BRITISH GREEKS HAMMER ITALY

Wave of German Bombers Reopens Drive on Britain

BERLIN, Dec. 20 (UP)—The official DNB news agency reported tonight that German bombers attacked the British roller bearing factory at Christmas from a low altitude, dropping bombs which sent up "mighty sheets of flame" and caused heavy explosions.

LONDON, Dec. 20 (UP)—Waves of German bombers hurled over Great Britain tonight, breaking the long truce from the bombing tactics with an attack that brought reports of Nazi raiders in almost all sections of the country.

London had a night alarm soon after dusk and a little later there were reports of Nazi warplanes operating over the country at almost all points of the compass.

A little later an east midlands town reported that raiders were roaring over at a great height at intervals of about a minute, apparently headed farther north.

Other raiding reports came in from a west British town, East Anglia, Wales, a south-west British town, Liverpool, northwest British towns, the west midlands and a north England town.

HALIFAX MAY BE NEXT U. S. ENVOY

LONDON, Dec. 20 (UP)—A report circulated today that the Minister Lord Halifax will be named as the next ambassador to the United States and that the government will reaffirm following his appointment.

It was reported War Secretary Anthony Eden may take over Halifax's foreign portfolio and David Lloyd George, World War prime minister, might enter the cabinet to relieve Prime Minister Winston Churchill of much responsibility for domestic affairs.

This, it was said, would allow Churchill to devote more attention to the strategy of defending Britain against German attacks against Germany and Italy.

Rumors circulated that Eden would be replaced by another member of the present cabinet of agriculture.

GUARDSMEN WILL RETURN ON TRAIN

BOISE, Dec. 20 (UP)—Idaho's national guardsmen taking a year of training under the defense program today were scheduled to arrive home Sunday for the Christmas holidays.

Two special trains will leave Camp Mullaney, Wash., today for Boise Saturday. The first train will bring 400 men of the 11th engineers and their field equipment to their homes in the vicinity of Boise. The second train was scheduled to bring 400 men of the 11th engineers to their homes by late Sunday afternoon.

They will return to camp New Year's day.

Adriatic Action Gives Britain Full Control of Mediterranean

By J. W. T. MEANON
United Press Wire Editor

Penetration into the Adriatic by British warships, reported today from London, marks the final development in wresting control of the Mediterranean from Italy. Further interference with the transport of Italian troops and supplies to Albania should follow this exploit, while the Italian fleet lies immobilized in its ports.

Complete blockade of the Albanian coast may be possible after the British have taken up further the morale of the Italian navy. At present, however, seizure of the Adriatic is probably only partial. The narrow waters should permit Italian submarines action against coast towns without an Italian base.

Extrema caution

Nevertheless, having found the Adriatic open to enemy warships, the Italians will have to use extreme caution in moving troops to Durazzo in the Italian coast. British observation planes should be able to discover any danger for attack along part of that route.

Spud Growers Get Chance To Offer Marketing Ideas

POLATO growers of south central Idaho get their chance Saturday to state emphatically what they believe is wrong with the potato industry—and what they would like to have in a spud market agreement if one is eventually adopted for Idaho.

Growers and handlers from the entire Magic Valley will convene at American Legion hall at 9:30 a. m. Saturday for a hearing under federal marketing agreement officials.

The conference will be an all-day affair, starting at noon to convene between 1 and 1:30 p. m.

Growers Speak

County Agent Bert Bollingbrook, who has conducted the hearing, said the general purpose Saturday will be to receive first-hand testimony as to production, costs and factors in the potato grow and ship potatoes.

The session is the second in an Idaho series which includes the Idaho Falls meeting yesterday.

A marketing agreement, as requested by the Idaho Potato Growers' association, would regulate movement of spuds to market and would set grades and standards in and out of hotter prices received by the farmer.

First Step

The hearing, Mr. Bollingbrook said, from the first of four steps toward acceptance of a marketing agreement. The other three steps are the two Idaho meetings and at the Idaho Falls hearing, and the Idaho Falls hearing, and the Idaho Falls hearing.

The fourth phase will be a referendum by growers and dealers, with voting to be done both at the educational meetings and at other special times.

Officials Warning

E. N. Pettigrew, state commissioner of agriculture, will attend the two Idaho meetings. With him will be the federal officials. G. W. Yougton, Boise, extension economist; F. L. Hanson, Idaho Falls, secretary of the Idaho Potato Growers' association and vice-president of the shippers and growers association.

Late FLASHES

ROME, Dec. 20 (UP)—The service of 57 trains had been suspended, the controlled press disclosed today. The suspensions became effective yesterday.

The suspended trains operated in all parts of Italy, from the Brenner to Sicily.

Although no reason was given, the list of 78 suspended trains published by the newspapers showed that many Italian army, military bases and ports, except military authorities.

LONDON, Dec. 20 (UP)—The British submarine fleet reported today sank enemy merchant supply ship and possibly another vessel on the night of Dec. 13-14 off Cape Spitzbergen, north Italy, the admiral said today.

The admiralty also credited the fleet with the sinking of a large Italian tanker off the Italian coast on the night of Dec. 13-14 off Cape Spitzbergen, north Italy, the admiral said today.

ROME, Dec. 20 (UP)—British airplanes have bombed Brindisi, Italian naval and supply base, according to a British official, in a high command communiqué today. Five civilians were wounded.

English Make Spectacular Raid Into Adriatic Sea; Albania Port Is Shelled

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor

Great Britain and Greece rained blow after blow on Italy's battered war machine today and pressed a relentless aerial attack on Germany designed to offset a possible early big-scale counter-blow by Adolf Hitler.

British warships set the pace for the offensive against Italy by a spectacular dash—led by battleships—into the Adriatic sea (which Fascists call Italy's lake) and bombardment of the Albanian port of Valona, which is a vital base for the hard-pressed Fascist armies in Albania.

Royal air force planes followed the attack. It was stated officially today, an aircraft bombed the ports of Valona and Kironero, setting fire to military establishments.

The London admiral said the British submarine fleet was unopposed and sank two and possibly three Italian supply and merchant ships off the Italian coast.

RAF Cooperates

In Libya, royal air force bombers cooperated with the British land force in the Mediterranean coastal base of Bardia while British mechanized forces that circled the city were reported pushing on in the direction of the Italian port of Tobruk. The R.A.F. attacks were heaviest against German, where great damage was reported as a result of direct hits on barracks, police headquarters, motor transport parks and garages.

Italian forces still held out at Bardia, however, under heavy British attack, which included a dash by British light naval units into the harbor to join the bombers.

Much attention, however, centered on the exploits of the British navy in the Adriatic where, the admiral said, the fleet not only did not encounter opposition from Italy's supposedly powerful submarine fleet, but also failed to find any Fascist supply ships playing between Italy and Albania.

Previous Parallels

The exploit had no previous parallel in the war and fit in modern patterns of the Atlantic war. On a day night and Thursday morning, the admiral reported.

The raid was made by capital ships of the British fleet, screened by a speedy force of destroyers and cruisers. The fleet apparently followed a route which skirted the straits of Tarento clear of mines.

The dreadnought moved up opposite the Albanian coast where they went into action with their huge 14 and 15-inch guns.

The admiral reported more than 100 shells were fired from the fleet's shells were poured into the battered seacoast town.

It was probable the ill-equipped harbor had suffered great damage after an attack of such weight.

Swamp up Adriatic

Meanwhile, the British cruiser and destroyer force swept on up the Adriatic as far as Bari on the Italian coast. The admiral reported that a sign of Italian warships or shipping was encountered in the Adriatic only throughout the operation there was no attempt by the Italians to interfere with a major British naval operation in the sea.

From a naval standpoint it appears that the British fleet was the most daring in the world. The admiral reported that the fleet's operations were a success in that the Italian navy units entered the Adriatic.

SUBS ATTACK 2 ATLANTIC SHIPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (UP)—Two ships were being attacked by submarines in the north Atlantic off the west coast of Ireland today.

The attacks were in the same vicinity, about 200 miles west of Donegal bay, according to distress messages picked up by Mackay radio. The positions given by the vessels were about the same as those given by three ships attacked by submarines two days ago, one of which was reported sunk.

The first distress call came from the Warrick, a passenger liner, 10 minutes later Mackay radio picked up another distress call from the Norwegian freighter Vanaberg.

FBI TO HUNT FOR TWIN FALLS MAN

CAMP MURRAY, Wash., Dec. 20 (UP)—Federal bureau of investigation today is hunting for a man who was an official to assist in a search for Sgt. Derril O. Warren, Twin Falls, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances from the camp here almost three weeks ago.

Great Col. Walter J. de Long, public relations officer, said actually there was no evidence of foul play, but it was difficult to reconstruct the disappearance in view of the fact that his conduct as a soldier had been exemplary.

Warren was attached to the 110th Cavalry of the 4th division, Army headquarters, de Long said, who had hunkered the sergeant A. W. O. L. and his wife and children to find him. He said the man's mother and brother-in-law both have conferred with officials here. They could through no fault on the case, nor could any of Warren's close friends.

LIST FOUND MAY TELL BUND MEN

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (UP)—Army intelligence officers and G-men today investigated a "black ledger" seized in a nearby German-American headquarters to determine whether any of all the members listed were in the armed forces of the United States.

The ledger was seized yesterday by state's attorney's men who were conducting a search for Bund members to be used in connection with a $300 bid against the organization for delinquent property taxes.

The ledger was seized for the first time in the city. It was believed that they had obtained what they had been looking for.

When the raiders found notations written in German after the names of the men, they were in the army, navy, marine or reserve forces, they called in William B. Devereaux, agent in charge of the FBI in Chicago. Devereaux and three assistants and U. A. Dierker, Albany Albert J. Wolf immediately began an investigation of the records.

YOUTH CONFESSES SHOOTING WOMAN

OHIO, Dec. 20 (UP)—Robert Cross, 18, was returned here today after he had been arrested by New Jersey state sheriff's officers for allegedly firing the shot, one of which lodged in Miss Kinley's back.

Cross was captured in a rooming house in Lewisville, Ohio, after the shooting. Miss Kinley died of her wounds.

After the shooting, Miss Kinley's body was taken to a hospital in Lewisville, Ohio, where she died of her wounds.

Offices traced the youth from several articles of clothing found near Miss Kinley's home.

Southern Pacific Train Is Derailed

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20 (UP)—A Southern Pacific passenger train was derailed in Soledad canyon today, injuring one member of the train crew.

None of the 12 passengers riding in the single coach at the end of the train was injured.

Boy Genius, 8, Makes Debut As Carnegie Hall Pianist

By JOAN YOUNGER
New York Times Staff Writer

Ben Amadei is a curly-haired boy of eight, and says he likes to play the piano and to sing the aria from "Carmen" to me.

His mother, Mrs. Josephine Amadei, wife of the world famous pianist Moritz Amadei, has been teaching Kenneth Amadei to play the piano since he was a child prodigy, a pupil of Franz Liszt, himself as a genius while still a boy.

Amadei, whose home is in New York, was one of the rare cases.

Seventeen months ago, the piano boy struck "ten times more" than all the other things in the world put together. His mother said he was also interested in philosophy, liked to read and swim and would play football with the other boys if he would let him.

"He is a genius of his hands, you know," she said.

His mother, Mrs. Amadei, is a pianist and a singer. She is a member of the Carnegie Hall pianist.

He is an only child, is never naughty, according to his mother, and the only game he likes to checkers.

GREEKS GO PAST ITALIAN POSTS

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 20 (UP)—Troops are advancing north of Tepeloni and Klisura, past settlements and mountain fortifications, according to a government spokesman today.

Although they have not occupied the settlements, the Italian troops are reported to be moving north from Klisura in the direction of Tepeloni and Klisura.

In evacuating the two towns, the Italians burned whole rows of wooden buildings and blew up military stores of the German allies.

Both Tepeloni and Klisura temporarily were "no man's land," exposed to fire from Greek and Italian artillery in the surrounding heights, but a spokesman here said Greek shock troops were making important gains in the two towns and they would be occupied after mopping up operations, the spokesman said.

The official spokesman said Italian forces in the sector were heavy and dead lay in piles in many places. He said a good football player, a Greek, had been killed. The surrounding mountains had been swept by a prolonged snow storm, he said.

PRESIDENT CALLS FOR SESSION OF DEFENSE COMMISSION

NEW PLANS ARE CONSIDERED FOR REORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt called the defense commission to meet with the defense department today to consider four or five different plans for reorganizing defense administration to speed the production of war materials for the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters at a press conference in the White House that he had not yet decided on any specific plan for reorganization.

He emphasized that four or five different proposals and several combinations in each proposal, were under consideration.

The president widely discussed the various plans and the responsibility for production of speed-up in the hands of Secretary of War Henry H. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, and Defense Production Commissioner William S. Knudsen.

The president's press conference was held shortly after congressional leaders had promised in interviews to make his loan-leave plan of aiding Britain the first order of business at the next session of congress.

Meaning, the president said, that their current war purchasing program with a $100,000,000 order for 60 new cargo vessels.

Another phase of the defense problem, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that only three of the eight bases planned by the British in exchange for 50 old destroyers were being delayed because of inability to decide on a site.

JURYMEN REJECT CLAIMS OF METZ

Deciding against the claims by M. C. Metz, district court jury members late last night returned a verdict in favor of Sheriff L. W. Hawkins and the Thussen Land company, which had posted protective bond for Hawkins before he sold property under a previous judgment.

The verdict was signed by J. P. Fajen, foreman, and the other members of the 12-man panel. They deliberated six hours with time out for dinner.

The plaintiff had sought in excess of $40,000 on claim that the sheriff sold property which was owned personally instead of property of the Metz Livestock company. The sale was made under a judgment granted the Thussen firm of Lewiston because the Metz concern sold it an unsatisfactory stallion.

At Idaho Falls yesterday reports bearing on national and state potato statistics, costs of growing and preparing potatoes for shipment, the freight charges and other expenses faced by farmers were discussed. The eastern Idaho growers themselves testified—as the Magic Valley farmers are expected to do Saturday—that with prices at one of the lowest levels in years, costs are climbing steadily.

Richard R. Ross, federal crop statistician at Boise, will probably be on hand to give crop estimates to the Twin Falls party.

KIMBERLY, Dec. 20 (Special)—Fear that a high interest rate might be charged if Kimberly votes and sells bonds to combined symposium in auditorium building was discontinued today by word from a leading Salt Lake City bank.

The Utah banking institution advised the board of trustees and Supt. L. A. Thomas that it is interested in purchasing school building bonds. The letter said the bank "would be interested in bidding 2 1/2 per cent or less for them should a bond issue be voted."

Great Fires Burn at Bardia After Attack by British

EARLY FALL OF ITALIAN PORT IN AFRICA EXPECTED

By Frederick Kuh
 LONDON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Great fires are burning at Bardia, on the Libyan coast, after five days of incessant naval bombardments, the admiralty announced today as British tanks were reported moving westward in preparation for a new British offensive aimed at Tobruk, Italian naval base 80 miles west of the Egyptian frontier.

Light units of the British fleet, forcing their way into the inner harbor of Bardia to come into positions from which they were under heavy machine gun fire, sank three Italian supply ships, the admiralty said.

It described constant and complete cooperation with the British land forces, as part of which fleet air arm planes joined with the royal air force in attacking land objectives and workshops evacuated thousands of prisoners whom the British had taken.

20,000 Troops Trapped
 More than 20,000 Italian troops have been trapped in Bardia, the fall of which was expected at any time under the constant attack by the army, air force and navy. The Italians were cut off under constant fire from land, air and sea, with fires in the town adding a further menace.

British reinforcements were reported pouring across the desert from Egyptian bases for a new attack to be launched from Sollum and Bardia, both ports at which British warships can supply a formidable army.

The admiralty, in a graphic communique describing its own operations in Libyan waters, said: "Both heavy and light forces of the Mediterranean fleet carried out bombardments of the Bardia area at frequent intervals from the evening of Dec. 13 to noon Dec. 18."

Enemy Attack Falls
 "These bombardments played an important part in harassing the enemy and containing (trapping) defeated troops in the Bardia area."

"On the afternoon of Dec. 18 one of our heavy bombardment units was unsuccessfully attacked by enemy torpedo carrying aircraft. During the whole period our units were repeatedly engaged by enemy shore batteries. No hits were sustained by any of our forces."

"Extensive fires have been burning in Bardia since the afternoon of Dec. 15 and they assumed very large proportions on the 17th."

"In the early hours of that day one of our light units carried out at very close range a search of Bardia, penetrating into the inner harbor under heavy machine gun fire and sinking three supply ships."

20 MILLION YULE TREES ARE SOLD

MOSCOW, Dec. 20 (Special)—Christmas tree sales in the United States this month will amount to approximately $10,000,000 or 20,000,000 trees at an average of 50 cents each, reports K. Pierson, University of Idaho extension forester.

Bonner and Renewal counties in northern Idaho are supplying several carloads of hand-cut Douglas, or red fir trees for the middle-west this year, Mr. Pierson said. Western Montana growers, in the business much longer, are shipping several hundred carloads. The cutting season ordinarily is from five to seven weeks in November and December. Selective cutting to protect forests and watersheds is encouraged by dealers as well as conservationists.

Profits to producers in the Christmas tree business decrease as distance from the best markets in large population centers increase. There are many cases in New England and Pennsylvania where Christmas trees from stony woodlands have paid off farm mortgages. At the best the business is uncertain. Six or seven years ago there were 20 unopened carloads of trees in the freight yards of one big eastern city alone on Christmas morning.

Once general objections to harvesting Christmas trees have been overcome through selective cutting and better business organization.

BROTHER, HISTER AMAZED
 HJOLBROOK, Ark. (AP)—Pat Pennington, local lunch stand owner, asked a middle-aged woman tonight what she would have. "They both looked at each other and fell into the other's arms. The woman, Mrs. E. Mitchell, of Dallas, Tex., was his sister whom he had not seen for 20 years."

They said the air force yesterday continued to attack London but that elsewhere attacks on Britain were limited.

ROME—German transport planes are aiding Italian planes to fly Italian soldiers from Italy to Albania, it was reported today. There were suggestions also German dive bombing Stuka planes might have taken part in raids on Greece.

BERLIN—German quarters refused today to discuss reports Germany was sending troops to Italy, that German planes were flying over the Aegean Sea and that the Brenner pass between Austria and Italy had been closed to normal traffic to permit passage of German troops to Italy.

ZURICH—The newspaper Die Demokrat of Basle reported the Basle post had been closed to traffic. The editor of the newspaper said by telephone he had "several times" closing for several days but had not published it until newspapers abroad had published reports of the arrival of 50,000 German troops at Bari and Naples, Italy.

CONGRESS SETS LENGTH RECORD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—Congress automatically is assured of establishing a record for length of a session as a result of the failure of adjournment efforts.

Both houses adjourned yesterday until Monday. When they meet again they will be in the 35th day of the current session, which began Jan. 3.

The previous record was 334 days, established by the 20th congress during the World war.

With most members of both houses already out of town, the odds of lawmakers continued today. Only a handful are expected at the purely formal meeting next week.

HOLLYWOOD—Olympic Brundage, 20-year-old French music actress, and Douglas Wood Willott, 23, socially prominent, Monterey, Calif. singer, will be married next spring.

"I just can't keep it a secret a moment longer," said Miss Brundage.

Dick Foran, cowboy film star, today held a decree of divorce from his socialite wife, Mrs. Ruth Foran, and a custody order for their two children, John, 2, and James, 1.

He testified that Mrs. Foran had stolen into the habit of visiting the mail box before he did and tearing up bills for clothing so he would not know how much money she was spending.

Actress Lillian Cannon was arrested for failing to stop at a boulevard, but it still was undetermined today who came out second best, she or the arresting officer.

She paid a $10 fine for failure to heed a boulevard stop, and an additional charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone was dropped.

After paying the fine, the actress walked to arresting officer R. C. Danielson and handed him a summons to appear to defend himself against a suit for $5,000 damages. She charged he slapped her and handcuffed her because she refused to sign a citation.

Australia's fighting forces complained there is an acute shortage of drums, bugles and trumpets to meet their needs.

STATE MAY PAY MEN IN DRAFT

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 20 (AP)—Employers of the state of Idaho who were inducted into federal service as members of the national guard may be entitled to state salaries during their one year of army training, Attorney General J. W. Taylor held today.

Taylor's decision came on a 1939 Idaho law which stated that officers and employees of the state who are members of the national guard shall be entitled to leave of absence from their duties without loss of pay, time or rating during the time they are engaged in field training under the national defense act.

The decision became necessary when Charles Moody, an employee of the state hospital at Blackfoot, filed claim for his October salary. Moody was one of the guardsmen called to federal service.

Taylor said he doubted the constitutionality of the act because it may be class legislation, favoring state employees over other citizens. That point, however, was a matter for the courts to decide, he said.

Taylor also pointed out the state board of examiners could exercise their constitutional right and deny the salary claim.

Irene Lopez Reveals January Bridal Date

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Irene Lopez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lopez, and Darrell H. Blatzer, Twin Falls, son of Mrs. Ola Conder, Novelty, Mo., was made to a group of Miss Lopez' intimate friends last evening at the home of her parents.

Santa Claus, instead of Cupid, "told the news" during the pre-Christmas party. Date of the wedding is Jan. 25. While playing "hearts", the guests were surprised by the arrival of Santa Claus, impersonated by Mr. Lopez.

Clever Announcement
He presented Christmas boxes of candy to each guest. Enclosed were small white envelopes, each one numbered and bearing a few words in writing.

When arranged numerically and fitted together, they spelled out a verse telling of the betrothal. In addition, "hearts" banco was played, traveling prizes being awarded. A large illuminated Christmas tree figured in the house decorations.

Miss Lopez is prominent in Y. W. C. A. activities, being a past president of Beta Gamma club. She was president of the northwest area conference of business girls of the Y. W. C. A. last fall in Salt Lake City. She also is co-chairman of a Camp Fire Girls group.

Special invitations were extended to mothers of the girls.

Inflated Costumes
Opening the assembly with an address of welcome was Miss Marjorie Robertson, president of the sophomore unit. Each of the scenes was given by the girls in native costume of the respective countries.

Representing the countries were Miss Ruthann Hayes, Holland; Miss Helen Summerville, Norway; Evelyn Smith, France; Miss Henrietta Miller, Spain; Miss Jennie Higgins, England; and Miss Jane Martin, United States, with Miss DeNola Winter as Santa Claus.

FOOTBALL PLAYER SHIFTS TO MIDDLE WEST 70 CRACK SKIERS TO PARTICIPATE IN COLLEGIATE MEET

Minnesota and Michigan Termed Stand-out Teams

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—A marked shift of strength to the middle west, after two years of southern rule, and the return to Minnesota to the mythical national championship game teams and individuals of the Western conference dominance of college football in 1940.

The sectional swing, sudden, but definite, over-balanced the remarkable rebound of Stanford in the far west and the upsurge of independents in the east. Four midwestern teams were ranked by the United Press among the 10 best in the nation and four midwestern players were named All-America.

The United Press placed Minnesota at the head of the parade with Michigan a close second, and Stanford, Tennessee, Boston College, Texas A. & M., Nebraska, Mississippi State, Fordham and Northwestern following in order. Washington, Georgetown, Pennsylvania and Cornell barely missed.

Minnesota's Gophers obviously were the strongest. They played through a perfect season, winning the Big Ten title and defeating Nebraska and Washington in inter-collegiate games. Michigan State, Fordham and Northwestern, although twice beaten, was unquestionably strong.

Stanford, in climbing from the cellar to the peak on the Pacific coast, contributed a great comeback over Clark Gumpstrey first claim to the title of coach of the year. Tennessee stretched its victory string in regular games with only one defeat in 22 games.

Fourteen unbeaten, United States Navy, in its first year in the nation was undefeated and untied—Boston College, Minnesota, Tennessee, Lafayette, Hardin-Simmons, Stanford, Pacific Lutheran, Eastern Kentucky Teachers, Milligan of Tenn., Las Cruces, W.V., Teachers, Spaulding, Michigan State, Pennsylvania, Penn. Teachers, Shurtleff of Ill., and Wittenberg of Ohio. Tennessee had the best record with 318 points and 22 touchdowns.

Stanford's record was turned by U. C. L. with 81-174, Yale with 43-102, Army with 34-107 and N. Y. U. with 71-185.

Zivic Battles Jenkins in N. Y. Feature

By HARRY FERGUSON
NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—A pair of world champions meet tonight at Madison Square garden in a round bout that will decide nothing except the age-old question of whether a big man can lick a good little man.

The big man is Fritz Zivic of Pittsburgh, a 212 lb. welterweight champion, who has been established as a 9 to 5 favorite.

The little man is Lew Jenkins, world champion in the bantamweight division, who is quite a scrappy little guy, who, pound for pound, probably is the hardest hitter in boxing.

No Title at Stake
Neither title will be at stake when the boys square away and the only conditions are that Zivic must come in at 144 pounds or less. Jenkins, at around 134, will be giving away about 10 pounds, which is quite a chunk of bone and muscle among the little fellows.

It is unlikely that the 15,000 customers will get to see 10 rounds of boxing. Jenkins is an authentic killer-diller if he gets a right-hand shot at a man's jaw, which Zivic can throw the thunderbolts. Zivic doesn't have the knack of slaming a man into unconsciousness with one punch, but he has a wearing attack that takes the steam out of his opponents.

Both Fought Armstrong
One reason the betting favors Zivic is that both men have fought Henry Armstrong with widely varying results. Jenkins went out last July, fired everything he had at Armstrong and took such a beating in return that he was unable to answer the bell for the sixth and lost on a technical knockout.

A few weeks ago Zivic fought Armstrong for the welterweight title and won. He gave Henry such a bad beating around the eyes that the little Negro was nearly blinded and lost the title. Zivic and Armstrong will meet in a return bout on Jan. 17.

Trade His Reward

Greenberg-York Work Brought Tigers Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—The answer to why the Detroit Tigers won the American league pennant is contained in the first two lines of the official run-batted in records released today. They read:

Table with columns: Player, Club, G, BB, RBI, SO, G.D.P. Includes Greenberg, Detroit, and York, Detroit.

Although the Tigers finished fourth in pitching and sixth in fielding, the thunder in the bats of Greenberg and York supplied the power which catapulted Detroit to the championship. The shift of Greenberg and York from first base to the outfield enabled the Tigers to play York at the initial sack thus turned out to be the decisive move of the pennant campaign.

Great Falls, Butte Seek Pioneer Spots

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 20 (AP)—Possibility of adding Montana baseball teams to either the Pioneer or Western International leagues was discussed here today by W. J. Williams, secretary football of the Great Falls Baseball association, who also was exploring the suggestion that a tri-state league composed of Montana, Colorado and Wyoming teams might be organized.

Williams said the Great Falls group favored acquisition of a franchise in an established league. He suggested to J. P. Halliwell, president of the Pioneer league, a Class C circuit, that franchises be extended to Great Falls and Butte.

Williams also has approached the Western International league, a Class B circuit, regarding a franchise on a franchise in the proposed Copper League (Class D) which also would include Missoula, Billings and Butte.

East Favored 2-1 to Win Shrine Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 20 (AP)—The west's all-star football team arrived today to prepare for the 16th annual Shrine hospital football game, New Year day, in Cleveland. They were 1 to 2 underdogs in the betting.

Only Paul Christman, Missouri's highly-publicized passer, was missing from the 22-man west squad. He will report to Coach Babe Hollingbery and Matty Bell tomorrow, when the eastern group arrives.

Only 4,000 seats of Kerk's stadium's 53,000 remained unsold today and they were moving fast. The east squad, coached by Andy Kerr of Colgate and Bernie Sherman of Minnesota, was installed as 2 to 1 favorite because the backfield boasted such talent as Tommy Harmon of Michigan, Francis X. Reagan of Pennsylvania, Forest Zvelevski of Michigan and Dave Alshuler of Michigan, Yankee shortstop was the leading target for the players, being hit 10 times.

Ryan Pleased With Vandal Hill-and-Dalers

MOSCOW, Dec. 20 (Special) — Proof that Idaho's cross country teams are shoulder to shoulder competitors with the best in the collegiate United States was exemplified recently when three Vandal runners competed in the National Collegiate cross country championships at East Lansing, Mich.

Mike Ryan, father of Idaho's cross country program and assistant coach of distance runners, has preached the doctrine of the hill and dale running sport since he arrived on the Idaho campus in the fall of 1935. His first glimpse of the rolling Palouse hills brought forth an exclamation of a natural terrain for the popular eastern sport. His next exclamation was after his first look at the rugged Idaho boys presenting themselves for this new-fangled running.

Get Big Test After plotting the Vandal cross country team to four successive Pacific coast championships and a handful of undefeated seasons, Ryan convinced university officials that his boys were worthy of an appearance in the national championships, and that they would make a favorable showing.

After a rugged trip east, the Vandals called through the championship with all three entrants—Phil Lebowitz, Victor Dyrvall and Bob White — finishing in the first 20 places in a field of over 100 runners from all sections of the United States. Had Idaho's Robert Neal and Robert Dwyer not been wrestling appendicitis and been in condition to make the eastern trip, Ryan feels that his air castle of boys placed in one of the top three positions would have been realized.

Qual Have Won Ryan's presumptions are based on previous times made by his squad. Neal consistently trims Lebowitz in the hill and dale running and Dwyer runs close on the heels of White which would have placed Idaho's five men inside of the first 30 to cross the line.

As only five-man teams are tabulated in scoring, Indiana, Michigan State Normal and Rhode Island won the three top places. Basing the air castle on the foundation of the Vandals finishing within the first 30, the national championship could have easily rested in Moscow. Undoubtedly Idaho could have bettered the score of Rhode Island with one man in the first 20, and only two in the first 25 to finish. The trip and the showing made by the Idaho trio has proven to Ryan that his predictions of the Vandals' power in cross country had been vindicated and that Idaho would make a creditable showing at the national championships, year in and year out.

COURT UPHOLDS RATE REJECTION

BOISE, Dec. 20 (AP)—An Idaho public utilities commission ruling which denied rate increases to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company today was upheld by the Idaho supreme court.

The company sought new, higher rates for service in the Lewiston-Grangeville area to meet what it claimed were "new operating expenses and taxes in Idaho." The commission held that the expenses did not warrant the increase, and the court affirmed the opinion that the burden of proof was on the company.

BRITISH PLANES BOMB OIL PLANT

LONDON, Dec. 20 (Special).—British bombers last night attacked synthetic oil plants, power stations and a railway junction in the Ruhr and western Germany, the air ministry said today.

In Berlin the German high command said British planes five times hit western Germany last night, killing two civilians and inflicting only minor damage.

In the Duisburg area two large fires were observed and oil targets near Cologne were set ablaze, the air ministry said. "At Düsseldorf several large fires were caused and anti-aircraft gun positions were bombed."

"At Essen heavy bombs were dropped and four explosions were caused."

The communiqué said the royal air force made a low level attack on Bonn where "one very large fire was observed."

It emphasized that all attacks were carried out in bad weather and all British planes returned.

Bringing to Twin Falls Kiwanians the Christmas message that returns to the manger at Bethlehem is the only cure for the world's troubles, Rev. Mark C. Cronenberger, Christian church pastor, spoke at Thursday's luncheon meeting.

"There is but one way of curing our evils," he said. "This is to do as the wise men did 1900 years ago—let us come back and bow down at the manger at Bethlehem. Let us pay homage to the king of kings, giving our gifts of talent, high service and worship to Him. Let us permit His ideals of love and kindness and peace toward all men to reign in our hearts and in our lives."

Rev. Cronenberger pointed out that despite the carnage which reigns in many parts of the world, the hearts of men yearn for peace and good will.

Special offering for the Kiwanis milk project was contributed by the club members to assist the program by which 45,000 bottles of milk are provided annually for children in the public schools and the nursery school.

Mrs. U. N. Terry sang "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" and "Little Lord Jesus" which were accompanied by Mrs. O. P. Duvall.

Next Thursday's meeting will be a special Christmas dinner featured by motion pictures concerning Major Edward Bowes' famed amateur radio programs.

GOODING COUNTY TRUSTEES MEET

GOODING, Dec. 20 (Special)—Semi-annual meeting of the Gooding county trustees was held Saturday in the district court room in Gooding. J. B. Divilivas was chairman and the Christmas program will be presented by the school.

Matters of local interest and school patrons were discussed. Honer Davis, superintendent of schools, spoke on the need for an equalization law. Mr. Davis asked:

"Did you know that one county in the state has over four times as large a valuation as another county? Did you know that one rural district in Twin Falls county has 16 times as large a valuation as another district in the county? All states have passed some kind of an equalization program for public schools."

Mr. Davis explained the principles of a minimum educational program and gave as an example the state of the costs in Twin Falls county.

Endowment fund, certification of teachers and consolidation of schools were discussed by Gerald Wallace, vice-principal of the Twin Falls high school. Concerning certification of teachers, Mr. Wallace discussed the raising of standards in relation to the requirements of surrounding states.

Clifford Bevington, director of the DPA, spoke concerning the school lunch project and the part his department takes in it. He stated that the department is furnished by the department but in no way do they share in administering the project.

Cooperation

Mrs. A. W. Willis, representing the Gooding branch of AAUW, gave a talk on "Cooperation of the Patron With the School." "Teacher retirement plan" was discussed by Mrs. Lillian Barton, Wendell, who represented the Rural Teachers' association for the district held recently in Boise. Mrs. Barton outlined the plan which is being considered by the state.

After a general discussion of the legislative situation a committee was named from the trustees of Gooding and trustees of children. The committee included S. E. Faith, Gooding; Ray Smith, Wendell; and Mrs. Fernia Keeney, Wendell.

J. B. Divilivas, Gooding, district chairman, was elected to serve as president of the trustees' association for the ensuing year. The next meeting will be held in the spring.

Marshal Graziani Looms as Next on "Resignation" List

BY MILTON BRONNER (NEA Service)

Africa has been Rodolfo Graziani's fortune and now Africa may be the undoing of the famous Italian field marshal. He won high place fighting African natives. He may lose high place by taking a shellacking at the hand of British troops in Egypt.

Just as the angry Mussolini accepted the "resignation" of Marshal Badoglio because of the failure of the campaign against the Greeks, so a disgraced Duce may accept the "resignation" of Graziani because of the debacle in Egypt.

Quickly summarized, Graziani's career: forsook the law to enlist as a volunteer in the army which gave Italy the Red sea colony of Eritrea in Africa. Next in campaign which wrested Tripoli from Turkey, the Italian World War, being several times wounded and ending as youngest colonel in Italy's army. Back to Africa where his victorious campaigns which enabled Tripoli and Cyrenaica to be united as Libya. Commanded the Italian forces in campaign which conquered Ethiopia. Made viceroy of Ethiopia in 1937, and was wounded by hand grenades tossed at him by Ethiopians in Addis Ababa.

When Italy entered present war was made chief of staff of Italian forces and commander of the Army of the Po. After Marshal Balbo died in an airplane accident last July Graziani went to Libya to take command of all Italian forces in North Africa. Later he was given job of advancing from Libya into Egypt, the ultimate goal being the Suez canal.

As fighters do not seem to apply. The Italian army at least has given evidence of its presence at strategic points by falling into Greek and British hands by the thousands.

The Italians navy at least has thought several turning battles. But Mussolini's aviation as though it were on a stubborn sit-down strike.

Expert observers are unable to solve the puzzle. There must be a consistent solution, but it certainly is not visible at this distance.

BEHAVIOR OF ITALIAN AIR FORCE IS PUZZLE

BY MAJOR ALEXANDER P. DE SEVERSKY
 Copyright 1940 by United Press

The number one puzzle of the war is the strange behavior of the Italian air force. Neither the Greek nor the British air forces have given evidence of Fascist aviation in the numbers which might logically be expected from Italian air power.

The Italian air force has followed the lines of 1914, in contrast to the 1940 model battles in western Europe.

The Italian air force of the war Italy was generally credited with possessing 3,500 warplanes, and it is estimated that the Italian air force has lost more than 1,000 aircraft at the disposal of British and other allied forces. It is estimated that Italian aviation enterprises.

Great Opportunities

There have been magnificent opportunities for the Duce's aircraft to do its stuff. The Taranto episode offers such an opportunity. A properly organized air force would never have permitted a British attack carrier, stationed so close to the coast, to get away with impunity. All indications are that Italian aviation did not even attempt to pursue the carrier.

Then there have been several naval engagements close to the Italian coast and therefore within easy reach of bombing range of the whole Italian air force. In every instance, it appears, the Italian vessels rushed for the cover of coastal batteries, when they might reasonably have depended on the protection of their air bombers. The sea battle proceeded as if modern air tactics had not yet been devised.

British Experience

One need only contrast this picture with the British experience in the North sea to appreciate Italian inactivity. The British navy which practically ignores Italian air power was obliged, off Norway, to retreat before Nazi air bombardment. The Germans were operating under the handicap of makeshift planes and a difficult terrain, whereas the Italian presumably could have operated from their main bases, with all the comforts of home.

The explanation cannot be found merely in the defects of the Italian equipment. Those defects would have accounted for tremendous Italian plane losses, but apparently there have been no such losses. Fascist aviation simply has not functioned on a scale commensurate with its numerical strength.

The generalized criticism of Italian aviation is a senior in the Buhl high school.

The couple will be at home on the Ed Harding ranch.

NAZIS FAIL TO MAP PLANS FOR INVASION

By J. W. MASON
United Press War Expert

Reports of German plans to conquer Great Britain by direct assault this winter or next spring seem based on emotionalism arising outside the reach of sound military operations within Germany itself. Realistic strategy should cause Hitler to continue attacks on British shipping, as his main present offensive rather than risk everything on the uncertainties of an invasion.

If Great Britain were to let down her guard and grow careless, opportunities for an invasion would arise. But, as long as the British are stimulated to hold their defenses at efficiency levels, it would appear highly improbable the German high command would countenance a major attempt at a landing.

Action Not Justified

Any such action scarcely could be justified except as a last desperate effort to turn the tide of the war. If the German internal situation requires such a gamble at present or in the near future, the Fuehrer may give the word; but, as far as is known, the Germans have not reached that stage of desperation. Germany is not in any better
