

L. D. S. RITES FOR SIDNEY PITMAN

RUPERT, Dec. 10 (Special)—Funeral services were conducted in the third ward L. D. S. church at 10 a. m. Saturday for Sidney Pitman, who died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. P. M. Bassett. The ceremony was in charge of Bishop Clyde Crandall. Other speakers were Lorias Thompson, second counsellor to the bishop, and William Walle, Burley.

A ladies' quartet, composed of Fern Moncur, Clara Rytting, Etta Chamberlain and Fannie Erickson, with Melba Fenrod at the piano, sang two numbers, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Though Deepening Trials Thro'g' You May." George Catmull, head of the local high school music department, also accompanied by Mrs. Fenrod, sang, "Oh My Father" and pronounced the benediction.

Flower bearers were Howard Pitman, Ben Knowles, Leo Knowles, Jr., Herbert Merrill, Raymond Bassett, and P. M. Bassett, sons-in-law and grandsons of Mr. Pitman.

Flower bearers were members of the third ward Relief society. The body, accompanied by relatives, was taken to Menzies by the Goodman mortuary where, with simple graveside services, it was interred in the family plot beside the body of Mrs. Pitman, who died several years ago when the family lived near Nampa.

Mr. Pitman was born in England Feb. 14, 1851. He was left a full orphan at an early age. When but 17 years old he became a convert of the Latter Day Saints church where he served faithfully until his death. He came to the United States the same year he was converted.

He served on two missions for the church and had the distinction of knowing personally every president of the church from Brigham Young to Heber J. Grant.

In 1878 Mr. Pitman and Miss Elizabeth Reman were married in Salt Lake City and soon moved to Idaho and settled near the present site of Twin Falls. They were known as Eagle Rock. Near there he made the first canal built in Idaho, saw the territory of Idaho admitted to the Union as a state, and played an active part in its early development.

Mr. Pitman is survived by four daughters and seven sons, Mrs. William Bowen, Idaho Falls; Mrs. John Colee, Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Leo Knowles, Dietrich, Ida.; Mrs. P. M. Bassett, Rupert; Mrs. F. M. Bassett, Robert Pitman and Thomas Pitman, Emmett, Ida.; Heber Pitman and Sidney Pitman, Mount Vernon, Wash.; and John Pitman, Idaho Falls.

It is presumed the fire started as a result of children playing with matches.

Woman's auxiliary of the George E. Marshall post, No. 16, American Legion, met Tuesday in an all-day sewing bee at the home of Mrs. J. C. Benbrook. At noon covers were laid for 19 at covered club luncheon. The day was spent in making dry cloths for the Rupert general hospital and bed jackets for the Veterans' hospital at Boise.

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard A. Whitley the Women's Missionary society and the Universal Missionary club of the local Christian church will present a one-act missionary play entitled "In Times Like These" in the main auditorium of the Christian church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Everyone is invited to see this presentation; all missionary-minded folks are especially urged to attend.

Sale of Hogs Stopped Here

Designed as a measure to fight spread of infectious and communicable diseases among hogs of this area, sale of swine at community and auction sales yards in Twin Falls has been ordered suspended, according to Dr. Phil H. Graves, deputy state veterinarian.

The discontinuance, effective until further notice, was ordered by the state bureau of animal husbandry.

Only exception to the rule is made for swine to be slaughtered immediately. These must be disposed of within five days, and during that time the hogs must not be permitted to associate with any hogs except those marked for immediate slaughter.

POTATO MEN APPROVE "AD" TAX BOOST TO ONE CENT

BALLOT FAVORS RETURN TO OLD LEVY ON SPUDS

After hearing a declaration by Joe Marshall, Twin Falls, member of the Idaho advertising commission, that "competition is closing in from all sides in the potato market" and that growers and shippers of this section today had declared for a tax of one cent per hundred pounds to carry on the state's potato-onion advertising program.

The action was taken at a public commission session last night at the district court rooms here. Marshall called for a standing vote from all those in favor of asking the legislature to increase the tax from the present one-half cent to one cent, and the vote in favor was unanimous. Nearly 100 growers and shippers were present.

The tax was formerly one cent but was cut in half by the 1939 legislature.

Must Fight

"We've got to get out and fight to hold our present markets and to get new ones," Marshall said, "and we can't do it by sitting and sucking our thumbs."

The endorsement of the legislative action came at the end of the session at which Edward N. Pettigrove, commissioner of agriculture; Win Cline, Boise, head of the Cline Advertising Service, handling the state account, and Marshall were principal speakers.

Pettigrove explained in detail the results of the advertising program to date and also told of the marketing situation as it exists today, compared with 10 or 20 years ago. Competition, he said, is getting "worse every day, and if we want to stay in business we've got to get out and get the market before the other fellow gets it."

During his talk, Pettigrove also urged the increase in the tax per hundredweight of from one-half to one cent.

Tells of Ad Program

Using posters to illustrate the types of work being done in the advertising field, Mr. Cline declared that the program has three objectives, which follow:

- 1-To create new markets to offset the loss in highly competitive areas.
- 2-To increase consumption through increased advertising for potatoes for other than baking. Such uses including frying, mashing and boiling.
- 3-To educate retailers how to merchandise Idaho potatoes and how to keep them so that they can always be sold in lots or quantities.

He pointed out that in retail stores, the products not usually advertised and pushed to the front are those which do not sell, and after a while the merchant himself

REPAIR SHOP AT AIRPORT ASSURED

Construction of a $1,400 plane repair shop at the municipal airport appeared to be assured today with the state department of aeronautics furnishing $800 and the balance coming from city funds.

Fact that the state had offered the city $800 toward construction of the repair shop was revealed at the regular session of the city council last night when a state-city cooperative agreement was offered for approval of the councilmen.

One Error
The agreement was accepted, with the exception of one point therein which, City Attorney Harry Benoit said, is in all probability a typographical error made when the copy was drafted in Boise. The draft will be sent back to Boise and if the error, which will then coincide with other correct statements in the contract, is "made right" the contract will go through.

Councilman Lionel A. Dean explained that the $800 was made available by W. H. (Pete) Hill, aeronautics director, as a part of unused money originally set aside for aeronautical purposes. Ten airports shared in the funds and the local share was $800.

The repair shop will be constructed along lines suggested by the CAA. It was pointed out that the new library building was continued until next Monday at which time a member of the library board will be invited to meet with the

Widely-Heralded Drama Staged at School Thursday

One of the most widely heralded plays of the present time will be given in Twin Falls when Channing Pollock's "The Roof" is presented by the senior class of Twin Falls high school in the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday of this week. # Towering Oregon Basketball Team Favorite to Capture Coast Crown

By DON SANDERS
NBA Service Staff Correspondent

Sam Barry faces the gigantic task of leading a successor to the Southern California basketball band that last season won the Pacific Coast conference championship and went to the national collegiate semi-finals.

Oregon perhaps has the brightest prospects, although the western slope, recognized stamping ground of some of the bigger and better basketball combinations, more is due to come up with several contenders for nation-wide laurels.

Pre-season estimates indicate both conference division races will be harder fought than usual, with Oregon the favorite in the north and Southern California in the south.

Practically every squad averages more than six feet in height. Jack Lippert, a nimble, sharp-shooting, 5-foot 11-inch guard, is Leonard Berg fires first shot for Southern California.

John Mandic, Roy Tamm, the lone regular back in action at Southern California. Gone are the all-American forward, Ralph Vaughn, and two others named on the all-league team. But Coach Barry floors a first team of lettermen by promoting four of last season's second-stringers.

Lesnard Berg and Bob Ormsby, who stands 6 feet 3, hold down the forward berth. Berg, a 200-pounder, has improved considerably as a ball handler and shot.

Paired with Captain Lippert at guard, Tamm has an aggressive both man in John Luber, a reserve last season. Joe Helms, tallest man on the squad at 6 feet, 5 inches, takes the center berth after a year on the reserves.

Evenly Matched

Southern California, Stanford, California and U. C. L. A. appear more evenly matched than at any time in recent years.

A veteran club has returned to Stanford, and the varsity has drawn from an outstanding freshman team.

From the front line three heavy hitters are far enough along to play varsity ball. Voss, a six-foot center, weighs 220 pounds. Dana is a 5-foot, 8-inch forward and a crack. McCaffrey stands 6 feet 1 and is a guard who is an exceptionally good shot.

U. C. L. A. has the lightning fast Negro Jackie Robinson, called the best all-round athlete on the coast.

Archie Marshall, 6-foot 7-inch forward who broke into the regular lineup midway last season, is big and agile. Johnny Migger, 6-foot 4-inch center, is rugged and a good man around the basket.

Warren Taylor, fills the role.

Veterans Vic Townsend, who stands 5 feet, and Paul Jackson, shortest man on the squad at 5 feet 7, are the guards. Brightest hopes for the reserves are Porky An-

Six Lettermen Return to Heyburn Club

HEYBURN, Dec. 10 (Special)—Heyburn's classy cage team, one of the outstanding quintets in the state during the 1939-40 season, opens the season against the Burtley Indians here tonight and Coach Dick Stevens will probably have six lettermen ready to take the floor.

He has outstanding talent in Burt Beeson, Eugene Fisher and Jack West, all from the first string last year, and three others who are enough action to annex letters—Dob Peterson, Jimmy Toone and Dale McCamba.

Other good prospects are Keith Beeson, Ralph Holmes, Dick Orat, Wilbur King, Duane Dickinson, George Pullman.

Twenty-three prospects have turned out for the club this year in this small school and Coach Stevens is again looking for an outstanding club.

Golden Glovers Tangle in Coast Matches

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Golden Gloves rivalry championship fight between titleholders from the Pacific northwest, San Francisco and Los Angeles will be fought tonight at Hollywood legion stadium, winners of the west division will go to Boston, Mass., next month to represent the Pacific coast in the West Coast championship tournament.

In the middle-weight division, the matches include Alphonse Brown of Los Angeles vs. Frank Gienher of the University of Idaho, the winner meeting Frank Cimble of San Francisco.

Record Crowd Sees Rupert Boxing Card

RUPERT, Dec. 10 (Special)—The biggest fight crowd of the season packed the new civic auditorium to the rafters here last night to see the fight show sponsored by the Rupert Athletic association and featured by four knock outs.

In the feature event, Ray Wall,

145, Rupert, won on a foul in the third round from Joe M. Davis, Camp Minidoka.

Davis climbed into the ring and it was announced he was former AAU champion from Ohio. He easily won the first two rounds from the slugging Wall, but a low blow in the final stanza lost the bout for him.

In the semi-windup Billy Awe, Camp Paul, scored a technical K. O. over Doc Kelly, 150, from the city of Paul.

Trent Hayden scored a technical K. O. in the second round over K. O. Davis, brother of Joe M., both borders weighing 140.

Kid Scott, 150, Camp Minidoka, won the decision over Fred Gifford, 150, Camp Minidoka.

Harvin McIntosh, former champion fighter from the Philippines islands, 135, won by a knock out in the third round over Mike Agriter, 135, Minidoka.

Bruce Gray, 130, Grace, Ida., won by a knock out in the second round, over Dutch Nelson, 150, Bunches.

Judges for fights were Glenn Nutting, Ace Morris; time keeper, Harry Howell; referee, Chuck Fridge; announcer, Fred Baldwin.

Howard Hobbes will again see a driving attack from Chuck Brooks and four passers behind the offense to any spot on the floor.

Washington's Apple

Three are making for Oregon State, which topped the northern division title last season.

Prospects are indefinite, although the Beavers have great newcomers. John Mason, a stand-out as a sophomore last year, should develop into one of the best men in the conference. Other top men are Jack Walker and Sam Demet, forward, and Paul Valenti and Clayton Shaw, forwards.

Washington, with four back from last season's team, may well develop into the outfit to challenge Oregon. The Huskies have the ace.

Washington State is strong, although the Cougars have one of last season's regulars. The attack is built around Paul Lindeman, 6-foot 7-inch center. Other starters are Vern Burt and Sam Sargent, forward, and Robert Hooper and Kirk Gebert, guards.

Idaho, usually the sneaky team, has a number of sneaky men who are capable than they have been in many campaigns.

Santa Clara, with an experienced nucleus, figures to be the most formidable among the independents.

Won't Be Outreached

Oregon, which won the national collegiate crown two years ago, has seven lettermen back, including four of last season's regulars. John Dick, brilliant center, was the only varsity man lost through graduation and promising sophomores are on hand.

Archie Marshall, 6-foot 7-inch forward who broke into the regular lineup midway last season, is big and agile. Johnny Migger, 6-foot 4-inch center, is rugged and a good man around the basket.

Warren Taylor, fills the role.

Veterans Vic Townsend, who stands 5 feet, and Paul Jackson, shortest man on the squad at 5 feet 7, are the guards. Brightest hopes for the reserves are Porky An-

SENTENCING SET FOR WIFE-KILLER

Sentence will be decreed at 10 a. m. Thursday for Don Sellers, 22-year-old Twin Falls man who pleaded guilty to second degree murder yesterday in the shooting of his wife last June 6.

Judge L. W. Porter set the time for sentencing as Sellers appeared in district court Monday afternoon to withdraw a previous plea of not guilty on first degree murder complaint. His trial on that charge had been scheduled to start this morning but jurors were notified that they need not appear.

Sellers dropped his original plea and admitted guilt on a second degree murder complaint after he had conferred Monday morning with the two counsels appointed for him by the court—R. P. Parry and James T. Murphy. Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeney agreed to the move with asserting that the ends of justice will be served.

Sellers admitted shooting to death his estranged young wife, Mrs. Beulah Mangerson Sellers, at the home of her mother on Main, avenue north. Domestic difficulties were attributed as cause of the tragedy.

HITLER TALK TERMED DEFENSIVE UTTERANCE

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Herr Hitler's speech today before German factory workers was a defensive utterance, showing the strain of the war. It was much less brilliant than his usual declamations and lacked the usual Nazi note of supreme confidence.

For the first time, the Fuehrer explained why the war has not ended with the rapidly which the German people were led to expect. He told the factory hands that it is better to wait for the right time to strike and so prevent sacrifices.

Previously, however, Herr Hitler had indicated the offensive was wholly in German possession and the right time was the Fuehrer's to command. Now, sacrifice must be avoided, although hitherto Herr Hitler had indicated repeatedly that the highest honor for a German was to make sacrifices for the fatherland.

No End in Sight

The Fuehrer always has been sensitive to popular psychology. His emphasis on the necessity for avoiding sacrifice even at the cost of losing prestige, may be based on a feeling in Germany after 15 months of war with no end in sight.

Herr Hitler also defended himself against charges of having ordered too much ammunition manufactured. This is the first intimation that such accusations have been made in Germany, probably because of the power in munitions factories might have been used more advanced.

EVANGELIST SEES HITLER CHECKED

Neither Hitler nor any other dictator or nation will ever gain complete control over all of Europe, said the Rev. K. K. Kealey, an evangelist, in a speech at the Capitol in Boise today.

Kealey, who is serving at the "atremitted church" last night, the evangelist, speaks this evening concerning the church's role in the ever succeeding in establishing a national home in Jerusalem.

Dismissing "the fate of Europe, or will Hitler Ever Stop?" Kealey said: "Upon the swiftly changing European stage has appeared a conqueror greater than Charlemagne, more powerful than Napoleon, more constant than the memory of Christ. He has suddenly spread his dominion from the Arctic circle to the Black sea. Today everyone is asking, how much farther will he go?"

Answering the question, the evangelist said: "To all who are perplexed over these problems we are glad to give a clear and unequivocal answer. There will be no domination of Europe by any one man or any single power. You need not fear the outcome. These who are seeking to dominate the world by brute force, with reckless disregard of human rights and feelings, are flying in the face of both history and prophecy."

MONTANA COUPLE CLINGING TO LIFE

HUETTE, Mont., Dec. 10 (AP)—Jelich, 23, and his wife, 23, principals in what police called a "Home and Juliet" tragedy, clung to life today at the hospital where they were taken.

Jelich shot Miss Weller and himself because—according to a letter he wrote after the pair's suicide—broken up by family and religious difficulties.
