Times-News Plan Open House for Residents of South Central Idaho

Open house to Magic Valley was announced today by the Idaho Evening Times and the Twin Falls News. Joining newspapers throughout the nation in a concerted observance Oct. 1 to 8, the Times and News will play host to residents of south central Idaho in tours of the extensive plant in which are produced Magic Valley's two daily newspapers. Because freedom of the press is the primary safeguard to freedom of the citizen, every citizen should know just how his newspaper is produced. The open house observance will demonstrate in detail the workings of the extensive machinery which produces the Times and News. The big plant—second largest industry in Twin Falls—will be thrown open to visitors who will be taken through on conducted tours. Every process will be explained; all departments will be in place. Plans will tell the use and details of the machines used in the publishing process. Every visitor will receive an unusual 12-page souvenir booklet. Novel window display at the Idaho Power company will be in place Tuesday to supplement the personal tours. Pictorial displays will be arranged also in front windows of the Times-News building. Schedule of the conducted tours shows these hours—10 a. m. to 11:20 a. m.; 12:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m.; 3 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. There will be no tours as such, but the plant will be open to all visitors desiring to watch the big press in actual operation. Many clubs have already requested tour dates and times. But visitors need not be in a club or an organization—individuals will be taken through in parties limited in size so that each visitor may hear processes explained fully. Both papers will begin Tuesday a series of special presentations emphasizing the Times-News personnel and operations, importance of the papers, and other facts. Watch for these. And remember—you're welcome at the open house starting at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

INQUEST STARTS IN 'SHOVE' DEATH

Inquest into the death of Leonard Blankenship, 28-year-old Twin Falls husband, was underway this afternoon under direction of Coroner A. Newberry and Deputy Prosecutor Ray D. Agee. Outcome of the inquest will play an important part in determining why Blankenship suffered the injury shortly after noon Saturday in the 100 block Shoshone street south. The man's head struck the pavement according to the statement, when Killian shoved him away from Blankenship had followed him out of the alley. Killian asserted he had accented Blankenship's head to ask about a water meter, which was the cause of the altercation. He said he had walked south on Shoshone street and that Blankenship followed.

Police officers took the injured man to the hospital. He died at 7:30 p. m. without regaining consciousness. Mr. Agee made no announcement before the inquest, concerning possible charges against Killian. Blankenship who lived at 922 Washington street west, is survived by a wife, Mrs. M. E. Blankenship; a sister, Lois Angeles, and a brother, John, Twin Falls. Funeral arrangements were not completed today.

Big 4-Motor Nazi Planes Raid London

LONDON, Sept. 30 (UP)—Giant four-motored planes, protected by hordes of fighter planes, were thrown into the German attack on London today while British long range guns crashed explosives into targets on the French coast in a savage bombardment.

The air ministry also said British bombers started fires "visible 60 miles away" in a smashing, three-hour attack on the great German oil refinery at Magdeburg, in reporting the coming blows at the fuel supply of the Nazi war machine.

Although royal air force bombs and shells from big guns on the English coast were seen to burst German "invaders" bases in France, the extent of the British attack on the German oil refinery was speculation as to whether authorities believed the threat of Nazi invasion had been reduced. The Germans still were attempting without success to win air supremacy over Britain, using giant four-motored planes protected by hordes of fighter craft in attacks that were thrown back from London by British fighters.

Attack Oil Refinery
In the counter-blow against the reich, the air ministry said, British bombers for three hours attacked the Magdeburg refinery, a great oil refinery plant at Magdeburg, causing big explosions and tremendous fires, the ministry said.

Efficient operation has been impossible almost from the beginning because superchargers, furnaces, engines and losses of the WPA's plants, persistently ignored specifications, obstructed work and refused to carry out the work in the way it should be done.

At the rate the work has progressed in the last six months, it would take 25 years to complete the project. Only about 1,000 feet have been laid in six months," Ketterer said.

British Bomb Nazi Airplane Factories

LONDON, Sept. 30 (UP)—The air ministry reported tonight that the Fokker aircraft factory near Amsterdam and started great fires.

The attack of the Fokker plant was part of a far-flung aerial attack on Germany's military and industrial resources that included a smashing three-hour bombing of the great German oil refinery at Magdeburg.

British aerial defenses, reportedly aided by new anti-aircraft apparatus, broke up five heavy German air raids today despite use of big Nazi four-engine bombing planes.

Isolated German bombers but through the anti-aircraft and fighter plane defenses in some instances, but 11 enemy planes were officially reported shot down up to 3 p. m., and comparatively few bombs were dropped on the London area.

Several hundred German airplanes participated in the daylight attacks, which led to severe air battles over southeast England.

The British press association said the high toll of German planes in the last 48 hours had been due in part to new sound location apparatus which improved the effect of anti-aircraft fire. The press association said there was growing evidence experiments now being conducted would increase the toll of daylight and night raiders.

The British press also said the royal air force had placed in flight the air intercept group in the night which will be ready for service will shift the high toll of German planes in the last 48 hours had been due in part to new sound location apparatus which improved the effect of anti-aircraft fire. The press association said there was growing evidence experiments now being conducted would increase the toll of daylight and night raiders.

It was the first public reference to employment of a new model fighter plane in the battle against the bombers which the German air force sends over London each night.

The press stories predicted that the familiar sight of air interceptors over Britain almost would disappear when the new British planes came into service.

There was no description of the new night fighter plane or the other types which it was indicated, have already gone into production.

LEHMAN STARTS DRIVE FOR FDR

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (UP)—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, described by the New York Times as "the best campaign in New York state for a third term today by declaring that his defeat would "break the tradition of free nations and blast the hopes of millions of people who love liberty."

In his "keynote" address to the state Democratic convention, Lehman termed Mr. Roosevelt the "most successful" of all presidents and said nothing could happen in the United States that would give Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and Japan more satisfaction than his defeat.

Lehman, apparently relying to Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell L. Wilkie's charge that a third term would "bring to the whole world the kind of free government which dictators despise."

SALT LAKE SET FOR CONFERENCE

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 30 (Special)—The vanguard of out-of-state Mormon leaders who will participate in Latter-Day Saints church conferences here this week began arriving in Salt Lake City today.

One of the first to arrive was Dr. Levi Edgar Young, president of the New England states conference and member of the first council of seventy. Young warned that the morale of this country and its people "has shown a marked decrease" in recent years.

He said in "troubled times like the present human beings must try to get closer to other humans and emphasize the similarities we find in our various groups—not the differences."

The first of the series of conferences here this week will begin Wednesday when officers of the Women's Relief society meet. General conference sessions of the society will be Thursday.

The Mormon church will hold its 111th semi-annual general conference Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the tabernacle on Salt Lake City's Temple square. About 5,000 women are expected at the Relief society conference; about 15,000 church members and officers at the general conference.

Numerous other meetings—those of bishops, of church committees and of missionary societies—are also planned.

Liked What He Saw

Results seen in a nation-wide tour of aircraft plants so impressed William S. Knudsen of the national defense commission, that he prophesied 11,000 combat planes for the U. S. by 1942. The defense production head is pictured above, at Curtiss-Wright's Buffalo, N. Y., plant, with army air corps chief, Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, inspecting engine of the new 350-mile-an-hour Curtiss P-40 fighter plane.

STUDENT LEADER GOES ON MISSION

Mitchell W. Hunt, Jr., Buhl, who had received the appointment to be in charge of the annual homecoming celebration of the University of Idaho this year as Moscow, has received a call from the Latter Day Saints church, Salt Lake City, to report for mission service.

He reported at the mission home in Salt Lake City Saturday and will take a short course of training before leaving for New York City Nov. 7.

He will work in the eastern states mission, with headquarters in New York City. His sister, Miss Florian Hunt, is now in the same mission field, being located at present in Reading, Penn.

Mitchell received his elementary education from Twin Falls. He attended Buhl schools, having been graduated from Buhl high school with the class of 1938.

The past two years he has attended the University of Idaho, Moscow, where he was active on the campus. As a freshman he was selected to serve as yell duke, and last year was elevated to the position of yell king for the university.

During his first year there he was a member of the Phi Eta Sigma national scholarship fraternity and last year served as its president. He is also a member of Lambda Delta Sigma, and national thought fraternity, Alpha Theta Delta. He was a pledge to the national business fraternity Alpha Kappa Psi.

After serving as social chairman of Willis Sweet hall, he was elected to succeed himself again this year. He had also received the appointment to be effective this year, of junior adviser of Phi Eta Sigma fraternity, had he returned to school.

Speaker Tells of Jaunt on River

BUHL, Sept. 30 (Special)—Rev. James Howard, one of the few persons to make the famous voyage down the Salmon river, "River of No Return," gave an interesting account of the trip, made in 1925, at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday noon. He also showed several pictures which were taken on the trip.

A fine musical program was also presented to the club. Mrs. Sue Hilday, Grantville, Utah, who was a guest artist at the Buhl club several weeks ago, sang several songs. Mrs. Halliday was en route home from Sun Valley. She appeared on the Utah-Idaho district convention program Monday night, being sponsored by the Buhl club. Mr. Halliday sang one number for the club. They were accompanied by Miss Lulu Leind.

Program arrangements were made by Jack Winkler.

In pastel shades and with tall lighted tapers. The two small tables were similarly ornamented and the room was decorated with large and small baskets of gladioli.

The pep club president, Miss Ruth Leth, gave a fitting welcome and responses were given by the sponsor and advisor.

The evening's program consisted of three solo numbers by Miss Phyllis Butler, "Globe," "When the Swallows Come Back" and by popular request "I'll Never Smile Again." Accompaniments were played by Miss Jackie Davis.

An impressive formal candle lighting ceremony was conducted and tentative arrangements made for the informal initiation which will be held soon.

DECO, Sept. 30 (Special)—The annual road show presented by eight wards of the Burley stake of the L. D. S. church was held in the DeCo recreation hall Thursday night. The theme of most of the one-act performances was "Americanism and Patriotism."

The Burley second ward enacted the 1940-1941 theme for Mutual Unity presented "My Son," taking the audience through a series of events from the time of the child's birth to manhood.

DeCo presented "The Seven Seas," emphasizing "conscience, culture, civility, citizenship and character." DeCo presented "The Spirit of America" with a living statue of liberty. All performed with singing and dancing.

Springdale featured "The Mystery of Life," ending with the thought that love is the ground work for the privilege accorded immigrants to this country when they come here to worship in freedom.

ANACONDA, Mont. (AP)—The city hall clock puzzled an observant policeman when, while it chimed the hour correctly, the hands on its four faces all showed a different time varying to a half hour. It resumed normally the next day.

OUR COUNTRY

BY JAMES BOYD
Author of "Drums," "Marching On," "Long Hunt," "Roll River," etc.
This country is the child of courage.
In 10 generations our people have won a continent from the bravest aborigines and made it into a unique nation in the world. They have fought one war for freedom and another desperate one for union. Our history in war and peace is the history of brave men and women and often of brave children, too. In addition to this incredible effort we have designed and developed a form of government that has been a model and inspiration to other nations.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON
BY BRUCE CATTON
Events Times Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—One of the queerest yarns in modern Democratic politics is the new presidential campaign isn't shaping up the way it was hoped last June. The simple fact is that President Roosevelt's election was a big issue with the Republicans getting ready for us against him and made it his own—the issue of defense preparedness.

FILER
Mrs. E. A. Ziegler accompanied Rev. and Mrs. J. Herr to Boise where they attended the annual Business Conference.
Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rayburn and Mr. and Mrs. Lynnville Brown attended the Republican meeting in Gooding Wednesday evening.
Kellie Eberole was elected president of the band at Filer rural high school recently. Leonard Vincent was chosen vice president; Earl Fox secretary; Lois Walker, treasurer and Ruby Lerman, organist.

REPUBLICANS TRYING TO FIGURE IT OUT
The huge $400,000,000 defense bill which is the subject of the two-ounce navy would never have been passed if congress had adjourned until the new ship was not even drafted until June, after Admiral Stark testified before a closed hearing of the house naval affairs committee.
The excess-profits-tax bill was present during discussion, and neither was the bill legalizing mobilization of the national guard.
What the Republicans are trying to figure out is just how and how this defense issue got away from them. For in spite of their record, they discovered by mid-August that it was the President's big issue. It still is with the congress he didn't want furnishing most of the grist for the mill.

Times & News OPEN HOUSE OCTOBER 1 to 8

The Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News, believing that the people of Magic Valley will be interested in becoming more familiar with the operations of these newspapers and inspecting the various departments of the plant, will hold "Open House," starting Tuesday, the week of Oct. 1 to 8, inclusive.

So as to make the occasion worthwhile for all who may care to avail themselves of this opportunity, the Times and News have made extensive preparations for the event.

Throughout the week, everyone will be welcome to join the tours of inspection which will be conducted through the plant. Guides will be on hand to direct the tours and a loudspeaking system will be installed to explain the various operations. The entire battery of machinery required to produce the Times and News will be seen in actual operation.

Numerous displays will help to familiarize all visitors with the different departments, and all machinery will be carefully identified with descriptive placards.

An attractive 12-page souvenir booklet, explaining in detail how the Times and News are published, will be given each person who attends the "Open House".

Of particular interest will be a display to be arranged in one of the show windows of the Idaho Power Company. An automatic news teletype machine, hooked up directly with a high speed trunk line press wire from New York City to San Francisco, will be a feature of the exhibit portraying the news gathering facilities of the Times and News. The teletype machine will operate day and night, throughout the week, bringing in news from all over the world. It will be in full view of all who wish to watch it in operation.

Meantime the newspapers themselves will be carrying complete details of the "Open House," including well illustrated daily features describing the Times and News personnel, the various departments, mechanical equipment, etc.

Few people realize that the Times and News have one of the best equipped newspaper plants in the intermountain country. We are convinced that all those who attend the "Open House" will find their visit not only interesting, but surprising as well.

Everyone is welcome.

All Welcome to Join Tours and View Displays

Each day during the Times and News "Open House," excepting Sunday, tours of inspection will be conducted through the plant between the following hours:

The time between 2:30 and 4:30 each afternoon will be devoted to showing the large newspaper press in operation. All those wishing to watch the press are welcome during those hours.

Particular attention is called to the displays which may be seen in the Times and News building and the show windows of the Idaho Power company. These will be especially interesting.

WILLKIE WORKS TO SMOOTH PENNSYLVANIA FRICTION

NOMINEE STARTS CAMPAIGN TOURS IN MIDDLE AREA

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN EN ROUTE TO DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie carried his Presidential campaign into Indiana and Michigan today after a five-hour train ride from Cleveland, recently designed to restore harmony among warring factions of Pennsylvania Republicans.

The Republican nominee is beginning a new campaign tour which will carry him 2,000 miles by train and automobile in 11 days through seven states with a total of 166 electoral votes, all of which were cast for President Roosevelt in 1938. The states are Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Connecticut.

Willkie speaks tonight at 6:30 p. m. (EST) before the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs in Detroit. His address will be broadcast by the Blue network of the National Broadcasting company.

Leaders Confer

When Willkie's train left New York yesterday, Joseph N. Pew, Philadelphia oil man, left Henry Republican campaign contributor, and Jay Cook, Jr., Pennsylvania GOP senatorial nominee, were aboard to confer with Willkie and Executive Director John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee.

There have been reports of friction among Pennsylvania Republicans. Allegheny County Chairman Frank K. McGary for 11 on a Chairman supporter, reportedly objected to a plan for Gov. Arthur H. James, whom Pew backed for the presidential nomination, to introduce Willkie at Pittsburgh Thursday night. This row was settled when McGary and James agreed to alternate Joseph W. Martin, Jr., announced Vice-Presidential Nominee Charles L. McNary would introduce his running mate to the Pittsburgh audience.

"Only Half of It"

Willkie was asked shortly after his nomination whether he had heard from Pew. He replied that he had not, adding "as far as I'm concerned, that's only the half of it."

Willkie's major talks on his tour are scheduled for Cleveland Wednesday night on foreign affairs; at Pittsburgh Thursday night, labor; at Philadelphia Friday night; at Newark, N. J., next Monday night. Willkie speaks at Pontiac, Mich.; Lansing and Grand Rapids tomorrow.

SUGGESTION ON MINIDOKA DEER DRAWING

Editor, Times:

I have watched and participated in the last three special Minidoka deer drawings, all to no avail. I have also seen other people do the same, and after the report of the lucky hunter comes out in the paper, the less fortunate readily start bemoaning their bad luck.

On the other hand, I have seen the same person, for three consecutive years, get his name drawn for the hunt. This does not seem fair to me. Why not have the persons who have drawn permits for the 1940 season, be ineligible to participate in the 1941 drawing? But this person will be eligible for the 1942 season.

This procedure will give the unlucky majority a little larger percentage to be drawn the next year. Some people will say, "There is a season up north; let the unlucky ones go there for their deer." Well enough and good, I say—but there are some of us who cannot take leave of absence from three to five days as easily as one day for the Minidoka drawing.

Therefore, pass the Hon. for the Minidoka drawing.

'WAR' STARTS ON DISEASE OF BEET

JEROME, Sept. 30 (Special)—Beet growers in this area have been asked to cooperate in assisting to prevent infestation of nematode, which is to a slight degree appearing in some sections of this factory district. It was announced this week by H. S. Stockton of the beet growers' association.

Mr. Stockton stated that it has been deemed advisable to protect all beet growers from this disease. He explained that the most common method of spreading the infection is through the mingling of dirt.

The directors of the Lower Snake River Beet Growers' association have requested that the sugar company provide a plowing ground in order that all dirt can be left at the receiving station. Mr. Stockton stated further that the company has complied in this request, and it is urged that all beet growers cooperate.

Nematode, he stated, has become serious in some sections of other areas so that growing of beets has become almost impractical. Beets, he stated, can only be grown on infected ground only once out of every four years.

Mr. Stockton made this announcement because of the seriousness of the nematode situation in other beet areas, and said he wishes to make it plain that to some extent the disease has appeared in this factory district.

Mac Finds Jock Sutherland Is Something More Than a Machine

By HENRY McLEMORE
PITTSBURGH, Penn., Sept. 30 (UP)—The football world knows him as a cold guy. Not only as a cold guy, but a hard one, who looks upon his players as machines, and not as human beings to be scolded when they failed.

He helped build up this legend, there's no denying that. In the first place—and we're talking about Jock Sutherland—his formidable appearance. Big the stands six two or three and weighs 230. He lent giant to easy conversation. Intense, he lives, breathes, thinks football all his waking hours. Perfectionist, he rebels at a player failing to give his best.

He has been called the "Dour Scot," the "Scour Scold," and "Dear Old Man Dentist" and a dozen other things that denote stiffness, unfriendliness.

But—and this is my story—is he really that sort of a man? The answer is no.

Jock, a pro coach now, in charge of the Brooklyn Dodgers, after 14 years of coaching the Pitt Panthers. His team played here yesterday, against the Pittsburgh Steelers. The game has been the talk of the town for two months. A crowd of 27,000 was in the hands of the team's coach.

I talked to Jock before the game. "I'd like to win this one," he said. "I would have liked to tell you the truth, but I never have asked a team to play for me, and I never will. I just hope they'll do their best."

Then Jock told me how he felt coming back to Pittsburgh—his town he had worked in almost 30 years—as a stranger.

"I didn't sleep much on the train, but thinking about you," he said as coach of Pittsburgh, used to welcome arriving coaches, now, there was to be a welcoming party for me. It seemed funny. I who knew Pittsburgh as I know no other town, to be greeted and treated like a stranger.

The crowd gave him a great hand when he walked on the field before the game between the Dodgers and the Steelers. The hand clasp of the customers yesterday, and Jock just walked out, slowly, quietly, right hand in his pocket, left hand clutching a program. He took his look up. He didn't look down. He just walked straight ahead to the Brooklyn bench.

Not knowing him, the crowd resented his refusal to show emotion. Inside, the doctor was turning over and over. He hadn't eaten a bite of breakfast. Not a bite of which.

"Not hungry," he told friends. No, just a great fellow, a great coach, being human. Inside he wanted this ball game. Inside he prayed and hoped the Dodgers would come through.

They did.

And without a speech, either. I talked to ten or twelve of the players. They all said, in substance, the same thing.

"We like him. We go for Jock. We knew he wanted to win, so, we did what we could."

Darkhorses Feature Big Seven Contests

By CARL REICHL
DENVER, Sept. 30 (UP)—Meet the Rocky mountain area's two "coaches of the week," whose teams open the Big Seven conference season with a bang next Saturday.

They are Harry Hughes, 30-year veteran at Colorado State College, and C. H. (Oki) Oki, who just a year ago was tutoring a bunch of husky high school lads at Casper, Wyo.

Their teams definitely can be labeled as "dark horses" on the basis of last Saturday's performances.

Hughes' sophomore-dominated team showed surprising strength in smashing down Colorado Mines' "unbeaten-since-1938" team 25-0 at Denver, and Blanchard's alert Wyoming team defeated the victorious New Mexico 19-7.

The two teams clash Saturday at Laramie, and the game threatens to overshadow interest in Friday night's Denver-Baylor game.

Denver university also commanded interest with its Friday victory over Iowa State, especially in the Bob Riddell, Longmont, Colo., sophomore back, lived up to expectations in running all over the field and leading to the winning touchdown in the 14-7 win.

Baylor defeated north Texas Teachers Saturday night. The game should have been too strong for Coach Clyde (Mac) Hubbard's D. U. team, but Riddell might upset the apple with another sterling performance.

Colorado university, Utah U, and Utah State, which look disappointing by reason of strong opposition, will try to hop back into things this week-end or next.

DiMaggio Near Batting Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (UP)—Pounding toward end of the baseball season, Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankee outfielder, and Debs Garms, Pittsburgh third baseman, appeared almost certain to win the 1940 batting championships, averages released today and including games of Thursday night.

Although DiMaggio slumped from .351 to .349 in the last week, he still retains a five-point advantage over the American league hitters. Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox backed into second place with .344 when Earl Radford of the St. Louis Browns dropped three points to .342.

Garms slumped 14 points to .383 but maintained the National League lead. Stan Heath of the Cubs, has but .324 and cannot make up the difference in the remaining nights. Earl Lombardi, Cincinnati Reds' catcher, retained third place with .319 although his injured foot has limited him from the last two games.

Schoolboy Rowe of the Detroit Tigers leads the American league with .314 victories and three defeats while Freddie Fitzsimmons tops the National League with 16 wins and two losses.

FRENCH LEADER URGES LEAGUE OF NATIONS REVIVAL

EX-PREMIER SEES ORGANIZATION AS HELP FOR FRANCE

By RALPH HEINZEN

VICHY, Sept. 30 (AP)—Joseph Paul-Boncour, French statesman, former premier and foreign minister, who with Aristide Briand shared for 20 years the role of French apostle of international understanding, today urged the revival of the League of Nations as the only way to prevent a new world war.

Paul-Boncour, who was premier of France from 1920 to 1921, said that the League of Nations was not after Europe's peace treaties are signed. It has proved its worth in reconstruction years which followed the world war.

"Europe as foreseen by the Versailles and affiliated treaties would have lasted two years if the League of Nations had not been in existence," Paul-Boncour said in an interview. "The League might have proved to be a valuable medium for the adaptation of the League to the evolving circumstances in Europe."

For the time being, he said, the League is dormant. Accepting the invitation of numerous foreign governments, the League has quit Geneva, temporarily, for safe havens abroad. Outside carry on the continuity of League effort, chiefly in the fields of labor, economy, maritime and culture.

Must Await Peace

Paul-Boncour, like other prominent members of the League committee, assembly and foreign committee, feels that the League cannot revive its activity until the new peace treaties have been written. He said that the League should continue to function as an international political clearing house and board of arbitration, but that it will deprive the League of its strength and its reason to exist, just as the withdrawal of Germany was eventually followed by the withdrawal of Japan, and Russia, which has since the League's inception as a force in European affairs.

In the past 20 years, Briand and other French statesmen have played an even greater role when as the Four-Power pact, and in seeking a coalition of big powers, he attempted to establish a framework of the League within the League of Nations, which became the only non-European nation at Geneva in 1920.

Need of League Seen

"If the League of Nations were revived, there must obviously be many changes in its structure," Paul-Boncour said. "It has been apparent to me for some time that one of the fundamental theories of President Wilson was that each nation has an equal voice in the world's problems—could not work out purely European problem, for example, such as Italy, Germany or Spain in the solution of any European conflict. In the same way, purely American problems, for example, the League of Nations could not work out."

Air Show's Feminine Stars—And Pantsless Male!

These Twin Falls air show pictures were not snapped simultaneously in such a dither about. Top photo shows, left to right, Frances Diaz and Dorothy Barden, ace parachutist. Laura Ingalls, U. S. champion woman show. Two left their noses; Miss Barden didn't know what they were in the breeze at her nose. Twin Falls air show, with his knees in the air, Lamorne Stevens, also a fireman, was the "W. D. hand" cap" race at the air show.

Acc troupe were to leave Twin Falls today. Rankin himself led by train for Pocatello last night, and jumped the train to return to Twin Falls. He had to be back at the Twin Falls air show today. Rankin, president of the Twin Falls association, said today that the show "may be made an annual event," depending on reactions to the association's activities during the next few months. Monetary returns from the 1940 show, he said, were disappointing.

Other Highlights

Rankin and Miss Ingalls weren't the only highlights of the final performance. Bill Carter, Moscow, Idaho, who is an army air cadet on a leave, was in the crowd with his ditty "I'll be home in a little piece" playing as the apparently "same" pilot in a radio-controlled plane. The plane, which was piloted by a man in a little Piper Cub, was seen to land in a field near the air show. The plane, which was piloted by a man in a little Piper Cub, was seen to land in a field near the air show.

Depart Today

A silver trophy was to be awarded either to Rankin or Miss Ingalls, depending on crowd applause after the stunt flying show. However, the trophy was not awarded because Rankin would have won it anyway. The fliers in the Hollywood Air

WALLACE HEADS NORTH ON TOUR

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, today invaded northern California for two speeches. Wallace arrived yesterday from Los Angeles, where in an address he attacked the Republican party's "policy" of the selective service law and answering questions of Times readers.

He made no formal appearances here Sunday. He was welcomed to the Golden Gate International Exposition by President Marshall Dill on the fair's closing day, and attended official closing ceremonies.

Wallace will be in Portland for an address Tuesday night, then will be in Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Wednesday. Missoula, Butte, Mont., Thursday, Mandan, Bismarck and Jamestown, N. D., under the peace banner, Friday, and Fargo and Grand Forks, Minn., Saturday. He then will return to Washington.

States Will Handle Foreign Languages On Draft Questions

One of a series of daily articles by Milton Bronner interpreting the law and answering questions of Times readers.

By MILTON BRONNER

Service Information Bureau

WASHINGTON—Just as 23 years ago in the wartime draft period special provision was made so that alien and recently naturalized citizens would not be drafted until they understood fully the meaning of the selective service law, the War Relocation Authority today announced that it will make similar provision for the foreign-born in the current draft period.

Interpreters to help in the selection of registrants will be stationed in the capitals of the various states. Many of these interpreters will be of the same language as the registrants. The interpreters will be provided by the War Relocation Authority.

2 DIE IN IDAHO AUTO CRACK-UPS

BOISE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Automobile accidents in this area took the lives of two persons over the weekend. Roy Lambert, 26, of Boise, died in a hospital of injuries suffered when the car he was driving struck a bridge railing near Collier, two miles west of Boise. Ada Lambert, 26, of Parma, Thomas was injured when his car collided with a car and overturned on Ash's car about three miles north of Caldwell.

The crash "dog fight" in mid-air between Miss Ingalls and her husband, Rankin, in a slower and more controlled landing, provided several minutes of the fight by getting into the tail of the Ryan Cub down.

A special added comedy event was the V. D. derby—two "Twin Falls" freemen won $5 cash award. A 25-horsepower Cub and Ray Spier, passenger, who had to take off his seat belt to get out of the car. Helpful assistants knotted his trousers as well as those of two other contestants.
