BRITISH-RUMANIAN RUPTURE HEARS

Great Cathedral Bombed by Nazis In London Attack

LONDON, Oct. 10 (UP)—German airplanes have dropped bombs on St. Paul's cathedral, one of the historic church buildings of the world, destroying the high altar, it was disclosed today.

The air and home security ministries authorized the announcement that the bombs had pierced the roof at the east end of the cathedral during one of the merciless "hammer-krieg" raids of German planes of the last three nights.

The main fabric of the great building, built by Sir Christopher Wren after the great fire of London had burned the previous structure in the late 17th century, was not affected. It was said that the magnificent choir damaged.

Men, women and children (teen-age dwellers) were killed when a giant German bomb crashed during last night's raid, longest of the entire war, into an emergency air raid shelter in a crowded London area.

Only a few weeks ago, St. Paul's was manacled by time bombs which royal engineers removed at risk of their lives.

The cathedral is the tomb of Wren, who built the cathedral after the fire of 1666, and of Lord Nelson, Britain's greatest hero.

Wales suffered the severest attack in weeks. Homes were ruined and streets were broken in one town, though casualties were reported relatively few.

There were serious casualties in a town in southeast England where several heavy bombs struck a home area.

It's Mighty Hard Working in London These Days!

PLEA ON LENIENT LAWS REJECTED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 10 (UP)—Unless the city council wants to change the laws, Police Chief Lee B. Reed will not consider the suggestions of "five leading citizens" that he should enforce less stringent statutes against gambling and prostitution.

Reed is a former federal bureau of investigation agent who was hired to "clean up" Kansas City, a town formerly renowned for its tolerance. Gambling and prostitution have now almost disappeared.

ODDITIES

CUPID
CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Mr. Cupid was free of marriage bonds today after two years he claimed were loveless.

Alexander O. Cupid, who was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion yesterday, said his wife, Mary, left him in 1938. They were married 31 years ago.

BUSINESS
CORDOVA, Alaska—Pilot Al Parmenter's aching molars established him in a lucrative business today, operating a "toothache special" plane excursion to Fairbanks, 400 miles north.

Cordova, June dentist had moved to Juneau, where dental construction was underway. Parmenter's toothache prompted him to offer a new sort of dental service, looking 15 passengers in less than a day for a visit to the Fairbanks dentist.

EIGHTH
JUNEAU, Alaska—Paul Salko, the unemployed hitchhiker, yesterday, who built an ark to take his wife and seven children to the "promised land" of Alaska.

Salko delivered his wife of a seven-pound daughter aboard their ark, called Mrs. Salko and her children were called, but "nothing but" from other boats who were called, but "nothing but" the child were "doing fine."

ENGLISH
BERLIN—The English language is a pseudo-Germanic dialect which is only half-way into the English language, said the English Corp. officer, the Hon. John Trooper, said today.

It was critical of the fact that German school boys learning English have been singing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." The school boys would be better off to sing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

RAID
NANPA, Idaho, Oct. 10 (UP)—Nampa police today sought 100 downy youths who raided headquarters here, tore up party literature and placards, and stole between 1,000 and 1,500 tin cans.

JAPANESE TERM TRIPLE ALLIANCE AN AID TO U. S.

YOKOYO, Oct. 10 (UP)—Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, reiterating that the German-Italian-Japanese military alliance is a "great pact," expressed hope tonight that the United States would not become involved in the European war or in a war with Japan.

The pact, he said, was directed "for the United States and not against the United States."

Such an entanglement with all the possibility of bringing awful catastrophe upon humanity is enough to make one shudder if one stops to imagine the consequences.

The foreign minister, however, criticized British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's explanation of Britain's decision to reopen the Burma supply route to China as a "self-contradiction."

Attack U. S.
Japanese newspapers increased the vigor of their comments on the United States government's aversion to Americans to leave the far eastern trouble zone and on alleged British-American plots to sabotage Japan's new order in the far east.

Confident pronouncement of waning United States influence in Japan was announced that the 30 year old Japan Advertiser, only American daily newspaper, had been sold by Benjamin W. Fleisher of Philadelphia to the Japanese.

Japan Times and Mail, Fleisher had owned the Advertiser since 1908.

Two Nations Will Break Relations, Nazis, Italy Say

BUCHAREST, Oct. 10 (UP)—German and Italian officials said today a rupture in British-Rumanian relations was "only a matter of hours" and that British legation officials had prepared to go to Istanbul, Turkey.

(Nazi sources in Berlin said an official announcement soon would be made that German army and air force units were being sent to Rumania to protect important industries and to aid Rumanian armed forces in upholding the guarantee which Germany had given of the country's integrity.)

It was reported in usually reliable diplomatic circles that the first installment of a huge Rumanian order of German munitions and armaments had arrived in Rumania.

Answer Unsatisfactory
Commenting on reports of an imminent rupture in British-Rumanian relations, a British diplomat spoke to a British minister, Sir Reginald Hoare, was waiting clarification of the situation. The legation said that yesterday's Rumanian reply to a British query on activities of German troops in Rumania was "both unsatisfactory and evasive."

It was disclosed the British legation had advised all Britons in any way connected with the petroleum industry in Rumania, including British oil companies, to leave the country.

British authorities disclosed that in his efforts to obtain a clarification of the situation Sir Reginald had gone directly to Rumanian dictator, Gen. Ion Antonescu.

High military quarters reported that the Rumanian army had already taken measures to build the necessary storage depots for munitions and arms arriving from Germany.

Tighter regulations were enforced here and it was announced that the Rumanian government had permitted to serve meat on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. At present, only beef, mutton, pork and chicken are permitted to be served. Cattle would begin to be slaughtered on Oct. 18.

RAIN FALL SETS SALT LAKE MARK

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 10 (UP)—The U. S. weather bureau reported today that a violent storm which broke over Salt Lake City last yesterday afternoon broke all October precipitation records.

In a 37 minute period, 40 of an inch of rain fell, to the accompaniment of terrific thunderclaps and brilliant flashes of lightning.

The near-cloudburst flooded streets and gutters, and in some parts of the city damaged basements. Several small stores were flooded before their proprietors could seal doors against tides of surface water.

In one five minute period, the bureau said, 14 of an inch of rain fell. The previous record was 12 for a similar period.

SERVICED HONOR VETERAN
BEDFORD HILLS, N. Y., Oct. 10 (UP)—Funeral services will be held at the St. Matthew Episcopal church tomorrow for Katherine May, 73, author of the controversial best-seller "The Ladies' Man."

The application was granted with consent of Atty.-Gen. J. W. Taylor. Johnston's will in Twin Falls county just now in district court papers which allow him to continue pending outcome of his appeal.

fighting the life sentence twin imposed on him by the minister of George J. Olson, justice attorney. The ex-convict was repaid when the high bench reversed his first conviction.

PRINCIPALS TO HEADQUARTERS
NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System announced today that Princess Elizabeth of Great Britain, 14-year-old heir to the throne, will tell of her personal experience in the battle of Britain in her first radio broadcast, Sunday from 8:15 to 9:30 a. m. MPT.

GERMANS REPORT GREAT DAMAGES

BERLIN, Oct. 10 (UP)—German sources said today that German bomber formations have launched a heavy attack upon the industrial and railroad communications of the German plains.

The German planes reported they had inflicted a serious and important objective with both medium size and heavy caliber bombs. The attack was directed against rail communications along the south coast of England and fortifications in that area has frequently been predicted as a preliminary to an German invasion attempt.

Railroad stations were singled out for special attacks today, the German broadcast reported. Reconnaissance planes reported that central London was obscured today by attack upon the city's great fires burning in the Westminster district. Numerous smaller fires set in last night's attack were extinguished by dawn, the planes advised.

The high command said a 4,000-ton British ship was hit amidships by a heavy bomb at the harbor at Cardiff, Wales, "caused violent explosion" and "caused a large fire." Individual bombers were said to have scored hits on airbases in south and central England, destroying buildings, planes and barracks.

Rural program urged in nation
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UP)—The department of agriculture today recommended an immediate rural conservation works program to aid distressed farm workers and a permit the rehabilitation of rural areas of distress resulting from increased farm mechanization during the next 10 years.

GERMANS CLAIM LONDON ON FIRE

BERLIN, Oct. 10 (UP)—Fires "like living lights" were spread in London early today, according to a German broadcast. German planes which raided the British capital and military objectives in other cities "without interruption," will informed German quarters said.

It was claimed British raiders were forced back in western Germany. Night British planes, including two destroyed by anti-aircraft fire, were said to have been shot down yesterday again at a loss of two German planes.

Personnel Shifted In U. S. Offices at Berlin and Rome

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UP)—American charge d'affaires at Berlin, has been called back to the United States for consultation and will not return to Berlin, the state department announced today.

He probably will go to Rome to become charge d'affaires there during the absence of Ambassador William Phillips. Phillips is back in this country and cannot return to Rome early.

Edward Reed, present charge d'affaires at Rome, has been transferred to Berlin. Leonard B. Morris, counselor of embassy in Berlin, will become charge d'affaires there, succeeding Kirk.

FDR'S SON LOSES BIG PAY BY JOINING ARMY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 10 (UP)—A young associate revealed today that, to accept a captain's commission in the army air corps, Elliott Roosevelt gave up a radio income greater than his father's $70,000 annual salary as president.

His salary as president of Texas state network was $24,000 a year and he received slightly more than $20,000 a week as radio commentator. The total income, G. T. Stanley, treasurer of the network, said.

As an army captain, Roosevelt will receive $2000 a month salary, plus $110 a month maintenance.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 10 (UP)—Elliott Roosevelt, 30-year-old son of the President, began active duty today as captain in the army air corps at Wright field and was assigned to work in the production engineering department.

Lieut. Col. Lester T. Miller, commanding the army's big aircraft testing field laboratory, said Roosevelt will be placed in a unit dealing specifically with speeding up fulfillment of aircraft equipment contracts.

These Are Spuds—Not Footballs!

For proof that Magli Valley grows potatoes lushly in Idaho as well as in Idaho and food value, take a look at these spuds grown on a 10-acre plot in the south of Caldwell, Idaho. These Jumbo bakers are so large that they average two pounds each in weight—and Martin Mue, rancher who raised them, doesn't claim they're the largest in south Idaho. Three Idaho Delicious apples are shown with the potatoes to illustrate the size of the spuds. The way the tubers dwarf the hands of the young lady holding them also reveals the giant dimensions of the potatoes. Mr. Mue has 80 acres in spuds this year. (Times Photo and Engraving)

FLYNN HITS GOP 'BUYING' TACTICS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Chairman EDWARD J. Flynn of the Democratic national committee, returning from a 10-day campaign checkup in 10 midwestern and western states, charged here that the Republicans are engaged in a "ruthless attempt to buy the election" for their presidential candidate, Wendell L. Willkie.

"Flynn departed from a prepared statement issued at his press conference to make the charge.

"In my trip," he said, "I found that the Willkie forces are spending the largest amount of money ever put out on any presidential campaign. In my opinion, undoubtedly, they hope to buy the election."

"The hope," Flynn said, is a very vain one.

Flynn said his conversations with Democratic leaders in Michigan, Illinois, Mississippi, Kansas, North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona clearly indicated that President Roosevelt was substantially in the lead.

Rupert to Attend District BPW Meet

RUPERT, Oct. 10 (Special)—With the president, Miss Emma Easton, in charge, the Rupert Business and Professional Women's club met Tuesday evening in a dinner session at Fred's club cafe. Group singing with Mrs. George Hawk, jr., at the piano, interspersed the dinner hour. At the business session which followed the meal the district meeting of B.P.W. clubs which is to be held at Jerome Sunday was discussed. The local club also voted to help with the county welfare association's project of medical aid to underprivileged children and contributed a sum of money for that purpose.

Answering Your Questions About CONSCRIPTION

By DILTON BRONNER, Manager, NEA-Times Selective Service Information Bureau

Particular interest to men who have served three or more consecutive years in the U. S. regular army and received their honorable discharge.

In answer to queries of many men in this status, this bureau replied that they must register, but that they are exempt from service in the draft.

This information was quite correct. However, the war department has asked us to impress this upon all men: After they have registered on Oct. 16, it is necessary for them to contact their local draft board, bringing with them the documents to show that they have served three or more consecutive years in the regular army.

They must also bring along with them the papers showing they received an honorable discharge. The local draft board can then grant them exemption from draft service. Similarly, men who have served six or more consecutive years in the national guard and received honorable discharge, must register. They must apply to their local draft board, bringing with them the necessary proof documents, to be reviewed from service in the draft.

Snow Delays Registration

The selective service act applies to the territories of Alaska, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Date for registration in Hawaii is Oct. 26. No date has been set for Alaska because authorities are waiting for snow conditions to be such that people can get about without too much hardship. The date for Puerto Rico has not yet been set, because the war department has been waiting until the registration cards, questionnaires and records can be printed in Spanish.

So far there has been no arrangement of registration in the Panama Canal Zone. There will be none in the Virgin Isles.

Unique Position

The natives of the Philippines, who happen to be in the United States are in a very peculiar position. They are not citizens of the United States. Also they are not rated as aliens.

I asked one war department official what they could be called and he said "nationals." But that did not clarify things much.

Many questions have been asked about the draft quotas that are to be set for each of the states and territories. The answers are due from the war department in the next few days.

Drunk Driving

By JEROME, Oct. 10 (Special)—John S. Southworth, Eden resident, pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of operating a motor vehicle on the highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. When he was brought before Probate Judge Heber N. Polkman.

He was fined $100 and court costs of $6.40.

DRAFT LEADERS SEND OUT DATA

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 10 (AP)—State selective service headquarters today were preparing instructions to be sent to more than 500 men appointed to local and district draft boards throughout the state.

Instructions will include specific duties for registrants, district appeal boards and offices of government appeal agents and local board examining physicians. Their relation to the entire draft system will also be explained.

Gov. C. A. Bottoltsen, who announced the appointments, said he did not contemplate calling a mass meeting for the purpose of instructing draft board officers.

Clover Sponsors "Lutheran Hour"

GLOVER, Oct. 10 (Special)—Trinity congregation's quarterly meeting Sunday was largely attended. An item of importance was the unanimous support of assisting the Southwestern district's sponsoring of the "Lutheran Hour," which will be heard over stations at Twin Falls, Pocatello and Nampa, beginning Sunday, Oct. 27, the exact hour to be announced later. Dr. Walter A. Maier of St. Louis is the speaker, assisted by the "Lutheran Hour" chorus, also of St. Louis.

It was also voted to purchase a grille, constructed of oak, which will be sent from the factory, at Lawrence, Kansas, to be installed in church, in connection with the pipe organ.

Landscape features on the moon's surface have been identified and named, 89 after men and 11 after women.

Proving How Very Non-Partisan We Are

Three politicians, unable to comprehend that Pot Shots adheres to no party but prefers to whom both parties when occasion offers, have accused us of being Republican.

Two other politicians, unable etc., etc., have accused us of being Democratic.

Nobody has yet accused us of being in the pro-Hitler party because we insult Hitler more in our column than anybody on this side of the Atlantic. Which convinces us that to remain in the good graces of the Republicans we're going to have to insult the Democrats more extensively.

And to stay on the amiable side of the Democrats we guess we'll have to insult the Republicans more energetically.

In order to clear up the misconceptions of the five politicians mentioned, we hereby say: "Nuts to the Republicans."

Now all the Democrats love us. And we add "Phooey to the Democrats."

Now all the Republicans love us. And everybody should be convinced we're non-partisan.

In order to cement this new-found unity between us and everybody, we offer both parties the Pot Shots Lapel Boutons for Campaign Time.

"On that last hunt in India, Adam was clawed by a tiger. . . . If Hugh hadn't been along . . . You must have heard the story."

CHAPTER I

INTENT ON REACHING ADAM

Langdon's country home before the storm broke, Sidney Braithwaite urged his car upgrade, through a framing of low hills russet and gold now in the surging splendor of early autumn. Braithwaite was aware that the charming young actress beside him had turned to open the window, as if her emotions stifled her and she needed more air. He made no comment, though the simple action moved him deeply.

Maria Hempfield and Adam Langdon had been his friends for years. He believed the bond uniting them to be the rare one of real love. But now a rift had come between Maria and Adam. How deep, or what the cause, the lawyer could only guess.

"Something has gone wrong with Adam, Sidney," Maria said, out of a troubled silence. "I've asked him to give it up. He has had too many closecalls with death in the jungle."

"I worried me. On the last hunt, in India, a tiger mangled his arm. If Hugh hadn't been along with his cool nerve and instinctive aim, it would have been all over. You must have heard the story."

"I've heard nothing," the Langdon woman nodded. "The Langdon's said, 'I can't imagine them deprived of the excitement.'"

WHY HAS MARIA NEVER MARRIED ADAM LANGDON? SIDNEY ASKED HIMSELF THE QUESTION FOR AN UNRESTFUL TIME.

It was playing a man's hand, but Adam would know why I hadn't met him." Her hands looked and the blood-red gleam of Langdon's ribs, phone through the tin texture of her glove.

Should he tell her that Adam had not sailed on the ship, but Graham? Sidney weighed it, pro and con.

Adam's tall, blond engineer coat, Hugh Langdon's dark, received a cable, too. Hugh had met the Baron Graham only to learn that Adam had not even been posted on the ship.

Sidney and Hugh had discussed all sorts of reasons for Langdon's non-appearance. They had even mentioned kidnapping and murder. Then Langdon's valet had telephoned them that his employer had returned and wanted them to come and see his new specimens. Better not increase Maria's anxiety, Braithwaite decided.

"Do you imagine Adam is angry because of Boris Lesencoff again, Maria?" he asked. "Boris is at the Wilkenson's this week. If he finds you are at the Langdon's he will be over—unless we head him off."

AUDUBON—ARTIST, AUTHOR, ADVENTURER, APPEARS IN NEW BOOK

You think of John James Audubon as the greatest bird painter of our country. You remember him for his birds and not for his writings. And yet, he was an adventurer and artist and author. And because it was all these you may read this fall one of the most interesting, distinguished books of any season, "Audubon's America" (Houghton Mifflin Co.).

This is a volume embracing the best of Audubon's work, with an introduction and biographical sketch by the illustrious Donald Culp. It includes 115 full-color plates, representing Audubon's wide range of talent from self-portrait to bird and animal paintings. To read it is to bring alive all America to mind.

Bruce Catton in Washington

By BRUCE CATTON
Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Don't let anybody tell you the defense companies are the best of the best. The trust suit against the oil companies. The government is taking up the suit against the oil companies as originally planned. Only difference is that the suit is being wrapped in velvet.

Originally the suit asked that the companies be forced to divest themselves of their marketing facilities and their pipelines. Now, as modified at the urgent request of the defense commission, the suit merely demands trade restraints and asks for such relief as the court may deem proper.

Point is that this modification is meaningless. The government still still present the same evidence it had originally planned to present and ask for the same kind of decree as it was originally after. As one lawyer remarks:

"When I was in law school, I remember my professor telling me, 'Next to the Lord's prayer, the most important prayer in the world is that one for such relief as the court may deem proper.' That is what you get anything in the world."

Equally important is the fact that the mere filing of the suit gives the way for consequential action on Senator Gillette's suit to divorce the oil companies from their marketing facilities and pipelines. The latter suit. Such bills have been introduced before; they always failed, largely because they were in the store.

TIPSY TRADE

Commerce department figures show the freakish things the war is doing to U. S. export trade. American trade with the occupied or illigient countries of Europe (not including England) has practically ceased, yet total trade to Europe is far above pre-war totals.

Take the month of August as a first sample. In August, 1939, American exports sold practically nothing to Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands and Norway. Sales to Spain fell to $800,000, as compared with $2,400,000 for August, 1938, and sales to Sweden fell to $1,700,000 to $1,800,000 in August, 1938. Exports actually vanished (they totaled exactly $11) and sales to Portugal went down by $400,000.

Yet total sales to "Europe" rose to $147,700,000—more than $300,000,000 over the figure for August, 1939. Russia purchases went up only by $810,000.

The answer? England is now buying out of U. S. exports more than great enough to make up for all the war losses.

ORDINARY JOB HOLDERS URGED TO RETAIN POSITIONS

DEFENSE POSTS WILL BE SUBJECT TO DRAFT CALL

BY JOHN A. REICHMANN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (UP)—Maj. Joseph P. Battley, advisor to the selective service board, advised men in ordinary occupations today to "stay put" and not look for jobs in defense industries.

Contrary to the general impression, he said, men who take jobs in defense industries now actually might run a greater chance of being drafted than if they remained in their present jobs. In some instances, he reported, companies holding defense contracts have actually been closing jobs to men with the inducement that this would help them obtain deferment.

"There will be no group of industry deferments in classifying men for conscription."

"A man may be working in some seemingly unessential industry—such as fine dresses for women—but holding down a job which is important in the operations and essential to the work of many others," Battley said. "A local board would undoubtedly defer him while if he took another job, in some instance, in an airplane factory he could not be deferred."

Battley has just returned from a tour through the country perfecting conscription plans. He reported that industrialists generally favor having deferments given to men in groups—such as was given shipyard workers in the last war—and that he found no dissatisfaction with the provision that the conscripts be given back their old jobs.

Volunteers for induction are so numerous that at least "the first 400,000 will be obtained in this way."

With registration day less than a week away, Battley said the necessary machinery is ready to go.

SIX INCUBATORS IN HEALTH UNITS

BOISE, Oct. 10 (UP)—The state department of public welfare announced six incubators have been located in health units throughout the state in an effort to reduce infant mortality rates.

Statistical studies made during recent years show a considerably reducing in infant deaths as compared to figures of fifty years ago. Mrs. Alice A. Campbell, maternal and child health advisory nurse, reported.

Because the general rate was decreasing but little change was being noted in statistics on deaths during the first thirty days of life, the division of public health felt a material saving of life might ensue if incubators were readily accessible to all parts of Idaho, she said.

In accordance with the program for further reducing mortality rates, incubators have been located in Boise, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Rigby, Lewiston and Coeur d'Alene.

The incubators are of a portable type and can be operated with or without electricity. These features make the machines especially practical for use in remote parts of the state, the child authority stated.

Dewey's Speech Set in Caldwell

BOISE, Oct. 10 (UP)—State Republican Chairman Thomas Heaton announced today Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney, will address a Republican rally in Caldwell Oct. 31.

Dewey will discuss Idaho's problems and speak in behalf of Wendell L. Willkie, Heaton said. Dewey will come from Peoria, Ill., to make the speech and will return to the east the same day.

TWIN FALLS AMAZED AT LOCAL RESIDENT'S STARTLING STATEMENT

Indigestion, Gas, Bloating, and Pains, Bad Breath, Backache and Nervousness All Disappear After a Short Treatment of Hoyt's Compound, Says Mr. D. W. Holt

If you suffer from physical misery, you should not hesitate another day to come to the Majestic Pharmacy and learn of the new and modern Hoyt's Compound. One of the latest local residents to publicly praise Hoyt's Compound is Mr. D. W. Holt, who resides at 149 Adams St. He says: "For ten years, I have been suffering from indigestion after eating. It felt as though all the food I ate would lay in my stomach like a solid ball, heavy-like, causing an acid taste in my mouth and I was filled with gas, causing a terrible bloating—very often I could not retain my food at all. I have been a constant sufferer of constipation, and always had to be using cathartics to get any relief. I have had my headaches due to my stomach and bowels, and it was hard impossible for me to get a sound night's sleep as my nerves were in such a bad shape."

LOST COLONY TO BE FILM THEME

MANFRED N. C. (UP)—The story of the Lost Colony of Roanoke—now subject of a controversy between experts on early American history—may be made into a movie.

A group of movie magnates, headed by Cecil B. DeMille, recently visited Roanoke Island, and adjoining territory. They were accompanied by Paul Green, University of North Carolina instructor, who annually produces the "Pageant of the Lost Colony" at Manteo.

The "Lost Colony" is history's designation for the group of Englishmen settled on Roanoke by Sir Walter Raleigh in 1587. Immediately after the landing, John White, the governor, sailed back to England in the only available ship. When he returned to the new world four years later, there was no trace of his colonists save the word "Croatan" carved on a tree.

Historians have assumed, until recently at least, that the colonists were massacred to the last man by hostile Indians. During the past three years however, a series of studies have been conducted in the Carolinas and Georgia purporting to be messages chiseled by Eleanor Dare, daughter of Gov. White and mother of Virginia Dare, first white child born in America.

The stones tell a cryptic story of sudden death and hardships that beset the colonists as they fled from Roanoke Island to the mountains of western Georgia.

The stones, which are exhibited at Brenau college, Gainesville, Ga., are looked upon with suspicion by some historians. However, others say there is "no reason" to doubt their authenticity.

In building the Ward tunnel of southern California, 5,200,000 pounds of explosives and 1,150,000 pounds of drill steel were used.

"I heard of Hoyt's Compound so decided to give it a good trial. Since that time, I am feeling like another person. I am now able to enjoy my meals, and am eating whatever I like, and there are no more vomiting spells or sickness. The acid feeling in my mouth has left me. My bowels are more natural in movement and regularity. All of my nervousness is gone and when I go to bed, I can get a good, sound, restful sleep. When I get up in the morning I feel refreshed and ready for a good day's work."

Remember: Why not take the advice of Mr. Holt? Call at the Majestic Pharmacy and investigate this new medicine. Another day's delay may mean just another day of needless suffering. Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by all druggists in this entire section.

ROY READ HURT AS CARS CRASH

Lacerations, bruises and shock were sustained Wednesday afternoon by Roy A. Read, former publisher of the Twin Falls News, when his machine was involved in a crash west of Twin Falls by George West, Jerome route two.

The crash occurred at the intersection two miles north and a mile west of Twin Falls. Mr. Read was brought to his Twin Falls home by ambulance. He was reported "doing well" today.

The small coupe driver by the former publisher was thrown over on its side by force of the crash. Both the Read machine and the sedan driven by Mr. West were considerably damaged.

Mrs. West was riding with her husband at the time.

Hagerman Man Paid Final Honor

HAGERMAN, Oct. 10 (Special)—Last rites for David A. Pulley, resident of Hagerman who died at the Wendell hospital Oct. 3, were conducted Monday at Hagerman L.D.S. church. Bishop Esterson, Paganite was in charge of the service.

A quartet, composed of Mrs. Thelma Mayes, Mrs. Edna Haycock, Mrs. Lucille Chaffert and Mrs. Lorraine Thompson, sang two numbers, "Shall We Meet" and "Some Time Some Where." Billy Moore sang a solo number "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose." All organ accompaniments were played by Mrs. Venice Prince.

Funerals were held at Hagerman, W. Van Irons, Lester Wicklund, Bill Curry, Victor Lovelle and Mr. Reed. Interment was made in the Hagerman cemetery under the direction of the Albertson funeral home of Buhl.

SCOUTING HEADS ADOPT NEW PLAN

A plan to "revitalize Scouting in a Democracy" was adopted by members of the executive board of the Snake River Area council, Boy Scouts of America, at a session here last night.

The plan, sponsored nationally, calls for an inventory and roll call for each troop in the council. A committee to handle the matter was appointed at the session and will include Dr. J. N. Davis, chairman; J. O. Rasmussen and Ralph Carpenter.

Also discussed last night were plans for the annual meeting which will be held in December. Milton Powell and Wilbur S. Hill are members of the local committee in charge of the event.

The event was held at the Rogerson hotel with President R. H. Snyder, Albin, presiding. The 30 present dined on antelope and venison steaks, these being provided by Roy Painter, district chairman.

NARCOTICS LOOT TAKEN AT STORE

JEROME, Oct. 10 (Special)—Rolling back the calendar a year, burglars early yesterday broke into the Leish drug store at Eden and escaped with $15 to $18 in money plus the pharmacy's entire stock of narcotics. Sheriff Lee S. Johnson said.

Night Watchman Dunn told the sheriff he saw two men hastily leave the drug store. They escaped in an auto parked nearby. The watchman, investigating, found the front door of the pharmacy open.

The lock on the narcotics box had been smashed open and morphine, cocaine and cocaine taken.

Loot also included about 10 cartons of cigarettes.

A burglar who broke into the Leish store about a year ago is now serving in the state prison. He also looted narcotics, which officers later found alongside a road.

Hanel Will Face Embezzle Charge

JEROME, Oct. 10 (Special)—Deputy Sheriff Paul M. Jensen left today for Ely, Nev., to return Charles Hanel to Jerome following arrest of Mr. Hanel by the Ely authorities.

The north side man, when returned by the deputy, will face a charge of embezzling money from the Union service station at which he was formerly attendant there. Sheriff Lee S. Johnson said that during the Jerome county fair Hanel claimed he was slugged by a bandit or bandits, and was robbed of $30 taken from the service station cash register.

The host committee served refreshments.

Better than a dozen hankies for opening STUFFY NOSTRILS

What's the use of sniffing so many hankies, trying to blow mucus out of stopped-up nostrils? It only piles up the laundry bill. And remember, a lot of violent blowing only makes your nose more sore, red, swollen, and it very often injures the delicate membrane.

A more economical and gentler way to relieve congestion in your nostrils due to a cold is to insert a little Mentholum.

This delightful ointment will soon break up congested mucus, relieve the sneezing, itching, and permit you to breathe normally through the nose. It also relieves sniffing, sneezing, swelling, soreness, and redness.

Mentholum helps in so many ways that you should always remember this: Discoveries from Cold-Mentholum. Link them together in your mind.

Wilma Eslinger, Iro Kuykendall To Pledge Vows at Church Rites

At a taperlight ceremony this evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Wilma Eslinger and Iro Kuykendall will exchange marriage vows in the church parlors at the Christian church, the bridal party standing before the flower-banked fireplace during the reading of the service by Rev. Mark C. Cronenberg.

With their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Eslinger and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Kuykendall, they will receive the felicitations of the 135 wedding guests at an informal reception in the church parlors following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the couple will be at home on a ranch near Twin Falls. Wedding Dinner Mr. and Mrs. Eslinger entertained at a wedding dinner this noon at the Mountain home, honoring the bride couple and the attendants, Miss Fern Whitell and Lloyd Kuykendall, brother of the bridegroom.

Recent Bride Feted At Charming Shower

Mrs. O. Gilbert McMill, jr., was the inspiration for a cleverly arranged post-nuptial shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna B. Malberg, 1147 Seventh avenue east. She was Miss Martha Garlock before her recent marriage.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Malberg were two of her daughters, Mrs. William Mingo and Mrs. Rex Thomas. A balloon shower disclosed the hiding places of the gifts, and also afforded amusement for the guests. Invitations were issued to 41 friends of the honoree.

BRITISH MAY FOLLOW U. S. IN EVACUATION OF CHINA

AMERICANS MAY ASK REDUCTIONS IN TRAVEL FARE

By ROBERT BELLAIRE
 SHANGHAI, Oct. 10 (AP)—The British embassy has called the foreign office at London asking whether it should prepare to evacuate Britons from China, it was understood today.

News of the embassy's action came as the American Chamber of Commerce called a meeting for tomorrow to consider an appeal to the United States government for force emergency reduction in steamship rates as a means of speeding evacuation of Americans in China in view of a threatened far eastern crisis.

Some Americans believed an appeal for lower rates, both for passengers and freight, was advisable especially for families in low income groups.

It was estimated that at present rates it would cost the average family about $1,200 to send household goods alone to the United States, and steamship fare is between $230 and $500 for each member of the family.

Sponsors of the appeal said that for an American family of four, with furniture, present evacuation costs would probably cost six years' pay for a low income group.

The United States has a diplomatic victory today when Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, announced that Maj. Gen. Kichii Miura, Japanese commander, had expressed regret over the "unwarrantable conduct" of Japanese gendarmes in taking a beating in United States navy commandant in a part of the international settlement over which the Japanese had no legal jurisdiction.

War Goes to Church

STUDY UNDERWAY ON ARSENAL SITE

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—Development of Idaho as a base for military operations was under study today at Boise's airport was approved as location of an army bomber unit, the first flying group to be established in the state.

Meantime it was disclosed that other sections of the state were being studied as possible sites for location of an army arsenal. Army officials, on a recent visit here, indicated an arsenal might be established to store munitions and explosives to complement bomber activities.

Leviston, Pender, Ore., and southern points in the state were among those being considered for the arsenal.

Boise city officials awaited arrival of a base for the airport and surrounding land before raising the estimated $350,000 needed to put the landing field in shape for major military operations.

The base will be headquarters for at least 24 twin-engine bombers. A total of 250 officers and 1,600 enlisted men of the 42nd bombardment group and the 39th air base group will be stationed here. An additional 40 officers and 700 enlisted men will compose the service unit.

Major James L. Straight said the city would surface the airport's three runways, one of which is the longest in any municipal airport in the nation. The city will also grant 80 acres of ground for airport and operations offices, and area for hangars and another for parking of automobiles.

Straight expects to obtain WPA assistance in the development. Private and commercial flying will continue to be allowed on the field, although practice landings of OAA aircraft will have to be made on another area.

Work of surveying the field for projected developments will begin immediately, Straight said. It was believed the field would be ready for army use by next fall.

TODAY'S QUOTES

By United Press

"I believe it is better for Americans not to enter the war actively... Britain has all the manpower she needs... What we want from the United States is airplanes, guns, boats... With empire resources and American help, we should be able to overcome the Hitler menace..." — W. Somerset Maugham, novelist, on arrival in New York.

"This country is being rushed into war by unwise leadership and crises manufactured for election purposes..." — Charles F. R. Dawes, former vice president.

"The President has become afflicted with megalomania psychopathy because of patrioters who have accepted the third term issue under the flag and non-stooped jantaxia who persuaded the President he was indispensable..." — Gen. Hugh Johnson.

"Hours is not and never shall be a policy of appeasement, we will not appease dictators. On the other hand, I can promise this for the Republican party: We will not appease Communists—in Washington or anywhere else..." — Wendell Willkie.

"Wendell Willkie is 'playing both ends against the middle' in his campaign by seeking the voice of both interventionists and the non-interventionists..." — Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President.

"In an effort to make better pilots, an instructor recently installed radio receivers in all his lightplane training planes. By means of the radio set, it is possible for the instructor to remain on the ground, observe all the student's actions and instruct them."

STEPS TOLD FOR DYSENTERY FIGHT

Control measures for dysentery, a disease which is believed to have claimed the lives of eight infants in this area during the past three weeks, today had been outlined by Miss Mary Ann Reber, supervisor of nurses for the district health unit with headquarters in Twin Falls.

Precautions against the disease, as advocated by the health nurse, include the boiling of water when it comes from wells or cisterns or other such sources, and also the elimination of flies.

She said that hunger and thirst break down resistance to the injury and advocated feeding infants at regular intervals, giving cool, boiled water as indicated. Rest will allow the body to build up strength to combat the disease. In all cases of illness it is important that the family physician be contacted at once, she said.

At the same time Dr. H. L. Stowe, private physician who is directing the health unit activities on a part-time basis during the time Dr. I. C. Kroecker is studying in the east, said that during the first nine days of this month another six cases were noted.

He said that scarlet fever is a contagious disease which usually starts with a cold. He added that a mild case of scarletina is the same as scarlet fever and a severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with someone who has a light case of the disease.

Durocher Signs

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Leo Durocher has signed a contract to play for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1941, it was announced today. Durocher became official today when the director of the club approved the contract. Terms were not announced.

17,000 ACRES BURNED

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—An estimated 17,000 acres of southern Idaho burning land was burned over during the fire season, Regional Grader J. E. Stahlein of Pocatello said today. A total of 328 fires, largest which was a 20,000-acre burn north of Boise, were reported.

There Are Two Ways to Get at Constipation

You, and only two ways—before and after it happens! Instead of enduring throes, dull, head-aching days and then having to take an emergency cathartic—why not KASIP regular with Kellogg's Bran? You can't get constipation in this kind of mildness because of lack of "bulk" in the diet. For all-Bran open right to the constipation of the non-constipated "bulk" you need.

Get this loaded, nutritious cereal regular with milk or cream, or baked into muffins—drink plenty of water, and see if your life isn't a whole lot brighter. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Demo Outlook 'Pretty Good,' Wallace Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace today had given President Roosevelt a progress report on his speaking tour for the third term in 12 states and said that "things look pretty good."

Back in the capital after a swing through Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Oregon, Washington, Montana and the two Dakotas, Wallace followed the campaign during a luncheon conference with the President.

"I told the President about my travels," he said. "It looked pretty good in the states that I visited."

JACKSON POINTS TO NEED OF FOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Attorney General Robert H. Jackson last night urged the re-election of President Roosevelt for a third term and asserted that a return of the "confusion and confusion" of Republican party rule would "diminish" the old world dictators.

Jackson, one of the group of New Dealers who masterminded the third-term nomination, said in a radio speech that the President's program had upset totalitarian calculations of world revolution and accused Republicans of contributing nothing to the country but negative opposition to the New Deal came into power.

He contended that the President's campaign of Wendell L. Willkie has bogged down in a maze of contradictory statements and has proven that Willkie has "nothing to offer America."

"He began by demanding that the President debate with him but he has shown repeatedly there was no need for it," Jackson said. "He debates with himself, taking both sides of every issue."

Jackson said that only the election of Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 saved the United States from totalitarianism in dictators' plans for world revolution.

SHIFTS LOOM IN BOOK HANDLING

BOISE, Oct. 10 (AP)—School districts throughout the state may have to revise their systems for handling and issuing books to students or face the prospect of losing county and state funds, it was indicated today.

An opinion of Attorney General J. W. Taylor reiterated recently that the law requires each school district to supply books "free of charge." This, the attorney general's office said, means free of rental charges.

Darwin W. Thomas, assistant attorney general, said that when a district charges a rental fee or a fee for deterioration or replacement, the books "are not considered as being free."

Both independent and regular school districts are equally affected by the ruling.

The state department of education said the ruling will apply to the majority of schools in Idaho since most of them operate under the "rental" book plan.

Attorney General Taylor recommended that if the districts refuse to issue books free of charge, state and county funds allocated to the districts should be withheld.

The state department of education is expected to advise county school officers of the regulations and the attorney general's ruling before any action is taken.

"I told the President about my travels," he said. "It looked pretty good in the states that I visited."

URGES SEN. KING'S PLAN FOR AGRICULTURE

Editor, Times:
 It seems we have two alternatives in our agricultural recovery program, as has been pointed out by some leaders. The King plan of domestic allotment system, in which the farmer himself controls production instead of the bureaucrats in Washington, the New Deal plan. The King plan would cost the government practically nothing and would give the farmer cost of production and the desired purchasing power. The other plan is to continue the A.A. setup, which is manifestly ruinous and getting the farmers nowhere. If it were possible to bring the $500,000,000 out of thin air each year, there might be some sense to the illusion, even if it didn't cure the farm trouble.

While the farmers suffer, the politicians tussle their thumbs and talk about party and a fair price. What is a fair price, does anybody know? The good farmer is as much confused with this talk as the expert is. Like fair weather or a mirage, you don't quite know when you have it. Then they give us party, which seems to be the difference between what a farmer gets for his produce, and what he should get.

Thus, in 1914 one could buy a gang plow for 100 bushels of wheat. Today it takes 300 bushels to buy this plow. So 200 bushels represents the party in wheat. Now this New Deal must give me $120 per bushel before I can buy a plow with my 100 bushels of wheat. If I partly means anything at all, it calls for $120 from the public treasury with every 100 bushels of wheat I sell. Anything less is a crafty device. This is why farmers have so little purchasing power.

But are Mr. Roosevelt content gratulates Mr. Wallace on his acceptance speech, says he: "In 1933 farmers were near bankruptcy and in distress, but you came to their rescue."

URGES SEN. KING'S PLAN FOR AGRICULTURE

Editor, Times:
 It seems we have two alternatives in our agricultural recovery program, as has been pointed out by some leaders. The King plan of domestic allotment system, in which the farmer himself controls production instead of the bureaucrats in Washington, the New Deal plan. The King plan would cost the government practically nothing and would give the farmer cost of production and the desired purchasing power. The other plan is to continue the A.A. setup, which is manifestly ruinous and getting the farmers nowhere. If it were possible to bring the $500,000,000 out of thin air each year, there might be some sense to the illusion, even if it didn't cure the farm trouble.

While the farmers suffer, the politicians tussle their thumbs and talk about party and a fair price. What is a fair price, does anybody know? The good farmer is as much confused with this talk as the expert is. Like fair weather or a mirage, you don't quite know when you have it. Then they give us party, which seems to be the difference between what a farmer gets for his produce, and what he should get.

Thus, in 1914 one could buy a gang plow for 100 bushels of wheat. Today it takes 300 bushels to buy this plow. So 200 bushels represents the party in wheat. Now this New Deal must give me $120 per bushel before I can buy a plow with my 100 bushels of wheat. If I partly means anything at all, it calls for $120 from the public treasury with every 100 bushels of wheat I sell. Anything less is a crafty device. This is why farmers have so little purchasing power.

But are Mr. Roosevelt content gratulates Mr. Wallace on his acceptance speech, says he: "In 1933 farmers were near bankruptcy and in distress, but you came to their rescue."

NEES WILLKIE AS HOPE TO BAVE U. S. FROM WAR

Editor, Times:
 Please publish this letter in your valued paper. I am a war injury veteran—that's why I'm out here in the veterans' hospital in Los Angeles.

I am for Mr. Willkie for President, although I was raised to be a 100 per cent Democrat. I am not in favor of a third term. The good mothers of our nation make too great a sacrifice in training their sons to be the men of the churches, states and nation for me to vote for the third term. Are we to take one step toward the great "I am one man" form of government?

I believe that Mr. Willkie is our one hope to save our boys from being slaughtered in war.

How can we wonder why the Gold Star Mothers are for Mr. Willkie for President?

GEORGIA TECH PICKED TO UPSET NOTRE DAME GRIDDEERS

Injuries Hamper Prospects for Twin Falls Win

By HAL WOOD
Evening Sports Editor

Pocatello Indians, boasting one of the trickiest offensive teams in the state of Idaho, tackle the Twin Falls Bruins here tomorrow night in the highlight of south central Idaho football for this week-end.

The visitors, although carrying an inexperienced crew, will arrive here heavy favorites to win from the Bruins, who are hard hit by injuries.

Not since Coach Jimmy O'Brien took over the reins at Pocatello have the Bruins been able to chalk up a win over the Cash City club—despite the fact that Twin Falls won the Big Six championship last year and is the defending champion.

In winning the crown, the home club dropped a narrow decision to the Indians and it will be up to a youthful band of Bruins to attempt to avenge that defeat here tomorrow night.

Deer, With Sixth Sense, Disappear as Open Season Gets Underway Near Ketchum

By CHARLES G. SUMNER
KETCHUM, Oct. 10 (Special)—Following the opening day of the deer season there was considerable wailing of enthusiasm, as a good many of the boys had returned empty handed, some not even seeing a deer. The evening before deer were to be seen everywhere, this correspondent having noted more than 50 in less than 10 herds in a drive of less than 10 miles.

"With there appears to be a sixth sense possessed by the deer that man hasn't yet solved. For instance, all during the closed season deer were observed anywhere in the game preserve, where shooting is forbidden at all times. They could be approached almost close enough to touch. When daylight came on the open date, however, there was not a deer within range of even a coast defense gun. Deer don't make much noise, but they must get a laugh out of that situation. The country was covered with sport suits and red caps, and the batteries cut loose at anything in sight. Some had a little luck on Lake creek and the North fork, and brought in a few bucks and does, but for the most part the outstanding thing visible on the plaza of the average gunner was that "dammit" look. Some of the boys are still afield."

It remained for one squad of four from Shoshone to awaken into a form of luck at their camp on the North fork of Wood river, at the Darrah sheep range. In the party were Glen Hunt, Lew Anderson, Charles Alexander and Eph Buchler.

SUMNER

It was Saturday morning and the young men were just yawning at the first glimpse of day, when Glen Hunt stated he noted something queer moving in the brush near the camp. He cut loose with his rifle, and the noise ceased. Walking over to where he had fired to see the outline of an animal he was given a regular first class shock as a large black bear raised on its haunches right in front of him. Another bullet settled the argument. It was a beautiful specimen, the coat being very heavy and silky, the animal very fat, and weighing close to 350, and ready to retire for the winter. The shooters worked a little in that game field and secured a deer, and returned to Ketchum with their trophies, the bear riding on a car fender drawing particular attention. The hunting was done within five miles of Ketchum.

Another party from Washington county killed a seven-point buck near the same section, and nearly flayed the deer on the rocks while dragging it out of the canyon.

George Hesser and party got their first deer Friday and have gone over to Selway in the hope of catching an elk, and it is almost a certainty in that region.

Low Hill and wife and Grant Crutchley left Wednesday last for the Selway to remain until each of the party had secured an elk.

A great many cars from other counties went through Ketchum on the night of the fifth, and the canyon gulches and ranges outside the preserve and surrounding Ketchum make it a region of attractiveness in all spots. It is figured that the deer will be coming down again in a few days, after the first bombardment is over, and the snow encroaches. But the season will be closed, there is no open season on elk in Blaine county, as the elk were planted but a few years ago.

WSC Has Edge Over California, USC To Down Illinois

By HENRY SUPER
NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Picking Saturday's football winners—with a few assists from a crystal ball and a batch of coins to flip:

EAST
Cornell over Army—Starting off with an easy one.
Fordham over Tulane—The Rams have a classy team this year.
S. M. U. over Pittsburgh—The Mustangs gallop along undefeated.
Michigan over Harvard By as much as Tom Harmon can go.
Also: Penn over Yale; Columbia over Dartmouth; Carnegie over Holy Cross; Syracuse over N.Y.U.; Princeton over Navy; Boston college over Temple and Brown over Colgate.

MID-WEST
Georgia Tech over Notre Dame—This will be the day's No. 1 upset—we hope.

SOUTH
Mississippi over Georgia—A close one, maybe.
Kentucky over Vanderbilt—Kentucky's "dark horse" down south.
Texas Christian over North Carolina—The Texans win a battle of punts.
Also: Clemson over Wake Forest; V.M.I. over Davidson; William and Mary; Virginia over West Virginia; Tennessee over Chattanooga; Alabama over Howard; and Georgia over Washington and Lee.

BIG SEVEN
Brigham Young over Wyoming—(Friday night)—Cougars have too much punch.
Denver over Colorado State—(Friday night)—Denver looks like a serious conference contender.
Colorado over Utah State—The Utah State jinx looks about worn out.
Utah over Arizona—The colts said heads.

FAR WEST
Texas A&M over U. C. L. A.—The Aggies have too much of everything.
Washington State over California—Washington State on the upgrade.
Santa Clara over Stanford—This year's Aggies are a different breed.
Washington over Oregon—The Huskies still are pretty good despite that Minnesota defeat.

SOUTHWEST
Texas over Arkansas—Jack Crain is too tough to stop.
Louisiana State over Rice—Louisiana State plays well in these night games.
 Baylor over Arkansas—Arkansas is supposed to be the weakest in the southwest conference.

The Tumult and the Shouting Starts—in Clubhouse

(INEA Telephoto) There was real joy and jubilation in the Red clubhouse at Croley field, following the seventh game for this was the first Cincinnati world series pennant in 21 years and the first national league club cleanup in six years. This shot in the showers includes left to right: Bill Webster, General Manager; Warren Giles, Winning Pitcher Paul Derringer held in the air, with a leg over Jim Wilson's shoulder, and Mike McCormick holding the other leg.

USC Hindered by Lack of Reserves

By ED CONKLIN
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10 (AP)—Teams have represented the west in the Rose bowl with their records marred by more than a pair of ties, but University of Southern California supporters are beginning to doubt the Trojans' chances of winning a third consecutive bid to the prize post-season game this year.

Their doubt is not due to the deadlocks U. S. C. has played with Washington State and Oregon State, but by the almost unbelievable news that Coach Howard Jones is short on reserves.

That situation is eye-opening news to west coast fans who, year after year, have watched Box Jones wear down the opposition by hurling into the game entire fresh eleven, each seemingly as good as his starters. His system has been highly effective in battling teams depending mainly upon a single hard hitting unit.

Either because his quality tremendous reservoir of manpower has hit bottom or because his reserves are not up to his year, U.S.C. regulars played most of the second less game against Oregon State Saturday.

That's a cardinal violation of Jones' season methods.

With the coast conference race as puzzling as a shell game at the end of the season, the Trojans' likely loss to the Trojans' throne, although set back in their opener against Minnesota, the Huskies have plenty of punch and canny Jimmy Pielan kept the scouts guessing last week when he trounced a weak Idaho team 21-0 with his reserves, who are plentiful and experienced. Washington is lashed to beat Oregon U. at Portland this week in one of two conference games.

A rejuvenated California club tackles Washington State at Berkeley in the second league game while the other teams meet non-conference foes.

Newark Bears Annex Junior World Title

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 10 (AP)—The Newark Bears today held their third junior world series baseball championship in four seasons.

Seven Horses Invited to Pimlico Race

By JACK GUENTHER
NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—A sheet of white cards was mailed today inviting the best of the nation's thoroughbreds to come along and settle their claims to the title of "horse of the year of 1940" in the fourth Pimlico special on Nov. 1.

The cards were addressed to seven areas in all but Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who mailed them out, looked for no more than four answers. They were expected to come from:

W.L. Brann's Challdren, who won the title in the same race a year ago by whipping Koyak II and Cravat and this season has won the $50,000 Hollywood Gold cup for his most notable victory.

Greentree stable's Hasi, surprise conqueror of Challdren in the $25,000 Ventravest special, who has whipped almost every good handi-cap horse in training this year.

C. B. Howard's Midland, the surprise three-year-old who won the American derby, San Juan Capistrano handi-cap and Potomac handi-cap after finishing fourth in the derby and second in the Potomac.

Belair stud's Purdon, another late-developing three year old who won the Lawrence Realization, the Travers and the Jockey Club Gold cup after being stricken with a cold in the spring.

The seven answers could be expected only from these four is that the other three horses toward all are out of training. They are headshot, bluechuck and Eight Thirty, whose invitations have been refused as compliments for their outstanding achievements earlier in the year. Headshot has been retired permanently and the others are suffering from injuries.

Powel Crosby Gets Credit For Cincy Club

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10 (AP)—You never saw his name in any sport, but the man who really made Cincinnati hold the champions of baseball is Powell Crosby, Jr., who likes to have winners in sports as well as in business.

A success in manufacturing everything from cake mixers to automobiles, Crosby bought the Reds in 1924 when they seemed to have a permanent lease on last place and brought them out of the doldrums by applying the same principles to baseball that he does to business.

Not Well Known
Although Crosby owns two radio stations WLV and WSAI here and is one of the nation's leading industrialists, his fellow townsmen don't know him well. WSAI's Cincinnati thinks of the Reds, it thinks of General Manager Warren Giles and Manager Bill McKeever rather than of the man who owns the club. This is because Crosby prefers to stay in the background and let his capable executives run the ball club.

"All right, if you boys want to do it, go ahead," is his usual answer when consulted on matters of club policy.

Played Amateur Ball
Fifty-three years old and six feet, four inches tall, Crosby played first base, pitched and caught on an amateur team when he was a boy, but it was only when the Reds began to play in the background that he became intensely interested in baseball.

His policy with the Reds is to hire the best baseball men available and then let them work. He brought Larry McPhail, now general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to Cincinnati and slowly began building toward a pennant. In 1927 Cincy took over the general management of the Reds contract to improve. They finished fourth in 1929, won the National league pennant in 1939 and took the world championship this year.

Hansen Drives Toward 6-Man League Title

HANSEN, Oct. 10 (Special)—Showered by Troy Smith and Norman Frymoyer, Hansen's Green football team drove toward a Six-Man league title yesterday by downsing the defending champion, Elsie Castledale club by a score of 24-18.

The game was an even battle most of the way, with the home team gaining the leading points in the second quarter.

Castledale scored first in the opening stanza, but the Green were rolled over a pair of corners in the second frame to make the count read 14-0 at the half time.

Hansen added another touchdown in the third quarter and then Castledale got two touchdowns in the final frame to one by the home club.

Mac Pays Tribute to Racing at Keeneland

BY HENRY McEMORE
LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 10 (AP)—Those of you who condemn horse racing must come to Keeneland, and see for yourselves that there is more to the horse than checked vest, out-of-the-corner-of-the-mouth talk, tooth-green sheet specials, and a general air of acidness. Keeneland is a track pitched in the midst of the blue grass. From the grandstand you can see the rolling hills, the white-washed fences, the lovely trees, the lovely homes, and the mares and their children running and romping, muzzling and muzzling through the soft grass. Nobody gets paid at Keeneland. Men who have money and love horses run it. They serve for nothing. The people who see the races know what fractional times mean, know the conformation of a thoroughbred, know the blood that runs through the veins of the babies who go to the post. This is a race track in a place where a race track should be. Over yonder through the walnut trees is Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour farm. It was there that Blinchech, Blue Larkspur, Burgo Kins, Bubbling Over, Burgoyne Tip and the like were foaled. And it is there, too, that the stallions Blue Larkspur, Black Servant, and Baldie are living, and where the pedigrees of Black Money and North Star 3rd are revered. Down the pike from Idle Hour is Woodburn stud, and a mile from the whitewashed fences of Calumet farm's 1,400 acres run and tip through the lovely countryside. With a pair of glasses you can see Faraway farm where stands the mighty Man o'War and his running little son, War Admiral, just a backstretch away is Joe Widener's Elmendorf farm with the barns that hold Slickie, Brevity and Chance Shot. A twenty minute drive from Elmendorf will bring you to the barns of A. B. Hancock's Clay-bird stud in nearby Bourbon county, where in one barn are Bienenheim 2nd, Oakland Fox, Omaha, the Callahan 3rd and Johnston. Tip a swipe a quarter and he'll take you around the corner

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

By United Press
MOSCOW—The University of Idaho Vandals tapered off training today for their Gonzaga game this week-end after a series of hard scrimmages. Coach Ted Hank drilled his players to the beat of a bass drum. He said practice in keeping rhythmic count to the quarterback's signals aided timing for shifts.
MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 10 (AP)—Montana State University Grizzlies put the finishing touches to their blocking and running attacks today in preparation for their Saturday contest with the Red Raiders from Texas Tech. The Raiders won last year's game 13 to 0.
SALT LAKE CITY—Coach Ike Armstrong ran the Utah Redskins through another heavy drill against Wildcat plays today, with only one day of practice remaining before the game with Arizona Saturday. While Utah was expected to enter the game the favored team, Armstrong scheduled scrimmages and pass offense and defense to improve weaknesses noted in earlier Redskin encounters.
LOS ANGELES—The U. C. L. A. Bruins held another long session today on pass defense, with the scrabs using Texas Aggie aerial plays.
LOGAN—Utah Aggies stressed pass defense today preparing to prove eastern sportswriters wrong who selected Colorado for an "easy victory" over the Aggies. USAG has scored three upset victories over the Coloradans and Coach Dick Romney laid plans for a fourth.
BERKELEY—Carl Hoberg was shifted from right half to full-back on the University of California squad today against the chance Bill Hutten will not be able to play against Washington State Saturday.
PULLMAN, Wash.—Washington State's Cougars were en route to Berkeley today for their game with California.
EUGENE, Ore.—Halfback Buck Berry, who received a concussion in the Stanford game last week, was back in uniform today.

Ambers Will Campaign in Welter Ranks

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The confusing welterweight boxing division was tangled even more today by announcement that Lou Ambers, former lightweight king, shortly will launch a campaign for the welter crown. Manager Al Weil announced Ambers will begin training at Madame Boy's camp, Summit, N. J., Oct. 11 for an announced bout. This will be his first leather toasting since losing the lightweight title to Lew Jenkins on a knockout in May. Paring down to the 135-pound limit was believed partially responsible for that unexpected defeat. Ambers is gunning for a title shot at the new 147-pound champion, Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh, but he is willing to tangle with ex-champion Henry Armstrong or contender Al Davis of Brooklyn as a starter.

Your Secret

ONLY YOU KNOW THEY'RE NEW!

HAND-antiquing does it. Their hand-box newness is toned down with dark stain so they look like old loves at first sight. Only a rich, mellow leather can be "antiqued" properly. NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR THESE FINE SHOES
