WATER FALLS IN WAR AID QUEST

War Feeling Runs High in Capital, Educator Asserts

By G. A. (Gus) KELNER
Feeling in Washington, D. C., as regards war is just as intense at the present time as the day the armistice, marking the end of the last war, was signed in 1918.
That was the declaration made here today by Dr. Joseph Roemer, dean of Peabody Junior college, Nashville, Tenn., who spoke before approximately 850 instructors attending initial sessions of the annual convention for the South Central Idaho Educational association. Dr. Roemer spoke at the high school during his opening remarks, the noted educator "got away" from his listed subject of "Character Training Through the Activity Program" long enough to speak bluntly concerning the war situation as it now exists.
"You people out here in Idaho don't seem to be worrying about the war," Dr. Roemer said, "in Washington the feeling now is just as intense as it was when the armistice was signed."
"Even in the sleepy, southern town of Nashville from where I come, we feel that we are right in the middle of the war preparation program."
Heavy Air Traffic
"Army airplanes pass through the air there in such numbers that it reminds one of how the 'traffico' must look from London to Berlin and back again."
"Nashville is about like war. We can feel the aggressiveness of it there. Out here you don't feel that. It's just a matter of how the air traffic is passing over the city. It's something that will be, by next spring, be constructing 1,000 planes."
"There the feeling almost exists that we are actually at war, so intense is the feeling to prepare against any invasion that might be started our way."
Dr. Roemer then said that "all this means one thing. We are succeeding in our educational program; we are turning out the right products in our schools." He continued:
"What is the most essential thing in the educational program today? Is it the ability to master subject matter, or is it the ability to do something else? If it is secondary, then that other thing would be character education."
At Saturation Point
The speaker expressed the opinion that during the next 20 years the problem of the schools will "not be the expansion idea because we are nearly at the saturation point in this country."
In explaining this statement he pointed out that students in grade schools here are required to study the history of the past several years, and that many people think that the curve of the high school attendance will rise when the enrollment rates move up into that age bracket.
In speaking of the modern high school, he pointed out that the fundamental foundation, these being the home room, clubs and assembly. This structure, he said, is the "legged table," he said. "It will hold even if standing on an uneven floor, but if the legs are not under it and the table legs are removed, it doesn't matter which leg is removed."
Each high school, he said, must have a guidance program which will include three things. First the

Speaker and I. E. A. Leader

Dr. Joseph Roemer, dean of Peabody Junior college, Nashville, Tenn., is here today as he conferred with J. B. Fridley, president of the South Central Idaho Educational association, on the latest teaching methods. Dr. Roemer made two addresses at today's sessions of the association, which attracted some 850 educators. Mr. Fridley presided. The institute continues through Saturday.

Petaim, Laval Will Give Report on Meet With German Leader

VICHY, Oct. 25 (UP)—Marshal Henri Philippe Petaim and Vice Premier Pierre Laval will report to a French cabinet meeting tomorrow, it was indicated tonight, the results of their conference with Adolf Hitler.

There was no indication here whether any agreement had been reached with Germany.

Cool Weather Aids Advance in Sales

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Retail trade activity broadened somewhat this week with lower temperatures in many centers giving "needed stimulus to seasonal sales." Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.
"Day-to-day variations, which were still quite considerable, followed closely weather changes," the trade authority declared. "Despite the persistence of some spellings, retailers found definite signs of underlying strength."
Retail trade volume for the week was placed at seven to 10 percent above the corresponding 1939 period, compared with a year-to-year advance of six to 10 per cent in the previous week.

Hitler Invasion Looms In Mediterranean Area

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press Wire Report
Apparent military consequences of Adolf Hitler's search for new war allies cannot be expected if London reports are confirmed which claim Generalissimo Franco will continue to hold out for non-belligerence, and that the French will continue to fight for Germany.
The anti-Allied results of Hitler's assurance that his all-out invasion plans would include Great Britain in a few weeks seem likely to be repeated now in the Mediterranean.
Significant Change
A significant change has suddenly taken place here in the attitude of Hitler's war plan. Throughout the summer and early autumn, the French were permitted to progress peacefully in the hands of Hitler's emissaries through Hitler's genius for offensive warfare in the air, on land and under sea. In similar people were led to speculate on an easy road to victory.
However, while Hitler is trying to control every air base in France, the Nazi government has prohibited all speculation at home and has threatened action against foreign correspondents in Berlin who might endeavor to evade the ban, reports are confident that Hitler will be justified by the results of his negotiations.
"Political" Talks
What now is allowed publicity in Berlin seems to emphasize the political character of the future peace talks with France, Petaim and Laval rather than their military significance. Berlin has refrained from promising the French that once more the final blow to exterminate Hitler's power is being prepared at the Hitler conference.
It is well within the possibilities that justification of a European bloc including France and Spain using peace as the basis of Hitler's present activities rather than trying to drive the war of war for indefinite prolongation of the conflict. Such a bloc would envisage placing moral responsibility upon Britain before the world for continuing the war instead of granting Hitler the right to control continental Europe.

GERMANS POINT TO 'NEW ORDER' IN CONFERENCES

By FREDERICK C. OGDEN
BERLIN, Oct. 23 (UP)—Authorized German press tonight said that Germany's diplomatic talks with France and Spain are designed to lay the basis for a "new order" in Europe and checkmate "alien influences" which still seek to oppose the new German order.
Authorized sources emphasized that Germany's main purpose was to put Europe "on its feet again" but the authoritative Hamburger Fremdenblatt said that "in the light of latest events one may state that in the future there will be no enemy that the European continent will have this idea of European solidarity."
"It is up to every European people to fit itself in with the general plan if the coffee will be served," the newspaper said in commenting on Adolf Hitler's recent talks with leaders of France and Spain.
Report of 14-Power Treaty
In London, there were reports that Hitler sought the signature of a four-power treaty in which Germany, Italy, France and Spain would participate. These reports suggested that it might involve a French-German customs union and the French and Spanish would be enlisted in the axis new order in Europe.
"A new chapter in history which is now being written starts out with the principle of concentration of all forces of the continent to build up a greater European area," the Fremdenblatt said.
Basis of Equality
"This alone guarantees an ability to preserve on the basis of equality all of Europe's interests in peaceful competition."
"This new Europe will know no (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

5 Days Notice Set For Army Draftees

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP)—President Roosevelt today issued regulations governing selection of men for service and training under the selective service law.
Each man called into service shall have at least five days notice to conclude his personal and business affairs before being ordered to duty, according to the President's regulations. These rules also require that men may be inducted only after the corps area commander is ready to provide them with adequate facilities such as shelter.
While procedure for the draft after the national lottery has changed, the regulations are called for the order in which the 17,000,000 registrars for military service will be called before their local draft boards.
President Roosevelt instructed selective service officials to make certain that registrars are called before any non-volunteers in their community are ordered into service.
Another presidential regulation specified that draft officials must post notice of the corps area requirements for men at least 21 days before the men are inducted.
Another regulation provides that no man shall be sent to camp while he has an appeal pending from his local board's classification.
Army Requirements
Instead of dealing directly with national selective service headquarters, army requirements will be transmitted to the governors of the states. In each corps area by the corps area commander. When and if the navy and marine corps begin taking men, however, the requirements will be arranged between the governors and a representative of the navy or marine corps.
When a contingent is ordered to leave an area for induction it will proceed under direction of one individual trainee chosen for his "average" physique, character and personality.
An assistant leader also will be designated. Their authority over the group will be delegated by the warrant and the leaders will have charge of transportation, food and lodging.
MORN DAYLIGHT RAID
LONDON, Oct. 25 (UP)—German planes hurled a mass daylight air attack at London today for the first time since April 15 and caused many casualties when bombs hit streets, cars, buses and business buildings.

NEGRO PROMOTED TO HIGHEST RANK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP)—President Roosevelt today promoted Col. Benjamin O. Davis to be a brigadier general, making him the first Negro brigadier in the history of the U. S. Army.
Mr. Roosevelt announced the promotion at a press conference along with several others.
The list of promotions was led by the advance of Col. Davis to the rank of lieutenant general. The American division was ordered on the theory that the GHQ air force is at least the equal in importance to a corps command.
The American division is commanded by Lt. Col. Lewis B. Hershey, assistant selective service director, to the rank of brigadier general. Hershey was acting draft director before the appointment of Clarence A. Dykstra.
War department officials said promotion of General Emmans means the general headquarters air force, the combat elements of the air corps, will be under independent command. Army chief of staff, Under the existing act, Emmans is responsible to Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, of the air corps.
EASY?
WALLACE, Ida., Oct. 25 (UP)—Because he helped dress the meat and carry it from the woods for distribution to needy families, William Wood got off lightly for killing a mouse out of season.
Wood said he was arrested accidentally. A $100 fine was suspended.

Late FLASHES

LONDON, Oct. 25 (UP)—The royal air force has sent into action a "sopped up" Hurricane fighter that mounts 12 guns and outperforms the crack Spitfire fighters. It was revealed today with the disclosure that Italian planes are participating in the attack on Britain.

RANGOON, Burma, Oct. 25 (UP)—U. Pa. former Burmese premier and national leader, predicted today that Japan would conquer Burma from Thailand (Siam) and "outflank Singapore like Hitler outflanked the Maginot line."
BERLIN, Oct. 25 (UP)—German press said that waves after waves of German planes delivered "exceptionally heavy" attacks on British cities including London today.
HANOI, French Indo-China, Oct. 25 (UP)—French authorities today refused permission for the American-chartered French freighter Siskiang, laden with American goods, to sail from Haiphong harbor. The vessel was boarded by Japanese army and navy officers yesterday.
LONDON, Oct. 25 (UP)—Transporting of a German torpedo boat and an Italian supply ship of 6,000 tons by British submarines was announced today by the admiralty, which said also that the British destroyer Vengeance had sunk after striking a mine.
The Vengeance went down with some casualties, the admiralty said.
The submarine Regent was credited with sinking the Italian supply ship in the Mediterranean and the Admiralty said that the submarine Siskiang had sent a German torpedo boat to the bottom off the French coast.

Spain and France Refuse to Enter Fight on Britain

By FREDERICK KUI
LONDON, Oct. 25 (UP)—Neutral diplomats received reports today that Adolf Hitler had failed to persuade Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain to enter the war or to grant Germany and Italy troop facilities for intensifying their war against Great Britain.
They awaited more definitive reports of the conference but they said they believed their present advices would prove correct.
It was reported that if Marshal Philippe Petaim of France to whom Hitler talked yesterday refused to get in line with the axis, Vice Premier Pierre Laval might seek to unseat him and assume a dictatorship.
Diplomatic information received from continental capitals were believed to indicate clearly that Hitler was trying to start a devastating offensive on the British mainland against the British empire before the United States presidential elections.
Drive British Out
It was suggested he was aiming at convincing the United States that it was in the British interest to encourage any trend of the United States toward entering the war, and driving the British completely out of the Mediterranean.
Informants predicted that Hitler's campaign was likely to include unprovoked attacks on British air bases in London. Daylight raids were resumed in force today, including the Yangtze patrol.
Forty-two Japanese planes bombed Chungking for four hours, beginning about 10 a. m. They concentrated their fire on the already devastated downtown districts of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's capital.
Near U. S. Embassy
Some bombs fell in the river and struck a number of native craft. A dozen bombs fell in the vicinity of the United States embassy but it was not damaged.
The embassy is the second United States gunboat to have suffered by Japanese air raids in the Yangtze valley. In December, 1937, a Japanese plane bombed and sank the U. S. S. Panay, also on the Yangtze patrol.

AMERICAN CRAFT SUFFERS DAMAGE IN JAPANESE RAID

CHUNGKING, Oct. 25 (UP)—The United States gunboat Tutuila of the Yangtze patrol was damaged severely today when it was struck by a 400-pound rocket diloqued during a four-hour Japanese air raid.
Two British steamships, the Wanlu and the Washben, operated by the Butterfield-Swire company, were struck and damaged by shrapnel.

Forty-two Japanese planes bombed Chungking for four hours, beginning about 10 a. m. They concentrated their fire on the already devastated downtown districts of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's capital.

The recent lull in the air war was cited as evidence that Germany was reorganizing and testing its bombing squadrons.
Hitler's negotiations with France and Spain succeeded, it was expected, accompanied by an axis attempt to control of naval and air bases in Morocco, Syria and other French territories.
Different Versions
There are many different versions of the attack on Tutuila. Petaim, but all agree that he wants a foothold in Morocco.
Diplomatic sources reported that when Hitler asked France to enter the war and Franco refused, Hitler then asked the right to send troops across the Pyrenees and into Spain, and to use Spanish ports and air bases.
France was reported to have refused on the ground that Spain was so short of food, oil and other essentials that he could not risk a lightning of the British blockade unless he was sure the war would end in a few weeks. The blockade would deliver a lighter blow than if Spain entered the war but air bases and other facilities.
It was believed here that if the reports proved true, Britain with the indirect assistance of the United States, would assist Spain in solving its food and war material problems.
It was reported that a plan already being considered by which Britain would help finance Spanish military equipment, including tanks, anti-aircraft guns, and other materiel.

ALL FAITH STILL REMAINS IN OUR VANDALS!

Max, You Lug!

What's the idea of letting a mere Utah Farmers' college guy insult our Vandals by saying they couldn't even play fourth football because they don't get near enough to touch the other guys? You tell that "dumb" fellow that all the argument over Ted Bark's notwithstanding, Idaho is gonna win the Utah State by 20 points Saturday at Boise. It's the reason from Boston college happened because those guys are one of the three best teams in the country—and if Boston had been playing the Unga the scores would've needed adding machines.

Our Vandal will be playing "touch" football all right when they tangle with Utah State, but they'll be missing the ball behind the goal line.

SKIPPING THE WOLF FOR SOUP

A little story was often told a few years back when America was trying in bewilderment to understand the tough times that had fallen so unaccountably upon her.

It was about a man who found the wolf at the door. But instead of giving up, he coaxed the wolf closer, whanged him over the head, skinned him, and made soup of him. The point, of course, being that there are some people who have the knack and the courage to gain advantage even from what seem desperate misfortunes.

Selective service is going to work out a little like that. Americans generally don't hanker after military service. They are as good soldiers as the best when they have to be. But everything else equal, they don't itch for it.

Very well. Times are what they are. The American people, through long and careful debate by their elected government, have decided on widespread military training as a necessity. Millions of our youth now await the call. Thousands have already volunteered.

Out of the millions who now face military training for a year or more, very many indeed will convert this interruption of their lives into a real opportunity. It is not pleasant to have plans interrupted by this kind of a necessity. But there is little grumbling, and the prevailing tone of youth is, "This seems necessary. I will do it."

In short, the fact is here and accepted, that young men will have to learn to fight, and give a period of life to their country. All right. Shall it be merely a regretted break in normal life? Or shall the selected man beckon this wolf closer and skin him for all the soup that's in his bones?

Clarence A. Dykstra, director of the selective service plan, is a man with wide experience in public administration and education. He sees the plan not as merely a sacrifice, but as "opening up great opportunities for national unity and for individual growth as well." The period of service may expand horizons, make the trainees better fitted for national life, better citizens. He hopes so to administer the act as to minister "not only to the national power for defense, but also to the education and health of our young people as citizens, and participators in the great adventure of democracy which lies ahead of us."

These are high ideals, good to hear from the administrator. They do not imply that the selective service machinery is to be turned into a schoolroom. Primarily, the purpose is to create defensive power. But invaluable by-products of health, civic consciousness, technical skill and esprit de corps may also be obtained.

They will be double value to the individual who approaches his call in manly fashion, and says not, "It's terrible that I have to go," but "Well, here we are, and I'm going to get every scrap of benefit out of it that I can."

Men like that may well come out of their period of service saying, as Dykstra hopes they will, "I would not have missed that year of my life for anything."

Helping Brazil Make Steel

First step by the Import-Export bank since its resources were recently increased was to lend $20,000,000 to Brazil to build steel plants. Brazil has the ore. Now it will get the plants.

You might think that the immediate effect of this would be to cut off one more market for American-made steel, and of course it may work that way to some extent. But U. S. action is taken in the belief that there is something more important. It is this: Sooner or later a great country like Brazil is going to have steel plants anyway. The tendency of developing countries to begin producing for themselves some of the things we sell them is not to be halted.

But if Brazil's dependence on us for steel is reduced, her dependence on Europe for steel will be reduced even more, and her balance of trade will increase likewise.

The future development of our trade with South America lies not along the line of further concessions to exploit natural resources, but in helping the other American countries to build up stable, independent economies. As their standards of living rise, they will become progressively better markets for a wider variety of our goods.

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY, searching for the whereabouts of Sidney and the other intruder, the man who had been seen in the doorway of the room to which the intruder had just gone, was in the jungle. He had been seen in the doorway of the room to which the intruder had just gone, was in the jungle. THE INTRUDER ESCAPES

CHAPTER XIV

The man who cast that shadow had heard them enter the jungle, or at least he had heard something that had caused him to hide. He might be armed. Might even be the murderer.

But he could not watch their movements from his hiding place behind the spe. To crane his head toward the fireplace would reveal his identity. He would realize that.

Cautiously, Sidney maneuvered toward the flames where he could command both the door and the fireplace. From that vantage point he could fire if the fellow moved in either direction to escape. Maria followed.

At the block on which the flames blazed, Sidney halted and waited. He did not think they had been observed. Even in the half light he could see the dried blood from the wound Adam had received Saturday at Boise. It was the scimitar. He knew that Maria, too, had observed it.

She steeled herself against his coming, but she could not resist the temptation to look at the dried blood on the wall. He wished for the hundredth time that he had insisted upon her remaining in her room.

Then he forgot about her. Forgetting everything but the need for vigilance, the shadow had begun to move.

He's going to make a dash for the door. He'd not dare try for the fireplace, Sidney decided. He moved more in that direction even if he didn't see it.

He heard a gasp behind him. Maria's hand slipped gently from his shoulder and he caught her unconscious form in his arms.

NEVINS PULLS NO PUNCHES IN STORY OF ELDER ROCKEFELLER

Allen Nevins' two-volume biography of the oil tycoon, "John D. Rockefeller: The Making of a Billionaire," is a masterpiece of research and writing. It is a history of the country's industry in the last century.

But that is precisely what you might expect in a book from Mr. Nevins. He is a man who has written some of the best books on the life of John D. Rockefeller. You will find in "The Making of a Billionaire" no punches. The book is an attempt to "understand" the man, not to glorify him. It is a history of the country's industry in the last century.

Bruce Catton in Washington

BY BRUCE CATTON
Executive Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—While the nation has kept its eyes focused on the conscription law, the army has been making hay and history in the matter of military conscription. The job was done to the tune of one of the most elaborate publicity campaigns the army has ever conducted and as a result all previous recruiting records have been broken and men have been taken in so fast that line scheduling originally set for the recruiting drive have been filed in the wastebasket.

Things got started in 1939, when the army set out to grow from 185,000 men to 277,000. It finished that job in February, 1940, and until the end of May the recruiting service coaxed along with nothing much to do but get the normal supply of replacements.

Then came the big wind, with orders to hike army strength to 375,000. Every month since then has seen a new recruiting record set. In July, the army signed up 31,900 men. In August, 32,000. In September, 42,301—the all-time high, topping the best month of World War recruiting, May, 1917. First half of October, 42,000. It is ahead of the first half of September.

Long coats cover a lot, and there are rain coats in the hall. I spotted them. Murphy counted, who apparently had not been in bed and was still fully dressed, were in robes. Their faces were tired and apprehensive.

"Did any of you just try to get out of the house unnoticed or do some dirty work in that museum just now?" Murphy demanded.

"I don't know, sir," said a young man who realized that women do not try to leave a house in their night gowns." Grandrum answered for the others. "He took charge of the search."

But if the shadow had been made up by an outsider, that outsider had checked the door so no one could see every inch of the rambling old house, and found no trace of an intruder.

"MAYBE you and Miss Hemp-hill saw the shadow of something out the window, didn't you?" Grandrum asked. "A weather vane in the house next mine looks double in some lights, sir. After what's just happened, I would not want to meet anything and see it, too. No one could have passed me in the kitchen and I'd have heard him."

"You no fall asleep, Mr. Trooper?" Toig asked.

"Sleep? Me? Never! I'll sleep on the roof if I have to. I'll sleep in the hall so quick, little man!" Murphy eyed the valet with angry suspicion.

"What would you dream, Miss?" Murphy asked kindly.

"I dreamed I heard my uncle cry out 'liberty and justice under law.'" "I saw him. His face was like an animal's after prey. It frightened me. I cried out." "You're right, right, right, right, I look into kitchen when I run out to see who at the door."

SALVATION ARMY SERVICES WARRIED

Six classes of services are performed by the Salvation Army, including religious, character building, relief, social service, youth activities, educational and recreational classes for mothers. It was stated here today by Capt. C. H. Thomas, officer in charge of Army activities in Twin Falls.

The Salvation Army is one of eight organizations which participate in Community Chest fund, the annual drive now being underway toward a goal of $10,500.

Up and Doing
The Salvation Army is not a "sit down" organization, the official pointed out, but rather is always "up and doing."

For instance, during the last year a total of 607 meetings were held with total attendance of 25,542. Religious work consisted of Sunday school, Bible classes, personal contact with those not attending any church and also work among the underprivileged children and adults.

The character building program of the Army included organized club programs for both boys and girls of all ages, music outings, swimming, crafts, a 10-day summer camp and Bible classes. Total participation is given at 25,011 persons.

Aids Unfortunate Girls
Salvation Army funds to the extent of $23 went to the care of expectant, unmarried mothers. A wide variety of instruction and training was offered in educational and recreational classes for mothers, with attendance reaching 61. Training offered including that of a religious nature as well as instruction for proper care of the family.

The Salvation Army is termed "a religious organization with a social aim and a social organization with a religious aim."

There were 30,815,087 motor vehicles registered in the U. S. during 1939.

Senator Praises Thomas and Blasts New Deal 'Defeatism'

BUHL, Oct. 25 (Special)—Terming Sen. John Thomas "the type of man you know will be working the time for the best interests of this country," Sen. Alexander Wiley, junior U. S. lawmaker from Wisconsin, spoke at a Republican rally staged in the high school auditorium last night.

Party leaders estimated attendance at more than 400 persons. Sharing the speaking platform with the visiting senator was Z. Reed Miller, Republican candidate for attorney general who, among other things, charged the opposition with increasing the tax burden of "the people."

Speaking of Thomas, and urging the people of Idaho to return him to the senate, Wiley said:

Praises Thomas
"You people of Idaho are going to elect a United States senator and two congressmen. I have known Sen. John Thomas for some months now. He is the type of man you know will be working all the time for the best interests of this country. I need not speak to you people of Idaho about the great need of sending men to Washington to have minds of their own, who will look after the legislative branch of this country, who will not respond to the whip of the executive, who will not be a yes man, who will use common sense, who will by his legislative conduct reflect honor on the great state of Idaho and who will be a worthy successor to your great Borah."

The speaker praised Wendell Willkie and Charles McNary and said the "country is in great need of a change in leadership, a leadership that will fulfill what it promises."

ITALIAN PLANES JOIN IN BOMBING

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (UP)—A high command communique said today Italian planes, operating from bases in northern France, had participated in raids on Great Britain yesterday for the first time in the war.

"The Italian planes, by bold attacks and well aimed bombing, achieved great successes against harbors on the east British Isles," the communique said.

German planes concentrated on London again last night and the fire and explosions were visible a great distance, the communique said.

Raid Paris
"Raids also were directed against the arms industry and ports," it said.

British fighters swooped down on Berlin from low clouds again this morning, showering incendiary and explosive bombs on residential districts, workers' quarters and garden colonies.

The high command disclosed also that British fighters had attacked Berlin, Hamburg and other points in western Germany. At several points in the city and port of Hamburg, "fire and other material damage was caused," the communique said.

Berlin Bomber
Of the Berlin raid, the high command said: "Protected by a solid cloud layer, an enemy thrust forward with weak forces as far as the reich capital. Through individual bombs which were dropped, attic fires and slight damage to houses were caused, besides a large fire in a timber yard."

In Berlin and Hamburg, there were several dead and wounded."

Gooding Man Named
For U. of I. Role
UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Oct. 25 (Special)—Ned Bowler, Gooding, was cast in one of the leading roles in the second ABUI play, "The Family Portrait," to be presented in early December. Bowler will take the part of Joseph, brother of Jesus.

Looks Like FDR—But Rakes New Deal

Bearing a striking resemblance to President Roosevelt, the man whose policies he is speaking against, Senator Alexander Wiley, Republican from Wisconsin, today had "slumped" Twin Falls and Buhl speaking against the New Deal and on behalf of Senator John Thomas. Above, he is shown at the Rogerson hotel in Twin Falls as he passed long enough to drink a glass of Twin Falls water and to "wash up." (Times Photo and Engraving)

Senator Praises Thomas and Blasts New Deal 'Defeatism'

Concerning our American economy, he said it was built on the principle of "free enterprise and American initiative, the dynamic doctrine of more frontiers, new enterprise, greater sound expansion, and a private economy that is never at a dead-end."

"That does not square with the New Deal dirge of economic defeatism and economic stagnation, of a fettered business forced to deal with an incompetent and competitive government, of a business hamstrung by bureaucratic regulation, of rash monetary experimentation, of the repudiation of government obligations."

Immediately after the Buhl program the senator left for Boise where he will speak today before continuing to Portland.

Townsendite Speaks
Also briefly speaking last night was Orland Scott, Coeur d'Alene, national Townsend club representative.

He said that support which had been given Gen. Taylor, Democratic candidate for senator, and Leo H. Masters, Democratic candidate for congress, was unauthorized by the national association, but rather was merely "from local organizations."

See Bee Girls of the second ward entertained at a "double fun" party this afternoon at the second ward chapel, with members of the first ward Bee Hive Girls as special guests.

In keeping with the Bee Hive groups throughout the country, who are holding silver jubilee programs, the event was planned as a climax to the jubilee activities.

Each girl was invited to bring a "bee" to act as a "strange" bee, and to act as a "strange" bee. Bee Keepers in charge of the event this afternoon were Mrs. Bernice Harris, Mrs. Sylvia Miller, Mrs. E. A. Alexander and Mrs. Mary Heaps.

The Bee Hive department of the L. D. B. I. A. is a sister organization to the Boy Scouts. The department was organized in 1915 and at that time included only 14-year-old girls. Since then it has been expanded to include those 12 and 13 years of age, and now has a membership of 80,000.

It consists of three awards, Builders, Gatherers and Guardians, according to the age of the girls. Symbolism is taken entirely from Masterkin's "Life of the Bee." The above engraving symbolizes the Bee Hive organization. The bee and the violet symbolizes the first rank; the violet, the second rank and the gold bee at the top, the third or Guardian rank.

When a girl has completed her three years of Bee Hive work she has gained knowledge in seven different fields, out-of-doors, religion, public service, health, business, art and science. All the girls of Bee Hive age are welcome to join the organization.

REVIVE LINCOLN'S FAITH, FDR ASKS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt today had called for a revival of Abraham Lincoln's faith in the fundamental vitality of democracy to provide "the American answer to the foreign propaganda who seek to divide us with their strategy of terror."

Speaking by radio to the annual forum conducted by the New York Herald-Tribune, Mr. Roosevelt drew a parallel between the "fear mongers, calamity howlers and appeasers" of the Civil War era and the present day. He added the United States is "unfraid and resolute in our will to peace."

But, he said, America simultaneously is "preparing for the defense of the two American continents and of the oceans that are the high-ways of those continents."

The address was broadcast on nationwide radio networks.

The 10-minute speech was titled "Saving Democracy" and represented a defense of the tenets of democracy and a profession of faith in the ability of democratic systems to survive in a world where dictatorships are on the march.

In his defense of democracy, Mr. Roosevelt paid tribute to Britain's stand against Germany. He said that the democratic "system is undergoing a fearful test" in the struggle. But, the "structure of the democratic faith" is "more enduring than marble and more precious than that man has built."

"We have confidence in the ability of the democratic system which gives men dignity, to give them strength," he said.

Surplus Produce Asked by P-T. A.

GOODING, Oct. 25 (Special)—Gooding Parent-Teacher association meeting was held Monday in Mrs. Frahm's room at the Junior High school about 30 in attendance.

Mrs. Harry Edholm, who presided for the business session, read a letter from C. H. "Safety" Davis asking the cooperation of the parents in safety regulations.

Mrs. Lida Taylor, chairman for the hot lunches, asks for produce from those who could contribute, and said that the hot lunches would be served soon. The assignment has already been given by the W. P. A. to the cook who will prepare the food.

Mrs. John Krenner, health chairman, reported on the pre-school roundup and that splendid cooperation had been given by the parents, which made fewer calls necessary during the check up. Mrs. Krenner also gave a resume of the health clinic meetings held in Wendell and the meeting of the Idaho Public Health association held in Twin Falls in September. There were 147 registered for the first annual session of the association with several arrangements have been made for the milk program to be carried on as in the previous years and this will start soon.

Roll call pictures were awarded to Mrs. Fryer for the grade school and Miss Poust for junior high school.

Mrs. Ralph Horton, program chairman, introduced Mrs. T. Knight, who reviewed an article on "Delinquent Juveniles" from the Reader's Digest. It told of the method used by Los Angeles county, California, in dealing with their problem of delinquent boys. The boys are sent to a camp where they carry out useful work and learn to live with other boys and to be respected citizens.

U. S. NEXT, SAYS ENVOY'S WARNING

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—The German-Italian-Japanese pact of last September is a "clear warning" that the dictator nations have marked the United States as "next" on the aggression list, William C. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, said.

In a speech before the New York Herald-Tribune forum, Bullitt said the lesson to be learned from the European nations that have been subjected to German aggression could be expressed in the words, "late, late, too late."

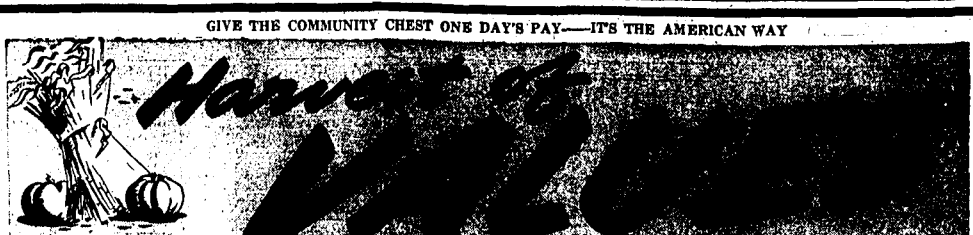

"The issue of every diplomatic dispute in Europe in 1937, 1938 and 1939 was decided by Germany's control of the air, he said.

Polling Place Changed

JEHOIME, Oct. 25 (Special)—Mrs. Charlotte Robertson, Jerome county clerk, auditor and recorder, announced today that there has been a change made in the polling place for residents in the southwest precinct of the city of Jerome. The place has been designated as the south part of the Daley hardware store here near the office of Dr. Charles Zeller.

"God Bless America." Both numbers were accompanied on the piano by Lyle Lettette.

"When American Schools are Democratic" was the subject of a talk given by St. Elmo Faith, He emphasized the point that to maintain our democracy considerable effort must be put forth by all of us. Announcement was made that the grade school room mothers would conduct a membership campaign to the meeting night the third Monday in November. Room mothers of Junior High completed a contest at the time of this meeting and results will be announced this week.
