McNARY OPPOSES BRITISH AID BILL

House Votes to End Idaho Insurance Commission Administration Wins 2nd Test Following Long, Heated Debate

By LLOYD TUPLING
BOISE, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Gov. Chase A. Clark's program to abolish state boards and commissions won a second victory today when the house passed by a narrow margin a bill to eliminate the state insurance fund commission.

The vote was 35 to 25, with two house members paired. Passage came after the most heated debate of the session in which Republicans charged "every working man in the state will suffer" if the commission—which governs the workmen's compensation fund—is abolished.

The bill would provide for the state to be created by a state insurance fund manager, appointed by the governor.

Rep. W. E. Sullivan, R., Ada, led the Republican attack on the move, declaring "franked one-man management of the fund as inefficient."

Rep. H. H. Budge, R., Ada, declared that the bill would put management of the compensation funds in the hands of "a political henchman of the party."

The house also approved a bill which would prohibit election results (Continued on Page 1, Column 2)

M'REYNOLDS TO QUIT COURT Plans Retirement

JUSTICE M'REYNOLDS ... Announces retirement from supreme court bench after serving since 1914.

VETERAN JURIST TO END SERVICE ON FEBRUARY 1
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Associate Justice James G. McReynolds of the supreme court, one of the few remaining members of the so-called conservative group on the high bench, advised President Roosevelt today he intends to retire on Feb. 1.

The justice, who voted against many New Deal laws, pointed out to the president he had served on the high bench continuously since 1914.

Roosevelt appointees to date: Hugo Black, appointed Oct. 4, 1937, succeeding Willis Van Devanter.

Stanley F. Reed, Jan. 31, 1938, succeeding George Sutherland.

Felix Frankfurter, Jan. 30, 1939, succeeding Benjamin N. Cardozo.

William O. Douglas, April 17, 1939, succeeding Louis D. Brandeis.

Frank Murphy, Jan. 4, 1940, succeeding Charles E. Hughes.

Charles E. Whittaker, appointed Oct. 5, 1940, succeeding Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

Auditor Holds Back Payment Of Gas Levies

BOISE, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—State Auditor Calvin E. Wright said today he has withheld payment of gas receipts to counties pending an attorney general's opinion on whether $1,000,000 in allocations for county road programs can be made from the state gas fund.

Wright questioned his ability to make the payments because the amendment prohibits diversion of the gas tax to any purpose other than for state highway maintenance and construction.

The $1,000,000 county road fund was approved by the 1939 legislature to offset loss of county revenue which resulted from reducing the state auto license fee.

On another front, UAW President R. J. Thomas, at Detroit, demanded a congressional investigation of "favoritism" allegedly shown the Ford Motor company in the war department's award of defense contracts.

A possible dispute over wages paid by "big steel" was postponed in the east when CIO President Philip Murray and a representative of the U. S. Steel Corp. resumed negotiations over a new contract until Jan. 31.

Too Much Power For One Man, Says Minority Leader

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary said today he will oppose the British aid bill in its recent form, because "it grants extraordinary and total power to one person"—President Roosevelt.

McNary, back in the capital for the first time since Oct. 26 when he departed on his last campaign trip as Republican vice-presidential nominee, charged the bill "is not the democratic way of life."

He views on the bill had been awaited with considerable interest because of his position as leader of the minority, although the fight over this bill has cut across party lines.

McNary said he favors aid to Britain, but he believed that at the very least, time and money limitations should be written into the bill.

He hopes for modification of it, but he hopes the bill may be modified by appropriate committees or after debate in the congress, McNary said.

Full months the president was advocating aid to Britain short of war, that policy became a national anthem, there was up to the minute, favor the plan and shall support earnestly an all-out policy of aid to the democracies by every means within our power.

He said that the president's policy is to keep our country out of the conflicts of mass murder in Europe, Asia and Africa.

The bill also was condemned today before the house foreign affairs committee by Norman Thomas, the Socialist party leader, who was expressing desire for a British victory and an end to Nazi conquest.

Wrong Democracy
"An America whose democracy is solely dependent upon military victory by the British empire is an America already defeated in its soul," Thomas testified to a Senate subcommittee today.

He testified he favored the proposal for a substitute bill providing loans up to $2,000,000,000 to Britain through the federal loan agency.

The chance under this bill of just limited warfare for any long period would be slim, he said, and it might involve the United States.

ARMY LOYALTY AIDS ANTONESCU

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Troops stood guard here today to prevent military leaders from being ousted by Gen. Ion Antonescu, premier, that peace and order must be re-established through the country.

It was indicated the loyalty of the army to Antonescu had permitted him to control a situation which provided the first great test for his regime.

As a result of the German officer's death, the minister of interior, and the chief of the secret service, had been dismissed for laxity in seeking the assassin.

It was understood the measure had been designed to unify and guarantee Rumanian production.

IDDINGS WARNS ON WAR PROFITS

BOISE, Jan. 22 (U.P.)—D. E. J. Idings of the University of Idaho college of agriculture today called on Idaho farmers to remember the history of 1914 to 1920 and refrain from gambling on the future.

Addressing the annual convention of county and state AAA members, Idings said he hoped "we continue to carry forward the soil conservation phase of the triple A program, because conservation is an organized system of farming which avoids speculative risks."

He said that the program will prepare the country "to meet any difficulties that may develop as the result of war."

Farewell Kiss—or Message—for Garner

Was it a farewell kiss from the executive to his vice-president for two terms, or a whispered message when President Roosevelt, in the high bench, visited supreme court justices to retire at full pay of $20,000 when they reached the age of 70.

McReynolds advised the President, in a letter dated today, he intended to retire at full pay of $20,000 when they reached the age of 70.

McReynolds was 79 on Feb. 3.

Garner was escorted to the airport by a group of nearly identical in their constitutional views that they joined in dissenting the majority opinions long before the New Deal came into being.

McReynolds was the last of that foursome to remain on the bench.

WELCH, W. Va., Jan. 22 (U.P.)—Four miners were killed and 14 others injured today in an explosion at the Caswell mine of the Koppers Coal company near Kimball, six miles east of here.

The mine normally employs 400 men but only 300 were in the mine at time of the explosion.

Rescue crews immediately started to search for bodies of the fatal victims.

The dead: Melvin Smith, 30, cowboy; Leo Kelly, 33, cowboy; and Tom Kelley, 43, Negro, all cowboy men.

An outbreak of gas in a pillar of rock was blamed for the explosion. The company was unable to say what caused the gas to ignite.

SPUD MEN TOLD TO BATTLE FOR ADDED MARKETS

Idaho potato growers "can't afford to sit back and suck their thumbs"—they must expand spud advertising and aggressively seek new markets in the face of present low prices.

The emphatically did Joe P. Marshall, Idaho "potato king" and the only charter member still serving on the state advertising committee, sound the call today for a legislative movement to double the funds available for the commission.

One-Cent Levy
Mr. Marshall made his statement in an Evening Times interview today after announcing that introduction of legislation will be made soon.

Marshall said he has received word that Maine, chief competitor of Idaho, is now planning an additional advertising campaign for Maine potatoes.

They figure they can make an eastern "clean-up," Marshall said, because most of the potatoes are in the west this year and the eastern market is wide open.

As a result of the fact that crop conditions have placed the large bulk of the spuds in the western states, Idaho should militantly advertise its own product, invade the eastern market on a large scale and "share the business with Maine," according to the advertising commission member.

Must Advertise More
Marshall said that—and let me say that this represents our only chance for better prices—we've got to get an increase in our advertising fund.

There is plenty of money back there in the far eastern states for our "spuds," he said. "But we can't sit up here in Idaho and expect to get anywhere. That ought to be obvious to our farmers and to our legislators."

New Danger
Marshall warned that a new danger faces Idaho spud men if this state fails in action for increased advertising.

The big crop is primarily in the west, he said.

CHURCHILL SAYS BRITISH ARMY NUMBERS 4,000,000

LEADER ASSERTS ITALIAN BASE IN AFRICA MAY FALL

LONDON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the house of commons today that Italy's base and garrison of Tobruk may have fallen to the British and that "extremely important" developments are underway in the British drive against Italian east Africa.

Churchill said even as he was speaking "it may well be" that Tobruk has fallen before the withering assault of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's desert forces.

Churchill also said the army and home guard forces now number 4,000,000.

He said sufficient factories have now been established to supply the army with every kind of supply necessary for continuous action against the Germans in Europe.

More than 100,000 workers in the munitions and aircraft industries in the last four years of the world war.

Henry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's personal envoy, said in the commons' gallery as Churchill spoke.

The prime minister's remarks came at conclusion of debate on how Minister Ernest Bevin's proposals for registration of civilian men and women power for use in war production.

"We are now about to enter for the first time in this war a period of manpower stringency," Churchill said, "because for the first time we are going to have apparatus and layouts which this manpower and woman power will be required to handle."

Churchill said Britain's army and air force may have to reduce their demands for skilled manpower in the coming months so labor can be diverted to new factories, shipyards and farms.

Growing in Strength

"Our army is growing in strength, efficiency and equipment," he said, "but it is mainly in the field of agriculture which in the next six months will make the chief demand on the manpower of our country."

After 18 months of fighting between the greatest states, armed with the most deadly weapons, said Churchill, "not more than a few million men, nearly half of whom are civilians, have lost their lives by enemy action."

"This great nation," he said, "is getting into war stride but the future contains no evidence which would justify lassitude, despondency or despair."

TECHNICAL STUDY OFFERED YOUTHS

Candidates for technical training at Chanute field, Ill., home of the army air corps technical school, are now being interviewed at recruiting stations throughout this section of Idaho, it was announced here this afternoon.

Those interested in applying for such training from this section should get in touch with recruiting officials at either Boise or Pocatello until the early part of next month, at which time Sgt. Frank Morris, officer in charge of the Twin Falls station, returns from special duty at San Francisco.

To be eligible for this training, a candidate must have a high school education or its equivalent, be of good moral character, in good physical condition, between the ages of 18 and 35, single with no dependents, and have a record clear of felony convictions. If less than 21, parental consent is necessary.

Openings at the school are available for 1,725 young men and the airplane mechanics course, with several specialties courses in allied fields is featured. Chanute field is nearing culmination of one of the greatest expansion programs in the history of the army air corps, the ultimate expenditure of which will reach $100,000,000, it was pointed out.

To the air corps itself, this program is a method of securing qualified specialists so vital to the successful maintenance of its aircraft. It will also aid in national defense and in civilian production.

Date, 1911; Event, 1st Time Idaho Spuds on Noted Menu

The Idaho potato week—and Idaho is boasting its spuds throughout the nation, including an effort to put the name "Idaho potatoes" on menus in leading hotels and restaurants.

So let's hark back to 1911 for what spud men term the first time the Idaho spud went on a big hotel menu under its own name.

Getters Maneuvered It

The Gem state potato industry was in its infancy then and it was a Twin Falls man, H. C. Getters, who maneuvered the name "Idaho potatoes" onto the dinner card of the famed Blackstone hotel in Chicago. He did it like this:

Chicago was staging its once noted "hull show" consisting of produce from all western states. Getters, who already held interests in the Twin Falls tract, was associated with the hull show. He offered the Blackstone hotel 50 sacks of Idaho's finest potatoes free of charge on condition that the management place the word "Idaho" on the bill of fare.

The management accepted, probably because the hull show had created a furore by giving away two carloads of Idaho spuds—and Chicagoans jumped tracks around the oil well show. He offered the Blackstone hotel 50 sacks of Idaho's finest potatoes free of charge on condition that the management place the word "Idaho" on the bill of fare.

Mr. Getters came to Twin Falls in 1909, going back and forth from here to Chicago for a number of years. He has lived here permanently since 1914, buying a 250-acre ranch east of Hamden.

Methodist Group Plans Remodeling

Program of renovation for the Methodist church interior had been decided on today by the men's club of the church.

Meeting last night with President Scott Ellsworth presiding, the group selected committees to handle details of the renovation. Funds were raised by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Topic discussed by Dr. H. W. Herriot, major speaker last night, was "Christian Stewardship and Fellowship." Consistent attendance at church and church functions, he said, is one vital means of participating in such fellowship.

Rev. H. G. McCullister, pastor, offered invocation. A mixed quartet, Lillian Laubenthal, Edna Foster, Chastice Dudley and Milo Pearson, presented several numbers. Accompanist was Lorenz Fuller.

Mrs. Laubenthal presented a reading as part of the intermission. Following the session, the club members played table tennis.

Fred Latham was program chairman.

The sophomore class, of which Mr. Jones was advisor, presented him with a fitted case and the basketball boys gave him a farewell present.

"Another incident which shows the esteem in which Mr. Jones is held here was the singing of 'Auld Lang Syne' by the whole crowd of spectators by the Etern-Castleford basketball game Friday evening in the gym, accompanied by the school band.

Dorothy Brown, John Davis and June Claypool, high school cheer leaders, led the singing.

Potatoes Are Versatile: Here's Some Real Proof

The old argument between the traditional service of foods and the something new and different attitude is just about as hard to settle as the ever confusing hereditarily vs. environment question.

Potatoes have long been an American custom but they may be there in such a variety of ways that there is no excuse for not trying them. The only rule to remember is to choose good potatoes, the kind that will boil and mash into fluffy, white mass; which when baked have white meaty middles; which when fried, fry tender and with an even golden brown. Such a potato is the Idaho Russet.

School Finance Program Offered At PTA Meeting

Twin Falls has the lowest levy of any of the larger districts in the state and below average, Supt. Homer M. Davis told members of the Junior-Senior high school of the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening at the school auditorium.

In his question-and-answer method of presenting school finances on a comparative basis leading up to the equalization law, Supt. Davis also brought out the fact that although enrollment has increased approximately 33 per cent in the local school in the past 10 years, the expenditure for schools has remained the same.

Lee Johnson proposed legislation which he said the delegate assembly would like to see passed. Mrs. Bert Bollingbroke, program chairman, was introduced by Mrs. Scott Edson, president.

John Soden, member of the school board, discussed the school budget. Since Dec. 2, 2,350 hot lunches have been served, averaging 154 daily, according to Mrs. Paul Moeley, hot lunch chairman.

SLIP MADIGAN PROPOSED AS RIVAL COACH

Stronger Financial Support Demanded For U. of I. Teams

MOSCOW, Jan. 22 (UP)—Editor Bill Johnston of the University of Idaho student newspaper declared today that only strong financial support would solve Idaho's athletic problems.

Johnston said that the alumni of Idaho must give any new football coach financial support if they hope to have good football teams.

Meanwhile, students circulated petitions seeking appointment of Slip Madigan, former St. Mary's coach, as a successor to Ted Bank, Vandal grid coach for the last five years whose contract is not going to be renewed.

If Madigan were selected he would bring to Idaho the prestige of a big-time name and it was believed that he could, inside of two or three years, make the Vandals a threat in the Pacific Coast conference play.

Madigan graduates of the University of Idaho continued to get first mention when it comes to naming successors to Bank. Bob Testal and Forrest Twogood, the latter basketball mentor.

Northern Idaho coaches figured prominently in the talk and Wallace R. Telford, Coeur d'Alene case mentor, was reported to have the strong support of alumni and fans of that sector for the basketball post. Another man mentioned was George Green, Lewiston Normal coach, who has been building good grid teams at the Idaho school for several years.

Ingram Mentioned Mel Ingram of Wallace was another much-talked-of prospect in this territory and is reported to be a supporter of the basketball regents. Green could also come from some support from one of the regents.

But names like Orville Hult of Albion Normal, who has turned out a long string of successful basketball and football teams; R. L. (Reddy) Matthews, who gained national fame a couple of years ago at Portland University; J. A. (Babe) Brown of Moscow high school and Guy Wickes of U.S.J. popping into the picture and will probably receive some consideration before appointment is made.

Shoshone Wins Over Dietrich In Close Tilt

SHOSHONE, Jan. 22 (Special)—Shoshone Indians stood off a strong Pacific Coast team in the first quarter here last night to eke out a 21-18 victory over the invaders in a nip-and-tuck game.

The Dietrich quietest started to click and poured in the baskets—made 11 of 13 points short of knocking the count.

Shoshone honors for the evening were divided between Albert and Cannon of Shoshone with six points each, while Henry and Clegg each got five for the boys.

Prize money contest went to the home club by a 17-14 count.

Hult Awards Albion Normal Grid Letters

ALBION, Jan. 22 (Special)—Football awards were presented Friday morning in assembly in the gymnasium by Coach Orville Hult.

Those receiving sweaters were William Eyles, Bob Albertson, Charles Mahoney, Ralph Heyworth, all of Albion.

Stanford Barrett, DeWitt Regan, Wendell; Jack Wick, Max Johnson, Burnett; Paul Hosenbaker, Charles; Hill Perry, Wain Foster, Allan Anderson; Paul Hanson, Heywood; Kenneth Frazier, Vernon Perry; William Packard, Kayville, Utah; Merrill Hufschlager, Albion; Charles Pugh, Aberdeen; James Egan, Elgin, Wash. Put Haney in Charge of Draft and He Would Call Feller, DiMag, Greenberg

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22 (UP)—The American league wants to have the closest battle in its history this year, all it has to do is place Fred Haney in charge of the draft.

Not the baseball draft, mind you, but the selective service one.

The first thing Haney, who, as you know, manages the St. Louis Browns, would do would be to see that Dick Feller, Fred Greenberg, Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Bob Newson got into the army, and into a hurry.

There are the fellows, Haney told me, who make for the balance of power in the American league. Take them off their teams and Cleveland, Detroit, New York and Boston wouldn't have a great deal on the rest of us.

On the off-chance that he wouldn't be placed in charge of the draft, what Haney's mainest would do would be to see that his club had the best season of their old stands.

He gave me this history: New York, Cleveland, Boston, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Washington and Philadelphia.

There is only one chance to stop the Yankees, Haney said. "And that's a slim one. But it's a chance just the same. We must beat them to death in the spring. Get on them and lock them before they get a chance to settle down. Joe McCarthy is bringing in a lot of new players. He must experiment. If he happens to find the club that clicks during spring training, or in April, there'll be no beating him."

The only team with a real chance to lock the Yanks is Cleveland. Any team with Feller in there throwing for it is a better team.

Boston and Detroit might dislodge as ignis with enough to be good but not enough to be great. As a matter of fact, in letting them above his own Browns, he didn't want too shrewd. When Dick Greenberg was drafted, I was in San Francisco, a pretty fair judge of baseball by the name of Dick Greenberg.

Washington is a real contender, the American league this year. I

Pirates Come Long Way on Little Talent Under Frisch

Pittsburghers May Fall to Lower Levels

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates came a long way in one season under Frankie Frisch. For years they were the village crows, the boys who could play ball but would rather have fun, but Frisch changed that last season. He converted them into a hustling, scrapping outfit and brought them up from sixth place to fourth.

The Pirates may continue to improve in that job. Frisch is likely to be a lot tougher. The club is defensively sound and the pitching isn't too classy. But the Pirates can sock.

Third base isn't settled because the Pittsburgh roster shows DeB. Connors, National League batting champ, who finished the season at the hot corner, listed as an outfielder but may forsake a major league career to continue with the Brooklyn football Dodgers.

Pittsburgh's outfield of Maurice Van Robyns in left, Vince DiMaggio in center and Bob Elliott in right is likely to be an even better trio in 1941. If Green shifts to the outfield he is likely to have to ride the bench unless he can out Van Robyns from his job.

Best of the rest of the roster outfielders appear to be Eddie Stewart of San Diego, and Floyd Young of Little Rock.

Pitching Staff The best pitcher on the Pittsburgh staff last season was Rip Sewell, who won 18 and lost five, and he is likely to be top man again. He should get the most help from Joe Bowman, Max Baer, Dick Lanning and Ken Heintzmann, all from last year's staff.

Best of the rest of the roster is a question mark. Joe Clee, last year's $35,000 rookie who was a flop because of arm trouble, will be back. Seven rookie pitchers are listed but only one of them, Jay Wilkie, a southpaw from Seattle, won more than half his games.

The Pirates' catching staff is top-notch, with Al Lopez recovered from injuries and ready to catch 100 games. There'll be quite a battle around Joe Schultz, of Montreal, Ray Mueller, of Rochester, and Eddie Fernandez, who joined the Pirates last season from Portland, for the No. 2 job. Virgil Davis probably will perform as a third-stringer.

Glore of Ingerman, who had 11 points, while Farnely had nine for the visitors.

The Ingerman girls gave the powerful Glenns Perry sextet a strong fight in the preliminary, but succumbed by a 23-21 count. Glenns Perry led 13-2 at the quarter and 17-11 at the half.

In the three-minute extra frame, Vernon Farnely connected for a basket and then three free throws tucked the game away for Coach Kenneth Barrett's quarter.

Ingerman held a 2-2 advantage at the end of the first quarter and had stretched the lead to 10-8 at the half. But the visitors rallied in the third frame and closed in, with only a minute to go in the last quarter.

Ingerman led by two points, but a Glenns Perry error connected on a toss that tied the game and sent it into the extra session.

The opening game of the evening went to the Ingerman junior varsity by a score of 23-13.

Glenns Ferry Cagers Win Over-Time Tilt

INGERMAN, Jan. 22 (Special)—Hagerman and Glenns Ferry boys' basketball clubs agreed a thriller here last night with the River Pilots staging a great rally to come out on top in an overtime period by a score of 28-24 after the regular playing time had ended with the two teams in a 23-23 deadlock.

In the three-minute extra frame, Vernon Farnely connected for a basket and then three free throws tucked the game away for Coach Kenneth Barrett's quarter.

Jerome entertains Shoshone slugs in 20 rounds at the Jerome high school, with 10 bouts scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. The Kimberly battles commence at 8 p.m.

Both cards are expected to attract big crowds, with upwards of 1,000 predicted for the Bulldog gymnasium and at least 500 or 600 in the Jerome arena.

WILLKIE BOARDS CLIPPER ON FACT-FINDING MISSION

WON'T MAKE ANY OFFICIAL REPORT ON RETURN TRIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie left for Britain aboard a transatlantic clipper today on a private fact-finding mission.

The Yankee clipper bearing the 1940 Republican presidential candidate and two friends as passengers, took off from LaGuardia airport bound for Lisbon, Portugal, where the Willkie party will transfer to a British passenger plane to go to Britain. They should arrive in London Friday. Mrs. Willkie kissed him goodbye and waved as the plane took off.

His friends were John Cowles, president of the Minneapolis Star-Journal, and Landon K. Thorne, banker.

No Report Plans

After he had cleared customs and had his passport inspected, Willkie was asked if he would make a report to President Roosevelt when he returned.

"Well, no," he replied. "I have no plans for that. You see, I'm not going in any official capacity. I'm going as Wendell Willkie, private citizen, and my friends are going also as private citizens. I'm traveling on my own passport."

He planned to return about Feb. 10 and had made no arrangements for a speaking tour after that.

Things to Say

"I will undoubtedly have things to say about what I learn, but I have no definite plans to speak. And I wish you would explain that I have no plans to speak for myself while I'm in England and will not speak at all outside of what may be necessary in response to kindness."

Willkie and his friends expect to interview Britons in all walks of life to learn as much as possible of the state of British defenses and British plans for the post war world.

In Spotlight at Medical Gathering

Physicians playing an important part in last night's election and installation session of the South Side Medical society are shown above as they inspected a slide projector and slides which were used in connection with a technical discussion program. Physicians shown left to right are Dr. H. L. Stone, re-elected secretary-treasurer; Dr. George C. Halley, voted president-elect for 1942; Dr. Laurence Selling, chief of the medical staff at the University of Oregon medical school; Dr. Thomas M. Joyce, chief of the surgical staff of the same institution; Dr. C. T. Parkinson, installed as president of the society for this year. (Times Photo and Engraving)

Do Not Give Cathartics for Stomach Pain, Doctor Says

Don't give a cathartic when a young or an adult develops a stomach pain.

"That was one of the least technical pieces of medical advice and probably the most important from the layman's standpoint—given the South Side Medical society last night by Dr. Thomas M. Joyce, chief of the surgical staff, University of Oregon medical school.

Two Noted Speakers

Dr. Joyce and Dr. Laurence Selling, chief of the medical staff at the same institution, were major speakers at the medical organization's dinner meeting, election and clinical discussion at the Park hotel.

The Oregon surgical chief pointed out the grave danger in giving a cathartic when a person is awakened at night with a pain in the abdomen, or develops such a pain during the day.

He asserted that 60 per cent of those who died in 725 cases of appendicitis had taken cathartics before calling a physician.

"The important thing is that a normal, healthy person who develops a pain in the stomach should see a physician before doing anything else. Pain is the most important symptom. It usually starts in the upper abdomen, and then moves to the right side, but it can be anywhere."

Mothers at Fault

Dr. Joyce said that mothers are particularly to blame in many appendicitis cases among children because "the minute their child gets a pain in the stomach they run for the doctor," which is the wrong thing to do.

Dr. Selling, the other major speaker, discussed technical subjects of paramount importance. He illustrated his talk with slides.

Business portion of the medical society gathering saw Dr. C. T. Parkinson, elected one year ago, installed as president for 1941. Elected to succeed Dr. Parkinson when his term expires and to serve during 1942, was Dr. George C. Halley. Other officers include: Dr. H. L. Stone, re-elected secretary-treasurer; and Dr. M. J. Flomberg, named chairman of standing committees.

Dr. Parkinson succeeds Dr. H. E. Lamb as society president.
