England Mourns Loss of Neville Chamberlain

State Funeral Set For Top Backer of 'Appeasement' Plan

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—A state funeral was planned today for former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who in 1938 assured Great Britain of "peace in our time" and in 1939 led Britain into war.

Chamberlain died "peacefully" at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in his country home in Hampshire while German air raiders were winging their way over Hampshire's neatly mown fields for their nightly attack on London.

Chamberlain had been gravely ill for days at Heckfield house, near Oxtand. His walls had been camouflaged, but several German bombs had dropped nearby.

Chamberlain was 71. A tired and ailing man, he severed all connection with the government on Oct. 3 and retired to await death, unable to live for the outcome of the war he had hoped to prevent by appeasing the dictators.

Most government leaders and newspapers stressed the tremendous responsibility which weighed upon Chamberlain during his "era of appeasement" and his subsequent bitter disappointment. The newspapers made no attempt to suppress condemnation of Chamberlain's policy which led to the historic Munich agreement, but emphasized that whatever was history's verdict regarding the wisdom of his policy, there could be no doubt of his noble, integrity, honesty and devotion to duty.

Chamberlain was interred with flags at half mast and many persons wearing black armbands.

"I am quite certain the sympathy of the whole country will be with Mrs. Chamberlain in her grief," said David Lloyd George, the World War prime minister who had succeeded Chamberlain in his national government as director of national service.

"The world he knew will never return," Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said. "I feel his passing will be looked upon as the passing of an age."

Chamberlain had firmly believed Adolf Hitler would keep the promise he made in Munich in September, 1938. He came back to London and said, "I have brought back a peace with honor." He carried a copy of an agreement signed by himself and Hitler which told of the demand of his two peoples never to go to war with one another again.

Chamberlain was popular then and it remained so until German armies overran Czechoslovakia, Poland and Finland, Britain then chose to fight and Chamberlain, explaining his declaration of war, said on Sept. 3, 1939: "You can imagine how I felt when I was told of all my long struggles to win 'peace has failed.'"

Chamberlain's cabinet, composed of government "non-appeasers," appointed post and led the empire in the struggle which succeeded in driving the Germans out of Norway, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and France. He resigned as prime minister in favor of Winston Churchill on May 10, when Germany invaded the low countries. He said then, "As long as I believed there was any chance of preserving peace honorably, I strove to take it. When the last hope vanished, I was forced to no longer be avoided, I strove against hard to wage it with all my might."

Legion Leader Calls for Unity to Save Democracy

Declaring that American democracy is once more on trial and that the people of the United States, in defense of their homes and their beliefs, must unite "with that same singleness of purpose for which our forefathers fought in 1776 and for which many of our brothers-in-arms died in 1917," W. W. Thomas, commander of the Twin Falls post of the American Legion, spoke at Armistice day exercises this morning.

VETERAN NEVADA STATESMAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Death of Chairman Key Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee was expected today to lead to stronger administration demands for adjournment of congress this week.

Pittman's successor as foreign relations chairman, the most important committee post in the senate—may go to Sen. Walter F. George, D. Ga. Sen. Pat Harrison, Miss., ranking Democrat on the committee, telegraphed from his Mississippi home he would retain chairmanship of the finance committee and predicted George, who follows him in seniority, would win Pittman's post "unanimously."

Vacancy Won't Be Filled. Pittman's post as president pro-tempore of the senate probably will not be filled until the new congress meets in January. Before Pittman met his death Sen. William F. King, D. Va., as acting president pro-tempore.

Administration leaders have been trying to get the present session of congress which began last May, 1939, but Republicans have insisted they remain on the job.

The death of Speaker William D. Bankhead was attributed in many circles to overwork during the long session. Sen. George W. Norris, Pittman's colleague, is confined to a Naval hospital here by an illness which his doctors say was caused by overwork.

Huge Oil Fields Blaze Following Gigantic Shock

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 11 (AP)—Two new earth shocks rocked Bucharest today, bringing new terror to those who had escaped death in Rumania's most devastating earthquake since 1802.

Officials estimated 1,000 persons had been killed and between 3,000 and 4,000 injured in the earthquake which occurred early Sunday morning. Two more shocks were felt at midnight and two more today.

There were no casualties as a result of the new shocks, but thousands rushed wildly into streets and parks. Authorities pleaded with the throngs to return to their homes and employers urged workers to report to their jobs. Thousands living on upper floors packed their belongings and began seeking safer lodgings.

The new shocks came as the government sought to determine the casualties from the Sunday earthquake which left many towns and villages in ruins. Authorities pleaded with the throngs to return to their homes and employers urged workers to report to their jobs. Thousands living on upper floors packed their belongings and began seeking safer lodgings.

Only western Rumania was spared. Many towns and villages were in ruins and their living and uninjured inhabitants took to the fields fearful of recurring quakes. Many buildings in Bucharest were shaken and at least 200 were killed or hopelessly trapped when the 11-story Carlton apartment building collapsed.

The oil fields of eastern Rumania which produce large amounts of oil for the German armistice and the Soviet Union have suffered. In some districts great fires still were burning and German military forces were actively attempting to bring them under control.

Disruption of communications made it difficult for officials to estimate casualties or damage. Officials said reports from many outlying districts told of entire villages devastated. In some areas there was low in comparison to the damage. Campina, an oil town, was reduced to rubble but only four persons were reported dead there.

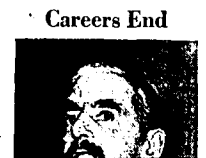

Greatest Damage. Greatest damage was reported in Galatz, Rumania's chief Danube port; Buzau, a thriving town of 30,000 persons chiefly engaged in the lumber and oil trade; Ploesti, center of the chief oil district in the Balkans; and Iasi, Romania. Ploesti and Pochani, the large oil companies such as Astra Romana, Romano-Americana, Unirea, Concordia and Redona, have refineries in the Ploesti district. If fire brigades do not soon cope with the fires, the damage would be incalculable and might seriously interfere with Germany's war machine.

The earthquake shock every building in Bucharest, including the United States legation. The Carlton apartment was one of the largest and most modern buildings in Bucharest and about 500 persons lived there. It collapsed after the first shock at 3:39 a. m. Sunday.

Three thousand persons were rescued from the Carlton ruins after all hope had been abandoned for the lives trapped. The bodies have been recovered from the ruins early this morning.

Roosevelt Faces Third Term As Most Powerful President

By BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON—He is being riding triumphantly into his third term, President Roosevelt carries with him more actual, concrete power than any President in American history. He is riding the prestige that goes with his smashing of the third-term tradition and his victory at the polls, and consider only black-and-white laws.

These are in literal fact what some of them has often been called—blank checks, signed and counter-signed by the congress, giving the President power to go practically anywhere he may wish with the foreign and domestic affairs of the nation.

Some of these powers were voted to him last summer. Others are holdovers from the early days of the New Deal. Still others come down from laws passed long before Mr. Roosevelt came to office. Probably it is fair to say that no one in Washington knows precisely how many of them there are and how far they go.

Along with the powers goes a vast amount of authority over a sphere congress has always jealously considered its own—the public purse. In any survey of the vast powers held by the President today, affecting money must get first consideration.

Money—and More Money
For example: The President has complete control over a stabilization fund of $2,000,000,000.

He can devalue the dollar at any time he chooses. He can print $3,000,000,000 in greenbacks.

He can fix the value of the silver dollar at any ratio he wishes, and may lay down the rules under which gold can be acquired, held, imported or exported.

In addition, he has $250,000,000 in cash at his disposal. The army and navy appropriation bills of last June set up an emergency fund of $100,000,000 for the President to use as he saw fit to provide for emergencies "affecting the national security and the public interest."

A supplemental defense appropriation bill passed in September gives the President another $100,000,000 for defense housing. Slightly less than $40,000,000 of this has been advanced to the Federal Works Agency, and the president will get this money back from the ward and navy departments.

Lastly, there is $50,000,000 which the president may spend on supplies of food, medicines and other necessities for refugees and war victims, to be distributed by the Red Cross. Only a few hundred thousands of this have been spent to date.

All this is only a starter. Power Grants Has Lawyers Guessing
Last July congress passed an act to expedite the national defense. This empowers the president, through the Federal Works Agency, to build and operate factories for the manufacture of military equipment, supplies and munitions. Under this the president could put the government into the munitions business—or the airplane manufacturing business, or indeed into practically any other business affecting national defense.

This same law then goes on to make an amazing grant of power which has the lawyers guessing but looks like authorization to do practically anything. It simply empowers the President "to provide for emergencies affecting the national security."

He can control stabilization fund of $2,000,000,000.
He can devalue the dollar any time.
He can print $3,000,000,000 in greenbacks.
He can fix the value of the silver dollar at any time.
He has $250,000,000 in cash on hand.
He can commandeer factories for war production.
He can issue priorities on defense production.
He can control the railroads in an emergency.
He can control radio if nation is in danger.
He can control and regulate foreign exchange and transfers of credit.
He can control and regulate foreign trade by embargoes, the export of any commodities he deems necessary to the national defense.
He can control and regulate foreign exchange and transfers of credit.

KILLER GUARDED AGAINST WRATH

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (UP)—Thomas Conroy, the "friendless family" who strangled 10-year-old Genevieve Connolly and burned her, possibly while still alive, in a tenement house furnace, was guarded closely today against the wrath of the neighborhood.

A grim, whispering crowd tolled around the Bronx borough police station where he was held last night and one man hurled a brick through the station window. Another crowd collected outside the tenement where 38-year-old Conroy was in jail, police officers after ashes from the furnace, recovering sufficient bones to confirm the child's death.

Conroy had confessed that he killed the shy and beautiful child of Robert and Mary Connolly, whom he had known back in Athol, West Meath county, Ireland, and who had taken him into their home for meals many times last January when he was ill and out of work. He said he had seduced the girl as she passed the tenement Wednesday evening after visiting a playmate, had fondled and kissed her against her will, and had carried her to the basement and disposed of her for fear she would tell her parents. He denied that he had raped her.

First World War Was Not in Vain, President Tells Soldiers

CHIEF EXECUTIVE PUTS WREATH ON ARLINGTON TOMB

BY T. F. REYNOLDS
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today the men who suffered and died in 1917 and 1918 were not sacrificed in vain and stated his faith that democracy, the "new order of the ages" will survive the present era of modern feudalism and dictatorship.

The President spoke at the Arlington national cemetery amphitheater after a solemn ceremony in which he placed a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier.

He called for elimination of aggressive armaments, breaking down barriers in a more united world; restoration of the honor of the written and spoken word and improvement of the processes of democracy.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke amidst a new war raging 22 years after the first World War terminated in the 1918 armistice. But he said a century from now historians will brand as "vain and false" efforts to convince the world that the blood sacrifices of the first World War were "wholly in vain."

"Won't Be Snuffed Out"
 "I, for one, do not believe that the era of democracy in human affairs can or will be snuffed out in our lifetime," he said.

"I, for one, do not believe that mere force will be successful in sterilizing the seeds which have taken such firm root as a harbinger of better lives for mankind.

"I, for one, do not believe that the world will revert either to a modern form of ancient slavery or to controls vested in modern feudalism or modern emperors or modern dictators or modern oligarchs in these days.

"The very people under their iron heels will themselves rebel, he said.

"Intend to Continue"
 "We, alive today, not in the existing democracies alone but also among the populations of the smaller nations already overrun, are thinking in the larger terms of the maintenance of the new order to which we have been accustomed and in which we intend to continue."

Mr. Roosevelt said that despite the travail in the world today mankind still recognizes the eternal verities that lie with us in the future of man.

"You, the men of 1917 and 1918, helped to preserve those truths of democracy for our generation," Mr. Roosevelt said. "We still will, we still strive mightily to preserve intact that new order of the ages which the first world war helped to bring about."

Mr. Roosevelt traced the beginnings of orderly government from the days of the democracy of the ancient Greeks, through the imperialism of the Roman dictators, the Crusades, the feudalism of the middle ages, the Renaissance and down to the time when the American colonies rebelled against Great Britain and still live in the age of our revolutionary government.

Free Development
 "Those beginnings of democracy found their freest development in the colonies that were organized along the seaboard of north America," he said. "There, by the process of trial and error, democracy as it has since been accepted in so many lands, had its birth and its training."

"There came into being the first far-flung government in all the world whose cardinal principle was democracy—the United States of America."

The march of democracy led by America and the British Isles, Mr. Roosevelt said, had its first great challenge in 1914 and it bucked the challenge back.

HUGE ASSEMBLY LINE ADVOCATED

DETROIT (AP)—Regional Director Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers (UAW) has advanced a plan to utilize surplus facilities of the automotive industry in one vast assembly and manufacturing unit to produce 500 fighting planes a day.

Reuther said he believed such an industrial unit could attain the 500 plane per day schedule within six months after automobile companies had pooled their surplus capacities.

He disclosed the proposal had been presented to Washington officials a few months ago. Reuther, a member of the national advisory committee on industrial training, said a plan for automobile manufacturers to break a bottleneck in airplane production by supplying necessary parts, tools, and dies is a step in the right direction, but it doesn't go far enough.

"They consider the automobile industry as a supplier of parts to be shipped to aircraft manufacturers to assemble," he said, "while the basis of the plan I submitted was that the entire job be done by the automobile industry, including assembling of the finished product."

HAWKS MENACE FLIGHT OF BIRDS

DALHART, Tex. (AP)—Ducks and geese which once came by the hundreds of thousands to the wildlife refuge on the famous XIX ranch are falling prey to vicious hawks.

Mrs. R. L. Duke established the refuge at Buffalo Springs north of here, when her husband was general overseer of XIX, at one time a 2,000-acre ranch. The refuge was operated in the early 30's and nearly a million ducks and geese stopped there on their migrations annually.

Their protection ended when Mrs. Duke left the ranch after her husband's death. The pools remain and the birds continued to stop there.

The chicken hawks, fierce fighters of the pluck, now have made Buffalo Springs their headquarters.

Albert Law, who observed the predatory hawks in action at the site of the former game refuge, believes their kill this fall has been "at least 1,000 ducks and geese."

Only two out of 16,000 British soldiers were known to have escaped alive in the annihilation of the British army in Khyber Pass in 1912.

MICHIGAN'S AIR BASE EXPANDED

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—With 72 buildings under construction, at an estimated cost of $234,000, and a new fleet total of 135 planes of all descriptions, the base is now in the midst of its greatest expansion program since the World War.

The army air post has a new peak in personnel—160 officers and 3,000 enlisted men—and facilities are being constructed to accommodate a projected staff of 5,100.

Indicative of the speed of expansion is a recent announcement that the 31st pursuit group, organized last spring, will soon be sent to Fort Wayne, Ind. to organize two new groups, which in turn will be sent to Palm Beach, Fla.

In addition to the physical equipment of the post is a new fleet of swift Curtiss P-40 pursuit planes, the first delivery of new combat equipment in two years. Powered by 1,200-horsepower Allison liquid-cooled motors, the single-seater pursuit ships have a top speed of 350 miles an hour.

The local fleet of P-40 fighters is part of a contingent of 200 planes of this type recently delivered to various pursuit squadrons. More than 1,000 of these planes are now on order with the Curtiss-Wright Corporation of Buffalo, N. Y.

SWOPE RETURNS TO JUSTICE POST

Twin Falls will return in January to the justice of the peace alignment it had prior to an upset in the 1938 general election. It was shown today in official canvass results of Tuesday's balloting.

Guy T. Swope, Democrat, defeated in 1938 in a Republican sweep, returns to office as one of the two Twin Falls justices. The other is veteran H. M. Holler, who was re-elected by Republicans Tuesday.

Holler, in addition to his justice post, is the oldest U. S. commissioner in the nation.

Swope will replace H. N. Boland, now inactive. The Democratic total for Mr. Swope was 3,970. Holler received 4,601 G.O.P. votes.

Charles W. Ronk, sr., was re-elected as Twin Falls constable over L. F. Morse, Democrat, 4,044 votes to 3,729.

Results elsewhere in the county showed that two districts which have heretofore had only one justice elected two in the 1940 balloting. They are Castleford and Filer.

At Filer John H. Hinton, Democratic incumbent, was re-elected with 757 votes and Leo Hoover was elected with six write-in votes if he cares to take the office. There were 41 scattered votes for other write-ins.

Nihart Re-elected
At Castleford Mel Nihart, Democrat, was re-elected with 285 votes and Fred Pinkston, Republican, also won office with a higher total—224 votes. Nihart is the incumbent.

Heretofore the Twin Falls, Buhl and east end justice districts have had two incumbents but Castleford and Filer have only had one, according to Precinct Exam 14, Tuesday. Under Section 33-207, however, each justice district may elect two and if they are so elected they may qualify and serve.

Davis P. Hatch, incumbent Republican constable at Filer, was re-elected with 1,004 votes. He had no declared opposition but there were 14 scattered votes for write-ins. At Castleford Charles Perkins, Republican, was re-elected constable with 301 votes. There were 19 write-in ballots for others.

A veteran east end justice was swept out of office in the Tuesday election, canvass returns reveal. He is L. E. Ward, Democrat, whose 1,048 votes trailed the 1,186 given Floyd Wilson, Democrat, and the 1,111 received by James Mathews, Republican. John Ogg received 133 write-ins and there were 16 other scattered votes.

Elias Olveta, incumbent Democrat constable, defeated Josh Eller, Republican, by 1,198 to 990.

Both west end justices were re-elected at Buhl. They are Robert H. Stewart and Charles Coker, both Democrats. Stewart received 1,753 and Coker 1,747 votes. C. E. Rudy, Republican, trailed with 1,513. There were 17 scattered write-ins.

Constable Upset
The west end precinct constable was upset, however, when Roy Shaver, Democrat, won 1,671 votes to 1,571 for Oliver Marsden, incumbent Republican.

In the Hollister precinct, which had not qualified any justices after the 1938 election, two were elected Tuesday. They are E. Labrop, Republican, and D. Hepstock, Democrat, who won posts if they wish to qualify and serve. Labrop received 191 votes and Hepstock 185. N. W. Smit, Democrat, had 163.

A. B. Dobbs, Republican, won the constable post over Elmo Farras, Democrat, by 188 to 179. Four votes went to scattered write-ins.

Leaders Deny Plans Threat In Span Deal

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 11 (AP)—The state toll bridge authority today by inference denied it had been forced by federal financing agencies to accept certain plans on Tacoma Narrows bridge which later proved faulty and led to its collapse.

In a prepared statement issued out of the office of Gov. Clarence D. Martin, its chairman, the authority said:

"We have in the past enjoyed the fullest cooperation of federal agencies involved in the Tacoma narrows bridge project and we have fullest confidence that we will continue cooperation by all concerned in the problems now before us."

Clark Eldridge, resident engineer of the bridge, charged yesterday the state had been required to accept plans drafted by an eastern engineering firm. He asserted it had to use the plans in order to get a federal PWA grant and an RFC loan.

Mac Rates Kimbrough Performance As One of Greatest Thrillers

By HENRY McLEMORE
DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP)—To a man whose hair is beating a strategic retreat toward the nape of his neck, whose weight is something that makes airline clerks take reassuring glances toward the wings of their planes, and whose blood pressure is two notches higher than that of a cobra in high anger, John Kimbrough furnishes quite a thrill.

He is all of the mad all of us would like to be.

He has the size, the speed, the power, and the stamina that—well, that you'd like to have just as much as I would.

Sixty minutes of punishing football is as nothing to him. He had my glasses on him when the final whistle of the Aggie-E. M. U. game sounded last Saturday, and he looked downright sorry. The solid hour of bumping and banging and hammering and jolting hadn't affected him a bit. He was dancing around on his toes when the finish came, handling his 222 pounds of muscle as if he were a ballet dancer. There was a grin on his face, and for a moment he thought he might appeal to the officials to let the teams play a while longer, just for the fun of rough, tough, physical contact.

Quite a football fellow, Kimbrough. The performance he put on in the Aggie game with the Mustangs gave him a place alongside the real champions in my book. In two or three minutes he gave a one-man show that matched Jesse Owen's work at Berlin in the 1936 Olympics. Seabiscuit's victory in the Santa Anita handicap, Andy Pulner's run in the never-to-be-forgotten Ohio State-North Dakota game, and Billy Capistrano's bold mad dash in the 1932 winter games at Lake Placid.

The score was tied at 7-7 when Kimbrough took the game into his own hands. The field was muddy and slippery, the E. M. U. defense was massed to meet him, but he asked for the ball and went to work. Seven times he rumbled and roared into the E. M. U. line. Sev-

BOISE SKI AREA READY FOR USE

SIDE GLANCES
By Galbraith HOLD EVERYTHING

BOISE, Nov. 11 (UP)—Boise's new winter playground—the Bogus basin area—will be opened this winter and the road into it will be kept clear of snow, forest service officials announced this week.

The project, started two years ago, is not yet complete but WPA and CCC workers have finished enough of the road to assure entry for the skiers. Forest Ranger Frank J. Girard said. Skiers will probably have to hike about a mile into the area where all runs have been laid.

Tentative plans call for a temporary ski lift to be installed and for a permanent lift to be built next year.

About ten inches of soft snow fell last week and skiing at the new playground is expected to start within the next few weeks.

Appropriations for the project were received about two years ago. Civic organizations sponsored the program.

The highway to the new recreation center winds about 18 miles through the hills north of Boise.

"Pop, Mom says you'd better tackle the school board for that raise she's gonna get you for a goal!"

Stagehand Retired By Owner Howard

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 11 (UP)—Maxwell Howard's Stagehand, who rocketed to turf fame two years ago when he captured the $50,000 Santa Anita derby and the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap within two weeks, was retired permanently today and will be sent to stud.

Trainer Earl Sande said he had abandoned attempts to bring the five-year-old son of Blue back into training. Stagehand was injured at Hialeah over the winter of 1939 and never has recovered.

Ruth Rogers Tops Ladies' Bowling Loop

Semi-Pro Baseball Teams Increase

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 11 (Special)—Semi-pro baseball teams increased 1 per cent over last year. States the latest survey, according to figures being released in the 1941 national semi-pro baseball guide, scheduled for the press Jan. 1.

Total number of teams over the U. S. for the coming season will be 65,000, according to the prediction of Fredrick Guy, director of the National Semi-Pro Baseball congress in this publication.

The new guide shows that 60,000 clubs started play at the beginning of the 1940 season, preceding the district-state and national tournament program that was championed by Emil (Okla.) Champlin, winners of the national tournament at Wichita, Kan., beating Guyanma, P. R., for the semi-pro world's championship.

Included among the features of the guide are the latest revised playing rules of baseball, scoring
