Germans Mass 1,200,000 for Invasion of England

Churchill States 'New World' Aid Will Turn Battle

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill, radiating confidence, told the house of commons today Germany had massed 1,200,000 men and transports for 600,000 men for the invasion of the British isles, but Great Britain with the aid "of the new world" was striking back more powerfully than ever against the axis war machine.

Promising to "regain the initiative," Churchill gave a blow-by-blow story of recent war developments, expressed belief that the German air force had failed in its objective of blasting Britain to destruction and said "a lot of things are going to happen to Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini."

In swift, dramatic strokes, the prime minister painted this picture:
1. Great Britain must open the Burma road over which China receives military supplies after Oct. 17 because of the new German-Italian alliance, which he said, was directed primarily against the United States and Russia and presumably contained secret clauses which would make it favorable to Japan.

2. The danger of invasion persists and Germany has massed 80 crack divisions in northern France, with enough ships to "throw half a million onto the salt water" around Britain—"or into it!" But Britain's home guard now numbers 1,700,000 men, and the navy is receiving "great" reinforcements apart from the trade for 80 United States destroyers.

3. Germany has greatly increased her resources by conquests but "the resources of the new world are becoming increasingly available" to Britain. If it were not for these world resources, he said, "it would be a long time before we would be able to do much more than hold our own."
4. The royal air force is getting along and is steadily increasing the destructiveness of the German war machine's most vital points, while the Germans are feeling the weakening effects of constant and heavy use of their air force for bombing of Britain.

TAYLOR REJECTS REDS ON BALLOT

BOISE, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—The Communist party is not legally entitled to be placed on the Idaho ballot, Attorney General J. W. Taylor said today.
In an opinion asked by Gov. C. A. Bottolven, Taylor wrote it was his understanding there is no legal Communist party in this state. He said that in the last general election, the party failed to reach the number of voters required by law. Taylor declared his opinion was based on the law for placing presidential electors on the ballot as defined by the supreme court. He held that the present law excludes nomination of presidential electors by the conventional system, used by the Communist party in choosing four electors on Aug. 14.
It was believed the ruling would also affect the status of the Socialist party which named its electors by the same system.
Communist and Socialist party electors were certified for a place on the ballot by secretary of state George H. Curtis. The certification has been sent to county auditors. The secretary of state's office said the question of whether or not electors of the two parties would be placed on the ballot is a matter for the county auditors to decide.
The attorney general was questioning the action of the secretary of state but only sought to determine the constitutionality of the party.

Derringer Bests Newsom in Final Contest, 2 to 1

By HARRY FERGUSON
CROSEL FIELD, CINCINNATI, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds defeated the Detroit Tigers 2 to 1 today and won their first world baseball championship since the tarnished series of 1919 when the Chicago Black Sox betrayed baseball.

Coming from behind in this game as they have been doing in the entire series, the Reds finally solved the mystery of Bobo Newsom's daring fireball and pushed two runs across in the lucky seventh inning to sew up the championship of the world.

ITALY HAMMERS ISLE OF MALTA

By JAN VINDICH
VALETTA, Malta, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—Italy has hammered 100 air attacks against the island rock of this island fortress, but today, in the second day of the war, I found today, taking a toll of about 200 killed and 400 wounded.

I am the first representative of an American news organization to be allowed to tour the bombed areas of this naval base midway in the Mediterranean.
Despite the incessant hell on the island, it is apparent that the spirit of the island is still high and that the fortress' power to defend itself has not shaken.
Some 700 persons have been housed out of their homes but they have found shelter in the tunnels and caves hewn in solid rock five centuries ago by the Knights of St. John.

AMERICANS ADVISED TO EVACUATE FAR EAST REGIONS

U. S. CITIZENS IN JAPANESE AREAS URGED TO LEAVE

By ROBERT BELLAIR
SHANGHAI, Oct. 8 (AP)—United States consuls in the far east have received state department instructions to advise all Americans to evacuate the Japanese-occupied Manchukuo, China, Indo-China, and Hong Kong, it was reported today. It was believed that the American consulate general here intended to relay the instructions, probably by means of a confidential circular letter to all American citizens in the Shanghai area tomorrow.

Admiral Thomas C. Hart, United States navy commander in chief in the far east, was understood to be preparing orders to wives of United States navy men to leave for the United States as soon as possible.

The state department instructions were understood to say American women and children and non-essential men especially should be advised to get out of the areas mentioned as soon as possible.

It was reported that some American ships might be diverted to Chinese ports to facilitate evacuation.

Urged to Leave "Quietly"
 According to reports, the state department instructions (that evacuation instructions should not be interpreted sensationally and that Americans should be advised "quietly" to start home.

The instructions, it was understood, said evacuation was advisable in view of the uncertain conditions existing throughout the far east.

Informants said the state department had advised definitely that Americans return to the United States. In previous emergency periods in China, many Americans had evacuated Manila.

It was estimated that 9,000 Americans of native stock and 2,000 Chinese, Japanese and Filipino Americans were resident in the affected areas.

Expect Trouble
 Aside from the conclusion of a Japanese-German-Hitler alliance there had been many indications trouble might be expected for Americans in China. Recent developments, it is charged, by Japanese army agents, had been regarded as part of a build up that would be used by the Japanese to seize control of the French concession here and most of the international settlement on the assertion that Japan since the outbreak of hostilities had been imposing stiffer and stiffer embargoes on all kinds of American trade for months. One American firm doing business in Tientsin said that its trade for the first half of September totalled $300,000 as compared with a normal $20,000.

Informants interpreted the decision to advise Americans to leave as intended to give Washington a free hand in dealing with Japan without fear of Japanese retaliation against Americans in the far east.

Adequate Facilities to Greet Army's New Draft Soldiers

Adequacy in the preparation of shelter, hospital and sanitation facilities will be the keynote in the army preparations for the induction of new draft soldiers into the compulsory military service program, it was announced here this afternoon by Sgt. Frank Morris, officer in charge of the local recruiting station at the city hall.

Sgt. Morris said that he had received a summary of the complete draft plan set up from the war department and that such data is being made public in this section for the first time.

"Both the national guard and the selective service inductees will be brought gradually into the federal service by increments in order that full preparations may be made prior to their induction," Sgt. Morris said he had been informed.

Health and Comfort
 "By the time any particular group is brought in, all necessary construction will have been completed and adequate facilities provided to insure healthful and comfortable living conditions. This principle will apply to the selection of material and thing and hospital equipment. The present war department procurement objectives will also insure that a sufficient amount of material will be available so that the training of the new troops can be conducted on the latest and most modern equipment."

Sgt. Morris was advised that the selective service director will establish national headquarters in order to work through the various governors, who are to appoint local boards composed of civilians, one board for approximately every 30,000 people.

"The army first exercises direct influence under the selective service act in requisitioning the various states for induction of men to fill necessary military requirements as determined by the war department."

"When a local board has been called upon by the state in which it is located to furnish a quota of selectees within a certain date, the board will fill the quota by calling and assembling the necessary number of registrants in the order that they are available in the order that they are called, that the men have been given adequate instruction in military service. The local board will give each man a physical examination and will accept for immediate service only those who are physically fit."

"Before they are assigned to army units, they will go through a careful sorting and selecting process. The confusion and loss of time caused by failure to sort out personnel adequately during the induction process has caused the attachment of considerable importance to this phase of induction at the present time. Under the selective service act, a heterogeneous assortment of manpower will be received by the army, and the local board will send the group of selectees it has assembled, not to an army training camp but to an induction station."

The basic purpose of an induction station is to give a detailed physical examination to the selectees, normally subject them into the military service and then pass them on to the reception center. The induction station performs functions similar to ordinary recruiting stations. Approximately 100 of these stations will be distributed throughout the United States. It is planned to pass the selectees through the induction stations and on to the reception stations the same day that they arrive. If any of the men are found to be disqualified by physical defects at the thorough physical examination while in the induction station, they will be furnished transportation back to their home towns at that time.

"When they arrive at the reception centers, the selectees will have their real contact with the army. Their records will be completed, uniforms will be issued, an opportunity given to obtain government insurance policies, vaccinations and inoculations will be administered, and the men will be carefully sorted and classified for their first assignments in the army."

Find Adaptability
 "Each man will be given a general classification test and will then be

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 8 (AP)—Perhaps it's prunes that your dog needs. Mrs. Agnes Fay Morgan, University of California nutrition expert, made a test on a group of dogs and reports that prunes added to their diet resulted in an astonishing superiority in the rate of growth.

Lots of Amusement
 "The army will provide types of amusement similar to those that the selectees have had at home. There will be equipment and facilities for the various athletic sports. Unit teams will be selected and compete with one another. There will be motion picture shows, service clubs and recreation rooms where the men may listen to the radio, read, write, play games and meet their families and friends.

"Saturday afternoon is usually a holiday and on Sunday the clubhouses will hold services for those wishing to attend."

Sgt. Morris added:
 "The folks at home can be assured

THE SPIRIT OF 7/6

by JOHN CLINTON

I do a bit of driving down by the briny which causes me one of the troubles with it is—what happens to your windshield. It gets all covered over with a special kind of gunk that hovers over the traffic and plaster itself on passing windshields. Ever notice it?

Well up till recently I had accepted it gracefully—like I would a traffic ticket, and figured that what we needed of these things you had to put up with.

And then Union Oil Company puts its new Minute Mop Windshield Service into operation and this boy comes in the gunk. Ditch the traffic film, the little heads of water that blind you at night, together with wretched lint, fuzz and streaks. How?

There are 2 parts to it. First—Lowl—made of secret-process paper, chemically treated and single use as it leaves not a single trace on the glass. They use a new one on every car. And second—Union Windshield Cleaner. Used together, these things will give you glass sparkling clean—but safe glass—no drive behind in dirty weather.

They have Minute Mop Men Towels in special display at all Union Oil stations. You will take a tip from Clinton, stop in at your neighborhood Union Oil station and get the Minute Mop super cleaning, and see if I'm not right. It's all for free.

Major Hoople, as you may suspect, is given to modest exaggeration, so you must excuse him if he appears too enthusiastic in this characteristic statement.

But peculiar as it may seem, there is good basis for the Major's enthusiasm nevertheless, for few newspapers published in a city the size of Twin Falls can boast of such an outstanding selection of top-notch comics and features as those appearing in the Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News. They're the best on the market and are bought for exclusive use in the territory at a cost of $3,500 a year.

The Twin Falls newspapers are recognized for this superiority, and we thank Major Hoople for calling it to our readers' attention.

20 KILLED IN LONGEST, NIGHT AIR RAID OVER BERLIN

HEADS OF REICH ANGRY AS BOMBS FALL ON CAPITAL

By Joseph W. Grigg, Jr.
 BERLIN, Oct. 8 (Special)—Britain's longest and most intensive air raid of the war on Berlin early today and last night killed at least 20 persons and for nearly five hours picked off hundreds with thousands of persons caught as they were leaving theaters and movie houses.

The reich capital was attacked by seven waves of British planes flying so low that they could be seen plainly. They dropped parachute flares to light their targets and then high explosive and incendiary bombs crashed in the most violent attack of the war.

The German high command admitted that the attack caused numerous deaths and injuries and said hospitals and dwelling houses, warehouses and railroad sties were destroyed.

Amsterdam dispatches reported British raids on the Netherlands were increasing. Eight persons were killed and several wounded in an air raid alarm at Amsterdam, which lasted from nine o'clock last night until four o'clock this morning.

Two British planes were shot down en route to Berlin, the high command said.

The raid on Berlin started so early that tens of thousands of Berliners were forced to dash for the shelters as they left motion picture theaters and restaurants. The shelters were so jammed that often they had to go to several before being admitted.

The German press angrily denounced the raids as indiscriminate attacks and reported that non-military areas were the principal targets.

"British bombs on Berlin children's homes," said the headline in Die Zeit, which said that one city hospital reported hits on the well-known Robert Koch hospital.
