Draft on Wealth Urged to Go With Conscription Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The senate refused today to consider an amendment to the conscription bill to draft wealth as well as men. The amendment, offered by Sen. J. H. Pender, D. La., was thrown out on a point of order by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D. La., who contended that it was designed to raise revenue and therefore should originate in the house.

The point was sustained by a vote of 54 to 23.

In an angry dispute before the vote, Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, D. Mo., accused the senate of being ready to vote to conscript the "blood and brawn" of the country's youth, but to "let the wealth of the country go scot free."

"The senate may dodge this today," he shouted, "but there will be a bill—the excess profits tax measure over here from the house soon and senators who dodge today will be put on record then."

By LOUIS J. SCHAFFLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Sen. J. H. Pender, D. Okla., told the senate today it would be "only fair" to amend the conscription bill so as to draft wealth as well as manpower in event of war.

Lee sponsored a provision which would permit the President to conduct a census of American wealth and require individuals to contribute to the war treasury. He said the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have called for equal treatment of money and manpower in times of great national stress.

Citing news reports of testimony given by army and navy officials on the $5,000,000,000 supplemental defense bill, Lee said it was "absurd" to allow manufacturers to refuse defense contracts because they are dissatisfied with the 8 per cent profit allowed them.

"What would happen to a soldier who refused to serve unless he had a raise in pay?" Lee asked. "Yet manufacturers are willing to have men drafted to protect their wealth."

Require Lending
Lee's amendment would authorize the President, in time of war or imminence of war, to require citizens to lend money to the government in proportion to their means. The government, in return, would give the citizens bonds bearing 1 per cent interest.

Modern wars are expensive, Lee said, and the government's financing will not suffice. Great Britain already is experiencing difficulty in paying for the current conflict, he said.

At the close of the World war, this country's war-time loan system, though conducted with "balloons, pretty girls, Boy Scouts and women soldiers," was breaking down, Lee contended. The last war bond issue was over-subscribed only 16 1/2 per cent, compared to more than 200 per cent for the first issue, he added.

Ashurst Asks Revision
Sen. Henry F. Ashurst, D. Ariz., asked today to revise his amendment to conscript income before conscription is going.

"If we are going to conscript men we should conscript wealth," Ashurst said, "but I ask the senator to improve his amendment to conscript income first."

Ashurst said 23,000 persons became millionaires during the World war.

"I believe the draft is constitutional in peace as well as in war," Ashurst continued, "I believe in conscription."

REFUGEE SHIP IN SAFE TERRITORY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Officials believed today that the Army transport, American Legion, with 307 war refugees, had passed safely through the mine-infested waters off the north coast of Scotland.

The state department said it had had no word. The war and navy departments declined to give information, but it was believed one or the other was in communication with the boat.

Unofficial calculations indicated the American Legion, bound for New York from Petsamo, Finland, had passed Cape Wrath, Scotland, yesterday.

Her plight resulted from the mine fields of the belligerents which now blanket the north Atlantic from Iceland to Scotland.

GERMANS EXTEND LINES OF BATTLE

LONDON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Germany has extended air warfare to Irish waters and is launching new submarine attacks. It was believed tonight, in an effort to intensify her attempted blockade of Great Britain, that German air activity off the Irish coast and in the Irish sea.

Four attacks are known to have been made on vessels close to Ireland in the last few days. Other vessels, it was reported, have had narrow escapes from German planes operating in this area.

This has been combined with reports that submarines are now engaged in more intense activity against shipping to and from Britain.

CABINET LEADERS PONDER PLAN TO TRANSFER SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Attorney General Robert H. Jackson said today he and the heads of the war, navy and state departments had discussed legal questions involving American acquisition of naval and air bases in the Atlantic.

An official justice department spokesman said this included the legality of transfer to Great Britain of overage U. S. destroyers.

"We discussed legal questions involved in the proposal and procedure for American acquisition of offshore naval and air bases along the Atlantic ocean," was Jackson's brief statement on the two-hour and a half conference.

The justice department spokesman then explained the matter of transfer of old World War U. S. destroyers to the British empire was involved. This seemed to be the first official indication of a connection between the controversial transfer of destroyers and the non-controversial matter of acquiring defense bases in the western hemisphere.

These Leaders Confer

The conferees were Jackson; Acting Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson; Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson; Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff; Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations; and Great Hackworth, state department legal advisor.

Jackson refused to amplify his statement or explain what naval and air bases were discussed during the conversation. Likewise, he failed to clarify the status of the negotiations with Great Britain.

Jackson's announcement did not specifically say that the matter of acquiring bases was limited to British bases. This led to conjecture as to whether western hemisphere strategic points other than those held by Great Britain and Canada might be involved in the discussions.

May Seek Dutch Base

There have been rumors the United States might negotiate for naval or air bases at Curacao, a Dutch Caribbean island which is on the southern passage to the Panama canal and is a great oil refining center.

There are numerous other European-held islands and regions on the Atlantic seaboard that might be regarded as strategic defense areas by the United States. These include the French islands at the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, Miquelon and Guadeloupe; the French-owned Caribbean islands of Martinique and Guadeloupe; the Dutch island of Aruba, near Curacao; and the Dutch, British and French Guianas on the South American coast, as well as numerous smaller islands.

Among the key British western hemisphere possessions on which U. S. military authorities would like to establish outposts are Trinidad, Jamaica, Bermuda and Newfoundland.

143-Year-Old Ship Ordered Commissioned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The navy today ordered the recommissioning of the 143-year-old frigate Constellation, making good the week-old promise of President Roosevelt to a veteran of the Spanish American war.

The Constellation, called the "Yankee race horse," when she carried the battle flag of the infant United States republic, will receive her "in commission" pennant Saturday on the same date her sister frigate, the Constitution, is placed back in "active" service at Boston.

The Constellation will be recommissioned at Newport, R. I.

Mr. Roosevelt's pledge was given to Lieut. John Davis, retired, who was recently "recommissioned" himself when the navy called him from retirement to command the Constellation. He made his plea for his present ship while Mr. Roosevelt was inspecting defense work at Newport last week and received the chief executive's promise.

Joint Canadian-U. S. Activity Looms Against Foreign Agents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Justice department officials today expected that coordination of counter-espionage activities will be an integral part of the United States-Canadian joint defense program under the plan announced by President Roosevelt last Saturday.

Major object of such a unification would be to prevent the possibility of a "fifth column" in Canada, directed from the United States, or one in the United States run from the Dominion.

Mr. Roosevelt said a permanent joint defense board will be created made up of four or five members representing each government.

First step in creation of an international system of fifth column control would be closer cooperation between the federal bureau of investigation and the Canadian royal mounted police, it was believed. The second would be joint control by the justice department and Canadian law enforcement agencies of foreign agents, propagandists and subversive organizations as they might affect defense of the western hemisphere.

Trotsky Near Death After Mexico Attack

By EDWARD P. MORGAN
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Leon Trotsky lay close to death today as physicians sought to save the famed Russian revolutionist from brain injuries inflicted by an assassin he had thought to be his friend.

Trotsky's condition was becoming rapidly worse despite an emergency operation. Efforts were made to rush an eminent brain specialist from the United States but it was feared there was little chance that a physician could arrive in time or that medical science could save Trotsky's life.

The latest bulletin from the Green Cross hospital where Trotsky was rushed after the attack late yesterday said his condition was most grave.

Assault in Hospital
Trotsky's assailant lay in the same hospital, having been severely wounded by Harold Robbins, head guard at the fortified Trotsky villa in the Coyoacan suburb where the attack was made.

The assailant, who had been given the freedom of the villa, was known as Frank Jackson, an American, and was said to have an American wife. But he told Gen. Manuel Nunez, police chief, at the hospital, he was Jacques Mornard van den Dreschd, 36, born at Tehran, Persia, of Belgian parents, a newspaper man by profession.

It was reported Dreschd had disagreed violently with Trotsky in recent weeks on the "Fourth International" which Trotsky had organized to oppose the "Stalinist" Third International.

Police said they were questioning Sylvia Ageloff, 30, a blond with blue eyes, reported to be a native Russian and a naturalized American. It was reported she and Dreschd met in Paris two years ago.

Ever since his arrival here in 1937 from Norway on his exile, Trotsky has had himself guarded. Since May 24, when 20 men armed with machine guns burst into the grounds of his villa and fired into his bedroom without wounding him, the guard has been strongly reinforced.

Yesterday afternoon Trotsky was in his study. He had been busy on an autobiography and on his propaganda attacks on the present Russian regime, which he regards as having betrayed the ideals of his collaborator Lenin, and in aiding prosecutors, to prepare their case against his last assassins.

Hear Cries From Study
Elsewhere in the house were Trotsky's wife, their grandson, three bodyguards and Trotsky's secretary, Joseph Hanson.

Late in the afternoon cries were heard from the study. The guards and the secretary ran in, led by Robbins. They found Trotsky wounded, lying on the blood stained carpet. Standing over him, a pistol in his hand and a raincoat on his arm, was Dreschd.

The pistol had not been used. Dreschd had attacked Trotsky with a sort of cut-down alpenstock. It had a head six or seven inches long. One end of the head was a sharp point, the other was clawed like a hammer. In a secret pocket of the rain coat was a new dagger, eight to 10 inches longer.

Suffers Head Wounds
Robbins and Secretary Hanson grabbed at Dreschd. Dreschd fought but did not fire his pistol. He suffered head wounds and Secretary Hanson an injured wrist.

"Let him live!" Trotsky cried as the men fought, and then he became unconscious.

Looking about after Dreschd had been overcome, the guards found Dreschd had taken the receiver from Trotsky's telephone. The guards suggested his plan had been to kill Trotsky quietly with the alpenstock. His shift cut down to about a foot in length, or the dagger, and use the pistol to shoot his way out if he were discovered.

It was only because he was completely trusted he was able to get his weapons into the villa. Other visitors had been searched since the May attack.

Late FLASHES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The house military affairs committee rejected today 15 to 3, an amendment that would postpone any draft until war is declared. Chairman Andrew J. May refused to say who sponsored the amendment.

It adopted, 11 to 4, an amendment raising the army base pay from $21 to $30 a month with corresponding increases in higher grades. It also eliminated any provision for home defense units. This means youths from 18 to 21 and men from 45 to 65 could not be drafted without further legislation. These two provisions correspond to the senate bill.

MURDER BLAMED ON SECT LEADER

NORTH WINDHAM, Me., Aug. 21 (U.P.)—A self-styled ordained minister of Jehovah's Witnesses was ordered held without bail today for hearing Friday on a murder charge in connection with a slaying which climaxed a series of violent outbreaks involving the sect in Maine this summer.

Arthur F. Cox, 49, of Philadelphia, who said his conscience was clear with him "and with God," was silent during a hearing at Portland before District Judge Robert W. De Wolfe regarding slaying of Deputy Sheriff Dean Pray here yesterday. No plea was entered.

Cox and the material witnesses had been under heavy guard at Portland jail during the night. The entire protest he had shot Pray in self-defense.

2 WORKERS HURT BY TIME BOMB

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—What apparently was a time bomb exploded in a mail bag at a downtown postoffice substitution today and injured two postal workers.

"They suffered powder burns on their arms when the explosive went off in a mail bag they were handling. The bag was torn to shreds and some mail was destroyed."

DEMOCRATS, GOP STAGE MEETINGS HERE ON FRIDAY

County central committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties will meet, as required by law, and organize at sessions which will be held at noon Friday, it was announced this afternoon.

County chairman for the Democrats is Russell Wilson, Kimberly, while Carl E. Ritchey, Twin Falls, heads the Republican group. Wilson, who has been county chairman for several years, has indicated that he would not accept the office again.

The Republicans will meet in the probate court rooms at the county court house while the Democrats will gather in the same building but in the district court.

All precinct committeemen, elected at the primary election, are required to attend the respective sessions. Aside from organization, other business which may come up will be disposed of.

Organization of the two committees in the county actually marks the start of the campaign for the November election.

Records show that at the present time Thomas M. Robertson, Jr., is secretary-treasurer of the Democratic committee while John Harvey is secretary for the Republicans.

ASSESSORS GIVE STATE REPORTS

BOISE, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Reports of assessors from southwestern Idaho counties were heard today by the state board of equalization as the board continued its study of the state assessment rolls and prepared to make recommendations for the 1941 fiscal period.

Byron Deffenbach, state tax commissioner, said the outstanding development in the board meeting since it started more than a week ago was the revelation that 341,000 acres of land have been lost from assessment rolls because of delinquent tax sales.

Deffenbach added that other reports showed Idaho now has 19 national forests totaling 19,000,000 acres which surpasses the forest reserve area of any other state.

In informal discussions, the assessors discussed proposed legislation to be presented to the 1941 legislature, including possible changes in methods of registering automobile ownership titles.

Deffenbach said "permanent action" of the board would be taken Saturday and the meeting would end Monday.

5 INDICTED FOR COASTAL MURDER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, imprisoned New York racketeer, Benjamin (Bugle) Siegel and three others were under indictment today for "taking care" of Harry Schachter nine months ago in gangland fashion.

Also indicted were Champ Segal, Hollywood barber; Frank Carbo, Seattle and New York fight promoter; and Emanuel (Manny) Weiss, one of Lepke's most trusted assistants. These three have not been arrested. Siegel, who had been living in a 35-room mansion, playing golf at an exclusive club and acquiring a reputation as a playboy, was held without bail.

Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, vice-president of Murder, Inc., recently discovered New York killers-for-hire syndicate, and Triggerman Al Taubman told the grand jury Lepke personally had ordered Schachter killed because he had threatened to talk. They were flown here from New York to testify.

FORESTS DRY IN NORTHERN IDAHO

WALLACE, Ida., Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Forest service officials today termed north Idaho woods "explosively dry."

They said the fire danger was greater than at any time in the last five years. Smoke from other fires reduced visibility of lookouts, adding to control difficulties.

Two hundred and fifty CCC enrollees from the Coeur d'Alene and St. Joe national forests passed through Wallace yesterday en route to fight fires in the Lolo forest near Superior, Mont.

COMMANDER COMING

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida., Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Program Chairman J. Matt Johnson announced today Raymond J. Kelly, Detroit, national commander of the American Legion, would deliver the principal address at the four-day Idaho department Legion convention that starts here Saturday. Kelly will speak Monday, Aug. 26.

O'MAHONEY CAPTURES WYOMING NOMINATION

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 21 (U.P.)—U. S. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, who fought President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization plan then seconded his nomination for a third term, was renominated for a second six-year term on the basis of mounting returns today in Wyoming's Tuesday primary election.

The Democratic senator had a 10 to 1 lead over Cecil W. Clark, New-castle attorney, in nearly complete unofficial returns.

Milward Simpson, Cody attorney, appeared the winner of a five-man race for the Republican nomination to oppose O'Mahoney in November. Rep. Frank A. Horton, Wyoming Republican state-navigator congressman, was re-nominated for a second term on the basis of unofficial re-

Crowded Regions Bombed; Loss in Planes Over 700

LONDON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—German air raiders blasted away at midland and southeast British targets today in a series of hit-and-run raids which late afternoon estimates indicated cost them at least eight planes.

There was little large scale German activity over Britain but almost continuous sniping by raiders coming over by ones, twos and threes and hitting at scattered targets.

The press association estimated German losses at eight planes up to 5 p. m. At least three of the German planes were brought down by British fighters.

One midlands attack temporarily interrupted a town's water, gas and electricity services. At several points both in the midlands and the southeast German planes swooped low and opened up on streets and houses with machinegun fire. Several fatalities were caused.

Mr. Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair told the house of commons that actual German air losses since the large scale attack began may be as much as double the official British figures of 710 planes. He contended that British pilot estimates of planes shot down were exceedingly conservative and that possibly twice as many German planes as were claimed shot down had been listed as "probable" or "possible" losses.

Crowded Area Bombed
Bombs were dropped in a crowded area of a midlands town. Shops and homes were damaged and there were casualties but it was reported they were light.

Raiders over southeastern England covered a wide area, it was reported. Increasingly confident they could take whatever Germany offers and go on to win the war, Britons awaited a much greater and more fierce phase of the blitzkrieg.

Considerable damage was done in the midlands where a number of children were cut severely by flying bombs and gas in the midlands town houses were destroyed and fatal casualties caused. Gas, water and electric services were put out of order, temporarily.

Planes Dive Low
A German lane dived low over houses of this town before releasing its bombs and people on the streets easily could see the markers on its wings.

In southeast coast town it was reported that German plane lost four bursts of machine gun fire, the main street where women were shopping. There were no casualties. An hour and a half of raiding carried out over two south W. districts.

MOTHER INJURED AS AUTOS CRASH

Hurt today when two motor cars crashed at a railroad grade crossing south of South Park, an expectant mother was in Twin Falls county hospital this afternoon while physicians sought to determine full extent of her injuries.

The crash victim is Mrs. Venita Marie Turner, wife of H. L. Turner, farmer, who lives on route one, Twin Falls.

Under Observation
Mrs. Turner is suffering from shock and possibly from other injuries. Extent of her hurts, however, cannot be ascertained until tomorrow, according to the attending physician.

The woman's auto crashed with one driven by Raymond Niemeyer, 21, Concordia, Mo., on the county road a mile south of South Park. Sheriff's officers said that an infant riding beside Mrs. Turner was unhurt. Toby Pragmon, 16, who resides near the Independent meat plant, was riding with Niemeyer. Neither youth was hurt.

Crash Near Crossing
Mrs. Turner was driving west and Mrs. Turner, proceeding east, had crossed the Wells railroad branch right-of-way when the machines crashed. The Missouriian's auto was turned around and headed back east by the impact of the collision. Mrs. Turner's car ended with its front end in the borrow pit.

The accident occurred near the E. L. Patrick ranch home. Damage to the Niemeyer car was estimated at $300 and to the Turner machine at $150.

British Airplanes Attack Destroyers

LONDON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The air ministry reported today coastal command planes attacked two enemy destroyers in the north sea yesterday, damaging one.

A communication said due to "adverse weather conditions" no bombing operations were carried out over Germany last night.

"Daylight attacks were carried out yesterday and today upon airbases in enemy-occupied territory," the ministry said. "No planes were lost in the operations."

Mrs. Hoggia said she had filed the charges with the regional prefecture of police and had asked they be forwarded to authorities at Tirana, the Albanian capital, and to Premier Benito Mussolini at Rome.

"I intend to make the Greeks pay for the murder of my husband," she said. "He was an ideal husband."

UNIONIZED

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—George Washington Pater, ring-tailed, movie-acting monkey, chattered indignantly today because the American federation of radio artists forced him to take out a union card before appearing on a broadcast.

George and Actress Brenda Marshall, with whom he played in the "Sea Hawk," were invited to be guest stars on a National Broadcasting company program. George was supposed to chatter.

On the day of the broadcast, Georgia Fifield, official of the A. F. R. A., told Warner Brothers George would have to have a union card—or else. So the studio took one out in his name.

MONTANA SHOWS POPULATION GAIN

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 21 (UP)—The 1940 census will show that Montana gained about 15,000 population since 1930, Earl C. Simmons, area supervisor for the 1940 count, said here today. The new census, he said, will show the state's population at more than 550,000.

The 23 counties west of the Rockies, Simmons said, showed a gain of more than 25,000 during the past 10 years, but this was offset by a loss of 10,000 in the 33 counties east of the Rockies.

The Missoula district, comprising the nine northwestern counties, showed a gain of 17,974, or 21 per cent. The district's population in 1930 was 84,460, and this year was 102,434.

The Butte district, consisting of the eight counties in southwestern Montana, showed a gain of 5,558 during the 10 years, or 2 per cent. In 1930, the area had a population of 127,458, and this year showed 133,016.

The Great Falls district, which comprises the six counties east of Glacier national park, showed a population of 73,460, a gain of 5,073 over the 68,387 in 1930. The gain was 7 per cent.

Supervisor Simmons said he planned to close his office here this week and go to Washington to make his official report.

FLIERS IN FAVOR OF BUHL AIRPORT

By resolution, members of the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Pilots' association today were on record as favoring continued development of the airport located six miles west of Buhl.

The resolution was passed last night as the pilots met at the Idaho Power auditorium. About 30 fliers were present at the session.

It was pointed out that interest in aviation is growing at Buhl and that two ships are now based on the field there. In addition to that fact it was shown that 14 Buhl residents are enrolled in the OJA ground and flying school which is now being conducted in Twin Falls.

Announcement was made that on some Sunday in September the eight ships at the Twin Falls field will make a goodwill flight to the Buhl airport where a "Buhl airport day" will be observed.

At the session here last night plans were discussed for the air show which will be staged at the Twin Falls port on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22, and which will feature Tex Rankin, world's champion stunt flier.

William T. Lovelace, federal CAA inspector, was a speaker at the meeting and explained new laws and regulations.

President Leon Martyn was in charge of the meeting.

Jaycees Accept 20-30 Challenge For Ball Games

Challenged by the city's newest and youngest civic club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce began scouting through its long-dormant softball talent today for a series of games scheduled next week.

The 20-30 club, at its meeting last night, voted to challenge the Jaycees to a softball tussle. The Jaycees promptly accepted today, specifying a "best two out of three series" on the chance that creating muscles of the Junior Chamberites might need one game to loosen up.

Joe Donahue was named 20-30 chairman in charge of that organization's softball squad. He hurled the challenge at Robert H. Warner, Jaycee president, who groaned at prospect of the exertion and then appointed Al Westergren as Jaycee softball team chairman.

As a result, when Donahue and Westergren completed conferences this afternoon, these facts were announced (along with requests by both chairmen that softballers of their respective groups report for the opener):

First game: Wednesday, Aug. 22.

Time of game: 6:15 p.m.

Place: Softball diamond east of Harmon pool.

KIWANIANS LASH 5TH COLUMNISTS

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 21 (UP)—Closing sessions of the 23rd annual Pacific northwest Kiwanis convention today were on record asking elimination of "fifth-column" groups as political organizations.

Copies of the resolution, which would also prevent the appearance of "fifth column" names on election ballots, will be mailed to the governors of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and every congressman from the Pacific northwest and the premier of British Columbia.

Speaking at the governor's banquet last night, Dr. Adam S. Bennington of Salt Lake City told Kiwanians they were needed to give answers to problems of "conscription, public debt, and function and type of government."

"Remember we can't have totalitarianism and regimentation along with liberty," he said.

HOUSING PROJECT DISCUSSED HERE

At a joint meeting last night of union members and other citizens interested in the low cost housing project contemplated for Twin Falls, it was brought out that so far there is no certainty of the money for the project having been definitely allocated and set aside for that purpose.

The session, held at the Union hall, had H. H. Freedhelm, union organizer, presiding. During the discussion Al Hacker gave information that he had received from Nathan Straus, national housing administrator.

It was brought out that the awarding of contracts to build such homes would be under the direction of the United States housing authority and not the local authority.

Although members of the local authority had been invited to attend the session and speak, according to Freedhelm, no member of that body was present.

Approximately 25 persons were present at the meeting.

Hearing Day Set On Compensation

Several unemployment compensation cases will be up for hearing in Twin Falls Aug. 29, George O. Bradshaw, examiner for the compensation division of the state industrial accident board, advised Auditor Walter C. Musgrave today.

Bradshaw said he will be here on the afternoon of Aug. 29 for "a number" of cases.

LEADERS RETURN FROM NYA MEET

BOISE, Aug. 21 (UP)—A joint conference of federal and state education and national youth administration leaders at Denver Saturday and Sunday provided a "better understanding of the entire NYA program," John W. Condie, state superintendent of public instruction, said today.

Condie returned from the meeting today with W. W. Gartin, Idaho director of the NYA, and George Green, superintendent of the Pocatello high school. Twenty western states were represented at the meeting.

"We discussed at length plans and means for better coordinating the work activities of the NYA program in the schools with the regular high school program," Condie explained. "This will enable students receiving NYA help to apply better their talents to their own advantage as well as to the advantage of the schools."

Directing the tour were Reed Lewis, agriculturist for the Amalgamated company, and J. R. Douglas, head of the bureau of entomology here.

FAIR ANNEXATION STUDY ADVANCES

Legal study preparatory to the proposed annexation of the county fairgrounds by the village of Filer was centered today on the matter of amending such Filer ordinances as might hamper operation of the fair, Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley said.

Mr. Sweeley and E. M. Rayborn, attorney for the village of Filer, are exploring all legal angles of the suggested annexation. The move is favored by the fair board, the county commissioners and the Filer council as a method of saving county taxpayers approximately $600 per year on insurance rates.

One Ordinance?
Chief question now before the two attorneys is whether one blanket amending ordinance would be valid, or whether each Filer regulation that might restrict the fair would have to be amended separately.

A blanket ordinance would be speedier and would save a considerable amount of money, since each amended ordinance must be advertised.

If Sweeley and Rayborn find that a single blanket ordinance is sufficient, only two moves would be necessary. Those would be the amending ordinance and an ordinance annexing the fairgrounds.

Carnivals Now Licensed
Filer, in common with almost all other communities, now has municipal statutes levying licenses on each concession and ride at such events as carnivals. Those must be changed to permit operation of the fair, and the Filer council has expressed its willingness.

If the annexation goes through, the county would retain full control of the fair and would assure Filer that no financial burden would be imposed on that community.

James Wilde, Ella Patterson and Margaret Howard, who have been attending summer session at Albion this year, have returned to their homes.

Bungalow beauty shop, which was located in Patterson apartments for two months, has been moved back to Richfield.

Although the high school at Carey was built 12 years ago, it was never completely finished until this summer. The lower halls, the manual training room, and the science room have all been plastered. Last week the gymnasium floor was sanded and refinished. New chairs, new typing and bookkeeping tables have been bought for the business room. Work will start immediately on the exterior of the building. It will be restuccoed.

Contract bridge has been played a little more than 21 years.

SOLON ABSOLVES 3 MOVIE ACTORS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Having absolved Motion Picture Stars Frederic March, James Cagney and Humphrey Bogart of charges that they were members of the Communist party, Rep. Martin Dies returns east today in his search for subversive activities.

The chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities announced last night, shortly after questioning Cagney, that the actors and screen writer, Phillip Dunne "are not and never have been" Communists or Communist sympathizers. Cagney flew here from Massachusetts to testify.

Dies said he would report his opinion to the full committee. He wanted it made plain, he said, he had not accused the actors of Communism; that had been done by witnesses. Nevertheless, Dies said, "there are numerous actors and screen people, out of humane motives, who have made contributions to and let their names be used by certain organizations which the Dies committee has unanimously found to be organized under Communist leadership."

WILLKIE LASHES DEFENSE PLANS

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 21 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie charged today the Roosevelt administration's defense program was "hopelessly inadequate, delayed and improperly organized," and challenged President Roosevelt to debate this subject at the scene of some great national defense work.

The Republican presidential nominee renewed the challenge for debate today at the scene of a presidential national defense inspection trip to it would not "waste any of his time."

He suggested last night that Mr. Roosevelt let national defense experts make the defense inspection trips and that Mr. Roosevelt himself "devote such time as he now uses for that purpose to making democracy work by discussing the issues in which the American people are very much interested."

Willkie said the third term issue and the challenge of the totalitarian forces to the democratic processes made it essential that Mr. Roosevelt engage in public discussion of the campaign questions. He said he offered the suggestion for a defense debate at the scene of a presidential national defense inspection trip to it would not "waste any of his time."

Germany Getting Nowhere in Air Attacks, Russians Claim

BY J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

The Russian government, which has shown a consistently realistic capacity for judgment during the present war, allows its newspapers to declare Germany is getting nowhere in attacking Britain from the air. That frank comment will be unpardonable to Hitler but will be an additional spur, if any be needed, to more intensive German activity.

The present problem in Europe thus far is how Hitler will try to strike afresh to save his prestige, which the Russian criticism indicates is beginning to wane on the continent. He has declared "total blockade" of Great Britain, but that is an empty gesture which is not getting him anywhere. He must engage in some more conspicuous form of action. An attempt at invasion seems a fading Nazi dream unless Hitler has lost all self-control.

May Renew Attacks
Renewal of the air attacks on Britain with largely augmented squadrons may come; but by this time the German high command must be aware of the highly speculative character of an air blitzkrieg. The halt in intensification is significant of the exhausting nature of blitzkrieg when the defense is as powerful as British aviators have made it.

Germany's military blitzkrieg through Belgium and northern France had reached temporary exhaustion when the Belgian army surrendered, preventing the Germans from quickly following through to cut off the British from the Dunkirk retreat. Similarly in the air it seems apparent continuous blitzkrieging is impossible.

A second mass air attack on Britain, therefore, would have to be limited, as was the first; and a succession of intermissions not only causes any attacking force to distrust its competence but also allows the defense to become refreshed. Long hauls are particularly discouraging for Germans whose military training especially emphasizes continuous action, once a major offensive begins, until the objective is gained.

Area Expanded
Prime Minister Churchill in his speech yesterday predicted larger operations in the middle east. The context of his address shows he included North Africa in his definition of the middle east, which usually is applied to Asia Minor and sometimes to the Balkans. Here may be the area to which Hitler will be forced to turn for a spectacular movement in an effort to re-establish his position.

Until Rumania's territorial troubles with Bulgaria and Hungary are settled, it would seem foolhardy for Hitler to undertake new commitments. Once that problem is out of the way, it is possible Hitler will turn his attention to the Balkans and Asia Minor or Egypt in conjunction with Mussolini. Italy's manufactured trouble with Greece has become quiescent for the moment, probably on Hitler's advice, but the preliminaries for a crisis have been made.

Russia in Background
Russia remains menacingly in the background if Greece and Yugoslavia and Asia Minor are to feel the brunt of a German-Italian offensive. Turkey, too, must be considered. But Hitler may believe he can placate Russia and he may hold the Turks in contempt.

If Italy and Germany had the necessary striking power, a double offensive against Egypt and Suez could be attempted. Italy might move eastward through North Africa while Germany and Italy together might strike through Greece at Turkey, then turn southward toward Palestine hoping to approach Suez and Egypt by a westward drive. The weaknesses of this plan are the questionable ability of the Italians and the length of communications, a thousand miles from the Dardanelles to Palestine. Nevertheless, if Hitler continues to bomb Britain fruitlessly, his future will depend on some such military gamble, which is being inexorably forced on him.

Sound Gain Seen in Farm Demand
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The agriculture department today forecast a "sound improvement" during the last half of 1940 in domestic demand for farm products. The prediction was based on an expected increase in industrial production.

The department said the outlook for farm exports, however, is "highly unsatisfactory," particularly for cotton, because of the war.

The expansion of industrial output since April, accompanied by a rise in industrial employment and payrolls, means additional improvement in domestic demand for farm products even though industrial production levels off, the department said.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER INCOGNITO

BY NORMAN KAHL

YESTERDAY O'Leary explains the weird shot. He questions Marshall, Dale and Hubert. All suspects are to remain in the hotel overnight. Later, O'Leary and Carroll wait in a darkened study. A man comes in. Vines the safe. O'Leary's shirt brings a shot.

CHAPTER VII

A SPLIT second after the shot was fired, there was a third that seemed for a moment like the echo of the gun's explosion. O'Leary leaped up from the floor where he had sprawled when the man's light went out. He tumbled with the switch on a nearby lamp, and when it snapped off, he found Sergeant Carroll standing over the man; he had seen at the safe. The intruder was slowly lifting himself from the floor, dazed by the force of the sergeant's blow.

It was Riggs, the chauffeur. Carroll bent down and picked up the gun that had been knocked from Riggs' hand. "Are you hurt, Chief?" he asked solicitously.

"No, I'm all right. I ducked when the flashlight went out. You certainly came out of hiding fast. Lucky you didn't walk into that hot slug."

Quickly Carroll searched Riggs and satisfied himself there were no more weapons handy. "You better talk, mister," he advised the bruised chauffeur. "Talk fast and plenty."

Barbour suddenly burst into the room. "What's happening?" he saw O'Leary and Carroll. His hands nervously twitched along the sides of his dressing gown. "I thought you had left for the night."

"Yes," O'Leary explained. "So did Riggs, here. Nobody's hurt, and everything's under control. Please go back to your room. We'll take care of everything. I hear the others coming down the stairs. Please tell them nothing's the matter. I'll explain everything later."

O'Leary heard him walk back into the reception hall. There was confused chatter at the foot of the stairway and, after several minutes, he heard the sound of footsteps as the startled host and his guests made their way back upstairs.

O'Leary had not taken his eyes off Riggs. He was studying the man closely. "What's the big idea?" he asked finally.

Sullenly, the man glanced at him. "That's my business," he snarled.

"And ours," O'Leary snapped. "Sergeant, get one of the boys to take him down to the station. Book him on a charge of murder—the murder of Martin Saylor."

Carroll nodded grimly. Riggs' gun was in his pocket, and he was using his own service revolver to keep the captive covered. "Come along, wise guy," he commanded.

Sergeant Carroll came back a few minutes later. "Officer Rafferty is getting the wagon up here. No use taking chances. After all, the mug tried to bump you off."

O'Leary was sitting at Saylor's desk again. Before him were several bundles of papers. "Fine, Sergeant. I was just looking over some of this stuff. Mighty interesting."

Carroll looked crestfallen. "You ain't going to hang around here any longer, are you? It's 2 o'clock, and we got the murderer. We can clean up this job after we get a little sleep."

O'Leary yawned. "You're right. It's pretty late. Maybe you'd be interested in some of these yourself, though. I just flipped through some of them on top, and I found this here." He held out a jacketed document toward the sergeant.

Wearily, Carroll took the paper and read the words on the cover. He saw the words "Paroled" and "Carlos Gomez." He squinted for a moment, then he said, "Why, ain't that the guy—Riggs—the mug we just put on ice?"

O'Leary nodded. "That's right. Mr. Gomez, it seems, did a little job in the state pen, and then Mr. Saylor entered the picture. He got Gomez this parole. That was six years ago. The parole ran out two years ago. Gomez was paroled to Saylor who evidently gave him this chauffeur's job. And after the parole ran out, Gomez, alias Riggs, stayed on."

Carroll scratched his head. "Well, I'll be damned. I guess that just about clinches things, Chief. An ex-con. He's the guy who pulled this job tonight. Any guy who's as handy with a rod as he is wouldn't mind a small murder or two. I told you he was the guy, Chief. Remember?"

The lieutenant smiled. "We can't be sure yet. We've got to check the gun and dig up a little more evidence."

Carroll gestured with a broad, sweeping motion of his hand. "Hell, he's our man. He was the only one who could have done it. He's the only one in the house without an alibi."

O'Leary continued to thumb through the piles of papers. He pulled one jacket out of the pile. It consisted of a bundle of papers tied together neatly. Deftly he untied the string and scanned the typed sheets.

When he looked up, the exhaustion was out of his face, and there was a bright gleam in his eyes.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

While Bruce Catton vacations, other members of NEA Service's Washington staff pinch-hit for him.

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The boys on congressional hill are doing a lot of talking about conscription versus voluntary enlistments to build up an army. A study of enlistment figures for the first six months of 1940 presents some interesting points.

You might wonder, for instance, which states—on the basis of enlistments—are most military-minded. Figures show they are Kentucky and Texas. Their enlistments, running 10 per cent of eligibles, were in the van for the country.

Bill going on percentages, southerners are more belligerent than their northern kinsmen. The states which contributed nine per cent were North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Colorado.

U. S. WOOL YIELD JUMPS

The U. S. department of agriculture does not send agents around saying, "Baa, baa black sheep, have you any wool?" but it has managed to get figures showing that for the present year the quantity of wool shorn from American sheep will be about 389,000,000 pounds.

That will be 11,000,000 pounds more than last year's yield and the biggest domestic supply on record.

All of which is to the good, because Uncle Sam is going to want a lot of wool blankets and coats for his expanded army and navy. Also, civilian consumer demand is expected to increase because of increased incomes, and the war will probably cut down the amount imported from Great Britain.

Another Blast From Ickes

Should the Democratic party feel for any reason that it has lost some of its popularity with the American people, and for that reason may expect serious opposition this fall, it can place much of the blame upon such men as Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior.

To disapprove of the Roosevelt administration and its various programs, is one thing, but to be harangued by the Ickes of Ickes is the insult that stirs such disapproval to actual resentment and antagonism.

For some strange reason the powers that be in the Democratic party have either permitted Ickes to break loose with his intermittent assaults upon the public intelligence, or they have been unable to keep him throttled.

For such an important speaking assignment as answering the acceptance speech of Wendell L. Willkie, it will be a mystery to many a good Democrat why Ickes, of all men, should have been selected.

It should be apparent to everyone that the secretary's speeches have two salient characteristics. They seldom make sense and they're crudely vitriolic, a very ineffective combination.

So far in the campaign, the issues have been rather clearly identified and the argumentation has proceeded along a relatively high plane. But it remained for Mr. Ickes to jockey the Democratic strategy into an unfavorable position.

Are We Giving Youth Our Best?

In a time when everything is changing, education as we have known it in the past may have to change too.

The United States has always been proud of its free schools. The fact that every child, whether of poor or rich parents, can have at public expense the elements of an education is one of the things of which America has been justly proud.

The old-time high school education was "liberal." That is, it aimed at a grounding in general culture which would prepare the student for college, give him a heightened appreciation of "the finer things of life," prepare him for "white-collar" jobs or further self-development if he could not go farther in school.

THIS WILL RECALL THINGS FOR ONE W. DOSS!

Dear Patsie,

Noticed the name of Billy Lee Alworth as prize winner in baby contest. Will let you in on a secret. His uncle, none other than Walter Doss, was a first prize winner in a baby contest in Twin Falls in 1913. Hope Billy Lee makes a better looking "old man" than Walt.

FOOTBALLER KEEPS FIT BY "VIGOROUS" WORK!

Dear Third Rowdy:

This will cheer Hank Powers, who does the football worrying around Twin Falls high school.

One of his prospective Bruins has been getting up every morning and doing some road work to keep in condition. The gent is Bill Hawkins, who lives at the courthouse as one of the sons of the sheriff. Bill gets up early each day and does a turn around the big rectangle that includes the courthouse, the junior high and the high school buildings. Bill, who used to be a stalwart for the Filer Wildcats before moving over here, has acquired the nickname Tootsie from some of his facetious pals thereabouts. You ask him why.

Wisecrack of The Week

Operative 8-25-40 sends us this one with a Twin Falls postmark. A certain local gent was talking to a friend's little girl. "Yep," he told the little lass brightly, "I'm going to be married soon."

Quoth the little girl, gazing at the gent sorrowfully: "You'll be old then, just like my daddy, won't you?"

I'll wear slacks if I please—but don't worry, I won't. Can't find any in town to fit me.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Telephony

Without a word about red tape at Boise, Pot Shots, presenting the results of his lusty inde-scribbling-as-Probate Judge Bill Bailey was making a long distance phone call to that city.

Judge Bill was telephoning the department of public welfare. All he wanted was to ask somebody to mail the probate court here some copies of the blanks used for voluntary admission to the Blackfoot hospital. No blanks were available here, and Judge Bill figured to save the county about $20 by skipping the usual hearing and having a certain local gent go to Blackfoot voluntarily.

(Scop)—The gent is the fellow who started a small fire at the county farm early Monday.

Here's Judge Bill's telephone conversation:

"Hello... department of public welfare?... The Ada county department? No! I want the state department."

Time out, another connection.

"Hello... department of public welfare?... This is Judge Bailey at the probate court in Twin Falls. I want..."

Time out, office gal at Boise switches him to somebody else.

"Hello... this is probate court at Twin Falls. Would you mail us some blanks for voluntary admission to Blackfoot?"

Time out, he's shunted to some other mogul.

"Hello... This is Judge Bailey at Twin Falls probate court. We need some blanks for voluntary admission to the Blackfoot hospital. Can you send..."

Time out, he's shifted to someone else.

"Hello... this is Judge Bailey at probate court in Twin Falls. Will you mail us some blanks right away for voluntary admission to the state hospital at Blackfoot?"

"Which, if you've kept count, shows the judge talked to five different people. And all he wanted were a few blanks. If they'd shunted him off to a sixth official, we suspect the judge would have told 'em to keep the blankety-blank blanks."

Incidentally, if somebody phones back from Boise today to ask him what kind of blanks he wanted, we fear the worst.

Are You Superstitious ABOUT CARDS?

By RUTH FARRAR

NEA Special Correspondent

"Unlucky at cards, lucky at love," isn't very consoling to a player whose last ace has just been trumped or whose last nickel is in the pot.

Card players are ordinarily a superstitious lot, says Dr. B. A. Cartwright of the University of Oklahoma, owner of one of the largest collections of superstitions in the world—more than 12,000 of them. Here are some of the things he finds card players believe:

It is lucky for a card player to carry the bone of a dead person in his pocket.

You can have bad luck at cards by sitting on a handkerchief.

To change your luck at cards, turn the back of the chair to the table and sit astride it.

For luck at cards, turn up the bottom of a trouser leg.

For luck at cards, "milk" the deck, that is, deal a card alternately from the top and from the bottom.

To change luck at cards, change decks.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

HOMER EVANS IS BACK WITH MORE MURDERS AND LOTS OF LAUGHS

Homer Evans is back. You remember Homer, the ever-lamb, William Powell-ish sleuth of "The Mysterious Mickey Finn," and "Hugger-Mugger in the Louvre." Homer and his incomparable girl friend, Miriam, the gun-totin', sharp-shooting gal from Montana. You'll find them at work and play again in Elliot Paul's "Mayhem in B-Flat" (Random House; $2) which has to do with the theft of a priceless Guarnerius violin, a huge dog, rival gangs, murders, tarantulas, dancing girls and loving ladies.

Elliot Paul gives you plenty of laughs—and a bumper crop of homicide in this story that takes you from concert hall to cabaret to brothel, at racehorse speed. Even horses are hard to keep up.

Author Paul is a shy one. His quips are as fast as Miriam's lightning draw; his innuendos as innocuous as a strip-teaser. If you're looking for deep-deep detective problems, "Mayhem in B-Flat" is not for you. But if you want a hilarious evening, spend it with Homer, Miriam and the gang. You won't regret it.

All the problems of newly-weds operating on a budget are found in "Margaret Calkin, Banning's Brother" ($2) but it still doesn't answer the puzzle of making one dollar do for two.

Vicent and Cilla thought they had figured everything for a $40-a-week salary before they married. But the incidentals, and then the baby, wrecked all plans. Comes, too, a couple of homebreakers, but it turns out all right. Real, but decidedly unfunny.

FETE MARKS 1ST LDS SHIP ARRIVAL

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.) — The 94th anniversary of the arrival at San Francisco of the Mormon ship Brooklyn in 1846, was celebrated here with the dedication of a commemorative plaque and with the only surviving member of the original passengers present.

She was Mrs. Elizabeth Bird Howell of Preston, Ida., and she, too, was 94 years old, having been born just six months before the Brooklyn made the trip around Cape Horn.

The arrival of the Brooklyn with its 300 Utah bound colonists on board ranks in the history of the west as does the arrival of the Mayflower with the Pilgrim founders at Boston in colonial times.

The Brooklyn brought men and women who were later to become figures in the development of the west.

Brought Printing Press

The ship on this historical trip brought the first printing press to the Pacific coast, which led to the launching of the first newspaper here, the San Francisco Star. Also carried on the Brooklyn were two complete flour mills.

Other items in the cargo included 179 books, plows, hammers and farm implements which played the initial role in their respective fields in opening up the west.

The coming of the tiny Elizabeth Bird was due to the death of her mother.

She was born in Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 1, 1846, daughter of Edmund Fuller Bird and Mary Montgomery Bird.

The mother died when she was three days old and her father, in desperation, put her in charge of her friends, Daniel and Ann Stark, who five weeks afterward sailed on the Brooklyn.

The Starks and little Elizabeth remained in San Francisco, which then was known as Yerba Buena, but when the child was 14 she joined her father, who had made the trek to Utah on the covered wagon route.

Married School Teacher

In 1881, she married Henry Nelson Howell, pioneer school teacher in Utah, who lived until 1929. They were parents of 11 children.

Five direct descendants of the Brooklyn colonists also participated in the dedication ceremonies of the plaque, which was presented to the city of San Francisco by the local chapter of the Daughters of Utah.

They were Mrs. Charlotte Spencer, grandmother of Isaac Roger Robbins, who helped Samuel Brannan set up San Francisco's first newspaper and later became a teacher in the city's first school, Mrs. Laura Frell and Mrs. Emerett Smith, great-granddaughters of Isaac Goodwin; Janet Dingman Glines, great-granddaughter of Barton Moursy, member of the town council in 1848; and Mrs. Cloe Nelson, granddaughter of William Glover, who laid out Mormon Island in the delta of Sacramento river.

The Brooklyn required six months to make the voyage.

COIN DEMAND IN MINTS INCREASES

DENVER (U.P.) — The new national defense tax levy has put so great a load on the Denver mint that a 24-hour schedule is under consideration, officials revealed here.

The new need for pennies to facilitate handling the recently invoked taxes on entertainment, tobacco, liquors, etc., has forced curtailment in the casting of coins of other denominations, Superintendent Mark A. Skinner said. He believes that a round-the-clock schedule would be adopted soon to retain the mint's regular production quota.

A second shift of workmen will be employed almost immediately, Skinner said, and a third will be added as soon as is practicable. Delay in adoption of the new schedule will be brought about by mechanical adjustments.

The Denver, San Francisco and Philadelphia mints turned out a total of 700,000,000 coins valued at nearly $40,000,000 during the last fiscal year, according to a report issued by Nellie Taylor Rose, director of mints. This figure more than doubled the output of former years, it was said.

In addition to the need for new coins to meet the requirements of the defense tax measure, the report stated, there is an "unusually" high demand for coins of small denominations for the increasing use of coin vending machines throughout the nation.

A man must have at least 700 hours of flight training before he is qualified to begin on bombers and it takes one year to produce a pursuit pilot.

Politicians Rest as They Map Heavy Fall Campaigns

By MURRAY M. MOLER

BOISE, Aug. 21 (U.P.) — Idaho politicians virtually took this week off to get rested from the strenuous primary campaign and regain full strength for the hectic bid for votes in the Nov. 5 general election.

Only thing on the state political program this week was the canvassing of the vote, first by county commissioners, then by the state board of canvassers.

Next week, the program calls for state conventions — the Democrats Aug. 30 at Idaho Falls and the Republicans Aug. 31 at Twin Falls. After these, the battle lines will be really drawn, new leaders will be in office—and the fight will be on.

The official canvasses are expected to bear out unofficial tabulations, although in one major office contest the winner's apparent margin of victory is so slight the official verdict will be important.

This contest is the one in which Glen Taylor, Pocatello singing cowboy, won apparent Democratic senatorial nomination. Latest United Press unofficial tabulations gave Taylor an 800-vote lead over Judge James Bothwell of Twin Falls. But the 800 votes are subject to change by the official board.

But counting Taylor as "in," the opposing slates are now complete—and ready for these thumbnail sketches of candidates:

Governor

Republican — C. A. Bolzofsen, Arco publisher now completing his first term as Idaho governor, Democrat — Chase Clark, mayor of Idaho Falls last two terms; two-time member of Idaho state senate; lawyer.

Senate

Republican — John Thomas, Gooding banker, has served one complete and parts of two terms in the senate — the unexpired term in 1928 of Frank Gooding, a full term 1928-34, defeated for reelection in 1934, appointed 1940 succeed late Sen. William E. Borah, now wants to serve remaining two years of Borah's term. Democrat — Glen Taylor, Idaho born 36-year-old son of a minister-farmer; singer, rodeo performer, actor, orchestra leader for last 21 years; little political backing; defeated 1938 in bid for Democratic congressional nomination; surprise package of 1940 primary.

Congress, First District

Republican — Edward Gaffney, Orofino transportation executive; two-term member of state house of representatives; 1939 majority leader in house. Democrat — Compton I. White, Clarksfork mine operator; now completing fourth term in U. S. house of representatives.

Congress, Second District

Republican — Henry Dworshak, Burley publisher; now finishing first term in U. S. house of representatives. Democrat — Ira H. Masters, Boise, former publisher; 1938 candidate, unsuccessful, for same nomination; former secretary of state; former land department registrar.

Lieutenant Governor

Republican — Donald Whitehead, Boise druggist, now finishing first term as lieutenant governor; long-time member of state house, former speaker of same. Democrat — Charles Gossett, Nampa farmer, 1937-38 lieutenant governor; unsuccessful gubernatorial aspirant 1938.

Secretary of State

Republican — James W. Keating, Harrison lawyer-farmer; 1936 nominee for treasurer; 1938 nominee for secretary of state. Democrat — George Curtis, Boise educator, now finishing first term as secretary of state; two-time member of house of representatives.

Auditor

Republican — Thomas F. Rodgers, Boise accountant; 1936 nominee for auditor; former Boise city treasurer. Democrat — Calvin E. Wright, finishing first term as auditor; former Cassia county auditor; ex-state insurance fund auditor.

Treasurer

Republican — Lela D. Painter, Caldwell; Canyon county treasurer 12 years. Democrat — Myrtle P. Enking, Gooding, former clerk-treasurer Gooding county; finishing fourth

Canal Start

Charles E. Miller, Jr., president of the irrigation district, said the canal would start from the north fork of Tongue river about a mile and a half west of Bear Lodge. From there it would connect a series of tiny streams, then join several already constructed canals. These routes would carry water to a large reservoir to be distributed to surrounding irrigators.

The Big Horn basin, lying between many ranges of mountains which tower as high as 13,000 feet into the thin Wyoming air, is one of the state's richest agricultural and stock raising areas. Directors of the plan explained that with completion of the intricate network of canals and reservoirs, the basin would become the state's chief producer of farm products.

IRRIGATION PLAN OF 1890 REVIVED

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (U.P.) — State and federal agencies, finally heeding persistent demands of Big Horn basin stockmen and farmers, are whipping into shape plans for an irrigation district organized locally 50 years ago.

The Wyoming water board and the state water conservation and planning board have planned a survey of the lush basin territory near Parkman, Wyo., 35 miles northwest of Sheridan, as the first step toward completion of the project.

Far-sighted Wyoming pioneers in 1890—the year the state was admitted to the union—fore-saw the need of irrigation in the surrounding rolling countryside. Daniel J. Burns of Sheridan, member of the water conservation and planning board, said that local efforts were made in 1894 to organize pioneer settlers to facilitate the project.

District Organized

Finally, after 23 years, Burns said, the Parkman irrigation district was organized. Detailed maps and plans of the region were made, but efforts to interest the state and federal governments brought little response. Water rights also were awarded, but the project was held up pending decision of the bureau of reclamation to lend its assistance.

Sheridan county officials have agreed to aid in the survey, which will lay the ground work for a canal 15 miles in length. Only stop-gap to the program was permission from the federal government to construct a series of canals through the Big Horn national forest.

First Color Printers

Peter Schoeffler, one of Gutenberg's workers, and Johann Fust, were the first two men to attempt printing in color. They made their experiment in 1457.

Demo Bolter

Alan Valentine, above, president of the University of Rochester, seemed highly pleased as he quoted estimates that "one-third of the Democratic party is opposed to President Roosevelt." He is pictured in New York after his recent appointment as executive director of the recently-formed national "Democrats-for-Wiilkie" organization.

DAYLIGHT TIME CAUSES RIDDLE

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (U.P.) — The city of Urbana, which recently created an inter-town furor by refusing to follow its sister city, Champaign, in adopting daylight saving time, as a result of the dual time systems must set a birthday for the twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ross, Chicago.

The twins, a boy and a girl, were born July 15, at Carle hospital, Urbana, at 11:15 P. M. and 11:31 P. M. Central Standard time, the girl first.

Carle Hospital, however, like the other two Urbana hospitals, adopted daylight saving time with Champaign despite Urbana's refusal to do so. This means that according to hospital (and Champaign) time, the babies were born shortly after midnight July 16.

One suggestion has been made that the twins be allowed to celebrate two birthdays each year, another is to leave the question up to a joint session of the Champaign and Urbana Chambers of Commerce to take under advisement and settle.

After all, it's no boon to twin-city commerce for people to come here for the births of their children and then not even know when it happened, say citizens.

Ross is not too perturbed over the problem and, being quite happy about the whole thing, is expected to settle it for himself. The Urbana city clerk has not yet announced his intentions in regard to filing the birth records of the twins.

AAUW Rummage Sale For Scholarship Fund

Clothing and shoes, particularly those for school children, and household furnishings are taken for granted as "best sellers" at rummage sales, but what is surprising is that playing cards are also in high demand.

At least that has been the experience of certain members of the Twin Falls chapter, American Association of University Women, who have worked on rummage sale committees for other organizations in the past.

The chapter is sponsoring a rummage sale this coming Saturday, Aug. 24, at 320 Main avenue south, proceeds to go to the scholarship fund.

Donations Sought While members and friends of the chapter have already contributed a large amount of good quality merchandise for the sale, donations will be welcome.

Those having suitable contributions are asked to call Mrs. A. J. Peavey, phone 615, or Mrs. H. A. Ball, phone 977. Collections will be made Friday.

Assisting Mrs. Peavey and Mrs. Ball in arranging the project are Mrs. L. L. Breckenridge, Mrs. O. H. Krengel and Mrs. W. A. Van Engelen.

Among the items which will find ready buyers are clothing and shoes for men, women and children; pin-cloche and bridge decks; dishes, bedding, household furnishings, lampshades, and games of all kinds, both for adults and children.

The rummage sale will be in progress throughout Saturday, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning. The committee will be at the selected location most of Friday, getting garments and other items in order for the sale.

Give Your Discards Now is the time of year when homemakers are getting out the fall and winter clothing, in storage during the summer months, sorting the items that will be used by the family during the coming season, and discarding others.

"It is these discards that are particularly solicited by the chapter," according to a member of the committee.

Many other homemakers choose fall instead of spring as the "season of renovation," buying new curtains, drapes and furniture to replace those items that have seemed suitable enough for summer.

Such items will also be welcomed by the A. A. U. W.

ITALY MOVES DIVISIONS ON ALBANIA-GREEK FRONTIER

IL DUCE AIRMEN INTERNED AFTER FORCED LANDING

By BEN AMES
 ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 21 (UP)—Italian mobile divisions today were concentrating on the Albania-Greek frontier, reliable reports said, and it was apparent here that Italo-Greek tension was increasing.
 Reliable reports said an Italian plane had made a forced landing at Eleus, 15 miles west of Athens and site of Greece's largest munitions plant. The crew of five was interned, bringing to 27 the number of Italian airmen interned in Greece.
 A military spokesman said that Greek defenses on the Albanian frontier were adequate and there were no indications that any Greek mobilization was imminent, but it was learned reliably that Premier John Metaxas had conferred with the general staff yesterday following a discussion with King George II.

Tension Greater
 Observers said tension was greater than at any time since last week's sinking of the Greek mine laying cruiser Helle by an unidentified submarine off the island of Tinos.
 Metaxas was said to have told the general staff that Greece desired to continue a policy of neutrality but was prepared to oppose any internal or external political opposition.
 "Acute Problem"
 (In Rome Virginia Gayda, writing in the Giornale d'Italia, said "there is an acute open problem in relations between Italy, Albania and Greece." He added "Italy is ready to defend Albanian national rights." Gayda also said the Greek Ciamuria peninsula is Albanian and "rightly belongs" to Albania.
 "Of the Italo-Albanian-Greek situation Gayda said "we won't liquidate the affair with a gay smile. Italian policy does not seek adventure but is ready to defend Albanian national rights and a Balkan order based on justice.")

Nazi Bombers Cut a Swath of Destruction in Britain—Flames Wreak Havoc

In the midst of destruction inflicted by three waves of Nazi bombers, firemen fight flames in ruins of Southampton, England, as Germany continued her aerial warfare against the British Isles. Picture was passed by British censor, sent by cable to New York.

Cameraman Tells How He Got Best War Photo

(By NEA Service)
 NEW YORK, Aug. 16—What has been described as the most dramatic picture of the war, showing a group of German planes plunging to earth in flames and smoke, which was published exclusively by Acme Newspictures and NEA Service's client newspapers Monday, was made Thursday on the south coast of England by Herbert Andrews, a staff photographer of Planet News, Acme's affiliated picture organization in London. It was stated today by Fred S. Ferguson, president of Acme.
 The picture was published in London exclusively by The Daily Sketch, and inquiries were then made of the air ministry as to the origin of the picture as representatives of other organizations sought to obtain prints of it for their own distribution. Since the picture was not issued by the air ministry or the bureau of information, as propaganda, the air ministry issued a statement announcing that it was not an "official" picture.
 The Daily Sketch today publishes an extended statement defending the picture and says, in part, "The picture was justly described as the most dramatic of the war, and it is difficult to understand why the air ministry should have gone out of its way to broadcast that the picture was not official. No one suggested that it was. The picture was simply the reward of a cameramant's enterprise, initiative and energy."

 The fact that the air ministry announced that the picture was not official does not warrant the assumption evidenced in some quarters that there is reason to question its authenticity. Mr. Ferguson pointed out. In order to assure us good a transmission as possible by cable, the original print was retouched somewhat before filing, but both the un-retouched original print and the retouched print were passed by the British censor before publication in London and before transmission to New York.
 The following statement from Photographer Andrews was received by cable in New York today.
 "On Thursday afternoon as I stood in position with my camera overlooking the channel, the drone of aircraft sounded, followed by a bedlam of machine gun and anti-aircraft fire. Low clouds obscured the action until, miles to the left, I saw a barrage balloon falling in flames, but too far away for a picture. Then directly in front and before me I saw five distinct, flaming objects, trailing spirals of smoke, hurtle through the clouds.
 "Look—planes falling!" screamed a man standing behind me, and I got two quick exposures. There can be no question but that the flaming objects were parts of a number of blazing aircraft, as the negative clearly shows."

2 DIVE BOMBERS USED BY NAZIS

LONDON (UP)—Observers in Britain declare that Germany has placed the greatest reliance in two principal dive-bombers—the Junkers Ju-87 and the Ju-88.
 The Ju-87 is one of the first machines ever to be designed wholly as a dive-bomber, although the American Curtis "Hell-Diver" and the British Hawker PV-4 were adapted for dive-bombing before the German model was put into service.
 In appearance, the Ju-87 is a conventional stressed-skin, monoplane, slightly built and well finished. The center sections of the wings are set at a downward angle of 12 degrees from the side of the fuselage. The outer sections have an upward angle of 8 degrees. This gives the wings of the Ju-87 a characteristic kink.
 Seats in Tandem
 The pilot and gunner are housed in tandem under a transparent Plexi-glass hooding.
 Armament of the Ju-87 consists of two large bore machine guns mounted to fire forward and outside the airscrew disc from the inboard section of each wing. The gunner has a single machine gun on a movable mounting to fire aft.
 A 550 or 1,100 pound bomb can be carried in a crutch under the center section of the fuselage. Before its release this bomb is swung downward and forward on its fork attachment so that it will clear of the airscrew disc.
 Two 110-Pound Bombs
 Two bombs of 110 pounds each can be carried on external racks under each wing, outboard of the diving brakes.
 Other features for which the Ju-87 deserves full credit are its stability in flight and controllability, despite damage sustained by gunfire.
 It has a maximum range of 498 miles at an average speed of 188 miles an hour.

2 HURT AS AUTO DODGES HORSES

SHOSHONE, Aug. 21 (Special)—Two members of an Illinois tourist party suffered deep cuts on the forehead when their motor car swerved off the road to avoid a band of horses Monday evening.
 Driver was Clarence Meyer, Illinois. He said he was trying to avoid hitting the horses, which were on the highway a mile and a half east of Shoshone.
 Although two passengers suffered cuts, three others were unscathed.
 In another auto accident which also might have been serious, a car driven by George H. Martin, Hagerman, crashed into the rear of a machine driven by John Roberts, Richfield. The Roberts car had stopped on the highway Saturday evening to pick up a CCO hitchhiker.
 Considerable damage was done to both machines but all occupants were unhurt. The crash occurred a mile north of town.

Feller Chalks up 22nd Victory as Mates Stage Rally

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (UP)—The all-Ohio world series got a shot in the arm today when the Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Reds staged last ditch rallies to pull games out of the fire.

The Reds were losing, 2-0, going into the ninth. Bill Lohrman, Giants' pitcher, had the league-leaders handcuffed. They had made only three hits off him. Then things began to happen fast and furiously and when Bill Terry and the Giants recovered the Reds had won, 3-2.

Gene Thompson hung up his 12th victory of the season by outlasting Lohrman at the finish.

Cleveland, with Bob Feller on the mound, was trailing the Red Sox, 5-2, going into the eighth. Then the Indians went on the warpath and scored seven runs off Jack Wilson and Emerson Dickman. The final score was 11 to 6.

Both triumphs were highly important to the pacemakers. Cleveland picked up a game and a half and increased its lead to 4 1/2 games over Detroit as the Tigers bled to the Yankees twice, 4-3 and 4-2. The Reds also gained a game and a half and lengthened their margin to 5 1/2 games over Brooklyn as the Dodgers took a double tumble before the Cards, 3-0 and 4-3.

The Athletics gained an even break with the White Sox when Wally Moses stole home on Thornton Lee in the 10th inning of the nightcap, giving the Mackmen a 4-3 victory. The White Sox won the opener, 6-1.

Driving the rookie sensation, Sid Hudson, out of the box, the St. Louis Browns annexed a victory over the Washington Senators.

Glaude Fausner scored his 15th victory as the Chicago Cubs beat the Phillies, 4-0.

Pittsburgh pounded out 15 hits to beat the Boston Bees, 6-3.

Canavan and Wake out of Reds' Lineup

ODGEN, Aug. 21 (Special)—It appeared today that Manager Bill McCorry got the worst of a bargain with the Twin Falls Cowboys when he traded off his slugging star, Pete Hughes.

Some six weeks ago, McCorry and Business Manager Hugh Pace got together and concocted a deal whereby the Cowboys got Hughes and Art Carpenter, pitcher, in exchange for Dick Wake, outfielder, and Tommy Canavan, slick-fielding first baseman.

Today both Canavan and Wake were out of the Odgen lineup—probably for the rest of this season. Canavan was reported ill in an Odgen hospital while Wake was reported losing the sight of one eye after being hit by a pitched ball in a game in Twin Falls.

Meanwhile, Hughes and Carpenter continue in the Twin Falls lineup.

Old Home Week for Ex-Panthers

Jock Sutherland, former Pitt coach, surrounds himself with familiar faces as he begins his pro career as head man of the Brooklyn Dodgers at his Princeton, N. J., training camp. From left to right are Sutherland, Line Coach Mike Getto, Backfield Coach Johnny Michalson, and Guard Steve Petro. All three played under Sutherland at Pittsburgh.

Cowboys Play Second Game With Salt Lake Tonight; Lose First

The Cowboys go out for another crack at the league-leading Salt Lake Bees tonight—but without much chance of ever climbing out of the cellar.

Last night the Wranglers booted the ball all over the lot, the pitchers walked 12 and on top of that the Bees clouted out 11-bingles to annex an easy 11-4 victory.

However, the Twin Falls club hasn't given up yet and Manager Ray Jacobs announces that his pitcher for tonight probably will be Mike Budnick—if he's ready to go, or Damon Hayes. Mel Ristau, the league's leading southpaw hurler, will do mound duty for the Bees. Starting tonight all games will commence at 8:15 p. m.

Score Six Runs

It was the "Bees could do no wrong—the Cowboys no right" last night as the visitors hung up their victory. They pounded Jack Hall for a run in each of the first and second innings and then really went to town in the fourth. In that frame they pushed across six runs on three walks, two hits, a hit batsman and two errors. There was only one earned run during the frame—but the six runs counted just the same.

Meanwhile, the Cowboys were eating out of Lefty Mel Marlowe's hand—as usual. Going into the sixth they had only one hit off the eccentric southpaw. In that frame they combined a single, walk and double for one run and then added three more in the eighth on Bishop's single, Endress' double, Hughes' single and an error on Arnerich's ground ball. Marlowe filled the bases on three walks in the final frame, but Randall grounded out to end the game.

Hit Home Run

For the Bees, Al Steele hit a home run in the second inning with none on, and Manager Tom Robello led off in the eighth with a four-py swing with nobody on base. Partee, Salt Lake catcher, got three bingles during the evening to lead his club's attack.

Ernie Endress was the only Cowboy able to solve Marlowe's offerings, getting a double and a single, plus two walks in five journeys to the batter's box.

Jack Hall, starting hurler, allowed nine hits, struck out nine and hit one batter in the five frames he worked—being relieved by Chuck Greer in the sixth with the bases loaded and none out.

Double plays—O'Connell to March, leading pitcher—Hall. Struck out by—Marlowe 4, Hall 9, Greer 2. Bases on balls off—Marlowe 7, Hall 9, Greer 3. Unplaced—Campbell and Myers. Playovich. Time 2:37.

That left Tom Campbell to handle the details all alone here last night—with the aid of two baseball players.

Which reminds us that when two ball players from opposing teams take up umpiring they always do a good job of it—or at least so it seems here. Never a howl from either club and there are always some close decisions.

Last night Paul Plesovich called out Partee when the latter was caught off the bat at third base and there was nary a yelp, although Manager Tom Robello started to squawk a little on general principles.

A little later Ken Myers, umpiring at first, called Verne Reynolds out on a close play when Steele robbed him of a hit and there was no argument, although from the looks of his face, Verne wasn't exactly satisfied with the decision.

Quite a story teller, Charley Graham knows all the greats of the game—he's one himself—and in a fanning bee with Eddie Mulligan, the Salt Lake boss, and Hugh Pace, business manager of the Cowboys, they talked over the old times—everything from the days of the Boston Bloomer girls to the bat situation.

The umpires also came up for a round of discussion and it is the same old story in every league.

Mr. Pace has long advocated that the National association help pay to get competent umpires.

"But where are you going to get 'em?" said Graham. "You have your troubles down here, we have 'em in the Pacific Coast league and they're having them in the National and American leagues.

"About the best you can do is hope for an even break on the bum guesses—and that's just about all you can get."

"Why, nowadays," said the Golden Gate City Impresario, "these youngsters want a thousand dollars or so before they will even consider a professional contract—despite the fact they are really what would be termed 'apprentices' at the game.

"I have in mind a youngster who looked like he had the makings of becoming a good ball player—a pitcher—when I looked at him playing semi-pro ball a couple of seasons ago. Along with a lot of big league scouts, I talked to his fellow—but found out he had a fabulous regard in the line of money for his own skill, so I gave him up.

"About this time a scout for Brooklyn came along and offered him $1,500 if he stuck with June and a contract at $250 per month. Now, mind you, the youngster had no professional experience and he was just out to learn his trade. He wouldn't go to any Class C or D league—he wanted Double A or at least an A team.

"Well, he was sent east to a Class A club and, of course, he was dropped before June. He came back west and tried a Class C club, finally being traded to a cellar team and that's where he is now—and he still can't get going.

"And the only thing wrong with him that I can see is that he can't get adjusted to the fact that he is an inexperienced hurler.

"And that's the trouble with many a young ball player these days—they want to draw big salaries to learn a trade—something that they can't do in any other line of business," concluded Mr. Graham.

(Note: The "cellar team" he mentions is Twin Falls!)

Rainiers Lift Lead Again; Down Angels

(By United Press)

The Rainiers took another game from Los Angeles and extended their Coast league leadership to 15 1/2 games last night, and if anyone thinks the Scraps can head off Seattle's pennant rush, he's been taking foolish powder.

Seattle did it the hard way. Trailing by two runs going into the eighth, the Rainiers landed on Lee Stine for three hits, coupled them with Lou Stringers' two errors and Spencer Harris' pinch three-run homer and scored four runs, to emerge with a 6 to 4 victory. Dick Barrett was lucky to win, for although allowing the Angels only six hits, he walked five and cut loose with a wild pitch.

Hollywood took the third-place Oakland team 5 to 4.

Portland may not approach its all-time low of 278 at the season's finish, still a Coast league record for a fall-ender, but the Beavers are trying mightily hard. They dropped another to San Diego last night, 8 to 3.

San Francisco split a pair with Sacramento, blowing the first game 12 to 0, and taking the second, 3 to 1.

12 Teams Will Battle For Championship; Play Starts Sunday

Schedule of an 11-game playoff for the district softball championship with 12 teams entered for the tournament, and another one still unlearned from, had been announced today by Buhl Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors, and Russ Wells, Twin Falls, state softball association representative for district five, for next Sunday at Buhl.

Officials said the tournament will start at 8 a. m. Sunday and continue all day. The winners of the first round play will meet starting at 4 p. m., and the championship game is scheduled for 9 p. m.

Each member of the championship and runner-up teams will receive a plaque, it was said, and the two clubs will be eligible to play at Boise Sept. 1 and 2 for the state softball title.

Wells said that Nelson's of Burley was as yet not entered in the tournament, although he expected them to be. If the entry is not received before the deadline, the Thomey cafe club of Buhl will meet the Twin Falls Troy-Nationals, defending state champions and consequently not required to enter the district meet, merely to make the day's schedule complete.

First round schedule for the tournament:

8 a. m.—Boise Payette of Buhl vs. Rutherford's of Gooding.
 9 a. m.—Paul Town team vs. Nelson's Drug of Gooding.
 10 a. m.—Heyburn Town team vs. Mindokki CCC club.
 11 a. m.—Ray's Sport Shop, Rupert, vs. Ritz club, Jerome.
 2 p. m.—Paul CCC team vs. Shell Service, Buhl.
 3 p. m.—Thomey's Cafe, Buhl, vs. either Twin Falls Troy-National or Nelson's cafe, Burley.

One winner of the second round play will draw a bye, and the other two will meet at 8 p. m. in the semi-final tilt.

CHARLEY GRAHAM, OWNER OF SAN FRANCISCO SEALS, CALLS HERE: TELLS REASONS FOR YOUNG PLAYERS' FAILURES

The veteran Charley Graham, owner of the San Francisco Seals and one of the shrewdest baseball men in the game today, was an interested spectator in the grandstand at last night's Salt Lake-Twin Falls game—looking over some of his future material that at present constitutes the personnel of the Bees.

Developer of such greats as the DiMaggio boys and many another big league, Graham is regarded as an astute judge of baseball talent and it was his opinion that one of the main troubles with youngsters breaking into the game of baseball nowadays was "money."

"Why, nowadays," said the Golden Gate City Impresario, "these youngsters want a thousand dollars or so before they will even consider a professional contract—despite the fact they are really what would be termed 'apprentices' at the game.

"I have in mind a youngster who looked like he had the makings of becoming a good ball player—a pitcher—when I looked at him playing semi-pro ball a couple of seasons ago. # Durocher Says Reese Is Best Shortstop In Years, But Has He Seen Boudreau?

By JERRY BRONDFIELD (NEA Service)

NEW YORK—Mr. L. Lippy Durocher isn't being at all immodest when he remarks that he was a pretty good shortstop in his day. Leo was all that, and more.

Thus, when he says Pee Wee Reese, his prize rookie, is a better shortstop than he ever was—and that furthermore, Pee Wee is the best shortstop he has looked at in 15 years, well, you begin to suspect Durocher is mighty high on his 20-year-old star.

Around the shores of Lake Erie, Durocher's statements are met with derision, of course. Where, the Cleveland fans ask you, can you find a shortstop superior to the Indians' Lou Boudreau?

Comparisons seldom prove anything but Durocher certainly has a good case.

"I've seen 'em all in 15 years," the Dodger pilot says, "and Reese is tops. There was only one thing I could do better than this kid, I could get the ball away from me faster. I seemed to field it and throw with the same motion. But he's got me whipped in every other way."

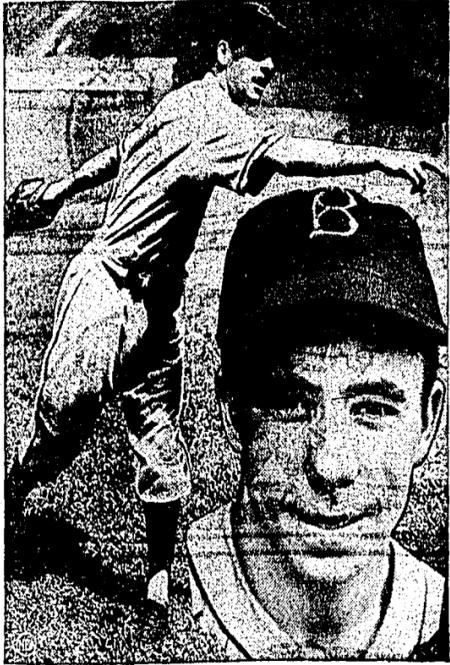

"That trick I had was something I find impossible to teach anyone," Durocher continues. "When Pee Wee tries it he appears to sail the ball and it's apt to be a wild throw. When he hesitates his usual split second he throws it hard and accurately."

Durocher says the Louisville product is a better fielder now than he thought he would be last spring, when he first started raving over the kid.

"And he's going to get better." Figures indicate Reese also is a better hitter than his boss ever was. Currently, he is hitting around .370. He has hit five home runs, four of them coming in the ninth inning when the chips were down.

He had a streak recently in which he got on base 25 games in a row. An ideal hitter, he got on base 48 times out of 114 trips to the plate, an unusually high percentage.

Not only is he a beautiful fielding shortstop and a timely hitter but Reese is extremely fast. He is leading the National league in stolen bases. With Louisville one season he stole 34 sacks in 35 attempts for a record.

Leo Durocher, manager of the Dodgers, says he wouldn't trade his Pee Wee Reese, inset, for any shortstop in the business. Inasmuch as that includes Lou Boudreau of the Indians, throwing, above, American leaguers are ready with an argument.

Durocher isn't the only National league pilot high on him. Gabby Hartnett has said he'd give $100,000 to get his hands on him.

It's doubtful, meanwhile, if the Indians would trade Boudreau even for Reese. No factor has been more dominant in the Tribe's pennant drive than the keystone combination of Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack.

If anything, American league critics say Boudreau is an even more skillful shortstop than Reese.

Boles's Pilots, who few weeks ago were closely crowding the Salt Lakers for No. 1 league position, succumbed 13-5 last night to the next-to-bottom Pocatello Cardinals. Manager Andy Harrington of the Pilots sprained his ankle while sliding.

Idaho Falls, meanwhile, renewed its bid for third place with a 6-2 decision over the Ogden Reds, who have been giving the Russets a nip-and-tuck race for the position.

Mac Doubts Feasibility of Weighting Fast Horses

By HENRY McEMORE
NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—My wits are of rummage sale caliber I know, but even so they are sharp enough to detect that the handicapping system in horse racing doesn't have a hand-in-glove relationship with the turf men's talk about the improvement of the breed.

What's the use of improving the breed and developing a fine, outstanding horse if, the moment he proves himself as such, you pack his saddle with so much lead he is dragged down to the level of inferior thoroughbreds?

For an example, take W. L. Braun's Maryland bred star, Chalcedon. He is so thoroughbred running today that Brenda Frazier is to glamour girls, Bing Crosby is to crooners, and chrysothene is to clowns. In short, he is the No. 1 critter, and if the racing secretaries of the various tracks would let him alone he wouldn't lose any more races than Jessa Owens would at an Elks' picnic.

Gets Top Weight
But every time Chalcedon goes to the post these days he is assigned so much weight it makes you wonder why the secretaries don't go the whole way and put Oliver Hardy off Paul Whiteman on him as a lead weight.

Chalcedon is the first stand-out horse to take a weight beating. It was lead in the saddle that forced Discovery into retirement. When Discovery quit they were piling so much metal on him that a jockey had to be a member in good standing of the United Mine Workers' union to be eligible to ride him. Man o' War was retired after his three-year-old campaign but he was carrying 130 at the finish. Another year or two of racing and he probably would have staggered down the stretch with a snafu, a couple of four-poster beds, and a coop of chickens on his back.

Some of the great horses escaped top severe poundage. Exterminator's top impost was 137. But he carried that only once. Gambus's top was 133, and Sun Hunt hoisted as much as 132 on but one occasion.

Speaking for myself, I develop weight was 107 and old I, top the staggers!

The latest burden assigned to Chalcedon is 135 pounds for the Merchants and Citizens handicap to be run at Saratoga Saturday. This is a full eight pounds more than any of his rivals will be

NAZIS BOMBARD BRITISH PLANTS

BERLIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Blasting at airfields, large industrial plants and shipping, the German air force today raided the Midlands and south England causing explosions and fires in a motor works vital to the British aviation industry, the official news agency DNB reported.

The Germans said there was huge damage at such points as Derby Sheffield and south England towns and claimed to have destroyed five grounded planes at one airport.

(Hofst dispatches reported a German plane attack on a Norwegian steamer off Tory Island.)

DNB followed up its claims of smashing raids today with an amplification of earlier reports on raids yesterday in which it was said the air force concentrated its attacks on industrial England and important harbor works.
