MAGIC VALLEY BOWLERS SHARE TOP PRIZES

Idaho Looks for Keglers of Buhl, Burley, Gooding, Twin Falls Win

Keglers from Gooding, Buhl, Burley and Twin Falls shared the money at conclusion of play in the first annual Magic Valley bowling tourney staged during the week-end at the Twin Falls Bowladrome.

While official averages for not yet been completed, top at the conclusion of the three days of play were as follows:

Five-man team—Times—News 3,027; Gateway of Buhl 2,933; C. C. Anderson, Gooding, 2,928.

Doubles—D. Sogn—Bud Taylor, Twin Falls, 1,269; Ray Homing, Buhl, 1,235; Fred K. Coleman, Twin Falls, 1,233.

Singles—Hervert, Burley, 694; Craig, Twin Falls, 687; King, Twin Falls, 655.

Handicap Basis
The tournament, staged on a handicap basis, attracted entries from most south central Idaho cities which had bowling alleys, plus ace keglers from Boise, Pocatello and Elmer, Ore.

In the doubles competition, there was a tight race all the way through, with Ray Freis and Duke Coleman out into third place by a one-point margin over Corky Carlson and Elmore Hingler.

In the team competition, the News-Times team of Twin Falls also had a chance to get in the money, by having one man mark in the last frame. However, a foul and four errors put that club out of the running. The team had a total of 2,922—six points less than the C. C. Anderson club of Gooding.

During the tournament members of the board of directors of the Idaho Bowling Association held their annual winter meeting here and completed arrangements for the state meet to be held in Pocatello in March.

Included in attendance at this meeting were President C. A. Carwack, Pocatello; Wab Woodard, Pocatello, secretary; and Charles Wolfenberger, Boise; Pat Myhre, Pocatello, and Fred Stone, Twin Falls, directors.

Coast Cagers Have Busy Week Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (AP)—It's a busy week for the California Bears, and they need the work if they're going to emerge in the southern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

Getting only a split with the UCLA basketball squad last week-end, California takes on the University of San Francisco here tomorrow night, tackles the prominent Stanford squad at Berkeley Friday, then meets Santa Clara at Berkeley Saturday. The Bears whipped the Bruins 42 to 32 Friday night but UCLA came back to administer a 32-23 trouncing Saturday.

Stanford, which twice thumped Southern California, 42 to 36 and 39 to 34, has a comparatively easy week, since only California, and San Jose State on Saturday night.

The race in the northwest looks to be lighted in several weeks. Washington currently is undefeated, but Oregon scored an upset Friday by defeating the strong Oregon State. Although Idaho has lost three games, it has been by a margin of only a total of three points. Oregon has four games on the road this week.

Prospects Dim For Proposed Montana League

MILWAUKEE, Mont., Jan. 20 (AP)—The prospect of professional baseball in Montana this season was dimmed today after several franchise holders proposed organization of the Class D Cooper league.

Following a meeting here yesterday, it was announced the league either would be organized definitely or abandoned at a meeting to be held in Great Falls Jan. 26. Some backers of the proposed circuit said they believed it would not be organized this season.

Delegations from Billings, Great Falls and Butte reportedly were ready to supply financial backing for teams. A Missoula group which had an option on a franchise was not represented.

It was understood the semi-professional state baseball league would be continued in the event the professional league failed to materialize.

Bruins Tackle Nampanns; Nip Idaho Falls 34-33

Twin Falls Bruins basketballers will seek to earn a powerful sound from southern Idaho Thursday night as invading the other end of the state for a full-blown victory Saturday.

Nampa's Bulldogs will provide the opposition for Coach M. C. (Duke) Chalmers' proteges, who are fast making reputation as basketball play dividends not only at the gate but on the scoreboard. The Bruins edged Idaho Falls 34-33 Saturday night.

They'll be up against opposition as strong or stronger when Nampa takes the floor at 8 p. m. Friday, and the crowd is expected to pack the building. There will be a preliminary clash at 7:30 with the main event booked for about 8:30 p. m.

The Saturday night thriller found the Bruins coming from behind in the final minutes to dunk the tie. It was a light fray all the way through; however, and Idaho Falls held a narrow 16-17 advantage at half-time.

Play for Idaho Falls-Twin Falls game follows:
Twin Falls (4)—Garvey (3), and (2), center; Tolson and Thomas (3), guards; substitution—(1) (1), Terry (4) and Hulbert.

Idaho Falls (23)—Williams (4) and J. Hart (1), forwards; Orlowski (1), center; and P. Williams (3), and (3), guards; substitution—(1) (3) and Muller.

Idaho Wins Top Ski Honors Californians Capture Top Team Points

SUN VALLEY, Jan. 20 (AP)—All Eugen of Sun Valley today held the individual championship of the season's annual "Idealistic Ski Meet" loving victories Sunday in both slalom and jumping events. Californians won the team trophy by placing contestants high in all four events.

Eugen turned in jumps of 146 and 149 feet to score a perfect record of 100 points in that event after winning both heats of the slalom in 192 seconds. The last day's competition boosted his combined score to 282 points, far ahead of his closest competitor.

Coast Team High
Despite Eugen's efforts, California edged out a victory over the Idaho team. The Californians recorded 1,034.4 points to 1,024.4 for the Idahoans. Washington, Utah, Oregon, Colorado and Montana finished behind the leaders in that order.

Eugen's greatest competition in the combined individual race came from the younger skier, Ken also Sun Valley, who garnered 256 points. Following them for individual honors were Bill Redlin, Washington; Bobby Blatt, California; Chris Schwarzenbach, Washington; and Carl Bechtold, California, in that order.

Takes Women's Title
In the women's division, the Utah team won with Betty Krouse scoring 639.5 points to 592 for Oregon, the nearest competitor. Gretchen Fraser, Colorado, captured the individual scoring title with 189 points.

Other women's teams finished in the following order: California, Colorado and Idaho.

Miss Fraser was pressed by Nancy Rees of Brooklyn for 400-point points. Behind them were Virginia Oursen, Utah; Laurie French, Oregon; Maryanne Hill, Oregon; and Janet Quilley, Utah.

Carlson Takes Top Spot in Pin Averages
Corky Carlson swept into undisputed leadership in all bowling categories as a result of his 1063-pointing, summary of Twin Falls kegling averages showed today.

Carlson held to his high 185 average in Commercial League while Roy Jones, City League leader, slipped two notches to 183. Ray Freis, ranking leader in the southern circuit loop with 182, is third in all leagues and is only a shade behind Jones.

Lloyd Hayes' undisputed sway in Merchants' league was challenged by Gene Shirley, who climbed into the lead with 181.

The top 10 bowlers in each of the leagues:

Commercial: Carlson, 185; Fred 182; Adley Adkins, 171; Art Timmons, 169; Roy King, 167; Jesse Kille, 167; Henry Westlund, 165; Clyde Hoge, 165; Hiale, 160; Cook 159; City—Jones, 183; Elmore Hingler, 178; Hugh Boden, 177; Fred Stone, 176; O. The verbal smoke clouds which had pressed eruption of the athletic situation at Idaho finally bore results over the week-end when Ted Bank, Vandal football chairman since the autumn of 1935, was announced as "no longer connected with the university in any capacity during the college year 1941-42."

Dale Announces II
President Harrison C. Dale, whose life hasn't been a happy one since the Vandal athletic volcano started to boil over, made the announcement that ousted Bank as the end of the current school year. The coach's contract expires Sept. 1.

Dale also said that Bob Tessier's post as assistant football coach will be vacant July 1.

About a week ago the position of head basketball and baseball coach, occupied by popular Forrest Twogood, who has tremendous student support, was also assured of a change in 1941-42 by resignation of Twogood. The former U. S. C. assistant this year has one of the best Vandal court squads in many years, and Washington and W. S. C. have had to fire every weapon in their arsenals to eke out one-point wins.

President Dale's announcement concerning Bank and Tessier also included assertion that "future separation of the directorship of athletics and the position of head football coach is a strong possibility."

Conflict Explained
His statement that Bank would receive favorable consideration if he is interested in the post of athletic director, apparently conflicted with announcement that the grid mentor would not be associated with the university in any way next year. The conflict was explained away in campus circles, however, by belief that Bank would not take the athletic directorship after being ousted as football mentor.

Recommendations as to Bank's successor will be made by a committee including the faculty athletic board, representative alumni and students. It was not specified whether this committee coincides with the group named last Wednesday to recommend Twogood's successor.

Phils Won't Amaze Fans: They'll Stay in Cellar

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—When the Phillies finish out of the cellar, that's news. The Phillies aren't likely to make any news in 1941.

Four times in the last five years the Phils have finished last. Whatever chance they had of coming up for daylight this season went down the drain when Kirby Higbe, the strong-armed young pitcher, was sold to Brooklyn for $400,000 and 12½ shares behind the seventh-place Reds.

The best they can hope for now is to improve somewhat on last year's miserable record—40-100, lost. Per. 327.50 games from the top where he hit .224, is likely to play second.

Doc Profiro, who never finished last until he arrived at Philadelphia, does the best he can with his task for the coming year appears to be a modest one after slumping in the Phillies' roster. Nineteen rookies are slated but only seven are from Class A clubs.

The Phils' infield makeup is anybody's guess. Nick Petre, once up with the Braves, was traded for first. He hit .321 for Baltimore last season. Harry Manrad, who came up late last season from Ottawa (Class C) where he hit .324, is likely to play shortstop. George Jansaville, Marcell's teammate at Ottawa, and Larry Fyle, a semi-pro from Virginia, will battle for the shortfield berth. Merrill May is another thing at third.

Outfielders
The outfield lineup is likely to be Johnny Hartz in left, Joe Marty in center and Dan Ellwiler, who came up last season from Wilkes-Barre, in right. Other outfielders are the veteran Chuck Klein and Hiale (1936), who hit .305 for Baltimore.

The pitching staff will be built around Hugh Mulcahy, who led the league in defeats last season with 22. He is a major leaguer and could win by better surroundings. The other first line Philly pitchers from last year are Ike Pearson, Walter Beck, Cy Clinton, St. Johnson, Syl Johnson and Charley Fyfe (who didn't win a game). Vito Tamulis, the softball pitcher, and Bill Gensch, Montreal right-hander, obtained from the Dodgers in the Higbe deal, may both be regulars.

Dale Announces That Vandal Mentor and Aide Won't Be Back

MOSCOW, Ida., Jan. 20 (Special)—University of Idaho was in the market today for:

- (1) A new head football coach.
- (2) An assistant football coach.
- (3) A head basketball coach.
- (4) A baseball coach, preferably one who coaches basketball too.

The verbal smoke clouds which had pressed eruption of the athletic situation at Idaho finally bore results over the week-end when Ted Bank, Vandal football chairman since the autumn of 1935, was announced as "no longer connected with the university in any capacity during the college year 1941-42."

Revolta Drubs Cooper in $5,000 Frisco Open Finals

Golf Aces Head South for Crosby Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (UP)—The winter professional golfing contingent headed for Del Mar, Calif., and Bing Crosby's $5,000 amateur pro invitational tournament Jan. 24-26 today, still talking about Johnny Revolta's top-sided victory in the $5,000 San Francisco match play open.

Revolta, Evanston, Ill., veteran who had won a PGA title since 1938, found the winning way with a vengeance yesterday as he walloped Harry Cooper of New London, Conn., seven up and six to play in the tournament's 36-hole final.

Revolta gave par and Cooper a sound drubbing as he waded through a driving rainstorm to win $1,000 first money. Cooper who put Revolta out of the PGA tournament in 1937, one up, and beat him in the San Francisco 1935 tournament, three and two, collected $500 as runner-up.

Beats Boggy Course
Revolta whipped around the soggy course in 69 on the morning round to stand three up at lunch time and completed the win with a 74 on 35 on the outgoing nine of the afternoon round. Cooper had an even par 77 for the first 18 but could not keep up with Revolta's clinching 67-putting which gave him 112 one-putt greens.

Mike Jacobs, New York tight prober, expects to complete negotiations for a return battle between Lou Nova and Mike Beer at the New York Garden in March. Jacobs signed lightweight Champion Low Jenkins and co-opped Lou Nova for a return non-title 10-round bout at the Garden, Feb. 21.

Frank Kovacs meets Jack Kramer, the Midwest clock leader, on Nov. 11 in the semi-finals of the Florida state tennis tournament at Orlando.

Best finalists in the Champions of Champions tennis tournament at Santa Clara, Fla., are Elizabeth Hicks, Louise Juges, Mary Lee Garmon and Jane Graham.

The lead in the world's three-cushion billiard tournament is split six ways as the contest enters the second week.

Ted Williams, slugger-outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, will call for a $50,000 raise. Representatives of the American Hockey association have proposed that the league be set up to settle all disputes between minor leagues and the national hockey league.

Vandals Hunt For New Set Of Coaches

ceator as basketball coach. Heading that committee is Dean T. S. Kerr, the U. of I. representative to the athletic board. Kerr is also the chairman of the Idaho athletic committee.

Announcement of Bank's ouster as head coach of the Vandals has caused a commotion but not a riot. The chairman of the Idaho athletic committee, reports that the one-time basketball coach has been out for several months, and was brought into the open by the Idaho Evening Times. It was about the time Boston college's football team massacred the Vandals.

Rumors Rife

Since then rumors and counter-rumors have been rife. Resignation of Forrest Twogood, basketball coach, apparently paved the way for the all-out cleanup in Idaho's major coaching positions.

Bank himself told reporters that he had no intention of returning to the Vandals' announcement "not unexpected."

Bob Tessler, assistant to Bank, said he had no intention of leaving Bank except for "political maneuvering." He said he hopes to accompany Bank to the University of Michigan in a graduate class he is taking in 1935, accompanied as an assistant.

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (UP)—Editor Bill Johnson of the university student newspaper, the Idaho Argonaut, has predicted the Idaho graduate manager, Dale Mix, will be the next university athletic official to leave the campus.

Shoshone's Court Aces Conquer Hailey by 28-13

SITKOHNE, Jan. 20 (Special)—It's only a whisper as yet among those fans inclined to be superstitious, but the club 35 ball team ball championship might be living right here in this final but important rubber contest.

Couch Lambert Dopplah's smooth Indian quiet swing back into high gear Saturday night by spending to a 28-13 victory over Hailey.

The Shoshone team let's out predictions as to championships before it's a long road ahead—but his very own finest team has a game tone and a swift breaking offense that kept Shoshone well in the lead throughout.

The Indians led 11-4 at the end of the first quarter and held Hailey to two points in the second period to make a 17-7 edge at the half. Team Shoshone's second team also conquered the invaders, rolling up a 28-16 victory over Hailey reserves.

The Shoshone team will proceed into Class A competition Wednesday night by tangle with the Nampa Holdings. District teams will play here Thursday evening.

Champion Girls' Basketball Team Plays at Rupert

RUPERT, Jan. 20 (Special)—The "Gals," girls' championship basketball team, now touring the western states, will take on the Rupert All Stars at the Rupert civic auditorium Wednesday, Jan. 22 at 7:30 p. m.

The local team will be remembered for defeating the colored "Hotshots" by playing hot basketball all the way, while the Chicago gals relied on fancy dribbling and trick shots.

The "Gals" beat of the outstanding athletes who have made previous records: Miss Tyde Pickett, member of U. S. Olympic team and generally recognized as the world's fastest; girl runner, who will give a track exhibition at half time.

Helton Smith, center and asserted to be the tallest girl in the world, returning to approximately seven feet.

Ken Hines, who performed for All-American forward honors from 1934 to 1938.

The game is scheduled to begin early for the benefit of those who wish to attend the Gold-Green ball.

GREATEST PLAGUES

The Black Death, or bubonic plague, of the 14th century, and the influenza epidemic of 1918 are said to be the two greatest plagues over all time.

The influenza epidemic killed an estimated 25,000,000 persons; the latter 10,000,000.

ODDITY

A Rhodesian native was attacked by a crocodile, which bit one of his arms. The native retaliated by biting one of the reptile's claws so severely that the number was severed. The agony of the crocodile caused it to release its grip and the native escaped.

Famous Racing Stallion Rescued From Lowly Job

PARIS, Jan. 20 (UP)—The French stallion Epineau was returned to his heritage today after police found him in the shafts of a delivery wagon and turned him over to his owner, Pierre Wertheimer.

Missing since the occupation of Paris, Epineau was far from the track, sleek, thoroughbred which came to the United States in 1934 to race in a series of international matches. Thin, dirty, scared and hungry, Epineau was hauling vegetables when police recognized the once great hero of the French turf.

Epineau had been stolen from a stud farm where he had been living a life of ease after a successful career. The horse thief drove him out of Paris just ahead of the German armies but was overtaken at Chartres and returned to Paris. There the horse fell into the hands of the arrested persons who were truck farmers.

Three out of five wives go along when their husbands buy suits, surveys have shown.

American Leaguer Makes His Own Suggestion for Improving Game

By HENRY MOLMORRE
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (UP)—This is the first and only Cobb's suggestion to me that baseball could be made a much better game simply by increasing the width of home plate by two inches.

It comes from a man who is in baseball and who, wanting to stay there, passivity and happily asked that I not mention his name in airing his views on the subject. The closer I'd come to mentioning his identity, the more he'd shake his head in major league baseball—the American League in fact—and know as much about the game as anybody you'll run across.

My Mr. X took Ty Cobb's suggestion in a bit great.

"There is no doubt widening home plate would put a check on the offense," Mr. X said. "It would give the pitcher a break that he needs with the lively ball. But you'd have to build longer balls to enable the hitters to reach the new corner, and it would play havoc with batters' stances. Now, I have in mind that ball being about the same result as a wider plate, and it would require no change in the rules or equipment.

I took advantage of this opening and asked Mr. X what his idea was.

"It's simple, and it's this," he answered. "Make the umpire call any pitch that crosses the plate between the batter's shoulders and knees a strike. That's what the rules say a strike is, but before that time, he had any attention to it. They simply won't call a pitch that is knee high or just above the knees, a strike. They're been doing this so long now that everyone takes their decision for granted."

Mr. X went on, and, with Joe Louis pouring, let them a thing or two.

STOCKS DECLINE ON QUIET TRADE

The President, noting that "we acted quickly, boldly, decisively" eight years ago when American life was in danger, urged the nation to "over uncontrolled economic forces, promised again that the social objectives of his administration still are to be maintained."

"Far to go" — the hopes of the republic cannot be lost, he said, "but we must be prepared to sacrifice for the sake of the nation."

Stocks were lower, with utilities and railroads the most active. The market was 1/2 cent lower for all grades of wheat.

PRESIDENT TAKES OFFICE 30TH YEAR

The inauguration speech was broadcast in seven languages to all parts of the world by domestic and international facilities of the three major networks.

Most ingenious merchant was who he bought up several thousand white and blue ribbons, and sold them for a dime each.

Mrs. Henry Nesbit, White House housekeeper, was mightily busy. She had to take care of the 1,200 guests at luncheon, and another 2,000 for the president and his family.

SIDELIGHTS ON INAUGURATION

Swank hotels were filled to overflowing; second-rate hostesses jammed the doors; private homes were used for extra accommodations.

"Bring a cushion for your inaugural seat to avoid chills and the flu," that was the advice of District Health Officer C. R. Holland, and many heeded him.

There were seats for only about 25,000 persons along the mile-long parade route. Window space in private dwellings along the avenue sold at $25 each and seated four persons.

WILLIAMS CONFERS WITH PRESIDENT

Discussion of the soldiers' and sailors' civil relief act of 1940 will highlight a meeting of the Eleventh Judicial District Bar association in Twin Falls today.

President F. D. Roosevelt will be in town today for the first time since his inauguration.

There were seats for only about 25,000 persons along the mile-long parade route. Window space in private dwellings along the avenue sold at $25 each and seated four persons.

2 Held After Road Incident

Two west end residents were in county jail today pending filing of charges as a result of a highway incident Sunday—including an effort to "clear off" sheriff's officers by flashing headlights.

Type of complaint had not yet been determined by early afternoon, but Deputy Prosecutor Ray D. Agee said charges will definitely be filed. The men probably will be accused of intoxication in a public place.

$5,400 TAKEN IN BASEBALL STOCK

Capital stock actually subscribed in the Twin Falls Baseball Club, Inc., totals $5,400, according to the articles of incorporation now on file with the county recorder.

The club is a 50-year corporation with 20 shares of $100 each. Purpose of the club is to operate a complete baseball business with all necessary activity pertaining to that business.

BAG FIRM SEEKS COURT JUDGMENT

Suit asking judgment for the assertedly unpaid portion of a $3,483.81 bill filed in district court today by counsel for the Friedman Bag Company.

Defendant is the R. H. Smith company, and the judgment requested in the suit is $1,237.68 balance on the bill for merchandise plus $71.43 back interest and $200 for costs and attorney fees.

Nearly 600 Skate On Ice at Lake

Between 500 and 600 skaters were on the ice at Lake Lowell today, where the ice "held well" until afternoon, when the temperature dropped.

A warning about ice now being constructed, to be completed in a few days, and flooding of the area under the lights today indicated the lake would continue to be good for skating.

Party Honors Man Leaving for Army

Employees of the Parlan Laundry and Cleaners entertained at a farewell party Saturday night for Cliff Anderson, Bull, who is leaving town to join the army.

Seventy-five persons, employees, customers and guests, attended the banquet, which was followed by dancing.

Film Highlights for 10 Years Are Listed

(NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD — The decade in celluloid:

1931 — Biggest boxoffice stars were Maurice Chevalier, Clara Bow, Ramon Novarro and Will Rogers. The double bill was a problem, and on Jan. 8, Chicago theater showed four features and a newswear. Charlie Chaplin made "City Lights" and cleaned up. Advertisement on "Trader Horn" read: "MOM's Primitive Fight for Existence" — Capone was offered $200,000 to play himself in a picture. Hollywood was hitting authors and using them for bootlegs. P. O. Woodhouse announced he had collected $104,000 on a year's contract without writing a line. — Marie Dressler and Lonel Barrymore won the academy awards. — Will Hays took a 20 per cent cut in his $120,000 salary, but didn't reduce the size of his speech.

1932—Times were so tough movie fan fell off sharply because people wouldn't buy stamps. — Of 26,693 theaters in the U. S., 5,399 were dark. — In a desperate bid for business, films became so sexy they started to censor themselves. — On order from the Hays office Max Factor made some hair parts for the picture. — Helen Hayes and Fredric March won academy awards, and the prize fighter was "Grand Hotel".

1933—The studios began to fight radio competition. — General salary cuts 50 per cent were followed by the big earthquake. Norman Krassa won the Producers' association and announced that he would give $100,000 for two pictures. — Mary Pickford filed for divorce.

1934 — In a magazine article, Barnette, who was on his way here by salaries: Grant Garbo, $6,000; Will Rogers, Chevalier and Constance Bennett, $1,000; John Barrymore, $6,500; Norma Shearer, Richard Barthelme, Ann Harding, $6,000; Walter Connolly, $5,000; William Powell, $4,500. — Catholic Legion of Decency born March 4; soon joined by Protestant clergy. — Council of Rabbin. Hays office began censoring scripts in advance. — Hollywood threatened to move to Florida. — Upton Sinclair was elected governor.

1935—Bill introduced in congress by Representative Cullen Banning "see appeal" in future screening. — Death of Will Rogers saddened the world. — Bankruptcy, screen, bingo and working men returned in a rush with fad of N.F.A. — H. G. Wells made four-word picture at Academy banquet. He said: "Hollywood leaves me speechless." — And sat down.

1936 — The world's longest motion picture shown at the American Wild Life conference. There were 26 reels, and Metro thought that picture was the longest. — Victor and Bebe Davis won Oscar. — Artie Chabeau called the academy. — A producer across the country. — To censor the picture. — On order from the Hays office Max Factor made some hair parts for the picture. — Helen Hayes and Fredric March won academy awards, and the prize fighter was "Grand Hotel".

1937 — An influenza epidemic laid the town low. — Paul Muni, Lulu Rainer and "The Great Ziegfeld" won prizes. — When a premier was held in Hollywood, the stars were having union trouble, pickets were full evening doors. — Shirley Temple and Clark Gable were the top box office stars. — Vittorio Mussolini came to visit and got such a free-out it almost became an international incident.

1938—"Snow White" began rolling millions. — While a quake struck in Hollywood, New York tried to get part of the movie industry to move there. — However, he remarked: "I wish to make it clear that I am not interested to live with my own wife."

1939—The past year needs a column to itself. I'll review it again. — "Gone With the Wind" began smacking boxoffice records. — Mayor La Guardia of New York tried to get part of the movie industry to move there. — However, he remarked: "I wish to make it clear that I am not interested to live with my own wife."

1940—The past year needs a column to itself. I'll review it again. — "Gone With the Wind" began smacking boxoffice records. — Mayor La Guardia of New York tried to get part of the movie industry to move there. — However, he remarked: "I wish to make it clear that I am not interested to live with my own wife."

REPORTER TELLS WHAT "I AM" CULT REALLY IS

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

LOS ANGELES—In this capital of cultism, spellbound disciples of the Magic Presence of the Great I AM are setting some startling revelations these days. Jamming a federal courtroom, hundreds of the faithful and disillusioned are watching prosecutors strip the religious mysticism from what the government declares was merely a racket. The charge is mail fraud and $2,000,000 is mentioned as the size of it. Good-natured, meticulous Judge Leon T. Yorkwich—who even discarded his robe because the I AMers regard black as unfriendly—has having a hard time keeping attorneys within the bounds of relevancy. Through a maze of fantastic detail and esoteric mumbo-jumbo, the law prosecutors are trying to get down to tangible illegality. They contend the I AM leader, Mrs. Edna Ballard, and her son and eight other indicted officials have erred in using the mails to sell: 1—a special brand of immortality—2—cures for disease and blindness—3—various books and a periodical, The Voice, containing specific falsifications; 4—miraculous

"Infringeable wall of light enveloping earthily self from higher self" — an I AM stage act.

Edna E. Ballard... just paid founder's son Lafayette for short benefits from "precipitating" anything from cash money to automobiles.

Strange Violation

On the fringes of the unlimited evidence which the jury will be charged to weigh at trial's end lies an amazing story of an amazing woman.

Guy W. Ballard, who was not what you'd call a religious man, founded first class in 1922 he had a visitation by a spoke called Saint Germain (no true saint, according to church records). Ballard, who at the time happened to be under indictment for some stock-selling activities in Illinois, was told by the saint that he was the incarnation of St. Germain and a fellow of such great purity and benevolence that he should spread the I AM gospel.

Not until 1934 did the movement assume tangible form as the St. Germain Press. An Illinois corporation, it really went to work in New York City. Said witness Harry F. Steber, first I AM people manager: "I like to believe that the first class in New York in 1934, but the classes continued to increase. — and after expenses were paid we split from $100 to $1000 on each meeting."

For awhile, Ballard assumed the name of St. Germain, though he also was known as George Washington. He claimed to be the incarnation of St. Germain and Ballard had been represented as a chummy trinity of ascended masters. The German dictated regular messages to Mrs. Ballard for publication in The Voice, and one of these said, in part: "One day I will show before you in visible tangible form. My good brother Jesus has seen fit to join me in this world as 'The Christ'."

Federal attorneys are making the most of information furnished by disgruntled ex-AM-ers such as those who were shaken down for jewelry and money while being told the Ascended Masters could "precipitate" anything they wanted.

LONDON DECEMBER AIR RAID DEATH TOLL IS 3,793

5 NAZI BOMBERS ARE SHOT DOWN DURING 1 NIGHT

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—The home security ministry reported today that 3,793 civilians had been killed and 5,544 hospitalized from wounds inflicted by air raiders during December.

The raid included 1,691 men, 1,474 women and 521 children under 16. The remaining 147 were not classified.

The ministry reported five German bombers were shot down during the night, four by anti-aircraft guns, while two south coast airfields suffered brief fire raids and a few bombs fell on the outskirts of London.

One of the towns raided, and evidently the main target of the night, was Southampton, it was disclosed.

Lowest since September.

The December casualties were the lowest for any month since the aerial blitzkrieg began last September, when 8,854 were killed and 10,618 hospitalized.

British night fighters got one of the raiders, a Heinkel 111, which fell in a farm near the south coast with a load of bombs which exploded, killing the crew of four.

Another raider was hit by anti-aircraft fire, it crashed in a south coast village.

Raids Widespread

The raids on the south coast were widespread but not especially damaging. Some casualties were reported. A large force of civilian watchers held dispose of the incendiary bombs and no large fires were started.

London's alarm lasted from early evening until midnight, but was practically without incident, except for the dropping of a few bombs in one district on the outskirts.

HUNT OPENS FOR LOST BOISE GIRL

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 20 (AP)—Police today continued their search for Carol Paik, 15, daughter of a prominent Boise, Ida., family who dropped from sight Saturday. They were aided by the girl's father, Dr. R. Paik, who flew here last night.

Arthur Cornelius, federal bureau of identification agent at Seattle, said there was no indication the girl had been abducted. A bulletin carried on the state police wires, however, was not entirely clear.

Mrs. Paik had been attending the Annie Wright seminary, an exclusive private school, Police learned she had been away for a number of years. Her grandfather was a pioneer Idaho merchant, and her uncle, Leo J. Paik, operates a chain of department stores in Idaho.

KIMBERLY

The W.B.O.B. of the M. E. church met Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. D. Trefren. The society voted to disperse with the annual winter supper and have a George Washington party sometime in February.

Mrs. D. B. Shipley, Mrs. J. O. Clifton and Mrs. Otto Fowler were named on the executive committee to replace members who have withdrawn. Mrs. B. Atkinson substituted for Mrs. Clyde Ewing as program leader and gave short reviews of articles appearing in the Methodist publication "The Woman's World."

American Legion auxiliary members held a joint meeting at the Pacer school house Thursday evening. The group enjoyed a hot luck dinner. Leo Hamann and Dorothy Collier, both of Hansen, gave two humorous readings each, during the evening.

The Delta Sigma class of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. High Stenderus Thursday, Jan. 22, and Mrs. Jean Day will have charge of the program.

Mrs. Ruth Brown entertained the Dorcas class Tuesday with twelve members and two guests present. Mrs. O. S. Smith led the devotional and plans for the business meeting. The next meeting will be covered with luncheon and sewing bee at the home of Mrs. O. H. Mattin. T. V. Nail has been returned to the Twin Falls board.

Jim Lapeley was fined $20 last week for petty larceny charge growing out of removal of steel from a bridge owned by the Hook Creek highway district.

Alvin Hite, Hareton, Granddew and Mrs. Mrs. Albert McNew, Jr., congregating at the county hospital following an appendectomy.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. Williams returned from Denver the last of the week, and Mrs. Arthur Lake have moved to Mountain Home.

The Christian Educator executive committee met at the Kimb house Wednesday and plans were made for the district G. E. convention which will be held in Kimberly at the local meeting hall March 1.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. Hacker left last week to enter business in San Diego. James Hacker accompanied them, and Mrs. James Hacker and children plan on leaving the first of the week to visit in Portland before going on to California.

Inside Story on How Reds Have Split Airplane Workers' Union

By M. S. SULLIVAN
NEA Special Correspondent

SEATTLE—In this national drive toward the "People's Front" northwest, one of the fastest growing labor unions in the United States—the A. F. of L. Aeronautical Mechanics' union—is being wide open over the issue of Communism.

Torn for two months in an open feud, and struggling for nearly a year behind the scenes, this union now is faced with the prospect of its parent union, the International Association of Machinists, stepping in and taking over complete control.

The dramatic, weird and almost melodramatic story of Communism at the mighty Boeing Aircraft company plant, where the Aero Mechanics claim jurisdiction over 8,000 workers, first came into the open last Oct. 28.

In the print shop of The Aero Mechanics on that day, Editor Clifford A. Stone was ripping up forms, slapping type into place and shaping up his sensational "Accused" editorial. It was a "news" edition.

The editorial board already had passed on the newspaper contents, but Stone removed their choices, installed his own.

Stone accused 25 members of the union, including nearly all high-ranking officers of Communism; activity; alleged misuse, waste of union funds; charged union officers did not cooperate with a committee negotiating committee, said published pictures of all the accused.

Named in Stone's scathing attack were Hugo A. Lundquist, 22-year-old business agent of the union, a blond, hollow-cheeked young mechanic; Donald R. Koppeler, vice-president of the union, hook-nosed young "progressive"; Sam Telford, publicity man for the union during last August's threatened strike at Boeing; Victor Hicks, "labor education" instructor for the union, and others.

Stone used Disaphane.

Swiftly the union acted on Stone's charges. At a mass meeting the night after The Aero Mechanics appeared, the membership rejected the now-famous "red list board" to hear the charges. Suspended were Lundquist and Stone.

The trial board went to work and met almost daily and nightly for two months, hearing charges and counter-charges, tales of Communist meetings, of "cells" of Communists at the Boeing plant, and afflicting thousands of workers with lengthy transcripts of the trial board hearing ran to more than 3,000 pages of typewritten copy; cost said to be $10,000.

For member salaries and witness fees, several times the "bomb squad" of the union, including $10,000, called to hearings to assure order.

Typical testimony heard by the trial board was Lundquist's account of the membership vote, which revealed that black-browed, dark-haired Stone had been working to get the union out of Boeing, and others as far back as last July.

"Cliff Stone and his wife drove to my house one warm summer evening," Lundquist testified, "and elaborated upon at a mass meeting of 8,000 Boeing workers in Seattle's civic auditorium on Oct. 28.

"His wife came into my house and engaged Mrs. Lundquist in conversation. He asked me to come out and look at a broken spring under his car.

"I thought the whole thing was kind of funny. I had seen Stone previously had made it plain he didn't approve of me. Anyway, I crawled under the car with him and he asked me to question him about what I thought about Communism. Later, when I looked inside the car, I saw a blanket stretched out from the top of the front seat to the top of the back seat.

"I asked him what was under the blanket and he said he was searching for a book. He was talking to his mother.

"What I didn't know then, but found out later, was that Brother John Cameron was under the blanket and was operating a dictaphone.

"When Stone told of attending Communist party meetings with those he accused, charged them of handling him a party card.

"The trial board decided to begin his one-man crusade after the editorial board repeatedly interfered with his job for 425 months of putting out The Aero-Mechanic. He charged the board jerked his editorial, inserted cartoons used by the Daily Worker and other pro-Communist articles lifted from the 'red press' of the nation.

"I ran at Trial.

"At the conspiracy attendance meeting where Stone and Lundquist faced each other dramatically and pleaded their cases before the membership, Lundquist delivered an emotional talk and Stone calmly, slowly repeated his story given to the trial board.

"Lundquist asked the attack on him was a 'frame-up' of the Boeing Aircraft company and the 'Transit' union, and said Stone was a 'pitiful' laborer who hoped to get a better job in the union.

"Boeing workers listened to the wailing for five hours. They jeered, cheered, booed, called him names, and threw things at him. Hicks, misled in the lobby to march on but lose, and in the packed galleries, 'red' men, came out of newspapers and fluted them down to the heads of the unionists below.

"Only the Seattle civic auditorium is big enough to hold an Aero-Mechanic mass meeting. The day of the meeting, few and far between, where the plant is jammed with U. S. and British airplane outfits.

"Bill of tin 5,000 and more at the meeting, few and far between, to vote on the charges presented that day. The crowd grew tired of Lundquist's impatient 'at, at, at,' and the motion to adjourn was virtually a walkout.

"Klodian May Metta Disaphane. The net result so far on the 20-day trial is:

"Lundquist acquitted on all charges; Stone convicted of violat-

Hugo A. Lundquist, left, business agent of the Aeronautical Mechanics' union, confers with Donald R. Koppeler, vice-president, after the mass meeting of Boeing workers in Seattle. Both were charged with Communism within the union. Lundquist was acquitted, Koppeler found guilty.

Clifford A. Stone, editor of The Aero-Mechanic, was pulled a surprise with arrest Friday.

John P. Bader, 29-year-old president of the A. M. U. local 751, championed the accused.

ng the union rules and fined $50; Koppeler found guilty of Communist activity, and two lesser lights in the union found not guilty of misconduct—only five out of the 25 cases acted upon.

Such a lawsuit wouldn't have done the voice's reputation any good, she continued. So upon his promise to remedy her after No. 2 was named down, No. 2 said she got her divorce in June, 1937. She added, the voice married No. 3, Mrs. Mildred Taylor.

"No. 2 asked that her divorce be set aside and demanded that the voice pay her 100 per cent of his $150,000 annual income she said he promised her.

"She said she had received only $10,000 of it.

"The action found the voice in his study preparing the advice he sends via a National Broadcasting chain three weeks to others with matrimonial miseries. His answer to the charges sounded like a routine denial that might have come from any lawyer as he said that he welcomed the change to have the matter settled by the courts and that instead of him being behind in payments, Mrs. Jessie Taylor actually had indebted to him. The voice was mum, otherwise.

"There are approximately 3,000 ties to a mile of railroad track.

OPponents CITE HOUSING STAND

Those residents against erection of a low-income housing project on the Ritchey tract, through Mrs. Rex D. Mathews, chairman of a committee opposing the group, today had declared that they were not against the project because of a "dislike" of having "poor people" for neighbors, as has been suggested.

"In the first place, we should like to have it distinctly understood that our objections to the location of this project on the Ritchey tract in no manner based upon a dislike of having poor people for neighbors," she said.

She went on to say that "on the other hand" Twin Falls is "largely composed" of comparatively "poor people, that is, people who have either paid for their homes over a long period of years, and have practically their entire savings so invested, or people who are now engaged in the process of buying and paying for their homes in such manner."

She pointed out that these homes, which private individuals have constructed, have been bought at an approximate average valuation of from $2,750 to $4,000 and such properties in the community are rented in this class of houses being a rental of approximately $40 per month. "Taxes are paid on that basis," she said.

"If it should be impossible for those of us who are now trying to pay for our homes in this section to do so, and at the same time continue to live in them, would we be able to rent out property for a far amount based upon its cost and expense of taxation and upkeep, in the immediate vicinity of houses of about the same building cost, which being government owned and tax free, can be rented for about $15? The answer to that question is evident to any unprejudiced person," Mrs. Mathews said.

Hollywood had two top-notch weddings over the week-end. Film star Brenda Joyce married Owen Ward, an accountant. Actress Linda Hayes was married to Radio Announcer Lew Crosby. . . .

Ordered from the home of his father-in-law, with whom his estranged wife was living, Everett Olson, 22, Trinidad, Colo., shot and killed his wife's father, Joe Woola, 50, then ran 15 blocks to a police station and surrendered. . . .

Mrs. Thomas Corcoran, pretty blond wife of the former New Deal "brain trust," gave birth last night to a 7½ pound daughter. . . . The Corcorans were married last March 4. . . . She used to be his secretary.

Col. William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan, who is touring the war fronts in a semi-official capacity for the United States, arrived in Sofia, Bulgaria, today from Greece. . . .

Ward Lasselle, 58, who entered the film industry when Hollywood was a "little town" with "flickers" being produced in abandoned barns, died at his home Sunday. . . .

A military funeral is being conducted at the San Francisco presidio for Brig. Gen. Harry F. Behers, 61, retired army officer. General Behers is the man who selected the unknown soldier that is buried at Arlington national cemetery. . . . He participated in the Spanish-American war, boxer rebellion and the World War. . . . Mrs. Kate P. Young, 80, president of the Portland, Ore., Oregonian Publishing company, died yesterday of a heart attack. . . . She was the daughter of the late Henry L. Pills-lock, who established the Oregonian as a daily. . . .

Dolly Loeb, a 14-year-old Los Angeles girl who played the piano and played a few words in a picture at Paramount studio, received a $60-a-week contract—after she impressed studio officials.

SUCCEEDED BY DEATH

John Tyler Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt, and Calvin Coolidge became head of the United States government through the death of a president during their terms as vice-president.

Far, Far Away

So far distant is the Hercules star system from the earth that it requires 36,000 years for light to reach us from there, traveling at a rate of 186,000 miles per second. . . .

On a yearly average, the southern hemisphere is lighter cooler than the northern. . . .
