Idaho House Clears Calendar for Debate on University Bill

Vote Predicted Late Today to Get 4-Year School at Pocatello

By LLOYD TUPLING
BOISE, Feb. 7 (UP)—The Idaho house of representatives today boomed through a full calendar of minor measures and cleared the way for debate and consideration of the controversial bill to establish a four-year university at Pocatello.

Ten measures were on the calendar when the house convened, and all but the four-year university bill were disposed of before a recess was called.

Debate on the bill which would make the University of Idaho branch at Pocatello a full-fledged university was expected to occupy most of the afternoon session, with the vote coming late today.

Supporters of the four-year proposal began forming their battle lines early. Speaker F. M. Hastings, D., Bannock, one of the bill's chief sponsors, turned the chair over to Rep. Nathan Thornley, R., Carbon, so Thornley could take part in debate when the bill came to the floor.

4-Year School
Principal provisions of the measure would convert the two-year Pocatello branch into an institution offering degrees in the same courses as the university in Moscow. The school would be independent of the University of Idaho, would have its own faculty and would be financed by the state.

Conversion would be accomplished by July 1, 1942.

North Idaho representatives opposed the bill, claiming that the institution would be divided between the two sections.

Anticipating the impending battle, house members acted rapidly on the minor bills on the calendar.

The house approved unanimously companion bills which provide for a change in the beginning of the state fiscal year from July 1 to July 1. Also approved was a measure to make persons injured in accidents who have claims against a city to file their claims within 90 days.

The house killed a bill which would have given villages a larger portion of taxes for highway maintenance.

The administration's request for creation of a department of insurance was approved by the house. The new department will take over the insurance investigation work formerly done by the state civil administrative division which was created.

Senate Backing
In the senate, approval was given a house bill to reduce the minimum sentence for rape to one year imprisonment and six months' probation in regard to maximum sentence. The vote was 27 to 11.

Bills also passed the senate which relate to the state highway fund.

8 BODIES TAKEN FROM BOMBER IN MOUNTAIN CRASH

LOVELOCK, Nev., Feb. 7 (UP)—The shattered body of a single-engine fighter, killed when their flying fortress smashed into a desert mountain and exploded, were brought into Lovelock today as the army prepared a formal inquiry into the mysterious accident.

Army officers refused to speculate on what caused the big bomber, loaded with secret experimental equipment to come screaming out of the clouds in a power dive and flatten itself on the side of Ragged Top mountain. There was an unofficial suggestion of sabotage.

The charred broken bodies of the eight victims, strapped in their un-used parachutes, were still hot from the scorching explosion of 2,600 gallons of gasoline and undetected and burned their hands as the bodies were loaded into GOC trucks and brought here.

The plane, guarded by 12 GOC men, lay in a molten heap with twisted metal on its sides attesting the blasting heat of the explosion. The impact of the crash would have generated enough heat to fire the gasoline tanks even if the ignition had been out, observers said.

Army officers stripped off some of the plane's most secret instruments which included the famed Norden bombight—although everything on the bomber was burned and melted almost beyond recognition.

The rescue party finished its work shortly after midnight and left the 12 GOC men to guard the wreckage in the glacial red light of railroad flares.

The wreck lay in a barren desert country 90 miles from Lovelock. A rule road, paved within 75 feet of the crumpled bomber, but the nearest house was in Lovelock, 100 miles away.

The rescue party was led and captained by Lt. Col. B. J. Tucker, Capt. R. T. Black and Lt. J. J. Kennedy, assisted by Acting Sheriff Jay Gibson, Corcoran Officer Young was to hold his inquest at the same time.

Identification of the bodies appeared almost a hopeless task, since nearly every bit of metal and wood was melted or charred. Only one of the bodies remained intact through the crash.

Remains were buried at McCallan field, Sacramento, Calif., from which the four-motored bomber took off Monday morning for Leway field, Denver. Reported flying and engine of planes, in repair shops here.

Victims of German Raiders Stranded on Isle

Victims of German sea raiders in the Pacific rest on lonely Emirau island off the coast of Australia after being rescued by one of the raiding ships. Later they were rescued by ships of the royal Australia navy, taken to an Australian port. This picture was taken by a member of the crew of the sunken liner Sanyang.

Africa Prisoner Total Mounts to Mark of 100,000

By H. L. PERCY
LONDON, Feb. 7 (UP)—British empire forces, driving 160 miles through choking, blinding dust storms in seven days, have captured Benghazi, capital of Italian Cyrenaica, and the last important city in eastern Libya, the high command of the army of the Nile announced today.

A brief special communique from British general headquarters announced: "Benghazi is now in our hands."

The great Italian north African army, smashed into broken remnants, with more than 100,000 of its officers and men prisoners, was fleeing in disorder toward Tripoli in western Libya, near the French Tunisia frontier. All Cyrenaica, 200 Italian miles wide, had fallen in British hands. British had gained a great port and naval base on the coast from which to bomb Tripoli and Italy. Italian and German planes had been pushed back to a point where they could no longer bomb Alexandria or Rome from north African bases.

RAP Navy Assets
Brief official dispatches said military resources, including that royal air force planes, bombing and machine gunning roads and village strong points and the royal navy, its fleet steaming along the coast hurling shells into the fleeing Italians, had added the army of the Nile to its ranks.

So quickly had come the fall of Benghazi that authorities here were surprised at the news.

"Our losses were not advanced as a tremendous figure," a spokesman said. "The Italian army had been in Egypt in 60 days and had taken about 110,000 prisoners and five strongly fortified towns. They had fought together for a dozen solid months."

ABANDONED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—The national draft board has abandoned a 43-year search for Dominico Durtario in order to advise him he was deferred from military service during the World War.

Durtario registered for the draft in Los Angeles Feb. 7, 1918, and his local board mailed a card to his parents in California because of his dependents. The card was exchanged several times between the draft board and the war department, but never did reach Durtario.

RAILROADERS TO VOTE ON STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—E. M. Clegg, secretary of its major railroad union, said today strikes among 750,000 employees of class 1 railroads on Feb. 12.

The decision to act, a strike vote was approved by the house of railroad workers was reached by union leaders after George M. Harrison, union head, conferred with President Roosevelt.

"The strike ballots will be in the mail on Feb. 12," Jewell said. "We are going to proceed with our plans. The chiefs of the 14 unions will meet on March 20 to count the vote."

Harrison returned to the Cincinnati, O., headquarters of the Railroad Brotherhoods last night. Jewell said he planned to leave today for Chicago to complete plans for the strike vote.

President Roosevelt was said to have suggested to Harrison that he confer with John J. Pelly, president of the association of American railroads, in an effort to work out an agreement.

"I know of no plan for a conference with Pelly," Jewell said. "We are going to proceed as planned. We, of course, hope an agreement can be reached without a strike."

Aviation Expert Asserts U.S. Air Power Is "Myth"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Major Al Williams, noted speed flyer and aviation writer, estimated today Germany's plane production may be running as high as 4,500 to 5,000 a month and expressed doubt England could win the war. Williams testified before the senate foreign relations committee in opposition to the British aid bill.

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Major Al Williams, aviation expert, said today the administration's British aid policy had reduced American air power to a "myth" and that passage of the pending bill would amount to "virtual suicide of the American way of life."

"America today is woefully deficient in air power," he told the senate foreign relations committee. "In fact American air power is a myth. The neglect to provide that vital arm for America's national defense system is nothing short of criminal."

He accused the administration of seeking a "black check on the American way of life" and of "slandering the United States in the eyes of the world."

Williams charged the administration was guilty of "perpetual promotion of hysteria concerning the 'myth' of our air power."

He opposed the pending British aid bill, he said, because it "negates all chances of developing American air power."

STIMSON CLAIMS AIDS TO BRITAIN STRENGTHEN U.S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson asserted today that U. S. military aid to Britain has helped build up a British air force "which is now reasonably expected to meet the crisis of this year" and has strengthened our own national defense.

The senatorial interpellation... is that, by the delivery of planes from this country to Britain, our own defense is strengthened.

Stimson's letter said that foreign orders enabled the U. S. airplane industry to expand approximately 100 per cent in the last two years, with this result:

"By helping the British to build up an air force which is now reasonably expected to successfully meet the crisis of this year, we have thereby strengthened our own security through Britain's increased defense power. We have put ourselves into a production position which will make us immensely more powerful than we would otherwise have been at the first blow could fall on us."

Without the foreign orders, placed long before the U. S. was providing funds for building up its own air force, Stimson said, the country today would be in a grave situation as to the plants and facilities which we now need for the production of our own planes.

Stimson said a Washington newspaper, which he did not name, had published an incorrect account of his secret testimony.

Late FLASHES

ROME, Feb. 7 (UP)—Hundreds of Italian troops were stationed around the United States embassy today as military elements prepared to march to the city.

The troops around the embassy and the nearby United States consulate general were full war equipment.

The demonstrations followed those in the Plaza di Spagna yesterday.

Demonstrators today protested the British aid bill now being debated by congress in Washington.

LONDON, Feb. 7 (UP)—British planes heavily attacked the French invasion ports of Fecamp, Dieppe, Boulogne, Calais and Dunkirk during the night, the air ministry said today.

Docks and port works were the chief targets. Bombs reported many bombs burst in the dock areas and that several large fires were started. The raid was made despite bad weather.

TWELVE DIE IN CANADIAN CRASH

ARMBRISTON, Ont., Feb. 7 (UP)—A Canadian Airlines plane that crashed a mile from the emergency landing field here, killing 12 passengers and crew of three, was planned to proceed as planned.

The wreckage was found a mile south of the north-south runway at Armbriston, where the wing apparently had struck a tree in the descent, shearing off the wing. The fuselage had been buried under 100 feet of snow and had come to rest on its back in deep snow.

Twelve passengers were still strapped to the seats, indicating they had died without a struggle. The wreckage was buried and the mail cargo was retrieved in good condition.

House Turns Down Direct "Slap" at Soviet Russia

By JOHN R. BEAL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—The house today defeated an amendment to exclude Soviet Russia from receiving American aid under the British-aid program after administration leaders had warned that the proposed action would drive Russia into the axis orbit.

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 185 to 94. It was introduced by Rep. George Holden Tinkham, R., Miss.

It is the present form of the bill against civilization as we know it, against everything in the Anglo-Saxon world."

Tinkham protested that the bill, as now drafted, proposed to "put all the assets of the United States" behind Russia, as well as Britain, Greece and China.

In its present form the bill authorizes the loan, lease or grant of arms to any nation whose defense President Roosevelt deems vital to the defense of the United States. "Tinkham proposed to add the words 'except Soviet Russia.'"

"Realistic slap?"
Administration leaders pleaded for defeat of the proposal on grounds it was a "gratuitous slap" at Russia which might drive her into the axis orbit.

"This is not the hour, and this is not the place," said Rep. Luther A. Johnson, D., Tex., "to write in an amendment which is merely a gratuitous slap in the face."

It was, it is, it is prudent, to slap Russia in the face now when Germany and Italy and Japan are trying to get her in the axis camp? It would be the kick that would drive her into the enemy camp.

Only Peffer
"It would be most pleasing to Mr. Hitler, it would be most pleasing to Japan to adopt the amendment," Johnson agreed with Rep. Warren O. Magnuson, D., Wash., that Russia was the United States' only buffer in the Orient against Japan.

Democratic Leader John W. McComb of Massachusetts also opposed the amendment. McComb said that the Russian aid bill had no monopoly on opposition to Russia, but it was "unwise and dangerous" to inject into the pending bill by an amendment to arouse that country's opposition.

The house approved by unanimous vote a certain amendment to the committee amendment to the bill, striking none of its provisions and also the mutually act has an additional American merchant ships into war zones designated by the President.

HOUSE TO FIGHT AID BILL SHIFTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—The aid bill house Democratic leadership will fight against any further changes in the British-aid bill, except for amendments approved by the foreign affairs committee.

This indicated the leadership would oppose the proposal of Rep. James M. Watson, R., Ohio, to place a $7,000,000 ceiling on the British aid program.

It also indicated some amendments might be offered which would be "acceptable" to the committee.

Rayburn said the leadership would oppose an amendment by Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y., to prohibit the President from "giving away" any part of the navy under the bill. A fight also will be made against another Republican attempt to write a $2,000,000,000 limitation on the measure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (UP)—The war department said today the recent increase in the number of air corps plane crashes was due to the high level for the season in 11 years.

SCOUTS REFLECT DEFENSE TRENDS

To do its part toward strengthening and invigorating democracy the Boy Scouts movement, will during Boy Scout week which started today, reflect the national mood of the United States by training its members for instant and effective action.

Gordon A. Day, executive of the Snake river area council with headquarters in Twin Falls, said this afternoon.

Scout troops of the Snake river area council and through the country have prepared plans to quickly mobilize Scouts in the event of local or national crisis. The training day said, can in most cases assemble their entire membership within one hour. Troops conducted here have shown that the majority of the troops can assemble their Boy Scouts in less time than any other group of similar size.

Look Ahead

"Cognizant of the necessity for Americans to be ready to act intelligently and efficiently in times of emergency both in peace and in war, the Boy Scouts of the Snake river valley are looking forward to future service opportunities," Day said. "Each Boy Scout undergoes intensive training designed to ready him for effective action when cool-headed thinking is needed."

Boy Scouts cooperating with the American Red-Cross and the Twin Falls Community Chest authorities in the distribution of literature for public safety education work as they serve, when practicable, as aids to the various police departments at large gatherings.

Local fire departments seeking to eradicate community fire hazards make use of Scouts in their fight against waste.

Mapping Project

"With an eye to the national defense program, some Scout troops in this section have mobilized maps and chart supplies to determine sources of surplus food supply and to secure other data for the information of the authorities."

The "whole program" of the movement is built around the Boy Scout motto—"Be Prepared." The Prepared Scouts of Twin-Falls were observing "good turn day" today and Saturday will listen to a national broadcast at 8:00 p. m. at which they will be asked to rededicate themselves to Scouting. The program's speakers will include Gov. C. A. Dwyer, Roosevelt and Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive. The program will be broadcast on KTRN.

To Church-Sunday

Sunday all Boy Scouts will attend the church of their own belief, going in uniform if possible. Ministers plan special sermons on Scouting.

Next week they will attend various functions including a court of honor on Wednesday, Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday. The court of honor for the Twin Falls district will be held at the district court rooms and parents and friends of the various Scouts are welcome to attend.

Various downtown stores have placed special window displays showing in uniform if possible. Ministers plan special sermons on Scouting.

ARMY OBJECTORS WORK IS SLATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt today issued an executive order authorizing selective service director C. A. Dwyer to prescribe "work of national importance" for conscientious objectors.

The order applies to citizens "conscientiously opposed to combatant and non-combatant service in the land or naval forces of the United States," and prescribes that their work shall be under civilian direction.

Dwyer was given authority to make all assignments for such work. He shall determine the agencies, organizations, or individuals who will direct the work.

"Everything to Make Living More Pleasant"

HEARING OPENS IN MEDICAL BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Dr. Hugh Cabot, Boston surgeon and a leader in the cooperative medicine movement, testified today at the government's anti-trust action against the American Medical Association that the group medical practice is not a new, untested innovation but has been in existence many years.

Defense attorneys for the AMA, three affiliated societies and 20 prominent physicians told the court in opening statements that group medical practice was an experiment and does not merit community dependence. The AMA and the other defendants are under indictment on charges of restraining and hindering the operation of Group Health Association, Inc., a government-sponsored cooperative providing medical care for dues-paying members on a risk-sharing basis.

"Grouping of doctors for purposes of more effective practice goes back many years," Dr. Cabot testified.

He described the operation of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., which until recently he was consulting surgeon. Doctors there are paid on a salary basis. He said the clinic was the first, private group of doctors to utilize the "advantage of close relationship" among specialized colleagues.

The first copyright act in the United States was passed May 31, 1790.

British Clean-up in Africa Termed "Unprecedented Achievement"

ITALIAN FORCES LOSE 100,000 IN DEFENSE FIGHTS

By J. W. T. Mason
Washington, Feb. 6 (AP)—The British capture of Benghazi in the British north African blitzkrieg is the culmination of an unprecedented achievement in colonial warfare. Within two months, an Italian force of about 250,000 men has been driven from Egypt and expelled from the Libyan province of Cyrenaica, with loss of over 100,000 prisoners, while British-Canadian troops have inflicted over 100,000 casualties.

Today, the remnants of this defeated army are being moved to the furthest corner of the Tripolitanian province of Libya. General Graziani decided not to risk defending Benghazi. His previous lack of success in the desert, the loss of his equipment, and the heavy losses that he had suffered, had convinced him that it was impossible to hold Benghazi, and the British have caught up with the retreating column. It is unreasonable to believe that the Italian army, under Marshal Graziani's command, has any chance of escaping.

Should that occur, a condition unique in modern warfare would arise. France has capitulated to Germany and Italy, still the French north African empire, under General Weygand, is being held in independence, refusing to allow its territory to be used as a base by the axis.

Gen. Graziani is compelled to make his final retreat into French territory, would Gen. Weygand be allowed to allow the Italian army to be used as a base for the Axis? Gen. Weygand normally would insist that the Italians have no means of escape other than crossing the border into French Tunisia, 100 miles to the west.

RETIREMENT PROGRAMS GIVEN HOUSE APPROVAL

BOISE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Two pension bills providing retirement programs for supreme court and district court judges and Boise school teachers were approved by the Idaho house of representatives.

The teachers pension measure was a special bill provided for under the Boise city charter. Its passage did not affect other school systems. Teachers will contribute part of their salaries each month to the program and the city will match the contributions.

The measure to pension judges will require a special state fund to be created. Revenue will be derived by increasing fees on legal papers, contributions by judges and an equal matching appropriation by the state. The plan, which could be used to serve the state legislatures.

Sen. Glenn Howell, R. Boise, led the fight against the bill, saying that it is time to let the federal agencies to keep their hands out of our state educational affairs.

The bill to create a four-year university at Pocatello, which has been studied by the house education committee, was nearly two weeks, was reported out.

GANGSTER AIDE IS SLAIN IN NEW YORK APARTMENT

BUCHALTER MAN SHOT WATCHING FRIEND'S BABY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (Special)—Benjamin (Benny the Boss) Tannenbaum, lieutenant of Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, millionaire racketeer, was shot to death last night in a Bronx apartment while he watched the four-month-old daughter of a friend, a fingerprint check showed today.

Police had investigated the slaying in a routine fashion, thinking the then unidentified man had been the victim of robbers. Fingerprint revealed him to be a high figure of the country's underworld.

Tannenbaum was watching the four-month-old daughter of Max Helmer, while Helmer and his wife were out for the evening.

At 9:30 o'clock, Mrs. Bertha Lipsitz, who lives in the adjoining apartment, heard furniture being hurled about. Five shots were fired. Two of them pierced the wall separating the Helmer living room from the Lipsitz kitchen and fell, spent, near the sink.

When police arrived, the front door was locked. They entered by way of a fire escape, and found a lamp smashed on the floor of the living room, a table overturned, the rug badly soiled, and bloodstains on the floor. A blackjack lay in the middle of the room.

In the next room, baby Paulette Helmer slept undisturbed.

Helmer and his wife returned early this morning. Helmer was shocked to learn the identity of his friend, whom he had known only as an accountant, apparently an honest man. He did not know that some months ago, an aide of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey had called him a member of "the most vicious and ruthless gang New York has ever known."

Helmer said he had met Tannenbaum last summer at a summer resort. Helmer is renting the apartment for the building in which he lives, which is owned by his brother-in-law, and Tannenbaum helped him with his bookkeeping.

Police said Tannenbaum had been a strong arm man for Lepke and Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro in the racket dealings. He had been arrested a number of times.

Canal Directors Choose Delegates

SHOSHONE, Feb. 7 (Special)—At their regular meeting, the board of directors of the Big Wood Canal company named the Canal and Willard Nelson to represent the company at the annual watermasters' election for Big Wood River to be held at the Hatley courthouse March 2.

The board voted to trade in the manager's office for a new coupe and have the car for the grading contractor to build a bridge across the Dietrich main canal. Manager Baer reviewed the pending House Bill 300 before the Idaho legislature and Attorney Bissell stated that he had been in Boise and the bill would probably be withdrawn and incorporated in another one to be introduced later.

The monthly payroll for the company showed an expenditure of $12,200.87, leaving a balance of $12,960.11.

Quiet, Studious Winant Takes Over Envoy Post

By United Press
Selection of a man of John Gilbert Winant's type as envoy to London indicated the emphasis the administration is giving to the problem of long-range cooperation with the British empire, looking toward peace and economic reconstruction after the war.

He is quiet, studious New Englander who started talking about the short work week and job security back in the lush boom days of 1928.

A U. S. representative and since 1929 director of the international labor office, Winant became a close friend of Ernest Bevin, the minister of labor in the Churchill cabinet and who is mentioned as a likely successor to Britain's war prime minister when the reconstruction era arrives.

Rapid Rise
Winant's rise in public service has been rapid since 1924 when a group of young New Hampshire Republican progressives decided that he was the man to force the regular Republican party organization in that state to nominate younger and more liberal men for office. Not many days, use of leisure, economy in government and especially the care of the poor.

He was born in New York City Feb. 23, 1889. He attended St. Paul's school at Concord, N. H., and holds degrees from Dartmouth and Princeton. He has three children, two sons and a daughter. In 1917 he enlisted in Paris as a private in the A. E. F. and became a captain in the first aero squadron.

CAREY MISSION WORKERS FETED

CAREY, Feb. 7 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Owen Barton and members of the M.I.A. of the L.D.S. church gave a farewell party last Saturday evening for Miss Margaret Barton and James Wildes, who left early Sunday morning for Salt Lake City on the first lap of their journey to their respective mission fields. Games were played and each guest presented both James and Margaret with a farewell gift. Refreshments were served.

One night last week the whole community met at the Carey high school auditorium for a farewell social and dance in honor of the departing missionaries. A program consisting of skits, songs, and instrumental numbers was given.

Miss Barton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Barton, Carey, and was a student of the Utah State agricultural college at Logan, Utah. James Wildes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ermanual Wildes, also of Carey. James graduated from Albion State Normal school last June.

Miss Barton will do missionary work in the eastern states mission field with headquarters in New York City and James will go into the southeastern states mission field with headquarters in Louisville, Ky. They will both be gone about two years.
