U. S., BRITAIN NEGOTIATE ON LEASING OF NAVAL BASES

99-YEAR LEASES LOOM ON ISLANDS ALONG ATLANTIC

By T. F. REYNOLDS
ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL EN ROUTE CHARTERED W. Va., Sept. 3 (U.P.)—The United States and Great Britain were reported today to enter into an unprecedented agreement by which this country will acquire strategic naval and air bases on British possessions in the western hemisphere.

President Roosevelt was reported to have reached agreement with Britain on all basic phases of the plan. An announcement was understood to be imminent, although minor details may defer it for 24 or 48 hours.

Last month Mr. Roosevelt disclosed he personally was conducting conversations with Great Britain. It was said that she has steadfastly refused to discuss details or to reveal that British possessions might be involved.

He gave the first indication progress was being made in an address yesterday before the Great Smoky mountains national park. He departed from his prepared text to emphasize imminence of the agreement.

Beyond Preliminary Stage
 The original text read: "New bases must be established to enable our fleet to defend our shores." But when he delivered it before an audience of 10,000 on the mile-high peak over the Great Smoky range he said:

"New bases must be established—and I think they will be established—so that our fleet to defend our shores."

One development came last month indicating the discussions were beyond the preliminary stage. The Bermuda parliament announced negotiations were underway to permit the United States to establish a base for naval operations there.

There was no direct indication the negotiations involved other areas, but there was speculation the United States also might acquire bases at Botswana, Newfoundland, Kingston, Jamaica, or at Trinidad.

Outright acquisition of the bases seemed out of the question on the basis of a recent statement by British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, with whom Mr. Roosevelt personally has negotiated. When the agreement is concluded, it appeared the United States will gain the right to base its battle fleet and planes at bases on British islands under 99-year leases—leases which in Britain's show-down fight with Germany may ultimately lead to permanent occupation.

Another Inspection
 President Roosevelt, completing a quick trip to eastern Tennessee and North Carolina to dedicate war government projects, inspects a naval ordnance plant at Charleston, W. Va., today before returning to the White House.

In his national park dedication address yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt informed the nation of the premise on which he is basing unprecedented armament orders and other emergency defense precautions.

"The greatest attack that has ever been launched against freedom of the individual is nearer the American than ever before," he warned.

Earlier Mr. Roosevelt dedicated the new $28,000,000 Chickamauga dam on the Tennessee river, the latest constructed by the Tennessee valley authority. In that address he scornfully denounced those who criticized the TVA program and promised to extend and improve the New Deal's program for development of national resources by the federal government.

Rare Night-Blooming Cereus Pays Its Annual 'Visit' Here

Unique

Figuratively speaking, there was a "party" down at Mrs. C. W. Parks' home at 430 Main avenue west Sunday night and the guest of honor was a flower which only "visits" once each year.

The guest happened to be a night-blooming cereus. After remaining for the night and filling the room with a fragrance which was not unlike the most expensive perfume, the guest "folded up" to return in another 12 months.

The plant which Mrs. Parks now owns, and which is believed to be the only one in Twin Falls, Idaho, which appears on Sunday night, was brought here from the past 30 years and has bloomed consecutively for the past five years, once having twin blooms.

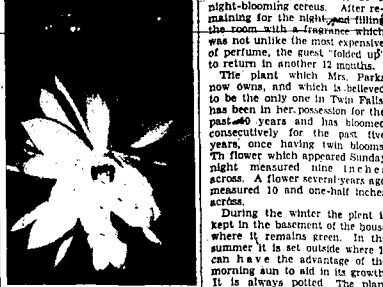

The flower which appeared Sunday night measured nine inches across. A flower several years ago measured 10 and one-half inches across.

During the winter the plant is kept in the basement of the house where it remains green. In the summer it is set outside where it can have the advantage of the morning sun to aid in its growth. It is always potted, the plant itself is some five feet tall.

When the twin blooms appeared on the plant a number of years ago, more than 100 persons registered in a guest book after having seen them.

Sunday night other scores of persons visited the Parks' home to observe the unique bloom.

Unlike most flowers whose blooms are brought to the attention of the night cereus comes from a vein in one of the leaf. It grows on the end of a hooked stem which resembles a old-time crooked pipe.

TEACHING HEADS TO GATHER HERE

Executive board of the South Central Idaho Teachers association will meet at 12:45 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 7, at the Twin Falls high school, according to J. B. Fidelity, Paul school superintendent and president of the association.

The session will be to formulate the preliminary plan for the two-day meeting of the association to be held Oct. 25 and 26 in Twin Falls.

Among the other officials of the organization are M. W. Tate, Gooding, vice-president, and Virginia Hawk, Rupert, secretary-treasurer.

The domestic airlines operating in interstate commerce continued to maintain their good record. Flying flow for the 15th consecutive month without a fatality to passenger or crew.

Police to War on Posting of Bills

City councilmen today had issued a warning that in the future posting of political campaign cards or other bills on telephones or telegraph poles, fences or walls within the city limits will not be permitted, being in direct violation of city ordinance.

Police Commissioner Carl Ritche, said he will immediately start a campaign against such practices. The practice is not permitted without permission of the owner, and such must be licensed by the city.

At a more or less brief session last night the council members approved monthly bills and also approved a report of Municipal Judge J. O. Pumphrey showing collections of $157.50 during the month of August.

Other reports by Charles E. Rowcliffe, weighmaster, showing collections of $47.70 and T. J. Healy, plumbing inspector, showing collections of $100, were also approved and filed.

SPEAKER HONORS EARLY PIONEERS

FILER, Sept. 3 (Special)—Hardships of pioneer life were outlined in a tribute to early settlers of the west given here Sunday by Hyman Lewis, DeLo, president of the Deer club, who addressed the annual meeting of the Twin Falls county Old Settlers' association.

VOTING STARTS AT UTAH POLLS

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 3 (U.P.)—Thousands of Utah voters—aided by somewhat confused party organization workers—went to the polls today to decide their own political preferences and the future of two heavy ballots—full of hopeful candidates.

Early reports indicated a fairly strong vote, although balloting was slow and many persons apparently were at least temporarily baffled by the intricate primary system.

The polls opened at 7 a. m., and were to close tonight at 7 o'clock.

The wide-open governorship race with 11 candidates splitting the Republican and Democratic tickets, completed with the Murdock-King-Drew senatorial battle as an incentive to voters.

Two Ballots
 Under the primary law, registered voters were given both Democratic and Republican ballots, with instructions to mark one and discard the other. Thus, there was no certainty in which ticket any person might vote.

This uncertainty handicapped supporters of the major candidates, who faced the possibility of providing transportation for individuals who—in the secrecy of the voting booths—might cold-bloodedly vote for the opposition.

Political observers reiterated their belief that the election would produce a heavy Democratic trend with many Republicans sacrificing their support for gubernatorial candidates in order to vote for Sen. William H. King, the incumbent Democrat.

Exclusive Interest
 National interest in the primary centered exclusively in the candidacy of King and of his opponent, Rep. Abe Murdock. In last minute maneuvers each man produced endorsements from leading Utah figures. Sen. King has been opposed throughout his campaign by Utah GIO members, but he won a letter of recommendation from William Green, head of the APF.

Murdock's final campaign move was publication of a letter from President Roosevelt, intended to show the candidate as "the President's friend." The national administration, however, made no stand in the election, and indicated their aspirant would be satisfactory.

Three Arrested by Jerome Officials

JEROME, Sept. 3 (Special)—Ray J. Nielson, Jerome, was arrested a day ago in a state court case of $3 when he pleaded guilty to charges of battery last week before Probate Judge Herb J. Folkman.

Nielson, according to a complaint made out against him by Earl Small, complainant, refused to be arrested and asserted that Small with his clenched fists.

Pleading guilty to charge of reckless driving, Cito Kinsland, Jerome, was also arrested. $100 fine and court costs of $6.25. Kinsland is alleged to have run into another car.

Jim Boyd, Jerome, was arrested on charges of drunken driving Aug. 30. He was arrested by a member of the Idaho state police and admitted guilt before Probate Judge Folkman. Boyd was remanded to custody of the sheriff for the payment of $100 fine, plus court costs of $3.

DEAL DELIVERED PRICES—1940 GENERAL MOTORS CARS

PRICE OF CAR	TRANSPORTATION CHARGE	CASH DELIVERED PRICE OF CAR	OPTIONAL EQUIPMENT & ACCESSORIES	TOTAL CASH DELIVERED PRICE

ACTUAL PRICES APPEAR ON CHARTS DISPLAYED IN DEALER SHOWROOMS

Look for the wall chart before you buy and know what you're getting; know what you're paying; see the value in the car; see all items in the price.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST "PACKED" PRICES

HERE'S a simple but obvious fact about buying a new car you may have overlooked.

The real measure of what the new car costs you is the money difference you pay after trade-in allowance has been deducted from the delivered price.

A high trade-in allowance doesn't always mean a good "deal." It may only mean that the delivered price has been inflated in order to make such an allowance possible. That is called "packing" and the best way to avoid it is to get an itemized breakdown of delivered prices that you can compare with others' figures.

That's the reason why General Motors has furnished its dealers with price charts like the one shown above and "plainview" price tags to place on the cars on display in their showrooms.

Thus your General Motors dealer can show you all of the items that make up the final delivered price.

That's the simple way to know what you're paying for when buying a new car. Ask your General Motors dealer for all the facts.

This is the standard price tag furnished by General Motors to its dealers to show what makes up the local delivered prices of new cars delivered to customers.

BEFORE YOU BUY, BE SURE THE FINANCE CHARGES SATISFY YOU

BRITISH EXPECT GERMAN INVASION

LONDON, Sept. 3 (U.P.)—Germany has not abandoned her declared intention of attempting to subdue Britain by invasion of the British Isles, War Secretary Anthony Eden said today.

Speaking to the national defense public interest committee, Eden said:

"There is no shred of evidence to show Hitler has abandoned his declared intention of seeking to subdue this country by invasion."

Eden warned of dangers during the invasion of the British Isles. "It would be foolish to suppose that because autumn approaches the threat of invasion already has passed," he said. "There is plenty of evidence to cause us to be especially watchful during the next few weeks."

Castledford Child Hurt in Accident

CASTLEFORD, Sept. 3 (Special)—Nadene Sumner, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sumner, returned a broken leg Wednesday when run into by a car driven by Lloyd Spelman, Buhl.

She was playing on the lawn at the home of her grandfather, T. J. Sumner, Buhl, and run into the street in front of a parked car into the Spelman machine. Her leg was broken between the ankle and knee.

She is now resting at the home of her parents on a ranch south-east of Castledford.

by JOHN CLINTON

This folk who cover a couple of doors down the street from us think when Labor Day has passed, vacation season is over. The weather is hot and golden, and the ocean foaming. But nope, say these folks—vacation's over!

But Mrs. C. and I think that some of the very nice week-ends we've known have had on the wrong side of Labor Day. So we think in the family clubhouse and on a bright Sunday morning point her nose out of town and let her rip.

But if your family's like mine—your wife's spoiled if the car doesn't have a right-developer, or the steering gear gets the cramps.

Here's my recipe for a fast, happy week-end. Have your mechanic check them all, replace call for parts, and give it a Stop-Wear Lubrication. That's all you have to do.

They'll bring it back, and wow! You can instantly feel the difference in the way it handles, shifts and steers. You can feel the difference in the way it pulls along without a squeak or rattle.

And finally you can see the difference in the way the bus sparkles and shines. The glass is clean, the side-panels, and winging boards dressed, and everything in apple-pie order.

And if you don't think that will make the best week-end yet—then you just try it. Telephone Union Oil station and just say "Stop-Wear—come and get it!"
