NEW PLAN USED FOR JEROME NYA

Because of a shortage of youth in Jerome eligible for NYA employment on educational-work projects there, J. G. Wood, field supervisor, today announced a "new setup" which will place placements in the north side city.

Mr. Wood said that youths from Twin Falls, who can qualify under NYA requirements, will be sent to Jerome, traveling from Twin Falls to Jerome and back each work day by automobile.

For each farm work in Jerome, two cars can be employed to haul from three to six youths in each car, to the farm and back each day. The car owners will be paid four cents a mile for not more than 28 miles round trip. The youths will take their own lunch each day and will work a 60-hour month, receiving $12.21.

For construction work at the Jerome high school the youths will work three hours per day, five days a week, and then will receive instruction three hours per day, for a five-day week. Their pay will be $12.20 a month. For this project gas and oil will be furnished for cars carrying four or five youths in each car. The gasoline given will not exceed two gallons for the round trip and one-half quart of oil for the round trip. Limit will be three carloads.

Eligible youths for work on the two Jerome projects must be between the ages of 17 and 24 years. Complete particulars regarding the jobs, and also application blanks, can be had by contacting W. Clyde Williams, manager of the local office of the Idaho state employment service. The office is located in the 100 block of Second street east.

BOISE, Feb. 10 (UP)—E. T. Taylor and Ray E. McCall, legislative representatives of the Idaho State Grange, are unique among persons here "for duration of the legislative session in that they admit they are lobbyists."

Former Grange Master McCall is a former State Grange master and has been the legislative committee man for the Grange for 14 years.

"We never work either for or against the people of this state," he was previously asked by the State Grange, McCall said. "We take the Grange's recommendations and work for them, whether we are in or out of the legislature."

They believe the present revenue laws raise all the money the state needs. For that reason we are against increased appropriations," he said.

West Pays Tribute To Late Reed Smoot

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10 (UP)—Tribute to the late former Sen. Reed Smoot, a "faithful servant of the people," was paid today by Gov. Herbert B. Maw of Utah.

"Few men have represented their constituents with more efficiency than he," Governor Maw said. "His exemplary life, his high legislative leadership which he brought to the U. S. senate did much to break down the prejudices of the nation against the people of this state and place Utah in the foremost ranks of national esteem."

Speaking of Elder Reed Smoot, of the church, the nation and we personally suffer a great loss," said a statement issued by the first presidency of the church. President Heber J. Grant and Councilors J. Reuben Clark, Jr. and David C. McKay.

Obedient to Doctrines "Elder Smoot was stalwart in his faith, courageous in his advocacy of truth, and steadfast in his obedience to the doctrines and principles of the gospel of Christ, of whose truth he had a living, enduring testimony," the statement read.

"For the church, he was one of the greatest missionaries of his time. His integrity and devotion to his work as a senator of the United States broke down prejudice and gave his people a standing for uprightness throughout the whole world."

"In the senate of the United States, Elder Smoot made a record of which the people are justly proud. Fearless, forthright, able, with indelible integrity and a body and a mind that seemed never to know weariness, he served his country with patriotic devotion and uncorruptible integrity. His name is written large in national legislative annals."

"Weared the Lord." "In all his work he feared the Lord and sought always for divine inspiration to guide him. The almighty blessed him in his work. His outstanding ability and stalwart service will loom constantly larger as the years lengthen. He was in truth one of the mighty ones of the earth."

"The church and the nation mourn his passing. We are proud of other national tribute to Smoot: "His greatest characteristic was his industry; his greatest achievement was his integrity."

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, EXTRA FLAVOR

FLASH FROM SUN VALLEY!

Breathtaking spins, spirals, jumps—there's a thrill in every click of her flashing blades. And afterwards "A Camel tastes so good—they have so much more flavor," says Miss Doman. But more flavor is only one of the "extras" you get in slower-burning Camels.

AND

than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent laboratory tests of the smoke itself

NO MATTER how much you smoke, all that you get from a cigarette—all the flavor, mildness—you get it in the smoke itself. The smoke's the thing!

Science has told you Camels are slower-burning. This slower way of burning means more mildness, more coolness, more flavor in the smoke.

Now, these new independent tests reported above—tests of the brands that most of you probably smoke right now—drive home another advantage for you in slower-burning Camels—extra freedom from nicotine in the smoke.

Try slower-burning Camels. Smoke out the facts for yourself. Dealers everywhere feature Camels at attractive carton prices. For convenience—for economy—buy Camels by the carton.

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

LIKE ANYONE WHO SMOKES A GOOD DEAL, THE EXTRA MILDNESS IN SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS IS IMPORTANT TO ME. AND THE FLAVOR IS SO GRAND!

IF YOU SKATE AT ALL, then you know that cutting a pretty figure is not as simple as pretty Evelyn Doman makes it appear. Behind her seemingly effortless grace are hours of hard practice.

She takes her skating seriously... her smoking, too. "I smoke a good deal," she explains. "The slower-burning cigarette—Camel—gives me the extra mildness I want."

Slower-burning... cooler tobacco. Yes, slower-burning Camels give you a fuller measure of flavor without the harsh effects of excess heat... extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor—and less nicotine in the smoke.

BY BURNING 28% SLOWER than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

Advice to Lovelorn Gals

Dear Pot Shots: Please pass this advice on to the eligible females of your reading public.

Hear ye, hear ye! On this 14th day of February, when he gives you a $100 satin hat of brocade and asks you to be his cook, cleaner, sewing woman, nurse and companion, for better or worse, think twice before you say "I do."

On this Feb. 14, I am thinking of filing suit for divorce for the simple reason that I have looked over my appointment book for the last six months, and I found out I haven't been any place with hubby because:

Monday night he bores.
Tuesday night he goes to lodge.
Wednesday night his friends get sick, and he has to take them to a "little sport."
Thursday night he attends a board meeting.
Friday night the boys always have a fish fry—don't ask me why.
Saturday night the "business contacts" always manage to hit town.
Sunday all day he snoozes and naps, getting ready for the festive of the next week, which—varies from the norm.

OUR JUST BOWLER DOES A LITTLE WONDERS

Dear Pot Shots: Well, I still need your column first. In a hurried paper, an I want to say as a question. How kin a guy like me was never had no money and, now he has a lot of money to spend in our sumbdy 1460? You can find in another column of your paper, that every man, woman or child here in these United States owns sumbdy that much.

Now kin how kin I owe that big sin when I never had it anymore than when children die? An another thing, I never spent it cus I never had it to spend. Like Andy on this radio set, I am "blum requested" sumpbody is a lie or I bet kin film-flamed out o' their Jackpot sumpbody, by them polytechnics was to try to lead-lead Uncle Sammy to Mr. Inglin, becuz Uncle Sammy has got all that gold hid away, down in them hills of Kaintuck. An I bet kin Mebbe this guy Hitler knows about that gold an sense it don't do nobody no good, Joe Ben in them hills he figure that he has a lot of gold, he don't figur on usin no gold no how, cus he's goin to trade bar salins an beer for wheat an meat, so the good gold be no good at all in his sockem of things. So to peteach that pile o' gold in them Kaintuck hills for Mr. Inglin an a lot like that here, or if my Granpappy was here now, I bet he'd say, "Well, yer kin never tell me how it was kin way. My sumpkin is kammon on so I aint say, how kin I owe sumpbody I never seen, 1460 was kin he had an work I never spent kin ye tell me how I got that way."

Speed, Speed, Speed!

Faster, faster is the tempo, and the destroyer Edison is launched a bare 10 months and 12 days after the laying of her keel.

This kind of construction was done in nine months during the war, but the destroyers of that time were only two-thirds the size of the Edison, and far less complicated.

Twenty-five more of the Edison class are on the way, and the record made on that ship will probably be bettered.

There is no reason to fear that America has lost the know-how. Our ships will be good ships. Our planes will be good planes. Our men are good men. Time is the only thing the supply of which cannot be increased. But the use of it can be improved. And in the navy shipyards they seem to be doing just that.

Air Defense Command

Ten thousand civilian volunteers in 700 observation posts took part in the demonstration tests aimed at protecting the northeastern seaboard from air attack. This plan of establishing a network of watchers to spot and report by telephone the arrival of invading planes has been tried out before. But Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, believes that every key city should develop at least the skeleton of such an organization.

It is clear that much of the British success in minimizing daylight air raids on London came from the fact that every German plane was instantly reported as it approached the English coast, thus giving the defense a chance to align itself.

The "watchtower" measure is one which it is believed might do vital good, to business and industry in any emergency.

Blockade Hits God Liver Oils

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sizable quantities of cod liver oil, which the United States no longer can obtain from foreign sources, are being substituted by the defense commission, it was announced today.

Approximately 50 per cent of the cod liver oil used here has been imported from sources which have been closed by the war, the commission's division of the commission said.

Washington Pickups

It is a matter of course that it takes the senate a month or more to complete hearings and pass a bill. But it is not the act which really is bearing more than a weight. Its secondary importance, however, is that all the present billboards in the country in a frame of mind to decide whether to declare war. The senate is not in a debating mood. It is in a debating mood. It is in a debating mood.

In Washington

By PETER EDSON
(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Washington on Saturday night:

It definitely is a black-tie social season in most country's capital this year because of the war and the preparations and all that, and anyone who is so definitely de trop as to show up in a tuxedo, or a white tie for a night out is simply going to be a loser. That's probably as good a tip-off of Washington as you could get.

The town has, of course, been through two big apes for the inauguration and the President's birthday ball. There's a natural lull, but even so, it would still be possible for a tourist from the provinces or a business man here to get a war cabinet of the present ballroom here for the country in a frame of mind to decide whether to declare war. Hoyt's Relieved Stomach Misery Says Mr. Hobbs
Anaconda Man Says, "Hoyt's Compound Did Me More Good Than Anything I Ever Found."
Mr. Ernest Hobbs, well-known Anaconda, Mont., resident states: "I suffered with indigestion, constipation, nervousness, and kidney misery. Nothing I tried seemed to help me. A heavy lump formed in my stomach, and caused severe pain, bloating, belching, and a burning in my throat. One crowded my heart so I felt every breath I drew would be my last. I was constipated and nervous, had dizzy spells, I had to take strong laxatives."
"After using Hoyt's Compound, I feel like another person. I enjoy meals without any bloating. No more dizzy spells, and that heavy lump has left! My bowels are more regular. My nervousness is gone, and I get sound, restful sleep."
Hoyt's Compound is sold by the Majestic Pharmacy and by all other druggists in this area.

Trains Going Fancy: Diesel Freight Started by Santa Fe

A Santa Fe test Diesel freight on a run in New Mexico.

Shades of Casey Jones... the engineer's cab on the new Diesel freight looks like a big shot executive's office.

By CHARLES F. A. MANN (NEA Correspondent)

CHICAGO—The world's first practical, mainline freight locomotive powered by a Diesel engine has just gone into service on the Santa Fe railroad. The first of two giant 440-horsepower locomotives heading a starting effort nearly 80 per cent greater than the most powerful freight locomotive previously in use is now making its initial run west from Chicago.

It doesn't bear much resemblance to the stately, smoke-belching, picturesque steam locomotives that made America's railways famous.

Soft Seat
The engineer sits on a soft spring seat in a fancy cab. Equipment includes windshield wipers, detectors, automatic bell ringer, foot warmers, sound proofing and a communicating phone system to the engineer's helper, formally the fireman. Lavatory and locker space is provided. Everything is clean and roomy.

The new monster is made up of four 160-horsepower, self-contained power sections. Each section is 48 feet long—shorter than the average boxcar, and carries a 16-cylinder two-cycle, EMC V-type Diesel engine. Each power section carries its own fuel supply, with a capacity of 1200 gallons, cooling radiators, and an automatic control system which enables the engineer to maneuver the four sections, semi-permanently linked together, from his cab. The helper, with no coal to shovel, watches the gauges, keeps tab on the motors.

Huge Locomotive
The locomotive weighs 425 tons fully loaded. Each of the 32 wheels is a driving wheel, giving the locomotive a starting tractive effort of nearly 200,000 pounds—three times that of the engines that pull the 20th Century Limited, twice that of

SEATTLE SLATES FLOWER SHOWING

SEATTLE, Wash., (AP)—The $100,000 national flower and garden show will be held here March 23-30, the first time the show has ever been west of Omaha.

It will be the 22nd annual exhibit of the Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists. Seattle's huge civic auditorium will be turned over to the show, which was specially chartered by congress in 1901 and exempted from taxation because of its educational value and influence in national life.

CONFUSING
The African cheetah and the South and Central American jaguar both have spotted coats, which are easily confused with that of the leopard by the layman.

The huge western mountain type freight locomotives.

The new giants will run 50 miles an hour with 100 cars on a level grade; or take 40 loads up a stiff 22 per cent grade at 30 or 35 miles an hour. They can go 600 miles with medium load without stopping for fuel.

A new type regenerative braking system is being tested. At the flip of a switch, the powerful uphill pullers are converted into a steady braking system, which generates electrical heat for the locomotive. Five years ago Diesel passenger locomotives began to take their place on U. S. railroads. Now hundreds of them are piling up nearly 100,000 miles a day.

FASHION FUTURES

By Martha Turner, READY-TO-WEAR BUYER IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE

...I found New York alive with American designs with a special appeal for YOU!

The American designer has discarded excess frills this season and has made dresses that are easy to wear. Some are influenced or rather inspired by South American fashions — others have a gay military feeling.

Front fullness is a favorite in skirts — lengths remain about the same — shoulders are a little less exaggerated — We saw high and low neck lines and a lot of lingerie touches — sleeves are mostly short in push up lengths.

The colors in the newest dresses combine prints with black and navy remaining supreme. Beige, true blue, aqua, green, red and gray colors are dubbed "fluorescent" this season.

The materials shown were jerseys, shantunges with angora mixtures good for sports. There were manish or military woolsens such as gaberdine covert.

The windows on Fifth Avenue were filled with evening dresses in reproductions of native costumes of South America. It's an American year! With both North and South America well represented!

NOTE: Because Idaho Department Store buyers make personal trips to eastern markets, we believe that observations to be of interest to Magic Valley ladies! We invite you to contact further information from our buyers with a personal interview.

WILLKIE RETURNS FROM INSPECTION TOUR OF BRITAIN

GOP CHIEF SAYS ENGLISH EXPECT MATERIALS ONLY

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie will go to Washington tonight to tell the senate foreign relations committee about the most stimulating experience in his life. He returned yesterday from an inspection tour of Britain.

Willkie said he was firmly convinced that for the United States to give aid to Britain would be to keep this country out of war, while to withhold aid would probably involve us in war.

He heard Britain "no talk at all suggesting; expecting or anticipating the United States should become an active participant in the war."

"What the British desire from us is not men, but materials and equipment."

Willkie revealed he had spent between eight and 10 hours discussing all phases of Britain's war problems with Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal; Anthony Eden, foreign minister; and Lord Beaverbrook, minister of aircraft production.

Willkie showed much interest in the re-land bill, the principle of which he is expected to uphold before the senate foreign relations committee tomorrow.

British Labor Head Aids Drive for Seven-Day Week

Ernest Bevin drives home a point.

By MILTON BRONNER (NEA Service)

Ernest Bevin, Britain's No. 2 leader and minister of labor, holds the center of empire stage today as the man who will set in motion the drive for a seven-day week in Britain. He is expected to make a speech today to produce airplanes and munitions for their country.

With Hitler preparing for the most savage all-out assault in history and with American aid in Britain not yet in full stride, the cry has been for more planes, more guns, more shells—and Bevin has heard and heeded the cry. He appeals his fellow workmen also to heed it and to forego all thought of Sabbath rest.

In a recent speech he said men and women must be drafted for industry, just as men are already drafted for the armed forces of the nation. Fearless and determined, he will not hesitate to conduct a battle of Britain.

Ernest Bevin is no old-school politician, no son of a rich and aristocratic family, no member of the ranks of labor itself who battled his way up. A burly, smooth-faced, swarthy man of 60 years, he has been in politics since he was a boy and has been in the front line of the struggle for the working man's rights since he was a young man.

Bevin became head of the powerful Trades Union Congress in 1924. He fought Communism in Britain just as vigorously as he did in the United States. Back in 1929 he expelled the Communists from the party and he has since then been a leading voice for the working man's rights.

When he went into Premier Churchill's cabinet he said: "I made up my mind when I went into the government that there would be no settlement and no settlement, as far as I was concerned, with the Nazi regime. If they beat us all to smithereens, there would still be no settlement."

Called Next Prime Minister by all in the world there is probably no stronger contrast than Churchill and Bevin sitting together on the government bench in the house of commons. Churchill has a brilliant, aristocratic family background, college education, comfortable income, ministerial post for 10 years.

In the past Churchill and Bevin had often crossed swords both on political and economic subjects. In the present—not long ago Churchill, his shoulders stooping with care, came into the house of commons, sat down by Bevin, gave him a playful grin in the ribs and broke into a boyish grin that heartened every man who saw it. These two men, come from the north and south poles of society, now were sitting side by side on the government bench.

Bevin, who is a man of few words, said to the reporter: "I am glad to see you here. We are all working for the same thing—the defeat of Hitler."

He spoke of the need for more planes, more guns, more shells—and he called on his fellow workmen to heed the cry and to forego all thought of Sabbath rest.

In a recent speech he said men and women must be drafted for industry, just as men are already drafted for the armed forces of the nation. Fearless and determined, he will not hesitate to conduct a battle of Britain.

Belgium Suffering, Not Starving, Says Ex-Leader

(NEA Service)

Belgium is not starving, but she is hungry.

That is the judgment of Paul Van Zeeland, for three years prime minister of the little nation and now in the United States trying to do what he can to help his countrymen back in Belgium.

"The necessities of the aftermath of the invasion have forced a terribly strict rationing system upon the Belgium people," the young Van Zeeland told me his latest reports from Belgium indicated. "The daily allowance of very coarse bread per person is 275 grams, or slightly less than 10 ounces. The daily ration of meat is 40 grams or about 1 1/4 ounces. And, in dealing with the butcher, this weight includes the bone."

"Meat is a rarity. It is allowed only to expectant mothers and the young children. Butter is very scarce. Potatoes—usually a good crop—was considerably ruined this time by disease."

"The lot of the poor is far worse than that of the well-to-do, just as in every country with restrictions upon currency there are black markets where you can get better prices for goods. There are black markets where the rich can often get a bigger portion of the various goods."

"The suffering is worse in the small cities than in big places like Brussels and Antwerp."

"The metropolitan cities were hardly touched at all by the German forces. Brussels, especially, escaped, as it was an open town. But a typical example is the ancient city of Namur, which was defended, destruction was terrible."

"The Germans, of course, has disturbed markets and shops so that food supplies are more difficult to get. A typical example is the ancient city of Tournai. The whole interior of the city was gutted."

"It is hard to answer the question as to how successful is food Belgium was in times of peace. It is a true Belgium is a highly industrialized country in which mills and mines employ a big part of the 6,000,000 people. Thousands are now out of work. The farming districts were intensively cultivated by some of the best farmers in the world. But with farm products—wheat, butter, eggs, milk, ham—there was the situation that is reported across and in turn bought some abroad."

SPUD DIRECTORS DRAFT TO REACH '1ST-PAPER' ALIEN

Chairmanship of the Twin Falls county Potato Growers association had changed hands today following board reorganization session Saturday.

New chairman is Luke V. Sonner, Buhi, who succeeds Roy Durst, Kimerly. Mr. Sonner went to Focaltelo today for the organization meeting of the state association, which will draft a 1941 program and set up a budget.

Lloyd Davis, Murtaugh, was elected vice-chairman of the county unit County Agent Bert Bolingbroke was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The board expressed thanks to all who assisted in the drive for a spud diversion program, which has now been approved at Washington. Directors urged that the state association take action toward remedying problems arising from marketing spuds in matted bags. The state body also was urged to consider the matter of potato washing.

Selective service regulations as applicable to two classes of foreign-born persons residing in Magic Valley were received here today by Twin Falls county agent Roy Durst. The instructions from Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnel, state director, advised Chairman Walter C. Munzinger. Any male alien between 21 and 38 on Oct. 16 of last year, who has permitted his declaration of intention to become a citizen to lapse—without formally withdrawing it or completing his naturalization within seven years—is liable to draft call. ## Ernest Bevin drives home a point.

By MILTON BRONNER (NEA Service)

Ernest Bevin, Britain's No. 2 leader and minister of labor, holds the center of empire stage today as the man who will set in motion the drive for a seven-day week in Britain. He is expected to make a speech today to produce airplanes and munitions for their country.

With Hitler preparing for the most savage all-out assault in history and with American aid in Britain not yet in full stride, the cry has been for more planes, more guns, more shells—and Bevin has heard and heeded the cry. He appeals his fellow workmen also to heed it and to forego all thought of Sabbath rest.

In a recent speech he said men and women must be drafted for industry, just as men are already drafted for the armed forces of the nation. Fearless and determined, he will not hesitate to conduct a battle of Britain.

Ernest Bevin is no old-school politician, no son of a rich and aristocratic family, no member of the ranks of labor itself who battled his way up. A burly, smooth-faced, swarthy man of 60 years, he has been in politics since he was a boy and has been in the front line of the struggle for the working man's rights since he was a young man.

Bevin became head of the powerful Trades Union Congress in 1924. He fought Communism in Britain just as vigorously as he did in the United States. Back in 1929 he expelled the Communists from the party and he has since then been a leading voice for the working man's rights.

When he went into Premier Churchill's cabinet he said: "I made up my mind when I went into the government that there would be no settlement and no settlement, as far as I was concerned, with the Nazi regime. If they beat us all to smithereens, there would still be no settlement."

Called Next Prime Minister by all in the world there is probably no stronger contrast than Churchill and Bevin sitting together on the government bench in the house of commons. Churchill has a brilliant, aristocratic family background, college education, comfortable income, ministerial post for 10 years.

In the past Churchill and Bevin had often crossed swords both on political and economic subjects. In the present—not long ago Churchill, his shoulders stooping with care, came into the house of commons, sat down by Bevin, gave him a playful grin in the ribs and broke into a boyish grin that heartened every man who saw it. These two men, come from the north and south poles of society, now were sitting side by side on the government bench.

Bevin, who is a man of few words, said to the reporter: "I am glad to see you here. We are all working for the same thing—the defeat of Hitler."

He spoke of the need for more planes, more guns, more shells—and he called on his fellow workmen to heed the cry and to forego all thought of Sabbath rest.

In a recent speech he said men and women must be drafted for industry, just as men are already drafted for the armed forces of the nation. Fearless and determined, he will not hesitate to conduct a battle of Britain.

TOO MANY INSTITUTIONS PUT OKLAHOMA IN DEBT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma is like the old woman who had a steady children she didn't know what to do.

The state has more institutions than it can keep up on the basis of its present income and is looking to offer the federal government and first class military academy and a sub-commission at work charting a blueprint of the 8,000 acre surplus-land sub-prison buildings at Stratburg, and some 20,000 to 30,000 acre adjoining the state property. The legislators believe that if the war department occupies the land it probably would want to buy additional acreage in the vicinity of Stratburg.

16 Teams Will Compete in Annual Elks Tournament at Burley

Applications of Colorado Cities Again Rejected

OGDEN, Utah, Feb. 10 (U.P.)—The Pioneer league today was all set for the call of "play ball" to open the 1941 season. The season schedule was adopted, officers reelected—and another plea for expansion to Colorado denied—at a directors' meeting here Sunday that completed pre-season formalities.

The season will open May 2 with Salt Lake playing at Ogden, Boise at Twin Falls and Pocatello at Idaho Falls. After the three-game stands in these cities, the teams will shift for May 6, 7 and 8 with Twin Falls at Pocatello, Ogden at Boise and Idaho Falls at the Salt Lake.

Heyburn Quint Upsets Burley In Tight Game

BURLEY, Feb. 10 (Special)—The two 1940 district basketball championship clubs—Heyburn of Class B and Burley of Class A—paired off here Saturday night with the team from the smaller school coming out on top by a score of 32-27.

With both teams gunning for a repeat performance of their 1940 activity, the game was fast and furious from the opening whistle to the final gun. Led by Fisher and Fenelon, the boys from the neighboring town staged a brilliant last half rally to clinch the contest, Fisher connected for 13 points. Fenelon for 11. The defeat was the first for Burley in this sector this year.

The Bobcats held a 10-9 lead at the quarter and at the half-time ran the count to 20-10. But Heyburn came back strong in the third stanza and trailed by only four points, 20-24 as the last frame opened.

Then in the last stanza a steady drive brought the visitors within a few minutes of a comeback. Fisher, who was forced from the game in the second quarter with a neck injury. However, he was able to return to the lineup near the end of the game.

Preliminary saw the Burley frosh-soph quintet win the opening contest by a score of 14-11.

Once They Were Lightweight

Sporting stunts that would make Tony Galento envious, Lew Tender, left, and Benny Leonard declare each other the winners after exhibition that was added attraction to finals of amateur tournament in Philadelphia. Tender failed to lift championship from Leonard in matches that drew record gates for lightweights in 1922 and '23.

Free Throw Failure Costly to Bruins; Defeated by Emmett

Coach M. C. (Dode) Cranney today was probably seriously considering spending most of the time the next few days with his team teaching the art of tossing free throws.

Because it was a bad record from the foul line Saturday night that cost the Twin Falls Bruins a victory over Emmett Hawksies, 1940 Idaho state high school basketball champions.

The Bruins missed 11 out of 19 free throws—and went down to defeat by a score of 17-16 in as tight a defensive battle as has ever been staged on a Twin Falls floor.

Play Ruptured Next

The Bruins haven't got anything heavy on their hands now until Friday when they move to Rupert to take on the Pirates in what may be the turning-point of their fortunes of the 1941 season. 50 for they have been in-and-outers, winning once and then taking a beating. In fact, the record for the season is wins and the same number of losses. All their games, win or loss, have been close in scoring except the Nampa Bulldog fray in which the southwest Idaho favorites ran up a 44-20 count.

However, the Bruin defense has been improving with each game, and if the offense can start to click, as it did earlier in the season, there's the possibility that Mr. Cranney may have something that will cause opponents plenty of trouble when tournament time rolls around.

Tight Defensive Battle

Saturday night capped with Emmett was one of the tightest defensive battles staged here—lighter even than the Pler battle earlier in the week. "There wasn't a basket scored the first quarter and Emmett tied at the end of the first period by a score of 2-1 with all points on both sides coming from free-throws. The second stanza wasn't much better and the Bruins came out on the long end of a 6-4 score at the intermission—on the strength of one field goal and four free throws out of 11 attempts.

Both teams opened up a little in the third stanza and at the end of that period the count stood 11-10 in favor of Twin Falls. Scoring was mostly from a long range because the roughness under the baskets made close shots practically impossible.

Emmett Ties Score

Emmett tied the score at 12-12 early in the first half and again early in the second half. They went ahead for the first time since the opening quarter when they made 10-14, but Chuck Thomas tossed

There were 16 pools called on Emmett during the fray, only four against the Bruins. However, the visitors made good on three out of five shots compared with Twin Falls eight out of 15.

Preliminary saw the Eden Hawksies take a 26-21 victory from the Twin Falls Cubs after leading 15-8 at the half and 19-14 at the start of the final quarter. Black, who high scorer for the visitors with 12 points, followed by Huxley with seven. Allen topped the Cubs with seven.

125 Skiers at Magic Hill

Snow and a driving wind which swept over the Magic mountain ski area Sunday afternoon failed to stop followers of big "wooden run" sport and approximately 125 active skiers were on the runs during the afternoon yesterday.

As a safety factor, toboggans and sleds are not permitted on the new runs but rather are confined to the Pike mountain side of the resort. Small maps, announcing this fact and also pointing out the various ski areas available, were distributed to all motorists entering the area yesterday. The distribution being made down before noon and was "out of compassion" for the balance of the day. After the big lift broke, a small power lift was put up.

Bill Tilden Only "Golden Age" Sports Ace Still Performing

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—The man has kept his secret long enough.

A committee of citizens should go to William Tatum Tilden the price and demand he reveal the location of the fountain of youth.

If he wants a price for whereabouts of the spring where water bubbles up and flows into the cheeks and an unceasing bounce in the legs, then the insurance companies should pool their resources and meet his demands.

You must agree with me William Tatum Tilden has succeeded where Ponce de Leon failed. Else how in the world are you going to explain the supernatural endurance of the long-legged, lavender-jawed tennis player from Philadelphia? By all normal athletic standards he should be wearing congress cutters, peering with phony eyes over spectacles, and indulging in no more violent exercise than walking his slippers.

But where is the man? In some quiet retreat, spinning tales of how he feels when he sees the No. 1 ranking in 1927? No, he is out hanging and barnstorming around the country with a group of youngsters who are playing drop the handschieff, London bridge is falling fast, making mistakes when he was the world's greatest player of the game.

It was an announcement in the papers that he would play here with Alice Marble in a few weeks that turned my thoughts to Bill Tilden. The hurt said, among other things, Bill was celebrating his 48th birthday today, which, if you care to remember, is the third time in three years he has celebrated his 48th birthday. He seems to like the number 48. Having reached it, he apparently has decided to make it his own. This gives him three legs on it.

Alice Marble was featured in the publicity and I think the company's press agent is missing a good bet in not playing up Tilden as the star of the troupe. Not at the time of those young living will tennis lovers see the equal of Bill Tilden. The former, the latter, Budge and all the rest are marvelous players, but Tilden stands alone.

All you have to do to prove how he stands alone is to ask where his contemporaries in the golden twenties are today. Bobby Jones is a comfortably plump lawyer in Atlanta. Babe Ruth is an unaccountably fat waltzer from the sidelines. Jack Dempsey is a heavy-jawed restaurateur in New York. Tommy Hiltcock has laid down the mallet to become a Wall Street. Jim Landon is wrestling punks on the Alhambra circuit. Eddie Fiedler's interest in auto spites are limited to those on his newspaper desk. These, and dozens more, are the men who made the 1920's what Paul Gallico so aptly called the Golden Decade in sports.

Of them all, only Tilden carries on. And he doesn't carry on in a doddering, pathetic fashion, either. How many tennis players are there in the world could beat him in a one-set match today? Budge might, and the redhead is about the only one. And in a five-set regulation match, there aren't more than half a dozen players left in the world.

When he reaches here I want to see him. It may be my last chance before the Southern Institute scouts pick him up and put him in a glass case next to Bill Whitney's cotton gin.

Hoppe Seeks 13th Victory

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Champion Willie Hoppe seeks his 13th consecutive victory in the world's three-cushion billiard tournament when he returns to competition today after a one-day rest.

All contestants took the day off Sunday because of a revision of the tournament two days. The tournament was extended two days because illness had kept Hoppe from starting the tournament with the others and forced him to maintain a game-day pace during the first 14 days of his competition.

Hoppe meets Arthur Rubin of New York.

Conn Defends Title

Light heavyweight Champion Billy Conn is expected to defend his title in April against the winner of an elimination bout Jimmy Webb of St. Louis, Tommy Tucker of New York and Dutch Boy of Jersey. On the same card, former Champion Al Hostak of Seattle risks a comeback against George Brumette of Detroit.

Lou Ambers, former lightweight contender, returns to the ring after an absence of nine months, fighting lightweight Lou Tackles lightweight Champion Lew Jenkins at the Garden, Feb. 28.

THE SCOREBOARD

Carlotta reacted with a beginning to suspect that the three-headed grandstand of the Golden Gate Turf Club—the only one of its kind in America—was about to be demolished to a $2,000,000 mistake.

The opening of the huge and modern plant at Albany, across the bay from San Francisco, ... has been postponed several times due to rain leaving the track unfit for racing.

Brosses top soil had to be removed and a new surface dressing of sand laid. When things commenced looking favorable, a new cloudburst hit, disrupting resurfacing work, and more rain was forecast.

"The truth is that northern California is no place for a winter horse."

Had he thought so, Dr. Charles H. Strub would have financed and built a track there instead of going to the Arizona where the Hania Ania through to a glorious finish. Northern California has its own weather.

Another blunder made by the Golden Gate outfit was in building the grandstand of the track at the same time. The sixtieth anniversary celebration had a year in advance. With the finest soil and under the most favorable conditions, it was more to build a satisfactory course.

It is feared that the Golden Gate club will never be able to construct a good track at the present site, which is on filled-in ground.

The smartest racing men say that the thing for the northern California racing people—Golden Gate, Bay Meadows and Turfway Park—is to pool their interests in one track in spring and fall meetings.

George T. Williams and Harry Brown, San Francisco, planning men, are the biggest stockholders in the Golden Gate club. Rip Medley, the former football coach, is the general manager.

The steel industry expects $2,000,000 annually for construction office supplies.
