Civilian Panic in Bessarabia Gains As Exodus Starts

By HENRY T. GORRELL

BUCHAREST, July 5 (U.P.)—The Rumanian general staff said today fighting broke out Wednesday between Rumanian and Soviet troops when the Russians advanced beyond the frontiers set for their occupation of Rumanian territory.

A communique of the general staff said the Russians advanced at two points beyond the limits of territory which they were to occupy under the Soviet ultimatum.

Loss of life occurred in the fighting, the general staff reported.

Foreign military circles here said the clashes might explain in part the Wednesday night broadcast warning the Rumanian population to be alert for parachute troops.

The panic among civilians which started north of Iassy and spread southward to Galatz, where hundreds of floating dock workers were killed earlier in the week, had reached Constanza, Rumania's largest seaport, where, it was reported, a mass exodus is under way.

Meanwhile, the nation moved closer to Germany, and 36 Britons were given until midnight to get out of the Rumanian oil fields.

A new strongly pro-Nazi cabinet was headed by Premier Ion Gligurii, German-educated friend of Germany's Air Marshal Hermann Goering. It contained three members of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard. Its first proclamation said it would strive to intensify relations with Germany and Italy.

The decision to break off relations was announced by the council of ministers after a meeting at the provisional capital here.

Stuolun bitterly attacked Prime Minister Winston Churchill for ordering the British to attack the French fleet at Oran.

Churchill not only ordered the attack on vessels unable to move in less than eight hours," said Baudouin, "but it was like shooting rabbits in a pen. It struck at the very heart of France."

Baudouin said he had informed U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt of the French reaction to the British action.

An anti-British campaign is bound to come in France," he said. "I told Bullitt it must not be interpreted as anti-American. There is nothing which can break the friendship of France for the United States but the ancient ties with England have been severed."

The Britons, including some oil company directors and chief drillers, had been ordered out of the oil fields by last midnight but they were given a 24-hour grace. It was understood Germany wanted a free hand in the oil fields and it feared sabotage on part of the British.

U-BOATS SUNK

LONDON, July 5 (U.P.)—The air ministry said today royal air force planes had attacked five German U-boats in five days of June and were believed to have been successful "in all cases."

EVACUATION ORDERED

LONDON, July 5 (U.P.)—The minister of health today ordered 40,000 school children moved from the east and northeast British coastal areas Sunday and Monday, reportedly in fear of an imminent German invasion.

U. S. Gold Supply Hits 20 Billions

WASHINGTON, July 5 (U.P.)—The United States now has more than $20,014,825,842 on July 2. More than $1,150,000,000 was received during June, principally from France, Britain and European neutrals.

The treasury revealed today that the government's gold holdings were $20,014,825,842 on July 2. More than $1,150,000,000 was received during June, principally from France, Britain and European neutrals.

Round up Agitators

Late last night, detectives pulled speakers from their soap boxes in Columbus circle, where, traditionally, anyone may harangue the indifferent crowds on any subject, and rushed them off to the central police headquarters where high officials began questioning them.

Early today, detectives were raiding resorts in Greenwich village, Yorkville and the Union Square neighborhood. They were working with a card index of agitators compiled since the war started.

Spectacle and Vivacity in Two Portions of Cavalcade

PRESIDENT SEES NO COMPROMISE

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 5 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt said today that a sizable segment of Americans is so impressed by the temporary efficiency of the corporate state that they are willing to compromise with dictators.

This segment of the population, Mr. Roosevelt said, is not large in relation to the entire population of the United States but it does number a good many people.

Any philosopher compromise with the operations of corporate government. Mr. Roosevelt said, would entail sacrifice of governmental ideals essential to the democratic form of government. Hilarity to Reign Tonight During Mardi Gras Parade

Hilarity will reign supreme tonight as the mardi gras parade, last of four during the present Magic City jubilee celebration, starts from the city park toward the downtown section immediately after conclusion of the cavalcade at Lincoln field.

After leaving the park, the parade route, according to those in charge, is "very uncertain," although all sections of the downtown area will be visited. Floats will vie with individual characterizations and noisemakers will be much in evidence.

Last presentation of the cavalcade, which last night attracted 5,000 persons while at least 500 more were turned away at the gate for lack of seating space, is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. with a band concert. The actual cavalcade production will get underway at 8:30 p. m. and, officials point out, this will mean that the mardi gras parade will probably move away from the city park between 10 and 10:30 p. m. Staging of the parade at that hour will permit those who attend the cavalcade to get downtown in time to see the parade and will also permit many of the cavalcade actors to participate in the mardi gras event.

Celebrities who will appear in tonight's fun parade were to be selected at the whistler judging contest this afternoon in the downtown area. A parade marshal was also to be named then and the route of the parade will be "left up to his imagination."

Among those firms which will enter floats in tonight's parade are Firestone, McCoy Transfer company, Krengel's, Magel's, the Times-News, C. W. and M. company, Garrett Freightways, Hoosier Furniture company, Idaho-Orpheum theaters, Detweiler's, KITEI, Pratt Sales company, the Brunswick, Will Wright's orchestra and the Daynes Music company. Also in the parade will be the Union Pacific band and a clown band.

Those in charge of the unique event point out that entries can be made up until the time the parade starts—and after it starts for that matter if any "open spaces" can be found.

Early indications are that everything from goldfish swimmers to high diving queens will be represented in the parade.

Hundreds are expected to line the downtown streets to join in the fun.

Skating Star Finally Weds Sportsman, 28

CHICAGO, July 5 (U.P.)—Sonja Henie, the blond Norwegian girl who put glamor on ice skates, and her new husband, Daniel Reid Topping, New York sportsman, disappeared on their honeymoon today leaving conflicting reports as to their whereabouts.

One spokesman for the couple said they had left by plane for New York. Another said they remained in Chicago overnight, and Miss Henie herself said they were planning a trip to California.

The couple—"Just friends" for months—were married in a surprise Fourth of July ceremony here before a few friends in the apartment of Arthur Wirtz, manager of Miss Henie's skating shows.

It was the first marriage for the 27-year-old film star and the third for Topping, 28. He previously was married to and divorced from Theodora Doeltger, New York socialite, and Arline Judge, another movie star.

NEW YORK, July 5 (U.P.)—Retail and wholesale trade activity this week showed little change from last week's pattern, apart from the Fourth of July holiday curtailment, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

Retail sales reports throughout the country showed the same average increase over last year as in the preceding week, 4 to 9 per cent, with pre-holiday purchases providing the main support, the trade authority said.

Hundreds are expected to line the downtown streets to join in the fun.

Won't Keep 'Hands Off' In America

WASHINGTON, July 5 (U.P.)—The German government, in a formal note made public by the state department today, rejected this country's warning to keep hands off the western hemisphere.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler's government at the same time, however, said Germany had given no indication of any desire to interfere in the western hemisphere or to seek territory here.

The Berlin foreign office said that, therefore, it could see no reason why the American "hands off" warning had been addressed to the German government.

Berlin also coupled its rejection with a declaration that if the American republics expected to obtain respect for the principles stated in the Monroe doctrine of non-interference with affairs in the American continent by European nations, they should likewise refrain from interference in the affairs of Europe.

Ends Communications

The German note was made public together with an official comment on it by Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

"I feel that no useful purpose will be served at this time for this government to undertake to make any further communication to the government of the German reich on the subject matter of the communication above stated," Hull said.

Questions Clear

"The fundamental questions involved are entirely clear to all of the peoples and governments of the American republics, and undoubtedly, as well to the majority of governments and peoples in the rest of the world," Hull continued.

"The Monroe doctrine is solely a policy of self-defense which is intended to preserve the independence and integrity of the Americas. It was and is designed to prevent aggression in this hemisphere on the part of any non-American power, and likewise to make impossible any further extension to this hemisphere of any non-American system of government imposed from without."

The state department's announcement of the German note follows:

"The American charge d'affaires in Berlin has communicated to the department of state the text of a note dated July 1 which has been received from the German minister of foreign affairs.

No Object in Note

"The note in question refers to a note delivered by the American charge d'affaires, under the instructions of the government of the United States, on June 18, in which this government informed the government of the German reich that it would not recognize any transfer of geographic regions of the western hemisphere from one non-American power to another non-American power, and that it would not acquiesce in any attempt to undertake such transfer.

"The German minister for foreign affairs states that the government of the German reich is unable to perceive for what reasons the government of the United States of America has addressed this communication to the reich government. He states that in contrast to other countries, especially in contrast to England and France, Germany has no territorial possessions in the American continent and has given no occasion whatever for the assumption that it intends to acquire such possessions, and he asserts that, insofar as Germany is concerned, the communication addressed to the reich government is without object.

Shows Favoritism

"The German minister for foreign affairs continues by remarking that in this case the interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, implicit in the communication of the government of the United States, would amount to conferring upon some European countries the right to possess territories in the western hemisphere and not to other European countries. He states that it is obvious that such an interpretation would be untenable.

"He concluded by remarking that, apart from this, the reich government would like to point out again on this occasion that the noninterference in the affairs of the American continent by European nations which is demanded by the Monroe doctrine can in principle be legally valid only on condition that the American nations, for their part, do not interfere in the affairs of the European continent."

Deaths

Death came to many under odd circumstances.

Two youth were killed at Duquesne, Penn., when a metal chain attached to a milk can in which they were exploding caride touched a high tension power line. A Craig, Colo., man was killed while setting off a municipal fireworks display.

A Canton, O., youth was killed at Akron when a tree toppled into a canoe he was paddling. Lightning singled a Florissant, Colo., rancher out of a crowd watching a rodeo and killed him.

At Southington, Conn., a woman was killed when she fell from a rocket ride at an amusement park.

Farmer Dies

A young farmer died and three persons were injured when their automobile struck a horse near McGregor, Ia. A five-year-old Buffalo, N. Y., girl burned to death when her dress caught fire from a match with which she was lighting her father's pipe.

Two men and a three-year-old boy were killed when their plane crashed in a landing at Monmouth, Ill. Near Baudette, Minn., an 18-month-old boy tumbled into a roadside ditch and drowned in a few inches of water.

FRENCH, ENGLISH CONFLICT BREWS

WASHINGTON, July 5 (U.P.)—French sources in Washington said today the French island of Martinique off the coast of Venezuela had been blockaded by British cruisers and that fighting might be imminent.

The sources said the island authorities had sided with the Petain government and that the British sought to prevent a shipment of American planes which had been delivered to the island from California from falling into German control.

The island has some French submarines in its harbor and a number of smaller craft. There is a force of French marines on the island. Some French gold is stored there.

It was reported some of the American planes has been uncrated, and might be in a position to take part in the fight if it should materialize.

The British embassy said it had no news regarding the reported blockade. Spokesmen were unable to give details as to British ship movements in that area, although it was recalled that there is a strong British naval base at Jamaica, another of the Caribbean islands.

The Martinique area is within the safety zone proclaimed by the 21 American republics. Hostile acts by belligerents are forbidden in the zone.

Several American warships in the neutrality patrol are in the general locality, it was believed.

Elaine Eldred to Wed At Garden Ceremony

At a garden wedding this evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Elaine Eldred, Fullerton, Calif., will become the bride of Robert Baker, Santa Monica, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Eldred, Fullerton, and A. R. Eldred, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Baker, Filer.

Locale of the wedding will be the gardens at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eldred, grandparents of the bride. Rev. E. L. White, Methodist minister, will officiate.

Wears Floral Print
For her marriage, the bride has selected a green and white flowered print crepe dress with a chiffon red-tinge of identical floral pattern. She will carry a bride's bouquet. As the "something borrowed" of her bridal ensemble she will wear the class ring of her mother, who was graduated from the Twin Falls high school in 1916, and as "something old," will carry the wedding handkerchief of the bridegroom's grandmother.

Her single ornament will be a necklace, the wedding gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Neoma Larriek, Filer, the bridesmaid, will wear a light raspberry crepe frock and a floral corsage.

Attending the bridegroom as best man will be Thomas Shouse, Filer.

Nuptial Music
Wilton Peck will sing "Beloved, It Is Morn" and "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Ostrom, who also will play the wedding marches.

Mrs. Eldred, mother of the bride, will be gowned in a duobonnet crepe ensemble, with which she will wear white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Baker has chosen a light blue sheer frock, with which she will wear white accessories, and her corsage also will be fashioned of gardenias.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father.

Only the immediate relatives and a few close friends will witness the ceremony.

Among out-of-town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Phil Herral, San Carlos, uncle and aunt of the bride; Mrs. James L. Ivory, Beverly Hills, another aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sterling, Burley.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, and refreshments will be served.

To Live on Coast
Following a brief wedding trip, the couple will be home at 512 North Pomona, Fullerton.

The bridegroom is employed with the Douglas Aircraft, at Santa Monica.

The bride is a graduate of the Twin Falls high school, and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Filer high school.

Mrs. Baker, mother of the bridegroom, has arranged a post-nuptial courtship for tomorrow in honor of the bride.

Ogden Visitors Week-end Guests

Mrs. Roy King and sons, Raymond and Richard, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Ogden.

They were accompanied by Mrs. G. F. Simmons, sister of Mrs. King, and her son, Bobby, of Ogden. Also accompanying them were Betty Lou Lamoreaux, Ogden, and Carol Jean Lambourne, Idaho Falls.

The Ogden and Idaho Falls guests will spend the week-end at the King home, returning Sunday to their homes, in company with Shirley Lamoreaux, Ogden, who has been a guest at the King home here for the past two weeks.

E. F. Joyce and Bride, Visitors

BUHL, July 5 (Special)—Edward F. Joyce and his bride, E. F. Joyce, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Berkeley. They were married June 21 in the chapel of the St. Mark's Episcopal church, Milwaukee, Wis. The bride was the former Miss Betty Brown, daughter of William E. Brown.

Her wedding attendant was her sister, Miss Edith Brown. The ceremony was read at 4:30 o'clock. Robert McFerran, Evanston, was the best man. A large reception followed the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Beloit college where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Joyce is a graduate of the University of Idaho.

Vivian Mole and W. Carte Marry

BUHL, July 5 (Special)—Announcement has been made of the recent marriage of Miss Vivian Mole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Mole, Postville, and Walter Carte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Carte, Buhl. The couple was married June 14 in Postville.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Buhl high school with the class of 1931. He attended the University of Idaho, southern branch, in 1930.

After their wedding trip to California, the couple will be at home in Emmett where the bridegroom is an instructor and coach in the high school for next year.

Here's How to Help

Of course there are ways to help in these trying times, when war refugees are in dire need of aid, and one of the most concrete ways is to make your contribution immediately to the Red Cross, shield of the sick and wounded in war and peace. Twin Falls chapter has set up a booth at the Perrine hotel for the reception of funds to aid war refugees. Here is Mrs. Faye Kopke, enrolled Red Cross nurse and member of the district health unit, holding a campaign poster.

Betty Turner Marries Wesley Crow, Gooding

JEROME, July 5 (Special)—Miss Betty Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Turner, Jerome, was married July 1 at 9 o'clock in the morning at St. Jerome's Catholic church, to Wesley Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crow, Gooding. Rev. Father Eric A. Schermanson, pastor, officiated. Altar boys were Dick Turner and Daniel Connor.

The bride wore a gown of white net with a short veil and her bridal bouquet was and lilies. Miss Dorothy Turner, sister of the bride, fashioned of white gardenias was the only attendant. She wore a pastel green sheer organdy frock. Best man was George Hulbert, Gooding. Musical selections were sung by Mrs. F. N. Trappen and Mrs. Henry Trappen, accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Connor.

Wedding Breakfast
Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray and Miss Eunice Clabby, was served at the Turner residence for 35 guests.

The bridal table was pretty with a novel arrangement of orchid clematis and gypsophilla, and the wedding cake which was cut and served in traditional fashion by the bride. Pink larkspur and gypsophilla were combined to make attractive room trim.

Following the breakfast, the couple left for an unannounced destination. They will be at home after a few weeks in Gooding where the bridegroom is employed.

The bride completed her elementary and high school education in Jerome and later was graduated from Henager's business college in Salt Lake City.

Treasurer's Office
For nearly three years, she has been a deputy in the county treasurer's offices here.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Gooding high school and attended the University of Idaho, Moscow, and Gonzaga university, Spokane, Wash.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crow, Twin Falls; Miss Eunice Clabby and Vernon Clabby, Welter; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clabby and family, Boise; Mrs. Myrtle Turner and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crow, Gooding, and Mr. and Mrs. George V. Crow, Murtaugh.

Thalia Club Invited On Mountain Outing

Anticipated with enthusiasm by members of the Thalia club and their husbands is the house party planned for the week-end of July 27 at the Anderson cabin in the Sawtooth mountains.

Invitation to the outing was extended at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. William Bruley. Mr. and Mrs. Orval Gray will be hosts. Mrs. Gray is a daughter of the Andersons.

A guest day meeting was also scheduled for July 17 at the city park.

Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Carl Weaver and Mrs. Morris Moore will be the hostesses.

Roll call responses were responded to by eight members.

A letter from Mrs. John Platt was read during the meeting.

Mrs. Platt, a member of the club, is spending the summer in Seattle, Wash., with members of her family.

GERMANS REVEAL FRENCH PROGRAM

BERLIN, July 5 (AP)—The German foreign office, continuing publication of documents alleged to have been captured today the former Premier Edouard Daladier had ordered the making of plans to destroy the Russian oil fields.

The White book, publishing document six, said Daladier had ordered Gen. Maurice Gustav Gamelin and Admiral Francois Darlan to work out a memorandum on means of destroying the Soviet oil fields.

Document eight, purported to be an April 5 agreement between the British and French air forces envisaging destruction of one third of the Batum oil fields in an attack to have been spread over six days.

Document nine, dated April 17, purported to be a report to Gamelin from Gen. Maxime Weygand setting the end of June or early July for bombardment of the Caucasus oil fields.

The delay, it was alleged, was necessary because of the Turkish government's inadequate cooperation and lack of airplanes.

Other documents contained a request by Gamelin for 10 British pursuit plane squadrons. He was alleged to have promised that in event of a French defeat, in view of Italy's entry into the war, the British planes would be sent first to southeast France and then to Tunisia.

Later Gamelin sent a message to Prime Minister Winston Churchill again asking for British planes. That message, said to have been dated May 16, said the situation was serious. The planes were demanded again on May 17.

Other documents published in the White book dealt with British and French operations in Flanders.

ELDERLY MATRON OF JEROME DIES

JEROME, July 5 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Mar Graves, 90, will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the home of her daughter, Miss Lulu Graves, Rev. Albert E. Martin, Methodist pastor, officiating. The body will be sent by the Wiley funeral home to Rochester, Mo., for burial.

She died at 5 p.m. yesterday at the home of her daughter, following a long illness. She came to Jerome in 1928, following the death of her husband, J. W. Graves, in Mississippi in 1924. She was born Aug. 15, 1849, in Boone county, Miss.

Surviving are four daughters and two sons. They are Miss Lulu Graves, Jerome; Mrs. Leora Burroughs, Jerome; Mrs. Charles Wiswall, Jerome; Miss Edna Graves, Rochester, Mo.; W. M. Graves, Jerome, and H. E. Graves, Valden, Miss. She leaves also 10 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

WILLKIE DELAYS VACATION PLANS

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The Fourth of July was just another Thursday to Wendell Lewis Willkie, Republican presidential candidate who has run into the hard fact that campaigning for high office is a seven day a week job.

Willkie's vacation schedule, originally calling for departure Wednesday for some cool midwestern resort, has been pushed back now into next week. And it may be further delayed by a journey to Washington to confer with Sen. Charles McNary, R. Ore., Republican vice-presidential candidate, house minority leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., and other congressional Republicans.

Abandoning immediate vacation plans or even the long holiday week-end enjoyed by many New Yorkers, Willkie went to his office today for further discussion of campaign organization. He will meet there tomorrow with a sub-committee of the Republican national committee in an effort to name campaign managers for the 1940 drive against the New Deal.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES WEST-HOLIDAY CO., INC. Mills Tower, 220 Bush Street, San Francisco, Calif.

It's Undignified, But--

The Republican convention is over. The Democratic convention is soon to come. The organized cheering, the bands, the banners, the parading delegates, the monkeyshines and noisy hullabaloo will subside. The discarded banners and badges will be swept up from floor and gutter.

The usual crop of "outraged-dignity" pieces have been written. This is no way, insist some of these writers, for a great nation to conduct its affairs. There should be order, solemnity, dignity.

Perhaps. And yet-- There is something about these great quadrennial political circuses that is really America. They are great and sprawling as America itself is great and sprawling. They are gusty and hearty, as our great land is gusty and hearty. They throb with a certain lusty vitality. And so does the country which, in a rough-and-ready sort of way, they represent in action.

William Philip Simms, veteran foreign correspondent for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, dropped in on the Republican convention. Literally dropped in, we mean, for he came to it direct from the Clipper which brought him from Europe. Simms, a citizen of the world, had always looked on these conventions with faint distaste, just a little ashamed that his country should function in a way so crude as compared with the sedate procedure so often seen abroad.

But this time it was different. The contrast, only one day by air from the bloody fields of Europe, was overwhelming. "I was no longer ashamed," wrote Simms. "I was proud. I was proud of the roistering good-natured crowd; proud of that solid acre of newspaper correspondents telling 130,000,000 other American citizens exactly what they saw... proud that we are not forced by fear of a firing-squad to take ourselves and our candidates for office so seriously."

There is dignity and dignity. There is perfect order, no doubt, when the dummy legislature of some European dictatorship sits solemnly at the feet of their Supremeissimo to be told what is to be what for the coming year.

But as for us, we'll continue to stick fast for less dignity and more freedom, for the rough-and-ready American method of registering, even through noisy demonstrations and gaudy hullabaloo, some approximation of what the people want.

There is a real dignity there that can never be found in a country that is not free, however sedately it may conduct its affairs.

Farm Prospects

Farmers find it hard to forget the World war and $2 wheat.

At the beginning of the present struggle in Europe warnings were sounded by the clear-sighted that the present course would be different. Each warring country had vast food stocks laid by. Rationing began at once. Civilian consumption dropped. Export to country after country has been completely cut off. There is no reason to expect improvement in these restrictions on exports until the war is over.

Whether an exhausted Europe will then be facing starvation, and call in anguish for American food, as has been predicted, we do not know. But we do know that this war has brought no boom to American farmers and will not.

This means that the farm problem will still be with us in much the same form we have known it for 20 years, no matter what administration is returned to Washington. The world outlook being what it is, methods of increasing domestic consumption of our own food may be the best "out."

Stalin Tries Balkan Stew

All modern European history is dotted with efforts to draw border lines in the Balkans that will stick. None of them ever have.

Stalin has now grabbed Bessarabia and Bukovina from Rumania, and Hungary will grab Transylvania if it can.

It is all part of the re-drawing of the map of Europe that is now going on—a re-drawing based on military strategic and economic considerations. After the World war, a real effort was made to draw these boundaries on a basis of peoples and nationalities. It failed.

Now we shall see how permanent it will be to re-draw the map like a single great military problem or a chart for a planned economy.

It would take a true optimist to have any hope of better success.

The worm will turn, we are warned, but pay little heed. Worms being shaped as they are, no one will notice the difference.

POT SHOTS

WITH The Gentleman in the Third Row.

ORCHIDS TO A GUY FROM IRELAND

To Mr. Francis Xavier Patrick Gorman, an ambitious gent born in Ireland, Pot Shots extends verbal orchids today.

Mr. Francis Xavier Patrick Gorman is the amazing gent who is directing the Idaho City cavalcade, than which job none in our experience ranks higher as preparatory course for a nervous breakdown.

We say nothing about his herculean task of rehearsals. In fact, we suspect that anything said about that nerve-racking phase of the big cavalcade would necessarily include a liberal sprinkling of profanity. And Pot Shots is not given to profanity, barring a hammer on his thumb, a flat tire in the rain, etc.

It's for the job of handling 700 persons out on Lincoln field in the cavalcade performances that Francis Xavier Patrick Gorman wins our verbal orchids. The cast is a swell bunch, cooperating in a swell way—but after all 700 people is practically an army. And don't forget horses, sheep, cows, etc. It takes a one-man collection of perpetual motion using vocal chords, arms and legs to keep a show like that on the move.

After this is all over, Pot Shots extends his good offices to Francis X.P.G. in securing a padded cell at Blackfoot for one month of complete rest.

MR. BLANDFORD GOES ON FIRECRACKER SPREE

Mr. Pot Shots: Joe Blandford, Fourth of July orator, isn't kidding when he says he likes the sound of firecrackers exploding.

But his friends don't like the same sound under their bedroom windows early in the morning on the day they're supposed to have all the independence to sleep as long as they want to.

In preparation for his address yesterday, Joe serenaded several of his friends—some of them are a bit irate today—with "a bomb bursting in air" barrage.

WHOOPI! WED THREE TIMES IN THREE NIGHTS!

Mr. Pot Shots Please Note: Melbribe Patterson Cosgriff, the last time I heard anything about it, was still withholding most of those much-sought and oft-demanded cigars. I hereby serve notice that I also am refusing to dole out the stogies.

After tonight, I will have been wed three times in as many nights, but—was it me (and her, too)—the same bride figures in each and every ceremony. On top of that, I don't get a bachelor's dinner nor even a honeymoon. I have grounds to withhold the el ropes, don't I?

The explanation is simple. I was stuck, er, I mean selected, to play the part of the bridegroom in the jubilee cavalcade. I think I'm real, the gal is real, and the minister is real, but I've a hunch the rest of the deal is phoney.

No stogies. —Thrice Married

QUIET HOLIDAY TALK ON THE TELEPHONE!

Honored Colleague: Since my telephone is near a window, and since there were a couple of firecrackers booming in this man's town July 4, I have prepared a verbatim summary of a telephone call as executed by my older brother. Necessarily, I'll have to give you only his end of the conversation. I assume the other end was approximately the same.

Hello... hello. Hello, I can't hear you. Damn those firecrackers! Who? Joe Glutz? I don't know any—just a minute until those blankety-blank so-and-so firecrackers stop.

Who did you say? Who? Excuse me—that one exploded so close to the window I thought Hitler was here... Oh, now I catch your name. Yeah, thought you said Joe Glutz at first.

Oh, you DID say Joe Glutz? Dad-blame those blankety-blank kids! Hold the line a minute... I'm gonna break somebody's neck. Hello... hello... you still there? Sure, I'll wait while you kick your kid brother.

What's that? Damn those firecrackers? That's what I say, too. Hello... You say you want number 1317? No, this isn't 1311... wrong number.

Sorry... goodbye. (Hangs up receiver). Now where in hell are the blankety-blank idiots who were shooting those firecrackers? (Exit. In search of those blankety-blank idiots). —E. Pluribus Unum

SERIAL STORY

PEACE—SHE'S WONDERFUL

BY ISABEL WAITT

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY With Mrs. King determined she had discovered a kidnapping and Rhoda complaining about Peace, Denny is miserable. Then he sees Carole Love, the movie star. At dinner one of Peace's turtles turns up in Rhoda's salad and the dining car is in an uproar. Denny is just about asleep when a scream echoes through the car.

CHAPTER III

ONLY half awake, Denny jerked up so suddenly that he struck his head and nearly knocked himself out. "What's matter?"

The scream was followed by another, terrified, high-pitched, scatico. It overtook the eerie whistle of the train.

Groggily, Denny stuck his head between the curtains. Other heads were popping into the dimly lit corridor. In the middle of the aisle a stout figure, grotesque in flaming orchid pajamas, staggered to keep its balance while, clawing frantically at its middle.

"Doing your daily 'dozen'?" yelled a male voice. "Go on back to your nightmare and let a fellow sleep."

"Help! Porter! Somebody! My—my back!" Despite the chinstrap and snood, substituting for a hairnet, and the general get-up, Denny knew the raucous tones and beady eyes belonged to Mrs. King.

"May I be of service? What seems—?"

"My back! It's crawling down my—E-e-e-e-e-e!" Frantically she brushed herself and jumped up and down. A porter came hurrying, goggle-eyed, not knowing what was expected of him.

Even Denny hesitated. This was no job for a shy, young bachelor. If only Rhoda, or some woman—If that woman didn't stop tearing at her pajamas they'd come off!

"Don't be scared! It's only—there it is! Stop jumping! It's out! See? Step back, Madam." And he pounced on a rapidly scuttling round green shell, just as the conductor came striding up.

"What's going on here?"

Mrs. King pointed. "That creature! I—I found it crawling on me, conductor." With safety assured, her quivering tongue flew faster. "—animals—baggage cart—scandalous!—kidnaper! Snakes and turtles in one's bed!—President of the road—Los Angeles!"

Neither the conductor nor Denny could get a word in edgewise for a full minute. Denny displayed the offending Darby. "Little girl's pet got loose. Won't happen again, Conductor." He happily heard the official tirade, but caught the accompanying wink. Down the line he could see others of amused faces.

Carole Love was smiling from her curtains in an upper berth. He was too perturbed at the time to wonder why a famous film star was traveling without a drawing room.

But Rhoda wasn't smiling. "That settles it, Wayne Dennis! Twice is enough. Remember? I warned you. Now throw that nasty thing out the window before the kid wakes up." She withdrew, only to pop out again, adding, "And the other one, too."

He was hanged if he would. But the other one! Suppose it too began its peregrinations along Mrs. King's vertebrae? Or Rhoda's? Holy mackerel, where was that confounded cornpopper! Peace, he was thankful to see, was still sleeping like a cherub in the berth beneath Rhoda's. The cornpopper must have fallen from the window onto her blanket, releasing both wildly pawing pests. Denny plunked his turtle inside and fastened the catch securely. For some time he fumbled around, searching for Joan—or was it Dorby? Then he took the small cage into his own berth. At least, he had one of them.

LAUGHINGSTOCK, that's what he'd be in the morning. Grins, Glares. And the King woman going clear to Los Angeles! Would Illustrated by George Scarbo.

The scream was followed by another. Groggily, Denny stuck his head between the curtains. In the aisle, a stout, pajama-clad woman was clawing at her middle.

Mrs. Love take the same route as he? Hollywood? It was possible. Odd that he, about to be married to another girl, should wish it. Recalling her amusement at the recent high links, he couldn't help wishing Rhoda had a keener sense of humor.

He liked sleeping on a train. But that couldn't be the second gong for breakfast! Rhoda's curtains were closed, but Peace's berth was empty.

He asked the porter if he had seen the child. "She ain't around here, Mistah. Mos' likely she's having her breakfasts in the diner." She was, Denny found her at a table with a youngish, weary mother, who held a fat baby wriggling on her lap. A small boy and two little girls, all between 3 and 7, he estimated, were busily gobbling a tableful of inviting dishes.

"She invited us," declared the matron, who looked as if she'd been caught stealing jam. "She said you said we could order anything we wanted for breakfast."

"Uh-huh, Uncle Denny," Peace nodded. "You said no tobsud stuff for supper, but anything you want for breakfast, and I wanted them."

"I'd oughta know better than to take the word of a child like her. We was doing all right with our pancakes." The woman stared appalled at the check a waiter handed her.

They were doing all right with raspberries and cream, small steaks, French fried potatoes, muffins, toast, marmalade, and, believe it and cringe, ice cream. Denny appropriated the check. Gee, it would jolt his bankroll.

"I wouldn't eat those pickles, honey, if I were you." At that instant he spied a magnified turtle, futilely swimming in the waterbottle, and practically forgave her. "Not a bad ideal! However did you get Darby into the neck of that bottle?"

"Oh, that's Joan! And I had to squeeze her some. Uncle Denny, can we take the bottle with us to Grandmother's, if I can't get her out?" Denny tried a fork. Then a spoon. A waiter suggested he take it to the kitchen. In a flash, it occurred to him that Peace had found the way out. Turtles were amphibious. He'd buy the waterbottle and stick the other one in. My, what a relief! Pets for Peace and peace for them. Even Rhoda couldn't object.

Denny's order came. He saw the mother packing leftover food in one of the baby's clean unmentionables.

"A lot of trouble traveling with children," she beamed at him. "Your little girl is an angel." Denny doubted it. Mercy, she'd be ill. "Peace, I positively forbid you to eat any more of that chocolate cake for breakfast. There's a limit!"

"I'll say!" Mrs. King swept regally past, her head held high. In her wake came Carole Love. At his table she stopped to pick up the waterbottle. "What's this? Safety first?" Her eyes twinkled, as she moved on to her seat. And presently when the family's guests rose to go, he heard her reply to a sibilant hiss, "He couldn't have kidnaped all of them!"

DENNY glanced at the door, wondering where Rhoda was. Sleeping still, no doubt, though they'd agreed to meet in the diner at the second gong. This was his chance. "Peace, you mustn't invite any more people without asking me first," he began, not crossly. Then in a lowered tone: "What did Miss Love say to you last night, when you took the turtles for a swim?"

"Peace raised round blue eyes. 'Carole said, was you my really Daddy.'"

"And you said no. And she said—?"

"And she said, was you not my Daddy but a play Uncle, who was you taking me?"

"And what did you say then?" "You was taking me away, I told her. She said, am I afraid, little girl?"

"And you said—?"

"And I said, me don't like her! Don't let her kill poor little—." "Sssh!" He looked up to encounter Mrs. King's frosty stare. (To Be Continued)

Here Are Great Battles of History by Armored Vessels

Following are naval battles in history between armored vessels: 1898, battle of Santiago bay, Cuba, between the American fleet headed by Rear Admiral Sampson and the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera. Spanish ships were wiped out. 1899, battle of Manila bay, Admiral Dewey commanding an American fleet, steamed into Manila bay and wiped out the Spanish fleet there without losing a man, although many were wounded. The Spanish suffered heavy casualties. 1904, battle of Port Arthur, between Russia and Japan, which Japan won. 1905, battle of Tsushima straits. A Japan squadron completely destroyed the Russian Baltic fleet. 1914, battle of Coronel between British and German cruisers, the Germans won. 1914, battle of Falkland islands in the southernmost area of the Atlantic, between German and British ships. The British won, only one German ship escaping. 1915, battle of Dogger bank, between Great Britain and Germany. Great Britain won. 1916, battle of Jutland (called by the Germans the battle of the Skagerrak), between the British grand fleet, under Admiral Sir J. R. Jellicoe and the German High Seas Fleet under Admiral Reinhard Scheer. The British won, leaving Great Britain in undisputed command of the seas. This was the greatest battle in the history of armored navies.

RUPERT CHURCH SCHOOL CLOSES

RUPERT, July 5 (Special)—Union daily vacation Bible school, with an enrollment of 108 boys and girls from ages four to 14 inclusive, last week concluded a two weeks' session. School was sponsored by Rupert Ministerial association and Bible schools of the town. Those directly connected were Rev. Eugene Stump, pastor of the Christian church, general supervisor; Mrs. Ray Williams, assisted by Miss Vida Maple Nutting, in charge of the beginners' department; Mrs. Franklin Wilson, assisted by Mrs. Melba Hruze and Miss Janice Marie Qualls, head of the primary department; Mrs. L. W. DSpain, Miss Bavia Nelson, and Mrs. Joe Broadhead in the junior department.

Miss Martha Allen, head of the dramatic art department of Rupert high school, Rev. Albert B. Parrett, pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. O. L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist church, were in charge of intermediate department.

To mark the close of the school a special program, including songs, Bible drills, memory work, responsive readings, prayer, and special features worked out by the children themselves, was presented at the Methodist church Friday.

After the program the audience visited large display of hand work pupils made during two weeks of school. Perhaps the most outstanding item in this display was a complete layette, made for the Mindoka county chapter of American Red Cross, by the girls of the intermediate department, under the supervision of Miss Martha Allen.

Gooding Council Names Inspector

GOODING, July 5 (Special)—At the meeting of the city council this week an ordinance was passed creating the office of electrical inspector for Gooding. The ordinance also provided for his qualifications and duties, for regulations concerning installation, maintenance and repair of electrical devices, appliances and electric wiring, and for the licensing of persons and firms who install or repair electrical equipment. Penalties were provided for refusal to comply with the ordinance.

William Kinkade was appointed inspector and all wiring and electrical installation must have his approval.

A building code is being formulated which is soon to be adopted by the council. An air conditioner was ordered for the city library.

MRS. EVA DIXON PAID LAST RITES

RUPERT, July 5 (Special)—Funeral services were conducted last Friday in first ward L.D.S. church for Mrs. Balesy Dixon, who died at Caribou county hospital in Soda Springs.

Ceremony was in charge of Bishop J. Dean Schofield. Music was a song, "What Voice Salutes the Starled Ear," by a male quartet, Stanley Fernsworth, Orville E. Chatterton, Cecil Hymas and Deo Hyde, accompanied by Mrs. Emma Catmull; a vocal duet, "Beyond Today," by Mrs. La Vera Judd and Mrs. Joyce Dixon, with Mrs. Emma Catmull at the piano; vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Payne, Burley, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Judd; and song, "Perfect Day" by Miss Elva Olson, accompanied by Mrs. Judd.

Invocation was by Dr. L. P. Allen, first counselor to Bishop Schofield, and benediction was by R. C. May, president of Mindoka stake. Speakers were Bishop J. Dean Schofield, Orville E. Chatterton, ward clerk, and David J. Borup, Boise, first bishop of Rupert L.D.S. first ward.

Active pallbearers were six relatives of Mr. Dixon and honorary pallbearers were members of the Quorum of Seventy.

Interment was in Rupert cemetery in grave dedicated by Henry Catmull, state patriarch.

Mrs. Eva Butler was born in Richfield, Utah, in 1893. On July 2, 1913, she became the wife of Halley Dixon in the L.D.S. temple at Logan, Utah. They made their home in Fairfield, Ida., until 1922 when they moved to Rupert where they have since resided.

Mrs. Dixon is survived by her husband and two sons, LaMar Dixon and Keith Dixon, all of Rupert.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

JULY 4, 1925 Mrs. Charles Swisher and daughter, Helen, arrived Sunday from Greenfield, Ia., to visit her sister, Mrs. O. W. Witham. They will join the Witham family on a tour of the parks of the northwest, starting the latter part of this week.

Miss Beatrice Brailsford, who was graduated in June from Stanford university, was among the Hagerman visitors in Twin Falls Sunday.

27 YEARS AGO

JULY 5, 1913 Twin Falls' streets resembled the deserted village on July Fourth after the excursion trains to Jerome and Buhl had left. It was so quiet that cur dogs which congregated in the streets became alarmed at the racket they were making and slunk away ashamed. Twin Falls' population was scattered all over two counties. Over a thousand spent the day in Buhl. An equal number took advantage of the excursion rates to Jerome and spent the day there. A still larger number took advantage of the cool retreats in the foothills angling for the festive trout and attacking picnic dinners.

BITES PAY HONOR TO EARLY PIONEER

RUPERT, July 5 (Special)—Last rites were conducted at Goodman mortuary chapel Saturday for Charles A. Van Ryper, pioneer Rupert resident, who died at his home last week.

Services were in charge of Odd Fellows, to which organization Mr. Van Ryper belonged. Rev. W. F. R. Hartley, retired Baptist clergyman, spoke. Music was by Mrs. L. W. DSpain and Mrs. Gordon Goff accompanied by Mrs. Leah Allen.

Pallbearers were Henry Troger, Bill Culliston, Peter Hell, T. O. Davis, Lee Parker and Newton Idle. Interment, under direction of Goodman mortuary, was in Rupert cemetery where graveside ceremonies were conducted by Al Buttchell, chaplain of the local I.O.O.F. lodge.

Charles A. Van Ryper was born Feb. 17, 1880, in Elkhart, Ind. He came to Mindoka project in 1906 and for years was engaged in the honey producing business.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Van Ryper; one daughter, Mrs. Mae Smith; one son, Charles Van Ryper; Rupert; and one daughter, Mrs. Jesse McKersher, Louisville, Ky., and 10 grandchildren.

DODGERS, INDIANS RETAIN LEAD

COWBOYS, PILOTS SPLIT HOLIDAY CONTESTS

Two Teams Loom As World Series Opponents in Fall

NEW YORK, July 5 (U.P.)—If the old baseball adage that the team in first place July 4 always wins the pennant, then it'll be the Brooklyn Dodgers against the Cleveland Indians this October.

Since 1901, history records that 49 out of 78 July 4th leaders have gone on to the pennant. In the National league the July 4th pacemaker has won 25 times and lost 14 during the span, while in the American league 24 Independence day leaders have won and 15 have been sidetracked.

The odds are about even that either the Dodgers or Indians fall to come through. Cleveland's assignment is the toughest. The Indians are clinging to a 1-game lead and have three menacing rivals, the Tigers, Red Sox and Yankees (watch these battles! They are red hot now, having copped 9 out of their last 10). The Dodgers have a 1-game lead over the Reds, who seem to be their only rivals as a result of the recent collapse of the Giants.

Dodgers Win Twice
The Dodgers slugged the Giants twice, 5-1 and 6-1, before 54,300, largest National league crowd of the season. Curt Davis and Vito Tamulli made the Giants jump through hoops.

With Bucky Walters scoring his 11th victory and Gene Thompson his 10th the Reds beat the Pirates twice, 8-1 and 3-1, for their fourth straight doubleheader sweep.

The other two National league doubleheaders resulted in even breaks. The Cubs beat the Cardinals, 4-3, behind Larry French in the opener but the Red Birds grabbed the nightcap, 5-2. Pincus-hitter Joe Mauer's single in the ninth gave the Phillies a 4-3 victory over the Bees in the first game, but Seby Slitz's homer in the sixth gave Boston a 5-4 win in the nightcap.

Indians Split
Cleveland lost its American league lead temporarily at Detroit, by losing the opener to the Tigers, 3-7, before 57,833, day's largest crowd, but regained the top rung by battling to a 2-1 victory in the 11-inning nightcap.

The old Yankee home run truck cut the Red Sox to ribbons as the world's champions slapped down Joe Cronin's club twice, 12-4 and 7-3. The Yankees hit five homers, good for ten runs in the opener, and whaled out three more in the nightcap.

The White Sox moved into fifth place by lambasting the Browns twice, 7-3 and 8-5. Washington deserted the cellar by beating the Athletics twice, 5-1 and 9-5.

300,000 See July Fourth Racing Cards

NEW YORK, July 5 (U.P.)—The nation's turf activities reached a seasonal peak Thursday, as approximately 300,000 July celebrants jammed a dozen racetracks in nine states, and established three sectional attendance records during the heaviest one-day program of 1940.

Brandon stable's Pass Out, a late-developing son of By-Fast II, filed a belated claim for the three-year-old title in whipping Diana farm's Sirocco and two other Kentucky derby horses by a nose in the sixth running of the Yankee handicap at Suffolk Downs in Boston before 42,000 spectators.

Largest Crowd
At Chicago the nation's largest crowd—55,000, a new mid-western record—watched Howard's consistent Advocate sweep his red and white silks to victory in the 12th running of the Stars and Stripes.

The far west offered the third race of the holiday card's big three—the third running of the $100,000-added American handicap. A throng of 40,000 watched Viscount, the Valinda farm's sleek four-year-old, romp to a four-length victory and shove four-fifths of a second off the track record.

Choice Victories
A record crowd of 27,000 saw Brandwine stable's even-money choice, Masked General, scamper to victory in the fourth renewal of the $10,000 Bunker handicap at Delaware park.

Another track record of 30,000 spectators was established at Empire City in Yonkers, N. Y. when Lavel Best, a two-year-old daughter of the late Euphoise, upset Marshall Field's Strange Device by eight lengths in the 26th running of the $5,000 Demoselle stakes.

Seattle Lead Climbs to 6 1/2 Games

(By United Press)
The Seattle Rainiers, measured by baseball's old axiom that the leading team on July 4 is the ultimate pennant winner, are practically a shoe-in for the Pacific Coast league title. Its present edge is six and a half games over Portland.

The Rainiers took a double bill from Portland yesterday, 6 to 3 and 6 to 2 while Oakland was cuffing San Francisco's Seals 12 to 2 and 5 to 2. San Diego shoved Sacramento out of third place with a double-killing, 6 to 4 and 4 to 1, while Los Angeles and Hollywood were splitting, the Stars taking the opener 2 to 1 and the Angels the nightcap 6 to 0.

Twin Falls Rallies to Take Night Conflict; Boise Wins Afternoon

BOISE, July 5 (Special)—Slumbering Cowboy bats broke out in a rash of base hits here in the second game of a doubleheader last night to blast two Boise pitchers for 13 runs and an even break in the July Fourth double-header.

The Twin Falls team won the night contest with 21 hits accounting for a 13-2 victory after Boise had annexed the afternoon encounter by the same score.

In the evening battle, Dick Wake, Ernie Bishop and Verne Reynolds, the latter holding down the shortstop berth, led the attack. Wake came through with five safe blows out of six trips to the plate, including a double and triple and driving in three runs. Bishop got a double and three singles, while Reynolds hit three singles. Every man in the Cowboy lineup got at least one hit, including Pitcher Damon Hayes, who held the Pilot bats to four hits.

Pilots Hit 5 Homers
Hayes had a shutout going into the last of the eighth, but here the Pilots pushed across two runs.

The afternoon battle saw the Pilots score in six different innings as they pecked away at the offerings of Dick O'Boyle, Stu Holdhusen and Wayne Lundberg. All told they got 15 hits and five of them were homers—by Lowe, Adams (2), Eganatic and Lorenzen.

No batter in the Cowboy lineup got over one hit as Darrell Fields limited the club to six hits. Eck Lorenzen topped the Boise attack with four blows in five trips to the plate, getting a homer, double and two singles.

Play in Boise Tonight
The two teams play here again tonight before returning to Twin Falls for a two-game stand opening Saturday at 9 p. m.

Manager Ray Jacobs announced that his pitching choice for tonight's battle will be Rube Sandstrom, while Manager Andy Harrington will start Jack Mentz.

Seattle Man Wins Race at Coeur d'Alene
COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, July 5 (U.P.)—Don McCrea, Seattle, averaged 60 1/2 miles per hour over a 50-mile course on Coeur d'Alene lake yesterday to pilot his streamlined Miss Take over the line first in the in-board motorboat race, feature event of Coeur d'Alene's July 4th celebration.

McCrea covered the 50 miles in 56 minutes flat.

Ted Jones, Seattle, aboard the Wasp was second; Walter Wall, Spokane, third.

A crowd of 40,000 persons, said to be the largest ever assembled here, watched the event.

Mac Writes a Theme On Handling of Fireworks by Adults

By HENRY McLEMORE
EASTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 5 (U.P.)—This is being written as the fourth of July lacks only an hour or two of being the fifth of July, and I am in a quandry as to which of the two subjects to write about.

One subject that fascinates me concerns the shooting of July 4th fireworks by adults, and I say adults, I mean those men and women who have passed 30, 40, 50 and 60. It is when firecrackers are placed in such hands that they become a menace. Once you pass 30 you are not agile enough, quick enough on the reflexes, to safely ignite a two-inch salute, a Roman candle, or a skyrocket.

Uncomfortable 60 Seconds
I have never spent a more uncomfortable 60 seconds than I did last night when the senior member of our houseparty—a broker of 43, who owns his own business—stepped to the middle of the lawn and took personal charge of a $2.50 skyrocket. Yes, a $2.50 one, that is the main danger of adults handling firecrackers. They won't buy cheap explosives. They leave those for the children and buy monstrous articles that are just a breath away of being a bomb.

But to get back to the awful 60 seconds. The gentleman I mentioned waved us back to the porch, and with the manner of a sergeant handling a bomb, driving his menace to life and limbing to a spot in the yard some 20 yards in front of us.

He heaved the skyrocket into the ground in such a position that it was aimed directly at the windows of the dining room and paid no attention to our cries of "hey, not this way." And "point the damn thing out toward the ocean."

When two or three children who were present on the party rushed forward to guide him in the firing of the infernal machine, he waved them back, took another slug of Scotch, and put a match to the fuse.

From the moment the first spark showed, it was dreadful as if transfixed, he did not move as the flame ran toward the rocket. This despite the fact that the rocket had slumped and, to get to the dining room windows, it first had to pass through his legs.

Women screamed and huddled in corner of the porch. Men, any of whom had served in France during World War I, sought refuge back of the swing.

Broker Doesn't Move
The fuse licked closer to the powder. The broker moved not an inch. There came a deafening explosion.

Red, yellow, blue and green, the rocket broke from its cover and sought release in the heavens.

Red, yellow, blue and green the broker cursed as the charge ripped off half a pants' leg, struck a Wall street calf, and threatened his life. Finally, he beat out the flames and sought his way to safety among the women.

His first words were these, and they were addressed to his wife: "Get out, promise me this. Promise me you'll never let the children handle fireworks again. They're dangerous if not handled the right way. They're for grown-ups."

Murtaugh Tops Hailey Miners By 3-0 Score

HAILEY, July 5 (Special)—The invading Murtaugh team of the SOI league showed the Hailey Triumph Miners a thing or two about the great American sport here yesterday as they shut out the local entrant in the Wood River league by a score of 3-0.

The main difference in the two teams, however, was Earl Tolson, ace hurler for the visitors, who struck out 10 men and allowed the Miners only one safe blow as he moved down batter after batter.

Meanwhile the Murtaugh club was collecting six hits to salt the game away.

A record-breaking crowd witnessed the contest.

Record Field Opens Play In Golf Meet

SUN VALLEY, July 5 (U.P.)—The largest field in history, more than 100 entrants, teed off on the tricky Sun Valley course today in qualifying rounds of the Idaho state amateur golf championship.

Several former title-winners were in the field. Bill Bayhouse, 1939 champion; Ed Harper, Pocatello, two-time winner; Ben Peterson, Pocatello, another former champ; Jimmie Sinclair, Twin Falls; Don Lindley, Nampa, and Walt Smith, Boise, were the tournament favorites.

Quarter finals are to be played Saturday and the championship round—Sunday. The finals will be over 36 holes, all others are over 18 holes.

Boise's Tennis Meet Draws Big Entry List

BOISE, July 5 (U.P.)—About 30 entries have been received from players in southwestern Idaho for the annual Boise tennis tournament starting tomorrow, Joe Bush, president of the Boise club, announced today.

First and second rounds will be played Saturday and Sunday, with finals scheduled for the following week-end. Several players from Twin Falls and Kimberly had indicated they would take part in the matches, but entries have not yet been received.

Drawings for the final round will be made tonight.

CROPS ADVANCE NEAR MATURITY

Idaho's crops continued in good condition and made substantial advances toward maturity, the regular report of the U. S. department of commerce, weather bureau, showed here today.

Grains, according to the report, are maturing rapidly in the early sections and harvest has started in some localities. Over the late sections many fields are heading or headed.

While irrigated pastures continue good, ranges and unirrigated pastures are drying rapidly.

Cutting of the first crop of alfalfa continues with some very good yields reported.

The second crop is making rapid growth and cutting is expected to get underway soon. The warmth of the past week was favorable to corn and good growth was made.

Beets continue in good condition and the early crop will soon be ready for the market, the report shows.

Beets and garden truck are good and the cherry harvest is about over, and apricots and early peaches are being picked. Irrigation was heavy during the week.

The soil is dry, irrigating rapidly and good rains are expected in many sections and would be beneficial over much of the remainder of the state, the report relates.

Following are the reports of two counties in this section with the reporting station being listed in each instance:

Elmore county, Mountain Home: Considerable wind during week; farmers drawing heavily on water supply; corn mostly looking fine; all grains give promising good yields; meadows and potatoes good; pastures and ranges dry.

Twin Falls county, Buhl: Crops looking good; hay, cultivation and irrigating keeping the farmers busy.

IDAHO THEME OF ROTARY ADDRESS

Idaho—its glamorous past and its place in the future—formed the topic vividly outlined for the Twin Falls Rotary club Wednesday by Rev. George L. Clark, Presbyterian minister.

Dr. Clark reviewed early history of Idaho, and in telling of first missionary work reminded his hearers that "the state has been developed and enriched not by the lawless or the freebooter, but by men and women of peace, grit and with the neighborly spirit and helpful soul. Thrifty farmers who dared to stay and conquer; honest merchants who built their enterprises on the granite of integrity and fidelity."

Carry on. That fact, Dr. Clark said, places a mandate on modern Idahoans "to carry on in that same fine and noble fashion."

Elements essential to continuance of Idaho's high place he listed as improvement of agricultural quality; improvement of the quality of Idaho's people through school, home, church and work.

The speaker emphasized the state's youth: "Fifty years is a short time for states. And Twin Falls itself is even younger—38 years old, a mere child yet. As for the nation, it too is young."

Offering figures not universally known, Dr. Clark explained that Idaho is 490 miles long and 308 miles wide at its maximum, with 83,888 square miles within her border. That size, he said, would include all of New York, Maine and Rhode Island—with space remaining.

Interior Menace Turning to the national picture, he told the Rotarians: "I am convinced that our greater menace is found within, rather than without our borders. We call it the fifth column."

He urged vigilance by every citizen against subversive activities. Distinguished guest at the meeting was T. Cobb, noted baseball figure who has purchased the Twin Falls Coca Cola Bottling company. Mr. Cobb praised the Twin Falls sector highly.

Visiting Rotarians were Bert Powell, Jersey City, N. J.; Arthur Zahn, Waverly, Ia. Guest was W. Krengel, Portland, Ore., youngest brother of Capt. O. H. Krengel, Twin Falls businessman. Irene Davidson offered a piano solo, and W. W. Thomas presented two patriotic vocal numbers.

GOODING

A pre-institute rally of Epworth league members from the Northside Methodist churches held at Wendell Sunday evening was attended by 17 young people from the Gooding Methodist church. Rev. and Mrs. Theodore B. Milner and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson accompanied the group. One hundred and 26 gathered at the Wendell Methodist church at 6 p. m. for a social hour, followed by a business meeting and a devotional service directed by the members of the Wendell Epworth league.

Mrs. Herb Love and baby daughter Judith Helen went home Sunday from the Gooding hospital. Judith Helen was born June 22.

Mrs. Alex Watson and baby son, born June 22, came home to Gooding Tuesday from St. Valentine's hospital in Wendell.

Two young people's groups of the Christian church, Conference club and Christian Endeavor have united their activities and are to meet each Tuesday evening. New officers have been chosen for each group. Those for the Conference club are Verna Jean Roberts, president; Eivel Hill, vice-president and Doris Redington, secretary-treasurer. Officers for the Christian Endeavor group are Eivel Hill, president; Donald Carrio, vice-president and Jimmie St. John, secretary-treasurer. Meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Verna Jean Roberts the young people arranged for a cooked food sale. Dates for the conference for this summer are July 22 to 28 and conference will be held at the Baptist assembly grounds.

With eight days remaining in which petitions may be filed, no candidates had officially sought nomination as U. S. senator. Second district congressman, state superintendent of public instruction and state mines inspector.

Besides the post for which neither party had entered a candidate, the Democratic nominations were open for first district congressman, governor, secretary of state and state auditor, while no Republican had yet filed for attorney or state treasurer.

Scores of candidates have announced they would seek nominations but only eight have presented petitions to the secretary of state for a place on the ballot.

Officially in the race for the Republican nomination for governor are Gov. O. A. Bottolfsen and Thomas McDougall; Republican secretary of state, Walter V. Day and Frank Swan; Republican first district congressman, Dr. Rex T. Henson; Republican auditor, C. L. Schoenheit. Only Democratic candidates are Mrs. Myrtle P. Enkins, state treasurer, and Bert H. Miller, attorney general.

BURLEY WIFE, 22, TAKEN BY DEATH

BURLEY, July 5 (Special)—Mrs. Viola Mary Short Haskell, 22 wife of Eldon J. Haskell, Burley, died at 5 a. m. Thursday at the Cottage hospital following an illness of several weeks.

She was born May 23, 1918, in Weber county, Utah, and married Mr. Haskell in 1938. She was active in the work of the Emerson L. D. S. church prior to her illness.

Aside from her husband, she is survived by a 16-month-old son, Jay Eldon, her parents, Bishop and Mrs. Ira T. Short, and the following brothers and sisters: Lyle Short, Pocatello; Glenn Short, on a mission in Texas; Grant, Margaret and Eldon Short, all at home.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 4 p. m. at the Burley L. D. S. tabernacle. Interment will be in the Hayburn cemetery under direction of Vern McCulloch of the Burley funeral home.

Woman Chosen to Run for President

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Milburn, Seattle, Wash., widow, today headed the National Greenback party ticket as its presidential candidate, believed to be the first woman ever nominated for that office.

Advocating the party's platform of banking reform, Mrs. Milburn was selected unanimously by the National Greenback council yesterday.

U. S. LEADERS APPLAUD BRITISH ACTION ON FRENCH FLEET

ENGLISH VICTORY. TERMED AID TO U. S. DEFENSES

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Authoritative quarters believed today Great Britain's action against the French fleet and preservation of British control of the Atlantic would strengthen the United States' position in the Pacific.

This belief was expressed as congressional leaders, led by Chairman Key Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee, applauded the British capture or destruction of a large portion of the French navy.

"It was the fear that this step would not be taken that shook the confidence of some as to the power of the British defense," Pittman said, adding that he was confident now that "every member of the United States senate applauds" Prime Minister Winston Churchill's "wisdom and courage."

Sen. William H. King, D., Utah, saw the action as a further protection of the western hemisphere against totalitarian nations. Anything that strengthens Britain's hand strengthens ours," he said.

Elimination of the possibility that the French fleet might become Germany's also was believed here to strengthen Britain's hand in the far east, particularly in her resistance to Japan's action on the mainland.

Authoritative quarters predicted that that resistance probably would be supported by a similar attitude by this country since elimination of the French fleet as a factor in the Atlantic had reduced any need that might have existed for calling at least a large portion of the United States fleet to the eastern seaboard.

Here's Indian Torch Dance in Colorful Cavalcade

Flaming torches whirling in a circle as Idaho red men dance—that's one of the early highlights of the Magic City cavalcade, which is offered for the last time at 8:30 p. m. today at Lincoln stadium. The Indians are CCC youths from Rock Creek camp. Tepees, in front of which squaws stand impassively with folded arms while the braves dance, can be seen in background. (Times Photo and Engraving)

JUBILEE'S EVENTS LURE THOUSANDS

Second day of Twin Falls' Magic City Jubilee, with a complete program of "free acts," attracted thousands to the downtown section of the city, to the city park, and also to the carnival grounds near the downtown area.

In addition, an estimated 5,000 persons attended the second showing of the cavalcade at Lincoln field. Today at 8:30 p. m., the final presentation of this story of the rise of Twin Falls and this section of Idaho will be given. A band concert, by the Twin Falls municipal unit, will open the program at the field at 8 p. m.

UNITED STATES RITES FIXED FOR RIVER'S VICTIMS

BURLEY, July 5 (Special)—Friends and relatives have completed arrangements for funeral services for the three drowning victims of last Sunday's river tragedy.

Funeral services for Junior, 9, and LaDean Stalnaker, 14, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Heyburn L. D. S. church, with Bishop Elmer Helmer officiating. Burial will be in the Heyburn cemetery under direction of the Burley funeral home. The children are survived by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stalnaker.

Final tribute will be paid to Bolen Beaver, 31, Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Burley Presbyterian church, where Mr. Beaver served as a trustee. Rev. Lewis M. Harro will officiate, and interment will be in the Heyburn cemetery with Vern McCulloch of the Burley funeral home in charge.

With the finding of the body of LaDean Stalnaker on Thursday morning, one of the most extensive searches ever launched here for drowning victims was concluded. Citizens from both Minidoka and Cassia counties cooperated with officials "in a splendid way," according to Deputy Sheriff George Bray.

RAGE

BERLIN, July 5 (AP)—The German press raged today against British Prime Minister Winston Churchill for ordering the attack on the French fleet. It warned Great Britain it would have to answer "for the misdeeds of its premier."

Churchill, the press said in its denunciation, is a "cur," "knave," "dog," "criminal."

Nobody Knows How It's Done But Pageant Is Swell Show

BY THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Nobody was quite sure today just how they did it, but a conglomerate collection of fully 700 youths and oldsters—plus horses, one cow, a train, covered wagons, stagecoaches, ancient and modern motor cars and a couple of motor buses—welded the saga of southern Idaho into a fast-moving, colorful panorama that held 5,000 watchers absorbed last night at Lincoln stadium.

The 5,000 spectators were the "official" watchers.

Fully 8,500 in All Unofficial additions in the form of throngs peering through the fences boosted the audience to at least 6,500. After the big show the traffic jam on all streets anywhere near the field set a new Pacific northwest record, although Junior Chamber leaders apiked the rumor that five autos from Wells, Nev., were still enmeshed this morning.

The historical spectacle was the Magic City cavalcade, highlight of the Magic City Jubilee. The cavalcade, preceded by an 8 p. m. concert by the Union Pacific band from Ogden, will be presented for the final showing at 8:30 tonight.

Carrying Idaho's history from the time of the Indians through the coming of the white man, the growth of Twin Falls and right up to the arrival of the CCC boys, the cavalcade moved smartly and with amazing precision through an hour and 50 minutes. The second night's production was better than the first; tonight's should be the smoothest of all.

As for chronology and story of the epic, if you saw it you know it; if you didn't see it, you should tonight.

As for pot shots (paid adv.) here and there—

Torch Dance
The Indian torch dance was a colorful highlight (color not extending, however, to the white legs of the CCC Indians from New Jersey and New York).

The first settlers were tops in acting. Most of the ladies and some of the men were actual Idaho pioneers. Equally pioneer seemed the six sets of red flannel underwear flaunting from the clothes line.

The boy who left the pioneer school scene on one of those traditional errands got more attention than he expected. Harold Lackey, operating the big spotlight from the press booth, turned the glare on the youngster during departure and then picked him up and spotlighted him on the return trip. (Editor's note: The meanie!)

Minister Gets on!
The circuit riding minister (Reverend Innis L. Jenkins of the Episcopal church) managed to climb aboard his horse this time after the first church service in Idaho. (P. S.—The minister got some help.)

The pageantists all stayed properly in place around the limbs of the young ladies in the Virginia reel.

The first train managed to make it on schedule.

Those are all frivolities. They accentuated the real excellence of the cavalcade as staged by Pat Gorman and a crew of capable Twin Falls assistants. Considerable share of the success hinged on the musical score played by the municipal band under Director Orrin Fuller, and the vocal accompaniment of Twin Falls singers directed by Charles Shirley.

A Real Twirler
Bill Guest, St. Louis, Mo., national champion drum major, presented an interlude of baton twirling so good that only a close-up glimpse of his nimble hand work can give you a hint of how excellent he really is.

Speaking of credits, Twin Falls and the Jaycees owe plenty of thanks to those versatile and willing CCC youths. Ditto to the Legion drum and bugle corps and the Boy Scout drum-buglers, all of whom are really getting a workout during this three-day jubilee.

By the time the cavalcade concluded last night, the thousands jamming the field were in such an oh and ah mood that the fireworks display proved a spectacular success.

As for credit to Cavalcade Director Gorman, turn to Pot Shots today (adv., on the cuff).

See you at the show tonight and the screwball mardis gras parade immediately thereafter.

SORORITY SETS REFUGEE FUNDS

SUN VALLEY, Ida., July 4 (AP)—Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, meeting here for their 34th biennial convention, today created a fund for relief of refugee children in Europe.

Money originally intended to bring Norah Waln, authoress, from England to address the convention, was set aside in the relief fund. More money will be collected during the week.

Dean Dorothy Stratton of Purdue university keynoted the convention with a plea for greater understanding among nations and said it was the duty of educational institutions to teach international tolerance.

Fellowships amounting to $500 each were granted to Nona Pumer-ton, St. Louis; Henrietta Hersenberger, Boulder, Colo.; and Shirley Fitch, Dennison, Ohio.

BOTT REITERATES NEUTRALITY PLEA

RUPERT, Ida., July 5 (AP)—Gov. O. A. Bottolfsen yesterday reiterated a plea for strict neutrality in the European war and preparedness to defend America as a "haven of refuge."

Speaking at a Fourth of July celebration, the governor decried "wishful thinking that America can police the world" and warned against "entangling our peace and prosperity in the follies of European rivalry."

"Before we join the parade of the four horsemen in Europe, let us prepare to defend ourselves against their entry here," Bottolfsen declared. "Let us go on maintaining our country as a haven of refuge for the oppressed of all nations, asking only and insisting on their allegiance. We can be most useful to civilization by preserving on this continent the system for which our fathers fought."

America's entry into the first World war was a mistake and events of 1917 are being re-enacted to carry the nation into conflict again, the governor said.

Seeing Stars

There are only about 6,000 stars in the entire heavens that can be seen by the average person. Only half of these are above the horizon at one time, and many near the horizon are obscured by the denser atmosphere and surrounding objects on the landscape, so we can only see between 1,500 and 2,000 at any one time.
