SEES NEED FOR TRAINED MEN TO WORK MACHINES

By LOUIS J. SCHAEFFLE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today renewed his endorsement of the principle of conscription as an essential for development of adequate national defense.
"I am in favor of a selective training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense," Mr. Roosevelt said, permitting for emphasis direct quotation of his press conference statement.
He said he not only hoped, but believed, congress will enact a bill this session to provide sufficient manpower to operate war machines being assembled for the defense of America in the $10,000,000,000 rearmament drive.
No Specific Details
Mr. Roosevelt said he would not encumber himself with details—would not endorse any specific bill or provisions of a bill. But he said he had made it clear in the past, and was making it clear again, he favors the principle of selective service.
The president made his statement as the senate military affairs committee met secretly to hear ranking army officials testify on compromise proposals to limit the pending conscription bill to 1,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31.
Answering assertions he had failed to give his complete endorsement to the conscription bill and the measure therefore is languishing in congress, Mr. Roosevelt said the selective draft is the most fair and efficient means of obtaining manpower. He added he was convinced that most of the people of this country agree with his analysis of the situation and likewise support his endorsement of the conscription principle.
Sends No Measure
But, said Mr. Roosevelt firmly, no specific measure will be sent to Capitol hill with the endorsement of the White House. Adding he wanted to be perfectly frank, he said that no matter what happens he is damned if he does and damned if he does not make a specific endorsement of details of the conscription plan.
Should he send up a specific measure, Mr. Roosevelt said, he immediately would be branded "old Mr. Dictator" and would be accused of ordering congress to pass a particular bill.
Mr. Roosevelt emphasized his conviction that the only possible defense is total defense; that total defense means well trained personnel; that this personnel can only be obtained by a selected service conscription. The lessons of the European war drove home the point, he said, that nations which have no well trained manpower to operate their war machines were in a bad way.
Need Trained Men
William S. Knudsen, production chief of the defense commission, has informed him that work is proceeding on defense machines and material approximating $1,800,000,000. This question now is to get the manpower to operate this vast machine, he said.
Recalling America's World War experience, Mr. Roosevelt said this country created an army of 4,000,000 men in 1917 but that army was incapable to go into action for 13 months after America entered the war. Speaking slowly to emphasize his point, Mr. Roosevelt said that during those 13 months not a single shot was fired against us. That was just plain pure luck, he said, and will never again recur in history.
Defense, he emphasized, requires more than trained men on the firing line—it requires mechanics immediately behind the lines and further behind the lines in factories.
Exemptions Set On Defense Tax
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—The house ways and means tax subcommittee tentatively agreed today on a proposal to exempt from taxation all industrial income which is used to pay off cost of emergency plant expansion necessitated by defense orders.
The plan would be effective over a five-year period. During that time corporations would be granted a tax exemption each year on income equal to 20 per cent of the plant expansion costs.
Chairman Jere Cooper explained that firms seeking such tax exemptions would have to obtain certificates from the war department, navy or the president's advisory defense commission stating that the plant expansion was required by defense contracts.
Expert Approval
Subcommittee members believed the five-year amortization plan would meet with general approval of industry. Some aviation firms and armaments manufacturers have gone ahead with defense orders on.

12,500,000 MEN TO BE ELIGIBLE UNDER NEW PLAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—The senate military affairs committee today voted 6 to 4 against limiting the conscription bill to 1,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 31.
The committee, nearing a final vote on the dispute measure, declined to "weaken" further the bill by adopting the amendment, which was proposed by Sen. Josh Lee, D., Okla., and seconded by Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H.
Refusal to restrict the proposed draft to 500,000 men this autumn and a similar number next spring means that 12,500,000 men in the 21-31 age group will be eligible for military draft should the present version of the bill become law.
Liable for Selection
The army has estimated that about 4,500,000 men in the 21-31 group actually will be liable for selection for service because they have no dependents, are physically fit, unneeded in industry or agriculture and have no religious or conscientious objections to service.
Voting against the Lee amendment were Senators Sheppard, D., Tex.; Thomas, D., Utah; Minton, D., Ind.; Schwartz, D., Wyo.; Hill, D., Ala., and Gurney, R., S. D.
Vote on Monday
It was favored by Sens. Johnson, D., Colo.; Lee; Bridges and Thomas, R., Ind.
Chairman Morris Sheppard announced the senate committee had agreed unanimously to vote on the bill as a whole next Monday. Under the agreement, he added, the only other vote which could be taken would be reconsideration of motions to exempt advanced cadets of the senior division of the reserve officers training corps from registration.

British, Nazis Both Claim Damage After Long Raids

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign Editor
Germany and Great Britain claimed today to have delivered heavy blows at military objectives on each other's soil.
In London, authoritative sources asserted the great German naval base of Hamburg had been "pulverized" by bombs and factories, dockyards, oil refineries and supply depots in more than 100 German cities and towns had been destroyed.
In Berlin, the German high command supplemented press reports of tremendous damage to British ports and shipping with the claim a British submarine had been bombed and sunk, an aircraft factory at Norwich hit and set afire, all eight British planes that raided the air-drome at Cherbourg shot down, and one merchantman sunk and four other craft hit in bombing attacks on convoys between Ireland and England.
"Last Warning"
These claims were voiced at a time when German pilots had dropped pamphlets containing Adolf Hitler's "last warning" on British soil. German troops were reported converging on bases prepared for invasion of the United Kingdom and an Italian newspaper said the "zero hour" was near.
In addition to German press claims that 1,207,017 tons of British merchant vessels and 21 naval ships had been sunk recently, the high command at Berlin asserted a German sea raider had driven the British auxiliary cruiser Alcantara to refuge in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro.
The British claims, more detailed, included royal air force reports from Cairo that British bombers had destroyed a big ammunition dump at Porto Bardia in Libya and scored direct hits in raids on an Italian oil refinery near Massawa.
Italian Forces Move
These claims were made as reports reached London that Italian forces in Libya were moving toward the Egyptian frontier in apparent preparation for a large scale offensive in North Africa.
British raids on German objectives, it was said in London, had resulted in the dropping of thousands of tons of bombs on Bremen, where dockyards and the Docks-Wulf aircraft factory were hit, and in "irreparable damage" to industrial objectives at Dusseldorf, Dusseldorf, Essen, West and manufacturing centers of the Ruhr valley.
Oil refineries, munitions and supply factories and docks at Hamburg have been reduced to ruins, it was (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

CORONER TERMS CRASH 'ACCIDENT'

AKRON, O., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—A coroner's verdict of "accidental death" today eliminated possibility that criminal action would be taken against members of the crew of the shuttle car which carried 43 persons to death Wednesday night.
Dr. R. E. Amos, Summit county coroner, placed blame for the crash of the gasoline-driven coach and a double-header freight train, however, on Engineer Thomas L. Murtaugh of Orrville, O., and Conductor Harry B. Shafer, of Akron.
Dr. Amos said in information turned over to him by P. H. Kirch, division superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad, which operates the shuttle line, showed the motor coach had gone a mile south of the switch when the crash occurred.
Both Murtaugh and Shafer escaped death.
Volume for the week was estimated 5 to 7 per cent above the corresponding 1939 period compared with a year-to-year gain of 6 to 12 per cent in the previous week.
Unfavorable weather also hindered the wholesale division of trade, Dun and Bradstreet said.

Willkie to Reject Questions Asked by All U. S. Senators

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Wendell L. Willkie said today if President Roosevelt asks his views on any current public questions, he will be glad to answer him.
But otherwise, the Republican presidential nominee said, he will not respond to every "miscellaneous challenge" to express himself.
Willkie said this particularly applies to Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., who asked Willkie to state his position on conscription.
Willkie indicated there are 66 senators of the United States who could ask him questions and said his attitude on major public questions will be made very plain in his acceptance speech at Elwood, Ind., on Aug. 17.
"If the President of the United States asks any question on my views, of course I'll answer him," Willkie told his press conference.
The statement emphasized Willkie's expressed idea that the issue lies between his philosophy of government and that of the President personally.
On the issue of conscription in peacetime for preparedness purposes, Willkie said he would discuss that subject fully in his acceptance speech. He denied he has been approached on his attitude toward the sale of cruisers and destroyers to Great Britain, or had made any agreement on the subject with persons connected with the administration.
Willkie repeated that prior to his acceptance speech he does not intend to engage in any public discussion of his attitude toward public issues now being considered by congress.

Oddities

By United Press
PURGE
BROWNSVILLE, Tex. — The Cameron county Democratic executive committee today took strong measures when it found its ranks infiltrated with Willkie sympathizers. One precinct chairman was president of a Willkie-for-President club. They purged him. Two other chairmen with Willkie leanings resigned hurriedly.
SCARE
BLENHEIM, N. D. — Mrs. Helen Orlik, unpacking a carton of stale bread for use on her chicken farm, found a metal cylinder with a trigger mechanism. Police called in bomb experts, who first immersed the cylinder in oil, then gingerly pulled the trigger. In silver tones the cylinder tinkled the tune, "Happy Birthday to You."
SPANK
PORTLAND — Police patched up a lovers' quarrel after Mrs. John Blank called them to complain that her husband took a cane to her. She is 66, he is 67.
BREAK
LOS ANGELES — August Furst got a break on Aug. 1. Neighbors were angry at the noise from his dance hall and petitioned to have it closed but the police commission gave Furst two weeks to prove the place was really quiet.

SERVICES HONOR DEPUTY MARSHAL

BOISE, Aug. 2 (U.P.) — Funeral services for John Howard Glenn, U. S. deputy marshal who was slain by a Negro recluse, were conducted today with the Boise Elks lodge in charge of arrangements.
Fellow police officers served as pallbearers. Interment was in Clow-erdale cemetery.
Services for George A. Maffan, U. S. marshal who was also slain when officers attempted to serve a warrant against the Negro, Pearl Royal Hendrickson, will be held in Nampa Sunday. Coroner Clyde Summers said details had not been completed.
Graveside services for Hendrickson, who died of wounds inflicted when he resisted a posse's efforts to oust him from his mountain cabin, will be held tomorrow.

Local Song in Race--Willkie Hasn't Picked

Wendell L. Willkie hasn't selected any official campaign song as yet, although the melody "Let's Have Willie," composed in Twin Falls by Eddie Carter, Los Angeles song writer, has greeted the G.O.P. nominee on several occasions.
That was the word received by the Evening Times today from Lem Jones, press secretary to Mr. Willkie, and Paul T. Smith, United Press correspondent accompanying the nominee.
After Acceptance
Smith advised the Evening Times, in answer to a telegram, that a campaign song will probably be selected after Willkie's acceptance speech at Elwood, Ind.
Jones, replying to an Evening Times telegram, reported that "no official campaign song has been selected as yet although Mr. Willkie has been greeted in each city and town he has visited by songs composed in the locality." He extended Willkie's thanks for Twin Falls' interest in the matter and for good wishes extended in the telegram.
Terrific Pressure
Incidentally, the press secretary said the "pressure" on Willkie has been terrific.
"The campaign song written in Twin Falls by Carter, author of such hits as "Brown Eyes," "Who's Sorry Now?" and "Weary River," has been submitted to the Republican nominee by Carter. At its preview hearing in Twin Falls the music and lyrics won praise. Both were composed in 15 minutes.
RITES HONOR PUBLISHER
NAMPA, Ind., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Funeral services for Neal Jennings, 60, Nampa pioneer and publisher of the Nampa Leader Herald from 1907 to 1928, will be held here Sunday at 2 p.m. Jennings died at his home yesterday after an illness of several months.

Files Searched for Rules On World War Conscription

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U.P.) — Army men, seeking to answer problems that young Americans would face under conscription, are digging through World War files of legislation which helped cushion the economic plight of 1917-18 draftees.
They plan to revise some of it in connection with the pending draft bill. The senate military affairs committee, in its tentative draft of the bill, has attempted to solve the trainees' No. 1 economic problem—regaining their jobs at conclusion of their one-year service.
It provided that all government workers would be guaranteed automatic reemployment. Employers in interstate commerce refusing to rehire trainees, except when such action proved "impossible or unreasonable," would be subject to various forms of legal action.
Army officials plan to complement these provisions by establishing employment bureaus to aid conscripts to return to civilian life.
But there are a host of other problems confronting prospective trainees besides the job problem. There are matters of debts, mortgages, insurance premiums, taxes and installment payments among others. For instance, what about a young man who is buying an automobile on time, and is drafted into the army at $21 a month?
The judge advocate's office said it was drafting legislation to meet these problems which will be used upon lessons learned during war days when numerous bills were passed to aid the men who went overseas to fight for the United States.

HEAT RESTRICTS TRADE INCREASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Continuation of the nationwide heat wave restricted retail trade activity this week, Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.
Volume for the week was estimated 5 to 7 per cent above the corresponding 1939 period compared with a year-to-year gain of 6 to 12 per cent in the previous week.
Unfavorable weather also hindered the wholesale division of trade, Dun and Bradstreet said.

Wife Claims Her Spouse Was Also "Ghost Believer"

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Dr. William A. Boyce, who claims his wife has forsaken him for the "dark and handsome" charms of a ghost named Shu-Shu, once believed he could "communicate with those gone on," Mrs. Boyce sought to show today in a letter filed with the court hearing her divorce suit.
Her attorneys filed as court exhibit "A" a letter the wealthy eye specialist wrote to his nephew, Aldrey Lomax of New York, a year before the theory he had broken up his home. Dr. Boyce named the ghost as co-respondent in contesting her petition for divorce.
Although the court was in recess until Sept. 3, the clerk accepted the letter.

WORKERS BATTLE 700-ACRE BLAZE

CASCADE, Ida., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Additional fire fighters were called out today to reinforce 300 men battling a 700-acre blaze in the Payette national forest about 10 miles south of here.
Thomas van Meter, forest supervisor, said the fire started near a sawmill southwest of Crouch. Ranch homes were believed to be in the path of the fire. CCC enrollees from McColl, Warm Lake and Boise were called out to fight the blaze burning over new stands of yellow pine.
WILLKIE PLANS ON VOTE SHIFTS
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Wendell L. Willkie bases his expectation of election to the presidency upon the power of the independent voter.
Party delineation upon the basis of "label alone" is decreasing every year, Willkie said, and the controlling election faction now is the independent voter who breaks from party lines according to the issue.
This year, the Republican presidential nominee said, one of the principal issues swaying wavering voters is the third term question, on which he has received a cardinal response from his own party and Democrats alike.
Willkie's remarks on independent voters were made yesterday during a joint interview between newspapermen here and William Allen White, Emporia Kan., editor and political commentator.

Five Still Lost In Blaze Ruins

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Tons of water were poured on the still smoldering ruins of a $2,000,000 fire today as the search continued for the bodies of five persons still missing.
The known death toll stood at four. It appeared certain the others five had died in the flames and series of explosions that swept the R. M. Hollingshead Co. plant, the largest automotive chemical works in the world, last Tuesday.

REDS KEEP ARMY AT GERMAN BORDER DESPITE 'FRIENDSHIP'

EXPERT ASSERTS DICTATORS FEAR SURPRISE MOVES

BY J. W. T. MASON
United Press Wire Expert

The most significant part of Premier Molotov's speech last night before the Soviet parliament was his statement that Russia must continue in a state of full national mobilization and preparedness. "In face of the danger of military attack," Molotov's expressions of friendship for Germany and Italy cannot counterbalance the continued maintenance of the Russian army on a war footing.

Dictators always are too realistic to trust another's pledges, each knowing the others are opportunists, instantly ready to exploit sudden changes in international situations. Russia especially has demonstrated this fact in the Baltic and the Balkans within the present year.

Military Action

It is an axiom of European military science never to allow a neighboring country to mobilize heavy concentrations of frontier troops without taking a retaliatory action. Russia now has a major force along the German border and reports today from Rumania say further large scale Russian military movements are occurring close to the Polish area which separates Russian and German territory.

However amicable Russo-German relations may be, every dictate of sound strategy demands that Hitler, in turn, must hold a powerful striking force near Russia, in case of a sudden explosion.

Attack Danger

Molotov speaks of the danger of a military attack. The only real danger to Russia must originate in Berlin and Rome, and that, for the time being, only if Russia has decided to push her imperialistic conquests still further.

Molotov asserts Russia insures German security in the east, a patronizing expression of Slav superiority which is sure to anger Hitler and his advisers. The statement, furthermore, must be disquieting both to Hitler and Mussolini because it implies that Stalin considers himself the controller of events in eastern Europe. It is, in effect, a warning to Germany and to Italy also, not to believe their influences can dominate the Balkans.

Creed Invited to Talk at National Coroner Meeting

Dr. James W. Creed, former coroner of Twin Falls county, now in the middle west for advanced study, has been invited to discuss one of the papers to be read at the annual convention of the National Association of Coroners at Philadelphia, Aug. 19-21, according to word received here today.

Dr. A. A. Newberry, present coroner who was appointed when Dr. Creed resigned, will be unable to attend the Philadelphia sessions. Whether Dr. Creed would accept the invitation was doubtful in view of his studies.

Coroners of about 500 U. S. counties and cities will take part in the conference, at which the theme will be means of cementing closer cooperation between district attorneys and coroners to detect crime, according to Coroner Charles H. Hensch, Philadelphia, chairman of the convention committee.

Departure Time Changed for Bus

Change in afternoon departure time of the Sun Valley stage is now in effect, J. L. Schwinn, owner of the bus line, announced this afternoon.

The former schedule showed 3 p. m. departure. This has been changed to 4:15 p. m.

Complete slate for the Sun Valley stages now shows departures at Twin Falls at 11 a. m. and 4:15 p. m. daily, and arrivals here at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. each day.

The Salmon connection leaves Twin Falls at 11 a. m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday, arriving at Salmon on the same days at 9:50 p. m. The reverse finds the bus leaving Salmon every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 5:30 a. m.

News of Record Funerals

NUNEMAKER—Funeral services for H. N. Nunemaker, who died from effects of spotted fever at the Twin Falls county general hospital yesterday morning, will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, Rev. R. E. Barnett, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Filer.

LANDLORD WINS BATTLE ON LIEN

A landlord's battle against a crop lien foreclosure—a legal fight which went once to the Idaho supreme court—had been won today by decision of Judge J. W. Porter in district court.

The landlord is W. B. Hoag, whose tenant, Theo Robinson, was defendant in a suit brought by D. Kirby Kirby sought to foreclose his farm laborer's lien against Hoag's share of a potato crop as well as the share of the tenant.

Judge Porter several years ago sustained a demurrer to the complaint. The Idaho supreme court reversed the order and sent the matter back to Twin Falls for trial on its merits. After civil non-jury trial June 25, the jurist took the matter under advisement and this week ruled in favor of the landlord but sustained Kirby's lien against Robinson's share of the crop.

Since the lease between Robinson and Hoag provided that the landlord would be paid 600 sacks of potatoes, Kirby's contention was that this manner of payment is equivalent to cash rental, and he is entitled to foreclose against all of Robinson's crops.

Ray D. Agee defended Hoag and Chapman and Chapman acted for Kirby.

ADAMS FIRES AT PRIMARY APATHY

BOISE, Aug. 2 (UP)—Blasting at state "machine" politicians, Frank H. Adams, Twin Falls shipper who is a candidate for the Republican nomination as U. S. senator, asserted that small turnout of voters in the primary elections paves the way for machine domination.

"There are not enough votes cast to be representative of the people's wishes," Adams said in rapping the Idaho primary system. "In many cases the best qualified men are eliminated and never reach the November general election."

The Twin Falls man, who is campaigning to defeat Sen. John Thomas on a platform of more crop-processing industries for Idaho, said his chances hinge on whether farmers and townspeople "get out and vote on election day" to show they want added industries as a farm and employment boost.

Last week, at a conference with Wendell L. Willkie, G. O. P. presidential nominee, Adams won Willkie's commendation for his platform.

said, and the power station at Leipzig and military objectives at Dortmund, Wernigerode and Cologne have been heavily bombed. Naval objectives at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven also were damaged severely, it was claimed.

The British claimed that only three of their planes were lost in the daylight raid on the Cherbourg airport, the air ministry reporting that the attack was pressed home successfully despite intense anti-aircraft fire.

Numerous successes
The Italians claimed numerous successes, including sinking of the 1,500-ton British submarine Oswald in the Ionian sea and capture of 52 of its 55 crew members, successful bombing of a British naval squadron south of the Balearic islands in which one battleship was hit directly and set afire, bombing of Butana in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, occupation of Debel 30 miles south of Moyale on the Kenya-Egyptian border, and expulsion of British naval vessels from Gibraltar by repeated air raids.

Moscow newspapers carried official news agency reports that workers and police had engaged in bloody clashes in Helsinki and other Finnish cities when authorities tried to disperse meetings of the "Society for Friendship and Peace With the Soviet Union."

In Tokyo, Yackichiro Suma, spokesman for the foreign office, announced Japan's intention of including the south seas in "greater east Asia" under Japanese domination. That would include French and Dutch possessions but Suma refused to reply to a question as to whether the Philippines were included, too.

Two Britons Arrested
Two Britons were reported to have been arrested by the Japanese in Korea, bringing the number of British subjects now held to nine, and in Shanghai a wave of terrorism resulted in the assassination by gunmen of Charles Metzler, White Russian leader employed by an American insurance firm; the kidnaping of Sung Ching-Tsu, wealthy Chinese coal dealer, and the attempted kidnaping of Chang Pong-Zah, Chinese banker.

At the same time the Japanese army organs in Shanghai carried anti-American articles, one of which said that "whoever says that America upholds the right as a peaceful nation is a stupid egg."

FUNERAL AWAITING FAMILY ARRIVAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza D. Stoll, about 72, mother of Mrs. John C. Harvey, were being held in abeyance today, pending the arrival of relatives from California.

Mrs. Stoll, who has been making her home with her daughter at 412 Blue Lakes boulevard, died yesterday at Mitchell's Nursing home after a brief illness.

Surviving besides her daughter is a sister, Mrs. May Heston, San Francisco.

Mrs. Harvey has been visiting Mrs. Heston for the past month, and was recently joined there by Mr. Harvey and their son for a short visit. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Miss Jean Harvey, is attending school in San Francisco.

The body rests at the White mortuary.

Ownership of Trick Horse, Valued At $700, Results in Court Appeal

Legal clash over ownership of a five-year-old bay white pinto horse, a trick riding animal valued at $700, moved into district court today with appeal of a civil case from the court of Justice H. N. Boland.

The appeal was taken by Howard Banks, intervenor in the justice suit filed by John S. Kimes and Twin Falls Lumber company against Walter Heacock, riding academy operator and rodeo performer. Banks appealed from that part of Justice Boland's judgment of July 2 which declares he is not the owner of the valuable trick horse.

Boland granted Kimes judgment of $158.86 plus costs of $21.60 in the action against Heacock, who assertedly owed the lumber company for material.

The trick horse, according to Banks, was attached by the sheriff May 13 although Banks presented in his district court appeal his bill of sale from Heacock, dated April 30.

KIMBERLY HIRES ORCHESTRA HEAD

KIMBERLY, Aug. 2 (Special)—Resignation of Kimberly high school's orchestra and glee club director, and employment of a woman to replace him, had brought a complete new slate of music leaders for the 1940-41 school year.

John Allan O'Connor, the orchestra and glee club director for the past year, tendered his resignation yesterday to school authorities. He has accepted a full-time music position at LaGrande, Ore., high school.

Woman Employed
Trustees, on recommendation of Suppl. L. A. Thomas, immediately elected as O'Connor's successor Miss Alice Marsh, Crookston, Minn. Miss Marsh is a graduate of the University of North Dakota school of music in 1940, has an outstanding record as vocalist and pianist, and is chorus sponsor and soloist with the University of North Dakota band on its 1939 tour.

Suppl. Thomas said Miss Marsh was recommended to Kimberly by Prof. John L. Howard, North Dakota director of music, as "the most outstanding vocalist to graduate from that institution in recent years."

Won Laurels
O'Connor, in his one-year tenure here, added further laurels to the Kimberly music record by achieving first division glee club and orchestra at the district festival in Twin Falls last spring.

Signing of a new orchestra and glee club leader was preceded several months ago by employment of a new band director, Grant Herrell, who replaced Bert Christensen. The latter resigned to accept the band post at Twin Falls high school.

Strike Vote Set At 2 Idaho Mines

MULLAN, Ida., Aug. 2 (UP)—A strike vote will be taken here tomorrow among 680 miners at the Page and Morning mines to back demands for vacations with pay and "more air at the 4,200-foot level of the Morning mine."

Notices were posted yesterday by the CIO union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. The properties are owned by the Federal Mining company.

DOCTORS OPPOSE PARKING METERS

Additional support for the strong stand taken by Twin Falls merchants against parking meters came today with announcement that a majority of Twin Falls physicians oppose the meters.

Merchants voiced an emphatic "no" in seven minutes Monday after Mayor Joe Koehler again revived his pay-parking suggestion. Today Chairman R. J. Vallton of the merchants' bureau said a spokesman for the doctors reported most of the physicians agree with the merchants.

In a poll of public opinion, made last summer by the Evening Times, the vote was a landslide five to one margin against the mayor's proposal for meters.

GUARDSMEN PUSH RECRUITING DRIVE

Recruiting drive for Company E, 116th engineers, was underway today in a last-minute move to bring the personnel to its authorized peacetime total of 60. The guardsmen leave Sunday morning for three weeks' training at Camp Murray, Wash.

Latest recruits who joined Company E are James K. Moon, James F. Dopita, Anthony L. Dillon, Emil L. Olson, Junior H. Sullivan and Max E. Moss. All are from Twin Falls.

Company E will leave for camp at 8:30 a. m. Sunday on the special train which also will carry Buhl and Burley companies to join the consolidated train at Minidoka.

TAYLOR RAPS AT 1935 BREAD LAW

BOISE, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Attorney General J. W. Taylor in an opinion handed down yesterday said the 1935 law setting up a board to fix the price of bread has created a racket in this business to the injury of the farmer and other people as well.

Taylor said he believed the procedure being followed now to fix the price of bread "is invalid and of no force or effect."

The statements were included in an opinion sought by Fred Harrington, Caldwell. Taylor said his office had been invited to determine why the price of bread in Idaho was 10 cents for a 16-ounce loaf, while in Utah the same size loaf sold for five cents and was made by some of the same bakeries which sell bread in Idaho.

Taylor said the 1935 legislature passed "an innocent appearing act with a high sounding public declaration of a worthy purpose, but upon closer analysis this act offers the answer for the sustained price of bread in the face of fluctuations in the price of wheat, the basic product."

He said investigation disclosed the board created by the act was never actually set up, although a code filed by a "secretary" of the board was filed with the secretary of state.

This code, Taylor wrote, was entered into between the bakery board—the industry's own control board—and the so-called secretary of the board set up by the legislature but for which no officers were ever appointed or sworn in. Under the code, the industry's board was empowered to appoint an administrator "with sweeping powers over the industry" who could assess members "tribute ranging from $15 to $750 depending on the volume of business," Taylor declared.

Conference Club To Hold Recital

GOODING, Aug. 2 (Special)—Conference club of Christian church met at the home of Betty Bolte Tuesday evening. Plans were made to give a recital of music and readings before the opening of school. They also planned to take full charge of Sunday morning service at the Christian church, at which time reports will be given of the conference recently held at the camp near Easley's.

The group originated a round robin in letter to be sent to each of the conference clubs in attendance at the camp. They also sang conference songs. Sponsor of the club is Howard Foster.

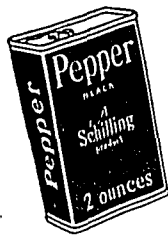

Those who attended the conference and returned early this week are Verna Jean Roberts, Betty Bolte, Jean Massey, Doris Redington, Shirley Moore, Don Carrio, Elvel Hill, Bob Rice, Patsy Flack and Keith Tester. Elvel Hill played several trumpet solos during the conference sessions.

9 STUDENTS TAKE FLIGHT TRAINING

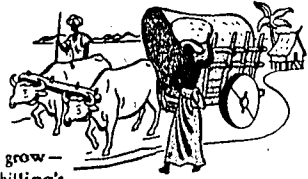

BOISE, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Nine students today were undertaking flight training in the civil aeronautics authority advanced training course here, J. Calvin Emerson, director of the program, reported.

The students, all graduates of the OAA primary flying course, will receive an hour and a half instruction in the air daily, Ray Crowder, flight instructor said. Those taking the course are John Pease, Wayne Story, James Jenkins, all of Boise, Daniel Aherine, John Knepper and Elvin Lindsay, graduates of the University of Idaho OAA school; Robert Whiskey, Pocatello, Elmer Hdrshberger, Filer, and William Skinner, Caldwell.

Air travel for the month of April, 1940, was approximately 73.91 per cent higher than for the same month in 1939.

Garnish with stuffed prunes and whole cherries (as illustrated). Serve with Real Mayonnaise. Serves 6.

SEE YOUR GROCER THIS WEEK FOR GRAND SALAD IDEAS!
Grocers listed below are featuring salad and picnic foods with Best Foods Real Mayonnaise and other delicious Best Foods Products for summer menus.

If you haven't tasted Best Foods Real Mayonnaise before, why not make "Salad Celebrity Week" your time to get acquainted? You'll find it gives your family a new appetite for salads!

You see, Best Foods Real Mayonnaise is different from "Salad Dressing." It contains no starch filler. It is all mayonnaise—real mayonnaise—and doesn't turn watery when you add milk or fruit juices.

And this Real Mayonnaise tastes even fresher than home-made, for it is made with our own "FRESH-PRESS" Salad Oil which we ourselves prepare fresh each day, as it is needed. Then, in our powerful double-whipper the ingredients are so completely blended that Real Mayonnaise, with all its home-made richness, is even lighter in texture than home-made, and has a light, zestful flavor, free from oily taste.

Building the Hemisphere

There is a lot of talk about the Western hemisphere these days, especially with an emergency conference of its foreign ministers in session at Havana.

Nearly all this talk is concerned, and properly so, with specific things that can be done to improve the prospects of the western nations—political tie-ups, economic cooperation, military coordination.

But we would do well to keep one eye on the other forces which, without benefit of ballyhoo, are gradually building a greater civilization throughout the Western hemisphere, linking it together as one great unified area.

Canada, for instance, will never be the same after this war, no matter what its outcome. To help defend Britain, it is building vast industries where there were no industries before. The present program is designed to make Canada entirely independent of any outside source for weapons and munitions of war.

This means that Canada after the war will be in a far better position to maintain independence, should it wish to do so, or find it necessary to do so, than it was after the last war. It means that a vast area of North America is better able to defend itself than ever before.

Meanwhile Royal Dutch Shell moves bodily out of The Hague, and holds its first meeting in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies. Other companies with European headquarters from which American resources were exploited are expected to follow suit.

Brazil is building a great steel industry and her own naval vessels. She is improving her railroads. A second trans-Andean railroad between Bolivia and Brazil is projected. Peru is opening a road system from the Pacific coast over the Andes into the Amazon hinterland.

All this opening-up and industrialization ought to mean greater production, with a higher standard of living, greater interchange of products and greater defensive ability for all the American countries.

More clear every day grows the lesson: The world's growth and progress during the next 50 years center in the New World. We must guard well and control wisely that progress.

Engineering Bottleneck?

Not raw material, not labor, not manufacturing facilities, but trained engineers may prove to be the bottleneck of the national defense effort. That prospect was held out by Dr. L. E. Grinter, vice-president of Armour Institute of Technology, during a recent round-table discussion at Chicago.

But Dr. Grinter, aware of the problem, is also hard at work on the solution. He is director of the Summer Graduate institute being conducted at Armour by which graduate engineers are called back for a short, intensive "brush-up" course fitting them for special fields in national defense work.

The government also is urging the training of more men in sub-college primary engineering work. Germany had the best brains and the best training. That is one answer to the riddle of France. Dr. Grinter and others like him who are intent on quickly training more and better engineers, are intent that no such failure shall be ours.

The First 20 Million

The American people have reason to be proud of the fact that the Red Cross' $20,000,000 emergency fund is almost completely raised.

Most of the money, or supplies bought with it, have already been sent to Europe. President Roosevelt did well to assure the people that proper precautions are being taken to prevent such supplies from falling into the hands of the conquerors.

We have heard people audibly resent the sending of such help abroad when there are unfortunates in the United States who could use the money. After all, we have spent not millions, but billions for the benefit of our own underprivileged. There is no thought of deserting them. It is unlikely that money contributed to the Red Cross for this relief has deprived American sufferers of a penny.

We see where the perennial flapper has had her face lifted for the third time, but this is stretching things a little too far.

Defense budget is cutting down on British tea ration. If this goes on, they may soon become teatotalers.

Appeal Aimed At Plump Ladies

Dear Pot Shots: I address my plea to all the Plump Ladies who may chance to see it.

Lady, do you think it's fair to the rest of us? Do you think you ought to do such a thing to us, your fellow citizens, people who sing "God Bless America" just as badly as you do and mean every word of it?

Do you feel you have a right to punish us this way, who are sturdy folk of your own community, perhaps even your neighbors?

Do you regard it as right to add this one more trouble to the burden we already carry in a troublesome world?

Do you think it's in the American tradition to mystify your own townsfolk, to make them wonder if they're seeing apparitions, to stab them with sharp pangs of fear at sight of an Unclassifiable Spectacle... as they walk up behind you?

In short, lady, do you think you ought to be wearing slacks with all the breadth and weight you carry? I ask you, lady.

THE UNRUFFLED WIFE?

Comrade: Once there was a wife who was calmly certain her husband wouldn't look at another woman.

Although she was fairly young and so was he. She knew he was faithful to her. She knew he wouldn't turn his head to stare at a passing blond.

She knew there wasn't a brunette within 1,000 miles who could lure him.

She knew that the reddest red-head hadn't brought a flicker of interest to her husband's eyes for years.

This wife, in short, wasn't the least bit jealous. She and her husband were shipwrecked alone on a desert island. —Missygirl

OUR BULLETIN BOARD—RE-BLESSED EVENTS

Pot Shots appreciates the cooperative spirit displayed by a number of his contributors, but we feel it necessary to proclaim a rule of policy. We don't print store revelations along the Winchellesque lines, feeling that a forthcoming blessed event is a matter about which the blessed eventees should be left to do their own boasting, if any. Dealing in futures, either wheat market or stock, is not yet one of our failings.

OH WELL, WIVES ARE BORN CYNICAL!

Dear Third Row: Some Twin Falls folks went to Treasure Island at San Francisco recently. Sitting at the cauldron, they found Mrs. Elaine Van Ausdell one row behind them. After mutual greetings she leaned over and asked earnestly:

"Tell me, is it really true that my husband is running for sheriff?" Which illustrates, I guess, that no man is a hero to his wife. It's a good thing for the average political candidate that most wives keep part of what they know to themselves, hey?

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

SERIAL STORY SUMMER THEATER

BY MILDRED WILLIAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Johnny searches Capetown for the actress, finally finds her. She is Molly Travers. He arranges a date, returns to the shop to discover Jean's car at the curb. Jean is in Capetown—now.

CHAPTER III

THE sight of Jean Reynolds' car parked before his shop brought Johnny back to reality with a lurch. In his hunt for Molly Travers he had forgotten all about the letter he meant to write to Jean, telling her their love affair was finished.

When she turned and faced him, he realized again how pretty she was. Her brown eyes clear with honesty, and her mouth soft with love and understanding. Her clothes were simple. The cameo at the throat of her white blouse was like a jewel in a satin box.

"Hi ya," she said in the exact tone she used when her cocker, Barky, returned from his airing. "You've certainly turned out a trusting soul in your old age. The door was wide open. I sold two of your silly snoods."

"Thanks," he answered mechanically. Jean was standing before him, her arms around his neck, waiting for a kiss. Johnny took her face between his two hands, looked down into the depths of her trusting eyes and despised himself.

He kissed her, but she drew back from him as if she sensed the difference in that kiss. "Johnny, what's happened?" she asked in a small, frightened voice.

Johnny sat down on the sea chest. He kept his eyes on the floor while he answered. "Jean, I came down here to think it all over."

Jean sat down beside him. She put her arm around his shoulder. The arm comforted him and gave him courage. "Think what over? Don't tell me the doctors have given you six months to live!"

"I'll live all right. It's a girl..."

HE was astounded at the relief with which Jean answered, "Naughty, naughty, Johnny. Remember you can't have any other gal. You're engaged to me. So tell her the truth."

"Sorry, Jean, it's not that easy for me." He turned and faced her for the first time. "It's all over between us, my dear, between you and me, I mean. I've met a girl who makes me see that. She's the kind of a girl dreams are made of."

Jean took the blow standing. Johnny saw her put her hand to her forehead, rumple her hair as she did when disturbed. She didn't speak for a minute. She picked up her purse and began to scramble through it.

"Here's a cigarette, Jean," he said, and lighted it for her. "Say something. Tell me I'm a fool. Tell me I'm a heel. But don't just stand there looking at me." He was angry, but he couldn't explain why.

"Shut up, Johnny," she said sternly, drawing long drags on her cigarette. "I can't think straight yet. Did you know her before you came down here?"

"No," Johnny told her. "I came down here to think. I didn't feel right about that job your dad offered me, and about us, maybe. I don't know."

She glossed over that point. "Oh, you were jugged because of exams and getting your degree. Things would have brightened in a week or so. But this girl, Johnny. Who is she? Does she love you, too?"

"She's an apprentice at the Theater. I don't know whether she loves me or not," he answered as if that were unimportant.

"Good heaven, it's not one of those things? I thought you gave up crushes the summer you were gaga about Sally Rand."

Her attitude annoyed Johnny.

Jean was standing before him, her arms around his neck, waiting to be kissed. "Johnny, what's happened?" she asked, in a small, frightened voice.

He retorted angrily. "So you're jealous? But then this is the old triangular situation. You might as well jump in your jalopy and git for home."

Jean laughed. "You flatter yourself, Don Juan. But give me credit of a little curiosity. I want to see this angel-puss who could sweep you up to the stars, sprinkle you with moonbeams, so that you don't even need Jeannie to pull up a cloud or two to tuck you in."

Johnny didn't answer her, so she shrugged, picked up her hat and said, "G'by, I'm at the Meltons if she wants to kill a few birds. Theater people always adore meeting everybody. Each one for the money; two for the show!"

"That's right. Get sarcastic. It's so becoming. Don't suppose you're going my way?"

SHE let him drive the car, just as she always did. But she kept interrupting his thoughts, with, "Look, the Arnolds have come, and there's the Willits Mack, Johnny. I can't wait to see his new wife. Sue Melton says she's a knockout."

When he slammed the door after him, she slid under the wheel and held out her hand. She looked straight at him, but he saw that her chin was quivering. He hoped she wouldn't cry. That always undid him completely.

But Jean Reynolds didn't cry. She threw the car into gear, rushed the motor while her foot was still on the clutch.

"I hate her, Johnny Regan, truly I do. But I can't fight back. I'm so used to letting you have whatever you wanted, though a dream girl is a little out of my line. But if I find out she doesn't love you, Johnny, and you're wasting all that romance, there's going to be fur flying. You'd better warn her."

Johnny wasn't angry any longer. She was seeing it the logical way. "That's right, Jean, be a sport. And you'll be in love again, yourself, pretty soon. Ours was just kid stuff."

Jean looked at him without mirth. "Don't be a half-wit. Love's not something I turn on and off like a water faucet. Ever hit the other robber over the head with the butt of his gun."

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Sooner or later, the Roosevelt administration is going to be forced to make up its mind whether it considers the anti-trust law an obstacle or an asset to its great rearmament program.

The decision will be forced on it partly, at least, by the energetic official now charged with enforcing that law—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold, head of the anti-trust division.

Arnold argues that full-capacity high-speed production of essential goods and materials cannot possibly be had until combinations which restrain trade in the interest of stabilized prices and "orderly" marketing are broken up.

He argues, further, that such combinations exist in almost every great industry—with a few important exceptions.

Despite a lot of undercover opposition, he is going ahead as fast as the men and money at his disposal permit, his record-breaking oil trust suit being only the most recent move.

ARNOLD DUE TO HIT HARDER

At the other pole is the national defense committee. No direct or indirect protest at Arnold's activities has come from top-Committeeman Stettinius or Knudsen. From lesser lights there has come a good deal of muttering; from various army and navy officers, a good deal more. This is natural enough. The committee's job is to place a lot of orders and get quick delivery, which is also what the army and navy are interested in; if anti-trust suits and investigations make manufacturers jittery and seem likely to cause delay, protests are inevitable.

So far, things have not come to a head. During the next few months, however, Arnold's shafts are going to hit various firms which make essential war materials on

Growers of New Grass Form Co-op

BURLEY, Aug. 2 (Special)—Michels grass producers in Cassia county on Monday set up a cooperative plan for marketing their seed this year, reports County Agent W. W. Palmer.

Approximately 40,000 pounds of this new "wonder" grass seed has been produced this year. Most of the growers have certified their fields and will have certified seed to offer to the public.

This new grass, which was developed a few years ago by C. A. Michels, of the University of Idaho, now gives promise as an outstanding pasture grass, hay crop particularly for dry land areas, and perhaps has some possibilities for grain production. This grass is a perennial resulting from a cross between winter wheat and western rye grass.

F. G. Butler, Albion, was named chairman of a committee of three to facilitate plans for marketing seed produced in the county. Ross Adams, Oakley, was named committeeman and Wallace Johnson, Burley, as secretary.

A very small amount of seed was available last year and cost producers between 85 cents and $1 per pound. This year, seed is to be offered at 40 cents per pound to the producer. There are approximately 40 growers of seed in the county, most of whom had only small plots of approximately one acre.

Apparent advantage of this grass over common grasses is that it is much easier to establish, since the seed is a grain, and yet the grass seems to have more palatability than other feeds. Instances are evident where livestock even prefer it to alfalfa pasture.

GERMANS SHOWER PROPAGANDA OVER BRITISH CITIES

ENGLISH PLANES BOMB CHERBOURG AIRPORT OF NAZIS

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—While German planes showered Britain with propaganda leaflets a strong force of the royal air force coastal command made a successful daylight attack on the German-occupied airfield at Cherbourg, France, the air ministry said today.

The ministry said the attack was "pressed home" in the face of extremely heavy anti-aircraft fire. Intensity of the attack was indicated in the air ministry's admission that three British bombers which participated in the raid were missing.

German planes which flew over Britain dropped leaflets containing extracts from Adolf Hitler's "peace or annihilation" speech over wide areas, especially in south and southwestern England.

Reflecting British expectation that the tempo of the war was about to be increased, authoritative quarters said large forces of Italians were concentrating on the northern Libyan frontier and carefully protected by tanks and artillery, were moving slowly toward the Egyptian border.

The first German leaflet raid on England coincided with reports that German troops were moving up the French coast from the Spanish border toward the narrow English channel where it was known that coast-carrying barges had been concentrated.

The leaflets contained merely part of the text of Hitler's reeling speech of July 19, with the heading "Last appeal to reason by Adolf Hitler."

APPROVAL GIVEN FOR BUILDING DAM

BOISE, Aug. 2 (AP)—J. L. Driscoll, vice-president of the southwestern Idaho water conservation project, said today he had received word President Roosevelt authorized expenditure of $400,000 for preliminary work on the Anderson ranch dam.

Rep. Compton I. White informed him of the presidential approval, Driscoll said. The proposed $13,000,000 dam will provide irrigation facilities for thousands of acres of land between here and Mountain Home.

AYLOR EXPLAINS 1941 AAA SETUP

BURLEY, Aug. 2 (Special)—For the third consecutive year, Cassia county farmers can expect no fundamental changes in the AAA farm program now being drafted for the 1941 crop year. A. J. Aylor, chairman of the county agricultural conservation committee, said today.

Aylor said minor changes were proposed by a conference of state AAA committeemen and officials at Washington, D. C., earlier this month, but they were designed to make the farm program easier to administer and to adapt to local conditions.

"Continued emphasis on soil conservation and farm improvement, strengthening of the ever-normal granary as agriculture's part of national defense, and greater opportunity than ever for farmers to fit the AAA farm program to individual needs are the aims for 1941," Aylor said.

Range conservation program changes for 1941 likewise will be minor. Deferred grazing will entitle ranchers to earn 100 per cent of their range-building allowance with supplemental practices, instead of 75 per cent as the 1940 program provided. Rip-rapping of live or intermittent streams, and construction of rubble masonry dams and drops for control of erosion also were recommended for the 1941 range program.

Principles of the farm program, basic practices and administration by elected farmer-committeemen will remain the same in 1941.

Recommendations made by farmers and farmer-committeemen in Idaho were considered by the Washington conference, and the proposals which will be drafted into the 1941 program generally meet problems of Idaho farmers.

Among proposals was a plan for giving credit to supplemental conservation practices in the official program when they are carried out on a farm normally planted 50 per cent or more to soil-conserving crops. Inclusion of orchard and vineyard improvement practices, and special provisions allowing counties to attack conditions which demand cooperative effort by limiting payments to specified practices.

Council Reviews Books on Health

JEROME, Aug. 2 (Special)—Miss Harriet Russell, Jerome county public health nurse, announced today that at the last meeting of Jerome county health council's executive board plans were arranged to review health books to recommend to public councils in this county, to the health library, and for reference work in the schools.

Arrangements were made to encourage school boards to carry out recommendations for improving school grounds and buildings as recommended by the health inspector, Mr. Post, Twin Falls.

Miss Russell reported that plans for the county fair booth are going forward. Miss Russell is not in her office the first two weeks in August, as she is on her vacation.

During the past month, a record of calls made has been released. There were 28 calls made on school children, 15 calls on infants and pre-school children, eight home calls, 10 on crippled children, 22 on maternity cases, seven on anti-tuberculosis cases, and 10 on persons interested in promoting public health. Ten children attended the crippled children's clinic at Twin Falls. Regular monthly well baby conference was held at Hazelton.

Among Guests at Rotary Barbecue

Looking happy as they come out of Trail Creek cabin at Sun Valley, are these Twin Falls Rotarians and Rotary Anns, among guests attending the outdoor barbecue and dance this week. Reading down, far left, are Ralph Pink, B. P. Costello, center, Harry Benoit, Mrs. Benoit and Mrs. T. O. Boyd, Jr., Brentwood, Calif.; right, Mrs. Ralph Pink, Mrs. Sidney H. Graves and S. H. Graves, president of the local Rotary club. Mrs. Boyd, former resident of Twin Falls, is a vacation guest of her mother, Mrs. P. J. Pringle. (Sun Valley Photo—Times Engraving)

"Old Curiosity Shop" Augments Antiques Show at County Fair

Shades of Charles Dickens—there'll be an "Old Curiosity Shop" at the Twin Falls county fair this year!

In addition, there will be a four-room display of Early American furniture and bric-a-brac, even more authentically detailed than last year.

Furthermore, the list of premiums has been trebled. All this is possible, because the antique department, with Mrs. Emma Blodgett as superintendent and Mrs. Everett J. Hayes as assistant, has been given an entire building for display purposes this year.

Antiques will be housed in the first building in exhibit row, as they were last year, but this year the fair board is adding quantities of shelves for the more advantageous display of heirlooms. Mrs. Blodgett said yesterday.

Two-Century Old Bed She and Mrs. Hayes began "scouting" for antiques more than a month ago and have been promised a bed, 200 years old, for the Early American bedroom, one of the suite of rooms. Inlaid walnut chairs, wash stand and dresser, 125 years old, will be other items in this room.

The side of the building, which has been partitioned into four rooms, will also reveal a kitchen, a dining room and a living room, of the times of our American ancestors. Persons owning antiques of all descriptions have been most generous in promising items to appoint the various rooms, and to equip the "Old Curiosity Shop," Mrs. Blodgett said.

Indian Lore Display A guard will be on duty at all times during the fair, Sept. 10-13, and exhibitors are assured the protection of their treasures. Mrs. Blodgett emphasized. Persons having furniture, glassware, silver or other antiques which might be used in the room arrangements, particularly, are asked to communicate with Mrs. Blodgett, 161 Pierce street, phone 1860.

In one corner of the "Old Curiosity Shop" will be a display of Idaho Indian lore, reflecting life in this country before the Gem state came into existence as such. Arrowheads, tomahawks, baskets, blankets, all many of "wild west" paraphernalia will be shown.

Every item will be visibly displayed; glassware, metal articles, earthenware will be placed on shelves; antique pictures will be hung on the walls.

One platter and one pitcher in Staffordshire have already been located for display, and more of this is wanted, according to Mrs. Blodgett.

Anything unusual in kitchen utensils or gadgets, used in the days of the old-fashioned fireplace kitchen, is especially wanted. The bid-time kitchen attracted more attention than any other room last year.

The department heads want all furniture to be at the fairgrounds by Saturday, Sept. 7, and no entries will be received in this department after noon Monday, Sept. 9, as all judging must be done that day.

Mrs. Blodgett called attention to rules for exhibitors as follows: "All articles must be 75 years old or over. Whenever possible a history should accompany each exhibit. Exhibits will be judged according to age and condition, original appearance and form. Articles that have been exhibited and won awards may be exhibited for display only. Only articles that have not won awards may compete for prizes."

Complete list of entries in the antique department follows:

Antique Palsley shawl, wool shawl, scarf, spread, quilt, miscellaneous hand-woven article, jewelry, wool picture, sampler picture, Godey picture, Currier Ives picture, intype picture, daguerrotype picture, miscellaneous picture, gun, pistol, sword, cane, legal real estate deeds or document signed by U. MUSIC PROGRAM GIVEN AT MAROA MEET Phillip Corey and several of his pupils, including Miss Sibly Spencer, Miss Gladys Huffman and Bobby Parish, presented a musical program at the Maroa Woman's club meeting yesterday afternoon at the school house.

Mrs. Viola Hannline and Mrs. Lulu Diehl were co-hostesses, and Mrs. Don Spencer was program chairman. Mrs. Lela Reed led the group in singing "America the Beautiful."

Mrs. Nan Walters and daughter, Jenny Wrenn, Wilder, and Mrs. Floyd McKee, Miss Violet Moore, Miss Huffman and Miss Spencer were guests. Members of the last half of the roll call will serve refreshments at the next meeting, to be held at the school house with Mrs. Ida Williamson as assistant hostess.

BAZAAR PLANNED BY NEEDLEWORK GROUP Plans for a fall bazaar were made by 15 members of the Bazaar club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hattie Fields. Chinese checkers formed the diversion. Mrs. Link will be hostess to the group at her home in the Rex Arms apartments the first Thursday in September. The hostess served refreshments.

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED Miss Mavis Ford and Alfred O. Wodtke, both of Twin Falls, were united in marriage by Rev. Roy E. Barnett Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage.

Mrs. Pearl Law and Mrs. Bertha Wodtke, mothers of the pair, attended the ceremony, as did several intimate friends.

Calendar

Fidelity class of the Methodist Sunday school will attend the annual picnic at Harrington fork on Rock creek this week-end.

Pickett's Progressive class of the Methodist church will meet for a basket lunch Sunday at the city park following church services. All friends of the class are invited. Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches, covered dishes and table service.

Public Market like everything else this year are 3 weeks early. The Rochester peach is ready now. Have a load in. Those fancy, improved Elberta peaches from Nampa will be ready very soon. Watch the Wand Ad column. Just got in a load of Hagerman watermelons to sell at 1 1/2 per pound. Still have a few blackberries.

Patricia Smith Will Appear in Recital Sunday

Mrs. Adelaide Anderson Ashton, Boise, will present Miss Patricia Smith in a piano recital at the Twin Falls Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Ralph B. Smith.

Mrs. Juliet Hayden Boone, 52-prano, will be assisting artist. She will be accompanied by Miss Mary Hoover.

The public is invited to attend the recital.

Five friends of Miss Smith, Miss Alta Frazier, Miss Betty Babcock, Miss June Daniels, Miss Marjory Lash and Miss Melba Holmes, will serve as ushers.

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

TOUGH LUCK

Doesn't seem to be much to write about this week. Maybe it is just as well, for the old back isn't feeling too good yet. Seems like an epidemic of trouble for us Grangers, as Brother Luther Howard of our Grange got kicked by a horse and is in the hospital. The extent of his injuries is not known as I write this, but if that horse kicked him any harder than he is pretty sore this morning. Am sure he and his family have the sincere sympathy of all at this time, for I can sort of get an idea of how things go when the boss is laid up, from watching my folks run around in circles trying to do the things that the boss must take in full stride.

The cows won't give down their milk and the water tries to run up hill and the hens go dry and the pigs get out and everybody wants to thresh at once. Gosh! Ain't nature grand?

last year strongly opposed this measure and Mr. Breckman pointed out to the committee that the various chains are very efficient in the effort to shorten the gap between the producer and the consumer. It would hardly seem fair to penalize a person because he could do a thing better than anyone else. Then why should we penalize a group of persons for doing a good job? And why should we not sock Henry Ford for making it possible for many people to own cars, or perhaps I should say to ride in them? Perhaps we Grangers should investigate the workings of our own state chain store tax. Some of these guys in office would tax anything that would yield them some more spending money, you know. Let's keep up with these matters. You know that old stuff about eternal vigilance locking the barn door before the horse is stolen, or something.

DEEP CREEK

Deep Creek Grange met at the R. A. McDonnell home last Friday night. They report a nice crowd out and a good meeting. Only general discussions were the order during the business meeting. Pomona Master (pinch hitter) Erle Jones gave a reading and Mrs. (also pinch hitter) Jones gave a very interesting talk on the Albion Normal school as it operates in the process of turning novices into trained teachers. We've come a right smart piece from the time of the old style teacher that taught for $25 a month during the winter and boarded around, spending half the time teaching and the rest of it trying to discipline the big boys. Mrs. McDonnell and Mrs. McRae were the refreshment committee.

HOLLISTER

Hollister Grange met July 24 with a fair attendance. Plans were made for the Grange picnic, which was held last Sunday. A fine crowd attended the picnic and quite handsomely disposed of the bulk of the excellent dinner, with lemonade and coffee for drinks. Many of the folks enjoyed a swim after dinner, and I guess they went home tired. But you don't mind that kind so much as what you get from working. Ask any golfer. Various committees were appointed at the Grange session to work on the fair booth, displays and sheaves. Some sheaves have been made and others are in the making. And we think the Pomona Grange officers will visit Hollister at the next meeting Aug. 14.

OTHERS TONIGHT

Filer, Lucerne, Northview, Excelsior and Pleasant Valley also meet this evening. Mountain Rock meets next Wednesday night and Hansen met Thursday night of this week. If some of you folks don't send me some Grange news, I'll sever diplomatic relations or something. And don't be afraid to tell me about the picnics you've been having. I'll keep mum.

A. HARVESTER.

CEDAR DRAW

Cedar Draw Grange met at the school house last Friday night, with a fair crowd out. Was unable to contact anyone who could tell me about the meeting. Better luck next time.

FAIRVIEW

Fairview Grange meets tonight. The lecturer's hour will be given over to the practice of the program that Fairview is to take to Kimberly Aug. 12. Will everyone that is to have a part please be on hand. And make your plans to go with the bunch to Kimberly.

CHAIN TAXES

Just saw on the Grange Initiative, a book that all good Grange members should be familiar with, that the Grange, and I quote, "United by the strong and faithful tie of agriculture, we mutually resolve to labor for the good of our order, our country and mankind." And I was pleased to see where our National Grange Representative Fred Breckman appeared before the senate sub-committee of the ways and means committee, to oppose the Patman bill. This bill seeks to impose a tax on chain stores, a heavy tax I should have said. The National Grange in session at Peoria, Ill.

Ewes Net $2.06

Not on full home weight for the ewe shipment sold at Salt Lake City will be $2.06 per hundredweight, offices of the county agent announced today.

The 175 ewes weighed 22,390 pounds and showed 2.2 per cent average shrink. Four shippers will receive shares in $461.23 net proceeds. There were 125 ewes sold at $3 per hundred and 50 at $2, records show.

SIX DIE IN CRASH

PATTEE, N. H., Aug. 2 (UP)—Six men were killed today when a truck owned by a Baltimore, Md., electrical contracting firm was struck by a Boston & Maine railroad passenger train at Blackwater crossing near here.

Mac Probes Into Story of Conn Signing With Louis

BY HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—I don't suppose a man in his right mind or even in the kind of mind I have, should ever allow himself to be disturbed by happenings in the boxing business. One might just as well get upset over what goes on in the National Association of Ambulance Drivers or the International Federation of Second Story Workers and Safe Blowers.

Just the same, my typewriter would think me less of a man than it already does if I didn't yank off its cover, straighten out its ribbon, and make it say something in protest against the reported premature signing of Billy Conn for a heavyweight championship match with Joe Louis.

With Conn still in training for a fight with Bob Foster he is said to have been hustled off to a side room set down at a desk equipped with pen, ink and paper and engaged to do battle with Louis late in the summer. What kind of business is that? Any ethical monkey would shy away from it, because it would sound too much like monkey business to him. But it has been done by Promoter Mike Jacobs, Conn, and his manager, whose name I never can remember.

I don't blame Conn and what's-his-name so much, but for the life of me I can't understand what Jacobs is thinking about. As a matter of fact, all I can understand is that he must not be thinking. Had he given a thought to the public's reaction to this whole thing? Does he realize that, in effect, he has gone on record as saying he believes Conn will beat Pastor?

Evidently not, because Jacobs is a shrewd operator and not given to doing things to hurt his own business, and this is bound to. Why should fight fans pay money to see a bout which the promoter feels will be so one-sided he gaily goes ahead and arranges a future match for one of the principals? The logical thing for them to do is to save their money until the title match comes off in September.

Of course, Conn may not have actually been signed. No one I know has laid his eyes on the document. Even so, the promoter has allowed reports of such a contract to go unsigned, and the damage has been done.

COST OF LIVING REGISTERS GAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reported a higher trend in living costs today.

A relatively sharp increase in food costs and a slight rise in rents, Miss Perkins said, sent living costs up 0.7 per cent between March 15 and June 15 in 33 of the nation's principal cities.

Food costs increased 2.8 per cent and rents 0.1 per cent. All other groups, including the budget, clothing, fuel, electricity and ice, house-furnishings and miscellaneous items, showed slight decreases.

"The level of living costs in mid-June was 1.9 per cent above a year earlier; 10.7 per cent above the level in June 1933 and 18.1 per cent below December, 1929," Miss Perkins said.

Russia's newest transport airplane, L-760, has a wing span of 260 feet, a height of 25 feet, a length of 112 feet, and a gross weight of 45 tons.

Girl Recovers From Snake's Bite During Religious Rites

ADEL, Ga., Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Deputy Sheriff W. A. Clements said today five-year-old Letitia Ann Rowan, bitten by a Copperhead snake during a backwoods religious rite, had been found alive and was "doing fine" in a "miracle" recovery without medical treatment.

Clements said the girl's father, Albert Rowan, part-time Holiness preacher, who is being held in jail, directed searchers to where his wife was hiding the child to prevent her becoming "hexed" by a licensed doctor.

The child and her mother were found on a farm beyond Lakeland, Ga., and brought back to the Rowan sharecropper home a few miles north of Adel. This morning Letitia Ann was reported playing in a cotton patch in perfect health except that her snake-bitten hand and arm still were slightly swollen.

Apparent recovery of the child strengthened the cultists in their belief that suffering the bite of a deadly snake is an admirable way of showing one's religious fervor.

As news of Letitia Ann's return spread through the countryside, members of the sect planned a "victory meeting" in old Possum Trot church, a tumbledown little house of worship where the snake ceremonies have been held many times before.

Clements said he and Sheriff W. T. Doughty would go after the girl and bring her into town so authorities could decide what disposition to make of the cases of Rowan and Rev. W. T. Lipham, itinerant Holiness pastor who "annointed" Rowan to conduct snake rites. Both were held on general charges.

The child was bitten last Thursday by a deadly Copperhead during a religious orgy in which both her 36-year-old father and her mother, Letitia Rowan, 32, participated.

A physician who saw Letitia Ann three days after she had been bitten but who was not permitted to treat her said she was near death and only immediate hospital attention could save her.

"Why I've been bitten by snakes more times than I can remember," exclaimed Rev. Lipham.

Rev. Lipham and the parents belong to the extreme wing of the Holiness church which believes in a vengeful, omnipresent God and places its chief emphasis in blind faith in his inscrutable goodness. The extreme communists believe in actively demonstrating this faith by submitting themselves to the fangs of rattlesnakes and copper-heads. Those who die of the venom are believed to have insufficient faith.

Willkie-McNary Naturals to Win, Says Burley Man

BOISE, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Nomination of Wendell Willkie as Republican presidential candidate has brought word "to the youth of America that old guard control has been broken," C. W. Thomas, Burley attorney told Ada county Young Republicans last night.

He said Willkie and Sen. Charles L. McNary are "naturals to win."

GEE, RED, I FEEL AS NERVOUS AS A WIND-BLOWN GATE!

YOU HOLDUM FOOT STILL OR ME GETTUM GOOSE GREASE ON PANTS!

WELL, RANDY, RECKON YOU GOT A RIGHT TO FEEL A BIT SCARED, BUT GET THEM CLOTHES ON--TH' JUDGE IS WANTIN'!

WASH TUBS

SO! YOU'VE STUMBLE INTO MY LITTLE TRAP!

IT IS OF NO AVAIL, THAT PHONY ACCENT, EVEN WITH THAT NOSE, I RECOGNIZE YOU!

OKAY, SISTER, AND WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

BOOTS

EGYPT! I THOUGHT GO TO EGYPT? I THOUGHT WE WERE GOING BACK INTO THE TWENTIETH CENTURY!

I THOUGHT GO TO EGYPT? BUT SOMETHING'S GONE WRONG WITH THE TIME-MACHINE!

WHEN I'M ABOUT TO COOK IN THIS TIN SUIT, I COULD USE A DRINK!

NOW AIN'T THIS SWELL! NO WATER!

WHAT SH'LL WE DO, DOCTOR?

I'LL POST A NOTE HERE FOR AN PART WOULD BE LOOKING FOR US--THEN WE'LL TRY TO FIND THE NILE!

ALLEY

DID THE LASHLEYS GO AND LEAVE YOU STRANDED?

WE CAN HANDLE OUR OWN PROBLEMS!

NOW WAIT A MINUTE, DON'T GO OFF THE DEEP END, I MIGHT BE ABLE TO HELP YOU!

HELP US WHAT? STARVE TO DEATH?

I THINK WE MISUNDERSTOOD EACH OTHER ON THE BOAT, LETS ARE YOU TRYING TO GRIND?

SAY--WHAT KIND OF AN AXE ARE YOU TRYING TO GRIND?

COME INTO MY OFFICE, AND IF YOU FEEL LIKE TAKING A SWING AT ME, NONE OF US WILL FALL OFF THE PIER!

RECKLES

HAVE ANOTHER SPOT OF PORT, SIR CECIL, AND WE'LL SETTLE DOWN TO A GOOD LONG CHAT--SPEAKING OF BIG GAME HUNTING, I MUST TELL YOU OF A TIGER HUNT IN INDIA THAT

TIGER HUNTING IS CHILD'S PLAY, DON'T YOU KNOW! NEVER COULD SEE ANYTHING SPORTING IN SITTING ON AN ELEPHANT'S BACK AND PEPPERING AWAY AT A STRIPED CAT! THE MOST DANGEROUS OF ALL BIG GAME IS THE GLADANG--HIS CHARGE IS MORE FEROCIOUS THAN THE ELEPHANT'S, AND QUICKER THAN A COBRA'S THRUST! AH--IF YOU'VE NEVER HUNTED THE GLADANG, MAJOR, I MUST TELL YOU ABOUT IT!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

FURTHERMORE, HE NEVER HEARD OF ONE, SIR CECIL.

IF I WERE A BOSS, I'D BE MORE PLEASANT WITH THE MEN--I'D SPEAK AS I PASSED--GIVE THEM A SMILE, WITH THIS GLAVY I NEVER FEEL SECURE AN' SO YOU DON'T GET CARELESS AN' DON'T GET FIRED!

I LIKE HIS SYSTEM--WHEN YOU GET FIRED BY ONE O' THEM GMLIN, JOKE-TELLIN' BOSSSES, IT'S HIS FAULT FER LULLIN' YOU INTO A SENSE OF SECURITY, AND YOU GET CARELESS! WITH THIS GLAVY I NEVER FEEL SECURE AN' SO YOU DON'T GET CARELESS AN' DON'T GET FIRED!

HE'LL POP THE QUESTION TODAY!

OH, AUNTIE! THINK SO? THE LUNCH DOES LOOK GOOD.

IT'S GRAND! BUT WHAT'S THIS YOU'RE TAKING IN THE THERMOST?

IT'S ICED TEA, HE LOVES IT!

HE WON'T LOVE THIS, LET ME DASH OUT FOR LIPTON'S TEA.

LIPTON'S IS BETTER, I KNOW, BUT I'VE BEEN ECONOMIZING LATELY.

LIPTON'S IS ECONOMICAL. IT'S SO FULL FLAVORED YOU USE LESS TEA PER GLASS.

LATER... SO LIPTON'S HIT THE SPOT, DID IT?

OH, AUNTIE, HE SAID LET'S ALWAYS HAVE LIPTON'S IN OUR NEW HOME, AND AT 1/2 CENT A GLASS YOU BET WE WILL!

RED

NOW LET'S SEE--WHERE DO WE BEGIN? YOU BEB, I NEVER MARRIED ANYONE BEFORE BUT MY WIFE--HEH, HEH!

DON'T THEY JOIN HANDS FIRST, JUDGE?

HOLDUM HANDS, THEY ALREADY DO THAT BEFORE!

WASH TUBS

FIR, I TAKE OFF THE NOSE, SECON, I MAKE FOR CERTAIN THAT YOUR SAD DEPARTURE FROM OUR HAPPY WORLD LOOK LIKE AN ACCIDENT!

I SEE, A PLANE CRASH, FOR EXAMPLE, WHILE YOU DROP SAFELY TO EARTH BY PARACHUTE.

THAT IS THE GENERAL IDEA, MY BRAVE AND 'ANDSOME G-MAN, BUT I DESIRE A TRIFLE MORE ALTITUDE, IF YOU PLEASE.

BOOTS

THIS IS REALLY MUCH MORE ELEMENTARY THAN I HAD ANY REASON TO EXPECT!

AHHH! NOW ALL I HAVE TO DO IS COVER THIS OPENING WITH STRAW AND I CAN SUP IN AND OUT WITH NO ONE BEING THE WISER!

ALLEY

THE NILE? WHAT? THAT?

IT'S A RIVER WHOSE WATERS HAVE BEEN THE LIFE OF THIS ANCIENT LAND FOR CENTURIES.

WHERE IS THIS RIVER? HOW WILL WE FIND IT?

 Cricket infestation goes on after two weeks, and is something no one can get used to. The story of the week comes from Mrs. A. M. Ross. She had a mouse trap set in a corner of the kitchen. Hearing a click she investigated to find a large cricket neatly cut in two.
 Mrs. T. Carl Haycock and daughters left Sunday for their Utah home after visiting Mrs. Haycock's mother, Mrs. Hugh Williams, who accompanied them as far as Salt Lake City.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Peck and Jackie have returned to their home after spending several months at Rowland.
 Harry Hein, Berkeley, Calif., is in camp overseeing the installation of a large pump at Gray Rock mining company shaft.
 Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Van Arsdale, Berwyn, Ill., left for their home after a visit with Mrs. Carolina Clareus, sister of Mrs. Van Arsdale.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Harmon and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hicks and Kit McBride were at Oakley for the "24" celebration.
 Mrs. Dave Marquardson was hostess to Thursday bridge, with Mrs. J. P. Gills guest of honor. Scores were made by Mrs. Carl Sprague, Mrs. Lena Dougherty, Patsy and Mrs. Vida Green.
 Mrs. Carl Sprague had as week-end guests from Mountain City Mr. and Mrs. George Collins and Marilyn.
 Motoring from the Earl Prunty ranch, Charleston, Sunday were Priscilla, Franklin, Richard and Corky Prunty, Chuck Thomas, Bob Brown and Dave Bouney. They were the inspiration for an impromptu dance in the Commercial club.
 Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bailey and son, Long Beach, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wilson, Hong Kong, are visiting friends. Mr. Wilson is in the U. S. naval service and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Bailey are daughters of the late J. D. Goodwin, who mined in Jarbridge for about 30 years prior to his death here in the spring.

BEAVERS CUT CIVILIZATION
 RED DEER, Alta. (UP)—Apparently disgusted with civilization, Red Deer's famous "lame" beaver colony is leaving to seek greener and wilder fields. This Alberta township has long been known as the only settlement having beavers living in their natural state within its limits.

Congressmen May Take Long Recess
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (UP)—Administration leaders were reported today to be planning a congressional recess from Oct. 1 to about Nov. 15 to permit candidates for re-election an opportunity to campaign.
 It was said once the excess profits tax bill is disposed of congress will have little to do. Leaders were said to be eager to avoid agitation for action on house-approved amendments to the Wagner labor act and other New Deal measures.

BRITISH CLAIM GERMAN PORT OF HAMBURG IN RUINS

AIRPLANES DROP BOMBS OVER 100 NAZI OBJECTIVES

LONDON, Aug. 2 (UP)—The great German port of Hamburg is practically in ruins and thousands of tons of bombs have been dropped on Bremen, including dockyards and the famous Fockewulf aircraft factory, authoritative quarters said today.

The royal air force was described as having bombed well over 100 German cities and towns with military objectives.

It was said "irreparable damage" had been inflicted by RAP raids on Duisberg, Dusseldorf, Essen and Westphalia, the great German centers in the Ruhr had been struck day and night.

As German newspapers clamored Britain was attacking non-military objectives, authoritative sources here said that attacks had been aimed at such objectives as aircraft factories and the shipbuilding yards and docks in Bremen.

"Oil refineries, munition and supply factories and docks in Hamburg were being pulverized time and time again," it was said.

"The huge power station at Leipzig had been constantly bombed, likewise military objectives at Dortmund, Wernherode, Cologne and naval objectives at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven."

HANSEN

John Lauterbach will leave Sunday for Washington with his uncle, H. G. Lauterbach, who is leaving on the special train which takes the national guard. John is visiting from his home in Red Wood, Minn.

Women from Hansen attending the women's summer vacation camp are Mrs. W. A. Colner, Mrs. J. C. Osgood, Mrs. M. A. Robinson and Mrs. W. McMaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, Yakima, Wash., brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Clarence Houchins, arrived for a visit last week-end. With them is their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Crawford, Yakima. Mrs. Williams is a sister of Lloyd Jones, Twin Falls, who with 25 other relatives and friends joined in a lawn picnic Sunday honoring the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Fornwalt motored to Easley Sunday to join young people of Kimberly Christian conference. Their daughter, Dorothy, who attended throughout the week, returned with them.

Betty Mae Jones, Twin Falls, and her cousin, Viola Williams, Yakima, Wash., spent the week-end with Betty Mae's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wiseman.

Premium Lists Prepared For Cassia County Fair

BURLEY, Aug. 2 (Special)—Premium lists for the 1940 Cassia county fair are now off the press and 1,500 of them will be mailed to prospective exhibitors in Cassia and Minidoka counties within the next week, Secretary B. F. Mahoney said today.

Those failing to receive a premium list may secure one by calling the Cassia county fair office, No. 307, or by mailing a card. Exhibits this year will be in charge of the following superintendents who have been selected by the Cassia fair board: Livestock department, W. W. Palmer, general superintendent; dairy cattle, L. C. Freer; horses, Fred Martin; swine, Edwin W. Ames; sheep, M. H. Manning; poultry and rabbits, Kenneth Shrader; Boys' 4-H club work, Roy Wilson, general superintendent; beef, E. A. Otley; dairy, Lloyd Blake; swine, Glen Berryman; sheep, Dr. Wain Jensen; poultry, Vinial Straw; forestry, Miss Mae Hammer; livestock, Joseph Perry.

Livestock exhibitors are urged to make their entries early, Mahoney said, as stall space is limited. Last year the barns were so crowded that it was necessary to tie some of the stock outside. Entry blanks can now be secured at the fair office on the grounds, and at W. W. Palmer's office in the Cassia county courthouse. Entries for livestock will be received up to Tuesday, Sept. 3, at 10 a. m. and the stock will be received at the fair grounds Tuesday, Sept. 3, till 1 p. m.

Superintendents of the farm products department are the following: General superintendent, C. W. Daigh; community exhibits, Frank Peint; beets, B. D. McCulloch; potatoes and onions, C. W. Daigh; vegetables and fruits, Joseph P. Payne; grains and grasses, C. W. Daigh; and bees and honey, Frank Beach.

Entries are to be made in this department Tuesday, Sept. 3, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. At present six Granges have made reservations for booths. Granges planning on an exhibit who have not yet reserved a booth should do so in the near future. It is the desire of the fair board to have at least 12 Grange booths this year.

Superintendents in the household department are Mrs. Thomas Taylor, Jr., general superintendent; cooking, Mrs. Mary Harding; canning, Mrs. Sam Bulkeley; Kerr contest, Miss Margaret Hill; clothing and household art, Mrs. D. A. Taylor; flowers, Mrs. H. N. Van Hook; applied and pictorial art, Mrs. Charles Haigh; schools, Mrs. Florence Haigh; junior girls department, Mrs. Minnie Jibson; girls' 4-H club work, Mrs. Minnie Jibson, general superintendent; clothing, Miss Sue Higgins and Miss Emma Aschcraft.

SOVIET WARNS ON SPREAD OF WAR

BY HENRY SHAPIRO
MOSCOW, Aug. 2 (UP)—Premier Vlaslav Molotov warned the supreme Soviet today that the European "imperialist war" might yet spread to the western hemisphere and become a world conflagration.

Aliming sharp blows at the United States and Great Britain but reporting good relations with Germany and Italy, the Soviet premier declared that:

1. There was "nothing good to say" about relations with the United States, which is "assisting" Britain but which "has not been pleased" by recent Soviet successes. But, he added, "This does not interest us."

2. It is difficult to expect improved relations with Britain "after all the hostile acts" committed by Britain against Russia, but recent developments possibly "reflect a desire on the part of Britain to improve relations."

"Feeling of Security"
3. The German-Russian treaty is not only of economic significance but "has assured Germany of a calm feeling of security" in the east. (This appeared to be a blow at any British hope of future aid from Russia or a split between Russia and Germany.)

4. Relations with Italy are improved and an exchange of views between the two governments has revealed "that there is every possibility" of a mutual understanding in foreign policy and extension of trade relations. (Such a development would eliminate speculation as to conflict between Italy and Russia in the Balkans.)

5. Relations with Japan are normal and may be further improved.

No End in Sight
6. There is no end of the European war—in which Russia intends to remain neutral—in sight, but "the imperialist conflict may spread the war to the western hemisphere and the question of re-distribution of colonies—Dutch and Belgian colonies—may turn the war into a world conflagration." (The Pan American republics meeting at Havana set up machinery for preventing exchange of ownership of European-owned colonies in the Americas.)

The Soviet premier also discussed briefly the relations of Russia with smaller neighbors as a result of acquisitions of the Baltic states and of ceded Rumanian territory which the parliament met to welcome formally into the Soviet union.

Trade relations with Finland and Sweden can be improved to the benefit of all concerned, he said, but he warned Finland against some Finnish elements which he said were hostile to Russia.

He expressed hope for good relations with Rumania in the future and said relations with Turkey had changed substantially (apparently for the better) despite some hostile acts by Turkey.

GAS GETS ODOR
WORLAND, Wyo. (UP)—The Wyoming Gas company figured its gas didn't smell enough—that is, from a safety standpoint. So it odorized the fuel with calodoran. Residents are complaining.

Welfare Head Envisions Shifts to Aid Hospitals

BLACKFOOT, Ida., Aug. 2 (UP)—Welfare workers in the division of public assistance have devised a plan while here to study and prepare the biennial budget of the state hospitals here and at Orofino, for presentation at the next meeting of the legislature.

Applicable parts of the program have already been in practice for the past nine months at the hospital in Blackfoot and at the Nampa colony, Afton said.

Compiles Data
Dr. J. O. Cromwell, medical supervisor of the Blackfoot unit, regularly makes use of welfare workers associated with the division of public assistance in investigation and compiling data relative to the economic and social conditions of a patient when preparing his parole or admission, the commissioner revealed.

State-wide location of assistance units makes this work available with a minimum of travel and with no expense to the state.

is charged to the institution at the prevailing wholesale market.

Present cost of operating the institution is about 80 cents per patient per day. This is on par with the minimum national average but is in severe contrast of the two to ten dollars per day demanded by private hospitals.

During an inspection tour of the buildings and immediate grounds, Mr. Afton stated the general cleanliness and neatness of the place had been improved even over the excellent condition in which he found them during his routine inspection tour last winter.
