Health Center at Lava Hot Springs Is House Bill Aim

By LLOYD TUPLING
BOISE, Feb. 22 (U.P.)—First step toward establishing a health center at Lava Hot Springs was taken today with launching of a bill in the Idaho house of representatives to provide a $110,000 appropriation for construction of a hospital.

The hospital would be for cure of infantile paralysis and care of crippled children, and the governor would be authorized to cooperate with federal agencies in securing additional funds for equipping the foundation, to be set up on a basis similar to Georgia's famed Warm Springs hospital.

Gov. Chase A. Clark has approved the plan as "an economic value to the state," and WPA officials have indicated a $100,000 federal grant would be available to increase funds.

Water from Lava Hot Springs has been found to contain minerals beneficial to treatment of paralysis.

Both houses had full calendars but took time out in the morning to conduct memorial services honoring George Washington. Governor Clark was guest of honor at the joint session.

SENATE PASSES HOSPITAL LEVY; GOES TO CLARK

BOISE, Feb. 22 (Special)—The Idaho state senate today approved and sent to Gov. Chase A. Clark a measure providing that counties may levy for maintenance of general hospitals.

Senate approval came by a vote of 23 to 10.

The measure, sponsored by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and by physicians of that area, had previously passed the house without one dissenting vote.

Expected to sign the bill was understood that the governor would require placing the names of presidential candidates on the ballot along with party electors. The bill, already passed by the senate, was dropped unanimously.

Other measures approved by the house would permit commercial fishermen to fish in the Snake river, provide county levies to defray expenses on transporting school children and support for the state school system, and to form a water users' association.

The senate, meanwhile, received a resolution from Sen. Perry Nelson, D. Power to establish a new airplane training base on American Falls reservoir. Two measures changing the method of electing city officials and shifting type of agricultural labor exempted from provisions of the unemployment compensation act were referred to a committee of the whole for amendment.

Today marked the 48th day of the session and it was noted by senate leaders that the important appropriation measures has yet been introduced. Law requires introduction of the bills by the 48th legislative day, but appropriations committee members said they would flood the chambers with the measure Monday or Tuesday.

At yesterday's afternoon session the house turned down the first revenue measure to appear—that for (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

EARLY SURVEYOR SUCCEUMBS AT 84

William Marshall Lambing, 84, who helped to survey the territory of Idaho before it became a state, died at 2:45 a. m. today at the Twin Falls county general hospital, following a 10-day illness.

Mr. Lambing was present at the opening of the Twin Falls tract in 1894. He came to Twin Falls 30 years ago to make his home, but made numerous trips to Idaho before that time.

He was the first livestock advertiser in the United States, and also raised purebred stock. By profession he was a surveyor.

He was well-known for his hobby of growing fine roses, and his garden produced some of the choicest blooms ever grown in southern Idaho.

Mr. Lambing was born June 23, 1855, in Wayne, Ia. He was an active member of the Presbyterian church here, surviving as trustee for a number of years.

Membership in Twin Falls Masonic lodge No. 45 was held by Mr. Lambing at the time of his death.

Survivors are the following children: Herbert Lambing, Kimberley, Mrs. Alta Stain, Walker, Jr. & Mrs. Lambing, Long Beach, Calif. Two half-sisters, Mrs. Anna F. Bonn, South City, Mo., and Mrs. Vahlit Evans, Springfield, O., also survive, as do 13 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Taft Claims Aid Bill Will Bring U. S. Into Fight

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (U.P.)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., arguing against the administration's British aid bill, contended today that "unless we are prepared to declare war ourselves, we should not pass this bill."

In a speech to the senate, Taft said that "the time has come when the nation should face the issue of war and openly debate it."

Sen. Arthur Capper, R., Kans., opened the sixth day of general debate on the measure by generalizing it as a "fantastic, bombastic nightmare" to give President Roosevelt "complete war-making powers and control of our domestic economy."

Taft said "let us not drift into war by mistake, and find later that a majority of the people were fooled into a course of action, the end of which they did not understand. That is not the democratic way; nor is it the way to win a war."

Opposes FDR, Wilkie
Taking issue with President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Wilkie, who beat him for the Republican presidential nomination last year and who now supports the administration bill, Taft pleaded for enactment of his substitute bill which would make out-right dollar credits of $1,000,000,000 available to Britain, $500,000,000 to Canada, and $500,000,000 to Greece.

He said that the powers contained in the administration measure would put Mr. Roosevelt "in a position where he can run the war." The British could hardly plan an expedition in Africa or in the Balkans without obtaining the permission of the President and the materials necessary for such an expedition.

"Peace in America is the only hope of the world," Taft said, "but we can still keep out of the war and still give to Great Britain the assistance for which she is pleading."

17 STRIKES STILL HAMPER DEFENSE

DEATH COMES TO L. S. PATRIARCH

L. G. Kirkman, 66, patriarch of the Twin Falls stake, Latter Day Saints church, died early this afternoon at his home, 601 Third avenue west, following an extended illness.

One of the most prominent southern Idaho Latter Day Saints officials, Mr. Kirkman was first bishop of the Twin Falls ward when it was organized.

Taft said "let us not drift into war by mistake, and find later that a majority of the people were fooled into a course of action, the end of which they did not understand. That is not the democratic way; nor is it the way to win a war."

New Maneuver Aims at Cutting Italians' Retreat

By HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Great Britain moved swiftly today to strengthen her position in the Mediterranean and the war-jittery Balkans.

The British admiralty announced laying of great mine fields designed to box in Italy and cut possible routes by which the Germans might descend upon Tunisia and the Italian escape from Tripoli.

Key to the new mine fields were the narrow waters between Sicily and north Africa. The British said they had cut the central Mediterranean at its narrowest point. Only British vessels equipped with charts of the new fields can safely traverse them.

The action was believed to be designed to block any move by the axis powers to use sea lanes to bolster Italy's fading position in Libya. Previous speculation has centered on possibility Italy might attempt to evacuate her garrisons at Tripoli by sea or through the German might move on French Tunisia.

Beat off Attacks
Royal air force planes today beat off repeated attempts by Heinkel-Luftwaffe to penetrate Britain's coastal defenses.

The air action on the British coast was on a scale comparable to the big battles of last fall and the London press believed it marked the opening phase of a British-German struggle for control of "the air frontier."

On the far eastern front there were no signs of easing tension. Vichy said the French government had rejected Japanese "compromising proposals" for settling the conflict between Indo-China and Thailand.

Vichy feared the rejection would cause additional trouble because of the large Japanese naval concentration in Indo-China waters and prospect of new border fighting.

The German navy was reported to be making representations to the Japanese foreign office against the Japanese offer to mediate the war between Britain and Germany.

The British move to bolster her position in the Balkans and Turkey centered on the activity of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Gen. Sir John Dill, chief of the imperial general staff, now in Cairo.

Eden believed they would go to Ankara for further negotiations with the Turkish government and suggested Eden might go on to Athens and Greece, possibly in an attempt to set up a new ally in Jugoslavia, Greece and Turkey to oppose Nazi penetration of the Balkans.

In Spain, Gen. Francisco Franco called his second cabinet meeting in Madrid, possibly to consider the situation created by news that German military units were coming to the relief of Axis and hurricane storm troops.

One report was that foreign reaction to the news might cause the Spanish government to decline the German offer. There was no word.

AID BILL FOES, BACKERS POINT TO WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (U.P.)—Both proponents and opponents of the British aid bill found reason to believe today George Washington, were he alive, would support their positions.

Senate debate was interrupted to permit the annual reading of the farewell address on occasion of the first President's birthday.

Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D., Mo., national opponent of the bill, said Washington's address was "the best argument that could be made against the bill."

Sen. Mackley Leedes-Rosen, W. Barkley, vice opponents were "going to try to use old George to bludge us today."

Proponents found their comfort in this action of the farewell address:

"Temporary Alliances"
"Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments, on a suitable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies."

The oppositionists found the notion of such an alliance repulsive.

The nation which indulges toward another an habitual hatred, or an habitual fondness, is in some degree a slave. It is a slave to its animosities or to its affections, either of which is sufficient to lead it astray from its duty and its interest.

"Antipathy in one nation against another, disposes each more readily to injure the other, to follow the impulse of passion rather than of reason, and to be haughty and intractable when accidental or trifling occasions of dispute occur. Frequent collisions, obstinate, unprovoked, and bloody wars."

The nation, when provoked by ill will and resentment, sometimes impels to war the government, contrary to the best calculations of policy. The government sometimes sacrifices in the national policy, and adopts through passion what reason would reject.

"Sympathy for the favorite nation, facilitating the illusion of an imaginary common interest, in cases where no real common interest exists, and infusing into one the enmities of the other, betrays the former into a course of hostility, which ought to relate to the quarrels and wars of the latter, without adequate inducements of justification. It leads also to concessions of privilege to one nation, or to the other, which are apt doubly to injure the nation making the concessions, by attaching to it the odium of the quarrel, and by exciting jealousy, ill will, and a desire of revenge, on the part of whom equal privileges are withheld."

Robert Kirkman recently returned from an L. D. S. mission in Australia, completing his missionary work in California.

NEW LEGISLATION ASKS ADED QUOTA FOR BEET GROWERS

SENATORS POINT TO HIGH PRICES IN WORLD WAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Sen. Alva B. Adams, D. Colo., and Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., today introduced legislation which would grant American beet and cane sugar producers any portion of the Philippine sugar quota that cannot be filled by the islands.

Adams, introducing the bill, said sugar shipments from the Philippines probably will be curtailed because of a shortage of shipping and high freight rates. He asserted the United States should build up a domestic production to save any possible shortage.

O'Mahoney said "we will press for speedy action on the measure in an attempt to have hearings held as soon as possible." He added domestic beet and cane sugar production is "well in excess of the domestic quota of 800,000 tons."

Sen. Allen J. Ladd, D. La., observed in Louisiana he has been suffering for four years from acreage reduction. He said he would be "glad to join Adams in pressing for some form of relief."

Domestic beet sugar producers had an aggregate production of 1,000,000 tons cut 15 percent by a decision of the agriculture department in January, Colorado, however, received a cut of 25 percent in its acreage.

Give One Man Power - "But in the great powers of that bill we are asked to give one man the power to take us into war, and by passing the bill in its present form we are in effect approving a war policy if he sees fit to declare it."

Webb clinched a shot at the 175-pound title last night with a technical knockout over blood-smeared Tommy Butler of New York, an opponent who never before had been a professional fighter.

A crowd of 6,000 at Madison Square Garden saw Jimmy smash his way to the canvas for a third time in the ninth round and then deliver him into such gory helplessness that referee Frankie Fullerton had to stop the boutchy at 1:07 of the ninth round.

Bruins Scramble Hoop Race With 31 to 24 Victory Over Oakley

You could place just about any name you wanted in the front ranks of the Class A basketball race today—and no matter whom you picked it would be about six to one that you were wrong on which team will be the champions of the 1941 district.

Up until the past 10 days it appeared very much that Burley, Oakley and Filer could be counted on as the stand-outs and pre-tournament favorites. But since then the Bobcats have lost games to Heyburn of the Class B ranks, Oakley and Filer. Meanwhile, Filer was going fine and appeared to be a contender for great things—only to run into the Twin Falls Bruins and a 21-10 defeat on the Wildest Court Tuesday.

Oakley, recovering from a mid-season slump, knocked over the Bobcats and Buhl Indians—and then took it on the chin last night as the Twin Falls club played its best game of the season. The score of this one was 31-24 and the game resulted in the Bruins being moved into the class of "those to beat" for the title.

Zale-Hostak Bout Looms After Kayos

CHICAGO, Feb. 22 (UP)—Middleweight Champion Tony Zale, with a knockout over Soldier Steve Mankos in his first title defense, was ready to sign today for another match with the man he beat for the crown—Al Hostak of Seattle.

Hostak came back into the picture last night with an impressive one-round knockout of George Burzette, Detroit's Negro middleweight champion. Showing no evidence of being gun-shy after his terrific beating by Zale last July, Hostak put Burzette on his floor three times, the last one for keeps after one minute, 50 seconds.

Zale has all the fight he could handle from the tough national guard sergeant Mankos who was ahead on points when Zale first dropped him in the 15th round.

In the 14th, however, he was helpless. Zale drove him about the ring and finally nailed him with a right to the head. Mankos sagged in his own corner, rolled over on his back and did not stir as Referee Tommy Gunn counted over him.

Mankos will rejoin his Washington, D. C. national guard unit here for training at Camp Meade, Maryland.

Zale will rest until his next title defense with Hostak.

California Ace Wins Cross-Country Run; Engen Finishes Second

ECKER HILL, Utah, Feb. 22 (UP)—Workmen at Ecker hill, newly-remodeled to increase the height of the takeoff, today smoothed out the snow on the runways so Alf Engen could have every possible aid in his attempt to set a new, official North American jumping record.

The Sun Valley ace will be attempting to surpass the 273-foot mark set two weeks ago at Leavenworth, Wash., by Tenger Tokko—two hours after.

Engen, at Iron Mountain, Mich., had also broken the previous record by jumping 267 feet.

The man who held the record for two years—until Engen and Tokko cracked it—was also entered in today's Ecker-hill jumping event, part of the national combined ski tournament. He was Bob Rocker of the Duluth, Minn. Ski club, who hoped to do some record busting of his own.

Engen's cross-country was George Gustavson, Auburn, Calif. in 51 seconds, but Gustavson did not enter the jumping.

Engen's cross-country time was 53.24 seconds. He was followed by Finn Raasmussen, Auburn; Kaare Engen, Mandeville, Minn.; Bert Jensen, Little Kanadiah; and Dave Quinney, Utah Ski club.

The Utah state championship jumping tournament will be held tomorrow. It was planned for today—but officials discovered that national rules required the combined events be staged on consecutive days.

Tunney Says Conn Doesn't Belong in Ring With Louis

BY HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (UP)—It being Washington's birthday, when the trials are especially acute, the chances are Gene Tunney was telling the absolute truth when he told the Billy Conn didn't belong in the same ring with Joe Louis.

Here in California to enjoy our "unusually" weather for a few weeks, the former heavyweight champion of the world says it is absolutely ridiculous to expect the 175-pound Conn to last more than a few rounds against the heavy-weight champion.

"I saw the story you had quoting Jimmy McLarin as saying he thought Conn would defeat Louis," Tunney told me. "I can't understand McLarin's feeling that way, because I know he was a magnificent boxer himself and understands the game thoroughly. What he thinks Conn is going to win with? He is 25 pounds lighter than Joe, hasn't much of a punch, doesn't have as much experience, and while he is faster on his feet than Louis isn't as fast with his hands. And the hands you know are what you hit and win with. The next time you see McLarin give him my best and tell him to make a little bet with him."

McLarin Wants No Bet

But I'm not going to tell McLarin. He is sick and tired of people wanting to bet. Louis since he went on record as liking Conn.

Tunney thinks Conn's lack of a punch will be the chief reason for his early downfall at hands of Louis.

Louis is a terrific fighter at all times," Tunney explained, "but put him in there with a fellow he knows can't hit much and he's vicious. Knowing Conn can't hurt him, Joe will undoubtedly bull his way in close, swarm over his lighter foe, and beat him down in a round or two. Remember John Henry Lewis, another light heavyweight champion who tried to make a go against Louis? Well, in my opinion, Johnny Henry was a better fighter than Conn is, but he never had a chance."

Tunney ranks Louis as one of the great fighters of all time.

"Joe is the greatest right hand hitter who ever lived," Gene says. "There never was anyone who threw a right hand punch with the devastating power Louis does. Not only so, but he has a tremendous punch, but he throws it so fast. That is the real reason for Joe's greatness. His speed with his hands. Dempsey's left hook was a bit faster than Joe's, but when you take both hands into consideration, he is the fastest puncher the game has had."

Next Champion

Tunney believes the next heavyweight champion will come from the army, the navy or the marine corps.

"Of the thousands of physically fit young men in army camps will turn to boxing for recreation," he says. "And out of that vast group there is sure to come a rugged, ambitious, smart youngster who will eventually dethrone Louis."

Tunney feels that the money they are making for Louis these days are ridiculous. He doesn't blame the promoter for rushing newcomers straight into battle with Louis with the result that "they are has-beens before they ever had a chance to get started."

Stanford Cage Club Virtually Clinches Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (UP)—Stanford university virtually clinched the southern division basketball crown in the Pacific Coast conference last night by trimming University of California at Los Angeles 40 to 44.

In the northern division, Washington State continued its pennant drive by whipping Washington, 50 to 38, to win its first series from the Huskies in 20 years.

Southern California wallpiped California 51 to 38 in the only other conference game of the night.

Stanford has three games remaining, and could do no worse than tie California if it dropped all three while the Bears were winning their last three games.

Washington State's victory was its third consecutive over its traditional rival. It gave the Cougars 10 victories against two defeats for the season.

Unbeaten Ferry Girls' Sextet Wins Over Hailey

HAILEY, Feb. 22 (Special)—The undefeated Glenna Ferry high school girls' basketball team turned back the Hailey first-half team here last night and came through with a 46-29 triumph.

The local matrons put up a great battle the first half, which ended with the score at 18-17 for the Elmore county outfit. But after that it was all Glenna Ferry as the visitors got hot on the basket and ran the count to 37-19 at the close of the third frame.

Scoring honors went to Johnson of Glenna Ferry, who scored 14 of her team's 44 points. She had topped Hailey with 10 counters.

FRENCH TURN DOWN JAPAN'S HAILAND 'COMPROMISE'

TENSION CLIMBS AFTER REJECTION OF NIPPON OFFER

By RALPH E. HEINZEN
VICHY, Feb. 22 (AP)—France, it was reported today, has rejected a Japanese "compromise" proposal for settlement of the Indo-China-Thailand conflict and fears rose the French stand may increase far earlier tension.

The Japanese-sponsored armistice between Indo-China and Thailand expires in less than 72 hours and it was feared fresh border hostilities may break out.

Wholly Unacceptable
The proposal, it was learned, was placed before the ministerial council and rejected as wholly unacceptable.

The original Thailand demand, it was said, called only for two small strips of Laos province, both west of Bangkok and the Mekong river. The Japanese added to these strips a rich corner of northwest Cambodia.
