Trained Crews Search for Buried Skiers

RIDERS IN PATH OF UTAH SLIDE BELIEVED DEAD

ALTA, Utah, Jan. 2 (UP)—New crews of trained workers today took over a search through tons of snow, ice and rock in Wasatch mountain's Rustlers' gulch, searching for the bodies of possibly four New Year's day skiers who perished under an avalanche.

Salt Lake county sheriff's officers, directing the search at this winter sports resort high in the mountains above Salt Lake valley, said it still had not been definitely established how many skiers were trapped.

Only one skier was known to be missing. He was Kenneth Wright, Salt Lake City. He had separated from friends and gone into the woods where the slide hit to experiment at cross-country skiing.

Three others in party were reported missing at least three other skiers swept away as the snow cascaded down the steep mountain side. But authorities have received no reports of anyone else being missing.

Early 400 workers are at the scene of the slide today. They were recruited from CCC camps, forest service stations, the fifth air base at Salt Lake City and from all parties, members of which volunteered to help.

Dozens of holes had been dug, tons of snow had been removed by hand and the terrain was too rugged to permit use of heavy machinery—but none had revealed a body.

Identification of the victims in addition to Wright was made extremely difficult because 1,500 skiers had spent New Year's day at the fashionable winter resort on its nearby mountains and many had scattered to their homes.

There was no chance that anyone hit by the avalanche was alive because if he was killed by the force of the swiftly moving snow he would have been frozen or smothered quickly.

The skiers seen by the witnesses were halfway up a 100-foot slope, which previously had been marked dangerous when the avalanche broke. The skiers were seen to turn when they heard the deep rumble of the avalanche and tried frantically to escape.

BREMEN UNDER HEAVY FIRE OF RAF AIRCRAFT

LONDON, Jan. 2 (UP)—More than 20,000 incendiary bombs and huge quantities of high explosives were dropped by British planes in a 3 1/2 hour raid on the great German port of Bremen last night.

The raid, in retaliation for Germany's raid on the center of London last Sunday night, was said to have resulted in damage much greater than Mannheim's.

Other Ports Attacked

The ministry said the attack on Bremen was conducted by large formations of RAF bombers. Other bombers attacked ports in German occupied territory, including Flushing, Holland, and Ostend, Belgium.

Washington, Jan. 2 (UP)—President Roosevelt has approved four projects amounting to $10,000,000 for the expansion of airplane manufacturing facilities in the war department announced today.

HOUSE ADJOURNS TO PREPARE FOR 77TH CONGRESS

By JOHN R. BEAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (UP)—The house automatically adjourned sine die at 1:31 p. m. today after adopting a resolution expressing its thanks to Speaker Sam Rayburn for his "able, impartial and dignified" service as presiding officer.

The house's action, however, did not end the late session of the 76th congress—the longest in history—for the senate was still sitting and planned to meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow, an hour before the 76th congress convenes when the house is adjourned to order the 77th congress ends automatically.

Automatic End

Since adjournment of the house today was automatic by virtue of the fact that when the final gavel fell no time was set for the next sitting. The next meeting of the legislators, therefore, will come tomorrow when the 77th congress is called to order.

House Democrats will caucus today to nominate Rayburn for another term as president-elect and to select Rep. John W. McCormack, D. Mass., to continue as Democratic leader. House Republicans will meet tomorrow to select their speaker.

Opening Schedule

Monday—President Roosevelt's address, to be delivered in person, on the state of the union; also ceremony of founding the electoral college by the signing of the constitution.

Tuesday—President's budget message.

Wednesday—The two houses will arrange their schedules independently on the basis of legislation prepared for floor consideration by their various committees.

Senate Democratic Leader Alben Barkley announced at the end of today's meeting of the senate that he would ask that it meet again tomorrow morning, thus assuring that the present session's record length can never be exceeded.

The final session of the 76th congress convened on Jan. 3, 1941, and adjourned sine die on Jan. 5, 1941.

First New Year Baby in Twin Falls

Here's a New Year Arrival: The 1st-Baby

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Beverly, 212 Ramage street, won't have much trouble figuring the age of their son Danny Joe.

Reason is that the boy was the first to be born at the Twin Falls county general hospital in 1941, the infant first seeing the light of day at 5:35 a. m. Jan. 1, according to records at the hospital.

The new arrival was apparently not much impressed with all the fanfare when the Evening Times photographer went to the hospital this morning to take a picture.

This afternoon the mother and child were to be removed to the family home.

PLAN STIPULATED

LONDON, Jan. 2 (UP)—Britain and the United States were reported today to be considering a plan by which "American" merchant ships would take over for the duration of the war the British trade routes in an extensive area of the Pacific.

Late FLASHES

DUBLIN, Jan. 2 (UP)—Residents of an area near Kilmacshogue, County Wicklow, were evacuated by authorities today after discovery that two large parachute mines were dropped there in the course of last night's airplane attack on Fire in which three persons were killed and several injured.

Authorities ordered persons within a three-quarter mile radius of the land mines to evacuate their homes while military officers dealt with the land mines which apparently were of the delayed action type.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (UP)—President Roosevelt has approved four projects amounting to $10,000,000 for the expansion of airplane manufacturing facilities in the war department announced today.

Larger Income Due Farmers in 1941 Despite Export Loss, Says Secretary Claude Wickard

By CLAUDE R. WICKARD

Despite some very prominent unfavorable factors, farmers, generally speaking, can look forward to a somewhat better year in 1941 than they had in 1940. Exports will be down, production costs and living expenses will be up, but these developments may be more than offset.

U. S. EXPORTS WHEAT

present war continues. Exports next year of soybeans, feedstuffs and other products to Denmark, the Netherlands, or other continental countries will be greatly reduced.

War restrictions on imports of fruits, tobacco, and miscellaneous products to total less than a third of what they were in 1940.

Production Costs Gain

Another aspect of the farm outlook in 1941 is a probable rise in production costs and in necessary expenditures for farm family living.

Chief objectives were great shipbuilding yards in which warships would be constructed.

Other Ports Attacked

The ministry said the attack on Bremen was conducted by large formations of RAF bombers. Other bombers attacked ports in German occupied territory, including Flushing, Holland, and Ostend, Belgium.

WHITE TO RESIGN BRITISH AID POST

OHIOAGO, Jan. 2 (UP)—William White intends to resign next week as chairman of the committee to defend America by aiding the allies, it was learned today.

White, who is at his home in Emporia, Kan., said when advised of the report, that he had no formal comment to make at this time.

A successor to the Emporia, Kan., editor who organized the committee had not been named but regional leaders of the movement are planning to hold a meeting here next week to choose one.

White's reasons for retiring from active direction of the committee, it was disclosed, are two-fold. First, he feels the scope of the movement he started has become so vast that he no longer can adequately direct it.

Second, Mrs. White's health has been failing and he is planning to take her on a trip to Arizona which necessarily would curtail his activities on behalf of the committee.

HAPPY

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 2 (UP)—Three young men walked up to Mrs. Nina Christensen yesterday and cried "Happy New Year."

Then they stretched her purse and fled down an alley.

Exchange dispatches said a Norwegian survivor had claimed von Lottkner was the man who attacked his ship. The survivor was "quoted as saying that the raider was a first-rate British ship (Oleknar), 7,000 tons."

Lottkner commanded the Swedish, a famous raider, during the World War. As recently as the 1930s he was known to have been in the South Pacific on what he termed a "good will" cruise. At least one of his attacks on the British Isles, would return to Italy. Only one group of Italian chasers found von Lottkner on the English channel coast, Pricolo said.

Magic Valley Defense Road Rank Is Low

There are no Class I military defense highways in southern Idaho and only two such highways cut across north Idaho on route to Montana, Oregon and Pacific coast points. It was shown today in the official defense road map received by the Chamber of Commerce from Sen. D. Worth Clark.

U. S. 30 through south Idaho is listed as a Class II road of military importance.

The map received from the senator is not the latest, since the new one is now being made by the army engineer corps. But Senator Clark advised the chamber that the forthcoming defense map will show little change. The layout received today shows one route in Idaho marked in crayon by hand, presumably one of the changes which will show on the latest map when issued.

U. S. 92, vital north-south artery through Idaho, is not designated as a "route of military importance" under any of the three classifica-

UTAH PAIR HEADS NEW RADIO UNIT

Two Salt Lake City residents own most of the stock in Radio Building company, the concern which will erect a new station in Radio and the Twin Falls radio station, according to articles of incorporation filed today with the county recorder.

The articles, dated Dec. 26, show the corporation is authorized to issue $5000 in stock at $1 each. The total, O. P. Soule, Salt Lake City, president and director of the new corporation, said in the articles, which owns the radio station, holds 25,000 shares. His wife, Hannah H. Soule, holds 20,000. The minority interest is held by Mrs. Florence M. Gardner, their daughter, who has 4,000 shares, and John E. Gardner, 4,000 shares.

Although announcements do not call for inclusion of a theater or bowling alleys in the proposed building next to the KJW-Waltz shop on Main avenue west, the articles of incorporation mention these as among varied authorized activities.

3 BIG FIRES PUT 1940 LOSSES UP

Three major fires during 1940 greatly increased the per capita fire loss for Twin Falls over the low recorded in 1929, the year touched by Fire Chief Zeke Bartlett showed.

Bartlett, in making the report, said that if the three major fires had not occurred the loss this year would have been almost exactly that of last year when it stood at 14 cents per capita.

Loss through fire this year came to $14,509.11 or $1.21 a head on the official population of 12,000. Last year's loss of $1,424 was figured on an estimated population of 13,000. Subtraction of the loss of the three major fires from this year's total leaves a loss of $2,400, distributed among the 78 remaining fires.

The three major fires of the year were recorded in the Twin Falls Lumber company with a loss of $4,603.08 and two fires at the Blue Arrow cuts with a total loss of $7,239.39, Bartlett's report shows.

Fire losses for other years, and the number of alarms answered, follow:

1937, 88 fires with a loss of $8,875;
1938, 61 fires with a loss of $5,265.93;
1939, 76 fires with a loss of $1,411.18.

SALES TAX, CUT IN PROPERTY LEVY LOOM FOR LEGISLATURE

SURVEY REVEALS NO CHANGES FOR GAMBLING LAWS

(Note to editors: This is the first of a series of four articles outlining questions to come before the 1941 Idaho legislature.)

By LLOYD TULING
BOISE, Jan. 2 (AP)—Idaho will have a sales tax, property taxes will be revised downward, and gambling and liquor laws will remain practically unchanged after the 26th Idaho legislature if state senators and representatives hold to previous convictions: a United Press survey disclosed today.

Views expressed by the 108 lawmakers who will convene here for at least 60 days of legislative labor show they have pretty well made up their minds to vote on the major issues, the survey indicated.

Questionnaires sent out to every state senator and representative show that the legislature will not change the law on gambling. A. Clark says he has difficulty if he attempts to carry out his campaign promise to abolish the old valorem tax. Fifty per cent of the lawmakers who replied to the query expressed opposition to any move to abolish property taxes. Fifteen per cent planned for complete abolition of the tax, and 22 per cent said they would favor reduction or abolition if some other tax could be found to replace the revenue.

Sales Tax Possibility
If the move is made to abolish the property tax and additional revenue is needed, the survey disclosed, might come from a sales tax of some kind. A majority of the lawmakers favor a qualified support for a sales tax. But a strong opposition group was shown by the number who said they did not favor that type of taxation. The count was 46 in favor of a sales tax, 24 opposed, and six in favor on certain conditions.

Taxation of legalized gambling—Implying that gambling would be legal as a means of replacing some other form of taxation had more opposition than any other question posed in the pre-session survey. Sentiment expressed in favor of legalized gambling and its taxation showed that enough support might be garnered to let down the present stringent barriers somewhat. Other legislators said provisions should be made to assure enforcement of anti-gambling laws, or gambling should be thrown open and taxed heavily.

Liquor Opposition
The survey also showed that Rep. Henry C. O'Leary's proposal to legalize retail sale of liquor by the glass would probably meet with strong opposition. O'Leary has suggested "over the bar" sale of liquor returned under the present regulations and bonding of proprietors of each establishment. Sixty-two legislators said they would vote against any proposal which attacks "return of the saloon" while only 20 favored open sale of alcoholic beverages by the glass.

Nearly all comment on abolition of property taxes indicated the lawmakers thought the tax should not entirely be done away with but should be "as low as possible" and restricted. One party leader, however, said that abolition of the tax would "only tend to further large property owners."

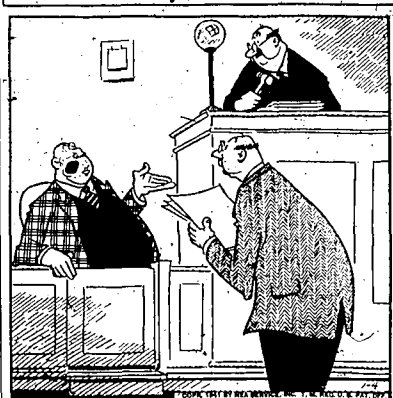

Urgo Sales Tax
Those who said they would support abolition part way suggested the tax "should be reduced and some type of sales tax substituted to bring in necessary revenue." On the sales tax one legislator said he believed it the most equitable of all forms of taxation. However, he qualified his approval by saying it should not be enacted "unless it be in conjunction with a reduction in old valorem taxes." Others said the sales tax should be enacted "only as a last resort" and a few recalled that the 1937 legislature enacted such a tax and it was later rejected by the voters in referendum. The voters' reaction to the last legislature's attempt to set up a sales tax might temper the strong support for it as shown by answers to the questionnaires.

Historic Oregon Hotel Closed as Safety Measure

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Jan. 2 (AP)—The old U. S. hotel, which President Rutherford B. Hayes and Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman once had to pay $500 for a night's lodging, failed to open its doors to the New Year today. It had been condemned by city authorities as unsafe. The hotel occurred in the late 1870's. President Hayes was making a tour of the west by stagecoach with General Sherman, whose march to the area had made his name linked in the southern states. The proprietress of the hotel was a Mrs. De Robau, a rabid southern sympathizer, who had told her friends she thought Hayes stole the presidency. When Sherman came down in the morning to pay the hotel bill Mrs. De Robau told him the bill was $500. "Madam," said Sherman, "I had no intention of buying your hotel. I merely wanted to pay for our night's lodging." She replied that indignantly, Mrs. De Robau stood behind her attendant, and Sherman grudgingly paid the $500.

The increase will bring to more than 600,000 the number of workers who have received wage increases totaling $35,000,000 annually since the wage-fixing law became effective in 1938, he said. Railroad principally affected by the wage order and the amount of additional annual wages to be paid employees included: The Missouri Pacific, $385,000; Southern Pacific, $105,000; Rock Island and Pacific, $126,000; International-Great Northern, $109,000; Missouri-Kansas-Texas, $46,000; Texas and Pacific, $123,000; Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, $18,000.

Singer Signs Contract to Forfeit $10,000 if She Marries in 3 Years

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 2 (AP)—Mary Cook, Hollywood's latest Cinderella girl, joined the "Merry Macs" today under a contract which forbids her to marry under forfeiture of $10,000.

Mrs. Cook, chosen from 3,000 contestants all over the country, was dubbed the "bleed girl" because her police harmonizes with that of the Fred Allen chorus.

The most recent member of the "Merry Macs" quartet, which is composed of Miss Cook and the three Melchior brothers, is a Paramount star.

50th Wedding Reception Given For Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stewart

Mr. and Mrs. James Sherman Stewart, pioneer residents of Twin Falls, received the felicitations of their many friends this afternoon when they observed "open house" in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

The honor guests, residents of Twin Falls for 29 years, were united in marriage Jan. 21, 1891, at Parnell, Mo., but observed their anniversary early so that one of their daughters was able to attend.

Mrs. C. A. McMaster, one of the friends who presided at the refreshment table during the reception, was present at the Stewarts' wedding reception 50 years ago, and had also attended their 10th and 25th wedding anniversary observations.

New Year's Day Marriage Rites At Bride's Home

With a lattice-work pattern of amaranth and ferns and pastel sweet peas in white pottery containers forming the background, Miss Margaret B. Salisbury and Richard L. Harbert were united in marriage Monday.

Ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Salisbury, 113 Eighth avenue east. Rev. Mark C. Cronberger, Christian church pastor, officiated.

Traditional White
The bride wore a wedding gown of white net over white taffeta, styled with a basque waist, full skirt and wrist-length sleeves. A coronet of seed pearls fitted in place her hair and she carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and yellow roses.

Phyllis Thomas, Bolser, maid of honor, wore a turquoise marquisette gown, full-skirted and floor-length and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and gardenias.
Mrs. Salisbury wore a black afternoon frock beaded in turquoise, with a train of gardenias.
Grant Sawyer, Twin Falls, student at the University of Nevada, Reno, was best man.
J. E. Hill played a medley of bridal selections on the electric organ throughout the ceremony, and also played the wedding march from "Lohengrin," by Wagner.

The wedding cake, flanked by pink roses in brief wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Harbert will be at home Jan. 8 at the Reed apartments. For traveling in New Year's day, two southern suitcases with matching accessories.

ACTRESS WEDDED TO VERMONT MAN
Miss Davis later spent several vacations at the White Mountains, at Littleton, N. H. Nobody here knew Purnsworth was the manager; it wouldn't have meant much if they had.
In 1939 Miss Davis made five pictures and then she demanded a vacation. She told the Warner brothers she was really needed a rest. She got it and she spent seven months in Fraconia, N. H., where she built a house and where she presumably resumed her friendship with the resort manager at nearby Littleton.
She returned to Hollywood last February and built another house in suburban Glendale, miles away from any other movie personalities. There she and Purnsworth will live.

CANDLE
A candle caused a fire this morning.
Responding to an alarm at 345 seventh avenue north, firemen, according to Chief Zerk Harter, found that Herman Schuriger had been working on his home and was using a kerosene candle for illumination close to a wall.
The candle ignited the wall and fire broke out between the wall and the outside of the structure. Chief Harter said damage was only slight.

Forced Landing Ends in Party

For Lost Fliers
SANBEN, Jan. 2 (Special)—Santa Claus followed the air route of Mr. Charles Owens and from 8:00 a. m. until 10:00 p. m. of Cascade, Ida. when they attempted to reach this section of the country, where they plan to spend the remainder of the winter. They visited them after they were obliged to land their plane at Yellow Pine, following three hours of blind flying in the heavy snow storm which struck after they took to the air at Loon creek Tuesday of last week.
The party, on noting their sea supply exhausted, chanced a descent when they struck an air pocket, and upon dropping below the clouds sighted a narrow creek where they landed rather than in a tree top, their second choice, because of deep snow.
They found themselves better than 100 miles off their route, but the six families of the Yellow Pine mining town welcomed the strangers and sent Santa to the town hotel to invite them to enjoy their Christmas program and dance, where they were presented with a gift by the villagers.
The snow storm, continuing over Christmas day and Tuesday, Friday noon kept the travelers from continuing their flight. However, they took off at that time to arrive here in safety.

New Feminine Golfing Star Shines in South

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 2 (UP)—Her name is Louise Suggs, she is 17 and the city of Atlanta is thinking of stretching its limits to include the community of Lithia Springs, where she learned to play golf at a country club that is really in the country.
Louise is all set to make the big swing of the women's tournaments this winter and if she develops her game according to present indications they will be talking about Suggs in the same breath with Berg, Miley, Hemphill and Janeson by spring.
Louise's assets for stardom are youth, a powerful swing good for better than 200 yards on her wood shots, a putting touch that veteran teacher Ed Beckett says is one of the best he's ever seen in a woman, and a confidence that will help her in the hot spot.
Short Game Better
"I've been practicing pretty much lately," the 5-foot-5, "well" built youngster said, "my drives are getting straighter and my short game is the best it's ever been."
Pop Beckett, who has seen Bobby Jones, Charley Yates and Dorothy Kirby pass in review during his long stand at the Capital City club here, is seeing his pupil along slowly but can hardly keep the enthusiasm out of his voice when he talks of her prospects.
Beckett says the only flaw in Miss Suggs' game is her tendency to get off balance at the top of her backswing. He is working to correct this fault but it affects her timing in the big matter. Her leads take 75 per cent of women players less than two to five holes to hole out from 30 yards but Louise is definitely among the 25 per cent who cut the number of swings down to three at most.
In a major tournament has seen little of Louise's man-sized golf game which she developed by clearing the bunkers in her rough and keeping away from the ridges on the green at the Lithia Springs course.

BATTLE LOOMS OVER CONTROL OF CREDIT FOR NATION

MORGENTHAU AND ECCLES TO FIGHT MONEY HANDLING

By ROBERT A. KNOWLTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (U.P.)—The treasury department and the federal reserve board prepared today for a great tug-of-war over control of the nation's credit and currency during the rearmament period.

The board's recommendations for repeal of many treasury and presidential fiscal powers, including the President's power to devalue the dollar, and his bid for broad power to combat inflationary tendencies may stimulate the famous battle in 1939 between Andrew Jackson, and the bank of the United States, and Principles in the conflict—President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner S. Eccles—were waged over the holiday on the board's report which was released by Eccles.

But there was little doubt that the report would touch off a major controversy in the new congress convening tomorrow, and that it may become a clear second in congressional debate to the question of greater aid to Great Britain.

President Quet

There was no indication which side the treasury department would support most of the program—apparently certain the President would oppose strenuously for him the secretary of the treasury.

Treasury sources revealed that Eccles' recommendations to congress—the first time in history that the board has sent a report to congress—had been announced with the full knowledge of Morgenthau. A conference the day before the report was released which was attended by Morgenthau, Eccles and Laughlin Currie, assistant to Mr. Roosevelt and a former reserve board economic adviser, was widely interpreted here as an attempt by Morgenthau to have certain regulations made in the board's proposals.

Although the first conclusion was that Currie's position was one supporting Morgenthau, some sources hinted he quite likely might be in agreement with Eccles on many points and might be seeking a compromise between the opposing factions.

Oppose Most Plans

Treasury officials frankly admitted they would oppose virtually all of the reserve board's recommendations, but considered it proper that the disagreement over basic fiscal policy be brought into the open for discussion.

The treasury's position was outlined by officials as follows: The President should retain the right to revalue the dollar for post-war economic emergencies. Some of the fiscal controls the board recommended repealed are not needed now when the nation's economy is rising toward full capacity, but the trend may shift suddenly and it would be helpful then if the secretary of the treasury had the powers which he calls "his shotgun in the closet."

Treasury officials said they would not object seriously to repeal of the Thomas amendment authorizing the printing of $3,000,000,000 in greenbacks; Eccles had asked that. This power never has been utilized by the treasury and spokesmen said it did not intend to use it.

CLASSICAL MUSIC IN "SWING" TIME ON AIR

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (U.P.)—The radio music world defied the air waves today with old classics and semi-classics in swing time; folk songs, hill billy songs, spirituals and Latin American music.

These were substituted for the popular songs of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) which were banned from the three major networks and many independent stations Tuesday midnight because ASCAP tried to raise its license fees.

John G. Payne, ASCAP's general manager, said the substitute music was "vicious" and predicted that the public would not tolerate it long. He said the broadcast of the football bowl game yesterday was "filibuster." The network broadcast the games from sound-proof booths as a precaution against picking up any ASCAP music being played by college bands.

Everything Happens Swooshy

John G. Payne, general counsel of Broadcast Music, Inc., set up by the networks to provide music in connection with ASCAP, said yesterday he was "not sure" about the music that is doubted whether the public noticed any difference.

As a result of the fight eventually all the popular songs of the past 50 years, except those in the public domain from copyright expiration or those produced by ASCAP, will in the past few months, are banned from about three-fourths of the radio stations, including those of National Broadcasting company and Columbia and Mutual Broadcasting systems.

Analysis Jan. 14

Smaller stations continued to deal with ASCAP, so most radio listeners had their choice of programs. The cooperative analysis of broadcasting, which tests the popularity of programs for radio advertisers, completes its next poll Jan. 14, but A. W. Lohman, cooperative manager, said radio listeners usually were slow to respond to any change and he doubted whether any reaction would be apparent for several weeks.

Until then, listeners will hear a lot of such BMI and public domain music as "Tiger Rag" by Johann Straus; "Turkey in the Straw"; "Frankie and Johnny"; "There I Got it" and "One Little, Two Little, Three Little Indians."

The Last Journey

"Now is the time for all..." In short, here's the theme picture of the day—the "last mile" for the one-pronged Christmas tree. Mournfully escorting the tree out to the rubbish pile are Warren Peppertine, 10, at left, and Dick Bailey, 11. Incidentally, they are heading the admobition of Fire Chief Zeko Bartlett, who warned all Twin Falls residents today that Christmas trees should be disposed of at once since they are tinder dry by this time and offer a fire hazard. NO INQUEST FOR BURLEY SUICIDE

BURLEY, Jan. 2 (Special)—No inquest will be held in the death of Glenn Puckett, 22, who died after he shot himself in the left temple early yesterday, Coroner Joseph P. Payne said this afternoon.

The youth, a field worker who resided with his wife of a year in a trailer house, is said by officers to have first taken one shot at his wife with whom he had been quarreling. The bullet, however, was deflected by a glass window through which it was fired. It did not strike Mrs. Puckett.

Friends said the two had a quarrel and that Mrs. Grace Simmons Puckett, the wife, was seated in the A. J. Schoonover residence with her brother and sister-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Letoy Simons, about 1 a. m. The Puckett trailer home is located at the rear of this house.

After the shot through the window, Simmons left to call officers. As they arrived they heard a shot in the trailer house and, forcing open the door, found the body of Puckett against it. Coroner Payne said death was apparently instantaneous. The case was investigated by Chief of Police Clarence Phillips.

Parents of the dead youth reside in Oklahoma, from where he came to Burley. A brother, Calvin, resides in Burley.

The body was taken to the Payne funeral home and it is expected that it will be sent to Oklahoma for burial when final arrangements are made.

M-Men, Gleaners Meet for Formal Dinner in Rupert

RUPERT, Jan. 2 (Special)—With "Mutual Interests in Art" as the theme, a formal dinner dance was held in Rupert in the new Minidoka state L. D. S. tabernacle Monday evening.

The affair was given by the M-M and Gleaner girls of the Burley, Cassia, Twin Falls and Minidoka stakes with the Blaine and Raft River stakes as guests.

Colors of the organizations were used in room decorations. Red carnations centered the tables where covers were laid for 300 at dinner.

E. E. Hill, Twin Falls, provided organ music during the dinner hour. Vern Yates, Twin Falls, president of the Inter-Stake M. I. A., was in charge of the program. Frank Watson, vice president of the organization, was master of ceremonies.

The program provided by the Twin Falls stake, was in the nature of a floor show and consisted of a performance by a team of eight trained dancers; two solo numbers; a girls' trio, by Dorothy Stoddard, Opal Wood and Bertha Stallings; and a dramatic reading by Meria Salmon, Twin Falls.

Mr. Hill also provided the music for the floor show. The evening concluded with ballroom dancing with David Clark Oakley, as dance master.

Minidoka stake provided dinner and accommodations; Burley hosts and sociability; and Cassia finance and publicity. The affair is said to have been one of the most outstanding events of the year in Rupert.

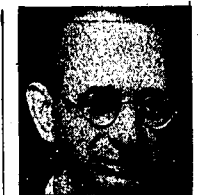

LIKES TWO-STEP -OSTERVILLE, Mass. GP—Everett Childs, Osterville, Massachusetts, attributes his longevity to plenty of outdoor exercise. Each day he walks two miles to West Bay and return.

MY HEALTH WAS FAILING, I WAS WEAK, MISERABLE; HOYT'S GAVE WELL-BEING

A Multitude of Systematic Ailments, Nervousness, Bloating, Belching, Dizziness were Aided by Hoyt's Compound, says Mr. Hamilton.

MR. J. D. HAMILTON

Hoyt's Compound is not a locally, but a nationally known, used and recommended product, as may be seen by the statement of Mr. J. D. Hamilton, of 223 1/2 2nd St., over in Ogden, Utah. This gentleman, retired from railroad service after 30 years, states: "Since I was scalded in a head-on collision, my health has been failing. I have been nervous, and had a bad stomach. I got no good from my food, I bloated, terrible and became very dizzy. I belched hot liquids, had stabbing pains in my stomach, my neck, shoulders, back and limbs. At times my legs would fold up under me right on the street, and I would have to sit on the curb till the pain eased. I was terribly constipated.

"Hoyt's Compound ended those pains, and regulated my bowels. Now my other ailments are improving so much that it is impossible to say enough for the good Hoyt's has done!"

Sufferers, you can't go wrong by trying a medicine that countless people, men and women, young and old, say has brought them the relief they have been able to find. So Hoyt's Compound, which is recommended and sold by the Majestic Pharmacy, is your best bet when you are ill. Why not try it today?

BREMEN BOMBED BY BRITISH RAF

LONDON, Jan. 2 (U.P.)—Big formations of royal air force bombing planes rained incendiary and high explosive bombs on Bremen during the night in retaliation for Sunday night's fire-bomb on London's ancient "city" area. No war reported burning in the town as the result of what appeared from next available information to have been one of the most concentrated British raids on a German city.

The royal air force "paid the Germans back in their own coin" for the fire raid, the press association reported, and dropped big quantities of fire and explosive bombs on the important Bremen area.

In addition to the Bremen raid, royal air force planes, opening their new year offensive program, attacked numerous submarine bases, invasion ports and other targets in German and German-occupied territory.

It was understood the greater part of the raiding planes centered on Bremen. It is there that the Focke-Wulf factory is reported to be turning out a new two-motored fighter as fast as the Condor planes which have been raiding British shipping in the Atlantic.

It was the first raid on Bremen in two weeks. The city has been bombed more than 50 times since start of aerial warfare.

Dilworth-McNeal Rites at Temple

CAREY, Jan. 2 (Special)—Miss Anne McNeal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McNeal, Rhoades, and Stanley Dilworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dilworth, Carey, were married in the L. D. S. temple in Salt Lake City Dec. 27.
