BRITISH AIRCRAFT BOMB GREAT GERMAN SEAPORT

WEST, NORTHERN GERMANY RAIDED BY RAF PLANES

By Joseph W. Grigo, Jr. BERLIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—British planes last night raided the seaport of Hamburg and the surrounding district during the night and dropped bombs on thickly populated residential quarters, newspapers said today.

The high command said "British aircraft last night directed attacks against residential sections of Hamburg, damaging several houses and causing serious fires."

The total damage caused was only slight, the communique said. It asserted the planes tried to force their way into Berlin but all these attempts were shattered on the very massive German defenses.

Earlier Nazi informants had admitted British planes had bombed western and northern Germany during the night.

Return Attack The same informants said German planes after raiding London last night had returned to the attack today but that during the morning hours their operations were on a smaller scale, mainly because of cloudy weather, and they busied themselves largely with reconnaissance work.

It was indicated, however, the German attack was still developing. The newspaper B-Z Am Mittag, which is known for its anti-British propaganda, said editorially:

"Evidently the night pirates have not had enough. That is proved by the fact that they are still carrying out last night with such violence and force that the city had the longest air alarm thus far—10 hours."

"The night pirates have been hit by the heaviest caliber bombs. Six thousand-foot flames could be seen from the sea works and heaviest explosions, following one after another, were observed."

It was said the German planes had raised thousands of bombs on London without interruption in what Field Marshal Hermann Goering, air force chief, had proclaimed was the "historic hour in which for the first time the German Luftwaffe strikes at the heart of the enemy."

Results Terrific When Bits Of Street Gossip Are Mixed

By Lowell Dick It's rather disconcerting to persons hurrying to complete shopping activities or beat the traffic cop to an auto parked in a one-hour zone, but Twin Falls streets are apparently excellent places to exchange bits of news and gossip and perhaps indulge in a lively discussion.

People congregate in small groups and although eavesdropping is frowned on by Emily Post, it's fun to take in a snatch of conversation here and there.

"We haven't had much rain (this was Saturday) but it's been enough to keep us from thrashing Jerry for 10 years." That's a sample of what you get when sauntering down the street. Unless you concentrate on this business of eavesdropping, parts of several conversations become mixed. Results are terrific.

Famed Sheep Dogs Will Show On Sun Valley Sport Program

SUN VALLEY, Sept. 9 (Special)—An exhibition of nationally famous sheep dogs will headline a sports hour to be given here in the afternoon of Sept. 14, Robert J. Miles, Sun Valley's director of outdoor sports, announced today.

Miles said that he had engaged Luke J. Pasco of Chicago, Ill., nationally famous breeder and trainer of sheep dogs, to demonstrate the prowess of his collies with sheep.

Among other things, Pasco's championship dogs Jean and Pat will demonstrate the art of "shedding" or sorting a flock of sheep into different groups, and of maneuvering a flock while receiving instructions only by whistles of different pitch.

Pasco has won acclaim from past exhibitions of his dogs at livestock shows and state fairs and has written articles that he feels his exhibition will be of particular interest here in Idaho, especially to sheep men.

Other attractions at the show will consist of trick riding, bronc busting and other western events.

Maine To Hold "Precedent Setting" Election Today

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO CUT MARGIN OF G. O. P. VOTERS

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 9 (AP)—Maine holds its "as Maine goes so goes the nation" election today, but the old political saw had lost prestige because of what happened in 1936.

Republicans claimed an overwhelming victory in advance of the opening of the polls, and the Democrats professed to be as confident they would win. They hoped privately, however, to reduce the Republican margin of victory below that of 1936 when Maine went Republican but most of the rest of the nation went Democratic in November.

Rep. Ralph O. Brewster, Republican, and former Gov. Louis J. Brann, Democrat, sought the senate seat of Frederick Hale, Republican, who is retiring.

Summer Sewall, president of the state senate, a Republican, opposed Fulton J. Redman, a political columnist, the Democrat, for governor.

Brann campaigned on a New Deal platform, talking particularly about President Roosevelt's foreign policy, while Brewster supported the program of Wendell L. Willkie, his party's presidential nominee.

But the campaign was complicated from the view of a clear-cut

Night Bombings of London Termed Retaliation Raids

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Intensified night bombings over London are aimed primarily at trying to force Great Britain to cease night attacks on German cities, more especially Berlin, Hitler last week described night raids as useless and threatened reprisals. There is little reason to magnify the raids beyond this purpose.

Authoritative British quarters express doubts that the Germans are trying to "erase" London. The damage is far from being extensive enough to interfere seriously with normal daytime activities of the people, who returned to work today as usual.

London likewise disbelieves the German bombs are being dropped "promiscuously." Most of the casualties and damage have occurred in the poorer quarters of the capital, which suggests a deliberate purpose.

Attempt to Terrorize

The German intention is to try to terrorize civilians so that public opinion will compel the British government to agree to end all night raids. In general, the poorer, undisciplined tenement dwellers are more emotionally affected by personal disaster than other classes. Hitler, apparently, hopes that repeated bombings of working class districts will produce the results he desires.

Militarily, the attacks on London can have no major effect on the war. Madrid was bombed constantly during the Spanish revolution without serious consequences. Chungking, too, has been attacked heavily and repeatedly from the air without decisive results. London has stronger resistance power than either Madrid or Chungking.

The publicity given to Reich Marshal Goering as personal director of the London raids must have significance. He is the commander-in-chief of German aviation, responsible for its activities. Two possible deductions can be made to explain his present prominence.

Direct Command

If the London bombings were planned as a knock-out blow against British air power, it is conceivable that Goering might assume direct command. Goering might have taken personal command if an invasion were planned quickly to follow the London terror raids. However, intensified bombings, preliminary to an invasion, would more naturally be directed against coastal landing places rather than the inland capital.

There is another possible reason for making Goering so conspicuous. The British night raids over Germany and particularly Berlin may well have caused the German people to ask why their airplanes allow the British to break through. Any such criticism would fall on Goering, the organizer of Hitler's air power.

To show the German people Goering's competence, it would be good tactics to cause him to direct a series of great mass raids over London. He now becomes associated with the stories about London's devastation printed in German newspapers.

Will Your Son or Daughter Attend A University?

The answer to that question may depend upon whether or not they study music! Is that statement far-fetched? Not at all. Because today music is an important part of one's education. . . . And the ability to play a musical instrument gives a child poise, and "that something" which helps develop personality.

Music can help your son or daughter become a leader and because of this he or she may be given the DESIRE to go to college.

Note: If you want to purchase a musical instrument look for the "Radio and Music" classification in the Times-News want ads.

For the bronc riding, calf roping, bull dogging, wild Brahma bull riding and mad scramble events, Leo J. Cremer of Shawmut, Mont., has rounded up the "toughest and snort-est" stock he can find. With many trick and fancy roping and riding events and Clown and Bull Fighter Jimmie Nesbit doing his stuff, there's going to be plenty of action. And climaxing all this excitement will be a feature act in which Alice Sixty rides a Roman team as it leaps headlong over an auto!

Among the midway attractions and entertainment highlights will be the Siebrand Bros. Carnival company with 10 thrilling rides and 10 unusual shows, free acts by a 3-ring Picadilly Circus, a 10-piece colored band that's plenty hot, a spectacular balloon ascension every afternoon, and an elaborate fireworks display the closing night.

YANKS MOVE WEST FOR CRUCIAL PENNANT CONTESTS

Fairfield Man Is Named Head for District Group

South central Idaho football teams got down to practice in earnest today after completion of schedule drawing for the Saturday afternoon at the annual fall meeting of the South Central Idaho Athletic association.

Cowboys Drop Finale to Ogden Reds

OGDEN, Sept. 9 (Special)—Ogden Reds pointed out 11 hits to 10 made by the Twin Falls Cowboys here last night in the concluding game of the regular Pioneer league season and the result was an 8-4 victory for the Reds.

The meet saw the movement of Kimberly to the league in which last year 11-man football, and District drop from 11-man game to the six-man league.

There was also an abolishment of the various divisions of the six-man league and all teams will play in the same loop, with the club holding the highest average at the end of the season being named champion.

The plan is to hand in a master eligibility list to the state association with a carbon copy of this going to each opponent on the schedule.

Discussions of the league will be made up just about the same again this year.

Playing in the Class A league will be Okemo, Gooding, Rupert, Burley, Pater, Jerome and Buhl. Twin Falls plays the Western Idaho league.

In the 11-man league will be Hayden, Declo, Shoshone, Kimberly, Murtaugh, Hagerman, Richfield, Glenns Ferry, Wendell and Fairfield.

Included in the six-man loop are clubs from Hazelton, Castelford, Acquia, King Hill, Rupert, Eden, Heyburn, Dietrich, Paul and Hansen.

Boise Loses 2 To Russets; Cards Tip Bees

(By United Press) The regular Pioneer league season ended Sunday, and there is nothing left for organized baseball fans in the metropolitan sector but the Shaugheys playoffs.

The Idaho Falls Russets beat Boise 12 to 2 and 8 to 1 Sunday, and finished in third place and a playoff spot. Ogden defeated Twin Falls 4 to 4, and won the fourth place playoff spot.

The playoffs start Tuesday with the champion Salt Lake Reds showing at Ogden, and the second-place Bees facing the Idaho Falls Russets at Idaho Falls. Wednesday games will be at Salt Lake and Boise, and should third games be necessary, they will be played in Salt Lake and Boise Thursday.

The two winners in the first part of the playoffs will then play one of the other two winners in three games to determine the winner of the district's cup.

The Bees went down to defeat, 7 to 1, at hands of Pocatello Cardinals Sunday in a circus day finish at Salt Lake City.

They Make Bow in Class A Ranks

Among the 33 coaches who attended the annual district meeting here on Saturday were these three who will be making their initial bow to south central Idaho Class A ranks this year.

At left is M. B. Wheeler, who will handle the reins at Buhl. He coached at Bellevue last year. In center is John Cooper, new coach at Gooding, coming there from Kellogg. At right is J. B. Halliday, late of Times who will step into Dode Cassidy's shoes at Oakley.

On the other it was Alice Marling of Los Angeles, a girl who is riding one of the most impressive victory streaks of all time, defending the women's championship against a field of figures who were considered her star is slowly settling—Helen Hill Jacobs of Berkeley.

This was almost exactly the same match that met in the finals of the same tournament here at Forest Hills a year ago, and both the reigning title-holders were solid favorites to make their second game and remain at the top for at least one more season. Of the four, Billie Jean King was the only player who failed to reach the final round in 1939.

The survivors attained their positions before 12,000 fans yesterday, and only Miss Marble—who has lost a single set in the tournament—did it without being forced into an up-hill fight.

Riggs was forced to five sets to conquer a 1911 of Ann Arbor, Mich., 4-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

McNell started strong against J. Kramer of Belvedere, Oregon, but, but encountering the stubbornness before he could win 6-1, 6-7, 8-4, 4-4.

Billie Jean King defeated Valerie Scott of England, 6-3, 6-3 and Miss Jacobs eliminated Mary Hardwick of England, 2-6, 6-1, 4-4.

and on Saturday the two survivors met for the title. Ward's heavy favorite, but there are plenty of men in the field to cause him trouble. Wren Willie Turner, winner of the 1938 tournament at Oakland, Penn., has the game for Winged Foot and he knows every blade of grass on the course.

Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., twice runner-up in the tournament, has been playing well all summer and is fresh from victories in the New York state amateur and the eastern amateur.

Besides Turner and Ward, there are eight former champions in the field. Johnny Goodrich, one-time conqueror of the great Bobby Jones; Johnny Fischer; Chick Evans, who was winning titles when most of the amateurs were in grade school; Francis Oulmet; Jess Sweetser; Jesse Gulliford; Max Marston and George Dunlap.

Herbert B. Hall, Springfield, N. J., hit the first ball off the tee and then the contestants got off in three-omes. Two 18-hole rounds of match play on Wednesday will trim the field to 16 and two more on Thursday will cut it down to four. The semi-finalists play 36 holes Friday

Champs Play For Titles in Net Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 9 (UP)—A tough little trooper whose eyes are cocked on a bucket of professional gold and a slim build who swings her racket as a woodsman swung his gambled their American tennis titles today against the power of a rising rookie and the precision of a fading immortal.

On one side it was Robert Riggs of Chicago, ex-Californian who rose from obscurity of the public courts, defending the men's crown against the newest of many famed players who have emerged from the south-west—Don McNeill of Oklahoma City.

Three Leaders All Cop Sunday Games; Dodgers Win Twice

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UP)—The Yankee juggernaut, with 25 victories in 31 games, headed westward today to carry the pennant battle into the heart of the enemy's camp.

Only one game out of first place, the Yanks will open their western campaign at Cleveland tomorrow, facing the Indians—bulet Bob Feller. The Yanks will play 12 games in the west—two at Cleveland, three at Detroit, three at Chicago and four at St. Louis.

Before leaving for the west the Yanks just about crushed the last Boston Red Sox hope of figuring prominently in the spectacular September stretch drive. The Yanks belted the Red Sox 4-4 yesterday, and dropped Joe Cronin's team five games from the top.

Feller Saves Game Cleveland came out of its six-game losing streak in the nick of time to save its lead of 200 for a day. The Indians beat their favorite team, the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, in 10 innings. Bob Feller came in as a relief pitcher for Al Miller in the ninth, and allowed only one hit and fanned three men in the two innings he worked. Feller was credited with the victory, his 24th.

Rudy York's homer in the eighth enabled the Tigers to trim the St. Louis Browns, 5-4, and come to blow their hot breaths right on the Indians' necks.

The Washington and Philadelphia divided a pair, the Senators winning the first game, 7-5, and the Athletics taking the two-inning nightcap, 4-0.

Dodgers Win Two The Dodgers made another gesture at getting back into the National league pennant race by knocking off the New York Giants twice, 7-2 and 4-2.

Cincinnati had to lead trimmed to 8½ games by losing to the Chicago Cubs, 3-1.

Pittsburgh moved into third place by winning two 7-0 today and Sunday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE Philadelphia 6-4, Washington 7-0 (second game called end of fifth, darkness) Chicago 4, Cleveland 5, New York 9, Boston 4, St. Louis 4, Detroit 5.

NATIONAL LEAGUE Brooklyn 1-1, Philadelphia 2-3 (first game 12 innings) Boston 7-4, New York 2-2 (second game 11 innings), Pittsburgh 16-8, St. Louis 14-4 (second game called end of fifth, darkness), Cincinnati 1, Chicago 3.

Play Starts in National Amateur Golf Tournament

By HARRY FERGUSON MAMARONECK, N. Y., Sept. 9 (UP)—One hundred and fifty golfers set off across the Winged Foot Country club course today in quest of the National Amateur golf championship.

Rich men and poor men, crooners from Hollywood, auto salesmen and insurance agents are in the field that will play 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow in a fight for the 64 places available for match play starting Wednesday.

Towering above them all is Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., who won the title last year and is a red-hot favorite to repeat. He became the man to beat when he went out for a practice round yesterday and shot a blazing 68, four under par.

Playing along with Ward are Bing Crosby, the Hollywood actor, Bing Apple, the former professional, and Ray Billows, a former amateur and the eastern amateur.

Besides Turner and Ward, there are eight former champions in the field. Johnny Goodrich, one-time conqueror of the great Bobby Jones; Johnny Fischer; Chick Evans, who was winning titles when most of the amateurs were in grade school; Francis Oulmet; Jess Sweetser; Jesse Gulliford; Max Marston and George Dunlap.

Herbert B. Hall, Springfield, N. J., hit the first ball off the tee and then the contestants got off in three-omes. Two 18-hole rounds of match play on Wednesday will trim the field to 16 and two more on Thursday will cut it down to four.

The semi-finalists play 36 holes Friday and on Saturday the two survivors met for the title. Ward's heavy favorite, but there are plenty of men in the field to cause him trouble.

Dixie Walker Takes Lead in Batting Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UP)—Dixie Walker, Brooklyn Dodgers' outfielder, this week climbed into the batting leadership of the National league and Rip Radcliff, St. Louis Browns' infielder, increased his margin over the American league batters, average leaders today including games of Thursday evening.

Walker gained the senior league lead by stepping up his slugging average from .321 to .322 while the erstwhile leading Carver Howell of the Boston Braves slumped seven points to a second place tie with Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds.

Radcliff retained his 350 average lead by increasing his lead when Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox each lost five points to the third and fourth behind Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, who moved into the runner-up position.

Predator Pitzummins continued to lead the National league pitchers with his 13 wins and two lost and Buck Newsum, Detroit Tigers slinger, led in big league wins with the American league hurler with 17 victories and three defeats.

U.S.L.T.A. Frowns Because Frank Kovacs Smiles

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UP)—The United States Lawn Tennis association, a small body of small men in big clothes, is about to break its own record for ineptness by its treatment of Frank Kovacs, one of the country's best players.

Kovacs is being ostracized by the U. S. L. T. A. because he hasn't, on any of the grounds, performed in the amateur category, namely, that a 20-year-old Californian with the smile as wide as a service court and the gift for making himself and others laugh, refuses to play the sport as if he were being trained for a place on the bench. He simply cannot bring himself to scowl and growl through his matches as if he were being trained for a place on the bench.

He cannot play because the U. S. L. T. A. believes the paying customers appreciate grin amateurs. Because the paying customers have proved the point. Pay and away the biggest attraction of the current tournament was Kovacs. Even when he played on field courts, far removed from the stadium and the Whiskey Grove that goes under the delicate name of 'Ten Gardens' and where the crowd drew the biggest crowd. Had he managed to last until the final round the stadium would have enjoyed one of its infrequent ailments. He didn't play a match all summer that didn't find the gallery solidly for him.

The chance is Kovacs will bow to the will of

 The girls' division title also is at stake tonight. Cleveland, conqueror of Cincinnati 1-0 in a semi-final, meets the Phoenix, Ariz., girls who showed excellent batting and fielding power in defeating St. Paul, Minn., 4-3 last night.
