

MUSSOLINI, FRANCO REACH AGREEMENT AT MEETING

SPANISH, ITALIAN CHIEFS REPORTED IN FULL ACCORD

By GEORGE SNIPES MADRID, Feb. 13 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco and Benito Mussolini established a complete identity of views on European problems and other problems of mutual interest to Spain and Italy "at this historic moment," in two conferences on the Italian Riviera yesterday. It was announced today.

The communique, which was the first announcement of the meeting, said Franco and his foreign minister, Ramon Serrano Suner, had gone through Franco to see Mussolini at Bordighera on the Italian Mediterranean coast, said:

"During conversations held in the morning and afternoon of Feb. 12 at Bordighera (the Caudillo and Franco) and Duce (Mussolini) and Foreign Minister Serrano Suner conferred on the Spanish situation as established on the viewpoints of the Spanish and Italian governments on European problems and those which at this historic moment are of interest to the two countries."

There was no indication from the communique that Franco had committed himself to anything at the conference, especially as regards the military facilities of the peninsula to Germany or Italy.

According to official announcements, Franco and his foreign minister were in the morning and an hour and a half in the afternoon. In the evening Mussolini was here to Franco, Suner and the big Spanish suite.

Calls at 9:30 a. m. Mussolini called on Franco and Suner at 9:30 a. m. and the conference was started at once. The official announcement said that all three appeared most satisfied as they left the conference chamber. Mussolini wore Fascist uniform. Franco wore army uniform and Suner wore uniform of the Spanish Falangists. After lunch Mussolini again visited the Spanish leaders and had tea with them. Then there was a 4 1/2 hour conference.

It was said Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, did not attend the conference and that he was on military duty, but sent a friendly telegram.

MORNING RESULTS Burley Elks 42, Minidoka CCC 34. American All-Stars 87, Doble 21. Burley Elks 42, Minidoka CCC 34.

BURLEY, Feb. 13 (Special)—Three strong teams checked up first-round wins as the annual Burley Elks Outlaw tournament got under way here today—but two of them had narrow escapes before coming out on top in the final minutes of play.

The Burley Elks, considered one of the power clubs of the area, put on a last-minute rally to edge the Minidoka CCC tonight by a count of 42-34. The two teams battled on even terms until through the game and the score was 23-18 at the half. The CCC boys were right on the Elks' heels until the last couple of minutes and a Burley split clinched victory.

AMERICANS TO LEAVE ORIENT

American Consular General Frank L. Lockhart circularized Americans here, giving them the advice to go home.

He first referred to earlier but non-urgent advice to women, children and non-essential men to leave. Then he said:

"Now the state desires to renew the advice. This advice is further necessary as a precautionary measure, in the interest both of the safety and convenience of American nationals and of national security."

"The state department does not contemplate sending a special vessel to carry out the advice of withdrawal. It is expected American nationals will take advantage of such transportation facilities as are currently available."

"This consular general, pursuant to the above advice, desires again urgently to advise the citizens of the United States of the above categories (women, children and non-essential men) to the desirability of withdrawing to the United States."

ELECTRICAL FIRMS HIRE 'U' PUPILS

MOBOW, Feb. 13 (Special)—Students content with average or mediocre grades sometimes are shocked to late when they learn the important part high scholarship plays in landing a better job open to graduating seniors.

Personal men of three nationwide electrical companies interviewed University of Idaho engineering seniors recently, and through no coincidence hired seven of the highest ranking men in their class. A Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company representative selected Edward E. Lacey, Eugene and Charles B. Sutt, Ririe. The General Electric company men picked three: Eldon H. Lindquist, Fayette, and James J. Grainger and Regina R. Myers, Boise.

Howard L. Morrison, Boise, and Richard V. Talbot, New Plymouth, sent written applications during Christmas vacation to the Radio Corporation of America, which they are going to Camden, N. J., for personal interviews, at the company's expense.

A nationally known farm tractor firm wrote last week that it has a job waiting for any mechanical engineer who ranks in the upper half of his class at Idaho. Such stipulations from employers are common, even with the demand for young engineers greater at present than the supply available to fill the jobs.

Other university divisions besides engineering report similar ease in placing their best students. The poorest students are usually the last to get jobs through university assistance. The tail-enders have to make up with initiative and persistence in job hunting for the advantage of the higher grades and better recommendations.

Parents Win in $50,000 Claims Against Doctor

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—A five-year-old boy, and his parents today held a $50,000 judgment awarded them by a Middlesex county court jury in a damages suit they brought against Dr. William Klein because the child was born an idiot because of going to the mentally deranged son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stemmer, to compensate him for his earning power, and $15,000 to the parents for "past, present and future care."

Mr. and Mrs. Stemmer charged Dr. Klein was negligent in prescribing treatment for Mrs. Stemmer and that as a result her unborn son was injured. Mrs. Stemmer, 52, represented that when she asked Dr. Klein for advice five months prior to the birth of her baby, he told her she was suffering from a tumor and prescribed X-ray treatments.

The program opened with group singing, led by Herbert Rook. The introduction was given by Arthur Daniels and the opening ceremony by the officers of the local chapter. Introduction of guests was made by Byron Loughmiller, who then introduced the toastmaster. Glenn Ward gave the welcoming address and George Ward made a response.

Howard Rook, accompanied by Richard Rook, presented a marimba solo and Herbert played a piano solo.

In an outlining of accomplishments of the F. F. A., Junior Farmer spoke on "How I expect Vocational Agriculture to Help Me Get Started in Farming," and Maurice Capps, a former member of the local chapter, spoke on "How Vocational Agriculture Helped Me to Get Started in Farming."

The group was addressed by Col. E. O. Walter and Supt. Homer M. Davis. Yale B. Holland, high school agriculture instructor, presented awards to Supt. Davis and George Ward.

The closing ceremony was given by the officers.

UNITED

BOISE, Feb. 13 (UP)—A musical compromise was reached yesterday on the battle over creation of a four-year university at Pocatello.

Shortly before the Idaho house reconvened in the afternoon, engineering reports similar ease in placing their best students. The poorest students are usually the last to get jobs through university assistance. The tail-enders have to make up with initiative and persistence in job hunting for the advantage of the higher grades and better recommendations.

JUNIORS PRESENT COMEDY TONIGHT

First of two presentations of the junior class play for Twin Falls high school will be given this evening in the high school auditorium. The second presentation will be offered Friday evening with a different cast.

Clifford Goldsmith's "What a Life!" is the play being staged this year. Henry Aldrich and his difficulties at the central high school make the story.

The comedy deals with humorous happenings in the life of every average high school age boy. Henry's "misfortunes" keep him in the office of the high school principal, Mr. Bradley, a large per cent of the time and consequently the entire play takes place in the principal's office.

Tickets are sold at the high school. Miss Florence M. Rees is director.

Bubble Dancer Appears Before Georgia Solons

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 13 (Special)—Pan and bubble dancer Sally Hand appeared before the Georgia senate fully clothed today in response to a special invitation from the legislators to discuss "nude dancing" in connection with the national emergency.

A resolution inviting her had been adopted by both houses a moment of lively yesterday. She is currently appearing at an Atlanta night club.

The senate chamber was packed as were the galleries when Miss Hand walked to the rotium, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kisting, and a delegation of senators.

"There's so much seriousness to be discussed today that we all at times need a little relaxation and escape from reality into the world of fantasy. That's what I can provide with my work," the fan dancer told the lawmakers.

"I'm glad to be here because I knew I'd meet so many of my favorite men—especially the old ones. They give you what the young ones promise," she said.

"I hope I see you all some day in the foothills soon. If I see you then you'll see more of me."

REPUBLICANS TO FACE SERIOUS INTRA-PARTY BATTLE

TAFT LASHES AT WILLKIE'S STAND AS GOP LEADER

By United Press

The Republican party, plagued by landslide defeats in every election since 1930, today faced a serious intra-party row.

The Republicans' troubles focus upon their 1940 standard bearer, Wendell L. Willkie, who opposes most of the party leaders and agrees with Democratic President Roosevelt on United States foreign policy.

There are other reasons behind the growing O. O. P. discord—Willkie's former affiliation with the Democratic party never having set well with some Republican big-wigs but his strong support of the administration's British aid bill has set off what may become an all-out fight over his titular leadership of the party.

The battle lines were clearly drawn last night at Lincoln day dinners, celebrating the birthday of the Republican party's first President. The tributes to Abraham Lincoln were overshadowed by clear signs of dissension.

Among Missing

Notably missing among the Lincoln day speakers were former President Hoover and Robert Hoover, and M. Landon, 1936 G. O. P. standard bearer. Both Hoover and Landon oppose the administration's British aid program.

Willkie, addressing a New York dinner and a national radio address, challenged the party to press a "positive doctrine," warned it against lapsing into a "party of reaction" and left no doubt he would fight any attempt to strip him of his power as the No. 1 Republican leader.

He criticized the New Deal, too, making clear his agreement with the Roosevelt administration still ends with questions of aid to Britain and general foreign policies. But he told Republicans:

"I am here to challenge you to a higher faith than compromise, negotiation and death."

Challenges Willkie

While he was warning the party against adoption of a policy of isolation in the world affairs, Sen. Robert A. Taft, R. O., opponent of the pending British aid bill and an unopposed aspirant for the Republican nomination last summer, challenged Willkie's right to Republican leadership.

Taft, speaking at Harrisonburg, Va., contended Willkie was a Republican leader, not Hoover and Landon, but added:

"There is no justification in precedent or principle for the view that a defeated candidate for President is the titular leader of the party. Willkie does not and cannot claim the leadership of the party. The Republican party desires to take a party position on foreign affairs, which it might not take if it were not for the British aid bill and an unopposed aspirant for the Republican nomination last summer, challenged Willkie's right to Republican leadership.

Movie Business Picks up As ASCAP Stays off Air

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD — Behind the screen: When Leo McCarey prepared to direct "The Cowboy and the Blond" at 20th-Fox, a picture having several sequels supposed to take place at a movie studio, he naturally planned to use some of the studio buildings as backgrounds.

But trouble started as they tried to line up a scene outside the administration building. Executives began popping in and out at wrong times; doors banged; loud machine conversations were heard; and office workers crowded to the windows to stare like a bunch of tourists at the film crew at work. McCarey finally had to give up and have a false-front built on the back lot.

Loews, Inc., makes a profit of about $6,000,000 in 40 weeks; Warner Brothers pays its first picture stock dividend since 1932; Universal profits jump more than 100 per cent; RKO makes its first picture cuts made in 1939; Paramount cleans up $8,000,000. Movie-makers feel a little silly now as they recall their panic at foreign market began to collapse.

Music War Aids Theaters

Incidentally, since the music war took ASCAP songs off the air, the opposite receipts have increased. Some theaters because screen tunes couldn't be plugged by radio. Will seems to have had the best of both worlds in pictures to get away from "You Walked By," "You're the One" and "HITLER." ARMY DISCREDITS SABOTAGE TALK

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 13 (Special) — Flying fortress that crashed and exploded on a mountain near Lovelock, Nev., last Friday, killing eight men, broke up when it was pulled out of a terrific dive, army officials said today.

Lieut.-Col. Fred C. Nelson, commanding McClellan field air depot, said the "strongest plane in the world" could not withstand the strain of leveling off after such a dive.

"The B-17-B flying fortress is one of the best planes of its type ever to be used by the army," he said. "It has been flown under all kinds of conditions, and it is impossible that there could have been a structural failure."

Witnesses testified that, seconds before the bomber crashed, a "column of pieces fell from it," then it spun in two "half loops" and hit the mountain. The investigating board reported portions of the plane were found on a ridge and portions of the wings between the ridge and the scene of the crash.

Nelson said his statement was to discredit rumors that sabotage or structural failure was responsible.

Cassia Will Have Two Test Farms

BURLEY, Feb. 13 (Special) — Cassia county has been selected by the state land use planning and program development committee for the establishment of two farm unit demonstration farms.

Of 19 such farms in the state, Cassia county has been selected for the same to represent the south Idaho section. At a meeting of the committee last week, the plan of conducting these farms was discussed and final selection of them will be made in the near future. The phosphate cost will be approximately one-half the usual amount.

The purpose of the project over a period of time is to test the influence on land, water control, crops, livestock, farm organization, farm family, and farm finances when concentrated phosphates are applied to the farm unit.

Eight farms will be selected for the tests, and applications to the various crops will be determined by the farmer and extension service.

Ten per cent of each crop-acre will be withheld from applications of phosphate to measure increase in yields and income. In connection with such demonstrations it will be necessary for the farmer-cooperator to cooperate in the keeping of crop records and relative income figures.

U-P STUDIES SPUD RATE REDUCTION

BOISE, Feb. 13 (U-P) — Union Pacific railroad officials today had under consideration a proposal to reduce by 25 per cent the freight rates on Idaho potatoes for a 90-day emergency period.

The request was made at a meeting attended by state legislators, members of the public utilities commission, and officials of Idaho farm organizations. Gov. Chas. A. Clegg called the meeting.

E. S. Shattuck, Idaho Falls, secretary of the Idaho Potato Growers' association, said Idaho's surplus potato crop had brought a crisis to Idaho farmers. Emergency steps to reduce freight rates and permit distribution of the surplus were needed to avert disaster, he said.

Officials of the railroad said it would be difficult to reduce potato rates in Idaho without giving similar reductions to farmers in other states, but they promised to study the proposal.

Sentence Awaited On Manslaughter

POCAHELLO, Feb. 13 (U-P)— Ralph Higgins, 37, today awaited sentence for involuntary manslaughter in the death of George Higgins, 41.

He was convicted of the crime last night by a jury which deliberated for more than six hours. Higgins had been charged with second degree murder but the charge was reduced.

Appleton Couple Has Anniversary

JEROME, Feb. 13 (Special) — Celebrating their 26th wedding anniversary Sunday at their home in the Appleton district, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mullen were hosts to a large number of relatives and close friends at a dinner.

Guests and members of the family were seated at one long table, centered with a large three-tiered decorated cake. Other table appointments featured a clever St. Patrick's day theme.

A life-long friend of the couple, Edward O'Leary, Twin Falls, who was floor manager at the couple's wedding dance 26 years ago in Kansas, was an honored guest of the occasion.

The couple had lived in the Appleton district of Jerome since 1936, and came to Idaho, March 1, 1937, where they established residence at Wendell. Mr. Mullen is at present engaged in farming.

Former Kansas

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen were born on adjoining farms in Riley county, Kan., and were married by Father Michael Brown, pastor of St. Michael's church, at Kinoo, Kan., Feb. 9, 1915. Before her marriage, Mrs. Mullen was Miss Susan McQuillen.

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen are parents of eight children, all living in Jerome, excepting Charles and Elizabeth, who are at present Twin Falls residents.

URGES U. S. UNITY AND AID FOR BRITAIN

Editor, Evening Times:

We, as Americans, should consider a question carefully but we should not procrastinate in making a decision, and when the decision is made we should act promptly.

It is well to express our opinions but we must be united in a common effort. We must all work for the good of our country, which secures to everyone liberty and religious freedom. We must watch the small dissections that they do not grow into a catastrophe.

Think of the Civil war, when brother hated brother! The primary cause was greed on both sides. This strife might have been averted by unselfishness and an honest effort at understanding while it was yet a small fire, but as today, the fires are small but if we allow them to be fanned by prejudice and hatred they may burst into a mighty conflagration.

Let us remember first of all that we are Americans.

Then let us not forget that we are indebted to many peoples and civilizations, as well as individuals from almost every race and of almost every creed. We are the product of assimilation of these.

But we have the most in common with the British. We speak the same language, our customs and institutions are similar. We are thoroughly familiar with English literature. We have to study English history in order that we may understand our own and the very beginnings of our history are in England, Ireland and Scotland.

It has always been the policy of our government to "live and let live." We have never thought that might meant right. We have invariably championed the cause of the weak and the oppressed.

Germany, under the fanatical leadership of Hitler, has been trained and armed to a high degree. The Nazis have trampled over smaller nations in the most ruthless manner, and millions and millions of people are suffering because of this man's mad ambition.

Hitler is against Christianity and religion as we know it. A year or more ago he was planning to have the Bible re-written, leaving out all reference to the Jews.

Chamberlain, a pacifist but not a coward, tried to negotiate with Hitler and was very proud of what he thought he had accomplished. But Hitler, as on other occasions broke his promises. So England, totally unprepared, entered the war and it has been a more than a more brave or courageous people. Not only the soldiers, but the men, women and children at home. The Australians in Africa have shown great ability and fortitude. And the Greeks have won the admiration of the world.

These people are worthy of help. They are fighting for home lands and for principles bigger even than the love of home. They aren't asking for manpower. Our sacrifices would be small indeed compared with theirs.

By helping the democracies we would be serving a two-fold purpose, giving aid that is most earnestly asked for and also helping to destroy our own country from aggression.

Americans must stand together and put up a solid and united front against anything that is undemocratic and un-American.

IDAHO GOP HEARS REUBEN S. CLARK

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Idaho Republicans last night heard J. Reuben Clark, Salt Lake City, former ambassador to Mexico and Mormon church leader, issue a call for Americans "to guard and preserve the trust inspired by the constitution and free institutions guaranteed by it."

Speaking at a Lincoln club banquet, Clark said "America has no place in a conflict either to get or maintain empire."

"Her blood must not be shed for hate; it has no need to be for fear; she may not in righteousness sacrifice her sons to the extermination of peoples, misguided and misled," he declared.

He urged study of the constitution as an instrument to preserve liberty and warned against drifting "back to our pre-constitutional British concepts."

"In the present day," he said "there are signs that we shall get clear back to the British concept which has not such guarantees of liberty as we possess."

Total population of the British empire is about 500,000,000.

GERMANS REPORT SINKING OF 13 BRITISH CONVOY SHIPS

SURFACE RAIDERS GET CREDIT FOR SURPRISE ATTACK

BERLIN, Feb. 13 (AP)—The German high command said today German naval surface ships had sunk a convoy west of Portugal, sinking 13 armed British merchant vessels, including several large liners, trying war material for England.

The action was described as a "coastal raid" because the ships were carried off by German long distance bombers on the British convoy system west of Portugal.

The high command's statement that the attack was made by German surface warships caused some surprise among observers who had believed the attack, reported earlier by the Berlin radio, might have been made by submarines.

Convoy Destroyed

The special announcement said in addition to sinking 13 ships the German naval attackers had scattered the convoy.

The official German news agency DNB said German mine-sweepers operating off the Atlantic coast of France had been ordered to intercept and sink a British submarine. A mine-sweeper was said to have attacked the British submarine.

The German radio also said that the British command had reported that the radio said the ships were carrying war material for England, added the convoy had been scattered by the German men of war.

CONDUCTED SWEEP

LONDON, Feb. 13 (AP)—German surface raiders, it was learned today, have attacked a British convoy in the Atlantic.

Coincidentally, naval quarters revealed that powerful units of the British fleet conducted a "most successful" sweep of a 1,000-mile square area of the north Atlantic.

It was implied—through information disclosed to say as much—that the British warships swept the area in a hunt for Nazi sea raiders.

Details of the attack on the British convoy were available immediately.

Germans Dangle Dutch Indies As Bait to Get Japanese Aid

By J. W. T. MASON
(United Press Wire Report)

Reports today of a sudden crisis in the far east are vague as to details but some evidence points to developments between Japan and the Dutch East Indies as the immediate cause, with the Germans trying to use Japan as their instrument if a strictly realist policy prevails in Tokyo, devoid of all sentimentalism, however it is hard to believe that the Japanese will be so quick at this time to spread of hostilities in the orient.

Difficulties between the Dutch East Indies and Japan are not new, in themselves. They can become critical only if Japan succumbs to axis pressure which might bring the pro-German leaders in the orient to the realization of present conditions in Europe and America.

Supply Announced

Japanese demands from the Dutch East Indies assurances of supplies of essential raw materials. Negotiations last year were partially successful and further conversations have been proceeding since then to enlarge trade between the two countries.

Additionally, however, some Japanese desire the Dutch East Indies to join the Greater East Asia bloc which Japan is trying to create with herself as the acknowledged leader. The Balkan government has declined to discuss political issues with Japan, insisting negotiations be confined to economic matters.

The axis powers apparently are seeking to take advantage of this situation by pushing the war into the orient. Germany might be considered the prime instigator, using diplomatic strategy based on existence of two separate Dutch governments.

Two Governments

One Dutch government is in Holland and is under German control. The other Dutch government is in London, supporting the British cause in the war. The Dutch East Indies has declined to discuss political issues with Japan, insisting negotiations be confined to economic matters.

Since Japan has bound herself to the triple alliance, it is impossible for Tokyo to accept the exiled Dutch government as the controlling power. The Germans thus would like to persuade Japan to consider the Dutch East Indies as a rebellious group that should be forced to do Japan's bidding.

Hope to Involve Japanese

The axis has no intention of the Dutch East Indies, however, as an independent entity. The Germans are interested in stirring trouble between Japan and the Dutch East Indies, but they believe if Japan strikes in that direction, the

Fashion Chiefs Discount Nazi Vienna Claims

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13 (AP)—The nation's leading fashion experts today scoffed at Hitler's claims that Vienna has become the fashion capital of the world.

Hollywood and New York, they said, point the way to smart fashions for the world.

More than 75 famous designers are here for the California Fashion Futura dinner and style show tonight at the Ambassador hotel, where 100 models will present bathing suits, evening gowns and sports ensembles for 1941.

The designers chose the duchess of Windsor among the "world's 10 best dressed women" and mentioned Queen Elizabeth and the duchess of Kent.

Others in the 10 best dressed group were Countess Benetti, Dolores del Rio, Rosalind Russell, Ina Claire, Lady Mendel, Countess Hauptweiss-Reinhold, Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mrs. Byron C. Foy and Mrs. Ronald Balcom.

Prominent mention went to Joan Crawford, Gerole Lombardi, Norma Shearer, Lovette Young, Hedda Hopper, Kay Francis, Deanna Durbin, Hattie Carnegie, Irene Dunn, Claire Booth, Gertrude Lawrence, Grand Duchesse Marie, Josephine Bechthold, Mrs. H. C. Cartwright and Renee de Marco.

American Airplanes Out-Dive British Craft in Demonstration

AN AIRPORT SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 13 (AP)—The question of whether American-built airplanes are up to European standards has been answered.

In a roaring, diving stunt battle arranged by the ministry of aircraft production for British, American and American correspondents, American planes gave a convincing demonstration of superiority.

Curtis P-40's and P-40's were the stars of the show. The British old glider P-40's, Mustangs, the P-40's, Tomahawks. The Mustangs were a Wright radial air-cooled engine, while the Tomahawk has the newer Allison liquid-cooled engine.

Because of its radial engine, the Mustang outclimbed and out-maneuvered British Spitfires and Hurricanes.

Whether the Tomahawk, with its liquid-cooled engine, could outmaneuver a Hurricane is questionable.

The high royal air force officer who witnessed the exhibition said the Tomahawk had given the better all-around performance. Even though the Hurricane seems able to make slightly tighter turns, the Tomahawk was faster and a better climber, and these advantages would enable it to dictate what form the battle would take.

The Mustang is credited with a speed of over 325 miles per hour, the Tomahawk with over 330.

Three other American-made planes showed their stuff.

A Douglas DB 7 bomber stood out because of its triplane undercarriage.

SAWTOOTH AREA GETS NEW SNOW

Heavy snowfall during the past week sent average depths in the Sawtooth country soaring to new heights this season, according to the report received here from Charles Daugherty, supervisor of the Sawtooth national forest.

Depth at Ketchikan Monday was 20 inches, an increase of seven over a week ago and exactly double the total for 1940 on the same date. Halley showed 20 inches, compared with 20 the week before and only eight last year.

Old Baldy checking stations showed a range from 34 up to 47 inches, compared with 28 to 38 one week ago.

Galena now has 44 inches.

The money now levels aren't confined to the Sawtooth country, Mr. Daugherty's report shows. Paifield gained three inches in a week, showing 28 inches Monday. In the Coconino county seat had only 10 inches at the same time a year ago. Soldier ranger station and the same value shed, has 25 inches, a gain of five in one week.

Peashville registered a drop of two inches in average depth but Rocky Bar, with 42 inches Monday, is two inches ahead of last year's 40 inches.

Salmon Country Gains

Williams ranch in the Salmon river valley had 28 inches of snow compared with 18 on Feb. 3 and 22 inches a year ago.

Stanley has 21 inches, gaining four inches in a week.

Cumulative snowfall totals at Halley moved ahead of the longtime average and increased to far more than double those of 1939 year ago. Cumulative now is 62 inches, average is 50.39; last year, 25.70 inches.

Smaller reports in South America, Uruguay has vast areas of rice under cultivation. The amount there is sufficient for local needs.

BILL LOOMS FOR CAMP SCHOOLING

Efforts of the Twin Falls and Caldwell school districts to lessen the expense burden caused by Federal farm camp schooling will probably result in introduction of state legislation, it was indicated here today.

A proposed bill is now before the educational committee of the Idaho house of representatives, according to Twin Falls members of a delegation which conferred with Caldwell trustees and with legislators of the two counties.

Chairman Favorable
Since the chairman of the educational committee in the house is from Canyon county and is acquainted with the extra expense imposed by farm camp schooling—introduction of the bill is regarded here as assured. Passage by both houses, however, is uncertain despite the fact that a Democratic attorney is steering the measure as legal adviser.

The bill, in essence, provides that the government pay the cost of schooling in lieu of taxes. At present the FSA pays only a sum equal to what the actual taxes on the farm camps would be if the property were privately owned. School trustees here and at Cascade county have fought the method because it falls far short of paying actual expenses imposed on local taxpayers.

Highlights of the pending bill, as outlined by local trustees, are:

1. School districts are authorized to enter an agreement with the government by which the districts shall maintain schools for farm camps and "vagrant" projects, on condition that the government pays the cost of the schooling in lieu of taxes. The government would be given credit for any benefits the federal project confers on the district.

2. High school students could not be educated at the camps, but would necessarily be brought into the schools. The government would pay the cost per pupil.

3. Provision for figuring the average daily attendance of farm camp schools on a basis favorable to the district, because of the "unreasonable fluctuation in the number of children of school age."

4. School districts cannot educate the children at a federal project unless the districts negotiate agreements of the kind stipulated in the bill.

4-YEAR ELECTION DIES IN SENATE

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—An attempt to revise the Idaho constitution for election of state and county officials four years instead of two years was apparently killed last night and two of three companion measures were rejected in the senate.

The house voted down state joint resolutions proposed by Sen. R. O. Bailey, D. New Pecos, to give four-year terms to state legislators and state elective officials. However, a third proposal—to extend terms of county officials to four years—remained for consideration, and Sen. John C. Sanborn, R., Gooding, served notice he might call for reconsideration of the rejected resolutions.

Labor Bill Killed
The house tonight killed a bill by Rep. T. B. Wood, D., Kootenai, to repeal the state criminal syndicalism law, which maintains the law discriminated against labor organizations, but other members argued it should remain on the statute books to protect the nation against violence and sabotage "in time of national emergency."

A bill to permit the legislature sale of liquor by the drink was dropped into the house hopper. Introduced by the revenue and taxation committee, the bill establishes a scale system for issuing bar licenses. Minors would be prohibited from purchasing drinks and all bars would be subject to close regulation by law enforcement officers.

Other Bills
Other bills introduced in the house provided for revision of the Lewiston city charter to permit establishment of parking lots and street widening, re-defines gross income for tax purposes, establish a new auto licensing system on the basis of one per cent of the market value plus $5 for a regular license, require licenses for commercial fishing for blueback salmon in Pond d'Orville and Priest lakes, and placing cities having commission forms of government under all state laws regarding municipalities.

The house also passed a bill creating a state board of mining securities. The measure closely regulates sale of mining stocks in the state and requires financial statements from mining companies.
