Senate Probe Asked in Airliner Tragedy Killing 25

Solon Blames Crash On Confusion Caused By Transfer of CAA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—The senate will be asked to take investigation of the nation's worst commercial airplane tragedy, out of the hands of civil aeronautics authority inspectors to searched a pile of broken wreckage today for causes of the crash that killed 25 persons.

Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., who authored the first air safety legislation after death of Sen. Bronson Cutting of New Mexico five years ago, announced he would insist on a senate investigation of the crash near Lovettsville, Va., Saturday, in which Sen. Ernest Lundeen, R., Minn., and 24 others died.

McCarran was a never-reconciled foe of President Roosevelt's civil aeronautics authority, particularly under the coming department. Today he blamed the crash of the Pennsylvania Central airliner on the action.

"There's no doubt in my mind," he said, "that had the CAA been continued as an independent agency this crash would not have occurred. It was the first crash since transfer of the CAA, the first American air travel fatality in 17 months."

"Political Control"

McCarran said the reorganized CAB was shot through with "chaos, confusion and political control."

Messaline five inspectors from the CAB air safety board, aided by six attached to the office of the civil aeronautics administrator, examined bit by bit the pieces of battered metal that once were an air liner.

"What happened in the 10 minutes between the time the pilot last reported his position and the blinding onset of the plane loaded with gasoline, into a Virginia grass field, was conclusive."

Criticism centered the theory that the violent wind and rain storm that must have caught the plane in its furious grip was the principal cause of the accident. The investigation reports the ship had caught fire or exploded in the air and were doubtful it could have been struck by lightning. They denied that the plane had dropped a nose a few minutes before the crash.

"At least 20 of the plane's speed were between 300 and 350 miles an hour."

"The nose of the plane plowed out a 20-foot-wide crater. Its tail snapped like a whip and scattered luggage and wreckage for yards. Witnesses by the way set the time at 2:41 p. m. Saturday."

A blinding rain prevented removal of the bodies until 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Bodies of the 25 victims, including that of Senator Lundeen, veteran mid-western liberal and isolationist, were carried to the tiny cemetery at Union cemetery at Leesburg, Va., 16 miles away. A squad of federal bureau of investigation fingerprint experts, and in which the plane crashed and established identity of most of the victims, present or former government employes from their files.

One of the passengers was an FBI agent.

Capt. W. G. Carmichael, PCA vice president, said the pilot, Ernest Lundeen, was one of the line's veterans and had flown the route for the last 11 years.

FDR THRUSTS AT BACKGROUND OF GOP CANDIDATE

By T. F. REYNOLDS
CHICKAMAUGA, Tenn., Sept. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt, thrusting at the private utility background of his Republican opponent Wendell L. Willkie, promised today the New Deal would improve and extend the philosophy of public development of national resources at the expense of the Tennessee valley authority.

"The occasion was the celebration of completion of the $36,000,000 Chickamauga dam across the Tennessee river which he dedicated to 'the total defense of the United States of America.'"

The President praised the democratic program by which the TVA project was planned and constructed. He said the splendid changes have not come by compulsion. He asserted it was a demonstration of what a democracy at work can do for a people utilizing its own waste and inactivity.

Witness Program

"Today we see the progress that we have made. We are making it, and that we propose to make to make," he said. "In this valley, as in the nation, we do not propose to abandon the spot that is directly before our eyes either by sitting down or by going back."

In the first of two addresses he will make today, Mr. Roosevelt will sharply at "those who maintain the development of this enterprise is not a proper activity of government."

He did not mention Willkie by name, but it appeared obvious he was contrasting the New Deal's program of "yardstick power" development with that of the private utility company. Willkie formerly was president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation. Willkie, the opposition to F. D. R., is a Republican.

Anti-Aircraft Firing Turns Back German Planes Near London

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Anti-aircraft guns along the English channel coast hurled up a terrific barrage this afternoon against a great German air armada of nearly 200 bombers and fighters.

Unofficially it was estimated 10 to 20 German planes were shot down up to 3 p. m. at which time probably 500 Nazi craft had flown over Britain.

Thousands of anti-aircraft gun squadrons and reports said that at least 600 of the raiders were brought down along the coast line.

The armada was the second largest force sent across the channel by the Luftwaffe today. The first gave London a 44-minute air alarm, the first after a 17-hour lull in which only small and isolated German units appeared over the British coastline.

German planes today ran low above opposition both by the royal air force and anti-aircraft batteries which have improved markedly since day after day of mass air warfare goes by.

Nine Planes Downed

The air ministry reported nine German planes shot down and four British aircraft missing today, one pilot safe up to 1 p. m.

The air ministry reported today that the German raiding force was a considerable one. The day's first mass attack was directed to objectives in that region but was beaten off by British fighters.

Shortly after noon another flight of about 50 German bombers was spotted in the sector. Heavy anti-aircraft fire forced the raiders to turn from their course and they finally were chased off to sea by British fighters without dropping any bombs.

Other parts of England had been bombed heavily, but London had been completely safe since the onset of two air alarm periods ended at 2:45 p. m. yesterday.

Flames Erupted Back

This morning's first hour alarm came at 8:08 a. m., and the "all clear" came 46 minutes later at 8:53. The alarm did little to disorganize the city.

News came from a United Press correspondent that a Transport secretary told the two British forces that German bombers, protected by strong fighter plane squadrons had been mainly to break through the

MAN ESCAPES IN CRASH ON BRIDGE

Fred A. Stomberg, 26, Buhi, was the only general escapee today recovering from injuries received in a spectacular early morning accident Sunday at a point where highway 30 crosses Dead Man's gulch just west of the hospital.

Hospital officials this morning said that Stomberg had a "good night" and that his condition was good. The attending physician said he was suffering only a broken arm and also a cut muscle in the shoulder. Investigation by sheriff's officers disclosed that the plane, owned by Stomberg, had a "good night" and that his condition was good. WILLKIE COURTS LABOR, INDUSTRY

WILLKIE, Ind., Sept. 2 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie today promised to state his views on the industry and agriculture to overcome the nation's "present economic stagnation" at a luncheon conference with labor unions under government control.

"We must rely upon compulsion of the law only as a last resort," he said. "I shall rely very influentially on the law to bring about effective bargaining between management and men upon a basis of good will, conciliation and economic well-being and free from interference."

The Republican presidential candidate spent the day preparing for a luncheon conference with labor unions under government control.

EARLY CRITICIZES WILLKIE'S REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Walter House Secretary Stephen T. Early sharply criticized Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell Willkie today for making public excerpts from the industrial mobilization plan prepared by Edward H. Rittenhouse, chairman of the war resources planning board, President Roosevelt has not made the Rittenhouse report public, and Early said many officials had copies because of a confidential government report.

"I merely want to say the Rittenhouse report is a confidential government document," Early said. "Mr. Willkie is still a private citizen and he has released excerpts from a confidential government report."

The official copy of the report, he said, is in a military file and would be admitted a few high army and navy officials had copies because of a confidential government report.

2 Congresses, Presidents Hold Meetings in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—The government today faced the problem of dealing with two congresses, as administration adherents cheered President Lázaro Cardenas' decision to dissolve the 1937-40 congress and to call for new elections. The new congress would meet in the city.

Seventeen persons were in hospital all having been wounded in political shootings.

Gen. 32 CHILDREN RESCUED FROM NAZI-TORPEDOED SHIP

REFUGEES READY FOR SECOND TRY AT CANADA TRIP

AT A NORTHERN BRITISH PORT, Sept. 2 (UP)—Three hundred and twenty children, rescued from a British evacuation ship by German submarines torpedoed without warning in the night, said today they were ready to start ship again any time for Canada and "Hitler can go to hell."

The children, ranging in years from 5 to 13, and coming from England, Wales and Scotland, marched to lifeboats in their pajamas singing "Roll Out the Barrel" and "Oh Johnny Oh Johnny How You Came" after they had been awakened and told their ship was sinking.

The ship did not sink, however, and the children and 500 their rescuers and crew members were rescued. There was one casualty, Purser R. Baron Schindler, who missed his footing as he tried to board a lifeboat and plunged into the sea.

The refugee ship was torpedoed about 100 miles off the coast of Norway and rescued at this port yesterday, the children still singing.

The children had been drawn mostly from stateless schools in London, Wales and Scotland as Manchester, Birmingham, Cardiff, Bristol, Southampton, Dundee, Glasgow, Inverness and Aberdeen.

Efficient organization and the bravery of the children resulted in their being saved from the life belts and at their assigned life boat stations within 20 minutes of the ship's being torpedoed.

BREKLYN, Sept. 2 (UP)—Authoritative German sources today charged the British story of the sinking of a children's refugee ship was a hoax and that the ship had been assigned "exclusively for United States consumption."

"There probably never was any ship nor any children," they said.

British Fighters Attack
As the raiders reached the river, the fighters attacked. There was a furious five-minute dog fight and the German, turning tail, fled for the sea with upturning and burning fighters in pursuit.

This morning's renewal of German attacks on London came as no surprise, as it is public had been warning Germany was warding its attack for a greater, and perhaps decisive, attempt to force Great Britain to her knees.

SNEAD BATTLES NELSON FOR P. G. A. TITLE

INDIANS BOOST LEAD WITH DOUBLE WIN OVER WHITE SOX

Guldahl, McSpaden Eliminated in Semi-Final Play

HERSHEY, Penn., Sept. 2 (U.P.)—Sam Snead gets his big chance again today. The hard-hitting West Virginian who's been trying to win a major golf title for the last three years plays Byron Nelson in the 36-hole final of the 1940 P. G. A. tournament.

This is old stuff to these men for they've been second best in the last two P.G.A.'s. Nelson was defeated one up in 37 holes last year by Henry Picard. Snead was defeated 8 and 7 in 1938 by Paul Runyan.

That's why Nelson likely will be the winner even though Snead has played the best golf during this long, dreary tournament. Still Snead was determined to prove once and for all that he is the best golfer of this age.

"I'm playing well," Sam said today, "and I'm sure gonna try to win this thing."

It is to prove that he's cured this stretch fatigue, Sam went out yesterday and defeated Harold (Jim) McSpaden 6 and 4 in the semi-final play.

Nelson advanced with a 1 up victory over Ralph Guldahl.

Atherton, returning from a mid-western trip, said he had sent full details to University of California, U. L. A. and the University of Southern California, schools affected by the bans, and would make the information public after the college authorities had a chance to see it.

Atherton said his failure to mention Pacific northwest schools in his "correction" and even then 21 cannot promise one will be necessary," he said.

ARMY LEADERS SET UP PLANS FOR CALLING OF DRAFT

REGISTRATION OF ELIGIBLES WILL START SEPT. 30

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—Small group of veteran army officers at the army war college are working the details and final of the World War draft, rolling out conscription.

Ever since the World War a group has been planning and devising the machinery for compulsory military service.

Through the intervening years, vital statistics have been carefully worked out and the machinery of every state have been carefully instructed in the manner the draft would work if invoked. Sample registration cards and questionnaires have been designed and redesigned. The samples are now on hand in every state, ready to be put into practice when President Roosevelt signs the conscription bill, the presses will start to roll.

Ever since the very day in United States selective service No. 2—events will march with military precision. It appears now that date will be Sept. 30.

Then follows this schedule: All dates of military service No. 1 to Sept. 30—Printing of registration cards and questionnaires. Registration boards will be set up, using pre-printed election machinery.

Fiftieth day (Sept. 30)—Each man between the ages of 21 to 45 if the house bill should be adopted—will go to his registration place, fill out a card about two inches by three, with his age, birthplace, citizenship, occupation, residence and a few similar, minor items.

Sixtieth to 214 days (Oct. 1 to 31)—Draft board will be set up in each locality. Registration cards will be numbered. The man first registered in his particular area will be numbered No. 1. The second will be No. 2, and so on until all have received a number.

Drafting Takes Place
Twenty-first to 24th days (Oct. 5 to 8)—A pile of capsules, each containing a number ranging from No. 1 to the highest number issued to a registrant, will be placed in a bowl in Washington. One capsule, or some dignitary—perhaps the secretary of war—will draw a capsule out. Each man who holds that number on his registration card will thereby become No. 1 candidate for the draft in his locality.

Twenty-fourth to 24th days (Oct. 8 to Oct. 10)—Boards will distribute eight-page questionnaires, which registrants will have five days to mail to the local draft board.

Class A1
Thirty-fourth to 36th days (Oct. 18 to Oct. 21)—The draft board goes through the questionnaires and determines those who are class A1. Unless a registrant has reported that he has dependents or that his boss finds his military service necessary for his business, or he has some physical infirmity, the board will classify him as A1.

Thirty-sixth to 40th days (Oct. 21 to Oct. 25)—Men in class A1 will report to the draft board in the order determined by the lottery for physical examination and to present their alibis in case they think they were wrongly chosen. Unless they can make a good case, they will be inducted into the service and off to camp—about Nov. 1. The board will select men until it has filled its initial quota.

HANSEN
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Willits, Tulsa, Okla., arrived to visit their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Willits, and Mrs. Matt Alton, with their own daughter, Mrs. K. C. Fisher, and her husband. Another guest of the Willits is their daughter, Mrs. Irene Morgan, Bikesfield, Calif., who plans to stay about six weeks.

All who have attended the art class which has been conducted in several months, are asked to attend the Sept. 4 meeting when the year's business will be closed and a new class organized. The class is headed by Miss Ruth Reed and is held at Hansen school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Edna Hale, Oakley, have moved into the three-story house where they will live with Mr. Hale. He is teaching here.

Four sewing machines were received at Hansen high school to use in the home economics class. With few exceptions, all boys have signed up for manual training, which is being introduced this year for the first time, as a home economics. This present setup for junior high is still unsatisfactory, according to Supl. H. J. Deering, and revisions will be made. Registration so far numbers 245 students, 75 of whom are in high school.

John Lauterbach, nephew of T. O. Lauterbach, who spent the summer here, left for his home in Redwood Falls, Minn. John accompanied his uncle in Washington where he stayed during the three-week management of the national guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brewer, who visited here a few weeks from San Diego, continued on to Washington and returned to visit his sisters, Mrs. Fay Frahm and Mrs. J. B. Lewis.

At a meeting recently of chairman of all civic organizations, plans were made for teachers' reception Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 8 p. m. in Hansen Grange hall. Assigned to program arrangements are the Women's community council and the Grange, while the Baptist church and Ladies of G. A. B. will handle decorations.

Miss Maud Laycock returned Wednesday from New York. She also visited in Newark, N. J., with her sister, Mrs. Laycock, former Mrs. Carl Laycock, former wife of the late Carl Laycock, who died at Washington, D. C., and for the first time with relatives in New York.

Bombing of Capitals Brings Little Help to Warring Foes

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

In the exchange of air raids over London and Berlin, the Germans have the advantage of shorter distance and numerical superiority while the British have higher average aviation efficiency. These attacks over the two capitals are serving an important military purpose and foreign correspondents in both cases, who have inspected the damage, report only minor results.

Their intensity may be expected gradually to end as their futility becomes more apparent to the military commands. When two belligerents begin such operations against each other, however, it is difficult for either of them to halt without simultaneous suspension by the other. Prestige becomes involved and voluntary termination by a single combatant might be interpreted as weakness by the other.

May End Bombing
If a mutual agreement were made, the sleepless millions of both cities would be grateful but they cannot openly say so. Nevertheless, in the end, realism should prevail. A day or two of impossible flying weather may soon grant a respite, after which neither belligerent may wish to resume the fruitless contest in earnest.

The German planes probably do not have to fly more than an average of 200 or 250 miles from their base to London and back, and back. The round trip from the British coast to Berlin and back, however, measures 1,200 miles. This explains why the British night raids over Berlin are always of shorter duration than the German night raids over London, since the fuel capacity of a plane is limited.

Diakle Night Flying
The Germans lately have been showing less reluctance to engage in night flying. They had neglected effective training in blind flying, trusting to their mass power to dominate the air by daylight attacks, when there is far better opportunity to bomb selected targets. Too, air combat is almost impossible at night between opposing planes.

Neither Britain nor Germany sends its fighters aloft to meet enemy bombers at night while the anti-aircraft guns are in action, since invisibility would make possible their own destruction from the ground fire. The main German air objective has been to annihilate the British air force, which could be attempted only by daylight combat. Hitler has had no success in this purpose, and so night flying is now being developed by the Ger-

TEXAS ACCENTS DRIVE ON 'ISMS'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas state board of education has voted to fight "un-American propaganda" with enlarged courses in American government in the public schools.

Five textbooks on American democracy are furnished free to the children of high school age in the state. The board has called on book publishers to submit suitable textbooks for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils, also.

Board chairman James G. Strong of Carthage said he would like to have democracy taught in all the school grades. "I would like to have a pre-primer on it, if it is available," Strong told the board members.

Besides ordering additional texts on democracy the board increased the quota of library copies of a book on "Democracy in Action" that is supplied to the schools for library use. The board ordered that two copies at least be furnished to each school. Schools with more than 50 pupils are to be supplied with a copy for each 25 pupils and major fraction of 25 pupils.

The new textbooks will be submitted to a committee of teachers. The readers committee will consider only text. Prices of the books will not be printed in the copies submitted to the committee. After this committee makes its recommendation on the text, the state board of education will receive copies of the submitted books and the price selection then will be made by the board.

A proclamation of the board notifying publishers what books the state board will consider purchasing on Oct. 14 directed that the new texts be "designed to promote a love for the United States of America and its institutions." It was directed that at least one of the texts selected shall present a historical background of American civil liberties.

One of the books now furnished to the school libraries gives the text of Magna Charta, the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and copies of writs of habeas corpus, search warrants and other similar documents.

MIDWEST WARS ON MARIJUANA

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The drive to eradicate marijuana, a narcotic plant here and in nearby Missouri and Kansas is being intensified before the plant seeds late this month.

In this city a power mower and sprayer men from the street cleaning department have cut almost 500 tons of the plant from which the drug used in smoking is produced. The plant must itself be cut to grow next year.

William C. Gordon, inspector of detectives in charge of eradicating the narcotic, is directing the drive here and in outlying districts.

Gordon has conferred with members of farm and county extension agents in 21 counties in northwestern Missouri to promote an educational program explaining the harmful effects of the drug and the best methods for its destruction.

The farm agents have furnished the program by arranging meetings with ministers, members of the American Legion, farmers, 4-H clubs and newspaper editors all of whom have agreed to join the eradication drive.

In Kansas, Gordon has contacted W. B. Fair, director of the state highway department, who has thrown the full cooperation of his department into the campaign. The actual cutting is handled by the Suit May Force Death Valley Scotty to Reveal 'Finances'

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2 (AP)—The long-shrouded secret of the "golden fleece" that housed Death Valley Scotty, the maharaja of Inyo county, in a million dollar, castle was threatened today in a lawsuit for a substantial share of his fortune.

Subjunctive Gerard sued the legendary prospector for 25% per cent of whatever belongs to him, basing his claim on a gold miner's law that was accepted, but not written, long before the grizzled desert rat conducted a special train to New York to spread the news of a bonanza.

Gerard, a brother of James W. Gerard, former U. S. ambassador to Germany, charged he "grab-staked" Scotty with $10,000 in 1907 on his vein of gold in Death valley. In return, he claims, he was promised a portion of his strike.

Scotty, who has come to Los Angeles throwing gold and currency about like a sailor on shore leave, claims all his riches came through loans from his partner, A. M. Johnson, and sheriff.

The plant, originally grown for hemp in rope making, now requires a federal permit for planting. No such permits have been issued in Missouri and Kansas.

In the past two years, Gordon said, 30 marijuana peddlers have been convicted here.

NYA and sheriffs.

Gerard demanded an accounting of Scotty's profits and a full report of his income during the last 33 years, and if the court sustains him it may behoove Scotty to reveal his secret—or continue to insist that Johnson always has "grab-staked" him.

Lucerne Grangers Present Program

Buhl, Sept. 2 (Special)—Lucerne Grange members were guests and entertainers for Buhl Grange Tuesday in their new hall.

Visitors presented as a program violin solos by Charles Kohlmeier, accompanied by Miss Irene Rogers; a play, "Wedding of Cutie and Able," by the boys and men of the Grange; John Holmes played harmonica numbers; Mrs. Kuy gave a reading, and a skit, "No Train Today," was presented by members.

Harmonica selections were played by William Conner and Mrs. Tom Hejmanek gave several new items. Closing the program the master of the visiting Grange spoke.

On Sept. 6 Buhl Grange will present a program for Lucerne Grange. An entertainment was made of the booster night program at the Presbyterian church Sept. 24. State Master E. T. Taylor will be present.

Fred Hoppe, Denver, Colo., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Fay Cook, and expects to remain here this winter.

Miss Emma Rusch, who spent the summer in Pierce, Colo., left last week for Chicago, where she will visit her brother, Chris Rusch, and family, and her sister, Miss Hannah Rusch, former Paul residents.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pack are building a modern milking barn on their ranch east of Paul, under the U. S. government plans, for their home dairy.

A garage is being built at the Guy Dean home by Mrs. M. D. Grace, Rupert, owner of the ranch, for tuberculous patients at Wilmington, Delaware, in December, 1937.
