AIRLINER CRASHES IN UTAH STORM

GREEK SOLDIERS RECAPTURE HILL, BLOCK ITALIANS

By BEN AMES. ATHENS, Nov. 4 (AP)—Greek troops on the Jannina front have recaptured a dominant hill and have thrown back an Italian tank and infantry attack. It was asserted today.

Sighting Italian positions across the Kalamas river, the Greeks in a determined counter-attack captured a hill which commands an important area. It was reported.

Daily Heavy Fire. The Greeks, it was indicated, advanced under heavy direct fire from the Italian lines to take a position which might embarrass considerably the Italian effort to continue their chief objective on their right.

Italian Infantry Led by 20 tanks attacked the Greek positions on the east of the Jannina line, toward the coast. It was reported, only to be thrown back with the loss of nine tanks.

An Italian lieutenant colonel was killed, it was previously had reported. The news was said to be of important successes on the front.

Four Planes Downed. Four of 12 big Italian three-engine bombers yesterday were reported shot down—two over the city, one over the mountains and one over the Jannina front.

The planes bombed a hospital in their raid. Well informed Greek circles here were reported to be critical of the Italian campaign. Germans were reported to be cheering the advance.

At the outbreak of the fighting, they had neither paralyzed nor hindered Greek general mobilization of troops and had failed to bring any damage to military objectives, with the result they were bombing cities and towns.

GOP Nominee Denies Cabinet Post Offer

By T. F. REYNOLDS. HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt campaigns today in his "home" counties of crucial New York state and tonight appeals to the nation by radio for "a vote of confidence" by giving him a third and final term.

All indications are for a close race in his home state which casts 47 votes in the electoral college, and this afternoon and tonight he makes speeches, five of them short addresses in the 20-hour nationwide broadcast between 8 p. m. and 11 p. m. (MST), for votes. He will speak at 8:10 p. m. (MST) from his mother's home here in the presence of members of his family and of his staff.

His campaigning this afternoon will be extensively in the interest of the local Democratic ticket, directed by Hamilton Fish, whose name has been used by Mr. Roosevelt in two of his all-night speeches in the "Fish" as representative of the type of Republican opposition to his policy. Mr. Roosevelt's opposition to his policy is being opposed by some Republicans who object to his isolationism as the ranking Republican member of the house foreign affairs committee.

Confers With Hull. Soon after he arrived this morning after an over-night train journey from Washington, Mr. Roosevelt scheduled a telephone conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull on developments in the international situation. Mr. Roosevelt went to Washington from Cleveland, where he delivered his last major political speech last Saturday night to receive diplomatic news.

Reminiscence of campaign journey of 1932 and 1936. Mr. Roosevelt had with him his secretary, trained adviser, Marvin H. McTear, and a physician, Dr. J. Edgar Hoover, who is expected to be nearly two years and only recently returned to service. His journey here was the first he had made with the president in more than 20 months.

GREEKS, BRITISH POUND ITALIANS

By United Press. Greek attack forces, backed by Great Britain—reported new successes against Italy on land and sea fronts. Royal Air Force planes again bombed oil and railroad targets at Naples.

No Cabinet Promises. "I have neither offered to nor discussed with any person any appointment to any cabinet position or any other position, and I have never authorized anyone else to do so," he said.

Willkie criticized Mr. Roosevelt's statement. He said that if he would, if reflected, leave the White House at the end of his third term.

In view of the fact that within three months of his first assumption of office he broke the pledges which he had called the people's covenant.

Willkie said that if he would, if reflected, leave the White House at the end of his third term.

Beet Yield Exceeds Earlier Estimates

With 79 per cent of the sugar beets in the Twin Falls district harvested, a revised estimate shows that the yield is running approximately one ton more per acre than was at first anticipated.

As the harvesting continues, great piles of sugar beets are piled up at the various receiving dumps. Latest figures on tons of beets in the various piles follow: Filer, 32,000 tons; Jerome, 25,000 tons; Twin Falls factory, 49,000 tons; Gooding, 11,000 tons; Rupert factory, 60,000 tons; and Hurley factory, 60,000 tons.

COMMUNIST TEST CASE DISMISSED

BOISE, Nov. 4 (AP)—District Judge C. F. Koelsch today threw out of court a suit to determine whether voters for Communist elections should be counted in the general election. He sustained a demurrer which contended there was "no apparent cause for the action."

The demurrer was filed by Ada County Prosecutor Kenneth O'Leary. He held that no controversy existed between the complainant and the precinct judge and election officials.

Mail Held After Slurs at F. D. R. DORTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Forty bags of mail from New York containing about 50,000 pieces of campaign literature have been held at the Boston postoffice for investigation of an allegedly scurrilous attack on President Roosevelt, it was learned today.

Fate of 10 Still Shrouded; Flier Spots Wreckage

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4 (AP)—The wreckage of an east-bound United Airlines Mailliner, which vanished in a raging snowstorm shortly before dawn and crashed against the rugged Wasatch mountains with 10 persons aboard, was sighted at noon today north of Salt Lake City.

The fate of the occupants was not known immediately. Ted Vaky, a private pilot flying his own plane, radioed the discovery to the Salt Lake airport.

The plane did not appear to be badly wrecked; Vaky said. The wreckage was discovered at an altitude of 7,000 feet on the Wasatch mountains, four miles north of Bountiful. Searching parties left at once from an emergency camp established at Bountiful, which is 15 miles north of Salt Lake City. The searchers were equipped with skis and expected to reach the crash scene within a few hours.

Meanwhile, air line officials, headed by S. V. Hall, superintendent of operations, began an immediate investigation of reports the radio directional beam had failed as the plane neared Salt Lake City.

It was said reliably that the mountainous terrain had ceased operating and that the pilot had no way of gauging his position in relation to the lofty range which lines the route. The cause of the failure was attributed to the blizzard-like storm.

The aerial searching party, when it returned to Salt Lake City, said the plane appeared to be in "good condition."

"One door was open, which means some of the occupants might have got out," one of the returning aviators said.

REGISTRATION AT ALL-TIME MARK

With "election fever" reaching a new all-time high in Twin Falls today on the eve of the general balloting tomorrow—a check of registration in the seven precincts of the city revealed an unprecedented number of persons eligible to vote in the election.

Registration since the primary, the records show, has been, almost without exception, the greatest in the history of the city and all precincts registered really turn out to vote, election officials this afternoon expressed the opinion that the polling place workers "will have their hands full."

Could Total 14,134. Although voters are not probable, it is possible that a maximum of 14,134 voters could be cast in the seven local precincts tomorrow. Records at the city recorder's office show that 8,536 persons were eligible to vote in the general election of 1938 and more than 4,000 did not provide for those who had died since 1938 or those who have moved away from the city.

GREEK WAR NOT JOINT AXIS PUSH, EXPERT DECLARES

DUCE'S PROGRAM SEEN UNRELATED TO MIDDLE EAST

BY J. W. T. MARION
United Press War Expert

Italy's continued reluctance to enter in a major offensive in northern Greece points with increasing probability to lack of Italian co-operation with Germany's strategy in southeastern Europe. It would seem that Mussolini has not yet concentrated a powerful striking force on the Greek-Albanian frontier and does not seek an immediate extensive involvement there.

The Italian right wing trying to maintain the status quo in the west east seems to be the stronger force of the invading Fascists. Its double purpose apparently is to prevent the Greek-Albanian front from being bombed from the nearest Greek pastures and also to cut off Greek supplies from the west coast to the military base at Yanina.

Not Big Push

This movement, however, would not form the principal objective of the Italians if their Greek campaign is the beginning of a great axis push to carry the war into the middle east. It would be a protective measure rather than an offensive development.

Any Italian offensive in Greece designed in cooperation with German desires would consist of a powerful thrust toward Salonica, involving the left wing of the invading army. Yet this part of Mussolini's forces seems to be the weaker.

The Greeks have succeeded in penetrating southeastern Albania at the sector where the Italians should have concentrated their main powerful push if they intended to move quickly against Salonica. The Italian retreat in this region either shows a serious defect in Italian strategy or indicates that Mussolini and Hitler have not agreed that the present is the opportune time to develop a great southward offensive.

Japan Reassures Greece

The involvement of Greece in the war has brought the first test of Japan's attitude toward the triple alliance. The Japanese today gave Greece assurances that Greek ships and merchant vessels would not be molested by Japanese submarines.

Those vessels are being used to transport needed goods to Japan. The Japanese decision not to become entangled in the European war after the Greek issue shows that Tokyo has reserved to itself the right to decide how it is committed by the triple alliance.

It is to be expected that Japan's future interpretations will be based on the way the war is progressing and the requirements of her own self-interest.

The triple alliance does not act automatically, and that a policy of caution is operating for the present in Tokyo.

Because officers claim they stole six chickens and were arrested with the hefted fowl in their possession, three residents of the farm labor camp were in county jail today facing grand larceny accusation.

The trio is George J. Griffin, Ted Dinubuck and J. W. Moore.

Prosecutor Everett M. Swevelay said the grand larceny complaint would be filed in probate court this afternoon. Arraignments will probably be Wednesday, since election day is a legal holiday.

Sheriff L. W. Hawkins and Deputy Roy Fuller arrested Griffin, Dinubuck and Moore Saturday evening as the trio was riding on U. S. 89 south of the farm camp. The officers said the six chickens, with heads cut off, were found in the car with the men.

The fowl were assertedly stolen from the Hollenbeck sales grounds Saturday after they were sold at auction.

He said that those who have registered to date at the Chamber of Commerce offices will be notified through the newspapers when to report to a flight physician for examination. All others interested in taking the course should contact the chamber offices at once.

The second flight course under the program is expected to get underway within the next few days.

BROKER SHOT IN HUNTING MISHAP

GOODING, Nov. 4 (Special).—Clayton Wilkes, broker and chairman of Salt Lake City, who was accidentally shot by a member of a party of Utah business men while hunting pheasants in the vicinity of Gooding last week, was taken to Salt Lake City Saturday.

The shots from a shotgun entered Wilkes' neck, rupturing a large vein. He sustained the loss of a large amount of blood but was pronounced out of danger Saturday.

The accident occurred Friday. Other members of the party were James A. Yoder, Richard C. Badger and E. C. Singleton.

Wilkes was brought to the Gooding general hospital for medical attention, following the mishap.

Baptist Building Campaign Success

Building committee of the First Baptist church, consisting of Bert Swartz, Alton Dean and George Warberg, and the pastor, Rev. Roy E. Barnett, all expressed themselves well pleased with the results obtained in the opening of the intensive campaign for a new building.

Dr. C. M. Dinmore, New York, who at the meeting also said that the response was unexpectedly cheerful and prompt as compared with many similar campaigns in which he has taken part.

The amounts raised yesterday, added to what was previously available, brings the total amount in sight to approximately half of the maximum preliminary estimates on what will be required to complete the project. "There is an evident determination on the part of the committee and the people of the church to pursue the work as rapidly as good judgment will warrant," committee members said.

An important decision regarding next steps will be recommended by the building committee for action at the semi-annual business meeting of the church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

While Dr. Dinmore has been in the area, he has also been consulted by the Baptist churches at Buhl, Pler and Jerome with respect to building and remodeling projects. He left this afternoon for Wyoming.

PRaises FDR as a MAN OF PROVEN ABILITY

Thanks to the New Deal we have social security, old age pensions, widows' pensions, we have rehousing programs and many home-buying plans.

Many a farm family is enjoying a new bathroom or a furnace or some other needed improvement through low-rate government aid. The farmers are being aided in eradicating noxious weeds by WPA help. We have miles upon miles of electric light, well-kept roads. We have many parks, libraries and schools that were built largely through government help. The WPA has benefited many students and other young people.

Republican candidates are talking great deal about our importations. For instance, millers in America import small quantities of wheat of a variety which is not grown here and which is needed for their flour. We import tobacco from Cuba, Turkey and Syria to make a certain blend, etc. But we do not import unless it is a product which our country does not produce, or unless a trade of products is made.

Republican senators make the false claim that Franklin Roosevelt wanted to be dictator and he was even called one.

President Roosevelt is the greatest humanitarian in the U. S. A. today. He believes in every American having a fair chance and no other American in the history of the United States has inaugurated and carried through so many social reforms.

President Roosevelt has brought us safely through many perilous times. There are critical times ahead. We need a great man at the helm. Roosevelt is a great leader, a great thinker and a great doer. He has had years of training and is a keen student of international affairs.

He believes in America for Americans, not just for a privileged few. He gives Jew and Gentile, Protestant and Catholic, rich and poor, white and colored people all a chance.

He has even given women a place under the sun. Not only is one cabinet member a woman but there have been two women diplomats during his administration.

Let's not think that a third term for a President is such a serious thing. The serious consideration is to elect the right man. Some think it is not constitutional to hold the office a third term. This is a mistake; there is nothing in the Constitution that forbids a third term. However the Constitution has been amended 17 times. So we have actually had some change in our form of government from time to time.

With such chaotic conditions in the world all around us, let us be sensible and elect the man who has proven his ability and his devotion to our country.

SPANISH EX-LEADER DIES

VICHY, Nov. 4 (AP)—Former President of the Spanish republic Manuel y Diaz Azana died during the night at Montauban, where he had been seriously ill for several weeks. Azana, champion of democracy in Spain, became the second, and last, president of the Spanish republic on May 10, 1930. He resigned in practical exile in Paris on Feb. 28, 1930, just prior to French recognition of the Burgos regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

BALLOT TERMED PIONEERS HERITAGE OF U. S.

The American people will be called upon next Tuesday to exercise their right of suffrage. We thank God that we are still a free people and still have this sacred right, the right that is denied so many people of other nations. We recognize this right as our heritage that we shall always cherish and preserve. It is our proudest possession and we know that we shall always have this right; as Americans we shall see to that.

If individuals we do not see alike, we are not robots, we have no dictator and shall never have, we have our political differences and opinions and are free to express ourselves as we see fit. The right of free speech and the freedom of the press of which we are so justly proud assures us and gives us confidence that our government will survive regardless of leadership or whatever party may be in power. What is good and proper legislation or government to one is bad and improper to another, hence we have the party system in our politics and this is as it should be in our form of government.

I recognize that the day may come when every voter may determine his vote not by the party but by the character, ability and platform or principles of the candidates. It is too much to believe that this shall ever come to pass but it is indeed a worthy ideal.

The present campaign has been not unlike others in the past, the usual amount of "mud slinging," discrepancies, misstatements and distortion of facts by candidates and their supporters of both parties has prevailed. Some of this has been made in good faith and some otherwise, this condition prevails however in any political campaign.

Those of us that have been voters for many years recognize this as simply political strategy but to many this is confusing and results usually in one thing, getting the prospective voter in a confused state of mind and he is not voting at all.

I recognize that all candidates cannot have the character or clarity of vision of Lincoln or the gentlemanly qualities of Robert E. Lee, but I would that all candidates seeking political offices of whatever kind seek their office on the high standards simply stating their platforms and their reasons for believing as they do and asking the voters that are in accord with them to give them their support. I would that each candidate recognize the good character and merit of their opponent—if this should ever come to pass we would have better candidates, better legislation and better government.

I would that all having the right to vote next Tuesday—vote each to think the proposition out in his own way and after arriving at his conclusion go to the polls and vote as he sees fit regardless of anyone. I would rather that a man vote in opposition to his own party than record with me just so long as the record according to his honest convictions.

I would that all Americans believe as I believe that regardless of the outcome of the election "Treason" that our United States will still go forward and not go down to destruction or chaos as some would have us believe. I would that all Americans believe as I do that regardless of this terrible world upheaval we shall survive and it shall be our task in helping make the world a better place for all mankind.

FIVE TOWNS AT AIRPORT PARLEY

BOISE, Nov. 4 (AP)—City officials from five southern Idaho and eastern Oregon cities met here today to discuss airport construction plans with Paul Morris, Seattle, regional engineer of the civil aeronautics authority.

The officials were from Boise, Postville, Burley, Idaho Falls and Baker, Ore. They laid preliminary plans for surveys to determine work necessary to qualify airports for allocations under the national defense program.

MECHANIZED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—The trend toward mechanization in the army is becoming more complete each day and the latest innovation, announced by the war department today, may rob the captain's pet of that soft detail of the typewriter.

Instead of laboriously writing out each soldier's record on the cards and formal report sheets, comprising the army's "paper work," business machines will be used.

These machines will punch holes in cards assigned to each man. This will record his special qualifications and keep an accurate, up-to-the-minute record of all changes in his status.

AUTO DESTROYED IN EARLY BLAZE

Fire on the Ida Myrtle Andrews place, four miles west and one south of Kimberly, early this morning burned a two-car garage to the ground and also practically destroyed a 1930 model A Ford which was in the garage at the time the fire broke out.

The alarm was answered by the Kimberly Mutual fire department but a strong wind, which created a draft in the garage, had caused the structure to be almost burned to the ground before the department could arrive. The alarm was received at 3 a. m.

Also destroyed in the fire was a quantity of stock feed and other stored materials and articles. Total loss was estimated at $600.

Idaho and America NEED CAPABLE MEN LIKE JOHN THOMAS

In These Critical Times

There never was a time in the history of America when there was such an urgent need for men of sound judgement in the national congress.

Senator Thomas is a member of the important Military Affairs Committee of the Senate. He has strongly advocated that while America do everything possible to stay out of war, this country should arm with all possible speed as a precaution against war.

Senator Thomas is the only farmer and stockman in the Senate. He has made a strong fight against trade treaties that destroy Idaho's farm markets.

Senator Thomas is recognized as the leader among senators in reclamation and irrigation matters, which are vital to Idaho.

Senator Thomas is the man best qualified by experience, training and ability to carry on Senator Borah's fight in behalf of our nation and our people.

You as a citizen can serve both your state and your nation by voting to return Senator Thomas to the United States Senate.

JOHN THOMAS WAS ELECTED to the Senate by the citizens of Idaho in 1928 by a majority of some 37,000 votes over his Democratic opponent in the Democratic landslide of 1932 he received approximately 10,000 more votes than any other Republican candidate.

CAMPAIGN ENDS IN DOUBT FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1916

GALLUP EXPECTS CLOSE RACE; FDR HAS SMALL EDGE

By LYLE C. WILSON
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The 1940 national political campaign fired white hot by war in Europe and the recent ends today with the presidential contest in doubt for the first time since 1916.

Polls will open soon after dawn tomorrow. But there is no assurance the presidential winner will be known until some 24 hours later.

Last Blast Tonight
President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie will end their campaigns in national broadcasts for which Democrats have reserved two hours tonight from 8 p. m. (MST) and Republicans the hour starting at 11 p. m. (MST).

Mr. Roosevelt in a statement today summoned each eligible citizen to "exercise the solemn right of suffrage guaranteed under the constitution" and requested all employers provide time off in which workers may vote.

Willkie issued a similar appeal. He also pledged himself to ask congress to submit to the voters a no-third-term amendment if elected.

Bitter Charges
Bitter charges of falsification of issues, dictatorial ambition, unlovely alliances and of intervention in foreign powers for and against the principal contestants marked or marred this campaign as the angriest in recent American political history. The electorate is aroused and notably large registrations not only foretell the largest popular vote ever recorded anywhere but lend also to obscure the outcome. Political managers cannot be certain in their own minds whether thousands of hitherto non-voters took the trouble to register this time to vote for Mr. Roosevelt or for Mr. Willkie—or against one or the other.

But as the runners near the tape the forecast today is for popular vote photo finish. A large slice of big, industrial, balance-of-power states is marked doubtful in many polls and surveys. So lined by so competent observers are New York with 47 electoral votes, Pennsylvania with 36, and Ohio with 26—three of the largest. The entire midwest east is debatable in some degree through the lake states. Republican hopes for Willkie depend mostly on winning that area.

The New York Daily News made a survey of New York state and hadlined today its poll "indicates F. D. R. will carry New York state in photo finish." But that is almost inadequate to describe it. Projecting its computation through three decimal points, the News reported it had polled 54,991 persons and the percentages of favor were Roosevelt 50.68; Willkie 49.32. The difference was 1/7 of one per cent.

Gallup Sees Close Finish
Dr. George Gallup's Institute of American Opinion poll forecast a result equally close. It gave Roosevelt a 52-48 popular lead.

Gallup and Elmo Roper, research chief of the Fortune magazine poll, told a radio audience Sunday there had been a trend toward Willkie which, if continued into tomorrow's voting, would mean a close election.

Fortune's final survey gave Mr. Roosevelt a 55.2 per cent bulge in popular support but with Mr. Willkie gaining.

BRIDE, 17, SLAIN; HUSBAND JAILED

ALLEGAN, Mich., Nov. 4 (AP)—The battered body of Mrs. Dale Darrow, 17-year-old bride of three months, was found today in a shallow grave on an Allegan county farm some 12 hours after her husband reportedly confessed her slaying.

Oakland county officers headed by Prosecutor Edwin Andrews and Sheriff Fred Adler found the girl's body after a charge of murder had been placed against her 23-year-old unmarried husband, who in a confession, officers said, had told of an argument over financial arrangements for the birth of an expected baby.

America's First Lady Must Wear "Mantle of Discretion" for Job

What sort of "First Lady" do Americans want in the White House? In the first of two exclusive articles written for NEA Service and Idaho Evening Times on this much argued question, famed writer Fannie Hurst voted for Mrs. Roosevelt on the basis of her widespread activities.

By RITA WEIMAN
Written for NEA Service
More words than any statistician could estimate have been used to tell the American people what kind of man this country's election must place in the White House.

A few words covering the essential "qualities our next First Lady should possess must, I believe, be of equal interest to our employer voters. Never before in the history of these United States has the wife of a President taken on a more difficult task.

As a public person, and equally as a private individual, every move she makes, every word she utters, will be scrutinized through the magnifying glass of criticism.

The First Lady who enters the White House as its mistress in 1941 must fit herself perfectly to the mantle of discretion. Like a prisoner on trial, anything she says may be used against her.

We have a free press. No censor cuts out the sting of rash statements by persons in public life. By the same token, the wife of the President must indulge in no reckless opinions, acts or affiliations. Whatever her temptation, she must never forget that she holds the greatest position of any woman in the world; a position far more important than the individual who occupies it. This requires a mind always on the alert, active every minute to sense when silence is the better part of valor.

Often she will have to back her comments and opinions which might have unfavorable repercussions. No matter what the provocation, her wit must never turn acid.

She must not lend her name to anti-social movements. However important her interest, such group movements may use the patronage of the wife of the President for purposes of which she cannot possibly have full knowledge.

She must keep in mind the fact that whatever her status socially, politically she is in background. This does not imply that she be a negative personality. On the contrary, she must keep informed on all questions of national import. Yet at no time throughout her years as mistress of the White House should she assume a voice in governmental problems unless called upon to do so by some crisis nobody can foresee.

Her charm must be like that of a garden, so that everyone who comes into her presence senses graciousness and fragrance. The thorns should never be more prominent than the roses.

She will have ample opportunity to commercialize her position. But each time she accepts a "job" that pays well, no matter how charitable she may apply this payment, she submits her acts to the columnists and cartoonists; and lampoons can destroy a national figure when that figure is feminine with him as fatal as the most deadly lethal weapon.

A world ridden by fear and lashed by the whip of nervous exhaustion looks to the United States for rescue. The woman who stands at the side of our next President shares that responsibility.

She has never published herself. We cannot definitely state in advance how Mrs. Wendell Willkie would fill the exacting position of mistress of the White House. But judging by her past performances, it is a safe guess that Mrs. Willkie possesses the first requisites of a First Lady.

Since her husband's nomination she has never been out of the picture, yet never conspicuously part of it. Content to take her place with dignity, she has made no mis-step.

She has a son to whom she is devoted; yet not once throughout Mr. Willkie's tour of the country has she played up to the role of mother, even though it might have gained favorable attention and possibly votes. She has vitality; yet does not turn it on in a blaze for publicity. She has charm, grace, taste and good looks, a rare combination dear to the hearts of press agents; she uses none of these to foster interest in herself.

Above all, she has proven that she understands the essential gift of the wife of a man in public life—the value of silence.

BIG FIRMS DRAW LAGUARDIA'S IRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York, chairman of the national committee of independent voters, issued a campaign statement assailing many American corporations had German affiliates and were supporting Wendell L. Willkie in expectation of certain privileges and because of their German investments. He named the men who, he said, would be the Goebbels and the Himmler of a Willkie administration.

"Here they are," he said, "General Motors, Ford Motor Co., International Telephone and Telegraph Co., Westinghouse, Remington-Rand, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and Esocny-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc., among others."

"The strange part of it is that by those in the politico-utility circles who are the new masters of the present Republican party—I say present because such control surely cannot last—the various assignments in the U. S. are, are—discussed with a great deal of glee and happy anticipation."

"For instance, as I have already stated, Girdler is to be the Himmler (Germany's secret police head) while Elmer Barton (Republican candidate for the U. S. senate in New York) is to be the Goebbels."

Harold Cantrell, 22, Buhl, today was reported greatly improved after being injured Saturday evening when the pick-up truck he was operating left the road one and one-half miles north of Buhl.

Cantrell was badly cut about the face and was treated at the offices of a Buhl physician.

State police said that the driver apparently lost control of the small truck, the machine leaving the road and ending up in a lateral.

Bapt Qualis, 51, Buhl, was cited to appear before Justice R. H. Stewart, also of Buhl, to answer to a charge of driving on the wrong side of the road as a result of another accident, this one occurring two miles east of Castletford Saturday morning. Qualis' car crashed into one being operated by Clere Ferguson, 21, Castletford. Neither driver was injured.

Little Theater Cast Has Rich Background in Stage Experience

"Theater-goers may look forward to the Little Theater presentation of the James M. Barrie play, 'What Every Woman Knows,' with keen interest, for this production is in every way a legitimate stage performance," assured the director, Mrs. C. E. Crabtree, as she reviewed the cast to discover that all members have studied the stage as their avocation.

She stressed the fact that this play is one of the most difficult, not only from the dialect and make-up angle, but also from the production standpoint, as the four acts demand also four distinct sets of backgrounds and properties.

Experienced Players

In reviewing the past abilities of Miss Kathryn Goff, in the dramatic role, her two years of acting college gave her the opportunity to play leading roles in "Death Takes a Holiday," "The Divorced Child," "His Chartered Heritage," "Lady of Holbrook" and "Once in a Lifetime. She is cast as Margie.

Miss Dorothy Clark, local high school instructor, studied speech in Drury college at Springfield, Mo. Later she taught dramatics in northern Idaho. She has taken part in "Pomander Walk" and "Heartbreak of Fiddlers."

In the part of Sibil, Mrs. Dorothy Alworth displays her ability as an actor. Her two years at the University of Idaho are in her first production of the Little Theater, "Petitcot Fever," but studied that work at both the University of Idaho and at the University of Southern California. While at U. C. L. A. she played in "Lillian," "Numbered among her roles are parts in 'School for Scoundrels,' 'Smiling Through,' 'The Valiant' and 'The Path.'

Played by Sibel

"Not only do we have outstanding teachers in our cast," continued Mrs. Crabtree, "but we have the best of the Park Hotel, Ray Robbins, as a character. Mr. Robbins was schooled at Utah State and has had two summers of stock acting company playing to his credit, among which he played the heavy role of Boshwin in 'Mary of Scotland.'"

"Tom Archer, who will play Alton, studied speech at U. C. L. A. and has played in 'Queen's Husband,' 'The Thirteenth Chair,' 'Smiling Through,' 'Soul of a Professor' and 'The Devil Is a Woman.'

As the leading male character, "Chic" Crabtree has not only appeared upon the stage as an actor, but while a member of the American

Missions Group Plans for Tea

At the Thanksgiving season, a colorful tea will be given by members of the Young Matrons' Missionary Society of the Christian church, planned recently at a group meeting at the home of Mrs. Stanley Trenhaile in Jerome.

Named as a committee to collect support were Mrs. Horace Turner, Mrs. Melvin Eshner and Mrs. Bedford Milley.

Consistent at the metropolis which were led by Mrs. Bertie Beckley, Mrs. Wayne Hancock, program chairman, presented a playlet on "Guests at the session were Mrs. L. H. Crocker, Jerome, and Mrs. L. D. Luke, Twin Falls."

G.A.R. Plans for Official's Visit

Planning for the official visit of Mrs. Marie Odum, Webster, who is president of the Idaho Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, Nov. 15, members of the G. A. R. met recently at the American Legion Memorial hall.

With Mrs. Bertha Clyde, Mrs. Ida Sweet and Mrs. Edie Link as the general entertainment committee, Mrs. Mary Blake and Mrs. Marjorie Smith, in charge of the program, Mrs. Cora Murphy presided at the meeting.

Two American flags will be presented to the near future to school and to the Rural Federation of Women's clubs for use at Federation Lookout at public occasions.

Selected to purchase the flags were Mrs. Nora Faloon, department chairman, instruction chair, Mrs. Ida Sweet, special patriotic instructor, and Mrs. Murphy.

Perhaps the character whose part will be easiest for her is that of Sibel Schubert, not because it is simple but rather because he played the same role at the University of Southern California. While at U. C. L. A. she played in "Lillian," "Numbered among her roles are parts in 'School for Scoundrels,' 'Smiling Through,' 'The Valiant' and 'The Path.'

SEVEN CANDIDATES RUNNING FOR PRESIDENCY OF U. S.

MINOR PARTIES GET PAGES ON STATE BALLOTS

By United Press
Four years residence in the White House, beginning Jan. 20, 1941, and the presidency of the United States is sought by seven men, but it is a safe guess the vast majority of the electorate that goes to the polls Nov. 5 can name but two or possibly three of the candidates.

Best known are the nominees of the Republicans and Democrats, the least known represent the Socialist-Labor, National Greenback and Prohibition parties.

The nominee of the National Greenback party, which will be recognized in few states as legally qualified to enter its candidates upon the ballots, is John Zahnd, amateur horticulturist of Indianapolis. His running-mate is James E. Yates, apostle of the Phoenix, Arizona, Church of Christ.

Nearly Unknown
Almost equally little heard of during the campaign have been the candidates of the Socialist-Labor party, John W. Aiken, Massachusetts cabinet-maker, aspiring to the presidency, and Aaron W. Orange, New York school teacher, vice presidential candidate.

Earl Browder, at liberty under bond pending appeal of his conviction for passport fraud, is running again on the Communist ticket. Browder's party will be left off the ballot of most states, including New York state. His lieutenant is James William Ford, Negro. Both were nominated when the Communists held their convention in New York City last spring.

Socialist Candidate
Another candidate previously a presidential nominee is Norman Thomas, titular head of the Socialist party, who shares the problem of Maynard C. Krueger, University of Chicago economist.

The seventh party is the Prohibitionists. Roger Ward Babson, wealthy Illinois, Massachusetts and newspaper columnist, is their presidential nominee, and paired with him is Edgar Vaughn Moorman, well-to-do feed man of Illinois.

None of the minority party candidates nor platforms of the party have been mentioned by President Roosevelt, seeking his third term as President, or Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee.

Newspaperman a Candidate
Newspapermen and publishers who are candidates for office at the election are numerous.

Dwight Griswold, Republican nominee for governor of Nebraska, publisher of a small-town newspaper in western Nebraska. He has been a member of the Nebraska legislature, and was Republican nominee for governor in 1932, '34 and '36.

His opponent, Terry Carpenter, Democrat of Scottsbluff, two years ago was unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant-governor of Nebraska.

Seeks Borah's Senatorial Post
The seat of the late William E. Borah of Idaho in the United States senate is sought by 18-month-old Glen Taylor. His campaign has been in sharp contrast to the campaign strategy of Senator Borah. Taylor, his wife and five-year-old son, have stumped the state attracting auditors by singing cowboy ditties.

The campaign buttons of the two major parties have been numerous and unique. Crowds stopped on New York streets where collections of the Republican and Democratic party buttons were displayed. Some of the buttons became collectors' items due to the smallness of the number issued.

One child, however, did not appear to enjoy the buttons. She was Patricia Smith, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Smith, Jr. of Circleville, O., who resounded a Roosevelt campaign button and had to be taken to a hospital to have it removed. The child's father said he was a Republican.

Minor Is Candidate
One of the most colorful persons for a seat in the lower house of congress is Lee H. White, 50, pioneer mining man of Torrington, Wyo. White wears fringed clothes and his hair hangs to his shoulders. "I don't change my attire if elected, even if Washington is used to seeing stiff collars and spats," the old timer says. "It's good enough for Wyoming. It's good enough for Washington."

Judge McHride, Columbus, O., lawyer, is a candidate for the Ohio supreme court. Politicians in Ohio said his Christian name would help him in a campaign to succeed his late father in the state judicial circles as one of the common pleas court judges.

The Tennessee constitution has not been changed since 1870. This year Tennessee will vote on two amendments, one increasing the term of the governor from two to four years and making it ineligibility for any governor to succeed himself. The second would increase the per diem of the general assembly from $4 to $10. The two amendments were approved by the general assembly in 1937 and 1939.

God's Will Must Triumph for FDR, Says C. Ben Ross
C. Ben Ross, who served for three years as governor of Idaho, today in a statement to the Evening Times said that President Roosevelt is re-elected "it will be God's will."

Ross made no mention of the state races in his statement to the Times but rather, in a few words, talked of the national contest. His statement followed:

"If Roosevelt is elected, it will be God's will because no human being of his own volition could stand the onslaught of the boracic acid interests and the moneyed powers of this country."

White House Mistress Must Be More Than "Gracious Lady," Asserts Famous Author

What sort of "First Lady" do Americans want here this year? Pannle Hurst, one of the most famous of the nation's authors and playwrights, thinks she must be a person of initiative and action in the national scene. In the article below, written exclusively for the Evening Times, Miss Hurst casts her vote for Mrs. Roosevelt.

By FANNIE HURST
Written for NEA Service
Eight years ago a long and audacious dash took this country from coast to coast.

What—hol! A personality instead of a housewife in the White House? What have we here?

Then, with one land, the gentleman impulse, the opposite tongue of the nation began to stir. The First Lady's place is in the White House.

What's the big idea, the wife of the President of the United States intruding herself in the United States?

"Pannle Hurst, Mrs. H. doesn't stay at home?" "Stop her," cried the ladies of the land, who believed as if London bridge were falling down. "The First Lady's place is in the White House, seeing it that the guests don't steal napkins, entering and leaving and visitors from Duluth; deciding the color scheme of guest soup, and making the Easter Egg hunt on the lawn."

Smashed it to smithereens. Shades of - the - Gentle - First - Ladies-of-Administration-Gone-By, what have we here? As a matter of fact, we have a First Lady who immediately solving the problem of guests staying napkins by substituting linen that did not bear the White House insignia. We have here a First Lady who has been on the color scheme of guest soup; who entertains visiting ladies from Duluth on a frequency scale that has probably never been practiced before, and whose Easter Egg activities are second to none for zest and conformity.

Nevertheless, that long whuddering gap of eight years ago, which, it is true, has now subsided into a quietude, has not been entirely disturbing to the American people. Now, what has this personality-plus, whose interests range from bathroom curtains to affairs of empire, done to the tradition of First Ladies of our land?

CHAPMAN CLAIMS MONEY BAG OPEN

BUFFALO, Nov. 4 (Special)—With most of the Democratic county candidates present, Marshall Chapman, Twin Falls attorney, spoke here Saturday afternoon on behalf of President Roosevelt and declared that "in a democracy, people are free to elect the man of their choice."

Chapman played Republican leaders and charged they were "unloading" great sums of money in an attempt to win Tuesday's election. "We are on the eve of a critical election," Chapman said. "At the last minute we have a political blitzkrieg by the Republican party. The money bags are open and a great effort is being made to scare the people into voting for the Republican party."

Concerning Roosevelt, the speaker said: "President Roosevelt is the safest and most dependable man to elect, the people through these critical times."

Speaker at the rally was Marshall Chapman, Twin Falls attorney, who spoke on the third term issue as well as national problems in urging the reelection of President Roosevelt.

The rally here, which got underway at 3 p. m., attracted a throng of persons to the Castleford high school, rally site. Participating in the program was the high school band.

Arrangements for today's session were in charge of Mrs. E. D. Logan, precinct committeewoman.

NAZI PAPER HITS AT 3 U. S. ENVOYS

BERLIN, Nov. 4 (UP)—A front page article in the Boersen Zeitung today assailed three United States ambassadors—Joseph P. Kennedy, William C. Bullitt and Anthony Drexel Biddle—as "evil spirits" in European affairs.

The newspaper's diplomatic expert said the three American diplomats had sought to disturb the plans of Germany and Italy for "a new order" in Europe.

Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, Bullitt, ambassador to France, and Biddle, ambassador to the exiled Polish government, are in the United States at present.

MRS. BORAH ADDS HELP TO THOMAS

BOISE, Nov. 4 (UP)—State Republican headquarters today announced receipt of a pledge from William E. Borah, widow of the late Senator Borah, for Idaho voters to support Sen. John Thomas, Wendell Willkie and Charles McNary.

"I do hope that Idaho will return John Thomas to the senate for which I will carry on the politics in which my husband believed," Mrs. Borah said in a message to state headquarters. Speaking of her husband Mr. Borah, she said: "He was a party Wendell Willkie and Charles McNary because they alone can check our present drift to war."

The Political Whirl

(By United Press)
In individual telegrams to Democratic county chairman in New York state, James A. Fairly went to bat for the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket.

President William Green of the AFL, reiterated the non-partisan position of that organization and urged his followers to vote their own convictions. President John L. Lewis, CIO, predicted Willkie's election.

Half forgotten in the headlong battle for the presidency are contests for 36 senate seats, 435 seats in the house of representatives, and governorships of 35 states.

Edward J. Flynn, successor to Farley as Democratic national chairman, revised upward his estimate of Saturday that President Roosevelt would receive a minimum of 477 electoral votes. He added Ohio's 26 electoral votes to the Roosevelt column.

Secret Service operatives, whose duty requires them to guard a President-elect as well as the President, today prepared for protection of Wendell L. Willkie in event early returns indicate possibility of a Republican victory.

Norman Thomas, Socialist, and Earl Browder, Communist, wound up their campaigns for the presidency with appeals for the "peace" vote.

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, asked Sen. Guy M. Gillette, chairman of the campaign committee to investigate the "promises made and money" spent in behalf of Willkie.

Dr. Union S. Ward, 78, who claims to be a supporter of Willkie, was free on $500 bail in New York today for having an ancient revolver in his pocket at the Madison Square Garden rally for Willkie Saturday night.

The John M. Nichols, president of the First National Bank of Englewood, Ill., issued a second newspaper advertisement endorsement of Willkie despite an announcement by FBI that the first would be investigated to determine whether it violated the corrupt practices act.

British newspapers gave greater prominence to the presidential election than they had given to any American news in recent years. The first news item was to conceal their preference for Roosevelt.

BOMBS THUNDER ON NAPLES, KIEL

LONDON, Nov. 4 (UP)—The air ministry reported today the royal air force last night again attacked Naples and bombed the German naval base at Kiel under difficult weather conditions.

The bombing of Naples was the second attack on this major metropolis of south Italy which the RAF has made since the Italo-Greek war opened.

(Home reported heavy anti-aircraft fire prevented the RAF planes from reaching the city and forcing them to drop bombs in the open country, killing one person and wounding three).

The air ministry said both the Naples and the Kiel attacks were "successful" despite "extremely difficult weather conditions."

Destructive Mice

Fifteen thousand acres of alfalfa were destroyed by field mice in Humboldt Valley, Nev., in 1906-1908. The field mice swarmed over the valley at a density of 12,000 to the acre.

Other things that have been reported to have caused the mice to invade the valley are:

1. The mice were attracted to the alfalfa by the presence of a large number of mice.

Democrats Back Expansion for Southern Branch

Four candidates for the legislature from Twin Falls county, all Democrats, have expressed themselves as being favorable to expanding the University of Idaho, southern branch, into a four-year degree granting university. It was learned here this afternoon.

The announcement was made here to communications received from Miss Anne Perrine and Allen Duval, both students at the southern branch.

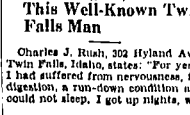

The communication explained that "as students of the southern branch we are naturally very interested in the welfare and would like your support of candidates on either side who are friendly and are particularly favorable to expanding this institution into a four-year degree granting university."

ZEN GRID TEAMS STAY IN "MAGIC CIRCLE"

Gopher-Michigan Clash May Pick National Champs

By HARRY FERGUSON
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—Only a dozen of them are left today in the magic circle of unbeaten major football teams, and a stern week-end schedule is going to cut the list even closer.

Saturday's top game will be played at Minneapolis where the western conference title and perhaps recognition as national champion will be the stakes when Michigan meets Minnesota. Unless there is a tie, the undefeated list is bound to shrink on that game because neither team has lost.

Three of the 12 undefeated major teams are from the midwest—Minnesota, Michigan and Notre Dame. The South Bend team is in for a tough week-end against a Navy team.

Stanford, only undefeated team in the far west, meets Washington at Palo Alto. The Rose bowl laurels may be riding on this one.

Tennessee tops South Carolina as the only undefeated major team in the south, and it appears that nothing can keep the hard-running Volunteers out of the bowl game.

Texas A. & M. victory in the Sugar bowl last season, dominates the south, but the tie is perilous this week. The Aggies run into Southern Methodist, a fighting, respectful team that added through Texas 21 to 12.

In the east there are six unbeaten teams. Cornell should have a fairly easy afternoon against Yale. The two college, a real powerhouse, doesn't look for too much trouble from Boston University. Georgetown should continue its slinking ways against Maryland. The other unbeaten eastern teams—Lafayette, Penn State and Franklin and Marshall—are in rough spots. Lafayette plays Rutgers. Franklin and Marshall goes against a New York University team that is below par but still able to kick up plenty of trouble. Penn State meets a Syracuse team that may click.

Highlights of the week-end:
Upset of the day—Texas Christian 14 to 12 victory over Baylor.
Toughest day—Joe Mermik of Minnesota who put a place kick squarely through the posts for the one point that was the margin of victory over Northwestern.
Tough luck team—U.C.L.A. The Uteans have lost six straight games and have never been beaten by more than seven points. Stanford did it, 20 to 14, Saturday.

Redskins and Bears Win to Take Pro Edge
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The professional football season was just about over today for everybody except the Washington Redskins and the Chicago Bears. Unless a miracle happens those two clubs will meet at Washington Dec. 8 for the world's championship.
The Redskins, unbeaten and undefeated, need only two more victories in four games to clinch with the eastern division title. The Bears, victorious in six out of seven games, need two more wins in their four-game schedule to clinch a tie for the western division title.
The Bears, called by many coaches the greatest collection of players ever gathered under one banner, virtually clinched the western division crown Sunday by beating the Green Bay Packers, 14-7, before 65,434 fans.
While the Bears were intercepting their western division title, the Redskins breezed to a 37-10 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers before a crowd of 31,204 at Washington. Sammy Baugh and Frank Filchock of the Redskins completed 14 out of 16 tosses for 204 yards.
Surprise of the day's play was the Cleveland Rams' stunning 24-0 triumph over the Detroit Lions before 16,801 fans at Cleveland. Johnny Drake overpowered the great Whitizer White, scoring one touchdown, passing for another and acting the stage for a third counter.

The New York Giants beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 10-7, before 32,258 persons at Ebbets field, Brooklyn.

Stanford Trims U. C. L. A. as "Wow" Boys Do It Again

Montana Starts Copper League as Class D Circuit

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 4 (AP)—Montana will be represented in organized baseball next season for the first time since the World War.
Formation of the Copper League was carried out here Sunday with franchises authorized for Butte, Missoula, Great Falls and Billings. The other two franchises will probably be Anaconda and a combined Helena-East Helena club.
Temporary president of the Copper league is John Campbell, Missoula. Final organization will be made at Helena, Dec. 16, date on which franchise ballots are to be cast.

The league session was called by Hal Wood, Twin Falls, Idaho, sports writer who has acted as organizer since sanction of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Wood is holder of the Butte franchise.
Detroit Tigers and Brooklyn Dodgers were represented Sunday and both indicated they will place farm clubs in the league. Several other major league organizations, as well as Pacific coast teams, were also on hand but probably work out either farm set-ups or player agreements. Representing the Dodgers was Branch Rickey, Jr.
Wood said that a tentative schedule calls for 120 games. Season would open May 10. Games will be at night except on some Sundays and holidays.

Election Nears—So Mac Has A Campaign Speech for You!

By HENRY McLEMORE
CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—With election of a President of the United States coming up tomorrow, I have logically chosen to discuss the importance of the kick after touchdown in college football with you today.

If the number of campaign speeches I have been listening to lately happens to color my writing, please do not read sportswriters in mid-stream because I promise to straighten myself out later on. The Minnesota-Northwestern game here Saturday showed what can come of an unholy alliance between a coach who does not stress placement kicking and defeat. The two go hand in hand. It was by the narrow margin of a missed kick that Northwestern was beaten 12 to 13.

The Depress War
I hate war—I despise war. I don't want Northwestern's football dictator, Lynn Waldorf, to rise up in arms against me. But I must ask, as an American, if Northwestern's way of winning is not jeopardized by the fact that in his term of office his expenditures have not provided adequate protection against missed tries for the extra point?
Thomas Jefferson saw the danger in missed placement kicks. Nowhere in his writings will you find him

Hapless Idaho Gridders Eye Montana Clash

MOSCOW, Nov. 4 (Special)—Battered and bruised, the hapless Vandals of University of Idaho were back in their home jail today, determined to upset the odds and climb not only into the scoring but into the victory column against University of Montana Saturday.

They'll invade Missoula still smarting from the 26-0 lashing administered to Idaho Saturday by the Washington State college Cougars, traditional rivals. The defeat at Pullman kept the Vandal record "clear" of wins and scores.

Tough luck apparently blocked the Vandal chances to make things tough for W. S. C. Beall, quarterback, and Auffy, halfback, both went out of the game in the second quarter because of injured knees. Prior to that the Ted Bank eleven had been battling determinedly and had marched to the W. S. C. 20 on Auffy's pass to Chace Anderson. The Cougars lightened there and blocked the drive.

Alert Albion Eleven Tames Westminster

ALBION, Nov. 4 (Special)—The Panthers of Albion State Normal loomed today as just about the toughest outfit in junior college ranks after walloping the Parsons of Westminster college 26-0 in the Albion homecoming game Saturday.
Coach Orrin Collins and his players using the air lines with fling disregard for a gridiron drenched first in rain and then in snow, rolled up an impressive edge over the Utean collegians. Gains by way of the air totaled 116 yards as compared with a scant 10 yards by the visitors.

Albion marched to 200 yards from scrimmage to 118 for Westminster. Stating an amazing display of alert ball-handling, Albion recovered five of its own six fumbles and came up with the ball on each of the five fumbles by Westminster.
Adding a 10-pound average weight, the Panthers scored the first time before the initial quarter was well underway. Barrett, 18 yards off tackle for that one. Clayton took a 35-yard pass

Stanford Marvel Men, Seeking Bowl Bid, Face Huskies Next

By JAMES SULLIVAN
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Stanford will put its touchdown factory to work on University of Washington next Saturday, and the finished product may be a bid to the Rose bowl.

It seems the unbeaten Cardinals can do no wrong. Once every seven days in a football way, they pull a Dick Tracy coup d'etat. But Washington, beaten only by Minnesota and unscathed by any Pacific coast conference team, may be the team to crack the Stanford Achilles heel.

Frankie Albert and his Stanford men had to conjure some fancy playing last Saturday to subdue UCLA-Jackie Robinson 20-14.

SCOREBOARD

Southern California, which also had an open date last Saturday, meets University of California at Los Angeles in a game with scant significance as far as the conference outcome is concerned. California was defeated 19-12 by Oregon State at Berkeley last Saturday.

O. S. C. Still in Race

Oregon State, which kept alive its aspirations with the win over California, tackles next Washington State college at Corvallis next week-end. Washington State trounced Idaho 20-0. U. C. L. A. takes on Oregon, which posted a 3-0 lead over Montana, Idaho plays Montana next Saturday at Missoula.

On Sunday, Santa Clara university will play University of San Francisco 7-0 at Kezar stadium before 15,000 fans. St. Mary's college trounced Portland university at Portland, 23-13.

UISB Meets Tartar In Weber Club; Los by 27-19

FOCATELLO, Nov. 4 (AP)—After a double-headers of a surprising alert and powerful Weber college team at Ogden stadium Saturday night. The Tartar team, coached by Guy Wickes, Southern Oregon State, threw back things easy to say before coming into heavy duties in the club with Montana State. The Tartar team, which was coached by Focatello, ran into a tartar at Ogden. The Weber eleven scored twice in the first quarter and maintained a ground and aerial offense that held the Tartars in check for three quarters. The Tartars came to life in the third quarter, using tricky punting plays and aerials to count two touchdowns. But Weber's lead was not to overcome by them and the Tartars counted in to victory.

Ray Freeman, Negro star of the Weber club, was the big gun of the day, scoring two times and tossing a bullet pass to Clark for another touchdown.

The Idahoites in the final period reached pay dirt twice, when Dickman scored on a spinner and when Galtner threw a seven-yard pass to Wick.

Utes Stamped Colorado to Win Spotlight

BY STAN DECKER
SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4 (AP)—Colorado university's Golden Buffaloes today worked out minus their regular manes following a surprise stampede Saturday at hands of the University of Utah football team, which overnight became the No. 1 eleven in the Big Bear conference by trimming the buds, 21-13.

The Dites wore their most colorful headsets in the only other contest appeared to have won at and appear to share in conference honors after passing through their toughest stretch of the season with but one loss.

Although they stood tied with Utah in the spot stage in the race, Colorado still had two worthy hurdles to face before they could claim even a share in honors for the season. Meanwhile, Denver university and Brigham Young university—two teams yet to meet Colorado—still held mathematical chances of ending up even with Utah.

Brigham Young university led its team in the only other conference game of the week-end. The Cougars pushed over two touchdowns to beat Utah State, 12-7, and established themselves in a tie for third place.

The conference race enters the stretch drive this week, with Utah alone in the top four, apparently facing their easiest games of the season. The Utes had only Colorado State and Wyoming to face, the latter this week-end at Laramie, Wyo.

Colorado faces the skyrocketing Missouri eleven this week-end.
