

Axis and Allied Troops Locked in Greek Struggle

British Navy Sinks Enemy Ship Convoy

By WALLACE CARROLL

LONDON, April 17 (UP)—British and Greek troops are battling axis forces "along the entire front" in Greece, with the Germans smashing at three principal points west of Mount Olympus, dispatches from Greece reported today.

"The German pressure is heaviest in the region of Grevena (in the center of the defense line), south of the Aliakmon river (on the east where British troops are massed), and in the area of Coriza," according to a Greek spokesman.

LATE FLASHES

NEW YORK, April 17 (UP)—Southern coal operators were invited today by John L. Lewis to return to the Appalachian wage-hour conference on a new contract with the United Mine Workers of America. Northern operators have agreed to a 1-year contract which would provide for a basic 70 a day wage scale. But southern operators balked at elimination of a 40-cent differential from the northern wage scale.

LONDON, April 17 (UP)—While German planes were giving London its heaviest raid of the war, royal air forces planes were raiding northern Germany, concentrating on the important city of Bremen, the air ministry announced today.

It was indicated that the royal air force had also carried out heavy attacks on the French invasion coast.

ROME, April 17 (UP)—Italian and German troops in north Africa continued to exert pressure on British forces at Tobruk, Libya, and Sollum, Egypt, and in Ethiopia Italian troops shot off Addis Ababa, counter-attacked British empire forces, the Italian high command said today.

ATHENS, April 17 (UP)—British lines tonight were reported holding steady in the fighting around Mount Olympus but the Greek press said a great German thrust against the center of the main defenses had not ended all hope of receiving a grave military situation.

CAIRO, April 17 (UP)—Incoming sources here predicted tonight that Greek troops will evacuate all territory which they now hold in Albania.

Axis Armies Claim Heavy Greek Gains

BERLIN, April 17 (UP)—Axis armies drove deeper into Greece, the high command reported today, capturing the town of Servia in an offensive designed to catch the British expeditionary force in a trap on the rugged Mount Olympus front.

A large number of prisoners was taken, according to the communique, but there was no confirmation of foreign reports that the Germans had broken through the British front north of the important railroad junction of Larisa.

HELP SOLDIERS, BAPTISTS TOLD

Declaring that one of the present-day challenges of the church is to "unite with the other churches in a service to the boys of our army camps," John W. Thomas, New York City, was featured speaker here this morning at initial sessions of the 31st annual session of the Central Baptist association, which opened at the local Baptist church.

Representatives from over the country were present for the initial session. The meeting continued through this afternoon in the form of a special session for women and a special program will be presented at the church tonight. The session will continue through Friday, and will include a banquet and program will be presented.

Four Challenges
Rev. Thomas confined his address today to the topic "Present Day Challenges to the Churches of the American People," which followed four challenges, which follow:

DRAFT CALLS FOR SMALLEST QUOTA

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17 (UP)—Headquarters of the ninth corps area today announced that the smallest quota by which would be called into army service in the eighth draft call May 8 to 7, 218; Washington 19; Utah 11; Nevada 2; it was the smallest quota of the series. The quota which began last November.

The corps headquarters announced that the quota for the following counties was: Washington, Oregon and Montana 19; Utah 11; Nevada 2; it was the smallest quota of the series. The quota which began last November.

U.S. MAY STOP RESTRICTIONS ON SUGAR ACREAGES

WASHINGTON, April 17 (UP)—Congressional sources reported today the agriculture department is drawing up a proposed order to suspend all acreage restrictions on domestic beet and cane sugar production this week.

The order has not as yet been submitted to Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard. It is expected to have his approval, these sources believed.

Dr. Joshua Bernhardt, chief of the agriculture department sugar division, said no decision has been reached on lifting the acreage restrictions.

"The matter is under consideration and that is all that we can say at this time," Bernhardt said.

Other sugar officials said that a decision probably will be made this week.

Stasis for the action is an apparent shortage in sugar supplies, as a result of inadequate shipping facilities between the United States and its sugar sources, the Philippine Islands and Cuba.

Quotas Unchanged

Rep. Harry B. Cofer, D-Neb., said a similar proposal would be an obvious discrimination between sugar production and sugar marketing. He said an order increasing production and acreage would still leave the marketing quotas unchanged and prevent farmers from moving their sugar into the trade.

Sen. Edward C. Johnson, D-Iowa, said he was confident that agricultural expansion action would result in an increase of no more than 10 per cent in sugar beet production.

Johnson indicated it would be of great benefit to maintain sugar growers. "Such a plan, benefit payments would be continued as in the past."

MEDIATION BILL SHIFT ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, April 17 (UP)—The house committee today approved an amendment to the Vinson bill extending its compulsory mediation features to labor disputes in all defense production.

Nazis Unleash Greatest Raid of War on London

LONDON, April 17 (UP)—London's 8,000,000 came out of an eight-hour nightmare of explosion and flame today. It was the biggest German air raid of the war.

Tens of thousands wandered homeless in search of food and shelter, thousands mourned dead or wounded relatives or dug in ruins in search of them.

Parts of London looked like the ruined parts of cities whose names have become synonymous with German air blitzkrieg from Plymouth, Manchester, Birmingham, Coventry.

It was a raid entirely unlike any London had seen before. Great buildings rocked on their foundations from the concussion of gigantic German bombs and the Germans used every type of plane they had to spread death, destruction or terror.

Under Ballon Barrage
Some German planes swept in under the barrage balloons and, after a few minutes of low-altitude attacks, dropped their bombs. In the intervals between explosions, those on the ground heard the air whistling through their ears with an ear-splitting shriek. British fighter planes could be heard; their engines could be seen as they swooped over the German craft, and the thunder of the anti-aircraft guns never ceased.

The little after dark, hundreds of planes, flying in almost continuous waves, began arriving over the city. They stayed for eight hours.

All fire apparatus, hundreds of thousands of air raid precautions, men, auxiliary firemen, fire speakers, rescue squads and volunteer firemen turned out and worked all night. Fire engines whirled through the streets when London workers went to bed late this morning. Few had slept at all.

Hope Fades for Settling Of Soft Coal Walk-outs

Little hope was held today for a quick resumption of soft coal mining, clouding an otherwise optimistic defense labor picture.

An acute coal shortage threatened steel and the other major defense industries as the work stoppage entered its 17th day. Some industries had only enough coal for a week more.

THUNDER OF WAR

LONDON—London blasted and burned as hitwave pounds capital for eight hours in biggest raid of war; thousands homeless; many parts of London in ruins; German use of giant new bombs; Lord and Lady Stamp killed; British and Greek battle Germany; "long night" from the north; German air raids northwestern Germany; concentrates on Bremen; believe British eastern front will be broken; German forces in Greece; German forces in Ethiopia; German forces in North Africa; German forces in Italy; German forces in the Balkans; German forces in the Caucasus; German forces in the Far East; German forces in the Pacific; German forces in the Atlantic; German forces in the Indian Ocean; German forces in the Arctic; German forces in the Antarctic; German forces in the Moon; German forces in the Sun; German forces in the Stars and Planets; German forces in the Universe.

CATHOLIC BISHOP TO CONFIRM 100

The Most Rev. Edward J. Kelly, bishop of Boise, will confirm a class of 100 boys 8 to 12 years next Sunday, April 20, at St. Edward's Catholic church.

This is an event that occurs but once in three years, according to Father H. E. Helman.

The class is comprised of approximately 40 children and 60 adults, largely converts within the last three years.

Bishop Kelly will examine the children as to their knowledge of religion Saturday at 8 p. m. He will be the celebrant at the Mass next Sunday.

CENSUS UNIT TO AID JOB FINDERS

The U. S. census bureau now offers aid to employment offices in providing names and addresses of persons through the various offices for national defense work.

Citizens of the United States, it was announced this afternoon by W. Clyde Williams, state manager of the local Idaho office employment service.

As employment service offices concentrate on placing men in national defense jobs, one problem constantly arises, Williams said.

In almost every instance, employers require the applicant to prove that he is a citizen of the United States.

But what of the man who was born in the United States, but who does not have a birth certificate?

This difficulty is most likely to come up among the older workers, the group which possesses skills now in demand, and whose age, in view of draft possibilities, is no longer a drawback.

One answer to proving United States citizenship is found in a service rendered by the bureau.

This is an event that occurs but once in three years, according to Father H. E. Helman.

The class is comprised of approximately 40 children and 60 adults, largely converts within the last three years.

Bishop Kelly will examine the children as to their knowledge of religion Saturday at 8 p. m. He will be the celebrant at the Mass next Sunday.

Williams pointed out that he has been informed that a force of nearly 30 clerks is busy making census records searches, handling the inquiries which are coming in by the tens of thousands each month.

Utilization of this service will solve an employment service problem that is assuming magnitude during the nation's emergency period, Williams said.

WHEELER SAYS BULLITT PROMISED ENTRY INTO WAR

2,000 LISTEN AS SENATOR LAUDS COL. LINDBERGH

BALT LAKE CITY, April 17 (AP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler carried his anti-war campaign to Twin Falls last night, charging at a meeting here that former Ambassador to France William C. Bullitt promised American participation in the European hostilities many months ago.

The Montana isolationist said he has evidence of Bullitt's promises were made at a Washington dinner party, "while President Roosevelt was assuring the country he would keep America out."

More than 2,000 persons overflowed a hotel auditorium to hear Wheeler address, bringing a heavy snowstorm.

Opposes War Entrance

The Montana senator called on his listeners to "express their beliefs," and said 80 per cent of the people are opposed to entrance into the war. He attacked leaders of both parties, and warned that American participation in the war would lead to inflation and revolution in the post-war era.

"The people are being betrayed into the arms of the warlords by the judges," Wheeler cried. "Today—the betrayal; tomorrow, the crucifixion—but there still is time. We are not yet... and the President can have telling us unity whenever he wishes... We will all support him on a program to out of America, and keep America out of war."

Orator for Lindy

Wheeler said he had nothing but admiration for the British, but attacked British propaganda. He asked, "Why aren't all the foreigners in Washington who are telling us we must defend democracy at home defending it themselves?"

The senator defended the "patriotic purpose" of the America First committee, and his mention of Col. Charles Lindbergh brought a long ovation.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The life of a member of the new national defense mediation board is not a merry one, as the 11 men and most of their 11 alternates have discovered.

Experience of the past two years has amply proved that the only way to assure safety in these matters is to move first. The British hesitated to violate the neutrality of Belgium and Holland and Scandinavia.

Query: Is Hair Hiding Under This Cap? Pot Shots mentioned some time ago that Navy Recruiter C. A. Zimmerman had somewhat scanty foliage atop his noggin.

FOR an eternity they stood there, a dark-haired, hatless young man and a blond woman in white, their eyes fixed on each other, striving to be sensible in the face of their achievement.

Dr. Hale backed away slowly, as if hypnotized by the miracle of science that had occurred here. He knew the world's greatest secret. Miss Sorini knew. This was the discovery of centuries!

"Your advertisement said 'specialized secretarial willing to face certain exceptional conditions at exceptional pay.' That interests me on both counts, sir, as I wrote you. I'm a bit early, but I'm an eager to start."

MOVIE STRESSES BETTER SHIPPING

The battle against faulty and careless shipping practices will be renewed in Twin Falls Friday noon with showing of a vociferous, "Perfect Shipping," by the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

L. M. Beurup, Union Pacific freight agent, will be in charge of the annual campaign drive that more than half of all damage to merchandise in transit is avoidable.

Loss and damage has long been a serious matter not only to the carrier but also to business generally.

Mr. Beurup said today: "While big strides have been made in recent years, many of these difficulties through cooperative efforts of shippers, receivers and the railroads. It is anticipated that even greater results should come from this year's campaign."

The shipping feature will be one of several matters booked for the C. of C. program at the Rogerson hotel. The movie film arrived today after showing at Pocatello last night.

IDAHO FARM PAY REGISTERS GAIN

Reports indicated that $42.76 was the average monthly rate with board and $58.50 the average without board. These figures, the agency reported, would be $4 and $4.10 higher than the average rates paid a year ago.

Day labor rates showed about the same proportional increase or a raise of 15 cents a day for workers with or without board. For the first time in years the supply of farm labor as a per cent of normal was lower than the demand, it was reported.

British Fleet Locks Door to Africa via Mediterranean Sea

By J. W. T. MASON

The British Mediterranean fleet has resumed successful operations to lock the entrance door into the Mediterranean against German reinforcement of troops and supplies.

The British, in sinking a full enemy convoy of five loaded merchantmen and three destroyers, undoubtedly have given Berlin cause for uneasiness regarding the eventual fate of the axis forces in Libya. Hitler's propaganda of a sea claiming the British expeditionary force in Greece is trapped. But strengthening of British naval action off Tripoli gives more reason for believing that the Germans, themselves, are in danger of a trap in north Africa.

Open Road

Should the German offensive in Greece become successful because of overruling numbers, British command of the Mediterranean will allow an open road of overseas reinforcements to Egypt. If, however, Germany and their Fascist allies in Libya are compelled to fall back, a real trap awaits them because their homeward route by sea crosses the resumed patrol area of the British fleet.

Full resumption of the British fleet's action in the middle Mediterranean, however, probably is not yet feasible. As long as uncertainty exists regarding the outcome of the fighting in Greece and the eventual movements of the Anglo-Greek forces there, it would seem essential for a considerable part of the British fleet to remain in readiness for any eventuality in the eastern Mediterranean.

Await Greek Outcome

Once the Greek issue is decided the British fleet can concentrate its major activities in the middle Mediterranean. When that situation prevails, the turn of the Germans will come to understand anew the meaning of sea power and its eventual influence on the ending of the war.

Already, the moderately strength-

STATE OFFICERS TO BE INCREASED

Balderston said more men would be stationed in populous areas of the state.

ended British squadron in the middle Mediterranean has begun to dislodge the German overseas supply service. When the strength is redoubled, as it will be sooner or later, the Nazi life line in north Africa will be severed, as was the Italian last winter.

The task of the British Mediterranean fleet in cutting off supplies destined for north Africa should be comparatively simple when the pressing necessities in Greek waters are finished.

SECRETARY MORGENTHAU URGES HUGE BOOST IN U. S. TAXES

GETS UNANIMOUS SUPPORT ON PLAN FOR NEW LEVIES

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau today submitted to congressional majority and minority leaders a program providing for the levying of $3,444,000,000 in new taxes.

This largest tax program in American history was recommended by Morgenthau at a treasury conference with the congressional fiscal leaders. He said the leaders' reaction was unanimously favorable.

The conference was a prelude to drafting of new legislation, which will increase taxes tremendously to help pay for armaments.

Morgenthau estimated that federal expenditures during the 1942 fiscal year, beginning this July, would amount to $19,000,000,000.

He proposed that two-thirds of this be raised by taxation—new and old—and a third by borrowing.

The estimated revenue from present taxes for the coming fiscal year is $22,200,000, leaving a balance of $3,444,000,000 to be raised in new taxation.

This program, Morgenthau told newspaper men after the conference, will require the approval of Congress, which will have "something to say about it to the American people at a time and place of his own choosing."

ARMY MEN USING GUARD BARRACKS

BOISE, Ida., April 17 (UP)—Facilities at Idaho's national guard barracks were being used today for housing enlisted men stationed at the new Boise army air base, pending completion of the cantonment at the airport.

The barracks were turned over for army use by Brig. Gen. M. O. McConnell, adjutant general of the national guard. By making quarters available, officials hoped to speed up arrival of personnel for work at the base.

Meanwhile, reports were circulated army surveys have been made for expansion of facilities at the base to nearly double their present size. Lieut. Col. Robin A. Day, commanding officer, declined comment on the possibility the base would be increased and said such a decision would be made by the war department.

Legal Advisers Check up on Clark Plan for Gas Business

By LLOYD TUPLING BOISE, April 17 (U.P.)—Action on Gov. Chase A. Clark's threat to put the state of Idaho in the gasoline business today awaits a check of legal advisers on technical points in the proposal and return of the chief executive from Washington.

Clark threatened to set the state up as a wholesaler of gasoline if major companies did not recede a one-cent per gallon advance in prices.

It was learned that a large eastern oil company, not operating in Idaho at present, has offered to provide the state with gasoline, if and when Clark gives the go ahead and places the state in the business.

Clark's plan would provide the gasoline without the state having to put up any money, it was understood. The state would merely act as a consignee, and repay the company for the product when the gasoline was sold to retail distributors.

One's reason for opposing the price increase was based on an opinion that the advances were "unwarranted" and that farmers and other citizens could not pay more for gasoline because of the low prices on most agricultural products, he said.

Representatives of several oil companies conferred with the governor's legal advisers in Boise, D. O., but the talks produced no results—the companies pointing out that increasing consumption

STEEL COMPANIES TO PROTEST FREEZING OF PRICES

HENDERSON PUTS TOP ON SALE OF DEFENSE NEEDS

By LYLE C. WILSON
 WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The nation's 180 steel companies were expected today to seek modification of the government order freezing iron and steel prices to prevent inflation. The companies, it was believed, will ask to be protected against "extreme and disproportionate hardship."

The order was issued last night in the administration's most spectacular move to control prices. It dealt with the country's basic industry, upon which the whole defense effort rests.

It was officially designed a move to "prevent price spiraling and inflation under impetus of the 10-cent-an-hour wage increase just granted 431,000 steel workers at an annual cost of $40,000,000 to the industry."

Sees Ceiling
 Steel and iron got the first price ceiling established by Leon Henderson in his new capacity as administrator of the office of price administration and civilian supply.

Henderson ordered that henceforth—or until his order is modified—iron and steel prices shall not exceed those prevailing in the first quarter of 1941.

A sharp and bitter dispute seems likely in view of the fact that qualified spokesmen for the industry insist that some companies would be severely hurt and that all would suffer hardship if they were not permitted to raise prices to compensate in part for the wage increase.

A few hours before the price freezing order was circulated, the steel industry spokesman told questioners that immediate price increases were urgently necessary and practically inevitable. He indicated the small companies would move first. He estimated the wage increase and the prospective higher cost of bituminous coal would increase steel production costs by approximately 25 a ton, but did not suggest the industry expected to pass the entire burden to consumers.

Plan Scraped
 Any plan smaller companies may have had to announce prices increased was scrapped last night by Henderson's order unless individual units of the industry care to challenge Henderson's authority either in the courts or before public opinion.

But the price order, while instituting a general freeze at its time could not reasonably be justified, also acknowledged that the frozen level might be unjust to some companies and invited applications for modification in "individual cases of extreme or disproportionate hardship."

The emphasis Henderson put on the tentative nature of his price order suggested to some observers that it was hurried into effect last night to check the plans of individual companies to raise prices to meet increased labor costs.

 NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Joseph M. Schenck, the movie executive who contended that the costs of operating his $1,000,000 yacht, maintaining addresses in lavish apartments and buying his friends' lunches were "necessary business expenses," was found guilty today of federal income tax violations.

He is liable to a maximum sentence of 10 years imprisonment and a $20,000 fine.

The poor Russian emigrant boy of 48 years ago, whose first job was in a drug store in New York's Chinatown and whose first business venture was a beer concession at the end of a Manhattan trolley line when trolley riding was a favorite sport, was found guilty of having evaded more than $200,000 in taxes for the years 1933 and 1936.

A jury, reporting after 23 hours deliberation, found him guilty in 1937, and a charge of conspiracy to evade taxes. A co-defendant, Joseph H. Moskowitz, described as a "1,000 a week bookkeeper" for the Twentieth Century Fox Film corporation, of which Schenck is chairman of the board, was found guilty of complicity in the 1936 evasion and was acquitted on the other counts.

They will be sentenced April 24 by Judge Crover C. (no relation to defendant) Moskowitz.

Another indictment, still outstanding, contains 10 counts of perjury and charges Schenck with having made false statements to a federal agent who questioned him about an alleged payment of $100,000 to Willie Bluff, western representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators (A.F.I.). Bluff, who recently completed an old sentence for pandering in Chicago, was charged with having failed to pay taxes on $100,000 allegedly given him by Schenck.

The government contended that Schenck, former husband of Norma Talmadge, who later married George Jessel, who recently married 16-year-old Lola Albino, reported an income of $1,007,606 and paid taxes of $310,147 for the years 1935 and 1936, and that he should have reported an income of $1,217,825 and paid $583,839 taxes. The discrepancy, according to the government, was

U. S. TO BATTLE BOOST IN PRICES

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The justice department today is planning an attack on alleged artificial increases on the price of food.

Within three months the department plans to prosecute 40 major cases involving at least 1,500 defendants in the food industry. An official said the anti-trust division hopes to have nearly 150 attorneys working on the food drive by midsummer.

The justice department already has obtained five indictments in its investigation of the food industry as a result of grand jury presentations at Denver, Philadelphia, Duluth, Minn., and in the state of Washington.

Alleged trade restraints resulting from restriction of production, price fixing, and allocation of sales territories will be the objectives of the anti-trust division's drive, one official said. Both retailers and wholesalers are involved.

Women Can't Always Look Pretty and Play Good Tennis Game, Says Marble

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Alice Marble forsakes trying to look pretty in making almost impossible shot. Despite strange position, note how eye is on ball and racket in perfect position for return.

Despite the strange position Miss Marble has in the photograph—both feet off the ground and stretched and reaching far out, there is grace and beauty of body.

The eyes are on the ball and racket is perfect position for the return with a back-hand volley.

Miss Marble became a triple title-holder because she was willing to forego feminine allure to return a tennis ball, no matter to what extent it put her feminine cleopatra at a disadvantage.

Not afraid to scramble. Until women are willing to forsake trying to look pretty when they are asked to return almost impossible shots and are unafraid of bodily harm, feminine sports will not progress.

The Beverly Hills blond put the girls on the right track along that line, which is not the least of a constructive champion's contributions to the women's athletic world.

Miss Marble's willingness to go all the way out made her the most spectacular combatant that ever played the game. It was her box office appeal, which came in mighty handy when she turned professional.

Perfect Balance. Another interesting thing about the picture is a relationship the late Suzanne Lenglen's game had to Miss Marble's. It is that the perfect shot is made with both feet off the ground.

Such experts as Miss Marble and her famous coach, Eleanor Tennant, can account for that, but anatomically it happens to be a fact.

Madeleine Lenzu was gilded in being off the ground a good deal when hitting shots, including ground shots.

Miss Lenglen had rhythm. So has Miss Marble.

And, as Alice Marble points out, the only time a girl can always look like a champion is when she is wearing a bathing suit.
