11th Hour Jam in Legislature Cuts Last Day Action

By LLOYD TUPLING
BOISE, March 6 (UP)—An eleventh hour jam developed in the Idaho legislature today as the final day of the session started but administration legislative leaders predicted the way would be clear for sine die adjournment late tonight.

The tie-up of "must" legislation resulted from introduction of appropriation bills in both house and senate, making it difficult for finance committee heads to keep track of which measures have been approved.

Reports that the house was holding up work on the ad valorem tax levy to force passage of tax measures now before the senate also slowed action and kept Republicans on the alert for a surprise move during the last hours of the 26th session.

AMENDMENTS TO AID BILL WOULD ALLAY WAR FEAR

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, March 6 (UP)—Administration strategists today drafted a tentative British aid bill amendment designed to allay fears that the measure would authorize war-like use of the U. S. Army and navy abroad.

Chairman Walter F. George, D., of the senate foreign relations committee said, however, no definite decision had been reached as to whether it would be presented to the senate before a vote is reached on the controversial Ellender amendment.

The Ellender proposal would have the bill state it creates no additional authority to equip the land or naval forces of the United States for "military purposes."

Sen. Pat Harrison, D., Miss., said the Ellender amendment would "water out something that would make anything."

"We are trying to work out a reasonable amendment that will allay the fears of those who think this bill in some way authorizes use of the land or naval forces of the United States," Harrison said.

It was understood the tentative draft contained no mention of a modern hemispherical limitation because George felt any mention of this hemisphere as a limitation would serve to give Japan the idea she had a free hand in the east.

That belief is Secretary of State Cordell Hull's major objection to the amendment drafted by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Ind.

A vote on the Ellender amendment, on which debate began late yesterday, is expected today.

Debate centered around the President.

High But Not Too Dry Houses All Alone in an Inland Sea

This was an almost too common scene on lowlands near Los Angeles after two inches of rain fell in 18 hours, giving the area the highest seasonal rainfall to date in 40 years. This dump of drizzles in the Barber district was surrounded by a five-acre lake and a rebock (left) was necessary to get close enough to make this shot.

Los Angeles River Goes on Rampage

Los Angeles river, full of many a jibe by punsters, was really a river after a near cloudburst drenched southern California on the heels of other storms. Piers of the Santa Fe railroad bridge, weakened by flood waters, collapsed and the span fell into a raging torrent.

German Leaders Ask Conference To Study Plans

By DANA SCHMIDT
ANKARA, March 6 (UP)—Diplomatic sources said today Adolf Hitler has invited Turkey to send a high statesman to Germany or, alternatively, to allow a high Nazi official to come to Turkey to discuss "closer cooperation."

This proposal, it was understood, was contained in Hitler's message to President Ismet Inonu.

Increasing German troop concentrations in Thrace were reported and British and Jewish residents in Istanbul were said to have started a rush to banks to withdraw their money.

The Hitler note was said to have contained four points:

FRANCE AND THAT FINALLY ACCEPT JAPANESE TERMS

TOKYO, March 6 (UP)—Japan announced today an agreement between French Indo-China and Thailand on the principal points of a new agreement proposed.

A joint communique said "remnants of detail" were likely to be settled within a few days.

It was indicated that France, faced by an implied threat of Japanese armed action if Japan's peace terms were rejected, had conceded the major points of the demands Japan made as "mediator."

The communique announcing the agreement on principal points came less than 24 hours before the expiration of noon tomorrow Japanese lines of the twice extended truce between Indo-China and Thailand.

NAZI CONSUL ASSERTS CLAIM 'PURE FANTASY'

Late FLASHES
SAN FRANCISCO, March 6 (UP)—German Consul General Fritz Widemann today denounced as "pure fantasy" a charge that he collaborated with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Henry Ford "to further the Nazi cause in this country."

The accusation was made by Mrs. Alice Crockett, 37, divorced wife of Lieut. Col. Orlan Crockett of Camp Jackson, S. C., who claims Widemann owes her $5,000 for five months of confidential work among his masters in Germany.

She filed an amended suit yesterday in federal court. Her original suit, returned in 1936, was withdrawn because of Widemann's diplomatic immunity.

From the first word to the last it's all bunk. The whole thing's fantasy. That's all I have to say," Widemann commented at the suit's filing.

He appeared amused, rather than angry.

A Ford spokesman said in Detroit the suit "appears to be a publicity stunt."

Mrs. Crockett said Princess Stefania (Stefanowa) of Hungary was Widemann's agent, paying his workers in the United States.

Mrs. Crockett charged the German government had given Widemann $5,000 to promote air and class interest in the United States.

He "did outfit outfits to air traffic and, and by such means, from funds of the German government," and did encourage strikes in all types and kinds of industry in the United States for the purpose of destroying unity and undermining the strength and ability of the United States to prepare for national defense.

Lindbergh, she said, was Widemann's top official to pull America and America into a state of false security.

She said Widemann had told her Lindbergh was considered the "best German propagandist in the country."

WEYGAND READY TO MEET PETAIN

VICHY, March 5 (UP)—Gen. Maxime Weygand, supreme French commander, arrived by plane today for a meeting with Marshal Philippe Petain, French government head, in the Vichy government in north Africa, which he already was here.

Weygand, vice-commander of the Vichy government in north Africa, flew directly here from Algiers, his headquarters.

Twenty-four hours ago the government had announced Weygand had arrived. There was no immediate explanation for the announcement that Weygand had left here yesterday when in fact he was not due until today.

The department announced today that Weygand's arrival was believed to be bringing increasing pressure on the Vichy government to move its headquarters to Algiers, neutral quarters in London doubted Weygand would be able to resist this pressure.

Weygand's arrival today marked the first time in six months he had set foot on France's mainland. During the interview he has been in north Africa, almost constantly on the move inspecting French defenses in shape to meet all eventualities.

Weygand was called here to consult with Marshal Henri Philippe Petain.

TWO CONSULATES ORDERED CLOSED

WASHINGTON, March 6 (UP)—The United States has ordered to close its consulates in Detroit, Mich., and Newark, N. J., "for reasons of national policy," the state department revealed today.

The action follows the closing of American consulates at Naples and Palermo at the request of the Italian government.

The United States ordered its consuls there withdrawn as requested by the Italians, explaining that it was customary to do this when the consular officers were accredited.

While the department did not say so, it appeared it had adopted a policy of "no consulates for a consulate."

There was no indication as to why the Detroit and Newark consulates had been selected as those to be closed.

CAROL, MISTRESS REACH PORTUGAL

LISBON, Portugal, March 6 (UP)—Former King Carol of Rumania and Mrs. Magda Lupescu, who escaped across the Portuguese border from Spain when permitted to leave their seville hotel for an automobile ride across the border, were greeted here by Joao Lopes Joly, Portuguese captain, and his wife, a Spanish marchioness.

Joly was believed to have had advance knowledge of the escape: He took to the Spanish border in an automobile Tuesday evening and returned with Carol and Mrs. Lupescu, who had been permitted to walk across the border but to drive their car across.

Camorrasman George Barnes, who won an academy award for his photography in the picture "Rebecca," received a new long-term contract from David O. Nelson.

GERMANS MASS ON TURK BORDER

ANKARA, March 6 (UP)—German troops were reported established along Turkey's Thracian border today, according to a report delivered by the Turkish government.

The report said that German troops were massed along the border, and that they were being supplied with food and other necessities.

The report also said that German planes were flying over the border, and that they were dropping bombs and incendiary bombs.

The report said that the Turkish government was taking steps to defend the border, and that it was calling for international assistance.

BLAZE DESTROYS PORTLAND BLOCK

PORTLAND, Ore., March 6 (UP)—Fire raged over a square block of Portland business buildings today, destroying two retail automobile firms, including 150 new and used cars, and damaging numerous small establishments.

The blaze spread through buildings near N. W. 19th and Burnside streets from Multnomah city stadium.

The cause was undetermined.

Described as total losses were the H. J. Burns Motor Co., Chrysler Plymouth dealer, and the Geo. Oregon Sales Co.

Mayor Blithely Defies Lawmakers In "Subpoena" Try by Telegram

The legislature didn't come to the Twin Falls city council chambers—and the mayor of Twin Falls didn't appear before the legislators—so it looked like a draw today.

In fact Mayor Joe Kohler seems to have the edge in round one.

He received a telegram about 8:30 p. m. yesterday from the sergeant-at-arms, Idaho house of representatives. The wire informed Kohler that he had been subpoenaed to appear before the lobby inquiry at 8 p. m. last night.

Kohler's response telegraphed back—collected that he would be glad to comply with the legislators... if they came to the city council chambers.

As an afterthought, he urged reconsideration of the city government bill in whose behalf he went to Boise several times. He figured it was

LAND BANK AIDS FARM PURCHASES

An estimated 700 farm families in Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon started "on the road to farm ownership" in 1940 through the purchase of farms from the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, J. M. McDowell, secretary-treasurer of the Twin Falls National Farm Loan association, serving Twin Falls county, said this afternoon.

Last year, McDowell said, the land bank sold 1,247 farms or parts of farms. Of this total, 422, or 31.3 per cent, were sold to tenants. Another 184, or 14.8 per cent, were sold to former owners of the land, or to relatives of former owners, in most of the latter cases, sons of former owners. Finally, 104 farms, or 7.8 per cent, were returned to former owners under five-year leases with option to buy at the end of the lease period. Other farms sold went mainly to farmers buying additional land to round out their units.

"Beginning in 1940 there has been a steady reduction in the amount of real estate owned by the land bank," McDowell said. "The inventory in the four states during that time has dropped from 2,886 to 1,800 farms. During 1940, the bank's sales of 1,247 farms contrast with acquisition of 412 properties, either through acceptance of deed or foreclosure."

Layman's League Presents Program

RUPERT, March 6 (Special)—Layman's league of the local Christian church met in the church here Monday evening in a district session. The president, L. A. Finch, presided.

The program, presented during the dinner hour, was in charge of O. C. Anderson, chairman of the program committee. It consisted of group singing with Mrs. Ray Williams at the piano, and a humorous skit, "The Book Agent," presented by Mrs. Williams, O. W. Paul, Neal Trantham and Paul Kohler.

Following dinner, which was served by Mrs. J. R. Jensen, president of the Women's center of the church, Mrs. George Donaldson, Mrs. Roy Cunningham, Mrs. L. A. French, Mrs. Anna Moulton and Mrs. Walter French, the entire group adjourned to the main auditorium where young people of the local church and the Burley Christian church presented a special program to a full house.

The program was as follows: piano, psalms, Bob Britt; group singing led by William Carpenter, with Mrs. Britt at the piano; vocal solo, "Be Still, My Soul," Miss Elaine Schuepbach; scripture reading, Miss Margaret Hunter, president of the league; prayer, Miss Esther Kohler; vocal selection, "If Jesus Should Come Today," mixed quartet, William Carpenter, Paul Kohler, Halie Lucille Long and Paul Kohler; play, "Be Thankful," Delpia Seeger; Raymond Bassett and George Connor, Burley; Leona Edith Stanley, Paul Kohler; Ambrey Brumar Fointender and Dale Trantham, directed by Eugene Stump, pastor of the local church.

Following the dinner, the program shows: Introduction of Toastmaster Alton Young; past president of the Twin Falls Lions club, by Edward J. Baer, head of the Gooding organization; club introductions by Herb Love, first vice-president, address of welcome, Mayor Frank J. James, Gooding; selection by Louise Bibbins, Gooding; entertainment by Jerome "Club" communitas; "Home on the Range"; address by Mr. Driggs.

Following that talk the governor will be introduced. Then Mr. Graves will present the charter to President Baer.

NORWEGIANS AID IN ISLE ATTACK

LONDON, March 6 (AP)—British and Norwegian naval forces, British troops and Norwegian marines, in a raid on the Norwegian Lofoten islands Tuesday, captured 215 Germans and 10 Norwegian "Quilting" prisoners, destroyed 1800 tons of shipping and a big glycerine plant and killed one German naval officer and six others. It was announced today.

The British and Norwegian forces landed a big supply of food, soap, clothing and other comforts for the islanders and brought back with them a "considerable number" of Norwegian patriots who wanted to fight for their country. The British and Norwegian admirals said in a joint communique.

Steaming up beyond the Arctic circle, the British and Norwegian forces made a surprise attack in the best British naval tradition.

They came back without a single casualty and not a bit of damage to their ships. It was asserted, having accomplished with "complete success" three objectives—to destroy a fish oil plant which was making glycerine for explosives, to destroy German shipping and to take prisoners.

It was the first time Norwegians had challenged the Germans on their own soil since the tragic days of last spring when the Germans occupied and over-ran the country.

LEADERS-OUTLINE 1941 RANGE PLAN

Full outline of the 1941 range program under the AAA was presented Wednesday afternoon at a gathering of county ranchers and stockmen in P.O. hall.

Speakers included Lyle Coffman, south central Idaho range supervisor and Harold Evans, Boise, state AAA range chief.

Matters explained included re-seeding, increase in participation by operators and boost in the number of acres represented.

Applications for 1941 must be filed by May 1, it was pointed out.

Mario March, district grazer at Burley, and Ed Harris, Utah state range examiner, attended the meeting.

DEFUNCT FIRM'S 'DEAL' ATTACKED

Requesting an accounting and a lien against Twin Falls property because of stock she holds, Mrs. Dorothy S. Fortner, Twin Falls, has filed district court suit against trustees of a defunct wholesale grocery concern.

Mrs. Fortner is a minority stockholder in Oakes and Co. Ltd., for which the Idaho charter has been forfeited. Defendants, in her suit, are J. H. Oakes, John L. Hollingshead, Eugene Louney and the Western Loan and Investment company, Building 504.

Asserting that the Oakes company sold its Twin Falls building in the warehouse district to Western Loan for $1 and other considerations in 1935, Mrs. Fortner claims the structure was worth $50,000 and the Western Loan and Investment company, Building 504.

Because she asserts no action has been taken to liquidate the Oakes company affairs or to administer assets for benefit of creditors, the plaintiff asks.

Wants Accounting

A full accounting by the Western Loan and Investment company; a lien against the property for the par value ($11,200) of the 112 shares of Oakes stock issued to her father, R. E. Simpson, between 1928 and 1935; and the return of the stock, the Oakes firm was failing financially.

According to the suit, the value of the company was more than the liabilities. Rental of the structure has brought $350 per month, Mrs. Fortner says.

James R. Ebbwell and H. O. Fortner are attorneys for the plaintiff.

L. D. S. Quarterly Conference Held

RUBERT, March 6—(Special) Seven hundred people attended the L. D. S. quarterly conference sessions here Saturday and Sunday in the state tabernacle.

The conference opened at 7:30 p. m. Saturday with a preschool meeting. Main feature of this session was an illustrated lecture on welfare work by Clyde C. Edmunds, Sal Lake City, member of the general church welfare committee.

First Sunday session was a church welfare meeting which was attended by all welfare groups of the state.

Music for the Saturday session was provided by Frank Watson, Miss Beverly Watson, Raymond Matson, Joe Carter and Rex Broadhead. President Richard C. May gave the introductory speech and address of welcome at the general session Sunday morning. Music at this session was furnished by the Minidoka state choral under the direction of George Cammell, with Lund Christensen at the organ. Max Warr, who has recently returned from a two-year mission in Europe and Canada, told of his missionary activities in foreign countries. Mr. Edmunds spoke on agricultural problems in the welfare plan. Apostle Richard R. Lyman, Salt Lake City, spoke on aims of the welfare program.

At the afternoon session, Davis Green, Paul Jacob O. Gardner, Haasleton, Mr. Edmunds and Mr. Lyman spoke.

The closing session, at 7:30 p. m., was in charge of the state M.I.A. The following program was presented: Group reading of the call to worship and invocation, Albert Harrison; song, chorus; two vocal selections, Heyburn ward chorus; song, Paul ward; two Negro spirituals, Heyburn ward chorus; song, Justice Barclay, Paul; musical reading, Miss LeMay; prayer; song ladies' sextet; two hymns by entire

ISLES QUIT TALK OF INDEPENDENCE

MANILA, U.P.—The national assembly which opened here last night has concentrated its attention on numerous pressing problems of the country, arising from the world crisis.

The session is the assembly's last, as a bicameral legislature to be called congress and will take over legislative duties after this year's elections, in accordance with one of the Philippine constitutional amendments recently approved by President Roosevelt.

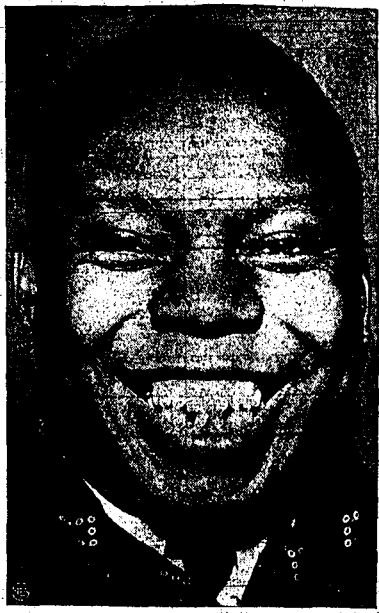

Outstanding among Philippine problems, mainly attributed to unsettled world conditions, is the diminution of government revenues, as tributed chiefly to rising customs collections. The partial paralysis of international commerce, owing to the shortage of ships, also has affected the country. The assembly in freight rates has been effectively felt by the Philippine industry, particularly the sugar industry, which already faces chaos as a result of the application of an export tax on sugar entering the United States.

Security Foremost Topic
With the independence question apparently a closed issue, the country's defense requirements demand increasing attention. With conditions in the far east showing no signs of improvement, the question of Philippine security after the United States withdraws in 1945 is expected to be tackled with redoubled vigor.

Many assemblies reportedly favor a long-range plan to link Philippine economy to that of the western hemisphere. Under the plan, the Philippines would be placed within the economic orbit of the western hemisphere. Some assemblies are said to be willing to send goodwill missions to American republics to cultivate commercial relationships.

Speaker Jose Yulo of the assembly who returned recently from the United States, where he worked for President Roosevelt's approval of the constitutional amendments, is reported in legislative circles to have brought back an "encouraging picture" of the Philippine position in the light of the international situation.

RUPERT

Mrs. H. V. Creason left Friday for Aberdeen to visit her daughter, Mrs. Roland Toews, and family. Roy Cunningham, assistant manager of the Minidoka Irrigation district, George Curtis Brezel, Oscar Peterson and E. Beckman, directors, left Sunday for Idaho Falls to attend the annual water users' meeting of district 26 and to elect a river commissioner for the ensuing year.

As a courtesy to Mrs. R. A. Whitley on her birthday, Mrs. N. Jensen entertained Saturday with an informal party. Other guests were members of the birthday club to which both the honoree and the hostess belong. Out of town members were Mrs. J. W. Crawford and Mrs. Clem Wilson Ketcher, Burley. In competitive games, high score prize went to Mrs. D. L. Carlson. A special gift was presented to Mrs. Whitley by the hostess.

Empire Grange met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lauritz Garter with the master, K. L. Mackenzie, in charge. A discussion of the possibility of getting an iron lung for this community occupied a portion of the business period. The program, in charge of George Westinghouse, Mrs. Roy Schneider, was built around the life of George Washington. Each one present an original or little-known anecdote concerning the life of the nation's first president.

Miss Pauline Clare, Mrs. Helen Hill and Miss Esther Toews returned Sunday from Jackson Hole, Wyo., where they attended the ski tournament.

New primary officers of L.D.S. first ward entertained Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Judd with an informal social evening in honor of the outgoing officers. A series of table games provided entertainment. Gifts were presented to Mrs. C. A. Walsh, Mrs. Reed Cattull and Mrs. George Brown. Mrs. H. H. Judd was hostess Friday to members of Don Fox club and one guest, Mrs. H. A. Brundage, Burley. The regular lesson, "Harmony in the Home and Surroundings," was presented by Mrs. Jesse L. Roberts. "Better Home Making" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. E. E. Olsen. Mrs. Robert Spoko

ONE-WORD ROLE STARS ACTRESS

NEW YORK, U.S.—Helen Craig is a Broadway star now, her name up in lights and on billboards, but her swift rise to fame is unlike that of any other actress for she attained her eminence by saying a single word.

"That word is 'Johnny.' It is the curtain line of the play 'Johnny Belinda' and for the three acts preceding it Miss Craig lives through the suffering of an outcast deaf-mute and her spiritual rebirth under the sympathetic guidance of a doctor.

She lives through it without saying a word except that one 'Johnny,' but her lines are as clear to the audience as though she had spoken them for she uses the classic language of the deaf-mute—as differentiated from the finger alphabet. And the show has been running since September, an indication to the producers that brilliant dialogue doesn't always make a show. Miss Craig is the daughter of Edward A. Craig, an Annapolis captain, executive, and the wife of John Seal, the film actor. Five years ago she walked into the office of a producer looking for a role and Harry Wagstaff Gribble was struck by her brunette beauty. He was talking at the time to Elmer Harris who wrote 'Johnny Belinda' and they decided then that she was the one for the part.

They did not approach her for four years. Then she was told the type role they had in mind for her. She was warned it would take six months of study and might last only a few days if the critics didn't like it. She took their chance.

Miss Craig, although known as a competent actress, had not attracted much attention from the films or the stage until she took her current role. In it she has the least to say of any star in recent years. But her voiceless part has "talked" her right into stardom.

DEGREE WILL GO TO CO-ED OF 16

SEATTLE, Wash., U.S.—The youngest of the 1941 graduating class at the University of Washington also will be the youngest ever graduated from that school.

Comey, brown-eyed Catherine Mary McGrath will receive a bachelor of arts degree at the age of 16.

Registration officials have been unable to find a record of students being graduated from the university here at a younger age.

Catherine was too busy learning things to be bothered with doing through the first, third, fifth, eighth and eleventh grades. She started in the second grade in Boston at the age of five. In 1926, when she was 12, she was graduated from a Seattle high school. She attended Trinity college in Washington for three months, then Seattle college for two quarters. In the fall of 1927 she entered the University of Washington. While other students her age were struggling through high school algebra, 16-year-old Catherine was delving into all the calculus courses she could get at the university. Later her interests changed and she will receive her degree in French, and along with it qualifications to teach French.

Catherine realizes the difficulties she would encounter as a 16-year-old teacher. So she is thinking of going back to school to allow her contemporaries to catch up with her.

Her interests now lie in journalism and she has plans to obtain a second degree next year.

She insists she is not a child prodigy. To her, things just happened that way.

NAZI "INVASION SPECIALISTS" CONFER IN BULGARIA

EXPERTS GATHER TO OUTLINE PLAN WITH KING BORIS

SOPIA, March 6 (AP)—Germany's "invasion" specialists—leaders of the armed forces which swept through Poland, Norway and into Rumania and Bulgaria—met today with King Boris of Bulgaria.

The German commanders of the new "Balkan army" which is streaming across Bulgaria and implementing its outposts along Bulgaria's southern frontiers were given Boris' pulse for a formal conference.

It was presumed they discussed with the Bulgarian monarch details of Germany's military disposition in this country which is the latest adherent to the axis tri-partite military alliance.

The commanders who met with Boris included Marshal Sigmond von List, commander in chief of the Nazi Balkan army, a veteran of the Polish campaign and the man who led the German force into Rumania when Gen. Anton Cernosek was the word.

He was accompanied by Col. Gen. Nikolaus von Falkenhorn, one of Germany's famous "young men" who won his spurs in the difficult Nazi march into Norway.

The Nazi high commanders were accompanied to their conference by Herbert von Rittchen, German minister to Sofia.

The United Press staff correspondent was repeatedly cut off by the Bulgarian censor when he tried to obtain details before the conference to other Balkan points for relay to the United States.

Camera Catches Human Drama at Bedroom-Killing Inquest

Only a hand clench about a chair-back, a mouth drawn and distorted, show that the mild-looking young man at right, R. L. Hawkins 27-year-old carpenter, is facing inquiry into the killing of the man he found with his wife. Starting intently ahead, that wife, Winnie Jean Hawkins, left, refused to look at her husband as he turns, apparently to catch her eye, while Lewis Thompson, brother of the slain man, glares at Hawkins from the seat just behind him at inquest in Los Angeles. Hawkins was acquitted.

Three innocently made to suffer by the killing of Clinton N. Thompson, aircraft worker, in which the coroner's jury found R. L. Hawkins justified, are shown here, their agony reflected by their faces. Mrs. Winnie Thompson, widow of slain man, half averts her face, while Harry Hillman, the victim's brother-in-law, supports her and glares balefully at the court. Sanford S. Thompson, brother of the man who died under Hawkins' bullets when found in bedroom with Hawkins' estranged wife, could only mutter, "I know my brother didn't deserve this."

South African armored tanks and trucks also were speeding northward from Mogadisho, captured capital of Italian Somaliland, toward Harar, capital of Ethiopia's Harar province.

Fund Needed for Food Stamp Plan

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—Dishes the Idaho Senate approved a $10,000 continuing appropriation for a statewide food stamp plan, the program may be terminated in seven counties where it is now operating. Gov. Chase A. Clark said today.

The food stamp revolving fund bill has passed the house but bogged down in the senate finance committee, the governor said. Money now used to operate the plan in several counties may be used for relief purposes and unless the appropriation was approved the state department of public assistance will have to revert to the old method of distributing bulk commodities, Clark declared.

Rugs, Glassware Displayed During Civic Club Meet

JEROME, March 6 (Special)—Mrs. William F. Zahn and Mrs. W. F. Willis, Jerome, participated in a program of exceptional interest for members of the Jerome Civic club meeting here Tuesday. Mrs. Zahn exhibited an attractive group of hooked rugs which she had made, and discussed the romance of this craft, while Mrs. W. F. Willis showed an interesting display of early American glass and discussed the romance of glass briefly.

Mrs. Zahn told of first becoming interested in the craft of making hooked rugs from yarn almost 20 years ago. Mrs. Zahn had made from 20 to 25 of these handsome rugs which range in size from a small piano bench rug to larger floor rugs. Mrs. Zahn first took instruction from the late Mrs. Park W. Tuppelle, former early resident and later made rugs for the Marshall-Field company of Chicago.

In her display, Mrs. Zahn exhibited many varied types and sizes of fine old glass, both in ornamental and service types. The collection had been gathered from a number of club members, and there were a great many examples and styles.

Further emphasizing the glass theme, the refreshment table, covered with a lace cloth was enhanced by the use of this early American glass. Flowers were also used as decoration.

"Spring" Table Selected Best At Hansen Fete

HANSEN, March 6 (Special)—By popular vote the spring table received the prize cake offered by the finance committee of the Women's community council, at the birthday party last week for the best setting of the four seasons of the year.

Each season was represented in miniature decorations on a long table, at which present having birthdays in that season were seated and served ice cream and cake, baked by the chairman of their respective group. Fifty-two persons were present to aid in raising funds for the treasury, by placing in the container one penny for each year of their age.

A feature of the business session was the plan for a forthcoming dinner to be held Friday evening, March 14, at which Miss Hazel Wood, returned missionary from India, will be guest speaker. Miss Wood also will appear on the program of the next council meeting March 15.

Mrs. J. B. Lewis presiding from the mercy and help committee was accepted.

Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. W. Sampson, and Mrs. James Barnes was acting program chairman. Mrs. J. H. Coulter sang "Ave Maria" with Mrs. George Truitt at the piano.

Eighth grade pupils brought several novelties including a piano solo, Betty Fries; a reading "As and Her Cheek" by Dorothy Collier; vocal trio, "Deep Purple," by Lois Woods, Dixie Harris and Lucile Young; and "The Minister's Sermon," a reading by Esther Smith. Miss Galt sang "Homeing" and "Thank Be to God."

Barrett and Mrs. Eula Gregory as hostesses, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the local Methodist church met Tuesday at the church. The president, Mrs. Rose Woodford, presided and conducted a brief devotional service.

Following the business session a program was presented which consisted of a review by Isabel Brown, Rose's book, "Diana Drew," a romance of India, by Mrs. A. E. Johnson, and two vocal selections, "Mistress Marguerite" and "Sundown," by Miss Bernice Guckenberg, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Tarr.

Fussy willows and gay spring flowers were used as room decorations. Dr. Patrick's day colors and umbrellas were used on the small tables where tea was served by the hostesses.

Here's Text of the Historic H. R. 1776--Lend-Lease Bill

What is historic H. R. 1776 all about? It is the lend-lease-give bill, and it was passed by the U. S. house of representatives Feb. 8. Senate approval still remains before the president embarks on all-out help for Great Britain against the axis powers.

The bill follows amendments by the house are printed in bold-face type:

A bill to promote the defense of the United States, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled,

Section 1. That this act may be cited as an act to promote the defense of the United States.

Section 2. As used in this act—

(a) "defense article" means—(1) Any weapon, munition, aircraft, vessel or boat; (2) Any machinery, facility, tool, material or supply necessary for the manufacture, production, processing, repair, servicing or operation of any article described in this subsection; (3) Any component material or part of our equipment for any article described in this subsection; (4) Any article of property, or article of defense, which is described in section 3, or to which the United States or any foreign government has or hereafter acquires title, possession of control. (b) The term "defense information" means any article, specification, design, plan, type or information pertaining to any defense article.

Section 3. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law the President may, from time to time when he deems it in the interest of the national defense, authorize the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy or the head of any other department or agency of the government—(1) To manufacture, assemble, fabricate, or shipyard under their jurisdiction, or otherwise produce, any defense articles, or information for the time being of such importance to the defense of the United States, that the President deems vital to the national defense; (2) To sell, transfer, exchange, lease, lend or otherwise dispose of to any such government, and deliver, and to be delivered under this paragraph, any such defense articles, or information as he may deem appropriate; and (3) To manufacture, assemble, fabricate, or shipyard under their jurisdiction, or otherwise produce, any defense articles, or information for the time being of such importance to the defense of the United States, that the President deems vital to the national defense.

Section 4. (a) There is hereby authorized to be appropriated from the treasury not more than the amount specified in the schedule of appropriations set out in section 5, (b) All money and all property which is converted into money received under section 5 of this act, shall be deposited in the treasury and the approval of the director of the budget, (c) Such appropriations shall be expended under the supervision of the director of the budget for such purposes as the President may deem appropriate.

Mac Thinks Cubs Should Have Doctor for Manager, Hospital for Training Site

By HENRY MALMORSE
DALLAS, Tex., March 6 (U.P.)—The American medical journal, and not a newspaper, is the proper place for an article to appear on the Chicago Cubs of 1941.

In looking over the notes I gathered on the Cubs before leaving Santa Catalina island for Florida, I find so many of them are recently discharged hospital patients that it is a wonder the team didn't select Baltimore or Rochester, Minnesota, as a training site, and engage some medical surgeon as a manager-in-charge of Jimmy Wilson.

If the Cubs believe in the National League race this year, it will be a high tribute to every surgeon, general practitioner, internist, nurse, and doctor who helped get them in shape since close of the 1940 season.

To start with, there are the mysterious arms of Dizzy Dean and Clay Bryant. Neither did enough throwing last year to break an unexpected roof from five paces and each has seen enough bone-setters to bore even a man who loves bone-setters. Take the other pitcher, finished up the season with what the Cub players and fans call "chiropractic" sore arm.

Bill Lee, who has been holding out on the strength of 17 defeats last season, has been operated on from kneecap to car loba. This is just a beginning of the list of recently ailing Cubs. Len Merullo, rookie infielder, is getting over a sore throwing arm. Frankie Story, bought from San Francisco spring before last for a big hum, broke a leg last June and is taking his first exercise on a table.

John Russell, first baseman, was operated on for appendicitis towards close of last season, and is still a trifle wobbly. Phil Cavettella has had another operation on his twice broken ankle, and Hank Leiber, whose head once took a terrible beating from one of Bob Feller's fast balls, crashed into a wall during the city series with the White Sox last October. And as for Augie Galan, he broke his kneecap and his career seemed at an end when he left Chicago last season.

Now for another angle on the Cubs: They are certain to give the Enrico Dodgers a battle for the title of "screwballs" club in the league. They have Dean to start with, and they will have a number of those who love the Dizzy one's antics, to know the old cotton-picker has not allowed loss of his pitching stuff to calm him down. He is Lou Workitt, the Max Baustian, will be on hand, and he likes nothing better than to play the accordion while waiting his turn to bat. He also sings. Charley Grimm is back, this time as coach of the team he used to manage. For two years as a radio announcer he only served to make Charley a trifle staidler.

The front office is not without its angles, either. The head man now, with the title of general manager, is a former newspaperman, Jimmy Gallagher. When he was back of a Chicago typewriter, Gallagher was the team's toughest critic, and spent a great deal of his time laconicating various Cub hides.

The team's mascot is a bit unusual, too. It is a left-handed catcher's mitt belonging to Charlie Grimm, and which Grimm says was used to warm up Babe Adams in 1909.

You figure that out, and you might also figure out the working of the Cubs most prominent young catcher, a slick named McCullough, who insists on catching the ball first and the $7500 first money went to license.

Hogan and Sarazen Win First Money In 4-Ball Meet

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 6 (U.P.)—The youthful sourcery of Ben Hogan and the coolness under fire of veteran Gene Sarazen paid off in the 32-hole match play of $1,000 a head today following close of the 18th annual international four-ball championship.

Hogan, 26, leading money winner this year, and 32-year-old Sarazen, won first prize money by defeating Sammy Snead and Benji Gulldahl 4 and 3, in the 36-hole final yesterday. Snead and Gulldahl earned $500 each.

Chicago Pro Wins National Trap Shooting Crown

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 6 (U.P.)—Grant Hansen, a Chicago professional, today held the challenge cup championship of the interstate trapshooting tournament.

He won the event in a shoot-off with Frank Trosh, Portland, Ore., amateur. They were tied with perfect scores after the 25-shot preliminary competition and went on to settle the match in a miss-and-out elimination. Trosh missed on the third shot and the $7500 first money went to Hansen.

TRAINING BRIEFS

By United Press
MIAMI—The New York Giants' catching duties will be handled chiefly by Ken O'Dea and the veteran Gabby Hartnett during the spring season, Manager Bill Terry said today. Harry Danning, regular catcher who signed last night for an unspecified sum over the $10,000 he received last year, will be switched to left field.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Eighteenth Patcher Atty Donald resumes work today at the New York Yankees' spring training camp. Donald returned from Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore last night, partially recovered from a severe brain injury suffered during practice last week.

ST. PETERSBURG.—Manager Billy Southworth today said eight pitchers, seven of them rookies, would see action in the St. Louis Cardinals three-game series with the New York Yankees. The series starts tomorrow.

SAN FERNANDO, Calif.—The Philadelphia Athletics came here today to meet Boston after scoring a 4-3 victory over the Portland Beavers in their first spring exhibition game. Sam Chapman's single with two outs in the last of the ninth allowed the A's to nose out Portland.

AVALON, Calif.—Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs watched his regular go down in defeat 2-1, to a second string nine yesterday in the first intrasub game of the season. Rookie Lou Novikoff disappointed spectators when he failed to get a hit in three tries but he was credited with two brilliant assists in left field.

BOYES SPRINGS, Calif.—Al Epperly and Bob Jensen will pitch for the San Francisco Giants in the opening spring training game here Saturday afternoon against Oakland, Manager Lefty O'Dell announced today.

PULLERTON, Calif.—The Sacramento Solons, who have been playing basketball here while rains made Amridge park too soggy for baseball, were out on the diamond again today. Holdoff worries vanished as big Jim Grilk, veteran catcher, signed his contract and reported for duty.

CONN BATTLES

SPUD PLAN ADDS 'POTENTIAL' TWOS

Saving Magic Valley potato growers a substantial amount in sorting and clipping expense, acceptance of 'potential No. 2' spuds was announced today for the potato diversion program.

Word received Wednesday afternoon by the county AAA office and by G. C. Meiners, supervisor of the federal-state inspection service in the Twin Falls district, ruled that the 'potential' will be accepted along with the spuds which already fit No. 2 specifications.

Faced Expense

Previously the potential twos had been ruled out of the livestock feed program. As a result, growers faced the expense of clipping their large culls in order to convert them in the No. 2 grade.

Acceptance of potentials will save growers from three and one-half cents to four cents per hundredweight. It was estimated by Ralph C. Wilson, secretary of the county agricultural conservation committee.

Instructions Given

Supervisor Meiners said the spud diversion inspectors have already been given instructions to include potentials in estimating the potato percentage for diversion.

Payment for potato diversion—use of spuds for livestock feed—is 25 cents per hundredweight. Twin Falls county quota has been boosted to 31,000,000 pounds.

ALASKA'S WIDE RESOURCES TOLD

Highly valuable—and almost unlimited—resources of Alaska offer a significant factor in the American scene as a result of the current world crisis. Twin Falls 20-30 club members were told last evening by J. F. Cordes, Twin Falls rancher who took part in the Yukon gold rush.

Mr. Cordes outlined the gold and copper resources of the territory, and said that Alaska has vast stores of coal. Chief problem he said is bringing the territorial riches out of the interior.

The speaker presented a colorful "reminiscent" picture of gold rush days.

Details of the sub-district convention at Boise Saturday and Sunday were outlined to the club by officers. Twin Falls 20-30 will send a delegation to Boise.

Guests at the dinner session in the Blue Arrow banquet room were Homer M. Davis, Stoddard and Robert Watson.

TOWN HALL WILL ELECT DIRECTORS

Election of Town Hall directors will form a supplementary feature of the March 12 session at which members will hear Major James Bawdler discuss Pan-American, President J. A. Cederquist said today.

Nominating committee will meet this evening at the Chamber of Commerce to name slate of 40 nominees. From these the Town Hall membership will elect 20, including Twin Falls residents and those from outside communities.

Committee members are Chairman Loyd I. Perry, C. D. Boering, Homer M. Davis, Mrs. R. A. Butcliff and Mr. Cederquist.

Films of Alaska Shown to Rotary

Natural-color motion pictures of Alaska featured the Rotary club luncheon meeting at the Park hotel Wednesday.

Miss Jane Maxwell, former Twin Falls resident who moved to Anchorage, Alaska, presented the movies which she had taken herself.

The films included scenes from Anchorage, from the Matanuska colony, from Ketchikan, from Alaskan scenic spots and from other centers of the territory.

Miss Maxwell is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Grant, Twin Falls.
