SEA WAR BLAZES THREE FRONTS

—And So She Won the Argument

Here's the final "act" in the strip-picked production on the west coast. Grete Reinhold movie actress, is shown in black panes and brauser as she picketed Universal studio—just before the studio gave in and "allowed" her protest. The argument was over the fact that she had been given a small part in a film. Producers agreed to restore it or give her a part in another picture.

2,000 Reported Dead in Rumania Guard Outbreaks

BUDAPEST, Nov. 29 (UP)—Diplomatic information received here from Bucharest today alleged 2,000 persons, many of them Jews, had been slain in Iron Guard outbreaks in Rumania, and Iron Guardists had fought pitched battles with Rumanian army troops at some points.

The diplomatic information received here indicated the Iron Guard outbreak in Rumania had been of a more serious character than admitted in dispatches passed by the Rumanian censors.

(There has been no indication in Bucharest censored dispatches of disorders on the side reported in Budapest and there has been no mention of anti-Semitic outbreaks in Rumania.)

Centers of the Iron Guard outbreaks in addition to Bucharest were reported as Ploesti, in the old fields area where it was said some 200 Jews and "infants" were slain, and Brasov, Craiova and Turnu-Severin.

At Brasov, Craiova and Turnu-Severin pitched battles were said to have been fought between radical Iron Guardists and Rumanian regular army troops.

In Brasov the Iron Guardists occupied the public buildings but the troops drove them out of the post office and telephone exchange. At Craiova and Turnu-Severin, it was said, Guardists occupied public buildings and there was no report whether the army had succeeded in regaining control.

The situation at Ploesti was described in the reports reaching here as so serious that Floria Sima, Iron Guard leader who is a member of Gen. Ion Antonescu's government, was said to have gone there in an effort to restore order.

The newspaper manager Magyazog reported from Bucharest several Rumanian army divisions had been sent ordered into Bucharest from the front to deal with the situation. Antonescu is dealing with the outbreak.

NAZI FREIGHTERS FIGHT BLOCKADE

TAMPIO, Mexico, Nov. 29 (UP)—Two German freighters—S. S. Idarwald and S. S. Hinn—steamed out of port today in another apparent attempt to elude the British Atlantic blockade.

It was generally believed that the departure of the two German ships—part of a fleet of a dozen axed merchant vessels stranded here—might be a German sea raider or submarines in the Atlantic for purposes of attacking supplies in an effort to break the four German vessels that can back to port when they are destroyed on patrol—off the Mexican coast two weeks ago. On that occasion one of the four, the Phrygia, was wrecked.

REP DIES OFFERS HIS COOPERATION IN SPY ROUND-UP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (UP)—Chairman Martin Dies of the house committee investigating un-American activities said today in advance of a conference with President Roosevelt that he would cooperate fully in the administration's anti-fifth column drive.

Dies held a press conference in his office shortly after his arrival here to thrash out with Mr. Roosevelt their long-standing disagreement over the work and methods employed by the investigation committee.

He told reporters that while he was willing to cooperate with Mr. Roosevelt, he could not agree to cease publishing propaganda groups. He called for "careless disclosures" of their activities.

Contrary to People "If we should sacrifice that," he said, "we would be going contrary to the congress and every other citizen I am concerned, every effort will be made to establish such cooperation."

He plainly the duty of every citizen to tender to the President his wholehearted and sincere cooperation—but this does not mean a sacrifice of honest convictions of fundamental questions," he continued. "It does mean that all of us should subordinate every other consideration to the country's welfare."

Proper Method He emphasized we would stand on his conviction that "honest exposure" was the proper method of combating certain subversive organizations.

In this connection he pointed to the convictions of Fritz Kuhn, German-American bund leader; Earl Browder, secretary of the Communist party; Nicholas Dzenberg, former O'Day agent; and "hundreds" of prosecutions of Communists and other subversives in consideration to the country's welfare.

He pointed out that more than half of the total cost of operating elementary and high schools and falls chiefly on the state and local tax payers throughout the state without any exchange of state support for county support to equalize the cost," he added.

Reason for Low Salaries He maintained that because some counties had not adopted a high levy as other counties, the school equipment, educational facilities that teachers pay over in some places than in others.

He also reported the state apportioned 764 cents per day for teaching salaries and 1,000 cents for principal salaries. A total of $1,076,450.71 was spent for school purposes during the year.

He said that figures proved school aid had been materially decreased during the last year.

Britain Asserts Italian Strength Drastically Cut

Sea war touched new heights of fury today with reports of fresh engagements in the English channel, the Mediterranean and the Adriatic and conflicting British, German and Italian claims of successes.

The biggest encounters were in the Mediterranean where Wednesday's Italo-British engagement was followed yesterday, according to Rome, by a new air attack on the British fleet off Malta.

Here are the conflicting British-Italian claims on the Mediterranean sea battles:

BRITISH Italian dreadnaught strength had been cut to two warships by the Italo-British action in the Wednesday encounter off Sardinia, a 35,000-ton Italian class battleship was torpedoed by a fleet airplane, three Italian cruisers and two destroyers were damaged, Italian losses in the Mediterranean were reported by the British as three battleships, two cruisers, two auxiliary ships. This leaves two 23,827-ton Cavour class battleships available for Italian use.

One British cruiser, the 10,000-ton Berwick, suffered a slight injury in the Wednesday action. Bombs dropped all around the famous aircraft carrier Argo—the only British aircraft carrier in the Mediterranean—she was damaged and casualties. There was no British report yet on the Italian report of a fresh air attack off Malta.

REGULAR SCHOOL SUPPORT URGED BOISE, Nov. 29 (UP)—The state department of education, in its biennial report to Gov. C. A. Bolin, today urged permanent state support of the minimum education program as a "matter of simple justice to taxpayers."

"Equalization of education opportunities and equalization of taxes would be realized if full state support were provided for the program," John W. Condit, state superintendent, said. "The legislature should take prompt action to provide such state support of the program for distribution as are necessary for complete equalization."

Halt on District He pointed out that more than half of the total cost of operating elementary and high schools and falls chiefly on the state and local tax payers throughout the state without any exchange of state support for county support to equalize the cost," he added.

Pedestrians Buck Gales in Windy City

From this picture you get a pretty fair idea of why Chicago is dubbed the "Windy City," as pedestrians buck icy gales that swept in from Lake Michigan. Ithaca, like many midwest and western states, was blanketed with the heaviest snowfall of the season. At the same time, food waters inundated sections of the southwest.

Greek and English Planes Drive Away Italian Destroyers

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 29 (UP)—Italian destroyers bombed the north coast of Corfu island, but "stole away" under cover of a smoke screen when Greek-British planes reached the scene, a war communiqué said today.

(At London, Exchange Telegraph dispatches from Athens said Greek fighting planes had encountered eight Italian planes this morning and had driven them away.)

Another Exchange Telegraph dispatch said the Greeks had started an offensive on the central front Wednesday night, breaking the Italian lines and dispersing a fascist regiment called "La morte."

—to the death.) Only sketchy reports of the situation at the front were given out by officials here.

No Confirmation (There was no confirmation of reports from the Yugoslav border that Italian planes had captured Anzicostan, main Italian base in south Albania, after an hour's hand-to-hand battle in the streets.)

(A dispatch from Salonika, Greek eastern port, said reports from the front indicated that Italy intended using the small port of Santa Giannina of Medusa as a supply base for troops and materials to be brought from Italy to reinforce the crumbling south and central fronts.)

The port is in the extreme north of Albania, but is slightly less accessible to Greek and British bombing planes which have been attacking Durazzo and Valona, the two leading Albanian ports, regularly.

Double Value (Salonika dispatches said Greek military experts doubted the practical value of Santa Giannina as a supply base because of the lack of roads leading south from there, and the hostility of the north Albanian tribes.)

A delayed dispatch received here by air courier from the Epirus front said Greek Krynos and regulars were in a fierce fight with the Italian "La morte" regiment which was being dispersed. It said the Greeks charged into the battle with bayonets and the artillery fire was becoming fainter as the Italian withdrew.

At home, the government radio denied reports Gen. Pietro Badoglio, "conqueror of Ethiopia," had gone to Tirana, Albania, to direct the Italian operations.)

WULE PURCHASING BOOSTS BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (UP)—Christmas buying got under way in heavy volume this week and stores in many centers enlarged their staffs in preparation for the busy holiday season in a decade. D. S. and W. S. Inc., reported today.

Retail trade for the country as a whole was estimated at the best level of the year and 2 to 3 per cent above the corresponding 1939 period, compared with a year-to-year increase of 7 to 10 per cent in the previous year.

The official opening of the Christmas shopping season was marked as "unusually commencing."

SHORTENED WEEK TO REMAIN AIM FOR AFL UNIONS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (UP)—The American Federation of Labor today reaffirmed its faith in the 30-hour week as a means of increasing production and reducing unemployment.

The endorsement came in a report offered at closing session of an organization's annual convention. It also called upon A. F. L. officers to devote all efforts to protect the present 40-hour week from any "unjustified and unqualified" encroachment.

The instruction coincided with an observation that some business leaders were using the defense emergency to bring pressure for lengthening of working hours.

For Unemployment Relief The report did not recommend the 30-hour week be adopted at this time, but it said when preparedness building is completed, "we may be confronted with an unemployment crisis greater than we ever have known."

It may become necessary then for us to work for such a drastic step," it said.

As to 40-hour week was defended against criticism that its operation in other countries, especially France, weakened the internal structure of those nations and left them defenseless against the attacks from axis powers.

The experience of other countries which were building vast stores of armaments proves conclusively that longer hours cut down production," it said.

It said the defense program has offered labor the first opportunity to make a contribution to the war effort by working longer hours out of production," it said.

DEATH TOLL HIGH IN ENGLAND RAID

LIVERPOOL, England, Nov. 29 (AP)—Rescue squads dug feverishly into what had been a building today in search of bodies or persons possibly alive and trapped beneath tons of debris. It had resulted from one of many heavy bombs dropped in last night's concentrated German raid on Liverpool and two other northwest towns.

The building up until shortly after midnight had been an instructional center for civilians assigned to war work. It was not known how many persons were in the building when the bombs started falling.

Damage was done to some commercial property and many homes in the working class district were wrecked as bombs showered down on this, Britain's second largest port to which come ships of the world with food, munitions and war equipment. Officials asserted the damage reported in a preliminary survey was not extensive and casualties were generally believed not heavy.

FRENCH, SIAMESE PLANES BATTLE

HANOI, Nov. 29 (AP)—French and Siamese land and air forces fought yesterday on the disputed Cambodia and Laos frontiers, authoritative quarters said today, but French officials continued to hope hostilities could be localized.

Authoritative quarters said seven Siamese planes Thursday bombed the strategic roadhead towns of Thakhek and Savannakhet, at Indo-China's narrowest point.

(The Bangkok government announced yesterday Siamese planes would make widespread raids against military objectives in Indo-China in retaliation for French attacks on Siam.)

The Siamese aerial bombardments were said to have destroyed houses and caused casualties, including dead and wounded.

In retaliation for the Siamese air attacks, the French said, French mortar batteries at Thakhek shelled the opposite Siamese town of Lakhon.

Auditor Aids Cupid by Adding Two Pennies to Couple's License Fund

Pennies for a marriage license—it happened yesterday afternoon for the third time in two years here... but this time there was a variation. To be exact, the variation was two pennies.

Clarence S. Caton, 28, Hansen, and Ethel L. Jolin, 20, Piler, walked bearing into the offices of County Recorder Walter C. Musgrave. They bought a marriage license from Deputy Auditor Jess Parsons. Came time for payment and they produced a peanut can jammed with pennies.

The altar-bound pair told Parsons they thought there were more than the necessary 300 pennies in the tin can. So Parsons started counting.

When he reached 298, there weren't any more pennies. Bride and groom were nonplused. They could have handed over a larger coin but the idea had been to get that license with one-cent pieces.

So Auditor Musgrave, who had been watching proceedings with a broad grin, came to the rescue. He reached into his pocket, pulled out two pennies and dropped them on top of the pile.

Which saved the day for Cupid.

150 CASUALTIES IN CHINA WRECK

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29 (AP)—At least 150 persons were killed or wounded today when a train bearing prominent Japanese and Chinese officials to Nanjing for the formal recognition by Japan of Wang Ching-Wei's regime was derailed near Soochow by Chinese guerrillas. Japanese quarters said most of the casualties were Chinese, mainly coolies. They were riding in a car behind the locomotive, the only car on the train said to have been destroyed.

It was reported at least two Americans were aboard the wrecked train but their names were not known immediately and it was not established whether they had escaped injury.

Reports from Soochow said it had been confirmed Chinese guerrilla forces placed dynamite under the tracks over which the train to Nanjing traveled.

Japanese here said many prominent Chinese and Japanese officials who had planned to take the train waited for a later one, thus escaping danger. How many had taken the wrecked train was not known.

Japanese quarters here said at least one Japanese had been injured slightly.

Soochow is in the center of an area from which Chinese guerrillas never have been cleared, despite Japanese occupation of the city since 1937.

Red Termites Seek Shelter

On the statute books of the United States there is a certain Voorhis act which requires registration with the secretary of state for every organization subject to foreign control, or which is engaged in political activities, or civilian-military activities, or whose purpose is to overthrow the government by force, violence or threat.

Faced by this law, the Communist party of America dissolved its organizational affiliation with the Communist International.

That, of course, makes the whole proceeding smack of subterfuge. The Communists evidently do not fancy United States authorities looking into their books, seeing how their organization works and whose money makes the mare go.

The finances of any party are important. Money is always necessary for the building up of a framework around which the believers and converts can gather.

The new situation suggests various questions. Is a real American Communist party, without European ties and backing, possible in the United States?

The latter method is possible. The Communist party, as such, may have cut itself loose from European affiliations, but there are still ways of beating the devil around the stump.

Small Communist parties, which might grow into bigger and more dangerous ones, have existed before. In spite of the war and the position of Russia toward the belligerents, there is still a Communist party in Great Britain and it still has one member in the House of Commons who makes himself vocal on any and all occasions.

So far, the American Communist party has never elected a congressman, but it can always try to cash in on momentary discontents and disappointments of the people.

The Louis Brandeis Way

Recently Louis D. Brandeis, who retired from the United States supreme court in 1939 after 16 years of great service, celebrated his 84th birthday.

One of the Americans Brandeis has always admired is Thomas Jefferson. Jefferson in his time was member of the Continental congress, governor of Virginia, negotiator abroad of important treaties, secretary of state under Washington, vice president under Adams and President himself for two terms.

"Here was buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, and Father of the University of Virginia."

Mrs. Brandeis, asked what her distinguished husband had been doing since his retirement from the bench, spoke simple words which might well be his epitaph some day:

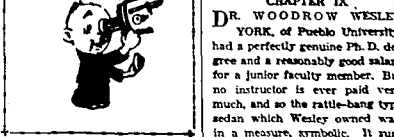

"He saw people and helped wherever he could."

If the 10 million autos that stop at U. S. gas stations every day all stopped at once they could cross the street.

One of the best ways to keep this country rolling along in the right direction is for all of us to put our shoulders to the wheel.

WITH THE GENTLEMAN in the Third Row

Justice for Baldies

Dear Sir: I have been making a private survey among my friends on a question of vital importance but one which the Gallup poll seems to have overlooked.

The question is this: Is it nature or the customs of humanity that are cruel to bald-headed men? I find that in eight cases out of 10, among the girls I queried, men who are bald or getting that way have an abundance of hair on their chests.

Now obviously there is a great injustice revealed here. Either nature put the hair to the wrong place, or humanity is being cruel by forcing bald-headed men to cover the hairy chests that would somewhat recompense, in the public eye, for the glistering condition of the dome.

I suggest that society okay a new type of apparel for baldies. Let's have shirts and suits made with a slightly circular opening on the chest, just enough to show that vitality abides there though the noggin be devoid of vegetation.

ONE WAY TO GET GYPPIED ON TURKEY: For the Pot Shots classified advertising section, I'll tell you point-blank and I mean no holdbacks.

I want a gold-plated explanation of the one that will hold water with my five year old son—as to how Santa Claus can come down the chimney when it's so very small.

COUPLE OF ENTRIES IN OUR CONTEST: What do I want for Christmas? I'll tell you point-blank and I mean no holdbacks.

POE SHOTS: I wish Santa Claus would bring me a magic wand for Christmas and I would then be able to stop all the trouble and run my life as I would also have the wand and give every hungry person in this town a turkey and run my life as I would also have the wand and give every hungry person in this town a turkey.

HO HUM DEPT.: "Sickness Blamed on Kissing Bug"—Evidently headline. That isn't all you can blame on the kissing bug.

fore Ronica saw him, Wesley stopped. "No! Mr. Bailey, I—the fact is, I was just leaving, thanks just the same. I, uh, did come—but I must make another call, immediately. I'll be back in a minute."

WESLEY almost ran to his old car. He felt sure Ronica had not seen him, but apparently she had. However, and so subjected to more acute embarrassment, he jebbed at his starter and roared off down the narrow trail again.

Not until he was out of sight of the Rocking R house did he regain composure and realize his predicament. He had thought his dash with Ronica a genuine one! She herself had suggested it, but—plainly now, she had just been ridiculing him.

He thought hurt deeply. He had felt that Miss Bailey was a sincere, kindly girl although a famous and most vivacious one. He had thought that she would be his friend and confidante.

His thoughts grew bluer and bluer as he left the moon-bathed country and came to the village lights of Pueblo again, and not realizing it he pulled up at his home. His mother was sitting at the table.

"Why, son, didn't you go to the dance?" Mrs. York sensed something. She stopped her chair. "I thought you'd be home by now."

A fellow has to bluff. To keep fact from being a casual matter, he went to his room, then out again and drove off in his old car. And this time he was definitely angry.

He glanced hastily around. No, she wasn't here yet. But across the room he did discover the girl who had been just talking to him.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 — High on the list of projects the New Deal plans to present in congress this winter is a social security change which would broaden the old-age pension system.

These studies have not yet been finished, but it is possible to get a fairly good line on the program. A first question is that it will call for the elimination of the means test—by which local boards are supposed to decide whether or not an assistance eligible is actually in need.

It is worth 10 days after that the President made his address before the convention of the team-unionists in the Senate. He called for bigger and better pensions, with payments "given in a manner which will respect the dignity of the life of service which our best citizens have given to the nation."

BOOK TRACES FIRST BROWN THRU VESTIBLES IN IND. "Eye Witness" edited by Robert Epler Benjamin (Alliance: $2.50) is the second absorbing volume of personal experience yarns from the series of the Overseas Club of America in a year.

CLOSE TO TOWNSEND PLAN This means, of course, that the present "actuarial basis" would be used to determine how long longer is necessary to estimate what percentage of persons will be in need, since pensions would be paid out of the Treasury on a means of footing the bill would probably be abandoned too.

There is one pending in the Senate bill introduced by Senator Downey of California, generally recognized as the chief spokesman for the Townsend idea in the upper house. Downey's bill, which bears Townsend's endorsement, would levy a two per cent gross income tax on any person over 60.

PRELIMINARY WILLINGNESS: One of his three eggs a tale Dr. Townsend came out for Willie in the last campaign. Downey, steward; J. J. Brennan, executive committee.

FIRST

A Twin Falls girl, Miss June Louise Thompson today was the first woman to solo after taking instruction in flight through the local CAA program, and the second woman ever to solo at the municipal airport.

Miss Thompson made her initial solo at the field yesterday under the direction of Jack Wiese, commercial instructor in charge of the program sponsored by the federal government.

First to learn to fly at the local field, and then to make her initial solo here, was Miss Lisa Maloney. She received her instruction from Lamorne Stevens and made her first flight alone two years ago, the records show.

The third air class is now in progress at the field, with five students having completed first solo. Four more are nearly ready for their "first flights."

Three of Four Starve to Death on Ill-Fated Ship

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Nov. 29 (AP)—Reduced to a single can of apricots after three months at sea, three California treasure-seekers slowly starved to death and a fourth woman, escaped a similar fate only because their tiny boat ran aground in the Fiji Islands, the log of the ill-fated sailing vessel Wing On disclosed today.

One of the dead was definitely identified as Chester Thompson, 21, Los Angeles, who inspired the South seas trip in search of pearls in the Marquesas Island group. The other two were believed to be Dalton Arthur Conly, 26, and his wife, Eve, 20, of San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The sole survivor was Mrs. Fern Thompson, 21, of Salt Lake City and Los Angeles. She was found unconscious aboard the Wing On when it was washed up on the beach near the Labasa sugar plantation Nov. 22. She was taken to Labasa plantation hospital where she remains in critical condition.

Buried at Sea

Thompson was buried at sea, and the bodies found aboard the vessel were believed, through letters and the log, to be those of the Conlys.

The log recorded the departure of the Wing On from the treasure-hunting expedition from the Pacific coast last August and told of meeting a cyclonic storm in the south Pacific early in November.

Food supplies diminished rapidly despite rationing.

Then on Nov. 7 the entry told of the death of Thompson.

"Chet has died," it read. "What next. Help us, oh God."

The yacht Loloma of the Seventh Day Adventist church found the sloop on the remote reef Sunday.

The party sailed from San Pedro, Calif., last Aug. 12 in the sloop that Conly had converted from a lifeboat. Only a former boatwain on the Grace line, was married in Portland, Ore., two years ago, and immediately planned a honeymoon cruise around the world on his tiny sloop.

Told of Riches

The Conly's met Thompson, the pearl diver who spoke glowingly of the riches to be found in the South seas. They pooled their resources, outfitted the wing on with an auxiliary engine generating power for light and the operation of a radio receiving set. They had provisions for four months when they departed for the Marquesas Islands, 1,500 miles east of Fiji.

The Conly's left their 10-month-old daughter in the care of his sister, Mrs. Lela King, in San Francisco. The Thompasons left their two children, Jacqueline, 2, and Tommy, 1, with Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mann in Los Angeles.

Apparently they followed a true course into the South seas, for there is no record they touched at any port. But the early spring months in the South seas is the period of typhoons, and mariners believed the Wing On was carried off its course and tossed on the reef, and their provisions washed away.

Hot Lunches to Be Buhl Project

BUHL, Nov. 29 (Special)—The community sponsored program for providing hot lunches for the Buhl grade school children is expected to feed in the neighborhood of 600 pupils each noon, it was announced today by the committee in charge, consisting of Mrs. Harry Wilson, school and community health nurse; Mrs. Myrtle Gauk, principal of the Lincoln intermediate school, and Mrs. Vernon Patch, home management supervisor of the farm security administration.

All children in the schools are welcome to participate and parents of each child are requested to give produce or a small cash contribution if able to do so. The churches and other local organizations will be called upon to assist in carrying out this program. The state department of public assistance supplements the commodities provided by the community and the works progress administration provides the labor necessary for preparing lunches.

The hot lunch program has been maintained in the Buhl schools for the past four years and school authorities praise the beneficial effects on the students who participate. Gain in weight, and a noticeable increase in industry has been achieved among the pupils by this program.

1941 AAA PLANS PRESS FORWARD

GOODING, Nov. 29 (Special)—Triple-A farm and range program for 1940 closed officially Oct. 31 and many phases of the 1941 program are being carried out, according to Charles P. Baker, chairman of the Gooding county agricultural conservation committee.

The new commitments will take effect Jan. 1; those for community commitments were named two weeks ago and the county committee announced last week.

Wheat Allotments

Wheat acreage allotments for the 1941 crop were made some time ago by county and community committees and all wheat growers in the county have been notified of their individual allotments. Potato acreage allotments and total acreages of soil-depleting crops will be set soon by the committees. Farmers will be notified as soon as they are completed.

Farmers who grow winter wheat have been contacted on their 1941 crop, and spring wheat growers will be canvassed soon after the first of the year. Approximately three times as many winter wheat policies have been sold in the state as were sold last year, Baker said.

Last date on which Gooding county farmers could carry out soil-building practices for credit under the 1940 farm and range program was Oct. 31. Practices performed after that date will be counted in 1941 if they are listed as approved in the new program.

About Same

Present estimates show that cooperation over the state will be about the same as last year in the agricultural conservation program and 30 to 50 per cent greater in the range conservation program.

Progress with the program work makes it possible for farmers to know ahead whether or not they wish to cooperate, according to Mr. Baker. Farm operations can be planned in advance and better use can be made of the program in building up their farms and their ranches. Generally speaking, all phases of the program are several months ahead of a year ago.

Y. W. C. A. to Stage "Big Top" Performance Here Saturday

"Gigantic, colossal, stupendous" will be the "American Circus of Life," if advance billings are any indication. Under that caption, the annual fall conference of the Magic Valley district and Twin Falls Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. will be staged here Saturday, Nov. 30. "Top performances" will be the principal address of Gerald Wallace, "lion tamer," at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the lower auditorium of the Christian church, and a chalk talk by Melvin Schubert, "acrobat," at 3 o'clock.

Seating will be the setting for the conference, the ceiling of the auditorium disguised to represent the top of a big tent. Colored pennants and dolls swinging from trapezes will figure in the decorations. Chalk sketches of life-sized circus animals and sideshow attractions will form a vast fringe. Other decorations will feature light-colored of the United States, red, white and blue.

To Elect Officers Officers, elected at the morning session, will be installed at candle-light vesper services tomorrow at 8:30 o'clock in the Methodist church auditorium, and the conference will be served at 6:30 o'clock in the basement of the Methodist church.

Registration, "Get Your Ticket," will be from 9 to 10 o'clock; circus clown band, Kimberly Girl Reserves, will play appropriate music at 10 o'clock; there will be the "Parade of Colors" and the flag salute led by a Kimberly girl. Miss Lillian Laubenthal, district president, as ring master, will welcome the conference attendees, and the introduction of the crew will follow. At 11 o'clock will be "Raising of the Big Top," a club exercise, with Kimberly Girl Reserves presenting a "Sideshow" attraction, a skit on camp. "Pay Day" will be the business session and election of officers at 11:30 o'clock. Miss Laubenthal presiding. From 12 to 1:30 o'clock, "Mess Time," will permit Girl Reserves to lunch, and they choose. There will, however, be a no-heat luncheon at the Blue Arrow for advisors and district women's council members.

Expert Declares Bridge Is Cinch

Contract bridge is a cinch, according to Sam Gordon, the Kiltzer, who will be here for a series of contract bridge lesson-lectures Dec. 5-7, at parish hall of Ascension Episcopal church, sponsored by the Evening Guild.

He says the only aim of two partners in a bridge game is to tell each other how many tricks they expect to take, and what is their best trump suit, if any, and that's all. And to give that information, a player need not be a civil engineer, a statistician and a clairvoyant.

All he needs is to learn the few basic rules and signals used by experts and other practical players, which is the Horse Sense method taught by Mr. Gordon.

Tickets for the lesson-lectures are available at the Town Shop, the office of Stuart H. Taylor, and from members, according to Mrs. Guy Ryan, in charge.

Parents Warned Not To Upbraid Officials

Parents should consider children as citizens of tomorrow and guard against unjust and highly colored accusations against public officials.

That was one of the opinions advanced by Mrs. Emma Clouchek when she addressed members of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the school auditorium.

"No nation rises higher than the standard set by the people, and parents, in the homes, must promote democracy as something definite, not just a phrase," she summarized.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, program chairman, introduced the speaker and program numbers. Milo Pearson, accompanied by Miss Loreet Fuller, presented two vocal solos, "The Blind Ploughman" and "Invictus."

Pupils of Miss Helen Stearns' third grade class presented a tabernacle, "God Bless America." Miss Lavonne Harrison's fourth graders presented a short playlet, "The Strange Encounter," and a song, "Pilgrim Maidens."

Indian dance. Mrs. Eleanor Jensen's second grade class gave an Indian dance. Mrs. Walter Dix conducted the business session, and Mrs. Alphonse Deatley led the community singing.

Mrs. Howard Fisher, chairman of the hot lunch committee, announced that the serving of lunches at the Lincoln school will begin next week.

Hot lunches to be served during winter months. At an executive board meeting of the junior-senior high school Parent-Teacher association at the high school Wednesday, plans were completed for the hot lunch program for students, which will start next Monday.

Plans were also made for the December general meeting of the association, Dec. 16 at which time extra-curricular activities of the high school will be discussed.

Mrs. T. Bollinger is program chairman for the year.

CHILD NEWS. TALKS ON CHILD HEALTH. Mrs. Virginia McConnell, school nurse, spoke on child welfare at the meeting of the Washington P-T. A. study group Tuesday night at the school auditorium.

Large cart wheel drawn with the hub representing the child and the spokes representing the child organizations in Twin Falls interested in the health of the child.

Although the federal government will match funds set apart for such services, only four districts in Idaho have taken advantage of this, according to Mrs. McConnell, who referred to the work of the south central district health unit.

Health service, of any state in the union, she pointed out.

STANFORD, BOSTON, TENNESSEE TEST RECORDS

Three Teams Get Last Chance at Sectional Crowns

By PAUL SCHEFFELS
NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UP)—The 1940 collegiate football season, which brought bitter disappointment to an unprecedented number of teams and high honors to only a few, comes to a close tomorrow with three eleven—Stanford, Tennessee and Boston colleges—striving for sectional championships.

Football invitations for all three, so far unheated and untied, will be at stake as the other two surviving perfect record teams, Minnesota and Lafayette, rest after completing their schedules.

Chance to Sew up Title
But not on the field will the games that lead to post-season extravaganzas hinge. Stanford, surprise team of 1940, can sew up the Pacific coast title and rest for its colorful pagantry. Navy is a heavy favorite.

Set up for Eagles
Boston college meets Holy Cross in a game that shapes up as fairly easy for the undefeated Eagles. They may open the way to an invitation to the Sugar bowl in New Orleans and a meeting with Tennessee.

History Repeats
Never in the history of the south-western conference has a champion repeated and as a result of yesterday's upset, one of two teams—Stanford or Tennessee—will meet the Aggies for the title. The Aggie record is five and one while both SMU and Rice have won three and lost one with two to go. If both eleven win tomorrow, then the victor in their Dec. 7 meeting will be the Aggies.

More than just the world's diamonds now come from the Belgian Congo.

Another block of 10,000 seats will be given over to the alumni of the schools whose chances for football success I spotted by writing of the teams as "unbeatable" and "unsound" for an entire season, and "tab this club for the Rose bowl"—it can't miss!

Some 10,000 seats will be allotted to the members of teams I named in previous years by selecting them as sure winners, and another 8,000 will go to the coaches of teams who went into and out of the bowl every year and were never named. All of these seats will be

Navy Holds Edge Over Army as Two Teams Prepare for 'Big' Game

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29—While Army threatened to win its first major game since 1939 at Princeton, there is every indication that Major Swede Larson will keep his record of never having been beaten by the Cardinals player-coach-in-charge when Navy tackles West Point in the great spectacle on Franklin field here Nov. 30.

The midshipmen rested up for the big show, and their attack, built around versatile Bill Busk and run behind a sturdy forward wall led by the 250-pound sophomore tackle, Gene Flathman, seems to pack a few too many runs for Capt. Bill Wood's budding officers.

Fordham and Boston college should have little difficulty in neighborhood quarrels with New York university and Holy Cross, respectively. Duquesne is the choice over Carnegie Tech in another.

Stanford and California spent two weeks preparing for the big game in Berkeley.

California, never far off the pace, came on like a prairie fire in its last two engagements against Southern California and Oregon.

Prospects for Norm Standlee appearing for Stanford are not bright. Chief Standlee is from the hospital with a bad ankle, but Mill Vuclnich, a 200-pound sophomore, has filled in for the hard-hitting fullback handily.

Frankie Albert is doing the kicking, and this is no time to cast a ballot against the Cardinal. Cincinella combination in its steady march to the Pasadena Rose bowl.

Other attractions on the Pacific coast, as the curtain falls on the regular season, are traditional meetings between Oregon State and Oregon, and Washington and Washington State, and one of more recent vintage which brings out Southern California and U. C. L. A.

Oregon State and Washington have a bulge in manpower on their second rivals, and Southern California hardly figures to drop four in a row, which is why we pick the Trojans to beat the Bruins, who have captured only one engagement this fall although highly regarded at the outset.

It may be that Duke Laska the speed with which to replace a surprising Pittsburgh club in Durham, Oklahoma is given a shaky vote against Santa Clara in San Francisco.

Georgia Tech and Tulane will have to go all the way out to successfully hurdle Georgia and Louiana State, respectively, in backyard battles in which earnest young men start quickly and pour it on all the way along the line.

While Auburn is the choice, Florida is capable enough to stir up plenty of trouble.

Unbeaten Season

Tennessee takes Vanderbilt in stride in completing another regular campaign unbeaten and as the foremost southern power.

This handicapper strings along with Rice in its meeting with Baylor, and with Southern Methodist, which opposes Texas Christian, but in each case the result could be determined by a break.

Nebraska figures to trounce Kansas State by three touchdowns, just by way of making its Big Six championship emphatic.

But please remember that games played as late as Nov. 30 usually are dog fights in which teams that are on the short end in the waning frequency rise to great heights to throw form right out the window.

Aluminum Strike Ends as Workers Return to Posts

CROWDS WITNESS SANTA'S ARRIVAL

The Christmas season was securely entrenched in Twin Falls today following Santa's traditional arrival in the city last night, a part of elaborate ceremonies under guidance of members of the merchants' bureau.

The program also marked the initial use of this season's decorative street lights. They were turned on promptly at 7:30 p. m., the signal being given by the sounding of the fire siren. As the lights went on, Santa Claus appeared from out of nowhere and mounted the platform, to the cheers of the children.

Student Choir Sings
The program actually started at 7:15 p. m., when members of the high school a cappella choir, directed by Miss Marjorie Albertson and accompanied by Jay E. Hill at the electric organ, sang several Christmas numbers in impressive fashion. The closing selection, "Simple Gifts," was sung by the crowd under the direction of Charles Shirley, a member of the committee responsible for the musical entertainment. Assisting with the musical program were William Peck and James C. Reynolds.

Following the downtown program, local stores were opened for inspection of the general public with the latest in Christmas merchandise going on display. Attracting the most attention were the toylands of the larger stores where children—pressed in like sardines—moved slowly from one counter to another in order to miss nothing which Santa might bring them.

Santa Nearly Mobbed
Santa, after leaving the platform, was almost mobbed by his admirers as he made his way from store to store. The patron saint (A. O. Kelli) seemed not to mind all the pushing and shoving, however, and managed to greet each and every child who came within reach of him. Unofficial estimates place the throng of youngsters and oldersters at 3,000.

The program for the evening was under the general direction of a committee composed of Roy Hudson, chairman; Albert Bellamy, R. S. Tolson and E. H. Clugre. Lighting and decorations were in charge of a committee headed by Al Gilbert, with Merritt Shotwell supervising installations.

A public address system carried the Main-Shoshone program to all parts of the downtown area. Three great bells, which will hang from wires above the intersection and which will be lighted from the interior were not in place last night but will be set up in the immediate future, probably by this evening, those in charge said.

Santa Arrives to Inaugurate Christmas Shopping Season

Good old Santa Claus, storybook friend of millions, greeted Twin Falls youngsters and oldersters alike last night when he made his initial seasonal visit to the city at elaborate ceremonies at the intersection of Main and Shoshone. In the top picture above, Santa can be seen standing on a high platform which was in the center of the stage. Members of the high school chorus, who sang several Christmas numbers, can be seen in the foreground ready to leave the stage after completing their portion of the program. Second from the left is Charles Shirley, one of the merchants' bureau members in charge of the event. In the center photo a closeup of Santa shows him as he said: "I'm glad to be back, children, and I'll see every one of you at Christmas." His head is almost touching the traffic signal at the intersection as he waves in the hundreds crowded about the platform. The bottom picture was snapped in the toyland of one store during general open house, and shows members of the younger generation inspecting the latest in playthings. The little girl in the center of the picture emitted a big "Oh," when the flash went off while the girl in the foreground (right) just hit her tongue. All downtown stores were open for public inspection after the street ceremony had ended, and a crowd of youngsters followed Santa as he visited the various shops. (Times Photos and Engravings)

EMPLOYERS, CIO LEADERS AGREE TO COMPROMISE

NEW KENSINGTON, Penn., Nov. 29 (AP)—The 7,000 CIO union workers of the New Kensington plants of the Aluminum Company of America returned to their jobs today, ending a week-long strike which tied up production of aluminum needed for national defense.

They accepted a compromise agreement worked out by the national defense advisory commission, company officials and Philip Murray, the new president of the CIO. The union workers walked out last Friday, demanding the company discharge or transfer a $26.80-a-week sheet mill worker who was behind in his union dues and who allegedly threatened a union official who tried to collect them.

As the strike continued, with negotiations failing and the workers losing a $44,000 daily payroll, the national defense advisory commission stepped in and ordered the strike settled within 24 hours.

A conference resulted in the compromise agreement which the union accepted last night. The recalcitrant union man will be transferred from the sheet mill to the boiler house at nearby Logan's Ferry, but will still remain within the bargaining unit of the union. The union previously had demanded that he go to a department outside union jurisdiction.

"The disciplined worker," a union official said, "will work at odd shifts and will be required to enter and leave the plant alone."

Veteran Comedian Dies in Poverty
NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Frank Tinney, 53, once one of the stage's highest paid black face comedians, died in poverty in a Long Island hospital last night.
Tinney began his career in vaudeville, and reached Broadway in 1910, appearing in the "Follies."
In 1924, Irvings Wilson, "Follies" beauty, charged in court he had beaten her in her apartment. This cost Tinney many friends, much popularity, and his wife, Edna Daventree, who divorced him.

The badge originated in Persia and Greece centuries before the birth of Christ.
