

GERMAN TROOP-CARRYING PLANES ROAR ACROSS BALKANS

SIGNS POINT TO MILITARY ACTION IN TROUBLE AREA

By HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press Staff Correspondent

Squadrons of Nazi troop-carrying planes roared across the Balkans today amid multiple signs that some form of military action may start soon in that troubled area.

The royal air force was sweeping the skies over Europe in what appeared to be a 24-hour day offensive designed to smash, if possible, Adolf Hitler's surprise before the German military machine rolls into high gear.

Budapest reported 80 of more German transports flying eastward toward Rumania and hinted that today's flights marked a resumption of Nazi military air movements which had been interrupted by three days of bad weather.

Frank Stevens, United Press staff correspondent at Bucharest, announced a dispatch indicating that German military movements in Rumania may be in full swing.

Stevens made a personal inspection of the situation as far as the Bulgarian border. His heavily censored dispatch revealed that Rumanian railroads are clogged with military trains moving masses of troops. All Rumanian cities are blocked out.

Indications were that Germany is rushing preparations to launch large scale movements of troops in to Bulgaria where it has been reported reliably, several thousand soldiers already were stationed, having entered the country in civilian garb.

The British, having taken the initiative by breaking diplomatic relations with Rumania, appeared unlikely to wait idly while the Nazi machine gets up steam in the Balkans.

London reported that British planes threatened the Balkans and have sent all confidential papers to Turkey for safe-keeping and are prepared to leave at a moment's notice.

Sofia remains quiet.

Amid these alarms Sofia remained quiet and even reported belief that the time being by an official denial that Nazi troops are in Bulgaria.

There was one factor which seemed to militate against any immediate large-scale warfare in the Balkans—the weather. It seemed through the Germans are known to have prepared many pontoon bridges along the Danube, it still is too early to say whether it seemed doubtful that many troops could be moved from Rumania into Bulgaria by this means or the intricate road network which connect the two countries until winter relaxes.

Airplane movements of troops, of course, could be carried on with little interference.

Gen. Francisco Franco and Marshal Benito Mussolini are expected to meet in Rome today for a meeting with Premier Benito Mussolini and, some reports said, Adolf Hitler.

Mystery surrounded the reports that Vichy heard conference when German agents were seen which to attack Gibraltar. British Mediterranean shipping and sea routes in the south Atlantic.

Gen. Franco from Italy Franco is expected to meet his friend, Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, for discussions which may revolve around Spanish colonial ambitions in North Africa.

The sharp, RAF attack of the last 24 hours was made on Hanover which was under air bombardment for six hours and was left, the British said, a sea for fire by the end of the raid.

The British admiralty revealed that fleet units bombarded Ostend today. German accounts claimed that the British warships were driven off by coastal guns.

KIMBERLY SEEKS PROJECT ON GYM

KIMBERLY, Feb. 11 (Special)—Definite action had been taken today by the Kimberly board of school trustees for a WPA project which will include a new gymnasium-auditorium.

Trustees voted last night to make application to the WPA for a grant which would make the project in the Kimberly school building.

New gym-auditorium, reconstruction of the present gym-auditorium for use in other school work; complete landscaping of the elementary school; repair elementary building; provide sidewalks adjacent to it.

The trustees estimated that the district share of this extensive project would probably be around $40,000. With WPA grant figured in, that would make the project in the $75,000 to $80,000 bracket.

Andrew McQuaker, Twin Falls architect retained by the Kimberly board, has preliminary plans practically ready. These will be submitted to the WPA district office at Buhl and the application will be pushed as rapidly as possible. If WPA approves the project, the school district financing will be submitted to selectors at a special bond vote.

Civics leaders and organizations are backing the gym-auditorium move because of the low interest rate on bonds at present; because of the fact that Kimberly can now get 80 per cent or more of the cost through WPA; and because the community needs the new structure for pupils as well as school uses.

40 SENATORS TO SUPPORT PROBE OF WAR CONTRACTS

PRESIDENT ASKS MILLIONS MORE TO ASSIST ARMY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (Special)—Sen. Harry S. Truman, D. Mo., claimed today at least 40 senators, almost a majority, would support his resolution calling for an investigation of all national defense contracts.

Members of the Senate are expected to expedite action on two other defense bills—one to increase the debt limit from $90,000,000 to $100,000,000 and to permit issuance of wholly taxable securities, and a new request by President Roosevelt for $600,000,000 in supplemental appropriations for army construction of cantonments, airfields and additional training centers.

On Floor Next Week

Chairman Prentiss M. Brown, D. Minn., of the Senate Finance subcommittee which will handle the debt limit bill, said he hoped to get the measure to the floor early next week.

The measure passed the house yesterday on a voice vote after administration leaders had urged the Republican attempt to limit the debt increase to $50,000,000. Republicans contended the further increase would be an invitation to "squandering."

Members of the house appropriations sub-committee handling deficiency and supplemental outlays said they hoped to complete consideration of the supplementary defense request this week.

Gives Few Details

Mr. Roosevelt outlined it late yesterday. He gave few details of how the money would be spent but war department officials probably will provide a break-down on the items for congress.

The President asked $388,888,000 additional funds to expedite construction of the present army cantonment program. He said his original estimate had been too low. He also asked for $23,000,000 additional to enlarge scope of the army cantonment construction program, and $10,000,000 for purchase or leasing of land.

In addition to Baehon, the force here will permit Edmondson to spend more time in other communities of the Magie Valley on recruiting work.

The new recruiter has served with the navy for 16 years and has been active duty in the fleet reserve in addition to having visited nearly every nation on earth. He was with the Asiatic fleet and the Atlantic fleet, and also served with the Pacific and Atlantic fleets.

Increased recruiting activities in this section made necessary the addition of the new recruiter, Edmondson said.

AIRPORT PROJECT DISCUSSED HERE

Mayor Joe Koehler last night told other members of the city council that Twin Falls application for a WPA project on the municipal airport would in all probability be changed to a straight national defense project.

The change, he said, is expected at the WPA office in Boise and the $141,000 project, with the city, WPA and the CAA participating, provided the defense could get through, would get underway in the spring.

Last night's session was short and uneventful with a few minutes of discussion consisting of the passing of a special resolution permitting the mayor to execute a release of Robert and George Wallberg and Warberg Bros. Coal and Transfer company, for $419.25, being the total damages caused when a Warberg truck and the new city fire truck crashed at the intersection of Shoshone street and Second avenue south several weeks ago.

Reports of Dr. E. R. Price, city meat and dairy inspector, and Fire Chief Zerk Bartlett for the month of January were approved and ordered filed. Dr. Price's report showed 1,817 animals slaughtered during the month.

The report of Chief Bartlett showed six alarms answered by the department. He noted that five of them were fire calls, which caused total damages did not exceed $10 and one was a car fire where there was no damage. Chief Bartlett said drills held at the schools showed that the Lincoln school was vacated in one minute and 15 seconds; the Washington school in 25 seconds and the high school in two minutes and five seconds.

Author Regards Duce As "Strange Caesar"

"What kind of food has this Caesar (Mussolini) fed on, that made him lose every dream and bow to the will of Hitler?" asks Louis Untermeyer, in his book, "From Another World."

Mrs. Robert G. Benson gave a comprehensive review of the Untermeyer book at a meeting of the Dramas and Literature department this afternoon at the American Legion Memorial hall.

"Democracy Costly" Untermeyer quotes Mussolini as declaring that democracy was too expensive for the Italians. "We cannot afford to put a leader into power for four years, and have him spend the last two of those years trying to get re-elected for another four years," is the summing up.

Untermeyer, who won a prize for his book on Italy, said that he praised the "literary lights" in his book through the years, including Rockwell Kent, Edna St. Vincent Millay, and A. S. W. Hick.

A patriotic theme, in deference to the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, was the subject of the table appointments, including red tapers in crystal holders, red sweet peas, red cherry tapers and patriotic-colored napkins.

THE SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor

University of Illinois wishes major league clubs would quit meddling with its athletes.

Within three years, the Illini have lost two brilliant basketball and baseball players to the American League. The former was traded to the college courses—Lou Boudreau and now Walter Evers.

Bill Hapke, another versatile star who was traded from Illinois to an American league outfit, but the current sporting leader of the National Basketball Association, graduated before signing as an outfielder with Detroit, which was quite all right in Chicago.

What Illinois objects to is the boys being rushed before they have completed their education.

Boudreau was declared ineligible between semesters in 1938, when it was disclosed that he had been receiving $100 a month from Cleveland for the promise of his future services.

Benjamin Saults might have shortstopped Buffalo to the International rag in '39 had he not been "traded" to the American League around the youngster as though he were a veteran and close like Hildan in the stretch.

Boudreau last season with a game of helping the Tribe to its first pennant in 20 years. . . was all by himself as the finest recruit of the campaign.

Ever, who appeared destined to be one of Illinois' all-time greats in basketball and baseball, will play with Detroit as an outfielder. Standing 8 feet 2 and weighing 185 pounds, he is fast and has a remarkable arm. Last season as a sophomore he hit .333 . . . led the Big Ten in home runs, triples, total bases, runs batted in and scored.

Only 19, he probably will join Hapke, his former basketball and baseball teammate, on the Tigers' Beaumont farm.

Like Boudreau and Hapke, he was the Illini's top basketball scorer.

In the case of Evers, Illinois also no doubt wishes its studies were as hard as those in Minneapolis.

The handsome Collinsville blond collegiate athlete came to college with a record of 100 wins and a special examination in history, which if he had passed would have permitted him to rejoin the Illini hoppers for the college football game in Minneapolis.

Ordinarily a special exam is easy to obtain, but reports that Evers would drop out of school to make the most of the league opportunity didn't help him toward that end. Friends felt that one story in particular, that Collinsville had a number of cuts he had during the first semester, had placed the faculty in a good horror as to whether he could hardly give Hoot the exam for fear of being accused of favoritism.

So, because major league clubs could not wait until they get their hands on him, Illinois loses another stand-out athlete in the midst of his college career.

And the big show gets another Evers, a much larger edition why in these days only has to possess some special talent, and that he get the job to be perfectly satisfactory . . . and then some.

In 1938 the firm of Junkers, Flugzeug und Motorenwerke A. G. employed 30,000 persons in its factories at Dessau.

Veteran Limit Boost Aids Pioneer Loop

A move to boost the caliber of play in the Pioneer League was completed in a quiet fashion when a meeting was held here over the week-end, in the opinion of Carl Anderson, business manager of the Twin Falls club.

That was the boosting of the veteran limit from six to seven players, thus allowing more experienced men in the rankers of each club.

The move was one of many made by the league directors and the loop is expected to be more powerful than ever, according to Anderson, despite the fact that it is recognized almost as one of the strongest in the nation.

Meanwhile, the local directors are working on plans to arrange a tie-up with another outfit in the area to furnish stronger material for the Twin Falls entrant. A contract has been received from the Seattle Mariners for a part-time tie-up, but this has not been signed to date, due to the fact that several of the situations in the contract are not clear to the participating parties. Another contract, of a similar nature, has been received from an American league club, but nothing had been done on that either up to noon today.

There's the possibility that several players may be made by Twin Falls before the season opens—with other Pioneer league clubs offering some fine talent, according to Anderson. Who reported that he had overtures from several owners at the Ogden meet. However, nothing has been done and anything will be done, the other club men must confer with Manager Andy Harrington, of the Cowboys.

Notre Dame Men Ask Return of Rockne System to Grid Team

Joseph M. Roland has been line coach under Elmer Layden for seven seasons. He won letters in 1924 as tackle and played with varsity in first two games of '26. Accidentally clipped in Minnesota game, he suffered broken leg which ended playing career. Held Notre Dame shotput record in '24. Graduated with high honors. Formerly coached line at St. Thomas college, St. Paul.

Lawrence T. Shaw was as great a tackle as ever played for Notre Dame—1918-20-21. Back when was assistant coach at Nevada in '22-'23. The following season found him coach at North Carolina State. He returned to Nevada as head man, where he remained until he joined Santa Clara in '28 as Clipper Smith's assistant. Became coach of Broncos in '34.

Maurice J. Smith was outstanding guard at Notre Dame in 1918-19-20. Big Clipper Smith made coaching debut at Columbia college, Portland, Ore., in '21. Then he went to Gonzaga university of Spokane as successor to Gus Devall. After four years there, he switched to Santa Clara, where he was succeeded by Buck Shaw after accepting present Villanova job.

WE'RE LOADED NOW... at Sacrifice Race!

WITH USED CARS

THE FAST-BESTING NEW CHEVROLET HAS CAUSED US TO HAVE THE LOWEST AND BEST STOCK OF USED CARS IN OUR HISTORY

NEVER BEFORE HAVE YOU SEEN SUCH BARGAINS COME IN TODAY!

Best Game

One of the outstanding games of the first day's play is expected to develop when the Troy-Parishian club of Pocatello, Idaho, champions, takes on the Jerome Jaycees, the latter team being one of the favorites. The Jaycees have already hung up victories in the Snake Valley Outlaw League and in the King Hill and Gooding Outlaw tournaments.

With the entrance of two Utah quintets, plus the two strong teams from Pocatello and the Lumber of Nampa, plus the usually powerful Snake Valley Outlaw League clubs, the tournament takes on the aspect of being the finest ever held in the state of Idaho in outlaw circles.

College Stars Play

Many of the quintets are composed exclusively of former college stars and the caliber of play is expected to be much higher than it has at any other Elks tournament, according to Fred Judding, tourney manager.

While no record-breaking crowds are expected for the morning and afternoon sessions, the evening tilt will probably draw full crowds, in the new Burley high school gymnasium where all games will be played.

Rudy Mucha Signs With N. Y. Yank Gridiron Club

Mac Says You're Foolish if You Bet on Anything Better Than 5-1

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11 (UP)—If you bet anything in tomorrow's $50,000 Santa Anita race that isn't 5 to 1 or better you should go back and have the sleeves in your hands if they aren't shortened.

This is one race where the favorite doesn't stand any more chance as a flake on a Chihuahua. You can't run through the records of past derbies until you get as bored as was reading through them, without finding a favorite who has first to salute the judges. Now don't get technical on me and tell me that He Did, which was the second derby in 1938, was the favorite, because he wasn't. He was coupled with Valerianian and but for this partnership would have been at least 15 to 1 on the board.

Valerianian was the big gun of the race, and he was the only one who had been at least 15 to 1 on the board. The other derby charts list such famous winners as Gills in 1935, who came pounding home to pay off the $100,000 Fairy Hill bet on him. The past performance is all he is coupled and that some mysterious hide will come bounding out from under a tell, can't he, if you could be certain that the first to reward his few backers $68 to 20 for the reason. For these prices probably the best bet is on the derby edition to truly run. The field is always too big for the favorite, as witness 1937, when no fewer than 21 steers from Iron, Juale and outside the gates. In this race one third of the field and to start outside the gate and the bumping was one of the five outlock variety.

On the other hand, the unfortunate pole-positions and are lost in the shuffle. Bad horses are lucky in the draw and get off well and profit from.

Tomorrow's derby promises to provide another circus act. There is a good chance that over 20 horses will answer the call to the post. Right now the favorite is Purdy Howard's bargain beauty, Purdy Howard's bargain beauty.

The Howard star probably will go postward 3 to 1 or 3 to 1 and that's the way he will be called on him. The past performance is all he is coupled and that some mysterious hide will come bounding out from under a tell, can't he, if you could be certain that the race was to be truly run, and that all the horses would have equal racing luck, then you'd have to back either Purdy's Day or one of his chief rivals, they being Good Turf, Baldwin O'Brien, Valinda Myrh, Bill Steinh, Swain or C. My special code hide for the race is well, turn to page 313 of the Evening Times, and you'll find in the fifth sentence of the fifth paragraph you'll find it. Only in the California code, though. But it won't be a mere and make those of you who haven't a calendar edition go out and buy one. It'll fit you the best. And what ailly, Naaco. That's the name. Naaco. Can't run a lick for the rest of his life. But he's never heard of a mile and an eighth mile heard won in the first half mile? Naaco can turn it on where it comes, though, and that is in the stretch.

So if you're listening to the roar, and don't hear Naaco's name called on him, the backstretch, don't worry. It's the finish line that counts and that is where you'll hear about Naaco. If you don't hear it, don't let me hear about it either.

A 25-14 score settled the defeat of the Transcontinentals at the hands of the Weedbeaters. The Snipers dropped in 11 points for the winning team and Ron Johnson made six for the losers.

Athletics to Let OSC Star Stay in School

COVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 11 (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will have to get along this season without the services of Johnny Leovich, Oregon State college catcher, after Leovich signed a contract recently with the Athletics and was scheduled to report to training camp at Anaheim, Calif., later this month.

When Percy Locoy, Oregon State athletic director, got wind of the contract, he blew up and threatened to protest to Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, inasmuch as Leovich had another year of football competition ahead of him.

Manager Connie Mack told Locoy he had not known Leovich still was eligible for athletic competition with the Athletics, and declared he wanted Leovich to complete his education before joining the A's.

Willie Hoppe Wins 13th Straight in Billiards Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 11 (UP)—Champion Willie Hoppe won his 13th consecutive victory and only four more games to play.

Wenatchee Drops Out of WI League

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 11 (UP)—The Wenatchee club dropped out of the Western International billiard league today because of financial instability and it was believed Bremerton might be able to purchase the vacant franchise.

Judge J. Stanley Webster, league president, said Wenatchee had been unable to raise sufficient funds for the coming season. Phil Devany, president of the Bremerton club, said he was "hopeful" his group would take over the franchise.

Shaw Won't Seek Irish Coaching Post

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 11 (UP)—Withdrawal of Lawrence T. (Bluh) Shaw of Santa Clara from the list of candidates to succeed Elmer Layden as Notre Dame football coach, was announced today by Wisconsin's Harry Stuhldreher, who might be induced to return to his alma-mater as football coach and athletic director.

One campus source indicated Stuhldreher could have the job if he wanted it. From the first, the little quarterback of the "four horsemen" has insisted he is "happy here" at Wisconsin and not interested in moving.

Notre Dame's faculty board in control of athletic appointments has announced another meeting will be required tomorrow night before the list of recommendations is completed.

Racing Suspended at Golden Gate Club; Track Unsafe

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 11 (UP)—Today is getaway day at the Golden Gate Turf club, hampered by rain, poor mutual play and debtors, the $700,000 establishment suspended its meeting after only five days of racing, and the horses were being shipped out to Santa Anita, Hot Springs, Ark., and Agua Caliente by owners who hoped to recoup their hay money somehow.

The track's directors met to discuss a future policy on the track's financial trouble and to decide whether to apply for new debts.

Decisions to recess the balance of the 33-day meeting was reached after Chairman Jerry Cleaver of the state racing commission suspended the track's license because the oval was "unsafe for racing."

IDAHO SENATE KILLS BILL TO PREVENT REDS ON BALLOT

FEDERAL AID ASKED TO FIGHT NOXIOUS WEEDS

BOISE, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Idaho senate late yesterday killed a house-passed measure designed to prevent the names of Communist party candidates from appearing on the Idaho ballot.

The chamber voted unanimously against the measure.

Hotly debated in the house where it was passed by a vote of 12 to 1, the bill specifically would have banned from the ballot political parties seeking to overthrow the government by force.

"I am opposed to Communism," Sen. Glenn Howell, R., Boise, declared. "However, I believe this bill would be a violation of our freedom in the future. It is possible that in the hands of unscrupulous persons, this measure might be used to bring a serious injustice upon our people."

Reason for Objection

Sen. James Rhodes, D., Kootenai, objected to the bill because, he said, it would give the decision as to what groups fell within the banned classification to the discretion of county commissioners.

"I do not feel that this power should be placed in the hands of one man," he said.

Sen. Rhodes also killed a bill which would have divided high school districts and passed a house joint resolution regarding federal aid to fight noxious weeds on Indian reservations.

The North Idaho senators said that noxious weeds growing in the area have been increasing to such an extent that the prevention of weeds was mandatory on Indian reservations.

Meanwhile, the house was forced to remain on its calendar most of the day because of a consideration of an afternoon session.

Objections raised by Allen Newman, D., Nez Perce, and William Dewit, R., Jerome, prompted the Democratic floor leader to adjourn the house until today after the passage of a bill on the full calendar of the session had been acted upon.

Rep. Dewitler objected to the house remaining in session because several bills were slated for action by the senate members. The resolutions committee were interested in members of the committee had been excused to attend a special meeting.

Here's Battle Aid U. S. Has Given to Date for England

(By NEA Service)

What aid-to-England might mean in the future is powerfully indicated by the American aid that has already gone to the island today.

SPECIAL SCHOOL LEVY VOTE SET

Twin Falls school district election will vote on approval of a four-mill special levy for the general fund at a meeting which has been set today for Tuesday, March 19.

The board of trustees set the date at the meeting last night, when the special levy was voted at the same level as that overwhelmingly approved by voters last year.

Shows Nearly Same

Examination of Budget requirements showed that even with the special levy for the general fund, the aggregate tax rate for the Twin Falls district can be kept at approximately the same level as for the current year. The 1940 levy was 20 mills and the 1939 levy was 19.5 mills at the most.

Special levy is required here, as in other major school districts, because state law specifies that a general fund tax in excess of eight mills must be authorized by the electors.

Supt. Homer M. Davis presented comparative figures to the board showing that Twin Falls levied the lowest tax rates among major Idaho districts, citing 1939-40 school year, he listed these levies: Big Sky, 20 mills; Idaho Falls, 21; Nampa, 20.5; Boise 17.5; Twin Falls 16.2 mills.

Enrollment up

Other figures presented to the board showed that Twin Falls levied 10 years ago although the enrollment has increased 33 per cent.

"The special levy for 1939-40 was 23 mills," Mr. Davis said, "and eight-tenths mill higher than last year's levy. It is noted that in Twin Falls is about 67 per cent, considerably less than the Idaho and U. S. average."

Chairman at last night's board meeting indulged unanimous endorsement for holding over the proposition that probably only a few instructions will be needed.

Bus Study

Chairman Ralph Pink appointed a three-man transportation committee to study routing and stops of the Twin Falls school buses.

The committee, which includes the board's transportation authority who has already conducted a widespread survey with Supt. Davis. His associates in the study are Supt. T. Luke and John Soden, with Mr. Davis as ex-officio member.

Changes suggested by Attorney General Bert H. Miller in the district's new form of lease contract, likely to be made by the board, will consist of a clause providing liquidated damages up to $100, at the discretion of the board, in case of teacher resigns and causes the district expense in filling her post during the school year.

General fund bills totaling $2,971.50 were approved.

TERRIBLE-SEEKING SEVERAL

SHARER WINDOW

Editor Evening Times: Last Saturday night at about 10:30 p. m., as I was sitting in my old car, I was suddenly startled by a crashing sound against the front darked room.

Efforts were made to see what it was that made the noise, and expecting to see an auto smashed or my front landing platform bent, as I went to peer out of the front windows. But there was nothing and no one to see. So I returned to my chair and composed myself for another reading, when again there was a similar noise, and I was getting mad, but again I went out and saw nothing. However, I called aloud to whomsoever it might be to come out in the open and reveal themselves.

This same thing occurred a third time and then I watched a short time from the dark side of the house and presently saw several boys about 12 to 15 years old bob up from behind the fence of Tyeaco station and pick up stones and throw them against my home quarters. So I yelled at them some commands and they fled around the corner of McCool's market and on down Main avenue.

Now, then, I was a boy once myself and I feel that they should have some avenue of escape for their pent up energies, but who is going to pay for the damage when such tricks cause the innocent victims a loss? The next morning when I went in to clean the front room for a meeting that night I found a pane of glass had been smashed in the billiard room the evening before. I reported it to the police so they may be able to get the good boys to make up a collection to reimburse an unemployed old man for their few seconds of thrill in beating me, smacking and tumbling of glass. Or maybe they will train and honorable parents may see this and take into consideration their sons who were romping the streets after the curfew on Saturday nights, and tell him nice if it is so reprehensible to show the 100 per cent American spirit by reminding to me for a pane of glass to be 30 inches, and putty already mixed up.

Dog Finally United With His Master

PORT ORD, Calif., Feb. 11 (Special)—Laddie, having been treated for nearly five months, was reunited with his master, Frank Miller, and nipped at his feet today.

Nevertheless, he is a dog, and is not completely out of love.

Lovell spent the night beside Laddie at the residence of his veterinary hospital, eight miles from Port Ord. He said Laddie's pulse was almost normal, and the result with Scott obviously had helped him.

Scott enlisted in Chantre, Kan., and was held in a cage for 10 months. The dog would have no other master, and nearly died before officers told Scott to bring him to camp. Saved from death by blood transfusions, intravenous injections and forced feeding, he was flown 2,000 miles from Kansas City to Port Ord. When Laddie got out of the hospital, he will inherit the cozy kennel of 30-30, the 7th Infantry's kennel mascot, J.D.-J.D., a bulldog, died of old age last week.
