Police Fire Tear Gas at Pickets in Bethlehem Strike

BETHLEHEM, Penn., March 25 (U.P.)—City police began firing tear gas today into a group of pickets seeking to prevent day shift workers from reporting to duty at the sprawling local mills of the giant Bethlehem Steel corporation, working on millions of dollars worth of vital defense contracts.

A group of 200 pickets, massed around the main entrance, was dispersed as it attempted to prevent the first workman reporting for the 7 a. m. shift. From entering the main entrance, the pickets were blinded by gas, and four others affected before police succeeded in driving them back from the entrance.

The rest of the pickets retreated to the street and made no attempt to interfere with other men reporting for the first day shift.

DYKSTRA CALLS FOR FULL SPEED TO AID DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, March 25 (U.P.)—Chairman Clarence A. Dykstra of the new defense mediation board today called on labor and industry to subordinate purely private or personal interest to the good of the country.

Assembling the board for its first meeting, Dykstra said "this is a time of world crisis" and that if the United States is to be an Arsenal for the world, it must be an unimpeded flow of production from mines, mill and factory.

The effect toward such an objective can be too great, he said. "It must be so that such effort will be too small, too little and too late to be of any use."

Board officials said they had considered it the best way to help labor and management reach agreements. "The production is halted. It is essential that the country be kept working at full speed."

President Roosevelt set up the board last week by executive order to insure against work stoppages in vital defense industry and it coincided with "potentially the most serious strike yet to occur in defense industry."

The strike was that in the Bethlehem Steel corporation plant at Bethlehem, Penn., and there is the possibility that if it is prolonged it might be the first to come before the new board.

MARSHAL RODOLFO GRAZIANI

Graziani Quits As Leader of Italian Troops

ROME, March 25 (U.P.)—Premier Benito Mussolini today announced the resignation of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani as commander-in-chief in north Africa, governor of Libya and chief of the army staff, it was announced today.

Marking the biggest shakeup in the Italian high command since the retirement of Marshal Pietro Badoglio because of the failure of Italian operations against Greece, Graziani has been replaced as commander in north Africa and governor of Libya by General Italo Gariboldi.

He has been succeeded as chief of the army staff by Gen. Mario Roatta, Gen. Francesco Rossini, a division commander, succeeded Gen. Romita as vice chief of staff.

Graziani, Italy's foremost colonial soldier, is known as the "Lion of Africa." He was recognized in Italy and abroad as a competent, experienced commander.

Gen. Gariboldi, who succeeds Graziani as commander in chief in north Africa and governor of Libya, already has been in command of large forces in Africa. He was chief of staff to the governor of Tripolitania.

ECCLÉS ATTACKS "PAPER" MONEY

WASHINGTON, March 25 (U.P.)—Franching of government expenditures through the issuance of "paper" money would be "astronomical" and would mean "the end of the capitalist system," Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner B. Eccles said today in an open letter to Rep. Wright Patman, D., Tex.

Such methods of financing would create an inflationary state and would lead to incalculable losses for the country as a whole," Eccles wrote.

Eccles has recently advocated the issuance of new money to finance current expenditures, and the cessation of interest payments on the debt.

He said that government borrowing at interest is "a necessary step toward liquidation" and is "an essential part of the capitalist economy in which we live."

"There is no escape from the truth: that someone must pay for everything," he said.

SUGAR SENATORS OPEN DRIVE FOR MORE ACREAGES

WASHINGTON, March 25 (U.P.)—Sugar state senators today began to lay the basis for a determined drive to revise sugar legislation at this session of congress and increase the domestic share of the American market.

Following a series of conferences with Charles Kearney, head of the American Beet Producers association, senators scheduled a meeting early next week to organize their forces and draw up a program.

California sugar state senators will be represented at the meeting. Sen. D. Worth Clark, D., idaho, said he believed "it's time should and may be taken" to increase the domestic producers' share of the American market. Under present law, the demand for American sugar is estimated at 28 per cent of the domestic market.

Legislation which would raise the domestic producers' share to 42 per cent over a period of years has been introduced by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D., La. That plan, it is said, will be considered at next week's conference.

Ellender's plan would reduce the sugar quotas for the offshore areas. This feature would probably bring strong opposition from the states departments which feel the move would affect this country's relations with Cuba—one of the largest offshore sugar producers.

Sen. Adams, D., Colo., said he would press for early action on a bill to give American producers benefit of any deficit in the Philippine market. The measure, sponsored jointly by Adams and Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., is before the senate finance committee.

Cuts too High
Adams asserted recent cuts in domestic beet acreage "were far exceeding the statistics reveal."

He said a cut of 4,000 acres from the 1940-41 crop would mean a loss of 10,000 tons of sugar, or 10,000 acres more than 4,000 acres.

He explained factories are geared to the amount of sugar and that cuts below that amount mean the factory cannot operate profitably. "If the factories are forced to close, all the surrounding beet producers must abandon their operations too," he said.

"The importance of sugar in the American economy, cannot be overemphasized. During the depression, sugar practically carried the American farmer."

"The American sugar industry is prepared to supply all domestic requirements and to export the surplus. It is time we did something to encourage our own producers."

The loss for the week brought the total for the first three weeks of the German spring blitzkrieg to 111,812 tons, and the total for the war to 1,139,862 tons.

BERLIN, March 25 (U.P.)—German quarters said today German troops in Africa had occupied 11,000 sq. miles of territory in Italian Libya.

At Benghazi, 175 miles southwest of Tripoli, was the westernmost point of the advance of the British army of the Nile in north Africa.

Agreement Says Germans May Not March in Nation

Power Starts in Old Indian Country

VIENNA, March 25 (U.P.)—Jugoslavia joined the German-Japanese-Italian alliance today but with the provision that its troops shall not march through its territory and that its sovereignty and territorial integrity shall be respected.

Following Hungary, Slovakia, Bulgaria and Rumania into the axis, Jugoslavia pledged full cooperation.

But in identical special notes the axis powers said that during the present war they would not demand the right to march troops through Jugoslavia and that they would respect Jugoslavia's sovereignty and territorial integrity at all times.

(It was understood, however, Germany would be given transport facilities for war materials through Jugoslavia for an attack on Greece.)

The German note was: "Mr. Prime Minister: In the name of the German government and at its behest I have the honor to inform your excellency of the following:

Says Jugoslavia Asked Assistance
"On the occasion of the Yugoslav adherence today to the three-power pact the German government confirms its determination to respect the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Jugoslavia at all times."

"With reference to the conversations which occurred in connection with Yugoslav adherence to the three-power pact, I have the honor to confirm to your excellency herewith in the name of the reich government that in the agreement between the axis powers and the royal Yugoslav government the axis power governments during this war will not demand the right to march troops through Jugoslavia or to transport of troops through Jugoslavia state or territory."

"Permit me, Mr. Prime Minister, to express the assurance of my highest respects."

Bohemia and Moravia
"I have the honor to inform your excellency that the German government has decided to place Bohemia and Moravia under the administration of the Reich."

Gov. Clark Orders Full Liquor Levy Collection
BOISE, March 25 (U.P.)—Gov. Chase A. Clark today ordered the state liquor dispensary to collect the full amount of a newly-enacted 20 per cent "whisky tax" from liquor wholesalers who threatened to refuse to sell liquor to Idaho if forced to pay the levy.

At the same time, Clark announced he would launch an investigation into "why the liquor companies have been able to get together in violation of the anti-trust laws."

He charged the distillers had banded together to establish price for liquor sold to state-operated liquor systems and declared the national association had "eliminated competition in the sale of liquor to Idaho."

Clark's order to Fred B. Davis, liquor dispensary superintendent, to collect the newly-enacted tax came after wholesalers protested against the 20 per cent levy when the state purchased its weekly liquor supply.

Finally, the shipment for the week was purchased by the state on credit, pending decision of Attorney General Bert H. Miller on how the tax would be collected. The companies paid the tax on the new shipment.

Clark referred to an anonymous note he received last week in which the sender declared Duncan McD. Johnston, former Twin Falls mayor, had been "framed" when convicted of slaying George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman.

Clark ordered that Twin Falls officers feel they have all the knowledge they care to in connection with the Olson murder and have asked the state to make the investigation my gift.

CIO officials had warned against any attempt to hold a strike which would be a company union, began soliciting for officers."

CIO claims to represent 18,000 of the 21,000 workers in the Harvester plant. The CIO claims to represent 5,000. Both the CIO and the A.P. labor relations committee have held the strike is illegal, but the CIO continues to function pending an appeal to the United States circuit court.

Two AFL men had their heads cracked as the plant reported under a police guard of 1,400. Police cracked at the scene reported there were no other incidents as the workmen passed through the gates.

Other Harvester plants are located at Milwaukee, Wis., Rock Island, Ill., East Moline, Ill., Canton, Ill., Fort Wayne and Indianapolis, Ind., Springfield, O., Auburn, N. Y., Channahon, Tenn., New Orleans, La., and Huntington Park, Calif.

with PIKES PEAK and IDAHOME Taking the Lead

Throughout their history, the Twin Falls Flour Mills have endeavored to produce the highest quality flour obtainable. As a result of this policy, their white flours particularly have won a wide-spread popularity. Although naturally rich in food value, white flour now becomes more important than ever before in the American diet. When "enriched" according to new government standards, white flour contains additional, highly important ingredients—Vitamin B1 (Thiamin); Nicotinic Acid and Iron. These extra food elements are designed to improve one's health by providing additional energy which is often lacking as a result of deficient diets. PIKES PEAK and IDAHOME flours may now be obtained with these ingredients added. You may secure this enriched flour by asking your grocer for PIKES PEAK or IDAHOME. These differences in the baking qualities of flour, but you'll be getting the benefits of added food values.

By PETER EDSON Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Whether you are in fact or whether you are not, it is a fact that the $100,000,000 gift National Galleries Act passed by the Washington public is a must stop for every tourist, lobbyist, ward politician and school man, old school man, D. A. R. or visiting school man, on his way to get the approval of the Budget Committee.

Leaving to art critics and people who know about such things the technical details of the nearly 1,000 masterpieces of painting and sculpture and etching hung in the galleries, the act is a masterpiece of the world's greatest art collections, there are plenty of other reasons why you will want to see the new galleries.

In the first place, it is approximately and conveniently half way between Capitol and the White House. Also, the G-man department, which is one of Washington's most important departments, is around the corner. This association is not made flippantly or irreverently but factually, for whatever it may be.

Second, the building is completely air-conditioned, and as a haven for Washington's notorious hounding sidewalks of July and August, this will offer the most painless way of taking capital art en masse.

Write as Fun, Not for Job, Says Noted Author

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Writing will be more fun for you if you have another job, and writes as an avocation, Jesse Rainford Sprague, New York, tonight magazine writer, told the Twin Falls chapter, Idaho Writers' League, last evening at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Benson.

"Sprague has had both fun and money out of the writing profession. Harper's, Scribner's, Saturday Evening Post and the American Mercury have been among his publishers.

His banker friend, eventually it sold to a jewelry magazine for $25. When Bruce Bliven, of "Sunset" magazine, sometime later told him that maybe he could write for "Fritters" he felt that he was nationally known, Sprague admitted.

Other guests of the chapter last evening were Mrs. George F. Sprague, Twin Falls, sister-in-law of Mr. Sprague, and Mrs. Harry Lovell, Buhl. The New York writer is a guest at the Sprague home.

Mr. Sprague's straight-from-the-shoulder advice to amateur writers, enriched by his mellow humor, was a surprise of the program topic of the evening, "Fountain of Wit."

Mrs. Mildred Peria, Gooding, who "relaxes irony, because it is exciting, and complete frankness, because it is so uncommon, so unexpected," discussed the various forms of humor.

Among the illustrations were some of her satirical verses, in the Dorothy Parker vein. Mrs. Alice M. Smock read a paper on the history of humor, and Mrs. Ferris Mrs. Smock and Mrs. Olive May Cook, author of the skill, presented a playlet on what happens in the "Fountain of Wit" in the editorial sanctum.

Mrs. Lovell won the complete writing course. Mrs. Martina Lovell, Buhl, state president, and other writers, read for criticism a manuscript, "Win or Lose by the Stars." Mrs. Benson served refreshments in the Easter theme.

Owner of a jewelry store in Texas in 1913, Sprague was in the summer on his first real manuscript. "It was called 'A Day in a Store,' and it started as fiction, merged into an essay, and finally into a story on how a merchant should run his store," the author spoke of it fondly.

He sent it to the Saturday Evening Post. "But they must have seen it," he said.

Job's Daughters Give Dance for Molly McMahon

JEROME, March 25 (Special)—The annual queen ball, arranged by members of the Job's Daughters chapter of Jerome, in honor of their present queen, Miss Molly McMahon, last Friday evening, was deemed the most beautiful and successful early spring function of the season.

The occasion was held at the Springs Hotel, where the colors of the organization, purple and white, were employed in the elaborate decorations.

A huge purple and white star was fashioned in the center of the room, with intertwined streamers of crepe in similar colors, descending to the corners of the room. Ballrooms and other dance novelties provided fun and entertainment. Dick Grove and his orchestra played music, while Miss Edie Irons was soloist.

The grand march began at nine o'clock with the honored queen and partner leading, as well as other officers of the chapter and their partners.

Leading were Miss Molly McMahon; Miss Barbara Smith, senior princess; Miss Peggy Wallington, junior princess; Mary Dolly Endy, guild; Miss Margaret Halbert, marshal.

Mac Hopes Cards Don't Win Flag-- Because It'll Mean Pills For All

By HENRY McJEROME
ST. PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 25 (U.P.)—It is not likely that the St. Louis Cardinals do not win the 1943 National League pennant because if they do their pennant will be attributed to the taking of 36,000 vitamin tablets prescribed for them by their celebrated physician, "Dr." Sam Bredon.

Let the Cardinals win, and when the training time rolls around next year the railroads will have to put on special trains to transport the vitamins, calcium, formula, drugs and assorted medicines to every baseball club in training. The managers and coaches will be second in importance to the diagnosticians and their assistants.

"Dr." Bredon will have the same sort of material for the Dr. Defoe did, and magazines will be filled with articles by him on how he helped give birth to the wonder team.

"Already I can see the headlines in the sports pages: 'The city club wins Buck game $1,000 for talking at pabnum for breakfast.'"

"Piller's failure to win attributed to lack of exercise, take the 'Odds on Yankees drop as train bearing their world series cod liver oil derailed near Harrisburg.' The headline will be boring enough, but you can imagine having to read the interviews with famous players after the game. Influence is fully felt in the major leagues! Will give you a probable sample."

By HENRY McJEROME
YANKEES STADIUM, New York—Joe DIMAGGIO revealed in an exclusive interview with this reporter that the only thing that stood between him and a new home run record was a shortage of olempercarporphum.

"The other boys seem to get results with just pabnum, cod liver oil, vitamins, strained goods and vitamins A, B and C." DIMAGGIO told me as he sat in the Yankee's new clinic, just off the dressing room. "However, I have to take olempercarporphum, because my record was a 100 home runs in 1935. In hitting my last 40 home runs I have taken so much of this vital food that there is a shortage of it. I have all of my books who are not playing his league baseball failing day and night back in San Francisco. If they are lucky, and the catch is good, I am sure I will break Babe Ruth's mark."

Now that's the kind of stuff you may have to read next year if the Cardinals win. The vitamin tablets what "Dr." Bredon thinks they will, and come through to beat the other National League clubs. If this comes to pass, I'll give you a tip on how to get your revenge: Every time you pass Bredon alone on his arches because they were the cause of all. During the winter Bredon discovered that he took vitamin tablets before he played a round of golf, his arches didn't concede the match on the 18th or 19th hole, but continued to hold up beautifully for the entire 18 holes.

Figuring that what was good for his arches ought to be good for his baseball team, Bredon ordered 26,000 tablets and told his team to start eating them.

Shifts Loom In National Cage Rulings

NEW YORK, March 25 (U.P.)—Fortified by data from the fourth annual national collegiate invitation tournament, the National Association of Basketball Coaches began its concluding session today with 17 proposed rule changes—five expressly designed as "speed-up" moves—on the agenda.

The two-day meeting opened yesterday but no action was taken except for appointment of a three-coach group to talk in at the N.C.A.A. rules committee meeting next week-end at Kansas City.

Numerous revisions were discussed but today's votes will decide which of the 17 proposed rule changes will be submitted at Kansas City. The two most significant recommendations, almost certain to be approved, were a rule permitting substitutions after a field goal, and a regulation requiring a player to lose the ball to the nearest official after all violations.

Under the present code substitutions can be made only after a free throw. In the case of rule infractions, the player with the ball usually drops it, causing the official to consume valuable time in retrieving it.

Hospital Expansion Wins Taxpayer League's Okay

Influential support for enlargement and improvement of the overcrowded general hospital has been given today by the Twin Falls County Taxpayer League.
With the consent of commissioners awaiting expression of public sentiment before acting under the 1941 law which would permit enlargement, the taxpayer group went on record unanimously last night for the necessary expansion program.

Convened at 10 P. M. Hall with about 50 persons present, the league heard full outline of the hospital growth. It present seriously handicapped conditions and the need for adequate hospitalization facilities in the central county of Idaho Valley. The largest group of patients hospitalized at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the South Side Medical social club.
Tentative estimates of the amount needed through a bond issue ranged from $200,000 to $500,000. With that sum, it was estimated, the hospital could be built, nurses home could be enlarged, superintending staff could be constructed and other necessary improvements could be made.
Based on county's $200,000 assessed valuation, such a bond issue could be retired in about six years by a mill and one-half levy. Motion of endorsement was made by Fred Reicher. The bonding was made by Frank Enoch, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. Chairman J. F. Cordes, head of

Bremen Hardest Hit, But Scars Not Noticeable, Reporter Finds

CORRESPONDENT GETS SCARE AT REICH SEAPORT

By LYLE C. WILSON
(Copyright by Lyle C. Wilson)
The express train from Hamburg rolled into Bremen on schedule, and an obliging German naval officer gave me last minute directions. He was sorry he was not going my way but assured me that Hillman's hotel was only a short walk from the station—that I couldn't miss it.

It was night time and bitterly cold. So with one bag, one hooded flashlight and what had seemed to be ample directions for Hillman's I stepped boldly through the light trap at the railway station door into the blackout.

I had encountered the blackout before—in Bremen waiting for a train, in Berlin in company with other Americans or with Germans who knew the city with a certain awareness of where to go and how to get there.

But in Bremen I was on my own. Ten seconds away from the light trap I was as lost as though I had parachuted from the stratosphere and landed on a strange planet.

Frightened Reporter: I could hear people around me, the scuff their feet on the pavement or the murmur of a language which I could neither speak nor understand. With every step the blackness seemed to grow thicker.

But in Bremen I was on my own. Ten seconds away from the light trap I was as lost as though I had parachuted from the stratosphere and landed on a strange planet.

Public Forum

Reader Defends Power Company and Cites Courteous Service, Low Rate

Editor, Evening Times: I am afraid Mrs. Esther O'Dell in her letter to the Public Forum has greatly misjudged Idaho Power Co., either by ignorance or sheer prejudice.

In the first place Idaho Power company is controlled by a board of directors, are none as any corporation, who live in the state of Idaho, one (Mr. Ostrander) lives in the city of Twin Falls and he holds the preferred stock, is owned almost entirely by people residing in the territory Idaho Power company serves, of which your next door neighbor may be one, and have an equal voting right in the power company elections, as do the common stock holders.

If Mrs. O'Dell thinks that Idaho Power company has made millions overnight, I would please ask her to visit her local power office and ask them if she could read the history of Idaho Power company. Idaho Power is allowed only one month's revenue ahead for operating expenses, and large construction jobs as power plants, etc. are financed on borrowed money, by the selling of bonds, similar to the way your village, county, or U. S. government bonds are sold to obtain cash.

I believe it only a moment's thought were spent on the fact that Idaho has had to have electric power for its industry and for its numerous property investment in the people of southern Idaho, Mrs. O'Dell would certainly agree that all this cannot be bought for a dime.

It would be to cite Mrs. O'Dell, anyone else interested in the latest machinery by the federal power commission at Washington, D. C. on Idaho Power company's rate standing in the United States. It will be found there that Idaho Power's rates are third, with Washington and California a few cents lower on large blocks of kilowatt hours, yet every customer in the system together, comprises little more than half of the customer base being served by another company in the city of Portland, Ore. alone.

Why is this possible? Why are the widely scattered farms and communities of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon afforded the privilege of being able to use electric service for less than the people of Portland and just a very little more than the people of California and Washington? Because Idaho has an abundant supply of water, with many natural falls that afford power sites which can be developed at a minimum cost.

I am going to agree with Mrs. O'Dell that through an act of God or Providence, southern Idaho has been blessed with numerous large springs and waterfalls, which afford Idaho, Idaho Power company have had the courage and foresight to harness into electrical energy to serve the people of southern Idaho cheaper than any other place in the United States in proportion to area. No other thing besides food, water and clothing is so essential and convenient to our way of living here in Magic Valley than is electricity, which God had the foresight to lay in our laps.

Never think that Idaho Power is trying to put anything over on the people. You will not find a group of people so willing to serve the public's slightest whim, or discuss and explain company policies, or why this is the way of things, as they do here. They are, in fact, more than employees of Idaho Power company. I think that the average person's misconception, or lack of understanding of a kilowatt hour, causes more enemies for a utility than all other things combined. If one will but stop to think that a kilowatt is equivalent to one and one third horse power, or 26 men, then a kilowatt hour is equal to 26 man hours. Does anyone know where I can hire 26 men whose combined wages would total one cent per hour? If so, I will take electric service out of my home.

I would like to inquire of the forum if they would think me rude or out of place if I tried to get a

AFL UNION FEES MAY BE UNIFORM

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said today he was "strenuously endeavoring" to persuade AFL local unions to charge a "nominal" initiation fee for new members securing employment on AFL closed shop defense contracts.

Green also said the AFL has taken "definite action within the limits of our authority" to establish uniform fees for national and international unions, thus placing a limit on the maximum amount that can be charged by strong unions.

"Frankly, I called upon our affiliated unions to eliminate the abuses in connection with the collection of initiation fees and dues by local organizations," Green added in a letter to Sen. George W. Norris, Ind., Neb.

Contract Let for Airport Runway

GOODING, March 25 (Special)—The city of Gooding this week let the contract for the north-south runway of the new airport on the butte east of Gooding to W. O. Burns of Idaho Falls.

This runway is to be 3,700 feet long and 50 feet wide and will be placed between Gooding and Mountain Home and two between Gooding and 205. The highway district will furnish about $750, the county about $600, the state $1,000 and the city of Gooding the remainder. The civil engineering commission had already let the contract for the east-west runway to Mr. Burns.

The airport is to have a radio beam east of the field on the butte and plans are being made to move the King Hill radio station and emergency field equipment to Gooding. Two new beams will be placed between Gooding and Mountain Home and two between Gooding and

These Men Are Pledged to a CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM For TWIN FALLS

Vote for Them at City Election, April 1st

If elected, Lem A. Chapin, candidate for mayor, and Paul R. Taber and Leonard Avant, candidates for councilmen, are pledged to a constructive program for Twin Falls.

First of all, they recognize the importance of getting a first class airport for Twin Falls, and with the opportunities that now present themselves for undertaking such a project, they will exert every effort to secure this improvement as rapidly as possible.

As far as city finance and federal assistance will permit, these men will also work for installation of another supply line from the waterworks to the city, a plan or project for carrying off surface water from our streets in time of excessive rainfall, a continuation of street and alley graveling and oiling, and the extension of playground improvements.

All this, they will undertake in a business-like manner, so as to secure the greatest amount of improvements possible without going to any extremes in city expenditures.

As finance commissioner of Twin Falls for 10 years and mayor for two years, Mr. Chapin is thoroughly conversant with the city's needs. No one is better qualified to serve as mayor, and Mr. Taber and Mr. Avant are in full accord with his policies.
