Read all about it." . . . Thousands of parked cars of government workers, and one man proclaiming, "The parking business is a racket."

"Conscientious" Teachers

School children marching two by two behind a teacher into the Smithsonian Institute. . . . Young folks of high school age pouring out of chartered transportation for varied expeditions. . . . School teachers themselves on vacations and usually identified by guide book and conscientious expressions. . . . The home of Washington at Mount Vernon, maintaining stately dignity in spite of crowds of tourists swarming everywhere. . . .

But, above all else, the evident

ONE-DISH DINNER

A one-dish dinner that will have both taste and eye appeal might consist of a ham ring baked to a light perfect brown, filled with whole canned apricots and surrounded by small new boiled potatoes with parsley and butter, mounds of green bantam corn and buttered green peas. Hot biscuits, too, and a mixed green salad, and for dessert a smooth lemon sherbet.

SPEAKER URGES WOMEN TO LEAD

SALT LAKE CITY, June 19 (UP)—Delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Sociopolitist clubs, meeting in Salt Lake City, canceled for business sessions today after applauding speakers who urged spiritual regeneration and world cooperation in welcoming addresses last night.

More than 350 delegates, representing 131 clubs throughout the United States and Canada, heard Dr. John Edward Carver of Ogden, Utah, declare that women must take the lead in the preservation of democracy.

Earlier, Mrs. Anna E. Spott, Vancouver, B. C., president of the federation, called for members to seek "international cooperation to make the world a brotherhood."

During the first three months of 1940, 795,162 new passenger cars were registered in the United States.
