Russian Officers Address Rioters; Red Flag Raised

TALLINN, Esthonia, June 22 (U.P.)—A left wing government friendly to Russia took office today after a brief, bloodless uprising by workers and socialists. Dispatches reported pro-Russian demonstrations at Riga, Latvia, and pressure on the Lithuanian cabinet by left-radicals. They are the other Baltic countries between Russia and Germany.

Coinciding with a surge of left wing activity in the Baltic republics, came the announcement at Stockholm that a hastily summoned secret session of the Swedish parliament had considered an important communication by the king and government affecting Sweden's foreign policy as a sequel to Germany's conquest of Norway.

Workers Demonstrate
Two thousand workers demonstrated in the Liberty square here, carrying red banners inscribed in Russian "workers unite" and "we want bread and work" and listening to speeches by Russian army officers and Esthonian labor leaders. The demonstrators demanded dissolution of civic guards and formation of a government friendly to Russia, and pledged to strictest adherence to the Russian-Esthonian "mutual assistance" treaty. The workers cheered the Russian speakers and were joined by Russian soldiers and trucks in which Russian soldiers sang revolutionary songs.

Late in the day armed workers seized the 700-year-old government-occupied Tallinn castle and raised the red hammer and sickle flag from its tower.

Shouted Down
President Konstantin Pats tried to address the workers from a balcony of the castle. He got only as far as: "For 40 years I have worked for the people and never differentiated between capitalists and workers," when he was shouted down.

The president and the government yielded.

A new government was appointed, composed of active Socialists. Most of the members are professional men. None had held political office.

JAIL PLEA BASED ON CONSTITUTION

Vigorous claim that Twin Falls county probate court violated the U. S. and Idaho constitutions by jailing a 52-year-old Negro woman for non-payment of trial costs—including jury fees—was presented in district court today at hearing which sought release of Mrs. Cornelia White on writ of habeas corpus.

The violation of the constitution, Mrs. White's counsel argued before Judge J. W. Porter, occurred because the probate court's action infringed on the provision which assures the right of trial by jury.

Judge Porter took the matter under advisement shortly before noon. Meantime Mrs. White went back to county jail to await the jurist's decision.

The Rogerson resident was jailed Tuesday night on a commitment issued June 3 by Probate Judge C. A. Bailey. That magistrate had ordered her to pay costs of $102.77 as drawn up by the prosecutor following the woman's misdemeanor trial on claim of failure to keep her logs securely penned.

Petition for writ of habeas corpus was filed Wednesday by O. W. Witham and Guy L. Kinney, counsel for the woman. Judge Porter ordered issuance of a writ returning today for hearing. The petition stated that Mrs. White paid her $1 fine, but argued that inclusion of jury fee in the bill of costs was illegal.

American Defense Plan May Retard Project in Idaho

BOISE, June 22 (U.P.)—Development of Idaho reclamation facilities may be retarded temporarily while efforts of federal departments are directed toward national defense preparations, Harry Morrison, president of the southwestern Idaho water conservation project, said today.

Morrison reported on his return from Washington, D. C., construction of the Anderson ranch reservoir, a proposed $12,000,000 project on the south fork of the Boise river, might be delayed pending authorization. The President is busy with national defense plans and the interior department appropriation bill containing reclamation funds has not been signed, he said.

New York district attorney Thomas E. Dewey made his final public bid for the Republican presidential nomination in a nationally broadcast speech last night in which he strengthened his status as a strictly non-interventionist candidate by charging that President Roosevelt was deliberately attempting to involve this country into war to cover up failures of the New Deal.

Secretary of Navy Charles Edison said the class of '41 at Annapolis naval academy will be graduated Feb. 7 instead of in June, to furnish additional officers for the naval defense expansion.

Presidential secretaries said that of the several hundred telegrams received at the White House, all but one approved President Roosevelt's nomination of Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war and Col. Frank Knox as secretary of navy.

Captain Cernego, in charge of a corps of Peruvian aviators, said he had discovered a town composed of 80 white families at the mouth of the Rio Platin in southeastern Peru, who had been out of contact with civilization for 25 years.

German news agencies denounced the Stimson-Knox appointments, saying both are "war mongers". Japanese newspapers said the appointments meant the United States definitely had brought into the open their anti-Japanese colors.

Butler, an opponent of any course that might lead to American intervention in European affairs, died yesterday in the naval hospital here of an abdominal complaint.

AMERICA MOURNS SMEDLEY BUTLER

PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (U.P.)—The nation mourned today one of its most colorful military figures—Maj. Gen. Smedley Darlington Butler, 68, United States marine corps, retired.

Balance of power on the sea, where Great Britain will continue strongest in her anti-axis offensive, depends on who gets the French navy. Chart shows how addition of French fleet to navies of Germany and Italy would bring axis to tonnage parity with Britain and to numerical superiority with 90 per cent more fighting vessels. Navy Committee to Ask Knox Testimony At Cabinet Hearing

WASHINGTON, June 22 (U.P.)—The senate naval affairs committee announced today Col. Frank Knox would be invited to testify at open hearings on his nomination as secretary of the navy in President Roosevelt's bipartisan cabinet.

The hearing will be held on the first day after the contemplated one-week congressional recess for the Republican national convention.

The senate military affairs committee has ordered public hearings at about the same time on the President's nomination of Henry L. Stimson as secretary of war. Knox and Stimson are Republicans.

The naval committee's action came as Democratic isolationists and Republicans promised a full-dress senate debate on administration policy when the Knox and Stimson nominations come up for confirmation.

Secretary of War Harry Woodring, whose resignation touched off one of the most bitter phases of the cabinet controversy, told the army in a farewell message that the security of the United States comes "first and above all."

Some members of the senate and house charged yesterday Woodring was "removed" by Mr. Roosevelt because he opposed selling the allies arms which he considered vital to this nation's own defense. Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., said Woodring may have refused to release the secret American bomb plot.

JAPANESE ARMY WARNS BRITISH

HONG KONG, June 22 (U.P.)—Japanese troops landed at dawn today at the mouth of the Canton river and commenced military operations north of Hong Kong in what was regarded as an implicit Japanese army demand that Great Britain at once stop aid to China by way of Burma.

As the Japanese troops made their way inland to Shumchun, the railroad town on the border between Hong Kong and Chinese territory, a single Japanese plane bombed Shumchun, killing one Chinese and wounding three.

(A Japanese Domei news agency dispatch from Canton said that the Japanese in their landing operations intended to cut off British aid to China through Burma.)

It had been reported the Japanese were preparing to mass an army on the Hong Kong border within 72 hours in an attempt to put pressure on Great Britain to stop all aid to China through Burma.

British military authorities had admitted the Japanese were occupying some area adjacent to Hong Kong but said there was no cause for alarm because the operations had advised them of the Japanese and said they were intended to mop up Chinese guerrillas.

UTAH-IDAHO LION SPLIT DEFEATED

POCATELLO, June 22 (U.P.)—A proposal to divide Utah and Idaho district Lions International clubs into separate units died for want of a motion favoring the split today as the district convalesced into final sessions.

Discussion of the proposed split and the address to delegates by Richard J. Ossebaugh, former president of the Lions International and now president of the Denver, Colo. Chamber of Commerce, occupied attention of the 1,000 members attending the two-day convention.

A feeling among Idaho clubs that the proposal to split would be unwise at this time led to the veto, Parry Harrison, Pocatello, Idaho district governor, said.

A determination to "make certain the benefits of American citizenship are preserved only for those ready to respect the duties involved" was advanced by Ossebaugh in the keynote speech.

He compared the American form of government which "evolves around a constitution founded in faith" with European governments which he said "depend on the fickleness of dictators."

Poster Warns Americans of Fifth Column

NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P.)—The distribution of millions of posters on "how to identify a fifth columnist" began today. The league for human rights, freedom and democracy was sending them to more than 1,000 city and state organizations representing American Federation of Labor unions, for distribution. Officers of the league are Matthew Wolf, of the AFL, president; David Dubinsky, garment workers leader, vice-president.

The poster is headed: "Who is this man?" Under the caption is the featureless head of a man, a question marked in the blurred face. The text in large type reads:

"He looks like an American. He dresses like an American. He speaks the same language as Americans, but he hates American democracy and maintains it is doomed."

"He hates unions of working people because they are symbols of democracy in action. He sneers at the sacred liberties of the American people. He spreads religious hatreds among Protestants, Catholics and Jews. He pays lip service to the American flag but his allegiance is to a foreign flag."

"He imitates his Nazi masters by using anti-Semitism as a smoke-screen for his betrayal of America. He awaits the day when a foreign power 'takes over' America and 'Hell Hitler' replaces 'God Bless America.' 'Who is this man? He is a fifth columnist. Don't trust him.'"

German Demands Reported Harsh

BERLIN, June 22 (U.P.)—The official DNB news agency said in a dispatch from Adolf Hitler's headquarters tonight that an armistice had been signed with France at 6:50 p. m. (12:50 EDT) in Compiègne forest.

The agency carried this official statement: "The high command announces: June 22nd, at 6:50 p. m. (German summer time) a German-French armistice was signed in Compiègne forest."

"The armistice, however, is not effective until six hours after conclusion of the French-Italian armistice."

Spread of Communism in Baltic Countries May Seriously Affect France, War Expert Declares

By J. W. T. MASON
Establishment of a left wing pro-Russian government in Esthonia and movements to create Communist administrations in Latvia and Lithuania shows an emergence of Sovietism which may have serious implications for prostrate France.

It has long been a popular theory that Stalin has hoped for such post-war disorganization in Europe as would provide a fertile field for the extension of Communism from the Baltic to the Atlantic. The Baltic is now starting to go red.

Soon after the outbreak of war France began an intensive drive against Communists. Arrests were widespread and included many Communist members of the French parliament, suspect of being pacifists and working in the interest of Russia. The French anti-Communist action was ruthless, making little distinction between the sexes.

An even stronger anti-Soviet government than the ministry that initiated the drive against French Communists is now in power at Bordeaux negotiating for France's military surrender. Marshal Petain, an ultra-conservative, is known to have decided views against Sovietism. The French military collapse marks the defeat in the field of battle of the anti-Communists, giving Russian propagandists an opening to stimulate a revival of Communism among the disillusioned and suffering French working classes.

Russia is in a position to bring some pressure on Germany to permit release of the incarcerated French Communist leaders. At the same time the Petain ministry would try to counter any such move by suggesting to Germany that a Communist alliance could lead easily to a French revolution.

Two months after the armistice was signed in the Franco-Prussian war the commune revolution broke out in Paris, seeking to create a workers' republic. An annual memorial ceremony has been held in recent years by International Communists under Russian direction at the Pere Lachaise cemetery in Paris, where the last of the Commune leaders were stood against the cemetery wall and shot. There was then no Stalin to give a stimulus to the original Communists, and their attempted coup d'etat failed.

Now, however, with France once again at Germany's mercy, the Germans have an alliance with Russia which allowed Hitler to throw the whole weight of his fighting forces

CONFER WITH ITALIANS

BORDEAUX, France, June 22 (U.P.)—A communique today said only after armistice talks with Italy "can the French government reach a definite conclusion" on the double negotiations for peace with the axis powers and "take the decision required in the interests of the nation."

The communique, issued by Minister of Interior Charles Pomaret, indicated that considerable delay was likely before an agreement, if any, to stop fighting can be reached and that it would be necessary to know and agree on Italy's terms as well as those presented by Adolf Hitler.

Pomaret was asked by reporters to give his personal opinion after reading the communique. "You need only look at my face," he replied.

He was smiling. The communique said: "Ministers Study Terms"

"The council of ministers studied most of the morning and early this afternoon the text that Gen. Wilhelm Keitel (chief of the German high command) handed last night to the French plenipotentiaries."

"New meetings of the council of ministers are to be expected before a general result can be expected."

"Thereafter—the French plenipotentiaries will fly to Italy to join the Italian plenipotentiaries. Only after discussion with Italy can the government reach a definite conclusion on the whole of the double negotiations and take a decision required by the interests of the nation."

Petain Present
Eighty-four-year-old Marshal Philippe Petain, the premier, and his cabinet colleagues, had met in formal council under President Albert Lebrun at 1 a. m. They studied the German terms until 4 a. m. with Gen. Maxime Weygand, the generalissimo of the armies, attending as war minister.

Many ministers had had no sleep when they met again at 8:30 to resume their discussion, after experts had studied the specific demands in the long and detailed German communication.

Nothing was known here of the German terms beyond the indication they were complicated and long.

Terms Severe
A French informant described the German terms as "extremely severe." French commentators took the view that the German statement of terms showed that the Germans had been preparing for 20 years for a war of revenge.

A reliable authority said a preliminary reading of the German terms said they seemed exactly what Germany would have demanded had she won the last war. But, he said, there was a vital distinction between the situation in 1918 and now. Germany now, he said, was still fighting the stronger of the allies (Britain) and that the question of ultimate victory remained in the balance.

BRITISH PLANES BOMB OUTSKIRTS OF GERMAN CAPITAL

NAZIS SAY SEVEN CIVILIANS HURT IN BERLIN RAID

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, JR.

BERLIN, June 22 (U.P.)—Airliners, presumably British, showered the outskirts of Berlin with explosive and incendiary bombs early today, reportedly injuring seven persons, while Germans were joyfully awaiting word that France had accepted Adolf Hitler's armistice terms.

Authorized spokesmen said the incendiary bombs fell near the old railway station at Eberhardstrasse near Potsdamer Platz about 15 miles from Berlin.

The official German news agency said three men, three women and one child had been injured. It said several "enemy" planes reached the neighborhood of Berlin and one plane had dropped "several" explosive and incendiary bombs on "non-military objectives."

Hospital Damaged

The news agency said a hospital was bombed and slightly damaged. It said other planes had bombed Bremen during the night but had caused small damage and injured only two civilians. Anti-aircraft gunners drove the planes away, the news agency said.

Earlier, the news agency had said nine persons were killed and many seriously wounded in an air raid on Essen, Thursday night. Several houses and one church there were damaged.

The raids marked the beginning of what the Germans had expected to be a joyful and historic day for them. Authorized spokesmen now predicted France's reply to the armistice terms, almost certain to be an acceptance, would come in the afternoon.

Babelsburg, apparent place of the early morning raid, is headquarters of the famous UFA film company.

Explosions Heard

As the air raid alarms shrieked throughout Berlin people here rushed for shelters. Heavy explosions were heard. Members of the propaganda ministry dived into a cellar.

Head at Least 25 detonations to the southwest and felt the vibration of them from the balcony of his home. The city was blacked out but scores of searchlights flared the sky. The correspondent said he heard anti-aircraft fire faintly in the distance.

Although British flyers had showered Berlin with leaflets in night raids, and French officials had claimed two weeks ago that French naval planes bombed the outskirts of Berlin, this was the first time a bombing of the Berlin area had been confirmed.

Surrender Expected

The raid was expected to become only a trivial incident in this day's history however, for the world was expected hourly that France had surrendered, accepting the terms laid down to French plenipotentiaries in the forest of Compiègne yesterday afternoon.

The terms were still kept secret, except for a generalized preamble, read aloud to the French conferees, stating France must guarantee that she would not take up arms again, that she would not interfere with Germany's war against Britain and that an ultimate peace must be worked out to "right the wrongs" inflicted upon Germany by force.

But whatever the terms were, the belief here was that the French must accept them, since she was more than half overrun by German troops now and her plight was hopeless.

Drive Underway Against Bicycle Thieves in City

Police today started a drive against bicycle thieves and announced that prosecutions would be carried through against those apprehended.

Announcement of the drive was made this afternoon. During the past week a dozen bicycles have been stolen and all have been recovered.

Police point out that in a great majority of the cases the wheels are not taken for "keeps" but rather are ridden to various sections of the city and then abandoned. Youths are suspected of this practice and investigations are now underway in several recent thefts after officers received "tips."

Three bicycles were reported recovered by police today. They are the property of Richard Leaser, 232 Monroe street; Donald Barrington, 1520 Kimberly road, and a Wyeth Standard bicycle, green with silver mud guards, the name of the owner being unknown.

Judge Lee Signs Paroles for Two

District court judgments which granted suspended sentences and one-year paroles to two men Friday, and which granted divorce decrees in two other cases, were signed by Judge T. Bailey Lee.

Inadvertent error in both Twin Falls newspapers listed Judge J. W. Porter as presiding jurist in the criminal case sentences and in the two divorces. Actually, however, Judge Porter was in Burley presiding at trial of an action in which Judge Lee had disqualified himself. The senior jurist came from Burley to fill Judge Porter's position on the bench here Friday.

The paroles were granted to defendants who pleaded guilty to a felony and to simple assault in a Twin Falls stabbing. One of the divorce cases in which Judge Lee granted decree was necessary for use of an interpreter since the woman petitioner could neither speak nor hear.

POCATELLO TEAM PLAYS KIMBERLY

With the Pocatello team headed by Ed Garry, eastern Idaho's top tennis player, a strong Gate City net crew will invade this area Sunday for a return match against the Kimberly Tennis club.

The Kimberly and Twin Falls players won over Pocatello several weeks ago on the latter's courts. But with Art Walker's appearance Sunday regarded as doubtful and Earl Warner on a vacation trip, the Kimberly club may run into plenty of trouble.

REPUBLICANS FACED WITH DEADLOCK AT CONVENTION

NONE OF LEADING CANDIDATES CAN POLL A MAJORITY

By LYLE C. WILSON
PHILADELPHIA, June 22 (AP)—Forty-eight hours before the convention opens, Republican leaders were confronting today with a choice between a deadlock or a choice between a handful of candidates seeking the party's presidential nomination.

It seemed clear none of the three leading candidates—Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney, Gen. Robert A. Taft and Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, would be able to command a majority of the convention votes on any of the early ballots.

Deal Not Probable

Talk of a deal was without substance if persistent, and there was no indication any of the leading candidates would take second place on the ticket to assure a quick nomination.

Republicans were gathering for the convention which convenes Monday under circumstances more promising to their future than at any time since the political tide shifted from them in 1930, but their immediate course was confused by two developments:

1. Dissension in a platform sub-committee over the phrasing and intent of the foreign relations plank of the party platform to be adopted next week, especially whether the party should pledge itself to give aid to the allies, and if so, how much.

2. The politically astonishing growth of the Willkie-for-President boom.

3. The necessity for the party to adjust itself to the situation created by President Roosevelt's nomination of two veteran Republican statesmen to his cabinet.

Pledge Opposed

The word "isolationists" does not precisely fit, but there is a substantial group of foreign relations sub-committee members insisting the party should not pledge any aid at all to the allies, another group, apparently just as numerically strong, is demanding the party pledge aid in short-of-war. Alf M. Landon, 1936 presidential candidate and chairman of this sub-committee, has favored aid to the allies.

An effort apparently was being made to compromise the two sides on a "peace and preparedness" basis that would leave to the nominee the final interpretation of the extent to which the allies might expect United States materials if the Republicans win in November.

Uncertain of FDR

The Republicans were confident the people do not want war, but they were uncertain whether and how much Mr. Roosevelt is in "ahead of" popular feeling in his vigorous advocacy of the Anglo-French cause. The foreign relations sub-committee wanted to brand the Democratic party as the "war party," but its members were in doubt of how far they should lag behind Mr. Roosevelt to be just abreast of majority popular opinion.

The three leading candidates—Dewey, Taft and Willkie, arrived on the pre-convention scene today.

IDAHO SHIPPERS RECEIVE AWARD

CHICAGO, June 22 (Special)—A consignment of eight double-deck carloads of blackface Idaho lambs included the 500,000th animal sold at the Chicago stock yards in June.

The owners, were Bennett brothers, well known Idaho sheepmen, whose ranch is near Mountain Home. It consisted of 1,640 lambs, which were sold at the extreme top of the day's trade on the bid of Willson and company for $10.60 per cwt.

These Idaho shippers will receive the second of a series of monthly awards to be given by the union stock yards to the consignor of the 500,000th animal sold on this market each month.

Since the yards first opened for business nearly 75 years ago, an average of a million head of livestock a month has been sold at Chicago at an average monthly return to stockmen of $24,000,000.

Bennett brothers are regular shippers to this market and have sold most of their lambs here for the past 30 years. Their most recent shipment was routed over the Union Pacific from their loading point, Mountain Home, to Omaha, and travelled from Omaha to Chicago over the Milwaukee railroad. The lambs arrived at the Chicago union loading chutes at 5:10 a. m. June 20, and were sold by 10 a. m.

In HOLLYWOOD Today

By United Press
William Dieterle, German-born movie director, sent an ambulance to the allies with the comment, "I can no longer think of Germany as being the land I once loved."

Walter Wanger, independent producer, today endorsed the campaign against double-bill film programs with the statement that "fewer pictures must be made, and they must be of outstanding merit."

Vera Reynolds, 35, star of the silent films, was in municipal court as she paid a $50 fine on a charge of intoxication. She was given the alternative of the fine or 30 days in the city jail by Judge Charles Faulstich after a stiffer charge of driving while intoxicated had been dismissed.

Constance Bennett has been sued for $3,000 damages by Benny Byrnes, who claims he was injured in a collision caused by the negligence of the chauffeur driving Miss Bennett's station wagon in Hollywood last May 10.

Burley Police to Have Merit Plan

BURLEY, June 22 (Special)—An ordinance which would place the Burley police department under a civil service commission was read for the third time at regular council meeting this week, and will become effective after publication and the appointing of a commission.

Permits totaling $8,618 were granted for building of new residences or the remodeling of old buildings, which included the following: He Lee, new residence on South Yale, $1,250; Ernest Slotnik, remodel business building on North Miller, $600; R. L. Oraner, construct garage on South Burton, $400; Lloyd corporation, remodel building, North Overland, $600; E. D. Garrard, remodel residence on North Mall, $218; Lloyd Yellon, construct new residence on South Street, $3,000; Georgia Marquez, remodel residence on North Oakley, $100; and J. O. Various correspondence to and from Senator D. Worth Clark, Governor C. A. Bottolfoff and the Albion State Normal school with reference to securing a college division pilots training program for Burley was read, with the above men and groups offering their cooperation to make this program.

12-Year-Old Editor Gives FDR Support

VALETZ, Ore., June 22 (AP)—The Valets Star had dedicated its June issue today to the Republican national convention and 12-year-old Editor Dorothy Anne Hobson gave the delegates this advice:

"We are standing behind President Roosevelt and Kate Smith in these awful times, and we think the Republicans had better, too."

Elsewhere, however, Miss Hobson maintained her usually unwavering Republicanism with the assertion that "we think the next president will be a Republican."

Dissatisfaction, expressed in the paper which has entertained readers in widely scattered parts of the country for years.

"When we started the Star we believed in Republicans and kindness," it said. "Still believe in Republicans but we've stopped being so kind on account of collections and Hitler."

CLARK STRIKES AT PROPAGANDA

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Sen. D. Worth Clark, D., Idaho, had made an attack on propaganda forces in a radio address here. He warned that "powerful influences" are seeking to drive the United States into the European war where it can meet nothing but defeat.

Speaking over an NBC network, Clark charged the "committees to defend America by aiding the allies," is one of those groups. He asserted that the organization was formed by "18 prominent bankers" who met in New York last April.

Clark called for a national defense adequate to defeat any existing combination of enemy powers and said that it could be built within two years. At present, however, he warned that the United States is unprepared.

The entire American army, he asserted, could not stand successfully against five mechanized German divisions and the navy is afraid to leave Hawaii out for fear of Japanese aggression.

Two of the 1937 award winners repeated this year. They were Westbrook Pegler of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, for "the best exclusive news reporting of the year in the domestic field" and Arthur Menken of Paramount news, for his reel on the evacuation of Namsos, Norway. William L. White, foreign correspondent for the Columbia broadcasting system and the New York Post, was cited for the best radio coverage of a news event—his broadcast last Christmas eve direct from the Finnish trenches.

WELFARE GROUPS IN SESSION HERE

Discussions centering around functions of the recently organized Twin Falls county commission of public welfare featured yesterday at noon as members and state officials met at the Park hotel.

The commission will serve as a lay advisory group in county welfare matters, it was explained by William Child, Boise, state director of the division of public welfare, who was in attendance. Other relief officials at the conference, each speaking briefly, were H. N. Paddock, county supervisor, and E. V. Pugh, district supervisor.

Members of the commission are R. J. N. Davis, R. W. Carpenter, Guy H. Shearer, all of Twin Falls; Mrs. Stuart Severns, Kimberly, and Mrs. J. M. Gibbs, Buhl. Further discussions concerning commission activities will take place at future meetings.

Church Conducts Rausch Services

RUPERT, June 22 (Special)—Regular high mass was conducted at 9 a. m. Thursday in St. Nicholas Catholic church by Father D. L. McElligott for Mrs. Mary C. Rausch, who died at her home early Monday after a brief illness.

Singers were Mrs. A. J. Schell, Mrs. Carl Henschel, Mrs. William Henschel, sr., and Mrs. Betty Rausch, who presided at the organ. Mass servers were Bernard Rausch, Laurence Rausch and Charles Preberger, nephews of Mrs. Rausch. Pallbearers were Max Herbold, Charles Kiebe, Bruno Stuber, Albert Halverson, Joe Engkrant and Adam Schell.

Interment, under direction of Goodman mortuary, was in Rupert cemetery.

Mary C. Delfry Rausch was born June 28, 1893, at Covington, Ky. In 1917 she became the wife of Alois Rausch, in Verona, Mo. Soon after that they moved to Rupert where they have made their home for 20 years.

Mrs. Rausch is survived by her husband, Alois Rausch, and eight children, Edward, Agnes, Catherine, Rita, Theresa, Mary and Orla, all of Rupert; and Alois Rausch, Jr., with the CCC in the Hawaiian Islands.

Donations Continue For Red Cross Aid

JEROME, June 22 (Special)—Continued small contributions and generous donations from some larger civic bodies have swelled the total now in hand for the Red Cross War relief to about $225, it was reported by Rev. W. F. Willis, fund chairman, by the first of this week. No final deadline has been designated for the drive, he stated. Organizations and individuals are reminded that the fund is purely voluntary and no drive for funds will be made. Donations may be given to the banks, or to one of the local officers of the county organization.

TVA Is Here to Stay

Many of the things that have been accomplished during our decade of depression are here to stay. It is a notable thing that in the current discussion of political platforms for 1940, almost nobody believes in a complete return to 1929, even if that were possible.

Social security measures, like bank deposit insurance, the SEC, old age pensions, unemployment insurance, labor relations acts, and the like are all a part of democracy's adjustment to the technological age. Many attack their present forms, many attack their techniques and administration. But there are few voices for complete repeal and a return to 1929.

A case in point is that of Wendell Willkie, sensational dark horse in the Republican presidential race. Willkie, head of a giant utilities combine, has had his share of tangles with the Tennessee valley authority. No one fought it more straightforwardly, more openly, nor more effectively. He didn't like the way it was built or expanded, and he doesn't like the way it is run, but it is there. The dams are built. The distribution system has been built and acquired. No president, Willkie believes, can turn the clock back.

It should now be operated for a test period, say, of five years, Willkie suggests. Then, after close book-keeping has shown what its real costs are as compared with the cost of privately produced electricity, the country can democratically decide whether to extend or contract this field.

Memphis, for instance, became a year ago the first large city in the United States to own and operate all of its public utilities, gas, electricity and water. The saving to the people of Memphis in that year has been enormous, at least $2,500,000. A million kilowatts a month more in residential service alone is being consumed. Savings of from 25 to 40 per cent. in utility bills have actually raised the standard of living of Memphians.

The only question is: Has this desirable result been achieved at the expense of the taxpayers of the rest of the country? The TVA idea has been based on the expectation that eventually the whole vast system will pay for itself—reimburse the taxpayers of the United States for an advance made largely for the benefit of a section.

Willkie is quite right in suggesting that the books of this enterprise should be kept in such a way that the American people will know exactly what TVA is costing them.

Who pays, and how much? Who gets the benefits, and what are they? Careful scrutiny should be kept of these factors, for on them will depend future policies that may well transform the country.

War Worry Is Useless

Work hard and play hard, but don't worry about the war situation any more than you can possibly help. That's eminently sane advice.

Medical journals report a rise in the number of mental cases requiring treatment in the last two months. It may be due to too much despondent brooding about the war, especially among younger men and women.

This, of course, does nobody any good. One cannot shut eyes and ears to what is going on in the world. That would be unwise even if one could do it. But mere depression over things beyond the individual control does no good, either to the individual or in solving the problem.

Every generation and every time has had its problems and its tragedies. The only course is to do what must be done and do it with vigor and a clear head. Beyond that, people do well to work hard at their jobs, indulge in all customary recreation and play, and try as far as possible to avoid worry. Even if the worst happens, is it not bad enough to endure that without having gone through it in imagination a thousand times before?

Gesture to Finland

That is a graceful gesture now being made in the senate under sponsorship of Senator Vandenberg, to return to Finland its regular installment on its World War debt to us.

Through all the long years since the World War Finland is the only country which habitually paid the installments on that debt. Now, bravely rebuilding after the ravages of its stalwart defense against Russian invasion, Finland is ready to pay again. The installment is only $159,000. As an appreciative creditor making a gesture to an honest debtor, the United States can well afford to give up this and the next succeeding payment, as proposed. To contribute these payments to Finland's rebuilding program, and still continue her status as non-defaulting would be a small but proper gesture of admiration for a brave and honest people.

POT SHOTS

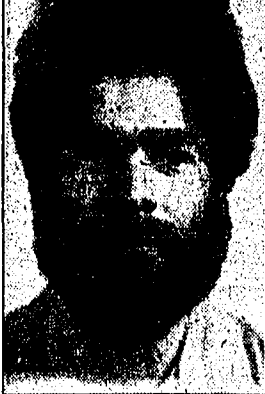

WITH The Gentleman in the Third Row

ATTENTION, BEARD JUDGING COMMITTEE

Dear Third Row Man: Enclose you will find a picture I thought you might regard as something your constituents should see. . . if for no other reason than its undoubted power of scaring the children into being good.

Couldn't the Junior Chamber get this "Wild Man From Idaho" as an added attraction for the big jubilee? He should be a good drawing card for 50 years of statehood—although he looks more like 50 centuries of arrested development to me.

P. S.—I wouldn't reveal the name of this remarkable personage. But of course if anybody should come up to me and say, "That's Bud Wallace," well I couldn't very well say no to it.

Mr. Randall Does Business

Dear Pot Shots: I unfold for your constituents now the story of "The Baseball Business Manager's Tie Chasp and Shirt." Sub-heading for this little tale is "Plus the Story of Rube Sandstrom's Slippers." To which should be added the explanatory No. 2 title, "Or Bill Randall the Financier."

Hugh Pace left Idaho Falls on that last road trip before the team did. He forgot a shirt and a tie clasp. When the team got back to Twin Falls, Hughie had already written to the hotel at Idaho Falls to ask about the shirt and tie clasp.

Then Verne Reynolds sleepily approached Hugh and showed him a tie clasp. It was the forgotten one, all right.

"Who's got my shirt?" asked Pace.

"Dee Hayes," said Verne. "He's the only guy who can wear a size 16 1/2."

It seems Bill Randall had found the articles, and ever with an eye to business, had maneuvered a sale transaction at cut-rate prices. Ditto with a pair of slippers Rube Sandstrom had mislaid. Finding the slippers without an owner, canny Mr. Randall negotiated $1 out of Al March.

Understand Pace is warning all Twin Falls residents that if a guy approaches 'em with an attractive proposition to sell the Jaycees ball-park or the Cowboy franchise, it'll be Red Randall in another of his negotiating moods.

ITEM ON MATRIMONY AND CIGARS

From various of his sleuths, Pot Shots has learned a fact which saddens him exceedingly.

One Melbriro Patterson Cosgriff (yep, all that) has been an inmate of the state of matrimony now for going on three weeks.

And Melbriro Patterson has not yet distributed cigars to such as have necosted him following the happy event.

Approaching Pot Shots about this grave matter have been sundry of Mel's acquaintances, drifting into our sanctum by ones, two and threes. They advise us that something must be done. They have not, however, advised us just what that something might be.

So we duly mention the matter for Melbriro's attention, if any.

What's more, Pot Shots is not anything for a cigar. For Shots and cigars do not take kindly to each other, unless we use a cigar-holder. And veteran cigarists pooh pooh such goings-on as slasy pants. Not wishing to be slasy pants, we compromise on a pipe.

LIARS' CONTEST, PLUS! Dear Potshots: Send me the $1 at general delivery, Filer. Once I loaned a guy $5 and he said he would pay me back one week from that day. And by gosh, he did!

FAMOUS LAST LINE: Now that you've finished your dress, dear—send it to the dressmaker! THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

SERIAL STORY

Ticket to Hollywood

BY W. H. PEARS

YESTERDAY, Francis decided to use a woman's wiles to get the ticket from Gusto. After a dance, she urged him to park at the airport. Gusto is falling for her line, assemblage to the influence of moonlight and perfume when Francis "washed" the ticket. Angriely, Gusto refused to surrender it, drives Francis home.

CHAPTER IV FRANCIE slept on a tear-wet pillow. She awakened late, yawned and looked at her watch. She brushed her hair languidly, studying her face in the mirror. Last night's tears had left shadows under her eyes. No color showed in her smooth, young cheeks. Francis suddenly felt herself very much the Lady of Sorrows. She arranged her hair in severe lines away from her ears, and accored all make-up.

Downstairs she paused outside the living room, hearing her father say, "As usual, hat, you're making Wagnerian tragedy out of a simple quarrel. Francie'll patch things up with Gusto and forget all about this fool ticket."

"I think I understand Francis," Mr. Weston said quietly. "She's got too much common sense to let this get her down."

"Young dreams. . . ." Aunt Hat murmured. "How little a man understands them! A soul crying for artistic expression. Ah, the poor child."

As if this were her cue, Francis entered the room. Without conscious effort, she had slipped into the role assigned to her by Aunt Hat. The white, quilled bow made her seem fragile. Her eyes held a faraway look.

John Weston scrutinized his daughter sharply. "Good morning, dear. Have a good sleep?"

"I—I guess so, Pops."

"Is anything wrong, Francis?" John Weston asked. "I saw you out with Gusto last night. Haven't you patched up your quarrel?"

Francis said frigidly, "My opinion of Gusto Gair has not changed, Pops."

"Oh," he returned to the Sunday paper, his brow furrowed.

From the kitchen Aunt Hat called, "Do have coffee, dear."

Francis obeyed languidly. Tipping the dipper, Aunt Hat whispered, "Did you get it, Francis? Oh, you did! You show the strain you've been under. That's it, isn't it, Francis?"

Truth, poised upon Francis's tongue, was never uttered. Aunt Hat was so eager, so sure that her methods couldn't fail. Francis simply hadn't the courage to admit that Gusto had been too smart for them. Besides, what difference could it make? Pops wouldn't take them to Hollywood, anyway.

"Oh, darling, I'm so glad you've no idea what this trip means to me."

"Trust me, Francis. I've only begun to work on him."

"THE next few days bore out Aunt Hat's assertion. Morning and evening Francis would hear the discussion going on. Unwittingly, she herself contributed to the cause by falling deeper into her Lady of Sorrows role. Each day Francis's pallor deepened.

At the dinner table, Wednesday evening, John Weston said, "Francie, you haven't eaten a thing all week. You're losing weight. Just what is the matter?"

"Your Aunt Hat doesn't agree, Francis. She thinks you need a change. Hollywood, perhaps. How does that sound?"

"Why, Pops, I—"

"Oh, you're really decided to take us?" "I'm trying to look at it unselfishly," John Weston admitted. "Goodness knows I don't want to be the only one to enjoy the vacation. I can fish in California, I guess."

For a moment Francis was indignant with her aunt's enthusiasm. Even without the ticket it would be fun. And you could never tell what might happen. Some big director might see her and . . .

"It's a long trip," Mr. Weston was saying, "but maybe it'll do us all good. Hat's worked hard and deserves a rest. And I'm hoping, Francis, that once you've satisfied your curiosity about Hollywood, you'll get your appetite back and be a normal girl. Well, do you like the idea?"

"Oh, yes," Francis hugged him tight. "You're so sweet to us—I think I'll have one of those pop chops now."

THE week bustled by in a frenzy of shopping and packing. There was no time to think of Gusto. Whenever Aunt Hat mentioned the ticket, Francis evaded a direct answer. She didn't want to lie, nor could she bring herself to tell the truth. Aunt Hat's whole vacation would be ruined if she knew.

Friday evening John Weston

said, "I had Gusto tune up the car today, Francis."

Francis feigned disinterest, went on packing.

"He asked about the trip, what route we were taking and all. I told him we were going to drop over and say goodbye."

Francis blushed. "Pops, you shouldn't. . . ."

"Gusto said he guessed it wouldn't be such a hot idea."

"No, no, it wouldn't," Francis said.

But she watched for him all evening. Now that Gusto knew she was going, the only decent thing he could do would be to bring her the ticket. . . . At 10 o'clock she gave up and went to bed.

John Weston had everyone awake at daylight. They were all too excited to eat breakfast. When they finally piled into the big sedan, Francis could hardly believe they were starting for Hollywood. Why, anything could happen in Hollywood! She might even see Jerry Finney.

"Say goodbye to the old town for a whole month," Mr. Weston laughed.

Francis gazed back at the unimpressive skyline of Elsieph City. How drab it looked! How glad she was to get away from it! From small-minded people like Gusto Gair.

Mr. Weston said, "Think he'll wait for you, Francis?"

"I—I don't want him to!" Francis cried. "I'm through with Gusto."

AND yet, as they drove along, she caught herself worrying about all the girls in Elsieph City who were crazy over Gusto. They were always chasing after him. Well, they'd have a clear field now. All Francis hoped was that no one like that disgusting Tilda Blake would catch Gusto.

John Weston drove at a moderate speed. Francis, in a fever of excitement, wondered how she could stand the long hours until they got to Hollywood.

At sundown, Mr. Weston decided to stop at the next cabin camp. They pulled up before a long row of stucco buildings and he went inside to register.

Aunt Hat had gone to inspect the sleeping quarters. Francis was alone in the car. Suddenly she sat upright in astonishment. She could scarcely believe her eyes. Down the road sped a debilitated old roadster. Behind the wheel sat a black-haired young man. He slowed down as he passed and mused his assorted cow horns.

He raised one hand in the air, grinned. "Hi-yah, Sugar!" Gusto Gair bellowed.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 22—Viewing it strictly from a short-range, cold-blooded political standpoint, the downfall of France may prove to be the best news the Republicans have had all year.

It may completely change the circumstances and atmosphere of the presidential race. Republicans who 10 days ago were admitting FDR was likely to get his third term are beginning to suspect the tide is going to run the other way from now on.

The figure it like this: The allies program, which was FDR's baby from the start. The worse the war got, the better his political prospects looked. But suppose the war ends; suppose it ceases to be a case of help the allies and becomes one of facing Hitler all alone, on a put-up-or-shut-up basis. Then it can be argued that FDR went too far and got the country out on a limb, and the natural let-down of emotion is likely to take an awful bite out of his popularity.

In any case, the campaign now seems due to be much hotter and livelier than it was doped to be a week or so ago.

LARGER CRUISERS PLANNED BY NAVY You don't need to read far between the lines of the newest naval authorization bill to discover that the U. S. navy has devised an entirely new type of cruiser. The new Vinson bill calls for 12 cruisers totalling 198,000 tons; do a little division, and you'll find that works out to 16,500 tons per cruiser—more than half again as large as many cruisers now in the American navy.

Putting those extra tons on a cruiser means you can give it more of everything—speed, cruising range, hitting power and armor.

MORE AIRCRAFT CARRIERS FAVORED Incidentally, there may be an attempt to expand this bill enormously when it comes to the floor of the house. An important group of air-minded naval officers feel that the three aircraft carriers the bill would provide won't scratch the surface of the navy's needs. In private, some of these men are talking about a tremendous fleet of carriers—50, at the very least, with 100 as a more desirable limit.

Such a fleet could carry 10,000 fighting planes. According to the air enthusiasts, it could blitzkrieg anything afloat or on the sea-coast. . . . Of course, it would cost a staggering sum; equally, of course, most admirals are likely to feel that three new carriers will be a great plenty.

FILIBUSTER MAY BLOCK EARLY ADJOURNMENT Despite the denials from London, the administration here is deeply concerned (and not a little pessimistic) over the chance that England may presently make peace with Hitler. As one political co-strategist puts it: "Look at the map of Europe—German, from the tip of Spain to the top of Norway. What can England do but surrender?"

One of the things which is causing administration leaders to hedge on their adjournment-before-the-conventions stands is the fact that certain senators opposed to adjournment have threatened to filibuster the new tax bill to death unless the leadership agrees to extend the session indefinitely. They feel deeply enough about it to carry out the threat—and with only a few days to go, the trick would be easy.

Farm Prices for May up 5 Points

BOISE, June 22 (UP)—The average price of Idaho farm products were five points higher during May this year than at the same time in 1939. C. E. Youngstrom, University of Idaho extension economist, had said today.

A spurt of industrial production brought on by the European war and national defense preparations was expected to increase domestic consumer demand and may send farm prices booming, Youngstrom declared.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

JUNE 22, 1925 A canary all the way from Hong Kong, China, was sent to Mrs. Emma L. Warren, county treasurer, by her son, Ted, who brought him from the Orient to Seattle and sent him on here.

Mrs. Wise Evans and son, Dick, have returned from southern California.

Harry Vogel leaves in the morning on a month's trip to Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis. His wife and daughter, Charlotte, are in Aracoma, Mont., for a month's visit with her relatives.

27 YEARS AGO

JUNE 22, 1918 Petitions have been presented to the newly created county of Power asking that a local option election be held in Ararat. A peculiar condition exists in that county, Ararat, Idaho, the county seat, which is located in what was Oneida county, before Power county was formed, is dry, while right across the river is a wet spot which was part of Blaine county, which was wet until such time as it was included in the new county and will remain wet until an election is held. A foot bridge across the river gives the dry citizens of Power county an opportunity to become wet. —Idaho Falls Register.

Wanda Lee Bush Honored at Rite

JEROME, June 22 (Special)—Little Wanda Lee Mary Bush, eight and one-half year-old daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Bush, was paid final respects at St. Valentine's chapel in Wendell, Thursday, Father King officiated and interment was in Jerome cemetery under the direction of the Willey funeral home.

The church choir sang two numbers. Flower bearers were Jackie Benbrook, Richard Dridwell, Lovina Weeks, Doris Weeks, and Winifred Cheney.

Burialbearers were Donald Weeks, Joe Hugh, Glenn Bush, and Bobbie Benbrooks.

Budd, the munition salesman and Lanny's father, supplies the data on how the twins were operated. Sinclair's portrait of Lanny is outstanding. A sensitive, romantic kid, a devoted son, ambitious scholar and worker, Lanny tries to understand the mad world, tries to maintain balance.

Sinclair peoples his story with real persons. His Zolnaroff is one of the best, affords new light on the "mystery man" of the World War.

GIANTS TOP REDS 4-3 TO TRAIL DODGERS

Idaho Falls Jumps on Cowboys for 6 to 2 Victory Over Holdhusen

Cincinnati Loses Third Straight; Yanks Win 12-7

NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P.)—Leading the league has its drawbacks, considering what it did to the Reds and the Red Sox. Those two clubs put on their high hats to strut before the paying customers and now they're trying to patch themselves together to keep from winding up in the breadline.

Cincinnati, with its ace Paul Derringer on the mound, took a 4-3 licking at the Polo Grounds yesterday from the up-and-coming Giants. It was the Reds' third straight defeat and plunked them into third-place as Bill Terry's club moved into the runner-up spot, one game behind the pace-making Dodgers.

After starting their western junk with four straight over the White Sox, the Red Sox have wound up in a hall of mirrors. They don't know just where they're going or what it's all about. Cleveland's team of mutiny slapped down the Red Sox 7-4, and increased the Indians' American lead to two games. It was the Red Sox' fifth straight defeat and the Tribe's fifth straight triumph. Milner scored his 10th victory.

The Yanks came out of their five-game losing streak by blasting the Tigers, 12-7.

Ruck Ross pitched a four-hitter to give the Athletics a 12-1 victory over the White Sox, cooling off Jimmy Dykes' club from three straight over the Yankees.

Sid Hudson, 33-year-old rookie hit of Class D game within one hit of baseball's hall of fame as he lashed the Washington Senators to a 1-0 decision over the St. Louis Browns last night. He had a no-hitter until the ninth when Rip Radcliff, first man up doubled and reached third on a passed ball. The next three men went out in order.

The Dodgers maintained their pace-setting role in the National league with a 10-3 triumph over the Pirates.

Scoring four runs in the third off Bill Lee, the Phillies hung up their third straight victory by taking a 6-5 decision from the Cubs.

It gave the Pilots two victories in the three-game series and was the third series defeat for the Bees. It also cut the Bees' league lead to one game over Boise. Picovich and Bowen were pounded by the Pilots for 12 hits, while Menta yielded eight.

Ogden dumped Pocatello, 11 to 0, to move from fifth to fourth in league standing. Kerr connected for a homer in the seventh for the Cardinals with one on, but the Reds walked three in the ninth to tie the game. Ogden scored two more in the extra inning to put the game on ice as Ford held the Cards scoreless.

The third-place Idaho Falls Russets won 6 to 2 over the cellar-dwelling Twin Falls Cowboys. Holdhusen allowed the Russets nine hits, while the Cowboys found Bradley for five.

Danning and Radcliff Lead Batters

NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P.)—"Harry the Horse" Danning, New York Giants' catcher, and "Rip the Ripper" Radcliff, St. Louis Browns' outfielder, forged to the front as the major league batting leaders last week, according to the averages released today and including games of Thursday.

Danning regained the National league lead from his teammate, Joe Moore, by adding 22 points to his average, increasing it to .364. Moore dropped to second place with .352. Radcliff slumped eight points to .349 but took over the American league lead because the previous leader, Lou Pinney, Red Sox, dropped from .376 to .351 for third place. Barney McCosky, Tigers, moved into second place with .348.

Schoolboy Rowe, Tigers, held the American league pitching lead with five victories and no defeats. Cliff Melton, Giants, moved into the National league pitching lead with six victories and one defeat.

Parker May Meet Riggs in Finals

RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 22 (U.P.)—Defending Champion Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif., seeking his third national clay courts tennis title, faces Don McNeill, Oklahoma City, today for the right to meet Bobby Riggs in the finals.

Riggs, the nation's top ranking player, entered the finals yesterday with a straight set victory over Welly Van Horn, Los Angeles. He will meet the winner of the Parker-McNeill match Sunday.

Utahn Dropped in Net Semi-Finals

WILMINGTON, Del., June 22 (U.P.)—Hal Surface, Jr., Kansas City, former Texas university star and ranked 12th nationally, and William Gillespie of Miami university face each other today in the finals of the eighth states tennis championship tournament at du Pont club.

Ward Retains Northwest Title

SEATTLE, June 22 (U.P.)—Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, national amateur golf champion, retained his Pacific Northwest Open championship Friday with a sparkling nine-under-par 271 for 72 holes.

Ward finished the strokes in front of Harry Gwalt, Seattle amateur and former Walker cup player, and Emery Zimmerman, Portland pro.

Former Heavyweight Champs Get Only Smattering of Applause

By HENRY MOLEMORE
NEW YORK, June 22 (U.P.)—The hands on the clock move fast in sport.

In no other endeavor does Father Time hustle along so quickly, mowing down the champions almost before the cheers stop ringing in their ears.

Those of us who saw the Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy fight at Yankee stadium here are vividly reminded of how brief is the strut of an athletic hero in the spotlight of fame.

To witness the 10-minute walk between the last preliminary and the main bout, the announcer asked all of the former heavyweight champions in the crowd to step into the ring for a bow. The request was intended as a gracious gesture to the titheholders of earlier years and a treat for the spectators.

It proved an embarrassment to the old boys and a bore to the crowd.

The first to step under the lights of the ring was Jack Sharkey, the Boston job boy, to those of us who write the fights, seemed only to have stepped into the shadows of retirement a few days ago. But the crowd scarcely knew him as, unsure and paunchy, he clasped his hands above his head in the age-old salute of the fighting man.

He drew only a smattering of applause and boos, and quickly stepped back to lean against the ropes. As time is measured in other business Sharkey is a young man, but as a sports champion whose day has passed, he seemed old.

Jim Braddock followed Sharkey into the ring. He was given a greeting so lukewarm it seemed to clothe him in the raiment of an old man, and put a halt in his step. Yet, actually, the champion who was soon to step into the ring and defend his title—Louis—won the right to defend it by beating Braddock. Still, so swiftly do the hours pass in sport, Braddock seemed an oldtimer.

Then Dempsey came in. Usually the old Manassa Mauler's entrance into a New York ring is heralded by an announcement packed with such words as immortal, idol, hero, and champion. But because of Jack's feud with Mike Jacobs, the announcer, who is paid by Mike Jacobs, introduced him simply as "another former titheholder."

He was just another ghost of

Game Tonight Opens At 9 O'Clock; Hayes Will Pitch

The Cowboys had a nice view of plays at first base last night and they played errorless ball, but their change of dugouts didn't appear to have any other effect as the Idaho Falls Russets jumped on Stu Holdhusen for a total of nine hits as they beat the Cowboys 6 to 2.

Tonight's clash, the third of a four-game series between the Cowboys and Russets, is scheduled to start at 9 p. m. Damon Hayes will take over mound duties tonight for the Wranglers, while Emmertson is slated to hurl for the Russets. Johnny Zar will probably draw the Sunday hurling assignment for Idaho Falls while either Rube Sandstrom or Wayne Lundberg will toss for the Cowboys.

Holdhusen kept Russet hits fairly well spaced last night, but in two innings he yielded walks to supplement Idaho Falls bingles. In the first three frames he gave up only one hit and one walk, but in the fourth he found himself in trouble as Duzebau singled and Stu walked three straight to give Idaho Falls a free run. Oldenberg scored after Beard's fly to right field was caught.

Two more runs were added to the Idaho Falls total in the fifth frame when Duzebau clouted a homer with Bates on first.

Then the visitors went scoreless until the ninth when two singles and two walks netted an additional two tallies for the Russets.

The Wranglers scored in the sixth and seventh. Holdhusen drew a free ticket to first, Ernie Bishop and Bill Randall both singled and Stu scored the first Twin Falls run. The other score came in the eighth when John Arnerich doubled, Al March drew a walk, and Holdhusen sacrificed to score Arnerich.

Randall again came through for the Cowboys last night. With two men on base in the seventh, Randall got a sizzling single to score Holdhusen. In the game the night before, Randall's double brought in the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Bishop played a fine defensive game. His catch of Bradley's hit in the ninth robbed the Russets of another hit as he leaped high in the air to snag the ball with a one-handed stab.

Al Blozis Breaks Shot Record

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 22 (U.P.)—Big Al Blozis had his day with one magnificent pitch of the 16 pound shot and today the national collegiate track and field meet settled down once more into a tight team battle between Southern California and Stanford.

Stanford placed eight men in today's final events, and seven for Southern California, to deny for a better opportunity to slay the five-year dominance of their bitter rivals on the west coast.

Blozis, 245-pound, six foot, five inch sophomore from Georgetown university, who set three world shot put records in a single night during the indoor season, opened the meet with a new American and national collegiate shot record of 56 feet, 3 1/2 inch.

Roosevelt Names New Executive in Move to Expedite Defense Plan

BANKER EXPECTED TO DIRECT HUGE ARMING OF U. S.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt today enlarged the executive department of the government to expedite the national defense program by naming James Forrestal, president of Dillon, Read and Co., New York investment banker, as an administrative presidential assistant.

Forrestal will take over the new assignment Wednesday.

The announcement did not specify his exact duties but it was understood they would be closely linked with Mr. Roosevelt's rapidly expanding defense plans, including a $2,000,000,000 fiscal marshalling the economic forces of the new world.

Mr. Roosevelt is empowered to name six executive assistants at annual salaries of $10,000. He previously had named three—William McReynolds, James Rowe and Laughlin Currie. At beginning of the intensive drive to re-arm America, he announced he would appoint two more assistants to take over some of the detail work involved in the complicated program.

Forrestal is the first of these two new assistants. The President said he would keep the sixth place vacant, on the chance that some unforeseen emergency might compel him to bring some technical specialist into the government.

Forrestal has been an acquaintance of Mr. Roosevelt for many years, and conferred with him at the White House last week.

Prizes Offered for Best Spud Crop

BURLEY, June 22 (Special)—County Agent W. W. Palmer received word this week that the Union Pacific railroad company again offers this year to potato growers the William Jeffers trophy for the largest yield in the state.

A grower to qualify to compete in the award must file intentions by August 1, and he must produce a minimum of 600 bushels or 350 sacks per acre of U. S. number ones. The trophy is an attractive mounted silver plaque.

Any grower of potatoes is eligible to enter, and any acre on his farm may be selected at digging time for checking. Applications should be filed at the agent's office, and a committee consisting of a representative of the railroad company, the county agent and some other disinterested person will check the yield at digging.

Last year in Cassia county there probably were some producers who would have been eligible to enter this contest and they thought of the same preceding harvest. Only one entry was made, and the field entered produced in excess of 350 sacks of potatoes per acre, but did not grade 350 sacks of U. S. number ones.

Streamline the Harvest with the NEW 4-FOOT COMBINE by International Harvester

HERE'S the sweetest little outfit that ever hummed through a harvest field—Harvester's brand-new 4-foot McCormick-Deering combine for power-drive operation behind a J-pow tractor. It has everything its big brothers in the Harvester line have, plus new features for work on small farms. And here's the best part—you can get it at a price that's easy on your pocketbook!

One man can harvest and thresh in surprisingly quick time with this baby combine—stepping along at the rate of 8 to 15 acres a day. And it's a money-maker. It saves on equipment, twine, and threshing expense. It saves grain by doing the job in one operation—eliminating loss that comes with shocking, stacking, pitching, and hauling. It gets rid of extra help—saving food and work in the kitchen. Come in and see us about this latest addition to Harvester's line of equipment for the small farm.

SAWTOOTH CAMP CONFERENCE SET

Annual Sawtooth conference for Presbyterian young people will be staged July 16 to 24, both dates inclusive. It was announced here this afternoon by Rev. G. L. Clark, pastor of the Twin Falls Presbyterian church.

Sawtooth conference is sponsored by the Synod of Idaho and the boards of Christian education, foreign missions and national missions for the "largest satisfaction and the most abiding enrichment of the lives of the young people attending." Rev. Clark said. The camp is located 10 miles north of Ketchum, near Wood River.

All South Idaho delegates to the camp come from many of the communities of southern Idaho and mission Sunday schools, village churches and the larger congregations in the cities are all represented. Several members of the College of Idaho faculty will be present for the camp this year.

Mornings in the camp are devoted to worship, study, class exercises and group meetings. The afternoons are for rest and recreation including swimming, hiking and games. Evenings are for vesper services, entertainment, camp fires and fellowship groups. There will be an adult counselor for each fellowship group, according to Rev. Clark.

Age Divisions
Senior delegates should be 15 years old, or if younger, they should have completed the ninth grade in school. Young people are those who have finished high school or are 18 years of age. Those younger than 15, or who are in junior high school, may attend intermediate classes, only. Those attending for the fourth or more times will take courses offered for young people. Three years of attendance and satisfactory work entitles the camper to a conference certificate.

Full particulars regarding registration requirements can be had by contacting Rev. Clark or any other Presbyterian minister in this section.

California and Louisiana are the only states having territory lying below sea level.

KIDS, DOGS, MEN GET JUBILEE RACE CHANCE

Kids, dogs, men — all will have "their day" during the Magic City jubilee which will be staged here July 3, 4 and 5. It was announced this afternoon by Bob Steele, chairman in charge of special races.

The races, Steele said, will be held either in the morning or the afternoon of July 4, probably in the near-downtown section. Exact time will be announced later.

One feature race will be a "dog's race," in which the owner of the dog will have to lead the animal over a given distance. Steele points out that coordination "might win this one," providing the dogs can be kept from fighting an route.

Races for both boys and girls will include the 50-yard dash for youngsters in one age group of from 8 to 12 years and in another group from 12 to 15 years. There will also be a fat men's race, a three-legged race and a sack race.

Merchandise awards and cash prizes will go to the winners, Steele said.

Idaho Business Men Offered Civilians' Military Training

In connection with the defense program now being carried on in the United States, a special business and professional men's course will be conducted at the citizens' military training camp which is slated to be held at Camp Ord, Calif., July 2 to 31, for recruits from this area. It was announced this afternoon by Lieut. Ralph E. Leighton, Jr., Twin Falls county CMTO chairman.

Similar courses will be staged at several CMTO camps, Leighton said he was informed, and in the ninth corps area, of which Twin Falls is a part, a quota of 300 in addition to any previously announced numbers will be enrolled at Camp Ord, this group being made up of business and professional men. Idaho's quota is 15.

Lieut. Leighton received application blanks from Irving W. Hart, Boise, civilian aide to the secretary of war for the state of Idaho.

He was informed in a communication that every application for attendance at the businessmen's CMTO must be accompanied by a certified check for $25.50 and that on arrival in camp the businessman will have to pay a mess charge of $18. If the application is not accepted the check will be returned. It was likewise pointed out that there is a possibility that an appropriation by congress will enable the CMTO to reimburse.

Selection of enrollees from among business and professional men will
