Record Throngs Celebrate New Year's Arrival

From east to west across the time belts of the country, the people celebrated an unusually boisterous New Year last night and today against a backdrop of a world poised on a delicate balance of war and peace.

It was a great and final fling to mark the end of a decade as well as a year. And for many it was an opportunity to forget momentarily the bombings, blackout and by-products of the world's war - storms. They massed in great throngs in New York's Times Square, Chicago's loop, and San Francisco's Market street; in night clubs, hotels and bars.

CRAZED FARMER KILLS WIFE AND DEPUTY SHERIFF

GREELY, Colo., Jan. 1 (UP)—A rage-crazed farmer, after killing his wife and a deputy sheriff, was slain by a posse late yesterday as he wore the dead officer's gun and badge.

The dead were Fred Bernhardt, 58, his wife, and Undersecretary Earl Bucher, 45.

Police Chief C. C. Hunter of Greeley said Bernhardt, who owns a farm near Erial, Colo., southeast of here, shot and killed his wife shortly after an argument over her 16-year-old son by a former partner.

Mrs. Bernhardt and her son, David Byers, were fleeing across the farmyard after the quarrel, Hunter said, when the farmer seized a shotgun and felled his wife, killing her instantly. The son ran to a neighbor's farmhouse and telephoned police in Greeley.

As told by Hunter, Bernhardt then went out into the yard, dragged his wife's body into the barn and prepared to barricade himself.

Hunter sent Bucher and another deputy, Guy McMillan, and the posse to investigate. As Bucher stepped from the car, Bernhardt fired another blast from the shotgun, virtually decapitating the officer.

Taken Officer's Badge
McMillan, still in the automobile, sped back to Greeley to organize a posse.

Bernhardt then stepped from his doorway, dragged the officer's body into the house beside that of his wife, and took Bucher's gun and pinned the badge on his own vest.

In Greeley, sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen were called from Longmont, Fort Collins and nearby bordering towns and the "posse" returned to the farmhouse, and shot Bernhardt after a brief gun battle.

No Resolutions
Mr. Roosevelt's New Year's message conference yesterday had made any New Year's resolutions, Mrs. Roosevelt, however, revealed here.

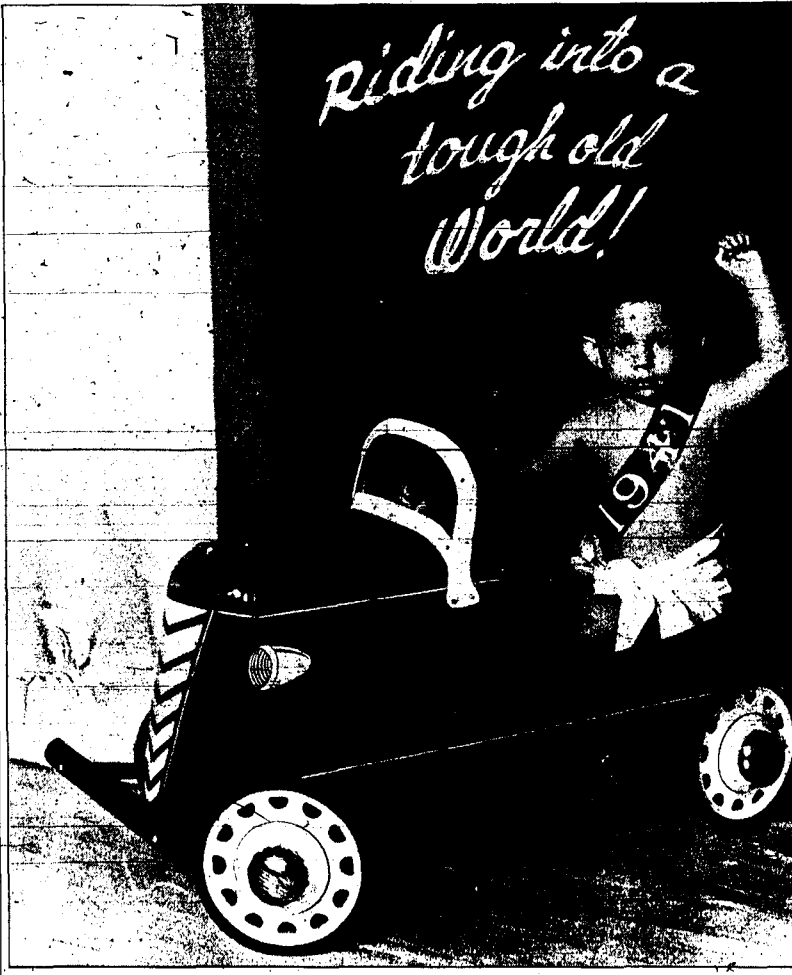

"I would wish for the power to act apprehension aside, the courage to meet day by day the problems we face and to do whatever is possible, as far as I can see it, to make the world that will have to be rebuilt a safer place, and a place of greater justice and kindness for all the world to live in."

A cold drizzling rain only whetted the enthusiasm of Chicago's celebrators, where a record-shattering crowd, estimated by police at 60,000 persons, jammed the Michigan-Madison streets area.

President Roosevelt is spending most of New Year's day working on the floor of the nation's address in which he is expected to present his message to congress next week in part for launching of leaving war materials to Great Britain and other nations.

He has scheduled no appointments and will work on the message in his study. He will deliver the address personally next Monday—three days after the new congress convenes.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated at his press conference yesterday that many of the details of the plan would be left to congress. He did not say, however, that the proposed bill would allow Great Britain and other nations to purchase arms to resist the United States with vital raw materials such as rubber and tin as well as munitions.

Director Tells Facts of $331,000 Housing Setup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (UP) Because some persons "seem to be misinformed" as to the low-cost and plain clearance project sponsored by the Twin Falls housing authority, this afternoon the director, James J. Waken, executive director of the authority, issued a statement containing "official information" relative to the proposed improvement.

The statement was made by Mr. Waken after 22 citizens Monday night visited the city council session and voiced disapproval of the program, which would set aside 20 acres of land facing Locust street east of the city so that it could be used for construction of the low-income housing.

Action Monday
The matter is scheduled to come before the council next Monday night for final approval and members of the housing authority will attend the session to explain the program, which would set aside 20 acres of land facing Locust street east of the city so that it could be used for construction of the low-income housing.

Waken said, "The federal government has allocated funds to the amount of $331,000 for the building of this project which is absolutely a loan that is to be paid back in a low-cost project when it is referred to as a low-cost project."

Nazi Craft Take Shipping Toll in Southern Waters

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 1 (UP)—At least two and probably more German raiders are loose in the south Pacific ocean where they have inflicted a heavy toll on British, Norwegian and French shipping since last August, survivors rescued from lonely Ennabua island said today.

Tales of heroism at sea and fights against overwhelming odds by vessels attacked by raiders were told by the survivors. They said attacks came suddenly at night under dire threats against calls for assistance. Some survivors said they were well treated but others charged that 132 prisoners had been kept under the hatch of one raider for three days without water.

The survivors brought to Australia aboard Australian naval vessels, were among passengers and crews of seven vessels sunk since last August and they said the prisoners from at least three vessels still were aboard the raiders.

Survivors Felt Ashore
The survivors first were put ashore in bad weather on an island near Ennabua. The Germans gave them a boat and supplies but the boat was not needed because islanders gave the survivors a motor boat with which to establish contact with the mainland.

Some survivors were injured by machine gun fire even as they fled from the island. They were taken from the vessels attacked and landed on Ennabua. The survivors were taken to the island and later taken to the mainland. The survivors were taken to the island and later taken to the mainland.

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 1 (UP) A Montana braggart—Howard Anderson of Three Forks, Mont.—has been selected by the directors of the Burlington Liars' Club, Inc., as its 1941 champion. He won the crown with a story among 5,000 submitted.

"It seems," Anderson said, "that one of the hardships of riding herd on the great ranches is the ease with which a story among 5,000 submitted."

"For a time those herdsman tried to keep their feet warm, while the boys went with overcoats and socks, by sprinkling red pepper in their shoes."

"However, it remained for the Montana braggart to perfect the formula. This involved," Anderson said, "figuring that if red pepper was in a low-cost project when it is referred to as a low-cost project."

FACTS LISTED ON HOUSING PROJECT

ject is the matter of exemption. It should be remembered that there is to be $331,000 spent for the construction of these dwellings and that this money will go to local carpenters, plumbers, electricians, plasterers, lumber concerns, building houses, etc. This will be a profit setup, the net income going to pay back the original loan, and the balance to be used for the project.

"The Twin Falls housing authority wishes to correct misinformation in the matter of careful design of the houses and that the renters will let the property run down because of lack of ownership on the part of the renter.

Will Be Maintained
"This has always been the problem of the private landlord. The project will have a hired project manager to supervise the maintenance of these houses. The renters will have the same regulations as the tenants of a modern apartment house and these renters are chosen on their character and integrity, and they are to be permanent residents of Twin Falls and not from among 'in and outers.'" Wakarusa.

Careful Choice
"This site was approved because of playground facilities and because it would tend to balance the teacher and pupil load in the public school. The influx of these people will be spread over a construction activities of local groups.

"It is not fair that the children of these families be allowed to use these facilities? These people will be chosen from permanent residents of Twin Falls and not from among 'in and outers.'" Wakarusa.

Auto Crashes Into Wrecker

RUPERT, Jan. 1 (Special)—Sunday's most contributed to two motor car accidents in and near Rupert.

A St. Anthony car, headed west and occupied by C. Van Clark and his son, Gordon, slid into the Chevrolet Motor company wrecker about 8 p. m. as the wrecker was pulling Mrs. Martin's machine from the borrow pit near the A. Sawyer place, half a mile east of here.

It presumed the driver of the St. Anthony car lost control of his vehicle in coming down the incline from a high canal bridge and slid into the wrecker, putting it into the borrow pit on one side of the road and his own machine into the pit on the other side. Both the wrecker and the car were badly damaged but no one was injured. The St. Anthony couple continued their journey by bus.

At 9:42 a. m. at the intersection of Eighth and H. streets at the northwest corner of the Minidoka county courthouse, A. R. Bacon, headed north on H street in a pickup, collided with Lewis Moncur's Eighth in a low and a half truck.

LIGHTS CONTEST WINNERS CHOSEN

It was a difficult task that had three judges in a whirl—but the prize winning list in the Times-News Christmas lighting contest was completed today on schedule.

Grand award of $25 went to R. J. Schwendman, 1016 Shoshone street east. Second place, $15, was awarded to R. J. Vallon, 140 Sixth avenue north. Third prize, $5, goes to Harry Elcock, 178 Fillmore street.

Top award of $10 in the business division was given to the Van Engelen store, 399 Main avenue east. Finely, National bank, 103 Main avenue east, took second and received $5.

Other Winners

The committee—Mrs. Paul R. Taber and Mrs. L. V. Morgan, of the Twentieth Century club, and Ray J. Holmes, Chamber of Commerce—also announced five winners of $1 awards in the residential division and a list of honorable mention recipients. The $1 winners are:

- J. Earl Peck, 1410 Poplar.
- J. G. Thorpe, Hestburn.
- K. R. Allan, 27 Seventh avenue east.
- A. L. Norton, 1437 Maple avenue.
- G. P. Cosgriff, 161 Seventh avenue east.

Winning the coveted first place award for Mr. and Mrs. Schwendman was their appropriate arrangement of a "Peace on Earth" Christmas message across the front of the home. Stopping this is the scene of Santa Claus and two reindeer with lights and wreaths deck the windows. At either end of the Christmas message across the front of the residence are two Christmas stars.

Utilizing to full advantage, the architectural lines of the house, decorative effects at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Vallon consist of a row of lights along the eaves, and illuminated tree near the front window. A small window near the front doorway carries a lighted wreath.

Adding a dramatic touch to the decorative plan at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elcock, and largely responsible for the third place designation, is a lifelike Santa Claus waving from a balcony atop the house while a ladder leads to his perch to

Here's Winning Home Decoration for 1940

This home lighting and decorative display was announced today as the $25 grand prize winner in the Times-News 1940 contest. It graces the residence of R. J. Schwendman, 1016 Shoshone street east. "Peace on Earth" is the central message, with Santa and two reindeer above, lighted stars at each end and lighted wreaths in the windows. (Times Photo and Engraving) provide realism. Christmas lights are also used effectively on the front of the residence.

A third dimension effect was attained by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peck in observing the holiday season at their home at 1410 Poplar. Like a large Christmas card, the arrangement, which utilizes a large window, carries the lighted message, "Let Peace Be World Wide as God Has Blessed America." Bringing a feeling of depth is use of the window frame for a domestic scene, including a cat seated contentedly in front of a miniature fireplace.

Three stained-glass windows artistically designed, are the central theme at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Thorpe. The motionist or pedestrian approaching the residence at first receives the impression that a church is near.

At the K. R. Allan residence a Madonna in the background adds particular significance appropriate to the season.

Bills Wilson, 1225 Eighth avenue east, complete decorates the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Norton; while the final $1 prize winning decorative arrangement at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cosgriff consists of lighted trees near the doorway and neon candles and wreaths in the windows.

The committee listed the following honorable mentions and after each name is a brief description of outstanding features responsible for the judges' decision:

Carl Cannon, 1429 Maple—well-balanced entrance effects outlined in colored lights.

Frank G. Hovorka, 263 Ninth avenue north—evergreen pattern harmonizes with architecture of doorway.

C. H. Krenzel, 202 10th avenue east—unity provided by traditional Christmas star overlooking the home and yard.

E. L. Shaw, 291 Fillmore—topped by a gleaming star are three reindeer above an illuminated message, "Shaws Wish Merry Christmas."

Biblical Scenes

Greiner Wilson, 1225 Eighth avenue east—design gives Christmas card effect.

K. H. Melner, 205 Addison—all-houseth against blue backgrounds in front of windows portray Biblical scenes.

B. F. Magel, Blue Lakes boulevard—distinctive lighting of entrance.

S. C. Gre, 806 Main avenue north—large diagonal bow; John two attractive wreaths.

Mrs. Emma Clouche, 327 Fifth avenue east—effective overhead lighting and a decorated tree provide the background for arrival of Santa Claus in a toy-laden sleigh, drawn by dashing reindeer.

Tony Böbler, 235 Seventh avenue east—subdued blue lighting blends with scenes depicting the birth of Christ.

W. A. Ostrander, 105 Lincoln—a beaming Santa Claus and the sight of three stockings above the fireplace carries out the Christmas theme, and the residence is decorated on both sides, as well as the front.

Gordon A. Dav, 277 Pierce—simply marks arrangement of spray of pine cones and evergreens and subdued lighting carries out the conservative note.

J. A. Adanson, 321 Locust—lighting arrangement distinctive.

Utilize Candles

Coe Price, 112 Eighth avenue east—featuring by two large candles and spray of evergreen on the floor.

Rev. G. L. Clark, 215 Fifth avenue north—attractive window decoration at the Presbyterian manse.

A. S. Henson, 203 Sixth avenue east—two large lapers are mounted at either side of the entrance, with stars appearing against a field of blue in the windows. Blue lights dot the eaves and a small tree in the front yard is illuminated.

O. C. Hall, 21 Seventh avenue north—window decorations show originality.

Mentioned as honorable mention in the business district was the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company for its display, including a lighted tree atop the building.

Although not included in either judging class, the Twin Falls county general hospital was given special mention for its lighted tree and star above the front entrance.

Originally marked the five prizes, according to the judges.

Children Flee Flaming Home

Two children escaped from a flaming one-room home at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The children were in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Willis, 184 Bpamge street, while the parents were away. Flames, possibly started by an overheated stove, wrecked the interior of the home and almost totally destroyed furnishings, according to the judges.

STANFORD'S TOP CLUBS CLASH IN BOWL TLTTS

Stanford 'Wonder Team' Favored To Trip Nebraska

PASADENA, Jan. 1 (UP)—Stanford's "Cinderella boys" will attempt to complete their flight to riches football saga today with a Rose bowl victory over the rough and tough Cornhuskers of Nebraska.

Rank outsiders when the Pacific coast conference schedule started last October, the Indians, under their new coach, Clark Stanfurd, swept to the championship of their own league and a shot at the $100,000 Rose bowl kitty.

Now only Nebraska stands in the way, and the betting odds here are that the Cornhuskers, like all the other teams Stanford played during the regular season, will be victimized by the guile and speed of the boys from Palo Alto.

Stanford, master of the puzzling T formation, is an odds on favorite at 3 to 1, despite the batch of nice fresh betting money the 7,000 Nebraskaans who came here for the game brought with them. Wise football bettors are betting on the underdog, and that a tough one to the mighty Minnesota by the narrow margin of a touchdown.

RAIN AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 1 (UP)—The weatherman cast a cloud over the Cotton bowl football game today.

A downpour of 4.2 inches, the largest ever to see a sporting event in the south-west—moved toward the great stadium to see the teams of Penn State and the Texas Aggies do battle, the man who controls the elements refused to give anything but a cloudy, unsettled weather with a definite threat of rain.

If the rain is coming down at game time there is little to be longer shift in the odds already favoring the Aggies. The betting was 2 to 1 in favor of the boys from college Station, but those odds were made on premise the field would be dry and fast.

The field of the Aggies, with their powerful running attack and mighty reserve man-power, would have a greater edge than its speedy going.

73,000 IN SUGAR BOWL

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 1 (UP)—The underdog teams of Boston College and Tennessee matched hand and speed in a post-season football game today in the Sugar bowl.

The Sugar bowl is anticipation of a battling battle.

It was a meeting of two of the highest scoring football machines in the nation, a sectional contest between the north and the south, and a game of two groups of players who have been so far by possibility of losing their perfect records.

The coaches found the turf hard to play on and that the speed and the slight-of-hand magic for which the rival camps are famed.

RELUOT FOR SHIRNERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1 (UP)—Forty-four college seniors, pick of the nation's football teams, got out today to do battle for the east and the west, and to fill the purse of the shrine hospital for crippled children.

The 14th annual charity clash has been a sellout for days, and barring a sudden rain, 60,000 will meet for the occasion.

The cast, loaded with such names as Tommy Harmon and Fitch Knepper, and other stars of the game, of Penn and Nick Drotos of Cornell, was a slight favorite.

TEMPLE CLUB FAVORED

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 1 (UP)—Arizona State of Temple, host team for the second consecutive year, was a favorite in the college football game today.

Although outnumbered by their eastern opponents, the Arizona State Bulldogs were expected to bring a victory to the border conference for the first time.

A crowd of 15,000 was expected. The forecast was for cloudy weather.

Kimberly Club Edges Rupert By 16-14 Count

KIMBERLY, Jan. 1 (Special)—Showing steady improvement with each game, Coach Bill Squibb's Kimberly Bulldogs defeated the Rupert Varsity football team today by a 16-14 count.

The two teams played an even game from the first whistle and the 6-1 margin that Kimberly attained in the final period finally proved to be the winning point.

The Bulldogs were in front 8-0 at the half and while the Pirates fought on even terms, Kimberly's offense proved to be the winning point.

Ed Murray was high point man of the game with 11 centers for Kimberly, while Pat got four for the home team.

Kimberly's offense was led by the fullback, Ed Murray, who scored the game-winning touchdown of 9-7.

Soeker Christmas

When next you hear from Paul Christmas, the Missouri football star will be trying for a major league berth.

A first baseman who weighs a ton, Paul Christmas is sought by the Yankees, Tigers, Indians and Cardinals. His brother, Mark, has played in the infield for the Tigers and Browns.

Yankees Sell Two More Ball Players

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (UP)—The New York Yankees continued their "house cleaning" yesterday by trading infielder Billy Kunkler to the Chicago White Sox and signing pitcher Irving "Dumpy" Hildner to the New York Giants.

Disposal of Kunkler and Hildner followed the sale of pitcher Monte Pearson to the Cincinnati Reds.

Kunkler, who batted .242 in 44 games last year, was traded to the White Sox for catcher Gene Stephens, a young player who hit .250 in 28 games.

Hildner, who won but three games and lost five last year, was sold outright to the Giants for the waiver price of $7,500.

NCAA Cracks Down on College Pros

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (UP)—The national collegiate athletic association at its annual session passed a resolution designed to put more teeth into the amateur code applying to intercollegiate athletes.

In order to make a more thorough investigation of alleged violations of the amateur code, the body voted to seek funds to hire investigators for such purposes.

The resolution follows: "That this association authorize the executive committee to proceed as necessary to insure that the amateur code as it is established in article III of the constitution of the NCAA be strictly observed and that funds be allocated to finance a more thorough investigation than this association can otherwise afford; to the extent that it is necessary to refer to specific practices with the understanding that such rulings shall be subject to review by the next convention."

(Signed) Dean Lloyd K. Neldinger, Dartmouth.

The resolution also tends to force the NCAA to crack down on members who violate scholastic and athletic standards as reflected in another resolution submitted by the executive committee and slated to be passed later in the day. It provided that any active member failing to maintain the acceptable scholastic and athletic standards could be expelled by a vote of two-thirds of the delegates.

Golden Gate Turf Club Opens Today

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 1 (UP)—After one false start because of bad weather, the Golden Gate Turf Club today opened the members of the 30-day meeting at its beautiful new $2,000,000 track on Point Pincino, on the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay.

The track had to postpone its regular opening scheduled for last Saturday because of a two-week rainstorm that made the new racing strip. It will be under way for three days and will be no worse than "heavy" today.

Six horses were named overnight for the $10,000 New Year's handicap at 11:30 and one-sixteenth, Vain Bo, ridden by A. Baroni's horse which worked a mile in 1:30 for the race, and Omelto, the Vegas—Stock—farms stretch-racing mare, showed high weight at 113 pounds and were favorites.

Bettors Favor Mississippi State Team

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 1 (UP)—Two of the nation's finest football teams, Georgetown and Mississippi State, meet in the Orange bowl today, ready to "shoot the works" before a capacity crowd of 40,000.

Mississippi State was an 8 to 5 favorite, chiefly because of a bundle of supporters from the delta country poured into town, ready to back their team to the hilt.

Georgetown, which lost only one game in three years, had plenty of support, however, and it was likely the odds would be hammered by game time.

America Takes Ski Leadership

European War Gives Boost to Competition Here—Chilean Team to Make U. S. Tour

BY DON SANDERS (NEA Service)

With every major European skiing nation except Switzerland and Sweden at war, America appears destined to take over world-ski leadership.

The National Ski association has announced it will adopt the English system of measurements instead of the metric terms. Roger Langley, president of the association, forecasts a boom in the quality of skiing.

The average week-end or winter vacation skier isn't being neglected either.

One of world's longest and highest chair lifts was recently opened at Mount Mansfield, Stowe, Vt. It's a mile and a quarter long, goes up 2,000 feet. Other new lifts are at Pico Peak and Coitman, Vt. and Windy, Conn., and Franconia Notch, N. H. There are now more than 125 ski areas in New Hampshire alone. Maine makes a bid with new trails at Camden, Bridgton and Megalloway.

In scheduled for this winter, when a Chilean team will tour the country, engaging in an extensive downhill and slalom campaign. A six-man team will sail from Valparaiso on Jan. 10.

The Pacific northwest will have the fullest tournament schedule in record, with major meets at Seattle, Sun Valley, Mount Hood, the newly-opened Paradise valley, Ski Bowl and Mount Rainier.

European war has another beneficial effect on U. S. skiing. The army, aware of the value of trained ski troops such as the Finns used in their war against Russia, has undertaken a vast training program.

Soldiers Trained

Mac Can't Keep His Own Resolutions So Offers These for Other People

BY HENRY McLEMORE

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 1 (UP)—When a man has as little strength of character as I have he is foolish to make New Year's resolutions. I have tried it in the past and always managed to break them before the horns and whistles stopped blowing.

But I know lots of folks do have the will to keep resolutions so I am going to list a few suggestions for others.

My readers: To quit using up energy writing McLeMORE mean letters and direct my efforts toward some worthwhile cause such as the development of a 3100 counterfeiter bill that can't be detected, the passage of legislation which would prohibit the use of sugar in cooking and selection of All-American football teams.

Tommy Harmon: To remember never to play 24 hours that unless it's golden, even if everyone except McLeMORE does agree I am the greatest football player since Jim Pike.

Joe Louis: To keep on behaving the way I have, even if I am a quiet, modest, fellow who knocks out my opponent named for him but the American idea of a heavyweight champion.

Red Barber: To pitch Dizzy Trout more during the regular season and less during the world series.

Self stars: To play a little faster. No one yet has ever willingly paid money to watch a golfer take five minutes to line up a putt. If he can't improve the P. G. A. soon will have to furnish a box with each ticket of admission.

Wrestlers: To quit the business and buy a Jimmy and a pair of signers and get into a more honest game.

Henry Armstrong: To quit fighting before my last one. It was a disgrace.

Philadelphia Nationals baseball club: To change the name of the team from the Phillies to the Philadelphia fans for the development of players to be gold as soon as they are good enough to give our customers a decent team.

Larry Mac Phail: To do my best to quit being such a modest, shirking fellow, and get out and accept myself.

Sammy Sneed: To try in one national championship to think one-fifth as well as I play. If Sammy ever does this he'll win by 15 strokes.

United States Lawn Tennis association: To limit the women's championship behind a closed door with admittance by password only. And the password to be given to no one.

To the man who wrote the story on Alabama football in Collier's: To look at myself in a mirror and ask myself if the money was worth blowing the whistle on a school which accepted me as a teacher without first plugging the keyhole.

Henry McLeMORE: To be grateful I live in a country where the hell will pay for cups and not for keeps.

Three Skiers Duel For Possession Of Bradley Plate

SUN VALLEY, Ida., Jan. 1 (UP)—University of Washington ski team raced to victory in the combined slalom and downhill events of Sun Valley's third annual intercollegiate ski meet yesterday, but the achievement was completely overshadowed by a three-way duel for possession of the Bradley plate.

Bill Redlin and Carl Neu of the University of Washington raced neck-and-neck with Bobby Blatt of Stanford for the prize and officials expected the plate to go to the one who scores highest in jumping competition today.

Being covered in the difficult quarter-mile slalom course in 51.2 seconds to grab the lead with a total of 200 points, but he was followed closely by Blatt who had scored in 51.6 seconds for second place with 284.3 points, and Redlin with 280.2 points.

THE SCOREBOARD

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Many coaches are planning to refer to the old formation, or the numerous variations developed from it, next fall.

While the Chicago Bears have stressed the modernized "T" right along, and perfected it to a point where it is next to unapproachable, as they demonstrated in their unprecedented 73-0 victory over the Washington Redskins, it is Stanford's success with the formation that has set college strategists to thinking.

Katie Rocke dropped the "T" when the one-second rule gave the defense time to shift to meet the attack, and from that time on coaches have agreed that offense built out of the streamlined version was too complicated to be taught in the time allotted for play in college.

All that remains of the antiquated "T" is the basic alignment. The only three teams that employed it this year—the Bears, Stanford and Lake Forest college—used it in various forms and used a man-in-motion to advantage.

It requires a superlative ball handler and passer.

One of the principal reasons why the current version of the "T" is so considerable in its perfect balance, which keeps the defense in the same place. There are three men on each side of center. The backfield is split. The attack is strong to either side and down the middle. The defense can't run the risk of shifting.

Bill Lawrence is strong to either side and down the middle. The defense can't run the risk of shifting.

The Stanford team was named as a member of the Bears' board of strategy during his stay at Chicago.

Herbert Masterson of the Bears drew Stanford back in the inferences of the new "T" in spring practice.

So Major Jones and his assistant, Glenn Pressell, tied themselves to Washington to scout Stanford by the way of a player, and what they saw was plenty.

They saw the remarkable quarterback and ball-handler, Sid Luckman, directly behind the center. . . in position to pick vulnerable spots in the defense and to take advantage of the maximum use of the power and speed of outstanding backs. They saw split backs and direct passes from the center for quick runs.

"There'll be a general renaissance of the "T" all the way along the line."

Big Snowfall Aids Skiers In Mountains

KETCHUM, Jan. 1 (Special)—During the outbreak of the holidays this area benefited by about 2 1/2 feet of new snow, 14 inches of it having fallen in one night. It brought joy to the hearts of the ski parties and many of them arrived during the period. Already nearly two feet, was well past the mark and the highway and the additional supply settled down to the trackage.

Traffic above the river northwest up the creek has been kept open for some time for several days, but it is presumed the roads will soon be opened with hotbeds and teams, which will be pulling the small sleds have been reported, together up the creek. # Cameraman Takes Camouflage Lesson From Finns—Gets Close-up of Deer

By GEORGE BINTAMAKI

NEWBERRY, Mich. — Shooting white-tailed deer with a camera in Michigan's winter woods isn't so hard if you take a tip or two on camouflage from the much-storied Finnish soldiers who were artists at it to the chagrin of the Russians.

The idea of resorting to camouflage, suggested itself to me after many pictureless days among the waving white-tails. They were usually going away in high gear when the time I got ready to shoot.

So one day I snatched a white sheet and prepared to try a new experiment. Incidentally, super sensitive film is essential in dense cover where light is never good.

Wrapping myself in the sheet, I took up a position in the middle of a well-used deer trail—and that was the first mistake.

Saved Deer From Coyote
The first experience was a thriller and almost ended in disaster. Abruptly a deer broke into the path only a few yards ahead and charged for me directly at me. Naturally I didn't see me in the sheet on the snow, so it was up to me to clear the trail.

After a hasty glance at the sharp hooves bearing down on me, I dived into a convenient snow bank. The deer gave a frightened bleat as it leaped by.

Almost instantly I saw a large coyote break into the trail in hot pursuit. The gray killer put on all brakes as it spied my feet waving in the air and retreated into the thicket.

I had probably saved a life, but I had lost a grand opportunity for some white-life shots. Next time I parked not in the deer trail but about eight or ten feet to one side.

Must Stay Down-Wind
As to actual photography, good close-up of deer is only as good as possible if care is used in camouflaging.

Deer will walk by totally unaware of the photographer if they can't scent the human odor. For this reason, one must avoid getting up-wind of animals to be photographed.

Nothing will put a wild animal into swift flight more quickly than a whiff of the human smell. Small noises are not nearly so frightening, but they too should be avoided.

The best method is to wait out the animal at some and, when they pass regularly, snatching is difficult except under certain conditions when snow is soft and reflections are not too bright.

I tracked a large buck successfully but found it bedded down for a clear shot.

This deer refused to become alarmed, though it appeared to be watching me. This particular incident demonstrated that the deer have no fear whatever of a white form, even though they can see it move. Rather it excites curiosity.

Camouflaged in white hood, George Bintamak crouches behind tree to await deer coming down path at right.

The picture . . . not suspecting the cameraman's presence, deer stands perfectly still for close-up shot.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD ASKS ADDED MONETARY CONTROL

GROUP REQUESTS FDR DEVALUATION POWER TO LAPSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (Special)—The federal reserve board asked congress today for drastically increased monetary powers at expense of the treasury department and urged that President Roosevelt's power to devalue the dollar be allowed to expire on June 30.

Changes in fiscal policy and monetary machinery are necessary, the board said, because the defense program requires "the coordinated effort of the entire nation" and it may be necessary to take steps to "prevent inflationary tendencies which are likely to result in the machinery of credit control."

It warned that means should be found to prevent "a sharp rise in excess reserves and in deposits arising from future gold acquisitions, possibly out to $1,000,000,000 if gold has flowed into the United States from abroad since 1934."

The report also marked the first major break between President Roosevelt and Board Chairman Marvin E. Eccles, who early in the New Deal was one of the President's closest advisers on fiscal policies.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Lauchlin Currie, one of the President's assistants who formerly was an economic adviser for the reserve board, were expected to oppose most of the board's suggestions and carry their fight to congress.

The report, signed by the board of governors, the presidents of the 12 federal reserve banks and the members of the federal advisory council representing the 12 reserve districts, emphasized the nation is in no danger of technical inflation, but forecast that possibly unnecessary currency banking policies are changed to cope with the industrial needs of a war-time economy.

CREDIT CONCERN TO OPEN OFFICE

With officials from both Salt Lake City and Boise present, the full operating office of the Commercial Credit Corporation, to serve Twin Falls and the entire Magic Valley, will open in the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company building tomorrow. It was announced today by Charles D. Hilt, office manager.

The local office, Mr. Hilt said, will be opened because of increased business "which the concern has engaged in this section." He pointed out that it was largely through the efforts of R. B. Hitchcock, Salt Lake regional manager and vice-president, that the office will be installed here.

In addition to Mr. Hitchcock, other officials who will be here for the opening will include L. H. Rice, office manager; A. W. McIntyre, Salt Lake regional manager; and W. M. McIntyre, Boise, district representative.

In addition to Mr. Hilt, the office here will employ five persons. They include K. H. Meyers, former unit manager at Boise who will take over the same position here; F. E. Theisen, former Salt Lake City office manager; and Miss Beverly Kinsley, Miss Kathryn Anderson, bookkeeper, and Miss Beverly Kinsley, unit stenographer. Mr. Martin was accompanied to Twin Falls by his wife and they will make their home here.

Office space in the bank building was completely remodeled and a new formal two rooms was removed in order that one large room might be formed.

ARITHMETIC
Problem in arithmetic: The problem is arithmetic: It is worth $425 to collect $47.

Bohwall, attorney for the company, said 1940 is the first year in history of the concern that no such liens were filed.

Bohwall explained that only $4 was still outstanding yesterday out of total $22,000 maintenance charge payable last spring. Filing a lien would cost $4.20.

The attorney said the high collection rate is due to the canal company administration.

And Miss Emma Wick, secretary of the company, indicated that part of that delinquency $4 may still be collected since the amount possible of various delinquencies of a few cents each.

The life-saving service of the Twin Falls Red Cross is being managed with the same outer service in 1941 under the terms of the O'Connell Guard.

Because German warplanes hold the edge on speed over English fighters and bombers, Britain owes her success in the air to better pilots equipped with planes having superior maneuverability and fire. What she needs is faster planes, capable of long range flights with heavier bomb loads into the interior of Germany. Chart shows distance various types of British and Nazi warplanes can travel in one hour at maximum speed.

Income Tax Now Hits More; Consultation Trips Widened

Because many citizens of the Magic Valley who have never before been required to file a federal income tax return will do so this year, the annual tour of D. D. Daniels, deputy collector for this area, has been advanced and will start on Jan. 3, it was announced this afternoon.

During the tour Daniels will visit various communities of the valley and will be available for consultation regarding the filling out of the blanks. This service is without charge and all taxpayers are welcome to avail themselves of it.

Important Changes
Daniels this afternoon pointed out that the revenue act of 1940 has made important changes with respect to the liability of individuals for the filing of income tax returns.

Individuals under the following circumstances are required to file returns covering the calendar year 1940:

- 1—Single individuals, or married individuals not living with husband or wife, having a gross income of $600 or more.
- 2—Married individuals living together having a combined gross income of $2,000 or more.

The net income is no longer to be used in determining the liability for the filing of a federal income tax return, Daniels pointed out. The liability of a citizen or resident of the United States to file a return is dependent upon his status as a married or single person and the amount of his gross income.

Therefore, every citizen or resident of the United States will be required to file a return for the taxable year 1940 if his gross income in 1940, regardless of the amount of his net income, comes within the amount specified above for his particular status. A return must be filed even though, by reason of allowable deductions from gross income and allowable credits against net income, it develops that no tax is due.

Following is the visitation schedule for Mr. Daniels, covering the period Jan. 3 to March 15, both dates inclusive:

- Jan. 3, Bellevue postoffice; Jan. 4, Carey postoffice; Jan. 6, Bluff postoffice; Jan. 7, Dietert postoffice; Jan. 8, Eden postoffice; Jan. 9, Myers Hotel, Hazelton; Jan. 10, Paul postoffice; Jan. 11, Minidoka postoffice; Jan. 12, Heppner postoffice; Jan. 13, Heppner postoffice; Jan. 14, Declo postoffice; Jan. 15, Malta postoffice.

Jan. 16, Heppner postoffice; Jan. 17, Murtaugh postoffice; Jan. 18, Kimberly postoffice; Jan. 20, Rogerson postoffice; Jan. 21, Hollister postoffice; Jan. 22, Chandler postoffice; Jan. 23, Filer postoffice; Jan. 24, 25, 27, 28, Buhl postoffice; Jan. 29, 30, 31, and Feb. 1, Twin Falls postoffice; Feb. 2, 4, 5, McFall hotel, Shoshone; Feb. 6, 7, 8, Riojito hotel, Hatley; Feb. 10, 11, 12, Ketchum postoffice; Feb. 13, 14, Clingman Inn, Valley Falls; Feb. 15, 17, 18, North Side Inn, Jerome; Feb. 19, 20, 21, Calumet hotel, Rupert; Feb. 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, Hurley postoffice; Feb. 28, and March 1 to 15, inclusive, postoffice at Twin Falls.

STORAGE WATERS AT HIGH LEVELS
Precipitation during the past week over the Magic Valley has been substantial and as a result of this and other moisture recorded during past weeks, American Falls reservoir now shows a water level 10 feet higher than at the same time last year, a report received today from the Idaho State Water Control Board.

The great American Falls reservoir now holds 914,300 acre feet of water, the highest water level in 1940. The total capacity of the reservoir is 941,500 acre feet and the total storage of 789,450 acre feet. The report also lists Jackson lake as holding 233,000 acre feet of water at the present time.

snow depths on the watershed are as follows: Island park, 26 inches; Moran, 18 inches; Moran lake, 45 inches; Snake river station, 30 inches; Brocks lake, 42 inches; and Ashton, 14 inches.

The official precipitation record for the week ending Dec. 28 follows: Island park, 1.66 inches; Moran, 1.26 inches; Snake river station, 1.65 inches; Ashton, 1.26 inches; Moran lake, 1.07 inches; compared to 4.86 for normal; Ashton, 4.07 inches, compared to 2.80 for normal.

JURY SPLITS ON ASSAULT CLAIM
Because a probate court jury could not decide whether or not the Coultter had struck Mrs. A. L. Watson, Coultter was freed today of misdemeanor charge claiming he assaulted the woman.

A six-man jury failed to reach agreement Thursday afternoon and a new trial was ordered. Judge A. H. Bally threw out the charge against Coultter, a Twin Falls resident.

Mrs. Watson and her husband, who signed the complaint, were called by Prosecutor Everett M. Awerley as the only state witnesses. Attorney W. L. Dunn called Mr. and Mrs. Coultter to the stand for the defense. Mrs. Watson testified that Coultter hit her several times; Coultter testified that he did not.

The dispute arose in an argument over rent when Mrs. Coultter had been rooming with the Watsons at 221 Third avenue east.

Mr. Watson charged that Coultter, among other things, called Mrs. Watson "mad" and "crazy."

Jurymen who failed to reach agreement included William Leake, Henry Powers, Leroy Hughes, James Tomlin, Leonard Ellis and Charles W. Holsby, Jr.
