

NAVY INQUIRY OPENS ON PLANE CRACK-UP KILLING 11

4 AVIATORS DIE WHO ESCAPED IN THURSDAY CRASH

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 6 (U.P.)—A naval board of inquiry sought an explanation today for a transport plane crash which killed 11 naval officers and men—including four aviators who jumped in parachutes from a 13-ton bomber last Thursday night to meet death two nights later.

The four whose second brush with death was their last were killed with seven other officers and men when the transport, taking them home crashed and exploded Saturday night on Mother Grundy peak 45 miles from their base.

"Number Up"
"Think of it," a navy flier at the base here commented. "Those two guys who attack in their ship in the snowstorm are still alive in Texas. Those four other fellows took a beating in Texas and then they finally got it after all. Their numbers were simply up. That's all."

The fifth man who jumped in Texas was killed when his parachute cords broke. Lieut. Murray Hays and Ensign Robert Clark, who landed the big bomber in a few inches of rain water, are still alive.

Killed when the five-year-old transport crashed were:
Lieutenant H. S. Neff, 34, San Diego; Radioman A. M. Perry, 31, Los Angeles; Mechanic Frank Beckner, Jr., 30, National City, Calif.; and Radioman L. J. Hughes, 30, Camp Knappton, who leaped to safety Thursday.

Inquiry Board Members
Lieut.-Commander J. H. Gowan, 54, the pilot, Leadhill, Ark.; Capt. D. E. Ferguson, 33, Reponset, Wyo.; Lt. J. A. Leonard, 34, Reading, Penn.; Mechanic Marvin Magee, 32, Long Branch, N. J.; and Radioman Frank R. Taylor, 25, Dayton, Ky.

Four other members of the board of inquiry which had investigated the Texas accident.

The plane crashed in a rainstorm 100 feet below the summit of the peak. Its gasoline tanks exploded with a flash that was visible miles away. Flaming fragments of the fliers' bodies and the airplane over a quarter mile area. A naval searching party hacked its way up the mountainside yesterday and packed the bodies of the victims, tied in blankets and slung over poles, to a highway.

TWO BOUND OVER FOR AUTO THEFT

JEROME, Jan. 6 (Special)—Douglas Henry Fensell and Arnold Beutrook, both Jerome residents, have been bound over by Probate Judge Heber N. Polkman to answer felony charges of grand larceny in winter term of district court.

They are being held in Jerome county jail, and had been placed under bond of $1,000 each.

Both men have past criminal records, according to information from the sheriff's office. They are accused of having stolen a machine belonging to Max Owens, et. Jerome, last Dec. 23 as the car was parked in front of the P. H. Beveridge residence here. The car was found later in the week, stalled in a snowbank near Corral, Ida. It was undamaged and was returned to Jerome by Sheriff Lee B. Johnson.

The two men are also suspected of having broken into pool hall at Hill City sometime during the same night. They are said to have stolen the Owens car. This pool hall was robbed of a penny slot machine.

As One Noted Figure to Another

Rubynoff, violinist extraordinary, takes time out to "teach" Charlie McCarthy a few things about music. The maestro, who performs in Twin Falls Jan. 24, earned part of his nationwide fame in Hollywood.

Rubynoff's Violin, Made in 1731, Insured at $100,000

When Rubynoff plays his famed violin solos at the high school auditorium in Twin Falls Friday, Jan. 24, he will be using one of the most precious instruments in the world—a Stradivarius violin insured for $100,000.

The noted maestro will perform in Twin Falls under auspices of the high school, presenting a matinee concert for students only and a public concert the same evening.

Rubynoff's $100,000 Stradivarius represents achievement of the Russian-born master as a violinist over-representing desire in life. Satisfying this desire for a "Strad" required a search of many years. Many old and valuable violins were placed at his disposal by music dealers and collectors but none was just right. When finally he tested the Romanoff-Stradivarius, as his "Strad" is known, it sent him into raptures.

Made in 1731 by Antonio Stradivari in Cremona, Italy, the violin came, eventually, into the hands of the Romanoffs—the Russian royal family. During the revolution the "Strad" disappeared but turned up later in Paris in the possession of a former Russian prince who had taken the valuable instrument with him when he fled the country.

The violin is elaborately engraved, bears the bejeweled coat of arms of the Romanoff family as well as the identification marks of Stradivari and the date it was manufactured. Colored a deep brownish-red, its dull lustre, perfect form and intricate development of detail mark it as representative of the best work of the master.

Rubynoff will play several of his own compositions on the "Strad," including his own version of "Rhapsody in Blue" presented as a violin solo as well as his famous "Dance Russe," "Tango Trigue" and "Banjo Eyes." When he plays these numbers the full range of the instrument as well as its deep tone give these songs a quality impossible to attain on any other instrument.

Tickets for this unusual concert will go on sale the middle of this week.

BOTHWELL-LAUDS CHASE A. CLARK

BOISE, Jan. 6 (Special)—Idaho enters a new administration with a highly-qualified leader at the helm of state, according to the keynote message brought to Idaho Democratic chiefs Saturday night by former Judge James R. Bothwell.
Bothwell was chief speaker at the victory banquet attended by Bothwells from all over Idaho.
The Twin Falls attorney declared: "Truly it can be said that no man ever assumed the oath as governor of the state of Idaho under more trying times or with greater responsibility."

"And it truly can be said that no man ever has brought to this great office the combined native ability, learning and experience in governmental affairs as that possessed by our own Chase Clark."
"With his leadership, a Democratic legislature and the state officers in the hands of seasoned Democrats who are able to perform their constitutional duties without the aid of state comptroller, the emergency will be met and Idaho will take its proper place in national defense."
Idaho and the nation, Bothwell said, are "confronted face to face with a crisis on which challenge the very principles of democracy and with the very existence of free

YES, the smoke's the thing! After all, you don't get anything from a cigarette until you've lighted it... until it's burning. And there is the secret of an advantage Camel smokers have enjoyed for years. For Camel's costlier tobaccos are slower-burning.

Slower-burning for more coolness and mildness—for Camels are free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning. Slower-burning for more flavor because slow burning preserves tobacco flavor and fragrance.

CALL OUT THE ARMY—THIS IS TOO MUCH!

Dear Pot Shots:
When the radio chains start "swinging" our hyman, the government ought to sleep in. And that's exactly what I did yesterday, too, one of my favorite old hymns (jazzed up by orchestra) hunting for something that doesn't offend me.

The orchestra leader had the grace not to announce the name of the hymn—but when he "swung" it, I'll bet the gates of Paradise trembled with indignation.

VALERIE HAS HER INNING

CHAPTER XI

"The principal in the Valeris... Part of her story in the accident was to her feeling, the house physician who examined her decided. Even the cut on her scalp was no large enough to demand a dressing. She did, however, seem on the verge of hysterics, so he ordered a sedative and sent her to bed."

"Listen, Val, you're not leaving here until your parents come to you. You may wreck Jerry's medical career, but you're not going to wreck the medical career of the right man, ranting about your car."

"Don't you realize how seriously Jerry has been hurt? He may not get well—and you stand there crying about your car more than the life of the man you're going to marry?"

VAL laughed.

"The man I'm going to marry? That's funny. Do you think I'd ever let myself to a druggist clerk?"

"But Jerry's in love with you. You told Dr. and Mrs. Connolly you wanted to get married right away..."

"I'll show you if you'll move out of that room. Val answered. "Listen, Mary, Jerry is the best looking man on the campus. He belongs to the best fraternity, he gets bids to everything, knows all the right people. Any girl would be proud to marry him if he gave her half a chance."

"Marry him? Not me! I'm not marrying anyone yet. Marriage is all I'm thinking of, but I don't like all that. He liked to talk and all that. I let him. Can I help it if he gets crazy ideas about quitting school?"

"I'll show you if you'll move out of that room. Val answered. "Listen, Mary, Jerry is the best looking man on the campus. He belongs to the best fraternity, he gets bids to everything, knows all the right people. Any girl would be proud to marry him if he gave her half a chance."

Bruce Catton in Washington

(Third of four articles highlighting major issues before the new Congress.)

By BRUCE CATTON
(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Although defense aid for Britain and Lend Lease is quite likely, beyond that the administration's farm program is pretty much in doubt.

Another question mark is the matter of legislation governing strikes in defense industries. The House has passed a bill to curb the union's power were introduced. Probably is that none of this will be passed very hard this winter unless there is a new wave of strikes in defense industries.

Although the new "mild" labor policy was supposed to have headed off Wagner act changes, the board committee investigating the board has announced it will seek amendments.

NEXT: Investigations.

Our 4,500,000 Aliens

The census of aliens being completed, the United States can now take stock of the problem of the non-citizen among us.

The total enrollment is expected to exceed 4,500,000. That means that one person in 28 in the country is an alien. The figure may reach as high as 5,000,000. We know how many there are, who they are, and where they are. It is now possible to approach the situation on a factual basis.

First, a caution. The officials in charge of this registration have from the first stressed the fact that there is nothing disgraceful or creditable about alien status. This has been a factual compilation, and there is no faint suggestion of culpability in the summing, registering, and fingerprinting of all these people. There is no intention to persecute anyone whose only fault is that he is not a citizen of the United States.

Director Harrison has also warned officials, employers, and others who may now be tempted to demand that aliens produce evidence of having registered, that they were furnished with no receipt on registering, and that not half of them have yet received receipt cards from Washington. This will take five or six weeks. Further, the law provides that aliens need not carry receipt cards once received.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO
JAN. 6, 1926

"The North and South Side tracts of the Twin Falls project are about to be joined in holy wedlock and the new city of Twin Falls is the greatest union which has been consummated in Jerome Idaho," said R. E. Shepherd of Jerome, here last evening before one of the largest chambers of commerce dinners held in this city since the Oregon Short Line railway officials gathered here over a year ago.

Mrs. Steenberger was hostess to members of the Ninth avenue club at the home of Mrs. M. J. Steenberger, when the program of the new city of Twin Falls was presented. Mrs. D. C. Weaver read a paper on "Columbia-Border Shrine." Mrs. C. M. Merrill sang a German folk song and gave a reading.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

AMERICAN SAILING
Illustrated by CHURCH

American fishing goes back a long way—before the Pilgrims, in fact—back not too far for Albert Cook Church to have written a new book. And Mr. Church has a new book—one of the most graphic and absorbing, pictorial, one yet—'American Fishermen' (W. W. Norton; $3.75).

If you remember Mr. Church's 'The Fishes and Whales' you will see some idea of his interest in the sea and ships. Mr. Church lives in New Bedford (the 'cod city') and has spent most of his life in the fishery. The result is an uncommonly good collection, the best examples of which he seems to have put into 'American Fishermen.' James B. Connolly, who does the text, has been in pictures and who has just written 'The Port of Gloucester,' contributes a sally running 'early colonial days' back to the days of the Pilgrims. The explorer Champlain sailed into Gloucester harbor in 1606, stayed the night, and suggested that the huge power and flood control development now being put through by the Federal Government be set up as a regional authority along the lines of TVA. Legislation to that end is being drafted, with New Deal approval, but its ultimate fate is in doubt.

FARM PROGRAM IN DOUBT
The kind of farm legislation which the administration will seek from the new Congress is not yet clear. The November election, which saw the New Deal losing ground in many farming areas, came as an eye-opener to the administration.

Another housing good book 'The New Deal' by Capt. Rudolph Smale's 'There Go the Ships' (Caxton Printing; $4).

At 16, Rudolph Smale set out to sea. It seems that he scarcely ever came back until a few years ago, when he decided to finally get down with the landlubbers and write his reminiscences. He has a pleasant, good natured, and a fresh two ship weeks, run around Cape Horn to San Francisco in the days when men of sail made the trip. Mr. Smale's aboard a windjammer. This is a good book to sit down to these winter evenings when you'd like to go out but can't. Skipper Smale will take care of that.

Back to Bootlegging

Blame it on the war. It's a big war with broad shoulders. Lots of things are being very properly blamed on it. Latest is a new style of bootlegging.

You see, high-powered imported liquors of certain types, like French brandies, are almost impossible to import under present circumstances. So almost immediately up come the bottles with the phony labels, the synthetic and falsified contents.

"Today, with the war, the British blockade, and present high taxes, we have a virtual duplication of the situation which led to extensive rum-running and bootlegging during prohibition," warns an authority.

"Thus spread the horrors of war, and probably many a bomb has fallen in Europe with a less damaging effect than can be had from the kind of stove-pollish-and-turpentine concoctions with which we became unpleasantly acquainted during the Dry Decade.

NOTE TO TRAVELING LINCOLN COUNTY RESIDENTS

The editor, imitating in the telephone after a lengthy conversation, only announcing from the other end with an irate subscriber from Lincoln county, asks Pot Shots to present this notation to the personnel in question.

The telephone directory proclaims: "Prigmore, W. L.," language over the combs. If we are prohibited, subscribers are prohibited, enforcement of this rule. Failure to observe this will constitute cause for discontinuance of service.

The editor, sighing, says the subscriber will know whom he means. The editor, having done his duty, rings off.

FISH, EVEN BETTER FANT
WED A WHOLE STATE!
Dear Pot Shots:
Whether you newspaper fellows realize it or not, we common folk often have the unenviable habit of reading your headlines in a way you ought to be proud of. I read your issue for a split second at the end of each line, if the line seems to me to get the best of it, and you can see, this unbecoming mannerism has led me to a lot of my friends. I've found a lot of my friends in the same way, and I, in turn, have been the first phase before I ever get to the point.

Maybe you're not interested in how I read a newspaper. Anyway, if this habit in the Pot Shots was taken up by the other fellows, it would be a good thing. I, in turn, have been the first phase before I ever get to the point.

What to Eat in Winter—and Why

Mr. duBols, a former food chemist for the government, is a nationally recognized authority on diet.

By WILBUR L. duBOLS, M. A.

You can eat three meals a day and still die of malnutrition, and you can eat three meals a day and still be included in your news.

Food science is comparatively new. During the last generation investigators have discovered that many physical ailments are due to dietary deficiencies. The lack of minute quantities of certain mysterious compounds essential to life. Scientists tell us these elements are not in our food, and where to find them. They also reveal how much of each is necessary and how to select a diet that will give us all of them in the right proportions.

Biggest job of the body has is the covering of food. Every cell in the body is vital that it be given enough of the right materials to work with in order to do a good job. The body needs the right materials to find these materials for you and show how much of them is in order to have good health during winter months.

New cells and tissue must be provided constantly for the growth of the body.

Bravery — Plus

Sheer physical bravery is common enough. Even among the luckless Italian troops in Albania and Libya there are probably plenty of men holding their posts and dying stolidly.

But among the British there is a certain quality added, an ability to make a joke of misfortune and to greet the grimest fate with a wry smile.

British hobsellers are drawing the admiration of the entire American book world by their determination to carry on despite fire and bomb. Their export trade, especially among antiquarians, is encouraged by the government, because it brings exchange to England for articles produced long ago. Stocks of some have already been damaged, but their defiant spirit is well shown by one who recently advertised in poetic tone but grim spirit:

"Rumour, thou lying jade, we have not been hit. We are functioning. Our great stocks are intact. Our buildings have not been damaged."

Hard to beat—the grin that won't come off!

FAMOUS LAST LINE

That's no fatigue—just a count of a fading job hunter!

JACOBS, N. B. A. BATTLE OVER 'TITLE' BOUT

50 High School Cage Quintets See Action in Tuesday Contests

Legal Fight Seen On 'Championship' Cleveland Scrap

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (UP)—The going sounded today for one of pugilism's most important battles as Mike Jacobs squared off against the defiant "National Boxing Association" champion, Burley.

Jacobs said he would stop the practice of "advertising money title fights in National Boxing Association territory," appealing to the courts if necessary.

Promoter Mike first blow was aimed at Cleveland. He announced Light Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn will run promoters of the Melio Bellina-Antonio Christoforid fight in Cleveland, Jan. 12, if they persist in advertising this 10-round fight as "for the light heavyweight championship."

Jacobs said he would stop the practice of "advertising money title fights in National Boxing Association territory," appealing to the courts if necessary.

Promoter Bob Brickerman of Cleveland said he would continue, and he would welcome the Conn as a test of Jacobs' power to control boxing through the courts.

The National Boxing Association has sanctioned the Bellina-Christoforid fight as a "world title" bout.

Conn has defended his title within the six months required by the N. B. A. rule against title champions.

Jacobs declared, "Conn has not given up his championship. He has agreed to defend the title against the winner of the Jimmy Webb-Tommy Denner challenge bout, scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Feb. 28."

Wyoming, Utah Colorado Top Big 7 Teams

DENVER, Jan. 6 (UP)—The three teams Coach West (Proby) Cox ranked "least likely to succeed" in the 1941 Big Seven basketball conference are Colorado State, Denver and Utah State.

For the first time since 1937, Cox said he "is not sure" about the fate of his own quintet, University of Colorado.

But on the basis of comparative performance, he feels he hasn't much to worry about from Denver, Colorado State and Utah State.

Cox' team whipped Oregon State of the Pacific coast conference in two contests a month ago. Then it went on the eastern tour, winning a game from St. John's in Madison Square Garden and going to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Meanwhile, Oregon State came to Denver to play a two-game tournament. It defeated Denver and Colorado State, then returned to Corvallis to repulse a two-night Utah State attack.

The three teams Cox fears most are Brigham Young, Utah and Oregon State. Cox is not sure of his own team's ability to compete in inter-sectional competition, so will have to wait actual competition with the teams.

Colorado opens its season against Colorado State at the Phillips Field, the same night Brigham Young meets Utah State at Provo, Wyoming. Wyoming plays Denver at Denver and Utah is scheduled until next week.

STUDENTS OUTNUMBERED CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (UP)—University of Illinois authorities report that of 13,651 registrants attending classes in 1940-41, 12,486 are from farms and 11,700 from cities and towns. The 1941 total includes enrollment here and at the Chicago professional schools.

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

B Club Meets Tuesday to Elect Officers

With "important business" scheduled, the nature of which will not be told in advance of the session, annual meeting of the B-Club Sportsmen will be held at the present date room, at 8 p. m. Tuesday. It was announced this afternoon by Lud Drexler, secretary.

Drexler said it was "most important that every member of the club attend."

Also on the agenda for the meeting is the election of an entire slate of officers, terms of the present slate leaders all expiring at the same time.

Present officers are George Van Tilburg, chairman; Roy Alwood, vice-chairman; Mr. Drexler, secretary; George Gerrish, treasurer; Lawrence Murphy and Dr. George Schorer, directors.

During the session a delegate will be selected to attend the state session of the United States Amateur Athletic Union which will be held at Boise Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 11 and 12.

Drexler said a "heavy" program will be followed by the B-Club of 1941 and details of this program will be mapped at Tuesday night's meeting. Legislative matters also will be discussed.

While NEA Sports Editor Harry Grayson, chairman of the National Amateur Athletic Union, is in town, he will be writing by leading sports editors and sports authorities.

Flattening Fritzie Gives Henry Armstrong Chance to Regain Welterweight Title in Madison Square Garden, Jan. 17

With an even break in their first two games of the season, Coach M. O. DeLoach and his Twin Falls Bruins today looked forward to their third contest here tomorrow night against the Jerome Tigers.

After dropping a close 22-17 battle in the opening clash of the year on Friday night to Burley, the Bruins came through with a better hand of basketball at Gooding on Saturday as they trimmed the Senators by a 35 to 25 count.

Better Team Play
With at least four places tentatively settled on the starting five, Coach Cranny can now look to better team play as his club heads into a heavy schedule. In the initial two games the opening lineup saw Coach Thomas and Don Tooleman guard, Otto Florence at center and Pat Wallace at one forward post.

After a battle in the forward post will still a battle, with Clon Gibb and Tommy Cartney doing most of the battling.

The Saturday night contest against Gooding turned into a first-half rout for the Bruins—who weakened in the third stanza and saw the Bolson climb back into the game.

Take Big Lead
Twin Falls ran up a 17-7 advantage in the first quarter and the half-time count was 24-7. The third frame saw the Senators outscore the Bruins and push the count to 28-12. The two clubs battled on nearly even terms in the final stanza.

High scoring honors went to Chuck Thomas, who collected 11 points while turning in a great defensive performance. Don Tooleman was right behind him with nine, while Otto Florence topped the Gooding quintet with the same count.

In the preliminary battle the fast Gooding seconds edged the Twin Falls Clubs by a 22-20 count in another tight battle. Gooding led at the half 10-4. He was disqualified for turning in an incorrect score and Olin Dutra went on to win. Craig Johnson was the hero for the Bruins as he scored 12 points.

Lineups:
TWIN FALLS: C. (1) Schmidt, F. (2) Wallace, G. (3) Meyer, Thomas (11) G. (10) Hobbes, D. (9) Crocker.
Substitutions:
Twin Falls—Gibb (5), Terry (2), Robertson, Randall, Hubert, Price, Fuller.
Gooding—Aspartate (2), Jim Peterson, Boyer, Jack Peterson, Coffey, Cooper, referee; Gibbons, umpire.

Bulla Joins Ranks of Pros Who Make Disastrous Plays

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (UP)—Johnny Bulla now belongs to that distinguished organization whose membership is limited to those golf players who blew a chance for fame and fortune by an act of inexcusable carelessness.

He now knows the password and secret key of the club that lasts among its members such men as Bobby Jones, Craig Wood, Ben Hogan, Wethered, Eddie Loos and Ed Oliver.

Bulla became a member in good standing yesterday when he played the wrong ball on the first tee shot in the final round of the Los Angeles $10,000 Open golf championship. With admirable nonchalance he questioned the judgment, he stepped out to the ball of Harold (Jug) McSpoden, who was playing in a threesome, hung him, and aimed it toward the green.

That shot cost him two strokes penalty, the 36-hole lead, and probably will knock him out of first prize money of $3,500. With golf competition as keen as it is today, fellow club members and two strokes just don't win.

The only consolation Johnny Bulla can take is that he is not the first big name to be made by a member of his profession. Roger Wethered, brother of the famous golfer, was the first of all golf tournaments, the British open, carelessness in 1921.

In the Open last year at Woodlawn, Utah and Utah State were the two strokes penalty. Ed Dudley, who was playing in a threesome, hit the wrong ball on the first tee shot in the final round of the Los Angeles $10,000 Open golf championship. Oakley Meets Burley, Rupert Invades Filer, Buhl Visits Shoshone

With pre-season games already out of the way, high school cage quintets throughout southern Idaho today got down to the steady grind that will end with sub-district, district and state tournaments.

And the heavy schedules were in full operation for Tuesday night as some 50 cage clubs prepared to swing into action in the eight counties of Magic Valley. Thirteen games are on the schedule for the evening and most of these will be double-headers.

With coaching now having a pretty fair bit of their prospect for the coming season, a better hand of the indoor sport is expected to be presented and there will probably be less switching of lineups.

Class A—Spotlight
Tonight a competition tomorrow night at the Burley-Oakley contest will hold the spotlight and is regarded as a top-up between two of the best teams in the Magic Valley. The club coached by Buhl Budge is rounding into form and may yet put up an effort to retain its district championship. Oakley starting hot hit an eight last Friday and lost to Rupert.

The Pirates invade Filer and should have too much trouble with Coach Bill Powers' experienced club. Under coaching of Gerald Dellinger, the Minidoka squad is coming along in good shape and according to Rupert reports may be "plenty tough" by the opening of the district tournament.

Twin Falls tackles Jerome in the other class a encounter and should win over the Tigers. Coach Tom Norby at the north side school is reported to be short on material this season and the quintet has been having tough sliding. However, it put up a good battle against Gooding Friday night and may yet round into a formidable contender.

The other outstanding clash of the day sends Buhl and Shoshone together on the Lincoln county floor. These two teams, the pick of Class A and B cage clubs, met last week on the Buhl court as Coach Floyd Lutz's boys came through with a two-point 48-30 victory in a thrilling battle on the basis of a 10-0 allowance five points for the home floor. Shoshone may even the count in the Tuesday evening contest.

In district Class B encounters, Glenn Ferry takes on King Hill, Malia visits Alton, Richfield goes to Fairfield and Decio invades Paul. Heyburn travels to Acquia, Wendell visits Harleton, Eden tackles Kimberly, Hansen visits Castleford and Murtaugh battles at Harleton.

Utah College Cagers Lose Tilts on Tour

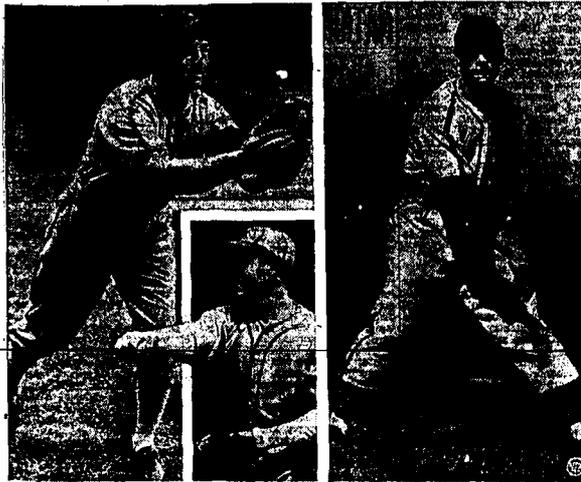

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 6 (UP)—Utah's three college basketball teams were back in the state today following completion of pre-season schedules in which Brigham Young university established itself as the state's leading contender for the Big Seven basketball crown.

The Cougar Saturday turned in only victory for the western division, a mountain state conference, by beating Montana State college 87-65. The score was a duplication of that a night earlier and gave Brigham Young a clean sweep of the two-game series with the Bobcats in Provo.

Utah and Utah State did not fare so well. The Redskins fell before Oregon State college in Corvallis, 64-35, while the state's top 94-33 beating at the hands of Stanford University at Palo Alto, Calif.

The loss of the two state school quintets on the Pacific coast starting Dec. 28 netted the Big Seven only one victory, won by Utah in competition with California, respectively

Trades Make Top-Division Clubs Stronger; Dodgers Spend Freely

These three major leaguers will be in new uniforms during the 1941 season. Cleveland hopes Gerald Walker, left, will bring power to outfield; Kirby Higbe, right, is expected to bolster Dodgers' pitching staff; and Joe Orango, inset, should fill gap at third base for Glavin.

By DON SANDERS
NEA Service

The winter trading season indicated that in baseball, as in everything else, the old adage holds true: There is no free lunch.

With only minor changes in the Reds and Tigers' lineups, most new strength was acquired by other first division clubs—Brooklyn, the Giants, Cleveland—and at the expense of such teams as the Phillies and the St. Louis Browns.

Larry MacPhail and Leo Durocher of the Dodgers—determined to bring a pennant to Flatbush in 1941—came away best in the trades largely because of an impressive outlay of cash.

They rounded out the trio they wanted most, Joe Medwick, of course, was bought from the Cards last season. Pitcher Kirby Higbe, who won 14 and lost 16 with the Phillies last year, came high, but he should prove worth it.

The Brooklyn got Arnold Mickey Owen from the Cards for Gus Henrich, rookie pitcher John Pitaro and some cash. Owen is a heavy hitter—he batted .284 last year—but he's fast and aggressive, has one of the best arms in the majors. Besides, he's not quite 24, should be at his peak during the next several seasons. Babe Ruth is still on hand as reliever backup.

The Dodgers also gave Floyd Pep Young to the Reds for Lew Riggs.

Owen at Third

The Giants got Gabby Hartnett from Chicago as player and coach. They also obtained Bob Bowman, strong right-handed pitcher who won seven and lost five for the Cards last season; and Joe Orango, Cards' utility infielder who batted .287 last year. He will probably take over a third base, Frankie Frisch of the Pirates was traded pitcher; didn't get them, so Pittsburgh's chances hinge pretty largely on how Russ Bauers, the sensation of 1938, and Johnny Gee, $75,000 signing bonus, play through Pirates also released Paul Waner, got Stu Martin.

The Chicago Cubs, under Jimmy Wilson, obtained a crack reliever from the Reds in exchange for outfielder Jim Gleason and infielder Bobby Mattick. Myers is a crack defensive man, but Chicago isn't the kind of team which is likely to win many games by one run.

The Yankees intend to rely on Eddie Joost at short, with Myers gone. They also bought Monte Pearson to the Yankees through the waiver route.

In the American League, most everyone seems to be pretty well satisfied with the trading season. Temperament had a lot to do with some of the swaps, although not everyone traded was a diva of the diamond.

Boston Needs Catcher

Frankie Fylak wasn't happy at Cleveland, principally because he had to play second fiddle to Rolfe Hemery. Boston had used need of a first-string catcher, but Fylak was the best man available. Gene Demaree, who figured in the three-way trade, gives the Indians a good enough relief backup.

With Fylak at Boston, Jimmy Fox can concentrate on first base, being his alternate, Lou Piniella, for the outfield, where the trade of Doc Cramer to the Senators leaves a gap. Cramer was scheduled to go at any cost; he has been in a mental slump since being crowded out of center field by young Don Ostermaggio.

The Red Sox sold Fritz Ostermaggio and Drury Calcutt to the Browns, used the cash in their deal for Fylak. Boston also bought Pete Fox from the Tigers.

The Tigers, barred from trading, will depend on Earl Averil, Bruce Campbell, George Balaban, and three recruits to strengthen the outfield. Their aging infield, which was supposed to crack up last year, has been bolstered by the waiver purchase of Eric McHale, who may come to take over for Don Barrish. McHale had a good year in 1939, slumped last season.

The Yankees again rely almost entirely on their farm system, bringing them back to top strength. Cleveland's trades brought strength in the line weak spots—the outfield. Tribe officials count heavily on Coe Walker, who came from the Senators via Boston to provide backup. Walker has batted in more than 100 runs for each of the past five seasons, in 1938 averaged .287. The Tribe also obtained young Jim Bagby, Jr., whose father helped win the only Indian pennant. Bagby is younger, may develop as a slugger.

The Indians let Joe Dobson, Johnny Allen, and Ben Chapman go.

Thompson and Bulla Lead Pro Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Jimmy Thompson and Johnny Bulla, a pair of powerhouse hitters, match brawn and wit today down the final straw-soaked lap of the $10,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Thompson blasted his way through the semi-final round over the long and treacherous Riviera Country club course for a par 71. His perfect score gave him a 54-hole aggregate of 211, which enables him to tee off today one stroke better than Bulla.

It might have been another story had not Bulla hit Harold Gougis (Mop) Spaden's ball on the first hole yesterday. He finished with a 78, but coupled with a 66 the previous day, it was enough to keep him in second position.

Close behind Thompson and Bulla close enough, in fact, that any could win $2,500 first prize money if the two leaders altered, were half a dozen of the nation's best pros.

While Gougis of Miami, whose 68 gave him low money yesterday, and Donny Shute of West Newton, Mass., were bracketed at 213. Clayton Heatter of Neville, N. C., and Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., were tied at 214. Lawson Little, the national open king who captured the title last year, was bracketed with Craig Wood at 215.

The field was cut to the low 64 today—those with 231 or under.

British Army May Attempt to Wipe out Italians in Africa

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press Staff Expert

Advises that British advance units are now approaching Tobruk within 24 hours of the fall of Bardia indicate an intention to try to wipe the Italian army entirely out of the Cyrenaica province of Libya. The problem facing Marshal Graziani whether to make a major stand at Tobruk or to duplicate the costly last defense of Bardia is a difficult one.

If he concentrates his principal force at Tobruk it will be subjected to naval as well as land and air bombardment. At the same time the British should be able to cut the road west of Tobruk as they cut the western Bardia road, which would prevent fresh supplies reaching the beleaguered garrison.

Capitulation Inevitable
The eventual capitulation of Tobruk seems inevitable because of scarcity of supplies if for no other reason. It would seem to be the best strategy for Graziani under this circumstance to withdraw his main army there but to leave a holding detachment only, as at Bardia.

If those tactics are followed and the British succeed in cutting the road from Tobruk, Graziani's final stand in Cyrenaica should be made at Benghazi. This port is the principal supply base for the Italian operations in Libya and is 250 miles west of Tobruk.

Should the British eventually take Benghazi, the remaining part of Graziani's army, if any, would have no alternative but to disperse into the desert or to attempt desperate offensive operations. That would seem to be the major British objective.

The British must take into consideration the possibility, however remote, that Germany will try to drive through Turkey toward them. If the Italian army in Libya were not demoralized, a pincer movement against Suva from the west, com-

Farm Loan Parley Discusses

Low Interest, Reduced Cost

EVERY DROP OF FAT CONTAINS ABOUT 100 MILLIGRAMS OF BLOOD VESSELS.

Discussion of proposals that would relate to farm loan interest rates on Federal Land bank mortgages and yet assist the land bank system in reducing its operating expense, formed the highlight at the Twin Falls meeting of directors of five National Farm Loan associations Saturday.

Gathering of Twin Falls county associations was held in the Park Hotel. Willard M. Rea, district manager of the land bank's association service department, and Fred A. Knutsen, attorney for the Spokane Association, took part in the meeting.

Director Speaks
Neil P. Boyle, Blackfoot, who was reportedly asked to be the land bank board of directors, was a speaker at the session.

Members of the five farm loan associations in Twin Falls county were in attendance. The associations—Twin Falls, Blaine, Burley, and Caldwell—were represented by approximately 1,300 county ranchers who have Federal land bank mortgages. The five local associations are stockholders in the Spokane bank.

Topics discussed, according to J. W. McDowell, secretary-treasurer of the Twin Falls county associations, included:

1. Review of federal guarantee of the land bank bonds.
2. Change in structure of National Farm Loan Association from stock cooperatives to membership cooperatives.

3. Study of workable mechanism for adjustment of excessive mortgage indebtedness in appropriate cases.
4. Review of the bank's loan servicing policy, designed to continue deserving borrowers on the farms they own, to cut down tenancy on

"It is the old trouble—too late. Too late with Czecho-Slovakia, too late with Poland, certainly too late with Finland. It is always too late or too little or both, and that is the road to disaster."—David Lloyd George in March, 1940, before the fall of Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium and France.

The American Electric Industry Is Prepared For Production and Defense

Each Night The Lights Burn Longer in America's Defense Centers. The Tempo of Preparedness Goes Faster . . . Yet Faster. And With Each Increase in The Speed of Defense Work, The Private Electric Industry of America Keeps Pace. In Normal Times, Our Industry Had Prepared Itself, Created Reserves of Available Power, Built Interconnections Between Electric Systems. When America's Time of Need Came, America's Privately-Owned Electric Industry was Ready.

Common Ownership and Preparedness

Most important element in the electric industry's preparedness is the vast system of interconnecting high-tension lines (see map above), like those which are connecting the electric companies of Idaho, Utah and Montana. Reserves of power are of no use unless they can be brought to the place where power is needed. America's great electric Interconnection grid, 90 per cent privately-owned, was brought about by the holding-company system in the electric business. Only when common ownership by a holding company creates a common interest has interconnection been brought about. Foresight and planning, backed by common ownership and common interest, have prepared America's electric resources against this time of need.

Taxpayers' Money Can Be Used for Defense Equipment

The privately owned electric light and power industry for half a century has met the growing needs of the nation both in times of peace and times of war. It is ready today to meet future requirements both normal and emergency.

Taxpayers' funds are not needed to provide electric power facilities for defense production, but can be used for planes, ships, guns, tanks, and the training of our armed forces.
