HULL DEMANDS SUPPORT OF BRITAIN

The Army's Not so Tough After All

James Phelan, Jr., 19-year-old enrollee injured when he turned his truck into a ditch to avoid a collision near Blachly, Ore., last fall, is loaded into a special "flying ambulance" called a "flight" to his home near Montgomery, Ala. The plane trip is a reward for his heroism—strictly "on the army." He arrived at his farm home today.

Wheeler Remarks "Rotten," States Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—President Roosevelt's vigorous denunciation of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., yesterday, had the isolationists stepping warily today. Mr. Roosevelt said Wheeler's criticism of the loan-lend bill was untruthful, dastardly, unpatriotic and rotten.

Capital veterans could not recall in recent history a more bitter denunciation of a member of congress by a President.

Wheeler said on the radio Sunday that the administration's bill to make the United States the arsenal of democracy and to lend our materials to Britain was a plan to "plough under every fourth American."

Wheeler said the most distasteful, unpatriotic thing that has ever been said, that really is the rottenest thing that has been said in public life in my generation.

Chief anti-lend defense, he contended, will be armor shells, not "topside" gun and signal crews, most of which have been sent to the front.

EDUCATORS SEEK $200,000 TO AID FINANCE PENSION

BOISE, Jan. 15 (UP)—Officials of the Idaho Education association have launched a legislative program to obtain an annual appropriation of $200,000 from the state to help finance a teachers' pension fund.

Hillman, W. W. Christanson, president of the teachers' group, C. G. S. Hillman, state superintendent of instruction, and E. E. Wilson, Mill superintendent of schools, conferred with the governor on the plan.

Later, their proposal was presented at a joint hearing of the house and senate education committees.

The proposed retirement bill would call for teachers and the state to contribute equally to the fund. Retirement benefits would be paid when the teacher reaches the age of 60.

Methods of raising an estimated $200,000 to complete the Idaho school equalization program were also discussed.

A new source of revenue must be tapped to raise the amount needed and "at the same time" the county school levy to three mills.

Wage demands were said to be the only issue over which negotiations were broken.

Idaho Measure Would Cut Welfare Board Operation

BOISE, Jan. 15 (UP)—Bills defining the operation of the state department of public welfare and shortening the general election ballot were introduced in the Idaho legislature today.

The bill relating to the public welfare department was introduced in the house and was a companion measure to one sponsored by the administration last week to eliminate the board of public welfare.

This measure also called for abolition of the board, but it also sets up the welfare department as a state department of public health, division of public assistance, and division of charitable institutions, and would designate the governor executive commissioner of public welfare.

Division Directors The governor would have the power to appoint division directors. At present this power is given to the state senate.

Another house bill would prohibit members of the legislature from taking positions for which wages would be paid from state funds during the next two years.

The resolution committee, headed by Fred Bradford, Hugerman, urged support of the McGowan national tax act. It was introduced by President Roosevelt. The report was unanimously accepted.

Use of domestic wool on all defense orders, limitation of substitutes in manufacture of military clothing and equipment, and hearing before the defense supply committee on the wool market.

The suggestion was made by Mr. Manners, former secretary of state, in an address to the members of the American Association of University Women.

Asserts Germans Can Cross Ocean Easily in South

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, declaring "Germany could easily cross the Atlantic" if Britain falls, urged today speedy enactment of the administration's aid-to-Britain bill in order to defeat "aggression and tyrannical rule."

He told the house foreign affairs committee that a German move against this hemisphere, particularly across the south Atlantic, would be an easy matter "unless we are prepared to do what Britain is doing now."

Hull was the first witness as the committee opened hearings on the historic measure in an atmosphere sustained by the personal exchange yesterday between President Roosevelt and Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., leader of the opposition force.

Hull told the committee the American people were "more united" than ever in their support of the "subject." He said this nation must not be "deterred or diverted" by German propaganda giving aid to the victims of aggression.

He condemned Germany's "efficiency and cynicism" in holding the world's attention on any one subject, particularly those provisions which would permit the use of Chinese warships to be serviced and outfitted in American ports and outlying bases.

He said whether he considered the pending measure "absolutely necessary for the defense of the United States" will be determined by the results of the "aggression" which he said is "being carried out by Germany."

IDAHO MINES, GRAVELS INCREASE 26 PER CENT IN VALUE

GOLD OUTPUT IN STATE GREATEST SINCE YEAR 1871

BOISE, Jan. 15 (AP)—Gold, silver and zinc output from Idaho ores and gravel increased 26 per cent in value during 1940, the Salt Lake City office of the bureau of mines reported today. It was a record year for mine production.

The yield was valued at $37,652,600. Greater output of all five metals, and with moderately higher prices for silver and zinc, caused the increase, the bureau reported.

Idaho's gold output—145,000 ounces last year—was the largest since 1871 when 212,850 ounces were produced. Gold from placer operations totaled about $3,000 ounces, an increase from 48,663 ounces in 1939. Ten floating connected-bucket dredges recovered about 37,000 ounces of gold from 1940, and dragline operations recovered 14,000 ounces.

Fluor Gold Four floating connected bucket-dredges operating in the Boise basin district recovered more than one-third of the state output of placer gold; most of the remainder came from operations at Warren, Pierce, Elk City, Salmon City and Sunnyside.

Idaho's 1940 silver output was slightly more than in 1939, owing chiefly to increases from the Miner's Point, Bunker Hill and Sullivan, Star, Pecca, and Silver Dollar properties. About 80 per cent of state output of silver in 1940 was recovered from silver ore, and the remainder from zinc-lead ore.

Copper Output Climbs Copper output in the state was 33 per cent greater last year, owing chiefly to the large increase in output of silver-copper ores from the Mineral Point mine near Kellogg and to copper ores from the Empire mine near Mackay, the bureau reported.

Lead and Zinc Production in Idaho was the largest since 1940 and 14 per cent greater than in 1939. The gain, the report stated, resulted from the increase in the sales price of both lead and zinc which caused virtually all the large producers of zinc-lead ores in the Coeur d'Alene region to increase their output. Zinc production, totaling 141,300,000 pounds, was the largest in history of the state.

HULL CONDEMNNS NAZIS' ATTITUDE (From Page One) the United States and with other nations which believe in order and peaceful processes among nations. "We have at no time made any threats," he added.

Johnson At No Bar Hull said the Johnson act, barring credits or loans to the authorizing defaulting nations, would not appear to be involved by the bill because it is not in the nature of a public corporation, or a public corporation in which the government has a major interest.

The bill would supersede several provisions of the 1938 neutrality act, Hull stated, and that the authority that would be given the President to allow the outfitting and arming of warships in American ports.

The Hague convention barred such practices, Hull said, but he held that it was not applicable. He pointed out that under the convention belligerents are "bound to observe the rights of neutral powers."

"Germany and Italy have paid no attention to the principles of the national law, but have at will and without notice occupied many countries."

Broke Neutral Treaties Hull said Denmark had a formal treaty with Germany insuring neutral status, but that treaty had similar formal assurance.

"It is idle for us to rely on the rules of neutrality for safety," he said. "Nothing but a realistic view of current developments can be regarded as a sane view."

"It is necessary to recognize that Germany's program is a 'world movement of conquest,' he said, and to act in self defense before it is too late."

Rep. Hamilton Fish, R. N. Y., asked Hull if he would have any objection if the committee "re-authorized this bill to bring it within the constitution."

"I don't want to say anything about what the constitution provides," Hull replied.

Fish said he disagreed with only one part of Hull's statement. "Germany could easily cross the Atlantic," he said.

"Any power that got control of the ocean," replied Hull, "on a movement of world conquest, lacking 80 per cent of enough to eat and 80 per cent of raw materials—would attack."

Only Law Left Fish noted Hull did not mention the Monroe doctrine, Hull interrupted dryly.

"That's the only law left that hasn't been violated,"

Rep. Charles A. Tamm, R. N. J., said his personal view is that "we must do everything possible to help England save the world from totalitarianism."

Rep. George Holden Tinkham, R. Mass., read to Hull a statement condemning the bill as setting up a dictatorship in the United States.

AGED BUHL MAN CELEBRATES IN-HOUSE ERECTED IN 1896

BUHL, Jan. 15 (Special)—One of the earliest pioneers of this section of the state, A. O. Madelena, Buhl, celebrated his 89th birthday anniversary today at his home with his family.

The birthday cake was the center of attraction at the festive table. Sixty-one of his closest relatives, the years spent in the Snake river canyon north of Buhl, where Mr. Madelena built his present home, attested to be the oldest in this section of Idaho. It has not been remodeled or modernized in any way since it was built by the early pioneer in the year 1898.

GROUP INSPECTS 'DRI-SPUD' PLANT

With an eye to plans for erection of a potato plant in Twin Falls for potato-shredding, a Chamber of Commerce committee was in Burley this afternoon examining equipment and methods of Gravelle Gano, inventor of a "dri-spud" process which may bulk large in Magic Valley's future industrial picture.

The committee went to Burley with Mr. Gano and Frank H. Adams, grower-shipper who is sponsoring efforts for erection of a spud shredding plant here and subsidiary plants in one or more additional south Idaho communities.

Sahlberg Chairman Carl Sahlberg headed the chamber committee as chairman. Other members named at a special conference Tuesday are O. T. Kester, J. H. Blandford, Archie Colner, R. J. Vallon and R. S. Tofflemire.

Explanation of Mr. Gano's process by the inventor himself, and heard Mr. Adams discuss the project and its potential importance to south Idaho. He explained that removing 85 per cent of the water from spuds is done without loss of food values—and addition of boiling water to the dehydrated potatoes promptly converts them back into mashed spuds ready for table use.

Ald to Farmers Since the process would use only No. 2 and cut potatoes, it was

DEMOCRACY IS BEST—BUT NEEDS UNITY

Editor, Times: We are living in rather serious times. Most people will agree with that statement. The times are serious because democracy—our form of government—is threatened. It is threatened by dictators, one of the oldest and the most civilized governments has ever met.

There is nothing new in a dictator. The spirit of the dictatorship, of Christianity has never bowed to a dictator and serious constructive and straight thinking has never led one to believe that dictators riding "the wave of the future," cut the lack of knowledge of the ideas, the beauty, the strength, the superiority of democracy has caused much confusion in all democracies. That is what delights the dictator. He likes to get the goose running back and forth in all directions. The dictator feeds on confusion.

There are Hitler's words spoken at Rauching: "Mental confusion, contradiction of feeling, indecisiveness, panic; these are our weapons." Those weapons won Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France and had a strong hold on England for Hitler. "That's the part that Americans just don't see."

We have Senator D. Worth Clark running around in Idaho telling that the speech made by Roosevelt was "iricky" and confusing. Senator Taft was making much money while he spent, Wheeler wanting to make peace and many others who are delighting Hitler. If we get into war we will be the worst of all.

Case of the Smoldering Lawyer

Text-Books—Shield and Target

The United States believes in public education of its children as a cardinal point of political and social faith. It spends two billions of dollars a year to run schools for 26,000,000 children. It employs 880,000 teachers and usually elects directly its local school boards... Most teaching must necessarily be from books. Therefore the choice of text-books is important to everybody... Every once in a while some special group takes upon itself the task of influencing this choice of text-books, either by demanding elimination of matter displeasing to it, or more positively, by getting matter inserted which furthers its particular point of view. The work of public utility companies in having texts written and adopted, or modified, has been thoroughly exposed, and in the long run the resentment aroused by the practice outweighed any benefit the utilities might have reaped directly... The American Legion has had its say about textbook material which it considered un-American; so have the American Federation of Advertisers, the D. A. R., and other groups... All these groups have the unquestioned right (because they are made up of American citizens, not because they are groups) to protest against any textbook material which is being presented to their children. The schools being among the most democratic of our institutions, local school boards ought to consider most thoughtfully any such complaints... The principal job of the schools is to turn out men and women who can think. It is not to teach them a single body of doctrine as ultimate truth—that is Hitler's way.

COME AND GET IT

What to Eat in Winter—and Why

Mr. duBois, a former food chemist, for the government, is a nationally recognized authority on diet.

By WILLBUR L. duBOIS, M. A.

So Jack had another cold. Perhaps he isn't getting enough vitamin C. Susceptibility to colds, influenza and other infections are diminished by the presence of this vitamin. If it is irritable, it is most likely another type of vitamin C. Our growth, teeth, disposition, pep and resistance to disease are all influenced by vitamin C. It is the vitamin for growing children.

W. L. duBOIS A surplus is not merely a minimum. Stock up well. Fortunately it can be stored. It is a healthy, safe, and delicious way to keep young, but it is the goal for vitamin C. There is a definite relation between this vitamin and the health and resistance of the capillaries.

Relative shortage tends to make the capillaries fragile and brittle.

Vitamin C guards against colds.

A condition accompanying old age, when the body's ability to retain youthfulness in important ways.

Effect of vitamin C deficiency is widespread among children. The winter diet is often responsible though it need not be when the importance of this vitamin is understood.

Colds, influenza and other infections are more common during the winter months. Most persons who get colds, influenza and other infections are more responsible than the weather man.

Building a diet program used to be one of the signs of spring. Now we need not and should not wait until spring to have our greens. The green food, very good food is offering vitamin C. It is there for the taking and the wise meal planner takes it.

Vitamin C has been called the vitamin of uncooked foods. Among the richest sources are oranges, lemons, limes, grapefruit, strawberries, raw cabbage and celery. Only slightly rich in this vitamin are apples, bananas, peaches, green peas, pineapple, raw turnips, raw carrots and cranberries. Other foods not containing quite so much, but still important sources, are potatoes, milk, cooked carrots, cooked onions and sweet potatoes. Vitamin C is very soluble in water and in the case of cooked foods is apt to be lost. The best way to get it is to cook it in very little water with the vessels tightly covered. All liquids should be saved and used in food preparation. They contain valuable vitamins and minerals. The sink doesn't need them.

Jack and Jill aren't going to have surgery (result of extreme lack of vitamin C) but they may have too many colds and sore throats. Often irritable. Try stepping up on vitamin C.

NEKTI Vitamin D.

Lambs and Wolves

Innocence is a lively virtue. It implies a certain purity and simplicity of mind that is in itself a thing of beauty. In a lamb it is an admirable quality. A nation, however, cannot afford innocence, especially in a world in which most nations are more akin to the wolf than to the lamb.

Only a few years ago, wire-tapping in the Department of Justice was bitterly resented, and when it was abolished, people sighed with relief, content that ancient liberties had been preserved.

Now Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson is compelled to ask congress for special permission to tap telephone wires in cases involving espionage and other grave crimes. Why? Because we know that the wolf is among us, and that the lamb's innocence is little protection when spies must be fought with their own weapons.

Are we losing our Golden Age innocence? Or are we just getting smart to ourselves?

A Million Men...

The old-fashioned orator used to glory in shouting that, should the United States face any emergency, "a million men would spring to arms overnight."

The o. f. o. never bothered about whether there would be any arms to spring to, or whether anybody would know how to operate them. But there was a glowing, comforting ring to his oration in an easy world.

The United States has been face to face with an acute international situation for more than a year. Thus far 858,000 men have sprung to arms in the army, navy and marine corps. We haven't quite reached the million after a year's effort, and when we do (which will be shortly) it is only a beginning, merely a foundation on which to build such forces as are necessary.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

U.S. GROUP TO STUDY HEALTH, EVACUATIONS IN EUROPE

COMMISSION TO VISIT GERMANY, FRANCE, BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—An American commission to study health conditions, epidemic control, transportation and evacuation of children in Great Britain leaves New York Saturday, it was learned today.

It will seek information for use in preparing a civilian home defense mobilization plan for the United States.

The commission includes Dr. Thomas Parran, director of the public health service; Maj. Eugene W. Hildings of the war department general staff; F. C. Hootner, transportation consultant to the defense commission, and as yet undisclosed expert on children's problems from the social security board. They will be accompanied by a staff of technicians.

Visit War-Torn Countries

The commission, which sails for Lisbon, Portugal, on the S. S. Excelsior Saturday, will also try to visit other war-torn countries, including France and Germany. It expects to stay in London a month.

Parran said the mission would try to find out what happens to civilian populations, hospital and sanitation facilities, schools and transportation, and other public utilities under constant bombing. As to be studied are such problems created by evacuation of women and children from cities and the crowding of hundreds of persons each night into air raid shelters.

Preliminary proposals for civilian home defense mobilization—a program that would set up a volunteer branch in virtually every city and town in the country.

Final Decisions

Final decisions probably will await the return of officials from abroad.

Mr. Roosevelt announced a home defense plan was being considered, but has not yet been approved by him. He revealed the mission would try to give every man and woman in the country an opportunity to serve the country and share national defense responsibility.

The program would involve establishment of a home defense commission that would set up a volunteer branch in virtually every city and town in the country.

12 IN FAVOR OF LEND-LEASE BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (UP)—An unofficial poll revealed today that 12 members of the 22-man senate foreign relations committee favor President Roosevelt's arms lending bill, six oppose it, and five are undecided.

The poll showed these members favoring: George Harrison, Wagner, Connally, Thomas (Utah), Murray, Pepper, Green, Barkley, and Cuffey. They will be joined by Sens. Byrnes and Lucas, who are to be appointed to two vacancies.

Opposed are: Clark (Mo.), Johnson (Calif.), Capper, La Follette, Blumenthal and Nye.

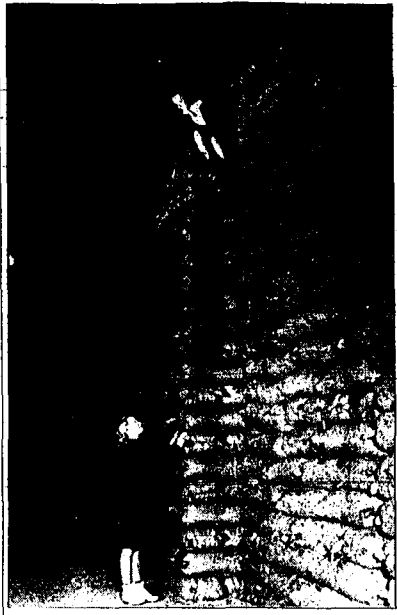

Undecided: Van Nuys, Gillette, Reynolds, Vandenberg and White.

The house committee is believed by administration lieutenants to be generally in favor of the bill, although most members are reserving decision pending outcome of hearings. Three vacancies were filled yesterday by the Republicans with the assignment of members from the isolationist middle west. They were Reps. Karl Mundt, H. B. D. Bartel, J. Jonkman, R. Mich, and Mrs. Frances Johnson, R. O.

Lots of Beans at Fairgrounds

Beans by Billions Piled At County Fair Grounds

Beans—billions of them—are now stored at the Filer fairgrounds where formerly merchant's exhibits littered these attending the fair this fall. It was announced this afternoon by Tom Parks, manager.

The beans, belonging to the Filer Elevator company, connected with the Twin Falls Milling company, are stored here awaiting sale. At least a portion of these beans, and others throughout the Magic Valley, are expected to be moved during National Bean Week which starts Friday. The beans, mostly Great Northern, are packed in 100-pound bags and the bags practically fill the building with exception of the highway. The structure is 70 by 100 feet. The piles run from 20 to 25 feet in height.

At the same time Mr. Parks announced that extensive improvements are contemplated at the grounds before fair time this year.

Work is now underway on a sheep exhibit barn which will add 18 more pens, each eight by 12 feet, to the pens already available for sheep exhibit. Including the new and old part the structure will be 40 by 96 feet when completed.

Construction of a new water line is also planned, this work to get underway in the spring. The present main will be torn out and new steel pipe, larger than the old wooden pipe, will be placed. Completion will see six two-inch lines serving the grounds, both coming from the Filer supply. A four-inch steel pipe will complete the circuit, eliminating a "dead end." It is estimated that 1,800 feet of pipe will be placed in the program.

He Has His Private War—With Flu

Maj. Thomas A. B. Dilton, military analyst who speaks at Town Hall at 8 p. m. today, is shown above as he "surveys" a pill which he hoped would aid in getting rid of a case of influenza he picked up on his present speaking tour. The picture was taken in the major's hotel room where he remained all day in order to keep his speaking engagement tonight. His message will deal with air and naval bases which the United States recently obtained from England. (Times Photo and Engraving.)

"No Time for Isolationism," Says This Analyst Bluntly

By O. A. KELKER

Prior to the line of election, politicians cry about saving democracy, but after election they don't like to recognize the perils which menace us in other forms.

This was the blunt observation made here today by Maj. Thomas A. B. Dilton, military analyst and flying reporter, who speaks at the Town Hall program at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. His topic will be of "up to the minute value" and will be the "news behind the news" so far as the acquisition of naval and air bases by the U. S. government from England is concerned.

Fights Influenza

This writer interviewed the major at his hotel room this morning. He answered questions put to him from behind a stack of pills, hot water bottles and warm milk all combined in an attempt to "kill" a case of influenza which he contracted on his present speaking tour.

"The present is no time for an isolationist attitude," Maj. Dilton said. "We cannot afford to look at the present as a time to take an alarmist attitude but we must get our defenses in order and until that time we must be behind some kind of a shield."

"This is just a military tactic. It has nothing to do with emotions, where your friends are, or what side of the fence you are on."

We're Unprepared

"If a man's an American he must realize that we are in no shape to stand that which might be directed at us."

In answer to the question of what might come of a policy of isolation, he said:

"A policy of isolation will get us in war and the present policy will keep us out. I say this in just that many words."

Maj. Dilton pointed out that, fundamentally, the United States is not a military power.

"We have the natural resources but we must have a shield to stand behind while we prepare. The mere question of isolation would put us where we admittedly are saying and doing nothing insofar as this question of preserving democracy is concerned."

At tonight's session the major said he would show how the transfer of destroyers to England was "simply a naval maneuver." His task will be followed by a question period during which time he said he will answer "any and all" questions put to him so long as "the flu doesn't get me down."

ATHLETICS AGAIN PROM AS LAST-PLACE CLUB

Connie Mack Fails To Add Strength To Poor '40 Team

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (U.P.)—For the last six years the Philadelphia Athletics have been the most consistent club in the American league. That's why they are quite likely to finish last again in 1941.

From 1935 through 1940 the Athletics' victories have ranged between 63 and 68 each season. Their top percentage has been .380 and their low .346 during that period. Four times they've finished eighth and twice seventh.

There's nothing in the 1941 Philadelphia roster to indicate that the club is going to do any better. Connie Mack has done a bit of house-cleaning, getting rid of players as Bill Lillard, Joe Mauer, Ben Abner, Bill Nagle, George Caster, Ed Heusser, Eric Tipton and Darin Lodigiani. "Fogdog," recently resigned as cage coach, was the most popular man on the campus.
