Willkie Calls on Texasto Abandon Demo Traditions

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
AMARILLO, Tex., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Since President Roosevelt has abandoned the third term tradition, Wendell L. Willkie today called upon the south to abandon its Democratic tradition.

Speaking extemporaneously—the way he likes best—here in the Texas Panhandle in the state that has gone Republican only once in history, Willkie declared that for the south to follow its Democratic tradition this year it would have to abandon another tradition 160 years old, the third term tradition.

"I put it up to you very frankly, people of the south," he said. "You face a conflict of traditions and you must judge which you value most."

The only difference between this great democracy of ours—the only last untouched democracy in the world—and totalitarianism, is the continuation in office of one man.

Willkie's main theme was anti-third-term. He again compared it with the technique employed by the dictators in Italy, Russia and Germany and declared it was "subversive to have long continuation in office."

But he also found time to renew his attack on political bosses. He characterized Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national chairman, as "the silver tongued boss of the Bronx" and declared he was "subversive to have long continuation in office."

Willkie said everyone has a high personal regard for President Roosevelt, but that the "mobishal spirit of the brain trusters about him."

Willkie said it was this "super federal government" after the war that made Democrats of southerners.

Six bands played "The Eyes of the South" as Willkie drove through streets lined by thousands of persons.

Good Running Mate
Willkie said Mr. Roosevelt had conferred with an Argentine diplomat about lifting restrictions on importation of foreign beef and Mr. Roosevelt had found it necessary to say through the ambassador that day that nothing definite had been decided.

The Republican nominee said he was fortunate to have a running mate, Sen. Charles McNary, sponsor of the "first real farm bill."

RAF Carries out Barge Bombings
LONDON, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—The air ministry reported tonight the royal air force carried out its first night attacks on Germany's invasion bases at Calais, Ostend and Dunkirk yesterday.

A separate attack was made upon Veere, on the Dutch island of Walcheren, where a concentration of German barges was found in a cove.

Your Liberty
Freedom of the press means freedom of the citizen—and a press gagged to print only what the government deems would mean the end of American liberty.

3 Drown as Boat Sinks in Reservoir at American Falls
POCATELLO, Ida., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Three men were drowned when their boat capsized in American Falls reservoir today.

The men were Harry Elzer, 28, Coulee City, Wash.; James Toomey, 22, and Jack de Lator, 20, both of Coulee City.

The boat was overturned by a slighting in the middle of the reservoir by Earl Hansen, a pilot who aided officers in the search.

HIGH OFFICIALS IN ALABAMA FOR BANKHEAD RITES

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt arrived here from Washington today with administration and congressional leaders to pay final tribute to William B. Bankhead, speaker of the House of representatives who died Sunday.

The President arrived here a little more than an hour after the special funeral train brought back to Alabama for burial the body of the late speaker.

In the little first Methodist church in this Alabama town of 2,500, virtually the full executive personnel of the government assembled to say farewell to Speaker Bankhead who as a member of one of Alabama's first families became a leader in the American democratic system.

Most of the cabinet, two of the three major federal administrators, almost 90 congressmen and the President's 1940 running mate, Henry A. Wallace, were in the church for the funeral services.

The funeral brought probably the greatest assembly of federal officials to Alabama in the state's history.

CHAVEZ RALLIES TO TOP DEMPSEY

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Rep. John J. Chavez, who pilots the Hatch clean politics law through the House of Representatives, today emphatically invoked it in the Democratic senatorial primary which apparently had lost by a narrow margin.

Chavez, who in his fight for renomination, had the backing of the state Democratic organization.

Counting of the ballots in Saturday's primary continued today but with each return from the scattered Republican-leaning northern counties, Chavez strengthened his hold on the lead he wrested from Dempsey only yesterday.

Pullman won 84 of the state's 914 divisions, gave Chavez 48,503; Dempsey 48,114.

Agents of the federal bureau of investigation were en route here to investigate "reports of intimidation and political coercion by political bosses."

JEROME DISPUTE ENDS IN KNIFING

JEHOSE, Sept. 17 (Special)—Aftermath of a heated dispute over labor conditions was the knifing of Matt Sullivan, a transient, reportedly by a fellow worker, at Jeromes, Kan., today on Main street.

Sullivan was taken to Klein's cabin, where he had been reading a newspaper, and medical aid was summoned.

He was slain in the abdomen by a two-inch jack knife, wielded by Pullman, and two of his fingers were badly cut.

ITALIAN TROOPS MOVE IN EGYPT

CAIRO, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Two mechanized Italian columns last night moved into the Egyptian desert, an announcement said today.

The occupation of Bill Barrani, at the end of the highway along the coast from Alexandria, represented an advance of approximately 75 miles along the coastal road in five days.

Bill Barrani is important because of its water works. It is a "bomb" mine between the Egyptian border and Marsa Matruh, British base west of Alexandria.

From a London Mother's Photograph Album:

... Then there was that terrible day when a German plane DID drop a bomb on our lawn... Afterward, when we came out of the air raid shelter, we saw a huge crater where the children had been playing that very afternoon... Junior and Sister went over and found their toys—and their Teddy Bear—hardly harmed.

Oddities

NEW YORK—City children are sent along at last their own with their old maps, the board of education reports, on the theory that ones isn't much sense out of them until matters quiet down.

NEW YORK—Neighbors complained of the noise and a police car was sent to awaken them after a junk dealer, who fell asleep with his head on the button of his automobile horn.

INDIANAPOLIS—In what is called a California golf tournament the bottom bid for players and the favored entry goes to the highest bidder. The Columbia club has complicated matters by importing a tobacco auctioneer.

SILVER SEEN AS WATER PURIFIER

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—A new method of placing chlorine in treatment of drinking water, Dr. Alexander Goetz today said delegates attending the metal mining convention and exposition of the American Mining congress.

"After concentration of one part in ten to 20 million is safe for human consumption," said Dr. Goetz of the California Institute of Technology. This is about a five-to-three ratio in favor of silver over chlorine in the safety standpoint, he added.

Dr. Goetz said one ounce of silver would treat from one to two billion thousand gallons of water at a cost of not more than $4 per million gallons.

Dr. Richard L. Neuberger of Portland, Ore., suggested to the delegates a compromise between fluoridation which sponsor established in national parks and the industrialists who seek to develop the mineral resources of the west.

After paying tribute to the United States forest service, Neuberger said the service "realized that the west not only had to be conserved and protected but also developed and exploited."

"No national park should be so sprawling that it includes vast stretches of territory which might be used for other purposes," Neuberger said.

CATCH

BROOKFIELD, Mo., Sept. 17 (U.P.)—This was the fishy story that Walter B. Erwin, city public judge, caught back today after trying his luck at the emmy club last night.

Erwin had a troll here pulling a plug behind the boat. He jettied a heavy jerk on the line and started to reel it in. There was a splash and Erwin's catch hit the boat floor. It was a hook and line fish, a small one on the plug and was securely hooked.

German Boats in Channel Scatter Before Weather

LONDON, Sept. 17 (U.P.)—Providential gales—such as those which dispersed and sank the Spanish Armada—have scattered a German invasion fleet in the English channel, British reconnaissance fliers reported today.

The air ministry reported its observation planes were seeking out new locations of the German surface craft which last had been sighted in "exposed places" along the invasion coast.

Winds over the narrow channel waters were so furious, said the air ministry, that German craft hastily scurried for cover. The new disposition of the fleet was being ferreted out quickly by observation planes.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the house of commons today that the royal air force is making "crushing" reports on Germany's numerical air superiority, warned there still is danger of a Nazi invasion.

Churchill had hardly concluded speaking when the ministry announced reconnaissance planes found the German "invasion" fleet scattered by channel gales.

Churchill addressed commons for two hours after the first German air attack on London yesterday had scattered bombs in Mayfair, Piccadilly, Bond Street and other streets.

The prime minister said eight armed strength grows day-by-day despite "indiscriminate" German attacks which have been reported to 2,000 civilians and serious wounded 6,000 more in September.

Churchill spoke an air raid alarm was in progress. The great stained glass windows of the commons chamber had been removed to spare them the risk of bomb damage.

Churchill said Britain's strength in the air is growing steadily. Led Caldecote, dominion secretary, told the house of lords that air recruitment and training of crews has progressed so speedily that "very shortly" a flow of pilots will start reaching Britain which will give her ultimate air superiority.

Sharp fighting on the Egyptian front was reported by Churchill. Cairo confirmed that Abd Barrani, two thirds of the way to Marsa Matruh, had been occupied by British columns advancing from Libya.

A fresh crop of unconfirmed rumors broke out in the Balkans. They concerned a new ultimatum from Russia to Rumania, clashes between Russian and Rumanian troops in Bulgaria, and suggestions that Rumanians in northern Dobruja were seeking a Russian protectorate.

Capital of unoccupied France, said British bombers were engaged in increasing diving attacks against the city. The bombing was on almost a 24 hour basis, according to the French reports.

Longley had been a resident of Waller since 1928. When he was still in his teens, Longley had claim to the north Idaho heavyweight boxing championship. During his career he boxed a four round bout with Bob Fitzsimmons when the latter was heavyweight champion of the world.

Police said Power posed as an instructor in the general communications commission.

German Shift Bombings From Civilians to Military Factories

German estimate British defensive strength has not been overcome by the air offensive.

From a military standpoint it is impossible to associate the bombing of London with the strategy of invasion. The London attack must still be regarded as a separate matter designed to weaken British morale and for the psychological effect on the German people.

AIR RAID DEATH TOLL FOR BRITAIN 2,000 FOR 15 DAYS

8,000 WOUNDED DURING RAIDS IN FIRST OF MONTH

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Prime minister Churchill told the house of commons today that about 2,000 civilians had been killed and 8,000 wounded in air bombardment during the first half of September.

The prime minister, whose address was kept secret until he concluded because of the danger of a German air raid on London, warned in a statement that a German invasion attempt must be expected at the most favorable opportunity.

The prime minister appealed to the nation to maintain constant vigilance against German troops, ships and planes, and to be prepared to meet a possible thrust at Britain.

He added, however, that despite all constant bombing attacks by the Nazi air force, Great Britain's war production is being maintained.

War production has been increased, Churchill said, and the Nazi bombing has failed to prevent manufacturing of these increases in production materials for defense.

The British Isles and for counter-attack on the Reich.

The prime minister spoke during the mid daylight air raid alarm. Sirs were audible in the chamber but Churchill continued without interruption for a possible thrust at Britain.

Churchill warned the people that more intensive air fighting must be expected although the Nazis have been pounding with massed forces at London and other objectives in Britain for 11 days.

Churchill said that an invasion of Britain and Ireland continues daily and we must expect the Nazis to make an attempt at some time. He said that he has the best opportunity.

CITY WILL SEEK AID FOR AIRPORT

Members of the Twin Falls city council today had decided to submit a proposal to the WFA calling for assistance in improvement of the municipal airport.

The decision to submit the project proposal at a date not yet set was made last night during regular council session. The step was taken after Leonard A. Dean, parks superintendent who is also in charge of the airport, announced that Paul Morris, northwest supervisor of airport construction for the OHA, pledged himself as ready to approve the step.

Likewise, councilmen authorized Dean to take the necessary steps toward construction of a small office building at the field. The building will be used as a CAA headquarters and also a depot station. In all probability the structure will permit a clear view of the field in order that inspectors might check students more easily.

Lieut. Col. H. C. Lauterbach, Hansen, conferred with councilmen relative to construction of the proposed armory and it was decided that the city would provide supervision of the project should it go through. Lauterbach explained that members of the national guard would be a part of the regular army and would be at camp for at least a year and because of this fact all plans would have to be rushed to completion this week "if they are to be completed at all." If constructed, the armory would have to be finished by Feb. 28, 1941, and because it would be a national defense project would receive "right-of-way" over other WFA projects here.

A report from Fire Chief Zeke Bartlett showed that nine alarms were answered during the month of August and that inspections were made of all warehouses and schools with conditions found to be excellent.

Living... and Eating

By NORMAN CHANDLER
Chairman, Newspaper Publishers Committee

THIS is an advertisement about you. It concerns your way of life, and your pocketbook.

Forget me, if you like. I am only the spokesman for a committee of publishers, of which the publisher of your newspaper is a member.

Forget the words and the form of this advertisement as soon as you want.

But remember—all your life—the message I have here for you and for your family and for your neighbors.

You are a citizen in a democracy. This gives you two great "rights."

- The right to say how you shall be governed and by whom.
- The right to spend your money how and when you choose—or to keep it.

Think what that means. It means one precious thing: FREEDOM.

Freedom to speak your mind, a right to have your voice heard and your opinion counted.

Freedom to pick the food you prefer, the kind, and shape and shade of clothes, the style of your house, the community in which you live.

You—the individual American citizen—must know these things if you want to stay free. You have to know what is going on, so that you can support the men and the laws that keep you free and secure.

And so, you see, the very price of liberty is bound up in the right and the duty of your newspaper to bring you all the facts about all that happens.

You must also see to it that the money you have to spend buys you the necessities and luxuries of life. You must know values and where to find them, or else you will go broke or miss many of the satisfactions of living a free life.

So, again, in your newspapers, there is a constant flow of another kind of news—the advertisements by which merchants and manufacturers and others tell you about their goods.

I said this was an advertisement. It is that because it tells you what a certain "product" does for you. The product is your newspaper.

Your newspaper helps you every day to get the most out of life. But your newspaper asks no favors, no special consideration. It does want your continued support and your understanding of how it plays a part in protecting your freedom.

NOTE: The Newspaper Publishers Committee, speaking through its chairman, will bring you one of these institutional advertisements in this space each Tuesday. Clubs, patriotic societies, business firms or individuals who would like requests may have them by writing to the Business Office of this newspaper.

VOTERS OF THREE STATES TREK TO POLLS TODAY

LIGHT BALLOTING LOOMS AS LOCAL ISSUES FEATURE

By United Press

Primary elections were under way today in New York, Wisconsin and Massachusetts. Most contests involved local issues and a light vote was forecast.

Connecticut Republicans open their state convention tonight.

In New York there were 22 contests for congressional nominations. Republican, Democratic and American Labor parties were participating. John J. O'Connor, former chairman of the house rules committee, who fell victim to President Roosevelt's 1938 "purge," was attempting a comeback on both Republican and Democratic tickets.

The incumbent, Rep. James H. Fay, sought the Democratic nomination. Other New York congressional incumbents seeking renomination included Hamilton Fish.

In Wisconsin, Sen. Robert H. La Follette, Jr. was unopposed for renomination as a Progressive. The death of Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, in an automobile accident, has removed one of the leading Republican senatorial candidates.

Seven others sought the nomination. John Cudahy, ambassador to Belgium, was opposing three other candidates for the Democratic nomination to the senate. Friends entered his name at the last minute and it was not printed on the ballot.

In Massachusetts, Attorney General Paul A. Dever and Francis E. Kelly, former lieutenant governor, sought the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Gov. Leverett Saltonstall was unopposed for renomination on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Corthell came to the west end in 1897 when the tract was new. He was born Dec. 18, 1853, at Frank, Illinois, N. Y., and was married in 1898 in Los Angeles. He died Sept. 10 of a heart attack.

LILY

FILED, Sept. 17 (Special) — Twin Falls can boast of its crowning her, but Piler has an Easter lily that burst into bloom Sunday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Eaton.

The potted plant in bloom was given the elderly couple on Easter Sunday by their son, Harry Eaton, Twin Falls.

After the plant had ceased blooming, Mr. Eaton placed it outside in his garden, forgetting about it.

A week ago, he noticed the plant had four large buds. He transplanted the lily and brought it inside to protect it from the cool nights.

The flowers are even larger and more fragrant than at the first blooming.

Here's How 'You're in the Army Now' Becomes a Fact

With a pipe in mouth, grip in hand and a smile on his face which says "I'm glad I'm coming back," H. A. Hutcherson, Wilcox, Ariz., is shown above as he enters the local army to sign up with the 118th engineers, company E. Too old to get back into the regular army, he did the "next best thing" and joined the guard which yesterday morning ceased to exist as such and became a regular army unit.

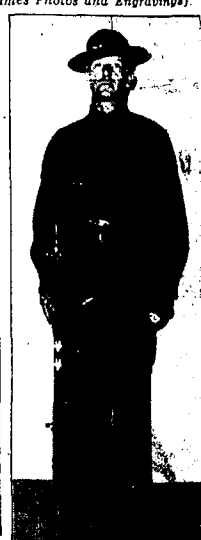

Having signified his intentions of "joining up," Hutcherson takes the oath of allegiance to the United States. Administering the oath is Lieut. Ralph E. Leighton (left) one of the officers of the local outfit. Appropriately enough the oath is taken with a background of two flags, symbols of the nation which the recruit has agreed to defend, giving his life for that country if need be. With this formality over, he's in the army.

It's off with the civilian shirt, hat and pants. Above, Hutcherson strips off his shirt which is just a bit wrinkled by the trip from Arizona to here. He will not be needing these "civvies" for awhile now.

And on comes the regulation army shirt. Hutcherson said that it ticked "just a little" when it first crossed his shoulders but added in true soldier fashion "I'll get used to that before long."

The transformation from civilian to soldier is complete. Hutcherson, in full equipment, is now ready to aid in defending the rights of the United States anywhere in the western hemisphere.

Sorry He Quit Army for a Marriage That Didn't Occur, Arizonan Comes to Twin Falls to Rejoin

By O. A. KELKER

H. A. Hutcherson, who hails from Wilcox, Ariz., and who was too old to join the regular army, is sorry today that he ever had the inclination to get married.

The fact that he never quite came around to getting married isn't what worries him. His chief worry—or regret—is that he ever quit the regular army in order that he might prepare to take the "fatal plunge."

Johns Here

All this was revealed yesterday afternoon as Hutcherson was being inducted into the 118th engineers, company E, which is now a part of the regular army.

It seems that the year 1925 rolled around and he had a yen to "get hitched." He decided to quit the army and return to civilian life. Everything was in readiness for the scheduled wedding. The church was all decorated and, figuratively speaking, the guests were all standing waiting for the bride to enter. But let Hutcherson tell the story in his own words:

"I just decided that it wasn't the thing for me to do," he told this reporter. "I wasn't scared or anything but I knew that I'd made a mistake and so I just left her at the church."

"When I was mad, here I was out of the army now, but I had to make the best of it."

In World War

He had served two years overseas during the World war with the 1st division ammunition train. When first the service he was a member of the 11th cavalry.

Then President Roosevelt announced his plans of calling out the national guard so Hutcherson got busy. He went to his former commander in the 11th cavalry and found that he was now too old to be accepted into the regular army. The age limit was 26 and he was now 30. The age limit for a national member, however, was 45 and an investigation of his former officers, he hit out for Twin Falls because he
