Greeks Open Offensive on Invading Italian Troops

125-MILE FRONT GOES IN ACTION TO ROUT ENEMY

By DEN AMES ATHENS, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — The Greek army was reported today to have launched a general offensive against the Italians along the entire northern frontier from the Ionian sea to the Yugoslav border.

First reports from the front said Greek troops had driven Italian forces in the Kalamas river valley back across the river at several points.

The reported general attack appeared to indicate the Greek high command was seeking to hit the Italians hard before their forces could be reorganized and strongly reinforced through the mountainous northern Greek frontier.

The Greek were said to be attacking in 125-mile front.

Participating in the offensive were the skinned Greek Evmos mountain troops, cavalry detachments and infantry regiments.

Supporting the drive were Greek and British warplanes, mountain artillery and tanks.

Led by cavalry brigades, the Greeks smashed hard at the Italians in the Kalabak sector northwest of Jannina and drove the Italians from their first-line defenses.

Greek cavalry were said to be pursuing the retreating Italians.

Heavy fighting was reported to the rear of the Italian positions on the central part of the front in the Epirus corner close to the Yugoslav frontier.

Latest dispatches from the front lines said the Greeks were driven out of their fortified positions and that an important 4,000-foot mountain peak had been captured by the hardy Greeks within three hours after they went into action just after daybreak this morning.

PLANE CRASHED AT TERRIBLE SPEED, PROBE INDICATES

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — United Airlines twin-engine plane crashed at full speed into Bountiful peak, carrying ten persons to instant death without a pronouncement of disaster, testimony at a civil aeronautics board hearing indicated today.

Witnesses testified as the crash inquiry entered its third day, examination of wreckage of the Nov. 4 crash showed the motors were running, that the gear had been lowered for landing at Salt Lake City airport 18 miles away, and that passengers had been strapped into their seats for a routine descent.

Earlier testimony had established the radio directional navigation beam at Salt Lake City was giving out erroneous reports and that pilot Howard Fey and co-pilot Thomas Sandgren assumed the plane was over the mountainous country in an entirely different section of Salt Lake valley.

William Metzger, chief engineer for United Airlines, testified examination of the plane's motors showed no sign of mechanical failure and that the ship was functioning normally when it piled up on Bountiful peak.

Passengers Belied

William Phelan, an air carrier inspector for CAB, told the board examination of cabin bells showed each passenger and the stewardess had been properly strapped in place for a landing.

The crash ripped the belts and threw occupants of the cabin forward in the ship, Phelan said.

TALKS POINT TO WORLD COALITION AGAINST BRITAIN

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, Jr. BERLIN, Nov. 14 (U.P.) — Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov's two-day conferences with Adolf Hitler and other Nazi leaders have led to "agreement on all important questions," an official communique said today.

The communique, issued soon after Molotov and his party of 32 Russian officials left for "agreement with the Russian 'exchange of opinion with the reich government occurred in an atmosphere of mutual trust'."

"During his presence in Berlin Nov. 12 and 13 of this year V. M. Molotov, chairman of the soviet people's commissars and foreign minister of the Soviet Union had a conference with the fuhrer and Reich Minister for Foreign Affairs (Joseph) von Ribbentrop. An exchange of opinions occurred in an atmosphere of mutual trust and led to agreement on all important questions of interest to Germany and the Soviet Union."

Minimum of Ceremony

The foreign affairs and 22 Russian officials left the Anhalter station at 11 a. m. The departure, like the arrival, was attended by a minimum of ceremony.

From the few surface indications of the last two days it followed persons believed that the talks had touched on one or all the following points:

1. The creation of what the newspapers have described as a "world coalition" against Great Britain, with Germany, Italy, Russia and Japan in dominant positions.

2. Formation of what German officials have called an "inter-continental peace system" with the four powers leading.

3. The question of Turkey and the near east.

4. German-Russian economic relations.

Miss Margaret Detweiler and Miss Joan McClair played background music.

CHICAGO CUBS SEARCH FOR NEW MANAGER

Jimmy Wilson May Get Boss Job for Windy City Gang

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, started at the top today in a long-range plan to rebuild his crumbling baseball organization. He sought a manager to replace Charles Leo (Gibby) Hartnett and a president to succeed himself.

Wrigley said he is considering several men as Hartnett's successor but mentioned no names because his first choices for the job are under contract to other clubs.

Jimmy Wilson of the Cincinnati Reds and Bill Meyer, manager of Kansas City's American association club, have been identified with Cub rumors the last few weeks.

Wrigley's 19 years of service with the Cubs, in which he developed from a rookie catcher into one of the club's greatest stars and eventually their manager, ended yesterday with a brief announcement from Wrigley that Gibby's contract will not be renewed.

Hartnett has been on his own since July 21, 1939, when he took over the job from Charlie Grimm. He won the pennant that year, almost single-handed, but finished fourth in 1939 and fifth last year.

Wrigley indicated he wanted to try a new system a week ago when he decided to step down as president if he could find the right man. He tried to persuade Vice-President Charles (Beau) Weber to abandon plans for retiring, but Weber refused flatly either to continue as vice-president or become president.

"I have received plenty of applications for the presidency," Wrigley said, "but the man I pick won't be from a list like this one."

News of his dismissal came as a surprise to Hartnett.

"I had a lot of plans for the winter but guess I'll have to let them all out the window now," he said. "I won't stay with the Cubs, but that's all I can say."

Boston College Picked to Tip Georgetown

By HARRY FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Georgetown picked to tip Boston College.

EAST
Boston College over Georgetown—Making a long time winning streak. Top game anywhere.

Navy over Columbia—With the Midshipmen's two big lines slowly working down by Leon Cornell over Dartmouth—On and on and on.

For over Army—Reagan and Co. are due for a big afternoon any day now.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh—By two touchdowns.

Princeton over Yale—On a passing attack that is ready to click.

Syracuse over Colgate—13 to 7.

MIDWEST
Ohio State over Illinois—Don Scott's too good for 'em.

Michigan over Northwestern—Close, Harmon vs. Cozzolino.

Minnesota over Purdue—The steam-roller rolls again.

Kansas State over Iowa State—Bouncing back from that licking by South Carolina.

Notre Dame over Iowa—Maybe the Irish will begin to live up to their reputation here.

Indiana over Wisconsin—Hurst's passing and an improved running attack.

Missouri over Oklahoma—Not close enough to be a heart-sorter.

SOUTH
Auburn over Louisiana State 3. And not too tough.

Alabama over Georgia Tech—Too much power over Georgia.

Duke over North Carolina—But a swell spot for an upset.

Tennessee over Virginia—Making two soft spots in a row on the Volunteers' schedule.

Texas A. & M. over Rice—Something to see. Kimbrough and a great line should keep a great record intact.

Texas over Texas Christian—13 to 0.

Tulane over Georgia—Watch the Green Wave roll on this one.

STANFORD
Stanford over Oregon State—Stauchness's Houdini stuff brings home another victory.

Washington over Southern California—The Trojans can't seem to get going.

San Francisco over Oregon—The boys are getting better every week-end.

Washington State over UCLA—Looks like the year when UCLA will lose em all.

FOOTBALL BRIEFS
(By United Press)
MOSCOW—Coach Ted Bank of the University of Idaho put his team in an awkward position in preparation for a tangle with University of Nevada graders here, in an attempt to honor their ace kicker, Earl Reedy and Mac Beall, who are ready for action Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO—Betting commissioners established $100,000 as a 10 to 7 choice over Mac's or their "little big game" this Sunday, and sports writers said it should be an even-money bet. Butnits Clark has won over Utah, UCLA, San Francisco; last to Stanford and Michigan State. The Irons were little bit better and have been nursing themselves along.

BERKELEY—California's list of injured men looked like a battle toll today. Left End Ted Stoffer and right end Morley Mathewson will not see action against Oregon; Right Half Carl Hoeger and Left Guard Art Anderson won't play either. Otherwise, Coach Bill Allison was optimistic.

HALO AITO—Stanford was installed as a 1 to 1 favorite over Oregon State's Irons Saturday despite the fact Fullback Norman Stables will not see action, and the White team is weary and beat-up.

SEATTLE—Left Halfback Ernie Steele and Right Guard Dick Greenwood are expected to see action against Southern California Saturday, Coach Jimmy Phelan said today.

LOS ANGELES—The Bruins were working on a new type of offense today in an attempt to give the win column in their game against Washington State here Saturday. Coach Phelan said the power plays would be abandoned in favor of speed and deception built around Jack Robinson and Leo Cantor.

PHOENIX—Stanford was installed as a 1 to 1 favorite over Oregon State's Irons Saturday despite the fact Fullback Norman Stables will not see action, and the White team is weary and beat-up.

Boston College Behemoths Face Boys Their Size in Georgetown

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON, George town tackles the Boston college behemoths at Fenway park.

Back Hagerty has a number of sizable picks himself. In three deep with a line averaging 202 pounds and a backfield coming in at 182.

The battle between Georgetown and Boston college has developed into one of the high spots of the campaign. Both are untied and undefeated. The Washington institution hasn't been repulsed since its final game of 1937, Syracuse in a fall score 13-14. The only club that has held the Blue and Gray even in three years . . . in '22.

Even though accomplished Auburn and Holy Cross remain on the Boston college schedule, following its engagement with Georgetown, everybody in New England will be astonished if the giants of Chestnut Hill fail to finish with a clear record.

But those who have met and seen Georgetown have a hunch that there will be a grand reshuffling of the nation's first ten when the last shot is fired in the home of the Red Sox.

HOYAS OVER CORNELL
Neither club has played a schedule worthy of its mettle, although Boston college's smashing victory over Tulane gives it an edge in the opinion of the writer. Both snapped Tulane. Boston college also ran rough-shod over Center, Idaho, St. Anselm, Manhattan and Boston university.

Georgetown this season has been extended only by Waynesburg, a fine little outfit which put up a brave fight before being crushed. The Hoyas disposed of Roanoke, Virginia Tech, New York University, Syracuse and Maryland . . . as they pleased.

Syracuse players, who opposed both, freely venture the opinion that Georgetown could repel Cornell.

Chiefly credited with the controlling factor of the game are Joe McRadden, a quarterback with ice water for blood, and Julius Koshlap, left halfback.

On a team studded with All-American prospects, Angelo Lu, a 210-pound piece-kicking guard, is the choice to lead the team. The first Georgetown player to be accorded that honor since Babe Connaughton, 300-pound g.u.s.d., made the grade in 1926.

Sophomore Veterans
Giving a rough idea of the strength of the Georgetown forwards, Al Dixon has a tough time crashing the picture at tackle.

He stands six feet six, weighs 240 and holds the world indoor shotput and the I. C. A. shot and discus marks.

A squad of 45, the largest since Hagerty, an alumnus who starred in the backfield for the New York professional Giants, took charge at the Hill top in 1932, reported this autumn.

Jack Hagerty has seniors backing up a senior team, but 17 strapping sophomores make life miserable for upper classes.

So—win, lose or draw in the Boston college scrap—life isn't going to be too crumpled for Georgetown's opponents for the next couple of seasons.

WSC Ace Tops Collegiate Passing Stars

SEATTLE, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Two more newcomers—Jimmy Richardson of Marquette and Bill Sewell of Washington State—went to the top today in rankings of the American football statistical bureau.

Richardson had a field day against Manhattan last Saturday, even though his team lost 44-41. He rolled up 338 yards, which showed him in front of the nation's backs in all-around offensive totals.

In six games Richardson has gained 1,055 yards.

Sewell, all-around halfback for Washington State, had been among the first ten leading passers for some weeks. Today's tabulations put him at the head, with 57 completions in 120 attempts.

Best ball-carrier was Al Chesquiere, Detroit university star, with 752 yards.

Owen Price of Texas Mines continued to lead kickers with a 46.15 average.

BRITISH BOMB BERLIN STATION TO HARASS MOLOTOV

RAIDERS ATTACK TARANTO HARBOR IN ITALY AGAIN

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The air ministry said British planes last night bombed a railway station in the heart of Berlin from which Russian Premier V. M. Molotov was to have boarded a train for home today, and that British fighters again bombed the harbor and docks of Taranto, scene of Monday night's attack on the Italian navy.

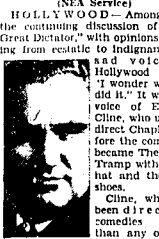

The raid on Taranto, in the heel of the Italian boot, was made by bombers from the royal air force middle east command Wednesday night and was "successful," the air ministry said. On Monday night, the air arm of the Mediterranean fleet virtually destroyed two and possibly three Italian battleships, two cruisers and two auxiliary ships there. The air ministry said all their crews were rescued on the Wednesday night raid.

Other objectives

One of the objectives bombed in Berlin last night was the railway station, the air ministry said. The British planes also bombed the Grunewald railroad yards and started fires in the center of Berlin. Other points bombed according to the daily communiqué, were the Kreuzberg airbase north of Berlin, the electrical plant at the Havel, Cologne, docks at the Rhine port of Duisburg-Ruhrort, industrial targets at Dortmund, Düsseldorf, a battery of coke ovens at Linfort.

One-Time Chaplin Director Asks Charlie to Pantomime

By PAUL HARRISON (SEA Service)

Eddie Cline

HOLLYWOOD—Among all the continuing discussion of "The Great Dictator" industry, the only voice to give a voice to Hollywood said, "I wonder who did it." It was the voice of Eddie Cline, who used to direct Chaplin before the comedian became "The Little Tramp" with dry hat and the silly shoes.

Cline, who has been directing comedies longer than any other man in town, said "The Bank Dick" believes Chaplin isn't funny now and hasn't been for 10 years—except in the whistle scene in "City Lights" and the crazy factory scene in "Modern Times." And he expects Chaplin may return to slapstick and pantomime.

"He said 'This is what I'm going to do. When Chaplin gets back from New York I'm going to see him and say, 'Look, Charlie—the picture he decided to do is called 'City Lights' and take a couple of cops and a girl and make a funny, but a funny. No script, no sound. We'll start with the girl on the park bench. A cop comes up and starts to get her. You walk up and offer to fight him, and by a trick you win. Then we have the cop chase; the baby buggy rolls down the hill and you take it like a kidnap baby—oh, well, just write it as we go along."

"I'd like to be fun, Charlie? And just think—there's a whole generation of fans who never saw you in a picture like that. People mean, who never saw you in a comedy. We could make it in a few days, and for buttons, and then we'll do it. You walk up and offer to fight him, and by a trick you win. Then we have the cop chase; the baby buggy rolls down the hill and you take it like a kidnap baby—oh, well, just write it as we go along."

STUDENTS OFFER WINDOW EXHIBITS

Three departments of Twin Falls high school have placed exhibits in show windows of three downtown stores for display of their classroom work. These form part of the American Education week observance here.

On display in the window of the Twin Falls Glass and Paint store is that of the industrial arts classes. Among the articles are skis, nut bowls, a magazine rack, bows, a card table, a cedar chest and a small cabinet, all made by the students.

Theme for the homemaking class exhibit in the window of the C. S. book store is "Foundations of a Satisfying Home." A miniature home is made out of a small hat with seven steps leading to the door. Each of the steps represents a rule for making a more successful home.

The exhibit in the window of the Idaho Power company building and is a project of the art department. Included in the display are commercial art water colors, charcoal, and handicrafts consisting of woodwork, brads, bookends and trays. A picture of the Twin Falls high school graduating class of 1939 is also in the window.

Jerome Red Cross Preparing Gifts

Jerome, Nov. 14 (Special)—Gifts for Junior Red Cross, under the sponsorship of Miss Rowena Phillips, has done admirable work since beginning here at Washington school. The children have decided to purchase a table for the canteen, and the boys and girls are filling Christmas boxes for other boys and girls.

Due to the present war situation, it is uncertain as to where the boxes will go. Thanksgiving boxes for the needy are being filled by the chapter at Washington school, and will soon be ready to deliver.

Miss Phillips announced that the chapter had sold 138 dozen doughnuts to various townspeople. Those who assisted in helping to raise funds for the treasury were Ralph Adams, Dorothy Matson, Donald Bengochea, Evelyn Burks, Debra Salladay, Elaine Gray and Bob Salladay.
