Germans Assert Balkan Actions Are "Complete"

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (U.P.)—Authorized Nazi spokesmen said today Slovakia's signature to an axis pact has "completed" the present series of diplomatic negotiations, and Bulgaria was not expected to sign any pact.

The statement caused surprise since it had been said in well-informed private circles and in non-official sources close to the foreign office, that all preparations had been made for Bulgarian adherence this week.

It should not be assumed that those countries which intend to conclude pacts with the reich would feel themselves deterred by the scowls of neighboring countries.

Previously, Nazi informants had said a short delay was to be expected but Bulgarian officials here were contradicted by reports from the axis powers, as Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia had signed up.

Slovakia yesterday signed a protocol of German friendship and mutual alliance, identical with protocols signed last week by Hungary and Rumania. Both German and Bulgarian quarters here indicated a Bulgarian delegation would come here next week-end to sign the German-Slovak treaty.

It is believed that German and Bulgarian officials had agreed that there might be a slight delay in the signing of the final protocol caused by Bulgarian geographical position, advised British officials, "Turkey, and the fact that the Balkan states had been the first indication of Bulgaria was not good."

"Possibly" Turkey, Rome, the newspaper Voce d'Italia published a dispatch from Belgrade saying Yugoslavia and Poland were friendly to the axis.

Germany's premier and foreign minister was expected to go to Berlin or Rome early next week, at Bucharest, the Tighiati, official German organ, also predicted Bulgaria, Jugoslavia and Turkey would join the axis power soon and Bulgaria would sign first.

The semi-official foreign office organ, Diplomatic-Political Correspondence, denounced the current line of Greece's Premier John Metaxas in his said Greece was fighting for the democracies against totalitarian powers, "extraordinarily risky and perilous."

Jeffers and Civic Heads Confer

Harry Elcock, (left), president of the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Joe Kochler (right) are shown today as they discussed railroad problems of Twin Falls with President William M. Jeffers of the Union Pacific this morning in Jeffers private car. The two were members of a committee of nine men with the rail executive. The conference progressed on an extremely friendly basis with President Jeffers promising to aid in and also to study the problems presented. The special train pulled out of the station at 8:40 a. m. bound for Salt Lake. (Times Photo and Engraving)

Jeffers Promises Better Train Services for Area

U. P. Leader Will Improve City's Station

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (U.P.)—The U. P. leader promised the residents of Twin Falls two things: 1.—That the local station would be "dolled up."

2.—That trains out of here would make connections with main line trains.

Jeffers and other Union Pacific officials including J. C. Gable, Omaha, his first assistant, conferred for nearly an hour this morning with a committee of seven Twin Falls men representing the city and the Chamber of Commerce. The railroad executive and the townsmen met to discuss rail service and other problems in relation to the community.

The session came as a result of letters which Mayor Joe Kochler sent to Jeffers, in one of which the mayor said that, in the words of the average citizen, the "train service out of here was lousy."

Some Control Necessary, Jeffers said that it is his belief no such order would be in effect this time, should war eventually come.

BRITAIN'S UNION LEADER PREDICTS FIGHT TO FINISH

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25 (U.P.)—Sir Walter Citrine, head of the British Trades Union congress, today assured the American Federation of Labor that Great Britain will fight on until dictatorship are abolished in Europe.

"I don't want anyone here to labor under the delusion that even after five years of building that we have won up the leeway in armaments we had today."

He recalled that AFL President William Green had estimated it would take between two and four years to equip the United States' defense program.

"Ask yourself whether you can expect the Nazis to wait four years on the way to the east, as certain as they fixed a time table of events in Europe, so will they make a move in our country if we are to meet successfully the axis threat."

Bulgarians Will Not Sign Without Soviet Approval

An axis diplomatic offensive to draw all of Europe into Adolf Hitler's program for a "new order" suddenly stalled in the Balkans today as Greek armies pushed deeper into Italian battle lines in Albania.

White Greek advance units were reported entering the important Italian base of Pogradec on the northern Albanian front and menacing the southern base at Argirokasteon, both Bulgaria and Soviet Russia permitted the impression to spread they were keeping out of the Nazi diplomatic front—at least for the time being.

Dispatches coming through the Berlin censorship said foreign observers here believed the Soviet union had avoided any commitments to the axis and thus presumably had refused to agree to cooperate with any military move into southeastern Europe in order to close a pincer on the Greek.

Threats to Greece Moscow continued to hold an important key to extension of the war in the Balkans, although Nazis for the time were being urged to order to relieve the Italians retreating in Albania. Both Bulgaria and Turkey were expected to adjust their policy toward axis military moves into the southeast in line with Russia's position.

For the moment, at least, Moscow's attitude seemed to be sufficiently uncertain to keep Bulgaria out of the axis front, it was admitted by Berlin. The current round of diplomatic activity was ended. No more countries are expected immediately to adhere to the axis tripartite pact, it was said.

This caused surprise in the reich capital where it had been indicated Bulgaria would sign with Moscow. Today, after first reporting there would be a "short delay" in the signing of the pact, Moscow emerged with a statement Bulgaria was not expected to sign with the axis.

No Explanation Berlin offered no explanation of the change in plans but angrily denied that events in the Balkans, Turkey and the British defense precautions, had affected the situation.

Whatever the reason, the parade of signatories to the axis had halted with adherence of Hungary, Rumania and Italy, all states which already had been firmly fixed within the axis sphere.

The only diplomatic arrival reported in Berlin was that of Dino Grandi, Italian minister of justice and one-time Italian foreign minister and ambassador to Britain. He was received by Adolf Hitler at the chancellery but the purpose of his visit was not revealed.

Italy halted the adherence of Hungary, Rumania and Slovakia to the axis, saying it brought 20,000,000 men into the axis camp in Germany and Italy. This, however, did not cause any immediate change in the military situation in Albania.

On the military front reports indicated the Nazi air force had embarked upon a routine campaign in Albania and particularly those centers where planes and other armaments were stored.

Last night's attack was upon Bristol when, according to Nazi reports, some 10,000 incendiary bombs were rained down in a raid that followed the pattern of the attack Saturday night and Sunday morning on Southampton.

Damage suit asking $25,300 because of the death of Richard White, 22, brick truck driver killed Nov. 12, in the east of Kimberly, has been filed in district court by Mrs. Leslie White, 21, the widow.

The suit charges that the owner of the other truck involved in the mishap, and Lee McCoy, Twin Falls, the driver of that vehicle, are named as defendants. The complaint claims that McCoy turned without warning as White was seeking to pass into the lane east of Kimberly, to the fatal crash resulting when the brick truck smashed into a tree.

The suit charges that the truck machine did not have rear view mirror or signaling arm.

NAVY SEARCHES 4,500 WORKMEN

BOSTON, Nov. 25 (UP)—More than 4,500 workmen were halted and searched by naval police at Boston navy yard today as authorities sought to frustrate a purported scheme to smuggle a time bomb or "dynamite" into the yard which is operating at top speed on national defense. So far as could be determined by an interval machine of explosive was found in the search of workers and their autos.

Capt. Bernard Graham, night police superintendent of Boston, quoted a navy yard official as saying:

"Information has been received from a most authoritative source that an attempt at 7 a. m. would be made by an interval machine to bring in a time bomb or a quantity of dynamite when he went to work."

Police said it was believed the explosive might be concealed in a lunch box.

Capt. Graham sent a special detail of 125 policemen to the yard.

A detachment of marines was pressed into inspection of workers' cars, while regular yard guards searched the clothing and lunch boxes of employees.

Greek Advance Units Take New Italian Base

SECOND 'STRONG' POINT IN ALBANIA FALLS TO GREECE

By BEN AMES
ATHENS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Advance Greek scouting forces were reported today to have entered Pogorade, Italian base on the shore of Lake Ochrida north of Koritza.

A Greek source reported entry was made by "reconnaissance cavalry" units which were scouting the territory in advance of main Greek forces.

Reports from these advance units were that the Italians had evacuated the town, which was the base upon which the fascist troops fell back when they gave up Koritza.

North of Koritza
Pogorade is about 25 miles north of Koritza. Italian evacuation of the city would tend to confirm other reports from the front that the Italians are falling back to defense lines based on the Shkumbri river which roughly bisects Albania from west to east. South of Elbasan, a mid-Albanian strong point.

A war communique said Moskopoli, 10 miles west of Koritza, had been captured and 1,500 Italian prisoners had been taken in mopping up operations around Koritza.

Village Captured
The Athens radio station was heard at Sofia broadcasting that several villages near Moskopoli had been captured, but the second defense line thrown up by the Italians behind Koritza had been penetrated and that the Italians now would have to reorganize their defense line along the Shkumbri river, below Elbasan, 40 miles north-west of Koritza.

Premeti, 15 miles inland Albania on the central front, was still in Italian hands but Greek troops had passed it on two sides.

Greeks were reported advancing along the whole front, but the activity was limited mainly to reconnaissance forays. The Greek strategy was to harass the Italian flanks, avoiding direct frontal attacks where Italians could bring their motorized equipment into play.

They Dream of Drums and Dolls and Pandas

These are the things that fill the dreams of Magic Valley youngsters these days, after visits to Twin Falls Toyland. Warren Rile, foreground, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Rile, plays "doctor," administering candy pills to a panda, one of the favorite stuffed animal toys of this season. Toyland Still Dodges War, at Least In Twin Falls' 1940 Christmas Display

By JEAN DINKELACKER
There's peace over Toyland—at least in Twin Falls.
War toys are still "few and far between" in comparison to those that represent the American way of life—the industrial, domestic, athletic and scientific fields. Or so Saturday's visit to the town's various Toylands indicated.
Of course there are tanks, that were wound up, filled with fire from two guns. There are submarines that dive and rise again to the surface. There are airplanes carriers with planes that actually take off.
And there are modern metal toy soldiers in action poses, manipulating huge sky searchlights, anti-aircraft's guns, climbing telegraph poles, and even wounded, hobbling along in bandages.
Aviation Peace Note
But even in the field of aviation, the transport planes far outnumber the bombers. It should make the A. U. W. happy. This organization it was which took the lead in encouraging the emphasis of peace-time toys, rather than martial ones, you will recall.
And even the bone-handled revolver, which breaks like a regular sheriff's gun, and is carried in a jewel-studded and rawhide banded holster, for all the world like the Lone Ranger's, can be placed in the law and order category. If you're so minded.
For children who want to "play at farming" there are whole hamlets of rubber animals, from huge mottled stallions to small chickens. Building logs that permit them to construct everything from bridges to Colonial stockades, all imprinted to represent realistic logs.
Every phase of the American way of life—domestically, progress in science, art and literature, business, agriculture and the professions, is more prevalent than ever before in the toy departments.
Doctors and Nurses
Those "Little Doctors" and "Play Nurses" sets, complete with stethoscopes, blood pressure gauges, candy pills in bottles, real watches for taking the pulse, and bandages for attracting wide attention from the children at every store in which they're displayed.
The dolls are irresistible. And those eyes! Some of them have enchanting optics that move from side to side coquettishly, instead of just opening and shutting like they used to do.
There are "lady dolls" with pear boy and pompadour styled wigs of real hair, their wardrobes in the height of fashion. Some are gown-like silk formal and wear maroon bolero jackets. Others have fifty black suits, with bandana sunback hinders.
Stuffed animals are precious, and Mister Panda had better look to his popularity here, because the number in monkey on a chain, and Mr. and Mrs. Dressed Up Teddy-bear are fast becoming rivals.
Panda Muffs
Not content to just let a panda be a panda, the makers of Christmas novelties have made panda muffs and the lucky young miss can slip her hands into a red velvet-lined middle of one variation of the panda and keep her hands warm on her way to Sunday school.

Newest in the stuffed animal kingdom is the development of a silk old cloth that makes it possible for animals to be sponged off with a damp cloth to remove surface dust and dirt. There's even a Humpty Dumpty in town, so covered, who can take as many falls as there are nursery book poems about him, and come up shining.
Fine for the pre-school age children and the very young are the line of hard, ash-smooth wood toys, specially painted to do the young one not the least harm. Sets from which various vehicles can be built, and others to teach manipulation of the hands, are featured.
Rubber Blocks
And to the child who, given a block, feels the necessity to hurl it, there's a set of blocks in hard rubber and in various colors. Easy on the fireplace, and also on other brother and sister! Bright balls for this age group run almost exclusively to the patriotic colors of red, white and blue.
In construction toys there are steam shovels, truck, oil tank trucks, wrecking trucks, and loaders and the like.
The double-decker bed, with a ladder leading to the "second story," has arrived in Toyland. Roll top desks have added swivel chairs in imitation of desks at the office.
Dinettes sets of hard wood are polished to a high gleam. English style doll perambulators in a specially treated cloth-leather are popular with the young miss.
Play Houses
In the "play house" group, there is a miniature bathroom, complete even to clothes hamper and towel racks. Turn the taps and water streams from the faucets into the bathtub and the lavatory. A small tank concealed in back holds water and makes the feet possible.
One aluminum set is the most complete housekeeper aid you can imagine. There's a singing teakettle, cookie cutters in various animal forms, a cake pan that makes the imprint of a Christmas tree on a finished pie-crust, cookie sheets and baking tin.
One tricycle is two-passenger, has a foot rest on the back for the accompanying and shutting like they used to do.

passenger, and side rails that he can hang onto. A three-wheeled bicycle makes it easy and safe riding for one too young to balance a two-wheeler.
All Kinds of Games

CARL ANDERSON BUYS BASEBALL FRANCHISE

Twin Falls Assured Entry In 1941 Pioneer League Race as Deal Is Completed

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

Carl N. Anderson, retired Twin Falls businessman and sportsman, today announced purchase of the Twin Falls Cowboy baseball club and franchise from William P. Ulrich, Spokane, for an undisclosed sum.

The deal was completed last night at Pocatello and the directors of the league immediately ratified the transfer of title and included Twin Falls in the 1941 schedule—with the opening game set for here on May 2 against the Boise Pilots.

Purchase of the franchise ended long speculation as to whether the city would be represented in the Pioneer league in 1941—and assured home ownership and a club that Twin Falls will probably stay in the league as long as the Class C circuit operates in the Intermountain region—or as long as baseball will be supported here.

In acquiring the baseball franchise, Mr. Anderson gets the smallest city in the league—but a drawing territory that rates favorably with the best in the league. And Twin Falls gets a responsible baseball executive to handle the local situation.

Mr. Anderson states the deal was consummated with Mr. Ulrich and his business manager, A. J. (Monty) Montgomery, at Pocatello last night. He would not specify the price for the team and franchise. "The best guesses around here were that the sum was not in excess of $5,000."

Here's What Went In Sale

For the sum paid for the club, Mr. Anderson got the following:

A franchise in the highly successful (financially) Pioneer league.

Bus (antique) and base equipment.

Those seven men form the nucleus of a team that was the strongest in the league for the last half of the season—despite the fact that the club finished in last place. One from the regular lineup will be Pete Hughes, slugging outfielder; Ernie Endres, first baseman; Damon Hayes, Buck Rogers, Chuck Greer and Mike Budnick, pitchers; Hal O'Bannon and "Boob" Myers, catchers. These men all belonged to other clubs and were returned at the close of the season.

Mr. Anderson stated he had made no plans for the future.

"In fact, I didn't even sit in at the early conferences regarding sale of the club. Friday was my first speculation—and the deal was closed Sunday night."

"I have not considered any playing manager or business manager for the new team yet."

Starting "From Scratch"

"We will be starting 'from scratch' after conclusion of the league meeting at Pocatello. We hope to be able to put out a good, fighting ball club that will give the fans of south central Idaho their money's worth."

"There have been no attempts made to line-up an outside tie-up yet—in fact, we haven't considered anything."

Mr. Anderson returned to Pocatello today and will probably start work on building the 1941 entry immediately.

Long interested in southern Idaho sports, Mr. Anderson came in close contact with baseball since during the past year. First his daughter, Vivian, married Corky Carlson, star first baseman on the 1939 pennant winning Cowboy club; and then he sold his extensive bottling works to Tom Cobb, the baseball immortal—the business now being operated by Cobb's son, Herchel.

OPENS MAY 2

POCATELLO, Nov. 25 (UP)—The 1941 Pioneer league baseball schedule will open May 2, league directors decided yesterday at their annual fall meeting.

The schedule, to be drawn up by a schedule maker to be hired by the league, will include 150 games and will end about Sept. 10.

The opening day slate listed three games—Salt Lake City and Ogden at Ogden, Pocatello and Idaho Falls at Idaho Falls, and Boise and Twin Falls at Twin Falls. The second series will start May 8 at Pocatello, Salt Lake City and Boise.

Included among those attending the meeting here were Hayden Walker, Boise; Sam Collins and Lou Gerland, Idaho Falls; Eddie Mulliken, Salt Lake City; Art Routson, Pocatello; Ray Jacobs on Salt Lake City; and William P. Ulrich and A. J. Montgomery, Spokane. President Jack Hall will represent the Ogden Reds in absence of Bill McCarty, who is in the east.

The directors again voted President Hallwell as official representative at the Atlanta meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which starts Dec. 3.

This Year's Stanford Team Termed Better Than Old "Vow Boys"

By JAMES A. MULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25 (UP)—Korth Topping, former Stanford football star, comes forward today with the judgment that the 1940 Stanford team, which meets California Saturday in the windup of the Pacific Coast conference season, is better than the famed 1936-37 "vow boys" on which Topping played end.

There has been a lot of controversy over the respective merits of the two teams as Stanford's present edition prepares for the final battle of an undefeated, untied season.

Topping, now associated in the ownership of the Hantford Journal and Sentinel and writing a sports column for his paper, analyzed the teams—the "Vow boys" of yesterday and the "Cinderella boys" of today—man by man, not equal by equal.

And it was his judgment that while the Vow boys Grayson, Hamilton, Topping, Moerby, Reynolds, Alameda and the rest—had a slight edge in individual brilliance, "as a team of super-conditioned, quick-thinking, working as a well-knit unit and—no matter what—it, the 1940 gang have no match."

The public backs up Topping's judgment of the 1940 team as it has established Stanford as a 2 to 1 favorite over California for Saturday's game, last of the season for the conference teams and one that promises to bring 10,000 persons into Berkeley stadium. A win for Stanford gives it the Rose bowl bid beyond dispute; a loss means something of a soap opera in individual brilliance, "as a team of super-conditioned, quick-thinking, working as a well-knit unit and—no matter what—it, the 1940 gang have no match."

Two other games complete the conference round robin. In one U.C. meets U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles; in the other Oregon and Oregon State clash at Corvallis.

Outside the conference Saturday San Diego needs Oklahoma in San Francisco; San Jose State plays Nevada at San Jose; and Arizona plays the campaign in night

Utah Redskins Tuck Away Big 7 Title

DENVER, Nov. 25 (UP)—Coach Ike Armstrong of Utah university school drew a unanimous vote of the coaches of the year in the Big Seven conference football race just completed.

Armstrong started the season last September with less returning let-terms than any of the other strong teams—Denver, Colorado, and Brigham Young—yet he managed to win his second title in three years.

He was plagued by failure of at least four lettermen to return as expected because the nation's armed forces lured them away. But he waited a song of despair as always, went quietly to work and came up with victories over everybody except Santa Clara and Utah State. The Utah State loss was apparently the result of overconfidence.

Utah defeated the strongest contenders—Colorado and Denver—and deserved to win the title.

Minnesota Gophers Lead Nation's Unbeaten Teams

By HARRY FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (UP)—Five unbeaten and untied football teams dominate the nation today as the season goes into its last big week.

Each section has produced one outstanding team, and from them a good share of the post-season bowl contestants will come. Here they are by sections:

Midwest—Minnesota, boasting a strong claim to the national championship with one of the toughest schedules in the country.

South—Tennessee, playing through a schedule that calls for frequent breathers, but still a powerful football team.

East—Boston college, a fast versatile attack operating behind what may be the best line in the nation.

Far west—Stanford, the miracle team of 1940. Almost a sure shot to carry the hopes of the west into the Rose bowl.

Southwest—Texas A. & M., with a fine, rugged line working ahead of Kinniburgh & Co.

Minnesota Through

Of the five teams, Minnesota alone can rest on its laurels. The Gophers closed their season Saturday with a victory over Wisconsin. "The other four go back to the wars this week."

On Thursday Texas A. & M. plays Texas and while the Aggies figure to take this one rather easily, anything can happen in the excitement of a traditional game.

On Saturday Boston college meets Holy Cross and this one should be fairly easy.

Stanford may have more trouble, for on Saturday it meets a California team that is a traditional rival and has been improving steadily.

Thursday Games

Vanderbilt is the only thing blocking Tennessee's way to a perfect season, but the Volunteers should be able to take that hurdle in their stride.

With their poorest performance of the season, the Redskins succumbed to the New York Giants Sunday at the Polo Grounds before 46,439 persons and left the Dodgers with a mathematical chance to tie for the eastern title. The Giants, scoring two quick touchdowns in the first period, hung on to beat the Redskins, 21-7.

The Redskins still hold a one-game lead over the Dodgers, who came from behind to beat the Chicago Cardinals yesterday, 14-0, but must defeat the Philadelphia Eagles at Washington next Sunday in order to clinch the eastern division crown.

Dan Topping, owner of the Brooklyn club, based just over hope although his club would have to beat the red-hot Giants and the Eagles claw the Redskins in order to give the Dodgers a tie.

The Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game was cancelled yesterday because of rain.

The Chicago Bears rolled up a smashing 47-25 victory over the Cleveland Rams at Chicago yesterday but still have to win their final game to clinch the western title because the Green Bay Packers bounced back from a loss to the Giants and walloped the Detroit Lions, 60-7. The Bears' final game next Sunday is with their south side rival, the Chicago Cardinals, who handed them one of their three defeats earlier in the season.

NAZIS BLAST FOR HOURS AT WESTERN ENGLAND

GERMAN PLANES DROP INCENDIARY BOMBS AS GUIDES

By NED RUSSELL
LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Nazi air raiders blasted for hours last night at a town in the western Midlands, damaging a school, two churches, a theater, shops and an old people's home.

Two of the raiders were shot down, one in the area of Falmouth, another off the Isle of Wight.

The first raiders, early in the evening, dropped incendiary bombs, starting fires that marked the town for succeeding planes. The attack was from a number of angles and the inhabitants were able to leave their shelters.

(The principal town of the western Midlands is the city of Birmingham, population 1,000,000, which, according to the Germans, was subjected to tremendous aerial assaults last week.)

Two Alarms in London
London also had two alarms and suffered some damage and a few casualties, including the death of a woman. A club was bombed and there were a number of injuries. British bombers last night subjected German gun emplacements on the French coast to a ferocious attack. The attack continued to several hours, apparently centering on gun emplacements at Calais, Dunkirk, Boulogne and Cap Gris Nez.

SOVIET MAKES NO AXIS GUARANTEES

MOSCOW, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreign observers believed today the Soviet union has made no commitments to the axis powers and continues to stand on a policy of neutrality entirely outside the axis.

This belief was based on several developments which led diplomatic sources to discredit the reasons to believe that the attitude of the Soviet union toward the tripartite pact had changed after the statement of position made by Pravda, Sept. 30 shortly after announcement of signing the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo pact.

Two minor wrecks noted for city
Two minor motor car crashes were recorded in Twin Falls Sunday morning, records at the police station show today.

Second crash came at 10:40 a. m. and involved cars operated by Katherine McFarland and Carl Hurst, the latter of route three. It happened on Fifth street and near the avenue north and like the first crash, damages were slight.

Police reports also show that at 9:30 a. m. Sunday W. A. Ginter, 411 Main avenue west, reported that his machine, parked in front of his home, had been crushed by some time late Saturday or early Sunday.

The left side of his machine was damaged, he said, and the front of the hit-run car had not been ascertained up until 1 p. m. today.

U. P. Leader Will Improve City's Station

said that the station would be "done up" and painted, and agreed with members of the committee that it was, at the present time, in need of beautification. He likewise agreed that it would be foolish to continue plate construction of a new station building here "when all people do walk through it to get onto the train."

A discussion was also had of competitive freight rates and Jeffers said that he would refer to them to the committee. "One thing is not generally appreciated and that is that we have even and are giving Idaho rates to which other states refer as an 'unfair advantage,'" President Jeffers said.

Connection makes
As to the matter of making connections with main line trains, the executive said that "we have to take the people that those connections would not make and we are going to make them ourselves. There has to be extra service to do it."

Need First Class Airport
During the discussion, Mr. Jeffers said that the Union Pacific was "very desirous" of getting a first class airport in this section of Idaho in order that a multiple air stop might be had for Sun Valley. He said that he didn't particularly care where the first class airport was located as long as it was built.

Jeffers also pointed out that the city would pay for the airport. He said that the city would pay for the airport. He said that the city would pay for the airport.

He mentioned that he believed that some of the money paid by the railroads in taxes should be returned to aid in road maintenance.
