

LEWIS 'HOLDS OUT' FOR BETTER TERMS FROM DEMOS

CIO HEAD READY FOR MEET WITH WENDELL WILLKIE

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—President John L. Lewis of the Congress of Industrial Organizations was reported today to be holding out for better terms before pledging his support to the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

There were reports also of an early conference between Lewis and Republican Presidential Candidate Wendell L. Willkie. Last night they were in the same hotel in Pittsburgh where Willkie delivered a major address and where Lewis is attending a conference of steel workers.

There was no confirmation of a Willkie-Lewis get-together. When asked if he planned to see Willkie, Lewis said he was "not going to discuss politics today."

Rapped Both Parties
 Whichever way he goes—if he goes to Lewis will have to eat some language. He held the United Mine Workers' convention in Columbus, O., last winter that Mr. Roosevelt would meet "ignominious defeat" if he sought a third term. Soon after Lewis paid his respects to Republican party: "It does not pretend to serve anyone but the financial interests who control it. In a major sense, it is frankly hostile to labor."

One of the issues dividing the administration and Lewis is understood to have been the distribution of government contracts. The question seems now to have been resolved to the satisfaction of labor by joint action of Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and the national defense commission.

See CIO Manpower
 Sidney Hillman, commissioner member, vice-president of CIO and president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, announced Oct. 1 on behalf of the commission that no national defense contracts would be awarded to firms violating federal labor laws. Jackson issued an injunction yesterday that such restriction would be lawful.

Mr. Roosevelt's failure to quickly name a successor to Labor Board Chairman J. Warren Madden is interpreted by some persons as a maneuver to avoid antagonizing Lewis and others who want Madden kept on the job. Madden's term expires in August.

Sentence Given
 Negro Attacker

Sentence of three to 14 years in the Idaho penitentiary was ordered today for Leroy Wilkins, 30-year-old Negro rancher convicted of a murder charge with intent to commit. The prison decree was meted out by Judge J. W. Porter this morning.

Wilkins was under heavy guard by deputy sheriffs as sentence was pronounced.

He was convicted by a 12-man jury which found him guilty of a murder charge on the rape charge on which he was tried.

Arson claims against the man, on accusation that he set fire to the P. E. Dufferin ranch home near Rogerson June 24 have been continued until the next term of district court in view of the prison sentence today, it was thought probable that action may be taken to drop the arson charge and send Wilkins to prison immediately.

NEW FIRE TRUCK GETS FINAL TEST

Twin Falls' new Seagrave fire truck left this afternoon officially because "engine No. 1" of the city's fire department, it was announced by Chief Hickey, police and fire commissioner.

Final tests on the machine, before formal acceptance, were made this morning and early afternoon at Harmon park. The machine, at that time was officially rated as having a pumping capacity of 750 gallons a minute but in an emergency is able to pump over 900 gallons a minute.

Packed while the new truck will carry 1200 feet of two and one-half inch hose and 200 feet of two and one-half inch hose. It will also carry the 14-foot extension ladder and the 24-foot single group ladder in addition to chemical equipment.

Chief Hickey said the new truck, which is powered by a 185 horsepower engine is that it also carries a 150-gallon booster tank. This tank will always be filled with water and today Chief Zeke Bartlett said that, in his opinion, this tank would provide sufficient water to care for "a majority of the local blazes."

"Whenever we get to a call the hydrant hose will be hooked on just to make sure."

The truck underwent preliminary tests last week.

Burras Thomason Called by Death

JEROME, Oct. 4 (Special)—Funeral services for Burras Thomason, 85, Jerome pioneer, will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Jerome, Presbyterian church. Rev. Walter A. Henson, Christian church pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in the Jerome cemetery, under the direction of the W. H. Henson, 320 P. O. Box 212, 1854, at Harrison, Ark.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Mrs. Jennie Thomason, who died in 1909. He was affiliated with the Christian church.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Debra R. Rie and Dewey Thomason, all of Jerome; Mrs. Doris, Studying, Sugar Creek district; Mrs. Dorothy Bird, Mrs. Eula McClellan and Mrs. Opal Box, and a stepson, Luther Piper, Pittsburg, Kan.

CRASH DAMAGES 1941 MODEL CAR

A mother and her three children were unhurt today but their brand-new 1941 Chevrolet coupe was heavily damaged in a collision near the coulee bridge across Elizabeth street not far from the baseball park.

Mrs. L. M. Jensen, 28, Twin Falls, was driving the new car just yesterday. H. O. Horton, 38, Twin Falls, driving a 1928 sedan, in the crash at 8:30 a. m.

State Police Officer Lynn L. Randall said that Mrs. Jensen was driving on the left side of Elizabeth street. Horton drove around the corner east of the bridge and the cars crashed 18 feet from the wooden span. Both vehicles almost went into opposite sides of the coulee but stopped short of the water.

Mrs. Jensen told Randall she was driving one of her children to school, and must have turned momentarily to the youngsters.

Damage to the new coupe will be at least $175, the officer estimated. Horton's car was damaged about $25.

'GO AHEAD' GIVEN UNDERPASS WORK

Approval of the highway underpass beneath the railroad tracks near Cedar crossing had been granted today, and "go ahead" expedited on what is regarded as the most important safety project in Twin Falls county.

That was the telegraphic word received from Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen by the Pomona Grange, one of the organizations which has been pressing for construction of the underpass to eliminate a "death crossing."

New Being Designed

The governor's wire to Eric J. Jones, master of the Pomona, said that the Cedar Underpass was approved by the government, and the project now is in the design stage in the bridge division of the state department of public works.

Since the governor wired that "some part of the right-of-way is still needed," Pomona leaders said today they will cooperate in seeking completion of that phase of the project.

The underpass will be built under the cooperative design of the state highway program. Date of bid call is not yet fixed.

Hazardous Spot

The project will remove one of the most hazardous rail crossings now facing motorists in U. S. 30. A sharp turn at Cedar, east of Bull, has resulted in numerous accidents and several fatalities, including the death of a Grange master from north Idaho.

With civic and Grange organizations cooperating, the drive for an underpass has been bolstered by vigorous editorial support of the Times and News.

The project was first announced in today's announcement came months ago when a delegation of business and farm leaders called on the governor at Boise. Survey work began immediately after that conference.

ELKS VOTE CASH TO CHEST DRIVE

Although carrying on its own extensive program of welfare work, the Twin Falls Elks lodge today has subscribed $25 to the Community Chest as one of the first pre-arranged contributions to that organization.

The Elks action, taken last night at the lodge meeting, was announced today by the social and community welfare committee consisting of Chairman Wilton Peck, secretary and William Ostrander.

"This is in addition to the various projects and to personal contributions to the Chest by our members," Chairman Peck said. "But the lodge feels that the Chest covers so many individual organizations it is well worthy of support."

GRANGES ASSIST DEGREE SESSION

Grange masters throughout Twin Falls county are cooperating in the Pomona Grange's ceremony at which the fifth degree will be conferred Oct. 11 in Twin Falls. Pomona Master Eric Jones said today. The Oct. 11 session will open at 8:30 p. m. in I. O. O. F. hall. It was originally scheduled for Oct. 7 but announcement of the change in dates was made today.

Pomona officers will confer the fifth degree on a class of candidates expected to include Grangers from all the subdivisions.

Women of the Mountain Peak Grange will put on the drill, and Hollister Grange will assist the program.

BRITISH BOMBARD ITALY POSITIONS

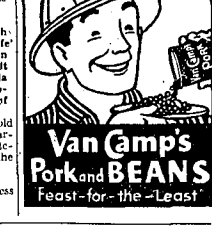

ROME, Oct. 4 (AP)—British air raids on key Italian positions all the way from the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan through Ethiopia and British Somaliland into Kenya were admitted in Italy's 1939 war communique today.

Informant quarters meanwhile denied reports in Rome that Italian troops in north Africa had advanced from Sidi Barrani to the capture of Marsa Matruh. British have 216 miles west of Alexandria. It was denied even that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian African commander, had started on an offensive against Marsa Matruh.

Although admitting extensive British raids the communique said that in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan Italian air squadrons had bombed hangars and defense works near Baharires and enemy camps and storehouses near Gallabat. Gallabat is in the Sudan, just across the frontier from Ethiopia.

WILLKIE OFFERS NINE-POINT PROGRAM TO LABORERS

35,000 HEAR GOP NOMINEE IN TALK AT FORBES FIELD

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
BOARD WILLKIE TRAINS EN ROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4 (AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie offered a nine-point labor program today to eastern industrial workers. His aides say he needs their votes if he is to defeat President Roosevelt's bid for a third term.

Willkie presented his labor program specifically to a crowd of approximately 35,000 in Forbes field at Pittsburgh last night in a view that brought Willkie and his vice-presidential running mate, Charles McNary of Oregon, together on a public platform for the first time.

Willkie's aides said they had been surprised by the volume of applause and the infrequency of booing in the four of the industrial centers.

Here's the Program

1. Before the coming Forbes field, the nominee offered this program:
1. Special legislation to bring approximately $1,000 in Forbes field at Pittsburgh last night in a view that brought Willkie and his vice-presidential running mate, Charles McNary of Oregon, together on a public platform for the first time.
2. Labor should clean its boots of "rocked racketeers" who have found their way into the labor movement.
3. Employers and workers should write into collective bargaining contracts a "provision for a cooling-off period" to delay before using their economic weapons.
4. The President should call a conference of farm, factory, labor and consumer groups to tackle the job of ending economic stagnation and of preventing a common disaster.
5. Social security should be extended to workers who do not now receive it, and the federal government should be made solvent so that it can fulfill its social security obligations.
6. The federal conciliation service should be strengthened and improved, and its work should be integrated with the work of the labor board.
7. Would Weid Big Nick
8. Federal government activities in the labor field should be discontinued because each locality knows its own problems best.
9. States should be encouraged to strengthen and improve their own procedures for the settlement of labor disputes.
10. Willkie traveled south and east through Pennsylvania and West Virginia with stops scheduled at Harrisburg, the capital, Lancaster and Gettysburg. Willkie is expected to return to his tour the factory sections, speak from Independence hall, and address a night meeting at Shiloh park.

MERCURY DROPS TO START FROST

Paras noticeable frost of autumn in the immediate Twin Falls area was registered early today when the official thermometer dipped to 30 degrees above zero, according to the U. S. bureau of entomology.

The drop of two degrees below freezing represented a decline of seven degrees under the minimum of 37 recorded yesterday.

Warmest temperature Thursday afternoon was only 36 degrees, forecast for today, as issued by the U. S. department of commerce weather bureau at Boise, calls for little change in temperature and predictably cloudy with showers Wednesday.

Low temperature here this morning was considerably colder than at Boise and Pocatello. Here showed 32, Pocatello 31.

"BIG GAME" FLOWERS
 The newest flower fashions for football games take their inspiration from America's patriotic symbols and from political as well as collegiate enthusiasms. A range of white carnations on which is posed the wire head of a donkey or an elephant—depending on whether you're for Franklin Roosevelt or Wendell Willkie, is one of the 1940 fashion ideas.

BUDGET PLAN ON SCOUTER AGENDA

The troop budget plan will be presented and discussed here Friday, Oct. 4, at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium, where John G. Triplett, assistant national director of registration, Boy Scouts of America, will speak to Scoutmasters, troop committee members and district commissioners of the entire Snake river area council.

Fact that the meeting date had been set for Mr. Triplett was announced this afternoon by Gordon A. Day, area executive. Day said that during the afternoon the Scoutmaster will also have conferences with various operating committees and members of the executive board.

Triplett is considered one of the best Scoutmaster workers in the United States. At the age of 12 he became a Scout in troop 8, Portmouth, Va., and in 1922 he recruited the Eagle Scout.

In 1932, after college, he attended the 34th national training school for Scout executives at Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., and in 1933 he became Scout executive of the Sequoyah council with offices at Bristol, Va.

In January, 1938, he resigned this position in order to serve as assistant national director of registration. In this position he has responsibility for the promotion of the Scout budget plan in councils and troops throughout the country. Mr. Triplett is married and maintains his home at White Plains, N. Y.

Girl Included In 10 Highest Of CAA Class

Ten more Magic Valley residents, one a young woman, today had successfully passed ground school tests and were an line for flight training courses under the CAA. It was announced here.

The examinations were given by Tom Cronk, Spokane, ground school examiner for this district. Asisting in the work was Jack Wise, local instructor. The recommendations were mailed to Seattle.

Those gaining the 10 highest places in the written tests were Amil Duford Annis, June Louise Thompson, Wanda Wadsworth Burchard, Robert Eric Barton, Wilton Livendin, Stanfield, Harold Quinn Stokes, all of Twin Falls; Glenn Steven Stewart, Gooding; Paul Albert Haslam, Wentfelt; John Harrison Turnbull, Shoshone; and Gerald Francis Audreth, Piler.

Flight training for this group, which may by that time include several alternates, is expected to start about Oct. 15. Maa Sylvia Florence Lovins, who placed second highest in this class, was not included among the 10 eligible for flight school, because she had previously participated in training activities.

A third ground school may start about Oct. 15 if the response is sufficient. Applications are now being taken at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce office.

GLOW

RICH LAKE, Wis., Oct. 4 (AP)—Firemen who answered an alarm in the business district played four streams of water at a red glow visible through the billows of smoke pouring from the first floor of a store building.

A puff of white cleared away the smoke and revealed that the fire was upstairs. The red glow they had been dousing with water was a neon tube around a clock.

PRESS AUDITING GROUP TO MEET

The 27th annual meeting of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, of which the Evening Times is a member, will be held in Chicago, Oct. 17 and 18.

This bureau, although not widely known to the general public, is recognized by authorities as the progress of American business as having played a major part in the growth and success of newspaper merchandising.

No Standard At that time the publishers of newspapers and periodicals had no generally accepted or standardized means of telling advertisers about their circulation.

Recognizing the mutual need for dependable facts and figures on circulation, a group of publishers and advertising men in 1914 formed a cooperative association which is called the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The bureau has a staff of skilled auditors who make an annual audit of the circulation records of each publisher member.

The degree to which this association has contributed to American business is indicated in this recent expansion from an advertising agency of a national newspaper.

The extent to which newspaper advertisers are protected by A. B. C. verified circulation is evident from the fact that 90 per cent of the daily newspapers in America is audited by the bureau.

Carrier boys are "little merchants" on their own... here a circulation officer makes an entry in the savings plan for the boys.

It's just about time for Mr. Brown to come home from work and so Mrs. Brown is bustling around the kitchen.

Let's see now, she says to herself, "the soup is on, the meat is cooking, the carrots are about ready, the table is set, the coffee has to be made."

And then her train of thought is interrupted. There's a footfall on the front porch.

She doesn't have to think twice to know what that is. Mr. Brown's step is heavier than this one.

Mr. Brown picks it up and scans the headlines briefly before returning to the kitchen to continue with the cooking of the dinner.

It there when he comes into the house after his hard day's work. There's another footfall on the front porch and just as Mrs. Brown nuzzles this one.

Mrs. Brown likes the social page and the features. Mr. Brown likes the spot local, national and international news, the editorial and sport pages.

Yes, they both read the paper thoroughly each night. But do they step to realize the painstaking effort which has been exerted by members of the circulation department to see that the paper arrives just as Mrs. Brown nuzzles this one.

That carrier boy who dropped the paper on the Brown's front porch doesn't go about his work just because he's getting paid for it.

Recently six graduating carriers withdrew approximately $400. Several of these used their savings to help defray initial expenses of entering college.

force, four outside field men who are on constant watch to maintain efficient service, four motor carriers who see to it that the Times and the News go to every town in Magic Valley.

It's a real job, delivering all these papers and maintaining an efficient service. Operating the circulation department alone costs the Idaho Evening Times and the Twin Falls News $20,000 a year.

Working in the circulation department are five persons in the main office, who direct the distributing efforts on bombing and individual credit.

Nov in Twin Falls the presses which produce your Times and News literally "eat up" this newspaper.

Each day of publication, both papers "consume" approximately 35 miles of this newspaper or, in a year of publication, a strip of paper more than a yard wide and 10,953 miles long—a piece of paper which would stretch almost half way around the world at the equator.

The postoffice department has a slogan which goes something like this: "Neither rain, nor hail, nor sleet, nor black of night can stay these couriers of the United States mail in the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

This, too, might be the slogan of those little businessmen who each day drop the Times or the News on your doorstep. All they would need to do would be substitute "Times and News" for "United States Mail."

Nazi Aviators Take Practice Flights to Observe English

By J. W. T. MASON United Press War Expert German air bombings over Great Britain have shown decreasing intensity this week, while the number of visiting planes, at times, has approximated 1,000.

The obvious conclusion is that the German air force has been losing too many aviators in the attacks on Great Britain and greater operating skill has become necessary.

So, it seems evident that newly trained German aviators now are taking flight in a post-graduate course of self-instruction by being sent over Britain, not to fight, but to study superior methods of the British air-aviators.

Ol' Man Newsom Died With Sweetest Music Ringing in Ears

By HENRY McLEMORE
 DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 4 (AP)—Ol' Man Newsom's death. They held a little service for him in Cincinnati yesterday, and by now his body's on the way to South Carolina, there to join the dust he had known and loved since he kicked it up, barefooted, as a kid.

The boys who handle such things for the papers told how and the service was, there in the little undertaking chapel, with only his family and a few friends to hear the good word said. They told of tears and sob-and-thrill.

"I'm wondering if it really should have been said for a long time. I'm wondering if Ol' Man Newsom didn't come mighty close to leaving this earth in the perfect way. They can't be any denying the last it happy.

Only a few hours before his death, he told his boys, his Bobo, stand out before 30,000 cheering persons and pitch his team to a World series victory.

And Bobo had been a large part of his life for a long time. Bobo, the swaggering, blustering, happy-go-lucky, big-of-frames fellow who kept making the headlines and whose name kept coming in over the radio. When Ol' Man Newsom left Harlanville in Harlanville a few days ago, to watch Bobo pitch for Detroit (that's what they call Detroit in Harlanville) he knew he wasn't coming back. When he got his grip all packed, and called the station for the 10th time to see if the train was coming through on time, he spent an hour or two calling on his friends.

He called on 'em to say goodbye. The friends all asked what the meaning of the goodbye—shucks, Detroit was gonna win in four straight and Ol' Man Newsom would be back before the week was out.

But the goodbye was said all the same. Bobo knew his heart was bad, and that at 68, with a weak heart, you can't afford to take a long trip without saying goodbye.

He came on to Cincinnati. He saw his boy stand the Reds on their feet. He heard the thunder of voices, Yankee voices, too, cheer his boy.

He was tired when he got back to his hotel, was Ol' Man Newsom. Had the miseries here and there. But he had the strength to hug his boy, to tell him how proud he was of him. Then he went to bed.

Around 7:30 in the morning the doctor called Big Buck. His dad had an attack.

When Buck got there his dad was feeling a little better. Said his son, "I'm all right, you get on back to your room and get some rest. But he hugged Buck again before he let him go. Put his shaky hand in Buck's big hand and as his son went out the door, waved a goodbye.

Just before dawn Ol' Man Newsom died.

You just know he went with music in his ears—the sweetest music. The music of 30,000 persons paying tribute to his boy—his Buck.

PARLEY CALLED FOR SPORTSMEN

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Hunter to hunter and man to man discussions between experts and laymen on wildlife conservation will feature the sixth annual Middle West wildlife conference to be held here Nov. 14-18, according to T. H. Frison, conference manager.

Chief purpose of the conference, Frison, chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey, said, is to give persons interested in game and fish preservation the benefit of the latest information on conservation research in a non-technical manner.

Papers will be presented and read by distinguished scientists and research workers in the fields of game birds and fish, but the addresses and discussions will be designed with a "down to earth" viewpoint so to be understood by the hunters and fishermen expected to attend.

A special session on waterfowl conditions throughout the Middle West, at which papers giving recommendations and criticism will be read, will be held on Friday, Nov. 15.

On the same day, the sportsmen are invited to attend the dedication of the new five-story natural resources building on the University of Illinois campus, and to visit the field laboratories of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

One of the laboratory trips will be to the Bismarck Park Wildlife Sanctuary, where anglers will have an opportunity to study fishery practices. The other trip is to Chautauque Lake where the U. S. Biological Survey maintains a migratory waterfowl refuge.

New Organization Meets at Hansen

HANSEN, Oct. 4 (Special) — An impressive ceremony, under direction of Rev. J. H. Coulter and Mrs. K. Blevins, president of the council, were conducted last week at the charter meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

The enrollment ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Ira Foster at which time 42 names were written on the roll. Several other names will be added later.

The auditorium was arrayed with baskets of fall flowers adding to the inspiration of the movement which saw the new organization become a reality.

At the close of the ritualistic service, during which Mrs. J. H. Coulter accompanied at the piano, a brief business meeting was conducted, and plans were made for the dinner for candidates of the county, which will be held at the Community church, Tuesday, Oct. 18.

The group voted to send a missionary box to the Philippine Islands as well as a barrel of fruit to the children's home at Boise.

During the program, under direction of Mrs. Tex Vaux, the history of sacred hymns was given by Mrs. Vaux, after which the group retired to the basement to partake of refreshments served by Mrs. Ira Foster, Mrs. Wilona Denny, Mrs. Tex Vaux and Mrs. Thelma Franzy, with Mrs. Thelma Laycock and Mrs. Blevins pouring.

Dworshak Tells Steps Needed to Keep U.S. 'Free'

BOISE, Oct. 4 (AP)—Maintenance of justice between the three departments of the federal government is needed to prevent America from becoming a totalitarian state, Rep. Henry Dworshak, R. Ida., told local Republicans in a speech last night.

Rep. Dworshak said only two steps, nationalization of industry and recognition of farmers and labor—are needed to place America among the dictators. Eighteen other steps, including concentration of executive power, planned economy, control of banks, restriction of industry and conscription of an army, have already been taken, he said.

Dworshak also outlined national defense plans and legislation and called for suppression of subversive groups.
