

OIL MEN FINISH SESSIONS HERE

A. G. Olofson, Salt Lake City, sales manager for the Utah Oil Refining company, last night told delegates service stations, wholesalers and distributors from this section in banquet at the Park hotel that "the petroleum industry is one of the most important in the United States, not only in time of war but in normal times as well."

Olofson was principal speaker at the banquet which attracted company representatives from over this section. It marked the close of a day-long forum session, these sessions being held at the Idaho Power company auditorium both in the morning and the afternoon.

Secure Future
The speaker said that "the future of our petroleum industry is safe and secure because it is a definite part of the everyday life of every American, and because the young men who will cast his lot with the petroleum industry and put everything he has into it, cannot but succeed."

He paid a compliment to all dealers who have definitely chosen the business as a vocation and to the "strangers of a permanent future."

"There's a wonderful opportunity for the aggressive man seeking permanency," he said.

Prizees Executive
He paid tribute to M. J. Greenwood, vice-president of the company, stating that Mr. Greenwood was "one of the most important factors in the company's progress. Records show that Greenwood was the first salesman hired by the late John O. Howard, founder of the company, and has directed his entire business life to the institution of which he is now the active director of sales."

He also mentioned the company's success in Twin Falls, presided over by business divisions and was toastmaster at the banquet.

BLAINE CONVICT CAUGHT IN TEXAS

Duane Alvin McMullan, 22, wanted in Halley on a charge of rape and who escaped from jail there by sawing his way out, has been taken into custody by FBI agents at Ft. Bliss, near El Paso, Tex. W. O. Bunker, Boise, special agent in charge of the district, formed the local FBI representative today.

McMullan, records show, was arrested at Halley July 10 and charged with the rape of a young woman of that section. On the 15th of the same month he and another prisoner escaped jail.

Since that time McMullan, the local agent said, has been the object of a nation-wide search with a $200 reward being offered.

He was alleged to have assaulted a member of the security guard at Sun Valley last summer. He was arrested by Blaine county sheriff on July 10, 1940, but escaped from the county jail five days later.

It was learned today that the man went to Denver where he joined the army under an assumed name. FBI agents in Washington, checking the fingerprints which the army had taken, discovered his true identity and agents at El Paso arrested him.

The local agent was also informed today that U. S. Attorney John Carter, Boise, has set bail at $50,000, returnable to Boise on Sept. 2. McMullan, now held in El Paso, will be returned to Idaho before that time.

Owner and driver of the new car was A. F. Marlett, Eugene, Ore., according to Deputy Sheriff George B. Borden. George D. Hart, City, Ind., was owner and driver of the older vehicle.

Investigation showed that both autos were proceeding west into Twin Falls at the time of the mishap and apparently slowed down and Marlett's car rammed into the rear of the Indiana machine, which was pushed off the roadway into a bank at the side.

Youths Hoping to Install Cross at Falls Park Today

Although heavy winds on the plateau falls grade have already balked several attempts to raise the large cross for Easter sunrise services, another attempt will be made today if the wind dies down.

Young men of the Inter-Church Youth Affiliation, which sponsors the canyon sunrise rites each Easter, were to tackle the cross-erecting job in late afternoon, according to Clifford Pratt. The cross, damaged by the wind last Sunday at the church youths made their first effort to raise it, has been fully repaired.

Because many persons have driven on out to the canyon grade to see the cross this week—and have been disappointed—Pratt said that the cross will be left up all next week for sightseers.

Roosevelt Opposes Government Censorship of Press

EXECUTIVE ASKS COOPERATION IN NEWS REPORTING

WASHINGTON, April 9 (U.P.)—Stephen T. Early, president of Roosevelt's press secretary, asserted today the administration's effort to control certain types of news reports on a voluntary basis will work out on voluntary grounds and has got to work out on voluntary grounds.

Early, replying to a request for an elaboration of Mr. Roosevelt's comments on control of important military news, again asserted the chief executive does not want censorship and neither does any one else.

He said present administration measures are not a form of censorship, but rather an attempt to enlist voluntary press cooperation to avoid censorship.

"An important point, I believe," Early said, "is that some of the newspapers have called this an imposed kind of censorship. I believe this is not censorship but an effort to avoid censorship."

"This will work out on voluntary grounds—it has got to work out on voluntary grounds." The question of censorship arose yesterday when Mr. Roosevelt said he preferred to go along with the overwhelming majority of newspapers which favor continuation of cooperative control of news rather than imposition of any censorship rule.

RICH DEPOSIT OF ORE UNCOVERED

KEELOGG, Ida., April 9 (U.P.)—The U. S. bureau of mines reported today the strike of schistite ore in the Sibitnie valley of Idaho is the greatest in the United States.

The strike was made by the bureau in diamond drilling the property of the United Mercury company, under lease to the Bradley Mining company.

The bureau of mines has been drilling for the last two years to find deposits of tungsten, a valuable strategic war mineral.

Browns Reported to Have Best Team in Their League History

BY HARRY GRAYSON
N.E. Robert Quinn, who has been traveling with them, says the St. Louis Browns have their best team in history.

That's a strong statement on the part of the 71-year-old president of the Boston Beas.

Bob Quinn has seen them all. The Browns have had some fair middling clubs if you can remember back far enough.

There were the Browns largely of Quinn's own making, for example—George Harold Blair and that bunch whom the Yankees beat for the pennant by a slim margin in 1925. It is sufficient to say that in two seasons under Fred Haney the Browns have shaken the dreariest complexion.

The Browns broke even with Cleveland in 22 engagements last

Walter Judnich... hits long ball for Browns.

Cullenbine has been with the Tigers and Dodgers, Roberto Estalella with the Senators.

Stanley has Harold Clift, a distance hitter, leading off. Back of the crack third baseman come Ray Radcliff, McQuinn, Walt Judnich, Laabs, Johnny Berardino, Heffner, Bob Swift and the pitcher.

On Upgrade
Haney is confident the Browns will have decent pitching for the first time since '29.

Johnny Kramer has come on. Bill Trotter appears to have found himself.

Maurice Newlin and Bob McCrifer won 23 and 22 games, respectively, for San Antonio in '40.

Catcher Swift is on the upgrade along with Thurston Bernardino and Center Fielder Judnich. Swift is ably assisted by Joe Grace and Frank Grube.

George McQuinn Don Heffner

While the Browns, with their Bernardino-Heffner-McQuinn combination, topped both big leagues in double plays last season, Johnny Lucadello may play second until the infield hardens.

Lucadello, a powerful switch-hitter, batted .335 for Toledo... 317 in 172 games with the Browns.

No longer is St. Louis a convenient American league oasis, where the club can rest and doctor up their wounds.

Rip Radcliff

Little Guy Hany promises to give Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox real competition as an O'Connell of Baseball.

He has the castoff pitchers Johnny Allen, Auker, George Caster, Dennis Galehouse, Bob Harris, Kennedy, Ronnie Lawson, John Nigueland and Phil Ostermuller.

Others gave up on Infielders George McQuinn, Don Heffner and Al Stang.

Outfielder Rip Radcliff was traded by the White Sox. The Yankees came along with Walter Judnich and Myril Hoag. The Tigers didn't hold Out Laabs in high regard. Roy

Bartholomew Stars As Dietrich Ball Club Wins

BILIS, April 9 (Special)—Leslie Bartholomew, ace Dietrich athlete, worked on both offense and defense here yesterday as he led his team to a 10-4 victory over the Bilis club.

At bat Bartholomew pounded out a pair of home runs that brought in a total of six runs—more than enough to win the encounter.

And on the mound, the young hurler kept the Bilis bats well in check all the way through.

Clanking for his last crown, the Dietrich club tackles Castleton here on Friday afternoon.

trip, Elden Auker and Vernon Kennedy dealt the Indians a terrific blow by beating them in a double-header on the lake front in September.

The Browns knocked the last spark out of the Yankees at Sportsman's park.

They were first to put the Red Sox on the skids.

They dropped the White Sox into a fourth-place tie with the Boston Red Sox.

Doyle Figures His Odds On Stand-out Infields

BY HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Prof. Jack Doyle, the betting commissioner who is a sort of one-man board of directors in the betting world, grouped in today to announce that his odds on the major league baseball races would be forthcoming shortly.

As soon as they are made public a stream of currency and checks will start flowing in the direction of the professor from all parts of the country. His odds come as a surprise to many, anything you can find, and some of the money he gets is a sight to see. Some of it comes out from under mattresses in Alabama, some of it in crisp, shiny stuff just out of the bank, and occasionally a large, old-time bill shows up.

Studying Situation
The professor still is studying the baseball situation and is not quite ready to come up with his opening line, but he had some interesting observations to make on how he goes about picking favorites and fixing odds. He starts out by junking the classic theory that pitching is 70 per cent of a baseball club.

"I look at the infield," he said. "You'd be surprised how often a good infield makes great pitchers. Alky Donald was doing it as long as the New York Yankees infield held up. When it fell to pieces, he did, too. The most important part of the infield is shortstop and second base, but the ball club I like has to have four good men to throw in. Occasionally an outstanding outfielder can make a difference in the odds, but most of the time I don't pay any attention to the outfield."

Human Mutual Machine
After putting out his opening line on the ball clubs, Doyle becomes a sort of human mutual machine, changing the prices according to the amount of money bet on each club. He usually revises his odds after about a month or six weeks of the season has elapsed and keeps changing them. The only bad spot he ever got into as a betting commissioner was when the Yankees beat the Boston Braves at 60 to 1 in 1914. He got $300 worth of bets on the Braves and stood to lose $16,000 if they won the pennant.

That was the year George Stalings, "the miracle man," brought the Braves from the cellar to pennant and a world series victory in four straight games. Before the odds all his bets on them and actually made a $100 profit on the deal.

Doyle is the most unpredictable of gamblers, but Doyle has a sure fire way of fixing the odds on a tournament such as the National Open.

10 Have Heart
"I figure there are 100 golfers there and about 100 of them are equal. By that I mean that any one of them has the equal and mechanical ability to shoot the others. Then it comes down to a question of heart. You'd be surprised how many good golfers there are with mental handicaps. I figure there are about 10 top-flight golfers who really have heart, so I make them the favorite."

During the autumn most of the nation goes crazy trying to pick winners of college football games, but to Doyle this is the safest couch of all for a betting commissioner.

"Form prevails 80 per cent of the time," he explained. "The place where you have to figure close is on traditional games. Yale would rather beat Harvard than win all the rest of the games. Duke and Meigs Carolina are always a small spot for an upset. It's a job to figure out which team is up for those traditional games and set the odds accordingly."

BRITISH CAPTURE ITALY'S OLDEST PORT IN AFRICA

MASSAWA FALLS AS TROOPS TAKE BASE ON RED SEA

LONDON, April 9 (UP)—Massawa, Italy's oldest colony port, has been occupied by British empire troops. It was reported reliably here today. Massawa is the Red sea port for Asmara, capital of Eritrea, which fell to the British last week. The reported fall of Massawa seals the fate of Italy's oldest colony. Eritrea, it virtually was done over, however, when Keren and Asmara fell. It was regarded here as another step toward Italy's naval prestige since Massawa was Italy's oldest port in east Africa and had been her principal naval base in the Red sea. The capture, the British said, finally disposed of Italy's boast that she controlled the route through the Red sea. At Massawa the British navy obtains a valuable naval dockyard with a coaling and oiling station. The Ghazir basin, north of Massawa, is a useful subsidiary base for warships patrolling the northern approaches to the Red sea and the Gulf of Aden. Occupation of the port of 15,000 inhabitants, of whom 5,000 normally were Italians, gives the British control of one of the most important gateways to the whole of east Africa.

137 Get Release or Pardon At April Session of Board

BOISE, April 9 (UP)—Action of the April meeting of the Idaho pardon board today showed releases or pardons were granted to 137 convicts out of 221 who had petitioned for freedom. The releases, however, will not all become effective immediately, some of them to take effect in 1942. The board completed action on the longest calendar in its history yesterday, after granting freedom to Warren Vinson, 20, St. Maries, who was convicted of manslaughter last year in the death of Joe Froyant.

During the session a new system for releasing prisoners was formulated. It provided for pardons to be granted if prisoners released had a "clean record" during a probationary period. The board also adopted the policy of setting release times at future dates. This, said Warden Gilbert Talley, will give the convict something to look forward to and prevent the "boredom" which has been the result of the same applications meeting after meeting.

Those who were released yesterday included the following: L. V. Brooks, Twin Falls county, burglary, 1-5, two-year release; John P. Papp, Twin Falls county, burglary, 1-5, one-year release; George Hess, Bannock county, burglary, 2-14, one-year release; Henry Black, Twin Falls county, burglary, 1-14, two-year release; Henry Strickland, Twin Falls county, burglary, 1-14, two-year release; Ronald Spence, Shoshone county, burglary, 1-14, pardon (hold for Washington state); Wallace A. Tree Theme for Council Dinner

Executive council members of the Girls' League of Twin Falls high school held a council dinner in the home economics dining room of the high school Monday evening, with "Trees" as the theme. Decorations and the program followed the dinner. The program featured a play, "The Tree," which was written by the girls. The play was a comedy and was well received by the audience. The girls also sang several songs and performed a variety of skits. The dinner was a success and the girls enjoyed it very much.

General chairman of the event was Miss June Daniels and toastmaster was Miss Loren Paul. Address of welcome was given by Miss Adda Mae Bracken and response was by Miss Mildred Robertson. Miss Eva Dunham sang a vocal solo. A talk, "As the Twig is Bent," was given by Principal Edward Regal and Miss Marion Tolbert presented a piano solo. Miss Olive Wells, Miss Norma Dickey and Miss Margaret Bretter presented a vocal trio number and Miss Barbara Rasmussen gave a vocal solo. Miss Madeline Garvin spoke on "Energized" and a skit, "Information Please," was given by Miss Vera Lou Bowman, Miss Barbara Butler, Miss Mary Alice Buchanan, Miss Julia Ann Ryan, Miss Betty Thomata and Miss Charlotte Richardson.

Group singing was led by Miss Edna Foster and Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls and general club sponsor, spoke on "Great Oaks From Little Acorns." Mrs. North also read a letter asking cooperation of the league for cancer control day, Saturday, April 26. The group accepted the plan and will have 18 girls solicit the downtown area that day. This will be a part of the service to the community work of the league.

Rubinoff Wins Applause (P. S., Pianist Is Star)

By STELLA LOFF WOOD Evening Times Music Critic There may be better pianists at large in this troubled world—but they don't come to Twin Falls every day. And as a result a young man by the name of Solovoi Rubinoff last night stole the musical part of a program away from that experienced comedian and violinist—Dave Rubinoff. Playing before a packed house in the high school auditorium that was attracted by the magic name of the nationally famous Rubinoff, most of the musical acclaim for the evening went to Solovoi for his artistic work at the piano.

The first showed the versatility of this popular artist—a composition contrasting the melancholy with the fiery gaiety of the peasant. Romance showed the excellent advantage of the almost unbelievably mellow sweetness of his instrument. The gypsy dance spoke a language now intimate and sweet, now rhythmic, often scorchingly humorous, but always dramatic.

The last number was dainty and sentimental. A master of harmonics and the pizzicato, Rubinoff employed these devices often throughout the program. As an encore he offered humorous variations on Oh, Johnny, Always a Showman, he displayed a real art as a comedian. Following intermission Debussy's Dance, remarkably well done, Liszt's Polonaise, and another concert paraphrase—Smoke Gets in Your Eyes by Jerome Kern, were offered by Pianist Solovoi. As an encore he played a concert arrangement of The Fire from the Valkyrie by Wagner.
