ITALIANS FACE "ALL-OUT" ATTACK

Naval Shifts Ordered to Re-EmpHASIZE 'Big Stick'

FLEET SPLIT IS POINTED AS RAP AGAINST JAPAN

By RONALD G. VAN TINE WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (UP)—Responsible congressional sources suggested today that President Roosevelt ordered a reorganization of the United States fleet to re-emphasize the "big stick" policy this country has adopted toward Japan.

A prominent member of the senate naval affairs committee, who declined to be quoted, interrupted the reorganization as "an effort to scare Japan."

Establishment of three powerful fleets—the Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic—was described by the navy department as "a move in other quarters it was said the move was designed to assure efficiency in the navy."

Strength Kept Secret The navy declined to reveal the strength of the far eastern fleet, known in the past as the Asiatic squadron.

Most members of congress regarded the new setup as a national defense move undertaken strictly by the chief executive, the navy and the army.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, who said he had been directed by Mr. Roosevelt to make the fleet strength "so far as possible" not increase is planned at this time in the strength of any of the three newly-created units.

Verbal Blasts Rake Pardon Board Order To Release Wilkins

Unprecedented in vehemence, verbal reaction of county officials flared bitterly here today at the state pardon board for issuance of a "conditional pardon" to Leroy Wilkins, 30-year-old Rogerson Negro rancher sentenced Oct. 4 to three to 14 years for attempted criminal assault against a middle-aged Rogerson woman.

First Picture of Havoc in London City

Block after block of fire and bomb gutted buildings, with sections saved at the ground. Thus London looked when the smoke and flames from the most devastating air raids cleared away Dec. 29. This picture, taken by the first transmitter with resumption of radio facilities between London and New York, is the first from London showing identifiable bombed areas. Beyond the ruins in foreground stands the tower of Old Bailey.

British Airplanes Bombard Fascist Posts in Africa

By HARRISON SALISBURY United Press Foreign News Reporter Great Britain today stepped up the pace of their African offensive against Italy one notch closer to the "all-out" mark.

The drone of royal air force planes and the crash of blasting British bombs resounded from Benghazi, north coast capital of Libya, to the Red Sea front of Italian east Africa.

Other RAF bombing squadrons assailed Naples in the boot of Italy, Palermo in Sicily, where German air reinforcements for Benito Mussolini have been reported, and German North sea bases at Wilhelmshaven, Emden and Borkum island.

Catching the quickened tempo of the "all-out" drive, Ethiopian tribesmen loyal to their deposed emperor, Haile Selassie, drove an Italian garrison out of Gabbis in southern Ethiopia and set fire to the fleeing Fascists with RAF cooperation.

In north Africa the RAF heavily attacked Italian airfields ranging west from Tobruk where the imperial army of the Nile massed to start a new siege like that successful one of Bardia.

Planes Destroyed Italian planes were caught on the ground, including 100 at Benghazi's airport, and many were reported destroyed. Great numbers of warehouses at Benghazi and to four or five ships in the harbor was claimed.

SPICE CAMPS TO OPERATE IN AREA

Three or four "spice" camps to care for agricultural labor needs in communities of this section, other than Twin Falls, said established by the harvesting of the area this year, it was announced this afternoon by Roy O. Lane, manager of the farm labor camp south of the city.

$15,000 in Gems Sent to Supreme Court in Shoebox

The most valuable shoe box in Twin Falls history was sent to the Idaho supreme court today.

It was a shoe box, recently shipped in brown paper, contains exhibits in the state's murder case against Johnston.

And part of the contents of the box consisted of $15,000 in jewels, which the state claims Johnston took from the murdered Olson.

Other exhibits included maps, pictures, the death gun, shells and clothing.

Walter G. Mungrave, district court clerk, sent the package by express to Clay Kretsch, supreme court clerk.

Johnston's appeal against his conviction and life sentence is slated to come up soon before the Idaho supreme court.

Johnston is in county jail pending results of his new appeal.

CONGRESS CONSIDERS SALES TAX PLAN

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 9 (UP)—Sen. Robert C. Bailey, D., N.Y., said today he was considering proposal of a sales tax measure to raise additional state revenue.

Gov. Chase A. Clark Bailey said today he was studying sales tax methods in other states.

Commerce books would be introduced in a bill in the Idaho legislature combining features of the sales tax systems.

The governor, in his message to the legislature, said additional state revenue would be needed to match with federal funds for relief and highways.

The north Idaho senator said he would call his measure a "tax and to stop the contention of the burden falling on those less able to bear it."

The sales tax proposal, Bailey said, would be tied to the reduction of property taxes, and would eliminate expensive bookkeeping.

These counties would be sold to merchants at their face value and purchasers would receive multiplied amounts which could not be taxed.

Johnston is in county jail pending results of his new appeal.

Congress Chiefs to Confer With FDR on British Army Help

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (UP)—President Roosevelt today summoned congressional leaders to the White House today for a late afternoon conference to push along the development of legislation to provide billions of dollars worth of arms for Great Britain.

The conference was scheduled for 4:30 p. m. The delegation will be headed by Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley and Speaker Sam Rayburn.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early said that other members in the group will be selected by the two leaders.

Early indicated that it will be a full-dress review of legislative problems involved in Mr. Roosevelt's pledge to make this country the great arsenal for democracies everywhere.

Early said that there was an important question as to when Mr. Roosevelt might send a special message outlining the fiscal and legislative program.

Some quarters said that there may be no limit to this check Congress armed most concerned with keeping some sort of a ceiling on the amount of money that would be put into a bill on the extent of aid to Britain and her allies.

Such a measure would mean to an authorization to spend money for munitions, planes and ships for Britain. Actual cash appropriations would have to come later.

There are rumors that the first request for cash might be anywhere from $2,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000.

Legislature Ready To Start Activity

BOISE, Jan. 9 (UP)—The house of representatives of the Idaho legislature today cleared the way for major business by putting a senate bill by pay expenses of the session.

The bill, which was adopted by the senate late yesterday, was today approved at a brief morning session.

The measure was the first enacted by the legislature since the session began on Jan. 7. It provides for $50,000 for salaries and wages of house and senate members, officers, employees and stenographers, and $25,000 for other expenses of the legislature.

North Ireland to Stay With British

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Jan. 9 (UP)—John Miller Andrews, new prime minister, said today northern Ireland would remain firmly within the United Kingdom and never would become a partner in any all-Ireland republic.

"From my recent contacts with British ministers I am satisfied that they are more fully recognized and appreciated than ever before," he said.

He said that the loyalists remain united and strong and their position in the north of Ireland is secure.

4,000 Chicago City Employes on Strike

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (UP)—A strike of more than 4,000 city employes paralyzed some city services today and brought striking bridge tenders into conflict with the U. S. war department.

Army engineers stepped in when 386 tenders of the city's 67 bridges began striking at 10 a. m., in sympathy with fellow electricians who were followed economy cut in municipal salaries.

Police Commissioner James P. Allman, however, sent two policemen to each bridge to force the strikers to keep the bridges down. Only one took at the zero hour and that came down last night.

The police action caused a navigable waterway to be obstructed and caused incalculable confusion.

Progressive strikers began shortly after 8 a. m. Elevators stopped in the city hall.

HOPSON RECEIVES 5-YEAR SENTENCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, who has received a record for money into a $1,000,000,000 utilities empire, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment today for being the Associated Gas & Electric system of nearly $20,000,000.

The 78-year-old master of bootlegging financing was sentenced by Federal Judge Alfred A. Cox in the same court where, just a week ago, he heard a jury pronounce him guilty on 17 mail fraud counts.

The indictment on all but two counts of which he was convicted, charged the former Port Jervis, Wis., high school honor student began looting the far-flung Associated Gas & Electric system with its 200 subsidiaries almost from the day in 1922 when he and a partner founded it, mostly with borrowed money.

Maximum Penalty

The maximum penalty which Judge Cox could have assessed would have been 85 years in prison and $17,000 in fines. The government asked for a year because all funds available to Hopson have already been tied up by age trustees.

Judge Cox assessed the penalty recommended by Assistant U. S. Attorney Hugh A. Fullerton who said Hopson's crime was "one of the largest ever perpetrated by a man in this country."

The sentence was five years on each of 17 counts, the sentences to run concurrently.

Shows No Emotion

Hopson exhibited no emotion except to moan as he faced the judge. He was remanded to custody of the U. S. marshal and will be taken to the federal prison at Lewisburg, Penn., later today.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Cox said Hopson was guilty of "many other frauds" in addition to those for which he was tried and sentenced. He said Hopson had forced his companies to buy stocks, rigged the market and otherwise cheated stockholders.

Hopson's attorney pleaded for leniency on the ground his client was the "victim of the standards of a different era" from the present.

Oil or Gas, or Both, Should Be Found at Knull, Engineer Says

By O. A. KELKER

From the standpoint of geology, gas or oil or both should be located in the Knull section.

This was the statement made to this writer today by W. E. Maxwell, practical oil engineer, who is here making necessary arrangements for sinking of a test well in the Knull area.

On Kevan Ranch

The first test well, which will be designated as Kevan No. 1, will be located on the Charles W. Kevan ranch just over the highline canal in that section. Drilling is expected to get underway about Feb. 15, weather permitting, and Maxwell said today that local equipment and labor will be used so far as possible.

Maxwell said that the territory from Fayette to Idaho Falls, along the Snake river valley, was completely surveyed before decision was made to drill in this vicinity. He added that George M. Johnson, Payette, who has served as consulting geologist on the job, fully approves of the local findings and remarked that from the standpoint of geology gas or oil or both should be found at the location selected.

Maxwell has been working over this area since last June and during the past months has been taking oil and gas tests from property owners in the Knull area. "To date approximately 23 leases have been signed."

None for Speculation

"All leases have been taken on what we feel as oil structure," Maxwell said, "and gas have been taken on speculation."

"If oil is here, it is in the section surveyed in the Knull area, being the best possible place for the first well to be dug. Further drilling will possibly prove many more productive fields in this area of Idaho, as has been the case in other oil fields in other states including California, Texas and Oklahoma."

During the tour of the area Maxwell was continually pointing out the various features of the ground and the unusual surface was also noted.

If W. E. Maxwell, Boise, practical oil engineer, finds the oil he hopes to discover at Knull, he may work a revolution in the Twin Falls and Magic Valley industrial picture. He is shown above as he examined a piece of limestone cropping at the site of the first test well to be dug in the Knull section in search of oil and gas—or both. (Times Photo and Engraving)

At 2,200 Feet

We feel that the oil zone can be completely penetrated and 2,200 feet," he said. "If oil is not reached in the first well, other test wells will be sunk. If the first well proves our findings, then other wells will be sunk anyway."

"The ground contour in the Knull area points strongly to the presence of oil. This and other matters were taken into consideration before it was decided to drill there."

"Oil and gas have been found in numerous places between Postville and Payette but formerly has been lost by water and other drilling hazards which we hope to overcome in this drilling venture."

"Our survey throughout the length of the Snake river valley showed that this Knull section was the lowest spot so far as oil bearing formations are concerned," Maxwell said.

Signing of leases for rights to drill wells will continue until about the end of the month, according to the oil expert said.

First announcement that search for oil and gas was to be initiated in the Knull area was made in Thursday's Evening Times.

CIO ASKS BAN ON LABOR VIOLATORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The congress of industrial organizations today renewed its demand that labor law violators be denied national defense contracts.

CIO President Philip Murray backed up the demand of the CIO executive board with criticism of "ineffectual and mal-administration" which he said was hampering the defense program.

The board asked President Roosevelt to issue an executive order requiring "all government agencies to incorporate provisions in government contracts that would exact compliance with the labor laws of the land."

The resolution specifically named the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Ford Motor company.

VIOLATIONS FOR HATCH ACT CITED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Chairman Guy M. Gillette of the senate campaign expenditures committee today said the $300,000 campaign expense limitation of the Hatch act had been "evaded" by both parties to "outspending proportions" in the 1940 campaign.

Gillette, whose committee now is investigating campaign expenditures in New Jersey, said his earlier estimate of $200,000,000 expenses for both parties last year was "too modest." He refused to attempt a further estimate.

Sen. Carl A. Hatch, D. N. M., author of the "pure politics" act, indicated he would not attempt to pin loopholes in the measure until the campaign committee has made its report.

The principal loophole in the Hatch act, Gillette declared, is the provision permitting individuals to contribute to local campaigns as well as to their national party committees.

During the recent campaign, he said, state political committees transferred money to each other to evade the law, but will within the letter of the law.

Airlines Pilot Sets Record in Speed Dive Test

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 9 (AP)—A 30-year-old Eastern Airlines co-pilot on a "business holiday" was reported today to have hurled an army aircraft plane through a power dive at 620 miles an hour.

Lt. Andrew C. McDonough, of Atlanta, Ga., reached the record-shattering speed yesterday in a Bell standard P-39 Airacobra. Although officials of Bell Aircraft corporation declined to claim any kind of a record, a check of the plane's double speed instruments confirmed the speed.

The mark erased the record of 575 miles an hour set here two years ago by Lt. Lloyd Child, chief test pilot for the Curtiss-Wright Airplane corporation, in a Curtiss Hawk 75, now obsolete.

McDonough was on a leave of absence from the Eastern Airlines. He said neither his employees nor his wife knew he was going to make the test dive.

When a Trumpeter Can Charm Dobbin, Well—!

West Clyde Skeem, 17-year-old Buhl dance band leader, blows that trumpet even Dobbin stops to listen. When enders regard Wayne and his south Idaho farm boy orchestra as definitely going places in the dance band world.

Prophecy: This West End Farm Boy Is Headed Places in Dance Music

BUHL, Jan. 9 (Special)—Long before Mickey Rooney's mentors conceived the idea of making high school musicians in celophane, viz., "Strike up the Band," a farm boy here in Idaho with a tin trumpet and the smelt of milk cows in his hands had decided to carve a career for himself out of the slim pickings of the dance band field. The boy was then 15.

There were no roses in his path, no cheering section, nobody wanted his autograph. There were only long cold rides to and from school, snow and mud, cows to milk and—in between times—his trumpet. He had never played anything but marches and polkas out of a first grade band book and still hasn't even taken a private lesson but, in those days, when he played "On Wisconsin!" it stayed played.

Comes the ideal.

He went to school at Castleford rural high school where one fine day he gathered some of his fellow farmers' sons around him and said, "Pellers, Olsen, Miller, dot, dot, dot the Dorseys and the Lambdards. I don't see any reason why we can't." And so it was settled, they would, and soon. That night after their chores were done they tucked their horns under their arms and went over to the Skeem farm to launch their careers.

In the crowded parlor of a little farmhouse Wayne Skeem assembled his band for the first time. There were five little boys and a little girl in that first ditty-combo, which, incidentally, was all on their own initiative. It was even a little irritating to their elders. Except for the piano, which wasn't theirs anyway, they had an average per capita investment of $125 worth of instruments and not a single sheet of dance music. They just blew out the melodies of what songs they could think of that they considered danceable and harmonized where they could. Wherever they couldn't harmonize—well, they just didn't. They led out the "Old Joe Marx" and "Marie" and "Josephine" and murdered them in cold blood.

First Engagements.

They got together every few nights from seven and ground out their acts of funny noises and in about two weeks booked a date in the high school. They played that night for nothing but they really didn't mind because they honestly felt a little flattered to have been given the recognition of being called to a dance band. They made a euphoric public appearance in a Buhl school house, a dollar for each appearance; approximately twelve cents apiece and then they finally landed a real job. Ten dollars like many other boys was offered them to play for a high school dance at Hollister. It was their first real job. Incidentally, they've never been asked back—but let's talk about something else, horses, maybe. Wayne has a horse that likes his music—he thinks—maybe it's the "corn" in the feed. Anyway, the blessed farmers and cowhands in the state of Idaho are a wonderfully tolerant lot to be able to endure the musical massacres of those early engagements and still come up saying, "Aw, it wasn't so bad." It takes practically no imagination to think of what it must have done to the dogs in the neighborhood, though.

His Reciper Work.

But that was some time ago. Wayne has always figured there just wasn't any kind of incompetence that hard work wouldn't cure, so with that in mind he set out to seek a cure. And he is finding it faster than he ever dreamed a boy could. He learned a little secret long ago about the dance band business. No more than just an ordinary way he has of smugling into the mouthpiece of a horn and making the smile come out the other end with the music. The public likes that.

But above all else is the fact that he now plays real music. Every Saturday night in one of the state's first ballrooms and all over southern Idaho for scores of proms and celebrations his band, now nine strong, performs. He calls his music, "Romance in Rhythm."

For 13 weeks last fall (before M.H.I. took over) Wayne played a Wednesday night radio broadcast, but he invariably grins when he discusses it. He figures it did him more good than it did the public.

He doesn't have many of the same boys with him now that started with him but the spirit is still the same. Farmer boys doing a band act. Interesting is the fact that Wayne, a mere 17, is not alone in his own age or younger. Five of them are still in high school and not one is married, or even "taking" about it. On the bandstand they warm up like a junior high basketball team but they can really settle down to some serious playing when the occasion demands it.

OBSERVER GOES TO LONELY ISLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—Weather Observer Paul A. Americh leaves Oklahoma City soon and where he's going he won't need much baggage.

Americh has been transferred to the tiny island of Swan in the Caribbean sea, some 1,000 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The island, a half-mile wide and four miles long, has a population of three weather observers and one cook. The only direct communication with the island is by short wave radio. A banana boat occasionally docks, perhaps every six weeks or so, and brings mail.

Americh, 28, and single, has been communicated by short wave radio with the man he is to relieve. "He seems pretty anxious that nothing happens to me," said Americh.

"I've learned there's plenty of time fishing, swimming, boat rides and shooting lizards. They shoot lizards with 22 rifles. Some of the lizards reach enormous size."

Americh is a native of California. He prepared to leave Oklahoma City.

Boise Records 1st Traffic Fatality

BOISE, Jan. 9 (UPI)—Boise's first traffic fatality in 1941 was recorded today with the death of James Robert of Boise, 35, in a Dodge hospital.

Des Russesses was taken to the hospital Tuesday when he was struck by an automobile while crossing a street. His injuries were believed to be fatal. He was released from the hospital. Later, his condition became worse and he returned to the hospital where he died of a brain contusion.

FIVE-DAY SENTENCE

Because he was released from a five-day sentence for intoxication on a public street, Felix Van Hook, Oodlog, will not appear in probate court for a hearing until he completes the jail term.

As the mercury skidded down to a few degrees above zero, where Americh is going the temperature varies from 70 to 85 degrees in the winter and 80 to 90 degrees in the summer.

The meteorologist visited a dentist before leaving. "I'll be the last teeth cleaning 'I'll get for at least six months," he observed.

Draped Shoulder Line, High Skirts Set Pace for Nation's '41 Styles

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Having launched a draped, but not drooping, shoulder line and raised the skirt of women overall, New York today recovered from the first lull in the international free-for-all for the title of fashion center of the world.

Calling their punches with enough ballyhoo to put a Barnum to shame, the designers of the fashion show whirled into action last night with "Fashion Futures," a make-over spectacle of spring styles which included 400 gowns, furs, hats and accessories sported by 150 models and shown to 2,000 spectators and stylists from all over the world.

With no exception, the "Fashion Futures" slipped playfully at the so-called best dressed women, naming them "upper bracket clothes horse" but the area behind the stage, and then shadow boxed with the mayor himself, bringing out a new feminine dress modeled on the long-sleeved, high-collared tunic the mayor has worn for 20 years.

In 18 short skirts, backed with a lace or sequined border, the time, business, traveling, sports and evening were revealed. One whole scene was devoted to the new trend in outer shoulders, with the quarterback effects of yesterday definitely out. Hemlines on all day dresses were 17 inches off the ground, while two formal frocks from Germaine Monteil hinted a revival of the old "dip-in-the-back and up-in-the-front" style of 1925.

"Caveman" Colors Significant too was the accent on blaring colors, "caveman" colors as compared to the audience. Bold "poison" green was worn with "iridescent" red and "rain white" purple.

Civilization Depends on U. S.-British Relations, Says Churchill

NEW ENVY FOR AMERICA HAILED AT DINNER PARTY

LONDON, Jan. 8 (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today "the future of the whole world and civilization... depend upon relations between England and the United States."

"If cooperation between the empire and the United States were to fail the empire might lose its way through against the spirit of totalitarianism and the strength for inevitable renewal of conflict on worse terms under an untried leader."

Hailed for Third Term "Not less do I rejoice that this prominent figure should newly have received the unprecedented honor of being called for a third time to lead the American democracies..."

Churchill also paid tribute to Halifax who was foreign secretary until he was selected for the Washington post. He said he hoped he would prosper on his mission as momentous as any that monarchy has entrusted to an Englishman in the lifetime of the present king here."

Texans Hail Governor's Latest—Holiday Children

The O'Daniel family... with children... and "holiday children." Mr. O'Daniel and Charley Goodson and Wanda Kilgore in the front row. Charley and Wanda are from the state orphan's home.

By CLYDE LA MOTTE (NEA Special Correspondent) AUSTIN, Tex.—Chalk up another one for W. Lee O'Daniel, governor of Texas.

For although shedding Christmas trees have been tossed out in the alley and bright holiday lights have been strung away for another year, people of the Lone Star State—and other states too—are still talking about O'Daniel's latest idea.

He broached it a bit cautiously in one of his weekly Sunday broadcasts to the people of the state. It was his belief, he said, that children, that about the nearest exhibition of Christmas spirit he could think of would be to have as many families as possible to go to one of the two orphan homes in the state and invite a parentless boy or girl to their homes for the holiday season with them.

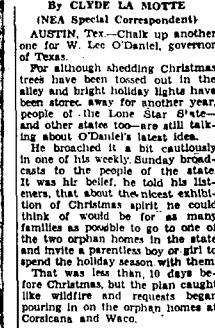

That was less than 10 days before Christmas, but the plan caught like wildfire and requests began pouring in on the orphan homes at Corsicana and Waco.

Interest Spreads Came Christmas day and the two homes were almost completely deserted. More than 400 children were kept a date with Santa Claus in the friendly atmosphere of a real home with a "mother" and "dad" to share the fun with them.

And two of the happiest orphans of them all were little boys, one 5, and Charley Goodson, 4, because they spent the entire Christmas week in the governor's mansion in Austin.

Result Amazing The result of the amazing "orphan's week" was nothing. Many of the families who had invited a boy or girl out for the holidays indicated they would like to adopt them permanently. Hundreds of others immediately wrote and wired the governor that the practice must be repeated.

TWO GOOD RESIGNS AS VANDAL CAGE COACH

Court, Baseball Mentor Fails to Reveal Reasons

MOSCOW, Ida., Jan. 9 (UPI)—Forrest Twogood, University of Idaho basketball and baseball coach since 1936, submitted his resignation last night to President Harrison C. Dale.

Twogood said his resignation would become effective July 1. He would not comment on his plans after that date. His action came as a surprise to Athletic Director Ted Bank.

Twogood is a former Iowa State star, and has just started his fifth season as basketball coach at Idaho.

The resignation struck the Idaho campus as a complete surprise as there had been no word here of the popular mentor resigning. Besides that, the Vandal basketball team today for a fourth of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference with two games scheduled this week-end against the University of Washington.

FORREST TWOGOOD Coach

"Nothing to say" "I have nothing to say at this time," was Twogood's only comment. "I am glad to see the University of Southern California in the fall of 1936. At USC he was freshman baseball and basketball coach."

President Dale issued the following statement regarding the resignation: "Mr. Forrest Twogood, assistant professor of physical education and head basketball coach, has submitted his resignation, to be effective at the close of the present academic year. No action has yet been taken either in accepting or rejecting his resignation. So many coaches are reserve officers who are almost certain to be called into service within the year that many coaching positions are opening up, many of which pay a higher salary than the position at Idaho. Mr. Twogood would naturally feel free to avail himself of any such opportunity as might come his way."

Bank, Dumbanded from the national coaches' meeting in New York City, Athletic Director Ted Bank was dumbfounded at the resignation of Twogood. "I have just returned from the New York sessions and was surprised to learn Twogood's resignation," Bank stated. "In my opinion he is an excellent basketball and baseball coach and probably has his own reasons for resigning."

Making the trip to Seattle for the two Washington games will be the following men: Oles Hillon, Ronald Harris, Ray Turner, Jim Steele, Bob Holt, Dick Snyder, Merlyn Hopkin, Irwin Hopkins, Ted Thompson and Jim Foster. The following four: Kenneth Lyle, Mike Sullivan, Volney Hopkins and Jim Foster.

Anderson and Kimes Return Empty-Handed

Business Manager Carl Anderson and Kimes returned from Boise—empty handed.

"We talked and talked and talked," Anderson stated today. "But we just couldn't get anywhere. There has been considerable speculation on a large-play player swap, but we didn't go into this very seriously."

Anderson and Kimes went to Boise Tuesday morning with the reported intention of corralling Andy Harrington as their next top wrangler for the Cowboys. However, they have run into difficulties in dealing with Walker.

Anderson reports that Walker has upped the price on Harrington and that if the deal is made he wants to throw in a bunch of veterans in exchange for Cowboy youngsters. The local men balked at that plan of swapping.

Golfers Tee Off in Annual Oakland Meet

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 9 (UPI)—The fifth annual Oakland open golf tournament opens today in the mud, with a record field of 226 shooping for the 1900 prize money.

Approximately 180 start in the main flight today. The best 160 go on to Friday's round, with the top 75 pros and 10 amateurs left. The tournament is a 72-hole affair.

Three weeks of rain have so drenched the Sequoyia course that players will be permitted to replace and clean balls on the fairways of the 6,000-yard, par 70 layout.

Three previous Oakland winners were: Sunny Sneed (1937), Harry Cooper (1938), and Jimmy Demaret (1940). Dick Metz, the 1939 winner, remained in Los Angeles where he had a fever of the soggy course.

The "hot" golfer was Johnny Bula, who won the $10,000 grand total Monday, but he left without having had a feel of the soggy course.

Mac Can't See Much Sense in Giving Comiskey or Nova Shot at Joe Louis

By HENRY McLEMORE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (UPI)—A report has reached here that the winner of tomorrow's fight between Lou Nova and Patrick Edward Comiskey is likely to be tapped by promoter Mike Jacobs as a late summer challenger for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

If true, this report is alarming. Not in itself, but in its implications. If either of these men is worthy to fight Louis, then what is to stop Promoter Jacobs from selecting one of you or any other fairly healthy man to do battle with the thunder-fisted swinger from Detroit? Nothing that I can see, because when a Nova or a Comiskey is mentioned that means the gates are down and no man is safe.

I don't say this to be mean to Nova or Comiskey, but only because I happened to see them in their last major fights and am convinced they wouldn't stand any more chance against Louis than any man selected at random from a phone book. Comiskey, a big, gangling article with a face that could get by in any atlas as a color map of Ireland, didn't last three minutes in a fight with Maxie Baer last year, and I don't have to tell you that a fellow who can't do better than that is never going to be a ring immortal. Comiskey is clumsy than a bear on stilts, and while he is a mighty puncher, he is severely handicapped by an inability to hit any object that has as much agility as the average postcard, second class.

As for Nova, he is bound on the north, south, east and west by muscles. The muscles are pretty, but they don't add to his effectiveness. The Californian is slow, mechanical, and fights as if munched from a script. The last time I saw Nova was when he was butchered by Tony Galento in Philadelphia.

Nova will beat Comiskey. He figures, to anyway. But he could beat big Fat every day and twice on holidays for a year without it being a serious indication that he was ready for Louis.

The truth is, Louis is slowly killing the heavyweight class, which isn't surprising. You can't expect it to survive a champion who is so good he makes all of his rivals appear ridiculous. Louis eliminates contenders so quickly a promoter doesn't have time to build a champion into even a good, honest round-head bum before the champ whacks him out of the picture.

Look at what is already lined up for Louis this year. Red Burman on Jan. 31 and Billy Conn in June. One brother Burman is just a journeyman fighter who won't last three rounds with Joe. The other, brother, is a fine boxer, a game and willing miter, but he has trouble getting his weight up to 175 pounds. And what does it profit him to be as tall as a manly art, and pack a heart as big as a lion's, if he has to spot Louis 25 to 30 pounds?

Reconditioned Yanks Called 'Team to Beat'

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (UPI)—The reconditioned New York Yankees will be the team to beat in the 1941 American League pennant race.

In gearing the Yanks for the drive to regain their lost laurels, the accent will be heavily on youth. Ed Barrow, president of the Yanks, has been cleaning house during the winter, getting the club streamlined so that Manager Joe McCarthy can patch up the work spots with youngsters developed on the Yankee farm clubs at Newark and Kansas City.

Fifteen of the 25 players on the Yankee roster are newcomers. Already the veterans have been cut loose. Monte Powers was sold to the Reds. Dumpy Hadley was peddled to the Giants. Jake Powell was shipped to San Francisco. Billy Knickerbocker was traded to the White Sox for Ken Keltner, reserve catcher. Arnold Johnson retired either Yanks are likely to go before the season opens April 15.

Outfield Changes

No one will rewrite the Yankee outfield next summer. There is a chance every spot may be manned by somebody besides the regular. Babe Dahlgren will have to compete with John Munn, who hit .312 for Kansas City, at first and third. There is a chance that Tommy Outfield might be brought in from the outfield to take over the initial lead-off.

One of McCarthy's biggest problems will be deciding whether to break up the Kansas City kid in the middle of the season. Outfielder Phil Rizzuto, who hit .347 for Kansas City, was certain to play shortstop, but Rizzuto's future is in doubt. He may be moved to third or again Joe Clinton, an established star at second, may be transferred to third. Red Holo, who took a

A BROOKLYN HIT GOT ITS NAME AT BOWLING GREEN, N.Y., AS BOWLER FACED PINS THERE, BROOKLYN WAS TO HIS LEFT...

BEFORE A.B.C. REGULATIONS PIN BOYS WERE ADEPT WITH THEIR FEET IN AIDS OF HINDERING A BOWLER EITHER BY KNOCKING OVER A STUBBORN PIN OR HOLDING ONE UPRIGHT... IT BECAME NECESSARY TO ADD A PIN JUDGE TO SEE THAT PINS WERE SET ON THE SPOT... TODAY A.B.C. RULES CALL FOR ALLEYS 60 FEET 1/8 INCH LONG, 41 TO 42 INCHES WIDE WITH PIN SPOTS A FOOT APART.

THE FIRST A.B.C. TOURNAMENT WAS HELD IN CHICAGO IN 1901 WITH 41 TEAMS ENTERED... TODAY 32,000 BOWLERS TAKE PART. THEY KNOCK DOWN 1,000,000 PINS, REQUIRING PIN BOYS TO LIFT 20,000 TONS OF WOOD FROM THE RACKS.

... 2,614,000 BALLS ARE THROWN, TRAVELING A DISTANCE OF 64,015 MILES UP AND DOWN THE ALLEYS...

THE A.B.C. TOOK THE GAME FROM THE SALOON TO THE SALON AND TODAY A BOWLING ESTABLISHMENT IS A PLACE WHERE A FELLOW CAN TAKE HIS BEST GIRL...

Silver Fox Hunt Isn't Genteel, But Corralling 38,000 Is Sport

By NEA Service

HERMANSVILLE, Mich.—Silver fox hunting in Michigan's north woods lacks horse and hounds and bugle calls, but it's exciting sport just the same.

A dozen men recently completed a roundup of a forestful of the animals—28,000 of them.

The foxes had run wild on the eight-square-mile range of Herbert A. Nieman for several months, but it took only two weeks to clear the forests.

Nieman raises silver foxes for pelting on a range covered with timberland, swamps and rolling hills. It was well below zero, with a foot of snow, when the drive opened. Shortly after dawn each day, a dozen hunters were assembled by Irwin (Red) Butlerland, supervisor of the range, instructed to cover a different area each day. One of these areas, surrounded by drop fences, covers about 40 acres. Hunters were spotted at strategic spots in a bog line and at a net signal started their charge.

When an animal attempted to back-track, a hunter grasped him by his tail, tossed him back.

As each area was cleared, a drop fence fell and hunters lined up for the next drive. Finally, 1,200 or more silver foxes had been driven into the last area of the sort of which was the catch pen. Hunters drove them into the corral, a fenced square of about 50 feet.

Sport was over then. This was the kill. Each hunter selected a fox, grasped him by forelegs and muzzle, marched just a man astride on a dynamo box powered with 600 volts of electricity.

In his hands were two sharp needles. As the animal was held in front of him he pierced the fox's hide with the needles just below the heart. There was a convulsed movement, and it was over. Electrical anesthesia, they call it, swiftest and most humane form of killing.

Two hunters were bitten, one on the face, the other on the leg. Hands were protected with leather gauntlets.

Foxes will bring about $1,200,000 at about $25 each. Nieman raises silver foxes, which are never tamed, at seven different breeding farms in Michigan and Wisconsin, has 11,000 pairs of breeders. More than 260 animals were saved this year for breeding purposes.

Silver foxes receive every attention for development. They're fed scientifically with the choicest diet—it's also used for dogs—once a day by rangers who patrol every acre of the range. Care is taken to see that the food is rich in vitamins so that the foxes may be plump. When an animal is sick or injured, it is removed from the range. High mortality used to make the raising of silver foxes a gamble. This ended now.

French Morale Recovers; U. S. Sends Supplies for Children

The French food problem, in preventing morale, is differently conceived because it seemed that certain French influences were definitely being lost to the victors. It appeared possible Vichy might even become an active ally of Germany. That caused Prime Minister Churchill to send a special agent last autumn to Frenchmen against such a betrayal.

Now, however, evidence is increasing that Marshal Petain has a different vision. Where he had assumed the mantle of a collaborator, he now appears to have an influence on the war.

The Germans may know about the changing trend in Vichy. A few days ago it was stated in Berlin that a clique in Vichy was working against Germany and veiled threats were made of punishment to be inflicted if this political attitude continued.

Marshal Petain's control over the French built France's army and equipped colonial troops, however, gives him a weapon which the Germans cannot ignore. Hitler cannot back without France, without incurring the danger of French naval and military retaliation in the Mediterranean.

It would seem that some degree of diplomatic delicacy has become essential in Germany's negotiations with Vichy.
