VICHY, France, Sept. 25 (UP)—Fierce fighting and heavy casualties at Dakar were described in official dispatches today and it was disclosed that French and German plenipotentiaries were negotiating in Paris on the British-Free French attack, which might result in the early return of the French government to Paris.

Scores Direct Hit A French air force squadron, attacking British wharves at Dakar yesterday after a first British plane bombing of Dakar in the morning, made a direct hit on a cruiser, it was asserted.

Casualties up to noon yesterday had 120 soldiers and 65 civilians killed and 183 soldiers and 45 civilians wounded, it was said.

FIREMEN TESTING NEW TRUCK HERE

Twin Falls' new fire truck, which entered the service yesterday, this morning and early afternoon was undergoing various tests before being officially accepted by the city.

The feature part of the tests, so far as the public standpoint is concerned, took place at the bridge which crosses the highway canal near the filtration plant.

At that location, pumping tests were being made with three lines leading from the truck to a single nozzle tied to the bridge and pointed downstream. Water was being taken from the canal through a large inlet hose which was also attached to the truck.

Further Tests However, after staying at the original test site for about an hour, the truck was taken to a point near the city swimming pool where first fire pumping tests were being made.

Among city officials witnessing the tests were Carl R. Ritchey, fire commissioner, and Paul Taylor, fireman.

The tests are being made under the direction of Keith Swannholm, fire representative of the Idaho survey and Rating Bureau.

In addition to local firemen assisting in the work, more than a score of spectators were on hand as the tests got underway at 11 a. m. They were expected to continue until 2 p. m., "time out" being taken as the truck was moved to the swimming pool site.

FRENCH BATTLE JAPAN TROOPERS

HANOI, French-Indo-China, Sept. 25 (UP)—Fierce fighting raged today between Japanese and French forces along the border of China and this French colony, despite Tokyo's assurances to French authorities that the invasion of Indo-China by the Japanese south China army would be limited to a candy, cigarettes and a small radio.

Full details of the struggle were not available because communication between Hanoi and Langson, 15 miles northwest of Hanoi in the center of the battle zone, had been cut. Latest dispatches and Japanese forces had reached Nakh, along the Langson-Goanay railway.

It was reported also the Japanese had reached the vicinity of Loichinh, on the Langson-Mokay highway. Fighting was reported raging along a 30-mile front with battle centering on Langson, a border point and far from Dong Dang, where Japanese south China forces began their invasion of Indo-China.

Chinese dispatches from Kweilin said Chinese troops too had attacked the Japanese in vicinity of Langson. It was reported that the Chinese rescued Langzhou by way of Canton and Nanking some time ago in an effort to sever the arms traffic between China and French Indo-China.

French authorities said they were determined to carry out the lend-lease agreement, granting Japan certain military concessions in Indo-China.

The measure was signed as a selective service officials here expected voluntary enlistments after registration day would make it unnecessary to draft men for the first contingent of 400,000 conscripts.

Island Power to Join Germans if America Fights

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25 (UP)—Authoritative advices from Tokyo said today Japan and Germany had agreed in principle on a defensive alliance which would become effective if the United States and Great Britain collaborated in such matters as the status of the Great British far eastern naval base at Singapore.

Described as provisional in its present stage, the alliance, if it became effective, would mean abandonment by Japan of its policy of "non-involvement" in the war, the advices said.

As the news reached here, there was a sudden threat of a major crisis, directly involving American interests, in Shanghai. There were indications the Japanese might seize control of the French concessions and most of the international settlement at any hour.

The situation was so serious potentially that Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, who arrived here yesterday, was expected to confer late today with American naval, military and consular officials on the possible evacuation of Americans from China, Japan and Manchukuo in event of an emergency.

Germany, under the agreement reached at Tokyo, would use its good offices as between Japan and Russia as a conference seeking to free Japan for execution of its long program of expansion southward.

The alliance was proposed by Germany, according to Tokyo advices, and second aimed in great part at diverting the attention of the United States in the International Field to events in the Pacific States cooperation with Britain.

According to Tokyo authoritative information, the mysterious secret was a conference seeking to free Japan for execution of its long program of expansion southward.

Any announcement of the alliance, it was said, was withheld until it had been given formal approval of the emperor's privy council and had reached the ratification stage.

There was no provision for Japan to change its "non-involvement" policy at the present moment, it was said. This would occur only when Japan and Germany felt that too close United States-British cooperation menaced their interests.

Germany and Japan, the Tokyo advices said, agreed on a world-wide policy to prevent full American cooperation menaced their interests.

Japan yesterday announced conclusion of a cultural relations treaty with Brazil and authoritative sources here expressed increasing interest in Japan and its consular concessions, charged that agents in Japanese employ had fomented the strike.

COAST OFFICIALS TO GET KIDNAPER FOR PROSECUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (UP)—Federal authorities today prepared to turn Wilhelm Jakob Mullenbroich, hawk-nosed German alien, over to California authorities for trial on charges of kidnaping three-year-old Marc de Kristan, Jr. They inferentially had cleared him of complicity in the kidnaping and murder four years ago of 10-year-old Charles Mattoon of Tacoma.

He had confessed to FBI agents that he had kidnaped the golden-haired child last Friday for $100,000 ransom. Because of the similarity of his appearance to the description of the Mattoon kidnaper, G-men sought for three days to determine if he was involved in that crime, which has never been solved.

In making public Mullenbroich's confession of kidnaping golden-haired little Marc, Earl J. Connelley, assistant director of the federal bureau of investigation, revealed that the "10-year-old boy" who was seized on Dec. 27, 1936, had been largely verified.

Operated Barber Shop At the time of the Mattoon kidnaping, it was learned, Mullenbroich was operating a barber shop in San Francisco. He was in a hospital as the result of a skiing accident at Mt. Shasta, Calif.

Mullenbroich had detailed how he studied all recent kidnapings, "including the Lindbergh, Mattoon and 'Baby Face' Nelson" cases, and arranged the necessary legal steps. Mullenbroich was to be removed to San Mateo county jail to face trial under California "little Lindbergh" law. He was convicted, Mullenbroich faces life imprisonment. The death penalty is imposed only if the victim is harmed.

Little Marc was not harmed. A "touch of a cold" was the only misadventure in the kidnapping.

The fact the G-men had no mention of the heavy plat to San Francisco of the University of Wisconsin, appeared to indicate he had been unable to identify Mullenbroich as the kidnaper of his brother, it was said.

AFL HEAD SAYS 'NECESSARY' FOR U. S. TO ASSIST BRITAIN

LEGION MEMBERS HEAR SPEECH BY WILLIAM GREEN

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 25 (U.P.)—President William Green, 52, of the American Federation of Labor told the 42nd annual American Legion convention today that "so long as the battle of Britain is being fought, there will be no battle of America."

For that reason, and although "we pray, as a peace-loving people, that we may be spared the horrors of another world war," Green said that the American people nevertheless feel that a British victory in Europe is vital to this nation's own security.

"It would seem logical and sound for the people of the United States to extend to Great Britain and her allies the aid and support which we can give," he said.

Green said since conception now is the time to take the life, fighting which is being waged, and urged every precaution be taken to guard the job, health and future security of the nation.

Green addressed the convention as it opened in the afternoon with a spectacular 13-hour parade yesterday.

Thousands packed the two and a half mile route along which some 100,000 uniformed marchers passed. Two men died, two score suffered serious injuries and approximately 1,000 were given first aid treatment for minor ailments before the ill-fated streets of downtown Boston achieved comparative quiet.

The bombers would not have taken an active part in the show here but rather would have been inspected by the townspersons if it been possible to have them visit.

WILLKIE WORKS ON TOP FARM SPEECH EN ROUTE EAST

25,000 CONVENE FOR BUTTE TALK HELD IN STADIUM

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO PARKIO, N. D., Sept. 25 (AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie worked on the major farm speech of his campaign today as his train rolled east out of Montana's range country into the wheat lands of North Dakota.

Willkie fired another shot in his drive for labor votes in Butte last night when he charged that a state mental made by President Roosevelt in 1937 caused wages of the copper miners to drop.

More than 25,000 persons from the "richest hill in the world" heard the Republican candidate not only blast at Mr. Roosevelt but also snipe at Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who had referred to Willkie as "a barefoot boy from Wall Street."

He noted the public land problem in Montana was being administered from Washington by a man who grew up in Chicago. If elected, Willkie said, he would choose a secretary of the interior from the western country "who grew up in this country and understands your problems."

CIO Undemocratic
The through in high school stadium gave Willkie a noisy welcome, but the crowd on the streets, largely members of the CIO International union of mine, mill and smelter workers was undemocratic.

Willkie recalled that in April, 1937, after a business pickup, President Roosevelt issued a public statement declaring the price of commodities was too high. Copper was then selling for 17 cents a pound, but immediately dropped, Willkie said.

"I am advised the union contracts with Anaconda, Copper company (Butte's biggest employer) provide that wages rise when the price is above nine cents, and when the price falls from 17 to 10 cents, it resulted in a wage reduction for every man employed by the company," he declared.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement on the price of commodities "affected democracies throughout the world, and disturbed the domestic economy of Montana and reduced the wages of every miner in the state. I don't believe in that kind of economy."

Joined by Kansas Solon
Willkie was joined aboard his train last night by Rep. Clifford Hope, R., Kan., ranking minority member of the house agricultural committee, to advise the candidate on the preparation of his farm address. It will be delivered at Omaha tomorrow night and broadcast over approximately 75 stations.

Willkie already has said he would continue the present New Deal farm program if he is elected president, but would simplify and decentralize its administration while searching for a "better" solution to the problem.

Willkie had no major speeches scheduled today, but he will make brief platform talks at Miles City, Mont., Dickinson, Jamestown, Valley City and Fargo, N. D.

Students Unhurt as Lightning Hits Bus; Power Interrupted

Lightning, which accompanied a downpour sweeping over the Salmon and Twin Falls tracts as well as this general area yesterday afternoon struck a school bus carrying the driver and 12 students and also blew out more than 100 fuses in this section, a survey showed today.

The bus which was struck by lightning was operated by W. M. Anderson, Twin Falls, and was carrying the 12 students to homes on the Salmon tract. The bolt apparently hit the side of the bus, breaking three windows. No one was injured. No panic resulted.

In Twin Falls a residential feeder line was struck, leaving all homes east of Main avenue and Shoshone street without electric service. Other homes, scattered over the city and rural area, were also without lights. Lights were turned back on after an Idaho Power company emergency crew installed a transformer.

The bolt, striking the power line, also blew out individual transformer fuses, causing scores of residents to report service outages. Lightning struck at least one home but no one was injured.

Most of the bean harvest is now in over both the Twin Falls and Salmon tracts, a survey showed, but those fields not yet entered are said to be practically ruined with grade reduced to No. 2 or lower.

PRESIDENT CALLS NEW GUARDSMEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt today called up to 35,000 additional national guardsmen, including Hawaiian and Puerto Rican units for a year's active service beginning Oct. 15.

The executive order, affecting three full divisions and 12 lesser units, brings to 60,200 the number of national guardsmen mobilized to date.

Earlier this month, Mr. Roosevelt had ordered 60,500 national guardsmen into active service as of Sept. 15.

Units affected in the Oct. 15 call include:

27th division, less the 27th tank company, New York, to train at Fort McClellan, Ala.

37th division, less the 37th tank company and companies F and I, 112th medical regiment, Ohio, to train at Camp Shelby, Miss.

The 32nd division, less the 32nd tank company, Michigan and Wisconsin, to train at Fort Beauregard, La.

The 298th and 299th Infantry regiments, Hawaii, to train as directed by the commandant of the Hawaiian army district.

The mobilization order represented the first call to national guard units in United States territories. Under terms of the order, the guardsmen will be placed in intensive training for a year's hardening and seasoning under supervision of army regulars.

Most of the first 60,500 previously called into service already are undergoing training.

WATER MEN WILL SELECT OFFICERS

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Sept. 25 (AP)—There were no "bunker's hours" for delegates to the national reclamation convention today.

The convention, largest ever held here, was underway early for a day that included two business sessions and a late-afternoon directors' meeting at which newly-elected state directors were to name officers.

John C. Paake, commissioner of the U. S. Bureau of reclamation, delivered one of the convention's principal addresses at the morning meeting opened. Nine major speeches were made and through almost all ran the conclusions that reclamation holds a solution to the problem of rehabilitating migrant farm families and is an important factor in the national defense.

Federal and state agencies, congress and other organizations interested in developing water resources of the western and great plains states were represented by speakers.

Kept for Defense Needs
Delegates were told two of the nation's great construction agencies—the bureau of reclamation and the army engineers—have kept present programs to develop water resources to defend needs.

Page, posing the question, "what has ahead of reclamation during the years 1941?" said reclamation was needed to insure internal stability "come war or remain peace."

"The thing which is in conflict with the needs of defense must be shelved," Page said. "It is equally clear that our conservation

Pilots Will Meet For Assignments

Members of the Idaho Pilots association, Twin Falls chapter, will meet in special session Friday at 8 p. m. at the Rogerson hotel. It was announced this afternoon by Ivan Skinner, secretary-treasurer.

Skinner said that at the session each club member would be placed so far as the air show Saturday and Sunday is concerned. The show starts at the local airport at 2 p. m. on each of those days.

The secretary-treasurer said the meeting would not include the regular dinner which will be dispensed "with because there's so much work to do."

Important to Defense
Page added immediate construction and equipping of power plants in connection with such dams as Boulder, Grand Coulee, Shasta, Seminole, Green Mountain, Elephant Butte and Parker was important to defense.

Expansion of cultivable areas by irrigation would assure "real importance" in event of "an urgent requirement for new sources of food supplies." Page said new land projects such as the Yakima-Rio, Boise-Payette, Shoshone-Hearl Mountain, Olla and the All-American canal would make this possible.

He listed the central valley project of California and the Colorado and Utah projects as examples of those designed to furnish supplementary water for land conservation.

Warning on charge that he resisted an officer had been set today for 10 a. m. Monday for Edward Jackson, 45, Nampa.

Jackson, arraigned before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey Tuesday afternoon, demanded the hearing. Since the offense is an indictable misdemeanor Jackson must face district court if the probate magistrate finds reasonable cause.

Complaints against the Nampa assets he resisted Deputy Claude Wiley and Patrolman Virgil Barron. The officers were placing Jackson in a city cell Saturday night after his arrest on claim of contributing to delinquency of a minor.

"White Flag of Safety" Drive Gets PTA Support

A war on traffic casualties was declared last evening when officers and committee chairman of St. Edward's Parent-Teacher association met at the home of Mrs. F. G. Klotzner, 460 Fourth avenue east.

Members are urged to prevent traffic casualties and thus help to keep the "white flag of safety" flying in the Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News, according to Mrs. A. Pugliano, publicity chairman of the group.

A communication was read from G. H. Davis, safety chairman of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers. Among other items, Mr. Davis listed the following as causes of traffic casualties:

Contributing Factors
"Too many pedestrians blame drivers for what they could avoid."
"Too many parents permit their children to ride on the 'neighbor' girl's and boy's bicycle."

"Too many new drivers think that starting, stopping and steering a car are all they have to know in order to drive safely."
"Too many passengers around high school age would rather be a casualty statistic than refuse to let a friend drive a car wrecklessly."

"Too many women, when walking at night, wear something white."
A proclamation was read from Governor C. A. Holtelien, setting aside the period of Sept. 24-Oct. 2, 1940, as Parent Education Week, and urging citizens of Idaho to give proper recognition to the importance of the Parent-Teacher association movement.

Mrs. Klotzner, welfare chairman, reported numerous donations for the WPA canning project, the fruit and vegetables to be used for the hot lunches at the high school or in welfare work.

Camp Fire Girls Get Doll-Dressing Prizes

Miss Joan LeClair and Shirley Rosa won first and second prizes in a doll dressing contest, participated in by Twin Falls Camp Fire Girls, in connection with the donut drive, which will be launched next Saturday, Sept. 28, continuing through the month of October.

Awards were made at the Camp Fire Girls' fall fiesta this afternoon at the city park by Mrs. H. A. Elcock. The fiesta was attended by 218 members, prospective members and interested mothers. Miss LeClair, who holds a torch bearer rank in homemaking, is assistant guardian of Miss Kathryn Goff's group, and Shirley is a member of Mrs. N. O. Johnson's group.

Dolls dressed by the prize winners, and those dressed by Patsy Ocheltree, Velma Roberts, Ann Louise Gibson, Louise Gail Beam, Marian Tensley and Ruth Davis, are now on display in one of the island windows at the Idaho Power company.

Each doll outfit has some commendable detail, two being especially attractive and the others service uniforms.

Details on the first prize doll's costume are both accurate and interesting, including the embroidered insignia on the belt, the pocket and the arm band.

The dolls are grouped in an attractive outdoor setting, which includes an imitation log fire, month-sized donuts, a poster designed for Camp Fire Girls by Howard Chandler Christy, bearing the slogan, "Camp Fire Girls Make Good Citizens," and a Camp Fire Girls flag.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Powell and Carl Skilmore arranged the window.

Beginning next Saturday morning, and continuing each Saturday throughout October, Twin Falls Camp Fire Girls will call from door to door, taking orders for donuts which will be delivered on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week.

The donuts are being baked by these local bakers and the percentage derived by the Camp Fire Girls will finance their activities during the first quarter of the year.

To Call at Home
After the girls have visited the homes and taken orders, they will place orange colored paper donuts on the door knobs, indicating to other Camp Fire Girls that the homes have been visited, and preventing duplication of calls.

They will wear service uniforms during the campaign. Insignia persons not contacted by the Camp Fire Girls, may phone the Camp Fire office, 222-W, any Saturday and give their orders.

YANKS SHADOW FALLS ACROSS PENNANT RACE

New Yorkers Score Double Win as Cleveland Loses

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The terrifying shadow of the Yankees fell across the pennant paths of the Tigers and Indians again today.

With six in a row and 7 of their last 8 games, won, the Yanks have sneaked up on the pacer-makers once more. The Yanks now trail by 2½ games with six left to play, three each with the Senators and Athletics, the league's weakest clubs. They may sweep them all. If they did the Tigers would have to win 4 of their remaining 5 games to clinch the pennant. The Indians would have to take all their remaining four to tie.

The upsurge of the Yanks means the McCarty-men have no intentions of giving up and letting the Tigers and Indians duke it out to themselves Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Cleveland. All sorts of combinations are being made up to take all their remaining four to tie.

For one thing it puts pressure on the Tigers, who head the Indians by a game and a half. Detroit plays the White Sox a doubleheader today and winds up with the three-game Cleveland series. They have to go all out to try to win them all.

Cleveland's situation is now desperate as a result of yesterday's 7-2 loss to the St. Louis Browns. If the Dodgers doubleheader today, the Indians will then have 2½ left today's single game from the Browns and sweep the three-game Detroit series by winning all three.

Utah Aggies to Face San Jose in First Game

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 25 (AP)—The college of the future will be the host for the Utah State football squad this week when they face the San Jose State of California only three days later.

In fact, the Aggies' record this season is liable to be staked in a major part on the performance of their toughest opponent of the five other replacements for last year's regular.

Coming to Logan fresh from a devastating 34 to 0 win over Montana State college, the coast eleven threatens to give the stater some of their toughest action of the season, with only two weeks practice at the Aggie camp.

Good Backfield
The problem of finding a suitable backfield took care of itself when four regulars or near-regulars of last year turned up.

Captain Lawrence Slater, one of the conference's better line backers, will be the mainstay of the Aggie offensive as well as second line of defense. Sid Maughan and Marvin Bell probably will fill in the quarterback and blocking halfback assignments. Both are season performers.

The fight for the tailback has developed between three veterans, Freddie Bonham, who formerly has the edge, and a speedy sophomore, Fred Allen.

The Aggie line apparently will be a combination of tried players and others who have yet to taste their first varsity college competition. Nicodemus Bonham, who undoubtedly will be Murray Maughan, all-conference center for the last two years. Around him the line will be built with four new recruits—Warren O'Gara, guard; Austin Hughes and Bill Whitfield, ends, and Sam Merrill, tackle, and two non-lettermen—all undetermined.

Three Prospective Tackles
Three prospective tackles must be considered seriously. The position likely will be filled by Jack Moore, Eddie Penn or Ray Walters. The remaining runner post will be contested for by a reserve of Jack Pucc, and Bill Reid, a newcomer to the varsity ranks.

Coach's expectations for the fall of 1940 to better their last year's record of when they won three games, first one and lost four to end the season in fifth place in the conference standings.

A more tangible impression of the Aggies for an available following Saturday's game at San Francisco will have two weeks in which to prepare for the conference opener, Oct. 12, with Colorado university at Logan.

Small Crowd Sees Salica Gain Crown

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Whatever glory goes with the world's heavyweight championship belongs to little Lou Salica, who has won the title in Italy, today, but the prize was offset by promise of only small financial returns in future title fights.

Salica, who held the 118-pound crown in 1935, recaptured the title tonight by winning a 15-round decision over Cleveland's Cleveland Negro, at Bronx coliseum.

Only 418 fans sat through a fast and furious battle. The prize was a gross gate of $32,745. Probably the smallest for a New York title fight in years.

Salica's return was this return match. Face, recognized as champion by the National Boxing association, began his career in the ninth round and Salica, recognized as the world titleholder, came on from there to outbox and outslug his wrestling opponent.

Face was reported to have weakened himself by paring down to the 118-pound limit. Salica, a natural bantam, weighed 117.

Yost, Pop Warner Battle Over Double-Wing Back

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25 (AP)—Reading the sports pages today fails to reveal if University of Michigan is coming out to thump University of California Saturday or if Athletic Director Pielting H. Yost made the trip just for a poke at Coach Glenn B. Warner.

Yost, now 70 and entitled to his opinions, took down his hair and at a sports writers' luncheon Monday to remark that old Pop Warner, who is in his spring-children either, had been a "system" in the San Francisco area, who was in San Francisco, who was in San Francisco, who was in San Francisco.

The remark was related to Warner's opposition to the "system" in the San Francisco area, who was in San Francisco, who was in San Francisco.

Conference Clashes Highlight High School Grid Play

Betty Jameson Advances in Women's Play

DEL MONTE, Calif., Sept. 25 (AP)—Defending Champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., today lost off against Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., as the national women's amateur golf championships moved into the second round of match play.

Miss Jameson, who was low among the last of qualifiers, found her touch when match play opened and overhauled Mrs. Lou Lengford of Los Altos, Calif., 7 and 6. Miss Wall defeated Gaitie Weyl of Los Angeles, 3 and 2.

Medalist Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, who won the championship badge of golf she displayed in the qualifying round to sweep Mrs. George Nash of San Jose out of competition, 7 and 6.

Georgia Trainger, 17-year-old sharpshooter from Fargo, N. D., who has won 27 tournaments in the last three years, eliminated Renee Lindquist, Los Angeles, 8 and 5.

Veteran eastern tournament favorite Frank Grotzlewski of Fort Worth, Tex., defeated Mrs. Alan Puttee, Pebble Beach, 4 and 2.

Marion Hollins of Santa Cruz, Calif., national amateur champion in 1937 who ended several years of competitive retirement to enter this year's tournament, was eliminated, 2 and 1, by Mrs. Gregg Lifer.

Notre Dame, Ohio State Loom As Middle West Powerhouses

Big guns of the big teams in the Midwest this year are Tom Harmon, Michigan All-American halfback; Bob Saggau, Notre Dame's triple-threat halfback, center, and Don Scott, Ohio State back.

By JERRY BRONDFELD (NEA Service)

High street quarterbacks rub their hands and downtown coaches, have that anticipatory gleam in their eyes.

Frances Schmidt has an Ohio State team which ranks with his 1935 outfit for all-round strength and as a result the Buckeye rate accordingly share a position with Notre Dame in the Western conference.

There isn't as much national championship talk because the schedule is so murderous, but with 21 lettermen on deck Schmidt must be a contender for a position with Notre Dame as the district's outstanding entries for the big honor.

Ohio State's "backfield" is a veteran backfield which contains Don Scott, All-Big Ten quarterback and the most material man in the league, Jimmy Grambling, speedy left half, and Capt. Jimmy Langhurst, line-cracking fullback.

There are six lettermen tackles, and several centers available. Only at end could the Bucks be stronger.

Conference clashes in all southern Idaho high school football leagues will highlight this week-end's prep school gridiron performances—the second week of play in this area.

While the conference battles are few and far between, there is at least one conflict in each league—and in the smaller loop most of the battles will see old foes meeting.

In the Southern Idaho conference, the only league that will be sweet Caldwell and Idaho Falls in the latter city under lights on Saturday night. These teams are both potential champions and the game may go a long way toward determining the title winner for 1941.

Bringing the Senators to the Gooding Senators, from the Class A Big Seven conference, in a practice game for both clubs. The heavier Bruins will be favored to win over the Bolons, who lost last week to the Class B Shoshone club.

Pocatello Indians entertain the Dillon, Mont., eleven, and Boise visits LaGrande, Ore., in other contests.

In the Big Seven conference, composed of southern Idaho Class A schools (outside of Twin Falls), conference competition gets underway at Rupert with Coach Bill Powers' Wildcats of Filer doing the inviting. The Fier club will probably hold the edge in this one as it tackles an inexperienced Pirate eleven.

Oakley vs. Burley

John A. Zeller is having the last laugh in Judge Landis' blitzkrieg against the Detroit club. Coach Arthur Lawler, was supposed to have wrecked the Detroit lineal empire last winter when he declared 13 players free agents and ordered the payment of sums totaling $47,250 in straightened out irregularities in the manipulation of contracts.

Detroit's heaviest losses were declared to have been infielder Benny McCoy and outfielder Ray Cullenbine, but McCoy quickly demonstrated that he was a Double AA athlete with the Athletics, and Cullenbine hardly set either major league after with the Dodgers and Browns.

Coachmatter of fact, beans Jack Zeller, the old left-hand pitcher who is the active leader of the Detroit organization, only two of the players turned free by Lawler have amounted to anything. Danny Dillwaller, now playing the outfield and hitting the lead for the Phillies, and Steve Haddock, recently recalled from Montreal by Brooklyn.

Zeller actually did us a favor. It was worth $47,250 to get rid of so much dead wood. We won't make the same mistake again.

It was Zeller who decided upon the great experiment—Frank Greenberg to left field and Rudolph York at first base.

Zeller ordered the field marshal, Delmar Baker, to run down from his Oregon farm to Alameda, Calif., and take a look at Richard Bartlett, and then obtained, for Billy Rogey, three years older and without a track record, the shortstop who fired the year Detroit club.

It was Zeller who brought in "Tuck Stalback" from Toronto to tender yeoman's service when Barney McCoy and Pete Fox wrecked their backs.

It was Zeller who recalled Floyd Cribbell from Buffalo in time to beat the A's and further save Newton, Rowe and Bridges for the important set with the Indians, which swelled the home attendance to 1,170,000 for the season.

For a club "wrecked by Landis" and considered too slow to get anywhere in particular, the Detroit Tigers certainly have come a long way.

Jack Zeller is entitled to his laugh... one of the belty vivants.

Mac Picks Derby Loser for 1941 By Choice of Belmont Winner

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—If you include yourself among the suckers who have been masochistic enough to follow my selections modestly and lack of space forbids mention of the sour ones here—you may be delighted to know that today I am picking the loser of the next Kentucky derby.

This is one of the simplest jobs I ever have approached. For to pick the loser of the derby you have merely to pick the winner of the $100,000 Belmont futurity to be run at Belmont park on Saturday if you remember, Bimble, El Chico, Pompono, Menow, Tingale, Chance Sun, et cetera, you know what I mean.

All of them won the futurity and all of them lost the derby. And the case isn't limited to them. For 51 solid years the best horsemen in America have been developing two-year-old champions to the rich plains in New York; and with unfailing regularity the juvenile champs have been kicked around at Louisville the succeeding season.

Since I am a great believer in percentages and past performance I have spent the last 24 hours juggling my slide rule in the supreme attempt to pick the horse who can't possibly win the race of race next May. Finally I have found him, so get out the piggy bank and lay the contents on the line of New World in the sixth at Belmont park on Sept. 28.

New World is the property of Alfred O. Vanderbilt, who runs Belmont park. Maybe it isn't a help to have the boss on your side, but certainly it can't do any harm. New World is also the first really promising son of Old Discovery, and if you remember Zig Red you'll have to grant at least a sentimental attachment. He didn't win the derby either.

New World ran third at Belmont yesterday in the futurity trial. He went in a bulky field in a six-furlong race which generally is supposed to determine whether he or Calumet farm's Whirlaway would be made the public choice as the futurity itself. Well, to make a long story longer, both New World and Whirlaway were beaten—but in different ways.

Most of my horsemen friends have informed me New World never even run more than six race of race next May. Finally I have found him, so get out the piggy bank and lay the contents on the line of New World in the sixth at Belmont park on Sept. 28.

ROYAL AIR FORCE DROPS BOMBS IN HEART OF BERLIN

LONDON, GERMAN CAPITAL SUFFER HEAVY DAMAGES

BY WALLACE CARROLL
LONDON, Sept. 25 (Special)—Royal air force bombers "successfully" smashed at military objectives in the heart of Berlin and launched off a terrific series of explosions at German "invasion" bases on the French coast after a merciless all-night air assault which left London strewn with wreckage.

The successful raid on the German capital was the first since the night was reported by the air ministry after dispatches from the south coast of England told of tremendous explosions and the destruction of some of the great cities of the English coast.

"Last night in the course of extensive operations over enemy territory," the air ministry said in a communique issued as isolated German planes again raised their heads, "royal air force bombers successfully attacked military objectives in Berlin."

Military Objectives

The air ministry said heavy bombers of the R. A. F. had attacked a number of military objectives in a raid that lasted more than two and one-half hours.

The Potsdam railroad station, the Anhalter railroad station, anti-aircraft guns in the Tiergarten and the German government buildings including Adolf Hitler's headquarters are in the center of Berlin.

According to the air ministry, a number of incendiary bombs caused an intense barrage and bombed the great Siemens and Halske works, where two great fires broke out. A number of electrical power and transformer and switching stations at Friedrichshagen was attacked with high explosive bombs.

Heavy bombers of the R. A. F. last Tuesday night carried the war into the German capital for the second night in succession, the communique said. A number of military objectives in the heart of Berlin were singled out and attacked in a raid lasting over two and one-half hours.

At 10:30 p. m., when the first attackers, evading an intense barrage from the city's ground defenses, dropped bombs on the great Siemens-Halske plant which produces a large proportion of the electrical equipment used by the German armed forces.

Bomb Central London

German planes had rained super-bombs on central London from dark last night to dawn today in their most ferocious and most punishing raid of the war.

The anti-aircraft guns were firing this morning. It was an anti-climactic bombardment. The drone of planes was followed by sporadic bursts of searchlight beams and anti-aircraft fire, but without pause.

But during the night the German planes had bombed without mercy and without pause.

For hours, as buildings and homes crashed in ruins and the streets were littered with debris, German planes, usually flying in close single file, went back and forth across the heart of London dropping incendiary and high explosive bombs.

Londoners emerged from raid shelters, subway stations and basements as the raid ended this morning to find many buildings, shops and houses in ruins, thousands of workers clearing the streets of broken glass and masonry and first aid stations set up because they were dangerous to traffic.

It was impossible to estimate the damage.

De Gaulle Deceived On Warship Bargain

BY J. W. T. MASON
United Press Staff Report

Efforts of the leaders of the free France movement to establish themselves at Dakar, which seems to have been abandoned, at least temporarily, after a single day's operations, can be traced to the mysterious passage through the strait of Gibraltar of three French second-class cruisers and three destroyers on September 11. It can be assumed the British government allowed the warships to depart on advice of General de Gaulle, whose information concerning their intentions proved faulty.

It is possible the squadron could have passed Gibraltar unimpeded except with consent of Great Britain. Nor is it likely the ships could have departed from their base at Toulon without approval of both the Vichy and German governments. There was, therefore, a difference of understanding concerning their purpose and from the meager details at hand it looks as if General de Gaulle's device had failed.

Were to Join French

After the six French vessels left Toulon, it was stated they were to join the British fleet, presumably in the English channel. But later developments have shown that the ships were to be used against the British blockade, and would have justified British refusal to allow them to pass the Atlantic from the Mediterranean had the report been correct in London as accurate.

There is reason to believe de Gaulle may have convinced that once in the Atlantic, the crews of the warships would announce adherence to him. However, they did not do so. Instead, their later activities show their real objective was to combat the free France activities in Africa.

The squadron thus became a potential danger to Britain, and three days ago a superior British fleet ordered the warships into Dakar, Senegal, it would appear de Gaulle had been organizing an expedition to seize Dakar, presumably counting on help of the French warships.

Challenge de Gaulle

Instead of assisting the Dakar expeditionary force, the French warships challenged the free Frenchman and the abandonment of Dakar was the consequence. Opposition to the de Gaulle regime at Dakar seems to have been so strong that if the effort to seize Dakar, presumably had persisted the situation would have been serious.

An alternative presumption to this account of the Dakar episode is that the Vichy government knew about de Gaulle's plans to try to capture Dakar and sent the six warships from Toulon so quickly that they spotted Gibraltar before the British could stop them. It would seem, however, that British control of the western entry from the Mediterranean is sufficiently strong to have checked such a dash.

The episode still has elements of mystery requiring further solution.

CAPITAL PONDER LOSS OF ROBERT

BY LYLE C. WELSON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (Special)—Political Washington was shopping around today for an answer to the question: who pulled the trigger on the death of Robert H. (Chip) Roberts, and why?

Robert and his beautiful wife have been called New Deal's glamour couple. Evelyn Walker Roberts is a political figure in her own right, a showwoman, an occasional newspaper columnist and a well-known horse strategist in the maze of drawing room politics.

"I have been investigated all my life—by professionals," Roberts remarked last month as he boarded a plane in Chicago to return to Washington. The congressional record today bears witness that his Atlanta, Ga., engineering firm had obtained eight or nine navy contracts in the past year.

Ben H. Styles Bridges, R. N. H., demanded immediately that Roberts resign as secretary of the Democratic national committee and the Justice department. He cited the circumstances of the contracts.

"I'm gratified my criticism has produced tangible results," was Bridges' welcome to Roberts when he arrived today in New York that Roberts had resigned his committee position.

But it is not inproperly has been published or acknowledged regarding those contracts. Roberts said his firm, with the greatest volume of commercial contracts in its history, now required all his time. The party secretaryship was a demanding post at conversion time and on occasions such as annual Jackson day dinners where Roberts usually presided at Washington's 3000-naple gatherings. He put on those three dinners which cost hundreds of thousands for the party war chest.

But Roberts was suspected by New Dealers. He was found one evening at the Shoreham hotel at a small dinner in company with a representative of Houston Hinson, of the Associated Gas and Electric Co. in the bitter battle over the public utility holding companies. Hinson's organization generally was being cited then as the awful example of what the New Deal sought to remedy.

Secretary of Interior and Public Works Administrator Harold I. Ickes was fearful Ickes was lobbying federal funds into the south and there was suspicion of his executive relationship to the southern business men's conference, an organization which was interpreted in seeing the south get its share of industrial expansion.

When asked about the navy contracts at a recent press conference Mr. Roosevelt replied he had seen some names and had no recollection would go into the matter if there was a case to be investigated.

BOTT TO HANDLE DRAFTING BOARD

BOISE, Sept. 25 (UP)—Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen yesterday was called upon by President Roosevelt to "set up and supervise" the selective service system in Idaho.

The President also asked the governor to designate a person for appointment as state executive for selective service to administer operations of the draft, and to name persons to a local board.

Bottolfsen was asked to call upon local election officials and other patriotic citizens to serve on registration boards Oct. 16 and to assist in making registration full and complete.

"It is not contemplated that compensation be paid, except for the necessary clerical assistance," the President wrote. "I suggest you make fullest use of all state and local officers and employees."

Names of citizens for appointment to boards which will handle classification and selection after registration are requested by the President.

The governor was asked to select "citizens whose loyalty, integrity and firmness are beyond question" to serve as members of local boards and boards of appeals, and for the offices of government appeal agents and examining physicians. These appointments would be approved by the President.

Two other groups—advisory boards for registrants and medical advisory boards—will be appointed directly by the governor.

Gov. Bottolfsen said the list of appointees already has been compiled and preliminary plans made. Complete instructions for operation of the draft have not yet been received from army officials, the governor's office reported.

WILLKIE MAKES SANDPOINT STOP

SANDPOINT, Ida., Sept. 25 (UP)—Wendell Willkie's train brought him into Idaho at Sandpoint yesterday and he made a brief news platform address, telling of his "long friendship and admiration for the late Senator Borah."

He told the station crowd there is "no logical argument for re-electing the present administration." He said the New Deal offers no argument for its continuation except "we're friends of labor and the non-artisans." Willkie said he would support labor and he denied once more he is an ardent socialist.

He pledged himself to extend the rural electrification program if elected.

Exra Willkie, Republican national committeeman for Idaho, brought nine Idaho workers aboard the train at Spokane for the ride into Sandpoint. Some of the men were members of AFL or CIO unions and some were non-union workers.
