52 Die as Early Winter Closes in On United States

By United Press
Snow and freezing temperatures clamped most of the nation in a wintry grip today as destructive gales which left at least 62 persons dead in the Midwest battered furiously at the eastern seaboard.

Winter's early invasion was the most severe in decades, causing uncounted millions of dollars' property damage across a broad belt of the central and southern sectors in addition to the heavy toll of human lives.

And the force of the storm—a terrifying compound of wind, snow and cold—was not over. Fifty-mile-an-hour winds tore at property in New England and the middle Atlantic states as temperatures dropped to freezing levels, icy squalls and snow pounded at the Rocky mountain region for the fourth day.

Only the southern Pacific coastal area escaped the storm's wrath, which swept in from the extreme northwest five days ago and moved to a easterly course southerly, then northeasterly across the nation—springing only isolated spots.

Continued Cold
The U. S. weather bureau at Chicago forecast continued cold, with snow flurries and frosty winds in the north central states. The outlook along the coast was for a cold, with snow flurries and frosty winds in the north central states. The outlook along the coast was for a cold, with snow flurries and frosty winds in the north central states.

11 DIE IN EAST POWDER BLASTS

Although the Woodbridge plant is a small one-made up of buildings scattered, one-story structures—the detonation there was terrific and was felt sharply even at Jersey City, 20 miles away. Motorists driving in Staten Island, across Raritan bay, felt their cars jerk from the ground.

The Edinburg blast took place in the Burton explosives division of the plant. The workers were killed when dynamite they were packing in the gelatin tank house exploded. The 600-square foot building was shattered. Authorities believe an intricate chain of events led to the 100-odd men employed at the plant—apart from the three dead—had been victims.

The Edinburg plant makes commercial explosives only and it was believed no government orders on hand. The three victims were packing the dynamite into wrappers when the blast took place.

The Edinburg plant is a small building. The Allentown explosion occurred in the cap plant, a one-story building where detonators for blasting are made. Company officials said they "doubted" that sabotage was involved. Both the FBI and state police began inquiries. The work had no connection with the Edinburg explosion and plant officials believed the blast might have been accidental.

Jack Natrop, home address unknown, died in the city hall last night where it was warm. Police received a call at 6:13 p. m. to the effect the man was attempting to start a fire in a box near the Idaho Bank and Elevator company warehouse.

The officers picked him up and gave him a bed in jail for the night, opining that it was better to do this than to have the man burn down the warehouse in attempting to keep warm during the night.

GIGANTIC PRISON BREAK THWARTED

CANON CITY, Colo., Nov. 12 (AP)—Warden Roy Best said today a possible wholesale prison break attempt had been thwarted by premature explosion of a crude dynamite bomb in a cellhouse at the Colorado penitentiary which killed two convicts.

The bomb exploded today as 23 convicts fled back to their second tier cells after breakfast in the prison dining hall. The two men killed, both long term convicts, were Eugene Milliken, 35, of Denver and James Valmino of Colorado Springs.

Warden Best said an investigation showed Milliken—who worked in the prison salt quarry—had made the bomb with stolen dynamite and a lead pipe.

Commander Marshall will be accompanied by other departmental officials. They will go from here to Pocatello, Idaho Falls and Preston for similar meetings.

5th Column

By NORMAN CHANDLER Chairman, Newspaper Publishers Committee

YOU and Mrs. J. Smatherington

Brown may be surprised to learn that you personally are giving aid and comfort to fifth columnists.

Here's how it happens: Yesterday's papers duly announced that Such-and-Such Civic Betterment Association would meet tonight at This-or-That school auditorium.

Tomorrow's papers will record the fact that the meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. Smatherington Brown and that the eminent Dr. Fuzzy of the Gloom School of Economics spoke at length on the theme that "advertising is a waste of money."

The newspapers must report such things. It is the job of a free press to keep you informed accurately of what is going on in the world. How else would you learn the facts by which you, citizens in a democracy, are able to govern yourselves?

But let's get back to the fifth column. Mrs. Brown also learned from today's papers that a new-model radio set, better than last year's, can be had for $3.95 less. She also learned that Blimp's Store was offering sheets at 20¢ under the regular price and that the Nifty Grocery and Fruit Markets could save her 40¢ on her food purchases this afternoon.

All this Mrs. Brown learned from the same newspapers which announce and reports her meeting. And, having just saved about $5 by reading today's

BURLEY MEETING SET FOR SCOUTS

Complete plans for the "green bar" conference of Scout leaders which will be held at Burley Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23, were announced here this afternoon by Gordon D. Day, executive of the Snake River area council.

Day said that the conference will be for those who wear "green bars" in each troop with the exception of assistant patrol leaders. Attending will be patrol leaders, junior assistant leaders, senior patrol leaders, scribes and quartermasters.

"This is an opportunity for all the junior leaders in the troop to get together with other junior leaders of the council and discuss problems and program pertinent to the patrol and the troop," Day said.

He pointed out that Scouts of Burley will provide sleeping accommodations for out-of-town Scouts who arrive Friday evening. The Friday evening meal and Saturday breakfast will also be furnished out-of-town Scouts by the Burley Scouts. The conference will close Saturday evening in time for all Scouts to return to their homes by noon.

Registrations for the conference must be at the council offices in the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company building, Twin Falls, not later than Saturday, Nov. 16.

Day pointed out that Scouts are invited to attend any or all of the sessions, and added: "It may be possible to arrange for housing for these from out-of-town, however, if possible, the Scouters should arrange to take care of their own housing and meals."

Last Call Comes To Aged Resident

Mrs. Henrietta Woods, 80, 752 Main avenue north, died at 2:45 a. m. today following a month's illness. A resident of Twin Falls since 1908, she came to Idaho from Shelton, Nev.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Reynolds funeral home chapel, Rev. L. D. White, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Her husband, Thomas Woods, preceded her in death in May, 1923.

SPUD QUALITY IS RATED AS BEST

BOISE, Nov. 12 (AP)—E. M. Pettygrove, state commissioner of agriculture, said today the Idaho potato crop this season is the best, from the standpoint of quality, that has been for a number of years.

State potato growers enjoyed a crop of peculiarly good growing season, he said. Weather was favorable from time of planting until harvesting started.

He said there was no way of determining how the crop compared in size to crops of previous years until figures are available on the number of carloads shipped.

Compared to other farm products, the prevailing potato prices are normal, he said. Growers are getting from 55 to 60 cents a hundred for their crops.

Recent frosts have done little damage to farm crop, except to the few acres of unpicker lettuce and to sugar beets still in the ground.

She was the mother of nine children, three of whom survive. They are Ralph Woods, San Jose, Calif.; and Mark and George Woods, Twin Falls. Six grandchildren also survive.

CASSIA RECALLS WORLD WAR END

BURLEY, Nov. 12 (Special)—Despite snowy weather, members of the American Legion Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Disabled American Veterans, along with local citizens, gathered Monday on the courthouse lawn before the memorial honoring the soldiers from Cassia county who died in the World War, to celebrate the anniversary of the Armistice.

Commander O. B. Parrott of the Spanish-American War Veterans was master of ceremonies. The flag-raising ceremony was staged, the "silent hour" observed, and the sounding of taps concluded the program.

The American Legion held its annual banquet at 7 p. m. with all veterans as guests.

Infant Succumbs

JEROME, Nov. 12 (Special)—Donald Eugene Miller, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Miller, died Monday at 12:15 p. m. at the home of the parents. He was born June 22, 1940. The parents, both the maternal and paternal grandparents, and one brother, Richard, survive.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Wiley funeral home chapel, Rev. W. F. Wills, Presbyterian minister, in charge.

paper, tonight she will thank Dr. Fuzzy warmly for his "splendid contribution to American thought!"

Hogwash! In America we have devised mass production, which is just a way of saying that, despite the fact that ten men have jobs in automobile factories today where one worked in 1915, you get twice as much car for your money now. Dr. Fuzzy will ride to the meeting in such a product.

In America we have devised mass distribution, too, which is to say that by advertising all the good and cheap products we make, a hundred people can learn about them for the cost of telling one person by any other method.

What we are getting at is this: You taxpayers are "hiring the hall" for Dr. Fuzzy's vaporing tonight. You are, in many, many such meetings, paying his salary, too, because there are thousands of people in public life whom the Communists and their fellow travelers are using.

Dr. Fuzzy will be indignant about this. He thinks he has the right to his own opinions. Granted. And your papers will go right on reporting both the Dr. Fuzzys and the Mr. Clears—whatever they say.

But it is up to you, a free, self-governing citizen, to accept the sound and reject the false. You can believe, if you wish, that American mass production and American advertising and the American way of making a living are no good. Stalin believes that. And Hitler believes it.

You can decide that you are tired of using the American system to make the money to support the Fuzzys and the rest of the fifth columnists who are spreading the doctrines of the Communists, the dictators and the crackpots.

But remember one thing clearly. You will cease to have any choice in the matter if you ever let your newspapers fall into the hands of the Dr. Fuzzys. If that happens, you'll hear only what they think you ought to hear.

NOTE: The purpose of these regular Tuesday institutional advertisements is to make American Life and American Business better. Your suggestions, criticisms or corrections will be appreciated by the Newspaper Publishers Committee and its chairman. Address the committee in care of the Business Office of this paper.

Inside Pan-Americanism

We of the United States usually think of Pan Americanism in terms of our relations with the remainder of the Americas. But there is more to it than that.

For instance: Argentina and Brazil have recently perfected some intimate and effective trade agreements; Argentina and Chile are discussing similar measures. President Vargas of Brazil is planning joint action by all countries affected to develop the Amazon basin.

This knitting-together of the American countries is certain to influence United States relations with them. In some cases bi-lateral agreements have been made which to some extent go against the Hull multi-lateral principle.

Both these things might result. But offsetting them is an advantage. If these countries become less dependent on the United States in a trade way, they also become less dependent on Europe.

Further, the more they can find ways to use up one another's surpluses, the less of a problem those surpluses are, which is good for all the Western Hemisphere.

In short, the United States stands to gain from anything that helps to build sound governments and sound economies to the south, such as will be independent commercially as well as politically.

We must look at it that way, because flabby, insecure governments and economies to the south present the worst possible danger of foreign penetration, either military or economic followed by political and military.

Another Recruit

Cooperation with the government in the building of national defense is mounting day by day. We have already told of how General Electric has promised to undertake all normal risks in defense production, and in abnormal risks asks only to be guaranteed against loss.

Now Eastman Kodak steps up with a new approach to the question. It offers to refund voluntarily to the government "any profit it might make in excess of 10 per cent of cost."

Patriotism is not confined to the men who carry a gun. It is found in every walk of life. We know men who were killed by overwork in civilian war activities in 1918 just as surely as any man was killed by enemy bullets.

The Virtue of Patience

You may have heard the expression "The law's delay," included among life's trials by Hamlet in the famous Shakespeare soliloquy. But for free-style champion all-American delay, we know of nothing to touch this.

The U. S. Court of Claims, on May 8, 1940, reported to congress certain claims for indemnity as a result of "apollations by the French prior to July 31—1801."

Perhaps this is unjust. Perhaps some heir to an heir has only recently decided that his ancestor was "apollated." In either case, it has taken a phenomenal time to get this out-stretched palm properly before the desk in congress.

POT SHOTS WITH The Gentleman in the Third Row

Getting Wives Out of Their Epitaph Rut

Some few days ago one of our constituents asked if we couldn't add variety to the lives of bridge-players by suggesting that they place a few variations for use in their lives of "idiot" and "sap" when bubbling trumpets that are.

Recognizing that this public service would be a tremendous help to the Tattered Society of Husbandry in the Bridge Tables, Pot Shots hereby offers to the wives of Magic Valley a list they can copy and carry right along to the card party. The list should list wives and husbands out of the rut. We suggest instead of idiot and sap:

Niwl, slimplton, feck, wisecrass, willing, dizard, donkey, ass, niny, moor, off, boot, looby, hand, Buphlan, Casamand, bird, mopeen, infant, oaf, lobby, looby, leon, bursard, jobkhead, adidappa, dunderspate, jobkernowl, hollidier, dunc, peshon, bectic-puss, milksoop, toomfool, mug.

Buffon, marpl, fumbler, duffer, clown, swab, hick, yokel, but-ter-fingers, horse-marine, slater, backhiler, double-croser, clod, ram, mousa, lever.

Those ought to suffice for all you wives for this season or this bus-

Dear Third Row Gent.: I don't mind a little maquerading but some things, I think I'd like to see you do. As for instance, when this radio announcer Crabtree does stuff like this:

Chiming in with "Thank you, Mr. Kallenborn," after H. V. Kallenborn broadcasts from "Just like that" through it's quite some distance from Twin Falls to New York studio from which the commentator was speaking.

Playing a phonograph record of a Bing Crosby record on local station, and when the recording finishes, chiming in with: "Very nice, indeed." "Know, he and Bing 'Just like that'."

I'm writing now for the next first-class chat by FDR, after which the Bing Crosby record will pop up with "Thanks, Franklin, a nice little talk."

Bill and Bullethead Battle at the Dance; Buck Writes a Letter

CHARACTERISTICALLY, Julius Peakin kept Bill into the night of the dance. Hurrying to get ready, he had no chance to see the evening Clarion. He was in the bedroom knowing his tie when Buck whined to the doorway.

Crouched before the mirror, Bill shook his head. "Londis has been fired." "Say that again, Buck," Bill snapped.

Bill resigned following last night's defeat, Buck continued. "The man who takes his place has a rough road ahead. Two new dresses, Bill. You'll have to get ready for the first one!"

"With luck, do you?" "Could you do it, Buck?" "With luck, follow."

Bill looked doubtful. "I don't know." "Bill said impulsively, 'And when I see Dot?'" "Dot?" "Dot Skelton. I'm taking her to the dance."

Buck frowned. "Bill, you can't leave her alone. She'll have to be escorted. Bill's eyes flamed. Bill dashed for the door."

DOT swept down to meet Bill in a clinging black dress. She pirouetted for his approval, her Auburn hair glinting.

"It's pretty," Bill said morosely, thinking of another new dress. Dot wrinkled her nose. "Well, it's time to go. Dad's waiting at school buses. He said we could have the car and Northrup to drive us."

Bill limbed into the long black sedan, feeling out of place and uncomfortable. Dot smuggled him into a corner, but romance was not in the air. Bill and Dot talked only of Landis' dismissal.

Dot squeezed his hand. "I did that, though." "What?" "Last night, after the game, I talked to Father." Dot said

Hard knocks had taught Bill. He never tried to argue with those in authority. He turned toward the door. Outside, he was surprised to find Dot on his side. She took his arm and pressed close to him.

"Bill, you were marvelous! I'm just so proud of you. Every girl there was simply green with envy."

"Bill's face was grim. "Did you really think I could have done that? I like you so much better than Bullethead."

"After a thoughtful glance Bill said, 'I guess Bullethead had a right to be sore. Old man Peakin, too. I've got myself in a sweet jam.'"

"Nothing of the sort, Bill. I'll explain everything to Father."

"Will you?" Bill asked eagerly. "Will you be sure to get in bed with the board last night?" "Don't you worry, Bill. I've done things so far, haven't I?"

Buck didn't mention the party Sunday morning. He was engaged in some work and Bill spent most of the day reading. He didn't leave the house. It wasn't until late Sunday that Buck opened the subject. He sat at the table with his feet under the table.

Bruce Catton in Washington

By BRUCE CATTON: Events in Washington are being watched with keen interest to reestablish the federal government's power to "police" primary elections in the states.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—A legal battle to reestablish the federal government's power to "police" primary elections in the states is being launched by O. John Rogge, assistant U. S. attorney general.

Rogge is somewhat out of favor at the justice department, but not on the point of departure. Rogge is taking an appeal to the supreme court.

Should Rogge win this case, however, it would have the effect of swinging him back into the saddle. Rogge's sudden rise took the play away from him. If Rogge could null down the government's right to intervene in primaries he in turn would take the play away from Milligan.

Rumors have been current lately that Rogge will eventually be replaced, presumably by Milligan, sometime this winter, according to most predictions. Rogge is said to have displeased the administration during the summer, when as a special unit under Maurice M. Milligan, special assistant to the attorney general, he handled vote fraud cases. That previously had been strictly Rogge's field.

Should Rogge win this case, however, it would have the effect of swinging him back into the saddle. Rogge's sudden rise took the play away from him. If Rogge could null down the government's right to intervene in primaries he in turn would take the play away from Milligan.

Rogge hopes to get the court to reverse this ruling, on the ground that the civil liberties statute which provides penalties for persons who conspire to deprive a citizen of his legal rights can be applied to primary elections. This statute, passed shortly after the war, was to protect the new civil rights of southern Negroes, has been re-enacted and the New Deal was regarded as ineffective in cleaning up the Kansas City election fraud cases.

And in Springfield, Ill., the other day, Rogge took the trouble to deny that high politicians are being tried for the conduct of a grand jury there investigating alleged slush expenditures by public utility day, ending with the state registrar to influence rates and regulations.

Miss Allen Francis' seventh grade pupils entertained their mothers and the other classes of the junior high school building at the school Wednesday with a program "Out Where the West Begins." A five page play, "The West Begins," was presented. The children, and individual readings and musical numbers included all of the pupils of the class. Later afternoon, Mrs. Fred Pack and Mrs. Clyde Hawke were present.

Chapter O. P. E. O., met at the home of Mrs. Aurora Jones Thursday evening with the state registrar, Mrs. Helen Lee, Mountain Home, paid her official visit. Regular chapter work was presented. The local post of the American Legion gave a dance Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bumgarner Thursday with 34 present.

Mr. Dorothy Brandt returned to Ketchum Tuesday in time to vote. She had spent a month's vacation at Salt Lake City and Las Vegas. She will arrive at the latter place Saturday. Mrs. J. W. Bumgarner and Mrs. Elizabeth McNeese and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, and traveling to Mrs. Herbert Cooper.

Reviewer Finds Encouragement In Novel About Welsh Miners

Richard Lowellyn's novel, How Green Was My Valley, is an encouraging book to read, particularly now, as it reflects how such virtues as strength of character, sense of humor and faith in God, carry the Morgan family through unhappy economic times. Mrs. A. J. Peavey, jr., recommended this afternoon. She reviewed the "best seller" for members of the Drama and Literature department of the Twentieth Century club at the Idaho Power company auditorium. Mrs. A. A. Boston, department chairman, presided.

Miss Jessie Fraser, Twin Falls librarian, in a brief outline of "How to Read a Book," by Mortimer Adler, commented that the author stresses three points, but adds that he expects such an analytical perusal of books read for understanding only, such as volumes of philosophy.

"It is not necessary to read with such penetrating observation, books for information or recreation, such as fiction or poetry," the author points out.

Story of Welsh Miners

The Lowellyn novel presents a graphic picture of the development of unions and labor troubles in the coal mines of Wales, and takes the Morgan family and their nine children through 50 years of sickness, love and death.

"The wise, kind, God-fearing father, and the good, hard-working, irrepressible mother are an inspiration. But it is a book to be read slowly, so as to let the lines 'linger on the tongue,'" Mrs. Peavey told her audience.

She praised the author's power of description, commenting that such homely things as preparing a stew for Saturday night supper, or making toast at the fire place, become rare literary experiences.

Miss Fraser, at the conclusion of her review, invited the department to visit the Twin Falls public library during Good Book week, now in progress.

Smart Decorations

Silver tapers in low crystal holders, flanking a large cluster of silver-tipped grapes, rested at the other end of the table, which was covered with a snowy white cloth banded with silver ribbon. All arrangements were placed on silver dollies.

Here's How to Read Philosophy And Non-Fiction

Here's how Mortimer Adler thinks you should read "a book for understanding." This method of analysis he does not recommend for fiction, or poetry, for example, but for philosophy and such—yes!

1. Analysis of a book's structure.
2. Interpretation of a book's contents.
3. Criticism of a book as a communication of knowledge.

Classify the book according to kind and subject matter. State what the whole book is about with utmost brevity. Enumerate its major parts in their order and relation, and analyze these parts as you have analyzed the whole. Define the problem or problems the author is trying to solve.

Come to terms with the author by interpreting his basic words. Grasp the author's leading propositions through dealing with his most important sentences. Know the author's arguments by finding them in, or constructing them out of, sequences of sentences.

Determine which of his problems the author solves, and which he did not; and of the latter, decide which the author knew, he failed to solve.

Don't begin criticism until you have completed analysis and interpretation. Do not say you agree, disagree, or suspend judgment, until you can say, "I understand." Do not disagree disputatiously or contentiously. Respect the difference between knowledge and opinion, by having reasons for critical judgments.

Show wherein the author is uninformed. Show wherein the author is misinformed. Show wherein the author is illogical. Show wherein the author's analysis of account is incomplete.

Education Week Tea At Parochial School

An open house reception and tea will be held at St. Edward's school Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, from 7 to 9 o'clock, in observance of American Education week.

Hooray! Doughnuts!

GOLDEN-BROWN DOUGHNUTS

1 can melted Snowdrift
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk or buttermilk
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla or 1/4 tsp. nutmeg

4 cups all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
1 cup baking powder
1/2 tsp. cinnamon

Beat eggs until light and beat in sugar. Add melted Snowdrift, salt and nutmeg. Mix and stir dry ingredients; add one half to egg mixture and beat well. Add remaining dry ingredients. This makes soft dough. Chill. Roll on floured board to 1/2 inch thickness. Slip doughnuts out with cutter, and as soon as they are formed, drop into deep, hot Snowdrift (375° F.), and as soon as they rise to the surface, turn carefully and cook a golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper. Sugar, if desired, when slightly warm. Store in covered container.

You can depend on Snowdrift. It's made of the cream of pure vegetable oils. And it is Wasson-Creamed to give you smoother doughnuts—quicker-to-mix.

Anniversary, Family Reunion Celebrated

Members of the Lambing club assembled at the Park hotel Sunday afternoon for a 1 o'clock dinner. Ira S. Lambing, Long Beach, Calif., presiding as host. Mr. Lambing is the son of W. M. Lambing, well-known pioneer and prominent Mason of this vicinity, who was an honored guest at the dinner.

Also honored were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Preckel, who Sunday celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary. They were married Nov. 10, 1932, in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Preckel is a niece of Ira Lambing.

Other guests were George Siltzer, Blackfoot; Herbert Siltzer, Blackfoot; Bobby, Kimberly; Delbert Lambing, Castleford; Lloyd Lambing, Kimberly; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Miller and children and Mr. and Mrs. Harland Myers.

Early winter flowers in red and white, arranged in a crystal bowl on a reflector, formed the centerpiece for the dinner table.

Bridal Shower For Alta Curtis

BURL, Nov. 12 (Special) — In compliment to Miss Alta Curtis, who left Friday for Tacoma, Wash., where she will be married Nov. 16 to Wendell Gannon, formerly of Buhl, Mrs. Ray Banbury, Mrs. Bus Linsky, and Mrs. Roy Heyer entertained 20 guests at bridge and miscellaneous shower last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fall, on North Broadway.

The front rooms of the Fall home were lovely with many baskets and vases of colorful fall flowers and bright leaves, and the dining table was attractively centered with a chrysal bowl of white chrysanthemums.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening. Mrs. Clara Gannon and Mrs. Percy Heffelfinger winning prizes. After refreshments, the many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the honoree.

Helen Perchal Is Bride of R. Peck At Home Nuptial

Miss Helen Perchal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Perchal, and Robert Peck, son of George Peck, all of Twin Falls, were united in marriage Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Mark C. Gronenberger, Christian church pastor, officiating.

Miss Freda Perchal, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and John Folley, Glenn Ferry, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Macy Kinter, Buhl, cousin of the bride; Harry Piper, uncle of the bride; and Miss Lulu Leland, Buhl, furnished the nuptial music.

The bride wore a gown of pink satin with a finger tip veil held to her head by a coronet of seed pearls. A necklace, worn by her mother at her wedding, and a bouquet of white button chrysanthemums completed the bridal attire.

An arch of pink and white ribbon streamers, from which was suspended a white wedding bell, formed the setting for the wedding party. Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked the arch, and baskets of white chrysanthemums were also arranged about the room.

Mrs. Perchal wore a soldier blue afternoon frock, and a pink and white rosette corsage.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served. Mrs. Ralph Piper, Buhl, baked the decorated wedding cake. Miss Annabelle Rudolph and Miss Lucille Hawkins assisted in serving.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Peck will be at home in Twin Falls. They were high school graduates of 1940.

Out-of-town guests included John Folley, Glenn Ferry; Miss Helen Smith and Harry Piper, Emmett; Miss Macy Piper, Wichita, Kan.; Miss Lulu Leland, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Piper and Jimmie and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kinter and daughters, Macy and Patricia, Buhl.

Fruit stains can be removed by sponging with lemon juice and then washing with hot water.

Southeastern League on Guard: Slighted Job Gets Recognition

By HARRY GRAYSON
NCA Service Sports Editor

Nebbraska has a long list of guards and so has Minnesota and a lot of other football teams.

But the Southeastern conference is perhaps blessed with more super-guards than any other college league in the country.

At last count, there were 13 of them... capable of playing anywhere... true and true middlemen... and looking for no profit.

Tennessee has probably the two best guards on any team in the country, Bob Suftridge and Ed Molinski. Both were members of various All-America teams last year.

Guard Lead Tennessee is the Southeastern conference thought so much of their guards they elected them co-captains. Three other schools have captains playing the position.

Tulane, Georgia Tech and Mississippi played the best guard in the Southeastern conference last year. The Green Waves Tom O'Boyle and Claude Groves, Louisiana State, are big, heavy, bruising fellows who rate high.

Remarkable Kicker
Neil Cavette, captain, and Butch Aderholt, alternate, of Georgia Tech are among the best. Cavette is a remarkable kicker. Captain Hunter Cohen and his alternate, Guy McDowell of Mississippi State, are robust forwards.

John Ellis of Vanderbilt and George Kinard of Mississippi are All-America candidates at the least recognized of all positions. Ernest Mills of Auburn, alternate captain, does a fine job at guard.

W. Gore of Louisiana State is another top-notch guard, and Florida supporters will fight if you say there are any better men in that position than Mike Butler.

The Southeastern conference is on guard!

George Kinard, Mississippi guard and head man.

Lawson Little Would Take Golf Meet out of Texas

By HENRY McEMORE
HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 12 (AP)—Lawson Little was looking for a big piece of parchment today because he wants to start a political party.

He wants to start it right away, and would appreciate your signing it with him.

Lawson wants to start a political party to have the 1941 open golf championship moved from the Colonial club at Fort Worth, Tex., where it has been played through Texas on their homey ground.

Lawson has met a Texan in Texas and he wants no more of it. He does not care, as national open champion, to defend that title, but he is all of golf, on a Texas course against a field that includes any man who was born in Texas, or whose parents were born in Texas, or who passed through Texas on their honeymoon.

The man who made Little feel this way is Jimmy Demaret, a Texan whose golfers knocked off 15 or 20 of the Alamo believers, and using only niblicks and brassies.

Little Gets Drubbed
They had a good swing then, and Demaret has interested Little to a 72-hole match, to be played over the Brae Burn Country club. That is where Demaret works. Little accepted.

The match started Sunday and ended yesterday on the 65th hole with Demaret the winner, 2 and 7. Before the match started, Houston golf folk were offering as high as 4 to 1 that Demaret would win.

as 4 to 1 that Demaret would win. The generosity was based partly on the fact that Demaret is one of the world's greatest golfers and partly on the belief that outsiders just don't beat Texans on their home grounds. It was pointed out the only time Demaret had even been beaten at Brae Burn was by another Texan—Byron Nelson.

Little, who has always held a high regard for Demaret's game, went overboard for the handsome, smiling, happy-go-lucky Demaret at the end of the match.

"I'll take him against any player in the country on a course that requires variety of golf shots," Little said today. "Demaret is one of the finest shotmakers I have ever seen. At Brae Burn we played over a fine course that was extra tough because of the wind and a high wind. But Jimmy had an answer for every situation.

"I played pretty well, but he was 13 under par for the 65 holes he peeded to beat me, and during those 65 holes he showed me a whole lot of repertoire of real golf shots."

Demaret was as modest in victory as he was in defeat.

"I was lucky," he said. "Okay, Jimmy, but Lawson still thinks Texas is in Texas, or might be hard to lose. He also thinks that given a golf course, he is in Texas, Georgia, California or anywhere, you'd be a hand for anyone who ever kept his head down."

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

By United Press
BERKELEY — End Morley Matheson was the only cripple among the University of California Bears today, but he will be fit for action against Oregon Saturday.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Norman Standlee, Stanford's fullback, will be on the bench with a ankle injury when the Indians meet the Oregon State Beavers Saturday and may even miss the big game with California, according to Coach Clark Stoughton.

EBENETZ — Oregon is in top shape physically for its invasion of Berkeley Saturday to face the California Bears. A new line of Frank Boyd and Buck Berry, half, Cliff Hallak, quarter, and March Stoumton, fullback, is clicking.

SEATTLE — Coach Jimmy Phelan promised sophomore Dwight Smith, 160-pound left half, from the Kentlands to the Varsity today after it was apparent Gene Wallers was lost for the season and Eddie Steele still is nursing a broken leg.

LOS ANGELES — The University of Southern California's hopes of beating the Washington Huskies at Seattle Saturday received a setback today with word that quarterback Bob Green, injured in the California game, may not be able to play.

New Cleveland Manager Will Be Named Today

CLEVELAND, Nov. 12 (AP)—Cleveland baseball club president, Alva Bradley, sometime today will announce the successor to Oscar Vitt as manager of the Indians for 1941.

The reported favorite for the hot post as pilot of the moustache "Tribunes" was Roger Peckinpaugh, the manager when Bradley took over in 1937 after he had managed the Indians for five years.

Outside choices in the race were Link Sewell, Indiana coach, and an unidentified third person whom Bradley refused to discuss but who was reported to be Bill Dickey, catcher of the New York Yankees.

SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NCA Service Sports Editor

Most claim Clark Shaughnessy is a miracle man, at least in one thing, for so quickly putting Stanford back on its football feet, but, mister, the answer to the question is much simpler and more fundamental than that.

Shaughnessy's success lies in his old-fashioned hard and intelligent work. He has the same working just as diligently. He often gets up at 4 o'clock in the morning to work... averages 16 to 18 hours a day.

He is extremely thorough and has his staff and practice regimen to a high degree. Every minute of the working day and of practice is plotted out.

The Cardinals are no longer the Young Boy of the Northwest, as they were last year, when practices before the most important games were interrupted by autograph hounds.

Shaughnessy is a hard worker. He insists that the lads arrive at the practice field promptly. There is no feigning that the players are having a grand time.

It is great to be with a winner, but the Indians are having a lot of fun even before they were a game.

Stanford has been out-maneuvered in every team it has met and will continue to meet squads that have more manpower.

CRACK ITALIAN TROOPS FORCED TO RETREAT TO ALBANIA

INVASION ARMY LOSES 600 MEN IN PINDUS AREA

BY LEON KAY
BELOGRADE, NOV. 12 (U.P.)—Conceded Greek mountain artillery has halted a new Italian attack midway between the Koritza and Janina fronts, frontier reports said today, and has forced Italian Alpine troops to retreat toward Albania after penetrating about 20 miles into Greece along the Sarranospor river.

The Italians were reported to have lost 12 officers, about 600 men and considerable material in the unsuccessful attack upon Greek strongholds in the Pindus mountains.

The attacking elements comprised part of the third Alpine division—the same Italian unit which the Greeks had previously beaten back near Koritza. The Alpine division was supported by cavalry and some Bersaglieri troops, it was reported.

Planned Wedge
 It appeared the attack had been designed to drive a wedge between the Greek forces which had advanced to the Koritza and Janina fronts, a strong southern Albanian Italian base, and Greek troops, resisting the Italian drive along the coast.

In the Koritza region the Greeks were said to be slowly moving their advanced posts forward and attacking the Italian base under additional artillery fire from mountain batteries. Italian artillery is replying to the Greek batteries from positions near the village of Mborva, a mile or so southeast of Koritza.

Ports Bombed
 According to frontier advices four Greek and two British bombers bombed Porto Edhe and Valonia in Albania yesterday, killing three persons and wounding seven in Porto Edhe. Several British bombers in the heavy suburb of Uj-Ploft where heavy damage was said to have been caused to oil tanks.

On the Road
 Three Greek fighters toward Koritza on the road from the border town of Bilkista, were reported to have captured Clangon, an important Greek battery from positions which is only about five miles from Koritza.

The Bilkista road fighting it was said 26 Italians were killed, 70 wounded and seven officers and 140 soldiers taken prisoner.

HUNDREDS ATTEND HOLIDAY BANQUET

With entertainment of various types featuring members of the American Legion, a grand banquet was held at the Park hotel in annual Armistice day banquet.

Arrangements for the banquet, which attracted 400 persons, were under the direction of H. A. Smith, Toastmaster was W. H. Detweiler, Hostess, Community singing was led by G. W. Thomas, pianist, conductor, and Mrs. Nellie Ostrom.

During the evening a telegram was read from Lieut. Colonel J. A. Smith, who had been stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. He had attended all previous banquets of this type and in the telegram expressed the hope that a successful observance would be had this year. The Legion's Christmas cheer fund was increased by $10 when Mrs. J. W. Thomas donated that amount.

Entertainment included two songs by Art Francis and a quartet by numbers by Jay E. Hill. A solo was presented by Mrs. Ostrom and four students of Merie Stoddard gave a vocal number. The entertainment part were Lucille Langdon, Patty Morrison, Patty Maxwell and Shirley Thomas.

Among those introduced by the toastmaster were Mr. Thomas, John P. Day, district American Legion commander, and William H. Wood, national committeeman from the 13th district of the Disabled Veterans of the World war.

MOTOR CONCERN GETS NEW HOME

With formal opening set for Dec. 1, announcement had been made by the Schwartza company in local department will move from its present location at the corner of second avenue and Second street north to the new building on Long street, built 22 years ago. At that time he was employed by the late C. E. Jand, founder of the motor department which bears his name and also builder of the building which Schwartza will now take over.

Officials of the Schwartza company announced that present personnel of the Land company will be retained. The Schwartza company is local dealer for Packard automobiles and Diamond-T trucks. At the new location a modern repair shop and precision machine department will be operated as well as facilities for complete automobile services. These services will include painting, greasing, lubrication and storage.

At the present time Glen Christie is proprietor of the Land company.

Flying Doctors
 Four doctors are engaged in aerial work in the interior of Australia. They can be called by telephone on a "hot line" to "homebased" planes to any.

Selective Service Questionnaire, Page 4

2. I have _____ children who are under 18 years of age or are physically or mentally handicapped, and who live with me.

"DEPENDENT," AS USED IN THIS SERIES DEFINED
 The word "dependent," as used in this series, means any person to whom the registrant contributes more than merely a small part of such person's support (or to whom support the registrant would contribute were he not temporarily prevented from so doing by physical or economic situation) (a) the registrant's child, unborn child, brother, half-brother, sister, or half-sister, who is under 18 years of age or is physically or mentally handicapped, or (b) a person whose support the registrant has assumed in good faith, who is either under 18 years of age or is physically or mentally handicapped.

Only a person who is a United States citizen or who lives in the United States or its Territories or possessions may be regarded as a dependent.

Based on the information contained in this questionnaire and on other information which the Local Board may receive, the Local Board will determine whether the "dependent" is an individual who is dependent in fact for support in a reasonable manner in view of such individual's circumstances on income earned by the registrant by his work in a business, occupation, or employment.

INSTRUCTIONS.—Only those registrants who believe that one or more persons are dependent for support on the registrant's earnings from his work are required to fill in the statements numbered 3 through 13 in this series.

3. The following persons live with me in a home maintained by me and are entirely or partly dependent on my earnings from my work in my business, occupation, or employment, and have no other sources of income except as stated below:

Name	Sex	Age last birthday	Relationship to registrant	Date when support began	Dependent's income, last 12 months (from all sources)	Contributed by the registrant	Earned by the dependent	Received from other sources

The net cost to me of maintaining my home during the last 12 months, after deducting $_____ contributed by others than myself for the support of such dependents was $_____.

4. The following persons do not live with me in a home maintained by me, but are entirely or partly dependent on my earnings from my work in my business, occupation, or employment, and have no other sources of income except as stated below:

Name and address	Sex	Age last birthday	Relationship to registrant	Date when support began	Dependent's income, last 12 months (from all sources)	Contributed by the registrant	Earned by the dependent	Received from other sources

5. The cause of the dependency of any persons over 18 years of age (excluding my wife) listed above is as follows: (Give the name and a full statement of cause for dependency in each case.)

6. Of my dependents, only the following are receiving a part of their support from persons other than myself. (Give name of dependent, name and address of other person or agency contributing to his support, and amount so contributed in cash or other things of value by such other person or agency during the last 12 months.)

 Here is page four of the draft questionnaire which will be sent soon to all selective service registrants. Men from 21 to 35 years of age, inductees, should study this page to acquaint themselves with the questions.

H. S. Open House Midweek Feature of Education Observance; Student Writers Outline Highlights

With the junior high school downtown parade offering today's feature of American Education week observance in Twin Falls, plans were completed for Wednesday's highlight—the open house inspection at the high school.

Open house in the grade schools concludes this afternoon after a two-day inspection that saw several hundred parents and school district patrons visiting at the three elementary buildings. Three programs were given in various rooms and tea was served. The high school open house Wednesday and a similar event at the junior high Thursday are expected to bring the total visitors above 1,000.

Today's sub-theme under the week's general emphasis on education for the common defense is "Furnishing Public Education." This topic was stressed today wherever theme will be "Developing Human Resources."

Students Sketch Facts
 An explanatory feature of the educational observance, 11 senior and junior students in journals, sketches, booklets, paper supplies, art supplies, industrial art supplies, books and the like.

Eleven and nine-tenths per cent is spent on operation of the building, including the janitor's salaries and supplies, fuel, water, light, and the general care of the grounds.

On maintenance of the plant, 21 per cent is expended. This includes upkeep of the grounds, painting the building, light, heating, plumbing, etc. Structural repairs and furniture repairs are included in this item.

SCHOOL BOLLARD
 By Tom Jones (Senior)
 If the school dollar in Twin Falls were cut up like a pie to illustrate the way it is spent, it would be divided as follows: 74.7%—almost three-fourths, is spent on instruction of the pupils. This includes the principal's salary, the teachers' salaries, textbooks, paper supplies, art supplies, industrial art supplies, books and the like.

COOPERATIVE SPIRIT
 By June Daniels (Senior)
 The Girls League and the Boys Club of Twin Falls high school have done a great deal to develop a cooperative spirit among the teachers of their sponsor, Mrs. Rose M. North and Gerald Wallace, believe.

According to Mrs. North, the purpose of the Girls League is to create a feeling of democratic citizenship and unity among the girls of the school, while the Boys Club is to encourage and lead the boys to make their own decisions. They also learn to show civic responsibility and to maintain and make useful their citizenship.

HELP GOVERNMENT
 By Mary Lou Ellis (Senior)
 A general election is one of the most important events in the life of a citizen. The Twin Falls high school practice self government. Each student has a vote in the election of the officers and the secretary and treasurer, and for representatives of school welfare, school eligibility, school boys' sports and girls' sports.

Other members of the student body are the members of the Glee Club and Junior class elected by their class, the president of the Girls League, and the president of the Boys Club.

The council exercises the general supervision of extra-curricular activities. It is the duty of the council to practice it. It charts all student activities.

LOCAL AIR CADET GRADUATES SOON

A Twin Falls youth, R. K. Murphy, route one, will be one of 220 flying cadets who will graduate from the army's advanced flying school at Kelly Field, Tex., next Friday, it was learned here this afternoon.

After graduation, Murphy will take his place as a pilot in the regular army air force. He is a member of the seventh class of like size to complete the pilots training course at Uncle Sam's flying school since the first part of 1940.

It was not learned what unit Murphy will join on graduation. Officially at the school said that 100 of the graduates will be assigned to the air corps training center as instructors for the continually increasing classes of the student pilots for the army while the balance will be assigned to the army's fighting units of the army air corps which are now located throughout the United States, Panama, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Upon graduation, Murphy will have more than 200 hours of intensive air training behind him. His instruction and experiences include instrument flying, formation and navigation flying and those other things which a pilot is called upon to perform.

Two other Idaho youths will be among the graduates. They are W. H. Peck, and Leslie Albert Smith, Montpelier.

Truck Plunges Down Mountain; Driver Escapes

HAILLEY, Nov. 12 (Special)—Although his truck was completely wrecked, the driver, escaped with a broken arm and facial injuries. He was taken to the hospital here, where he is recovering from his wounds.

Officials believe that the edge of the mountain road gave way under the weight of the truck. The accident occurred at 3 a. m. Saturday.

Hewitt was apparently thrown out of the truck when it struck a machine, when it halted after its thunderous plunge down the mountain. The truck was completely wrecked. The driver, escaped with a broken arm and facial injuries. He was taken to the hospital here, where he is recovering from his wounds.

Several students have acquired advanced jobs very soon after graduating from high school.

Students in the hand craft classes are taught originally, principles of good design and the use of their hands in the various artistic crafts.

Consumer chemistry gives its students the knowledge of how to select, spend money wisely for food, clothing, shelter, health and other important needs. This course educates the student in the composition of materials so that a man may use his earnings to best advantage.

SOCIAL LIVING CLASSES
 By Betty Durling (Senior)
 Although a cooperative spirit among the students is brought out in all the school subjects, it is especially stressed in the social living classes in junior high school. They practice democratic ideals by working on projects together, looking up material and presenting it to the class, participating in play and above all else, by thinking for themselves.

HEALTH
 By Vera Thomas (Junior)
 An average of 60 children is treated and examined every day in the Twin Falls school system, according to Mrs. Virginia McConnell, Twin Falls school nurse.

Among the ailments most prevalent are colds, measles, scarlet fever, chicken pox and mumps.

COLLEGE AND "PRACTICAL"
 By Preston Herman (Senior)
 In keeping with the universal movement in separating of college and non-college preparatory courses, Twin Falls high school has divided all English and science classes into two groups. The division is made because only 20 per cent of high school graduates go to college, states Principal E. H. Bogert.

The college preparatory courses of English have a more technical and classical nature, and all students are urged to enroll in such classes. Those not planning to attend college should take the non-college course, which is a more practical course for these students.

P. T. A. HELPS
 By Mary Jean Shipman (Senior)
 Maintaining the reputation of helping the boys and girls who really need help, the junior-senior and school P. T. A. last year bought 17 pairs of glasses for children with defective vision. The money to buy these glasses was raised by the P. T. A. last year. The P. T. A. also buys shoes and clothing when necessary.

PRACTICAL WORK
 By Jim Powell (Senior)
 In the new course, hand crafts and commercial art, a student is given a better chance to develop his aptitude and skills than ever before. One field where good craftsmen are badly needed is advertising, which is mostly stressed by the commercial art class. Students are taught the basic elements of appeal

Onetime Sidown Strike Leader and Spanish War Refugee Talks Nov. 13

Goal of Edgar Lehmann, 26-year-old former Communist and ex-time leader of a Spokane WPA sidown strike, who addresses the Twin Falls Town Hall club Wednesday evening to "discuss how the Communist party to the rat hole from which it came."

That was the word today from national headquarters of Associated Town Halls as Mr. Lehmann neared Twin Falls on his western tour. He speaks here at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the high school auditorium. W. W. Thomas, commander of the Twin Falls American Legion post, will introduce him.

Was Red Agitator
 The youthful ex-Communist has been through an amazing series of bitter experiences since the age of 15 when he began organizing newsboys. Most of his life has been spent as a laborer, much of it as a Communist agitator among workmen. The maritime strike in 1936-37 found him in the front ranks of the struggle. One of these Communist workers was taking orders from a little group of Communists who were managing the strike from behind the scene.

After having gone to Spain to fight for the Loyalists and become disfigured there, he deserted the fight, stowed away on an American vessel, came back to America and struck for the way to France. Lehmann walked up the gangplank of a British ship. A single question from the guard and he would be lost.

Once on the ship, he hid from sight. But soon he was found by the ship's captain. The danger had not been passed. He was jailed at Gibraltar. Would he be sent back to Spain, here in a certain danger? Through accidents of fate, Edgar Lehmann found his way back to the United States, and is now an ardent proponent of the American democratic system.

COLOR FILMS TO FEATURE SESSION

Members of St. Edward's P. T. A. tonight at regular session at the parish hall will see 2,000 feet of motion picture film in color, taken during the visit to the Grand Canyon by G. V. B. Miller, Seattle Washington sportsman who is in Twin Falls visiting and preaching.

Miller accompanied by his wife, has been here for several days and has accompanied Mr. Drexler and others on pleasant and duck hunting trips. He uses a special-made "over and under" shotgun valued at $300.

The pictures which he will show at the P. T. A. session tonight include many local hunting scenes, including the Grand Canyon, Hungarian partridge hunting in Alberta, Canada, and scenic shots of the Stanley basin country and other areas.

A preview of the picture was given last night at Mr. Drexler's home with a group of sportsmen and their wives and children present. Among those seeing the pictures at that time were Mr. and Mrs. Edna Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Shiff, Mr. and Mrs. Al Knight and two children; Frank Kolosch, Miss Eva Schweitzer, Mrs. Stanley Gantner and children, and Miss Katherine Roach.

In taking his pictures, Mr. Miller used the latest camera equipment. He is territorial distributor for an outboard motor company.

$100,000 Damage In Butte Blaze

BUTTE, MONT., Nov. 12 (U.P.)—Firemen early today brought under control a fire which destroyed one building, damaged five adjoining establishments, and forced the staff of the Montana Standard, morning newspaper, to evacuate their building for a time.

Damage was estimated by owners at about $100,000.

In the tropics, the greatest obstacles to telegraph lines are ferocious, fierce, red pine, locusts, and various kinds of insulation.
